Two men were picked out to do this bloody deed, an Englishman and an Indian. The day and time were set; they shouldered their rifles, and took their stand behind a clump of trees which he had to pass on his way home. After waiting and watching some time the General hove in sight. He was on horseback and alone. Now, or never! They took aim. In a minute more the General would have been a dead man. At that instant the Indian knocked down the Englishman's gun, crying:

"I cannot kill him; I have eaten his bread too often!"

The General rides on unharmed; he has buckled on an invisible armor stronger than brass, and he is safe.

What was it? The armor of friendly actions. The General had often relieved the distresses of the poor red men; he had fed them when hungry, and clothed them when naked; and now British gold cannot buy up the grateful memory of his kindness, as it melts the murderer's heart.

"I can't kill him; I have eaten his bread too often!"

O! what power there is in friendly actions. They not only make you friends, but disarm your enemies.

THE RIGHT ORDER.—During one of the recent movements on the coast, a body of marines and sailors were ordered ashore to drive off a party of "gray backs." The enemy were firing from a barn, and in order to dislodge them it was necessary to get in the rear of it. The Marine officer in command of the salts gave the following order:

"By the right flank, file left, forward."

The blue jackets in a very high state of excitement tried but could not obey the order; in fact "they got all in a heap," as a spectator describes it, when Lieut. S. of the navy seeing his lads in confusion, came running up with:

"What is the matter?"

"I can't get your men to obey orders," answers Mr. Marine.

"Give the order," says S., "and I will see they do it."

Accordingly "by the right flank, etc.," was yelled out, but worse and worse was poor Jack's puzzle, when S. sung out, "that is no way to talk to my men. Luff you lubbers, and weather that barn."

It was done in a moment.

ALEXANDER II.—Alexander II. of Russia has written his name in letters of gold. Future generations of Russian freedmen will bless and revere his memory. When he emancipated twenty-three millions of people, and raised them from a state of degradation to one of responsibility and honor, he was at once pronounced a fool and a fanatic. But time has vindicated his wisdom and crowned his efforts with success. The evils predicted have failed to appear, and the people whom he elevated have proved themselves worthy. They are rapidly developing and Russia's future is second in prospect to no other nation. Even now they are approaching a representative constitutional Government, and will soon be enjoying it. Their ruler knew this and calculated for it. So much the more is his honor. He is doing a noble work. He is educating a great people, who will yet exercise a marked influence upon the destiny of Europe.

☞ One of the late Governors of South Carolina was a splendid lawyer, and could talk a jury out of their seven senses.—He was especially noted for successes in criminal cases, almost always clearing his client. He was once counsel for a man accused for horse stealing. He made a long, eloquent and touching speech.—The jury retired, but returned in a few moments and proclaimed the man not guilty. An old acquaintance stepped up to the prisoner and said, "Jim, the danger is passed; and now, honor bright, didn't you steal that horse?" To which Jim replied, "Well, Tom, I've all along thought I took the horse; but since I've heard the Governor's speech I don't believe I did."

The Wizard.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 27, 1864.

EDITORIAL ITEMS.

Green, the Malden murderer, has pleaded guilty to the charge of murder in the first degree. Under the practice of our courts, one charged with a capital offence is entitled to a trial at the expense of the State, which pays the costs of the defendant's witnesses and furnishes him with counsel. For the accused to refuse to avail himself of this privilege, is something very unusual in the history of crime in this Commonwealth. We suppose that it was thought by his counsel that a defence would be wholly unavailing and might possibly lessen his claim for executive clemency. A commutation of his sentence to imprisonment for life is probably all the favor he expects. Governor Andrew, although a very benevolent man, has shown in his administration that he has never adopted the anti-capital punishment theory, as he has already issued warrants for execution in several instances.

It seems that our troops, when overpowered by numbers and beaten in the first day's fight on the Red River, were under the immediate command of General C. P. Stone. This is the same General who commanded at the Ball Bluff massacre, when the 15th Mass. Regiment was so badly cut up and Col. Baker was killed. We wish it could be said that this was only the first instance in the prosecution of this war, that officers, either incompetent or unlucky, or disloyal, have been replaced in position after the grossest failures. We suspect that the fact that an officer is a regular graduate of West Point has in many instances been allowed to cover a multitude of sins of commission and omission.

Wall Street went into hysterics last week over the decline in Stocks. The bears were rampant and the bulls crestfallen. The depression proved to be a panic, instead of a crash. This latter crisis has not yet come. When it is to come we don't know, though we notice from our exchanges that it has become very popular to prophesy its coming.

There is every reason to believe that there will soon be a general engagement of the main armies in Virginia. Grant will command upon our side and Lee upon the other. If the rebels beat, the war will be prolonged; if they are beaten—and decisively so, it is not unlikely that the Confederate Government will sue for peace.

A State Temperance Convention will be held in Boston, on the 27th instant, at which it is expected that Gen. Neal Dow and other distinguished advocates of the cause will speak.

The New York Legislature are considering the expediency of passing a law against strikes. The New York city workingmen are holding meetings to protest against the intended legislation.

We read in our exchanges of the "breaking out" of a "new religious society, called 'Comeouters,'" who believe that "a perfect life is the only passport to immortality." We should call them Perfectionists. The Comeouters are an old persuasion. They break out periodically. Some twenty-two years ago they "broke out" here in town and in the neighboring towns, with a good deal of zeal, and caused great excitement in our community. But they were finally suppressed by a combination of the civil and ecclesiastical powers, i. e., by the deacons and constables, and have not been round since.

Haverhill has fifty men to raise under the last call.

It is said that the recent expansion of the currency has caused a contraction of hoops. "It's an ill wind that blows nobody any good."

During the last ten years Ireland has lost two and a half millions of her population. The present current of emigration from that country to this, as appears by careful statistics, is more than twice as large as it was a year ago. The arrivals from Ireland exceed our losses in battle.

The deficiency of recruits in Massachusetts under the last call, after all just credits are given, is said to be about 8,000.

The rumor that Gen. Grant will appoint Gen. McClellan to a command, is contradicted.

We insert the following paragraph from the Statesman of last week to illustrate the great prophetic powers of that paper:

> Gen. McClellan is bound for the sword at the great New York fair. Go in, little Mac; we would bet two to one on you, were we not afraid the government would send on their pile to beat you. The people will yet learn who is popular, and who goes for country before any race of men, black or white.

To verify the above we insert the following despatch to show how he, McClellan, is "bound" for the sword.

> NEW YORK, April 24. The Sanitary Fair closed last evening, having realized the sum of $1,011,000. The result of the army sword voting was Grant, 30,291; McClellan, 14,599. The naval sword was voted to Commodore Rowan.

The New Era, a paper recently started at Washington in the interest of Gen. Fremont, says "the restoration of the Old Union (since the fall of Sumter) was never anything but a day dream."

A steamer has commenced running between Gloucester and Boston.

Garibaldi has arrived in England. His reception at Southampton was most enthusiastic.

The greatest advance of the Spring Campaign—the advance of gold.

MILITARY REPORT.

We have received the Annual Report of the Adjutant General of Massachusetts for the year ending December 31, 1863, for which our thanks are due to the author. This is a book of over a thousand pages, bound in cloth, containing many valuable tables, and an unexhaustible store of military statistics. In points of literary merit, and typographical execution, it would be a credit to any department of any government state or national. The whole volume was written, and prepared for publication, after the daily office labors were closed.

In a few touching words the author pays an eloquent tribute to the memory of Col. William Brown, the Assistant Adjt. General, who died in February of last year. Col. Brown was well known in this vicinity as an amiable gentleman and an energetic and faithful officer. The Report also makes a generous acknowledgement of the valuable services of mayor Nehemiah Brown, who also has many friends hereabout, who will appreciate the kind words spoken of him by the Adjutant General. These Annual Reports are bound to win for General Schouler a goodly share of the honors springing from this great struggle for the preservation of our national life, and to establish for him a high reputation as an intelligent, faithful and indefatigable officer.

EAST TENNESSEE FUND.—The following list shows the amount of contributions here, on Fast Day week, in behalf of the loyalist sufferers of East Tennessee. It is a satisfaction to contribute any sum, however small, in relief of those patriotic people who have endured so much from love to country and flag.—The aggregate of collections under the auspices of Mr. Everett now amounts to nearly $100,000:

Ladies Aid Society,	$50.00
Methodist Society,	20.00
Baptist Society,	5.55
Orthodox Society,	52.33
Universalist Society,	33.00
Unitarian Society,	27.10
	187.98

SWAMPSCOTT, APRIL 24TH, 1864.

MR. EDITOR, — Please inform me whether the following is a correct answer to the arithmetical puzzle in the WIZARD of April 13th?

57
23

80
1
4
6
9

100 Ans.

Respectfully,
MARY S. WATTS.

The problem referred to, above was this: Arrange the digits and cypher so that they will add up to just one hundred. The above is a true solution.—This is the second answer that has been given, both different and both true. We think a third may be given as true as the others.

GREAT DESTITUTION IN SALEM.—We learn from one of our provision dealers that it is almost impossible, in the Salem market, for a poor person to buy a shinbone, or a liver, or a hog's harslet. These, and other coarse pieces, are all taken up by the rich gentry of the city, so that a poor customer is compelled to put up with surloins and the best rich cuts, or go without his dinner. We suggest that a new society be formed in Salem for the relief of "Poor and Distressed Capitalists."

MAY DAY FESTIVAL.—The Festival at Sutton's Hall next Monday evening promises to be a capital entertainment for old and young. As May Day occurs but once a year, the opportunity it affords for a good time ought not to be allowed to pass unimproved. We hope there will be a large attendance: "The more the merrier." See notice in another column.

ROCKVILLE.—We hear that the School District Meeting held in this part of the town last week was abandoned as illegally called. Another one is to be held on Monday evening next, and as that will be the third attempt of District No. 4, to get up a School Meeting this Spring, we sincerely hope they will succeed.

AUCTION.—The building on the corner of Park and Main Streets, (formerly occupied as a reading room and a dwelling) will be sold at public auction next Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

WILLIAM SHAKSPEARE.

Last Saturday was the three hundreth anniversary of the birth of Shakspeare, and the newspapers are all talking about him. Shakspeare is, beyond question, the first name in English literature. Indeed he seems almost without a second.

Much has been written of the wonderful genius of Shakspeare—of his exceeding greatness as a poet, but very few seem to appreciate his greatness as a man, or to consider what a very noble life it was he lived upon the face of the earth. It is said we know nothing of his history. This is, in a measure, true, and results, doubtless, from the quiet, laborious, perhaps self-denying, stillness of his life.

He seems never to have cared what posterity might say or think of him. He left no personal memorial; he took no pains to preserve or arrange his works. This was as became his greatness.—Above "the last infirmity of noble minds" was it for him to leave his work to pick up crumbs and fragments of the world's applause. He came clothed in poor apparel to the feast—took his seat at the lowest table and waited patiently, hopefully, we trust, till the lord of the feast came and said, "go up higher, friend."

Alone and unapproached in the completeness of his life, he was not so much alone as above others in the wonderful extent of his genius, as we are apt to think. The age of Elizabeth was full of great names. There was Bacon, Sidney, Raleigh, Hooker, Johnson, Coke—men of genius indeed, but of lives broken, disjointed and unhappy.

And in the biographies of earth's great men, how many do we see, like these "in shape and stature, proudly eminent," wearing out life, and wasting powers—often, indeed, nobly—for unworthy ends, by missdirected means. Men are not content to be simply themselves. They long for "this man's grace or that man's scope." The poet is never content; he must needs be a man of affairs. It is not enough for him that he dwells in fairy halls and converses with the "gay creatures of the elements that in the colors of the rainbow live and play in the plighted clouds,"—he must needs with vulgar brick and mortar build a house on the sands.

The sons of genius are indeed a race of giants, who fight the stars, but cannot tame their spirits to live quiet days. From this fretful, wayward, arrogance of genius, which chafes at the restraints, limitations and conditions of ordinary life, it is refreshing to turn to the well-rounded and finished career of Shakspeare—to mark how soberly and righteously he walked among men, performing contentedly all the duties of his station, as they arose.

Shakspeare, to many of us, doubtless, seems almost a mythical character—but as a voice from some far enchanted land, telling us strange tales, entrancing with melodious beauty. Let us try to think of him, as indeed he was, a most human hearted man, who lived and wrought, and struggled—drank of life's bitter and its sweet—was tempted in all points, like as we are, and passed before us into the great darkness.

Let us picture to ourselves for a moment the young Shakspeare with his wife, Ann Hathawy, coming up from the country to see how he can live in London. He engages in the humblest occupation. Shortly, by faithfulness and care, he secures a better situation, gradually improves upon this, till, as is always true of the diligent man, he stands before princes, Conscious of his own great powers, as he must have been, he seeks not the applause of men, and is careless of fame—is not lured from his work by the glitter or temptation of courts, but quietly lives his own life, attends to every duty—is the good husband, the good father and the good citizen. Not made thoughtless or selfish by prosperity, he remembers his father's misfortunes, paid his debts and established him in ease and comfort—added year by year to his own worldly store, and became moderately rich. And when we consider that this is the same man, from the storehouse of whose brain came Lear and Hamlet, Macbeth and Othello, Falstaff, and the dreaming Jaques, Cordelia and Juliett, Richard and Henry, Caliban, Puck aud Queen Mab—household images, that for generations of men have lessened the heavy and the weary weight—have made more light, "the burden and the mystery of all this unintelligible world"—who but will say, with Ben Johnson, his friend and companion, "Truly, I loved the man and do honor his memory, on this side idolatry, as much as any. He was indeed of an open and free nature, brave notions and gentle expressions, and there was ever in him more to be praised than to be pardoned."

Thus over twenty years he lived in London, doing in each day the labor of that day. Of what befel him, what was said or what was thought of him, we know almost nothing. A very quiet, prosperous life was his, with little in it of that material which men use to "point a moral or adorn a tale."

But during these prosperous years Shakspeare had passed in London, his father and mother had died at Strafford, and his brother John was laid by their side in the old church yard. His daughters—of which he had four—had grown up and were married. The tall gabled house, where he lived on the narrow London street, was doubtless to the old man solitary. And ere yet his eye grew dim, or his natural strength abated, his spirit grew weary of the great city. He loved not the dark walls or the ceaseless rattle of the street. Through "the dim perspective of waning years" old scenes came back, and he remembered, as though it were but yesterday, the pleasant fields where he had played among the lambs and the butter-cups in the morning of his days. And he said in his heart, Now I will go down and see once more those pleasant fields, and I will sit in the sun and feel the soft air a little longer, and then I will lie beside my father, in the old church yard. And so he went down and dwelt with his kinsfolk a little while, contented and happy, till he died. And they laid him in the churchyard by his father and mother, brothers and sisters, beneath the tall grass, in the midst of those pleasant fields he loved so much. "Life's fitful fever over, he sleeps well."

H. O., ESQ.

RESIGNATION.—Our patrons will deeply regret that Mr. SAMUEL QUINER WHITE, who has so long and faithfully served them, has resigned his situation as Carrier of the WIZARD. Since his elegant and graceful performance of the part of the "White Wizard" his services have been in great demand. The new management of the Bleachery, always ready to recognize distinguished talent, has had command of his services in their coal department, which he has rendered with great acceptance. The public will learn with satisfaction that his connection with the WIZARD will not wholly cease, as he will continue at the wheel and print, as before, so that it will be likely to be well done and free from typographical errors.

We learn that it is the desire of Mr. White to have some acknowledgment of his services, in the shape of a surprise party, and that he does not wish to know anything about it. It would be an improvement if it could be got up with perfect secrecy, so that it would not be known to anybody, even the managers, or participators. Who will take the first step?

NEW CLOCK.—The Library Room of the Peabody Institute has been improved by the introduction of a new and elegant clock, with a face of pure white Italian Marble, with black figures. It is said to be a perfect time keeper, and is not only an ornamental but useful addition to the room.

The elegantly framed London Testimonials, in acknowledgment of Mr. PEABODY's munificent gift to that city, have also been hung in the same room. We learn that the fine photograph of the first of the model houses, built under the Peabody Donation, is soon to be framed and occupy a place on the walls.

TEACHERS' SALARIES. — The School Committee of Salem have fixed the salaries of the several teachers, for the year commencing July 1, 1864, as follows:

Principals in the Browne, Epes, Hacker, Phillips and Pickering Grammar Schools, each,	1,100
Principals in the Bentley and Higginson Grammar Schools each,	600
Sub-Principal in Higginson Grammar School,	350
Assistants in the Grammar Schools each,	300
Principals in the Intermediate Schools each,	325
First Assistants in Intermediate Schools each,	275
Assistants in the Intermediate Schools each,	275
Principals in the Primary Schools each,	300
Assistants in the Primary Schools each,	275

This is an advance of from 10 to 37 1-2 per cent. higher than they have been paying.

RAILROAD ACCIDENT.—On Thursday, as the 10 o'clock train on the South Reading Branch Railroad from Salem for Boston, was approaching the Grove street crossing, in this town, the engine struck Mr. John Toomey, who was passing on the track at the time, throwing him some fifteen or twenty feet, injuring him so severely that he lived but about two hours. Mr. Toomey was about 44 years of age, and leaves a large family. An inquest was held by Coroner Walton, and the verdict of the jury was that Mr. Toomey's injuries were received while attempting to cross the railroad track, after being warned that he could not cross in safety, and that no blame can be attached to the agents of the road.

☞ A New Masonic Lodge was organized in Salem, on Tuesday evening last, under a dispensation from the Grand Lodge of Massachusetts, and the following officers were elected:—George H. Peirson, Master; Dana Z. Smith, Senior Warden; Jacob F. Brown, Junior Warden; John Barlow, Treasurer; John B. Parker, Secretary; Henry E. Jocelyn, Senior Deacon; Jonathan Perley, Jr., Junior Deacon; Joseph E. Glover, Marshal; John Dixey, Senior Steward; William Reith, Jr., Junior Steward; Edward Rea, Tyler.—Gaz., 22d inst.

☞ A negro once gave this toast: "De late Gubernor ob de State—him come in wid berry little opposition, him go out wid none at all."

OLD AND CURIOUS DOCUMENT.

It is rather uncommon in this day, for persons to render invoices of their taxable property. The assessors advertise for them, but since it is understood that they will not doom anybody, no notice is taken thereof; and probably not a half dozen a year are rendered in Newburyport.—Formerly it was not so; and in looking back to 1814, we find the following from George Peabody, the celebrated London banker, whose wealth and generosity are known the world over:—

> Invoice of all the taxable property of the subscriber on the 1st of May, 1814—.
> One Poll.
> Personal Property, $200.
> GEORGE PEABODY.
> Newburyport, Oct. 26, 1814.
> Sworn to before Sam'l Cutler.
> Oct. 26, 1814.

It appears from the above that George Peabody, in 1814, arrived at manhood, took his oath that he was possessed of but two hundred dollars taxable property, which was just enough to make him a voter; and if he had lost one dollar of it the day before, he would not have been a voter that year. Two hundred dollars! If George Peabody starting from that point has reached his present wealth, where is the cause for any young man to despair? There are a hundred chances now for an energetic, capable young man, where there was one in 1814. That was the time of the last war with Great Britain, when little business was doing—so little that not a store on State street was opened for trade after dark. Wages were very low and men plenty. George Peabody was glad to get then less than any man can earn digging clams now, and what the merest boys now would turn away from. Nor did it cost less to live then than now. Flour, corn, molasses, and many other articles were nearly twice as high as to-day. But there were some things in George Peabody's favor, that are not common now. The original copy of this invoice shows that he was a good penman, which is rather a rare accomplishment in our day. We boast of our superior schools, but very few of our boys can write so well. Then George Peabody was economical. He never had any mean qualities. He was tall, well-formed, good-looking, and dressed with great propriety; but he saved his money. That $200 would purchase a watch, finger-ring, and a couple of shirt studs; or it would last a few days for cigars, liquors, and oysters. Does anybody believe that George Peabody put it to any such uses? How many young men would think two hundred dollars a sufficient sum to serve as the foundation of a fortune of many millions? How many would waste it foolishly, and complain afterwards of their ill-luck in the world, and that there was no chance for a young man to do anything in these days? George Peabody knew how to read, write and keep accounts—qualifications for his place as a clerk—thought something of in those days, and a great deal neglected now, when infants want to jump to manhood, and young men lack the patience for slow accumulation. He was gentlemanly, saving, industrious, enterprising, self-reliant, and intelligent; and such a young man seldom fails. He did not scorn to work; he was no ten-hour man if duty demanded an extension of the time; he didn't lean on anybody else; but he had in him that very day what has been developing ever since. We ask all the boys who may read this paragraph, to look at George Peabody fifty years ago, and George Peabody now, and ask themselves what one advantage he had that they have not.—Newburyport Herald.

SUMMARY OF WEDDED BLISS.—An exchange paper thus does it up in rhyme:

God bless the wives,
They fill our hives,
With little bees and honey!
They ease life's shocks,
They mend our socks,
But—don't they spend the money?

When we are sick,
They heal us quick—
That is, if they love us;
If not, we die,
And yet they cry,
And raise tombstones above us!

☞ It was Dow, Jr.,—sacred be his memory, who said that "Life is a country dance; down outside and back; tread on the corns of your neighbor, poke your nose everywhere, all hands around; right and left. Bob your cocoanut—the figure is ended. Time hangs up the fiddle, and Death puts out the lights."

☞ Before the conscription bill was passed by Congress, a powerful effort was made by some of the shaky ones to exempt men with insane wives. Had this been carried, Uncle Sam would have secured but few married men as conscripts, for every domestic mansion would have been, ostensibly, a private mad-house when the draft came on.

☞ The rebels propose to hire incendiaries to burn down and destroy New York, Philadelphia and Boston. They grow desperately amiable as they become hopeless of success.—When your antagonist finds himself powerless, he always requests you "to go to blazes."

☞ A London letter to the "Round Table" says that during the months of January and February, the sun did not once shine out in England. No wonder John Bull gets a little cloudy in his intellect sometimes.

☞ Strawberries, raised under glass, were sold in Boston on Tuesday for six cents apiece. That's the way the money goes.

ATLANTIC MONTHLY.—The Atlantic for May is promptly on our table, and shows a good list of reasonable articles. Among them are another number of "Wet Weather Work," by I'k Marvel, the New England Revolution of the 17th Century, Life on the Sea Islands, by Miss Foster, late of the Salem Aborn St. School, "House and Home Papers," by Mrs. Stowe, and "Type Setting Machine." It may be had of Wilkinson.

CONTINENTAL MONTHLY.—This magazine for May comes rather late, and we have not found time to give it a full reading, but it is as spicy as ever and will prove more than a match for the renegade Knickerbocker which has fallen into the hands of the Copperhead Philistines.

Godey's Lady's Book is, as usual, rich in illustrations and reading matter, and is indispensable to every lady of taste and refinement. The number for May is on our table, and it may be had at Wilkinson's Periodical Store.

PAINTING, ETC.—Mrs. Springer will give lessons in Water Colors, Crayon, Pastel, Designing, etc., at her Studio, in Browne's Block, Essex street, Salem.

Materials for the new and beautiful art of Transcript Painting, or decorating China, Glass, Wood, etc., etc., for sale at her rooms, also Vases, etc., for practice. Instruction in this Art free to all.

Mrs. S. will be at Mrs. Osborne's No. 58 Washington St., South Danvers, on Wednesday and Saturday afternoons, to give instructions as above.

Warren Five Cents Savings Bank.

The Semi-Annual Meeting of the Warren Five Cents Savings Bank will be held at the WARREN BANK Rooms on WEDNESDAY, May 4th, at 7 o'clock P. M. Per order, FRANCIS BAKER, Secretary.

South Danvers, April 27, 1864.

SALESWOMAN WANTED—See advertisement.

Ruches.

We have our usual large stock of Bonnet Ruches at our usual low prices. We have twenty-five different styles, and can suit all who may examine our stock—both in price and quality.

220 Essex Street,
JOHN P. PEABODY.

READY-MADE DRESS FROCKS AND SACKS—$35, $32, $30, $28, $27, $25, $24, $22, $20, $18, $17; $16, $15, $14, $13, $12, $11, $10, $9, $8.50, $8, $7.50, $7, $6.50, $6, $5.50, $5, at Bennett & Co.'s One Price Clothing House, 14 and 15 Dock Square, Boston.

READY-MADE PANTS $11, $10, $9, $8.50, $8, $7.50, $7, $6.50, $6, $5.50, $5, $4.50, $4, $3.50, $3, $2.75, $2.50, at Bennett & Co.'s One Price Clothing House, 14 and 15 Dock Square, Boston.

BOYS' CLOTHING — largest stock — greatest variety, at Bennett & Co.'s One Price Clothing House, 14 and 15 Dock Square, Boston.

EVERY GARMENT marked in plain figures, at Bennett & Co's One Price Clothing House, 14 and 15 Dock Square, Boston.

CAMBRIC EMBROIDERIES.—We have just returned from New York with a full line of new patterns of Cambric Wrought Edgings, Insertings, Waists, Smyrna Edgings, &c., &c.—We have a very large stock full of the choicest goods, and any one wishing to purchase, will find it to their advantage to examine our NEW GOODS. JOHN P. PEABODY.

CLOTHING.—L. D. Boise & Co., dealers in clothing at No. 154 Washington street, Boston, have on hand a large stock of ready made clothing at low prices. They are selling a good business coat at ten dollars, which should be examined by mechanics and workingmen.—They will be found to be excellent for the price. Mr. Boise also makes to order all kinds of fashionable garments.

Port of Danvers.

Ar 19th, sch Black Diamond, Young, and J S Welding, Weaver, Philadelphia; Thos Ellis, Kelley, New York; 23d, Br sch Lucknow, Sulis Digby.

Marriages.

In Salem, April 18th, Mr William P Dwinell to Miss Sarah R. Phalen; 21st, Mr. Frank S. Clough to Miss Sarah E Wood; Mr. William Henry Eagan to Miss Catharine Louise Logan.

In Rowley, April 17, by Rev. Mr. Lathrop, Mr B Proctor Foster to Miss Melina Cressey.

Deaths.

In this town, April 19th, Willie Benson, son of Charles and Sarah E Proctor, 1 month.

20th, Joseph Francis, youngest son of Joseph and Sally H. Morrison, 1 year 10 mos 26 days.

21st, Mr. John Toomey, 44 years.

23d, Mr. Joseph Warren Putnam, 40 years 7 months.

23d, Milly, daughter of George P. and Elizabeth S. Osborn, 4 months 20 days.

23d, Mrs. Adelaide B., wife of William C. Munroe, 29 years 1 month 23 days.

24th, Patrick, son of Wm. and Mary O'Hara, aged 9 years.

In Danvers Centre, April 23d, George Henry son of George and Rebecca R. Boynton, aged 4 years 4 months.

In Salem, April 22d, Mrs. Mary C., wife of Mr. John C. Bott, 44 years; 23d, Mrs. Sarah Ann, wife of Corporal Andrew J. Blanchard, (Co. G, 23d Mass. Regt.) 22 yrs 9 mos; Capt. William Lander, 46 yrs 9 mos 19 days; 24th, Mr James D. Davis, 57 yrs; Mrs Johanna McCarty, 70 years.

In Beverly, April 20, Mr Charles F Batchelder, 28 years 7 months.

In Canton, Mass., April 19, Rev Benj. Huntoon, 72 yrs—formerly pastor of the Unitarian Society in Marblehead.

In Lynnfield, April 15, George C., only son of John H. and Francis O. Perkins, 1 year.

In Topsfield, April 23, Mrs. Sarah P., wife of Mr. Josiah Bradstreet, 54 years.

In Marblehead, April 14, Mr. Phillip Brimblecom Millett, 34 years 10 mos—a member of Co. B, 23d Mass. Regt; 17th, Mr. Joseph S. Tucker, 34 years 9 months; 20th, Mr James D. Clothey, 59 years 6 months 10 days.

In Swampscott, April 17, Mrs Elizabeth A., wife of Mr. Thomas B. Pedrick, formerly of Marblehead, 48 years.

In Ipswich, April 17, Capt Eben Caldwell, formerly of Salem, 66 years.

In East Camridge, Mch 29, Mrs. Elizabeth Shaw, 42 yrs 10 mos—formerly of Marblehead.

GARMENTS made to order at Benne
One Price Clothing House, 14 and Square, Boston.

THE HISTORY
OF HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BI

The most remarkable medicine of the the many cures that have been perfo it in cases of Liver Complaint, Dyspe vous Debility, and other diseases arisi disordered stomach or liver, places among the most astonishing disco has taken place in the medical w diseases to which bitters are applic universal that there are but few of who may not test their virtues in families or circle of acquaintances an their own satisfaction that there is a remedy among the many advertised deserving the public commendation.

For sale by Druggists and deale where. April 1—1m

WANTED IN SOUTH DA

BOARD, by a female teacher. A one week, E. A. S., South Danvers
April 20.*

☞ Goods received for LEWANDO'
DYE HOUSE. M. E. C
Jan 20 tf

☞ Visit OSBORNE's Store, and lo unusual variety of new styles in
CAPS—191 Essex street.

May Day Fair in Sale

An invalid lady of Salem has been articles for a May Day Fair, for the sick and wounded soldiers, to be hel chanic Hall, May 2d. Great attrac provided, and Major Alfred Little, o Cleveland, now in his 92d year, and the war correspondent of the Journa there. Other novelties will be intr Contributions are solicited, and may the residence of Moses G. Farmer, St., Salem.

THE GREAT ENGLISH RE
SIR JAMES CLARKE'S
CELEBRATED FEMALE

Prepared from a prescription of Sir J. C
D., Physician Extraordinary to the Q

This well known medicine is no impos sure cure and safe remedy for Female Diff Obstructions, from any cause whatever; an a powerful remedy, they contain nothing
the constitution.

In all cases of Nervous and Spinal Affec
in the Back and Limbs, Fatigue on sligh Palpitation of the Heart, Hysterics, and W pills will effect a cure, when all other failed: and, although a powerful reme contain iron, calomel, antimony, or anyth
to the constitution.

Full directions in the pamphlet ar package, which should be carefully pres

For full particulars, obtain, free, of th pamphlet. Sold by all Druggists.

Sole United States Agent,
JOB MOSES, 27 Cortlandt St., Ne

N. B.—$1 and 6 postage stamps enclo authorized agent, will insure a bottle, conta
50 pills, by return mail. March 9, 186

Advertisements

COMMONWEALTH OF MASS
SETTS.

HEAD-QUARTERS, BOSTON, Feb. 11

GENERAL ORDER, No. 14.

A call has been made by the Wa ment for a new Regiment of Heavy provided it can be raised by the 10th o
The Regiment will be accepted by C and each Company, when organized put under marching orders. As recr in they will form a Company, whic mustered in as soon as the legal reached. One Company must be fill another is begun, and all recruits w signed to the Company in progress at of enlistment.

If there should be one incomplete on the 10th of May, the men will be be placed in other Companies.

Recruits for this Regiment will be f to camp at Galloup's Island, Boston

By order of His Excellency JOHN DREW, Governor and Commander-in-C

WILLIAM SCHOULER, Adj't-

Assignee's Sale.

WILL be sold at Public Auc
THURSDAY, APRIL 28, at 9
A. M., the Tannery, including the b situated on Foster Street, South formerly belonging to J. Hodgkins.
☞ Sale positive. Terms at sale.
THOMAS TRASK, Auct
South Danvers, April 27, 1864.

Valuable Real Estate in So vers for Sale or to Le

The large dwelling house and out-buildings, with land u adjoining, belonging to the estate of
J. W. Casey, situated on Fulton street
Also a very desirable lot of land from Fulton street to High street, wi of eighty feet on each street.
For terms and particulars, apply to
EBEN UPTO
April 27.—tf. No. 31 Barr street,

MAY DA
FESTIVA

Under the auspices of the Ladies of th rian Society of South Danvers,

—AT—
SUTTON HA
—ON—MONDAY EVENING, MAY 2d,

TICKETS FIFTY CEN
To be obtained at B. F. Stevens and M

—A FINE—
BAND OF MU
Will be in Attendance.

South Danvers, April 20, 1864.

FOR SAL
The 2d Day of May
AT TWO O'CLOCK P.

THE Building on 't of Main and Park suitable for a Dwelling o
To be removed in one mo
sale. I. B. E
South Danvers, April 20, 1864.—2

MBRELLAS

NED TO-DAY!

WEST PRICES. THE BEST GOODS.

Black or Brown—only	$1 10;
" " " "	1 30;
" " " "	1 50;
" " " "	1 75;
" " " "	2 00;
14 inch	$1 10;
16 inch	1 30;
18 inch	1 50;
20 inch	1 75;
22 inch	2 00.

nings,
Buttons,
New Veils,
New Laces,
New Edgings,
New Insertings.

220 Essex Street.

IN P. PEABODY.

ESWOMAN WANTED,

ed to selling Millinery Goods pre- None but experienced ones need

J. P. PEABODY,
220 Essex street, Salem.

ULTURAL WAREHOUSE.

r, Gannett & Osgood,

ESALE AND RETAIL DEALERS IN

tural Implements, Seeds,

RTILIZERS, &c.,

NCLUDING THE FOLLOWING:

	Lard Presses,
	Vegetable Cutters,
s,	Railway and Sweep Horse Powers,
ters,
s,	Threshing Machines,
rs,	Hay Presses,
lers,	Cider Mills,
l patterns,	Garden and Canal Barrows,
ers,
tuffers,	Mounted Grindstones,
rden Rollers,	Cheese Presses,
pers,	Folding Ladders,
e Fixtures,	Horse Rakes,
orks,	Palmer's Horse Pitchforks,
	Axes,
	Grass Hooks,
	Garden Trowels.

EYE MOWING MACHINES,

, Garden, Flower and Field Seeds,

Coe's Super Phosphate Lime, derette, Ground Bone, Fish Guano, &c., at the Lowest Prices.

North Market street, and lerchant's Row, Boston.

7, 1864.——3m.

BRAY, 76 Federal Street.

r to keep our assortment good, we nstantly adding New Styles of DRESS they come into the market. dies coming into the city will call at l Street. apr 27

---

mall Farm Wanted.

ED to purchase, a farm of from five twenty-five acres (according to the of good land, with small, convenient Those wishing to sell will please CHAS. F. RICKER, Wells, Maine— JANVIRIN, Exeter, N. H.—or DAVIS, 15 Washington St., Charles- ass.—giving the description of land dings, distance from church, school- ilroad station, stores, &c., also the April 27.—tf.

List of Letters

NING in the Post Office at South ers, April 27, 1864. [Persons calling letters will please say they are adver-

Appleton,	Mary Lynten,
. Baker,	Mrs. Wm. Lander,
Davis,	George Putnam,
Emerson,	Alonzo D. Rogers,
Hinds,	Rev. Charles B. Rice,
Harris,	Franklin Wright.

These letters are subject to an ad- postage of one cent.

DANIEL WOODBURY, P. M.

TO LET.

HOUSE on Foster Street, belonging to the estate of the late Benjamin Goodridge. For terms apply at the house.

JAMES L. GOODRIDGE, Adm'r.

20—tf

THOMAS PINNOCK,

LATER,

SALEM, MASS.

s may be left at his Yard, No. 25 Pea- , or at his house No. 6 Hancock street, alem.

covered with any kind of Slates, ac- to order. All work warranted.

, May 7, 1862. tf

GEORGE TAPLEY,

(DANVERS),

AGENT FOR THE

Hancock Life Insurance Co.

Office, 41 State Street, Boston.

FLOUR AND GRAIN STORE,

ral St., opposite Old South.

subscriber would inform the citizens of town and vicinity that he has taken e lately vacated by Mr. WHIDDEN, where he will sell, by the Wholesale ail, the very best of

, CORN, MEAL, OATS, FEED, &C., owest Market Prices.

HN G. MOULTON.

anvers, March 16, 1864—tf.

ALL THE CHILDREN

want to read Oliver Optic's new ok, "The Soldier Boy; or, Tom in the Army." It can be had of

27 G M WHIPPLE & A A SMITH.

CURTAIN FIXTURES.

AM'S Pendulum Curtain Fixtures, at S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS',

27. 32 Front Street.

TABLE MATS,

ER, Wood, and Canton Table Mats,—

27. S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS'.

BLUE AND BLACK.

SSIAN BLUE and Black Paint. Also l Lead; Chrome Paints; India Red; ink, etc., at

S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS',

27. 32 Front Street.

LINSEED OIL.

NISHES, Japan Drying, Spirits Tur- tine, and Bensole, constantly for sale at S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS',

27. 32 Front Street.

EX INSTITUTE HISTORICAL COLLECTIONS.

7, No. 1—just out.

G. M. WHIPPLE & A. A. SMITH.

KID GLOVES.

OUR BEST KID GLOVES—only $1 25
Our best Kid Gloves—only $1 25

FRESH GOODS THIS WEEK.

Our best Kid Gloves—only $1 25
Our best Kid Gloves—only $1 25

ALL SIZES AND COLORS.

Our best Kid Gloves—only $1 25
Our best Kid Gloves—only $1 25

SUPERIOR BLACK KIDS.

Our best Kid Gloves—only $1 25
Our best Kid Gloves—only $1 25

REAL FRENCH KID GLOVES.

Our best Kid Gloves—only $1 25
Our best Kid Gloves—only $1 25

TWENTY DOZ. JUST RECEIVED.

Our best Kid Gloves—only $1 25
Our best Kid Gloves—only $1 25

EVERY PAIR WARRANTED.

Our best Kid Gloves—only $1 25
Our best Kid Gloves—only $1 25

OUR SPRING STOCK.

Ladies' Furnishing Store—220 Essex St.,

SALEM, MASS.

JOHN P. PEABODY.

Pure Ground Bone

For Farming and Horticultural Purposes.

THE subscriber would announce that he is now constantly manufacturing and preparing for sale PURE GROUND BONE—conceded by all who have tried it to be the best article in use for fertilizing trees, grape vines, gardens, etc. It can be obtained in large or small quantities.

Also for Sale, NEAT'S FOOT OIL, TALLOW and GREASE.

☞ Cash paid for Bones.

TIMOTHY WALTON.

Post Office Address, box 99 South Danvers, Mass. April 20—3m

CHILDREN'S CARRIAGES.

WE have on hand a very large stock of Children's Carriages, comprising every variety of style, from the

CHEAP WILLOW CAB
—TO THE—
FINEST NEW HAVEN GIG.
—ALSO—

PERAMBULATORS!

of various qualities.

REPAIRING, in all its branches, promptpromptly attended to at the OLD STAND,

No. 180 Essex Street, Salem.

HENRY F. SKERRY.

April 20.—3m.

ANN R. BRAY,

No. 76 Federal Street, Salem.

——Will open——

MANY new Styles of Dress Goods this day. We have received a new assortment of Black Silks at Bargains.

A Good assortment of Sun Shades, Sun Umbrellas and Parasols. apr 20

MORRIS'

RESTAURANT,

18 and 20 Derby Square, Salem.

Oysters, Clams, Steak, Poultry, Game, Fish, &c., &c., cooked to order.

Pickled Oysters, Lobsters and Clams.

Salem, July 22, 1863. tf

SPRING AND SUMMER GOODS.

168 ESSEX STREET.

WE invite the attention of the Ladies of Salem and vicinity, to our

New Millinery Goods.

Ladies' and Children's
BONNETS AND HATS,

in all desirable styles.

Crapes, Silks, Ribbons, Feathers, French Flowers, and Laces.

A full assortment of Straw Goods, Mourning Bonnets, Veils, Collars, &c., constantly on hand at the lowest cash prices.

M. E. CRANE,

Successor to M M FLETCHER.

Salem, April 6, 1864.

FURNITURE.

Having taken Rooms over M. C. REYNOLDS & Co's Store, I shall keep constantly on hand a large stock of

NEW AND SECOND-HAND FURNITURE,

BEDDING, COUNTING-ROOM DESKS, &c., &c.,

which I will sell cheap for CASH.

☞ All kinds of FURNITURE and BEDDING wanted—for which the highest Cash price will be paid.

P. J. HYNES, 18 FRONT-ST.

Salem, April 6, 1864—1y

Salem and Danvers Aqueduct Co'y.

ALL persons using the water of the Salem and South Danvers Aqueduct are hereby notified that the water rents, for the six months ending April 1, 1864, are now due, and that they are required to pay the same, at the office of the Company, No. 2 Sewall street, on or before the 1st day of May next. Should the bills remain unpaid for thirty days, the water will be stopped, in conformity to the regulations of the Company.

Office hours, from 9 to 1 o'clock, and from 2 to 6.

Per order of the Directors,

Salem, April 1. WM. JELLY, Collector.

RICH MILLINERY GOODS!

From the New York and Boston Markets,

OPENING EVERY DAY.

ALL the desirable shapes in BONNETS and HATS.

RIBBONS and FLOWERS in all the New Shades. All goods belonging to a first class Millinery Establishment, to which the attention of the Ladies of Essex County is respectfully invited.

REITH & CO'S,

NO. 2 WEST BLOCK, ESSEX STREET,

(One door west of J. F. Almy & Co.,)

apr 13 SALEM, MASS.

NEW BOOKS,

AT G. M. WHIPPLE & A. A. SMITH'S.

CLEVELAND'S Hints to Riflemen; Bishop Hopkin's View of Slavery; Well's Manual of Scientific Discovery, for 1864; McWorter's Church Papers; The Early Church, by Miss Sewall; Every Boy's Magazine, a nice new periodical for boys, English; London Society, and Good Words, two very popular English Periodicals; Rules for Croquet, new edition: Out of Prison; Hymns of the Spirit, new Hymn Book, by Rev. Sam'l Longfellow and Rev Samuel Johnson. apr 20

FLOUR.

200 BBLS. "J. Uhl's Best," received this day, and for sale by apr 20 GAYLE & CO., Phillips wharf.

MILLINERY GOODS.

RIBBONS, FLOWERS AND RUCHES.

NEW GOODS.

IN this department we have a new stock of the most desirable goods in Ribbons. We have many choice styles of Plaid Goods, and all the new Plain Colors at our usual low prices.

In Flowers, our Stock is choice and desirable, at about one half the price of the regular Milliners..

In Ruches, we have over twenty-five styles, many of them entirely new, and all of them at the lowest prices.

In Laces, both Black and White, we can show a full stock of the best styles and widths.

ONE PRICE ONLY!

220 ESSEX ST., SALEM.

JOHN P. PEABODY,

CARPETS.

THOMAS W. DOWNING & CO.

HAVE now in Store a splendid Stock of

Carpets,	Oil Cloths,
Stair Carpets,	Straw Mattings,
Cocoa Mattings,	Rugs,
Mats,	Paper,
Linings,	etc., etc.,

which they offer at the very lowest Cash Prices.

April 13. 179 Essex Street.

ELEGANT NEW GOODS

—AT—

BROWNING & LONG'S

The Latest Styles.
The Richest Goods.
The Greatest Variety.
The Prettiest Patterns.
The Last Novelties.
The Lowest Prices.

LACE VEILS

The most Beautiful Patterns,

SOME ENTIRELY NEW THIS SEASON.

FIVE FIVE

Distinct Styles of Kid Gloves.

GANTS DE SUEDE, (Undressed Kids.)

MOSQUETAIRE NAPOLEON'S, (Long Wrist.)

OUR USUAL GLOVES, (Embroidered with White.)

DESCHAMP'S CELEBRATED KIDS, (one of the best imported.)

BLACK MODEL KIDS, (Excellent Quality.)

Making the Greatest Assortment Offered in the City.

Dress Trimmings and Buttons,

Trimmings of Entirely New Designs.

Getting them from a French House through their Agent in New York, we are able to display the very Latest Paris Fashions.

NEW SKIRTS.

THE LAST SHAPE.

BROWNING & LONG'S

Ladies' Furnishing Store,

177 Essex Street.

Salem, April 13, '64.

The National Almanac,

JUST PUBLISHED AND FOR SALE BY

G. M. WHIPPLE & A. A. SMITH,

190 ESSEX STREET. The National Almanac and Annual Record for 1864, Exhibiting the Political, Financial, Economical, Educational, and Military condition and progress of the United States and of the individual States, for the years 1862 and 1863, and the personnel of the Government for 1864. The names, dates, exact figures, in detail, of all the regimental organizations from all the States and Territories, which for the first time is spread before the eyes of the patriotic people of the country, the particulars of the marvellous development of the military power of the United States, during the war to crush the great rebellion. Those who would have a photograph of the world for the last two years should possess the National Almanac for 1864. Price in Bds., $1.25; in Cloth, $1.50.

April 13. 3w

ICE! ICE!!

THE undersigned would announce that he has made arrangements for running an

ICE WAGON

through South Danvers and Salem, the coming season, beginning MAY 1ST, and ending NOVEMBER 1ST.

☞ He will deliver ice made at BANCROFT'S POND, which is supplied mostly from the surplus water of SPRING POND. This ice cannot be excelled in point of purity and clearness.

☞ A share of patronage is respectfully solicited.

☞ Orders may be left at the Wizard Office, or sent by mail.

BYRON GOODELL.

South Danvers, April 13, 1864. 3m—is

MANUAL FENOLLOSA

TEACHER
OF THE

Violin, Piano and Singing,

MUSIC ROOMS, No. 7 Central Street,

SALEM, MASS.

VEILS.

GRENADINE VEILS,
In all the desirable shades and colors;

BLACK LACE VEILS,
In new and choice patterns—all prices;

MOURNING VEILS,
In Crape—Lace and Love Veils—new;

WHITE VEILS,
White Shetland and Grenadine Veils;

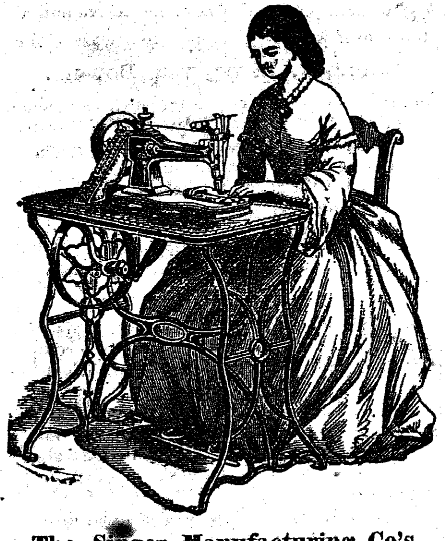
FRENCH VEILS,
In desirable styles, at the lowest prices.

EDGINGS.

Smyrna Edgings—in all the desirable widths;
Cambric Edgings—new and choice styles;
Cambric Inserlings—in fine qualities;
Cambric Bands—from 25 cents to $2 00 each;
Cotton and Saxony Edgings—in all widths;
Infants' Waists—choice styles, from 50 cts to $5;
Malta Lace Collars—all prices—up to $5 00;
New Wrought Collars—in all qualities;
Mourning Collars—in Crape and Grenadine;
Linen Bosoms—from 25 cts. to 50 cts. each.

J. P. PEABODY,

220 Essex Street.



The Singer Manufacturing Co's

LETTER A SEWING MACHINE

For Family Use and Light Manufacturing Purposes, is on exhibition and for sale

AT ASHLAND HALL,
SOUTH DANVERS SQUARE,
—BY—

JOHN H. CHOATE,

Agent for the sale of

SEWING MACHINES,

SILK, THREAD, NEEDLES, COTTONS, &c., &c.

— Also —

Paraffine Sewing Machine Oil,

The best oil for all kinds of light machinery.

South Danvers, Nov 18, 1863.

M. A. PORTER,

236 Essex Street, - - - Salem, Mass.,

(Opposite Horse Railroad Office,)

MAKES TO ORDER BEST QUALITIES OF

WATCH SPRING SKIRTS.

A Good Assortment of Dress and Clock Button, Braids, Spool Cotton, Small Wares, and Thread Store articles generally.

236 Essex Street, - - - Salem, Mass.,

M. A. PORTER.

PIANO FORTES.

I HAVE those splendid Extra-Sized Seven-Octave Piano Fortes, with full Iron Frame, Overstrung Bass, Serpentine Bottom, so much admired for their beautiful finish, and deep mellow tone, with Pearl and Ivory Keys, and a new style of Extra Small Size Six to Six, and Half Octaves—for sale at the very lowest prices. I have Piano Fortes and Melodeons to let; will attend to Tuning in the Best Manner; will attach the Tremolo Orchestrian to any Piano Forte; select Piano Fortes or Melodeons from any Manufactory in New York or Boston, without charge—and also make them to order, to correspond with any style of furniture, and warrant them in every particular.

S. MACKINTIRE, General Agent.

No. 218 ESSEX STREET, SALEM,

Salem, Nov. 4—6m. (Up Stairs.)

SPECTACLES!

H. F. SKERRY wishes to call special attention to his stock of

Spectacles and Eye Glasses,

in Gold—Silver—Rubber—Steel and Horn frames, of which he keeps constantly on hand a very large assortment, embracing every style and quality.

— ALSO —

Opera Glasses, Microscopes, &c.

Glasses re-set, and Spectacles repaired.

In Store, our usual assortment of Silver and Plated Ware, and Jewelry.

No. 180 Essex Street, Salem.

H. F. SKERRY.

Feb. 24—tf.

PAPER
HANGINGS.

SPRING STYLES

Paper Hangings!

We have just received our new styles for the Spring trade, of

ROOM PAPERS and BORDERS,

To which we invite the Public to examine. In variety of styles and quality, they have never been surpassed. Having been made expressly for our sales, great care has been taken to have the best quality of stock and the greatest variety of patterns the market affords.

BORDERS AND DECORATIONS,

in imitation of Wood's, Marbles and Stucco.

Fireboard Prints;
Cloth and Paper Shades;
Curtain Fixtures;
Cord and Tassels;

And every variety of goods usually found in a first class Book and Paper Store, and at a fair advance from cost.

H. P. IVES,

232 Essex, and 36 Washington Sts.,

(OLD STAND OF W. & S. B. IVES,)

March 23—2ms. SALEM.

James F. Almy.

PRICES. PRICES. PRICES.

WE invite attention to the prices at which we offer our stock,

Rich Dress Goods, Shawls of all kinds,

Elegant Plain Black and Col'd Silks,

Ladies' Outside Garments,

CLOTHS OF EVERY DESCRIPTION,

DOMESTICS,	SUN UMBRELLAS,
HOSIERY,	GLOVES, etc.

With many people it is a necessity, while it is the duty of all in times like these to use money to the best advantage. We believe that our CASH system enables us to offer superior advantages to our customers.

JAMES ALMY & CO.,

188 Essex Street,

Opposite Central Street.

Salem, April 27, 1864.

A. J. Archer & Co

MOURNING GOODS.

AUGUSTUS J. ARCHER & CO.,

HAVE always on hand a full stock

—OF—

Mourning Dress Goods.
Black Thibet Long & Square Shawls,
English Black Crapes,
Best Black Kid Gloves,

which will be sold at

LOWEST PRICES.

March 23, '64.

FANCY CLOAKINGS!

—FOR—

Spring Garments,

IN GREAT VARIETY OF STYLES,

which we are prepared to make into GARMENTS to order, in the very best manner, and at

LOWEST CASH PRICES.

A. J. ARCHER & CO.,

March 16—tf. 181 Essex Street.

Ladies' Silk Umbrellas.

20, 22, 24 and 26 inch Silk Umbrellas, for sale by

April 13. A. J. ARCHER & CO.

L. MERRILL & SON,

DEALERS IN

DRUGS, MEDICINES,

Fancy and Toilet Articles,

Perfumery, Stationery, Cutlery, &c.

VILLAGE BANK BUILDING,

DANVERS, MASS.

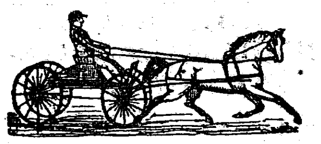
Particular attention paid to Physicians' Prescriptions.

LEVI MERRILL,
W. S. MERRILL.

Danvers, Dec 2—6m

MOULTON'S

NEW LIVERY STABLE,



Opposite Danvers Bank; Main St.

Good Horses and Carriages will be always in readiness at short notice.

South Danvers, Sept 30, 1863.

HOUSEKEEPERS, ATTENTION!

JACKSON'S

KITCHEN FURNISHING ROOMS,

Under MECHANIC HALL, Salem.

Parties about commencing House-Keeping will find this the only place in Salem where a complete assortment of House-keeping articles can be found. Dec 9—6w

---

HOUSE OF EQUITY,

—BY—

Arnold & Hutchinson,

(Successors to C. T. Southwick.)

FIRST QUALITY

FAMILY GROCERIES,

Sold at the Lowest Prices.

A large and complete assortment of

CROCKERY AND GLASS WARE,

Constantly on hand.

Also FLOUR and GRAIN.

ASHLAND HALL BUILDING,

NO. 1 LOWELL STREET,

F. T. ARNOLD. B. F. HUTCHINSON.

South Danvers, Feb 3, 1864.

R. W. WILKINSON,

DEALER IN

Newspapers, Periodicals, and Stationery of every Description.

FOREIGN and DOMESTIC FRUITS, consisting of Oranges, Lemons, Dates, Figs, Prunes, &c., &c.

Sauces, Pickles and Preserves; Castana, Naples and English Walnuts; Hard, Soft and Paper-shelled Almonds; choice brands of Tobacco and Cigars; also a general assortment of Confectionery of every description.

Also a large and well selected stock of Toys, suitable for children and the Holiday Gifts.

Ice Cream furnished to parties at short notice and in quantities to suit. Wedding Cake and every variety of nice cake furnished to parties or families.

STORE—WARREN BANK BUILDING.

South Danvers, Nov'r 11, 1863.

George S. Walker.

Spring & Summer Goods.

UNDER-SHIRTS, DRAWERS, HOSIERY, GLOVES, TIES, &c., carefully selected in the New York and Boston markets. The largest Stock and Assortment ever offered in this city.

Customers may be assured of finding the Best of Goods at the Lowest Prices—at

GEO. S. WALKER'S,

Dealer in Gent's Furnishing Goods & Toilet Articles, Opposite Eastern Railroad Station.

Gentlemen's Scarfs.

JUST received from New York, some choice styles—suitable for Spring and Summer wear—at

GEORGE S. WALKER'S,
No. 228 Essex Street.

Umbrellas.

JUST received from the Manufacturers, a fine assortment of Gingham, Silk and Cotton Umbrellas—the largest variety in the city.

GEORGE S. WALKER,
No. 228 Essex Street.

apr 27 Opp. Eastern Railroad Station.

Potter, Bachelder & Co.,

DANVERS-PORT and SOUTH DANVERS,

DEALERS IN

WOOD AND COAL.

Constantly on hand

Franklin, Burnside, Dimond, } RED ASH.

Old Company & Packer's Lehigh, Pliny Fisk, Webster and Locust Mountain, } WHITE ASH.

Also Cumberland, Pictou and Campbell for Steam and Smith's use.

OFFICE—No. 6 Allen's Building.

G. W. POTTER,
J. Q. A. BACHELDER,
C. T. BATCHELDER. mch 30

M. FENOLLOSA,

TEACHER OF MUSIC,

LETS............PIANO FORTES, at the lowest rates;
SELLS...........PIANO FORTES, at the Manufacturers Prices;
EXCHANGES....PIANO FORTES, on the easiest terms;

At Rooms No. 7 Central street,

feb 11 SALEM, MASS.

R. C. MANNING & CO,

Successors to JOHN DIKE & CO.,

DEALERS IN

COAL, WOOD, BARK, HAY, &c,

183 DERBY STREET,

SALEM, MASS.

N. C. ROBBINS, R. C. MANNING.

oct17

DR. E. F. KITTREDGE,

From Lowell, formerly of New Ipswich, N. H.,
Has removed his office and residence to

NO. 42 MAIN STREET,

SOUTH DANVERS, MASS.

Dr. K., from an extensive and successful professional experience of upwards of twenty years, feels justified in saying that he can treat diseases to the satisfaction of his patients, and to the credit of himself.

Office hours from 7 to 9 A. M., and from 6 to 9 P. M.

South Danvers, Nov 13, 1863.

PIN WORMS. MRS. OSBORN'S Universal Worm Powders are the only sure cure ever offered to the public. They are warranted in every case; relief within 24 hrs. 25 cts. per box. Sold by all druggists

For sale by D. P. GROSVENOR, Jr., 33 Main St., South Danvers. jan 27

Valuable Real Estate for Sale.

THE HOUSE AND LAND situate on Washington street in South Danvers, formerly owned by Sidney C. Bancroft, bounded Northerly on Washington street, and Easterly on Wyman's lane. There is a large store connected with the house. The house is in good repair and suitable for several tenements.

Also, another lot of Land, upon which is a large and convenient Barn, situate on Washington street and bounded northerly on same, and westerly by a private way.

For terms apply to C. SEWALL,

March 2—3 ms 214 Essex street, Salem.

T. HARDY, JR.,

—Dealer in—

DOORS, SASHES, BLINDS,

Glazed Sash, Painted Blinds,

FENCE PALES, STAIR BALUSTERS, FRAMING PINS, &c.,

No. 26 FRONT STREET,

Salem, January 14, 1863—tf.

Valuable Real Estate for Sale.

THE ESTATE of the late THOMAS BANCROFT, situate on Boston Street, Salem, is offered for sale. It consists of a two and a half story building, the upper story finished for a convenient dwelling of eight rooms; the lower story for a store, suitable for most any retail or mechanical business, having been occupied for a retail variety store for the last forty years; and also a large lot of land, which measures 76 feet on Boston Street, and extends back to Beaver Street 166 feet. It is sufficient for three house lots, in addition to that occupied by the building. The building, with a quarter part of the land, will be sold separate, if wanted. For terms, apply to

T. F. BANCROFT, Lynn, Mass.,

or at this Office. March 16—tf.

HAIR WORK.

WE still give our personal attention to the sale and manufacture of every description of

Hair Work,

for Ladies and Gentlemen.

WIGS, TOP PIECES, FRIZETTES, BANDS OF HAIR, CURLS, &c., constantly on hand and made to order.

H. F. SKERRY,

mch 30—2mos 180 Essex Street.

Spring Goods.

THOMAS W. DOWNING & CO.

invite attention to the splendid stock of

NEW GOODS

which they are now opening for the Spring trade.

We shall be constantly supplied with all Novelties as they appear in the market.

mch 2 179 Essex Street.

CURRIER & MILLETT,

Dealers in

Furniture, Chairs,

MATTRESSES, FEATHERS, &

259 & 261 ESSEX ST.

Salem, dec 14—1y

Auction Sales.

WILLIAM ARCHER, Jr.,

Auctioneer, Real Estate and Stock Broker,
34 Front Street.

Real Estate, Bank, Railroad & Manufacturing Stock bought and sold on Commission.

ON SATURDAY NEXT, at 9½ o'clock will be sold at No. 34 Front street:

A QUANTITY of Furniture, 2 Black Walnut Lounges, Sofas, Tables, Chairs, Mattresses, and Feather Beds.

BOOTS AND SHOES—an invoice of Ladies' and Misses' Boots and Shoes.

DRY GOODS—20 pieces bleached Shirtings, Prints, DeLaines, Hosiery, &c.

GROCERIES—Spanish Breakfast Coffee, in pound papers; Cream of Tartar; Pepper; 1 case English Mustard.

1 subsoil Plough, nearly new.

At Private Sale.

A choice variety of Fruit Trees:—Baldwin, Northern Spy and Jersey Sweet Apples.—Standard and Dwarf Pear Trees, Peaches, Grapes, &c.

TEETH ON VULCANITE!

DR. J. H. BATCHELDER,

DENTAL SURGEON,

No. 20 Washington St., (near Eastern Railroad Depot), SALEM, Mass.,

Is Licensed to make the New Patent Teeth on HARD RUBBER or VULCANITE, and from actual experience confidently recommends them for Strength, Beauty, and Cleanliness, to far surpass all other kinds of teeth;—are sure to fit the mouth; are much cheaper and better, being about half the price of teeth on Gold. Ill fitting Setts of Teeth on Gold can be exchanged for the Vulcanite, at very small expense. Specimens seen at Office. Teeth filled with Gold, Inserted, Extracted, and Children's Teeth Regulated—all with such care and gentleness as to be nearly painless,

---

D. P. GROSVENOR, Jr.,

Druggist and Apothecary,

33 MAIN STREET.

Dealer in Drugs, Medicines, Chemicals, Dye Stuffs, and Popular Proprietary Medicines.

Personal attention to Physicians' Prescriptions.

South Danvers, May 29, 1861. 1y

GEO. E. MEACOM,

Dealer in

DRUGS & MEDICINES,

Fancy & Toilet Articles, &c.,

126 · · MAIN ST · · · 126

Nearly opposite Danvers Bank, So. Danvers.

T. A. SWEETSER,

Druggist & Apothecary

37 Main St., So. Danvers,

DEALER IN

Drugs, Medicines, Chemicals, Foreign Leeches, Shakers' Herbs, Dye Stuffs, Gums, Acids, Sponges, Shoulder Braces, Trusses, and Genuine Patent Medicines,

Also, Imported Cigars of choice brands, Perfumery, Toilet Articles and Stationery.

Physicians' Prescriptions carefully prepared by experienced persons.

37 MAIN STREET.

AARON T. LOWE,

DEALER IN

BOOTS, SHOES AND RUBBERS,

76 BOSTON STREET, 76.

aug 6 SALEM. tf

NEW STORE!

Flour! Flour!

JUST RECEIVED, a fresh supply of CHOICE BRANDS, direct from the Mills, for sale, wholesale and retail, at LOWEST PRICES, by

E. F. OSBORN.

Sutton's Building, Main St.

South Danvers, Nov 18, 1863.

MISS. S. E. MACKINTIRE.

TEACHER ON

PIANO FORTE

RESIDENCE,—22 Holton Street,

jan13 South Danvers.

GAYLE & CO.,

GENERAL COMMISSION MERCHANTS,

DEALERS IN

Flour, Grain and Produce,

Manufacturers' Agents for the sale of

Concentrated Leaven, Soda and Pearlash Saleratus, and Bi Carb. Soda.

PHILLIPS WHARF, - - - - Salem.

COSTAR'S
VERMIN
EXTERMINATORS

For Rats, Mice, Roaches, Ants, Bed Bugs, Moths in Furs, Woolens, etc. Insects on Plants, Fowls, Animals, etc.

"Only infallible remedies known."
"Free from Poisons."
"Not dangerous to the Human Family."
"Rats come out of their holes to die."

☞ Sold wholesale in all large cities.
☞ Sold by all Druggists and Retailers everywhere.
☞ ! ! Beware! ! of all worthless imitations.
☞ See that "COSTAR'S" name is on each box, bottle and flask, before you buy.
☞ Address HENRY R. COSTAR.
☞ Principal Depot, No. 482 Broadway, N.Y.
☞ Sold by all Wholesale and Retail Druggists in So. Danvers. mch 30-6m

---

CARRIAGES

OF ALL KINDS

REPAIRED AND PAINTED

— BY —

JOHN C. BLANEY,

Rear of Lowell Depot, Central St.,

So. Danvers, April 6, 1864.

Special Notices.

BELL'S SPECIFIC PILLS.—WARRANTED IN ALL CASES.—Can be relied on! Never fail to cure! Do not nauseate! Are speedy in action! No change of diet required! Do not interfere with business pursuits! Can be used without detection! Upward of 200 cures the past month—some of them very severe cases. Over one hundred physicians have used them in their practice, and all speak well of their efficacy, and approve of their composition, which is entirely vegetable and harmless on the system. Hundreds of certificates can be shown.

BELL'S SPECIFIC PILLS are the original and only genuine Specific Pill. They are adapted for male and female, old or young, and the only reliable remedy for effecting a permanent and speedy cure in all cases of Spermatorrhea, or Seminal Weakness, with all its train of evils, such as Urethral and Vaginal Discharges, Gleet, the Whites, Nightly or Involuntary Emissions, Incontinence, Genital Debility and Irritability, Impotence, Weakness or Loss of Power, Nervous Debility, &c., &c., all of which arise principally from Sexual Excesses or Self-Abuse, or some constitutional derangement, and incapacitates the sufferer from fulfilling the duties of married life. In all sexual diseases, as Gonorrhea, Gleet, and Strictures, and in Diseases of the Bladder and Kidneys, they act as a charm! Relief is experienced by taking a single box.

Sold by all the principal druggists. Price $1.

They will be sent by mail, securely sealed, and confidentially, on receipt of the money, by

J. BRYAN, M. D,
No. 76 Cedar street, New York,

Consulting Physician for the treatment of Seminal, Urinary, Sexual, and Nervous Diseases, who will send, free to all, the following valuable work, in sealed envelope:

THE FIFTIETH THOUSAND.—DR. BELL'S TREATISE on Self-Abuse, Premature Decay, Impotence and Loss of Power, Sexual Diseases, Seminal Weakness, Nightly Emissions, Genital Debility, &c., &c., a pamphlet of 64 pages, containing important advice to the afflicted, and which should be read by every sufferer, as the means of cure in the severest stages is plainly set forth. Two stamps required to pay postage. December 9, 1863—1 yr.

IMPORTANT TO LADIES.—DR. HARVEY'S FEMALE PILLS have never yet failed in removing difficulties arising from obstruction, or stoppage of nature, or in restoring the system to perfect health when suffering from Spinal Affections, Prolapsus, Uteri, the Whites, or other weakness of the Uterine Organs. The Pills are perfectly harmless on the constitution, and may be taken by the most delicate female without causing distress—the same time they act like a charm by strengthening, invigorating and restoring the system to a healthy condition, and by bringing on the monthly period with regularity, no matter from what causes the obstruction may arise. They should, however, NOT be taken during the first three or four months of pregnancy, though safe at any other time, as miscarriage would be the result.

Each box contains 60 Pills. Price $1.

DR. HARVEY'S TREATISE on Diseases of Females, Pregnancy, Miscarriage, Barrenness, Sterility, Reproduction, and Abuses of Nature, and emphatically the Ladies' Private Medical Adviser, a pamphlet of 64 pages, sent free to any address. Six cents required to pay postage.

The Pills and book will be sent by mail when desired, securely sealed, and prepaid, by

J. BRYAN, M. D, General Agent,
No. 76 Cedar street, New York.

☞ Sold by all the principal druggists.
December 9, 1863—1 yr.

TERRIBLE DISCLOSURES— SECRETS FOR THE MILLION!—A most valuable and wonderful publication. A work of 400 pages, and 30 colored engravings. DR. HUNTER'S VADE MECUM, an original and popular treatise on Man and Woman, their Physiology, Functions, and Sexual Disorders of every kind, with Never-Failing Remedies for their speedy cure. The practice of Dr. Hunter has long been, and still is, unbounded, but at the earnest solicitation of numerous persons, he has been induced to extend his medical usefulness through the medium of his "Vade Mecum." It is a volume that should be in the hands of every family in the land, as a preventive of secret vices, or as a guide for the alleviation of one of the most awful and destructive scourges ever visited mankind. One copy, securely enveloped, will be forwarded free of postage to any part of the United States for 50 cents in post office stamps or 3 copies for $1. Address, post paid, DR. HUNTER, No. 3 Division Street, New York. je 3—1y

Poudrette! Poudrette!!

THE LODI MANUFACTURING COMPANY, with an experience of 24 years, again offer for sale a uniform article of Poudrette at low prices. The experience of thousands of customers attest to the fact that it is the cheapest and the very best manure in market, and particularly adapted for TOBACCO, CORN, POTATOES, and GARDEN TRUCK.

The Company manufacture also BONE TA-FEU (a substitute for Guano), from bone, night soil and guano, ground fine. Price $45 per ton.

A pamphlet containing directions for use, prices, &c., may be had free by addressing a letter to the office of the Company, 66 Courtlandt Street, New York, or applying to our authorized agent,

JOHN M. RICHARDS,
125 Commercial St., Boston, Mass.

SAMUEL WELCH, Grocer, Lowell Street, Agent for the Company. feb17—3m

WALKING MADE EASY.

CORNS.

DR. P. KENISON,
CHIROPODIST,
215 Washington St., Boston,

Cures Hard and Soft Corns, Bunions, Club Nails, Nails penetrating the Flesh, Warts, &c., in a manner that will satisfy the most incredulous.

Horse Railroad Notice.

On and after TUESDAY, Dec. 15, the cars of the Salem and South Danvers Railroad Co. will run through from South Danvers to Beverly,

Leaving South Danvers at 7.00 A. M., and every half hour until 10.30 A. M., and from 10.30 A. M. till 10.30 P. M., every twenty minutes.

Leaving Beverly at 7.00 A. M., and every half hour until 11.30 A. M.; and from 11.30 A. M. till 10.30 P. M., every twenty minutes.

M. H. HALE,
dec 16 Sup't. S. & S. D. R. R. Co.

Are you Insured?

THE subscriber would respectfully call your attention to the fact that he is fully prepared to effect INSURANCE AGAINST FIRE, to any amount, at current rates, on

Dwelling Houses, Barns and their contents, Stores, Stocks of Goods, Furniture, &c. &c., and on buildings in process of erection,

And that he is the authorized Agent for the following responsible Stock and Mutual Companies, viz:

Thames Insurance Co., (Stock,) Norwich, Conn.
Capital—$500,000.
Amos W. Prentice, Pres. Oliver F. Rice, Sec'y
Conway Insurance Company, (Stock) Boston.
Capital and Surplus—$260,000.
James F. Whitney, Pres. David C. Rogers, Sec'y.
City Insurance Company, (Stock) Boston.
Capital—$150,000.
Samuel P. Hayward, Pres. Austin W. Benton, Sec'y

Also, will effect Insurance on the LIVES OF INDIVIDUALS, for one year, seven years, or for the whole term of life, in the

Massachusetts Mutual Life Ins. Co., Springfield, Mass.
Capital and Assetts—$375,000.
Caleb Rice, Pres. D. B. Bacon, Sec'y.
William Mack, M. D., Medical Examiner.

WM. ARCHER, Jr.,
18 Washington st. and 34 Front st., Salem.
feb20-1

HEYLINGBERG'S
Hair Dressing Saloon,
24 MAIN ST., SOUTH DANVERS.

J. J. HEYLINGBERG would announce to his patrons and the public generally, that on and after OCTOBER 1st, 1863, he will abide by the following

TARIFF OF PRICES:

Shaving,	8 cts,
Hair Cutting,	15 cts,
Champooing,	15 cts,

Particular attention paid to dying hair and whiskers, in one preparation, without washing or scrubbing.

New Quarterly customers must pay in advance.
South Danvers, Nov. 25, 1862.

E. R. PERKINS,
PHOTOGRAPHIC ARTIST
241 Essex Street, Salem.

Patent Ambrotypes, Stereoscopes,

Photographs, Spherotypes, Melainotypes, and patent leather Pictures, of varous sizes, taken with all the improvements of the art. Portraits, Miniatures, Engravings, &c., accurately copied. Viewstaken when desired. jan 11

KEROSENE LAMPS.

A FULL stock of Kerosene Lamps, Extra Chimneys, Shades, and Burners. Also—Wicks of all sizes, at apr 13 S. C. & E. A. SIMOND'S.

LANE & CO'S
COLUMN.

NEW SPRING GOODS.

MEN'S AND BOYS' CLOTHING!

MANUFACTURED FROM A GREAT VARIETY OF

Plain and Fancy Goods,

—AND—

CUT IN THE LATEST STYLE,

WITH ELEGANT TRIMMINGS,

And made up in the most thorough manner.

SPRING OVERCOATS,

English Walking Coats,

AND FULL SUITS,

Coats, Pants and Vest,

TO MATCH.

NEW INVOICE

MILITARY UNIFORMS,

—FOR—

OFFICERS AND PRIVATES.

Parents are invited to examine our stock of

BOYS CLOTHING,

CONTAINING

MANY NEW STYLES.

Garribaldi Suits.

Grecian Suits,

English Sacks,

Metropolitan Sacks,

AND FULL SUITS,

SACKS, PANTS AND VESTS.

TO MATCH.

In addition to the above we have a large amount of goods in process of manufacture, which will be addded to our stock as fast as completed. Purchasers will therefore always find a full line from which to make their selections. To those visiting the city by RAIL in search of CLOTHING, we would say:—

Purchase a Ticket through to

"31 and 32" Dock Square,

SECURE A

REAL BARGAIN,

AND THEREBY

SAVE YOUR FARE!

G. H. LANE & CO.,
31 AND 32 DOCK SQUARE,
BOSTON.
March 30.—3m

Cards.

M. B. MANSFIELD,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
214 ESSEX STREET, SALEM, MASS.

 Particular attention paid to procuring Pensions, Bounties, Back Pay, Prize Money, and Army and Navy Claims of all descriptions. March 2.

WILLIAM C. CHOATE,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
251 Essex St., Salem.
Salem, August 6, 1862. tf

THOMAS M. STIMPSON,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
194 ESSEX STREET, SALEM.
Residence Lowell street, South Danvers.

B. C. PERKINS,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
South Danvers—Office in Allen's Building

ALFRED A. ABBOTT,
Attorney and Counsellor,
Office, No. 24 Washington Street, Salem;
House, Main St., So. Danvers.

SIDNEY C. BANCROFT,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
27 Washington Street, Salem.

H. O. WILEY,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
Office, Allen's Building, So. Danvers.

Claims against the Government for Bounty Back Pay, and Pensions, promptly attended to

A. S. CRAWFORD,
Dentist,
No. 4 MAIN STREET, So. DANVERS. SQUARE
Mechanical Dentistry Neatly Executed.

W. L. BOWDOIN,
SURGEON DENTIST,
No, 208 Essex Street, Salem, (Opposite the Marke
Residence—No. 57 Washington street.
jan 11—1y

NEWMAN & SYMONDS,
DEALERS IN
Family Groceries, Flour & Grain,
HARD WARE AND CROCKERY,
Ready Made Clothing, Gents' Furnishing Goods,
Hats, Caps, Boots, Shoes, &c.,
South Danvers Square, opp. Congregational Church
SAM'L NEWMAN. NATH'L SYMONDS.

S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS,
DEALERS IN
Crockery, China and Hardware; Paper Hangings; Solar and Entry Lamps; Paints, Oil, and Window Glass.
No. 32 Front street, Lawrence Place,
feb13 SALEM, MASS.

HENRY L. WHIDDEN,
HOUSE AND SIGN PAINTER,
Glazier and Paperer,
Central Street, South Danvers.
All orders promptly and faithfully executed.
jan2-1y.

E. S. FLINT,
DEALER IN
West India Goods, Country Poduce,
No. 2 Main Street, South Danvers.

JESSE SMITH
No. 262 Essex Street, Salem,
Importer and Dealer in
Gold and Silver Watches,
MARINE CHRONOMETERS,
Aueroid Barometers, Spy Glasses, &c.

WILLIAM BLANEY,
HOUSE & SIGN PAINTER
Grainer, Glazier and Paper Hanger.
164 MAIN STREET, Corner of Grove.
WINDOWS and BLINDS cheap for cash.
mch6-tf

F. POOLE,
INSURANCE AGENT,
Allen's Building (up stairs),
Deeds drawn, and other common forms.

H. L. HADLEY,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
CORNER MAPLE AND ELM ST.,
Danvers.
Claims against the Government for Bounty, Back Pay, and Pensions, promptly attended to.

DEVEREUX & McLELLAN,
Attorneys and Counsellors-at-Law,
CIVIL AND MILITARY,
Browne's Block, Essex street—Room No. 5.

J. F. DEVEREUX, Salem, Mass.
GEO. F. McLELLAN, Washington, D. C.
Oct. 21.

CREAM ALE.

THIS Ale is highly recommended by Physicians for

FAMILY USE AND INVALIDS.

Put up in Half Barrels and Barrels,
And for sale by
J. MAGUIRE & CO.,
No. 6 Derby Square, Salem.

Also, Agent for
MASSEY & COLLINS'
PHILADELPHIA ALES,
BUCKHART'S
CREAM ALE,
And Dealer in
LONDON PORTER, SCOTCH ALE, Atkinson's Wormwood Cordial, Drake's Plantation Bitters, &c., &c.

J. MAGUIRE & CO.,
july 15 No. 6 Derby Square, Salem.

E. F. BURNHAM,
SOLE AGENT FOR
SARGENT & CO.S'
MAGIC SOAP!
For South Danvers & Salem.

OFFICE—Central St., opp. Lowell Depot, at Burnham's Express Office, So. Danvers.

Price $3.50 per 100 Lbs.

Orders sent by mail or otherwise to So. Danvers will be promptly attended to. tf-oct3

Choice Spring Pigs for Sale.

THE subscriber offers for sale nice PIGS of Mackie Prince Albert and Chester County breeds, of which the Mackie took the First Premium at the late CattleShow. Prices reasonable.

BYRON GOODALE,
Near Tapley's Brook.
South Danvers, April 1, 1864. tf

FEATHER DUSTERS.

ANOTHER lot of Dusters at
S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS', 32 Front st

Advertisements.

HOSTETTER'S
CELEBRATED
STOMACH BITTERS.

A pure and powerful Tonic, corrective and alterative of wonderful efficacy in disease of the

Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

Cures Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Headache, Debility, Nervousness, Depression of Spirits, Constipation, Colic, Intermittent Fevers, Cramps and Spasms, and all Complaints of either Sex, arising from Bodily Weakness whether inherent in the system or produced by special causes.

Nothing that is not wholesome, genial and restorative in its nature enters into the composition of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. This popular preparation contains no mineral of any kind, no deadly botanical element; no fiery excitant: but it is a combination of the extracts of rare balsamic herbs and plants with the purest and mildest of all diffusive stimulants.

It is well to be forearmed against disease, and, so far as the human system can be protected by human means against maladies engendered by an unwholesome atmosphere, impure water and other external causes, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS may be relied on as a safeguard.

In districts infested with Fever and Ague, it has been found infallible as a preventive and irresistible as a remedy and thousands who resort to it under apprehension of an attack, escape the scourage; and thousands who neglect to avail themselves of its protective qualities in advance, are cured by a very brief course of this marvelous medicine. Fever and Ague patients, after being plied with quinine for months in vain, until fairly saturated with that dangerous alkaloid, are not unfrequently restored to health within a few days by the use of HOSTETTER'S BITTERS.

The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated and the appetite restored by this agreeable Tonic, and hence it works wonders in cases of DISPEPSIA and in less confirmed forms of INDIGESTION. Acting as a gentle and painless apperient, as well as upon the liver, it also invariably relieves the CONSTIPATION superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and secretive organs.

Persons of feeble habit, liable to Nervous Attacks, Lowness of Spirits and Fits of Languor, find prompt and permanent relief from the Bitters. The testimony on this point is most conclusive, and from both sexes.

The agony of BILIOUS COLIC is immediately assuaged by a single dose of the stimulant, and by occasionally resorting to it, the return of the complaint may be prevented.

As a General Tonic, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS produce effects which must be experienced or witnessed before they can be fully appreciated. In cases of Constitutional Weakness, Premature Decay and Debility and Decrepitude arising from OLD AGE, it exercises the electric influence. In the convalescent stages of all diseases it operates as a delightful invigorant. When the powers of nature are relaxed, it operates to re-enforce and re-establish them.

Last, but not least, it is The Only Safe Stimulant, being manufactured from sound and innocuous materials, and entirely free from the acid elements present more or less in all the ordinary tonics and stomachics of the day.

No family medicine has been so universally, and, it may be truly added, deservedly popular with the intelligent portion of the community, as HOSTETTER'S BITTERS.

Prepared by HOSTETTER & SMITH, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Sold by all Druggists, Grocers and Storekeepers everywhere.

HELMBOLD'S
GENUINE PREPARATIONS.

COMPOUND FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU, a Positive and Specific Remedy for diseases of the Bladder, Kidneys, Gravel, and Dropsical Swellings.

This Medicine increases the power of Digestion, and excite the Absorbents into healthy action, by which the Wtaery or Calcareous depositions, and all Unnatural Enlargements are reduced, as well as Pain and Inflammation.

—:o:—

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU.

For Weaknesses arising from Excesses, Habits of Dissipation, Early Indiscretion of Abuse, attended with the following symptoms:—

Indisposition to Exertion,	Loss of Power,
Loss of Memory,	Difficulty of Breathing,
Weak Nerves,	Trembling,
Horror of Disease,	Wakefulness,
Dimness of Vision,	Pain in the Back,
Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System,
Hot Hands,	Flushing of the Body,
Dryness of the Skin,	Eruptions on the Face,
Pallid Countenance.

These symptoms, if allowed to go on, which this medicine invariably removes, soon follows

Impotency, Fatuity, Epileptic Fits,

In one of which the patient may expire.

Who can say that they are not frequently followed by those "Direful Diseases,"

"INSANITY AND CONSUMPTION."

Many are aware of the cause of their suffering,

BUT NONE WILL CONFESS THE RECORDS OF THE INSANE ASYLUMS.

And Melancholy Deaths by Consumption bear ample witness to the Truth of the assertion.

The Constitution once effected with Organic Weakness requires the aid of Medicine to Strengthen and Invigorate the System,

Which HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU invariably does. A Trial will convince the most skeptical.

—:o:—

FEMALES—FEMALES—FEMALES.

In many Affections peculiar to Females the EXTRACT BUCHU is unequalled by any other remedy, as in Chlorosis or Retention, Irregularity, Painfulness, or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated Scirrhous state of the Uterus, Leuchorrhœa or Whites, sterility, and for all complaints incident to the sex, whether arising from indiscretion or Habits of Dissipation, or in the

DECLINE OR CHANGE OF LIFE.

—:o:—

Take no more Balsam, Mercury, or unpleasant Medicines for unpleasant and dangerous diseases.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU AND IMPROVED ROSE WASH CURES

SECRET DISEASES

In all their Stages,	At little Expense.
Little or no change in Diet.	No inconvenience.
And no Exposure.

It causes a frequent desire and gives strength to Urinate, thereby Removing Obsructions, Preventing and Curing Strictures of the Urethra, allaying Pain and Inflammation, so frequent in this class of diseases, and expelling all Poisonous, Diseased and worneut Matter.

Thousands upon Thousands who have been the Victims of Quacks, and who have paid heavy fees to be cured in a short time, have found they were deceived, and that the "POISON" has, by the use of "Powerful Astringents," been dried up in the system, to break out in an aggravated form, and perhaps after Marriage.

—:o:—

Use HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU for all affections and diseases of the URINARY ORGANS, whether existing in MALE or FEMALE, from whatever cause originating and no matter of HOW LONG STANDING. Diseases of these Organs requires the aid of a DIURETIC. HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU IS THE GREAT DIURETIC, and is certain to have the desired effect in all Diseases for which it is Recommended.

Evidence of the most reliable and responsible character will accompany the medicine.

Price $1.00 per bottle, or six for $5.00.

Delivered to any Address, securely packed from observation.

Describe Symptoms in all Communications.

Cures Guaranteed! Advice Gratis!!

Address letters for information to

H. B. HELMBOLD, Chemist,
104 South Tenth st., bel. Chestnut, Phila.

HELMBOLD'S Medical Depot.
HELMBOLD'S Drug & Chemical Warehouse.
594 Broadway, New York.

BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS AND UNPRINCIPLED DEALERS who endeavor to dispose "of their own" and "other" articles on the reputation attained by

Helmbold's Genuine Preparations.
" " Extract Buchu.
" " " Sarsaparilla.
" " Improved Rose Wash.

SOLD BY
ALL DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE.
ASK FOR HELMBOLD'S: TAKE NO OTHER.
Cut out the Advertisement and send for it.
AND AVOID IMPOSITION AND EXPOSURE.
December 16, 1863.—1 yr.

STURGIS'S
ELECTRIC COMPOUND!
AN EFFECTUAL CURE FOR
NEURALGIA AND RHEUMATISM.

Also, invaluable for Spinal Irritation, Hip Complaints, Ague in the Face, Tooth Ache, Pain in the Side, Back, Limbs, Ear Ache, Lumbago, &c.

The proprietor, in offering this medicine to the public, desires to state that this preparation does not belong to the class called patent medicines. Its value has been tested for many years, and it has been found fully adequate to the removal of many obstinate cases of the above complaints, which other celebrated remedies had failed to reach, and which had baffled the skill of eminent physicians. The proprietor does not claim that it will cure but one class of disease. All persons who are afflicted with any of these complaints are earnestly requested to try this Compound and judge for themselves.

AMONG THE ADVANTAGES OF THIS MEDICINE ARE THE FOLLOWING:

Its effect is very rapid—in most cases instantaneous.

It is external in its application, and the patient runs no risk in using it. It does not strike to the stomach.

It reaches the nerves and muscles, as it is believed no other medicine does.

It has cured some of the most violent and obstinate cases of Neuralgia ever known.

It can be used on a child or on an aged person alike. While it is very powerful, it is perfectly harmless.

The proprietor has been allowed to publish the names of many persons who have used the Compound with the most beneficial results. He inserts here a few of them. They are among the most respectable citizens of Boston, and their residences and places are given:

Rev. N. Munroe,
Late Editor of "Boston Recorder."
Rev. H. M. Dexter,
Of Boston.
Joseph H. Allen,
119 Washington Sfreet, House 55 Rutland Street.
N. P. Kemp,
Tract Society, 40 Cornhill.
Addison Boyden,
409 Washington st., Boston, firm of Haley, Moore & Boyden.
D. C. Rogers,
Conway Insurance Company, 7) State St, Boston.
Miss Rogers,
22 Milford Street, Boston.
Mrs. J. S. Atwood,
5 Cherry Street, Boston.
I. B. Skinner,
129 Washington Street, Boston.
Mrs. R. Hale,
Alpine Street, Roxbury.
Mrs. C. H. Dickinson,
5 Briggs Place, Boston.
Miss J. A. Rowe,
3 Concord Street, Charlestown.
C. C. Barry,
Cashier City Bank, Boston.
And many others.

The proprietor is permitted to publish the following letter from O. C. Pitkin, Esq., Principal of the High School in the city of Chelsea, and well known as one of the most successful teachers in New England:

CHELSEA, April 30, 1863.

FRIEND WILLIAMS:—Yours of the 26th is receved. My wife was troubled with severe Neuralgia in the face. She tried your Compound with decidedly good effect. I think it is an excellent article, and have recommended it in one instance, where it also produced good effect. You certainly have the liberty to refer it to me.

With much respect, yours truly,
O. C. PITKIN.

B. W. WILLIAMS, Proprietor,
116 Washington St., Boston.

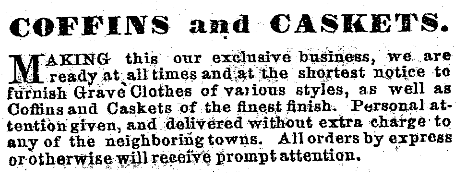
For sale by all Wholesale and Retail Druggists and Apothecaries. Feb. 3—3m.

H. & H. G. HUBON,
WASHINGTON STREET, SALEM
Manufacturers of
Rose Wood, Mahogany, Black Walnnt and Stained Wood
COFFINS and CASKETS.

MAKING this our exclusive business, we are ready at all times and at the shortest notice to furnish Grave Clothes of various styles, as well as Coffins and Caskets of the finest finish. Personal attention given, and delivered without extra charge to any of the neighboring towns. All orders by express or otherwise will receive prompt attention.

Black Walnut and White Wood Boards, Plank and Joists for sale.

dec 14—tf



CHARLES S. BUFFUM,

BEING an authorized UNDERTAKER of South Danvers, will attend Funerals in said place with his Hearse the same as the Town Undertaker. Will also attend Funerals, when desired, in any of the neighboring towns, with one or a pair of horses.

He also furnishes Coffin Caskets, Robes, &c., lower than city prices.

All branches of the business attended to, such as furnishing Coaches, Flowers, Laying Out, &c. Ice Preservers furnished.

All orders promptly attended to, and personal attention given to them. Articles delivered to any of the neighboring towns free of charge. Orders by express or otherwise will receive prompt attention.

Central street, South Danvers,
RESIDENCE 25 ELM STREET.
South Danvers, Feb 17, 1864.

Undertaker's Notice!

THE subscriber being regularly appointed as Undertaker of South Danvers, would respectfully notify the public that he has removed from Central Street, to No. 80 Lowell Street, where he may be found in readiness to attend funerals, and to furnish, when desired.

HENRY SPENCER.
February 10, 1864.

E. S. FLINT,
Manufacturer and Dealer in
INNER SOLES,
AND SHOE STIFFENINGS OF ALL KINDS.
2 MAIN STREET, SOUTH DANVERS.

Eastern Railroad.

ON and after MONDAY, April 4, 1864, Trains will leave the Eastern Railroad Station, Washington street, Salem, daily, (Sundays excepted):

For Lynn and Boston, *5.50, 7, 8¼, 9, 10, 11 a m., 12 55, 2¼, 5¼, 7, 7¼, p. m.
Beverly, 8, 8 15, 11¼ am., 1, 3¼, 2¾, 5¾, 6.55, 7¾ p m.
W. Beach, Man'r, Gloucester, and Rockport, 8, 11¼, a m., 3¼, 6¼ p m.
Ipswich and Newburyport, 8 05 a m., 1, 3¾, 5¾, 6.55 pm.
Amesbury, 8 05 a m., 1, 3¾, 5¾ p m.
Portsmouth, 8 05 a m., 3¾, p m.
Portland, 8 05 a m., 3¾ p m.

AND FOR SALEM, FROM

Portland, 8¾ a m., 3 p m.
Portsmouth, 6 20, 9 10, *11¼ a m., *5½ p m.
Amesbury, 7.35, 9.40 a m., [illegible]5 p m.
Newburyport, 7, 7 55, 10, 11.50 a m., 6¼ p m.
Ipswich, 7 20, 8.15, 10.20 a m., 12.15, 6.35 p m.
Gloucester, 7, 10, 10 10 a m., 1.40, 4.40 pm.
Manchester, 7.25, 10.25 a m., 1.55, 4.55 p m.
Beverly, 6.50, 7.50, 8.20, 8.50 10.50 am., 12.45, 2.20, 5.20, 6.45, 7.05 pm.
Lynn, 7.45, 7.50, 9, 11, a m., 12.45, 3, 3.30, 4.30, 5 30, 6, 6.40, 7 30, 10 p m.
Boston, 7¼, 7¼, 8¾, 10½ am., 12¼, 2½, 3, 4, 5, 5.30, 6.10, 7, †9 30 p m.

*Or on arrival from the East.
‡On Wednesdays this train leaves Boston at 11½ p m. and on Saturdays at 10½ p m.

MARBLEHEAD BRANCH.

Marblehead for Salem, 6¾, 7¾, 8¾, 9¾ a m., 12¼, 1¾, 5¼, 6¾, 7¼ p m.
Salem for Marblehead, 7¼, 8¼, 9.25, 11¼ a m., 1, 3¼, 5¾, 7, 7.50 p m.

SOUTH READING BRANCH.

Trains leave the South Reading Depot in Salem for Boston at 6.35, 9.50 a m., 2.25, 4.55 p m.
Boston for Salem, 7 a m., 12 m., 2 30, 5½ p m.

ESSEX RAILROAD.

Leave Salem for Lawrence and way stations, 7, 11¼ a m., 4.45 p m.
Lawrence for Salem, 8 a m., 12.40, 5.50 p m.
Danvers for Salem, 8.40 a m., 12.15, 6.30 p m.
South Danvers for Salem, 8¾ a m., 1.25, 6.35 p m.

J. PRESCOTT, Superintendent.
Boston, April 5, 1864.

Salem and Lowell Railroad.

ON and after MONDAY, April 4, 1864, Trains will run as follows:

Leave Lowell for Salem, 7.25 a m., and *2.45 p m.
Leave Salem for Lowell, *9.40 a m. and 6 00 p m.

Passengers are not allowed to carry baggage above $50 in value, and that personal, unless notice is given and an extra amount paid. Season tickets do not entitle the holder to take baggage.

*Freight Train with passenger car attached.

F. H. NOURSE, Local Superintendent.
April 4, 1864

A LECTURE FOR YOUNG MEN.

Just published, a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical cure (without medicine) of SPERMATORRHŒA, or Seminal Weakness, Involuntary Seminal Losses, IMPOTENCY, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc.; also, Consumption, Epilepsy and Fits, induced by self-indulgence or sexual extravagance.

☞ Price, in a sealed envelope, only 6 cents.

The celebrated author in this admirable essay clearly demonstrates from a thirty years successful practice, that the alarming consequences of self-abuse may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine or the application of the knife—pointing out a mode of cure, at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

This Lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land.

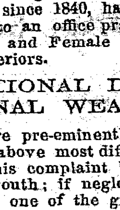
Sent under seal, in a plain envelope, to any address, POST-PAID, on receipt of six cents, or two postage stamps. Address the publishers,

CHAS. J. C. KLINE & CO,,
127 Bowery. New York, Post Office Box, 4586.
January 16—8mos.

Abbott's South Danvers & Salem
EXPRESS.

Leave South Danvers,	7½ a m, 1 p m
Leave Salem,	10 a m, 4 p m

Orders left at Teel & Moulton's, and principal stores on Main street, South Danvers; and at 7 Washington street, and at Reed's in the Market, Salem.



FOR NEW YORK via FALL RIVER AND NEWPORT.

Cabin passage $5.00; Deck, $4.00. Cars leave the Depot of the Old Colony and Newport Railway, corner of South and Kaeeland streets, at 5.30 P. M., daily.

For steamer BAY STATE, Capt. W. Brown, on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

For steamer EMPIRE STATE, Capt. B. Brayton, on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays.

Passengers by this route can take the 4.10 P. M. Express Train, and arrive in Fall River one hour before the Steamboat Train, having time to secure State Rooms and make their preparations for the passage.

Passengers by this line going to Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, &c., can connect with the New Jersey or Camden and Amboy Railroad. Baggage Checked through.

☞ A baggage master accompanies the passengers through to New York. Tickets, Berths and Staterooms secured at the O. C. & Newport R. R. Station.

GEORGE SHIVERICK, Agent.
No. 82 Washington Street.
BOSTON, November 16, 1863.

ALWAYS SUCCESSFUL!
TO ALL THOSE WHO SUFFER FROM
DEBILITY AND SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

DRS. CARSWELL & HUNTER, regularly educated, highly eminent and successful practitioners, after a very extensive practice in Boston, for over twenty years, need hardly speak of their medical qualifications, or remind strangers not to class them with a set of uneducated men, who fill the papers with their boasting advertisements. Drs. C. & H. caution the public against quackery in all its forms, pretending, as some self-styled doctors, to cure all the most difficult and chronic diseases, without knowledge of the human system, or of the modus operandi of the most simple drugs.

Drs. C. & H., since 1840, having confined their whole attention to an office practice for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, they acknowledge no superiors.

CONSTITUTIONAL DEBILITY OR SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Drs. C. & H. are pre-eminently successful in the treatment of the above most difficult and perplexing of all diseases, this complaint being the result of a secret habit in youth; if neglected or improperly treated, it proves one of the greatest evils that can befall a human being. Dr. H. has given particular attention to the above disease for years, and so thoroughly has he become acquainted with the pathology and treatment, that he will warrant a perfect cure under forfeiture of $500; in fact, he will, in the cure of this complaint, acknowledge no superior in this country, or even in the world. Come, then, all you who are afflicted, come to the Old Stand, where you will in a short time be made to rejoice in perfect health.

SYPHILITIC AND SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS,—such as Ulcers and Caries of the throat and nose, Running Sores on the legs and arms, Hard Scabs and Scaly Eruptions on the head, back, &c., pains in the bones and joints, and all other forms of venereal diseases—are made to yield and entirely disappear under Drs. C. & H.'s improved and thoroughly eradicating course of treatment.

The primary or first symptoms of disease, whether a simple running, or small pistules, cancers, or ulcers, are cured in a very few days, if immediate application is made to Drs. C. & H.

13 ENDICOTT STREET, BOSTON. 13

Strangers should be particular in the selection of a physician, lest they be deceived by false advertisements.

Ladies troubled with irregularity, weakness, whites, and other complaints peculiar to the female system, will find a speedy cure by calling as above. No mercury used, and no charge for advice. The afflicted are invited to give us a call.

Boston, April 20, 1864.—1 yr.

25 YEARS' EXPERIENCE enables DRS. CARSWELL & HUNTER to cure any diseases of a private nature in a shorter space of time and for a smaller amount of money than any other doctors in this country, and they also treat all female complaints with perfect success, and on the most satisfactory terms. Patients furnished with board if desired. Please give us a call at our office, No. 13 Endicott St., Boston, Mass.

Boston, April 20, 1864.—1 yr.

Chickering & Sons' Piano-Fortes.
Hallett & Cumston's Piano-Fortes.
Hallett & Davis's Piano-Fortes.

We select our Piano-Fortes from the above firms and warrant them to give perfect satisfaction. Our terms are reasonable, and all persons in the city and neighboring towns can be accommodated by calling at 76 Federal street.

FOR SALE—Second-hand Piano-Fortes,—Chickering's and others.

ap 29 ANN E. BRAY.

EGG BEATERS.

THE Revolving Egg Beater, at
S C & E A SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

SUMMER ARRANGE
TO LYNN & BOST
BY OMNIBUS & HORSE
W. F. BURNHAM

Line of Omnibuses will leave the Lynn Omnibus Office, No. 6 Allen's Building, vers, passing down Main Street, through Street, to Lynn, daily—Sundays included

Leave South Danvers at 7 50 o'clock, and 4 50 P. M

Leave Lynn (Horse Car Depot, West L A. M., 2 40 and 6 40 P. M.

Horse Cars leaving the office at 14 Br at 8 15 A M., 1 15 and 5 15 P. M., will me buses at Lynn, at the above named ho passengers to South Danvers.

Tickets to Lynn,
Through to Boston,

Gravesend, Woodend, and Depot Route.

ON and after Monday, Nov 2, in additi route, an Omnibus will leave South Lynn, to connect with the steam and l times daily,—Sundays excepted,—runni Gravesend and Woodend, to the Central and Horse Railroad Station, corner of Broad Streets; leaving South Danvers at necting with the 7 25 steam cars for Bos (connecting with the 11.10 train), and 4 P ing with the 4.50 train); and returning, from the Spring Street Station and Cent pot, at 8 A M, and 1 and 6 P M.

Fare from S. Danvers to Boston by ho
" " " " ste

Through Tickets to and from Boston m the Drivers and Conductors.

South Danvers, Salem a Route.

THE subscriber having purchased of ley the Omnibus line running fro Lynn, would announce that it will no Stage Office, No. 6 Allen's Building, So for Salem, at 7 30 A M, and 2 30 P M, a Stage Office in Central St, Salem, at 8 3.30 P M for Lynn. Returning will leave A M and 5 P M; and Salem for South D A M, and 6.15 P M.

Passengers between South Danvars an be called for by leaving orders at the off Passengers called for at reasonable cha is given at the office.

EXPRESS BUSINES

Between South Danvers and Lynn pro ed to, on reasonable terms.

Extra Coaches furnished at short notic

W. F. BUR
South Danvers, April 20, 1864.

CROUT & MUNRO
SOUTH DANVERS & B
RAILROAD EXPR

Express leaves South Danvers at
Freight " " " at
Express leaves Boston at
Freight " " at

OFFICE at FREIGHT DEP
Danvers Square.

Express Office in Boston, 3 Washi
Freight Office, 48 Kilby

Particular attention paid to ren niture, collecting Bills, Notes, Dra

Smallest favors thankfully received.

South Danvers, august 26—tf

MARSHALL
DANVERS, SO. DANVERS
EXPRESS.

Leave DANVERS (daily) at 9 A. M.
" SALEM at 1½ P. M.

OFFICES:

In Danvers—At E B Waitt's and the P
Danversport—Richards' and A W War
In So. Danvers—Francis Dane & Co's, street.
In Salem—No 7 Washington street, 19 17 Derby Square.

All business promptly and faithfully

—— Our patrons are particularly write their orders.

—— Packages, left at the office, shou "Marshall's Express."

—— Being connected with the E are enabled to forward Notes, Draft collection, and small packages, to pointin the United States, at the u

P. G. M
dec18-tf

WEBBER
South Danvers & Salem Ma

WILL leave South Danvers at 7½ a 1½ and 5 P M.

Leaves Salem at 8.45 A M., 12 M., 2

Slates will be found in South Danve Office, and at Blake & Holman's stor ment, and in Salem at the Coach Stati Street, and at E F & J W Roberts', cor Washington Streets.

Any packages or business entrusted will have prompt attention and care. lic patronage is solicited.

PARKE

Important to the Af

DR. DOW continues to be consulte Nos. 7 and 9 Endicott street, Bost eases of a

PRIVATE OR DELICATE N

By a long course of study and practi of unlimited extent, Dr. D. has now t of presenting the unfortunate with have never, since he first introduced cure the most alarming cases of

GONORRHŒA AND SYPH

Beneath his treatment, all the horro and impure blood, Impotency, Scrofula Ulcers, pain and distress in the regio tion, Inflammation of the Bladder and drocele, Abcesses, Humors, frightful, the long train of horrible symptoms class of disease, are made to become the simplest ailings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNES

Dr. D. devotes a great part of his ti ment of those cases caused by a secr habit, which ruins the body and mind unfortunate individual for business or of the sad and melancholy effects pro habits of youth, are Weakness of limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimnes pitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Ne rangement of the digestive function Consumption, &c The fearful effect are much to be dreaded; loss of mem of ideas, depression of spirits, e aversion of society, self-distrust, tim among the evils produced. Such pers fore contemplating matrimony, consu experience, and be at once restore happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under ment a few days or weeks, will be pleasant rooms, and charges for boar

Medicines sent to all parts of the c directions for use, on receiving des cases. Dr. Dow has also for sale the warranted the best preventive. O or $1 and a red stamp.

CAUTION
TO FEMALES IN DELICATE

DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, street, Boston, is consulted daily for dent to the female system. Prolapsu ing of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Supp er menstrual derangements, are all tr pathological principles, and speedy in a very few days. So invariably c mode of treatment, that most obst yield under it, and the afflicted pers in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater cure of diseases of women and chil other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for pa wish to stay in Boston a few days ment.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confin tention to an office practice, for the Diseases and Female Complaints, a superior in the United States.

N. B.—All letters must contain fou they will not be answered.

Office Hours from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.

CERTAIN CU
IN ALL CASES, OR NO CHA

Dr. Dow is consulted daily, from as above, upon all difficult and ch every name and nature, having by tention and extraordinary success ga which calls patients from all parts obtain advice.

Among the physicians in Boston, in the profession than the celebrated 7 Endicott street, Boston. Those w vices of an experienced physician a give him a call. P. S.—Dr. Dow im sale a new article, called the Frenc by mail. Two for $1 and a red stam

April 20, 1864—1y.

Ann E. Bray, 76 Fe

HAS a full Stock of Black colors we have all the d Muslin Delains in Spring colors

South Danvers Wizard.

OL. V. SOUTH DANVERS, MASS., WEDNESDAY, MAY 4, 1864. NO. 18.

SOUTH DANVERS WIZARD
shed every WEDNESDAY, at Allen's Build-
th Danvers Square.
s—Two Dollars a year.
RTISEMENTS inserted at reasonable rates.

CHARLES D. HOWARD,
DITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

R. NILES, Advertising Agent,
Scollay's Building, Court Street, Boston, is
ent for that city, and is authorized to redvertisements and subscriptions for us at
'est rates.

Advertisements.

EGULATIONS OF THE ARD OF HEALTH
—OF THE—
WN OF SOUTH DANVERS.

Adopted April 12, 1864.

ered, That all dirt, saw-dust, cinders, gs, hair, shreds, manure, oyster and lob- iells, waste water, or any animal or vege- substance, rubbish, or filth of any kind, house, ware-house, cellar, yard, or other which the Board of Health shall deem essary for the health of the town to be ed, shall be carried away therefrom, by t the expense of the owner or occupant h house, or other place where the same be found, and shall be removed to such as shall be directed, within four hours notice in writing to that effect, given by ard of Health.

ered, That all slaughter-houses or places animals are slaughtered, shall be so ed by removing the offal, and all decay- imal matter, as to be free from all offen- dors to residents in the vicinity, and to individuals travelling by any such place animals are slaughtered.

ered, That no obstructions, such as posts, , or other collectors of decaying animal getable matters, shall be placed in any of rooks of the town, or in Wallis Pond,— at no privy be erected or continued over aters, or so situated on the margin there t the filth shall pass into them, and that imal or vegetable matters, or whatever pollute the waters, be thrown or allowed in the same, excepting by special permit Board of Health.

ered, That no wagon, cart or vehicle, in night soil, hides or other matter, in a ion to emit fetid and offensive effluvia ing conveyed through any of the streets, ays, or within forty rods of any dwelling , school house, or other public building in own, shall be permitted to stand more five minutes, within forty rods of the place, except it be at the place or places the load is received or deposited.

M. A. SHACKLEY, }
DR. S. F. BACHELDER, } Board
JOSEPH POOR, } of
A. P. PHILLIPS, } Health.
CHAS. E. BROWN, }

th Danvers, April 20, 1864. 6w

PRING STYLES
—OF—
1864.

D. BOISE & CO.,
Manufacturers and Dealers
—IN—
LOTHING,

e attention to their Large and Fashionable , comprising Medium, Fine and Su- or grades, of our own manufacture, some hich is fully equal to the best Custom .

holesale or Retail purchasers will find it their benefit to examine our Stock before hasing.

e have also a large and fashionable stock RICE GOODS, consisting of the most able patterns of English, French, German American

OTHS,
CASSIMERES,
DOESKINS, and
VESTINGS,

h have been selected with great care in New York and Boston markets.

USTOM CLOTHING made to order e latest styles at short notice.

PARTICULAR ATTENTION GIVEN TO my and Navy Uniforms.
Gentlemen's Furnishing Goods
OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.

L. D. BOISE & CO.,
154 Washington Street, Boston.
pril 20.—3m.

THE FAMILY
Iourning Store,
20 WINTER ST., BOSTON.
S. WILLIAMS & CO.

URING DRESS GOODS,
Of every name and quality.
URNING SILKS,
For first and second Mourning.
URNING SHAWLS,
Cashmere and Thibet, Long and Square,
Trimmed with Crape and Silk.
NDON CRAPES,
-4, 5-4, 6-4, of Grouts & Courtauld's make.
URNING MILLINERY,
Crape and Silk Hats,
Lace and Tarlton Caps,
English Crape Veils,
Collars, Sleeves and Setts,
New Ruches and Rufflings.

NOTICE. We deal entirely in MOURN- G FABRICS and offer every facility to rchasers. ap13—4w

WM. C. HENDERSON,
MANUFACTURER OF
PLAIN AND FANCY
PAPER BOXES;
No. 235 ESSEX STREET,
Sign of "Nest of Boxes,"
july 23 SALEM. tf

Coe's Superphosphate of Lime.

BRADLEY'S TOBACCO FERTILIZER.

For sale by the Manufacturer,
W. L. BRADLEY.
SALE OFFICE,
24 BROAD ST., BOSTON.

PAMPHLETS containing testimonials in favor of Coe's Superphosphate of Lime as a Standard Manure, and Bradley's Manual on the Culture and Curing of Tobacco, with illustrations, can be had by addressing the undersigned WM. L. BRADLEY.
☞ Highest Cash Prices paid for Bones.
Boston, April 13, 1864. 3m

GENTLEMEN'S HATS,
Spring Styles,
—AT—
J. A. JACKSON'S.

A large and choicely selected assortment of
FINE SOFT FELT HATS,
CLOTH HATS AND CAPS,
For Men and Boy's Wear.

101 COURT ST.,
April 13.—3m. BOSTON.

ANN R. BRAY,
No. 76 Federal Street, Salem.

WE have received many new and desirable styles of
Spring and Summer Goods,
which will give our customers and friends a full stock to select their goods from.

We have a full assortment of Organdies;
Jaconets—white and colored grounds;
Mozambique, Challies, Rich Fancy Ginghams
Bright colors Tartan Plaid—French Bareges;
French Cambrics for Ladies and Children;
French Plaids—suitable for Summer wear;
—We have a full line of—
Alpaccas, choice shades; Black do; Black Silks.

A Small Farm Wanted.

WANTED to purchase, a farm of from five to twenty-five acres (according to the locality) of good land, with small, convenient buildings. Those wishing to sell will please address CHAS. F. RICKER, Wells, Maine—JOSEPH JANVIRIN, Exeter, N. H.—or THOS. DAVIS, 15 Washington St., Charlestown, Mass.—giving the description of land and buildings, distance from church, schoolhouse, railroad station, stores, &c., also the price. April 27.—tf.

FURNITURE.

Having taken Rooms over M. C. REYNOLDS & CO's Store, I shall keep constantly on hand a large stock of
NEW AND SECOND-HAND FURNITURE,
BEDDING, COUNTING-ROOM DESKS, &c., &c.,
which I will sell cheap for CASH.

☞ All kinds of FURNITURE and BEDDING wanted—for which the highest Cash price will be paid.

P. J. HYNES, 18 FRONT-ST.
Salem, April 6, 1864—1y

Salem and Danvers Aqueduct Co'y.

ALL persons using the water of the Salem and South Danvers Aqueduct are hereby notified that the water rents, for the six months ending April 1, 1864, are now due, and that they are required to pay the same, at the office of the Company, No. 2 Sewall street, on or before the 1st day of May next. Should the bills remain unpaid for thirty days, the water will be stopped, in conformity to the regulations of the Company.

Office hours, from 9 to 1 o'clock, and from 2 to 6.

Per order of the Directors,
Salem, April 1. WM. JELLY, Collector.

PIN WORMS. MRS. OSBORN'S Universal Worm Powders are the only sure cure ever offered to the public. They are warranted in every case; relief within 24 hrs. 25 cts. per box. Sold by all druggists.

For sale by D. P. GROSVENOR, Jr., 33 Main St., South Danvers. jan 27

Valuable Real Estate for Sale.

THE HOUSE AND LAND situate on Washington street in South Danvers, formerly owned by Sidney C. Bancroft, bounded Northerly on Washington street, and Easterly on Wyman's lane. There is a large store connected with the house. The house is in good repair and suitable for several tenements.

Also, another lot of Land, upon which is a large and convenient Barn, situate on Washington street and bounded northerly on same, and westerly by a private way.

For terms apply to C. SEWALL,
March 2—3 ms 214 Essex street, Salem.

CURRIER & MILLETT,
Dealers in
Furniture, Chairs,
MATTRESSES, FEATHERS, &
259 & 261 ESSEX ST.
Salem, dec 14—1y

LINSEED OIL.

VARNISHES, Japan Drying, Spirits Turpentine, and Bensole, constantly for sale at S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS', April 27. 32 Front Street.

ESSEX INSTITUTE HISTORICAL COLLECTIONS.

VOL. 7, No. 1—just out,
G. M. WHIPPLE & A. A. SMITH.

AGRICULTURAL WAREHOUSE.
Parker, Gannett & Osgood,
WHOLESALE AND RETAIL DEALERS IN
Agricultural Implements, Seeds,
FERTILIZERS, &c.,
INCLUDING THE FOLLOWING:

Plows, Lard Presses,
Harrows, Vegetable Cutters,
Cultivators, Railway and Sweep Horse Powers,
Corn Planters, Threshing Machines,
Horse Hoes, Hay Presses,
Hay Cutters, Cider Mills,
Corn Shellers, Garden and Canal Barrows,
Churns, all patterns,
Meat Cutters,
Sausage Stuffers, Mounted Grindstones,
Field & Garden Rollers, Cheese Presses,
Road Scrapers, Folding Ladders,
Grindstone Fixtures, Horse Rakes,
Hoes, Palmer's Horse Pitchforks,
Manure Forks,
Shovels, Axes,
Spades, Grass Hooks, Fan Mills, Garden Trowels.

BUCKEYE MOWING MACHINES,
Grass, Garden, Flower and Field Seeds,
Guano, Coe's Super Phosphate Lime, Pouderette, Ground Bone, Fish Guano, &c., at the Lowest Prices.
No. 49 North Market street, and 46 Merchant's Row, Boston.
April 27, 1864.——3m.

CHILDREN'S CARRIAGES.

WE have on hand a very large stock of Children's Carriages, comprising every vasiety of style, from the
CHEAP WILLOW CAB
—TO THE—
FINEST NEW HAVEN GIG.
—ALSO—
PERAMBULATORS!
of various qualities.

REPAIRING, in all its branches, prompt- promptly attended to at the OLD STAND,
No. 180 Essex street, Salem.
HENRY F. SKERRY.
April 20.—3m.

MORRIS'
RESTAURANT,
18 and 20 Derby Square, Salem.

Oysters, Clams, Steak, Poultry, Game, Fish, &c., &c., cooked to order.
Pickled Oysters, Lobsters and Clams.
Salem, July 22, 1863. tf

LYON'S KATHAIRON.

Kathairon is from the Greek word "Kathro," or "Kathairo," signifying to cleanse, rejuvenate and restore. This article is what its name signifies For preserving, restoring and beautifying the human hair it is the most remarkable preparation in the world. It is again owned and put up by the original proprietor, and is now made with the same care, skill and attention which gave it a sale of over one million bottles per annum.

It is a most delightful Hair Dressing.
It eradicates scurf and dandruff.
It keeps the head cool and clean.
It makes the hair rich, soft and glossy.
It prevents the hair from falling off and turning [gray.
It restores hair upon bald heads.

Any lady or gentleman who values a beautiful head of hair should use Lyon's Kathairon. It is known and used throughout the civilized world. Sold by all respectable dealers.

DEMAS S. BARNES, & CO., New-York.

HAGAN'S MAGNOLIA BALM.

This is the most delightful and extraordinary article ever discovered. It changes the sun burnt face and hands to a pearly satin texture of ravishing beauty, imparting the marble purity of youth, and the distingue appearance so inviting in the city belle of fashion. It removes tan, freckles, pimples and roughness from the skin, leaving the complexion fresh, transparent and smooth. It contains no material injurious to the skin. Patronized by Actresses and Opera Singers It is what every lady should have. Sold everywhere.

Prepared by W. E. HAGAN, Troy N. Y.
Address all orders to
DEMAS S. BARNES, & CO., New-York.

HEIMSTREET'S
INIMITABLE HAIR RESTORATIVE.
NOT A DYE,

But restores gray hair to its original color, by supplying the capillary tubes with natural sustenance, impaired by age or disease. All instantaneous dyes are composed of lunar caustic, destroying the vitality and beauty of the hair, and afford of themselves no dressing. Heimstreet's Inimitable Coloring not only restores hair to its natural color by an easy process,

Luxuriant Beauty,

promotes its growth, prevents its falling off, eradicates dandruff, and imparts health and pleasantness to the head. It has stood the test of time, being the original Hair Coloring, and is constantly increasing in favor. Used by both gentlemen and ladies. It is sold by all respectable dealers, or can be procured by them of the commercial agents, D. S. BARNES & CO, 202 Broadway, New York. Two sizes, 50 cents and $1.

MEXICAN MUSTANG LINIMENT.

The parties in St. Louis and Cincinnati, who have been Counterfeiting the Mustang Liniment under pretense of proprietorship, have been thoroughly estoped by the Courts. To guard against further imposition, I have procured from the U. States Treasury, a private steel plate revenue stamp, which is placed over the top of each bottle. Each stamp bears the fac simile of my Signature, and without which the article is a Counterfeit, dangerous and worthless imitation. Examine every bottle. This Liniment has been in use and growing in favor for many years. There hardly exists a hamlet on the habitable Globe that does not contain evidence of its wonderful effects. It is the best emolient in the world. With its present improved ingredients, its effects upon man and beast are perfectly remarkable. Sores are healed, pains relieved, lives saved, valuable animals made useful, and untold ills assuaged. For cuts, bruises, sprains, rheumatism, swellings, bites, cuts, caked breasts, strained horses, &c., it is a Sovereign Remedy that should never be dispensed with. It should be in every family. Sold by all Druggists.

D. S. BARNES, New-York.
March 9th, 1864.—1 yr.

Original.

SHAKSPEARE.

The three hundreth anniversary of the birth of this great man transpired on Saturday, the 23d ultimo. He died on his birthday in 1616, at 52 years of age. The literary world commemorated his birthday with appropriate honors.

We shrink from the task of considering the great subject our caption has marked out for us, as a pigmy boy might draw back in attempting to delineate the vast splendors of the sun, or the immeasurable magnitude of the multitudinous sea. As the little boy may look on and wonder in beholding the grand effulgence of the sun, or tremble in witnessing the frightful surges of the mighty ocean, or turn pale in terror as the all-shaking thunder causes the solid earth to tremble, or as the vivid flashes of the red cross-lightning strikes upon his startled vision—even so may we, humble and obscure as we are, stand and gaze in wonder and in admiration upon the dazzling brightness of Shakspeare's genius—that great literary luminary—and its brilliant track through all the vicissitudes of our world for near three hundred years!

What great human passion, what deep thought, what paramount wish, what immeasurable depth of human feeling, what sorrow, what joys, what disappointments—in one word, what changes of any character or degree, whether good or evil, important or trivial, that has ever affected human nature, but what Shakspeare has grasped with a master hand—painted as with superhuman power and sent to the human heart with startling effect and ever-enduring influence! Who that has once followed the firey but honest Othello—the deep cunning, cool, hypocritical Iago—or the tender and confiding Desdemona—but is moved as by an almost infinite power to pity the first, detest the second, and desire to protect and screen the last from the terrible dilemma into which she is being hurried by the deep and damning plotting of Iago!

The irresolution, the unexecuted threatenings, the continued torments of Hamlet, the guiltiness of the mother, the tomb-like grandeur of the ghost, the faithfulness, mental anguish and final insanity and suicide of Ophelia—could have been portrayed by no other mind but Shakspeare's. We find ourselves entirely inadequate to the task of following farther the great artist at this time, even in the very imperfect manner we have thus far traced him.

As the natural eye grows dazzled to blindness when looking towards the unclouded mid-day sun, so does the mental eye grow dim when striving to look in the face of the great Shakspearean sun which has illumined the literary world from the Elizabethian to the present age.

With "our mind's eye" we sometimes strive to look back to Shakspeare's time and to realize, if possible, how he looked, where he spent his time—whether he was a strict moralist, or was sometime wild and unruly—whether he must not have visited many places of public amusement, or public wildness and merriment, and have drawn some of his characters from what he saw there. We have read somewhere that he did thus, we believe.

The reader of Shakspeare finds an exhaustless fountain of mighty thought—of transcendant sublimity and inimitable description. Each time you read him you seem to unbosom a new jewel—to uncover a fresh reservoir of literary grandeur. Those dramatists, who have succeeded him, have never been so successful as when imitating him—and the closer the imitation, the more perfect the production. The rising generation cannot read Shakspeare too much, if they read it understandingly. There is a force and power in all his writings which, when fully appreciated, draws or binds the thought of the student or reader so closely to the subject as to leave an impression so indelible as not to leave the mind while it retains energy and life.

We will close by the following quotations from the great bard, upon the great folly, if not crime, of human ambition. It is from Cardinal Wolsey, after his fall from the favor of King Kenry VIII., in which he had for many years enjoyed the highest privileges and the highest honors of the state:

"Cromwell, I did not think to shed a tear
In all my miseries; but thou hast forc'd me,
Out of thy honest truth, to play the woman.
Let's dry our eyes; and thus far hear me,
Cromwell;
And,—when I am forgotten, as I shall be,
And sleep in dull cold marble, where no mention
Of me more must be heard of,—say, I taught thee,
Say, Wolsey, that once trod the ways of glory,
And sounded all the depths and shoals of honor,
Found thee a way, out of his wreck, to rise in;
A sure and safe one, though thy master miss'd it.
Mark but my fall, and that that ruined me.
Cromwell, I charge thee, fling away ambition:
By that sin fell the angels; how can man, then,
The image of his Maker, hope to win by't?
Love thyself last: cherish those hearts that hate thee:
Corruption wins not more than honesty.
Still in thy right hand carry gentle peace,
To silence envious tongues: be just, and fear not.
Let all the ends, thou aim'st at, be thy country's,
Thy God's, and truth's. * * * * * *
*"O Cromwell, Cromwell!
Had I but serv'd my God with half the zeal
I serv'd my king, he would not in mine age
Have left me naked to mine enemies."

H. D. J.

---

*This was actually said by the Cardinal, when on his death bed, in a conversation with Sir William Kingston,—"Well, well, Master Kingston (quoth he,) I see the matter against me how it is framed, but IF I HAD SERVED MY GOD AS DILIGENTLY AS I HAVE SERVED MY KING, HE WOULD NOT HAVE GIVEN ME OVER IN MY GREY HAIRS."

LETTER FROM BOSTON.

PROPELLER ADVERTISING AGENCY, }
No. 15 Washington St., }
Boston, April 30th, 1864. }

GOLD.

Although we don't mingle in the screaming crowd that makes day distracting with its clamor about gold, we are nevertheless a good deal exercised by the fluctuations in the standard of value. As everything one possesses appreciates and depreciates with the precious metals, no man can say with certainty at noon what he will be worth at 4 P. M., nor anticipate at 4 P. M. the value of his assets afier the "Board" has closed its pow-wow. To say nothing about more serious matters, it annoys us to reflect that our "portable property" has no fixed value. We pull at our watch at breakfast time, knowing that it is then worth, say $100, and wind it up, perhaps, a $95 watch in the evening. Our eye-glasses, hat, coat, boots, nay, even the very shirt on our back, may rise or fall four or five per cent. in twenty-four hours. We carry an half eagle in our pocket as a relic of the golden age, and as we turn it over in our mind and pocket, it actually seems to dilate and contract, as if it were made of gum-elastic. Our tailor said to us last week, "I can make you a handsome dress coat now for forty dollars; a fortnight hence I may have to charge you forty-five." And here we would remark that whatever a tradesman may ask you for anything wearable, it is best to nail him on the instant. If you take time to consider, ten to one but you will have to pay more when you call again.

The "price of liberty is eternal vigilance" as we write, but it is just as likely as not that it will go up five per cent. before these lines get into print.

HOUSE-HUNTING.

Do you move this year? If you answer "Yes!" I tender you my earnest sympathy, not so much for the mere fact of moving—that, though bad in itself, is over in a day—as for the trials and tribulations of that yclept house-hunting.—Bad enough for those who are not limited by considerations of rent and additional expenses, but frightful for those unlucky mortals who seek "part of a house," and are blest with half-a-dozen olive-branches. The patriarchs of old, gloried in large families, but the paterfamilias of to-day, shrinks abashed before the query, "Have you any children?" and has the door slammed in his face when he replies, "I have." Genteel families of adults are in request, and distracted parents clasp their off-spring to their breasts and indulge in dire prognostications of a homeless first of May. Even setting this aside, however, it is no pleasant task to pry into people's cupboards and wardrobes, to inspect bedrooms and basements—or to have others do the same by you—to feel sure, when you have engaged a residence, that the parlor carpet will be too small for the floor and the bookcase too broad for its proper recess, that the oilcloth will never fit the hall, and that the furniture altogether will not adapt itself to its new latitude. What shall we do?

THE HORSE CARS.

A lady acquaintance sends us the following, in regard to her sufferings in a horse car. Hear her: "We don't like to be crushed. We decidedly disapprove of being flattened, and squeezed, and jammed together like pressed oranges.—It is terribly annoying to enter a car with the best and choicest of one's wardrobe on one's back, and have it torn to shreds and ribbons by shoes with pegs in them, umbrellas with iron ferrules to them, and baskets with broken splints sticking out of them. It is disagreeable, to say the least, to have a stout lady on one knee, a fidgety child on the other, and a German female standing upon your toes, while her spouse, clutching at the swinging strap, puts his elbow in your eye, and flattens your bonnet with his shoulder. Won't some one who has a "friend at court" interfere in behalf of oppressed crinoline, and give us room enough to spread out our flounces, sit upright, and draw a long breath in these city cars of ours."

Selected.

A TRICK OF WAR.

A correspondent of the New York Dispatch says during the war of 1812, he accidentally got possession of some of the signals of the British Navy, which he put into the hands of Com. Rodgers; and he thus concludes his article:—

Soon after the conclusion of peace, dining with Com. Rodgers, at his house in Washington, he related to me the following circumstances, which I gave nearly in his own words:—

"I acknowledged the receipt of your letter," he observed, "and was determined to have the signals made on board, and to try the experiment, none of my officers understanding for what purpose they were intended. I cruised some time without meeting an enemy, until one afternoon we fell in with a schooner, some six or eight miles to windward of us. We hoisted the British ensign, which was answered by displaying another, and at the same time a signal at her maintop gallant masthead, which I immediately discovered was like one of those you had given me. From the list of English frigates, I selected the number of the Sea Horse, one of their largest class, and known to be on our coast, and hoisted it. She bore down at once and came under our stern; I ordered her to heave to, and I would send a boat on board of her.

"This order was obeyed, and I despatched a lieutenant to bring her signal book, enjoining on him and the crew, the strictest secrecy respecting our character. He was politely received by the captain, whose schooner proved to be the Highflyer. Our lieutenant's coat attracted his attention, not being of the latest London fashion, although the crown and anchor was on the button; but casting his eye on the frigate, seeing the British ensign, and now and then the red coat of a marine appearing above the hammock netting, his mind was apparently set at rest.

"The lieutenant informed him that he was requested to bring his signal book on board the Sea Horse, in order to have some alterations made, as there was a rumor that the Yankees had possession of something like the signals, and it was therefore necessary to change the number! This ruse had the desired effect, and our lieutenant returned with the book, which placed me in command of the whole correspondence of the British Navy. I sent the gig for the captain, requesting him to come on board, and bring any despatches he might have in charge.

"On reaching our deck he seemed surprised at the size of the vessel, praised her cleanliness, and the order in which everything appeared; admired the red coats of the marines, and on being invited into the cabin, handed me a bundle of despatches for Admiral Warren, who, he observed, must be within forty miles to leeward. I ordered refreshments, and, in company with several of my officers, we entered into a general conversation.

"I asked him what object Admiral Warren had in cruising in that neighborhood? He said to intercept American privateers and merchantmen, but particularly to catch Commodore Rodgers, who, he understood, had command of one of the largest and fastest sailing frigates in the American Navy. I inquired of him what kind of a man this Rodgers was, and if he had ever seen him? He said no; but he had understood that he was an odd character, and rather hard to catch. After conversing on several other subjects, I abruptly put the question to him:

"Sir, do you know what vessel you are on board of?"

"Why, yes, sir," he replied, "on board His Majesty's ship Sea Horse!"

"Then, sir, you labor under a very great mistake. You are on board the United States frigate President, and I am Commodore Rodgers, at your service."

"The dying dolphin never assumed a greater variety of colors than did this poor fellow's face. 'Sir,' said he, 'you are disposed to be humorous, and must be joking.' I assured him that it was no joke; and to satisfy him on that head, handed him my commission. At the same moment the band struck up Yankee Doodle, on our quarter-deck; on reaching which, he saw the American ensign flying, the red coats turning blue, and the crown and anchor button metamorphosed into the eagle.

"This affair," observed the Commodore, "was of immense importance to our country. We obtained in full the British signals; the operations of Admiral Warren, by the non-receipt of his despatches, were destroyed for the season; and it probably saved the frigate, for the course I was running at the time of my falling in with the Highflyer, would have brought me into the midst of his fleet during the night.

THE REPUBLICAN PAPERS have taken to scolding the administration terribly, so that the copperheads hold up apace. The New York Times talks of the flagrant unfaithfulness of those sent to Washington to be the representatives of the people;" and the Springfield Republican says if the representatives do not come up to their work "the people will soon be praying for a Cromwell to drive the national legislators from their seats and take in hand the work they persistently neglect."

☞ A Planter wished a negro to saw off the limb of a high tree, which seemed in danger of falling. "Pose, massa, you hire Irishman to do dat 'ere job?" "Why so, Pete? Why should I hire an Irishman when you can do it?" "Why, massa, if dis nigger falls and breaks his neck, you lose fifteen hundred dollars; but you give Irishman a dollar, and if he breaks his neck, 'taint nothin' to nobody."

DIDN'T LIKE IT.—An old Yankee when told by an English tourist in this country that the celebration of the Fourth of July would soon be extinct, answered: "See here, stranger, don't talk that way. I tell you when the resurrection day comes round, the first thing done in the morning will be to read the Declaration of Independence."

☞ A little Hoosier boy of five years old, asked his mother if God really heard his prayer?

"Yes, my son," she replied, "God always hears our prayers."

"Well," said the mischievous urchin, "I think he must be disgusted with mine, for he has heard the same old prayer ever since I could talk."

LYNNFIELD.—While Capt. Thomas R. Keenan was at home a short time ago, from the army, a purse of nearly eighty dollars was made up by his friends, and he was presented with sword, belt, etc. Capt. K. is the son of Thomas Keenan, M. D., a noble son of a noble father.—Gazette.

DR. MARSH says the best cure for hysterics is to discharge the servant girl. In his opinion there is nothing like flying round to keep the nervous system from being unstrung; some women think they want a physician when they need a scrubbing brush.

☞ Some wag remarks truly when he says that "popularity in politics is to see your name in large type, posted on a fence. Somebody will inquire as to who you are, and when the first rain comes you will disappear.

☞ Gen. Butler urges that the pay of the colored troops shall be instantly raised, as they are becoming rapidly demoralized by the butcheries of the rebels and by the injustice of the Government.

☞ A Western wag remarks that he has seen a couple of sisters who had to be told everything together, for they were so much alike that they couldn't be told apart.

☞ A grave friend of ours tells us that he and his wife always go to bed quarrelling.—"And yet," said he, "with all our differences, we never fall out."

☞ There is a little girl in Illinois, eleven years old, who persists in eating flies whenever she can catch them. Remonstrances have no effect.

☞ Why is a whale like a water lily? Because they both come to the surface to blow.

The Wizard.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 4, 1864.

ACTION.

The administration ought not now to complain of any expression of impatience which the people may make at the delay in the movement of the Army of the Potomac. The roads have been good for three weeks, and the Rebels are active, bold and defiant, everywhere, and, very much to our discredit, are successful almost everywhere. Of course it is a very fair plea for delay to say that the army needs time for organizing and preparing. But we fear the trouble has been that the War Department did not begin early enough. A bold dash of the army towards Richmond, or even in almost any direction, would almost necessarily compel the Rebels to withdraw their forces from North Carolina, where they are seriously menacing one of the most important posts we have taken since the war commenced.

We would not raise any senseless cry of "on to Richmond," but we would implore the government to make some movement, if nothing more than a feint. The spring is rapidly wearing away, and the heat of summer will soon be upon us. It is well known that the oppressive heat of the weather, when McClellan's campaign occurred, destroyed, directly and indirectly, more Union soldiers than the bullets of the enemy. We do hope that the delay of the Richmond campaign of 1862 will not be repeated in 1864.

George Peabody.—In our last we copied from the Newburyport Herald an interesting account of our distinguished fellow-citizen, the wealthy banker of London, George Peabody, containing some valuable lessons to young men of the present generation. We think, however, that there must be some errors of fact in the statement, but which in no wise affect the excellent advice given. In the first place, in the year 1814, Mr. Peabody was residing in Georgetown, D. C., having left Newburyport with his uncle, Gen. John Peabody, on the 4th day of May, 1812, just 50 years ago this very day. It is quite true that Mr. Peabody could not have been a voter in 1814, as he was then under age, being only 19 years old. We believe also that the property qualification did not then exist, or if it did, that it was a freehold qualification, and was not much regarded.

This change of facts does not impair at all the lessons of enterprise in business in the article we refer to, as while in Newburyport Mr. Peabody was probably not the owner of half the amount there stated.

Legislators' Pay.—We observe that the House of Representatives have, by a considerable majority, passed, through some of its stages, a bill for increasing the pay of members, for the present session, from $300 to $500. This proposition is objected to by some of the Boston papers on what seem to us wholly untenable grounds.

The original theory of the present rate of pay is that the members will be occupied but 100 days each session. For this length of service, when the cost of living was about half what it is now, this seemed a fair rate of compensation. But the present session, by an unexpected accumulation of business, will necessarily be about 150 days long; and the member from the country, who has to pay his board in Boston, will not net so much at the proposed rate as he formerly did under the present rate.

We notice that the members from Boston and vicinity, generally opposed the change, while the country members favored it.

It has ever been, and wisely been, the policy of our government, to allow such compensation to our public officers as to make public position as accessible to the poor, if meritorious, as to the rich. It speaks well for the independence, and disregard of popular clamor of the members, that they have so decisively voted for this change. Less positive characters would have feared the effect of such voting on the chances of their re-election.

So. Danvers, May 2, 1864.

Mr. Editor,—I observe in a late Wizard an article about the Peabody High School, which contains the following:

> "During the vacation the room has been renovated and improved by carpeting the aisles and platform, tinting the walls and hanging of historical pictures."

This is all true, but I think, in justice to our teacher, to say nothing of the claims of the pupils, it ought also to be stated that these improvements were not made at the expense of the town, as might be reasonably inferred from the article in question, but were paid for from the proceeds of entertainments given by the pupils at Peabody Hall. This, of course, is generally well enough understood in town; but as the circumstance is recorded in your paper, I thought this part of it ought also to be stated.

One of the Pupils.

SOLDIERS' PAY.

One among the many causes that tend to discourage enlistments in our army, is the very great delay in the matter of paying soldiers their wages. We know of many cases of complaint in this respect.

By the tenor of the soldier's enlistment, he is entitled to his pay monthly, and by the Army Regulations, soldiers' wages are not to go unpaid more than two months at the farthest; yet it is well known that many regiments are not paid for six, eight or ten months. The men who fought at James Island, Fort Wagner, and Olustee, have had no pay for about a year, as is stated by the Evening Post. We hear of several of our South Danvers men who have not been paid for six months, and we know that some families suffer great inconvenience on this account. The case referred to by Gen. Wilson in the Senate the other day, is certainly such as to call public attention to this great evil. The press should ever be forward in publishing the grievances of our soldiers when they become known and seem like systematic wrongs. The soldier has practically no tribunal to appeal to. Military laws and usages are such as to make it next to impossible for the private to obtain redress through the regular channels of military communication in those cases where the grievances is such as to implicate the superior officers in any general delinquency from which the particular complainant suffers no more than his fellows; though individual cases of suffering are generally listened to, and as a usual thing are cured as far as the inconveniences of the service will allow. We have some time thought that the press were over cautious in not calling attention to certain notorious abuses practised in the military department of our government. Since this war began many a gross wrong has been righted by the influence of the press, which has carried home to the notice of the administration many things which would have been kept back months or years by the red tape of the department.

Our colored soldiers, too, have been subjected to the most unconscionable treatment in regard to their pay. Not only have the government neglected to pay them at the time they agreed to, but they have attempted to put them off with less wages than was promised them when they enlisted.

General McClellan, at the beginning of the war, was guilty of putting things upon the wrong track in regard to this matter of paying the soldiers. He did a great injury to the service as well as injustice to the soldier, when he suggested to the President, as far back as August, 1861, "that the exigencies of the Treasury may be lessened by making only partial payments to our troops when in the enemy's country." As if the soldiers who enlisted that year for $13 a month without a bounty, had no exigencies the goverment was bound to respect, and no rights of contract with the government but what could be annulled by a stroke of the pen. We trust the bill for equalizing the pay of white and colored soldiers which has just passed the House will partially remedy this evil.

Olden Time.—To illustrate the mutations of time, and the rapid changes that are continually working in the personel of a community, we transcribe from the lid of the Bible on the desk of the Old South Vestry, the following inscription, which we happened to notice the other day:—

"This Bible is presented to the South Society in Danvers, by the following gentlemen, for the use of the pulpit:

Denison Wallis,
Joseph Osborn,
Ward Poole,
Ebenezer Shillaber,
William Sutton,
Sylvester Proctor,
Elijah Upton,
Caleb Smith.

Danvers, Aug., 1821."

The above is in the handwriting of Rev. Mr. Walker, who was then the pastor. Of the above list, the last named, Mr. Caleb Smith, now of Salem, is the only survivor.

Salaries.—We learn that the salary of Rev. Mr. Barber, of the South Church, has been increased by the addition of $300, making it now about $1700. We have also heard that the salaries of Rev. Mr. Safford and Rev. Mr. Barrows, have been increased. This is a substantial recognition of the value of ministerial services.

The Barbers.—It will be seen by an advertisement, that the Barbers of South Danvers have determined to ask ten cents for shaving, instead of six, the old price, after this month. We learn that this rate applies to fat and lean alike, and that no allowance is made for lantern jaws. Very well. It is their professed business to shave the community.

May Day.—The May Day Festival, at Sutton Hall, gave great satisfaction to the participants, and a pleasant company, just large enough for full enjoyment of the festivities, made the winged hours more joyously.

Golden Wedding.—The 50th anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Eben S. Upton's wedding-day occurred on the evening of last Thursday. A large company of friends and relatives repaired to the house of the aged couple and an hour was spent in friendly greetings and conversation, after which Rev. Mr. Safford addressed the venerable pair in some very eloquent and appropriate remarks, in the course of which he alluded to the length of time which they had been allowed to travel together on life's journey; to the changes in manners and customs of society; to the posterity present and to those in a foreign land; to their interest, even in old age, in the concerns of the town, State and nation.

After the close of the remarks, a prayer was offered to the Good Father of All for their further guidance and protection here and happiness in future.

A number of presents, substantial and valuable, both on account of their intrinsic worth and as an evidence of friedship and esteem, were displayed upon the parlor table.

The company then repaired to the dining room, where edibles, such as are the usual accompaniments at such parties, were found in profusion. These being disposed of, after a short time the company separated, first having tendered their good wishes to the ones visited.

A pleasant, profitable and suggestive occasion, which will probably be followed by two others of a similar kind.

Let the Truth be Told.—There seems to be quite a difference of opinion in the public mind, whether Gen. Banks, in the late battles on the Red River, was a "conquering hero," or a hero conquered. Private letters from the Union officers and soldiers say it was a complete rout, and that the whole affair was bunglingly managed; but it is said that Banks claims a victory—and so, also, does Dick Taylor, the Rebel General. If Banks is the victor, why does he relinquish the expedition and retire to Alexandria. If it was a victory for our forces to be driven fifteen miles in a disordered flight, losing camp equipage, cannon, muskets and thousands of prisoners, what could the result have been to the rebels? We think if we had done to the rebels what they did to us, the popular verdict would have been unanimous that we had gained a victory.

Retaliation.—The butchery of negro soldiers by the rebels at Fort Pillow and Plymouth, N. C., says the Newburyport Herald, is a new phase of the war, barbarous and cruel beyond precedent. It must lead to retaliation; and then comes the dark hour of the war. But there is no avoiding it. If the government puts colored soldiers in the field it must protect them. If they are murdered it must punish the murderers; and if it can not catch the principals in the crime, it must take the accessories, which list includes all rebels. A bitter day will it be when we come to this wholesale slaughter; but unless the government is ready to abandon its cause it must not hesitate. In a little time the colored soldiers, as at present exposed, would become demoralized and useless; nay, they would become worse than useless—ready to create panic in any battle.

Presidential News and Gossip.—The New Nation, a Fremont paper in New York, advises its friends to give up all idea of taking part in the Baltimore convention, "as that convention is a nonenity." If the New Nation speaks by authority, Gen. Fremont will not be a candidate in the convention, and Mr. Chase having withdrawn his name, there would seem to be no prospect of opposition to the re-nomination of President Lincoln. The radicals will anticipate the convention and nominate Fremont or some one of that school in May.

Supreme Judicial Court.—This Court—Judge Metcalf—came in Monday to hear motions; libels for divorce and the like, which do not require a jury. The juries are notified that they need not come in till week from next Monday, when several civil cases, mostly from the northern part of the county, will be taken up.

Our Quotas.—It is now stated as a fixed fact that South Danvers is nine men short of filling her quotas, and Danvers forty in excess. The latter must be a good place for those who dread a draft, to live in.

Promoted.—Among the commissions issued last week was the following:—1st Lieutenant John E. Mullally of South Danvers to be Captain in the 17th Regiment, Dec. 29, 1863, vice Day, promoted Major.

Presentation.—Mr. J. L. Davis, the principal of the Grammar School in Wallis District, was recently presented by retiring members of his first class, with a silver syrup pitcher.

Superior Court.—The criminal term of this Court will commence in Newburyport next Monday. The trials will not probably begin till the week after.

Donation.—George Peabody has sent $500 to the Baltimore Sanitary Fair.

THE RED RIVER REPULSE.

The Red River repulse proves to have been a disastrous defeat. We lost some four thousand men, thirty pieces of artillery, a large lot of small arms, several hundred wagons, and the army chest, containing over a million dollars worth of greenbacks.

A correspondent of the Philadelphia Press represents the first day's fight as a "Bull Run." He writes:

"I was slowly riding along the edge of a wood, conversing with a friend about the events and prospect of the day. We had drawn into the side of the wood to allow an ammunition wagon to pass, and although many were observed going to the rear, some on foot and some on horseback, we regarded it as an occurrence familiar to every battle, and it occasioned nothing but a passing remark. I noticed that most of those thus wildly riding to the rear were negroes, hangers-on and serving-men, for now that we have gone so deeply into this slave-holding country, every non-commissioned officer has a servant, and every servant a mule. These people were the first to show any panic, but their scamper along the road gave only amusement to the soldiers, who pelted them with stones, and whipped their flying animals to increase their speed. Suddenly there was a rush, a shout, the crashing of trees, the breaking down of rails, the rush and scamper of men. It was as sudden as though a thunderbolt had fallen among us, and set the pines on fire. What caused it, or when it commenced, no one knew. I turned to my companion to inquire the cause of this extraordinary proceeding, but before he had the chance to reply, we found ourselves swallowed up, as it were, in a hissing, seething, bubbling whirlpool of agitated men. We could not avoid the current; we could not stem it, and, if we hoped to live in that mad company, we must ride with the rest of them.

"Our line of battle had given way. General Banks took off his hat and implored his men to remain; his staff officers did the same, but it was of no avail. Then the General drew his sabre and endeavored to rally his men, but they would not listen. Behind him the rebels were shouting and advancing. The musket balls filled the air with that strange file-rasping sound that war has made familiar to our fighting men. The teams were abandoned by the drivers, the traces cut, and the animals ridden off by the frightened men. Bareheaded riders rode with agony in their faces, and for at least ten minutes it seemed as if we were going to destruction together. It was my fortune to see the first battle of Bull Run, and to be among those who made that celebrated midnight retreat towards Washington. The retreat of the 4th division was as much a rout as that of the first Federal army, with the exception that fewer men were engaged, and our men fought here with a valor that was not shown on that serious, sad, mocking heroic day in July. We rode nearly two miles in this madcap way, until on the edge of a ravine, which might formerly have been a bayou, we found Emory's division drawn up in line. Our retreating men fell beyond this line, and Emory prepared to meet the rebels. Emory fired three rounds and the rebels retreated. The enemy fell back, taking with them some of the wagons that were left, and number of the guns that were abandoned."

Military Movements near Home.—Most or all the companies doing garrison duty at the forts in the northern cities, have been ordered to be in readiness to leave for Washington; and their places are expected to be supplied by levies on the State militia for sixty days. The 12th unattached company of Heavy Artillery, Capt. J. W. Richardson, who have been stationed at the Salem Forts, have already been ordered to Washington, and are expected to leave at noon to-day. On Wednesday morning, the report was spread about town that a part of the company had deserted. The fact is that about a dozen of the men ran guard, and all have since been returned to duty. There is the best reason to believe that not one intended to desert, but only to see their families once more before leaving for the seat of war. The men are generally very ready and willing for an entrance into more active service.

On Tuesday evening, Gen. Schouler sent notice to a number of companies in different parts of the State, to be in readiness to do garrison duty for sixty days. Among those included in this notice are a company from Beverly, Capt. Porter; Newburyport, Capt. Talbot; Salem, Lieut. Reeves; and Lawrence, Capt. Hamilton. The Newburyport company is expecting orders to do garrison duty in Gloucester or Salem. The Beverly Light Infantry, Captain Porter, had, up to yesterday morning, raised sixty odd men for this service

The Salem Light Infantry, Lieut. Reeves, manifested the same alacrity to respond on this occasion, as it did in the first, in April, 1861. The members were notified to meet at the armory yesterday afternoon, when some forty names, more or less, were enrolled. It will probably be recruited to the requisite standard.—Gazette, 29th ult.

Death of Mr. Nathaniel Pitman.—The sudden decease of Mr. Nathaniel Pitman, who died last Thursday morning, deprived our community of one of its most valued citizens and brought the deepest mourning to a very large family circle and numerous friends and associates. The death of Mr. Pitman, we understand, was instantaneous. He had been out the previous evening, and went home at his usual hour, suffering somewhat from pain. About midnight the pain became so severe that a physician was sent for. About four o'clock in the morning, he thought he could better bear the pain when up and dressed, and accordingly arose and went down stairs, where he was heard to fall and instantly expired. The cause of his decease is supposed to have been rheumatism of the heart. He is said to have previously exhibited some symptoms of heart disease, but none which had excited apprehensions of danger. His age was between 63 and 64 years.—Salem Gazette.

The funeral took place last Sunday morning, and was very large. The Masons and Odd Fellows attended in a body. At the grave the Masonic burial service was impressively read by Rev. A. W. Bruce, of Marblehead.

☞ The military authorities have intelligence that one of Lee's scouts has been in New York recently, and that he witnessed the display made by the Ninth Army Corps.

THE WAR.

Our first adventures in war this year have been singularly unfortunate, and the rebels feel encouraged by the results. They have been more successful at the opening of this year than in all they did previously, after the battle at Chancellorsville. From that date to the end of the year 1863 they met with an unbroken series of defeats. Reduced by those disasters to desperation they determined upon universal conscription, and by their united and decided efforts Lee has been reinforced; Longstreet has a large army in Tennessee, within call of Lee; Johnston has more men than Bragg had last year; Polk and Forrest have 25,000 in Mississippi; Mobile is defended by a large force; the rebel army in Florida is estimated at 15,000; in North Carolina they are reckoned at 25,000; and Beauregard is strong at Charleston. They have brought every available man into the field, and no doubt this moment have 250,000 men at the lowest calculation, east of the Mississippi; and General Lee says for the negroes, that when it is necessary ten can be put in the field by the rebels against every one that fights for the Union, and rivers of blood shall yet flow where rivulets have before

They did not stop this year for us to move against them. The first blow was from them, when Newbern was besieged and a gunboat was lost. Next was a federal movement on John's island, Charleston, when we were defeated, that old granny of a Henry A. Wise obtaining the first victory he has had since the war begun. At the same time Longstreet was operating in East Tennessee, holding all the country except Knoxville. Next came the disaster in Florida. Then was the grand movement on Mobile from a half dozen different points, Thomas employing Johnston by moving to Tunnel Hill, that he might not detach his troops to aid Polk; but he marched them back again; Sherman started his main army from Vicksburg, with his cavalry from Corinth; Logan his men from Huntsville; and Farragut brought his fleet up Mobile Bay and attacked Fort Morgan. The cavalry were driven back, the infantry went back, Logan did nothing, and Farragut withdrew his fleet. While these operations were going on in the Cotton States, two movements were made on Richmond, looking to a liberation of our prisoners there. One went up the Peninsula and went back again; the other—5000 cavalry, crossed the Rapidan, rode over the country, attacked the outer line of the Richmond defences, and reached Butler's department, about 150 men short, including three Colonels.

In all this the rebels have in fact gained nothing. They have not recovered a State or even taken a city; but we have lost the prestige of invincibility, that we should have carried with us had the army last winter been strengthened as they should have been. They have gained much in this—that they have withstood us, and from that taken courage—they are better prepared for future action, and they rise again in the esteem of the nations.—They have passed their financial crisis, and they know that every day brings us nearer to ours, unless we can do something to crush the rebellion. Let us be warned in season; this is no boy's play that we have entered upon; it can not be put down by electing this man or that man to the Presidency, and all we dabble in politics is so much against us in war; we can not succeed without men, nor can we delay without increasing our difficulties, for every day it costs more for a soldier, more for a gun, and more for beef and blankets; and so it will go on, gold rising or paper falling, just which way we are pleased to reckon it.—Newburyport Herald.

Death of Deacon Bacheller.—We record under our obituary head, the death of an old and highly respectable citizen, Deacon Jonathan Bacheller, on the 26th ult., aged 78 years. The deceased was deacon of the First Baptist Church of this city, for many years, and held that position at the time of his death.

Deacon Bacheller was one of the oldest merchants of Lynn, having been engaged in the dry goods business for many years. He has held many offices under the town, and was formerly postmaster of Lynn. He was widely known for his christian charities, and was an upright and honorable business man. His loss will be deeply felt, not only in the church with which he was connected, but wherever he was known.—Lynn Bay State.

Butter and Speculators.—The high price of butter, which places it beyond the reach of poor families, is caused, says the Banner of Light, by a ring of speculators who have been shipping vast quantities to Europe to pay for imported gewgaws, until the stock is nearly exhausted. Here is a specimen of the rich trampling upon the rights of the poor in one article of food alone, which should open the eyes of the working men everywhere and induce them to form associations for their own mutual protection against such abuses. If they do not move speedily in this matter, nearly everything they eat, drink and wear will go into speculators' hands and be by them peddled out at fabulous prices.

Deserter Arrested.—A telegram was received on Saturday morning, by Capt. Daniel H. Johnson, Jr., Provost Marshal, from Colonel Thomas R. Tannatt, 1st Mass. Heavy Artillery, that 1st Lieut. Elbridge W. Guilford, of Danvers, had deserted. After a very diligent search, he was arrested Sunday forenoon by Capt. Johnson, at Danvers Plains, in a full suit of citizens clothes.

Women changing their Habits.—The latest Paris fashion in ladies' dress for out of doors is a garment cut very like a man's overcoat, fitting close, and covered with brass buttons—buttons not only for use, but for ornament, some of them even being stuck on the shoulders. Several ladies are to be met in the street with this strange vestment, but the multiplicity of buttons, which glare fiercely, produce an effect more strange than agreeable. We perceive by Madame Demorest's Mirror of Fashion's that this novelty in ladies' attire has already been accepted here. Some of the illustrations of jackets and vests in the spring number would not be out of place on a gentleman's fashion plate.—Home Journal.

☞ The New York Tribune, in discussing the question of the intermarriage of the blacks and whites, says: "If any Copperhead desires to marry a black woman, and he has no engagement with a white one as would be likely to send him to jail, we should not object to the 'miscegenation.'"

☞ Why is it always day with a hen? Because her sun (son) never sets.

Plymouth, N. C., has been captured by the rebels, and gunboats have been sunk, disabled and captured—four in all. This is particularly unfortunate at this time, when we have no troops to spare for North Carolina, and for the present have lost the control of its waters, which endangers all our possessions there, while the arms and stores taken will go to support the rebels, and their success will give them courage and spirit in Virginia.

Plymouth is a post of some importance in itself. It is the shire town of Washington county, about eight miles south of the Roanoke river where it enters Albemarle Sound, and connected with the Sound by a small inlet. It is 150 miles east of Raleigh. It is a port of entry and formerly had an active trade. Before the war, its shipping amounted to an aggregate of some 4000 tons registered, and 2000 tons enrolled and licensed. All of the latter was employed in the coasting trade. The population in peaceful times was some 3000. The objects of the rebels are manifold: first, to retain power in that State, which they were likely to lose by the presence and action of our army; second, obtain supplies for their army, for now as heretofore we have to supply both the Union and rebel forces; third, to open the North Carolina ports to blockade runners; and, fourth, to maintain the railroad connections by which Lee's army can be supplied, or in case of defeat, retreat. At the same time their action in North Carolina creates a diversion in their favor in Virginia.—Newburyport Herald.

Rebels and Copperheads.—Capt. Stevens of Lewiston, Maine, who has lately returned from Mississippi, where for a brief time he had charge of an abandoned plantation, which he was soon forced to abandon, by rebel guerrillas, makes some interesting statements concerning the rebellion in the Southwest. He says that the rebel troops confess the South is beaten, but they say the Yankees must flog them into the gulf before they will give up. But Captain Stevens says their method of talking about Copperheadism is the richest. A squad of rebels one day came up to him and entered into conversation. They asked him if he was from the North. He said he was;—if he thought the North would whip the South—he thought it would and that it would fight till it did—"Good," replied the rebels, "glad to see you are not one of them d——d Copperheads. We were bound to shoot you if you were." The rebels have no sort of sympathy with these Northern Copperheads who desert their country. Capt. Stevens also says that the planters at home give up that they are beaten, and see that secession was a mistake. A prominent leader in secession and an especial friend of Jeff Davis, owned a plantation adjoining Capt. S. He believed the rebels would succeed at first and entered into the war with a will. The rebel disasters, however, made him change his opinion. He corresponded with Jeff Davis and told him frankly he could never win, and that for himself he was going back into the Union. He came back to his plantation within our lines, took the oath of allegiance to the United States and now lives there.

Rebel Barbarity.—Instances of the revolting and fiendish barbarity of the rebels are multiplying fearfully. The infernal butchery of our troops after their surrender at Fort Pillow, caused a thrill of indignation through the loyal States. At Plymouth, N. C., the same horrible scenes were re-enacted. Several companies of colored soldiers were murdered in cold blood after the surrender of the place, and every colored man in the United States uniform was ruthlessly shot. How long our Government is going to wait for a "plain case" to be made out before it adopts energetic measures to prevent such a horrible and savage mode of warfare we do not know, but we hope, for the honor of the nation, not long. If the rebels want a war of extermination, in which no prisoner shall be taken on either side, so be it. Let them have full measured retribution meted out to them.

It would seem that this wholesale butchery of colored troops at points so far distant from each other must be the result of orders from headquarters. If so, it is idle folly to suspend retaliation until the parties actually engaged in the murderous work can be captured. Any and all rebel troops capturing colored men in the service of the United States, will murder them. And the retaliation, the just retribution, should be meted out upon all who fall into our hands. For every Union soldier murdered after surrender, be he black or white, a rebel prisoner should be promptly executed, beginning with the officers highest in rank.—This would soon put an end to the fiendish barbarity of the rebels and bring them back to a decent regard of the rights of humanity.—Portland Courier.

A Carnival of Blood.—Senator Wade and Representative Gooch of the Committee on the Conduct of the War, have returned from Fort Pillow. They took 57 depositions, all of which more than confirm the newspaper accounts of the massacre. They say it would be impossible to exaggerate the cruelties committed.

Among the witnesses examined was the negro who was buried alive and who dug himself out of his own grave. There is no doubt that one or more persons were nailed through their flesh to pieces of wood and then burnt alive.—Not only on the day of surrender were such fiendish acts perpetrated, but on the next day in cold blood.

The victims seen by the committee were, some of them, pierced and cut in the face and eyes with bayonets and swords, while other parts of their bodies were smashed and disfigured either by steel or lead.

Printers' Mistakes.—During the Mexican war one of the English newspapers hurriedly announced an important item of news from Mexico, that General Pillow and thirty-seven of his men had been lost in a bottle (battle.) Some other papers informed the public, not long ago, that a man in a brown surtout was yesterday brought before the court on a charge of having stolen a small ox (box) from a lady's workbag. The stolen property was found in his waistcoat pocket. A rat (raft,) says another paper, descending the river, came in contact with a steamboat, and so serious was the injury to the boat, that great exertions were necessary to save it. An English paper once stated that the Russian Gen. Backinoffkowsky was found dead with a long word (sword) in his mouth. It was, perhaps, the same paper that, in giving a description of a battle between the Poles and Russians, said that the conflict was dreadful, and the enemy were repulsed with great laughter (slaughter.) Again: A gentleman was recently brought up to answer the charge of having eaten (beaten) a stage driver for demanding more than his fare.

☞ Captain Moore, of the burials of soldie has issued the followin der to prevent the unple
by the removal of the graves, and as a sanit exhumation will be p Government burial-grou
ter May 1, 1864, until

☞ The increased cent. laid upon all impo space of sixty days has dry goods up to an ast Dealers who have larg will grow rich.

☞ The Washington
the Boston Journal s Sutton has completed the reconstruction of Bank into the First N
Salem."

☞ At a recent mee
Institute, a presentation bullet with which Capt leaf of Newbury was an attack by the India
in 1694.

☞ Richmond paper
ult., have been received.
to boast largely of Banks
iana.

☞ Little Washingt evacuated by our forces
the troops there being w

☞ The 5th (colore
ment is now full, and is Washington, this week.

☞ Additional evide ation of North Carolina been received.

☞ The First Massa
Artillery paraded in Wa
last Monday.

☞ Gen. Butler has changes of prisoners for

An Honest Painter.—A port was employed recen chamber-set, which had bee nished. The furniture was of the painter, painted, and it two five dollar gold pieces which had been unobserve were taken out. The own for the painting, and the worth the day it was ret honest man is the noblest wo

MAY.

The merry month of Sp
Has come to us at last
It brings its buds and ga
And leaves unfolding
It comes with pleasant su
So beautiful and brigh
Leafy bowers and fragra
To fill us with delight
We hear the minstrel voi
As feathered songsters
We love to see them soar
High balanced on the
We love to see the glad g
We love to see the bre
But most we love, all thi
A choice of handsome
Take heed unto the milli
And she will plainly s
That those who want a ta
To PEABODY'S must g
For there you'll find the
Of Ribbons, bright and
The nicest Lace, the form
And Flowers of riches
And there you will kind
The newest styles will
Of every kind of Ladies'
With prices to your mi
The lowest price they alw
And asking, never fall,
Believing that the honest
Is One Fair Price to all
220 Essex St., Salem.

Port of Dan

Ar. 27th, schs Oregon,
Mount, Boston; 28th, Pearl,

Marriage

In Salem, April 9th, Mr. J
Miss Catharine Gorman; 23d, Ivory of Manchester, to Miss mick of Lynn; 24th, Mr James Bridget Maloney; Mr. Patrick
Bridget M'Guire; May 1st, by
Lieut. Charles H Hayward, 23d
Miss Carrie A Burbank, both o
In Wenham, April 21, by R
Lieut. Wm. B. Dick, Veteran to Miss Lizzie M. Meldram.
In Chelsea, April 26, by Re
Mr James Bumstead of Danver
J. Jennings of C.

Deaths.

In Salem, April 26th, Mrs. A of Charles H. Price, Esq., an Deacon John Carlton, 32 yrs; youngest child of John A. J
Phipps, 19 mos 21 days; Mrs.
han, 76 years; 28th, Mr. Natha years; Wm. J., son of Wm.
dings, 10 mos; May 2d, Mrs M of Mr. John Tanch, aged 33 yr
(Wednesday) afternoon at 2 o'c
St. Peter street. Relatives and vited.
In Marblehead, April 22, M
Mr. John Witham, 46 years; 2
H. Hopkins, 31 yrs 8 mos.
In Lynn, April 26th, Dea.
78 years; 21st, Mr. William C
26th, Widow Betsy Saunders,
In Harpswell, Me., on Frida little girls, aged respectively daughters of James Sinnett, cro island but a short distance from
To reach it a small stream m which at low tide is easily ford ject of the little ones was to ga to put on their mother's grave.
ing to ford the stream, clasp hand, they fell and were drowne found on the spot where they w dead, their hands clasped.

Estate.—During the past week there en some little movement in real estate. r of the following:—Dwelling House of Elliot, formerly of Oliver Sanders, on Street, Northerly side, sold at auction ard Loring for $1100.
building on the corner of Main and treet, belonging to Isaac Elliot, sold to utton for $350—not including the land.

M. B. Mansfield, Esq., of Salem, has pointed a Notary Public for the county x.

NEW GOODS.

legant assortment of Parasols.
rich Plaid Scarf Ribbons.
Plaid and Plain Bonnet Ribbons.
lkerchiefs Embroidered in Colors.
Black Lace Veils—new patterns.
Just received at PEABODY'S.

ting, Etc.—Mrs. Springer will give in Water Colors, Crayon, Pastel, De-, etc., at her Studio, in Browne's Block, treet, Salem.
rials for the new and beautiful art of ipt Painting, or decorating China, Glass, etc., etc., for sale at her rooms, also etc., for practice. Instruction in this e to all.
S. will be at Mrs. Osborne's No. 58 gton St., South Danvers, on Wednes-l Saturday afternoons, to give instruc- above.

en Five Cents Savings Bank.

Semi-Annual Meeting of the Warren ents Savings Bank will be held at the n Bank Rooms on WEDNESDAY, May 7 o'clock P. M. Per order, FRANCIS BAKER, Secretary.
n Danvers, April 27, 1864.

y-Made Dress Frocks and Sacks—32, $30, $28, $27, $25, $24, $22, $20, 17, $16, $15, $14, $13, $12, $11, $10, 50, $8, $7.50, $7, $6.50, $6, $5.50, $5, nett & Co.'s One Price Clothing House, 15 Dock Square, Boston.

y-Made Pants $11, $10, $9, $8.50, 50, $7, $6 50, $6, $5.50, $5, $4.50, $4, $3, $2.75, $2.50, at Bennett & Co.'s rice Clothing House, 14 and 15 Dock Boston.

Clothing — largest stock — greatest at Bennett & Co.'s One Price Clothing 14 and 15 Dock Square, Boston.

y Garment marked in plain figures, at & Co's One Price Clothing House, 14 Dock Square, Boston.

ents made to order at Bennett & Co.'s rice Clothing House, 14 and 15 Dock Boston.

oods received for Lewando's French use. M. E. CRANE.
0 tf

isit Osborne's Store, and look at the variety of new styles in Hats and 91 Essex street.

GREAT ENGLISH REMEDY.
SIR JAMES CLARKE'S
BRATED FEMALE PILLS!

ed from a prescription of Sir J. Clarke, M. Physician Extraordinary to the Queen.

ell known medicine is no imposition, but a e and safe remedy for Female Difficulties and ions, from any cause whatever; and, although ful remedy, they contain nothing hurtful to itution.
ases of Nervous and Spinal Affections, pain Back and Limbs, Fatigue on slight exertion on of the Heart, Hysterics, and Whites, these effect a cure, when all other means have nd, although a powerful remedy, do not iron, calomel, antimony, or anything hurtful nstitution.
directions in the pamphlet around each which should be carefully preserved.
ll particulars, obtain, free, of the agent, a t. Sold by all Druggists.
nited States Agent,
OB MOSES, 27 Cortlandt St., New York.
—$1 and 6 postage stamps enclosed to any ed agent, will insure a bottle, containing over by return mail. March 9, 1864.—1 yr.

Advertisements.

Horse Railroad Notice.

On and after Tuesday, May 3, the cars of the Salem and South Dan-ilroad Co. will leave n Danvers for Salem and Beverly at 55, 7.10, 7.25, 7.40 A. M., and every utes till 10.25 P. M. The 9.55, 10.10 25 P. M., cars will go only to Salem. will leave Beverly for Salem and South s at 6.40, 6.55, 7.10, 7.25, 7.40 A. M., ry 15 minutes till 10.40 P. M. The 55, 10.10, 10.25 and 10.40 P. M., cars to Salem.
leave Washington Street Station for at 6.00, 6.15, 6.30 and 6.45 A. M., and Washington St. Station for South Dan-6.15, 6.30, 6.45, A. M., and leave Wash-St. Station for South Danvers and Bev-7.00, 7.15, 7.30, 7.45 and 8.00 A. M., ry 15 minutes till 10.00 P. M.
M. H. HALE,
Sup't. S. & S. D. R. R. Co.

NSORIAL NOTICE.

the undersigned, Tonsorial Artists of outh Danvers, give notice that on and une 1st, 1864, our prices will be as :

ing, - - - - - - 10 cents.
cutting, - - - - - 15 cents.
npooing, - - - - - 15 cents.
Dressing, - - - - - 5 cents.

J. J. HEYLINGBERG,
H. B. GOODHUE,
CHAS. BABCOCK.
n Danvers, May 4, 1864.—6w*

List of Letters

AINING in the Post Office at South nvers, May 4, 1864. [Persons calling e letters will please say they are adver-

James
A. Hayward
iam J. Hayward
y W. Cook
Carroll
John Codyre
Rev. A. Caldwell
J. M. Sawyer
Patrick Scollard
Mary E. Abbott

These letters are subject to an ad- postage of one cent.
DANIEL WOODBURY, P. M.

TEMPERANCE TALES.

ULATE the Documents. Very nice ions of Lucius M. Sargent's Temperance nly 10 cents each:
y Harbor; The Stage Coach; Right e; As a Medicine; Fritz Hazel; and emperance Documents at
M. WHIPPLE & A. A. SMITH'S.
190 Essex Street.

TENEMENT TO LET.

ON Mt. Vernon street. Inquire of
PHILIP BLANEY.
South Danvers, May 4, 1864.

A UNIVERSAL LIBRARY.

APPLETON'S New American Encyclopædia, 16 vols., octavo, double columns, 750 pages each. Price in cloth $4 00 per vol.; sheep 4 75; half morocco 5 00; full morocco 7 00. Circulars and sample seen at my4 G. M. WHIPPLE & A. A. SMITH'S.

Valuable Real Estate in So. Danvers for Sale or to Let.

The large dwelling house and barn and out-buildings, with land under and adjoining, belonging to the estate of the late J. W. Carey, situated on Fulton street.
Also a very desirable lot of land extending from Fulton street to High street, with a front of eighty feet on each street.
For terms and particulars, apply to
EBEN UPTON,
April 27.—tf. No. 31 Barr street, Salem.

SALESWOMAN WANTED,

ONE used to selling Millinery Goods preferred. None but experienced ones need apply.
J. P. PEABODY,
April 27. 220 Essex street, Salem.

ANN R. BRAY, 76 Federal Street.

IN order to keep our assortment good, we are constantly adding New Styles of Dress Goods as they come into the market.
☞ Ladies coming into the city will call at 76 Federal Street. apr 27

TO LET.

HOUSE on Foster Street, belonging to the estate of the late Benjamin Goodridge. For terms apply at the house.
JAMES L. GOODRIDGE,
April 20—tf Adm'r.

Pure Ground Bone
For Farming and Horticultural Purposes.

THE subscriber would announce that he is now constantly manufacturing and preparing for sale PURE GROUND BONE—conceded by all who have tried it to be the best article in use for fertilizing trees, grape vines, gardens, etc. It can be obtained in large or small quantities.
Also for Sale, NEAT'S FOOT OIL, TALLOW and GREASE.
☞ Cash paid for Bones.
TIMOTHY WALTON.
Post Office Address, box 99 South Danvers, Mass. April 20—3m

ANN R. BRAY,
No. 76 Federal Street, Salem.

——Will open——

MANY new Styles of Dress Goods this day. We have received a new assortment of Black Silks at Bargains.
A Good assortment of Sun Shades, Sun Umbrellas and Parasols. apr 20

RICH MILLINERY GOODS!
From the New York and Boston Markets,
OPENING EVERY DAY.

ALL the desirable shapes in BONNETS and HATS.
RIBBONS and FLOWERS in all the New Shades. All goods belonging to a first class Millinery Establishment, to which the attention of the Ladies of Essex County is respectfully invited.

REITH & CO'S,
NO. 2 WEST BLOCK, ESSEX STREET,
(One door west of J. F. Almy & Co.,)
apr 13 SALEM, MASS.

FLOUR.

200 BBLS. "J. Uhl's Best," received this day, and for sale by apr 20 GAYLE & CO., Phillips wharf.

GEORGE TAPLEY,
(DANVERS),
AGENT FOR THE
John Hancock Life Insurance Co.
Office, 41 State Street, Boston.

NEW FLOUR AND GRAIN STORE,
Central St., opposite Old South.

THE subscriber would inform the citizens of this town and vicinity that he has taken the store lately vacated by Mr. Whidden, painter, where he will sell, by the Wholesale and Retail, the very best of
FLOUR, CORN, MEAL, OATS, FEED, &C.,
at the Lowest Market Prices.
JOHN G. MOULTON.
So. Danvers, March 16, 1864.—tf.

HOUSEKEEPERS, ATTENTION!
JACKSON'S
KITCHEN FURNISHING ROOMS,

Under MECHANIC HALL, Salem.

Parties about commencing House-Keeping will find this the only place in Salem where a complete assortment of House-keeping articles can be found. Dec 9—6w

CURTAIN FIXTURES.

PUTNAM'S Pendulum Curtain Fixtures, at
S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS',
April 27. 32 Front Street.

BLUE AND BLACK.

PRUSSIAN BLUE and Black Paint. Also Red Lead; Chrome Paints; India Red Rose Pink, etc., at
S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS',
April 27. 32 Front Street.

UMBRELLAS
OPENED TO-DAY!

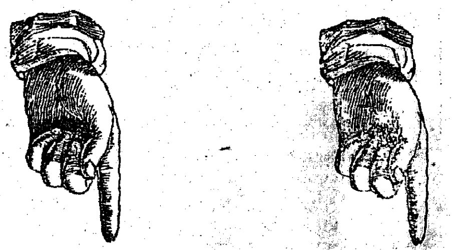
THE LOWEST PRICES. THE BEST GOODS.

14 inch—Black or Brown—only	$1 10;
16 " " " " "	1 30;
18 " " " " "	1 50;
20 " " " " "	1 75;
22 " " " " "	2 00;

14 inch $1 10;
16 inch 1 30;
18 inch 1 50;
20 inch 1 75;
22 inch 2 00.

New Trimmings,
New Buttons,
New Veils,
New Laces,
New Edgings,
New Insertings.

220 Essex Street.
JOHN P. PEABODY.



ELEGANT NEW GOODS
— AT —
BROWNING & LONG'S

The Latest Styles.
The Richest Goods.
The Greatest Variety.
The Prettiest Patterns.
The Last Novelties.
The Lowest Prices.

LACE VEILS

The most Beautiful Patterns,
SOME ENTIRELY NEW
THIS SEASON.

FIVE FIVE

Distinct Styles of Kid Gloves.

GANTS DE SUEDE, (Undressed Kids.)
MOSQUETAIRE NAPOLEON'S, (Long Wrist.)
OUR USUAL GLOVES, (Embroidered with White.)
DESCHAMP'S Celebrated KIDS, (one of the best imported.)
BLACK MODEL KIDS, (Excellent Quality.)

Making the Greatest Assortment Offered in the City.

Dress Trimmings and Buttons,
Trimmings of Entirely New Designs.
Getting them from a French House through their Agent in New York, we are able to display the very Latest Paris Fashions.

NEW SKIRTS.
THE LAST SHAPE.

BROWNING & LONG'S
Ladies' Furnishing Store,

177 Essex Street.
Salem, April 13, '64.

SPRING AND SUMMER GOODS.
168 ESSEX STREET.

WE invite the attention of the Ladies of Salem and vicinity, to our
New Millinery Goods.
Ladies' and Children's
BONNETS AND HATS,
in all desirable styles.
Crapes, Silks, Ribbons, Feathers, French Flowers, and Laces.
A full assortment of Straw Goods, Mourning Bonnets, Veils, Collars, &c., constantly on hand at the lowest cash prices.
M. E. CRANE,
Successor to M M Fletcher.
Salem, April 6, 1864.

CARPETS.
THOMAS W. DOWNING & CO.

HAVE now in Store a splendid Stock of

Carpets, Oil Cloths,
Stair Carpets, Straw Mattings,
Cocoa Mattings, Rugs,
Mats, Paper,
Linings, etc., etc.,

which they offer at the very lowest Cash Prices.
April 13. 179 Essex Street.

ICE! ICE!!

THE undersigned would announce that he has made arrangements for running an

ICE WAGON

through South Danvers and Salem, the coming season, beginning MAY 1st, and ending NOVEMBER 1st.
☞ He will deliver ice made at Bancroft's Pond, which is supplied mostly from the surplus water of Spring Pond. This ice cannot be excelled in point of purity and clearness.
☞ A share of patronage is respectfully solicited.
☞ Orders may be left at the Wizard Office, or sent by mail.
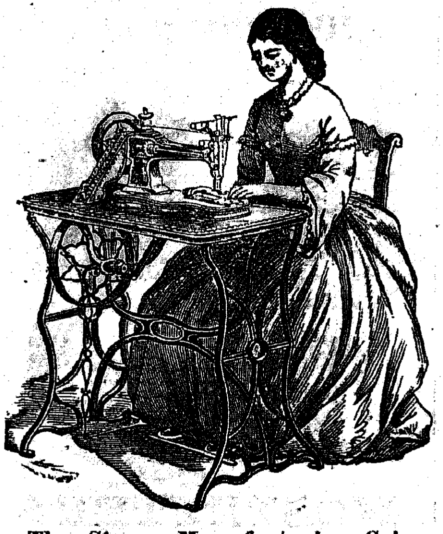
BYRON GOODELL.
South Danvers, April 13, 1864. 3m–is.

MANUAL FENOLLOSA
TEACHER
OF THE
Violin, Piano and Singing,
Music Rooms, No. 7 Central Street,
SALEM, MASS.

MILLINERY GOODS.
RIBBONS, FLOWERS AND RUCHES.
NEW GOODS.

IN this department we have a new stock of the most desirable goods in Ribbons. We have many choice styles of Plaid Goods, and all the new Plain Colors, at our usual low prices.
In Flowers, our Stock is choice and desirable, at about one half the price of the regular Milliners.
In Ruches, we have over twenty-five styles, many of them entirely new, and all of them at the lowest prices.
In Laces, both Black and White, we can show a full stock of the best styles and widths.

ONE PRICE ONLY!
220 ESSEX ST., SALEM.
JOHN P. PEABODY,



The Singer Manufacturing Co's
LETTER A SEWING MACHINE

For Family Use and Light Manufacturing Purposes, is on exhibition and for sale
AT ASHLAND HALL,
SOUTH DANVERS SQUARE,
— BY —
JOHN H. CHOATE,
Agent for the sale of
SEWING MACHINES,
Silk, Thread, Needles, Cottons, &c., &c.
— Also —
Paraffine Sewing Machine Oil,
The best oil for all kinds of light machinery.
South Danvers, Nov 18, 1863.

M. A. PORTER,
236 Essex Street, - - - Salem, Mass.,
(Opposite Horse Railroad Office,)
MAKES TO ORDER BEST QUALITIES OF
WATCH SPRING SKIRTS.

A Good Assortment of Dress and Clock Button, Braids, Spool Cotton, Small Wares, and Thread Store articles generally.
236 Essex Street, - - - Salem, Mass.,
M. A. PORTER.

PIANO FORTES.

I HAVE those splendid Extra-Sized Seven-Octave Piano Fortes, with full Iron Frame, Overstrung Bass, Serpentine Bottom, so much admired for their beautiful finish, and deep mellow tone, with Pearl and Ivory Keys, and a new style of Extra Small Size Six to Six, and Half Octaves—for sale at the very lowest prices. I have Piano Fortes and Melodeons to let; will attend to Tuning in the Best Manner; will attach the Tremolo Orchestrian to any Piano Forte; select Piano Fortes or Melodeons from any Manufactory in New York or Boston, without charge—and also make them to order, to correspond with any style of furniture, and warrant them in every particular.
S. MACKINTIRE, General Agent.
No. 218 Essex Street, Salem,
Salem, Nov. 4—6m. (Up Stairs.)

SPECTACLES!

H. F. SKERRY wishes to call special attention to his stock of Spectacles and Eye Glasses,
in Gold—Silver—Rubber—Steel and Horn frames, of which he keeps constantly on hand a very large assortment, embracing every style and quality.
— ALSO —
Opera Glasaes, Microscopes, &c.
Glasses re-set, and Spectacles repaired.
In Store, our usual assortment of Silver and Plated Ware, and Jewelry.
No. 180 Essex Street, Salem.
H. F. SKERRY.
Feb. 24—tf.

PAPER
HANGINGS.

SPRING STYLES
Paper Hangings!

We have just received our new styles for the Spring trade, of
ROOM PAPERS and BORDERS;
To which we invite the Public to examine. In variety of styles and quality, they have never been surpassed. Having been made expressly for our sales, great care has been taken to have the best quality of stock and the greatest variety of patterns the market affords.
BORDERS AND DECORATIONS,
in imitation of Wood's, Marbles and Stucco.
Fireboard Prints;
Cloth and Paper Shades;
Curtain Fixtures;
Cord and Tassels;
And every variety of goods usually found in a first class Book and Paper Store, and at a fair advance from cost.
H. P. IVES,
232 Essex, and 36 Washington Sts.,
(Old Stand of W. & S. B. Ives,)
March 23—2ms. SALEM.

VEILS.

GRENADINE VEILS,
In all the desirable shades and colors;
BLACK LACE VEILS,
In new and choice patterns—all prices;
MOURNING VEILS,
In Crape—Lace and Love Veils—new;
WHITE VEILS,
White Shetland and Grenadine Veils;
FRENCH VEILS,
In desirable styles, at the lowest prices.

EDGINGS.

Smyrna Edgings—in all the desirable widths;
Cambric Edgings—new and choice styles;
Cambric Inserting—in fine qualities;
Cambric Bands—from 25 cents to $2 00 each;
Cotton and Saxony Edgings—in all widths;
Infants' Waists—choice styles, from 60 cts to $5;
Malta Lace Collars—all prices—up to $5 00;
New Wrought Collars—in all qualities;
Mourning Collars—in Crape and Grenadine;
Linen Bosoms—from 25 cts. to 50 cts. each.
J. P PEABODY,
220 Essex Street.

James F. Almy.

PRICES. PRICES. PRICES.

WE invite attention to the prices at which we offer our stock,
Rich Dress Goods, Shawls of all kinds,
Elegant Plain Black and Col'd Silks,
Ladies' Outside Garments,
CLOTHS Of Every DESCRIPTION,
DOMESTICS, SUN UMBRELLAS,
HOSIERY, GLOVES, etc.

With many people it is a necessity, while it is the duty of all in times like these to use money to the best advantage. We believe that our Cash system enables us to offer superior advantages to our customers.
JAMES ALMY & CO.,
188 Essex Street,
Opposite Central Street.
Salem, April 27, 1864.

A. J. Archer & Co

MOURNING GOODS.

AUGUSTUS J. ARCHER & CO.,
HAVE always on hand a full stock
—OF—
Mourning Dress Goods.
Black Thibet Long & Square Shawls,
English Black Crapes,
Best Black Kid Gloves,
which will be sold at
LOWEST PRICES.
March 23, '64.

FANCY CLOAKINGS!
— FOR —
Spring Garments,
IN GREAT VARIETY of STYLES,
which we are prepared to make into GARMENTS to order, in the very best manner, and at
LOWEST CASH PRICES.
A. J. ARCHER & CO.,
March 16—tf. 181 Essex Street.

Ladies' Silk Umbrellas.

20, 22, 24 and 26 inch Silk Umbrellas, for sale by April 13. A. J. ARCHER & CO.

L. MERRILL & SON,
DEALERS IN
DRUGS, MEDICINES,
Fancy and Toilet Articles,
Perfumery, Stationery, Cutlery, &c.
VILLAGE BANK BUILDING,
DANVERS, MASS.
Particular attention paid to Physicians' Prescriptions.
Levi Merrill,
W. S. Merrill.
Danvers, Dec 2—6m

HOUSE OF EQUITY,
—BY—
Arnold & Hutchinson,
(Successors to C. T. Southwick.)

FIRST QUALITY
FAMILY GROCERIES,
Sold at the Lowest Prices.
A large and complete assortment of
CROCKERY AND GLASS WARE,
Constantly on hand.
Also FLOUR and GRAIN.
ASHLAND HALL BUILDING,
NO. 1 LOWELL STREET,
F. T. Arnold. B. F. Hutchinson.
South Danvers, Feb 3, 1864.

R. W. WILKINSON,
DEALER IN
Newspapers, Periodicals, and Stationery of every Description.

FOREIGN and DOMESTIC FRUITS, consisting of Oranges, Lemons, Dates, Figs, Prunes, &c., &c.
Sauces, Pickles and Preserves; Castana, Naples and English Walnuts; Hard, Soft and Paper-shelled Almonds; choice brands of Tobacco and Cigars; also a general assortment of Confectionery of every description.
Also a large and well selected stock of Toys, suitable for children and the Holiday Gifts.
Ice Cream furnished to parties at short notice and in quantities to suit. Wedding Cake and every variety of nice cake furnished to parties or families.
STORE—WARREN BANK BUILDING.
South Danvers, Nov'r 11, 1863.

KID GLOVES.

OUR BEST KID GLOVES—only $1 25
Our best Kid Gloves—only $1 25
FRESH GOODS THIS WEEK.
Our best Kid Gloves—only $1 25
Our best Kid Gloves—only $1 25
ALL SIZES AND COLORS.
Our best Kid Gloves—only $1 25
Our best Kid Gloves—only $1 25
SUPERIOR BLACK KIDS.
Our best Kid Gloves—only $1 25
Our best Kid Gloves—only $1 25
REAL FRENCH KID GLOVES.
Our best Kid Gloves—only $1 25
Our best Kid Gloves—only $1 25
TWENTY DOZ. JUST RECEIVED.
Our best Kid Gloves—only $1 25
Our best Kid Gloves—only $1 25
EVERY PAIR WARRANTED.
Our best Kid Gloves—only $1 25
Our best Kid Gloves—only $1 25
OUR SPRING STOCK.
Ladies' Furnishing Store—220 Essex St.,
SALEM, MASS.
JOHN P. PEABODY.

George S. Walker.

GENTLEMEN'S
FURNISHING GOODS.

The Largest Stock and Assortment
IN ESSEX COUNTY.

GEORGE S. WALKER, 228 Essex Street, Stearns' Block, invites particular attention to his Spring and Summer Stock of Gentlemen's Under-Shirts, Drawers,
Hosiery,
Gloves.
Also a splendid assortment of Braces,
Scarfs,
Ties,
Collars,
Umbrellas, &c.
Dealing exclusively in the above articles, most of which were bought for CASH, before the late advance, I am enabled to offer them at less than present prices of Importation and Manufacture—at
my4 GEORGE S. WALKER'S.

Potter, Bachelder & Co.,
DANVERS-PORT and SOUTH DANVERS,
DEALERS IN
WOOD AND COAL.

Constantly on hand
Franklin, Burnside, Dimond, } RED ASH.
Old Company & Packer's Lehigh, Pliny Fisk, Webster and Locust Mountain, } WHITE ASH.
Also Cumberland, Pictou and Campbell for Steam and Smith's use.
OFFICE—No. 6 Allen's Building.
G. W. POTTER,
J. Q. A. BACHELDER,
C. T. BATCHELDER. mch 30

M. FENOLLOSA,
TEACHER OF MUSIC,

LETS..............PIANO FORTES, at the lowest rates;
SELLS..............PIANO FORTES, at the Manufacturers Prices;
EXCHANGES....PIANO FORTES, on the easiest terms;

At Rooms No. 7 Central street,
feb 11 Salem, Mass.

R. C. MANNING & CO.
Successors to JOHN DIKE & CO.,
DEALERS IN
COAL, WOOD, BARK, HAY, &c,
183 DERBY STREET,
SALEM, MASS.
N. C. Robbins, R. C. Manning.
oct17

DR. E. F. KITTREDGE,

From Lowell, formerly of New Ipswich, N. H.,
Has removed his office and residence to
NO. 42 MAIN STREET,
SOUTH DANVERS, MASS.
Dr. K., from an extensive and successful professional experience of upwards of twenty years, feels justified in saying that he can treat diseases to the satisfaction of his patients, and to the credit of himself.
Office hours from 7 to 9 A. M., and from 6 to 9 P. M.
South Danvers, Nov 13, 1863.

T. HARDY, JR.,
—Dealer in—
DOORS, SASHES, BLINDS,
Glazed Sash, Painted Blinds,
FENCE PALES, STAIR BALUSTERS, FRAMING PINS, &c.,
No. 26 FRONT STREET,
Salem, January 14, 1863—tf.

Valuable Real Estate for Sale.

THE ESTATE of the late THOMAS BANCROFT, situate on Boston Street, Salem, is offered for sale. It consists of a two and a half story building, the upper story finished for a convenient dwelling of eight rooms; the lower story for a store, suitable for most any retail or mechanical business, having been occupied for a retail variety store for the last forty years; and also a large lot of land, which measures 76 feet on Boston Street, and extends back to Beaver Street 166 feet. It is sufficient for three house lots, in addition to that occupied by the building. The building, with a quarter part of the land, will be sold separate, if wanted. For terms, apply to
T. F. BANCROFT, Lynn, Mass., or at this Office. March 16—tf.

HAIR WORK.

WE still give our personal attention to the sale and manufacture of every description of
Hair Work,
for Ladies and Gentlemen.
WIGS, TOP PIECES, FRIZETTES, BANDS OF HAIR, CURLS, &c., constantly on hand and made to order.
H. F. SKERRY,
mch 30—2mos 180 Essex Street.

Spring Goods.

THOMAS W. DOWNING & CO.
invite attention to the splendid stock of
NEW GOODS
which they are now opening for the Spring trade.
We shall be constantly supplied with all Novelties as they appear in the market.
mch 2 179 Essex Street.

MOULTON'S
NEW LIVERY STABLE,

Opposite Danvers Bank, Main St.
Good Horses and Carriages will be always in readiness at short notice.
South Danvers, Sept 30, 1863.

THOMAS PINNOCK,
SLATER,
SALEM, MASS.

Orders may be left at his Yard, No. 25 Peabody St., or at his house No. 6 Hancock street, South Salem.
Roofs covered with any kind of Slates, according to order. All work warranted.
Salem, May 7, 1862. tf

ALL THE CHILDREN

WILL want to read Oliver Optic's new Book, "The Soldier Boy; or, Tom Somers in the Army." It can be had of Apr 27 G M WHIPPLE & A A SMITH.

Auction Sales.

WILLIAM ARCHER, Jr.,
Auctioneer, Real Estate and Stock Broker,
34 Front Street.

Real Estate, Bank, Railroad & Manufacturing Stock bought and sold on Commission.
ON SATURDAY NEXT, at 9½ o'clock will be sold at No. 34 Front street:
A QUANTITY of Furniture: Tables, Chairs, Lounges, Feather Beds, Carpets, Refrigerators, &c.
Boots and Shoes.—An invoice of Ladies' and Misses' Boots and Shoes.
Dry Goods.—Ten pieces Cotton Cloth, Prints, Delains, Cassimeres, Satinets.
Also two cases Baker's Coffee, cases of Cream of Tartar, Mustard, Pepper, &c. One case of Lowe's Windsor Soap; knives and forks, razors, scissors, &c., &c.
At 12 o'clock—1 good second hand Buggy.

TEETH ON VULCANITE!
DR. J. H. BATCHELDER,
DENTAL SURGEON,

No. 20 Washington St., (near Eastern Railroad Depot), Salem, Mass.,
Is Licensed to make the New Patent Teeth on HARD RUBBER or VULCANITE, and from actual experience, confidently recommends them for Strength, Beauty, and Cleanliness, to far surpass all other kinds of teeth;—are sure to fit the mouth; are much cheaper and better, being about half the price of teeth on Gold. Ill fitting Setts of Teeth on Gold can be exchanged for the Vulcanite, at very small expense. Specimens seen at Office. Teeth filled with Gold, Inserted, Extracted, and Children's Teeth Regulated—all with such care and gentleness as to be nearly painless.

D. P. GROSVENOR, Jr.,

Druggist and Apothecary,
33 MAIN STREET.

Dealer in Drugs, Medicines, Chemicals, Dye Stuffs, and Popular Proprietary Medicines.
Personal attention to Physicians' Prescriptions.
South Danvers, May 29, 1861. 1y

GEO. E. MEACOM,

Dealer in
DRUGS & MEDICINES,
Fancy & Toilet Articles, &c.,
126 . . MAIN ST . . . 126
Nearly opposite Danvers Bank, So. Danvers.

T. A. SWEETSER,

Druggist & Apothecary
37 Main St., So. Danvers,
DEALER IN
Drugs, Medicines, Chemicals, Foreign Leeches, Shakers' Herbs, Dye Stuffs, Gums, Acids, Sponges, Shoulder Braces, Trusses, and Genuine Patent Medicines,
Also, Imported Cigars of choice brands, Perfumery, Toilet Articles and Stationery.
Physicians' Prescriptions carefully prepared by experienced persons.
37 MAIN STREET.

AARON T. LOWE,
DEALER IN
BOOTS, SHOES AND RUBBERS,
76 BOSTON STREET, 76.
aug 6 SALEM. tf

NEW STORE!
Flour! Flour!

JUST RECEIVED, a fresh supply of choice brands, direct from the Mills, for sale, wholesale and retail, at LOWEST PRICES, by
E. F. OSBORN.
Sutton's Building, Main St.
South Danvers, Nov 18, 1863.

MISS. S. E. MACKINTIRE.
TEACHER ON
PIANO FORTE
Residence,—22 Holton Street,
jan13 South Danvers.

GAYLE & CO.,
GENERAL COMMISSION MERCHANTS,
DEALERS IN
Flour, Grain and Produce,
Manufacturers' Agents for the sale of
Concentrated Leaven, Soda and Pearlash Saleratus, and Bi Carb. Soda.
PHILLIPS WHARF, - - - - - Salem.

COSTAR'S
VERMIN
EXTERMINATORS

For Rats, Mice, Roaches, Ants, Bed Bugs, Moths in Furs, Woolens, etc. Insects on Plants, Fowls, Animals, etc.
"Only infallible remedies known."
"Free from Poisons."
"Not dangerous to the Human Family."
"Rats come out of their holes to die"
☞ Sold wholesale in all large cities.
☞ Sold by all Druggists and Retailers everywhere.
☞ !! Beware!! of all worthless imitations.
☞ See that "Costar's" name is on each box. bottle and flask, before you buy.
☞ Address HENRY R. COSTAR.
☞ Principal Depot, No. 482 Broadway, N.Y.
☞ Sold by all Wholesale and Retail Druggists in So. Danvers. mch 30-6m

CARRIAGES
OF ALL KINDS
REPAIRED AND PAINTED
— BY —
JOHN C. BLANEY,
Rear of Lowell Depot, Central St.,
So. Danvers, April 6, 1864.

TABLE MATS,

SHAKER, Wood, and Canton Table Mats,—at
April 27. S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS'.

Special Notices.

BELL'S SPECIFIC PILLS.—WARRANTED IN ALL CASES.—Can be relied on! Never fail to cure! Do not nauseate! Are speedy in action! No change of diet required! Do not interfere with business pursuits! Can be used without detection! Upward of 200 cures the past month—some of them very severe cases. Over one hundred physicians have used them in their practice, and all speak well of their efficacy, and approve of their composition, which is entirely vegetable, and harmless on the system. Hundreds of certificates can be shown.

BELL'S SPECIFIC PILLS are the original and only genuine Specific Pill. They are adapted for male and female, old or young, and the only reliable remedy for effecting a permanent and speedy cure in all cases of Spermatorrhea, or Seminal Weakness, with all its train of evils, such as Urethral and Vaginal Discharges, Gleet, the Whites, Nightly or Involuntary Emissions, Incontinence, Genital Debility and Irritability, Impotence, Weakness or Loss of Power, Nervous Debility, &c., &c., all of which arise principally from Sexual Excesses or Self-Abuse, or some constitutional derangement, and incapacitates the sufferer from fulfilling the duties of married life. In all sexual diseases, as Gonorrhea, Gleet, and Strictures, and in Diseases of the Bladder and Kidneys, they act as a charm! Relief is experienced by taking a single box. Sold by all the principal druggists. Price $1.

They will be sent by mail, securely sealed, and confidentially, on receipt of the money, by

J BRYAN, M. D,
No. 76 Cedar street, New York,

Consulting Physician for the treatment of Seminal, Urinary, Sexual, and Nervous Diseases, who will send free to all, the following valuable work, in sealed envelope:

THE FIFTIETH THOUSAND.—DR. BELL'S TREATISE on Self-Abuse, Premature Decay, Impotence and Loss of Power, Sexual Diseases, Seminal Weakness, Nightly Emissions, Genital Debility, &c., &c., a pamphlet of 64 pages, containing important advice to the afflicted, and which should be read by every sufferer, as the means of cure in the severest stages is plainly set forth. Two stamps required to pay postage.

December 9, 1863—1 yr.

IMPORTANT TO LADIES.—DR. HARVEY'S FEMALE PILLS have never yet failed in removing difficulties arising from obstruction, or stoppage of nature, or in restoring the system to perfect health when suffering from Spinal Affections, Prolapsus, Uteri, the Whites, or other weakness of the Uterine Organs. The Pills are perfectly harmless on the constitution, and may be taken by the most delicate female without causing distress—the same time they act like a charm by strengthening, invigorating and restoring the system to a healthy condition, and by bringing on the monthly period with regularity, no matter from what causes the obstruction may arise. They should, however, NOT be taken during the first three or four months of pregnancy, though safe at any other time, as miscarriage would be the result.

Each box contains 60 Pills. Price $1.

DR. HARVEY'S TREATISE on Diseases of Females, Pregnancy Miscarriage, Barrenness, Sterility, Reproduction, and Abuses of Nature, and emphatically the Ladies' Private Medical Adviser, a pamphlet of 64 pages, sent free to any address. Six cents required to pay postage.

The Pills and book will be sent by mail when desired, securely sealed, and prepaid, by

J. BRYAN, M. D, General Agent,
No. 76 Cedar street, New York.

☞ Sold by all the principal druggists.
December 9, 1863—1 yr.

TERRIBLE DISCLOSURES—SECRETS FOR THE MILLION!—A most valuable and wonderful publication. A work of 400 pages, and 30 colored engravings. DR. HUNTER'S VADE MECUM, an original and popular treatise on Man and Woman, their Physiology, Functions, and Sexual Disorders of every kind, with Never-Failing Remedies for their speedy cure. The practice of Dr. Hunter has long been, and still is, unbounded, but at the earnest solicitation of numerous persons, he has been induced to extend his medical usefulness through the medium of his "Vade Mecum." It is a volume that should be in the hands of every family in the land, as a preventive of secret vices, or as a guide for the alleviation of one of the most awful and destructive scourges ever visited mankind. One copy, securely enveloped, will be forwarded free of postage to any part of the United States for 50 cents in post office stamps or 3 copies for $1. Address, post paid, DR. HUNTER, No. 3 Dvision Street, New York. je 3—1y

Poudrette! Poudrette!!

THE LODI MANUFACTURING COMPANY, with an experience of 24 years, again offer for sale a uniform article of Poudrette at low prices. The experience of thousands of customers attest to the fact that it is the cheapest and the very best manure in market, and particularly adapted for TOBACCO, CORN, POTATOES, and GARDEN TRUCK.

The Company manufacture also BONE TA-FEU (a substitute for Guano), from bone, night soil and guano, ground fine. Price $45 per ton.

A pamphlet containing directions for use, prices, &c., may be had free by addressing a letter to the office of the Company, 66 Courtlandt Street, New York, or applying to our autherized agent,

JOHN M. RICHARDS,
125 Commercial St., Boston, Mass.

SAMUEL WELCH, Grocer, Lowell Street, Agent for the Company. feb17—3m

WALKING MADE EASY.

CORNS.

DR. P. KENISON,
CHIROPODIST,
215 Washington St., Boston,

Cures Hard and Soft Corns, Bunions, Club Nails, Nails penetrating the Flesh, Warts, &c., in a manner that will satisfy the most incredulous.

Horse Railroad Notice.

On and after TUESDAY, Dec. 15, the cars of the Salem and South Danvers Railroad Co. will run through from South Danvers to Beverly,

Leaving South Danvers at 7.00 A. M., and every half hour until 10.30 A. M., and from 10.30 A. M. till 10.30 P. M., every twenty minutes.

Leaving Beverly at 7.00 A. M., and every half hour until 11.30 A. M.; and from 11.30 A. M. till 10.30 P. M., every twenty minutes.

M. H. HALE,
dec 16 Sup't. S. & S. D. R. R. Co.

Are you Insured?

THE subscriber would respectfully call your attention to the fact that he is fully prepared to effect INSURANCE AGAINST FIRE, to any amount, at current rates, on

Dwelling Houses, Barns and their contents, Stores, Stocks of Goods, Furniture, &c. &c., and on buildings in process of erection,

And that he is the authorized Agent for the following responsible Stock and Mutual Companies, viz:

Thames Insurance Co., (Stock,) Norwich, Conn.
Capital—$500,000.
Amos W. Prentice, Pres. Oliver F. Rice, Sec'y
Conway Insurance Company, (Stock) Boston.
Capital and Surplus—$260,000.
James F. Whitney, Pres. David C. Rogers, Sec'y.
City Insurance Company, (Stock) Boston.
Capital—$150,000.
Samuel P. Hayward, Pres. Austin W. Benton, Sec'y

Also, will effect Insurance on the LIVES OF INDIVIDUALS, for one year, seven years, or for the whole term of life, in the

Massachusetts Mutual Life Ins. Co., Springfield, Mass.
Capital and Assets—$375,000.
Caleb Rice, Pres. D. B. Bacon, Sec'y.
William Mack, M. D., Medical Examiner.

WM. ARCHER, Jr.,
18 Washington st. and 34 Front st., Salem.
feb20-1

HEYLINGBERG'S
Hair Dressing Saloon,
24 MAIN ST., SOUTH DANVERS.

J. J. HEYLINGBERG would announce to his patrons and the public generally, that on and after OCTOBER 1st, 1863, he will abide by the following

TARIFF OF PRICES:

Shaving,	8 cts,
Hair Cutting,	15 cts,
Champooing,	15 cts.

Particular attention paid to dying hair and whiskers, in one preparation, without washing or scrubbing.

New Quarterly customers must pay in advance.
South Danvers, Nov. 25, 1862.

E. R. PERKINS,
PHOTOGRAPHIC ARTIST
241 Essex Street, Salem.

Patent Ambrotypes, Stereoscopes,

Photographs, Sphereotypes, Melainotypes, and patent ea ter Pictures, of various sizes, taken with all the mprovements of the art. Portraits, Miniatures, Engravings, &c., accurately copied. Viewstaken when esired. jan 11

KEROSENE LAMPS.

A FULL stock of Kerosene Lamps, Extra Chimneys, Shades, and Burners. Also—Wicks of all sizes, at

apr 13 S. C. & E. A. SIMOND'S.

LANE & CO'S
COLUMN.

NEW SPRING GOODS.

MEN'S AND BOYS'
CLOTHING!

MANUFACTURED FROM A GREAT VARIETY OF

Plain and Fancy Goods,

—AND—

CUT IN THE LATEST STYLE,

WITH ELEGANT TRIMMINGS,

And made up in the most thorough manner.

SPRING OVERCOATS,

English Walking Coats,

AND FULL SUITS,

Coats, Pants and Vest,

TO MATCH.

NEW INVOICE

MILITARY UNIFORMS,

—FOR—

OFFICERS AND PRIVATES.

Parents are invited to examine our stock of

BOYS CLOTHING,

CONTAINING

MANY NEW STYLES.

Garribaldi Suits.

Grecian Suits,

English Sacks,

Metropolitan Sacks,

AND FULL SUITS,

SACKS, PANTS AND VESTS

TO MATCH.

In addition to the above we have a large amount of goods in process of manufacture, which will be addded to our stock as fast as completed. Purchasers will therefore always find a full line from which to make their selections. To those visiting the city by RAIL in search of CLOTHING, we would say:—

Purchase a Ticket through to

"31 and 32" Dock Square,

SECURE A

REAL BARGAIN,

AND THEREBY

SAVE YOUR FARE!

G. H. LANE & CO.,

31 AND 32 DOCK SQUARE,

BOSTON.

March 30.—3m

Cards.

M. B. MANSFIELD,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
214 ESSEX STREET, SALEM, MASS.

⁂ Particular attention paid to procuring Pensions, Bounties, Back Pay, Prize Money, and Army and Navy Claims of all descriptions. March 2.

WILLIAM G. CHOATE,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
251 Essex St., Salem.
Salem, August 6, 1862. tf

THOMAS M. STIMPSON,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
194 ESSEX STREET, SALEM.
Residence Lowell street, South Danvers.

B. C. PERKINS,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
South Danvers—Office in Allen's Building

ALFRED A. ABBOTT,
Attorney and Counsellor,
Office, No. 24 Washington Street, Salem;
House, Main St., So. Danvers.

SIDNEY C. BANCROFT,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
27 Washington Street, Salem.

H. O. WILEY,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
Office, Allen's Building, So. Danvers.

Claims against the Government for Bounty Back Pay, and Pensions, promptly attended to

A. S. CRAWFORD,
Dentist,
No. 4 MAIN STREET, SO. DANVERS SQUARE
Mechanical Dentistry Neatly Executed.

W. L. BOWDOIN,
SURGEON DENTIST,
No, 208 Essex Street, Salem, (Opposite the Marke
Residence—No. 57 Washington street.
jan 11—1y

NEWMAN & SYMONDS,
DEALERS IN
Family Groceries, Flour & Grain,
HARD WARE AND CROCKERY,
Ready Made Clothing, Gents' Furnishing Goods,
Hats, Caps, Boots, Shoes, &c.,
South Danvers Square, opp. Congregational Church
SAM'L NEWMAN. NATH'L SYMONDS.

S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS,
DEALERS IN
Crockery, China and Hardware; Paper Hangings; Solar and Entry Lamps; Paints, Oil, and Window Glass.
No. 32 Front street, Lawrence Place,
feb13 SALEM, MASS.

HENRY L. WHIDDEN,
HOUSE AND SIGN PAINTER,
Glazier and Paperer,
Central Street, South Danvers.
All orders promptly and faithfully executed.
jan2-1y

E. S. FLINT,
DEALER IN
West India Goods, Country Poduce,
No. 2 Main Street, South Danvers.

JESSE SMITH
No. 262 Essex Street, Salem,
Importer and Dealer in
Gold and Silver Watches,
MARINE CHRONOMETERS,
Aueroid Barometers, Spy Glasses, &c.

WILLIAM BLANEY,
HOUSE & SIGN PAINTER
Grainer, Glazier and Paper Hanger.
164 MAIN STREET, Corner of Grove.
WINDOWS and BLINDS cheap for cash.
mch6-tf

F. POOLE:
INSURANCE AGENT,
Allen's Building (up stairs),
Deeds drawn, and other common forms.

H. L. HADLEY,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
CORNER MAPLE AND ELM ST.,
Danvers.
Claims against the Government for Bounty, Back Pay, and Pensions, promptly attended to.

DEVEREUX & McLELLAN,
Attorneys and Counsellors-at-Law,
CIVIL AND MILITARY,
Browne's Block, Essex street—Room No. 5.
J. F. DEVEREUX, Salem, Mass.
GEO. F. McLELLAN, Washington, D. C.
Oct. 21.

CREAM ALE.

THIS Ale is highly recommended by Physicians for

FAMILY USE AND INVALIDS.

Put up in Half Barrels and Barrels,
And for sale by
J. MAGUIRE & CO.,
No. 6 Derby Square, Salem.

Also, Agent for
MASSEY & COLLINS'
PHILADELPHIA ALES,
BUCKHART'S
CREAM ALE,
And Dealer in
LONDON PORTER, SCOTCH ALE, Atkinson's Wormwood Cordial, Drake's Plantation Bitters, &c., &c.

J. MAGUIRE & CO.,
july 15 No. 6 Derby Square, Salem.

E. F. BURNHAM,
SOLE AGENT FOR
SARGENT & CO.S'
MAGIC SOAP!
For South Danvers & Salem.

OFFICE—Central St., opp. Lowell Depot, at Burnham's Express Office, So. Danvers.

Price $3.50 per 100 Lbs.

Orders sent by mail or otherwise to So. Danvers will be promptly attended to. tf-oct3

Choice Spring Pigs for Sale.

THE subscriber offers for sale nice PIGS of Mackie Prince Albert and Chester County breeds, of which the Mackie took the First Premium at the late CattleShow. Prices reasonable.

BYRON GOODALE,
Near Tapley's Brook.
South Danvers, April 1, 1864. tf

FEATHER DUSTERS.

ANOTHER lot of Dusters at
S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS', 32 Front st

Advertisements.

HOSTETTER'S
CELEBRATED
STOMACH BITTERS.

A pure and powerful Tonic, corrective and alterative of wonderful efficacy in disease of the

Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

Cures Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Headache, Debility, Nervousness, Depression of Spirits, Constipation, Colic, Intermittent Fevers, Cramps and Spasms, and all Complaints of either Sex, arising from Bodily Weakness whether inherent in the system or produced by special causes.

Nothing that is not wholesome, genial and restorative in its nature enters into the composition of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. This popular preparation contains no mineral of any kind, no deadly botanical element; no fiery excitant: but it is a combination of the extracts of rare balsamic herbs and plants with the purest and mildest of all diffusive stimulants.

It is well to be forearmed against disease, and, so far as the human system can be protected by human means against maladies engendered by an unwholesome atmosphere, impure water and other external causes, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS may be relied on as a safeguard.

In districts infested with Fever and Ague, it has been found infallible as a preventive and irresistible as a remedy and thousands who resort to it under apprehension of an attack, escape the scourage; and thousands who neglect to avail themselves of its protective qualities in advance, are cured by a very brief course of this marvelous medicine. Fever and Ague patients, after being plied with quinine for months in vain, until fairly saturated with that dangerous alkaloid, are not unfrequently restored to health within a few days by the use of HOSTETTER'S BITTERS.

The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated and the appetite restored by this agreeable Tonic, and hence it works wonders in cases of DISPEPSIA and in less confirmed forms of INDIGESTION. Acting as a gentle and painless apperient, as well as upon the liver, it also invariably relieves the CONSTIPATION superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and secretive organs.

Persons of feeble habit, liable to Nervous Attacks, Lowness of Spirits and Fits of Languor, find prompt and permanent relief from the Bitters. The testimony on this point is most conclusive, and from both sexes.

The agony of BILIOUS COLIC is immediately assuaged by a single dose of the stimulant, and by occasionally resorting to it, the return of the complaint may be prevented.

As a General Tonic, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS produce effects which must be experienced or witnessed before they can be fully appreciated. In cases of Constitutional Weakness, Premature Decay and Debility and Decrepitude arising from OLD AGE, it exercises the electric influence. In the convalescent stages of all diseases it operates as a delightful invigorant. When the powers of nature are relaxed, it operates to re-enforce and re-establish them.

Last, but not least, it is The Only Safe Stimulant, being manufactured from sound and innocuous materials, and entirely free from the acid elements present more or less in all the ordinary tonics and stomachics of the day.

No family medicine has been so universally, and, it may be truly added, deservedly popular with the intelligent portion of the community, as HOSTETTER'S BITTERS.

Prepared by HOSTETTER & SMITH, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Sold by all Druggists, Grocers and Storekeepers everywhere.

HELMBOLD'S
GENUINE PREPARATIONS.

COMPOUND FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU, a Positive and Specific Remedy for diseases of the Bladder, Kidneys, Gravel, and Dropsical Swellings.

This Medicine increases the power of Digestion, and excite the Absorbents into healthy action, by which the Wtaery or Calcareous depositions, and all Unnatural Enlargements are reduced, as well as Pain and Inflammation.

—:0:—

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU.

For Weaknesses arising from Excesses, Habits of Dissipation, Early Indiscretion of Abuse, attended with the following symptoms:—

Indisposition to Exertion,	Loss of Power,
Loss of Memory,	Difficulty of Breathing,
Weak Nerves,	Trembling,
Horror of Disease,	Wakefulness,
Dimness of Vision,	Pain in the Back,
Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System,
Hot Hands,	Flushing of the Body,
Dryness of the Skin,	Eruptions on the Face,
Pallid Countenance.

These symptoms, if allowed to go on, which this medicine invariably removes, soon follows

Impotency, Fatuity, Epileptic Fits,

In one of which the patient may expire.

Who can say that they are not frequently followed by those "Direful Diseases,"

"INSANITY AND CONSUMPTION."

Many are aware of the cause of their suffering, BUT NONE WILL CONFESS THE RECORDS OF THE INSANE ASYLUMS.

And Melancholy Deaths by Consumption bear ample witness to the Truth of the assertion.

The Constitution once effected with Organic Weakness requires the aid of Medicine to Strengthen and Invigorate the system,

Which HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU invariably does. A Trial will convince the most skeptical.

—:0:—

FEMALES—FEMALES—FEMALES.

In many Affections peculiar to Females the EXTRACT BUCHU is unequalled by any other remedy, as in Chlorosis, or Retention, Irregularity, Painfulness, or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated Scirrhous state of the Uterus, Leuchorrhœa or Whites, sterility, and for all complaints incident to the sex, whether arising from indiscretion or Habits of Dissipation, or in the

DECLINE OR CHANGE OF LIFE.

Take no more Balsam, Mercury, or unpleasant Medicines for unpleasant and dangerous diseases.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU AND IMPROVED ROSE WASH CURES

SECRET DISEASES

In all their Stages, At little Expense.
Little or no change in Diet. No inconvenience.
And no Exposure.

It causes a frequent desire and gives strength to Urinate, thereby Removing Obstructions, Preventing and Curing Strictures of the Urethra, allaying Pain and Inflammation, so frequent in this class of diseases, and expelling all Poisonous, Diseased and wornout Matter.

Thousands upon Thousands who have been the Victims of Quacks, and who have paid heavy fees to be cured in a short time, have found they were deceived, and that the "POISON" has, by the use of "Powerful Astringents," been dried up in the system, to break out in an aggravated form, and perhaps after Marriage.

—:0:—

Use HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU for all affections and diseases of the URINARY ORGANS, whether existing in MALE or FEMALE, from whatever cause originating and no matter of HOW LONG STANDING.

Diseases of these Organs requires the aid of a DIURETIC. HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU IS THE GREAT DIURETIC, and is certain to have the desired effect in all Diseases for which it is Recommended.

Evidence of the most reliable and responsible character will accompany the medicine.

Price $1.00 per bottle, or six for $5.00.

Delivered to any Address, securely packed from observation.

Describe Symptoms in all Communications.

Cures Guaranteed! Advice Gratis!!

Address letters for information to

H. B. HELMBOLD, Chemist,
104 South Tenth-st., bel. Chestnut, Phila.

HELMBOLD'S Medical Depot.
HELMBOLD'S Drug & Chemical Warehouse.
594 Broadway, New York.

BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS AND UNPRINCIPLED DEALERS who endeavor to dispose "of their own" and "other" articles on the reputation attained by

Helmbold's Genuine Preparations.
" " Extract Buchu.
" " " Sarsaparilla.
" " Improved Rose Wash.

SOLD BY
ALL DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE.
ASK FOR HELMBOLD'S. TAKE NO OTHER.
Cut out the Advertisement and send for it.
AND AVOID IMPOSITION AND EXPOSURE.
December 16, 1863.—1 yr.

STURGIS'S
ELECTRIC COMPOUND!
AN EFFECTUAL CURE FOR
NEURALGIA AND RHEUMATISM.

Also, invaluable for Spinal Irritation, Hip Complaints, Ague in the Face, Tooth Ache, Pain in the Side, Back, Limbs, Ear Ache, Lumbago, &c.

The proprietor, in offering this medicine to the public, desires to state that this preparation does not belong to the class called patent medicines. Its value has been tested for many years, and it has been found fully adequate to the removal of many obstinate cases of the above complaints, which other celebrated remedies had failed to reach, and which had baffled the skill of eminent physicians. The proprietor does not claim that it will cure but one class of disease. All persons who are afflicted with any of these complaints are earnestly requested to try this Compound and judge for themselves.

AMONG THE ADVANTAGES OF THIS MEDICINE ARE THE FOLLOWING:

Its effect is very rapid—in most cases instantaneous.

It is external in its application, and the patient runs no risk in using it. It does not strike to the stomach.

It reaches the nerves and muscles, as it is believed no other medicine does.

It has cured some of the most violent and obstinate cases of Neuralgia ever known.

It can be used on a child or on an aged person alike.

While it is very powerful, it is perfectly harmless.

The proprietor has been allowed to publish the names of many persons who have used the Compound with the most beneficial results. He inserts here a few of them. They are among the most respectable citizens of Boston, and their residences and places are given:

Rev. N. Munroe,
Late Editor of "Boston Recorder."
Rev. H. M. Dexter,
Of Boston.
Joseph H. Allen,
119 Washington Street, House 55 Rutland Street.
N. P. Kemp,
Tract Society, 40 Cornhill.
Addison Boyden,
409 Washington st., Boston, firm of Haley, Moore & Boyden.
D. C. Rogers,
Conway Insurance Company, 79 State St, Boston.
Miss Rogers,
22 Milford Street, Boston.
Mrs. J. S. Atwood,
5 Cherry Street, Boston.
I. B. kinner,
129 Washington Street, Boston.
Mrs. R. Hale,
Alpine Street, Roxbury.
Mrs. C. H. Dickinson,
5 Briggs Place, Boston.
Miss J. A. Rowe,
3 Concord Street, Charlestown.
C. C. Barry,
Cashier City Bank, Boston.
And many others.

The proprietor is permitted to publish the following letter from O. C. Pitkin, Esq., Principal of the High School in the city of Chelsea, and well known as one of the most successful teachers in New England:

CHELSEA, April 30, 1863.

FRIEND WILLIAMS:—Yours of the 26th is received. My wife was troubled with severe Neuralgia in the face. She tried your Compound with decidedly good effect. I think it is an excellent article, and have recommended it in one instance, where it also produced good effect. You certainly have the liberty to refer it to me.

With much respect, yours truly,
O. C. PITKIN.

B. W. WILLIAMS, Proprietor,
116 Washington St., Boston.

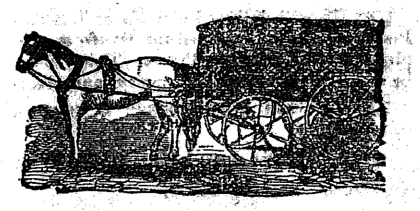
For sale by all Wholesale and Retail Druggists and Apothecaries. Feb. 3—3m.

H. & H. G. HUBON,
WASHINGTON STREET, SALEM
Manufacturers of
Rose Wood, Mahogany, Black Walnnt and Stained Wood
COFFINS and CASKETS.

MAKING this our exclusive business, we are ready at all times and at the shortest notice to furnish Grave Clothes of various styles, as well as Coffins and Caskets of the finest finish. Personal attention given, and delivered without extra charge to any of the neighboring towns. All orders by express or otherwise will receive prompt attention.

Black Walnut and White Wood Boards, Plank and Joists for sale.

dec 14—tf



CHARLES S. BUFFUM,

BEING an authorized UNDERTAKER of South Danvers, will attend Funerals in said place with his Hearse the same as the Town Undertaker. Will also attend Funerals, when desired, in any of the neighboring towns, with one or a pair of horses.

He also furnishes Coffin Caskets, Robes, &c., lower than city prices.

All branches of the business attended to, such as furnishing Coaches, Flowers, Laying Out, &c. Ice Preservers furnished.

All orders promptly attended to, and personal attention given to them. Articles delivered to any of the neighboring towns free of charge. Orders by express or otherwise will receive prompt attention.

Central street, South Danvers,
RESIDENCE 25 ELM STREET.
South Danvers, Feb 17, 1864.

Undertaker's Notice!

THE subscriber being regularly appointed as Undertaker of South Danvers, would respectfully notify the public that he has removed from Central Street, to No. 80 Lowell Street, where he may be found in readiness to attend funerals, and to furnish, when desired.

HENRY SPENCER.
February 10, 1864.

E. S. FLINT,
Manufacturer and Dealer in
INNER SOLES,
AND SHOE STIFFENINGS OF ALL KINDS.
2 MAIN STREET, SOUTH DANVERS.

Eastern Railroad.

ON and after MONDAY, April 4, 1864, Trains will leave the Eastern Railroad Station, Washington street, Salem, daily. (Sundays excepted):

For Lynn and Boston, *5.50, 7, 8½, 9, 10, 11 a m., 12 55, 2¼, 5¼, 7, 7½. p. m.
Beverly, 8, 8 15, 11¼. am., 1, 3¼, 2¾, 5¼, 6.55, 7¾ p m.
W. Beach, Man'r, Gloucester, and Rockport, 8, 11¼, a m., 3¼, 6½ p m.
Ipswich and Newburyport, 8 05 am., 1, 3¾, 5¼, 6.55 pm.
Amesbury, 8 05 a m., 1, 3¾, 5¾ p m.
Portsmouth, 8 05 a m., 3¾, p m.
Portland, 8 05 a m., 3¾ p m.

AND FOR SALEM, FROM

Portland, 8¾ a m., 3 p m.
Portsmouth, 6 20 9 10, *11¼ a m., *5¼ p m.
Amesbury, 7.35, 9.40 a m., 5.55 p m.
Newburyport, 7, 7 55, 10, 11.50 a m., 6½ p m.
Ipswich, 7 20, 8.15, 10.20 a m., 12.15, 6.35 p m.
Gloucester, 7, 10, 10 10 a m., 1.40, 4.40 pm.
Manchester, 7.25, 10.25 a m., 1.55, 4.55 p m.
Beverly, 6.50, 7.50, 8.20, 8.50 10.50 am., 12.45, 2.20, 5.20, 6.45, 7.05 pm.
Lynn, 7.45, 7.50, 9, 11, a m., 12.45, 3, 3.30, 4.30, 5 30, 6, 6.40, 7 30, 10 p m.
Boston, 7¼, 7¼, 8¾, 10¾ am., 12¼, 2¼, 3, 4, 5, 5.30, 6.10, 7, †9.30 p m.

*Or on arrival from the East.
‡On Wednesdays this train leaves Boston at 11¼ p m. and on Saturdays at 10¼ p m.

MARBLEHEAD BRANCH.

Marblehead for Salem, 6¾, 7¾, 8¾, 9¾ a m., 12¼, 1¾, 5¼ 6¾, 7½ p m.
Salem for Marblehead, 7¼, 8¼, 9.25, 11¼ a m., 1, 3¾, 5¾, 7, 7.50 p m.

SOUTH READING BRANCH.

Trains leave the South Reading Depot in Salem for Boston at 6.35, 9.50 a m., 2.25, 4.55 p m
Boston for Salem, 7 a m., 12 m., 2 30, 5½ p m.

ESSEX RAILROAD.

Leave Salem for Lawrence and way stations, 7, 11¼ a m., 4.45 p m.
Lawrence for Salem, 8 a m., 12.40, 5.50 p m.
Danvers for Salem, 8.40 a m., 1.20, 6.30 p m.
South Danvers for Salem, 8¼ a m., 1.25, 6.35 p m.

J. PRESCOTT, Superintendent.
Boston, April 5, 1864.

Salem and Lowell Railroad.

ON and after MONDAY, April 4, 1864, Trains will run as follows:

Leave Lowell for Salem, 7.25 a m., and *2.45 p m.
Leave Salem for Lowell, *9.40 a m. and 6 00 p m.

Passengers are not allowed to carry baggage above $50 in value, and that personal, unless notice is given and an extra amount paid. Season tickets do not entitle the holder to take baggage.

*Freight Train with passenger car attached.

F. H. NOURSE, Local Superintendent.
April 4, 1864

A LECTURE FOR YOUNG MEN.

Just published, a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical cure (without medicine) of SPERMATORRHŒA, or Seminal Weakness, Involuntary Seminal Losses, IMPOTENCY, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc.; also, Consumption, Epilepsy and Fits, induced by self-indulgence or sexual extravagance.

☞ Price, in a sealed envelope, only 6 cents.

The celebrated author in this admirable essay clearly demonstrates from a thirty years successful practice, that the alarming consequences of self-abuse may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine or the application of the knife—pointing out a mode of cure, at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

This Lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land.

Sent under seal, in a plain envelope, to any address, POST-PAID, on receipt of six cents, or two postage stamps. Address the publishers,

CHAS. J. C. KLINE & CO,,
127 Bowery. New York, Post Office Box, 4586.
January 16—8mos.

Abbott's South Danvers & Salem
EXPRESS.

Leave South Danvers, ... 7¼ a m, 1 p m
Leave Salem, ... 10 a m, 4 p m

Orders left at Teel & Moulton's, and principal stores on Main street, South Danvers; and at 7 Washington street, and at Reed's in the Market, Salem.

FOR NEW YORK via FALL RIVER AND NEWPORT. Cabin passage $5.00; Deck, $4.00. Cars leave the Depot of the Old Colony and Newport Railway, corner of South and Kneeland streets, at 5.30 P. M., daily.

For steamer BAY STATE, Capt. W. Brown, on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

For steamer EMPIRE STATE, Capt. B. Brayton, on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays.

Passengers by this route can take the 4.10 P. M. Express Train, and arrive in Fall River one honr before the Steamboat Train, having time to secure State Rooms and make their preparations for the passage.

Passengers by this line going to Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, &c., can connect with the New Jersey or Camden and Amboy Railroad. Baggage Checked through.

☞ A baggage master accompanies the passengers through to New York. Tickets, Berths and Staterooms secured at the O. C. & Newport R. R. Station.

GEORGE SHIVERICK, Agent.
No. 82 Washington Street.
BOSTON, November 16, 1863.

ALWAYS SUCCESSFUL!

TO ALL THOSE WHO SUFFER FROM

DEBILITY AND SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

DRS. CARSWELL & HUNTER, regularly educated, highly eminent and successful practitioners, after a very extensive practice in Boston, for over twenty years, need hardly speak of their medical qualifications, or remind strangers not to class them with a set of uneducated men, who fill the papers with their boasting advertisements. Drs. C. & H. caution the public against quackery in all its forms, pretending, as some self-styled doctors, to cure all the most difficult and chronic diseases, without knowledge of the human system, or of the modus operandi of the most simple drugs.

Drs. C. & H., since 1840, having confined their whole attention to an office practice for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, they acknowledge no superiors.

CONSTITUTIONAL DEBILITY OR SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Drs. C. & H. are pre-eminently successful in the treatment of the above most difficult and perplexing of all diseases, this complaint being the result of a secret habit in youth; if neglected or improperly treated, it proves one of the greatest evils that can befall a human being. Dr. H. has given particular attention to the above disease for years, and so thoroughly has he become acquainted with the pathology and treatment, that he will warrant a perfect cure under forfeiture of $500; in fact, he will, in the cure of this complaint, acknowledge no superior in this country, or even in the world. Come, then, all you who are afflicted, come to the Old Stand, where you will in a short time be made to rejoice in perfect health.

SYPHILITIC AND SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS.—such as Ulcers and Caries of the throat and nose, Running Sores on the legs and arms, Hard Scabs and Scaly Eruptions on the head, back, &c., pains in the bones and joints, and all other forms of venereal diseases—are made to yield and entirely disappear under Drs. C. & H.'s improved and thoroughly eradicating course of treatment.

The primary or first symptoms of disease, whether a simple running, or small pistules, cancers, or ulcers, are cured in a very few days, if immediate application is made to Drs. C. & H.

13 ENDICOTT STREET, BOSTON. 13

Strangers should be particular in the selection of a physician, lest they be deceived by false advertisements.

Ladies troubled with irregularity, weakness, whites, and other complaints peculiar to the female system, will find a speedy cure by calling as above. No mercury used, and no charge for advice. The afflicted are invited to give us a call.

Boston, April 20, 1864.—1 yr.

25 YEARS' EXPERIENCE enables DRS. CARSWELL & HUNTER to cure any diseases of a private nature in a shorter space of time and for a smaller amount of money than any other doctors in this country, and they also treat all female complaints with perfect success, and on the most satisfactory terms. Patients furnished with board if desired. Please give us a call at our office, No. 13 Endicott St., Boston, Mass.

Boston, April 20, 1864.—1 yr.

Chickering & Sons' Piano-Fortes.
Hallett & Cumston's Piano-Fortes.
Hallett & Davis's Piano-Fortes.

We select our Piano-Fortes from the above firms and warrant them to give perfect satisfaction. Our terms are reasonable, and all persons in the city and neighboring towns can be accommodated by calling at 76 Federal street.

FOR SALE—Second-hand Piano-Fortes,—Chickering's and others.

ap 29 ANN R. BRAY.

EGG BEATERS.

THE Revolving Egg Beater, at
S C & E A SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

SUMMER ARRANG
TO LYNN & BOS
BY OMNIBUS & HORS
W. F. BURNHA

Line of Omnibuses will leave the Ly
Omnibus Office, No. 6 Allen's Buildi vers, passing down Main Street, throug
Street, to Lynn, daily—Sundays includ
Leave South Danvers at 7 50 o'cloc
and 4 50 P. M.
Leave Lynn (Horse Car Depot, West
A. M., 2 40 and 6 40 P. M.
Horse Cars leaving the office at 14
at 8 15 A. M., 1 15 and 5 15 P. M., will n buses at Lynn, at the above named passengers to South Danvers.

Tickets to Lynn, . .
Through to Boston, . .

Gravesend, Woodend, an Depot Route.

ON and after Monday, Nov 2, in addi route, an Omnibus will leave Sout Lynn, to connect with the steam and times daily,—Sundays excepted,—run Gravesend and Woodend, to the Centr
and Horse Railroad Station, corner
Broad Streets; leaving South Danvers
necting with the 7.25 steam cars for B
(connecting with the 11.10 train), and 4
ing with the 4.50 train); and returning from the Spring Street Station and Ce
pot, at 8 A M, and 1 and 6 P M.
Fare from S. Danvers to Boston by
" " " " s
Through Tickets to and from Boston
the Drivers and Conductors.

South Danvers, Salem a Route.

THE subscriber having purchased ley the Omnibus line running f
Lynn, would announce that it will Stage Office, No. 6 Allen's Building, S for Salem, at 7 30 A M, and 2 30 P M., Stage Office in Central St, Salem, at 3.30 P M for Lynn. Returning will lea
A M and 5 P M; and Salem for South
A M, and 6.15 P M.
Passengers between South Danvars a be called for by leaving orders at the o Passengers called for at reasonable ch is given at the office.

EXPRESS BUSINE

Between South Danvers and Lynn pr
ed to, on reasonable terms.
Extra Coaches furnished at short noti
W. F. BU
South Danvers, April 20, 1864.

GROUT & MUNR
SOUTH DANVERS &
RAILROAD EXPR

Express leaves South Danvers at
Freight " " " at
Express leaves Boston at
Freight " " at
OFFICE at FREIGHT DEP
Danvers Square.
Express Office in Boston, 3 Washi
Freight Office, 48 Kilby
Particular attention paid to ren niture, collecting Bills, Notes, Dra
Smallest favors thankfully received.
South Danvers, august 26—tf

MARSHALL'
DANVERS, SO. DANVERS
EXPRESS.

Leave DANVERS (daily) at 9 A. M.
" SALEM at 1½ P. M.
OFFICES:
In Danvers—At E B Waitt's and the P
Danversport—Richards' and A W War
In So. Danvers—Francis Dane & Co's,
street.
In Salem—No 7 Washington street, 19
17 Derby Square.
All business promptly and faithfully
—— Our patrons are particularly
write their orders.
—— Packages, left at the office, shou
"Marshall's Express."
—— Being connected with the B are enabled to forward Notes, Draft collection, and small packages, to a point in the United States, at the u P. G. M
decl58-tf

WEBBER'
South Danvers & Salem Ma

WILL leave South Danvers at 7¼ a
1½ and 5 P M.
Leaves Salem at 8.45 A M., 12 M., 2½
Slates will be found in South Danver
Office, and at Blake & Holman's store
ment, and in Salem at the Coach Stati Street, and at E F & J W Roberts', corn
Washington Streets.
Any packages or business entrusted t
will have prompt attention and care.
lic patronage is solicited.
PARKER

Important to the Aff

DR. DOW continues to be consulted
Nos. 7 and 9 Endicott street, Bosto eases of a

PRIVATE OR DELICATE NA

By a long course of study and practic of unlimited extent, Dr. D. has now th of presenting the unfortunate with have never, since he first introduced th cure the most alarming cases of

GONORRHŒA AND SYPHI

Beneath his treatment, all the horrors and impure blood, Impotency, Scrofula, Ulcers, pain and distress in the region
tion, Inflammation of the Bladder and drocele, Abceeses, Humors, frightful S the long train of horrible symptoms a class of disease, are made to become as the simplest ailings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr. D. devotes a great part of his tim ment of those cases caused by a secret habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfortunate individual for business or s of the sad and melancholy effects produ habits of youth, are Weakness of th limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness pitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nerv rangement of the digestive functions,
Consumption, &c. The fearful effects are much to be dreaded; loss of memo of ideas, depression of spirits, evil aversion of society, self-distrust, timi among the evils produced. Such person fore contemplating matrimony, consult a experience, and be at once restored t
happiness.
Patients who wish to remain under Dr.
ment a few days or weeks, will be fu
pleasant rooms, and charges for board m
Medicines sent to all parts of the coun directions for use, on receiving descrip cases. Dr. Dow has also for sale the Fre warranted the best preventive. Orde or $1 and a red stamp.

CAUTION

TO FEMALES IN DELICATE H

DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, 7 a street, Boston, is consulted daily for all,
dent to the female system. Prolapsus U ing of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Suppress er menstrual derangements, are all treat pathological principles, and speedy relie
in a very few days. So invariably certa mode of treatment, that most obstinat yield under it, and the afflicted person
in perfect health.
Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater exp cure of diseases of women and childre
other physician in Boston.
Boarding accommodations for patien wish to stay in Boston a few days und
ment.
Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined tention to an office practice, for the cur
Diseases and Female Complaints, ackn
superior in the United States.
N. B.—All letters must contain four re
they will not be answered.
Office Hours from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.

CERTAIN CURE

IN ALL CASES, OR NO CHARGE

Dr. Dow is consulted daily, from 8 a
as above, upon all difficult and chroni every name and nature, having by his tention and extraordinary success gained which calls patients from all parts of th
obtain advice.
Among the physicians in Boston, none
in the profession than the celebrated DR
7 Endicott street, Boston. Those who n vices of an experienced physician and s give him a call. P. S.—Dr. Dow imports sale a new article, called the French S
by mail. Two for $1 and a red stamp.
April 20, 1864—1y.

Ann R. Bray, 76 Feder

HAS a full Stock of Black Alp colors we have all the desira
Muslin Delains in Spring colors.

South Danvers Wizard.

VOL. V. SOUTH DANVERS, MASS., WEDNESDAY, MAY 11, 1864. NO. 19.

IE SOUTH DANVERS WIZARD
)lished every WEDNESDAY, at Allen's Build-
South Danvers Square,
RMS—Two Dollars a year.
VERTISEMENTS inserted at reasonable rates.

CHARLES D. HOWARD,
EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

R. NILES, Advertising Agent,
Scollay's Building, Court Street, Boston, is
gent for that city, and is authorized to re-advertisements and subscriptions for us at west rates.

Advertisements.

REGULATIONS OF THE ARD OF HEALTH
—OF THE—
OWN OF SOUTH DANVERS.

Adopted April 12, 1864.

dered, That all dirt, saw-dust, cinders, ngs, hair, shreds, manure, oyster and lob- hells, waste water, or any animal or vege- substance, rubbish, or filth of any kind, y house, ware-house, cellar, yard, or other , which the Board of Health shall deem ecessary for the health of the town to be ved, shall be carried away therefrom, by at the expense of the owner or occupant ch house, or other place where the same be found, and shall be removed to such as shall be directed, within four hours notice in writing to that effect, given by oard of Health.

lered, That all slaughter-houses or places animals are slaughtered, shall be so sed by removing the offal, and all decay- nimal matter, as to be free from all offen- odors to residents in the vicinity, and to individuals travelling by any such place animals are slaughtered.

lered, That no obstructions, such as posts, s, or other collectors of decaying animal getable matters, shall be placed in any of rooks of the town, or in Wallis Pond,— hat no privy be erected or continued over vaters, or so situated on the margin there- t the filth shall pass into them, and that nimal or vegetable matters, or whatever pollute the waters, be thrown or allowed v in the same, excepting by special permit Board of Health.

lered, That no wagon, cart or vehicle, in night soil, hides or other matter, in a ion to emit fetid and offensive effluvia ing conveyed through any of the streets, ays, or within forty rods of any dwelling school house, or other public building in own, shall be permitted to stand more five minutes, within forty rods of the place, except it be at the place or places the load is received or deposited.

M. A. SHACKLEY, }
DR. S. F. BACHELDER, } Board
JOSEPH POOR, } of
A. P. PHILLIPS, } Health.
CHAS. E. BROWN, }
th Danvers, April 20, 1864. 6w

PRING STYLES
—OF—
1864.

D. BOISE & CO.,
Manufacturers and Dealers
—IN—
LOTHING,

attention to their Large and Fashionable comprising Medium, Fine and Su- r grades, of our own manufacture, some ch is fully equal to the best Custom olesale or Retail purchasers will find it eir benefit to examine our Stock before sing.

have also a large and fashionable stock ICE GOODS, consisting of the most le patterns of English, French, German merican

OTHS,
CASSIMERES,
DOESKINS, and
VESTINGS,

have been selected with great care in w York and Boston markets.
STOM CLOTHING made to order latest styles at short notice.

ARTICULAR ATTENTION GIVEN TO ry and Navy Uniforms.
ntlemen's Furnishing Goods
OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.

D. BOISE & CO.,
54 Washington Street, Boston.
l 20.—3m.

LINSEED OIL.
NISHES, Japan Drying, Spirits Tur- tine, and Bensole, constantly for sale at
S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS',
l 27. 32 Front Street.

EX INSTITUTE HISTORICAL COLLECTIONS.
7, No. 1—just out,
G. M. WHIPPLE & A. A. SMITH.

TEMPERANCE TALES.
ULATE the Documents. Very nice ions of Lucius M. Sargent's Temperance nly 10 cents each: gy Harbor; The Stage Coach; Right e; As a Medicine; Fritz Hazel; and Temperance Documents at
M. WHIPPLE & A. A. SMITH'S.
190 Essex Street.

CURTAIN FIXTURES.
NAM'S Pendulum Curtain Fixtures, at
S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS',
l 27. 32 Front Street.

FLOUR.
0 BBLS. "J. Uhl's Best," received this day, and for sale by 0 GAYLE & CO., Phillips wharf.

ANN R. BRAY,
No. 76 Federal Street, Salem.

WE have received many new and desirable styles of
Spring and Summer Goods,
which will give our customers and friends a full stock to select their goods from.
We have a full assortment of Organdies;
Jaconets—white and colored grounds;
Mozambique, Challies, Rich Fancy Ginghams
Bright colors Tartan Plaid—French Bareges;
French Cambrics for Ladies and Children;
French Plaids—suitable for Summer wear;
—We have a full line of—
Alpaccas, choice shades; Black do; Black Silks.

MORRIS'
RESTAURANT,
18 and 20 Derby Square, Salem.

Oysters, Clams, Steak, Poultry, Game, Fish, &c., &c., cooked to order.
Pickled Oysters, Lobsters and Clams.
Salem, July 22, 1863. tf

FURNITURE.

Having taken Rooms over M. C. REYNOLDS & Co's Store, I shall keep constantly on hand a large stock of
NEW AND SECOND-HAND FURNITURE,
BEDDING, COUNTING-ROOM DESKS, &c., &c.,
which I will sell cheap for CASH.
☞ All kinds of FURNITURE and BEDDING wanted—for which the highest Cash price will be paid.
P. J. HYNES, 18 FRONT-ST.
Salem, April 6, 1864—1y

Salem and Danvers Aqueduct Co'y.

ALL persons using the water of the Salem and South Danvers Aqueduct are hereby notified that the water rents, for the six months ending April 1, 1864, are now due, and that they are required to pay the same, at the office of the Company, No. 2 Sewall street, on or before the 1st day of May next. Should the bills remain unpaid for thirty days, the water will be stopped, in conformity to the regulations of the Company.
Office hours, from 9 to 1 o'clock, and from 2 to 6.
Per order of the Directors,
Salem, April 1. WM. JELLY, Collector.

PIN WORMS. MRS. OSBORN'S Universal Worm Powders are the only sure cure ever offered to the public. They are warranted in every case; relief within 24 hrs. 25cts. per box. Sold by all druggists.

For sale by D. P. GROSVENOR, Jr., 33 Main St., South Danvers. jan 27

Valuable Real Estate for Sale.

THE HOUSE AND LAND situate on Washington street in South Danvers, formerly owned by Sidney C. Bancroft, bounded Northerly on Washington street, and Easterly on Wyman's lane. There is a large store connected with the house. The house is in good repair and suitable for several tenements.
Also, another lot of Land, upon which is a large and convenient Barn, situate on Washington street and bounded northerly on same, and westerly by a private way.
For terms apply to C. SEWALL,
March 2—3 ms 214 Essex street, Salem.

SPECTACLES!

H. F. SKERRY wishes to call special attention to his stock of Spectacles and Eye Glasses,
in Gold—Silver—Rubber—Steel and Horn frames, of which he keeps constantly on hand a very large assortment, embracing every style and quality.
—ALSO—
Opera Glasaes, Microscopes, &c.
Glasses re-set, and Spectacles repaired.
In Store, our usual assortment of Silver and Plated Ware, and Jewelry.
No. 180 Essex Street, Salem.
H. F. SKERRY.
Feb. 24—tf.

R. W. WILKINSON,
DEALER IN
Newspapers, Periodicals, and Stationery of every Description.

FOREIGN and DOMESTIC FRUITS, consisting of Oranges, Lemons, Dates, Figs, Prunes, &c., &c.
Sauces, Pickles and Preserves; Castana, Naples and English Walnuts; Hard, Soft and Paper-shelled Almonds; choice brands of Tobacco and Cigars; also a general assortment of Confectionery of every description.
Also a large and well selected stock of Toys, suitable for children and the Holiday Gifts.
Ice Cream furnished to parties at short notice and in quantities to suit. Wedding Cake and every variety of nice cake furnished to parties or families.
STORE—WARREN BANK BUILDING.
South Danvers, Nov'r 11, 1863.

HOUSEKEEPERS, ATTENTION!
JACKSON'S
KITCHEN FURNISHING ROOMS,
Under MECHANIC HALL, Salem.

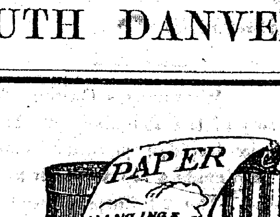
Parties about commencing House-Keeping will find this the only place in Salem where a complete assortment of House-keeping articles can be found. Dec 9—6w

ANN R. BRAY, 76 Federal Street.

IN order to keep our assortment good, we are constantly adding New Styles of DRESS GOODS as they come into the market.
☞ Ladies coming into the city will call at 76 Federal Street. apr 27

TO LET.

HOUSE on Foster Street, belonging to the estate of the late Benjamin Goodridge. For terms apply at the house.
JAMES L. GOODRIDGE,
April 20—tf Adm'r.



SPRING STYLES
Paper Hangings!

We have just received our new styles for the Spring trade, of
ROOM PAPERS and BORDERS,
To which we invite the Public to examine. In variety of styles and quality, they have never been surpassed. Having been made expressly for our sales, great care has been taken to have the best quality of stock and the greatest variety of patterns the market affords.
BORDERS AND DECORATIONS,
in imitation of Wood's, Marbles and Stucco.
Fireboard Prints;
Cloth and Paper Shades;
Curtain Fixtures;
Cord and Tassels;
And every variety of goods usually found in a first class Book and Paper Store, and at a fair advance from cost.
H. P. IVES,
232 Essex, and 36 Washington Sts.,
(OLD STAND OF W. & S. B. IVES,)
March 23—2ms. SALEM.

CARRIAGES
OF ALL KINDS
REPAIRED AND PAINTED
—BY—
JOHN C. BLANEY,
Rear of Lowell Depot, Central St.,
So. Danvers, April 6, 1864.

MANUAL FENOLLOSA
TEACHER
OF THE
Violin, Piano and Singing,
MUSIC ROOMS, No. 7 Central Street,
SALEM, MASS.

BLUE AND BLACK.
PRUSSIAN BLUE and Black Paint. Also Red Lead; Chrome Paints; India Red Rose Pink, etc., at
S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS',
April 27. 32 Front Street.

From the army hospital—the bloody battle-field—the mansion of the rich and humble abode of the poor—from the office and the sacred desk—from the mountain top, distant valleys and far-off islands of the ocean—from every nook and corner of the civilized world—is pouring in the evidence of the astonishing effects of DRAKE'S PLANTATION BITTERS. Thousands upon thousands of letters like the following may be seen at our office.

REEDSBURY. WIS., Sept. 16, 1863.
"* * * * I have been in the army hospitals for fourteen months—speechless and nearly dead. At Alton, Ill. they gave me a bottle of Plantation Bitters. * * * Three bottles restored my speech and cured me. * * * *
C. A. FLAUTE.',

SOUTH WARSAW, O. July 28, 1863.
"* * * One young man, who had been sick and not out of the house for two years with Scrofula and Erysipelas, after paying the doctors over $150 without benefit, has been cured by ten bottles of your Bitters.'
EDWARD WOUNALL.

The following is from the Manager of the Union Home School for the Children of Volunteers:
HAVEMEYER MANSION, FIFTY-SEVENTH ST., }
New York, August 2, 1863. }
"DR. DRAKE: Your wonderful Plantation Bitters have been given to some of our little children suffering from weakness and weak lungs with most happy effect. One little girl, in particular, with pains in her head, loss of appetite, and daily wasting consumption, on whom all medical skill had been exhausted, has been entirely restored. We commenced with but a teaspoonful of Bitters a day. Her appetite and strength rapidly increased, and she is now well * *
Respectfully, MRS. O. M. DEVOE."

"* * * I owe much to you, for I verily believe the Plantation Bitters have saved my life.
REV. W. H. WAGGONER, Madrid, N. Y."

"* * * Thou wilt send me two bottles more of thy Plantation Bitters. My wife has been greatly benefited by their use.
Thy friend, ASA CURRIN, Philadelphia, Pa."

"* * * I have been a great sufferer from Dyspepsia, and had to abandon preaching. * * * The Plantation Bitters have cured me.
REV. J. S. CATHORN, Rochester, N. Y."

"* * * Send us twenty-four dozen more of your Plantation Bitters, the popularity of which are daily increasing with the guests of our house.
SYKES, CHADWICK & CO.,
Proprietors Willard's Hotel, Washington, D. C.

"* * * I have given the Plantation Bitters to hundreds of our disabled soldiers with the most astonishing effect.
G. W. D. ANDREWS,
Superintendent Soldiers' Home, Cincinnati, O.

"* * * The Plantation Bitters have cured me of liver complaint, of which I was laid up prostrate and had to abandon my Business.
H. B. KINGSLEY, Cleveland, O."

"* * * The Plantation Bitters have cured me of a derangement of the kidneys and urinary organs that has distressed me for years. It acts like a charm.
C. C. MOORE, 254 Broadway, N. Y."
&c. &c. &c. &c. &c.

The Plantation Bitters make the weak strong, the languid brilliant, and are exhausted nature's great restorer. They are composed of the celebrated Calisaya Bark, Wintergreen, Sassafras, Roots, Herbs, &c., all preserved in perfectly pure St. Croix Rum.

S.—T.—1860—X.

Persons of sedentary habits troubled with weakness, lassitude, palpitation of the heart, lack of appetite, distress after eating, torpid liver, constipation, &c. deserve to suffer if they will not try them.

They are recommended by the highest medical authorities, and are warranted to produce an immediate beneficial effect. They are exceedingly agreeable, perfectly pure, and harmless.

NOTICE.—Any person pretending to sell Plantation Bitters in bulk or by the gallon is a swindler and impostor. It is put up only in our patent log cabin bottle Beware of bottles refilled with imitation deleterous stuff for which several persons are already in prison. See that every bottle has our private United States Stamp over the cork unmutilated, and signature on steel plate side label.

Sold by respectable dealers throughout the habitable globe.

P. H. DRAKE & CO.
202 Broadway, N. Y.
Mch 16—1 yr

Original Poetry.

LINES,

Written on the death of J. Warren Putnam.

BY GEORGIE H. STONE.

The sweetest sounds that wander on the air,
But swell the dirge of sorrow and decay,
The flowers of Spring so beautifully fair,
Tell us that thou with them hast passed away.
We know that thou art gone to bluer skies,
Where brighter streams forever onward flow,
Where troubles do not come, or storms arise—
'Tis sweet for us such heavenly truth to know.

Thy life was but to us a summer day,
So mild and peaceful, ne'er to be forgot;
Why should we mourn that thou wert called away,
Where broken hearts and blighted hopes are not!
The music of thy voice we may not hear,
The lustre of thine eye we may not see,
Yet oft the tear drop will unbidden start,
As memory fondly wakens unto thee.

Thou wast not called away in Spring-time bloom,
Ere wintry winds had shook the leafy tree,
But thou wert called when opening life was sweet,
And when thy playful boy most needed thee.
Alas! 'Tis true that he may never know
The value of a gentle father's love—
O, Lord, thy precepts teach him to obey
And thus prepare him for a home above.

'Tis scarce a year since she the loved of earth
Was borne, by Death's resistless hand away,
And from the portals of that heavenly home
Her spirit watched o'er thee from day to day.
And when that messenger of death drew nigh,
'Twas she that whispered words of love and cheer;
And when thy spirit took its upward flight,
She bore it onward to that far off sphere.

O earth! unveil thy bosom yet again,
And this new treasure take unto thy trust,
For one by one, we're slowly gathered in
And soon, we all shall mingle with thy dust.
'Twere useless now thy loss e'en to regret,
'Twere vain to shed for thee the bitter tear;
Although to us thou'lt never more return,
We know thy spirit ever hovers near.

Father above, before thy throne we bow
And ask for strength, in this new hour of grief,
Send comfort to that dear wife's mother's heart,
And let her, by thy power, find sweet relief.
'Twas she, who watched by day his weary couch,
And closed, with gentle hand, his dying eyes,
O, bless her Father, for her kindly deeds—
And lead her to thy mansion in the skies.

And now, when glorious sunset gilds the sky,
And dewy eve, her mantle draws around—
When little birds, are hushed in tree-tops high,
And twinkling stars in Heaven's high arch abound—
Then by thy lonely grave, we'll wander forth,
And in those flowery walks we'll fondly rove,
We never can forget thou sleepest well,
Within the confines of that sacred grove

Selected.

THE MUD CAVES OF VICKSBURG.—A letter from Vicksburg to the Tribune thus describes the caves to which the inhabitants of that town resorted for safety during the siege:

These excavations form one of the greatest curiosities to the tourist, and their silent halls of clay are painfully suggestive of the ever memorable siege. These mud huts are simply extensive excavations tunneled through the innumerable bluffs and precipitous hills that abound within the city limits of Vicksburg and its suburbs. The labor of digging out these retreats was performed by slaves before the bombardment commenced and thousands of negro laborers were kept at work day and night, excavating, after Gen. Grant had notified them of his intention to bombard the city. Many of these caverns were quite extensive, being divided into family apartments, consisting of three and four rooms, the walls and floors of which were covered with carpeting. Here whole families burrowed for weeks, not daring to venture out, except during the brief cessation of Yankee hostility. Some of the entrances are Gothic shaped with arches of the same style of architecture, chiseled out of the solid clay. The different tastes of the various occupants are strongly manifested in the construction of these temporary abodes, for while some are approached by a descending flight of regular clay steps, others are reached by crawling through a small aperture of sufficient size to admit the passage of one person in a most unbecoming manner, viz: on hands and knees.

"THE CONDUCTOR," is the title of a new paper just issued in Boston, by Thomas Davis, Esq., ("Propeller.") 3000 copies of each number is issued, and distributed free gratis in cars, steamboats, public houses, etc., for the benefit of advertisers. Those who want to make their business known, will find "The Conductor" an excellent medium. Mr. Davis is also agent to receive advertisements for many of the best papers in Massachusetts. He is doing a large business in this way, which is a good indication that the result is beneficial both to the advertiser and the publisher. Those who wish to make their business widely and favorably known by advertising, will do well to send their orders to Mr. Davis, No. 15 Washington Street, Boston, at Hapgood's gun store.

☞ It is confidently predicted that the "iron man" will turn out to be a grate General.

WHAT HE MIGHT HAVE BEEN.

J. G. Holland, of the Springfield Republican, has been rusticating in Vermont, looking around among the farmers, and he writes to that paper as follows:

"Imagine your correspondent imagining the life he might have led and came very near leading, for that matter, among the hills as a farmer. He would have grown stalwart and strong, worked on the farm summers and gone out haying fifteen days in July, and taken for pay the iron work and running gear of a wagon. At two and twenty or thereabouts, he would have begun to pay attention to a girl with a father, worth two thousand dollars,—and a spit-curl on her forehead, a girl who always went to singing-school and sat in the seats, and sang without opening her mouth, a darnation pretty girl any way.

Well, after seeing her home from singing-school one or two years, taken her to a Fourth of July, he would have married her and settled down. Years would pass away and that girl with the spit-curl would have had eleven children just as sure as you live—seven boys and four girls. We would have had a hard time bringing them up, but they would soon be able to do milking and help their mother washing days, and I getting independent at last, and feeling a little stiff in the joints, should be elected a member of the legislature, having been assessor and school committee for years. In the evening of my days, with my pipe in my mouth, thirteen barrels of cider in the cellar, and my newspaper in my hands, I should sit down and look over the markets, through a pair of gold mounted spectacles, and wonder why such a silly piece should be published.

THE DEACON AND THE WASPS.—A worthy deacon in a town of Maine was remarkable for the facility with which he quoted Scripture on all occasions.—The Divine Word was ever at his tongue's end, and all the trivial as well as important occurrences of life furnished occasions for quoting the language of the Bible. What was better, however, the exemplary man always made his quotations the standard of action.

One hot day he was engaged in mowing with his hired man, who was leading off, the deacon following in his swath, conning his apt quotations, when the man suddenly sprang from his place, leaving his swath just in time to escape a wasp's nest.

"What is the matter?" hurriedly inquired the deacon.

"Wasps," was the laconic reply.

"Pooh!" said the deacon, "the wicked flee when no man pursueth, but the righteous are bold as a lion;" and taking the workman's swath, he moved but a step, when a swarm of brisk insects settled about his ears, and he was forced to retreat, with many a painful sting, and in great discomfiture.

"Ah!" shouted the other, with a chuckle, "the prudent man foreseeth the evil, and hideth himself, but the simple pass on and are punished."

The good deacon had found his equal in making applications of the sacred writings, and thereafter was not known to quote Scripture in a mowing field.

☞ "Ma, does pa kiss you because he loves you?" inquired little Jacky of his mother.

"To be sure, sonny. Why did you ask that question?"

"Well, guess he loves the kitchen girl too, for I seen him kiss her mor'n forty times last Sunday when you was gone to meeting."

There was a fuss in that family.

☞ "I wish I was a ghost; blamed if I don't," said a poor sweep, as he was soliloquizing in the cold the other morning. "They goes wherever they please, toll-free; they don't owe nobody nothing, and that's a comfort. Whoever heard tell of a man who had a bill against a ghost? Nobody. They never buy clothes and wittles, nor has to stand shivering in the cold till Sally lets 'em in!"

☞ A man sitting on the verandah of a Western Inn, hailed one of the "oldest inhabitants," and inquired the denomination of the church upon the opposite side of the road. The reply was: "Well she was a hard-shell Baptist, naturally, but they don't run her now."

☞ Gen. Banks' army, which marched through the Teche country on the way to Red River, found the country abundantly supplied with beef cattle. There was also much cotton. Great numbers of negroes flocked to his lines.

EARLY PRINTING IN AMERICA.

In wandering through the graveyard of Trinity Church, a day or two since, my eye was arrested by a gravestone on the north side of the church, to the memory of William Bradford, who, it is mentioned, was born in Leicestershire, old England, in 1660, and came over to America in 1682, before the city of Philadelphia was laid out. "He was printer to this government," the inscription continues, "for upwards of fifty years," and died May 23, 1752, aged ninety two years. This monument was much injured during the building of the present church edifice, and in another generation or two will entirely disappear. Yet the memorial of Bradford's resting-place ought not thus to be obliterated. He first established the printing press in the vast region south of Boston. He came over with Penn, on the Welcome, in 1682, and began his career in Philadelphia, in or near to which city he fixed his first printing-office, as early as 1686, and a paper-mill on the Wissahickon, near Germantown, very soon afterwards—the first paper-mill ever erected in the United States; and, as appears by a printed prospectus yet preserved, he was the first person who proposed in America to print the Holy Bible. This was A. D. 1688, in Pennsylvania. He mingled largely and actively in the stirring events which agitated colonial life in that litigious province, and maintained with success his printing-press against the efforts of the proprietary government to break it down. He came to this city in 1992, at the invitation of Governor Fletcher, and was printer to the Crown, as his epitaph records, for the space of half a century. In this office he amassed, honestly, great wealth, which he left to numerous descendants, who have been among the most distinguished families of New York, New Jersey, and Pennsylvania—the Ogdens, Van Courtlands, Creightons, Boudenots, and others of less public reputation, but high private worth. The Hon. William Bradford, attorney-general under the administration of Washington, was his great-grandson. The name of the first printer of New York, Pennsylvania, and New Jersey, surely ought not to be seffered willingly to die; and I submit it to the printers' associations of this State, and to the corporation of Trinity Church, of which corporation Bradford was a vestryman from 1703 to 1710, whether some suitable monument ought not to be erected over the spot where the remains of the Father of the Press now repose?—Hist. Mag.

TO ALL WHOM IT MAY CONCERN.

The following are the rules that all should abide by to make every one love and respect them, viz:—

1. Always speak the truth.
2. Make few promises.
3. Keep your own secrets, if you have any.
4. When you speak to, or about a person, speak before him and look him in the face.
5. Good character, above all things else.
6. Your character cannot be essentially injured, except by your own acts.
7. If any one speaks ill of you, let your life be so that none will believe him.
8. Hear much—say little.
9. Be silent as to things hidden.
10. Learn the truth of a story before you report it.
11. However open you may be in talking of your own affairs, never disclose the secrets of one friend to another. These are sacred deposits which do not belong to you, nor have you any right to make use of them.
12. A great many persons, through the habit of making others uncomfortable by finding fault with their cheerful enjoyments, get up at last a kind of hostility to comfort in general, even in their own person.

BY ONE WHO MINDS HIS P'S AND Q'S, AND WANTS OTHERS TO DO THE SAME.

☞ Dev. thinks butter can't go much higher, as it has already reached the roof of his mouth. He says it must soon take a downward tendency.

☞ We are glad to notice that, while everything else is going up, one thing is coming down, and that is the size of the ladies' hoops.

☞ It is said that if the State Militia is called out, all the middle-aged men will be put into the forty-fications.

MRS. SOCRATES.

A word or too for poor Xantippe, whose name has become a convertible term for scold and shrew. Perhaps there is nothing but justice in the common estimate of her character. But had she no cause to be angry with her husband? Socrates was an astonishing man, but astonishing men generally make indifferent husbands, and your great reformer is too often a small creature at home. Socrates had a "mission," and he went about Athens questioning and cross-questioning people until he made a nuisance of himself and enemies of all men save a few philosophic bores—and finally he was got rid of through means of a dose of hemlock, which he had brewd for himself. This was a very reprehensive proceeding on the part of the Athenians, but is not quite so unprovoked as is generally supposed. Now a man cannot reform the world, and take care of his own household. Instead of minding his own business, which was that of a statuary, or stone-cutter, he must needs take to remodeling blockheads, a most dangerous pursuit, as it bears immediately upon the feelings of the great majority of men. Then it is not remunerative.—Socrates got low in the world. He was poor indeed. He hadn't a shirt to his back, and it is matter of record that he went barefooted in the middle of winter. It is not at all probable that his family fared better than himself. It is not the way with philosophers to treat others better than they do themselves. They think their duty to society requires them to look after a liberal supply of butter for their own bread, which bread is always of the very best flour, and capitally made—at other men's expense.

Mrs. Socrates probably bore with this state of things as long as she could bear with it; but when the house rent remained long unpaid, when the butcher and baker were sent empty away, when her crinoline collapsed for the want of sustenance, when the gas was turned off and the Cochituate was cut off, and when there was not a stick of wood or a hod of coal left—then she broke out, as it was her duty to do, and liberally gave her husband a piece of her mind, renewing the gift frequently; and as Socrates happened to have the speaking and writing portion of the community on his side they gave her a bad character, which has endured like that which Thucydides gave to Cleon. There is indeed, nothing like bad character for permanence. It 'wears' long and 'washes' well. That Xantippe was, at the worst, only asserting the real 'rights of woman,' is plain on the face of things, and we have the evidence of Socrates' own words, as reported by his friend and disciple Xenophon, that she was a woman of excellent qualities on many points; and Socrates was a truthful man in words, and would not have praised her had she not deserved his praise. Her name and memory should be vindicated by some competent scholar. —Springfield Republican.

☞ No, it requires time to make a great and good man; it requires time for energies to be developed and roots of character to strike deep. It reqires more than mere nominal trials, it requires the real rough hands of anxiety, toil, solicitude and deprivation of spirit, to get hold of the inner man and draw him out in all his interior strength. The grapples with which he is drawn out may be replete with barbs, and the operation may not be so smooth as could be wished. But it is a treasure worth drawing out, to be a man, and a strong man; and all the wealth of the Indies were a trifle in the comparison.—Nichols.

☞ It is reported that tan-colored dogs are to be introduced into our leather establishments, they have such a very fine bark.

☞ If you want to keep paper "chokers" up to a high figure, go and purchase a large stock.

☞ A question of time—How much tin will it take to complete the Hoosac tunnel?

☞ Peleg says, when our quota gets full he hopes it will be allowed to run over.

☞ "Going the whole hog" is now politely rendered, "accelerating the total piggy."

☞ Colored recruits are enlisted as men of the dark ages.

☞ The devil tempts all men; but the idle man tempts the devil.

The Wizard.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 11, 1864.

THE CAMPAIGN OPENED.

Since our last issue the armies of the Union have moved upon the enemy at four different points, and thus far have been everywhere successful. General Meade has advanced with the Army of the Potomac half way to Richmond, sweeping all before him, but not without powerful opposition. The details of this glorious news will be found in our columns. General Butler, with a large army and a fleet of monitors, has gone from Fortress Monroe up the James River, and, by last accounts, had safely landed his forces on the south side of the river and destroyed the railroad bridge 7 miles in the rear of Richmond, and torn up three miles of the Petersburg Railroad.

The army in Georgia has made a bold and successful advance upon Dalton. By the latest rumors, or rather semi-official despatches from that quarter, it seems quite evident that we are bound to succeed there. Not the least important news is the despatch that the rebel ram in North Carolina has been attacked by one of our monitors and sunk. We hope this is true. The destruction of this ugly customer will render our possessions and troops in that State safe.

Although we are not entirely "out of the woods" in this most promising advance we see no objection to the fullest expression of joy and congratulation for the splendid opening of our Spring campaign. We feel almost certain that either Grant will enter Richmond by the front door or Butler by the back door.

This movement in the rear of Richmond seems to us indicative of grand expectations on the part of the commanding General. It looks as if the object of the campaign was not to drive the rebel army South, but to invest and capture them in their own capital. This result would be decisive of the war at once; the other would prolong the war, though it would render the question nothing but one of time.

Now that it "thunders all around" the head of Rebeldom, we hope that, before our next issue, the lightning will strike and blast the wretches who seek to build their greatness on their country's ruin.

IMPROVEMENTS.—We learn that the enterprising firm of W. M. JACOBS & SON contemplate erecting a large Morocco Factory, the better to accommodate their increasing business. It is to be erected on the old Shove estate, opposite the Danvers Bank, and will be a building about 150 feet long by 40 wide, and four stories high. Their present manufacturing premises, although extensive, are much dilapidated, and, in consequence of the late boiler explosion, have become unsuitable for their manufacturing. The business of this respectable firm gives employment to many persons, and the whole town is interested in its continued prosperity.

We understand that the proposed plan of improvement will necessitate the removal of some of the buildings now on the ground.

It is worthy of remark, as a coincidence, that the senior partner of the firm was formerly an apprentice to the late Squiers Shove, the former owner of the estate, and used to work on the very spot where the new establishment is to be erected.

BAPTISM.—Sunday before last, between services, Rev. C. E. BARROWS, of the Baptist Church, baptized five persons—all adults—two males and three females—at Foster's Mills. Notwithstanding the rain which sprinkled them before immersion, there was a large crowd of people to witness the ceremonies.

A QUEER LAW CASE.—The Bumpsted Will case is soon to be tried again in Boston. This case involves the validity of the will of Sally Bumpsted. It has been tried three times, resulting every time in a disagreement of the jury. The will is objected to by the heirs on the ground of the insanity of the testatrix. Among the bequests is one of a bell to a religious society in Boston, given upon the condition that the society shall cause the following inscription to be cast in the metal of the bell:

"Presented by Sally Bumpsted, who lived to the age of 70, and died a virgin."

CONSISTENT.—It is understood that those members of the Legislature who voted against the increase of pay, will refuse to accept the two hundred dollars from the State Treasurer.

A SPECULATING EDITOR.—Thurlow Weed, it is reported, lost $70,000 on Harlem stock a few days ago. The Albany Journal says that, notwithstanding this loss, he has "enough left and to spare."

WARM DAY.—Last Friday the mercury ranged from 70 to 80 in the shade, and from 80 to 90 in the sun,—the warmest day of the season thus far.

SPRING HOUSE CLEANING.

This annual plague has come round again. Again has come the festival of the mop and duster and soap suds. Once more all our houses are to be turned topsy-turvy and everything "put to rights." Carpets are to be ripped up, beaten and put down again. All the furniture is to be tumbled about, all the painted work to be scrubbed, all the closets to be emptied, and all things to be put back again in their old places. When this is all done no mortal man will be able to tell that there is any difference. It is a regular annual custom of the women, and it must be annually celebrated, no matter how the male part of mankind may dread it—and they have reason enough for dread. We say no mortal man can tell the difference after all the hubbub is over. The women pretend that there is a difference, but the men "can't see it."

We thank our good stars that it is all over with us, individually, for this year. It was done last week—and such a week! Oh, the confusion, the dust, the scrubbing, the hammering! Such piling up of chairs and tables and crockery—such moving of bureaus and bedsteads and sofas—everything out of place and in the wrong place;—the table piled up with mantel ornaments; pictures all awry; "Shakspeare and his Friends" standing on their heads; "Webster and Clay" flat on the floor, and "General McClellan" driven to the wall; a tub here and a mop there; a cube of hard soap on the window, and a bowl of soft ditto on the floor; tables piled up with bottles, lamp-fillers, molasses cans, and vases and dishes, and more bottles and crockery and boots and shoes, and everything else that can be found in all the corners and entries and closets. If you want anything, you go where it was and it is sure to be not there—and, perhaps, never will be. Our thermometer was lost last year, and this year it turned up at the bottom of the barrel table—just as we shall lose things this year which will not be seen until the next anniversary. Already our best razor is missing, but then we found the shaving brush as we attempted to pull on our boot. We were lucky enough to find our pencil case while looking into an old flower pot after something else, and our inkstand was safe in the coal hod.

The question now is, how can this nuisance be abated? Could not the men form a league, secret or open, against it? Is it a custom so deeply rooted that it cannot be overthrown? Perhaps it is a necessary accompaniment of civilization! Happy Choctaw! He has no annual house cleaning. Cherokee wigwams do not need to be "put to rights," and their inmates enjoy an enviable spring-time. Thrice blessed Winnebago! wholly exempt from beating carpets and treading on tack nails. Minnehaha falls, the "laughing water" of the Dacotahs, we are persuaded, never got its name from soap suds. We wonder who first invented house cleaning. It did not exist in the time of the Patriarchs, for if it did they never could have lived so long. We are inclined to believe it to be a modern custom and more honored in the breach than observance.

ALMOST A MOB.—We hear that some three or four hundred persons assembled together in Lynn last Sunday evening and proceeded with a drum and fife to Steam Mill Wharf for the avowed purpose of treating a secessionist with a ride upon a rail. The obnoxious personage was the skipper of a Maine coaster, who had expressed himself on national affairs in terms not quite consonant with loyal principles as understood by Lynn boys. Upon arriving at the vessel, the skipper fastened himself into the cabin and notified his unruly visitors that if they broke open the door he would shoot the first man that appeared; whereupon the crowd, not being prepared for quite so rough a mode of warfare as the prisoner proposed, went off in search of some "leader" to advise and direct. They called on James N. Buffum, who came to his door, and, instead of telling them how to do it, advised them not to do it—making the very pointed suggestion that if they wanted to tar and feather a secessionist, they could find suitable subjects enough among the citizens of Lynn, who deserved it as much as the skipper did. At this, three groans were given for Mr. Buffum, and the crowd dispersed.

AN IRISHMAN ON THE POLITICAL FUTURE.—As we were passing up State street one evening this week, says the editor of the Newburyport Herald, we heard an Irishman discoursing to a friend thus: "I tell ye if Grant is licked, we shall have a 'Dimmecrat' for President, and the thing will be settled up; but if Lee is licked, then, by St. Patrick, Grant will be President himself, and it is not all the Irishmen in America that can stop him."

"REMEMBER FORT PILLOW."—The Texans never fought so desperately as when the cry "Remember the Alamo" rang in their ears, and the rebels will find that "Remember Fort Pillow" will nerve the arm of many a colored soldier to renewed exertion.

LOCAL ITEMS.—A hasty trip down in Bristol County the other day, enables us to give an item or two from this locality.

Attleboro', so distinguished for its manufacture of jewelry, military trimmings, hooks and eyes, hoop skirts, buttons, to say nothing of cotton goods and its agricultural products, still rejoices in a high degree of material prosperity. The quota is nearly full—lacking only 8 or 10. Several young men, below 18 years of age, have enlisted in the Signal Corps, now being raised in Rhode Island.

We heard mentioned a singular case of constitutional suicidal mania. It was spoken of in connection with the death of a young officer, who was killed in the battle of Fair Oaks. His father and mother, grandfather and grandmother, one brother and three sisters—all hung themselves; and the young man himself had several times thought of self-destruction, but was dissuaded by his friends. Probably his death upon the battle-field saved him from falling a victim to this most melancholy mania.

There are several cases of small pox in the adjoining town of Wrentham. By the way, the people of this last mentioned town are quite elated with the prospect of railroad communication with the outside world. Surveys have been made, passing through Wrentham and North Attleboro', for the purpose of starting a new route from Boston to New York, and the West. The company have got their charters, and have bought out several roads upon the way and propose to make connections through by means of a few new sections of road.

SOUTH DANVERS FIRE DEPARTMENT.—Our several fire companies have held their annual meetings, and have chosen their officers for the ensuing year, as follows:

GEN. FOSTER No. 2—Foreman—Gustavus Merrill.
First Assistant—B. B. Humphrey.
Second Assistant—Wm. F. Pingree.
Clerk and Treasurer—Geo. E. Lewis.
Axman—S. S. Parsons.

TORRENT No. 3—Foreman—Daniel Buxton.
First Assistant—George Buxton.
Second Assistant—E. Pope Barrett.
Clerk—Nathan Bushby.

VOLUNTEER No. 4—Foreman—George C. Pierce.
First Assistant—Gordon H. Wallis.
Second Assistant—Perez L. Winchester.
Clerk—C. L. Pierce.
Treasurer—Joseph Forness.

EAGLE No. 5—Foreman—Thomas S. Trask.
First Assistant—George Merrill.
Second Assistant—Nathan H. Poor, 2d.
Clerk—E. E. Roche.
Treasurer—Thomas S. Trask.

GENERAL BUTLER'S ADVANCE.—Gen. Butler has made an advance toward Richmond, by the way of James River, the object being to get a foothold as near the city as possible on the south bank of the stream, seriously interrupt the communications of the rebel capital southward, and eventually compel the evacuation by Lee's army of their strongly fortified position on the Rapidan, thus forcing the rebels to give Grant battle or press rapidly rearward to the walls of their capital.

General Butler has firmly established himself on Bermuda Hundred, a tongue of land running into James river from the south side, just above City Point. He has sent reconnoissances to Petersburg and to within ten miles of Richmond, neither of which developed the existence of any considerable force of the enemy.

SERIOUS FIRE.—About half-past four o'clock last Wednesday morning fire was discovered in the Bark Mills of Mr. JOSEPH JACOBS, located on Mason street, in South Danvers, and before the flames could be extinguished the whole establishment was in ruins, entailing a loss to Mr. Jacobs of about $2500, on which, we regret to say, he has no insurance. The mills contained much valuable machinery, a great deal of which is spoiled. There was also leather belonging to Messrs. Thomas Proctor and Richard Smith, valued at several hundred dollars, which was destroyed. It is supposed that the fire was the result of accident, as it took in a part of the mills remote from the furnaces.

ACCIDENTAL FIRE.—The house of Mr. Jaques, a few steps in the rear of the Naumkeag House, was partially destroyed by fire last Thursday afternoon. The building was damaged to the extent of about $200. Other damage, to personal property, about $50. No insurance. Fire was supposed to have taken from the imperfect adjustment of the funnel to the chimney.

ACCIDENT.—Frank Mardin, aged 9, son of John Mardin, while playing with machinery the other day at the ruins of the fire of Mr. Jacobs, accidentally cut off the end of his fore finger.

Another.—On Wednesday morning of last week, Thomas Robson, while working on a steam pegging machine in F. Dane & Co.'s shoe factory, accidentally cut his thumb very badly.

☞ Our thanks are due to WM. B. HAMMOND, of the Mass. 24th, for files of "The Peninsula"—a paper published at Jacksonville, Florida.

THE LEGISLATIVE STRIKE.

MR. EDITOR,—I was sorry to see in your last paper an apology for the members of the General Court, who so shamelessly struck for higher wages, and put their dirty hands into the Commonwealth's Grab-bag and took out $200 each more than they bargained for. Compared with this dirty proceeding, the late strike of the Journeymen Curriers was a fair business transaction. The act shows a degree of shamelessness and corruption that we should not have dreamed of in a Massachusetts Legislature. We are glad to see that our own respected member, and the member from Old Danvers, recorded their names against the vile plot; but we are pained to find that half the members from Essex County suffer the burning disgrace of having voted for it—a disgrace which will cling to their names in all their future career.

The only justification for this robbery of the Treasury is found in the fact that they have so delayed the public business as to make a long session, when they might just as well have had a short one. In this way it operates as a direct bounty on long sessions, thus increasing, from year to year, the cost of legislation. What a premium is here offered for long-winded speeches about nothing and all kinds of absurd projects, which ought to be stifled before they are born! The precedent, if not condemned by the stern voice of the people, will lead to greater abuses; and if, next year, they can contrive to prolong the session a few days longer, they can grab a few hundreds more than they have done this year.

Shame on you—ye legislators, with mouths full of patriotic resolutions, voting taxes on the people, who at the same time rob them by dipping greedy hands into the public chest for your own emolument! These same people, if they are wise, will put the mark of Cain on the brow of every one of you who consented to disgrace yourselves and the Commonwealth by thus recording your own ignominy on the pages of the Legislative journals.

THE CLEAVELAND CONVENTION.—This Convention called to meet at Cleaveland, Ohio, May 21, has been postponed to May 31. It is said that Gen. Fremont is to receive the nomination, and to be run as an independent candidate for the Presidency. It seems to us that this movement at this time is entirely out of place, and that the friends of this Convention, should be looked upon with suspicion by all loyal citizens. It is no time, while a great military campaign is in progress, which may determine the fall of rebellion before July has passed, to enter upon a political squabble. Events may more clearly define our duties in regard to the Presidential Campaign than an early Convention. One Republican Convention is enough for these times.

We trust politicians will have some regard for the country and not at this early day undertake to commit the loyal people to a division among themselves. It is quite enough to fight the rebellion in the South, and take care of traitors at home, without getting into a wrangle with our friends.

NEW ENGLAND AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.—This Society has determined to hold its first exhibition at Springfield, on the 6th, 7th, 8th and 9th of September. We imagine that it will in a great measure supersede all the State societies. It is fresh and vigorous; and its officers are live, young men, ready to act. They will not fail to have the greatest Agricultural exhibition ever had in New England, and the most interesting and valuable to farmers. The Springfield Republican says—Vermont is already awake, and will furnish the wool and sheep; Maine and New Hampshire the horses; Rhode Island the fruit, and Connecticut the Yankee notions. Large premiums will be offered on the last two days for the best trotting horse in New England, and the best trotting horse in the United States. An address will be given by some distinguished gentleman; agricultural discussions will be had each evening, and premiums will be offered for rural essays. DR. GEORGE B. LORING, of Salem, is the President.

"OLD FIFTH" CAMP.—The North Carolina Times says that Newbern and its surroundings are one complete vegetable garden. Dr. Page, of the Sanitary Commission, has peas in full blossom, and radishes, lettuce and asparagus ready for the table. His garden at the "Old Fifth" camp is splendidly arranged, and will be very productive. He has arranged a "stealing patch"—a novel idea—where it is expected all soldiers will do their "lifting,"—those who feel maliciously inclined can help themselves to green corn, water-melons, etc., and will be entirely welcome.

REMOVAL OF STABLE.—On account of the improvements now making by W. M. Jacobs & Son, Moulton's stable, for the present, will be on the premises of Mr. Samuel Ham, on Main street, nearly opposite Peabody Institute, where he will still continue to accommodate the public with nice carriages and 2.40 nags.

[From the Boston Journal]

THE GREAT CONTEST IN VIRGINIA.

The Battles of Wednesday and Thursday.

ACCOUNT BY "CARLETON."

A Fair Stand up Fight.—200,000 Men in Deadly Conflict.—But Little Strategy.—The First Man Killed a Massachusetts Man.

WILDERNESS CHURCH, May 5.

The Army of the Potomac left its position north of the Rapidan yesterday morning at daylight, and made a rapid march to gain the lower fords. The 2d Corps crossed at Ely's Ford without opposition, and reached Chancellorsville at two o'clock. The Fifth and Sixth Corps crossed at Germania Ford. A portion of the supply trains crossed at Gold Mine Ford, between Germania and Ely's. The march was made in good order. The troops crossed on pontoons.

Gen. Sheridan with his cavalry pushed beyond Chancellorsville, and found Stuart in force. As soon as Lee discovered Grant's movement to get between him and Richmond, he made a rapid change of front during the day and through the night, concentrating his force about two miles west of Wilderness Church and Tavern, on highly advantageous ground, pressing in our pickets. The 5th N. Y. cavalry lost 10 killed and 30 wounded in one volley. Gen. Grant moved from Germania Ford to establish head-quarters at Wilderness Tavern, and directed Griffin, with the 1st Division of the 5th Corps, to ascertain whether the rebels were in force, or whether it was a small body thrown out to harass his advance.

Skirmishing commenced about 11 A. M.—Griffin's Division of the 5th Corps was first engaged. It was soon ascertained that A. P. Hill and Ewell were in front of him. Grant's line faced southwest, his right resting on the Rapidan, above Germania Ford. Ricketts' and Wright's divisions of the 6th Corps held the right; the 5th Corps held the centre; Getty's Division of the 6th Corps was sent over to the left and joined the 2d Corps. The 9th Corps (Burnside's), after an all night's march, reached Germania Ford at noon, and were placed in reserve on the right.

Griffin was met by A. P. Hill's entire corps, and maintained a stubborn fight. The rebels charged on him, and succeeded in capturing two guns of the 5th United States Artillery.

Wadsworth's division went to aid Griffin, but Ewell's corps was brought in front of him. Griffin was then withdrawn, and Robinson sent in. The battle continued till 4 o'clock without cessation, neither party gaining decided advantage. The 11th and 9th Massachusetts lost heavily in this fight. Col. Hayes and Col. Guiney were wounded; also Gen. Bartlet, commanding the brigade.

Finding that Lee had his whole force in front, Gen. Grant made preparations for a general battle. Gen. Hancock with the 2d Corps moved out on the Orange plank road, and engaged the enemy at 4.20 P. M. Getty's division had the right and was joined by Carr on the left.—The rebels appeared in mass. Everywhere the forest was so dense and thick with underbrush that artillery could not be used, and officers were obliged to dismount. The fight on the left lasted till dark, and was one unbroken roll of musketry at close range.

There were few bayonet charges. It was a fair stand up fight, with both parties. Every inch of ground was obstinately contested. The engagement was wholly unlike any other.—There were few flank movements or attempts at strategy. The fight was renewed on the right at sunset, without much advantage to either side both parties holding their lines of the morning, except on the left, where Gen. Hancock gained decided advantage. Gen. Alexis Hayes, commanding the 2d Brigade of Getty's Division, was killed. He was hard pressed, and sent word to Hancock that he must have reinforcements. "Tell him," said Hancock, "to hold his ground twenty minutes and he shall be relieved;" but before twenty minutes expired his body was brought in.

The forests were so dense that the ammunition teams could not get up, and cartridges were sent in on the stretchers, which brought out the wounded. The first man killed was Charles Williams of Franklin, belonging to the 18th Mass. The Old Bay State has, as usual, poured out her blood freely to-day.

The 18th and 9th regiments suffered severely. I cannot obtain a list of casualities to-night. The battle will doubtless be renewed to-morrow. The line of battle to-night is about six miles long, extending from the Rapidan, along which 200,000 men are in position. Six hundred prisoners have been taken.

The soldiers are enthusiastic to-night, and are confident of victory. The battle will be renewed at day-break. Lee began the fight to-day. Grant will probably take the initiative in the morning.

The Great Battle of Friday.

Terribly Hard Fighting—Lee's Favorite Tactics Foiled—Fearful Slaughter of the Rebels—Retreat of the Enemy—The Enemy's Dead and Wounded in our Hands—the Wounded Well Cared For.

Friday, May 6, closed upon a terribly hard fought field, and the Army of the Potomac has added another to its list of murderous conflicts.

Lee's tactics, so energetically employed at Chancellorsville and Gettysburg, of throwing his whole army first upon one wing and then upon another, were again brought to bear, but the Army of the Potomac repulsed the tremendous onslaught of the rebels, and stood solidly in the position it took in the morning.

The first attempt was made upon Hancock upon the right, somewhat weakened in numbers by the battle of yesterday, but the "Iron" 2d Corps stood its ground. Then the enemy hurled his batteries upon Gen. Sedgwick and once or twice gained a temporary advantage, but our veterans were nobly rallied and the rebels repulsed with awful slaughter.

About 4.30 P. M., Lee made a feint attack upon the whole line, and then suddenly fell with his whole force upon Gen. Sedgwick, driving him back temporarily; but the advantage was soon regained, and the rebels were hurled back with great loss.

Although the nature of the ground was of a terrible character, most of it being so thickly wooded as to render the movements all but impossible, and to conceal entirely the operations of the enemy, yet he was signally repulsed in all his attacks, and nothing but the nature of the battle-field prevented it from being a crushing defeat.

Lee's first onset was made upon our left, but failing he then fell upon the centre, and finally upon our right, where the hardest contest took place.

Here the rebels charged upon our lines twice, but were repulsed each time with severe loss. Gen. Hancock's corps charged back twice, and at one time entered that portion of the enemy's intrenchments commanded by A. P. Hill, but were at length compelled to fall back.

Gen. Seymour's division of Hancock's corps was badly cut up.

The Sanitary and Christian Commissions were on the field with a full force and with plentiful supplies, and everything necessary for the wounded.

The Herald's Washington dispatch says on Friday the attack was renewed by Longstreet on the right, while the rebel troops under A. P. Hill were hurled in like manner against the left of Gen. Grant's army composed of Hancock's corps. The centre was also engaged in repelling these assaults of the enemy.

The fight continued, with hardly any intermission, for two days. But yesterday morning Lee, having failed completely in his object, withdrew from the engagement, leaving our Army of the Potomac in possession of the ground, and of a large number of wounded and killed rebels.

The result is regarded at the War Department as a decided success for General Grant, which, if followed up, will give him a complete victory.

Grant's loss in the two great battles is estimated by the Medical Director at 8000. The loss of the rebels is supposed to be greater.

Accommodations have been made for the transportation of 10,000 wounded, including those of both sides.

In the War Department, at the White House and in the headquarters of Gen. Grant here all are cheerful and hopeful of a brilliant victory.

[From Yesterday's Papers.]

Address of the President.

Call to the Friends of Union and Liberty to Return Thanks to God for His Especial Favor.

EXECUTIVE MANSION,
WASHINGTON, May 9, 1864.

To the Friends of Union and Liberty:

Enough is known of army operations within the last few days to claim our especial gratitude to God. While what remains undone demands our most sincere prayers to, and reliance upon, Him without whom all human effort is vain, I recommend that all patriots at their homes, in their places of public worship, and wherever they may be, unite in common thanksgiving and prayer to Almighty God.

(Signed) ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

"THUNDERING ALL AROUND."

Dalton, Georgia, occupied by Thomas!

LOUISVILLE, May 9th. An officer from the front reports that Gen. Thomas occupied Dalton yesterday.

The Rebel Ram Sunk!

WASHINGTON, May 9. Information has been received to-night that the rebel ram in Albemarle Sound has been attacked and sunk by the United States steamer Sassacus.

Dispatches from Secretary Stanton—Hot Pursuit of the Rebels—Gen. Grant's Headquarters 20 Miles South of the Battlefield, Sunday Noon—The Army on to Richmond—Longstreet Reported Mortally Wounded.

NEW YORK, May 9. The following dispatches were received this afternoon by Major General Dix:

WASHINGTON, May 9—5 P. M.

To Major General Dix:

A bearer of dispatches from General Grant's Headquarters has just arrived here. He states that Lee's army commenced retreating on Friday night.

Our army started in pursuit early Saturday morning. Lee is in full retreat for Richmond by the direct road. Gen. Hancock passed through Spottsylvania Court House before daylight yesterday. Our Headquarters at noon yesterday were twenty miles south of the battlefield.

We occupy Fredericksburg, and it is to be the depot for our wounded.

(Signed) E. M. STANTON.

MONDAY, 6 o'clock P. M.

To Gen. Dix:

Dispatches from Gen. Grant just received. They have not been fully deciphered, but he says he is "On to Richmond." All goes well with him. We have taken 2000 prisoners.

E. M. STANTON.

The following are some of the casualties so far as received: Brig. Gen. Alexander Hays of Penn., killed; Brig. Gen. J. S. Wadsworth of New York, killed; Brig. Gen. Webb, of New York, wounded; Col. Wilson of the 2d New York, wounded; Col. Stone of the 2d Vermont, wounded; Col. Stone of the Penn. Bucktails, injured by a fall from his horse; Col. West of the 9th Maine, killed.

Gen. Longstreet was shot by a bullet in the neck, and is stated to be mortally wounded.

Dispatches from Gen. Meade to Lieut. Gen. Grant have just been received by the War Department. Our army was in full pursuit of the enemy towards Richmond. We have 3000 prisoners. Our forces occupied Fredericksburg at 8 o'clock last night. The hospital for our wounded was established there. The supplies, nurses, physicians and attendants have been ready for two days and have gone forward.—The wounded are now estimated at about 12,000.

In the Senate this afternoon Mr. Collamer read the following telegram from the Secretary of War:

"Dispatches received from Generals Grant and Meade. They were 'on to Richmond.'—Lee was in full retreat, with Sedgwick, Hancock, Warren and Burnside close on his heels."

The President says that Gen. Grant went ahead and drew his ladder after him.

He has stood two hard days' pounding, and is now after Lee.

TAXES.—Our Assessors have commenced their labors, preparatory to levying the takes for this year.

The Latest News Last N

Rumors prevailed at Baltimo
York and Philadelphia that Gen ler had captured Fort Darling, t Richmond.

General Meade is still purs enemy, who are in full retreat mond.

Victory of General Grant f firmed.

McPherson is in the enemy'
Georgia. Battle probably ragin

SPY CAPTURED.—A rebel captured at Washington latel act of taking sketches of fort vicinity of Chain Bridge. He companied by three guerillas, ceeded in making their escape him behind. Those fellows ar bold enough to go to the Whi and photograph the President.

"SPRING CLEANING."—Gen work of cleaning out Norfolk done. We expect the next plac Richmond. If the Richmond could only see the improvem
General has made in Norfolk, th assist him in getting there, pa
the poor people. Captain Ca
Lowell, has the management of
He furnishes cards to them so can draw daily rations.

ATLANTIC CABLE.—The Lon graph Journal estimates the an ceeds of the Atlantic telegraph shall get into operation, at $1,
It makes this out by supposing will transmit six words per mi that it will be worked day and the rate of $25 for every 20 wo

MAPLE SYRUP.—Messrs. A
Hutchinson, of the Equity St some maple syrup, which is ticle. This is official, and can upon.

CARD.

The undersigned most gratefully edges the reception, on the twent
April, of the sum of two hundred a three dollars, from W. M. JACOBS, E ed to me by the friends of the fatherless in our affliction—having earthly support taken from us, in the explosion at Mr. Jacobs' Factory in I would be highly gratified to wa personally, but not being informed all are, prompts me to make this knowledgment.

MRS. JOHN CUM
So. Danvers, May 11, '64.

CARD.

The subscriber desires to return hi the Fire Department, and citizens of South Danvers, for their efforts the flames, and protect his proper morning of the 4th inst.

JOSEPH J
So. Danvers, May 11, 1864.

HARPER'S MAGAZINE, for June, h
ceived by E. B. Waitt, Danvers. interesting number, containing "A the Coolie Trade," with illustration
D. Arthur," illustrated; "Wine California," illustrated, besides a g other interesting matter.

RIBBONS—Rich Scarf Ribbons
Rich Plaid Ribbons
Rich Cuir Ribbons
Rich White Ribbon
Rich Brown Ribbon
Rich Black Ribbons
All the new colors and shades, low prices. Also, a full line of F
RUCHES, in all the best styles,
JOHN P. PE

☞ Black Lace Veils—new stock
BODY'S.

☞ White Linens—Linen Bosom
Muslins—Cambrics—Dimity—Wa
—Edgings—Insertings—&c—&c.
of White Goods and Trimmings
our usual low prices.
JOHN P. PE

☞ Edgings and Insertings, at P

☞ Sun Umbrellas—lowest price
BODY'S.

Marriages.

In Salem, April 13th, Mr. Ow
Mrs. Mary Moriarty; 28th, Mr Joh to Miss Ann Spillard.

28th, by Rev. Mr. Shahan, Mr Ja of Danvers, to Miss Catharine Co lem; 30th, Mr Michael Lorigan to Scanlan; May 1st, Mr. James Sull
Margaret Linehan, both of Sout 3d, Mr. Robert Calder of Chelsea, t abeth F. Hersom of Salem.

In Wenham, May 5, Mr George
W, to Miss H. Maria Dodge of Ha

Deaths.

In this town, April 26th, Sarah
years 8 months.

27th, Mrs. Mehitable, wife of Lufkin, 60 years 10 months.

May 2d, Margary, daughter of Martha Murphy, 9 years 10 months

5th, Mrs. Anna, wife of John
years 3 months.

6th, Miss Hannah O'Connell, 22
Mr. John Marley, 60 years.

In Salem, May 7th, Charles E.,
L. and Eliza Willey, 9 yrs 10 m
Michael Dominick, 68 years; 9th
Tay, wife of Henry Tay and daug liam Jelly, 41 years.

In Lynn, April 25th, Clara Haw
May 6th, Mrs Hannah Ives, 84 yrs
Hannah, widow of the late Capt. J formerly of Salem, 88 yrs 6 mos 3

In Charlestown, May 3, Mrs. Isa of Mr. Charles A. Dole, 34 years.

In Rowley, May 1, Mrs. Martha of the late Robert Rogers of New years.

In New York, Miss L. Almi daughter of the late Capt. Davi formerly of Salem.

ADE, DRESS FROCKS AND SACKS—30, $28, $27, $25, $24, $22, $20, 16, $15, $14, $13, $12, $11, $10, 8, $7.50, $7, $6.50, $6, $5.50, $5, & Co.'s One Price Clothing House, ock Square, Boston.

ADE PANTS $11, $10, $9, $8.50, 7, $6.50, $6, $5.50, $5, $4.50, $4, 2.75, $2.50, at Bennett & Co.'s Clothing House, 14 and 15 Dock ton.

OTHING — largest stock — greatest Bennett & Co.'s One Price Clothing nd 15 Dock Square, Boston.

ARMENT marked in plain figures, at o's One Price Clothing House, 14 Square, Boston.

s made to order at Bennett & Co.'s Clothing House, 14 and 15 Dock ton.

s received for LEWANDO'S FRENCH
M. E. CRANE.
tf

OSBORNE'S Store, and look at the riety of new styles in HATS and Essex street.

BE WISE BY TIMES.
with your health, constitution and char- are suffering with any diseases for which LMBOLD'S EXTRA BUCHU
ed.
Y IT! TRY IT! TRY IT!
e you, Save Long Suffering, allaying Pain tion, and will restore you to HEALTH AND PURITY,
ense, and no exposure. Cut out the Ad- n another column, and call or send for it.
BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS!
mbold's. Take no other.
CURES GUARANTEED.

REAT ENGLISH REMEDY.
IR JAMES CLARKE'S
ATED FEMALE PILLS!

rom a prescription of Sir J. Clarke, M. sician Extraordinary to the Queen.

known medicine is no imposition, but a l safe remedy for Female Difficulties and from any cause whatever; and, although remedy, they contain nothing hurtful to on.

of Nervous and Spinal Affections, pain and Limbs, Fatigue on slight exertion f the Heart, Hysterics, and Whites, these ect a cure, when all other means have although a powerful remedy, do not calomel, antimony, or anything hurtful ution.

ctions in the pamphlet around each ich should be carefully preserved.

articulars, obtain, free, of the agent, a old by all Druggists.

States Agent,
MOSES, 27 Cortlandt St., New York.
and 6 postage stamps enclosed to any gent, will insure a bottle, containing over turn mail. March 9, 1864.—1 yr.

dvertisements.

W GOODS.

INE VEILS,
all the best colors;
ACE VEILS,
all prices and styles;
NG VEILS,
in Crape and Lace;
ENCH CORSETS,
in all sizes;
BRELLAS,
at the lowest prices;
AND PARASOLS,
a pretty stock;
RIBBONS,
all the new colors;
RIBBONS,
in all widths;
MITTS AND GLOVES,
in pretty styles;
UTTONS,
the newest styles;
ISHED GLOVES,
all the best shades.

SSEX ST., SALEM.
IN P. PEABODY.

ABLE REAL ESTATE.

bscriber offers for sale the following f Land, with the Buildings thereon, sale, until September next, when hen remain unsold, will be offered at ction:

and well built two-story DWELL- USE, situated on English Street.— e is well supplied with the modern ces, is pleasantly situated on rising nd is a very desirable residence.

OROCCO FACTORY near the South- nery. The building is about 150 feet 40 wide, is well supplied with pure is an excellent place for the Morocco r Currying.

he Morocco Factory are two TWO- BUILDINGS, which may be sold Factory, or separately. Together bout 80 feet long by 20 wide.

lnut Street is the large BOARDING with the land adjoining, which is ex- well situated for what it is designed.

front LOTS for building purposes on Street, will be sold at moderate prices erms.

RE HOUSE 70 by 25 feet on Walnut th the land under and the rear of it. e easily adapted for a Curriers' Shop, er kinds of business.

llis Street, near the mill pond, a well painted MOROCCO FACTORY, all occupancy. It is about 80 feet long le, and in excellent repair.

o the Morocco Factory on the same STORE BUILDING, strongly built, ed for a DWELLING HOUSE, for which e easily adapted. Or it would make ent Shop for any kind of business.

ELM STREET, on a Court south of et, are two DWELLING HOUSES, for two families each. One is two igh, the other one and a half. Both ve good tenants and yield a good in- fering a good chance for investment.

m Harris and English Streets, one y DWELLING House, and a One l a Half House.

ove is a most excellent opportunity for ng young men to secure places for and dwelling houses, on reasonable Such a chance may not soon again

s desiring to purchase any of the above learn the prices and terms on applica- NDREW S. PORTER, Elm Street.
SAMUEL D. PENDAR.
Danvers, May 11, 1864. tf

List of Letters

INING in the Post Office at South vers, May 11, 1864. [Persons calling letters will please say they are adver-

M. Bean.
Chase.
arey.
Gross.
M. Fisher.

Stephen Hopper.
G. H. Matthews.
Varamus B Nickerson
Thomas O'Connell
Frank Noyes

J. Tapley.

These letters are subject to an ad- postage of one cent.
DANIEL WOODBURY, P. M.

TOWN OF SOUTH DANVERS.

By-Laws concerning Truant Children and Absentees from School.

SECTION 1. Any minor who shall be guilty of being an habitual truant, or any child who shall be guilty of wandering about in the streets or public places in the town, having no lawful occupation or business, not attending school, and growing up in ignorance, between the ages of seven and sixteen years, shall, for each offence, be punished by fine not exceeding twenty dollars.

SECTION 2. Any person who shall be convicted of either of the offences mentioned in the first section, may, at the discretion of the Justice or Court having jurisdiction of the case, instead of the fine mentioned in said section, be committed to the alms house of the town, for such time, not exceeding two years, as such Justice or Court may determine.

SECTION 3. The town shall, at its annual meeting, choose five truant officers, whose duty it shall be, in case of violation of these By-Laws, to make the complaint and carry into execution the judgement thereon. Said officers shall receive from the town a suitable compensation for their services.

SECTION 4. Any warrant issued under these By-Laws shall be returnable before any trial Justice or Judge of a Police Court within the County, at the place named in the warrant; and any fines recovered under the same shall be paid into the treasury of the town, to enure to such uses as the town may direct.

SECTION 5. Any Magistrate who shall issue such warrant, and any officer who shall serve the same, shall receive therefor, from the town, the same fees as are now allowed by law for similar services in criminal prosecutions.

At a legal meeting of the inhabitants of the town of South Danvers, qualified to vote in town affairs, held on the seventh day of March, A. D., 1864, the foregoing By-Laws having been read, it was

Voted, To adopt the same.

Also Voted, That Thomas M. Stimpson be a committee to present the same to the proper Court for approval.

A true copy of record,
Attest:
NATHAN H. POOR, Town Clerk.

ESSEX ss. SUPERIOR COURT, March term, A. D., 1864, held by adjournment at Salem, March 21, 1864:

MARCH 24, 1864. The foregoing By-Laws, having been examined, are approved by the Court

April 11, 1864. A true copy of record,
Attest:
A. HUNTINGTON, Clerk.
So. Danvers, May 11—3w.

Horse Railroad Notice.

On and after MONDAY, May 9, the cars of the Salem and South Danvers Railroad Co. will leave

South Danvers for Salem and Beverly at 6.35, 6.55, 7.15, and 7.35, A. M., and every 20 minutes till 12.55 P. M., and at 1.10, 1.25, 1.40, 1.55 P. M., and every 15 minutes till 10.25 P. M. The 9.55, 10.10, and 10.25 P. M., cars will go only to Salem.

Cars will leave Beverly for Salem and South Danvers at 6.35, 6.55, 7.15, and 7.35, A. M., and every 20 minutes till 12.55 P. M., and at 1.10, 1.25, 1.40 and 1.55 P.M., and every 15 minutes till 10.40 P. M. The 9.40, 9.55, 10.10, 10.25 and 10.40 P. M., cars go only to Salem.

Cars leave Washington Street Station for So. Danvers at 6.12, 6.32 and 6.52 A. M. and every 20 minutes till 12.32 P.M, and leave Washington St. Station for Beverly at 6.17, 6.37, 6.57, A.M., and every 20 minutes till 12 37 P. M., and cars will leave Washington St. Station for South Danvers and Beverly at 12.45, 1, 1.15, and 1.30 P. M., and every 15 minutes till 10.00 P. M.

M. H. HALE,
may 11 Sup't. S. & S. D. R. R. Co.

PARKS HOUSE,

(NORFOLK AVENUE,)
187 WASHINGTON ST.,
Near head of Milk Street, - - Boston.

ROBT. E. DRAKE, Proprietor.
Formerly of Spooner & Co., U. S. Hotel.

HEYLINGBERG'S
Hair Dressing Saloon,
24 MAIN ST., SOUTH DANVERS.

J. J. HEYLINGBERG would announce to his patrons and the public generally, that on and after OCTOBER 1st, 1863, he will abide by the following

TARIFF OF PRICES:

Shaving,	10 cts,
Hair Cutting,	15 cts,
Champooing,	15 cts.

Particular attention paid to dying hair and whiskers, in one preparation, without washing or scrubbing.

New Quarterly customers must pay in advance.
South Danvers, May 11, 1864.

WINDOW BRUSHES

AND Feather Dusters at
S C & E A SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

WHITE-WASH BRUSHES

AND Paint Brushes of all sizes—at
S C & E A SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

BLENDERS,

GRAINING Brushes, Camels' Hair Brushes, and Pencils of all kinds—at may 11 S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS.

TONSORIAL NOTICE.

WE, the undersigned, Tonsorial Artists of South Danvers, give notice that on and after June 1st, 1864, our prices will be as follows:

Shaving,	10 cents.
Hair cutting,	15 cents.
Champooing,	15 cents.
Hair Dressing,	5 cents.

J. J. HEYLINGBERG,
H. B. GOODHUE,
CHAS. BABCOCK.
South Danvers, May 4, 1864.—6w*

NEW FLOUR AND GRAIN STORE,
Central St., opposite Old South.

THE subscriber would inform the citizens of this town and vicinity that he has taken the store lately vacated by Mr. WHIDDEN, painter, where he will sell, by the Wholesale and Retail, the very best of

FLOUR, CORN, MEAL, OATS, FEED, &C.,

at the Lowest Market Prices.

JOHN G. MOULTON.
So. Danvers, March 16, 1864—tf.

Poudrette! Poudrette!!

THE LODI MANUFACTURING COMPANY, with an experience of 24 years, again offer for sale a uniform article of Poudrette at low prices. The experience of thousands of customers attest to the fact that it is the cheapest and the very best manure in market, and particularly adapted for TOBACCO, CORN, POTATOES, and GARDEN TRUCK.

The Company manufacture also BONE TA-FEU (a substitute for Guano), from bone, night soil and guano, ground fine. Price $45 per ton.

A pamphlet containing directions for use, prices, &c., may be had free by addressing a letter to the office of the Company, 66 Courtlandt Street, New York, or applying to our authorized agent,

JOHN M. RICHARDS,
125 Commercial St., Boston, Mass.
SAMUEL WELCH, Grocer, Lowell Street, Agent for the Company. feb17—3m

---

DR. S. O. RICHARDSON'S
Blood-Root Elixir

Has been thoroughly tested and proved in his medical practice, for a period of THIRTY YEARS, and is now presented to the public as an effectual cure for

COSTIVENESS,

AND THE BEST REMEDY EVER PREPARED FOR

DISEASES OF THE LIVER,
SCROFULA,
All Humors and Impurities of the Blood and Diseases of the Skin.

The preparing and combining the BLOOD-ROOT ELIXIR is attended with results to medical science next in importance to inhalation of ether in surgery. Roots and plants, in themselves pungent and disagreeable, are, by a new and scientific process of extracting (in vacuo,) rendered MORE EFFECTIVE IN THEIR OPERATION, entirely divested of the griping and distressing pain which attends the action of all other purgative medicine.— They are also made to become highly

PLEASANT AND AGREEABLE TO THE TASTE,

and by their peculiar combination work so perfectly in HARMONY WITH NATURE that no unpleasant reaction will follow its operation. It also possesses

A DIFFUSIVE AND ALTERATIVE EFFECT,

which can only be attained by medicine in a fluid state. These are new elements in purgative medicines.

The hard and compact manner in which Pills are prepared, renders them indigestible—and, when taken, are forced through the Stomach and Bowels, half dissolved, causing only PARTIAL ACTION, thereby creating irritation and pain to the parts connected with their passage.

One Pill dissolved secundum artem, will produce more medicinal and physical effect than five in a crude state.

The BLOOD-ROOT ELIXIR has no partial action upon the bowels, but is equally diffused there, and throughout the whole circulation of the Blood, imparting a healthy and invigorating action to the STOMACH AND BOWELS, LIVER, LUNGS, KIDNEYS, and gently stimulating dermant and morbid secretions throughout the whole system.

A single dose will produce a cheerful and exhilarating COMMOTION, which will inspire the patient with confidence, and assurance of IMMEDIATE RELIEF. A continuance for a short period will DRIVE the obscure and hidden humors to the surface of the skin, and relieve or check SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS—and by thus purifying and strengthening the Blood, will remove the most fruitful

CAUSE OF CONSUMPTION.

It incites the various organs of the system to act their alloted part, removing the causes which induce RHEUMATISM and NEURALGIA, HEADACHE, LOSS OF APPETITE, DYSPEPSIA, COSTIVENESS, and the various diseases which arise from a derangement of the Stomach and Bowels, and restricted circulation of the Blood.

COUGHS AND COLDS, in their early stages, will immediately yield to the effect of the Elixir.

The BLOOD-ROOT ELIXIR contains no mineral, no pernicious botanical element, no excitant, but stimulates the secretions by its mild and diffusive action. It is an effective and painless aperient—has a decided salutary action upon the Liver, and there has been no medicine prepared for common family use which possesses equal merit.

Travellers both by sea and land, will find the Elixir a complete antidote for the evils which they are obliged to endure, from a change of climate of water of diet.

See the pamphlet around each bottle for a history of the Elixir.

The proprietor of the BLOOD-ROOT ELIXIR, (Dr. S. O. Richardson,) has been long and favorably known to the public by his celebrated SHERRY-WINE BITTERS, the best tonic medicine ever discovered, and which has been in use over thirty years. He is a graduate of the New Hampshire Medical College, and many years associate member of the Massachusetts Medical Society,—and has made the study of medicine his profession since 1820.

And so fully convinced is the Doctor of the wonderful curative effects of his BLOOD-ROOT ELIXIR, that he hereby offers to each and every person who will use ONE-HALF OF A BOTTLE of his ELIXIR, and not be CONSCIOUS of a good effect therefrom, to REFUND to said person the FULL amount which he paid for the same, by returning the ullage bottle to his office.

Price $1.50 Per Bottle!

Sold by Apothecaries and Dealers in Medicines, and at the Doctor's Office,

51 & 53 HANOVER ST., BOSTON.
May 11—3ms.*

Pure Ground Bone
For Farming and Horticultural Purposes.

THE subscriber would announce that he is now constantly manufacturing and preparing for sale PURE GROUND BONE—conceded by all who have tried it to be the best article in use for fertilizing trees, grape vines, gardens, etc. It can be obtained in large or small quantities.

Also for Sale, NEAT'S FOOT OIL, TALLOW and GREASE.

☞ Cash paid for Bones.

TIMOTHY WALTON.
Post Office Address, box 99 South Danvers, Mass. April 20—3m

RICH MILLINERY GOODS!
From the New York and Boston Markets,
OPENING EVERY DAY.

ALL the desirable shapes in BONNETS and HATS.

RIBBONS and FLOWERS in all the New Shades. All goods belonging to a first class Millinery Establishment, to which the attention of the Ladies of Essex County is respectfully invited.

REITH & CO'S,
NO. 2 WEST BLOCK, ESSEX STREET,
(One door west of J. F. Almy & Co.,)
apr 13 SALEM, MASS.

GEORGE TAPLEY,
(DANVERS),
AGENT FOR THE
John Hancock Life Insurance Co.
Office, 41 State Street, Boston.

TENEMENT TO LET.

ON Mt. Vernon street. Inquire of
PHILIP BLANEY.
South Danvers, May 4, 1864.

WALKING MADE EASY.

CORNS.

DR. P. KENISON,
CHIROPODIST,
215 Washington St., Boston,
Cures Hard and Soft Corns, Bunions, Club Nails, Nails penetrating the Flesh, Warts, &c., in a manner that will satisfy the most incredulous.

THE LARGEST
LADIES' FURNISHING STORE
IN SALEM.

BROWNING & LONG'S
SPLENDID ASSORTMENT
ELEGANT NEW GOODS!

EVERY department of the establishment replete with the Newest and Richest Styles.

GENUINE
ROMAN SCARFS,
ROMAN SCARFS,
ROMAN SCARFS,
ROMAN SCARFS,
ROMAN SCARFS,
THE NEW PATTERNS.

"The Lowest Prices."

UNDRESSED KIDS,
MODEL KIDS,
NAPOLEON KIDS,
EXCELSIOR KIDS,
"G. B." KIDS,
MISSES KIDS.

Every size Kid Gloves, from 5 to 8. The largest assortment ever shown here. All the fashionable and Latest Styles and Shades.

"The Latest Novelties."

PARASOLS,
PARASOLS,
PARASOLS,
PARASOLS,
PARASOLS.

A splendid assortment of Parasols and Sun Umbrellas,—a new feafure with us,—which we offer at much less than usual prices.

"The Prettiest Patterns."

LACE VEILS,
LACE VEILS,
LACE VEILS,
LACE VEILS,
LACE VEILS.

The most beautiful shades; a large assortment; many new designs.

"The Greatest Variety."

DRESS TRIMMINGS,
DRESS TRIMMINGS,
DRESS TRIMMINGS,
DRESS TRIMMINGS,
DRESS TRIMMINGS.

Very new and most elegant styles, several being entirely novel.

"THE RICHEST GOODS,"
The Largest Assortment of New Goods
IN EVERY BRANCH,
AT THE VERY LOWEST PRICES.

BROWNING & LONG'S
Ladies' Furnishing Store,
177 Essex Street.
Salem, May 11, 1864.

SPRING AND SUMMER GOODS.
168 ESSEX STREET.

WE invite the attention of the Ladies of Salem and vicinity, to our

New Millinery Goods.

Ladies' and Children's
BONNETS AND HATS,
in all desirable styles.

Crapes, Silks, Ribbons, Feathers, French Flowers, and Laces.

A full assortment of Straw Goods, Mourning Bonnets, Veils, Collars, &c., constantly on hand at the lowest cash prices.

M. E. CRANE,
Successor to M M FLETCHER.
Salem, April 6, 1864.

CARPETS.
THOMAS W. DOWNING & CO.

HAVE now in Store a splendid Stock of

Carpets,
Stair Carpets,
Cocoa Mattings,
Mats,
Linings,

Oil Cloths,
Straw Mattings,
Rugs,
Paper,
etc., etc.,

which they offer at the very lowest Cash Prices.
April 13. 179 Essex Street.

ICE! ICE!!

THE undersigned would announce that he has made arrangements for running an

ICE WAGON

through South Danvers and Salem, the coming season, beginning MAY 1st, and ending NOVEMBER 1st.

☞ He will deliver ice made at BANCROFT'S POND, which is supplied mostly from the surplus water of SPRING POND. This ice cannot be excelled in point of purity and clearness.

☞ A share of patronage is respectfully solicited.

☞ Orders may be left at the Wizard Office, or sent by mail.

BYRON GOODELL.
South Danvers, April 13, 1864. 3m—is

A UNIVERSAL LIBRARY.

APPLETON'S New American Encyclopædia, 16 vols., octavo, double columns, 750 pages each. Price in cloth $4 00 per vol.; sheep 4 75; half morocco 5 00; full morocco 7 00. Circulars and sample seen at
my4 G. M. WHIPPLE & A. A. SMITH'S.

Valuable Real Estate in So. Danvers for Sale or to Let.

The large dwelling house and barn and out-buildings, with land under and adjoining, belonging to the estate of the late J. W. Carey, situated on Fulton street.

Also a very desirable lot of land extending from Fulton street to High street, with a front of eighty feet on each street.

For terms and particulars, apply to
EBEN UPTON,
April 27.—tf. No. 31 Barr street, Salem.

TABLE MATS,

SHAKER, Wood, and Canton Table Mats,—at
April 27. S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS'.

James F. Almy.

PRICES. PRICES. PRICES.

WE invite attention to the prices at which we offer our stock,

Rich Dress Goods, Shawls of all kinds,
Elegant Plain Black and Col'd Silks,
Ladies' Outside Garments,
CLOTHS OF EVERY DESCRIPTION,
DOMESTICS, SUN UMBRELLAS,
HOSIERY, GLOVES, etc.

With many people it is a necessity, while it is the duty of all in times like these to use money to the best advantage. We believe that our CASH system enables us to offer superior advantages to our customers.

JAMES ALMY & CO.,
188 Essex Street,
Opposite Central Street.
Salem, April 27, 1864.

A. J. Archer & Co

MOURNING GOODS.

AUGUSTUS J. ARCHER & CO.,

HAVE always on hand a full stock
—OF—
Mourning Dress Goods.
Black Thibet Long & Square Shawls,
English Black Crapes,
Best Black Kid Gloves,
which will be sold at
LOWEST PRICES.
March 23, '64.

FANCY CLOAKINGS!
—FOR—
Spring Garments,
IN GREAT VARIETY OF STYLES,

which we are prepared to make into GARMENTS to order, in the very best manner, and at

LOWEST CASH PRICES.

A. J. ARCHER & CO.,
March 16—tf. 181 Essex Street.

Ladies' Silk Umbrellas.

20, 22, 24 and 26 inch Silk Umbrellas, for sale by April 13. A. J. ARCHER & CO.

L. MERRILL & SON,
DEALERS IN
DRUGS, MEDICINES,
Fancy and Toilet Articles,
Perfumery, Stationery, Cutlery, &c.
VILLAGE BANK BUILDING,
DANVERS, MASS.

Particular attention paid to Physicians' Prescriptions.

LEVI MERRILL,
W. S. MERRILL.
Danvers, Dec 2—6m

HOUSE OF EQUITY,
—BY—
Arnold & Hutchinson,
(Successors to C. T. Southwick.)

FIRST QUALITY
FAMILY GROCERIES,
Sold at the Lowest Prices.

A large and complete assortment of

CROCKERY AND GLASS WARE,
Constantly on hand.
Also FLOUR and GRAIN.

ASHLAND HALL BUILDING,
NO. 1 LOWELL STREET,
F. T. ARNOLD. B. F. HUTCHINSON.
South Danvers, Feb 3, 1864.

ANN R. BRAY,
No. 76 Federal Street, Salem.
—Will open—

MANY new Styles of Dress Goods this day. We have received a new assortment of Black Silks at Bargains.

A Good assortment of Sun Shades, Sun Umbrellas and Parasols. apr 20

The Singer Manufacturing Co's
LETTER A SEWING MACHINE

For Family Use and Light Manufacturing Purposes, is on exhibition and for sale

AT ASHLAND HALL,
SOUTH DANVERS SQUARE,
—BY—
JOHN H. CHOATE,
Agent for the sale of
SEWING MACHINES,
SILK, THREAD, NEEDLES, COTTONS, &c., &c.
—Also—
Paraffine Sewing Machine Oil,
The best oil for all kinds of light machinery.
South Danvers, Nov 18, 1863.

George S. Walker.

GENTLEMEN'S
FURNISHING GOODS.

The Largest Stock and Assortment
IN ESSEX COUNTY.

GEORGE S. WALKER, 228 Essex Street, Stearns' Block, invites particular attention to his Spring and Summer Stock of Gentlemen's Under-Shirts,

Drawers,
Hosiery,
Gloves.

Also a splendid assortment of

Braces,
Scarfs,
Ties,
Collars,
Umbrellas, &c.

Dealing exclusively in the above articles, most of which were bought for CASH, before the late advance, I am enabled to offer them at less than present prices of Importation and Manufacture—at
my4 GEORGE S. WALKER'S.

Potter, Bachelder & Co.,
DANVERS-PORT and SOUTH DANVERS,
DEALERS IN
WOOD AND COAL.
Constantly on hand

Franklin, Burnside, Dimond, } RED ASH.
Old Company & Packer's Lehigh, Pliny Fisk, Webster and Locust Mountain, } WHITE ASH.

Also Cumberland, Pictou and Campbell for Steam and Smith's use.

OFFICE—No. 6 Allen's Building.

G. W. POTTER,
J. Q. A. BACHELDER,
C. T. BATCHELDER. mch 30

M. FENOLLOSA,
TEACHER OF MUSIC,
LETS ....PIANO FORTES, at the lowest rates;
SELLS ....PIANO FORTES, at the Manufacturers Prices;
EXCHANGES....PIANO FORTES, on the easiest terms;
At Rooms No. 7 Central street,
feb 11 SALEM, MASS.

R. C. MANNING & CO.,
Successors to JOHN DIKE & CO.,
DEALERS IN
COAL, WOOD, BARK, HAY, &c,
183 DERBY STREET,
SALEM, MASS.
N. C. ROBBINS, R. C. MANNING.
oct17

DR. E. F. KITTREDGE,
From Lowell, formerly of New Ipswich, N. H., Has removed his office and residence to
NO. 42 MAIN STREET,
SOUTH DANVERS, MASS.

Dr. K., from an extensive and successful professional experience of upwards of twenty years, feels justified in saying that he can treat diseases to the satisfaction of his patients, and to the credit of himself.

Office hours from 7 to 9 A. M., and from 6 to 9 P. M.
South Danvers, Nov 13, 1863.

T. HARDY, JR.,
—Dealer in—
DOORS, SASHES, BLINDS,
Glazed Sash, Painted Blinds,
FENCE PALES, STAIR BALUSTERS, FRAMING PINS, &c.,
No. 26 FRONT STREET,
Salem, January 14, 1863—tf.

Valuable Real Estate for Sale.

THE ESTATE of the late THOMAS BANCROFT, situate on Boston Street, Salem, is offered for sale. It consists of a two and a half story building, the upper story finished for a convenient dwelling of eight rooms; the lower story for a store, suitable for most any retail or mechanical business, having been occupied for a retail variety store for the last forty years; and also a large lot of land, which measures 76 feet on Boston Street, and extends back to Beaver Street 166 feet. It is sufficient for three house lots, in addition to that occupied by the building. The building, with a quarter part of the land, will be sold separate, if wanted. For terms, apply to

T. F. BANCROFT, Lynn, Mass., or at this Office. March 16—tf.

HAIR WORK.

WE still give our personal attention to the sale and manufacture of every description of

Hair Work,

for Ladies and Gentlemen.

WIGS, TOP PIECES, FRIZETTES, BANDS OF HAIR, CURLS, &c., constantly on hand and made to order.

H. F. SKERRY,
mch 30—2mos 180 Essex Street.

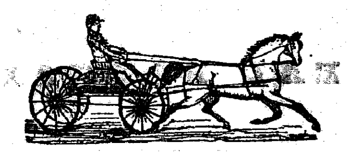
Spring Goods.

THOMAS W. DOWNING & CO.

invite attention to the splendid stock of
NEW GOODS
which they are now opening for the Spring trade.

We shall be constantly supplied with all Novelties as they appear in the market.
mch 2 179 Essex Street.

MOULTON'S
NEW LIVERY STABLE,



Opposite Danvers Bank, Main St.

Good Horses and Carriages will be always in readiness at short notice.
South Danvers, Sept 30, 1863.

THOMAS PINNOCK,
SLATER,
SALEM, MASS.

Orders may be left at his Yard, No. 25 Peabody St., or at his house No. 6 Hancock street, South Salem.

Roofs covered with any kind of Slates, according to order. All work warranted.
Salem, May 7, 1862. tf

ALL THE CHILDREN

WILL want to read Oliver Optic's new Book, "The Soldier Boy; or, Tom Somers in the Army." It can be had of Apr 27 G M WHIPPLE & A A SMITH.

Auction Sales.

WILLIAM ARCHER, Jr.,
Auctioneer, Real Estate and Stock Broker,
34 Front Street.

Real Estate, Bank, Railroad & Manufacturing Stock bought and sold on Commission.

ON SATURDAY NEXT, at 9½ o'clock will be sold at No. 34 Front street:

A QUANTITY of Furniture: Tables, Chairs, Lounges, Feather Beds, Carpets, Refrigerators, &c.

BOOTS AND SHOES—An invoice of Womens' and Misses' Boots and Shoes.

DRY GOODS—10 pieces Cotton Cloth, Prints, Delains, Cassimeres, satinets.

Also 2 cases Baker's Coffee, cases of Cream of Tartar, Mustard, Pepper, &c. 1 case Lowe's Windsor Soap; Knives and Forks, Razors, Scissors, &c.

At 12 o'clock—1 good second hand Buggy.

At Private Sale.

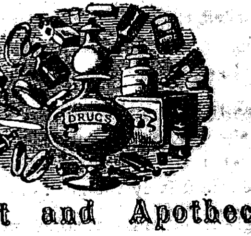
An assortment of Pear, Peach and Apple TREES; Roses; Shrubs; Currants; Raspberries, etc.

Also—One good Family Carryall.

TEETH ON VULCANITE!
DR. J. H. BATCHELDER,
DENTAL SURGEON,
No. 20 Washington St., (near Eastern Railroad Depot), SALEM, Mass.,

Is Licensed to make the New Patent Teeth on HARD RUBBER or VULCANITE, and from actual experience confidently recommends them for Strength, Beauty, and Cleanliness, to far surpass all other kinds of teeth;—are sure to fit the mouth; are much cheaper and better, being about half the price of teeth on Gold. Ill fitting Setts of Teeth on Gold can be exchanged for the Vulcanite, at very small expense. Specimens seen at Office. Teeth filled with Gold, Inserted, Extracted, and Children's Teeth Regulated—all with such care and gentleness as to be nearly painless,

D. P. GROSVENOR, Jr.,



Druggist and Apothecary,
33 MAIN STREET.

Dealer in Drugs, Medicines, Chemicals, Dye Stuffs, and Popular Proprietary Medicines.

Personal attention to Physicians' Prescriptions.
South Danvers, May 29, 1861. 1y

GEO. E. MEACOM,
Dealer in
DRUGS & MEDICINES,
Fancy & Toilet Articles, &c.,
126 .. MAIN ST ... 126
Nearly opposite Danvers Bank, So. Danvers.

T. A. SWEETSER,

Druggist & Apothecary
37 Main St., So. Danvers,
DEALER IN
Drugs, Medicines, Chemicals, Foreign Leeches, Shakers' Herbs, Dye Stuffs, Gums, Acids, Sponges, Shoulder Braces, Trusses, and Genuine Patent Medicines.

Also, Imported Cigars of choice brands, Perfumery, Toilet Articles and Stationery.

Physicians' Prescriptions carefully prepared by experienced persons.

37 MAIN STREET.

AARON T. LOWE,
DEALER IN
BOOTS, SHOES AND RUBBERS,
76 BOSTON STREET, 76.
aug 6 SALEM. tf

NEW STORE!
Flour! Flour!

JUST RECEIVED, a fresh supply of CHOICE BRANDS, direct from the Mills, for sale, wholesale and retail, at LOWEST PRICES, by
E. F OSBORN.
Sutton's Building, Main St.
South Danvers, Nov 18, 1863.

MISS. S. E. MACKINTIRE.
TEACHER ON
PIANO FORTE
RESIDENCE,—22 Holton Street,
jan13 South Danvers.

GAYLE & CO.,
GENERAL COMMISSION MERCHANTS,
DEALERS IN
Flour, Grain and Produce,
Manufacturers' Agents for the sale of
Concentrated Leaven, Soda and Pearlash Saleratus, and Bi Carb. Soda.
PHILLIPS WHARF, - - - - - Salem.

M. A. PORTER,
236 Essex Street, - - - Salem, Mass.,
(Opposite Horse Railroad Office,)
MAKES TO ORDER BEST QUALITIES OF
WATCH SPRING SKIRTS.

A Good Assortment of Dress and Cloak Button, Braids, Spool Cotton, Small Wares, and Thread Store articles generally.

236 Essex Street, - - - Salem, Mass.,
M. A. PORTER.

PIANO FORTES.

I HAVE those splendid Extra-Sized Seven-Octave Piano Fortes, with full Iron Frame, Overstrung Bass, Serpentine Bottom, so much admired for their beautiful finish, and deep mellow tone, with Pearl and Ivory Keys, and a new style of Extra Small Size Six to Six, and Half Octaves—for sale at the very lowest prices. I have Piano Fortes and Melodeons to let; will attend to Tuning in the Best Manner; will attach the Tremolo Orchestrian to any Piano Forte; select Piano Fortes or Melodeons from any Manufactory in New York or Boston, without charge—and also make them to order, to correspond with any style of furniture, and warrant them in every particular.

S. MACKINTIRE, General Agent.
No. 218 ESSEX STREET, SALEM,
Salem, Nov. 4—6m. (Up Stairs,)

The Wizard.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 18, 1864.

☞ We have received from Danvers a well written vindication of the action of our Legislature in increasing the pay of its members, but, we regret to say, so late that we cannot present it to our readers till our next issue.

NATIONAL REPUBLICAN CONVENTION.

The idea of procuring a postponement of this convention seems to be about abandoned. The National Executive Committee having made the appointment, have, very wisely, we think, refused to change front in face of the enemy. It seems to us that, instead of a postponement of this convention tending to allay political excitement, it would have the contrary effect. After the nomination is made, the election will be considered as virtually settled. That is to say, the political excitement in the contest for the nomination will probably be much greater, among politicians, than the contest at the polls, though of course there will not be such a general movement of the masses.

Judging from present indications, Mr. Lincoln will be re-nominated by a very large majority. Almost the whole West have declared for his re-nomination. The Legislatures of most all the free States have expressed the same preference. Massachusetts has not yet spoken. For some reason the leading Republicans of our State have not given in their adhesion to the plan of continuing Mr. Lincoln another term. But we have heard of no reason why they may not yet do so. They are simply uncommitted and unpledged, and will therefore be at liberty to advocate the nomination which on the day of the convention will seem to them the most fit for the country and for the party. Unless some extraordinary failures shall be made by the administration between now and November, the nominee of the convention will be elected, whoever he is.

Benevolent Society.—The Ladies' Benevolent Society will hold its annual meeting, at Sutton's Hall, next Wednesday, May 25th, at 2 o'clock P. M. A punctual attendance is requested.

It is fifty years this month since the formation of this society for the relief of the poor. At that time there was but one religious society in this place, but now the various denominations furnish members for this charitable society.

Upon examination of the records it is ascertained that, of the fifty-seven original members, seven only are now living.

This society was incorporated by act of Legislature in 1856. It is composed of acting and honorary members, the latter contributing an annual assessment of $1.50. The acting members are assessed 75 cents per year, and meet to attend to the business of the society. Its officers are a President, Vice-President, Treasurer and Secretary, with a committee of three ladies in each school district, whose duty it is to receive applications and decide upon them; to search out the needy; distribute clothing and other necessaries, and report the names of persons relieved, and the number and kind of articles furnished to each.

The annual receipts of the society amount to about $200, which are faithfully applied to the relief of the poor in this place.

The Thirty-Ninth Regiment.—Letters have been received in town from Lieut. Chas. W. Hanson, of this regiment. He states the losses of that regiment during the recent battles to be 20 killed, 113 wounded, and 30 missing. The Colonel, Lieutenant-Colonel, Major, and Adjutant are disabled.

Sons of Temperance.—A new division of the Sons of Temperance is about to be organized in Newburyport. We hear of several places where these divisions have surrendered their charters. This is the case at Danvers. One of the Salem divisions, too, has lately voted to close.

Supreme Judicial Court.—This Court, Judge Metcalf, came in on Tuesday last. Two insurance cases from Haverhill were tried.

The Full Bench will come in on the 26th instant, to try Horace L. Davis again, for the murder of Mr. Breed of Lynn.

Correction.—The report published in our last, that Mr. Jaques' house, which was partially destroyed by fire, was not insured, proves to be incorrect. We learn that it was insured at the Holyoke Office for $350,—more than enough to cover the loss.

Major Gray, of the Fourth Maine Regiment, who has family connections in this town, is reported mortally wounded in one account, seriously in another, and killed in another, in the late battles.

Criminal Court.—The Grand Jury were in session at Newburyport last week. Last Monday the traverse juries came in and trials commenced.

Wounded South Danvers Soldiers. Among the names of those who were wounded in the late battles, we notice the following belonging to this town:

Michael Gleason, Co. B, 9th Regiment, in Mt. Pleasant Hospital.

John G. Williams and G. W. Knapp, Co. I, 22d Regiment, at Emery Hospital, Washington.

John K. Gibbs, Co. A, 39th Regiment,—hand.

Daniel Powell, Co. A, 39th Regiment, right shoulder.

David N. Jeffery, Sharpshooters, wounded in the knee,—now at hospital in Washington.

Adjutant H. W. Moulton, 39th Regiment—hand.

Geo. N. Simonds, Co. A, 39th Regiment.

The two latter arrived in town early yesterday morning. Adj. Moulton's fingers on his left hand are badly lacerated by a musket ball received in the fierce battle of Tuesday. He also received a contusion in the bowels by a bursting shell.

Adjutant Moulton reports as missing since Sunday the 8th, Sergeant John H. Blaisdell, who, when last seen, was with a detachment charging the enemy's breastworks at a place called Laurel Hill. The detachment was repulsed, and obliged to fall back, leaving behind them a number of killed and wounded. As those who were not very seriously wounded, managed to get back to their comrades during the night, it is inferred that he must either have been killed or so wounded as to be taken prisoner.

Mr. Blaisdell is a son-in-law of Orlando E. Pope. He is well known here as a estimable man, and we hope soon to hear of his safe delivery from the perils of battle.

G. Nelson Simonds received a flesh wound in the upper part of the shoulder by a minnie ball in the Battle of the Wilderness, on Thursday, May 5th. He remained in hospital two or three days, leaving Washington, in company with Adj. Moulton, last Sunday.

☞ Charles H. Holmes, Esq., of Topsfield, has been authorized to recruit, in connection with Capt. Edward T. Pearce, for a company of Heavy Artillery, Mass. Vols., under General Orders No. 14, and will receive a lieutenant's commission when the company is full. It will be worth going a great way to see an officer of the lawyer poet-lieutenant's numerous inches in the army uniform. He has proved his patriotism to be genuine. He is a son of John Holmes, one of the most distinguished Senators the State of Maine ever had in Congress; and he is the tallest man in this county, measuring six feet nine inches, in his stockings.—Newburyport Herald.

The above is all true but the inches. Mr. Holmes once told us that his true height was six feet seven at night, and six feet eight in the morning. It is a well known fact that being on ones feet all day diminishes ones height about this ratio. So going without eating diminishes ones circumference, as any alderman will testify. Our best wishes shall attend brother Holmes in his new field. He has ever stood very high at the Essex County bar. May his shadow never be less.

Killed.—We regret to say that John W. Boynton, of this town, was killed on Monday, May 9th, near Spottsylvania Court House, Va. He belonged to the Fifth Massachusetts Battery, Capt. Phillips, and was one of our newly enlisted men. The news of his death was received by letters, from which we take extracts:

May 10th, 1864, near Spottsylvania.

"The enemy threw a few shells into the battery yesterday. Killed one man belonging to the 118th Pennsylvania, and severely wounded a man named Boynton belonging to South Danvers.

From letter dated May 13th, 1864.

"Our loss so far has been one killed—one died of wounds (Boynton of South Danvers), and four wounded."

Mr. Boynton is a son of James Boynton. At the beginning of the war he enlisted in the navy on board the ship Ino. After his discharge from the naval service he enlisted in the nine months' service under Capt. Daniels—served out his term faithfully and subsequently enlisted in this Battery.

Strike.—The Morocco Dressers in this vicinity have recently struck for higher wages, and the bosses, we understand, have acceded to their prices, but they claim and say they shall exercise the right to employ as many apprentices, and any class of workmen that they may require, without dictation from the Morocco Shavers' and Finishers' Association; and that they will not employ any workmen that does not accede to these declarations. Upon these and no other terms will they give out any stock to be finished.

Grass.—Farmers tell us that the prospect for hay hereabout is exceedingly good. The grass is well set, the spring rains having been as copious and regular as any one could wish.

☞ The speculators are beginning to dabble in flour. They had better let it alone. History shows that bread will be taken by foul means when the people cannot get it by fair.

OUR QUOTAS.

We give below the names of those who have enlisted and re-enlisted from this town, under the two last calls of the President. We have also given the names of the different regiments, batteries, etc., to which they are attached:

ENLISTMENTS.

Peter Devine,	17th Regiment.
James Byrne,	" "
John Acton,	" "
George W. Flint,	" "
Warren A. Flint,	" "
Milton Raddin,	" "
Dennis Cashman,	" "
George S. Demerritt,	2d H. A. Ar.
Chas. A. Smith,	" " "
Frederick T. Stone,	" " "
Shepard Peirce,	" " "
Dan'l D. Frothingham,	" " "
John McCoy,	" " "
Wm. H. Perkins,	1st Cavalry.
George C. Jeffrey,	" "
Michael Murphy,	" "
Wm. P. Curtis,	" "
Perley Galeucia,	" "
Chas H. Putnam,	" "
Jas. H. Nugent,	" "
Wm. Farrell,	" "
Moses Shackley,	59th Regiment.
Wm. O'Brien, jr.,	" "
James O'Malay,	" "
Benj. R. Symonds,	" "
Burrell Putney,	" "
Michael Gleason,	9th "
Wm. Sullivan,	3d Regt. Cavalry.
John Stott,	23d Reg., Co. G.
Alex. H. Goodwin,	" " "
Patrick Breslow,	19th Reg., Co. B.
Terrence Thomas,	" " "
Thos. Stringers,	" " "
Wm. Breslow,	" " "
Jeremiah Donovan,	" " "
James Kelley,	" "
Lewis P. Clark,	5th Bat. L. Ar.
John W. Boynton,	" " "
Augustine Upton,	Regular Service.
Frederick H. Foss,	56th Regiment.

ENLISTED IN OTHER PLACES.

Henry H. Ford,	12th Unat. H. A.
Edwin C. Marsh,	" " "
Patrick Sullivan,	" " "
Matthew C. West,	" " "
Edw. E. Taylor,	11th " "
Sebut F. Taylor,	" " "
Joseph A. Nason,	" " "
John P. Thomas,	" " "
Samuel Roberts,	56th Regiment.
William Dalton,	4th Cavalry.
Eben B. Osborne,	19th Regiment.

RE-ENLISTMENTS.

Edw. B. Putnam,	23d Regiment.
Malcolm Sillers,	" "
James Malay, Co. B,	" "
Chas H. Sawyer,	" "
John Neagle, Co. K,	" "
Leverett Poor,	" "
Herbert W. Very,	" "
Samuel E. Tucker,	17th "
Nahum Morrison,	" "
Oliver Parker,	" "
Alfred Hopkins,	" "
Aaron Guilford,	" "
John O'Brien,	" "
Henry M. Derx,	" "
Chas. M. Woodbury,	" "
Joseph F. Dakin,	" "
Abraham Barrett,	" "
Henry B. Skinner,	" "
John Maloney,	11th "
John W. Mahoney,	1st Regt. H. A.
Chas. E. Ricker,	" " "
Eben Kimball,	" " "
John W. Hart,	" " "
John S. Mann,	Fort Warren.
Benjamin F. Pike.
Charles E. Marshall,	Artillery.
Thomas Riley,	19th Regiment.
Geo. B. Symonds,	" "
Francis McKenna,	" "
Joshua Very,	" "
John Very,	" "
John A. Messer,	1st Artillery.
George A. Webber,	" "
Timothy H. Lord,	" "
Eben S. Daniels,	" "
L. D. Cobb,	24th Regiment.
W. F. Wiley,	" "
Frank Plumer,	" "
Charles W. Trask,	" "
Daniel M. Bly,	" "
Daniel A. Sheen,	4th Battery.
Jacob Curtis,	" "

The Draft.—The following named South Danvers men were conscripted by the draft at the Provost Marshal's office in Salem last Friday:

Samuel R. Bray, 35, shoemaker; Jas. A. Boynton, 28, shoe cutter; Joseph F. Peabody, 40, shoemaker; Joseph H. Safford, 28, tanner; Geo. W. Whitten, 24, tinman; Jesse W. Wilkins, 30, clerk; Samuel Trask, 30, mason; George W. White, 37, shoemaker; Isaac Twiss, Jr., 30, trader; Chas. E. Wilson, 29, farmer; William Perkins, 35, glue maker.

Served him Right.—A Copperhead in Biddeford, Maine, expressed the hope that Banks was flogged in the late Red River battle. A Union man standing near who had a son in the Department of the Gulf, gently insinuated his fist between the pair of Copperhead eyes and tumbled them into the gutter.

A similar expression was lately made by a South Danvers Copperhead, but we are sorry to add that he escaped a similar punishment.

Political.—At a caucus held in Danvers on Saturday evening, May 14th, the following named gentlemen were chosen delegates to the State and District Conventions—

State Convention—John R. Langley, Ebenezer Hunt, John A. Putnam, I. W. Andrews, George B. Martin.

District Convention—Samuel P. Cummings, James D. Black, Nathan Tapley, J. C. Butler, George B. Martin.

The following resolution was offered by Dr. Hunt, and unanimously passed—

Whereas the result of the policy of the administration is such as to satisfy patriotic citizens, therefore

Resolved, That we are in favor of the nomination of Abraham Lincoln for President at the Baltimore Convention, and if so nominated we pledge our faithful exertions for his election.

Buy Metal-Tipped Shoes for your Children.—One pair with them will outwear three pair without them.—Register.

Soldiers' Aid Society.—It may not be generally known that a Soldiers' Aid Society existed in the days of the first Revolution. George Washington, under date July 14, 1780, wrote a letter to Mrs. Bache, daughter of Benjamin Franklin, acknowledging the receipt of subscriptions from ladies in behalf of the army, and said:

"If I am happy in having the concurrence of the ladies, I would propose the purchasing of coarse linen, to be made into shirts, with the whole amount of their subscription. A shirt extraordinary to the soldier will be of more service to him than any other thing that could be procured him; while it is not intended to, nor shall exclude him from the usual supply which he draws from the public."

☞ The French revolution made the first real sensible improvements in dress. It took from us the muslin bolster, and gave us black silk neckerchiefs; it threw away the old head wig for real living hair; it started the swallow-tail coat and trousers; it abolished the cocked hat, and tossed away the sword.

☞ A lady who had read of the extensive manufacture of odometers to tell how far a carriage had been run, said she wished some Connecticut genius would invent an instrument to tell how far husbands had been in the evening when they just step down to the Post Office!

☞ In London, a few years ago, the butchers combined to put up the price of meat, and the people resisted it, resolving to consume the article but three days in the week; the result was a tumble in prices, that must happen here would people do the same thing.

☞ The man hung at Haine's Bluff, Miss., the other day, was B. W. Wooster, a cotton speculator, and our troops hung him because he justified the massacre of the negro troops at Fort Pillow and said he was glad of it.

☞ Some mischievous boys tied a cat to the teats of a cow, in Canada West, a few days since. The scratches of the cat so frightened the poor animal that she ran until she dropped dead from sheer exhaustion.

☞ Paper is now made in New Zealand from an indigenous flax—the phormium tenax. It is predicted that paper making will be the staple manufacture of those islands.

☞ The Committee on the Conduct of the War are about to investigate the Red River disaster. It is claimed that Gen. Banks is not altogether responsible for the failure.

☞ General Grant does not fancy the luxurious style of living prevalent in the Army of the Potomac. He says he can maintain his physical integrity on pork and beans.

☞ In Baltimore, the secesh call the colored troops "smoked yankees." They seem to be pretty good in smoking out rebels.

☞ Turkey has instituted a "mail" system. Most time—for the females have been down trodden there long enough.

☞ A Boston paper company recently threshed 13,000 pounds of sand from 60 bales of rags that were taken from the mummies in the catacombs of Egypt.

☞ The Maid of Judah is announced from Melbourne with 3200 ounces of gold. Our Tommy says that's the maid for him.

☞ Fashionable ladies in Paris now wear coats, waistcoats, shirts, collars, cravats—and in some instances the breeches!

☞ Over $2,700,000 in gold left New York for Europe, recently. So much for our extravagance in war times.

HOUSE CLEANING.

"The melancholy days have come,
The saddest of the year."

The Gallant Dead.—In the late battles our loss in officers has been exceedingly heavy. Twelve Generals are either killed wounded or missing. Gen. Rice who was wounded in the leg submitted to amputation, but died after the operation was performed. He wished to be turned over, while in a dying condition.—"Which way, asked the chaplain?" "Turn my face toward the enemy," was his last utterance. Immortal words! They well become the hero and the patriot.

Gen. Banks Recalled.—The withdrawal of Gen. Banks from the Gulf Department can hardly be regretted by any one. His Red River campaign seems to have been horribly mismanaged. His administration of civil affairs in New Orleans has also been unfortunate. We suspect that one difficulty with Gen. Banks has been over anxiety in regard to the promotion of his personal aim as a politician.—Salem Observer.

☞ The bill to incorporate the Salem and Lynn Horse railway has passed to be engrossed. This bill completes the horse railways that radiate from Salem as a focus, connecting and bringing near every town and city that is approachable from that point. Salem never expended money which will give so large and quick a return as her horse railway enterprises.—Newburyport Herald.

LETTER FROM WASHINGTON.

Washington, D. C.,
May 14, 1864.

My Dear Wizard,—Were it not that a greater wizard than you, the telegraph, forestalls all tidings that travel by mail, I could give you much and good news in this letter. About sixty miles away the defenders of the Union, and of a cause now become more sacred than the Union itself, have been struggling for more than a week with the most powerful army which the rebellion has ever brought into the field.

It is the prayer of every loyal heart that this may prove the death-struggle of our enemies; and it is desperate and bloody enough to be the last act of that terrible tragedy which the arch-traitors of the South, inspired by the fell spirit of slavery, have been writing in characters of fire and blood upon the page of American history. The struggle is not yet over, but our brave soldiers are represented by those just from the battle-field, to be confident of final victory and in each brief lull of conflict to be girding up their loins for the finishing blow.

The thrill of joy which your readers feel at the first news of victory, must, alas! be followed by the thought of the terrible sacrifice at which it has been achieved, especially when the list of killed and wounded reaches them and "Massachusetts" is seen appended to so many names on the roll of honor. Glorious Old Bay State! In no instance during this war have thy sons disgraced thy name, but every new battle-field has added to its ancient lustre; and now, in this most desperate fight of all, thy sons have poured out their blood more freely than those of any other State, and challenge the admiration of the East and the West for heroism never before equalled! I have just been told by a gentleman from the front that, among the stragglers that will inevitably shirk duty in the hour of trial, and who are now striving under different pretences to get to Washington, he saw none, or few, from Massachusetts regiments, and he was not a New Englander, either.

Although you feel saddened by the thought of what has been the price of our victories, yet the nearer one is to the sad realities of war, the more deeply and impressively are they felt, and the more constantly and vividly do they arise to throw their shadow across the most brilliant triumph of our arms. A few days since, feverish with the summer heat that had prematurely overtaken us here, and restless and anxious with the knowledge that a fight was then going on from which I could gather no certain information, I jumped on board a steamer for a trip some thirty-five miles down the Potomac. As we passed Mount Vernon, we obtained a full view of the mansion and other buildings on the estate, but the tomb of Washington was concealed from sight by the thick foliage of the trees. For five or ten minutes, as we were passing that hallowed spot, the bell of our steamer was tolled in honor of the memory of the Father of his Country, as is the invariable custom. I could not help thinking how incongruous with the solemn observance, so worthy a place in our nation's ritual, was the scene upon which the spirit of Washington might then be looking down within so short a distance from the spot where his ashes still repose, treasured and guarded by a nation's gratitude and love. Upon my return to the city I saw a procession of men, with solemn tread and serious faces, going to receive the first wounded that were then on their way, and to transfer them to the train of ambulances in waiting. Since then several thousand wounded heroes of Grant's persistent and well-fought battles, have arrived; and as I write with my windows open, I can look out and see the ambulances passing on their way from the steamboat landing to the different hospitals of the city. The most severely wounded are still at Fredericksburg, where the Christian and Sanitary Commissions, besides many volunteer nurses, are doing all they can to save life and alleviate suffering.

I have seen a great many of the wounded from the different fights that have taken place in this vicinity during the past year, before they had reached the hospital from the battle-field, and have been struck with the cheerfulness with which they endure their sufferings. I have seldom yet seen one of the noble fellows who did not endure his pain patiently, and wear a smile upon his countenance when speaking of the part, if a worthy one, which his regiment, brigade, division or corps, bore in the battle; but those that are now arriving seem to be most confident that they have helped achieve a great victory, are usually buoyant in spirit and in hope, and one can tell that they have left behind them to finish their work so well begun, companions full of enthusiasm, of confidence in their generals and devotion to their cause.

Since this fight began, until last Wednesday, the weather has been excessively hot, the thermometer ranging up to 90° in the shade, which must have been severe upon our soldiers; but since that day we have had thunder showers night and day, which have left the atmosphere cooled and purified. This must be most grateful to the wounded and to those exhausted with the strife. Reinforcements have already reached Grant from Gen. Auger's command; others still are being gleaned from different places whence they can be spared, for the government is fully alive to the necessities of the hour and the importance of making this the one great decisive victory of the war. If Gen. Grant does not celebrate the 4th of July in Richmond, I believe it will be because he cannot stop north of Charlestown for that purpose. But nous verrons. Yours, etc., Delta.

Butler's Expedition.—Gen. Butler invested Fort Darling last Friday, where he found the enemy in force. On Saturday morning he carried the first line of entrenchments on the right with little loss, driving the rebels into three square redoubts, and accounts up to the 16th represent him as still pounding away on the fortifications.

General Hancock.—The praise of Gen. Hancock is on every tongue. His chivalrous gallantry is acknowledged by friends and foes, and some of the captured rebel officers speak of him in unqualified terms of praise.

☞ The dove was the first newspaper carrier, when, one morning, it went out and fetched a leaf for Noah.

The Campaign in Virginia.

The tremendous series of battles during the past ten days—forever memorable even if they do not, as they certainly promise to, decide the fate of the rebellion—have been announced with such rapidity and confusion of details, that it may be well to glance at them in the order of the days.

Thursday and Friday, May 5th and 6th.—The fighting on these days properly constituted one battle, and it was a mighty drawn battle at that. The partial dislocation of the 6th corps Friday night was nothing decisive, and, if it had occurred at any time earlier, would have been repaired like other temporary reverses. But Gen. Grant concluded to withdraw that part of his line—the right—and let Lee advance there, while he threw his weight on Lee's right, or Richmond, flank. This disregard of his communications—that sensitive point of the Army of the Potomac—must have astonished Lee, who saw that this would never do, and swayed to the right and struck toward Richmond. This was satisfactory to Grant.—In the game of strategy he won a complete victory.

Saturday, May 7th. This was mainly a rapid marching day with the infantry of both armies—Lee striving to get into a good position on the North Anna and Grant to intercept and harrass him. The opposing cavalry forces, however, had a fierce clash about six miles north of Spottsylvania Court House, resulting to our advantage. The different corps also had some fighting during the day.

Sunday, May 8th. Early on this morning, after marching nearly all night, the 5th (Warren's) corps took the fighting off the cavalry's hands, and contended vigorously and successfully with Ewell's and Longstreet's rebel corps for the greater part of the day. The 6th corps partially came to the rescue in the afternoon.—The battle was bloody, but the enemy were driven at every point. The field was about three miles from Spottsylvania.

Monday, May 9th. There was a rest during the greater part of this day, necessary to the exhausted condition of our noble fellows, and to the perfecting of provisions for the future.—An artillery duel was carried on in the afternoon. The forces were put in battle array, and toward evening Gen. Wright (6th corps) attacked the enemy in his front and drove them back with considerable loss.

Tuesday, May 10th. One of the most desperate battles of the war was fought—Lee having got all his men into position, and informed them that they must fight to capture their rations. Though the combatants stood in their tracks at night, the successes of the day were wholly ours. The losses were heavy on our side, but heavier on the rebels', while we made important captures.

Wednesday, May 11th. Gen. Sheridan's cavalry, while on a raid in the rear of Lee's army, engaged the rebel General Stuart, killing him and scattering his forces in all directions. While on this raid, which lasted several days, he destroyed ten million dollars worth of rebel property, including two railroad depots, locomotives, government buildings containing millions of rations; also miles of railroad track, thus severing Lee's communications. He also recaptured 378 of our men, including two colonels and one major-general.

Thursday, May 12th. The army this day achieved the greatest victory of the war, after some of the severest fighting ever recorded in history. The battle lasted from daylight until nearly daylight the next morning, both parties contending during the night for the possession of rifle pits from which our men had driven the enemy in the morning. The rebels were finally obliged to fall back, our troops closely following them up. The scene presented the next morning was beyond description. The dead and dying, behind and in front of the breastworks, were lying in some places in piles three and four deep. The night previous Gen. Hancock moved part of his corps to the left of the 6th, where the enemy had a strong position, and the guns from which annoyed our batteries exceedingly, and which it was determined to take if possible at daybreak. The charge was made, and although our men were met with the most destructive fire, yet they gained the first of their works before the rebels could get out and run. One whole division was thus gobbled up, including 140 officers, among them Major Gen. E. Johnson, Generals Bradley Johnson and E. Stewart, besides 18 guns with their cassions, etc., some of which were made in New York.

Friday, May 13th. Our army advanced at 5 A. M. this morning to renew the battle of yesterday, but none of the enemy were in front. By ten o'clock most of the army was on the bank of the Po River. Lee commenced to retreat the moment darkness covered the battle-field, though he failed to bury his dead or take away all his wounded. Broken wagons, tents, entrenching tools, and all the debris of hastily abandoned ground by an army were to be seen on every hand. During the day Lee sent in a flag of truce to Grant asking for a cessation of hostilities to bury his dead.—Gen. Grant replied that there was need of that as he had plenty of men to bury the dead of both sides, and he begged that any such doubts on the part of Lee should not be allowed to interfere with his (Lee's) plans.

Headquarters Army of the Potomac,
May 13th, 1864.

Soldiers:—The moment has arrived when your Commanding General feels authorized to address you in terms of congratulation. For eight days and nights, almost without intermission, in rain and sunshine, you have been gallantly fighting a desperate foe in positions naturally strong, and rendered doubly so by entrenchments. You have compelled him to abandon his fortifications on the Rapidan, to retire, and attempt to stop your onward progress, and now he has abandoned the last entrenched position so tenaciously held, suffering in all, a loss of 18 guns, 22 colors, and 8000 prisoners, including two general officers.

Your heroic deeds and noble endurance of fatigue and privation will ever be memorable. Let us return thanks to God for the mercy thus shown, and ask earnestly for its continuance.

Soldiers—Your work is not over. The enemy must be pursued, and if possible overcome.—The courage and fortitude you have displayed render your Commanding General confident that your future efforts will result in success. While we mourn the loss of many gallant comrades, let us remember that the enemy have suffered equal if not greater losses. We shall soon receive reinforcements, which he cannot expect. Let us determine, then, to continue vigorously the work so well begun, and under God's blessing, in a short time the obj your labors will be accomplished.

(Signed) GEO. G. MEADE
Major Gen. Commandi

Official—S. Williams, A. A. G.

Since Friday there has been no fightin yond some severe skirmishing and ar duelling. The enemy's new position is the reverse of that occupied by them ously. Instead of being immediately in of Spottsylvania Court House, their rig been forced back across the Po, while th rests on Spottsylvania, southwest of that They have regularly constructed earth which they built last year, while Gen. H was at Falmouth. These works are c with grass and are more formidable th of the temporary ones occupied by the ceding Thursday's battle.

Our army has, of course, moved to and now confronts the enemy, who faces east and we to the west. The enemy position is between four and five mile Thursday's battlefield, and notwithst their entrenched position it was the opin our army that it could be easily turned right which rested on the Po.

On Saturday night some spirited skirm took place for the possession of a hous hill fronting our left, and the rebels a succeeded in driving our men from it two minutes before they captured that General Meade and Wright had left it position, however, was two valuable to and an order to recapture it was issued,
our forces succeeded in doing by most br ly charging up the hill in the face of a fire of musketry and artillery. This most important strategic position for o held by Gen. Wright.

It is doubtful if any battle was fou day, (Monday). Heavy showers ha vailed yesterday and to-day, and the ro very bad.

What is a Copperhead?—A ern editor, in reply to a correspo furnishes the following definition
"Copperhead:"

"A Copperhead is a very peculiar and is a native of North America.
first discovered in the United States in 1861. They are short lived and wa some of the time like a human being, b many characteristics similar to a panth is cowardly, and when approached re slinks back to his den, and in the dar night comes forth stealthily, and lays hiding in some secluded spot, in order may leap upon his prey without a kn of his presence. He is a compound tak all the vilest of created intelligence, an ed into a separate mass; loathsome in t of man or beast. He is an enemy to al lovely on earth and that is Heavenl future.

"They shun the light of civilizati moral influences. They grovel in darkn subsist principally by lapping up the fi falls from the putrid mouths of slaveho
They are of the amphibious class, and of the nature of man and beast. Th the power of articulation to some ext can pronounce the word "peace" very
ly. Their braying may be heard for s tance, which very much resembles the that is peculiar for having long ears.
frequently seen wearing a copper plate fore parts, as an ornament or sign of th lution.

"Finally, when you discover a heter mass of conglomerated matter in huma frothing at the mouth, manifesting a amount of bragadocio, and his upper l ed with hair, as a mourning weed fo of his brains, you may be very sure it perhead."

Colored Troops.—It is said that c ed troops, in the late battles, behaved s ly, and were always ready for the fray a large detachment of rebel priso marched past them, bitter greetings changed. The "unbleached" would
"How is you rebels? Lucky it wasn' catched you, or we would have mad member Fort Pillow." The infuriated dared not make offensive replies, bu sullenly along, with dejected coun muttering what they "would do if t the niggers somewhere else." The b were evidently brought to realize fo time that theirs is not the master race

Another account says that the color behaved very gallantly on Thursda rebels cried out "No quarter!" and plied that they would neither receive quarter, and they were as good as th as they fought nobly and took no pris

Rich Sun Shades—Parasols, &c., BODY'S.

Rich Plaid, Cuir, Maize, and all mon Colors of Bonnet Ribbons, wi to match, at PEABODY'S, 220 Ess Salem.

Port of Danver

Ar 11th, sch Lizzie, Glover, New

Marriages.

In this town, May 7, by Rev. Mr.
Mr. Edwin L. Parrott to Miss A
Hartley, both of Lynn.

Deaths.

In this town, May 16th, Mrs. Dorc
Mr. James Ayer, aged 62 years.
May 13th, Mrs. Arabella, wife o
Charles Andrews, aged 56 years.
16th, Benjamin R., son of Benjam
Mary A. Arrington, aged 2 yrs 10 m
In Salem, May 9th, Nellie Idella of Elias C. and Harriet A. Staples mos 27 days; 12th, Samuel Augus
John A. and Mary V. Jelly, 2 yea daughter of John and Honora Lahar
13th, Mr. Samuel S. Skinner, 49 son of William H. and Martha E.
mos; 14th, Mary Lizzie, daughter o
Woodbury, 8 years; Lizzie Cliff, d
Josiah L. and Mary A. Converse, 3
Mrs. Sarah, widow of the late Capt
Prime, 70 years 4 mos 12 days;
Nathaniel F. Stover, 35 yrs—forme ber of 48th Regt. Mass. Vols., and 12th Unattached Company of Heavy 16th, John Collier Wiggin, son of Augusta Wiggin, 7 years.
In Danvers, May 15, of consump
Fanny M., eldest daughter of Mr. P
28 years.
In Beverly, May 8, Mrs. Elizab of the late Isaac Flagg, 84 yrs 10
Mr. John Elliott, 74 years 6 months
In Lynn, May 10th, Capt. Isaac B
53 years; John Alley, 3d, 72 years.

...GS.—Quilled Ribbons — Bugle ...h Plaids—Mohair Braids—Ribbons—Cords, &c., in all the new ...ceived at PEABODY'S Ladies' ...ore, 220 Essex street.

...mbrosia—Castorine—Perfumes—...les, &c., at PEABODY'S, 220

...OR DRESS FROCKS AND SACKS—...0, $28, $27, $25, $24, $22, $20, ...6, $15, $14, $13, $12, $11, $10, ..., $7.50, $7, $6.50, $6, $5.50, $5, ... Co.'s One Price Clothing House, ...k Square, Boston.

...OE PANTS $11, $10, $9, $8.50, ..., $6.50, $6, $5.50, $5, $4.50, $4, ...75, $2.50, at Bennett & Co.'s ...lothing House, 14 and 15 Dock ...n.

...THING—largest stock—greatest ...nnett & Co.'s One Price Clothing ...l 15 Dock Square, Boston.

...MENT marked in plain figures, at ...'s One Price Clothing House, 14 ...Square, Boston.

... made to order at Bennett & Co.'s ...lothing House, 14 and 15 Dock ...n.

... received for LEWANDO'S FRENCH

M. E. CRANE.

tf

...SBORNE'S Store, and look at the ...ety of new styles in HATS and ...sex street.

...BE WISE BY TIMES.

...ith your health, constitution and char...e suffering with any diseases for which ...MBOLD'S EXTRA BUCHU

... IT! TRY IT! TRY IT!

... you, Save Long Suffering, allaying Pain ...n, and will restore you to ...EALTH AND PURITY, ...use, and no exposure. Cut out the Ad... another column, and call or send for it. ...WARE OF COUNTERFEITS! ...bold's. Take no other. ...URES GUARANTEED.

...AT ENGLISH REMEDY.

...R JAMES CLARKE'S ...TED FEMALE PILLS!

...m a prescription of Sir J. Clarke, M. ...ian Extraordinary to the Queen. ...own medicine is no imposition, but a ...afe remedy for Female Difficulties and ...om any cause whatever; and, although ...nedy, they contain nothing hurtful to

... Nervous and Spinal Affections, pain ...nd Limbs, Fatigue on slight exertion ...he Heart, Hysterics, and Whites, these ... a cure, when all other means have ...though a powerful remedy, do not ...alomel, antimony, or anything hurtful ...ion.

...ons in the pamphlet around each ...n should be carefully preserved. ...ticulars, obtain, free, of the agent, a ...d by all Druggists. ...tates Agent, ...OSES, 27 Cortlandt St., New York. ...d 6 postage stamps enclosed to any ...t, will insure a bottle, containing over ...m mail. March 9, 1864.—1 yr.

...vertisements.

List of Letters

...NG in the Post Office at South ... May 18, 1864. [Persons calling ...ers will please say they are adver...

...t
...on
... Hood
...ynch
...ennedy
...rt

Lizzie Perry
Eliza Richardson
Emeline Stevens
Asa Russell
James Swift
Fred Wentworth

...ese letters are subject to an ad...age of one cent.

...ANIEL WOODBURY, P. M.

...BLE REAL ESTATE.

...criber offers for sale the following ...Land, with the Buildings thereon, ...ale, until September next, when ...n remain unsold, will be offered at ...on:

...d well built two-story DWELL...E, situated on English Street.— ...is well supplied with the modern ..., is pleasantly situated on rising ...is a very desirable residence.

...OCCO FACTORY near the South...y. The building is about 150 feet ... wide, is well supplied with pure ... an excellent place for the Morocco ...urrying.

... Morocco Factory are two TWO-...ILDINGS, which may be sold ...actory, or separately. Together ...ut 80 feet long by 20 wide.

...t Street is the large BOARDING ...th the land adjoining, which is ex...ll situated for what it is designed.

...ont LOTS for building purposes on ...eet, will be sold at moderate prices ...ns.

... HOUSE 70 by 25 feet on Walnut ... the land under and the rear of it. ...easily adapted for a Curriers' Shop, ...kinds of business.

...s Street, near the mill pond, a well ...nted MOROCCO FACTORY, all ...ccupancy. It is about 80 feet long ...and in excellent repair.

... the Morocco Factory on the same ...ORE BUILDING, strongly built, ...for a DWELLING HOUSE, for which ...easily adapted. Or it would make ...Shop for any kind of business.

...M STREET, on a Court south of ...are two DWELLING HOUSES, ... two families each. One is two ..., the other one and a half. Both ... good tenants and yield a good in...ing a good chance for investment.

... Harris and English Streets, one ...DWELLING House, and a One ...Half House.

...e is a most excellent opportunity for ... young men to secure places for ...d dwelling houses, on reasonable ...h a chance may not soon again

...esiring to purchase any of the above ...rn the prices and terms on applica...DREW S. PORTER, Elm Street.

SAMUEL D. PENDAR.

...anvers, May 11, 1864. tf

...OUR AND GRAIN STORE, ...l St., opposite Old South.

...scriber would inform the citizens of ...wn and vicinity that he has taken ...ately vacated by Mr. WHIDDEN, ...ere he will sell, by the Wholesale ... the very best of

...ORN, MEAL, OATS, FEED, &C.,

...est Market Prices.

...N G. MOULTON.

...ers, March 16, 1864—tf.

NEW GOODS.

Bugle Trimmings,
Quill'd Ribbons,
Dress Buttons,
Scotch Plaid Braids,
Trimming Braids,
Silk Cords and Lacets,
Boot and Shoe Lacets,
Cottons, Silks and Twists,
Elastic Braids and Cords,
Garter and Sleeve Elastics,
Black and White Linen Thread,
American and English Pins,
Button Rings and Fasteners,
Bonnet Ribbons,
Scarf Ribbons,
Artificial Flowers,
Bonnet Ruches,
English Thread Edgings,
Smyrna and Cotton Edgings,
Wrought Edgings,
Black and White Silk Laces,
Trimming Laces,
Black Lace Veils,
Grenadine Veils,
Mourning Veils,
Crape and Love Veils,
Thread Collars,
Wrought Collars,
Linen Collars,
Malta Lace Collars,
Wrought Setts,
Crape Collars,
Grenadine Collars,
Infants' Waists,
Checked Cambrics,
Plain Cambrics,
Linen Cambrics,
White Linens,
Swiss Muslins,
Book Muslins,
Linen Hdkfs,
Wrought Hdkfs,
Hemmed Hdkfs,
Mourning Hdkfs,
Cotton Hdkfs,
Choice Perfumes,
Toilet Soaps,
Sterling's Ambrosia,
Cocoa Castorine,
Puffs and Boxes,
Combs and Brushes, &c.

220 ESSEX ST., SALEM.

JOHN P. PEABODY.

TOWN OF SOUTH DANVERS.

By-Laws concerning Truant Children and Absentees from School.

SECTION 1. Any minor who shall be guilty of being an habitual truant, or any child who shall be guilty of wandering about in the streets or public places in the town, having no lawful occupation or business, not attending school, and growing up in ignorance, between the ages of seven and sixteen years, shall, for each offence, be punished by fine not exceeding twenty dollars.

SECTION 2. Any person who shall be convicted of either of the offences mentioned in the first section, may, at the discretion of the Justice or Court having jurisdiction of the case, instead of the fine mentioned in said section, be committed to the alms house of the town, for such time, not exceeding two years, as such Justice or Court may determine.

SECTION 3. The town shall, at its annual meeting, choose five truant officers, whose duty it shall be, in case of violation of these By-Laws, to make the complaint and carry into execution the judgement thereon. Said officers shall receive from the town a suitable compensation for their services.

SECTION 4. Any warrant issued under these By-Laws shall be returnable before any trial Justice or Judge of a Police Court within the County, at the place named in the warrant; and any fines recovered under the same shall be paid into the treasury of the town, to enure to such uses as the town may direct.

SECTION 5. Any Magistrate who shall issue such warrant, and any officer who shall serve the same, shall receive therefor, from the town, the same fees as are now allowed by law for similar services in criminal prosecutions.

At a legal meeting of the inhabitants of the town of South Danvers, qualified to vote in town affairs, held on the seventh day of March, A. D., 1864, the foregoing By-Laws having been read, it was

Voted, To adopt the same.

Also Voted, That Thomas M. Stimpson be a committee to present the same to the proper Court for approval.

A true copy of record,

Attest:

NATHAN H. POOR, Town Clerk.

ESSEX ss. SUPERIOR COURT, March term, A. D., 1864, held by adjournment at Salem, March 21, 1864:

MARCH 24, 1864. The foregoing By-Laws, having been examined, are approved by the Court.

April 11, 1864. A true copy of record,

Attest:

A. HUNTINGTON, Clerk.

So. Danvers, May 11—3w.

Horse Railroad Notice.

On and after MONDAY, May 9, the cars of the Salem and South Danvers Railroad Co. will leave

South Danvers for Salem and Beverly at 6.35, 6.55, 7.15, and 7.35, A. M., and every 20 minutes till 12.55 P. M., and at 1.10, 1.25, 1.40, 1.55 P. M., and every 15 minutes till 10.25 P. M. The 9.55, 10.10, and 10.25 P. M., cars will go only to Salem.

Cars will leave Beverly for Salem and South Danvers at 6.35, 6.55, 7.15, and 7.35, A. M., and every 20 minutes till 12.55 P. M., and at 1.10, 1.25, 1.40 and 1.55 P.M., and every 15 minutes till 10.40 P. M. The 9.40, 9.55, 10.10, 10.25 and 10.40 P. M., cars go only to Salem.

Cars leave Washington Street Station for So. Danvers at 6.12, 6.32 and 6.52 A. M. and every 20 minutes till 12.32 P.M, and leave Washington St. Station for Beverly at 6.17, 6.37, 6.57, A.M., and every 20 minutes till 12.37 P. M., and cars will leave Washington St. Station for South Danvers and Beverly at 12.45, 1, 1.15, and 1.30 P. M., and every 15 minutes till 10.00 P. M.

M. H. HALE,

may 11 Sup't. S. & S. D. R. R. Co.

TONSORIAL NOTICE.

WE, the undersigned, Tonsorial Artists of South Danvers, give notice that on and after June 1st, 1864, our prices will be as follows:

Shaving,	10 cents.
Hair cutting,	15 cents.
Champooing,	15 cents.
Hair Dressing,	5 cents.

J. J. HEYLINGBERG,
H. B. GOODHUE,
CHAS. BABCOCK.

South Danvers, May 4, 1864.—6w*

FLOWER AND GARDEN SEEDS.

WARRANTED fresh—for sale at G. M. WHIPPLE & A. A. SMITH'S.

WAR MAPS.

SEVERAL new styles—just those needed for the present campaign—at

my18 G. M. WHIPPLE & A. A. SMITH'S.

DR. S. O. RICHARDSON'S
Blood-Root Elixir

Has been thoroughly tested and proved in his medical practice, for a period of THIRTY YEARS, and is now presented to the public as an effectual cure for

COSTIVENESS,

AND THE BEST REMEDY EVER PREPARED FOR

DISEASES OF THE LIVER,

SCROFULA,

All Humors and Impurities of the Blood and Diseases of the Skin.

The preparing and combining the BLOOD ROOT ELIXIR is attended with results to medical science next in importance to inhalation of ether in surgery. Roots and plants, in themselves pungent and disagreeable, are, by a new and scientific process of extracting (in vacuo,) rendered MORE EFFECTIVE IN THEIR OPERATION, entirely divested of the griping and distressing pain which attends the action of all other purgative medicine.—They are also made to become highly

PLEASANT AND AGREEABLE TO THE TASTE,

and by their peculiar combination work so perfectly in HARMONY WITH NATURE that no unpleasant reaction will follow its operation. It also possesses

A DIFFUSIVE AND ALTERATIVE EFFECT,

which can only be attained by medicine in a fluid state. These are new elements in purgative medicines.

The hard and compact manner in which Pills are prepared, renders them indigestible—and, when taken, are forced through the Stomach and Bowels, half dissolved, causing only PARTIAL ACTION, thereby creating irritation and pain to the parts connected with their passage.

One Pill dissolved secundum artem, will produce more medicinal and physical effect than five in a crude state.

The BLOOD-ROOT ELIXIR has no partial action upon the bowels, but is equally diffused there, and throughout the whole circulation of the Blood, imparting a healthy and invigorating action to the STOMACH AND BOWELS, LIVER, LUNGS, KIDNEYS, and gently stimulating dormant and morbid secretions throughout the whole system.

A single dose will produce a cheerful and exhilarating COMMOTION, which will inspire the patient with confidence, and assurance of IMMEDIATE RELIEF. A continuance for a short period will DRIVE the obscure and hidden humors to the surface of the skin, and relieve or check SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS—and by thus purifying and strengthening the Blood, will remove the most fruitful

CAUSE OF CONSUMPTION.

It incites the various organs of the system to act their alloted part, removing the causes which induce RHEUMATISM and NEURALGIA, HEADACHE, LOSS OF APPETITE, DYSPEPSIA, COSTIVENESS, and the various diseases which arise from a derangement of the Stomach and Bowels, and restricted circulation of the Blood.

COUGHS AND COLDS, in their early stages, will immediately yield to the effect of the Elixir.

The BLOOD-ROOT ELIXIR contains no mineral, no pernicious botanical element, no excitant, but stimulates the secretions by its mild and diffusive action. It is an effective and painless aperient—has a decided salutary action upon the Liver, and there has been no medicine prepared for common family use which possesses equal merit.

Travellers both by sea and land, will find the Elixir a complete antidote for the evils which they are obliged to endure, from a change of climate or water or diet.

See the pamphlet around each bottle for a history of the Elixir.

The proprietor of the BLOOD-ROOT ELIXIR, (Dr. S. O. Richardson,) has been long and favorably known to the public by his celebrated SHERRY-WINE BITTERS, the best tonic medicine ever discovered, and which has been in use over thirty years. He is a graduate of the New Hampshire Medical College, and many years associate member of the Massachusetts Medical Society,—and has made the study of medicine his profession since 1820.

And so fully convinced is the Doctor of the wonderful curative effects of his BLOOD-ROOT ELIXIR, that he hereby offers to each and every person who will use ONE-HALF OF A BOTTLE of his ELIXIR, and not be conscious of a good effect therefrom, to REFUND to said person the FULL amount which he paid for the same, by returning the ullage bottle to his office.

Price $1.50 Per Bottle!

Sold by Apothecaries and Dealers in Medicines, and at the Doctor's Office,

51 & 53 HANOVER ST., BOSTON.

May 11—3ms.*

Pure Ground Bone
For Farming and Horticultural Purposes.

THE subscriber would announce that he is now constantly manufacturing and preparing for sale PURE GROUND BONE—conceded by all who have tried it to be the best article in use for fertilizing trees, grape vines, gardens, etc. It can be obtained in large or small quantities.

Also for Sale, NEAT'S FOOT OIL, TALLOW and GREASE.

☞ Cash paid for Bones.

TIMOTHY WALTON.

Post Office Address, box 99 South Danvers, Mass. April 20—3m

RICH MILLINERY GOODS!

From the New York and Boston Markets, OPENING EVERY DAY.

ALL the desirable shapes in BONNETS and HATS, RIBBONS and FLOWERS in all the New Shades. All goods belonging to a first class Millinery Establishment, to which the attention of the Ladies of Essex County is respectfully invited.

REITH & CO'S,

NO. 2 WEST BLOCK, ESSEX STREET,

(One door west of J. F. Almy & Co.,)

apr 13 SALEM, MASS.

PARKS HOUSE,

(NORFOLK AVENUE,)

187 WASHINGTON ST.,

Near head of Milk Street, Boston.

ROBT. E. DRAKE, Proprietor.

Formerly of Spooner & Co., U. S. Hotel.

JUST PUBLISHED.

PATRIOTISM, and other Papers, by Thos. Starr King, with a Biographical Sketch, by Hon. Richard Frothingham.

Youth's History of the Rebellion, from the Bombardment of Fort Sumpter to the Capture of Roanoke Island, by Wm. M. Thayer, author of the Pioneer Boy, etc—received by my18 G. M. WHIPPLE & A. A. SMITH.

LINSEED OIL.

RAW and Boiled Linseed Oil constantly for sale at

my18 S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS, 32 Front st.

THE LARGEST LADIES' FURNISHING STORE IN SALEM.

BROWNING & LONG'S

SPLENDID ASSORTMENT

ELEGANT NEW GOODS!

EVERY department of the establishment replete with the Newest and Richest Styles.

GENUINE
ROMAN SCARFS,
ROMAN SCARFS,
ROMAN SCARFS,
ROMAN SCARFS,
ROMAN SCARFS.
THE NEW PATTERNS.

"The Lowest Prices."

UNDRESSED KIDS,
MODEL KIDS,
NAPOLEON KIDS,
EXCELSIOR KIDS,
"G. B." KIDS,
MISSES KIDS.

Every size Kid Gloves, from 5 to 8. The largest assortment ever shown here. All the fashionable and Latest Styles and Shades.

"The Latest Novelties."

PARASOLS,
PARASOLS,
PARASOLS,
PARASOLS,
PARASOLS.

A splendid assortment of Parasols and Sun Umbrellas,—a new feature with us,—which we offer at much less than usual prices.

"The Prettiest Patterns."

LACE VEILS,
LACE VEILS,
LACE VEILS,
LACE VEILS,
LACE VEILS.

The most beautiful shades; a large assortment; many new designs.

"The Greatest Variety."

DRESS TRIMMINGS,
DRESS TRIMMINGS,
DRESS TRIMMINGS,
DRESS TRIMMINGS,
DRESS TRIMMINGS.

Very new and most elegant styles, several being entirely novel.

"THE RICHEST GOODS,"

The Largest Assortment of New Goods

IN EVERY BRANCH,

AT THE VERY LOWEST PRICES.

BROWNING & LONG'S

Ladies' Furnishing Store,

177 Essex Street.

Salem, May 11, 1864.

SPRING AND SUMMER GOODS.

168 ESSEX STREET.

WE invite the attention of the Ladies of Salem and vicinity, to our

New Millinery Goods.

Ladies' and Children's

BONNETS AND HATS,

in all desirable styles.

Crapes, Silks, Ribbons, Feathers, French Flowers, and Laces.

A full assortment of Straw Goods, Mourning Bonnets, Veils, Collars, &c., constantly on hand at the lowest cash prices.

M. E. CRANE,

Successor to M M FLETCHER.

Salem, April 6, 1864.

CARPETS.

THOMAS W. DOWNING & CO.

HAVE now in Store a splendid Stock of

Carpets,	Oil Cloths,
Stair Carpets,	Straw Mattings,
Cocoa Mattings,	Rugs,
Mats,	Paper,
Linings,	etc., etc.,

which they offer at the very lowest Cash Prices.

April 13, 179 Essex Street.

ICE! ICE!!

THE undersigned would announce that he has made arrangements for running an

ICE WAGON

through South Danvers and Salem, the coming season, beginning MAY 1st, and ending NOVEMBER 1st.

☞ He will deliver ice made at BANCROFT'S POND, which is supplied mostly from the surplus water of SPRING POND. This ice cannot be excelled in point of purity and clearness.

☞ A share of patronage is respectfully solicited.

☞ Orders may be left at the Wizard Office, or sent by mail.

BYRON GOODELL.

South Danvers, April 13, 1864. 3m—is

Valuable Real Estate in So. Danvers for Sale or to Let.

The large dwelling house and barn and out-buildings, with land under and adjoining, belonging to the estate of the late J. W. Carey, situated on Fulton street.

Also a very desirable lot of land extending from Fulton street to High street, with a front of eighty feet on each street.

For terms and particulars, apply to

EBEN UPTON,

April 27—tf. No. 31 Barr street, Salem.

GEORGE TAPLEY,

(DANVERS),

AGENT FOR THE

John Hancock Life Insurance Co.

Office, 41 State Street, Boston.

FOREST RIVER WHITE LEAD.

A SUPPLY of pure white Lead just received from the Mills.

my18 S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS, 32 Front st.

James F. Almy.

MOZAMBIQUES!!

An Exception to the Rule of

HIGH PRICES.

WE have opened this day one case of Mozambiques—first rate styles—all fair quality—at 20 cents per yard.

We have opened this day one case of Mozambiques—choice styles and fine quality—at 2 shillings per yard.

These goods show but a very small margin above the old prices of former times.

JAMES ALMY & CO.,

188 Essex Street,

Opposite Central Street.

Salem, April 27, 1864.

A. J. Archer & Co

Silk Umbrellas,

FOR Gentlemen and Ladies. A fresh supply just received.

my18 AUGUSTUS J. ARCHER & CO.

MOURNING GOODS.

AUGUSTUS J. ARCHER & CO.,

HAVE always on hand a full stock

—OF—

Mourning Dress Goods.

Black Thibet Long & Square Shawls,

English Black Crapes,

Best Black Kid Gloves,

which will be sold at

LOWEST PRICES.

March 23, '64.

FANCY CLOAKINGS!

—FOR—

Spring Garments,

IN GREAT VARIETY OF STYLES,

which we are prepared to make into GARMENTS to order, in the very best manner, and at

LOWEST CASH PRICES.

A. J. ARCHER & CO.,

March 16—tf. 181 Essex Street.

L. MERRILL & SON,

DEALERS IN

DRUGS, MEDICINES,

Fancy and Toilet Articles,

Perfumery, Stationery, Cutlery, &c.

VILLAGE BANK BUILDING,

DANVERS, MASS.

Particular attention paid to Physicians' Prescriptions.

LEVI MERRILL,
W. S. MERRILL.

Danvers, Dec 2—6m

HOUSE OF EQUITY,

—BY—

Arnold & Hutchinson,

(Successors to O. T. Southwick.)

FIRST QUALITY

FAMILY GROCERIES,

Sold at the Lowest Prices.

A large and complete assortment of

CROCKERY AND GLASS WARE,

Constantly on hand.

Also FLOUR and GRAIN.

ASHLAND HALL BUILDING,

NO. 1 LOWELL STREET,

F. T. ARNOLD. B. F. HUTCHINSON.

South Danvers, Feb 3, 1864.

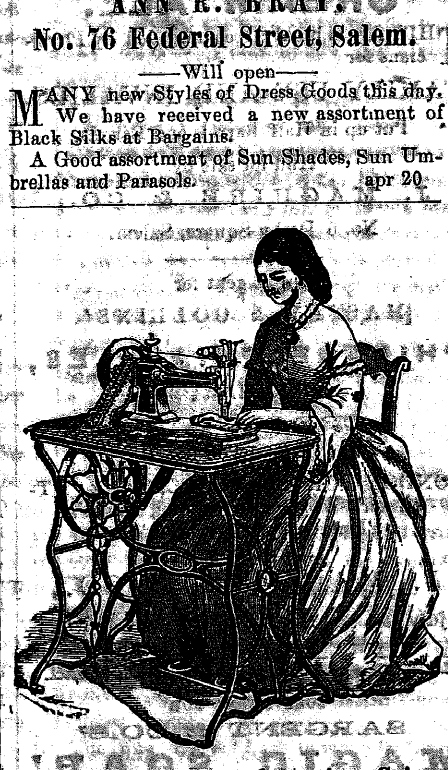
ANN R. BRAY,

No. 76 Federal Street, Salem.

—Will open—

MANY new Styles of Dress Goods this day. We have received a new assortment of Black Silks at Bargains.

A Good assortment of Sun Shades, Sun Umbrellas and Parasols. apr 20



The Singer Manufacturing Co's

LETTER A SEWING MACHINE

For Family Use and Light Manufacturing Purposes, is on exhibition and for sale

AT ASHLAND HALL,

SOUTH DANVERS SQUARE,

—BY—

JOHN H. CHOATE,

Agent for the sale of

SEWING MACHINES,

SILK, THREAD, NEEDLES, COTTONS, &c., &c.

—Also—

Paraffine Sewing Machine Oil,

The best oil for all kinds of light machinery.

South Danvers, Nov 18, 1863.

George S. Walker.

GENTLEMEN'S

FURNISHING GOODS.

The Largest Stock and Assortment IN ESSEX COUNTY.

GEORGE S. WALKER, 228 Essex Street, Stearns' Block, invites particular attention to his Spring and Summer Stock of Gentlemen's Under-Shirts,

Drawers,
Hosiery,
Gloves.

Also a splendid assortment of

Braces,
Scarfs,
Ties,
Collars,
Umbrellas, &c.

Dealing exclusively in the above articles, most of which were bought for CASH, before the late advance, I am enabled to offer them at less than present prices of Importation and Manufacture—at

my4 GEORGE S. WALKER'S.

Potter, Bachelder & Co.,

DANVERS-PORT and SOUTH DANVERS,

DEALERS IN

WOOD AND COAL.

Constantly on hand

Franklin, Burnside, Dimond, } RED ASH.

Old Company & Packer's Lehigh, Pliny Fisk, Webster and Locust Mountain, } WHITE ASH.

Also Cumberland, Pictou and Campbell for Steam and Smith's use.

OFFICE—No. 6 Allen's Building.

G. W. POTTER,
J. Q. A. BACHELDER,
C. T. BATCHELDER. mch 30

M. FENOLLOSA,

TEACHER OF MUSIC,

LETS............PIANO FORTES, at the lowest rates;
SELLS..........PIANO FORTES, at the Manufacturers Prices;
EXCHANGES....PIANO FORTES, on the easiest terms;

At Rooms No. 7 Central street,

feb 11 SALEM, MASS.

R. C. MANNING & CO,

Successors to JOHN DIKE & CO.,

DEALERS IN

COAL, WOOD, BARK, HAY, &c,

183 DERBY STREET,

SALEM, MASS.

N. C. ROBBINS, R. C. MANNING.

oct17

DR. E. F. KITTREDGE,

From Lowell, formerly of New Ipswich, N. H., Has removed his office and residence to

NO. 42 MAIN STREET,

SOUTH DANVERS, MASS.

Dr. K., from an extensive and successful professional experience of upwards of twenty years, feels justified in saying that he can treat diseases to the satisfaction of his patients, and to the credit of himself.

Office hours from 7 to 9 A. M., and from 6 to 9 P. M.

South Danvers, Nov 13, 1863.

T. HARDY, JR.,

—Dealer in—

DOORS, SASHES, BLINDS,

Glazed Sash, Painted Blinds,

FENCE PALES, STAIR BALUSTERS, FRAMING PINS, &c.,

No. 26 FRONT STREET,

Salem, January 14, 1863—tf.

Valuable Real Estate for Sale.

THE ESTATE of the late THOMAS BANCROFT, situate on Boston Street, Salem, is offered for sale. It consists of a two and a half story building, the upper story finished for a convenient dwelling of eight rooms; the lower story for a store, suitable for most any retail or mechanical business, having been occupied for a retail variety store for the last forty years; and also a large lot of land, which measures 76 feet on Boston Street, and extends back to Beaver Street 166 feet. It is sufficient for three house lots, in addition to that occupied by the building. The building, with a quarter part of the land, will be sold separate, if wanted. For terms, apply to

T. F. BANCROFT, Lynn, Mass.,

or at this Office. March 16—tf.

HAIR WORK.

WE still give our personal attention to the sale and manufacture of every description of

Hair Work,

for Ladies and Gentlemen.

WIGS, TOP PIECES, FRIZETTES, BANDS OF HAIR, CURLS, &c., constantly on hand and made to order.

H. F. SKERRY,

mch 30—2mos 180 Essex Street.

Spring Goods.

THOMAS W. DOWNING & CO.

invite attention to the splendid stock of

NEW GOODS

which they are now opening for the Spring trade.

We shall be constantly supplied with all Novelties as they appear in the market.

mch 2 179 Essex Street.

MOULTON'S

NEW LIVERY STABLE,

Opposite Danvers Bank, Main St.

Good Horses and Carriages will be always in readiness at short notice.

South Danvers, Sept 30, 1863.

THOMAS PINNOCK,

SLATER,

SALEM, MASS.

Orders may be left at his Yard, No. 25 Peabody St., or at his house No. 6 Hancock street, South Salem.

Roofs covered with any kind of Slates, according to order. All work warranted.

Salem, May 7, 1862. tf

TENEMENT TO LET.

ON Mt. Vernon street. Inquire of

PHILIP BLANEY.

South Danvers, May 4, 1864.

Auction Sales.

WILLIAM ARCHER, Jr.,

Auctioneer, Real Estate and Stock Broker,

34 Front Street.

Real Estate, Bank, Railroad & Manufacturing Stock bought and sold on Commission.

ON SATURDAY NEXT, at 9½ o'clock will be sold at No. 34 Front street:

A QUANTITY of Furniture: Tables, Chairs, Lounges, Feather Beds, Carpets, Refrigerators, Wardrobes, &c.

BOOTS AND SHOES—An invoice of Boys', Womens' and Misses' Boots and Shoes.

DRY GOODS—10 pieces bleached Cotton Shirtings, Prints, Dress Goods, Cassimeres, Satinets, Tickings, &c.

HARD WARE—Knives and Forks, Carvers, Razors, Scissors, &c.

At 11 o'clock—1 Piano Forte, 1 Singer's Sewing Machine in good order.

TEETH ON VULCANITE!

DR. J. H. BATCHELDER,

DENTAL SURGEON,

No. 20 Washington St., (near Eastern Railroad Depot), SALEM, Mass.,

Is Licensed to make the New Patent Teeth on HARD RUBBER or VULCANITE, and from actual experience confidently recommends them for Strength, Beauty, and Cleanliness, to far surpass all other kinds of teeth;—are sure to fit the mouth; are much cheaper and better, being about half the price of teeth on Gold. Ill fitting Setts of Teeth on Gold can be exchanged for the Vulcanite, at very small expense. Specimens seen at Office. Teeth filled with Gold, Inserted, Extracted, and Children's Teeth Regulated—all with such care and gentleness as to be nearly painless.

D. P. GROSVENOR, Jr.,

Druggist and Apothecary,

33 MAIN STREET.

Dealer in Drugs, Medicines, Chemicals, Dye Stuffs, and Popular Proprietary Medicines.

Personal attention to Physicians' Prescriptions.

South Danvers, May 29, 1861. 1y

GEO. E. MEACOM,

Dealer in

DRUGS & MEDICINES,

Fancy & Toilet Articles, &c.,

126 MAIN ST. 126

Nearly opposite Danvers Bank, So. Danvers.

T. A. SWEETSER,

Druggist & Apothecary

37 Main St., So. Danvers,

DEALER IN

Drugs, Medicines, Chemicals, Foreign Leeches, Shakers' Herbs, Dye Stuffs, Gums, Acids, Sponges, Shoulder Braces, Trusses, and Genuine Patent Medicines.

Also, Imported Cigars of choice brands, Perfumery, Toilet Articles and Stationery.

Physicians' Prescriptions carefully prepared by experienced persons.

37 MAIN STREET.

AARON T. LOWE,

DEALER IN

BOOTS, SHOES AND RUBBERS,

76 BOSTON STREET, 76.

aug 6 SALEM. tf

NEW STORE!

Flour! Flour!

JUST RECEIVED, a fresh supply of CHOICE BRANDS, direct from the Mills, for sale, wholesale and retail, at LOWEST PRICES, by

E. F. OSBORN.

Sutton's Building, Main St.

South Danvers, Nov 18, 1863.

MISS. S. E. MACKINTIRE.

TEACHER ON

PIANO FORTE

RESIDENCE,—22 Holton Street,

jan13 South Danvers.

GAYLE & CO.,

GENERAL COMMISSION MERCHANTS,

DEALERS IN

Flour, Grain and Produce,

Manufacturers' Agents for the sale of

Concentrated Leaven, Soda and Pearlash Saleratus, and Bi Carb. Soda.

PHILLIPS WHARF. Salem.

M. A. PORTER,

236 Essex Street, - - - Salem, Mass.,

(Opposite Horse Railroad Office,)

MAKES TO ORDER BEST QUALITIES OF

WATCH SPRING SKIRTS.

A Good Assortment of Dress and Clock Button, Braids, Spool Cotton, Small Wares, and Thread Store articles generally.

236 Essex Street, - - - Salem, Mass.,

M. A. PORTER.

PIANO FORTES,

I HAVE those splendid Extra-Sized Seven-Octave Piano Fortes, with full Iron Frame, Overstrung Bass, Serpentine Bottom, so much admired for their beautiful finish and deep mellow tone, with Pearl and Ivory Keys, and a new style of Extra Small Size Six to Six, and Half Octaves—for sale at the very lowest prices. I have Piano Fortes and Melodeons to let; will attend to Tuning in the Best Manner; will attach the Tremolo Orchestrian to any Piano Forte; select Piano Fortes or Melodeons from any Manufactory in New York or Boston, without charge—and also make them to order, to correspond with any style of furniture, and warrant them in every particular.

S. MACKINTIRE, General Agent.

No. 218 ESSEX STREET, SALEM,

Salem, Nov. 4—6m. (Up Stairs.)

BLENDERS,

GRAINING Brushes, Camels' Hair Brushes, and Pencils of all kinds—at

may 11 S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS.

Special Notices.

BELL'S SPECIFIC PILLS.—WARRANTED IN ALL CASES.—Can be relied on! Never fail to cure! Do not nauseate! Are speedy in action! No change of diet required! Do not interfere with business pursuits! Can be used without detection! Upward of 200 cures the past month—some of them very severe cases. Over one hundred physicians have used them in their practice, and all speak well of their efficacy, and approve of their composition, which is entirely vegetable and harmless on the system. Hundreds of certificates can be shown.

BELL'S SPECIFIC PILLS are the original and only genuine Specific Pill. They are adapted for male and female, old or young, and the only reliable remedy for effecting a permanent and speedy cure in all cases of Spermatorrhea, or Seminal Weakness, with all its train of evils, such as Urethral and Vaginal Discharges, Gleet, the Whites, Nightly or Involuntary Emissions, Incontinence, Genital Debility and Irritability, Impotence, Weakness or Loss of Power, Nervous Debility, &c., &c., all of which arise principally from Sexual Excesses or Self-Abuse, or some constitutional derangement, and incapacitates the sufferer from fulfilling the duties of married life. In all sexual diseases, as Gonorrhea, Gleet, and Stricture, and in Diseases of the Bladder and Kidneys, they act as a charm! Relief is experienced by taking a single box. Sold by all the principal druggists. Price $1.

They will be sent by mail, securely sealed, and confidentially, on receipt of the money, by
J. BRYAN, M. D.,
No. 76 Cedar street, New York,
Consulting Physician for the treatment of Seminal, Urinary, Sexual, and Nervous Diseases, who will send free to all, the following valuable work, in sealed envelope:

THE FIFTIETH THOUSAND.—DR. BELL'S TREATISE on Self-Abuse, Premature Decay, Impotence and Loss of Power, Sexual Diseases, Seminal Weakness, Nightly Emissions, Genital Debility, &c., &c., a pamphlet of 64 pages, containing important advice to the afflicted, and which should be read by every sufferer, as the means of cure in the severest stages is plainly set forth. Two stamps required to pay postage. December 9, 1863—1yr.

IMPORTANT TO LADIES.—DR. HARVEY'S FEMALE PILLS have never yet failed in removing difficulties arising from obstruction, or stoppage of nature, or in restoring the system to perfect health when suffering from Spinal Affections, Prolapsus, Uteri, the Whites, or other weakness of the Uterine Organs. The Pills are perfectly harmless on the constitution, and may be taken by the most delicate female without causing distress—the same time they act like a charm by strengthening, invigorating and restoring the system to a healthy condition, and by bringing on the monthly period with regularity, no matter from what causes the obstruction may arise. They should, however, NOT be taken during the first three or four months of pregnancy, though safe at any other time, as miscarriage would be the result.

Each box contains 60 Pills. Price $1.

DR. HARVEY'S TREATISE on Diseases of Females, Pregnancy, Miscarriage, Barrenness, Sterility, Reproduction, and Abuses of Nature, and emphatically the Ladies' Private Medical Adviser, a pamphlet of 64 pages, sent free to any address. Six cents required to pay postage.

The Pills and book will be sent by mail when desired, securely sealed, and prepaid, by
J. BRYAN, M. D., General Agent,
No. 76 Cedar street, New York.
☞ Sold by all the principal druggists.
December 9, 1863—1 yr.

TERRIBLE DISCLOSURES—SECRETS FOR THE MILLION!—A most valuable and wonderful publication. A work of 400 pages, and 30 colored engravings. DR. HUNTER'S VADE MECUM, an original and popular treatise on Man and Woman, their Physiology, Functions, and Sexual Disorders of every kind, with Never-Failing Remedies for their speedy cure. The practice of Dr. Hunter has long been, and still is, unbounded, but at the earnest solicitation of numerous persons, he has been induced to extend his medical usefulness through the medium of his "Vade Mecum." It is a volume that should be in the hands of every family in the land, as a preventive of secret vices, or as a guide for the alleviation of one of the most awful and destructive scourges ever visited mankind. One copy, securely enveloped, will be forwarded free of postage to any part of the United States for 50 cents in post office stamps, or 3 copies for $1. Address, post paid, DR. HUNTER, No. 3 Division Street, New York. je 3—1y

Are you Insured?

THE subscriber would respectfully call your attention to the fact that he is fully prepared to effect INSURANCE AGAINST FIRE, to any amount, at current rates, on

Dwelling Houses, Barns and their contents, Stores, Stocks of Goods, Furniture, &c. &c., and on buildings in process of erection.

And that he is the authorized Agent for the following responsible Stock and Mutual Companies, viz:

Thames Insurance Co., (Stock,) Norwich, Conn.
Capital—$500,000.
Amos W. Prentice, Pres. Oliver F. Rice, Sec'y.
Conway Insurance Company, (Stock) Boston.
Capital and Surplus—$260,000.
James F. Whitney, Pres. David C. Rogers, Sec'y.
City Insurance Company, (Stock) Boston.
Capital—$150,000.
Samuel P. Hayward, Pres. Austin W. Benton, Sec'y

Also will effect Insurance on the LIVES OF INDIVIDUALS, for one year, seven years, or for the whole term of life, in the

Massachusetts Mutual Life Ins. Co., Springfield, Mass.
Capital and Assets—$375,000.
Caleb Rice, Pres. D. B. Bacon, Sec'y.
William Mack, M. D., Medical Examiner.

WM. ARCHER, Jr.,
18 Washington st. and 34 Front st., Salem.
feb20-1

HEYLINGBERG'S
Hair Dressing Saloon,
24 MAIN ST., SOUTH DANVERS.

J. J. HEYLINGBERG would announce to his patrons and the public generally, that on and after JUNE 1st, 1864, he will abide by the following

TARIFF OF PRICES:

Shaving,	10 cts,
Hair Cutting,	15 cts,
Champooing,	15 cts,

Particular attention paid to dying hair and whiskers, in one preparation, without washing or scrubbing.

New Quarterly customers must pay in advance.
South Danvers, May 11, 1864.

Poudrette! Poudrette!!

THE LODI MANUFACTURING COMPANY, with an experience of 24 years, again offer for sale a uniform article of Poudrette at low prices. The experience of thousands of customers attest to the fact that it is the cheapest and the very best manure in market, and particularly adapted for TOBACCO, CORN, POTATOES, and GARDEN TRUCK.

The Company manufacture also BONE TA-FEU (a substitute for Guano), from bone, night soil and guano, ground fine. Price $45 per ton.

A pamphlet containing directions for use, prices, &c., may be had free by addressing a letter to the office of the Company, 66 Courtlandt Street, New York, or applying to our authorized agent,

JOHN M. RICHARDS,
125 Commercial St., Boston, Mass.
SAMUEL WELCH, Grocer, Lowell Street, Agent for the Company. feb17—3m

WALKING MADE EASY.

CORNS.

DR. P. KENISON,
CHIROPODIST,
215 Washington St., Boston,

Cures Hard and Soft Corns, Bunions, Club Nails, Nails penetrating the Flesh, Warts, &c., in a manner that will satisfy the most incredulous.

E. R. PERKINS,
PHOTOGRAPHIC ARTIST
241 Essex Street, Salem.

Patent Ambrotypes, Stereoscopes,

Photographs, Sphereotypes, Melainotypes, and patent ea her Pictures, of various sizes, taken with all the improvements of the art. Portraits, Miniatures, Engravings, &c., accurately copied. Views taken when desired. jan 11

KEROSENE LAMPS.

A FULL stock of Kerosene Lamps, Extra Chimneys, Shades, and Burners. Also—Wicks of all sizes, at
apr13 S. C. & E. A. SIMOND'S,

FLOUR.

200 BBLS. "J. Uhl's Best," received this day, and for sale by apr 20 GAYLE & CO., Philips wharf.

WINDOW BRUSHES.

AND Feather Dusters at
S C & E A SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

WHITE-WASH BRUSHES

AND Paint Brushes of all sizes at
S C & E A SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

LANE & CO'S
COLUMN.

NEW SPRING GOODS.

MEN'S AND BOYS'
CLOTHING!
MANUFACTURED FROM A GREAT VARIETY OF Plain and Fancy Goods,
—AND—
CUT IN THE LATEST STYLE,
WITH ELEGANT TRIMMINGS,
And made up in the most thorough manner.

SPRING OVERCOATS,
English Walking Coats,
AND FULL SUITS,
Coats, Pants and Vest,
TO MATCH.

NEW INVOICE
MILITARY UNIFORMS,
—FOR—
OFFICERS AND PRIVATES.

Parents are invited to examine our stock of
BOYS CLOTHING,
CONTAINING
MANY NEW STYLES.
Garribaldi Suits.
Grecian Suits,
English Sacks,
Metropolitan Sacks,
AND FULL SUITS,
SACKS, PANTS AND VESTS
TO MATCH.

In addition to the above we have a large amount of goods in process of manufacture, which will be addded to our stock as fast as completed. Purchasers will therefore always find a full line from which to make their selections. To those visiting the city by RAIL in search of CLOTHING, we would say:—

Purchase a Ticket through to
"31 and 32" Dock Square,
SECURE A
REAL BARGAIN,
AND THEREBY
SAVE YOUR FARE!

G. H. LANE & CO.,
31 AND 32 DOCK SQUARE,
BOSTON.
March 30.—3m

Cards.

M. B. MANSFIELD,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
214 ESSEX STREET, SALEM, MASS.
 Particular attention paid to procuring Pensions, Bounties, Back Pay, Prize Money, and Army and Navy Claims of all descriptions. March 2.

WILLIAM C. CHOATE,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
251 Essex St., Salem.
Salem, August 6, 1862. tf

THOMAS M. STIMPSON,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
194 ESSEX STREET, SALEM.
Residence Lowell street, South Danvers.

B. C. PERKINS,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
South Danvers—Office in Allen's Building

ALFRED A. ABBOTT,
Attorney and Counsellor,
Office, No. 24 Washington Street, Salem;
House, Main St., So. Danvers.

SIDNEY C. BANCROFT,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
27 Washington Street, Salem.

H. O. WILEY,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
Office, Allen's Building, So. Danvers.
Claims against the Government for Bounty Back Pay, and Pensions, promptly attended to

A. S. CRAWFORD,
Dentist,
No. 4 MAIN STREET, SO. DANVERS SQUARE
Mechanical Dentistry Neatly Executed.

W. L. BOWDOIN,
SURGEON DENTIST,
No, 208 Essex Street, Salem, (Opposite the Marke
Residence—No. 57 Washington street.
jan 11—1y

NEWMAN & SYMONDS,
DEALERS IN
Family Groceries, Flour & Grain,
HARD WARE AND CROCKERY,
Ready Made Clothing, Gents' Furnishing Goods, Hats, Caps, Boots, Shoes, &c.,
South Danvers Square, opp. Congregational Church
SAM'L NEWMAN. NATH'L SYMONDS.

S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS,
DEALERS IN
Crockery, China and Hardware; Paper Hangings; Solar and Entry Lamps; Paints, Oil, and Window Glass.
No. 32 Front street, Lawrence Place,
feb13 SALEM, MASS.

HENRY L. WHIDDEN,
HOUSE AND SIGN PAINTER,
Glazier and Paperer,
Central Street, South Danvers.
All orders promptly and faithfully executed.
jan2-1y

E. S. FLINT,
DEALER IN
West India Goods, Country Poduce,
No. 2 Main Street, South Danvers.

JESSE SMITH
No. 262 Essex Street, Salem,
Importer and Dealer in
Gold and Silver Watches,
MARINE CHRONOMETERS,
Aueroid Barometers, Spy Glasses, &c.

WILLIAM BLANEY,
HOUSE & SIGN PAINTER
Grainer, Glazier and Paper Hanger.
164 MAIN STREET, Corner of Grove.
WINDOWS and BLINDS cheap for cash.
mch6-tf

F. POOLE,
INSURANCE AGENT,
Allen's Building (up stairs),
Deeds drawn, and other common forms.

H. L. HADLEY,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
CORNER MAPLE AND ELM ST.,
Danvers.
Claims against the Government for Bounty, Back Pay, and Pensions, promptly attended to.

DEVEREUX & McLELLAN,
Attorneys and Counsellors-at-Law,
CIVIL AND MILITARY,
Browne's Block, Essex street—Room No. 5.
J. F. DEVEREUX, Salem, Mass.
GEO. F. McLELLAN, Washington, D. C.
Oct. 21.

CREAM ALE.

THIS Ale is highly recommended by Physicians for
FAMILY USE AND INVALIDS.
Put up in Half Barrels and Barrels,
And for sale by
J. MAGUIRE & CO.,
No. 6 Derby Square, Salem.

Also, Agent for
MASSEY & COLLINS'
PHILADELPHIA ALES,
BUCKHART'S
CREAM ALE,
And Dealer in
LONDON PORTER, SCOTCH ALE, Atkinson's Wormwood Cordial, Drake's Plantation Bitters, &c., &c.

J. MAGUIRE & CO.,
july 15 No. 6 Derby Square, Salem.

B. F. BURNHAM,
SOLE AGENT FOR
SARGENT & CO.S'
MAGIC SOAP!
For South Danvers & Salem.
OFFICE—Central St., opp. Lowell Depot, at Burnham's Express Office, So. Danvers.
Price $3.50 per 100 Lbs.
Orders sent by mail or otherwise to So. Danvers will be promptly attended to. tf-oct3

Choice Spring Pigs for Sale.

THE subscriber offers for sale nice PIGS of Mackie Prince Albert and Chester County breeds, of which the Mackie took the First Premium at the late CattleShow. Prices reasonable.
BYRON GOODALE,
Near Tapley's Brook.
South Danvers, April 1, 1864. tf

FEATHER DUSTERS.

ANOTHER lot of Dusters at
S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS', 32 Front st

Advertisements.

HOSTETTER'S
CELEBRATED
STOMACH BITTERS.

A pure and powerful Tonic, corrective and alterative of wonderful efficacy in disease of the

Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

Cures Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Headache, Debility, Nervousness, Depression of Spirits, Constipation, Colic, Intermittent Fevers, Cramps and Spasms, and all Complaints of either Sex, arising from Bodily Weakness whether inherent in the system or produced by special causes.

Nothing that is not wholesome, genial and restorative in its nature enters into the composition of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. This popular preparation contains no mineral of any kind, no deadly botanical element; no fiery excitant; but it is a combination of the extracts of rare balsamic herbs and plants with the purest and mildest of all diffusive stimulants.

It is well to be forearmed against disease, and, so far as the human system can be protected by human means against maladies engendered by an unwholesome atmosphere, impure water and other external causes, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS may be relied on as a safeguard.

In districts infested with Fever and Ague, it has been found infallible as a preventive and irresistible as a remedy and thousands who resort to it under apprehension of an attack, escape the scourage; and thousands who neglect to avail themselves of its protective qualities in advance, are cured by a very brief course of this marvelous medicine. Fever and Ague patients, after being plied with quinine for months in vain, until fairly saturated with that dangerous alkaloid, are not unfrequently restored to health within a few days by the use of HOSTETTER'S BITTERS.

The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated and the appetite restored by this agreeable Tonic, and hence it works wonders in cases of DYSPEPSIA and in less confirmed forms of INDIGESTION. Acting as a gentle and painless apperient, as well as upon the liver, it also invariably relieves the CONSTIPATION superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and secretive organs.

Persons of feeble habit, liable to Nervous Attacks, Lowness of Spirits and Fits of Languor, find prompt and permanent relief from the Bitters. The testimony on this point is most conclusive, and from both sexes.

The agony of BILIOUS COLIC is immediately assuaged by a single dose of the stimulant, and by occasionally resorting to it, the return of the complaint may be prevented.

As a General Tonic, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS produce effects which must be experienced or witnessed before they can be fully appreciated. In cases of Constitutional Weakness, Premature Decay and Debility and Decrepitude arising from OLD AGE, it exercises the electric influence. In the convalescent stages of all diseases it operates as a delightful invigorant. When the powers of nature are relaxed, it operates to re-enforce and re-establish them.

Last, but not least, it is The Only Safe Stimulant, being manufactured from sound and innocuous materials, and entirely free from the acid elements present more or less in all the ordinary tonics and stomachics of the day.

No family medicine has been so universally, and, it may be truly added, deservedly popular with the intelligent portion of the community, as HOSTETTER'S BITTERS.

Prepared by HOSTETTER & SMITH, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Sold by all Druggists, Grocers and Storekeepers everywhere.

HELMBOLD'S
GENUINE PREPARATIONS.

COMPOUND FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU, a Positive and Specific Remedy for diseases of the Bladder, Kidneys, Gravel, and Dropsical Swellings.

This Medicine increases the power of Digestion, and excite the Absorbents into healthy action, by which the Wtaery or Calcareous depositions, and all Unnatural Enlargements are reduced, as well as Pain and Inflammation.

—:0:—

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU.

For Weaknesses arising from Excesses, Habits of Dissipation, Early Indiscretion of Abuse, attended with the following symptoms:—

Indisposition to Exertion,	Loss of Power,
Loss of Memory,	Difficulty of Breathing,
Weak Nerves,	Trembling,
Horror of Disease,	Wakefulness,
Dimness of Vision,	Pain in the Back,
Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System,
Hot Hands,	Flushing of the Body,
Dryness of the Skin,	Eruptions on the Face,
Pallid Countenance.

These symptoms, if allowed to go on, which this medicine invariably removes, soon follows

Impotency, Fatuity, Epileptic Fits,

In one of which the patient may expire.

Who can say that they are not frequently followed by those "Direful Diseases,"

"INSANITY AND CONSUMPTION."

Many are aware of the cause of their suffering, BUT NONE WILL CONFESS THE RECORDS OF THE INSANE ASYLUMS.

And Melancholy Deaths by Consumption bear ample witness to the Truth of the assertion.

The Constitution once effected with Organic Weakness requires the aid of Medicine to Strengthen and Invigorate the system,

Which HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU invariably does. A Trial will convince the most skeptical.

—:0:—

FEMALES—FEMALES—FEMALES,

In many Affections peculiar to Females the EXTRACT BUCHU is unequalled by any other remedy, as in Chlorosis or Retention, Irregularity, Painfulness, or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated Scirrhous state of the Uterus, Leuchorrhœa or Whites, sterility, and for all complaints incident to the sex, whether arising from indiscretion or Habits of Dissipation, or in the

DECLINE OR CHANGE OF LIFE.

—:0:—

Take no more Balsam, Mercury, or unpleasant Medicines for unpleasant and dangerous diseases.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU AND IMPROVED ROSE WASH CURES

SECRET DISEASES

In all their Stages,	At little Expense,
Little or no change in Diet,	No inconvenience,
And no Exposure.

It causes a frequent desire and gives strength to Urinate, thereby Removing Obstructions, Preventing and Curing Strictures of the Urethra, allaying Pain and Inflammation, so frequent in this class of diseases, and expelling all Poisonous, Diseased and wornout Matter.

Thousands upon Thousands who have been the Victims of Quacks, and who have paid heavy fees to be cured in a short time, have found they were deceived, and that the "POISON" has, by the use of "Powerful Astringents," been dried up in the system, to break out in an aggravated form, and perhaps after Marriage.

—:0:—

Use HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU for all affections and diseases of the URINARY ORGANS, whether existing in MALE or FEMALE, from whatever cause originating and no matter of HOW LONG STANDING.

Diseases of these Organs requires the aid of a DIURETIC. HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU IS THE GREAT DIURETIC, and is certain to have the desired effect in all Diseases for which it is Recommended.

Evidence of the most reliable and responsible character will accompany the medicine.

Price $1.00 per bottle, or six for $5.00.

Delivered to any Address, securely packed from observation.

Describe Symptoms in all Communications.

Cures Guaranteed! Advice Gratis!!

Address letters for information to
H. B. HELMBOLD, Chemist,
104 South Tenth st., bel. Chestnut, Phila.
HELMBOLD'S Medical Depot.
HELMBOLD'S Drug & Chemical Warehouse.
594 Broadway, New York.

BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS AND UNPRINCIPLED DEALERS who endeavor to dispose "of their own" and "other" articles on the reputation attained by

Helmbold's Genuine Preparations.
" " Extract Buchu.
" " " Sarsaparilla.
" " Improved Rose Wash.

SOLD BY
ALL DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE.
ASK FOR HELMBOLD'S. TAKE NO OTHER.
Cut out the Advertisement and send for it!
AND AVOID IMPOSITION AND EXPOSURE.
December 16, 1863.—1 yr.

Coe's Superphosphate of Lime.
BRADLEY'S TOBACCO FERTILIZER.

For sale by the Manufacturer,
W. L. BRADLEY.
SALE OFFICE,
24 BROAD ST., BOSTON.

PAMPHLETS containing testimonials in favor of Coe's Superphosphate of Lime as a Standard Manure, and Bradley's Manual on the Culture and Curing of Tobacco, with illustrations, can be had by addressing the undersigned WM. L. BRADLEY.

☞ Highest Cash Prices paid for Bones.
Boston, April 13, 1864. 3m

GENTLEMEN'S HATS,
Spring Styles,
—AT—
J. A. JACKSON'S.

A large and choicely selected assortment of
FINE SOFT FELT HATS,
CLOTH HATS AND CAPS,
For Men and Boy's Wear.

101 COURT ST.,
April 13.—3m. BOSTON.

CHILDREN'S CARRIAGES.

WE have on hand a very large stock of Children's Carriages, comprising every vasiety of style, from the
CHEAP WILLOW CAB
—TO THE—
FINEST NEW HAVEN GIG.
—ALSO—
PERAMBULATORS!
of various qualities.

REPAIRING, in all its branches, promptpromptly attended to at the OLD STAND,

No. 180 Essex street, Salem.
HENRY F. SKERRY.
April 20.—3m.

A Small Farm Wanted.

WANTED to purchase, a farm of from five to twenty-five acres (according to the locality) of good land, with small, convenient buildings. Those wishing to sell will please address CHAS. F. RICKER, Wells, Maine—JOSEPH JANVIRIN, Exeter, N. H.—or THOS. DAVIS, 15 Washington St., Charlestown, Mass.—giving the description of land and buildings, distance from church, schoolhouse, railroad station, stores, &c., also the price. April 27.—tf.

CURRIER & MILLETT,
Dealers in
Furniture, Chairs,
MATTRESSES, FEATHERS, &
259 & 261 ESSEX ST.
Salem, dec 14—1y

H. & H. G. HUBON,
WASHINGTON STREET, SALEM
Manufacturers of
Rose Wood, Mahogany, Black Walnut and Stained Wood
COFFINS and CASKETS.

MAKING this our exclusive business, we are ready at all times and at the shortest notice to furnish Grave Clothes of various styles, as well as Coffins and Caskets of the finest finish. Personal attention given, and delivered without extra charge to any of the neighboring towns. All orders by express or otherwise will receive prompt attention.

Black Walnut and White Wood Boards, Plank and Joists for sale.
dec 14—tf

CHARLES S. BUFFUM,

BEING an authorized UNDERTAKER of South Danvers, will attend Funerals in said place with his Hearse the same as the Town Undertaker. Will also attend Funerals, when desired, in any of the neighboring towns, with one or a pair of horses.

He also furnishes Coffin Caskets, Robes, &c., lower than city prices.

All branches of the business attended to, such as furnishing Coaches, Flowers, Laying Out, &c. Ice Preservers furnished.

All orders promptly attended to, and personal attention given to them. Articles delivered to any of the neighboring towns free of charge. Orders by express or otherwise will receive prompt attention.

Central street, South Danvers,
RESIDENCE 25 ELM STREET.
South Danvers, Feb 17, 1864.

Undertaker's Notice!

THE subscriber being regularly appointed as Undertaker of South Danvers, would respectfully notify the public that he has removed from Central Street, to No. 80 Lowell Street, where he may be found in readiness to attend funerals, and to furnish when desired.
HENRY SPENCER.
February 10, 1864.

E. S. FLINT,
Manufacturer and Dealer in
INNER SOLES,
AND SHOE STIFFENINGS OF ALL KINDS.
2 MAIN STREET, SOUTH DANVERS.

AGRICULTURAL WAREHOUSE.
Parker, Gannett & Osgood,
WHOLESALE AND RETAIL DEALERS IN
Agricultural Implements, Seeds,
FERTILIZERS, &c.,
INCLUDING THE FOLLOWING:

Plows,
Harrows,
Cultivators,
Corn Planters,
Horse Hoes,
Hay Cutters,
Corn Shellers,
Churns, all patterns,
Meat Cutters,
Sausage Stuffers,
Field & Garden Rollers,
Road Scrapers,
Grindstone Fixtures,
Hoes,
Manure Forks,
Shovels,
Spades,
Fan Mills,
Lard Presses,
Vegetable Cutters,
Railway and Sweep Horse Powers,
Threshing Machines,
Hay Presses,
Cider Mills,
Garden and Canal Barrows,
Mounted Grindstones,
Cheese Presses,
Folding Ladders,
Horse Rakes,
Palmer's Horse Pitchforks,
Axes,
Grass Hooks,
Garden Trowels.

BUCKEYE MOWING MACHINES,
Grass, Garden, Flower and Field Seeds,
Guano, Coe's Super Phosphate Lime, Pouderette, Ground Bone, Fish Guano, &c., at the Lowest Prices.
No. 49 North Market street, and 46 Merchant's Row, Boston.
April 27, 1864.——3m.

WM. C. HENDERSON,
MANUFACTURER OF
PLAIN AND FANCY
PAPER BOXES,
No. 235 ESSEX STREET,
Sign of "Nest of Boxes,"
july 23 SALEM. tf

A LECTURE FOR YOUNG MEN.

Just published, a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical cure (without medicine) of SPERMATORRHŒA, or Seminal Weakness, Involuntary Seminal Losses, IMPOTENCY, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc.; also, Consumption, Epilepsy and Fits, induced by self-indulgence or sexual extravagance.

☞ Price, in a sealed envelope, only 6 cents.

The celebrated author in this admirable essay clearly demonstrates from a thirty years successful practice, that the alarming consequences of self-abuse may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine or the application of the knife—pointing out a mode of cure, at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

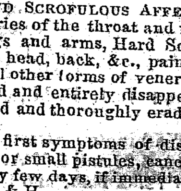
This Lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land.

Sent under seal, in a plain envelope, to any address, POST-PAID, on receipt of six cents, or two postage stamps. Address the publishers,
CHAS. J. C. KLINE & CO.,
127 Bowery, New York, Post Office Box, 4586.
January 16—8mos.

Abbott's South Danvers & Salem
EXPRESS.

Leave South Danvers,	7½ a m, 1 p m.
Leave Salem,	10 a m, 4 p m.

Orders left at Teel & Moulton's, and principal stores on Main street, South Danvers; and at 7 Washington street, and at Reed's in the Market, Salem.



FOR NEW YORK via FALL RIVER AND NEWPORT.

Cabin passage $5.00; Deck, $4.00. Cars leave the Depot of the Old Colony and Newport Railway, corner of South and Kneeland streets, at 5.30 P. M., daily.

For steamer BAY STATE, Capt. W. Brown, on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

For steamer EMPIRE STATE, Capt. B. Brayton, on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays.

Passengers by this route can take the 4.10 P. M. Express Train, and arrive in Fall River one hour before the Steamboat Train, having time to secure State Rooms and make their preparations for the passage.

Passengers by this line going to Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, &c., can connect with the New Jersey or Camden and Amboy Railroad. Baggage Checked through.

☞ A baggage master accompanies the passengers through to New York. Tickets, Berths and Staterooms secured at the O. C. & Newport R. R. Station.

GEORGE SHIVERICK, Agent,
No. 82 Washington Street.
BOSTON, November 16, 1863.

ALWAYS SUCCESSFUL!
TO ALL THOSE WHO SUFFER FROM
DEBILITY AND SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

DRS. CARSWELL & HUNTER, regularly educated, highly eminent and successful practitioners, after a very extensive practice in Boston, for over twenty years, need hardly speak of their medical qualifications, or remind strangers not to class them with a set of uneducated men, who fill the papers with their boasting advertisements. Drs. C. & H. caution the public against quackery in all its forms, pretending, as some self-styled doctors, to cure all the most difficult and chronic diseases, without knowledge of the human system, or of the modus operandi of the most simple drugs.

Drs. C. & H., since 1840, having confined their whole attention to an office practice for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, they acknowledge no superiors.

CONSTITUTIONAL DEBILITY OR SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Drs. C. & H. are pre-eminently successful in the treatment of the above most difficult and perplexing of all diseases, this complaint being the result of a secret habit in youth; if neglected or improperly treated, it proves one of the greatest evils that can befall a human being. Dr. H. has given particular attention to the above disease for years, and so thoroughly has he become acquainted with the pathology and treatment, that he will warrant a perfect cure under forfeiture of $500; in fact, he will, in the cure of this complaint, acknowledge no superior in this country, or even in the world. Come, then, all you who are afflicted, come to the Old Stand, where you will in a short time be made to rejoice in perfect health.

SYPHILITIC AND SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS,—such as Ulcers and Caries of the throat and nose, Running Sores on the legs and arms, Hard Scabs and Scaly Eruptions on the head, back, &c., pains in the bones and joints, and all other forms of venereal diseases—are made to yield and entirely disappear under Drs. C. & H.'s improved and thoroughly eradicating course of treatment.

The primary or first symptoms of disease, whether a simple running, or small pistules, cancers, or ulcers, are cured in a very few days, if immediate application is made to Drs. C. & H.

13 ENDICOTT STREET, BOSTON. 13

Strangers should be particular in the selection of a physician, lest they be deceived by false advertisements.

Ladies troubled with irregularity, weakness, whites, and other complaints peculiar to the female system, will find a speedy cure by calling as above. No mercury used, and no charge for advice. The afflicted are invited to give us a call.

Boston, April 20, 1864.—1 yr.

25 YEARS' EXPERIENCE enables DRS. CARSWELL & HUNTER to cure any diseases of a private nature in a shorter space of time and for a smaller amount of money than any other doctors in this country, and they also treat all female complaints with perfect success, and on the most satisfactory terms. Patients furnished with board if desired. Please give us a call at our office, No. 13 Endicott St., Boston, Mass.
Boston, April 20, 1864.—1 yr.

Chickering & Sons' Piano-Fortes.
Hallett & Cumston's Piano-Fortes.
Hallett & Davis's Piano-Fortes.

We select our Piano-Fortes from the above firms and warrant them to give perfect satisfaction. Our terms are reasonable, and all persons in the city and neighboring towns can be accommodated by calling at 76 Federal street.

FOR SALE—Second-hand Piano-Fortes,—Chickering's and others.
ap 29 ANN R. BRAY.

EGG BEATERS.

THE Revolving Egg Beater, at
S C & E A SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

SUMMER ARRA
LYNN & BO
BY OMNIBUS & H
W. F. BURN

Line of Omnibuses will leave
Omnibus Office, No. 5 Allen's
vers, passing down Main Street,
Street, to Lynn, daily—Sunday
Leave South Danvers at 7.30
and 4 P. M.
Leave Lynn (Horse Car Depot
A. M., 2.40 and 6.40 P. M.
Horse Cars leaving the office
[illegible]
buses at Lynn, at the above
passengers to South Danvers.
Tickets to Lynn,
Through to Boston,

Gravesend, Woodend
Depot Rou

ON and after Monday, Nov 2,
route, an Omnibus will leave Lynn, to connect with the times daily—Sundays excepte
Gravesend and Woodend, to the
and Horse Railroad Station, c
Broad Streets, leaving South D
necting with the 7.25 steam car (connecting with the 11.10 train ing with the 4.50 train); and re
from the Spring Street Station
pot, at 8 A M, and 1 and 6 P M.
Fare from S. Danvers to Bosto
Through Tickets to and from
the Drivers and Conductors.

South Danvers, Sale
Route.

THE subscriber having purc
the Omnibus line
Lynn, would announce that it
Stage Office, No. 5 Allen's Build
for Salem, at 7 30 A M, and 3
Stage Office in Central St. Sal
3 30 P M for Lynn. Returning
A M and 5 P M; and Salem for
A M, and 6 15 P M.
Passengers between South Da
be called for by leaving orders a [illegible]
is given at the office.
EXPRESS BUS
Between South Danvers and
ed to, on reasonable terms.
Extra Coaches furnished at sh
W. F.
South Danvers, April 20, 1864.

GROUT & MU
SOUTH DANVERS
RAILROAD E

Express leaves South Danvers
Freight
Express leaves Boston at Freight
OFFICE at FREIGHT
Danvers Square
Express Office in Boston, 8
Freight Office, 48
Particular attention paid
niture, collecting Bills, Note
Small favors thankfully
South Danvers, August 26—tf

MARSHA
DANVERS, SO. DANV
EXPRES
Leave DANVERS (daily) at 9
SALEM at 1 P. M.
OFFICES
In Danvers—At E B Wait's and
Danvers port—Richards' and
In So. Danvers—Francis Dane &
street.
In Salem—No 7 Washington stree
17 Derby Square.
All business promptly and faith
[illegible]
write their orders.
Packages left at the office
"Marshall's Express"
Being connected with [illegible]
decl8-tf

WEBBE
South Danvers & Salem

WILL leave South Danvers at
11 and 3 P M.
Leave Salem at 9.45 A M, 12 M
Slates will be found at South D
Office, and at Blake & Holman's
ment, and in Salem at the Coach
Street, and at E P & J W Robert's
Washington Streets.
Any Freight or Business entru will have prompt attention
lic patronage is solicited.

Important to the

DR. DOW continues to be consu
No. 7 and 9 Endicott street, Bo cases of
PRIVATE OR DELICAT
[illegible]
GONORRHŒA AND S
[illegible]
SEMINAL WEAKN
[illegible]

CAUTION
TO FEMALES IN DELICAT
DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeo
[illegible]

CERTAIN CU
IN ALL CASES, OR NO CHA
[illegible]
April 20, 1864.—ly.

Ann R. Bray, 76 Fed
HAS a full Stock of Black
[illegible]
Muslin Delaines in Spring colors,

South Danvers Wizard.

L. V. SOUTH DANVERS, MASS., WEDNESDAY, MAY 25, 1864. NO. 21.

OUTH DANVERS WIZARD
every WEDNESDAY, at Allen's Buildanvers Square.
wo Dollars a year.
ENTS inserted at reasonable rates.

HARLES D. HOWARD,
OR AND PROPRIETOR.

NILES, Advertising Agent,
y's Building, Court Street, Boston, is or that city, and is authorized to re-isements and subscriptions for us at ates.

ULATIONS OF THE D OF HEALTH
—OF THE—
OF SOUTH DANVERS.

Adopted April 12, 1864.

That all dirt, saw-dust, cinders, air, shreds, manure, oyster and lob-waste water, or any animal or vege-ance, rubbish, or filth of any kind, e, ware-house, cellar, yard, or other h the Board of Health shall deem y for the health of the town to be all be carried away therefrom, by e expense of the owner or occupant use, or other place where the same und, and shall be removed to such ll be directed, within four hours e in writing to that effect, given by f Health.

That all slaughter-houses or places als are slaughtered, shall be so removing the offal, and all decay-matter, as to be free from all offento residents in the vicinity, and to duals travelling by any such place als are slaughtered.

That no obstructions, such as posts,
other collectors of decaying animal e matters, shall be placed in any of of the town, or in Wallis Pond,— privy be erected or continued ever or so situated on the margin therefilth shall pass into them, and that or vegetable matters, or whatever the waters, be thrown or allowed e same, excepting by special permit of Health.

That, no wagon, cart or vehicle, in t soil, hides or other matter, in a emit fetid and offensive effluvia nveyed through any of the streets, r within forty rods of any dwelling l house, or other public building in shall be permitted to stand more inutes, within forty rods of the except it be at the place or places ad is received or deposited.

. SHACKLEY,
S. F. BACHELDER, } Board
PH POOR, } of
PHILLIPS, } Health.
S. E. BROWN,
nvers, April 20, 1864. 6w

ING STYLES
OF
1864.
BOISE & CO.,
anufacturers and Dealers
IN OTHING,
tion to their Large and Fashionable rising Medium, Fine and Sudes, of our own manufacture, some fully equal to the best Custom e or Retail purchasers will find it enefit to examine our Stock before also a large and fashionable stock GOODS, consisting of the most terns of English, French, German n
S, ASSIMERES
DOESKINS, and
VESTINGS,
been selected with great care in rk and Boston markets.
M CLOTHING made to order styles at short notice.
ULAR ATTENTION GIVEN TO
nd Navy Uniforms.
nen's Furnishing Goods
F EVERY DESCRIPTION.
. BOISE & CO.,
ashington Street, Boston.
—3m.

NO FORTES.
I HAVE those splendid Extra-
Sized Seven Octave Piano
Fortes, with full Iron Frame,
Bass, Serpentine Bottom, so much their beautiful finish, and deep with Pearl and Ivory Keys, and of Extra Small Size Six to Six, taves—for sale at the very lowest ve Piano Fortes and Melodeons to tend to Tuning in the Best Man-tach the Tremolo Orchestrian to orte; select Piano Fortes or Meloany Manufactory in New York without charge—and also make
, to correspond with any style of d warrant them in every par-
INTIRE, General Agent.
S ESSEX STREET, SALEM,
. 4—6m. (Up Stairs.)

S. E. MACKINTIRE.
TEACHER ON
O FORTE
ENCE,—22 Holton Street,
South Danvers.

ANN R. BRAY,
No. 76 Federal Street, Salem.

WE have received many new and desirable styles of

Spring and Summer Goods,

which will give our customers and friends a full stock to select their goods from.

We have a full assortment of Organdies; Jaconets—white and colored grounds; Mozambique, Challies, Rich Fancy Ginghams Bright colors Tartan Plaid—French Bareges; French Cambrics for Ladies and Children; French Plaids—suitable for Summer wear;

—We have a full line of—

Alpaccas, choice shades; Black do; Black Silks.

MORRIS'
RESTAURANT,
18 and 20 Derby Square, Salem.

Oysters, Clams, Steak, Poultry, Game, Fish, &c., &c., cooked to order.

Pickled Oysters, Lobsters and Clams.

Salem, July 22, 1863. tf

FURNITURE.

Having taken Rooms over M. C. REYNOLDS & Co's Store, I shall keep constantly on hand a large stock of

NEW AND SECOND-HAND FURNITURE,

BEDDING, COUNTING-ROOM DESKS, &c., &c.,

which I will sell cheap for CASH.

☞ All kinds of FURNITURE and BEDDING wanted—for which the highest Cash price will be paid.

P. J. HYNES, 18 FRONT-ST.

Salem, April 6, 1864—1y

Salem and Danvers Aqueduct Co'y.

ALL persons using the water of the Salem and South Danvers Aqueduct are hereby notified that the water rents, for the six months ending April 1, 1864, are now due, and that they are required to pay the same, at the office of the Company, No. 2 Sewall street, on or before the 1st day of May next. Should the bills remain unpaid for thirty days, the water will be stopped, in conformity to the regulations of the Company.

Office hours, from 9 to 1 o'clock, and from 2 to 6.

Per order of the Directors,
Salem, April 1. WM. JELLY, Collector.

PIN WORMS. MRS. OSBORN'S Universal Worm Powders are the only sure cure ever offered to the public. They are warranted in every case; relief within 24 hrs. 25 cts. per box. Sold by all druggists

For sale by D. P. GROSVENOR, Jr., 33 Main St., South Danvers. jan 27

Valuable Real Estate for Sale.

THE HOUSE AND LAND situate on Washington street in South Danvers, formerly owned by Sidney C. Bancroft, bounded Northerly on Washington street, and Easterly on Wyman's lane. There is a large store connected with the house. The house is in good repair and suitable for several tenements.

Also, another lot of Land, upon which is a large and convenient Barn, situate on Washington street and bounded northerly on same, and westerly by a private way.

For terms apply to C. SEWALL,
March 2—3 ms 214 Essex street, Salem.

SPECTACLES!

H. F. SKERRY wishes to call special attention to his stock of

Spectacles and Eye Glasses,

in Gold—Silver—Rubber—Steel and Horn frames, of which he keeps constantly on hand a very large assortment, embracing every style and quality,

—ALSO—

Opera Glasaes, Microscopes, &c.

Glasses re-set, and Spectacles repaired.

In Store, our usual assortment of Silver and Plated Ware, and Jewelry.

No. 180 Essex Street, Salem.

H. F. SKERRY.

Feb. 24—tf.

R. W. WILKINSON,
DEALER IN
Newspapers, Periodicals, and Stationery of every Description.

FOREIGN and DOMESTIC FRUITS, consisting of Oranges, Lemons, Dates, Figs, Prunes, &c., &c.

Sauces, Pickles and Preserves; Castana, Naples and English Walnuts; Hard, Soft and Paper-shelled Almonds; choice brands of Tobacco and Cigars; also a general assortment of Confectionery of every description.

Also a large and well selected stock of Toys, suitable for children and the Holiday Gifts.

Ice Cream furnished to parties at short notice and in quantities to suit. Wedding Cake and every variety of nice cake furnished to parties or families.

STORE—WARREN BANK BUILDING.

South Danvers, Nov'r 11, 1863.

HOUSEKEEPERS, ATTENTION!
JACKSON'S
KITCHEN FURNISHING ROOMS,

Under MECHANIC HALL, Salem.

Parties about commencing House-Keeping will find this the only place in Salem where a complete assortment of House-keeping articles can be found. Dec 9—6w

ANN R. BRAY, 76 Federal Street.

IN order to keep our assortment good, we are constantly adding New Styles of DRESS GOODS as they come into the market.

☞ Ladies coming into the city will call at 76 Federal Street. apr 27

TO LET.

HOUSE on Foster Street, belonging to the estate of the late Benjamin Goodridge. For terms apply at the house.

JAMES L. GOODRIDGE, Adm'r.
April 20—tf

PAPER
HANGINGS

SPRING STYLES
Paper Hangings!

We have just received our new styles for the Spring trade, of

ROOM PAPERS and BORDERS,

To which we invite the Public to examine. In variety of styles and quality, they have never been surpassed. Having been made expressly for our sales, great care has been taken to have the best quality of stock and the greatest variety of patterns the market affords.

BORDERS AND DECORATIONS,

in imitation of Wood's, Marbles and Stucco.

Fireboard Prints;
Cloth and Paper Shades;
Curtain Fixtures;
Cord and Tassels;

And every variety of goods usually found in a first class Book and Paper Store, and at a fair advance from cost.

H. P. IVES,
282 Essex, and 36 Washington Sts.,
(OLD STAND OF W. & S. B. IVES,)
March 23—2ms. SALEM.

CARRIAGES
OF ALL KINDS
REPAIRED AND PAINTED
—BY—
JOHN C. BLANEY,
Rear of Lowell Depot, Central St.,
So. Danvers, April 6, 1864.

MANUAL FENOLLOSA
TEACHER
OF THE
Violin, Piano and Singing,
Music Rooms, No. 7 Central Street,
SALEM, MASS.

BLENDERS,

GRAINING Brushes, Camels' Hair Brushes, and Pencils of all kinds—at
may 11 S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS.

From the army hospital—the bloody battle-field—the mansion of the rich and humble abode of the poor—from the office and the sacred desk—from the mountain top, distant valleys and far-off islands of the ocean—from every nook and corner of the civilized world—is pouring in the evidence of the astonishing effects of DRAKE'S PLANTATION BITTERS. Thousands upon thousands of letters like the following may be seen at our office.

REEDSBURY, WIS., Sept. 16, 1863.

"* * * I have been in the army hospitals for fourteen months—speechless and nearly dead. At Alton, Ill. they gave me a bottle of Plantation Bitters. * * * Three bottles restored my speech and cured me. * * *

C. A. FLAUTE."

SOUTH WARSAW, O. July 28, 1863.

* * * One young man, who had been sick and not out of the house for two years with Scrofula and Erysipelas, after paying the doctors over $150 without benefit, has been cured by ten bottles of your Bitters.

EDWARD WOUNALL.

The following is from the Manager of the Union Home School for the Children of Volunteers:

HAVEMEYER MANSION, FIFTY-SEVENTH ST., }
New York, August 2, 1863. }

"DR. DRAKE: Your wonderful Plantation Bitters have been given to some of our little children suffering from weakness and weak lungs with most happy effect. One little girl, in particular, with pains in her head, loss of appetite, and daily wasting consumption, on whom all medical skill had been exhausted, has been entirely restored. We commenced with but a teaspoonful of Bitters a day. Her appetite and strength rapidly increased, and she is now well * * *

Respectfully, MRS. O. M. DEVOE."

"* * * I owe much to you, for I verily believe the Plantation Bitters have saved my life.

REV. W. H. WAGGONER, Madrid, N. Y."

"* * * Thou wilt send me two bottles more of thy Plantation Bitters. My wife has been greatly benefited by their use.

Thy friend, ASA CURRIN, Philadelphia, Pa."

"* * * I have been a great sufferer from Dyspepsia, and had to abandon preaching. * * * The Plantation Bitters have cured me.

REV. J. S. CATHORN, Rochester, N. Y."

"* * * Send us twenty-four dozen more of your Plantation Bitters, the popularity of which are daily increasing with the guests of our house.

SYKES, CHADWICK & CO.,
Proprietors Willard's Hotel, Washington, D. C.

"* * * I have given the Plantation Bitters to hundreds of our disabled soldiers with the most astonishing effect.

G. W. D. ANDREWS,
Superintendent Soldiers' Home, Cincinnati, O."

"* * * The Plantation Bitters have cured me of liver complaint, of which I was laid up prostrate and had to abandon my Business.

H. B. KINGSLEY, Cleveland, O."

"* * * The Plantation Bitters have cured me of a derangement of the kidneys and urinary organs that has distressed me for years. It acts like a charm.

C. C. MOORE, 254 Broadway, N. Y."

&c. &c. &c. &c.

The Plantation Bitters make the weak strong, the languid brilliant, and are exhausted nature's great restorer. They are composed of the celebrated Calisaya Bark, Wintergreen, Sassafras, Roots, Herbs, &c., all preserved in perfectly pure St. Croix Rum.

S.—T.—1860—X.

Persons of sedentary habits troubled with weakness, lassitude, palpitation of the heart, lack of appetite, distress after eating, torpid liver, constipation, &c. deserve to suffer if they will not try them.

They are recommended by the highest medical authorities, and are warranted to produce an immediate beneficial effect. They are exceedingly agreeable, perfectly pure, and harmless.

NOTICE.—Any person pretending to sell Plantation Bitters in bulk or by the gallon is a swindler and impostor. It is put up only in our patent log cabin bottle. Beware of bottles refilled with imitation deleterous stuff, for which several persons are already in prison. See that every bottle has our private United States Stamp over the cork unmutilated, and signature on steel plate side label.

Sold by respectable dealers throughout the habitable globe.

P. H. DRAKE & CO.
202 Broadway, N. Y.

Mch 16—1 yr

Selected.

BATTLES OF SPOTTSYLVANIA.

ACCOUNT BY "CARLETON."

TUESDAY'S OPERATIONS.

It became evident on Tuesday morning that General Lee had chosen Spottsylvania as a place for a trial of strength. Preparations were accordingly made for the work. The great drawback to Gen. Grant was his wounded.—He decided to send them to Fredericksburg. All who could walk were started on foot.—Those who could not walk, but who did not need ambulances, were placed in empty wagons. The long, sad procession departed, or rather began to depart, to make room for the other thousands soon to take their places in the hospitals. It was a sad sight. It made me sick and weary of war, and yet a truer view is that which looks at the sin and iniquity which causes all this suffering, pain and sorrow.—Trains of supplies not immediately needed were sent to the rear and ammunition trains were ordered up.

At daybreak the cannonade commenced, our own batteries coming first into play. The batteries attached the 2d corps, near Hart farm and on the Piney Church road were very active. The rebel batteries at first treated the demonstration with silent indifference, but as continual teazing rouses a wild beast from slumber, so at length they replied. The air was calm and the reverberation rolled far away over the forests. There was no movement of troops to the front, but there was change of position all along the line. Brigades which had been in the front the day before were placed in the second line, and those which had a little respite from fighting were thrown to the front. Gen. Grant rode along the lines, made an inspection of the situation, and issued orders for a general attack at five o'clock in the afternoon. At noon our batteries slackened fire, but the rebels now took the initiative.

SPOTTSYLVANIA.

The place is old, seedy, ruined long ago, like every other Southern town. It was once a centre—a place for trade, political meetings and the like. The Catharpen road runs along Catharpen creek toward Orange Court House; the road to Fredericksburg is the most traveled of all; the others are mere county roads with little travel in the best of times. As has already been said, the country is undulating, half wilderness and half cleared land. The roads meet on elavated ground, commanding the valley of the Po river.

There is nothing at Spottsylvania worthy of contention—no mountain pass or deep running river—but Gen. Grant is on his way to Richmond. Lee has determined to oppose him at every step. Like Apollyon in Bunyan's Pilgrim, the adversary has come out to meet him on the spot.

Lee has the advantage of position, and is able to concentrate his forces.

THE BATTLE.

It was about 1 o'clock when Longstreet began to press Hancock. Birney, on the extreme right, was first engaged. It was a hot fire, lasting a half hour, but he held his ground.—The artillery, which had been silent a little while, recommenced their uproar, and at 2 o'clock it was a continuous discharge of field-pieces. The 20th Massachusetts were thrown out as skirmishers on the right, and performed their part without flinching.

Having made no impression on Birney's division, the attack was abandoned there, and the rebels tried to pry open the joint between the 2d and 5th corps, but Hancock deflected a portion of Gibbons' command toward the left, while Warren brought up a brigade toward his right, and thus the joint was made exceedingly strong. It had been weakened by advancing Barlow's division across the creek. The rebel columns came in mass. After a little skirmishing Hancock withdrew Barlow and made his corps more compact. The withdrawal of Barlow was a sign to faint-hearted ones that the day was going against us.

During the lull in the strife I rode back to the Second Corps hospitals to see the wounded.

"How goes it boys?" was the question.

"All right," said one.

"Pretty rough," said another.

"They niver will get through the Second Corps," said a Hibernian.

The lull had become a storm. How fearfully rolled the musketry. It is utterly useless to attempt description or comparison. It was volley after volley, surge after surge, roll after roll!

Maurice Collins of the 12th Massachusetts was brought in with an ugly wound through his shoulder. He was a Catholic, and the priest was showing him the crucifix.

"Will it be mortal?" he asked.

"Perhaps not, if you lie still and keep quiet; but you may have to lose your arm."

"Well, I am willing to give an arm to my country," was the reply of one who, though born in the ever green isle, while loving the Harp and Shamrock, adores the Stars and Stripes of his adopted country.

Leaving the hospital, and galloping toward the front, I met hundreds of men working their way to the rear—an unmistakable sign that there is hot work in front, and that there is some doubt as to what will be the result.

The contest went on with but little cessation on the right, and gradually extended toward the left; but the main attack of the rebels was on the Second Corps, which stood like a wall of adamant.

The attack of Longstreet upon the 2d Corps at Gettysburg had more of desperation in it than this, but that was an action of fifteen minutes, while this was one of hours—hours of hard, persistent fighting of sanguinary character. The attack of Longstreet here, as at Gettysburg, utterly failed. Great fame and credit is due to the 2d Corps. It never has faltered, and its commander has proved himself to be one of the ablest Generals of the war.

It would be unfair, however, to give all credit to the 2d Corps; the 5th and a portion of the 6th were engaged in this struggle.

This is a tame description and incomplete. It would require many pages if I were to give a narrative of the action of regiments—so vast is the army. And how futile all attempts at description! Even now, I seem to hear, although miles from the scene of strife, the constant rattle and roar of musketry; the cannonade; the deep reverberations; the cheers; the shouts; the trampling of horses; the rumbling of artillery; the sharp ringing of the musket shot; the explosion of shells, and the loud whirring of the fragments. It goes on hour after hour. The sad train of men with stretchers bearing away the wounded increases its numbers. The ranks are thinning out, but yet the true and faithful ones face without flinching the deadly storm. They stand as firm as a rock for their country. O you who read these lines in your happy homes, know but little of war! You cannot comprehend till you have stood in the ranks, or at least till you have been a near observer, how much you owe to the brave men who for six consecutive days have stood upon the battle-field fighting for your liberty. You cannot thank them enough; you cannot do too much for them. The unflinching heroism of the 2d Corps on Tuesday last will be forever memorable in history.

While this fierce contest was going on a body of rebels marched out on the Catharpen road and came down upon the rear of the second corps, probably not to attack the troops, but to cut out the trains which were parked in the rear. Gen. Grant's and Gen. Meade's headquarters were on the Piney Grove road. A signal officer who had been stationed on the right flank came in upon the gallop, evidently much excited. "You must pack up quick," he shouted. Preparations had already been made for a removal of headquarters nearer to the centre, and in a few moments the trains were in motion. Orders were sent to the rear to be ready for any emergency. Two or three batteries went out and took position, but that was all that came of the movement. The rebels gained nothing for their trouble.

THE ADVANCE OF THE LEFT.

Orders had been issued for the advance of the ninth corps promptly at 5 o'clock, but the exceeding fierceness of the struggle on the right, the necessity of sending divisions of the sixth to sustain the second, delayed the advance. It was half-past 6 before the ninth began its movement upon the enemy.

The 6th and 5th moved at the same time. What a grand movement it was! A line four miles long; not a continuous line, but brigade after brigade of men—dark masses, now in open field, now lost to sight in the forest; now emerging into view and opening fire upon the foe. The movement was like the swinging of a huge folding door, the pivot hinge being near the Piney Grove road, and the folding hinge between that and the Fredericksburg road.

Hill's corps, in front of Burnside, evidently was not prepared for the advance. The column of the 9th pushed him back steadily, halting at times to get new foothold, but still pushing, till the rebel lines were driven back to the village. The fighting was not so severe on the left as on the right, but the results were exceedingly gratifying. The rebel lines, which had been in the form of a crescent, were hammered into a horse shoe. It was a glorious movement, that of the 9th. I can only wish that a little extra force had been thrown in. Then the rebel right would have been completely turned, and the whole force put to rout. I do not write it as a criticism, but merely notice it to show how near Burnside came toward giving the finishing stroke. It was glorious as it was. He advanced close to the forks of the roads and the cluster of houses which make the town. The rebels tried again and again to recover the ground which they had lost; but all their efforts were in vain. The 9th, which has been tried often and never found wanting, maintained its position through the night.

THE SIXTH CORPS.

Ewell's position in the centre in front of the 5th and 6th was very strong. The rebel line of skirmishers were in a belt of woods, behind which, in advantageous positions, were rifle pits, abattis and earthworks, with several batteries. Gen. Hunt, commanding the artillery of the army, made a thorough inspection of the ground, and brought several batteries into position to rain shells upon the enemy's works as the line advanced. Among the batteries was McCartney's Massachusetts. An officer of a Vermont regiment praised its action in high terms.

The Sixth was commanded by Wright after the death of Sedgwick. The first division was commanded by Col. Upton; the second by Wheaton, and the third by Ricketts. In the fourth brigade of Wheaton's division there is the 2d Rhode Island, 7th, 10th and 37th Massachusetts. The second brigade is of Green Mountain boys, the 2d, 3d, 4th, 5th and 6th Vermont regiments.

The line did not have to move far before it come upon the enemy—their old enemy which they had met on the hills at Gettysburg.

It was past 7 o'clock. There was a few minutes of terrible fighting, in fierceness and intensity surpassing even that of Friday afternoon at Gettysburg. When the uproar was wildest there was a cheer—a shout, sharper and louder than the din of arms. It was not the savage cry of the enemy, but a buoyant, thrilling shout. Away they went into the storm over the intervening space, with bayonets firmly set, Vermont leading the charge, plunging into Dale's brigade of Rhodes' division and leading it captive from the field. Ewell poured in his men to cover his works, but the 2d Vermont was in possession and were determined not to give them up. Far in advance of all the line, lay that regiment, pouring its fire upon the enemy. They were so far ahead that Gen. Wright feared to have them remain through the night. He was about to withdraw them. "We don't want to go back. Give us rations and ammunition and we will hold it six months," said the soldiers.

Gen. Wright rode to Gen. Grant. "What shall I do?" he asked.

"Pile in the men and hold it," was the reply. Gen. Wright went back, but meanwhile by some means they had been ordered to return.

That charge! It will be forever memorable. Even now I seem to hear that shout, ringing like a trumpet blast above the thunders of the cannonade, and the crashing of fifty thousand muskets. It was Vermont which took a rebel brigade prisoners of war in the last charge of Longstreet at Gettysburg. Then they were on the defensive, and now it is Vermont again, on the offensive, cuts out a second brigade. Glorious always and forever.

THE 5TH CORPS.

I have already spoken of the part which the 5th corps performed in connection with the 2d in the early part of the afternoon. It was in once more. Robinson's, Cutler's and Crawford's divisions—all were engaged. Cutler, commanding the 4th division since Wadsworth's death, was in the thickest of the fight. While the battle was raging, Gen. Rice, commanding the 2d brigade of the 4th division, was lying in the hospital wounded. The surgeon had laid down his knife after amputating the shattered limb. The sufferer could hear the tide of battle—the constant rolls, like waves upon the shore. His eyes were closing to the scenes of earth. He was nearing that land which is without a shore. His pain was intense.

"Turn me over," he said to the surgeon and attendants.

"Which way will you lie?"

"Let me lie with my face toward the enemy!"

They were his last words. And with them I close the narrative of the operations of the day—of one of the great battles of the war. With his face toward the enemy! He and his fellow soldiers met them upon the gory field—thousands of them lying upon the spot which is forever their resting place. Let this be the inscription upon the mausoleum erected to their memory—"They fell with their faces toward the enemy!"

BABIES. — A correspondent of the Hingham Journal, evidently a dried up, crusty old bachellor, thus gives his experience while riding in a railroad train:

"We appreciate babies, we do, but some of them we appreciate best when at the greatest remove from us, for 'tis then that

"Distance lends enchantment, &c."

You may desire the reason why we have ventured upon this interesting subject. Well, to explain. We lately had occasion to visit the central part of the State, and, one morning, early, might have been seen "frantically rushing" toward the depot, in order to be in season for the 7.15 train for Worcester. Throwing ourself into a car and monopolizing a vacant seat, commenced taking a "bird's eye view" of our fellow travellers. "Shades of Pompeii," just look at the babies. There were babies in front of us, in the rear of us, on either side of us, and we naturally arrived at the conclusion that all the babies in Boston were on a time.—The train started, and so did the babies. One chubby juvenile in front of us broke loose on a shrill treble, while a pale, sickly-looking "that's what the matter," in the arms of a buxom Celtic lass, puckered up its thin lips and joined in with a plaintive alto. Soon from the rear of the car came a double extra fortissimo response, while several infantiles in front "stretched out" on an octave. Then we had the national airs to perfection, interspersed with occasional solos, such as "Musn't ky, darlin'," "Muzzer's 'ittle pet, so he was," "Little sugar ridey in carsy parsy," "Baby see doggy poggy wag his taily." We folded up the Herald, thrust it into our pocket, leaned back in our seat, and exclaimed, with some poet,

"Tell me, ye winged winds,
Know ye some far off dell,
Some "holler" in the ground,
Where babies never yell,
And cradles are not found?
The loud wind blew the rain into my face,
And snickered as it answered, "Nary place."

ABOUT BARBERS.—What an old trade it is, or, pardon, is it not a profession? What memories cluster around the name of our barber! We bare our throats to his keen blade, submit to be ruthlessly rumpled and vigorously washed remaining quiescent under personal indignities of every sort. Our barber does that which would provoke summary vengeance on any other man. He pulls our hair and tweaks our nose; but you may wince as the steel scrapes your jugular, remonstrate as it glides over your chin, and in either case rejoice in a severed vein or gashed face.

The barber holds your fate in his hands; he stands calmly above you in the serene majesty of power, and—you see it in his eyes—he is not the man to be trifled with. You wriggle in your chair, open your mouth to speak, and straightway it is filled with lather, and your tormentor scrapes away as quietly as ever. The only compensation is the final bay rum and soothing manipulation, the damp towel is whipped off from your neck, the chair up-tilted, and you are left free, with smarting face, smooth hair, but ruffled temper.

☞ The law gives the right of way to foot passengers—any man, woman, or child desiring to cross a street can compel all vehicles to stop for the purpose.

☞ No man is free who can not command himself.

ANCIENT BUILDINGS IN BOSTON.—The destruction of the antiquated building at the corner of Washington and Water streets, excites considerable attention among the older denizens of the city. Like the "Old Feather Store," and the ancient wooden structure which stood until last summer, opposite the head of Milk street, it has been one of the antiquities of the city. As one of the few remaining visible links connecting the present with colonial times, a brief record of its history deserves a place in our columns.

This building was erected in 1715–16, and is consequently one hundred and forty-eight years old. It was built by one Thomas Debuque or Debuke, a butcher, and occupied by him both as shop and residence. It was transferred by his heirs, in 1731, to James Bowdoin, for £1,660 in paper money, and resold by the latter in 1744 for £650, lawful money, an important distinction, but one which has now ceased to exist with us.

The second purchaser of this estate was Thomas Fleet, a printer, who had carried on his business in the building since its purchase by Mr. Bowdoin. He occupied the upper story as a printing office, let the front chamber as an auction room, the shop as a book store, and lived with his family in the remainder of the house.

Fleet was an eminent printer, and from his establishment for forty-four years was issued a weekly newspaper, first styled "The Rehearsal," and after August, 1765, "The Boston Evening Post." In 1775 it was suppressed by General Howe for disloyalty, the "crown" having been treasonably stricken from the sign of the establishment, which previously had been known as the "Heart and Crown." Thomas Fleet had died in 1758, and the Post was at the time of its discontinuance in the hands of his sons, Thomas and John Fleet.—The estate still remains in the possession of descendants of the latter.

BATTLE WITH A WILD GOOSE.—During the late storm, many wild geese and other birds flew north, and in consequence of the strong east wind, their flight has been near the sea and from four to ten rods high. Last Fast Day, Master John Morse, a lad fifteen years of age, visited Squantum with his double barrelled gun; and after rambling about the rocks and hills of that famous locality, at about two o'clock went on to Moon Island Bar, and there, in a bunch of sea-weed, waited for sport. He discovered in the distance a flock of about twenty geese approaching his stand. They came directly over him, only about ten rods high. With one barrel he killed one dead, and with the other he winged a second, which fell in the water. Young Morse took to his boat, and compelled the bird to make the shore, where he hid behind a bunch of sea-weed. The young sportsman was soon on shore, and supposed himself right on the "goose," but when he attempted to seize his prize, the goose was upon his legs and gave battle in a stand-up fight. He bit the lad once or twice, drawing the first blood. The boy then left him, and seizing his gun, renewed the fight. The goose, then, in turn, ran for the water; but before reaching it, a second shot stopped the race, and the noble bird yielded the battle and its life. It proved to be a splendid gander, weighing about nine pounds—the two birds weighing about sixteen pounds. The old sportsmen at Squantum received the lad with a kind greeting, and at an early hour he returned with his game to his home, near Meeting House hill.—Propeller.

MATCHES.—By the new Internal Revenue Bill, matches are to be taxed one cent per box. This will be a productive source of revenue without doubt, and will be paid in sums so small that the burden will hardly be felt. To give our readers an idea of the magnitude of the business of match-making, we will give a few statistics of one of the manufacturers of this indispensible article: Mr. Carleton, of Boston, (formerly of South Danvers) has three factories, in which he consumes twenty cords of wood and five hundred pounds of brimstone per day. He employs two hundred girls and a number of men, (girls cannot make matches without the co-operation of men,) and on his business alone the Government will receive a revenue of $1,440 per day. At present he is selling his matches at one-third of a cent per box or bunch, so that the tax will amount to three hundred per cent. more than the cost of the article to retailers. There are many other large manufacturers of matches in Massachusetts and New England, and many others still in other parts of the country.

☞ Misfits are sometimes lucky. The bandits in Mexico recently caught a Colonel. He was in plain clothes and denied his identity.—In his trunk was a splendid uniform, but he declared it belonged to somebody else. He was made to try it on, and, although it was really made for him, the tailor had so blundered that the coat was found to be much too large, and the bandits accepted the Colonel's word and neglected to shoot him as they had intended if he had been proved to be of the military persuasion.

☞ When Napoleon invaded Prussia, the German women threw their diamonds into the public treasury, and substituted iron filagree work, much of which is preserved to this day as the relics of their patriotism.

COMFORT FOR CROAKERS.—Our debt of $127,000,000 owed by our population of only eight millions and a half, in 1816, was totally extinguished in eighteen years.

NATIONAL BANKS.—The total number of National Banks established to the 30th of April, was 403; amount of capital, $54,304,200.

The Wizard.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 25, 1864.

STATE CONVENTION.

At the State Convention of the Republican party, in Boston, last Thursday—S. H. Phillips, of Salem, presiding—John A. Andrew, A. H. Bullock, William Claflin and James A. Robinson were chosen delegates at large to the Union Convention to be held in Baltimore on the 7th of next month.

Mr. Wendell Phillips was a member of the convention and made a speech against the re-nomination of Abraham Lincoln; and yet we infer from his language, that he is prepared to support Mr. Lincoln, if fairly nominated. We think this is the first time that Mr. Phillips has taken part in a political convention. And it is certainly one of the signs of the great time coming, to see such an unterrified radical lion lying down by the side of the conservative lambs. The lion has either moved or the lambs have. The truth is, they have almost met each other half way. The logic of events has moved them both; and future events will move them more. The time will come within the next three years when there will be but one party in the North on the slavery question—indeed when there will be no question at all on the subject of slavery.

FAMILY AFFLICTION.

Our attention has been called to a case of accumulated family affliction, resulting from the casualties of war, so marked in its hardships as to be worthy of public notice.

Mr. James Boynton of this town, an industrious and worthy citizen, has suffered as follows: At the late battles in Virginia his son, John W. Boynton, of the 5th Battery, was killed; his son-in-law, Major Gray, of the Maine 4th, was killed in the same campaign. He has another son, Leverett S., now in the service, having enlisted early in the war. And at the recent draft another son, James A., was conscripted; and although he was rejected last summer when previously drafted, he has this time passed the examination. He has still another son, formerly in the service, but now discharged for physical disability.

Politics.—The New Hampshire Legislature will meet on the 1st of June next. It will be a session of more than usual interest, from the fact that a United States Senator is to be elected, Mr. Hale's term expiring. Mr. Hale is a candidate for re-election. But as there are several candidates against him, his chances are small. He has been in Congress about 20 years. As an "opposition" member, he always held a leading and prominent position; but since his party have come into power, his position has been secondary. He is one of that class of statesmen whose talents shine brighter in the rough labors of a minority, than in the smooth service of the majority. The little financial operation of receiving $3000 for counsel fees in getting a prisoner released from the old Capitol Prison, caused a good deal of discussion in and out of Congress prejudicial to his popularity. But if Mr. Hale shall not be elected, some other good Republican will be, as the Democrats and Copperheads of the Old Granite State are "nowhere." Were betting in politics allowable, and we were compelled to bet, we should rather risk our money that Aaron H. Cragin, of Lebanon, will be the successor of John P. Hale in the next Congress.

The call for the Mass Convention, to be held at Cleaveland on the 31st instant, is addressed to those who uphold the Union and are for putting down the rebellion without putting down the States, and favor an amendment of the Constitution prohibiting slavery. There are 48 signers,—among them Lucius Robinson, John Colvin and John Cochrane.

Half Mast.—The flag on the Square last Thursday was at half mast in commemoration of Sergeant Shackley and Private Boynton, who have recently given up their lives for their country on the bloody field. The flags of the Everett and Essex Clubs were draped in mourning, as was also the one at Simonds' Hotel.

Missing.—Jas. W. Kelley, of South Danvers, and Thomas Kelley of Danversport, brothers and members of Co. A, 23d Mass. Regiment, are missing. The 23d is in Gen. Heckman's brigade, with Butler's forces, and was considerably cut up in the attack of the rebels on Monday of last week. It is thought the two Kelleys are prisoners.

Wounded.—Robert P. Bancroft, of South Danvers, a member of Andrew's Sharpshooters, had his collar bone broken in one of the late battles.

Lieut. Chas. W. Peasley, of the First Massachusetts Heavy Artillery (formerly 14th Infantry,) is reported wounded, also Geo. P. Ferguson, Co. D, in head, and James A. Getchell, Co. D, in back.

☞ Sermon and collection in behalf of the U. S. Christian Commission in the Old South next Sunday morning.

LIEUT. MOSES SHACKLEY.

The rejoicing of the past few weeks, on account of the progress of our arms in Virginia, have been tempered by sadness on account of the intelligence of the departure of one of our brave young men, who fell, with many others, in the great cause of the country. The subject of this notice was one of the earliest to devote himself to the cause; brave, earnest, chivalrous and ambitious, he quickly recommended himself to his superior officers for promotion. He sustained a high reputation for courage and capacity in all the severe conflicts in which his regiment was engaged, and always won the good will and esteem of the rank and file of the army. Once indeed he was placed partially under a cloud by the malignity or captiousness of others, and was reduced from his well-earned rank; but even then his patriotism and self-respect shone all the brighter for this mean attempt to injure his reputation. He immediately re-enlisted in a lower grade, determined still to fight for his country, and shame his calumniators. All honor to his memory and sympathy for those who are so suddenly bereaved. We append the following particulars of his brief but honorable military career.

First enlisted in the Salem Zouaves, 8th Regiment, for 3 months, and proved himself a good soldier at the commencement. Re-enlisted in the Mass. 19th, as wagoner, when the regiment was first formed. He soon left the wagons and went into the ranks, and nobly earned a Lieutenant's commission by his bravery, participating in the bloody encounters of Ball's Bluff, battles of the Peninsula, second Bull Run, Antietam, Fredericksburg, and finally at Gettysburg, where he particularly distinguished himself, as will be seen by the following mention of him in Adjutant General Schouler's late report:

"In the morning (July 3d,) we were placed in support of a battery at this point, the other regiments of the brigade lying in front, under the wall. Everything remained quiet until 1, P. M., when, at a given signal of a gun fired on our left, the enemy opened a most terrific cannonade on the batteries and troops in the centre of our line—a portion of which was held by this regiment. The firing continued one hour and forty minutes, and was the most terrific cannonading of the war; during which, Second Lieutenant Sherman S. Robinson was killed by a round shot, and several men killed and wounded. The battery behind which we lay was disabled during the first hour's firing, and its captain asked for volunteers from this regiment, to assist in working its guns. First Sergeant William A. McGinnis, of Company "K," Sergeants Cornelius Linnehan and Matthias Bixby, of Company "F," and twenty men were immediately furnished, and did excellent service. The conduct of Second Lieut. Moses Shackley, who insisted on joining the volunteers, was particularly gallant and brave, walking from piece to piece, encouraging and assisting the men."

He remained with his regiment some five months after the battle of Gettysburg, when, as has been already stated, he was reduced from his position, and he returned to his home. But it was not in him to remain inactive long. When the call for more troops was issued last winter, he joined the 59th Veteran Corps, and, under the gallant Burnside and Gould, he marched to new battles and victories. Safely fighting through the battles of the Wilderness, and the terrible conflict of Tuesday, he at last fell, mortally wounded, on Thursday, May 12th, at the battle of Spottsylvania, and died the next morning at the Camp Hospital, near which place he was buried side by side with that of Lieut. Morse of Somerville, who was killed in the same battle. Mr. Shackley was very young, being only 20 years and 11 months old, and is an only son of Moses A. Shackley, Esq., connected with the Provost Marshal's office in this district.

District Convention.—We have received a report of the Congressional District Convention, held in Salem, yesterday, but too late for insertion in full in this number. Stephen H. Phillips of Salem, and Dr. Y. G. Hurd of Amesbury, were chosen delegates, and Edwin Walden of Lynn, and Benj. H. Smith of Gloucester, substitutes.

Resolutions, offered by Hon. Eben S. Poor, endorsing the administration and urging the adoption of emancipation principles as the true basis of reconstruction, were received with enthusiasm and adopted almost unanimously.

☞ At the opening of Gen. Grant's military career at Fort Donelson, he sent a proposition to Gen. Buckner who had requested a cessation of hostilities after two days' fighting, in these words: "I propose to move immediately upon your works." We have had but few other propositions from him till now, when he makes another, after six days' fighting: "I propose," says he, "to fight it out on this line, if it takes all summer." Both of these proposals are very cool, but terribly determined.—N. Y. Times.

No Matter Which.—The rebels have a decided aversion to allowing that their generals have been killed by our troops, as we see their papers lay the death of Stonewall Jackson, Stuart, and Jenkins upon their own men. If they are satisfied with that method of doing business, it will make but little difference to us so long as the commanders are got rid of.

☞ A strange "occurrence occurred" at Troy the other day. Rev. Dr. Baldwin's congregation, said to be the largest Baptist Society in the Union, offered to increase their parson's salary $500, and he declined it!

THE LEGISLATIVE STRIKE.

Mr. Editor,—Much has been said in relation to the one hundred dollars additional pay which the members of the Legislature have recently voted themselves. Most people look upon it (or pretend they do) as being very wrong—as an attempt to rob the State Treasury of so much money without any just cause or reason;—and in some instances those who voted for the increase of pay have been very grossly slandered, and even libelled, for so doing. It really seems as if this is rather uncharitable; and it would appear as though we had sent a party of cut-throats and blacklegs to our Legislature instead of honest and sober men, from the way influential men speak of those members of the Legislature who voted for the increase of pay.

Now, would it not look a little better to presume our legislators respectable and honest men, and that they voted themselves the one hundred dollars additional pay because they thought they were justly entitled to it, than to charge them with dishonor too heartily?

If we will reflect for a moment, we shall see that the session of the Legislature, just closed, has been much longer than usual, to say nothing of the extra session of last autumn. Let us remember, too, that board is very high in Boston, being from eight to twelve dollars per week in respectable hotels; add to this their necessary incidental expenses, and we shall find that our legislators will have but very little left of the three hundred dollars which they receive from the State to compensate them for their loss of time. And while some of them are able to lose their time, yet many are too poor to be absent from their business five or six months without being fairly compensated for their loss of time. Every candid person can clearly see that three hundred dollars is not such a compensation as our legislators ought to receive for their services at the session just closed; it would leave them hardly one dollar per day after paying their necessary expenses. It is both just and proper that all our legislative and judicial officers should receive a fair compensation for their public services—and now, wherein is the injustice or dishonor in their voting to increase their pay, so as to, in part, compensate them for the loss they sustain by being absent from their business?

It is true that many members of the Legislature were opposed to any increase of pay; but so far as our knowledge extends, such as opposed the measure were wealthy men, and could afford to lose their time; but they ought to have considered that many others, were wholly dependent upon their business for a support. We dislike to hear honest and respectable men slandered without any cause, more especially by those who are not any too honest themselves. Let us remember to "first cast the beam out of our own eyes, that we may see more clearly how to cast the moat out of our brother's eye."

Caucus.—The caucus of the Republicans of South Danvers was held, agreeably to notice, at the Town Hall, last Tuesday evening. It was called to order by Francis Baker of the Town Committee. Eben S. Poor was chosen Chairman, and T. S. Trask, Secretary. The following named delegates were chosen:

To the State Convention—Henry Poor, George F. Osborne, Hiram Plumer, Geo. E. Lewis, Charles D. Howard, James E. T. Bartlett.

To the Congressional District Convention—Eben S. Poor, S. C. Bancroft, Alfred McKenzie, Daniel Woodbury, Joseph Poor, Isaac Hardy.

Fifty-Ninth Regiment.—The report that the 59th Mass. Regiment was badly cut up in the battle of the Wilderness, is untrue. It may relate to some other regiment, or be entirely without foundation, as are too many rumors from the battle-field. The 59th was in the battle and behaved admirably. It is a new regiment and had never fired a gun, till reaching the army after a hurried and fatiguing march it was at once ordered to the front, where it was under the heaviest fire without faltering, and lost sixty men. Col. Gould, after the fall of Gen. Stevenson, was in command of the brigade, and was sun struck and fever struck, so as scarcely to be able to stand, but he refused to be carried to the hospital and remains with his command on the field.

Maolis House.—This popular establishment at North Spring, Nahant, will be opened and ready for visitors next week. Mr. H. L. Fuller, the proprietor, has fitted up the house in the best manner, and visitors will find everything in apple-pie order and as neat as a new pin. Mr. Fuller has also leased the famous Maolis Gardens, the attractions of which have been much increased by liberal expenditures on the part of the owner of the estate, the late Frederick Tudor. There are few places where a day can be spent more pleasantly during the warm season than at the Maolis House and Gardens.—Lynn Reporter.

Enlarged.—Our neighbor, Mr. J. F. Almy, has essentially enlarged his store by having it made deeper. The back part is now very well lighted, and will be used exclusively, as a cloak and shawl department. It is pleasant to see this evidence of a prosperous business.—Gaz.

Mat-Ta-Po-Ny.—The four rivers in Virginia, Mat, Ta, Po and Ny, which have gained a place in history by the battles of the last week fought upon their banks, are four branches into which the Mattapony separates itself just below the line of Spottsylvania county.

☞ The Copperheads are crawling into their holes, waiting for news from rebel sources.

EDITORIAL ITEMS.

——Complaint is made that the operations on abandoned plantations in Mississippi are sadly interrupted by guerillas, and that, unless better protection is afforded to the workmen by the Government, farming operations will have to be discontinued. More than half the plantations have already been abandoned, and the lessees talk of claiming indemnity from the Government.

——We judge from accounts from the Southwest that, although the Mississippi is nominally "open," there is very great hazard in navigating it, except by armed boats. The guerillas and nomadic rebel troops improve every opportunity to harras, rob and destroy.

——Green pease are selling in New York city at $6 per bushel; tomatoes, $18 per bushel; apples, $5 per barrel.

——The bogus proclamation brought gold up to 184 1-2 in New York. This is about the highest point reached since the war began.

——The newspapers speak of the "fastidiousness" of General Lee in refusing to receive a flag of truce from General Meade, on the ground that General Grant is the commander. If General Lee is wrong in everything else, he is certainly right in this, for it is notorious that Gen. Grant is the real commander in the field. He is in the field and with Meade, and there can't be two commanders. It is either Grant or Meade. When Richmond is taken, we suspect that the country will award the chief honor to Grant.

——At the Methodist General Conference, lately held in Philadelphia, it was voted that the American flag be raised over the church during the sessions. On the second day the flag was raised by the Rev. Col. Moody, who delivered a patriotic speech on the occasion. The statistics of the church show a slight falling off of members, but an increase of 272 local preachers during the past year.

——"Success is a duty." We believe General Banks was the original author of this principle of ethics. He having been unsuccessful in his military career, has no right to complain at the President's regarding him as unfaithful to his duty, and worthy of removal.

——Gen. Sigel has been superseded. Amen. When a General is driven, upon a field of his own choosing, by an inferior number of rebels, he ought to be superseded. It is no excuse for him to say that his line was so long that he could not bring half his men into battle. He had no business to have a line of such a length that his troops could not be combined for their mutual support. His scouts and skirmishers should have been far enough in front, and upon the flanks, to give timely notice of an enemy's approach. He made the same blunder that Stone made at Ball's Bluff, Seymour made in Florida, and Banks made on the Red River. No general should be allowed the opportunity to make such a blunder more than once.

Sergeant Blaisdell Safe!—The following letter (or journal) was received in town last Thursday afternoon, from Sergeant John H. Blaisdell, who had been reported as missing in the late battles. He was taken prisoner on Sunday, the 8th inst., while charging on the rebel breastworks at Todd's Tavern, and was,—as will be seen by his letter,—recaptured at Beaver Dam Station, while on his way to Richmond in company with 378 others, by Gen. Custer's brigade of cavalry. As a newspaper correspondent says, their joy when they saw the flashing blades of the Union cavalry approaching, knew no bounds. They set up a deafening cheer, while the rebel guard, composed of a lieutenant and twenty-five men, skedaddled into the woods. They had no inkling of this approach, and the transition from a state of despondency to hope and joy was so sudden that they could hardly realize it:

Marched from Mitchel's Station, May 4th.—Went into battle on the 5th. Relieved morning of the 6th. Marched back, and into the entrenchments. Were relieved, and ordered to report to Gen. Hancock. Built breastworks, and lay down for the night. Afternoon of the 7th relieved from breastworks, marched all night, went into battle morning of the 8th.—Taken prisoner about noon. Started morning of the 9th for Richmond, and marched all day. Recaptured at night, by General Custer's cavalry, at Beaver Dam Station. All I could do, was to follow the fortunes of the cavalry, so started with them on their great raid. They have fought a number of battles, and have got to within three miles of Richmond, at this date, May 12th. They expect to form a junction with some of the union forces every hour.

May 14th. Reached this place—Bottom Bridge—last night. A great deal of rain has fallen, and it is quite cool this morning. 15th. Reached Harrison's Landing last night, where we now are, waiting to be transported down the James river. Think we shall be sent to Washington or Alexandria.

On board Transport Baltimore,
Potomac river, May 17th, 1864.

I mailed my last letter at the time we joined Generals Butler and Smith's forces, on the James river. Now we are on our way to Washington, and suppose we shall be sent to our regiments as soon as possible. I want to get back to my regiment, if it can be found. On that Sunday morning, when we went into the fight, in a charge, I threw off my knapsack, and every thing I had, except my haversack, so now, I have not got the first thing, except what I had on my back at the time. We have had a hard time. Some time I will give you an account of what I have been through, seen, and heard. It is enough for one man to live through, but thanks to General Custar's cavalry, for our rescue from Richmond.

Later.—Have just got into Alexandria all right. Shall write again soon. J. O. B.

LETTER FROM WASHINGTON.

Washington, D. C.,
May 21, 1864.

Dear Wizard,—Until yesterday we have had rain every day for over a week, and, by consequence, the Virginia mud imposed a serious obstacle to the movements of our army, even though it be composed to a great extent of the "mud-sills" of the North. The fighting on Wednesday last, and the attempt of the rebels to capture our trains on the following day, constitute the latest operations between the two armies now confronting each other near Spottsylvania Court House. But the weather is becoming more settled and the roads will not long delay an advance of Grant and his gallant army; and when the next great struggle comes, terrible and desperate though it will be, there is reason to hope for a decisive result, for our soldiers are in good spirits, and their motto is "God—Grant—Victory."

The failure of General Sigel to carry out his part of the programme, did not excite much surprise here among a large portion, at least, of those in the best position for judging, for they looked upon him as an over-rated man, who held his position more from the clamor which the Germans made over him, than from his military capacity. But one of the advantages resulting from the appointment of a Lieutenant General is that he is in a position so independent of popular favor that he can consult capacity and fitness alone in selecting those who shall be entrusted with the execution of his plans, and thus Gen. Sigel has been promptly superseded by Maj. Gen. Hunter. I cannot say what successes General Hunter has ever achieved thus far in this war, but he may have shown the capacity for success had the means been placed at his disposal. At any rate I am convinced that Gen. Grant is a good judge of men, and trust to his discernment in making the selection. Sheridan's cavalry is doubtless on another raid while I write, but these cuttings of railroads and temporary interruptions of communications and supplies do not tell very heavily against the rebels unless our grander movements are fortunate enough to take advantage of them.

The wounded still continue to arrive at our hospitals in this District, and many of them have already been forwarded to Philadelphia, while others of the slightly wounded have been granted furloughs, and can thus get the best of nursing, that of the "loved ones at home." I am informed by a gentleman who left Fredericksburg yesterday that there are about 8000 wounded still remaining at that place, but they are receiving all the attention that is possible.

The hundred days volunteers have been arriving here from Ohio and taking the places of the veterans who have gone to join in the conflict.

Yours, &c., Delta.

THE OLD FOURTEENTH.

After nearly three years of garrison duty in the forts around Washington, this splendid regiment at last has had a chance to prove their mettle, by being sent to the front, and sustaining, in company with other heavy artillery regiments, a severe contest with a large force of rebels, on Thursday last, in the woods, two miles in rear of our main lines. The rebels, it seems, had moved out of Spottsylvania, and passed entirely round the battle-field of last week, and reached the scene of action before they were discovered, and their advance immediately commenced an attack on our supply train, but after a sharp conflict were repulsed by the guards. Meanwhile the rebel line prepared for a charge.

Gen. Tyler, who commanded the division of heavy artillery, called upon his men to move against the enemy. The troops never had been under fire. They had arrived some of them the day before. They hesitated. Gen. Tyler rode to Tannatt's brigade, composed of the 1st Massachusetts and 1st Maine.

"The sons of Maine and Massachusetts are not cowards!" shouted the General.

"No! no!" was the response.

"Follow me, then!"

Away they went with a cheer. They came within musket range and the contest began. Ewell's old veterans on the one hand and the troops who till last week had not handled a musket, on the other. The heavy artillery knew little about infantry tactics, of handling muskets, of loading and firing, but they poured in their volleys—no, not volleys, but each man loaded a piece, irrespective of all orders. It was a continuous roll.

Meanwhile the rest of Tyler's division—four regiments—one from New York, one from Pennsylvania, one from Wisconsin, and one from Rhode Island—joined, and the contest became more furious.

The Second Corps, which was near at hand, was swung round to form a second line, but before it could be brought into action the heavy artillery had repulsed the rebels. It was a short, sharp, decisive engagement. It was particularly marked by the stubbornness of our men. Gen. Hunt, commanding the artillery, was early on the ground and brought eight guns into position, four of them of Hart's regular battery. The rebel loss was quite severe, as was our own. We took several hundred prisoners, probably about six hundred.

The result has had a great effect on the army, raising its spirits to the highest pitch. General Meade issued a congratulatory order this morning to the heavy artillery, which was received with cheers by the troops.

The loss of the Fourteenth is set down in some accounts at 300 killed, wounded and missing, among whom are Major Rolf, killed; Majors Shatswell and Holt, wounded; three captains and eight lieutenants wounded; of the latter Lieut. Peasley of South Danvers.

Death of a Soldier.—The flags were displayed at half mast yesterday and the bells were tolled in honor of the memory of Mr. Charles F. Pinkham, who died at Fort Warren on Friday, and whose death is recorded in another column. His funeral took place yesterday afternoon from No. 10 Carlton Street.—Mr. Pinkham was about 35 years of age, and was formerly of South Danvers.—Gaz., 24th.

NATHANIEL HAWTHORNE.

This gentleman was born among us, in Salem, in 1807. He was not a very healthy child, but became a full and intellectual man. His genius has left a proud triumph on the records of New England literature. He has passed away. The places which have known him will know him no more forever. We leave the task of dealing with his literary fame to far more capable hands than ours. We can only look on and wonder and admire. We wish only to say a few words to-day upon the great New England author, as a man and as a citizen.

Nathaniel Hawthorne was modest, retiring, honorable, benevolent and honest. The common wail of human misery was never unheard by him. He never sought excuses to turn suffering humanity empty from his door. He sympathized with misfortune and relieved it wherever he found it. He was modest and retiring in his deportment, but resolutely and unchangeably fixed in his principles. His great soul never wavered nor faltered from the great doctrines of the Constitution and Union as transmitted to us from the great fathers of the Revolution. He was no politician in the common acceptation of that word, but you might as well close up the burning mouth of Vesuvius, turn the current of the Mississippi, or change the sun in his daily course, as to make Nathaniel Hawthorne swerve in the slightest degree from those glorious principles and measures on which this great nation rested in peace and in union and in prosperity for seventy years.

We have heard his voice and have been consoled and encouraged in our adversity by his advice and more substantial aid. We have watched his retiring and benevolent soul, and have listened with admiration to his sublime and instructive conversation. He was mentally sensitive in the extreme. He never seemed to appreciate the great power of his own genius.

He once said to your humble correspondent—"that his cheeks twinged with red hot blushes when he saw his first literary production in print." He has said to us that he enjoyed pleasing excitement in writing, but when he read his productions in print they appeared like calico with the colors almost faded out.

None on earth will miss him in our world more than the humble writer of this. Although we saw him seldom, yet we knew while Hawthorne lived we had an unchanging friend. "Whenever adversity overwhelms you, H.," said he, "let me know it, and I will cheerfully assist you." He never broke his word. He lived for his race. He never worshipped money. He acknowledged worth and never suffered it to sink under adversity if he could rescue it. The Boston Journal says he is 60 years old in July current. We believe he once told us he was born on the 5th of June, 1807, which would make him 57 years old next month.

May the Almighty protect his widow and bear her up and sustain her and their dear children in their bereavement and through all the vicissitudes of life, and usher them into Heaven when they die, to dwell with their husband and their father and all the holy angels, through the endless ages of eternity.

These few imperfect words of tribute to the memory of an old friend, are the sincere feelings of one who knew him well and ever admired his genius—his mighty intellect and unswerving honesty, honor and benevolence.

H. D. J.

Danvers.—Worthy of Imitation.—Chas. P. Preston, Esq., Representative to the General Court from Danvers, has placed in the hands of the selectmen of that town one hundred dollars, the extra pay voted by the Legislature to its members, at the close of the session, with the request that it should be appropriated by them to the relief of wounded and disabled soldiers and to the families of those who have died in the service of their country, who need pecuniary assistance, belonging to that town.

☞ The Horse Railroad Hearing, yesterday afternoon, before the Board of Mayor and Aldermen, resulted in granting, in general terms, the petition of the road for leave to place a track on Washington and Bridge streets, in view of running the cars to Danvers, over the main road.—Gazette, 20th inst.

Fire.—Last Saturday noon, a carriage house on Central Street, belonging to Mr. George M. Teel, was discovered to be on fire, but it was soon subdued by a few buckets of water. It probably caught by sparks from an adjoining chimney.

☞ All people are printers; they are making impressions upon many a leaf of character.

Port of Danvers.

Ar 6th, schs Elisha Holmes, New York; Ida May, Bangor; 9th, Ada Herbert, New York; 18th, Black Diamond, Philadelphia; Montezuma, New York.

Ar 18th, schs Maria Louisa, Boston; 20th, Oscar F. Hawley, Philadelphia; Leanora, Bangor.

Marriages.

In Salem, May 20, by S. P. Webb, Esq., Mr. Harrie Mitchell of Manchester, N. H., to Mrs. Martha A. Porter of Danversport.

In Danvers, May 18, by Rev. Mr. Fletcher, Mr. Wm. A. Bomer to Miss Sarah H. Magoun.

In Topsfield, May 5th, by Rev. Mr. McLoud, Mr. Daniel Willey to Mrs. Mercy Andrews.

Deaths.

In this town, May 18, Mr. Francis Driscoll, 39 years.

18th, Miss Sallie Tapley, aged 73 years.

22d, Mr. Ward Poole, 65 yrs. Funeral this (Wednesday) morning at 9½ o'clock, at his late residence. Relatives and friends are invited.

23d, of diptheria, William Shaw, 83 years.

In Salem, May 16, Mary, daughter of Richard and Catharine Murphy, 18 months; Mrs. Abigail, widow of the late Mr. John Hutchinson, 68 yrs; 17th, Oscar F., son of John T. and Mary F. Mooney, 4 yrs; 15th, Mr John Mitchell, 63 yrs; 18th, Mrs Mary, widow of the late Mr. Michael McNamara, 36 yrs; 20th, Gerald M., son of James and Elizabeth Spring, 11 yrs 2 mos; 22d, Mr Nathaniel Phippen, 73 years 3 months; 23d, C. Frankie, only child of Asa A. and Augusta Wiggin, 9 yrs 3 mos 11 days.

In Danvers, May 16, Laura A, only child of Henry A. and Georgiana White, 21 mos 23 ds.

In Lynnfield, May 16, Mrs. Abigail, wife of Mr Benj. Moulton, 66 yrs 6 mos 25 days.

In Lynn, May 14, Susan P., wife of Bradbury S. Young, aged 52 yrs 7 mos 4 days. A kind and affectionate wife and mother.

At Fort Warren, Boston Harbor, May 21st, Mr Charles F. Pinkham of Salem, 35 yrs 4 mos 10 days—a member of the 4th Co. Heavy Artillery.

In Topsfield, April 20, Mrs. Jane, wife of Mr. Richard Phillips, 85 years 6 months.

In San Francisco, April 17, Mr. Charles St. John West, 29 years 8 mos—a native of Salem, Mass., and late of Indianapolis, Ind.

TWO BOYS WANTED
ing Business, at
F. S. PECK'S,

Clothe your boys at 24
money.

For Gent's Furnishing Goo to find the latest styles best g
prices.

Boston—Amusements.—M ell, the most fascinating present day, is now at the
Every one should see her.
The popular Buckleys weekly. An evening is wel

Buy your Hats and Caps a

Now is the time to clot
240 is the place to find the G

A CARD
The subscriber wishes to re friends and neighbors, who out the fire, at his place of 21st inst. GEOR
South Danvers, May 25, 1

☞ Persons wishing to sub
Morning papers, can do so by
D. P. GRO

Rich Black Lace Veils at Grenadine Veils, all the ne

at

Rich Bonnet Ribbons,
Rich Scarf Ribbons,
Artificial Flowers,
Nice Bonnet Ruches,
Rich Parasols and Sh
Sun Umbrellas, all pr
all new Goods,
at PEA
2

Ready-Made Dress Fro
$35, $32, $30, $28, $27,
$18, $17, $16, $15, $14,
$9, $8.50, $8, $7.50, $7, $6
at Bennett & Co.'s One Pric
14 and 15 Dock Square, Bos

Ready-Made Pants $11
$8, $7.50, $7, $6.50, $6, $5
$3.50, $3, $2.75, $2.50, at
One Price Clothing House
Square, Boston.

Boys' Clothing—larges variety, at Bennett & Co.'s
House, 14 and 15 Dock Squ

Every Garment marked
Bennett & Co's One Price
and 15 Dock Square, Boston

Garments made to order
One Price Clothing House
Square, Boston.

☞ Goods received for L
Dye House.
Jan 20 tf

☞ Visit Osborne's Store unusual variety of new st
Caps—191 Essex street.

A GENTLEMAN, cured of Ner petency, Premature Decay and Yo ed by a desire to benefit others, w to all who need it, (free of char rections for making the simple re
Those wishing to profit by his ex a Valuable Remedy, will receive mail, (carefully sealed,) by addres
JO
No 60 Nassa
may 25—3m

BE WISE BY T
Do not trifle with your health, acter. If you are suffering with HELMBOLD'S EXTR
is recommended.
TRY IT! TRY IT!
It will Cure you, Save Long S and Inflammation, and will restor
HEALTH AND P
At little expense, and no expos vertisement in another column.
Beware of Count
Ask for Helmbold's.
CURES GUARAN
May 2d—1m

THE GREAT ENGLI
SIR JAMES CL
CELEBRATED FEM
Prepared from a prescription
D, Physician Extraordina
This well known medicine is sure cure and safe remedy for F
Obstructions, from any cause wh a powerful remedy, they conta
the constitution.
In all cases of Nervous and S in the Back and Limbs, Fatig
Palpitation of the Heart, Hyster pills will effect a cure, when a failed; and, although a powe contain iron, calomel, antimony
to the constitution.
Full directions in the pa package, which should be car
For full particulars, obtain, pamphlet. Sold by all Druggists
Sole United States Agent,
JOB MOSES, 27 Cortla
N. B.—$1 and 6 postage sta authorized agent, will insure a b
60 pills, by return mail. M

Advertisem

WANTED IMME
TWO stout American Boys
rocco business, at
ROBERTS & MOOR
South Danvers, May 25, 1

WARREN
THE Stockholders of the South Danvers, are her
Special Meeting will be hel
Rooms, on Wednesday, June
A. M., to see if this Bank sociation for carrying on the ing under Laws of the Unit authorize the Directors to the requisite Certificate of A of Association and By-Law other acts necessary or pro corporation into such Bankin cording to law. And also action, if any, this Bank wil object aforesaid. Per orde
FRANCIS BA
So. Danvers, May 25th, 1

JUST ARR
AT DANVERS
500 Bushels Corn, in and will be sold
Constantly on hand a la which will be sold at the low
—ALSO ON HA
500 Bushels Feed;
200 Bushels prime North
100 Barrels choicest Fam
A good stock of LIME co
JOHN C. MO
Central St., South
May 25—tf.

t of Letters in the Post Office at South y 25, 1864. [Persons calling will please say they are adver-

Ellen M. Fisher.
Samuel Ewing,
ns, Geo. W. Elliot,
Myra S. Goodwin,
mpbell Orpheus M. Leonard,
ier, Henry Moore.

letters are subject to an ad- of one cent.

IEL WOODBURY, P. M.

OTICE.

bitant who use Weights and r the purpose of buying and -public weighers who have the ed to bring in their Measures, ces, Scales and Beams, to be aled.

er will be at his office, No. 46 T, on Monday, May 23d, and g days, to attend to the same.

THOMAS TRASK, Sealer.

May 25, 1864.

W BOOKS,

HIPPLE & A A SMITH'S.

es, with Basement and Attic, by My Farm of Edgewood;" in Black, by the author of "the Edinburg review for April; the Administration of President ling his Speeches, Letters, Ad- mations and Messages, with a etch of his Life, by Henry J.

Atlantic Magazines for June; ady's Friend, &c; autiful Years—at

190 Essex street.

AY, No. 76 Federal St.

S—Heavy Black Silks for La- Garments; AAMS—New Styles; S, different styles, lawns, bareges y pretty—French and English; LOVES and HOSIERY; at the very Lowest Prices.

NN R. BRAY, 76 Federal st.

OATS.

BUSHEL prime Oats, received his day by Rail, and for sale by GAYLE & CO., Phillips Wharf.

FLOUR.

LS "Keystone;" bbls Faquis "Invincible," re- y, and for sale by GAYLE & CO., Phillips Wharf.

PSIA AND FITS.

SURE CURE FOR

essing complaints is now made known on Foreign and Native Herbal Prepa- ed by Dr. O. Phelps Brown. The s furnished him in such a providential cannot conscientiously refuse to make has cured everybody who has used it, iled in a single case. It is equally sure s as of Dyspepsia; and the ingredients any drug store. Sent free to all on the ents to pre-pay postage. This work, of s, beautifully illustrated, also treats on hma, General Debility, and gives the erbal Remedies for their positive and . Address Dr O. Phelps Brown, No. , Jersey City, New Jersey.

Consumption.

BLE REAL ESTATE.

criber offers for sale the following Land, with the Buildings thereon, ale, until September next, when n remain unsold, will be offered at ion:

d well built two-story DWELL- E, situated on English Street.— is well supplied with the modern , is pleasantly situated on rising is a very desirable residence.

OCCO FACTORY near the South- ry. The building is about 150 feet wide, is well supplied with pure an excellent place for the Morocco Currying.

Morocco Factory are two TWO- UILDINGS, which may be sold Factory, or separately. Together out 80 feet long by 20 wide.

ut Street is the large BOARDING ith the land adjoining, which is ex- ell situated for what it is designed. ront LOTS for building purposes on reet, will be sold at moderate prices ns.

E HOUSE 70 by 25 feet on Walnut h the land under and the rear of it. easily adapted for a Curriers' Shop, kinds of business.

is Street, near the mill pond, a well ainted MOROCCO FACTORY, all occupancy. It is about 80 feet long , and in excellent repair.

the Morocco Factory on the same TORE BUILDING, strongly built, for a Dwelling House, for which easily adapted. Or it would make t Shop for any kind of business.

LM STREET, on a Court south of are two DWELLING HOUSES, r two families each. One is two gh, the other one and a half. Both e good tenants and yield a good in- ering a good chance for investment.

Harris and English Streets, one DWELLING House, and a One a Half House.

ove is a most excellent opportunity for g young men to secure places for and dwelling houses, on reasonable uch a chance may not soon again desiring to purchase any of the above learn the prices and terms on applica- NDREW S. PORTER, Elm Street.

SAMUEL D. PENDAR.

Danvers, May 11, 1864. tf

EW STORE!

lour! Flour!

RECEIVED, a fresh supply of choice s, direct from the Mills, for sale, e and retail, at LOWEST PRICES, by

E. F. OSBORN.

Sutton's Building, Main St.

Danvers, Nov 18, 1863.

GAYLE & CO.,

ERAL COMMISSION MERCHANTS,

DEALERS IN

r, Grain and Produce,

Manufacturers' Agents for the sale of ated Leaven, Soda and Pearlash Saler- atus, and Bi Carb. Soda.

S WHARF, Salem.

MANNING & CO.,

Successors to JOHN DIKE & CO.,

DEALERS IN

WOOD, BARK, HAY, &c,

DERBY STREET,

SALEM, MASS.

R. C. MANNING.

Men's Clothing.

The largest assortment, the Latest Styles, the best Goods, and the LOWEST PRICES, as usual, can be found at ☞ 240 ☜. Black and Fancy Frocks, Sacks, Pants and Vests, in light and dark colors to match—all sizes and prices. Spring Overcoats, Light and Dark Linen Dusters, $1.75 to $3.75—size, 34 to 50. If you wish to purchase a good suit of Clothes, light or dark, call at E. S. PECK'S.

Boys' Clothing.

Those who have Boys to Clothe, are particularly invited to call and examine the New Styles Coats, Pants, Vests, Jackets and Suits, in light and dark colors, which we have made expressly for our trade. We have pieces of the same or Cloth by the yard. Also, a large assortment of Cheap Sacks, Pants, Vests, Jackets and Suits, which will be sold low. If you have Boys to Clothe, the place to save your money is at

F. S. PECK'S,

240

Essex Street, Salem.

Gent's Furnishing Goods.

In this Department can be found the Latest Styles and Best Goods. White and Fancy Shirts, $1.50 to $4.00; Silk Shirts and Drawers, $1.75 to $4.00; Merino Shirts and Drawers, Hosiery, Gloves, Braces, Roman Scarfs, Ties—new styles, Collars, Umbrellas, &c. N. B.—We offer our Kid Gloves, spring colors, for $1.75 per pair, to close—the same as are sold round town for $2.25. Also a lot which are a little spotted, for 37c, 75c and $1.25 a pair. They are bargains. 240 is the place to buy Gent's Furnishing Goods.

Hats and Caps.

SPRING STYLES FOR 1864. Those who wish to purchase Hats or Caps, either Men's or Boy's, can find a large assortment of the Latest Styles and best quality. Goods at the Lowest Prices. The public are respectfully invited to call and decide whether 240 is the place to buy Hats and Caps.

TOWN OF SOUTH DANVERS.

By-Laws concerning Truant Children and Absentees from School.

Section 1. Any minor who shall be guilty of being an habitual truant, or any child who shall be guilty of wandering about in the streets or public places in the town, having no lawful occupation or business, not attending school, and growing up in ignorance, between the ages of seven and sixteen years, shall, for each offence, be punished by fine not exceeding twenty dollars.

Section 2. Any person who shall be convicted of either of the offences mentioned in the first section, may, at the discretion of the Justice or Court having jurisdiction of the case, instead of the fine mentioned in said section, be committed to the alms house of the town, for such time, not exceeding two years, as such Justice or Court may determine.

Section 3. The town shall, at its annual meeting, choose five truant officers, whose duty it shall be, in case of violation of these By-Laws, to make the complaint and carry into execution the judgement thereon. Said officers shall receive from the town a suitable compensation for their services.

Section 4. Any warrant issued under these By-Laws shall be returnable before any trial Justice or Judge of a Police Court within the County, at the place named in the warrant; and any fines recovered under the same shall be paid into the treasury of the town, to enure to such uses as the town may direct.

Section 5. Any Magistrate who shall issue such warrant, and any officer who shall serve the same, shall receive therefor, from the town, the same fees as are now allowed by law for similar services in criminal prosecutions.

At a legal meeting of the inhabitants of the town of South Danvers, qualified to vote in town affairs, held on the seventh day of March, A. D., 1864, the foregoing By-Laws having been read, it was

Voted, To adopt the same.

Also Voted, That Thomas M. Stimpson be a committee to present the same to the proper Court for approval.

A true copy of record,

Attest:

NATHAN H. POOR, Town Clerk.

ESSEX ss. Superior Court, March term, A. D., 1864, held by adjournment at Salem, March 21, 1864:

March 24, 1864. The foregoing By-Laws, having been examined, are approved by the Court.

April 11, 1864. A true copy of record,

Attest:

A. HUNTINGTON, Clerk.

So. Danvers, May 11—3w.

Horse Railroad Notice.

On and after Monday, May 9, the cars of the Salem and South Danvers Railroad Co. will leave

South Danvers for Salem and Beverly at 6.35, 6.55, 7.15, and 7.35, A. M., and every 20 minutes till 12.55 P. M., and at 1.10, 1.25, 1.40, 1.55 P. M., and every 15 minutes till 10.25 P. M. The 9.55, 10.10, and 10.25 P. M., cars will go only to Salem.

Cars will leave Beverly for Salem and South Danvers at 6.35, 6.55, 7.15, and 7.35, A. M., and every 20 minutes till 12.55 P. M., and at 1.10, 1.25, 1.40 and 1.55 P.M., and every 15 minutes till 10.40 P. M. The 9.40, 9.55, 10.10, 10.25 and 10.40 P. M., cars go only to Salem.

Cars leave Washington Street Station for So. Danvers at 6.12, 6.32 and 6.52 A. M., and every 20 minutes till 12.32 P. M., and leave Washington St. Station for Beverly at 6.17, 6.37, 6.57, A. M., and every 20 minutes till 12.37 P. M., and cars will leave Washington St. Station for South Danvers and Beverly at 12.45, 1, 1.15, and 1.30 P. M., and every 15 minutes till 10.00 P. M.

M. H. HALE,

may 11 Sup't. S. & S. D. R. R. Co.

NEW FLOUR AND GRAIN STORE,

Central St., opposite Old South.

THE subscriber would inform the citizens of this town and vicinity that he has taken the store lately vacated by Mr. Whidden, painter, where he will sell, by the Wholesale and Retail, the very best of

FLOUR, CORN, MEAL, OATS, FEED, &C.,

at the Lowest Market Prices.

JOHN G. MOULTON.

So. Danvers, March 16, 1864—tf.

NEW GOODS.

- Bugle Trimmings,
- Quill'd Ribbons,
- Dress Buttons,
- Scotch Plaid Braids,
- Trimming Braids,
- Silk Cords and Lacets,
- Boot and Shoe Laces,
- Cottons, Silks and Twists,
- Elastic Braids and Cords,
- Garter and Sleeve Elastics,
- Black and White Linen Thread,
- American and English Pins,
- Button Rings and Fasteners,
- Bonnet Ribbons,
- Scarf Ribbons,
- Artificial Flowers,
- Bonnet Ruches,
- English Thread Edgings,
- Smyrna and Cotton Edgings,
- Wrought Edgings,
- Black and White Silk Laces,
- Trimming Laces,
- Black Lace Veils,
- Grenadine Veils,
- Mourning Veils,
- Crape and Love Veils,
- Thread Collars,
- Wrought Collars,
- Linen Collars,
- Malta Lace Collars,
- Wrought Setts,
- Crape Collars,
- Grenadine Collars,
- Infants' Waists,
- Checked Cambrics,
- Plain Cambrics,
- Linen Cambrics,
- White Linens,
- Swiss Muslins,
- Book Muslins,
- Linen Hdkfs,
- Wrought Hdkfs,
- Hemmed Hdkfs,
- Mourning Hdkfs,
- Cotton Hdkfs,
- Choice Perfumes,
- Toilet Soaps,
- Sterling's Ambrosia,
- Cocoa Castorine,
- Puffs and Boxes,
- Combs and Brushes, &c.

220 ESSEX ST., SALEM.

JOHN P. PEABODY.

TONSORIAL NOTICE.

WE, the undersigned, Tonsorial Artists of South Danvers, give notice that on and after June 1st, 1864, our prices will be as follows:

Shaving,	10 cents.
Hair cutting,	15 cents.
Champooing,	15 cents.
Hair Dressing,	5 cents.

J. J. HEYLINGBERG,
H. B. GOODHUE,
CHAS. BABCOCK.

South Danvers, May 4, 1864.—6w*

SPRING AND SUMMER GOODS.

168 ESSEX STREET.

WE invite the attention of the Ladies of Salem and vicinity, to our

New Millinery Goods.

Ladies' and Children's

BONNETS AND HATS,

in all desirable styles.

Crapes, Silks, Ribbons, Feathers, French Flowers, and Laces.

A full assortment of Straw Goods, Mourning Bonnets, Veils, Collars, &c., constantly on hand at the lowest cash prices.

M. E. CRANE,

Successor to M. M. Fletcher.

Salem, April 6, 1864.

CARPETS.

THOMAS W. DOWNING & CO.

HAVE now in Store a splendid Stock of

Carpets,	Oil Cloths,
Stair Carpets,	Straw Mattings,
Cocoa Mattings,	Rugs,
Mats,	Paper,
Linings,	etc., etc.,

which they offer at the very lowest Cash Prices.

April 13. 179 Essex Street.

Pure Ground Bone

For Farming and Horticultural Purposes.

THE subscriber would announce that he is now constantly manufacturing and preparing for sale PURE GROUND BONE—conceded by all who have tried it to be the best article in use for fertilizing trees, grape vines, gardens, etc. It can be obtained in large or small quantities.

Also for Sale, NEAT'S FOOT OIL, TALLOW and GREASE.

☞ Cash paid for Bones.

TIMOTHY WALTON.

Post Office Address, box 99 South Danvers, Mass. April 20—3m

RICH MILLINERY GOODS!

From the New York and Boston Markets,

OPENING EVERY DAY.

ALL the desirable shapes in BONNETS and HATS, RIBBONS and FLOWERS in all the New Shades. All goods belonging to a first class Millinery Establishment, to which the attention of the Ladies of Essex County is respectfully invited.

REITH & CO'S,

NO. 2 WEST BLOCK, ESSEX STREET,

(One door west of J. F. Almy & Co.)

apr 13 SALEM, MASS.

PARKS HOUSE,

(NORFOLK AVENUE,)

187 WASHINGTON ST.,

Near head of Milk Street, Boston.

ROBT. E. DRAKE, Proprietor.

Formerly of Spooner & Co., U. S. Hotel.

LINSEED OIL.

RAW and Boiled Linseed Oil constantly for sale at

my18 S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS, 32 Front st.

WAR MAPS.

SEVERAL new styles—just those needed for the present campaign—at

my18 G. M. WHIPPLE & A. A. SMITH'S.

THE LARGEST
LADIES' FURNISHING STORE
IN SALEM.

BROWNING & LONG'S

SPLENDID ASSORTMENT

ELEGANT NEW GOODS!

EVERY department of the establishment replete with the Newest and Richest Styles.

GENUINE
ROMAN SCARFS,
ROMAN SCARFS,
ROMAN SCARFS,
ROMAN SCARFS,
ROMAN SCARFS,
THE NEW PATTERNS.

"The Lowest Prices."

UNDRESSED	KIDS,
YODEL	KIDS,
NAPOLEON	KIDS,
EXCELSIOR	KIDS,
"G. B."	KIDS,
MISSES	KIDS.

Every size Kid Gloves, from 5 to 8. The largest assortment ever shown here. All the fashionable and Latest Styles and Shades.

"The Latest Novelties."

PARASOLS,
PARASOLS,
PARASOLS,
PARASOLS,
PARASOLS.

A splendid assortment of Parasols and Sun Umbrellas,—a new feature with us,—which we offer at much less than usual prices.

"The Prettiest Patterns."

LACE VEILS,
LACE VEILS,
LACE VEILS,
LACE VEILS,
LACE VEILS.

The most beautiful shades; a large assortment; many new designs.

"The Greatest Variety."

DRESS TRIMMINGS,
DRESS TRIMMINGS,
DRESS TRIMMINGS,
DRESS TRIMMINGS,
DRESS TRIMMINGS.

Very new and most elegant styles, several being entirely novel.

"THE RICHEST GOODS,"

The Largest Assortment of New Goods

IN EVERY BRANCH,

AT THE VERY LOWEST PRICES.

BROWNING & LONG'S

Ladies' Furnishing Store,

177 Essex Street.

Salem, May 11, 1864.

M. A. PORTER,

236 Essex Street, - - - Salem, Mass.,

(Opposite Horse Railroad Office,)

MAKES TO ORDER BEST QUALITIES OF

WATCH SPRING SKIRTS.

A Good Assortment of Dress and Clock Button, Braids, Spool Cotton, Small Wares, and Thread Store articles generally.

236 Essex Street, - - - Salem, Mass.,

M. A. PORTER.

D. P. GROSVENOR, Jr,

DRUGS

Druggist and Apothecary,

33 MAIN STREET.

Dealer in Drugs, Medicines, Chemicals, Dye Stuffs, and Popular Proprietary Medicines.

Personal attention to Physicians' Prescriptions.

South Danvers, May 29, 1861. 1y

GEO. E. MEACOM,

Dealer in

DRUGS & MEDICINES,

Fancy & Toilet Articles, &c.,

126 MAIN ST. 126

Nearly opposite Danvers Bank, So. Danvers.

T. A. SWEETSER,

Druggist & Apothecary

37 Main St., So. Danvers,

DEALER IN

Drugs, Medicines, Chemicals, Foreign Leeches, Shakers' Herbs, Dye Stuffs, Gums, Acids, Sponges, Shoulder Braces, Trusses, and Genuine Patent Medicines,

Also, Imported Cigars of choice brands, Perfumery, Toilet Articles and Stationery.

Physicians' Prescriptions carefully prepared by experienced persons.

37 MAIN STREET.

Valuable Real Estate in So. Danvers for Sale or to Let.

The large dwelling house and barn and out-buildings, with land under and adjoining, belonging to the estate of the late J. W. Carey, situated on Fulton street.

Also a very desirable lot of land extending from Fulton street to High street, with a front of eighty feet on each street.

For terms and particulars, apply to

EBEN UPTON,

April 27,—tf. No. 31 Barr street, Salem.

GEORGE TAPLEY,

(DANVERS),

AGENT FOR THE

John Hancock Life Insurance Co.

Office, 41 State Street, Boston.

James F. Almy.

MOZAMBIQUES!!

An Exception to the Rule of

HIGH PRICES.

WE have opened this day one case of Mozambiques—first rate styles—all fair quality—at 20 cents per yard.

We have opened this day one case of Mozambiques—choice styles, and fine quality—at 2 shillings per yard.

These goods show but a very small margin above the old prices of former times.

JAMES ALMY & CO.,

188 Essex Street,

Opposite Central Street.

Salem, April 27, 1864.

A. J. Archer & Co

Silk Umbrellas,

FOR Gentlemen and Ladies. A fresh supply just received.

my18 AUGUSTUS J. ARCHER & CO.

MOURNING GOODS.

AUGUSTUS J. ARCHER & CO.,

HAVE just received a fine assortment

—OF—

MOURNING DRESS GOODS,

for summer wear.

—ALSO—

On hand, a fine stock of

BLACK SILKS,

which our customers will find are at less than Boston prices.

May 25, 1864.

FANCY CLOAKINGS!

—FOR—

Spring Garments,

IN GREAT VARIETY OF STYLES,

which we are prepared to make into GARMENTS to order, in the very best manner, and at

LOWEST CASH PRICES.

A. J. ARCHER & CO.,

March 16—tf. 181 Essex Street.

L. MERRILL & SON,

DEALERS IN

DRUGS, MEDICINES,

Fancy and Toilet Articles,

Perfumery, Stationery, Cutlery, &c.

VILLAGE BANK BUILDING,

DANVERS, MASS.

Particular attention paid to Physicians' Prescriptions.

LEVI MERRILL,
W. S. MERRILL.

Danvers, Dec 2—6m

HOUSE OF EQUITY,

—BY—

Arnold & Hutchinson,

(Successors to C. T. Southwick.)

FIRST QUALITY

FAMILY GROCERIES,

Sold at the Lowest Prices.

A large and complete assortment of

CROCKERY AND GLASS WARE,

Constantly on hand.

Also FLOUR and GRAIN.

ASHLAND HALL BUILDING,

NO. 1 LOWELL STREET,

F. T. ARNOLD. B. F. HUTCHINSON.

South Danvers, Feb 3, 1864.

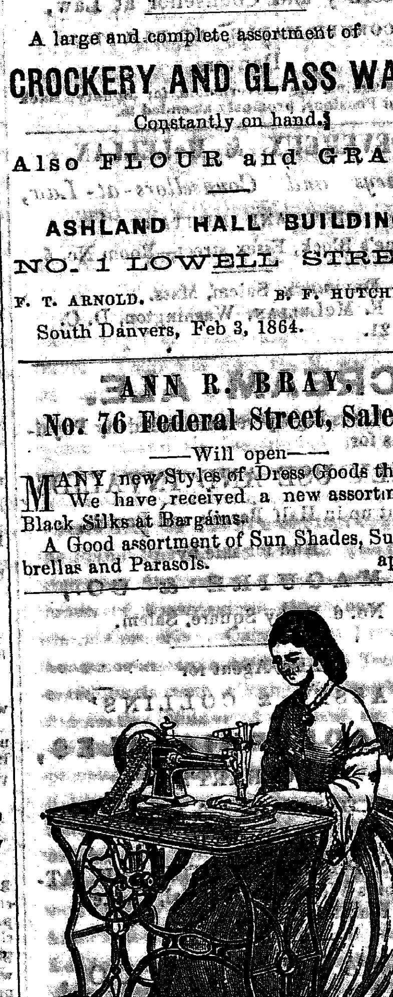
ANN R. BRAY,

No. 76 Federal Street, Salem.

—Will open—

MANY new Styles of Dress Goods this day. We have received a new assortment of Black Silks at Bargains.

A Good assortment of Sun Shades, Sun Umbrellas and Parasols. apr 20



The Singer Manufacturing Co's

LETTER A SEWING MACHINE

For Family Use and Light Manufacturing Purposes, is on exhibition and for sale

AT ASHLAND HALL,

SOUTH DANVERS SQUARE,

—BY—

JOHN H. CHOATE

Agent for the sale of

SEWING MACHINES,

Silk, Thread, Needles, Cottons, &c., &c.

—Also—

Paraffine Sewing Machine Oil,

The best oil for all kinds of light machinery

South Danvers, Nov 18, 1863.

George S. Walker.

CENTLEMEN'S

FURNISHING GOODS.

The Largest Stock and Assortment

IN ESSEX COUNTY.

GEORGE S. WALKER, 228 Essex Street, Stearns' Block, invites particular attention to his Spring and Summer Stock of Gentlemen's Under-Shirts,

Drawers,
Hosiery,
Gloves.

Also a splendid assortment of

Braces,
Scarfs,
Ties,
Collars,
Umbrellas, &c.

Dealing exclusively in the above articles, most of which were bought for CASH, before the late advance, I am enabled to offer them at less than present prices of Importation and Manufacture—at

my4 GEORGE S. WALKER'S.

Potter, Bachelder & Co.,

DANVERS-PORT and SOUTH DANVERS,

DEALERS IN

WOOD AND COAL.

Constantly on hand

Franklin, Burnside, Dimond, } RED ASH.

Old Company & Packer's Lehigh, Pliny Fisk, Webster and Locust Mountain, } WHITE ASH.

Also Cumberland, Pictou and Campbell for Steam and Smith's use.

OFFICE—No. 6 Allen's Building.

G. W. POTTER,
J. Q. A. BACHELDER,
C. T. BATCHELDER. mch 30

M. FENOLLOSA,

TEACHER OF MUSIC,

LETS..........PIANO FORTES, at the lowest rates;
SELLS..........PIANO FORTES, at the Manufacturers Prices;
EXCHANGES....PIANO FORTES, on the easiest terms;

At Rooms No. 7 Central street,

feb 11 SALEM, MASS.

AARON T. LOWE,

DEALER IN

BOOTS, SHOES AND RUBBERS,

76 BOSTON STREET, 76.

aug 6 SALEM. tf

DR. E. F. KITTREDGE,

From Lowell, formerly of New Ipswich, N. H.,

Has removed his office and residence to

NO. 42 MAIN STREET,

SOUTH DANVERS, MASS.

Dr. K., from an extensive and successful professional experience of upwards of twenty years, feels justified in saying that he can treat diseases to the satisfaction of his patients, and to the credit of himself.

Office hours from 7 to 9 A. M., and from 6 to 9 P. M.

South Danvers, Nov 13, 1863.

T. HARDY, JR.,

—Dealer in—

DOORS, SASHES, BLINDS,

Glazed Sash, Painted Blinds,

FENCE PALES, STAIR BALUSTERS, FRAMING PINS, &c.,

No. 26 FRONT STREET,

Salem, January 14, 1863—tf.

Valuable Real Estate for Sale.

THE ESTATE of the late THOMAS BANCROFT, situate on Boston Street, Salem, is offered for sale. It consists of a two and a half story building, the upper story finished for a convenient dwelling of eight rooms; the lower story for a store, suitable for most any retail or mechanical business, having been occupied for a retail variety store for the last forty years; and also a large lot of land, which measures 76 feet on Boston Street, and extends back to Beaver Street 166 feet. It is sufficient for three house lots, in addition to that occupied by the building. The building, with a quarter part of the land, will be sold separate, if wanted. For terms, apply to

T. F. BANCROFT, Lynn, Mass.,

or at this Office. March 16—tf.

HAIR WORK.

WE still give our personal attention to the sale and manufacture of every description of

Hair Work,

for Ladies and Gentlemen.

WIGS, TOP PIECES, FRIZETTES, BANDS OF HAIR, CURLS, &c., constantly on hand and made to order.

H. F. SKERRY,

mch 30—2mos 180 Essex Street.

Spring Goods.

THOMAS W. DOWNING & CO.

invite attention to the splendid stock of

NEW GOODS

which they are now opening for the Spring trade.

We shall be constantly supplied with all Novelties as they appear in the market.

mch 2 179 Essex Street.

MOULTON'S

NEW LIVERY STABLE,

Is removed to stable formerly occupied by

SAMUEL HAM,

On MAIN STREET, opposite the Institute.

Good Horses and Carriages will be always in readiness at short notice.

South Danvers, May 25, 1864.

THOMAS PINNOCK,

SLATER,

SALEM, MASS.

Orders may be left at his Yard, No. 25 Peabody St., or at his house No. 6 Hancock street, South Salem.

Roofs covered with any kind of Slates, according to order. All work warranted.

Salem, May 7, 1862. tf

TENEMENT TO LET.

ON Mt. Vernon street. Inquire of

PHILIP BLANEY.

South Danvers, May 4, 1864.

Auction Sales.

WILLIAM ARCHER, Jr.,

Auctioneer, Real Estate and Stock Broker,

34 Front Street.

Real Estate, Bank, Railroad & Manufacturing Stock bought and sold on Commission.

ON SATURDAY NEXT, at 9½ o'clock will be sold at No. 34 Front street:

A QUANTITY of Furniture; Sofas, Lounges, Tables, Chairs, Carpets, 1 Willard Timepiece, a good timekeeper.

Dry Goods—Cotton cloth, dress goods, cassimeres, doeskins, satinets, &c.

Boots and Shoes—An invoice of Women's, Misses' and Children's Boots and Shoes.

Also—25 bales Killikinick smoking tobacco, 200 lbs domestic coffee in lb papers, cream of tartar, knives and forks, crockery ware, 1 ladies' riding saddle in perfect order, 1 sewing machine in order.

TEETH ON VULCANITE!

DR. J. H. BATCHELDER,

DENTAL SURGEON,

No. 20 Washington St., (near Eastern Railroad Depot), Salem, Mass.,

Is Licensed to make the New Patent Teeth on HARD RUBBER or VULCANITE, and from actual experience confidently recommends them for Strength, Beauty, and Cleanliness, to far surpass all other kinds of teeth;—are sure to fit the mouth; are much cheaper and better, being about half the price of teeth on Gold. Ill fitting Setts of Teeth on Gold can be exchanged for the Vulcanite, at very small expense. Specimens seen at Office. Teeth filled with Gold, Inserted, Extracted, and Children's Teeth Regulated—all with such care and gentleness as to be nearly painless.

DR. S. O. RICHARDSON'S

Blood-Root Elixir

Has been thoroughly tested and proved in his medical practice, for a period of THIRTY YEARS, and is now presented to the public as an effectual cure for

COSTIVENESS,

AND THE BEST REMEDY EVER PREPARED FOR

DISEASES OF THE LIVER,

SCROFULA,

All Humors and Impurities of the Blood and Diseases of the Skin.

The preparing and combining the BLOOD-ROOT ELIXIR is attended with results to medical science next in importance to inhalation of ether in surgery. Roots and plants, in themselves pungent and disagreeable, are, by a new and scientific process of extracting (in vacuo) rendered MORE EFFECTIVE IN THEIR OPERATION, entirely divested of the griping and distressing pain which attends the action of all other purgative medicine. They are also made to become highly

PLEASANT AND AGREEABLE TO THE TASTE,

and by their peculiar combination work so perfectly in HARMONY WITH NATURE that no unpleasant reaction will follow its operation. It also possesses

A DIFFUSIVE AND ALTERATIVE EFFECT,

which can only be attained by medicine in a fluid state. These are new elements in purgative medicines.

The hard and compact manner in which Pills are prepared, renders them indigestible—and, when taken, are forced through the Stomach and Bowels, half dissolved, causing only PARTIAL ACTION, thereby creating irritation and pain to the parts connected with their passage.

One Pill dissolved secundum artem, will produce more medicinal and physical effect than five in a crude state.

The BLOOD-ROOT ELIXIR has no partial action upon the bowels, but is equally diffused there, and throughout the whole circulation of the Blood, imparting a healthy and invigorating action to the Stomach and Bowels, Liver, Lungs, Kidneys, and gently stimulating dormant, and morbid secretions throughout the whole system.

A single dose will produce a cheerful and exhilarating COMMOTION, which will inspire the patient with confidence, and assurance of IMMEDIATE RELIEF. A continuance for a short period will DRIVE the obscure and hidden humors to the surface of the skin, and relieve or check Scrofulous Affections—and by thus purifying and strengthening the Blood, will remove the most fruitful

CAUSE OF CONSUMPTION.

It incites the various organs of the system to act their alloted part, removing the causes which induce RHEUMATISM and NEURALGIA, HEADACHE, LOSS OF APPETITE, DYSPEPSIA, COSTIVENESS, and the various diseases which arise from a derangement of the Stomach and Bowels, and restricted circulation of the Blood.

COUGHS AND COLDS, in their early stages, will immediately yield to the effect of the Elixir.

The BLOOD-ROOT ELIXIR contains no mineral, no pernicious botanical element, no excitant, but stimulates the secretions by its mild and diffusive action. It is an effective and painless aperient—has a decided salutary action upon the Liver, and there has been no medicine prepared for common family use which possesses equal merit.

Travellers both by sea and land, will find the Elixir a complete antidote for the evils which they are obliged to endure, from a change of climate of water of diet.

See the pamphlet around each bottle for a history of the Elixir.

The proprietor of the BLOOD-ROOT ELIXIR, (Dr. S. O. Richardson,) has been long and favorably known to the public by his celebrated SHERRY WINE BITTERS, the best tonic medicine ever discovered, and which has been in use over thirty years. He is a graduate of the New Hampshire Medical College, and many years associate member of the Massachusetts Medical Society,—and has made the study of medicine his profession since 1820.

And so fully convinced is the Doctor of the wonderful curative effects of his BLOOD-ROOT ELIXIR, that he hereby offers to each and every person who will use one-half of a bottle of his Elixir, and not be conscious of a good effect therefrom, to REFUND to said person the full amount which he paid for the same, by returning the ullage bottle to his office.

Price $1.50 Per Bottle!

Sold by Apothecaries and Dealers in Medicines, and at the Doctor's Office,

51 & 53 HANOVER ST., BOSTON.

May 11—3ms.*

ICE! ICE!!

THE undersigned would announce that he has made arrangements for running an

ICE WAGON

through South Danvers and Salem, the coming season, beginning MAY 1st, and ending NOVEMBER 1st.

☞ He will deliver ice made at Bancroft's Pond, which is supplied mostly from the surplus water of Spring Pond. This ice cannot be excelled in point of purity and clearness.

☞ A share of patronage is respectfully solicited.

☞ Orders may be left at the Wizard Office, or sent by mail.

BYRON GOODELL.

South Danvers, April 13, 1864. 3m-is

☞ Speaking of the probability of ladies wearing pantaloons, an English writer says: "Only I do hope they won't get into the habit of standing with their backs to the fireplace and their hands in their pockets."

☞ A wag says a cod-fish aristocrat is one of those men who can pin a dried herring to his coat tail and imagine himself a whale!

☞ It isn't necessary that one's wife should be tall. It is enough if she is short and sweet.

☞ Pretty excuse for a wife-beater—The treasure that we value most we "hide."

☞ The most dangerous kind of bat that flies at night is a brick-bat.

☞ Heaven gives us enough when it gives us opportunity.

☞ When a man has learned how to learn, he can soon learn anything.

Special Notices.

BELL'S SPECIFIC PILLS.—WARRANTED IN ALL CASES.—Can be relied on! Never fail to cure! Do not nauseate! Are speedy in action! No change of diet required! Do not interfere with business pursuits! Can be used without detection! Upward of 200 cures the past month—some of them very severe cases. Over one hundred physicians have used them in their practice, and all speak well of their efficacy, and approve of their composition, which is entirely vegetable and harmless on the system. Hundreds of certificates can be shown.

BELL'S SPECIFIC PILLS are the original and only genuine Specific Pill. They are adapted for male and female, old or young, and the only reliable remedy for effecting a permanent and speedy cure in all cases of Spermatorrhea, or Seminal Weakness, with all its train of evils, such as Urethral and Vaginal Discharges, Gleet, the Whites, Nightly or Involuntary Emissions, Incontinence, Genital Debility and Irritability, Impotence, Weakness or Loss of Power, Nervous Debility, &c., &c., all of which arise principally from Sexual Excesses or Self-Abuse, or some constitutional derangement, and incapacitates the sufferer from fulfilling the duties of married life. In all sexual diseases, as Gonorrhea, Gleet, and Strictures, and in Diseases of the Bladder and Kidneys, they act as a charm! Relief is experienced by taking a single box. Sold by all the principal druggists. Price $1.

They will be sent by mail, securely sealed, and confidentially, on receipt of the money, by

J. BRYAN, M. D.,
No. 76 Cedar street, New York,

Consulting Physician for the treatment of Seminal, Urinary, Sexual and Nervous Diseases, who will send, free to all, the following valuable work, in sealed envelope:

THE FIFTIETH THOUSAND DR. BELL'S TREATISE on Self-Abuse, Premature Decay, Impotence and Loss of Power, Sexual Diseases, Seminal Weakness, Nightly Emissions, Genital Debility, &c., &c., a pamphlet of 64 pages, containing important advice to the afflicted, and which should be read by every sufferer, as the means of cure in the severest stages is plainly set forth. Two stamps required to pay postage.

December 9, 1863—1 yr.

IMPORTANT TO LADIES.—DR. HARVEY'S FEMALE PILLS have never yet failed in removing difficulties arising from obstruction, or stoppage of nature, or in restoring the system to perfect health when suffering from Spinal Affections, Prolapsus, Uteri, the Whites, or other weakness of the Uterine Organs. The Pills are perfectly harmless on the constitution, and may be taken by the most delicate female without causing distress—the same time they act like a charm by strengthening, invigorating and restoring the system to a healthy condition, and by bringing on the monthly period with regularity, no matter from what causes the obstruction may arise. They should, however, NOT be taken during the first three or four months of pregnancy, though safe at any other time, as miscarriage would be the result.

Each box contains 60 Pills. Price $1.

DR. HARVEY'S TREATISE on Diseases of Females, Pregnancy, Miscarriage, Barrenness, Sterility, Reproduction, and Abuses of Nature, and emphatically the Ladies' Private Medical Adviser, a pamphlet of 64 pages, sent free to any address. Six cents required to pay postage.

The Pills and book will be sent by mail when desired, securely sealed, and prepaid, by

J. BRYAN, M. D., General Agent,
No. 76 Cedar street, New York.

☞ Sold by all the principal druggists.

December 9, 1863—1 yr.

TERRIBLE DISCLOSURES—SECRETS FOR THE MILLION!—A most valuable and wonderful publication. A work of 400 pages, and 30 colored engravings. DR. HUNTER'S VADE MECUM, an original and popular treatise on Man and Woman, their Physiology, Functions, and Sexual Disorders of every kind, with Never-Failing Remedies for their speedy cure. The practice of Dr. Hunter has long been, and still is, unbounded, but at the earnest solicitation of numerous persons, he has been induced to extend his medical usefulness through the medium of his "Vade Mecum." It is a volume that should be in the hands of every family in the land, as a preventive of secret vices, or as a guide for the alleviation of one of the most awful and destructive scourges ever visited mankind. One copy, securely enveloped, will be forwarded free of postage to any part of the United States for 50 cents in post office stamps or 3 copies for $1. Address, post paid, DR. HUNTER, No. 3 Division Street, New York. je 3-4ly

Are you Insured?

THE subscriber would respectfully call your attention to the fact that he is fully prepared to effect INSURANCE AGAINST FIRE, to any amount, at current rates, on

Dwelling Houses, Barns and their contents, Stores, Stocks of Goods, Furniture, &c. &c., and on buildings in process of erection,

And that he is the authorized Agent for the following responsible Stock and Mutual Companies, viz:

Thames Insurance Co., (Stock,) Norwich, Conn.
Capital—$500,000.
Amos W. Prentice, Pres. Oliver P. Rice, Sec'y.

Conway Insurance Company, (Stock) Boston.
Capital and Surplus—$260,000.
James F. Whitney, Pres. David C. Rogers, Sec'y.

City Insurance Company, (Stock) Boston.
Capital—$150,000.
Samuel P. Hayward, Pres. Austin W. Benton, Sec'y.

Also, will effect Insurance on the LIVES OF INDIVIDUALS, for one year, seven years, or for the whole term of life, in the

Massachusetts Mutual Life Ins. Co., Springfield, Mass.
Capital and Assets—$375,000.
Caleb Rice, Pres. D. B. Bacon, Sec'y.
William Mack, M. D., Medical Examiner.

WM. ARCHER, Jr.,
18 Washington st. and 34 Front st., Salem.
feb20-1

HEYLINGBERG'S
Hair Dressing Saloon,
24 MAIN ST., SOUTH DANVERS.

J. HEYLINGBERG would announce to his patrons and the public generally, that on and after JUNE 1st, 1864, he will abide by the following

TARIFF OF PRICES:

Shaving,	10 cts.
Hair Cutting,	15 cts.
Shampooing,	15 cts.

Particular attention paid to dying hair and whiskers, in one preparation, without washing or scrubbing.

South Danvers, May 11, 1864.

WALKING MADE EASY.

CORNS.

DR. P. KENISON,
CHIROPODIST,
215 Washington St., Boston.

Cures Hard and Soft Corns, Bunions, Club Nails, Nails penetrating the Flesh, Warts, &c., in a manner that will satisfy the most incredulous.

E. R. PERKINS,
PHOTOGRAPHIC ARTIST
241 Essex Street, Salem.

Patent Ambrotypes, Stereoscopes,

Photographs, Sphercotypes, Melainotypes and patent leather Pictures, of various sizes, taken with all the improvements of the art. Portraits, Miniatures, Engravings, &c., accurately copied. Viewstaken when desired. tan 11

WINDOW BRUSHES

AND Feather Dusters at
S C & E A SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

LANE & CO'S
COLUMN.

NEW SPRING GOODS.

MEN'S AND BOYS'

CLOTHING!

MANUFACTURED FROM A GREAT VARIETY OF

Plain and Fancy Goods,

AND

CUT IN THE LATEST STYLE,

WITH ELEGANT TRIMMINGS,

And made up in the most thorough manner.

SPRING OVERCOATS,

English Walking Coats,

AND FULL SUITS,

Coats, Pants and Vest,

TO MATCH.

NEW INVOICE

MILITARY UNIFORMS,

FOR

OFFICERS AND PRIVATES.

Parents are invited to examine our stock of

BOYS CLOTHING,

CONTAINING

MANY NEW STYLES.

Garribaldi Suits.

Grecian Suits,

English Sacks,

Metropolitan Sacks,

AND FULL SUITS,

SACKS, PANTS AND VESTS.

TO MATCH.

In addition to the above we have a large amount of goods in process of manufacture, which will be addded to our stock as fast as completed. Purchasers will therefore always find a full line from which to make their selections. To those visiting the city by RAIL in search of CLOTHING, we would say:—

Purchase a Ticket through to

"31 and 32" Dock Square,

SECURE A

REAL BARGAIN,

AND THEREBY

SAVE YOUR FARE!

G. H. LANE & CO.,

31 AND 32 DOCK SQUARE,

BOSTON.

March 30.—3m

Cards.

M. B. MANSFIELD,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
214 ESSEX STREET, SALEM, MASS.

 Particular attention paid to procuring Pensions, Bounties, Back Pay, Prize Money, and Army and Navy Claims of all descriptions. March 2.

WILLIAM C. CHOATE,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
251 Essex St., Salem.
Salem, August 6, 1862. tf

THOMAS M. STIMPSON,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
194 ESSEX STREET, SALEM.
Residence Lowell street, South Danvers.

B. C. PERKINS,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
South Danvers—Office in Allen's Building

ALFRED A. ABBOTT,
Attorney and Counsellor,
Office, No. 24 Washington Street, Salem;
House, Main St., So. Danvers.

SIDNEY C. BANCROFT,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
27 Washington Street, Salem.

H. O. WILEY,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
Office, Allen's Building, So. Danvers.

Claims against the Government for Bounty Back Pay, and Pensions, promptly attended to

A. S. CRAWFORD,
Dentist,
No. 4 MAIN STREET, SO. DANVERS SQUARE
Mechanical Dentistry Neatly Executed.

W. L. BOWDOIN,
SURGEON DENTIST,
No. 208 Essex Street, Salem, (Opposite the Marke
Residence—No. 57 Washington street.
jan 11—ly

NEWMAN & SYMONDS,
DEALERS IN
Family Groceries, Flour & Grain,
HARD WARE AND CROCKERY,
Ready Made Clothing, Gents' Furnishing Goods, Hats, Caps, Boots, Shoes, &c.
South Danvers Square, opp. Congregational Church
SAM'L NEWMAN. NATH'L SYMONDS.

S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS,
DEALERS IN
Crockery, China and Hardware; Paper Hangings; Solar and Entry Lamps; Paints, Oil, and Window Glass.
No. 32 Front street, Lawrence Place,
feb13 SALEM, MASS.

HENRY L. WHIDDEN,
HOUSE AND SIGN PAINTER,
Glazier and Paperer,
Central Street, South Danvers.
All orders promptly and faithfully executed.
jan2-1y

E. S. FLINT,
DEALER IN
West India Goods, Country Poduce,
No. 2 Main Street, South Danvers.

JESSE SMITH
No. 262 Essex Street, Salem,
Importer and Dealer in
Gold and Silver Watches,
MARINE CHRONOMETERS,
Aueroid Barometers, Spy Glasses, &c.

WILLIAM BLANEY,
HOUSE & SIGN PAINTER
Grainer, Glazier and Paper Hanger.
164 MAIN STREET, Corner of Grove.
WINDOWS and BLINDS cheap for cash.
mch6—tf

F. POOLE,
INSURANCE AGENT,
Allen's Building (up stairs),
Deeds drawn, and other common forms.

H. L. HADLEY,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
CORNER MAPLE AND ELM ST.,
Danvers.
Claims against the Government for Bounty, Back Pay, and Pensions, promptly attended to.

DEVEREUX & McLELLAN,
Attorneys and Counsellors-at-Law,
CIVIL AND MILITARY,
Browne's Block, Essex street—Room No. 5.
J. F. DEVEREUX, Salem, Mass.
GEO. F. McLELLAN, Washington, D. C.
Oct. 21.

CREAM ALE.

THIS Ale is highly recommended by Physicians for

FAMILY USE AND INVALIDS.

Put up in Half Barrels and Barrels,

And for sale by

J. MAGUIRE & CO.,

No. 6 Derby Square, Salem.

Also, Agent for

MASSEY & COLLINS'

PHILADELPHIA ALES,

BUCKHART'S

CREAM ALE,

And Dealer in

LONDON PORTER, SCOTCH ALE, Atkinson's Wormwood Cordial, Drake's Plantation Bitters, &c., &c.

J. MAGUIRE & CO.,

july 15 No. 6 Derby Square, Salem.

H. F. BURNHAM,
SOLE AGENT FOR
SARGENT & CO.S'
MAGIC SOAP!
For South Danvers & Salem.
OFFICE—Central St., opp. Lowell Depot, at Burnham's Express Office, So. Danvers.
Price $3.50 per 100 Lbs.
Orders sent by mail or otherwise to So. Danvers will be promptly attended to. tf-oct3

Choice Spring Pigs for Sale.

THE subscriber offers for sale nice PIGS of Mackie Prince Albert and Chester County breeds, of which the Mackie took the First Premium at the late Cattle Show. Prices reasonable.

BYRON GOODALE,
Near Tapley's Brook.
South Danvers, April 1, 1864. tf

FEATHER DUSTERS.

ANOTHER lot of Dusters at
S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS', 32 Front st

Advertisements.

HOSTETTER'S
CELEBRATED
STOMACH BITTERS.

A pure and powerful Tonic, corrective and alterative of wonderful efficacy in disease of the

Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

Cures Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Headache, Debility, Nervousness, Depression of Spirits, Constipation, Colic, Intermittent Fevers, Cramps and Spasms, and all Complaints of either Sex, arising from Bodily Weakness whether inherent in the system or produced by special causes.

Nothing that is not wholesome, genial and restorative in its nature enters into the composition of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. This popular preparation contains no mineral of any kind, no deadly botanical element, no fiery excitant; but it is a combination of the extracts of rare balsamic herbs and plants with the purest and mildest of all diffusive stimulants.

It is well to be forearmed against disease, and, so far as the human system can be protected by human means against maladies engendered by an unwholesome atmosphere, impure water and other external causes, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS may be relied on as a safeguard.

In districts infested with Fever and Ague, it has been found infallible as a preventive and irresistible as a remedy and thousands who resort to it under apprehension of an attack, escape the scourage; and thousands who neglect to avail themselves of its protective qualities in advance, are cured by a very brief course of this marvelous medicine. Fever and Ague patients, after being plied with quinine for months in vain, until fairly saturated with that dangerous alkaloid, are not unfrequently restored to health within a few days by the use of HOSTETTER'S BITTERS.

The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated and the appetite restored by this agreeable Tonic, and hence it works wonders in cases of DYSPEPSIA and in less confirmed forms of INDIGESTION. Acting as a gentle and painless apperient, as well as upon the liver, it also invariably relieves the CONSTIPATION superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and secretive organs.

Persons of feeble habit, liable to Nervous Attacks, Lowness of Spirits and Fits of Languor, find prompt and permanent relief from the Bitters. The testimony on this point is most conclusive, and from both sexes.

The agony of BILIOUS COLIC is immediately assuaged by a single dose of the stimulant, and by occasionally resorting to it, the return of the complaint may be prevented.

As a General Tonic, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS produce effects which must be experienced or witnessed before they can be fully appreciated. In cases of Constitutional Weakness, Premature Decay and Debility and Decrepitude arising from OLD AGE, it exercises the electric influence. In the convalescent stages of all diseases it operates as a delightful invigorant. When the powers of nature are relaxed, it operates to re-enforce and re-establish them.

Last, but not least, it is The Only Safe Stimulant, being manufactured from sound and innocuous materials, and entirely free from the acid elements present more or less in all the ordinary tonics and stomachics of the day.

No family medicine has been so universally, and, it may be truly added, deservedly popular with the intelligent portion of the community, as HOSTETTER'S BITTERS.

Prepared by HOSTETTER & SMITH, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Sold by all Druggists, Grocers and Storekeepers everywhere.

HELMBOLD'S
GENUINE PREPARATIONS.

COMPOUND FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU, a Positive and Specific Remedy for diseases of the Bladder, Kidneys, Gravel, and Dropsical Swellings.

This Medicine increases the power of Digestion, and excite the Absorbents into healthy action, by which the Wtaery or Calcareous depositions, and all Unnatural Enlargements are reduced, as well as Pain and Inflammation.

—:o:—

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU.

For Weaknesses arising from Excesses, Habits of Dissipation, Early Indiscretion of Abuse, attended with the following symptoms:—

Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power,
Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing,
Weak Nerves, Trembling,
Horror of Disease, Wakefulness,
Dimness of Vision, Pain in the Back,
Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System,
Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body,
Dryness of the Skin, Eruptions on the Face,
Pallid Countenance.

These symptoms, if allowed to go on, which this medicine invariably removes, soon follows

Impotency, Fatuity, Epileptic Fits,

In one of which the patient may expire.

Who can say that they are not frequently followed by those "Direful Diseases,"

"INSANITY AND CONSUMPTION."

Many are aware of the cause of their suffering, BUT NONE WILL CONFESS THE RECORDS OF THE INSANE ASYLUMS.

And Melancholy Deaths by Consumption bear ample witness to the Truth of the assertion.

The Constitution once effected with Organic Weakness requires the aid of Medicine to Strengthen and Invigorate the system.

Which HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU invariably does. A Trial will convince the most skeptical.

—:o:—

FEMALES—FEMALES—FEMALES.

In many Affections peculiar to Females the EXTRACT BUCHU is unequalled by any other remedy, as in Chlorosis or Retention, Irregularity, Painfulness, or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated Scirrhous state of the Uterus, Leuchorrhœa or Whites, sterility, and for all complaints incident to the sex, whether arising from indiscretion or Habits of Dissipation, or in the

DECLINE OR CHANGE OF LIFE.

—:o:—

Take no more Balsam, Mercury, or unpleasant Medicines for unpleasant and dangerous diseases.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU AND IMPROVED ROSE WASH CURES

SECRET DISEASES

In all their Stages, At little Expense,
Little or no change in Diet. No inconvenience.
And no Exposure.

It causes a frequent desire and gives strength to Urinate, thereby Removing Obstructions, Preventing and Curing Strictures of the Urethra, allaying Pain and Inflammation, so frequent in this class of diseases, and expelling all Poisonous, Diseased and wornout Matter.

Thousands upon Thousands who have been the Victims of Quacks, and who have paid heavy fees to be cured in a short time, have found they were deceived, and that the "POISON" has, by the use of "Powerful Astringents," been dried up in the system, to break out in an aggravated form, and perhaps after Marriage.

—:o:—

Use HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU for all affections and diseases of the URINARY ORGANS, whether existing in MALE or FEMALE, from whatever cause originating and no matter of HOW LONG STANDING.

Diseases of these Organs requires the aid of a DIURETIC. HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU IS THE GREAT DIURETIC, and is certain to have the desired effect in all Diseases for which it is Recommended.

Evidence of the most reliable and responsible character will accompany the medicine.

Price $1.00 per bottle, or six for $5.00.

Delivered to any Address, securely packed from observation.

Describe Symptoms in all Communications.

Cures Guaranteed! Advice Gratis!!

Address letters for information to

H. B. HELMBOLD, Chemist,
104 South Tenth st., bel. Chestnut, Phila.

HELMBOLD'S Medical Depot.
HELMBOLD'S Drug & Chemical Warehouse.
594 Broadway, New York.

BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS AND UNPRINCIPLED DEALERS who endeavor to dispose "of their own" and "other" articles on the reputation attained by

Helmbold's Genuine Preparations.
" " Extract Buchu.
" " Sarsaparilla.
" " Improved Rose Wash.

SOLD BY
ALL DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE.
ASK FOR HELMBOLD'S. TAKE NO OTHER.
Cut out the Advertisement and send for it.
AND AVOID IMPOSITION AND EXPOSURE.
December 16, 1863.—1 yr.

Coe's Superphosphate of Lime.

BRADLEY'S TOBACCO FERTILIZER.

For sale by the Manufacturer,

W. L. BRADLEY.

SALE OFFICE,

24 BROAD ST., BOSTON.

PAMPHLETS containing testimonials in favor of Coe's Superphosphate of Lime as a Standard Manure, and Bradley's Manual on the Culture and Curing of Tobacco, with illustrations, can be had by addressing the undersigned WM. L. BRADLEY.

☞ Highest Cash Prices paid for Bones.

Boston, April 13, 1864. 3m

GENTLEMEN'S HATS,

Spring Styles,

—AT—

J. A. JACKSON'S.

A large and choicely selected assortment of

FINE SOFT FELT HATS,

CLOTH HATS AND CAPS,

For Men and Boy's Wear.

101 COURT ST.,

April 13.—3m. BOSTON.

CHILDREN'S CARRIAGES.

WE have on hand a very large stock of Children's Carriages, comprising every vasiety of style, from the

CHEAP WILLOW CAB

—TO THE—

FINEST NEW HAVEN GIG.

—ALSO—

PERAMBULATORS!

of various qualities.

REPAIRING, in all its branches, promptpromptly attended to at the OLD STAND,

No. 180 Essex street, Salem.

HENRY F. SKERRY.

April 20.—3m.

A Small Farm Wanted.

WANTED to purchase, a farm of from five to twenty-five acres (according to the locality) of good land, with small, convenient buildings. Those wishing to sell will please address CHAS. F. RICKER, Wells, Maine—JOSEPH JANVIRIN, Exeter, N. H.—or THOS. DAVIS, 15 Washington St., Charlestown, Mass.—giving the description of land and buildings, distance from church, schoolhouse, railroad station, stores, &c., also the price. April 27.—tf.

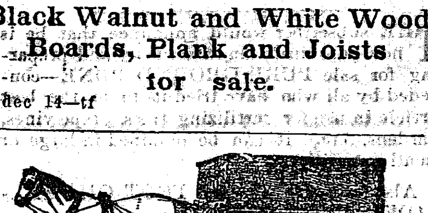
CURRIER & MILLETT,
Dealers in
Furniture, Chairs,
MATTRESSES, FEATHERS, &
259 & 261 ESSEX ST.
Salem, dec 14—ly

H. & H. G. HUBON,
WASHINGTON STREET, SALEM
Manufacturers of
Rose Wood, Mahogany, Black Walnut and Stained Wood
COFFINS and CASKETS.

MAKING this our exclusive business, we are ready at all times and at the shortest notice to furnish Grave Clothes of various styles, as well as Coffins and Caskets of the finest finish. Personal attention given, and delivered without extra charge to any of the neighboring towns. All orders by express or otherwise will receive prompt attention.

Black Walnut and White Wood Boards, Plank and Joists for sale.

dec 14—tf



CHARLES S. BUFFUM,

BEING an authorized UNDERTAKER of South Danvers, will attend Funerals in said place with his Hearse the same as the Town Undertaker. Will also attend Funerals, when desired, in any of the neighboring towns, with one or a pair of horses.

He also furnishes Coffin Caskets, Robes, &c., lower than city prices.

All branches of the business attended to, such as furnishing Coaches, Flowers, Laying Out, &c. Ice Preservers furnished.

All orders promptly attended to, and personal attention given to them. Articles delivered to any of the neighboring towns free of charge. Orders by express or otherwise will receive prompt attention.

Central street, South Danvers,
RESIDENCE 25 ELM STREET.
South Danvers, Feb 17, 1864.

Undertaker's Notice!

THE subscriber being regularly appointed as Undertaker of South Danvers, would respectfully notify the public that he has removed from Central Street, to No. 80 Lowell Street, where he may be found in readiness to attend funerals, and to furnish, when desired.

HENRY SPENCER.

February 10, 1864.

E. S. FLINT,
Manufacturer and Dealer in
INNER SOLES,
AND SHOE STIFFENINGS OF ALL KINDS,
2 MAIN STREET, SOUTH DANVERS.

AGRICULTURAL WAREHOUSE.

Parker, Gannett & Osgood,

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL DEALERS IN

Agricultural Implements, Seeds,
FERTILIZERS, &c.,

INCLUDING THE FOLLOWING:

Plows,
Harrows,
Cultivators,
Corn Planters,
Horse Hoes,
Hay Cutters,
Corn Shellers,
Churns, all patterns,
Meat Cutters,
Sausage Stuffers,
Field & Garden Rollers,
Road Scrapers,
Grindstone Fixtures,
Hoes,
Manure Forks,
Shovels,
Spades,
Fan Mills,
Lard Presses,
Vegetable Cutters,
Railway and Sweep Horse Powers,
Threshing Machines,
Hay Presses,
Cider Mills,
Garden and Canal Barrows,
Mounted Grindstones,
Cheese Presses,
Folding Ladders,
Horse Rakes,
Palmer's Horse Pitchforks,
Axes,
Grass Hooks,
Garden Trowels.

BUCKEYE MOWING MACHINES,

Grass, Garden, Flower and Field Seeds,

Guano, Coe's Super Phosphate Lime, Pouderette, Ground Bone, Fish Guano, &c., at the Lowest Prices.

No. 49 North Market street, and 46 Merchant's Row, Boston.

April 27, 1864.——3m.

WM. C. HENDERSON,
MANUFACTURER OF
PLAIN AND FANCY
PAPER BOXES,
No. 235 ESSEX STREET,
Sign of "Nest of Boxes,"
july 23 SALEM. tf

A LECTURE FOR YOUNG MEN.

Just published, a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical cure (without medicine) of SPERMATORRHŒA, or Seminal Weakness, Involuntary Seminal Losses, IMPOTENCY, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc.; also, Consumption, Epilepsy and Fits, induced by self-indulgence or sexual extravagance.

☞ Price, in a sealed envelope, only 6 cents.

The celebrated author in this admirable essay clearly demonstrates from a thirty years successful practice, that the alarming consequences of self abuse may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine or the application of the knife—pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

This Lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land.

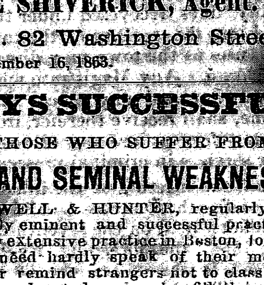
Sent under seal, in a plain envelope, to any address, POST-PAID, on receipt of six cents, or two postage stamps. Address the publishers,

CHAS. J. C. KLINE & CO.,
127 Bowery. New York, Post Office Box, 4586.
January 16—8mos.

Abbott's South Danvers & Salem
EXPRESS.

Leave South Danvers, 7½ a m, 1 p m
Leave Salem, 10 a m, 4 p m

Orders left at Teel & Moulton's, and principal stores on Main street, South Danvers, and at 7 Washington street, and at Reed's in the Market, Salem.



FOR NEW YORK via FALL RIVER AND NEWPORT. Cabin passage $5.00; Deck, $4.00. Cars leave the Depot of the Old Colony and Newport Railway, corner of South and Kneeland streets, at 5.30 P. M., daily.

For steamer BAY STATE, Capt. W. Brown, on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

For steamer EMPIRE STATE, Capt. B. Brayton, on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays.

Passengers by this route can take the 4.10 P. M. Express Train, and arrive in Fall River one hour before the Steamboat Train, having time to secure State Rooms and make their preparations for the passage.

Passengers by this line going to Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, &c., can connect with the New Jersey or Camden and Amboy Railroad. Baggage Checked through.

☞ A baggage master accompanies the passengers through to New York. Tickets, Berths and State-rooms secured at the O. C. & Newport R. R. Station.

GEORGE SHIVERICK, Agent.
No. 82 Washington Street.
BOSTON, November 16, 1863.

ALWAYS SUCCESSFUL!

TO ALL THOSE WHO SUFFER FROM

DEBILITY AND SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

DRS. CARSWELL & HUNTER, regularly educated, highly eminent and successful practitioners, after a very extensive practice in Boston, for over twenty years, need hardly speak of their medical qualifications, or remind strangers not to class them with a set of uneducated men, who fill the papers with their boasting advertisements. Drs. C. & H. caution the public against quackery in all its forms, pretending, as some self-styled doctors, to cure all the most difficult and chronic diseases, without knowledge of the human system, or of the modus operandi of the most simple drugs.

Drs. C. & H., since 1840, having confined their whole atttention to an office practice for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, they acknowledge no superiors.

CONSTITUTIONAL DEBILITY OR SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Drs. C. & H. are pre-eminently successful in the treatment of the above most difficult and perplexing of all diseases, this complaint being the result of a secret habit in youth; if neglected or improperly treated, it proves one of the greatest evils that can befall a human being. Dr. H. has given particular attention to the above disease for years, and so thoroughly has he become acquainted with the pathology and treatment, that he will warrant a perfect cure under forfeiture of $500; in fact, he will, in the cure of this complaint, acknowledge no superior in this country, or even in the world. Come, then, all you who are afflicted, come to the Old Stand, where you will in a short time be made to rejoice in perfect health.

SYPHILITIC AND SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS,—such as Ulcers and Caries of the throat and nose, Running Sores on the legs and arms, Hard Scabs and Scaly Eruptions on the head, back, &c., pains in the bones and joints, and all other forms of venereal diseases—are made to yield and entirely disappear under Drs. C. & H.'s improved and thoroughly eradicating course of treatment.

The primary or first symptoms of disease, whether a simple running, or small pistules, cancers, or ulcers, are cured in a very few days, if immediate application is made to Drs. C. & H.

13 ENDICOTT STREET, BOSTON. 13

Strangers should be particular in the selection of a physician, lest they be deceived by false advertisements.

Ladies troubled with irregularity, weakness, whites, and other complaints peculiar to the female system, will find a speedy cure by calling as above. No mercury used, and no charge for advice. The afflicted are invited to give us a call.

Boston, April 20, 1864.—1 yr.

25 YEARS' EXPERIENCE enables DRS. CARSWELL & HUNTER to cure any diseases of a private nature in a shorter space of time and for a smaller amount of money than any other doctors in this country, and they also treat all female complaints with perfect success, and on the most satisfactory terms. Patients furnished with board if desired. Please give us a call at our office, No. 13 Endicott St., Boston, Mass.

Boston, April 20, 1864.—1 yr.

Chickering & Sons' Piano-Fortes.
Hallett & Cumston's Piano-Fortes.
Hallett & Davis's Piano-Fortes.

We select our Piano-Fortes from the above firms and warrant them to give perfect satisfaction. Our terms are reasonable, and all persons in the city and neighboring towns can be accommodated by calling at 76 Federal street.

FOR SALE—Second hand Piano-Fortes,—Chickering's and others.

ap 29 ANN R. BRAY.

WHITE-WASH BRUSHES

AND Paint Brushes of all sizes—at
S C & E A SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

SUMMER ARRA
TO LYNN & BO
BY OMNIBUS & HO
W. F. BURNH
Line of Omnibuses will leave th
Omnibus Office, No. 6 Allen's B vers passing down Main Street, t
Street, to Lynn, daily—Sundays e
Leave South Danvers at 7.50 (
and 4.50 P. M.
Leave Lynn (Horse Car Depot,
A. M., 2.40 and 6.40 P. M.
Horse Cars leaving the office a at 8.15 A. M., 1.15 and 5.15 P. M., buses at Lynn, at the above na
passengers to South Danvers.
Tickets to Lynn, -
Through to Boston,

Gravesend, Woodend,
Depot Rout
ON and after Monday, Nov 2, i route, an Omnibus will leave
Lynn, to connect with the stea
times daily,—Sundays excepted
Gravesend and Woodend, to the
and Horse Railroad Station, co Broad Streets; leaving South Dan necting with the 7.25 steam cars
(connecting with the 11.10 train), ing with the 4.50 train); and ret from the Spring Street Station a pot, at 8 A M, and 1 and 6 P M.
Fare from S. Danvers to Bosto
Through Tickets to and from B
the Drivers and Conductors.

South Danvers, Sale
Route.
THE subscriber having purch
lay the Omnibus line run
Lynn, would announce that i
Stage Office, No. 6 Allen's Build
for Salem, at 7.30 A M, and 2.30
Stage Office in Central St, Sale
3.30 P M for Lynn. Returning w
A M and 5 P M., and Salem for S
A M. and 6.15 P M.
Passengers between South Dan
be called for by leaving orders a Passengers called for at reason is given at the office.
EXPRESS BUS
Between South Danvers and L
ed to, on reasonable terms.
Extra Coaches furnished at sh
W. F.
South Danvers, April 20, 1864.

CROUT & MU
SOUTH DANVERS
RAILROAD E
Express leaves South Danvers
Freight
Express leaves Boston at
Freight " " at
OFFICE at FREIGHT
Danvers Square.
Express Office in Boston, 3
Freight Office, 48
Particular attention paid
niture, collecting Bills, Note
Smallest favors thankfully rece
South Danvers, august 26—tf

MARSHA
DANVERS, SO. DANV
EXPRES
Leave DANVERS (daily) at 9
" SALEM at 1½ P. M.
OFFICES:
In Danvers—At E. B. Waitt's and
Danversport—Richards' and A. V
In So. Danvers—Francis Dane &
street.
In Salem—No 7 Washington stre
17 Derby Square.
All business promptly and faith
——Our patrons are partic
write their orders.
——Packages left at the offic
"Marshall's Express."
——Being connected with t
are enabled to forward Notes,
collection, and small packages point in the United States, at
decl—8—tf

WEBBE
South Danvers & Salem
WILL leave South Danvers a
1½ and 5 P.M.
Leaves Salem at 8.45 A. M., 12
Slates will be found in South
Office, and at Blake & Holman's
ment, and in Salem at the Coach
Street, and at E F & J W Robert
Washington Streets.
Any packages or business ent
will have prompt attention and
lic patronage is solicited.
PA

Important to the
DR. DOW continues to be co
Nos. 7 and 9 Endicott street
eases of a
PRIVATE OR DELICA
By a long course of study and
of unlimited extent, Dr. D. has of presenting the unfortunate have never, since he first introd cure the most alarming cases of
GONORRHŒA AND
Beneath his treatment, all the
and impure blood, Impotency, S
Ulcers, pain and distress in the tion, Inflammation of the Bladd drocele, Abcesses, Humors, frig
the long train of horrible symp class of disease, are made to bec
the simplest ailings of a child.
SEMINAL WEA
Dr. D. devotes a great part of ment of those cases caused by a habit, which ruins the body and unfortunate individual for busin
of the sad and melancholy effec habits of youth, are Weakne limbs, Dizziness of the head, D
pitation of the heart, Dyspepsi
rangement of the digestive fun
Consumption, &c. The fearful are much to be dreaded; loss o of ideas, depression of spiri
aversion of society, self-distrus among the evils produced. Suc
fore contemplating matrimony, experience, and be at once r
happiness.
Patients who wish to remain u ment a few days or weeks, will pleasant rooms, and charges for Medicines sent to all parts of directions for use, on receiving cases. Dr. Dow has also for sale warranted the best preventive
or $1 and a red stamp.

CAUTIO
TO FEMALES IN DELIC
DR. DOW, Physician and Sur street, Boston, is consulted daily dent to the female system. Pro
ing of the Womb, Fluor Albus,
er menstrual derangements, are pathological principles, and spe
in a very few days. So invaria mode of treatment, that most yield under it, and the afflicted
in perfect health.
Dr. Dow has no doubt had gre cure of diseases of women and
other physician in Boston.
Boarding accommodations fo wish to stay in Boston a few d
ment.
Dr. Dow, since 1845, having c tention to an office practice for Diseases and Female Complain
superior in the United States.
N. B.—All letters must contain
they will not be answered.
Office Hours from 8 A. M. to 9

CERTAIN
IN ALL CASES, OR NO C
Dr. Dow is consulted daily, f
as above, upon all difficult an every name and nature, having tention and extraordinary succe
which calls patients from all pa
obtain advice.
Among the physicians in Bost
in the profession than the celeb
7 Endicott street, Boston. Tho vices of an experienced physici
give him a call. P. S.—Dr. Do sale a new article, called the F
by mail. Two for $1 and a red
April 20, 1864—ly.

Ann R. Bray, 76
HAS a full Stock of B colo s we have all t
Muslin Delains in Spring co

South Danvers Wizard.

OL. V. SOUTH DANVERS, MASS., WEDNESDAY, JUNE 1, 1864. NO. 22.

SOUTH DANVERS WIZARD
hed every WEDNESDAY, at Allen's Build-
th Danvers Square.
—Two Dollars a year.
TISEMENTS inserted at reasonable rates.

CHARLES D. HOWARD,
DITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

R. NILES, Advertising Agent,
Scollay's Building, Court Street, Boston, is
nt for that city, and is authorized to redvertisements and subscriptions for us at
est rates.

EGULATIONS OF THE ARD OF HEALTH
—OF THE—
WN OF SOUTH DANVERS.

Adopted April 12, 1864.

ered, That all dirt, saw-dust, cinders, gs, hair, shreds, manure, oyster and lob-ells, waste water, or any animal or vegesubstance, rubbish, or filth of any kind, house, ware-house, cellar, yard, or other which the Board of Health shall deem essary for the health of the town to be ed, shall be carried away therefrom, by t the expense of the owner or occupant h house, or other place where the same be found, and shall be removed to such as shall be directed, within four hours notice in writing to that effect, given by oard of Health.

ered, That all slaughter-houses or places animals are slaughtered, shall be so ed by removing the offal, and all decay-imal matter, as to be free from all offendors to residents in the vicinity, and to ndividuals travelling by any such place animals are slaughtered.

ered, That no obstructions, such as posts,
s, or other collectors of decaying animal getable matters, shall be placed in any of rooks of the town, or in Wallis Pond,— nat no privy be erected or continued over aters, or so situated on the margin theret the filth shall pass into them, and that imal or vegetable matters, or whatever pollute the waters, be thrown or allowed in the same, excepting by special permit Board of Health.

ered, That no wagon, cart or vehicle, in night soil, hides or other matter, in a ion to emit fetid and offensive effluvia ing conveyed through any of the streets, ays, or within forty rods of any dwelling , school house, or other public building in own, shall be permitted to stand more five minutes, within forty rods of the place, except it be at the place or places the load is received or deposited.

M. A. SHACKLEY, }
DR. S. F. BACHELDER, } Board
JOSEPH POOR, } of
A. P. PHILLIPS, } Health.
CHAS. E. BROWN, }
th Danvers, April 20, 1864. 6w

MISS. S. E. MACKINTIRE.
TEACHER ON
ANO FORTE
RESIDENCE,—22 Holton Street,
South Danvers.
13

PECTACLES!

F. SKERRY wishes to call special attention to his stock of pectacles and Eye Glasses,
old—Silver—Rubber—Steel and Horn s, of which he keeps constantly on hand y large assortment, embracing every style quality.
—ALSO—
pera Glasses, Microscopes, &c.
asses re-set, and Spectacles repaired.
Store, our usual assortment of Silver and ed Ware, and Jewelry.
No. 180 Essex Street, Salem.
H. F. SKERRY.
b. 24—tf.

. W. WILKINSON,
DEALER IN
wspapers, Periodicals, and ationery of every Description.
REIGN and DOMESTIC FRUITS, consisting of Oranges, Lemons, Dates, Figs, nes, &c., &c.
auces, Pickles and Preserves; Castana, Na and English Walnuts; Hard, Soft and Pa shelled Almonds; choice brands of Tobac and Cigars; also a general assortment of fectionery of every description.
lso a large and well selected stock of Toys, able for children and the Holiday Gifts.
e Cream furnished to parties at short no-and in quantities to suit. Wedding Cake every variety of nice cake furnished to ies or families.
TORE—WARREN BANK BUILDING.
outh Danvers, Nov'r 11, 1863.

HOUSEKEEPERS, ATTENTION!
JACKSON'S
TCHEN FURNISHING ROOMS,
Under MECHANIC HALL, Salem.
Parties about commencing House-Keeping l find this the only place in Salem where a plete assortment of House-keeping articles be found.
Dec 9—6w

N R. BRAY, 76 Federal Street.
N order to keep our assortment good, we are constantly adding New Styles of DRESS ons as they come into the market.
☞ Ladies coming into the city will call at Federal Street.
apr 27

TO LET.
HOUSE on Foster Street,
belonging to the estate of the late Benjamin Goodridge. For terms apply at the house.
JAMES L. GOODRIDGE,
Adm'r.
April 20—tf

MANUAL FENOLLOSA
TEACHER
OF THE
olin, Piano and Singing,
MUSIC ROOMS, No. 7 Central Street,
SALEM, MASS.

ANN R. BRAY,
No. 76 Federal Street, Salem.

WE have received many new and desirable styles of
Spring and Summer Goods,
which will give our customers and friends a full stock to select their goods from.
We have a full assortment of Organdies;
Jaconets—white and colored grounds;
Mozambique, Challies, Rich Fancy Ginghams
Bright colors Tartan Plaid—French Bareges;
French Cambrics for Ladies and Children;
French Plaids—suitable for Summer wear;
—We have a full line of—
Alpaccas; choice shades; Black do; Black Silks.

MORRIS'
RESTAURANT,
18 and 20 Derby Square, Salem.
Oysters, Clams, Steak, Poultry, Game, Fish, &c., &c., cooked to order.
Pickled Oysters, Lobsters and Clams.
Salem, July 22, 1863. tf

FURNITURE.
Having taken Rooms over M. C. REYNOLDS & Co's Store, I shall keep constantly on hand a large stock of
NEW AND SECOND-HAND FURNITURE,
BEDDING, COUNTING-ROOM DESKS, &c., &c.,
which I will sell cheap for CASH.
☞ All kinds of FURNITURE and BEDDING wanted—for which the highest Cash price will be paid.
P. J. HYNES, 18 FRONT-ST.
Salem, April 6, 1864—1y

DR. S. O. RICHARDSON'S
Blood-Root Elixir
Has been thoroughly tested and proved in his medical practice, for a period of THIRTY YEARS, and is now presented to the public as an effectual cure for
COSTIVENESS,
AND THE BEST REMEDY EVER PREPARED FOR
DISEASES OF THE LIVER,
SCROFULA,
All Humors and Impurities of the Blood and Diseases of the Skin.

The preparing and combining the BLOOD-ROOT ELIXIR is attended with results to medical science next in importance to inhalation of ether in surgery. Roots and plants, in themselves pungent and disagreeable, are, by a new and scientific process of extracting (in vacuo,) rendered MORE EFFECTIVE IN THEIR OPERATION, entirely divested of the griping and distressing pain which attends the action of all other purgative medicine.—They are also made to become highly

PLEASANT AND AGREEABLE TO THE TASTE,

and by their peculiar combination work so perfectly in HARMONY WITH NATURE that no unpleasant reaction will follow its operation. It also possesses

A DIFFUSIVE AND ALTERATIVE EFFECT,

which can only be attained by medicine in a fluid state. These are new elements in purgative medicines.

The hard and compact manner in which Pills are prepared, renders them indigestible—and, when taken, are forced through the Stomach and Bowels half dissolved, causing only PARTIAL ACTION, thereby creating irritation and pain to the parts connected with their passage.

One Pill dissolved secundum artem, will produce more medicinal and physical effect than five in a crude state.

The BLOOD-ROOT ELIXIR has no partial action upon the bowels, but is equally diffused there, and throughout the whole circulation of the Blood, imparting a healthy and invigorating action to the STOMACH AND BOWELS, LIVER, LUNGS, KIDNEYS, and gently stimulating dermant and morbid secretions throughout the whole system.

A single dose will produce a cheerful and exhilarating COMMOTION, which will inspire the patient with confidence, and assurance of IMMEDIATE RELIEF. A continuance for a short period will DRIVE the obscure and hidden humors to the surface of the skin, and relieve or check SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS—and by thus purifying and strengthening the Blood, will remove the most fruitful

CAUSE OF CONSUMPTION.

It incites the various organs of the system to act their alloted part, removing the causes which induce RHEUMATISM and NEURALGIA, HEADACHE, LOSS OF APPETITE, DYSPEPSIA, COSTIVENESS, and the various diseases which arise from a derangement of the Stomach and Bowels, and restricted circulation of the Blood.

COUGHS AND COLDS, in their early stages, will immediately yield to the effect of the Elixir.

The BLOOD-ROOT ELIXIR contains no mineral, no pernicious botanical element, no excitant, but stimulates the secretions by its mild and diffusive action. It is an effective and painless aperient—has a decided salutary action upon the Liver, and there has been no medicine prepared for common family use which possesses equal merit.

Travellers both by sea and land, will find the Elixir a complete antidote for the evils which they are obliged to endure, from a change of climate or water of diet.

See the pamphlet around each bottle for a history of the Elixir.

The proprietor of the BLOOD-ROOT ELIXIR, (Dr. S. O. Richardson,) has been long and favorably known to the public by his celebrated SHERRY-WINE BITTERS, the best tonic medicine ever discovered, and which has been in use over thirty years. He is a graduate of the New Hampshire Medical College, and many years associate member of the Massachusetts Medical Society,—and has made the study of medicine his profession since 1820.

And so fully convinced is the Doctor of the wonderful curative effects of his BLOOD-ROOT ELIXIR, that he hereby offers to each and every person who will use ONE-HALF OF A BOTTLE of his ELIXIR, and not be CONSCIOUS of a good effect therefrom, to REFUND to said person the FULL amount which he paid for the same, by returning the ullage bottle to his office.

Price $1.50 Per Bottle!
Sold by Apothecaries and Dealers in Medicines, and at the Doctor's Office,
51 & 53 HANOVER ST., BOSTON.
May 11—3ms.*

CARRIAGES
OF ALL KINDS
REPAIRED AND PAINTED
—BY—
JOHN C. BLANEY,
Rear of Lowell Depot, Central St.,
So. Danvers, April 6, 1864.

Salem and Danvers Aqueduct Co'y.

ALL persons using the water of the Salem and South Danvers Aqueduct are hereby notified that the water rents, for the six months ending April 1, 1864, are now due, and that they are required to pay the same, at the office of the Company, No. 2 Sewall street, on or before the 1st day of May next. Should the bills remain unpaid for thirty days, the water will be stopped, in conformity to the regulations of the Company.

Office hours, from 9 to 1 o'clock, and from 2 to 6.

Per order of the Directors,
Salem, April 1. WM. JELLY, Collector.

PIN WORMS. MRS. OSBORN'S Universal Worm Powders are the only sure cure ever offered to the public. They are warranted in every case; relief within 24 hrs. 25 cts. per box. Sold by all druggists.
For sale by D. P. GROSVENOR, Jr., 33 Main St., South Danvers. jan 27

Horse Railroad Notice.

On and after MONDAY, May 9, the cars of the Salem and South Danvers Railroad Co. will leave

South Danvers for Salem and Beverly at 6.35, 6.55, 7.15, and 7.35, A. M., and every 20 minutes till 12.55 P. M., and at 1.10, 1.25, 1.40, 1.55 P. M., and every 15 minutes till 10.25 P. M. The 9.55, 10.10, and 10.25 P. M., cars will go only to Salem.

Cars will leave Beverly for Salem and South Danvers at 6.35, 6.55, 7.15, and 7.35, A. M., and every 20 minutes till 12.55 P. M., and at 1.10, 1.25, 1.40 and 1.55 P.M., and every 15 minutes till 10.40 P. M. The 9.40, 9.55, 10.10, 10.25 and 10.40 P. M., cars go only to Salem.

Cars leave Washington Street Station for So. Danvers at 6.12, 6.32 and 6.52 A. M. and every 20 minutes till 12.32 P. M., and leave Washington St. Station for Beverly at 6.17, 6.37, 6.57, A. M., and every 20 minutes till 12.37 P. M., and cars will leave Washington St. Station for South Danvers and Beverly at 12.45, 1, 1.15, and 1.30 P. M., and every 15 minutes till 10.00 P. M.

M. H. HALE,
Sup't S. & S. D. R. R. Co.
may 11 tf

FOREST RIVER WHITE LEAD.
A SUPPLY of pure white Lead just received from the Mills.
my18 S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS, 32 Front st.

LYON'S KATHAIRON.
Kathairon is from the Greek word "Kathro," or "Kathairo," signifying to cleanse, rejuvenate and restore. This article is what its name signifies. For preserving, restoring and beautifying the human hair it is the most remarkable preparation in the world. It is again owned and put up by the original proprietor, and is now made with the same care, skill and attention which gave it a sale of over one million bottles per annum.
It is a most delightful Hair Dressing.
It eradicates scurf and dandruff.
It keeps the head cool and clean.
It makes the hair rich, soft and glossy.
It prevents the hair from falling off and turning gray.
It restores hair upon bald heads.
Any lady or gentleman who values a beautiful head of hair should use Lyon's Kathairon. It is known and used throughout the civilized world. Sold by all respectable dealers.
DEMAS S. BARNES, & CO., New-York.

HAGAN'S MAGNOLIA BALM.
This is the most delightful and extraordinary article ever discovered. It changes the sun burnt face and hands to a pearly satin texture of ravishing beauty, imparting the marble purity of youth, and the distingue appearance so inviting in the city belle of fashion. It removes tan, freckles, pimples and roughness from the skin, leaving the complexion fresh, transparent and smooth. It contains no material injurious to the skin. Patronized by Actresses and Opera Singers. It is what every lady should have. Sold everywhere.
Prepared by W. E. HAGAN, Troy N. Y.
Address all orders to
DEMAS S. BARNES, & CO., New-York.

HEIMSTREET'S
INIMITABLE HAIR RESTORATIVE.
NOT A DYE
But restores gray hair to its original color, by supplying the capillary tubes with natural sustenance, impaired by age or disease. All instantaneous dyes are composed of lunar caustic, destroying the vitality and beauty of the hair, and afford of themselves no dressing. Heimstreet's Inimitable Coloring not only restores hair to its natural color by an easy process, but gives the hair a Luxuriant Beauty,
promotes its growth, prevents its falling off, eradicates dandruff, and imparts health and pleasantness to the head. It has stood the test of time, being the original Hair Coloring, and is constantly increasing in favor. Used by both gentlemen and ladies. It is sold by all respectable dealers, or can be procured by them of the commercial agents, D. S. BARNES & CO., 202 Broadway, New York. Two sizes, 50 cents and $1.

MEXICAN MUSTANG LINIMENT.
The parties in St. Louis and Cincinnati, who have been Counterfeiting the Mustang Liniment under pretense of proprietorship, have been thoroughly estoped by the Courts. To guard against further imposition, I have procured from the U. States Treasury, a private steel plate revenue stamp, which is placed over the top of each bottle. Each stamp bears the fac simile of my Signature, and without which the article is a Counterfeit, dangerous and worthless imitation. Examine every bottle. This Liniment has been in use and growing in favor for many years. There hardly exists a hamlet on the habitable Globe that does not contain evidence of its wonderful effects. It is the best emolient in the world. With its present improved ingredients, its effects upon man and beast, are perfectly remarkable. Sores are healed, pains relieved, lives saved, valuable animals made useful, and untold ills assuaged. For cuts, bruises, sprains, rheumatism, swellings, bites, cuts, caked breasts, strained horses, &c., it is a Sovereign Remedy that should never be dispensed with. It should be in every family. Sold by all Druggists.
D. S. BARNES, New-York.
March 9th, 1864.—1yr.

Selected Poetry.

[From the New Regime.]

OUT OF THE WILDERNESS.

Out of the Wilderness at last! "Onward!" the battle cry,
That nerves our weary legions still, to conquer or to die,
"Faint yet pursuing," on they press! our brothers true and brave,
Till once again, our starry flag, o'er rebel ramparts wave.

Where tangled forests hide the sun, where rushing rivers foam,
Where fell miasmas brood and creep, o'er marshes dank and lone,
Our hearts have throbbed, to watch thy fate, proud banner of the free—
Our children's heritage, our hopes, our nation's life, with thee.

Oh! sun, that once in other days, stood still while brave men fought,
Oh! mother earth, whose beating breast their crimson current caught,
Look softly down, press tenderly, these sons of thine, to thee,
Their blood is poured in baptism, till all the land is free.

What though the shadows thickly fall? and many a home be drear,
Because he cometh not again, whose very step was dear—
Tho' flags half-mast for heroes gone! tho' woman's hot tears fall—
The record of the Wilderness is nobly worth them all.

Oh! mother, if the boy you bore, on Freedom's altar lie—
Pale—pulseless—cold, a sacrifice—thank God he did not die,
Where cowards hide—where traitors lurk—but in the battle's van—
With all the country looking on—a patriot and a man.

Oh! child, whose father went away, in our own "army blue,"
Whose farewell kiss dropped on thy lips, sweet one, like morning dew,
Oh! maid, whose lover never more, shall linger at the gate!
Oh! widowed heart, steeped in woe! so lone and desolate!

Be patient still! 'Tis almost o'er, God's bow is in the cloud—
This dark rebellion soon shall cry, for coffin and for shroud—
We pray at home, and not in vain, beneath Virginia skies—
The grim appeal to arms is made—the soldier's prayers arise.

Beat the old battle call again! Ring out the bugle blast—
Our northern boys will bravely fight—till all the need is past
Till whether pine, or whether palm, shall shade the child at play—
The Union flag shall wave o'er all—from sea to sea, for aye.

NORFOLK, VA., May 13. M. E. M.

Original.

THREE YEARS IN THE ARMY.

BY A HIGH SCHOOL SCHOLAR.

It scarcely seems possible that three years have passed since a youthful company of volunteers were assembled from all parts of the town, preparatory to an examination which should decide whether they were competent to serve against the enemy. But why this enlistment? Sumter had not fallen, the President had not bidden our young men to defend the National Capital against our country's treacherous sons,—and then, here, were girls as well as boys, ready and anxious to enlist. Can it be possible that the happy time so eagerly sought by those who advocate Woman's Rights had come, and woman was to choose either to fight, vote or pursue domestic avocations?

Although by their happy faces one could easily perceive that they had not been conscripted, yet the countenances of some bore anxious looks and were expressive of hopes and fears,—hopes of an acceptance which they knew would be obtained only by the silent effort of the mind,—fears of a failure in the examination which was to consist more of a mental than physical nature.

Our ranks full, our spirits elated, the motto of our imaginary banner—Excelsior—not knowing whether victory or defeat was to crown our endeavors, we entered on our first campaign, the enemy whom we are now about to encounter being the mighty one—Ignorance.

The marshalling of our ranks lacked the excitement which delights the soldier; no strains of national music inspired us; no glittering array of muskets, no busy scenes of camp life, relieved the monotony of our every-day course.

Let me picture to you some of our unpretending implements of warfare. First, were books with all their varied contents; then the pen—which, although so humble in appearance, has been proved mightier than the sword—also lent its aid to conquer the powerful foe.

During the first campaign, our enemy, ever dealing in strategy, saw fit not to oppose us with full strength; consequently the year glided by, interrupted only by an occasional skirmish and ineffectual raids. The year closed with a grand review, at which friends assembled to congratulate us on any advantage which we were supposed to have gained over the common enemy.

After a short furlough, the commencement of the second campaign found us with undiminished ardor, ready to pursue our calling; and although some of our number had left us—their term of enlistment having expired—new recruits filled their places. Numerous and powerful were the allies which ignorance—our foe—employed, to baffle our good intentions,—even Cæsar, over whose commentaries we were so often perplexed, used not more strategy. The wintry blast and the sultry days of summer were equally potent agencies to unnerve us in our advancement. Those quiet, balmy days of summer seemed made purposely for nought but dreamy idleness.

Everything, save the hum of bees, the rippling of the brook and the occasional twitter of the sparrow, appeared void of energy and life. On such days, in vain would our commanders—Hills and Smith—use their utmost endeavors to rouse us from apathy. The listless manner, the inattentive eye and ear, too plainly told of our temporary defeat and the enemy's victory. But after the enervating days of summer had passed, and our minds had been refreshed by a long furlough, then with crayon and book in hand would we again start, fully resolved to put the enemy to flight. Nor did ever soldier construct angles and bastions with more zeal, than with nimble fingers and busy brain did we find the untold of X, or trace the angles of our diagrams in Geometry.

Thus, with mingled victory and defeat, passed the second campaign, closing as before with the annual review.

And here I feel like reproving two of our number. It is true they were born in the State of Massachusetts, and from her have always received that love which prompted her to look well to the welfare of her children, whether they be soldiers or scholars; and yet two of our classmates have shown that there was still another state, at whose invitation they had not turned a deaf ear—even that of Matrimony. Poor old State of Massachusetts! Her sons and daughters often slight her in this way.

Again, as one corps of our army left us, and again their vacant stations were filled with new faces, and we enter on this our last year, as veterans, ever heeding our watch word "Excelsior," do we feel that now is the time we must make all effort to improve our opportunities. Often did we stumble over rocky questions in Geology—often were we obliged to change the base of our operations to avoid the ambuscades of the subtle foe.

It was during this last year that one of our number who joined the class was called away by Death. She entered, as did we, with buoyant hopes and bright anticipations, but Death ever loves a "shining mark." Who, among all the classmates, was more universally beloved than she? But alas! earthly love could not save her. Gradually, with the flowers of summer, she faded—and as the leaves of autumn withered and fell, so she passed away. How aptly does the poet express our estimate of her character! "Virtue, not rolling suns, the mind matures." "That life is long which answers life's great end."

And now do we offer our thanks to our teachers for their patience and forbearance. For every laudable effort made in our behalf—for every encouraging word and just reproof may they be amply rewarded.

And now we are passing our final review. To you who have fought the same battles and experienced similar discouragements and who can so well sympathize with us, do we leave our case. And as you judge of our merits or imperfections, remember that we have had no trifling foe with whom to contend.

Through the long line of ages have our ancestors sought to conquer the same enemy, and at times doubtless have felt their advancement as uncertain as we; but shall we now, in our youth, cease our efforts to relieve the world of this foe—the cause of so much misery to our race? May we rather increase our diligence, although we leave these public ranks for those of a more private nature. M. H. W.

Danvers, Holten High School, 1864.

AN EXTRAORDINARY MASON.

The first Masonic funeral that ever took place in California, occurred in the year 1849, and was performed over the body of a brother found drowned in the bay of San Francisco. An account of the ceremonies states that upon the body of the deceased was found a silver mark of a Mark Master, upon which were engraved the initials of his name. A little further investigation revealed to the beholders the most outre exhibition of Masonic emblems that were ever drawn by the ingenuity of man on human skin. There is nothing in the history or tradition of Free Masonry equal to it. Beautifully dotted on his left arm, in red or blue ink, which time could not efface, appeared all the emblems of an Entered Apprentice. There was the Holy Bible, the Square and Compass, the twenty-four inch Guage, and the common Gavel. There was also the Mosaic pavement, representing the ground floor of King Solomon's Temple, the indented Tessel which surrounds it, and the Blazing Star in the centre. On his right arm, and artistically executed in the same indellible liquids, were the emblems appertaining to the Fellow Craft degree, viz., the Plumb, the Square, and the Level. There were also five columns, representing the five Orders of Architecture—the Tuscan, Doric, Ionic, Corinthian, Composite. In removing the garments from his body, the Trowell presented itself, with all the other working tools of operative Masonry, besides all the emblems peculiar to a Master Mason's degree. Conspicuously on his breast were the Great Lights of Masonry. Over his heart was the Pot of Incense. On other parts of his person were the Bee Hive, the Book of Constitution, guarded by the Tyler's sword; the sword pointing to a naked Heart; the All Seeing Eye; the Anchor and Ark; the Hour Glass, the Scythe, the forty-seventh problem of Euclid; the Sun, Moon, Stars and a Comet; the Three Steps, emblematical of Youth, Manhood, and Age. Admirably executed was the Weeping Virgin reclining on a broken column, upon which lay the Book of Constitution. In her left hand she held the Pot of Incense, the Masonic emblem of a pure heart; and in her uplifted right hand, a sprig of Acacia, the beautiful emblem of immortality of the soul. Immediately beneath her stood winged Time, with his scythe by his side, "which cuts the brittle thread of life," and the Hour Glass at his feet, which is ever reminding us that our lives are drawing to a close. The withered and attenuated fingers of the Destroyer were delicately placed amid the long and gracefully flowing ringlets of the disconsolate mourner. Thus were the striking emblems of mortality and immortality beautifully blended in one pictorial representation. It was a spectacle such as Masons never saw before, and in all probability, such as the fraternity may never witness again. The brother's name was never known.—Vox Populi.

VISITING THE HOSPITALS.

BY CARLETON.

FREDERICKSBURG, May 17.

The day is past. The cool night has come refreshing the fevered cheek, cooling the throbbing pulse and soothing the aching wounds of the thousands congregated in this city. I have made it in part a day of observation, visiting the hospitals, and conversing with patients and nurses, and now, wearied, worn, with nerves unstrung by sickening sights, I make an attempt to sketch the scenes of the day.

The city is a vast hospital; churches, all public buildings, private dwellings, stores, chambers, attics, basements—all are occupied by patients, or are attended by medical officers, or by those who have come to take care of the wounded. All day long the trains of ambulances have been arriving from the field hospitals. There are but few wounded left at the front—those only whom to move would be certain death. Those able to bear removal have been sent in that the army may move on to finish its appointed work.

THE COMMISSIONS.

A red flag is flung out at the Sanitary Commission rooms—a white one at the rooms of the Christian Commission. There are three hundred volunteer nurses in attendance. The Sanitary Commission have fourteen wagons bringing supplies from Belle Plain. The Christian Commission has less transportation facilities, but in devotion, in hard work, in patient effort, it is the compeer of its more bountifully supplied neighbor. The nurses are divided into details—some for day service, some for night work. Each State has its relief committee.

Governor Smith of Vermont is here. Senator Sprague of Rhode Island, Senator Sherman of Ohio, Senator Pomroy of Kansas, Ex-Mayors Bunton and Smyth of Manchester, N. H. Ex-Mayor Fay of Chelsea, Rev. Mr. Means of Roxbury, and scores of men, aside from the Commissions' nurses, doing what they can to relieve the necessities and alleviate the sufferings of the wounded.

How patient the brave fellows are. Not a word of complaint, but thanks for the slightest favor. There has been a lack of crutches.—This morning I saw a soldier of the California regiment, an old soldier who fought with the lamented Baker at Ball's Bluff, and who has been in more than twenty battles, and who, till Thursday last, has escaped unharmed, hobbling about with the arms of a settee nailed to strips of board. His regiment went home to-day, its three years of service having expired. It was but a score or two of weather beaten, battle scarred veterans. The disabled comrade could hardly keep back the tears as he saw them pass down the street. "Few of us left. The bones of the boys are on every battle-field where the Army of the Potomac has fought," said he.

GONE TO THEIR LAST HOME.

There was a sound of the pick and spade in the churchyard, a heaving up of new earth—a digging of trenches not for defense against the enemy—but the preparation of the last resting place of departed heroes. There they lie—a dozen of them—each wrapped in his blanket—the last bivouac! For them there is no more war—no charges into the thick, leaden rain drops—no more hurrahs—no more cheering of the dear old flag, bearing it onward to victory. They have fallen, but the victory is theirs, theirs the roll of eternal honor. One by one—side by side—men from Massachusetts, and from Pennsylvania, and from Wisconsin,—from all the States, resting in one common grave.—Peace to them—blessings on those whom they have left behind!

IN THE HOSPITALS.

Go into the hospitals—armless, legless men, wounds of every description! Men on the hard floor, on the hard seats of church pews, lying in one position all day, unable to stir till the nurse, going the rounds comes to their aid. They must wait till their food comes. Some must be fed with a spoon as if they were little children.

"O, that we could get some straw for the brave fellows," said Rev. Mr. Kimball of the Christian Commission. He had wandered about town searching for the article. "There is none to be had. We shall have to send to Washington for it."

"Straw! I remember two stacks, four miles out on the Spottsylvania road. I saw them last night as I galloped in from the front."

Armed with a requisition from the Provost Marshal to seize two stacks of straw, with two wagons driven by intelligent contrabands, four Christian Commission delegates, and away we went across the battlefield of December—fording Hazel run—gained the hights and reached the straw stacks owned by Rev. Mr. Owen.

"By whose authority do you take my property?"

"The Provost Marshal, sir."

Rev. Mr. Kimball was on the stack pitching it down, I was pitching it in, and the young men were stowing it away.

"Are you going to pay me for it?"

"You must see the Provost Marshal, sir. If you are a loyal man, and will take the oath of allegiance, doubtless you will get your pay."

"It is pretty hard. My children are just ready to starve. I have nothing for them to eat, and you come to take my property without paying for it."

"Yes, sir, war is hard. You must remember, sir, that there are thousands of wounded men—your wounded as well as ours. If your children are on the point of starving, those men are on the point of dying. We must have the straw for them. What we don't take to-night we will get in the morning. Meanwhile, sir, if anybody attempts to take it, please say to them that it is for the hospital and they can't have it."

Thus with wagons stuffed we leave Rev. Mr. Owens and return to make glad the hearts of several thousand men. O how they thank us.

"Did you get it for me? God bless you, sir."

EVENING.

It is evening. Thousands of soldiers just arrived from Washington have passed through the town to take their places in the front. The hills all around are white with innumerable tents and thousands of wagons.

A band is playing lively airs to cheer the wounded in the hospitals. I have been looking in to see the sufferers. Two or three have gone. They will need no more attention. A surgeon is at work upon a ghastly wound, taking up the arteries. An attendant is pouring cold water upon a swollen limb. In the Episcopal church a nurse is bolstering up a wounded officer in the area behind the altar. Men are lying in the pews, on the seats, on the floor, on boards on the top of the pews.

Two candles in the spacious building throw their feeble rays into the dark recesses, faintly disclosing the recumbent forms. There is heavy, stifled breathing, as of constant effort to suppress involuntary cries extorted by acutest pain. Hard it is to see them suffer and not be able to relieve them.

Starting down the street, you reach the rooms of the Christian Commission. Some of the men are writing, some eating their night rations, some dispensing supplies. Passing through the rooms, you gain the grounds in the rear—a beautiful garden once—not inattractive now. The air is redolent with honeysuckle and locust blossoms. The pennifolia is unfolding its delicate milk-white petals—roses are opening their tinted leaves.

Fifty men are gathered round a summer house—warm-hearted men—who have been all day in the hospitals. Their hearts have been wrung by the scenes of suffering, in the exercise of christian charity imitating the example of the Redeemer of men. They have given bread for the body and food for the soul. They have given cups of cold water in the name of Jesus, and prayed with those departing to the silent land. The moonlight shimmers through the leaves of the locust.

The little congregation breaks into singing—

"Come thou fount of every blessing."

After the hymn, a chaplain says: "Brethren, I had service this afternoon in the First division hospital of the Second corps. The surgeon, in charge, before prayer, asked all who desired to be prayed for to raise their hands, and nearly every man who had a hand raised it. Let us remember them in our prayers to-night."

A man in the summer house—so far off that I cannot distinguish him in the shadow—says: "There is manifestly a spirit of prayer among the soldiers in the second division of the sixth corps hospital. Every man there raised his hand for prayers!"

Similar remarks are made by others, and then there are earnest prayers offered that God will bless them, relieve their sufferings, give them patience, restore them to health; that he will remember the widow and fatherless far away—that Jesus may be their friend.

Ah! this night scene! There was an allusion, by one who prayed, to the garden scene of Gethsemane—the blood of the Son of God; and in connection to the blood shed for our country. You who are far away can understand but little of the reality of these scenes. Friends, everywhere, you have given again and again, but continue to give; you cannot repay these brave defenders of our country. Give as God has prospered you, and great shall be your reward. Faint, feeble, tame, lifeless is this attempt to portray the scenes of a day at Fredericksburg. Picture it as you may, and you will fall short of the reality.

☞ For the information of guardians, executors, etc., we publish two sections of an "Act Levying a Tax upon certain Corporations," recently enacted, and approved by our Commonwealth:

SECT. 4. Every guardian who holds, or whose ward or wards hold stock in any corporation, and every executor, administrator, or trustee who holds in trust any such stock, shall, between the first and tenth days of May in each year, return under oath to the treasurer of the Commonwealth, the names and residences on the first day of that month, of themselves and all such wards or other persons to whom any portion of the income from such stock is payable, the number of shares of stock so held, and the name and location of the corporation in which they are held.

SECT. 13. If the assessors of any city or town shall neglect to comply with the requirements of this act, each assessor so neglecting shall forfeit a sum not exceeding two hundred dollars; and any guardian, executor, administrator, or trustee, neglecting to comply with said requirements, shall forfeit a sum not exceeding two hundred dollars.

THE "WILDERNESS" BATTLE GROUND.—The first battle of Gen. Grant, on Thursday, was on the same ground where Gen. Hooker's fine army was so sadly discomfited by Stonewall Jackson's flank attack, just a year the day before Gen. Grant's army crossed the Rapidan, by a part of the same fords used by Hooker.—The army correspondent of the Tribune gives the following account of the battle-field when the troops reached it. He says:

Evidences are visible on all sides of the great battle which occurred here one year ago. The graves of our men, buried by the enemy in immense trenches, are visible on every side, and in many places scores of skulls grin horribly at the mournful observer. Trees cut down by solid shot and shells, and pierced and scarred by bullets, meet the eye on every side. The remains of a Sergeant killed in the battle were discovered and identified by his former comrades to-day, and with reverential hands and with fitting marks of respect, consigned to their final resting place. His remains were only identified by certain peculiarities of uniform. The walls and chimneys of the Chancellorsville Mansion are still standing, and only tend to intensify the desolated aspect of the surrounding country.

The Wizard

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 1, 1864.

☞ We have received a very interesting letter from our Washington correspondent "Delta," but too late for this issue. It will appear next week.

NATIONAL CONVENTION.

The Union party will hold their National Convention for the nomination of a candidate for President, at Baltimore, next Tuesday. It requires no great foresight to see that they will nominate President Lincoln for re-election, by a very large majority; indeed, it may be done by acclamation without a ballot. The most persistent opponents of Mr. Lincoln, thinking it a hopeless task to undertake to control the regular convention, called another yesterday, held at Cleaveland, at which it was expected to nominate Gen. Fremont.

Notwithstanding the strong administration resolutions passed at our Republican State Convention, it is now pretty well understood that three, if not four of the delegates which were chosen, would prefer some other candidate to Mr. Lincoln, though they will not make any factious opposition to him. They would put up with Mr. Lincoln, and even render him a warm support, if some change could be made in the Cabinet.

We suspect that events will happen before November next that will be more influential in determining who will be President for the next four years, than this convention will be.

Harmony Grove Cemetery.—This solemn, but delightful retreat, is now in its finest season of luxuriant vegetation, and is kept in excellent condition by its careful superintendent, Mr. Creasey. New walks and avenues have been opened in the new grounds which have been added on its northwesterly border, and this part of the cemetery is becoming more and more attractive to visitors. It is here that some of the most tasteful enclosures and monuments have been erected.

The western entrance to the grove has been recently closed to the public, but those proprietors, to whom access to the grounds by this entrance is most convenient, have been furnished with keys, by which they can enter at all times. This is a most excellent regulation, as the grove had become a frequent thoroughfare to a class of persons who had no respect for the sanctities of the place, and scenes of rowdyism and intoxication were, unhappily, too frequent and annoying to be any longer bearable. We are glad, therefore, that the trustees have applied a remedy which promises to be effectual.

Fare Raised.—Owing to the very high rates of provender, etc., the fare on the Salem and South Danvers H. R. R. has been raised to six cents, single tickets. Packages of eighteen will be sold for one dollar. For other changes, see their advertisement. We see no reason why fares on all horse routes should not be higher, when we take into consideration the present prices of hay and grain. Mr. Simonds, the proprietor of a large stable in this town, recently informed us that he was paying thirty dollars a ton for hay, and did not get an extra article at that. With hay at that price, and meal at three dollars a bag, it must cost more than twice as much to keep a horse now than it used to in ordinary times; and we were not at all surprised when we heard a short time ago, that fares on the horse cars would be raised. Mr. Burnham, proprietor of the South Danvers and Lynn omnibus line, raised his fares some twenty per cent. over six weeks ago, stating to us at the time that it was impossible for him to do any different, feed being so high.

The Draft.—Our quota having been reduced from seven to five, and the law passed last winter not authorizing a surplus to be drawn, the first five of the eleven named individuals we published week before last, have been summoned to appear at the Provost Marshal's office, and we understand that four of them passed, viz:—Samuel R. Bray, James A. Boynton, Joseph H. Safford, and George W. Whitten. The latter has furnished a substitute, and Mr. Safford paid the commutation fee. Joseph F. Peabody was discharged.

Returned.—The glorious old Massachusetts First has returned—or a remnant of it. They went out with a little rising a thousand, have had 1200 recruits, and now return with about six hundred. South Danvers furnished five men for this regiment, and of these, two, Harrison Whittemore and George B. Miller, returned with them; David W. Osborne was discharged, George W. Gray was wounded, and discharged; and Robert Andrews is now missing.

Promoted.—Capt. Wallace A. Putnam of Danvers, is promoted to Major in 56th (1st Veteran) Regiment.

Collection.—A sum of $165 was collected at the Old South last Sunday, in aid of the U. S. Christian Commission.

CASUALTIES IN THE First Massachusetts Heavy Artillery.

During the past week more particulars have been received in regard to the losses of this regiment in their late encounter with the enemy; and it is with sad feelings that we have to record the loss of two more sons of South Danvers, viz:

Austin A. Herrick, and Frank Gardner,

who were members of Co. D. The first is the son of Mr. Robert Herrick of this town, and the latter is a son of Mr. Charles A. Gardner, for a long while a resident of this place, but now residing in Boston.

We were not much acquainted with the deceased, but from what we learn on all sides, they were young men of sterling worth, and unflinching patriotism.

Among the wounded we notice the names of those well known in this vicinity, viz: Corp. C. A. Warner, E. A. Walton, and Nathaniel Pitman, Jr., of Salem; and among the missing, Jos. Pierce, S. G. Southwick, and 1st Sergeant J. W. Hart of this town; W. H. Dalton of Salem.

JAMES W. KELLEY.

Since our last issue, in which we reported as missing, James W. Kelley, of this town, a member of Co. A, 23d Regiment, Mass. Vols., the following letter, received by his parents, has been handed to us for publication, which tells its own tale:

Camp near Petersburg, Va.,
May 20th, 1864.

Dear Sir,—Doubtless, before this you have heard of the death of your son James W. Kelley. In the thickest of the fight, overwhelmed by numbers, he fell doing his duty like a brave and gallant soldier. Proudly can you point to his record without a stain, and say, he was my son! He did his duty when thousands shrank in guilty fear at home.

With us, (his comrades) his name will ever be associated with all that is good and noble in life, and all that is generous and self-sacrificing in death. Permit me, sir, to join with yourself and family in mourning his loss, for we regard his death as one of those costly sacrifices which shall eventually restore our country to her former glorious position. May God in his mercy strengthen and support you under this affliction, and afford that consolation which no words of mine can supply.

As soon as practicable all necessary papers by which bounties and allowances of both State and National Governments can be secured, for his children, will be provided for.

Respectfully your obedient servant,
CAPT. F. J. BABSON,
Comd'g Co. A, 23d Regt., Mass. Vol. Infantry,
Fortress Monroe, Va.

To Mr. James Kelley, Danversport, Mass.

EDITORIAL ITEMS.

——The rebels claim a great victory for Breckinridge over Sigel at New Market. They pretend to have taken 6 guns and 1000 small arms, and say Sigel ran 30 miles without stopping, abandoning his hospitals and destroying his train.

——The Federal Fleet has at last safely passed out of Red River, where it came precious near being captured.

——The Criminal Term of the Superior Court, lately held at Newburyport, adjourned last Friday without day. The liquor dealers were blooded "some."

——We again hear of complaint against the sanitary, or rather anti-sanitary influences of that mud hole back of the Essex Depot, ycelpt Wallis Pond! Have we a Board of Health among us?

——In running our eyes over a file of English papers, we found the entrance and exit of Garibaldi to be the most common subject of gossip. Without undertaking to quote from the volumes that are written on the topic, we feel almost certain that Garibaldi "was hurried out of the country" to please Louis Napoleon. One party say that the reason was, the failure of the great hero's health, but the phraseology of his letter pretty clearly negatives this by implication. The real reason undoubtedly was, whatever Mr. Gladstone may say to the contrary, that the administration thought the pressure of the great patriot would tend to injure the entente cordiale between England and France, and so he was quietly advised to leave, and he left.

——Beauregard has raised the siege of Fort Darling, but has not dislodged General Butler from his position at Bermuda Hundreds. It will be a great thing if Butler holds on to his position until Grant gets near enough to join his left wing with Butler's forces. When this is safely accomplished, Richmond will be more than half taken.

——We see it repeatedly stated by the Boston papers, that the Legislature raised the pay of the members $200. This is exaggerated just one hundred per cent.; and it is strange that such papers as the Journal and Traveller should repeat the blundering statement so many times. As to the Courier, and other copperhead papers, we cannot expect them to get any nearer the truth than this, when speaking of a Republican Legislature.

——We see it stated that the Grand National Council of the Loyal Union League of America are to meet at Baltimore on the 6th instant. We believe that our Congressional District is represented in that body by Hon. Eben S. Poor of South Danvers.

The War goes bravely on. Grant will not grant Lee a moment's rest. More battles are yet to be fought probably, before Lee succeeds in reaching Richmond. Our cause looks brighter than ever.

Improvement.—We see that the Bleachery Company are erecting a new structure at their works, in front of their main building. It is to be 130 feet by 32, one and a half stories high, and is to contain 16 napping machines. This is a branch of business recently adopted by them.

SEVERE FIRE.

The alarm of fire last Friday forenoon, at 10 1-2 o'clock, was caused by the burning of the stable of Mr. George M. Teel, on Central street, in this town, occupied by himself and Mr. F. Burnham. The fire appears to have originated in a parcel of hay in the lower part of the stable, and was probably caused by sparks from the chimney of the adjoining tannery of Mr. Henry Poor. There were in the stable at the time three horses, two belonging to Mr. D. D. Hart of Woburn, and one to Gen. Sutton of this town, which were rescued—one, however, with great difficulty; also two or three tons of hay, which was destroyed. The dwelling house of Mr. Teel, the upper part of which is occupied by Mr. Burnham, and which connects with the barn, was considerably damaged, both by fire and water, and was saved only through great exertions on the part of the firemen. Nearly all the furniture was removed in the outset, and considering the confusion and excitement always attending a fire of this nature, was not damaged as much as we have known it to be in similar cases. Undoubtedly this was owing, in a great measure to the exertions of the Fire Club Association—an institution which no town or city should be without. We understand that the stable, shed and carriage house were insured for $700, and the house $1300, in the Hampden Office, Springfield. Mr. Teel also had $300 insurance on his furniture, which will not more than cover the damage. His whole loss will not fall far short of $3000. Mr. F. Burnham's loss will be full $300.

An accident occurred to two of the hosemen of Volunteer Engine Company of this town. While they were at work in the second story of the stable, the floor suddenly gave way, carrying them down among a large pile of wood, badly bruising them, but with no internal injury. Their names were George W. Gray and William A. Hildreth,—the former a returned soldier, wounded at Bull Run, and the latter a son of Mr. Paul Hildreth. Both of them had a very narrow escape. A servant girl of Mr. Teel's, at the commencement of the fire, leaped out of the second story window, thinking that egress by the doors was shut off, spraining her considerably.

Our fire department were promptly on hand, and a portion of the Salem firemen, together with the steamer Wm. Chase, and engines No. 3 and 4 from that city, were present and aided in extinguishing the flames.

On Saturday noon, week before last, fire was discovered on the roof of a carriage house in these premises, belonging to Mr. Teel, but the timely arrival of assistance prevented it from spreading. It was thought that it originated in the same way, by a spark from an adjoining chimney.

Recruiting Under False Pretenses.—Our attention has been called to a case of recruiting in this town of such a nature as to require investigation, or at least public explanation.—Some ten or a dozen of our citizens have been induced to consent to the enlistment of their minor sons (some of them quite young) in the Salem Light Infantry, upon the express stipulation that the Company should be only used for garrisoning forts within our own State.

The company has been filled up to the minimum standard and is now at Readville, awaiting orders for duty.

The parents have learned, within a few days, that, in violation of this understanding, the captain has offered the company to the Government for service outside of the State. This has occasioned the parents very great anxiety, and they have applied to the Governor for redress of their grievance.

It is certainly to be hoped that the contract under which the parents assented to the enlistment of their sons, will not be thus summarily set aside. The success of future recruiting for our military service requires that the government should keep all arrangements of this nature in good faith with the citizens, else mutual distrust between the people and our rulers will soon take the place of mutual confidence.

Attempt at Fraud.—A curious circumstance, in the financial way, occurred here recently, which has not been made public. A middle aged, or rather a young, lady of pleasant countenance and good address, called at the Warren Bank and asked to be accommodated with a check on a Boston bank for $9.25. The cashier gave the required accommodation and she departed. A few days afterward she called again and produced the check, which was mutilated, as she said, by the manipulations of the wash tub. Another of like amount was given in exchange, and she again departed. A few days later notice was received from the Boston bank, that a check for $90.50 had been presented, but their suspicions were excited from its appearance that an alteration had been made, and it was protested. So the "gay deceiver" was foiled in her attempt.

It seems that the same person, from the description, alighted from the Horse Cars and asked the same favor of the cashier of the Danvers Bank, but her application was refused. It appears, also, from the examination of the returned check, that attempts to alter its amount had been made, and the parts altered defaced or torn.

Not Missing.—Thomas Kelley, of Danversport, (brother of Jas. W. Kelley, killed) reported missing last week, we are happy to state is alive and well.

Political.—The Traveller says that two of the four Republican delegates to the Baltimore Convention, chosen on Thursday, are anti-Lincoln men.

THE FALLEN BRAVE.

"Slowly and sadly we laid him down,
From the field of his fame, fresh and gory;
We carved not a line, we raised not a stone,
But we left him alone in his glory."

These lines, upon the death and burial of Sir John Moore, who fell in the battle of Corunna, in Spain, in 1809, speak a language peculiarly appropriate as applied to the fallen brave, whose deaths upon the battle-field are wafted to us on almost every gale that sweeps from the South. The fallen in battle earn a glorious fame, which is a rich inheritance for their posterity. To the man who lays down his life for his country belongs a glory not to be surpassed by any honor this world can give or take away.

Let the friends of loved ones who have fallen in battle bind up their broken hearts in the reflection that their friends died in the performance of the highest and most sacred duty which a man is capable of performing, and that their sacrifices and death will be remembered with gratitude and with honor to the remotest generations by their grateful countrymen. We know full well it is grievous—it is heart-rending to reflect that our dear and cherished friends were subjected to the trials and death of the battle-field, and no kind parent, or wife, or brother, or sister, to soothe and comfort them in their last agony; but let us reflect that death comes to all, at all ages and in all conceivable shapes, and that Heaven only knows in what manner, or at what time our loved boy might have been called away, had he not been called to sacrifice his life for his country on the tented field. Wipe away your tears, broken-hearted mourner, for though your boy sleeps the sleep of death, yet his name will live forever upon the bright pages of his country's honor. "He lays like a warrior taking his rest, with his martial cloak around him." Future generations will remember his sacrifices and his death, and all good citizens now condole with you in your bereavements.

H. D. J.

☞ The following resolutions, submitted by Hon. Eben S. Poor, of South Danvers, were adopted at the late District Convention in Salem:

Resolved, That the best and highest interests of the country demand that Abraham Lincoln should be re-nominated and re-elected to the office of President of the United States.

Resolved, That while we have unbounded confidence in the disposition of the President and Congress to secure Freedom throughout the land, we believe it is not departing from our sphere, as the direct representatives of the people, to assert that the time has fully arrived when a more decisive policy should be pursued in favor of the utter abolition of the curse of Slavery in our country; and therefore

Resolved, That our delegates be instructed to use their utmost exertions to establish, as the policy of the National Union Party, the doctrine, that none of the rebellious States shall ever be re-admitted into the Union, except with a Constitution forever prohibiting Slavery therein.

The Salem Leg Company.—This company is, we understand, regularly organized and in possession of all the patents of the inventor. Arrangements are on foot to furnish well constructed and useful artificial limbs to those who have been unfortunately deprived of their natural ones, and they are of such close imitation of nature that the lookers-on can hardly detect the cheat.

This happy invention has done for locomotion what dentistry has effected for mastication. In both cases it is the part of wisdom to "get the best." So marked is the superiority of the "Salem Leg" over all other inventions, that the company can have no lack of orders, especially from those who have suffered amputation in the army, as this invention has the sanction and recommendation of the government, which pays the expense of furnishing the limbs.

The Horse Railroad to North Danvers. Those most directly concerned in the building and management of the Horse Railroad, express the opinion that the provision, adopted by the Mayor and Aldermen, that the inside of the track to South Danvers line on North St., with eighteen inches on the outside, shall be paved with ballast stones the entire distance, will prevent the acceptance of the location, and the building of the road over the route contemplated. This belief is founded upon the opinion that, the amount of the capital stock having been limited at the recent session of the legislature, (which act we have not at hand,) to a certain amount per mile, the road cannot be built within that limit at the present high price of iron and high cost of paving.—Gaz.

Consistent.—Hon. Linus Child, who has acted with the democratic party, declined to be a delegate to a convention, saying "that while our soldiers are engaged in deadly conflict with the rebel army, I cannot consent to take any part against the present administration, but would sustain them to the full extent of my power in their effort to crush and destroy the military power of the rebellion." That is sensible and patriotic.

Postmasters' Salaries.—Hon. John B. Alley introduced an important bill into Congress on Tuesday, dividing Postmasters into five classes, exclusive of New York, where the Postmaster is to receive $6000. The salaries of each class diminish from $4000 to $100.—Box rents and all other receipts and emoluments at a Post Office are to be accounted for as parts of postal revenue.

Quarrelsome Family.—It was Lord Granville who said of the house of Hanover—"this family always has quarrelled, and always will quarrel, from generation to generation;" and there are some developments relating to the domestic life of the present reigning family in England that give force to his words. The Prince of Wales and his royal mother are said often to be at disagreement.

MURDER TRIAL.

The case of Horace L. Davis, charged with the murder of Nathan Breed, of Lynn, December 22d, 1862, came on for trial last Thursday before the Supreme Judicial Court, Justices Bigelow, Metcalf, Hoar and Huntington being present. Attorney General Dwight Foster appeared for the government; Wm. D. Northend and Sidney C. Bancroft appeared for the defendant. This was the second trial.—The first trial took place about a year ago, when the jury disagreed.

Fifty-seven jurors were in attendance; of these 18 were challenged by the defendant without naming a cause; two were rejected by the court on account of their having such opinions upon capital punishment as would prevent them from finding a person guilty of a capital crime, and one was rejected on account of his having expressed an opinion.

The following named jurors were finally impannelled:

Thomas Atwood, of Newburyport; Thomas H. Balch, of Groveland; Jacob Barker, of Salem; John Bartoll, of Marblehead; Field E. Bridges, of Newburyport; Albert S. Brown, of Ipswich; William P. Burns, of Rockport; H. W. S. Cleveland, of Danvers; Freborn W. Cressey, of Beverly; F. C. Drew, of Lawrence; Robert Fears, of Gloucester; and William Kenney of Salem.

Mr. Cleveland was appointed by the Court as foreman of the jury.

The forenoon was occupied in the opening of the case by the Attorney General and the examination of the government witnesses.

At the opening of the Court in the afternoon, the counsel for the defendant stated that the Attorney General, having offered to waive the charge of murder, and accept the plea of guilty of manslaughter, the defendant had, with the concurrence of his parents, agreed to this method of disposing of the case.

Upon this the prisoner retracted his plea of not guilty, and pleaded guilty of manslaughter only. Soon after, the Court sentenced him to imprisonment in the State Prison for 20 years, one day solitary confinement. This is the highest penalty that could be inflicted for this grade of offence. The Chief Justice stated, in giving the sentence, that if any change should take place in his mental condition, making it necessary for him to be transferred to an asylum, it could be easily done under the present law.

Thus ended a case that has given our good neighbors in Lynn so much trouble.

About 70 witnesses were in attendance, although but a small portion of them were examined before the settlement was agreed upon. The boy manifested the same remarkable degree of indifference at the proceedings, as he did at the former trial—actually falling asleep, during the examination of the witnesses, as we were informed by one of the jurors. He betrayed no emotions when receiving the sentence.

It is very probable that if the case had not been arranged by mutual agreement, the trial would have resulted as it did before, in a disagreement of the jury.—Neither side seemed to be very confident of success. The government had the prisoner on their hands and they must keep trying him. The prisoner's friends and counsel were also obliged to keep defending him. As public opinion is about equally divided as to the boy's mental competency to commit this crime, so would a jury naturally be. This disposition of the case seemed to be satisfactory to all sides, and all persons interested in the trial.

It is said that the health of the boy has somewhat improved since the former trial, though his countenance did not indicate it.

The Court adjourned to Monday, June 20th, 9½ A. M., for civil business.

Town Meeting.—There will be a town meeting in this place on Friday evening, June 3d, to see what action the town will take on the petition of Isaac Hardy and others, viz:

"To see if the town will raise, by tax or otherwise, and appropriate the sum of one hundred and twenty-five dollars per man, to such number of volunteers as shall be considered necessary to fill the town's quota under the call for a draft, to be ordered on the first day of July, as per notice from E. M. Stanton, Secretary of War, dated May 18, 1864."

Also—

"To see what action the town will take in regard to an Act of the Legislature passed May 11, 1864, entitled 'an Act to change the mode of taxing property in Corporations.'"

Godey's Lady's Book.—The number for June is before us with its usual promptness, and, as usual, it is full to overflowing with good things of the pen of the writer and the graver of the artist. There is no doing without Godey: so the ladies say.

Atlantic Monthly.—We have received the June number of this popular periodical, which still holds the high rank in public estimation which it has acquired by the literary talent enlisted in its service. The ladies "who do their own work" will be delighted with the support and countenance they obtain from Mrs. Stowe's "House and Home papers."

Continental Monthly.—The June number of the Continental arrived in due season with an attractive table of contents, and new, as well as old, contributions to its pages. The article on the "Mississippi River" is worth more than the cost of the number. The leading article is a critique on Ernest Renan's "Life of Jesus," which it handles with some severity. It may be had of Wilkinson.

TESTIMONIALS.

We take much pleasure in being able to present to our readers the following testimonials in relation to the character and bravery of our gallant young townsman, Lieut. Moses Shackley. It is proper that these honorable memorials should be preserved of one who, with all the ardor of youthful zeal, obeyed the very first call of his country, fought bravely in many severe conflicts, and at last laid down his life on its altar. Of all who have gone out from us, few have fought so many battles and encountered so many perils, and at the same time endured the fatigues of the camp as cheerfully as our departed friend and townsman.

We insert below the letter containing the sad tidings of his death:

U. S. Sanitary Commission,
Fredericksburg, Virginia,
May 14th, 1864.

Mr. Shackley—Dear Sir: I, although a perfect stranger to you, now take my pen in hand to impart to you the sad intelligence of the death of your son Moses, who fell mortally wounded at the battle of Spottsylvania Court House, on the 12th day of May. He was brought off the field and taken to the Division Hospital. I was with him, and he was in very good spirits and felt tip-top, considering where he was wounded. He lived until the morning of the 13th, and he dropped off about 6 o'clock A. M., without any struggle or pain whatever; indeed, during the whole war I never saw any one that died so resigned or easy. I am very sorry indeed at his death, as he and I were great friends; indeed, he was a general favorite with both officers and men. We were under a terrible fire at the time he fell, and the loss in the regiment was very heavy. He was buried alongside of Lieut. Morse, near the spot where the hospital was located.

As to his effects, I have got a book that was in his pocket, and a small silver coin, and I believe the Colonel has got two rings that were on his fingers. I will get all of his things together as soon as we get settled down and forward them to you at the first opportunity.

If you have any idea of coming out for his body I would give it up, as we are on the move and the country is infested with guerilla bands all around our army; but at some future time it can be got, as a great many of us know the spot. Capt. Chipman would have wrote to you, but he is pretty well used up, so he asked me to write for him. He and I are at Fredericksburg, both sick, but expect to rejoin our regiment in a day or two.

Mr. Shackley, you must excuse me for my style of writing, as this is the first time I ever had a chance of imparting sad news to any family; but, sir, believe me that we feel deeply and deplore with you for the loss of your son who was a good comrade, a brave soldier and a dutiful son. And he died while bravely battling for his country and his God; he died a martyr in a noble cause. I also understand that a great many of his brother officers of the 19th were killed and wounded. Moses' last request was to let his folks know that he had sustained the good name he had won in the old 19th Regiment, and God knows he has fully sustained it with just as brave blood as ever was shed for the defence of our glorious Stars and Stripes. But, sir, I will have to close this sad epistle by tendering to you our deep regrets and heartfelt sorrow at your sad loss and family afflictions, and believe me ever to be your friend.

I remain, yours, sincerely,
Captain James Gibson,
59th Regt., Mass. Vols.

The following is the willing testimonial of his brother officers of the old Nineteenth, headed by Col. Devereux;

We, the undersigned, officers of the 19th Massachusetts Volunteers, having been, from the commencement of the resent Rebellion, associated with 2d Lieutenant Moses Shackley, desire to bear testimony to the uniform good conduct and bravery of that officer. His conduct at the battle of Gettysburg was particularly noticeable, from his coolness and sangfroid during the terrible cannonading this regiment was subjected to. His fellow-officers tender this acknowledgment of their appreciation, with the hope that it may be as great a pleasure to him as it is to them.

We close with the following, signed by about thirty of the officers of various rank in his brigade, some of them of New York, Michigan, and other regiments, as well as of Massachusetts:

We, the undersigned, officers of the 3d Brigade, 2d Division, 2d Corps, having been associated for a long time with 2d Lieutenant Moses Shackley, 19th Mass. Vols., desire to bear testimony to his uniform good conduct and bravery during the many trying scenes through which this brigade has passed. As he is about to leave us, we cheerfully commend him as a gentleman worthy every attention and courtesy, and trust he may feel the same pleasure in perusing this slight testimonial as we do in tendering it.

Justice to Colored Soldiers.—Governor Andrew has written a letter to the President calling for prompt and immediate justice to our colored soldiers, by the payment of a full allowance of $13 per month. That is right. If we employ colored soldiers we should pay them and not allow them and their families to suffer. We should do more than that, we should protect them and see that they are not outraged and murdered like brute beasts. We should do by and for them just as we would by so many white men; and the President should act in relation to them as he would to and for his own sons. It is not a question who the man is or what he is as an individual; he wears the United States uniform and that has rights to be respected.—Newbutryport Herald.

☞ The late draft in the Fifth Congressional District will result somewhat differently from the previous one in reference to the proportion of men accepted. Of 81 examined up to the present time, 55 have been accepted. In several towns not one has been rejected. As the time allotted to the accepted men to consider which alternative to choose, has not expired, it is of course now impossible to tell how many will respond personally.—Gazette.

☞ Gen. Kilpatrick, who was wounded recently while leading a cavalry charge against Johnson in Georgia, has been obliged to return home.

[For the Wizard.

NAVAL.

Compass Stati
Sandy Hook, May 12th, 1864.

The U. S. Steamer "Mendota" l
Navy Yard, Brooklyn, at 11 A. M. passed Castle William at 11.30 A. M.;
S. W. Spit buoy and came to anchor a Hook at 1 P. M., making 15 miles in o and thirty minutes. The engine and performed their duty with great satis
the engine making 14 revolutions pounds of steam and closely throttle
"Mendota" was built by Capt. Th
Red Hook, and compares favorably of the double-enders, built by private c
The engine and boilers were built at th
Brooklyn Iron Works, by Daniel M the same establishment that built the comet's boilers. The following is th the officers of the "Mendota:"

Edward F. Nichols, Commander; He
Miller, 1st Lieutenant and Executive
Alexander Mc C. Bishop, Assistant Pay
J. G. Park, Acting Assistant Surgeon
V. Fraser, 1st Assistant Engineer;
Wight, John B. Trott, Maurice Digard
low B. Barnes, Renel B. Pray, Isaac
Acting Ensigns; Benj. Bunes, 2d A
Engineer; David Jones, 3d do.; H. S
Ross, 4th do.; Daniel R. McElroy, 5t
James Como, Acting Gunner; Wm.
Commander's Clerk; Geo. E. Martin master's Clerk; Walter S. Johns, E
McDonald, Peter Cleary, Acting
Mates.

A Battlefield Incident.—A sergea
Pennsylvania regiment in the Army Potomac discovered, on one of the rece tle fields, a dead soldier with the pictu female in his hand. The photograph the back the name of the artist, " Salem, Mass.," and it was accordingly f ed to this city for identification. The proved to be the likeness of the wife liam Peachey of Marblehead and th soldier was undoubtedly her husband, w drafted in July last and assigned to regiment. In one of the late battles wounded and left on the field, where he bly died before he could be rescued.—

Native Wines.—Mr. J. G. Smith, dent of this town, is quite an adept business of wine making. He manu quite a number of different varieties, ing blackberry, current, elderberry, a pure juice of the grape. They are a of the very articles from which they are and consequently are free from all " compounds." His elderberry wines, larly, are well spoken of, and physicians mend them as an invaluable article fo ness and debility. They are for sale fruit store of Mr. E. S. Flint's in th and at Chamberlain's Apothecary's st lem.

☞ Mr. Andrew Carney, the richest Catholic of Boston, who died recentl away two hundred thousand dollars du life, and left nearly a million dollars.

New Goods Opened Yesterday—
Our best Kid Gloves, light colors—
Lisle Thread and Silk Gloves—
—Kid finished Gloves, all sizes—
Black Kid, Silk and Lisle Gloves
—at—
Peabody's, 220 Essex street.

So. Danvers Horticultural So

The Annual Meeting of the South
Horticultural Society, for the choice of will be held at their rooms MONDAY
ing, June 6th, at 7½ o'clock.
M. O. STANLEY,

June 1, 1864.

Episcopal Services.

Divine Service according to the Pr
Episcopal Church, will be held in th
Hall, on Sunday Evening next, service mence at 6½ o'clock. Sermon by the R Grace Church, Salem. The public are fully invited to attend.
South Danvers, June 1, 1864.

Port of Danvers

Ar. 22d, schs J. S. Whelden, Philad
Minnie Cobb, N. York; Helena, Bango
Pearl, Rockland; 24th, Nellie Potter, delphia; Governor, New York; 25th,
Beals, Philadelphia.

Marriages.

In Salem, May 10th, Mr. James N.
Miss Margaret Cushman, both of Danve
Mr. Joseph H. Nutter of Boston, to Mrs
Elizabeth Phippen of Salem; Mr. Wi Dwinell of Topsfield, to Miss Ruth An ney of Salem.
In Danvers, May 22d, Mr. Charles C
to Miss Emeline Osgood; 25th, Mr. W
Patch to Miss M. Lizzie Trask, daught
Alfred Trask of D.
At Hamilton, May 11, Mr. Lewis H. to Miss Annie J. Chapman, both of To

Deaths.

In this town, May 16, Daniel, only
Timothy and Mary O'Regan, aged 5 ye

I saw him in life, all bright and fair,
With his handsome eyes and silken hair
His parting lips showing pearls so white
His winning tone and footsteps light.

I thought on earth his spirit so sweet,
For a purer world than this was meet;
Too soon was this sweet, lovely flower
To be dispatched from his earthly bower

To dwell with pure and holier love,
He has met his two brothers in God's Alas! thought I, his image below
Can only in mirror his memory glow.

When I look on his picture of life, so t
I blessed the hand his portrait drew—
That bright-eyed boy, by his mother's si
Spreading his sails on life's great tide.

In this town, May 24th, of memb croup, Grace Emily, daughter of Henry Lucy A. F. Merrill, 4 yrs 2 mos 5 days

The fairest and the beautiful are first to fade
The ones we love and cherish most, first decay.
Heaven partial to the fairest flowers transform the skies,
One jewel more is added to deck His paradise.

In Salem, May 26th, Mr. John Cough yrs—late of Co. K, 9th Mass. Regt.;
Henry, son of Mr. William Shortell, 4
27th, Mrs. Margaret Grada, 56 yrs; 29
Elizabeth, widow of the late Capt.
Phillips, 90 yrs; Mrs. Elizabeth, widow late Mr. Wm. Wirling, 86 years; Mr
W. Swan, 41 yrs 8 mos 14 days. A k dutiful husband and father, an honest m a good citizen; 30th, Mary Meek, wife ward H. Knight, 30 yrs 3 mos 17 days.
In Danvers, May 24, Mrs. Sarah Ja of George L. Hills, 32 years 7 months.
In Beverly, May 25th, Mr. Jeremiah
71 years 4 months.
In Ipswich, May 28th, very sudden
Joseph Wait, 83 years.
In Rowley, May 10, Mr. Jona Taylor

your Hats and Caps at 240.

CARD.

subscriber would tender his grateful to the Fire Departments of South Dan- Salem, and the citizens generally, for prompt and successful efforts in saving a portion of his property from fire on Fri-

G. M. TEEL.

Danvers, June 1, 1864.

Gent's Furnishing Goods, 240 is the place the latest styles best goods, at the lowest

CARD.

General Foster Engine Company No. 2, his method of returning thanks to Mr. LUNT for refreshments furnished the y; and to those who so kindly assisted working their engine at the fire on the

Per vote of the Company,

GEO. E. LEWIS, Clerk.

Danvers, June 1, 1864.

e your boys at 240 and save your

Umbrellas, at the lowest prices;
ols and Shades—the new styles;
Trimmings and Ornaments;
'd Ribbons and Trimming Braids;
Silvered and Black Ball Buttons;
—at—
PEABODY'S, 220 Essex Street.

BOYS WANTED to learn the Clothiness, at

F. S. PECK'S, 240 Essex street.

Bonnet and Scarf Ribbons;
Plaited and Machine Ruches;
Flowers, in all the choice styles;
re, Thread, and Silk Bonnet Laces; Blonde Laces and Footings;
—at—
PEABODY'S, 220 Essex street.

is the time to clothe your Boys, and he place to find the Goods.

Persons wishing to subscribe for Sunday papers, can do so by applying to

D. P. GROSVENOR, JR.

-MADE DRESS FROCKS AND SACKS— 2, $30, $28, $27, $25, $24, $22, $20, 7, $16, $15, $14, $13, $12, $11, $10, 0, $8, $7.50, $7, $6.50, $6, $5.50, $5, ett & Co's One Price Clothing House, 5 Dock Square, Boston.

-MADE PANTS $11, $10, $9, $8.50, 0, $7, $6.50, $6, $5.50, $5, $4.50, $4, 3, $2.75, $2.50, at Bennett & Co.'s ce Clothing House, 14 and 15 Dock Boston.

CLOTHING — largest stock — greatest at Bennett & Co.'s One Price Clothing 4 and 15 Dock Square, Boston.

GARMENT marked in plain figures, at & Co's One Price Clothing House, 14 Dock Square, Boston.

ENTS made to order at Bennett & Co.'s ce Clothing House, 14 and 15 Dock Boston.

oods received for LEWANDO'S FRENCH USE. M. E. CRANE.

tf

sit OSBORNE'S Store, and look at the variety of new styles in HATS and 1 Essex street.

number of years have elapsed since oduction of HOSTETTER'S CELE- D BITTERS to the public. The pre-xisting in the minds of many persons hat are denominated patent medicines greatly retarded its sale; but, as its nd merits became known, this barrier lice was overthrown, and the demand so rapidly that in a few years scarce-lage existed in the United States in e afflicted had not experienced the rising from the use of the "Bitters," the present day there are to be found PARTS OF THE WORLD vouchers reat merits of the article. No greater Dyspepsia can be found. See adv't. le by Druggists and dealers generally ere. ju 1—1m.

RIMONIAL.—If you wish to marry, ad- undersigned, who will send you, "without without price," valuable information that you to marry happy and speedily, no matter ow ugly or how poor. This is a reliable af- information will cost you nothing; and if to marry, I will cheerfully assist you. All ictly confidential. The desired information turn mail, and no questions asked. Address

SARAH B. LAMBERT,
Greenpoint, Kings Co., N. Y.

GREAT ENGLISH REMEDY.

SIR JAMES CLARKE'S
BRATED FEMALE PILLS!

d from a prescription of Sir J. Clarke, M. hysician Extraordinary to the Queen.

ll known medicine is no imposition, but a nd safe remedy for Female Difficulties and ns, from any cause whatever; and, although l remedy, they contain nothing hurtful to ution.

ses of Nervous and Spinal Affections, pain ck and Limbs, Fatigue on slight exertion of the Heart, Hysterics, and Whites, these ffect a cure, when all other means have l, although a powerful remedy, do not n, calomel, antimony, or anything hurtful titutions.

rections in the pamphlet around each which should be carefully preserved.

particulars, obtain, free, of the agent, a Sold by all Druggists.

ted States Agent,

B MOSES, 27 Cortlandt St., New York.

1 and 6 postage stamps enclosed to any agent, will insure a bottle, containing over return mail. March 9, 1864.—1 yr.

dvertisements.

RREN BANK.

S. 10-40 BONDS.

S left at this Bank for the purchase S. 10-40 Bonds, will receive prompt

FRANCIS BAKER, CASHIER.

Danvers, June 1, 1864.

se Railroad Notice.

after FRIDAY, May 27th, single on the Salem and South Danvers will be six cents.

es of eighteen tickets will be sold ares on the South Salem Branch will ts, and packages of twenty-five tick- sold for $1.00.

r Children between the ages of 3 and and for Scholars attending school, four cents, or twenty-five tickets

June 1, 1864. M. H. HALE.

Men's Clothing.

The largest assortment, the LATEST STYLES, the best Goods, and the LOWEST PRICES, as usual, can be found at ☞ 240 ☜. Black and Fancy Frocks, Sacks, Pants and Vests, in light and dark colors to match—all sizes and prices. Spring Overcoats, Light and Dark Linen Dusters, $1.75 to $3.75—size, 34 to 50. If you wish to purchase a good suit of Clothes, light or dark, call at F. S. PECK'S.

Boys' Clothing.

Those who have Boys to Clothe, are particularly invited to call and examine the NEW STYLES Coats, Pants, Vests, Jackets and Suits, in light and dark colors, which we have made expressly for our trade. We have pieces of the same or Cloth by the yard. Also, a large assortment of Cheap Sacks, Pants, Vests, Jackets and Suits, which will be sold low. If you have Boys to Clothe, the place to save your money is at

F. S. PECK'S,

240

Essex Street, Salem.

Gent's Furnishing Goods.

In this Department can be found the LATEST STYLES and BEST GOODS. White and Fancy Shirts, $1.50 to $4.00; Silk Shirts and Drawers, $1.75 to $4.00; Merino Shirts and Drawers, Hosiery, Gloves, Braces, Roman Scarfs, Ties—new styles, Collars, Umbrellas, &c. N. B.—We offer our Kid Gloves, spring colors, for $1.75 per pair, to close—the same as are sold round town for $2.25. Also a lot which are a little spotted, for 37c, 75c and $1,25 a pair. They are bargains. 240 is the place to buy Gent's Furnishing Goods.

Hats and Caps.

SPRING STYLES FOR 1864. Those who wish to purchase Hats or Caps, either Men's or Boy's, can find a large assortment of the LATEST STYLES and best quality. Goods at the Lowest Prices. The public are respectfully invited to call and decide whether 240 is the place to buy Hats and Caps.

MOZAMBIQUES,

AT 20 cents per yard; a nice quality at 30 cents per yard; White Striped Muslins; Striped Cambrics; Nainsooks—just received.

In Lawns we have a first rate assortment; other styles of Thin Goods—making our assortment as good as can be found in the city, selling at the lowest cash prices.

ANN R. BRAY, 76 Federal Street.

June 1.

List of Letters

REMAINING in the Post Office at South Danvers, May 31, 1864. [Persons calling for these letters will please say they are advertised.]

Chas. A. Proctor, Chas. Gleason,
Wm. Barry, Eliza A. Hanscom,
Thomas Brown, J. P. Herriman,
Centhey M. Davison, B. S. Moulton,
Wm. S. Smith.

N. B. These letters are subject to an additional postage of one cent.

DANIEL WOODBURY, P. M.

SLOP JARS.

JAPANNED Slop Jars and Water Pails—at S C & E A SIMOND'S.

COMPLETE SETS

OF Japanned Toilet Ware, at S C & E A SIMOND'S, 32 Front st.

THE BEST ASSORTMENT

OF White, Colored Grounds, neat Patterns, to be found in the city.

june 1 ANN R. BRAY, 76 Federal st.

JUST ARRIVED,

AT DANVERS MILLS,

500 Bushels Corn, in the minnie cob, and will be sold in South Danvers. Constantly on hand a large stock of meal, which will be sold at the lowest Salem prices.

—ALSO ON HAND—

500 Bushels Feed;
200 Bushels prime Northern Oats;
100 Barrels choicest Family Flour.
A good stock of LIME constantly on hand.

JOHN C. MOULTON,
Central St., South Danvers, Mass.
May 25—tf.

DYSPEPSIA AND FITS.

A SURE CURE FOR

THESE distressing complaints is now made known in a Treatise on Foreign and Native Herbal Preparations, published by DR. O. PHELPS BROWN. The prescription was furnished him in such a providential manner, that he cannot conscientiously refuse to make it known, as it has cured everybody who has used it, never having failed in a single case. It is equally sure in cases of Fits as of Dyspepsia; and the ingredients may be found in any drug-store. Sent free to all on the receipt of five cents to pre-pay postage. This work, of 48 octavo pages, beautifully illustrated, also treats on

Consumption,

Bronchitis, Asthma, General Debility, and gives the best known Herbal Remedies for their positive and permanent cure. Address DR O. PHELPS BROWN, No. 19 Grand Street, Jersey City, New Jersey.

may 25—3m

WARREN BANK.

THE Stockholders of the Warren Bank in South Danvers, are hereby notified that a Special Meeting will be held at their Banking Rooms, on Wednesday, June 8th, at 9 o'clock, A. M., to see if this Bank will become an Association for carrying on the business of Banking under Laws of the United States, and will authorize the Directors to make and execute the requisite Certificate of Association, Articles of Association and By-Laws, and to do any other acts necessary or proper to convert this corporation into such Banking Association, according to law. And also to see what other action, if any, this Bank will take to effect the object aforesaid. Per order,

FRANCIS BAKER, CASHIER.

So. Danvers, May 25th, 1864.

WANTED IMMEDIATELY.

TWO stout American Boys, to learn the Morocco business, at

ROBERTS & MOORE'S, Walnut st.

South Danvers, May 25, 1864.*

NEW GOODS.

Bugle Trimmings,
Quill'd Ribbons,
Dress Buttons,
Scotch Plaid Braids,
Trimming Braids,
Silk Cords and Lacets,
Boot and Shoe Lacets,
Cottons, Silks and Twists,
Elastic Braids and Cords,
Garter and Sleeve Elastics,
Black and White Linen Thread,
American and English Pins,
Button Rings and Fasteners,
Bonnet Ribbons,
Scarf Ribbons,
Artificial Flowers,
Bonnet Ruches,
English Thread Edgings,
Smyrna and Cotton Edgings,
Wrought Edgings,
Black and White Silk Laces,
Trimming Laces,
Black Lace Veils,
Grenadine Veils,
Mourning Veils,
Crape and Love Veils,
Thread Collars,
Wrought Collars,
Linen Collars,
Malta Lace Collars,
Wrought Setts,
Crape Collars,
Grenadine Collars,
Infants' Waists,
Checked Cambrics,
Plain Cambrics,
Linen Cambrics,
White Linens,
Swiss Muslins,
Book Muslins,
Linen Hdkfs,
Wrought Hdkfs,
Hemmed Hdkfs,
Mourning Hdkfs,
Cotton Hdkfs,
Choice Perfumes,
Toilet Soaps,
Sterling's Ambrosia,
Cocoa Castorine,
Puffs and Boxes,
Combs and Brushes, &c.

220 ESSEX ST., SALEM.

JOHN P. PEABODY.

TONSORIAL NOTICE.

WE, the undersigned, Tonsorial Artists of South Danvers, give notice that on and after June 1st, 1864, our prices will be as follows:

Shaving, - - - - 10 cents.
Hair cutting, - - - - 15 cents.
Champooing, - - - - 15 cents.
Hair Dressing, - - - - 5 cents.

J. J. HEYLINGBERG,
H. B. GOODHUE,
CHAS. BABCOCK.

South Danvers, May 4, 1864.—6w*

SPRING AND SUMMER GOODS.

168 ESSEX STREET.

WE invite the attention of the Ladies of Salem and vicinity, to our

New Millinery Goods.

Ladies' and Children's
BONNETS AND HATS,

in all desirable styles.

Crapes, Silks, Ribbons, Feathers, French Flowers, and Laces.

A full assortment of Straw Goods, Mourning Bonnets, Veils, Collars, &c., constantly on hand at the lowest cash prices.

M. E. CRANE,
Successor to M M FLETCHER.

Salem, April 6, 1864.

CARPETS.

THOMAS W. DOWNING & CO.

HAVE now in Store a splendid Stock of

Carpets, Oil Cloths,
Stair Carpets, Straw Mattings,
Cocoa Mattings, Rugs,
Mats, Paper,
Linings, etc., etc.,

which they offer at the very lowest Cash Prices.

April 13. 179 Essex Street.

Pure Ground Bone

For Farming and Horticultural Purposes.

THE subscriber would announce that he is now constantly manufacturing and preparing for sale PURE GROUND BONE—conceded by all who have tried it to be the best article in use for fertilizing trees, grape vines, gardens, etc. It can be obtained in large or small quantities.

Also for Sale, NEAT'S FOOT OIL, TALLOW and GREASE.

☞ Cash paid for Bones.

TIMOTHY WALTON.

Post Office Address, box 99 South Danvers, Mass. April 20—3m

RICH MILLINERY GOODS!

From the New York and Boston Markets,

OPENING EVERY DAY.

ALL the desirable shapes in BONNETS and HATS.

RIBBONS and FLOWERS in all the New Shades. All goods belonging to a first class Millinery Establishment, to which the attention of the Ladies of Essex County is respectfully invited.

REITH & CO'S,

NO. 2 WEST BLOCK, ESSEX STREET,

(One door west of J. F. Almy & Co.,)

apr 13 SALEM, MASS.

PARKS HOUSE,

(NORFOLK AVENUE,)

187 WASHINGTON ST.,

Near head of Milk Street, Boston.

ROBT. E. DRAKE, Proprietor.

Formerly of Spooner & Co., U. S. Hotel.

LINSEED OIL.

RAW and Boiled Linseed Oil constantly for sale at

my18 S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS, 32 Front st.

WAR MAPS.

SEVERAL new styles—just those needed for the present campaign—at

my18 G. M. WHIPPLE & A. A. SMITH'S.

THE LARGEST
LADIES' FURNISHING STORE
IN SALEM.

GREAT STOCK OF

ELEGANT NEW GOODS,

Bought before the late rise.

FRESH ARRIVALS CONSTANTLY
—AT—
BROWNING & LONG'S.

Cotton Hosiery,

—FOR—LADIES, GENTLEMEN,
MISSES,
BOYS.

Gloves.

Large assortment of Cheap Gloves.
Lisle Gloves in all sizes, prettier than any previous season.

Summer Undergarments,

—FOR—LADIES,
GENTLEMEN,
and CHILDREN.

Kid Gloves,

ALL THE NEW SHADES—EVERY SIZE.
ALSO UNDRESSED KIDS,
AND MISSES' KIDS.
The largest Stock of Kid Gloves in Salem.

HAIR NETS,
LACE VEILS,
HANDKERCHIEFS,
REAL THREAD VEILS,
REAL POINTE COLLARS.

Elegant Roman Scarfs,

FOR LADIES AND GENTLEMEN.
THE LATE NEW COLORS.

Cambric Edgings and Insertings.

A very large assortment in all widths and beautiful patterns.

Parasols & Sun Umbrellas,

Said by all who see them "to be the handsomest ever shown here."

Hoop Skirts and Corsets.

Our usual excellent make.

Our Stock is now larger than ever before. We offer our Goods at the Lowest Market Prices.

INSPECTION
Is Respectfully Invited.

BROWNING & LONG'S

Ladies' Furnishing Store,

177 Essex Street.

Salem, June 1, 1864.

M. A. PORTER,

236 Essex Street, - - - Salem, Mass.,

(Opposite Horse Railroad Office,)

MAKES TO ORDER BEST QUALITIES OF

WATCH SPRING SKIRTS.

A Good Assortment of Dress and Clock Button, Braids, Spool Cotton, Small Wares, and Thread Store articles generally.

236 Essex Street, - - - Salem, Mass.,

M. A. PORTER.

D. P. GROSVENOR, Jr.,

Druggist and Apothecary,

33 MAIN STREET.

Dealer in Drugs, Medicines, Chemicals, Dye Stuffs, and Popular Proprietary Medicines.

Personal attention to Physicians' Prescriptions.

South Danvers, May 29, 1861. 1y

GEO. E. MEACOM,

Dealer in

DRUGS & MEDICINES,

Fancy & Toilet Articles, &c.,

126 MAIN ST. 126

Nearly opposite Danvers Bank, So. Danvers.

T. A. SWEETSER,

Druggist & Apothecary

37 Main St., So. Danvers,

DEALER IN

Drugs, Medicines, Chemicals, Foreign Leeches, Shakers' Herbs, Dye Stuffs, Gums, Acids, Sponges, Shoulder Braces, Trusses, and Genuine Patent Medicines,

Also, Imported Cigars of choice brands, Perfumery, Toilet Articles and Stationery.

Physicians' Prescriptions carefully prepared by experienced persons.

37 MAIN STREET.

Valuable Real Estate in So. Danvers for Sale or to Let.

The large dwelling house and barn and out-buildings, with land under and adjoining, belonging to the estate of the late J. W. Carey, situated on Fulton street.

Also a very desirable lot of land extending from Fulton street to High street, with a front of eighty feet on each street.

For terms and particulars, apply to

EBEN UPTON,

April 27.—tf. No. 31 Barr street, Salem.

GEORGE TAPLEY,
(DANVERS),
AGENT FOR THE

John Hancock Life Insurance Co.

Office, 41 State Street, Boston.

James F. Almy.

MOZAMBIQUES!!

An Exception to the Rule of

HIGH PRICES.

WE have opened this day one case of Mozambiques—first rate styles—all fair quality—at 20 cents per yard.

We have opened this day one case of Mozambiques—choice styles and fine quality—at 2 shillings per yard.

These goods show but a very small margin above the old prices of former times.

JAMES ALMY & CO.,
188 Essex Street,
Opposite Central Street.

Salem, April 27, 1864.

A. J. Archer & Co

Silk Umbrellas,

FOR Gentlemen and Ladies. A fresh supply just received.

my18 AUGUSTUS J. ARCHER & CO.

MOURNING GOODS.

AUGUSTUS J. ARCHER & CO.,

HAVE just received a fine assortment

—OF—

MOURNING DRESS GOODS,

for summer wear.

—ALSO—

On hand, a fine stock of

BLACK SILKS,

which our customers will find are at less than Boston prices.

May 25, 1864.

FANCY CLOAKINGS!

—FOR—

Spring Garments,

IN GREAT VARIETY OF STYLES,

which we are prepared to make into GARMENTS to order, in the very best manner, and at

LOWEST CASH PRICES.

A. J. ARCHER & CO.,

March 16—tf. 181 Essex Street.

L. MERRILL & SON,

DEALERS IN

DRUGS, MEDICINES,

Fancy and Toilet Articles,

Perfumery, Stationery, Cutlery, &c.,

VILLAGE BANK BUILDING,
DANVERS, MASS.

Particular attention paid to Physicians' Prescriptions.

LEVI MERRILL,
W. S. MERRILL.

Danvers, Dec 2—6m

HOUSE OF EQUITY,

—BY—

Arnold & Hutchinson,

(Successors to C. T. Southwick.)

FIRST QUALITY

FAMILY GROCERIES,

Sold at the Lowest Prices.

A large and complete assortment of

CROCKERY AND GLASS WARE,

Constantly on hand.

Also FLOUR and GRAIN.

ASHLAND HALL BUILDING,
NO. 1 LOWELL STREET,

F. T. ARNOLD. B. R. HUTCHINSON.

South Danvers, Feb 3, 1864.

ANN R. BRAY,

No. 76 Federal Street, Salem.

—Will open—

MANY new Styles of Dress Goods this day.

We have received a new assortment of Black Silks at Bargains.

A Good assortment of Sun Shades, Sun Umbrellas and Parasols. apr 20

The Singer Manufacturing Co's

LETTER A SEWING MACHINE

For Family Use and Light Manufacturing Purposes, is on exhibition and for sale

AT ASHLAND HALL,
SOUTH DANVERS SQUARE,
—BY—

JOHN H. CHOATE,

Agent for the sale of

SEWING MACHINES,

SILK, THREAD, NEEDLES, COTTONS, &c., &c.

—Also—

Paraffine Sewing Machine Oil,

The best oil for all kinds of light machinery.

South Danvers, Nov 18, 1863.

George S. Walker.

GENTLEMEN'S

FURNISHING GOODS.

The Largest Stock and Assortment
IN ESSEX COUNTY.

GEORGE S. WALKER, 228 Essex Street, Stearns' Block, invites particular attention to his Spring and Summer Stock of Gentlemen's Under-Shirts,

Drawers,
Hosiery,
Gloves.

Also a splendid assortment of

Braces,
Scarfs,
Ties,
Collars,
Umbrellas, &c.

Dealing exclusively in the above articles, most of which were bought for CASH, before the late advance, I am enabled to offer them at less than present prices of Importation and Manufacture—at

my4 GEORGE S. WALKER'S.

Potter, Bachelder & Co.,

DANVERS-PORT and SOUTH DANVERS,

DEALERS IN

WOOD AND COAL.

Constantly on hand

Franklin, Burnside, Dimond, } RED ASH.
Old Company & Packer's Lehigh, Pliny Fisk, Webster and Locust Mountain, } WHITE ASH.

Also Cumberland, Pictou and Campbell for Steam and Smith's use.

OFFICE—No. 6 Allen's Building.

G. W. POTTER,
J. Q. A. BACHELDER,
G. T. BATCHELDER. mch 30

M. FENOLLOSA,

TEACHER OF MUSIC,

LETS............PIANO FORTES, at the lowest rates;
SELLS.........PIANO FORTES, at the Manufacturers Prices;
EXCHANGES....PIANO FORTES, on the easiest terms;

At Rooms No. 7 Central street,

feb 11 SALEM, MASS.

AARON T. LOWE,

DEALER IN

BOOTS, SHOES AND RUBBERS,

76 BOSTON STREET, 76.

aug 6 SALEM. tf

DR. E. F. KITTREDGE,

From Lowell, formerly of New Ipswich, N. H.,

Has removed his office and residence to

NO. 42 MAIN STREET,

SOUTH DANVERS, MASS.

Dr. K., from an extensive and successful professional experience of upwards of twenty years, feels justified in saying that he can treat diseases to the satisfaction of his patients, and to the credit of himself.

Office hours from 7 to 9 A. M., and from 6 to 9 P. M.

South Danvers, Nov 13, 1863.

T. HARDY, JR.,

—Dealer in—

DOORS, SASHES, BLINDS,

Glazed Sash, Painted Blinds,

FENCE PALES, STAIR BALUSTERS, FRAMING PINS, &c.,

No. 26 FRONT STREET,

Salem, January 14, 1863—tf.

Valuable Real Estate for Sale.

THE ESTATE of the late THOMAS BANCROFT, situate on Boston Street, Salem, is offered for sale. It consists of a two and a half story building, the upper story finished for a convenient dwelling of eight rooms; the lower story for a store, suitable for most any retail or mechanical business, having been occupied for a retail variety store for the last forty years; and also a large lot of land, which measures 76 feet on Boston Street, and extends back to Beaver Street 166 feet. It is sufficient for three house lots, in addition to that occupied by the building. The building, with a quarter part of the land, will be sold separate, if wanted. For terms, apply to

T. F. BANCROFT, Lynn, Mass.,

or at this Office. March 16—tf.

Spring Goods.

THOMAS W. DOWNING & CO.

invite attention to the splendid stock of

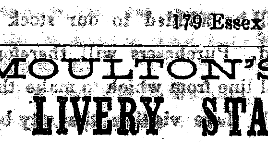
NEW GOODS

which they are now opening for the Spring trade.

We shall be constantly supplied with all Novelties as they appear in the market.

mch 2 179 Essex Street.

MOULTON'S NEW LIVERY STABLE,



Is removed to stable formerly occupied by

SAMUEL HAM,

On MAIN STREET, opposite the Institute.

Good Horses and Carriages will be always in readiness at short notice.

South Danvers, May 25, 1864.

THOMAS PINNOCK, SLATER,

SALEM, MASS.

Orders may be left at his Yard, No. 25 Peabody St., or at his house No. 6 Hancock street, South Salem.

Roofs covered with any kind of Slates, according to order. All work warranted.

Salem, May 7, 1862. tf

ANN R. BRAY, No. 76 Federal St.

BLACK SILKS—Heavy Black Silks for Ladies' Outside Garments;
RICH GINGHAMS—New Styles;
THIN GOODS, different styles, lawns, bareges
PRINTS—very pretty—French and English;
SUMMER GLOVES and HOSIERY;

Selling at the very Lowest Prices.

may 25 ANN R. BRAY, 76 Federal st.

OATS.

3000 BUSHEL prime Oats, received this day by Rail, and for sale by

may 25 GAYLE & CO., Phillips Wharf.

Auction Sales.

WILLIAM ARCHER, Jr.,

Auctioneer, Real Estate and Stock Broker,
34 Front Street.

Real Estate, Bank, Railroad & Manufacturing Stock bought and sold on Commission.

ON SATURDAY NEXT, at 9½ o'clock will be sold at No. 34 Front street:

A QUANTITY of Furniture: Sofas, Lounges, Tables, Chairs, Carpets, 1 Willard Time-piece, a good timekeeper.

DRY GOODS—Cotton cloth, dress goods, cassimeres, doeskins, satinets, &c.

BOOTS AND SHOES—An invoice of Women's, Misses' and Children's Boots and Shoes.

Also—25 bales Killikinick smoking tobacco, 200 lbs domestic coffee in lb papers, cream of tartar, knives and forks, crockery ware, 1 ladies' riding saddle in perfect order, 1 sewing machine in order.

TEETH ON VULCANITE!

DR. J. H. BATCHELDER,

DENTAL SURGEON,

No. 20 Washington St., (near Eastern Railroad Depot), SALEM, Mass.,

Is Licensed to make the New Patent Teeth on HARD RUBBER or VULCANITE, and from actual experience confidently recommends them for Strength, Beauty, and Cleanliness, to far surpass all other kinds of teeth;—are sure to fit the mouth; are much cheaper and better, being about half the price of teeth on Gold. Ill fitting Setts of Teeth on Gold can be exchanged for the Vulcanite, at very small expense. Specimens seen at Office. Teeth filled with Gold, Inserted, Extracted, and Children's Teeth Regulated—all with such care and gentleness as to be nearly painless.

VALUABLE REAL ESTATE.

THE Subscriber offers for sale the following Lots of Land, with the Buildings thereon, at private sale, until September next, when such as then remain unsold, will be offered at Public Auction:

A new and well built two-story DWELLING HOUSE, situated on English Street. This house is well supplied with the modern conveniences, is pleasantly situated on rising ground, and is a very desirable residence.

The MOROCCO FACTORY near the Southwick Tannery. The building is about 150 feet long by 40 wide, is well supplied with pure water and is an excellent place for the Morocco business or Currying.

Near the Morocco Factory are two TWO-STORY BUILDINGS, which may be sold with the Factory, or separately. Together they are about 80 feet long by 20 wide.

On Walnut Street is the large BOARDING HOUSE, with the land adjoining, which is excellently well situated for what it is designed.

Several front LOTS for building purposes on Walnut Street, will be sold at moderate prices and fair terms.

A STORE HOUSE 70 by 25 feet on Walnut Street, with the land under and the rear of it. It can be easily adapted for a Curriers' Shop, or for other kinds of business.

On Wallis Street, near the mill pond, a well built and painted MOROCCO FACTORY, all ready for occupancy. It is about 80 feet long by 25 wide, and in excellent repair.

Next to the Morocco Factory on the same street, a STORE BUILDING, strongly built, and framed for a DWELLING HOUSE, for which it could be easily adapted. Or it would make an excellent Shop for any kind of business.

Near ELM STREET, on a Court south of said street, are two DWELLING HOUSES, planned for two families each. One is two stories high, the other one and a half. Both houses have good tenants and yield a good income; offering a good chance for investment.

Between Harris and English Streets, one One Story DWELLING House, and a One Story and a Half House.

The above is a most excellent opportunity for enterprising young men to secure places for business and dwelling houses, on reasonable terms. Such a chance may not soon again occur.

Persons desiring to purchase any of the above lots may learn the prices and terms on application to ANDREW S. PORTER, Elm Street.

SAMUEL D. PENDAR.

South Danvers, May 11, 1864. tf

NEW STORE!

Flour! Flour!

JUST RECEIVED, a fresh supply of CHOICE BRANDS, direct from the Mills, for sale, wholesale and retail, at LOWEST PRICES, by

E. F. OSBORN.
Sutton's Building, Main St.

South Danvers, Nov 18, 1863.

GAYLE & CO.,

GENERAL COMMISSION MERCHANTS,

DEALERS IN

Flour, Grain and Produce,

Manufacturers' Agents for the sale of Concentrated Leaven, Soda and Pearlash Saleratus, and Bi Carb. Soda.

PHILLIPS WHARF, - - - - Salem.

R. C. MANNING & CO.,

Successors to JOHN DIKE & CO.,

DEALERS IN

COAL, WOOD, BARK, HAY, &c,

193 DERBY STREET,
SALEM, MASS.

N. C. ROBBINS, R. C. MANNING.

oct17

ICE! ICE!!

THE undersigned would announce that he has made arrangements for running an

ICE WAGON

through South Danvers and Salem, the coming season, beginning MAY 1ST, and ending NOVEMBER 1ST.

☞ He will deliver ice made at BANCROFT'S POND, which is supplied mostly from the surplus water of SPRING POND. This ice cannot be excelled in point of purity and clearness.

☞ A share of patronage is respectfully solicited.

☞ Orders may be left at the Wizard Office, or sent by mail.

BYRON GOODELL.

South Danvers, April 13, 1864. 3m—is

NEW FLOUR AND GRAIN STORE,

Central St., opposite Old South.

THE subscriber would inform the citizens of this town and vicinity that he has taken the store lately vacated by MR. WHIDDEN, painter, where he will sell by the Wholesale and Retail, the very best of

FLOUR, CORN, MEAL, OATS, FEED, &C.,

at the Lowest Market Prices.

JOHN G. MOULTON.

So. Danvers, March 16, 1864—tf.

FLOUR.

200 BBLS "Keystone;" 100 bbls Faquis "Invincible," received this day, and for sale by

may 26 GAYLE & CO., Phillips Wharf.

Special Notices.

A GENTLEMAN cured of Nervous Debility, Incompetency, Premature Decay and Youthful Error, actuated by a desire to benefit others, will be happy to furnish to all who need it, (free of charge) the recipe and directions for making the simple remedy used in his case. Those wishing to profit by his experience, and possess a Valuable Remedy, will receive the same, by return mail, (carefully sealed) by addressing

JOHN B. OGDEN,
No. 60 Nassau street, New York.
may 25—3m

BELL'S SPECIFIC PILLS.—WARRANTED IN ALL CASES.—Can be relied on! Never fail to cure! Do not nauseate! Are speedy in action! No change of diet required! Do not interfere with business pursuits! Can be used without detection! Upward of 200 cures the past month—some of them very severe cases. Over one hundred physicians have used them in their practice, and all speak well of their efficacy, and approve of their composition, which is entirely vegetable and harmless on the system. Hundreds of certificates can be shown.

BELL'S SPECIFIC PILLS are the original and only genuine Specific Pill. They are adapted for male and female, old or young, and the only reliable remedy for effecting a permanent and speedy cure in all cases of Spermatorrhea, or Seminal Weakness, with all its train of evils, such as Urethral and Vaginal Discharges, Gleet, the Whites, Nightly or Involuntary Emissions, Incontinence, Genital Debility and Irritability, Impotence, Weakness or Loss of Power, Nervous Debility, &c., &c., all of which arise principally from Sexual Excesses or Self-Abuse, or some constitutional derangement, and incapacitates the sufferer from fulfilling the duties of married life. In all sexual diseases, as Gonorrhea, Gleet, and Strictures, and in Diseases of the Bladder and Kidneys, they act as a charm! Relief is experienced by taking a single box. Sold by all the principal druggists. Price $1.

They will be sent by mail, securely sealed, and confidentially, on receipt of the money, by

J. BRYAN, M. D.,
No. 76 Cedar street, New York,

Consulting Physician for the treatment of Seminal, Urinary, Sexual and Nervous Diseases, who will send, free, to all, the following valuable work, in sealed envelope:

THE FIFTIETH THOUSAND.—DR. BELL'S TREATISE on Self-Abuse, Premature Decay, Impotence and Loss of Power, Sexual Diseases, Seminal Weakness, Nightly Emissions, Genital Debility, &c. &c., a pamphlet of 64 pages, containing important advice to the afflicted, and which should be read by every sufferer, as the means of cure in the severest stages is plainly set forth. Two stamps required to pay postage. December 9, 1863—1 yr.

IMPORTANT TO LADIES.—DR. HARVEY'S FEMALE PILLS have never yet failed in removing difficulties arising from obstruction or stoppage of nature, or in restoring the system to perfect health when suffering from Spinal Affection, Prolapsus, Uteri, the Whites, or other weakness of the Uterine Organs. The Pills are perfectly harmless on the constitution, and may be taken by the most delicate female without causing distress—the same time they act like a charm by strengthening, invigorating and restoring the system to a healthy condition, and by bringing on the monthly period with regularity, no matter from what causes the obstruction may arise. They should, however, NOT be taken during the first three or four months of pregnancy, though safe at any other time, as miscarriage would be the result.

Each box contains 60 Pills. Price $1.

DR. HARVEY'S TREATISE on Diseases of Females, Pregnancy, Miscarriage, Barrenness, Sterility, Reproduction, and Abuses of Nature, and emphatically the Ladies' Private Medical Adviser, a pamphlet of 64 pages, sent free to any address. Six cents required to pay postage.

The Pills and book will be sent by mail when desired, securely sealed, and prepaid, by

J. BRYAN, M. D., General Agent,
No. 76 Cedar street, New York.

☞ Sold by all the principal druggists.
December 9, 1863—1 yr.

SPRING STYLES
OF
1864.

L. D. BOISE & CO.,
Manufacturers and Dealers IN

CLOTHING,

Invite attention to their Large and Fashionable stock, comprising Medium, Fine and Superior grades, of our own manufacture, some of which is fully equal to the best Custom work.

Wholesale or Retail purchasers will find it for their benefit to examine our Stock before purchasing.

We have also a large and fashionable stock of PRICE GOODS, consisting of the most desirable patterns of English, French, German and American

CLOTHS,
CASSIMERES
DOESKINS, and
VESTINGS,

which have been selected with great care in the New York and Boston markets.

CUSTOM CLOTHING made to order in the latest styles at short notice.

PARTICULAR ATTENTION GIVEN TO

Army and Navy Uniforms.
Gentlemen's Furnishing Goods
OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.

L. D. BOISE & CO.,
No. 154 Washington Street, Boston.
April 20.—3m.

Are you Insured?

THE subscriber would respectfully call your attention to the fact that he is fully prepared to effect INSURANCE AGAINST FIRE, to any amount, at current rates, on

Dwelling Houses, Barns and their contents, Stores, Stocks of Goods, Furniture, &c. &c., and on buildings in process of erection,

And that he is the authorized Agent for the following responsible Stock and Mutual Companies, viz:

Thames Insurance Co., (Stock) Norwich, Conn.
Capital—$500,000.
Amos W. Prentice, Pres. Oliver F. Rice, Sec'y
Conway Insurance Company, (Stock) Boston.
Capital and Surplus—$260,000.
James F. Whitney, Pres. David C. Rogers, Sec'y
City Insurance Company, (Stock) Boston.
Capital—$150,000.
Samuel P. Hayward, Pres. Austin W. Benton, Sec'y

Also, will effect insurance on the LIVES OF INDIVIDUALS, for one year, seven years, or for the whole term of life, in the

Massachusetts Mutual Life Ins. Co., Springfield, Mass.
Capital and Assets—$375,000.
Caleb Rice, Pres. D. B. Bacon, Sec'y.
William Mack, M. D., Medical Examiner.

WM. ARCHER, Jr.,
18 Washington st. and 34 Front st., Salem.
feb20-1

HEYLINGBERG'S
Hair Dressing Saloon,
24 MAIN ST., SOUTH DANVERS.

J. J. HEYLINGBERG would announce to his patrons and the public generally, that on and after JUNE 1st, 1864, he will abide by the following

TARIFF OF PRICES:

Shaving, ... 10 cts.
Hair Cutting, ... 15 cts.
Shampooing, ... 15 cts.

Particular attention paid to dying hair and whiskers, in one preparation, without washing or scrubbing.

South Danvers, May 31, 1864.

E. R. PERKINS,
PHOTOGRAPHIC ARTIST
241 Essex Street, Salem.
Patent Ambrotypes, Stereoscopes,

Photographs, Sphereotypes, Melainotypes and patent ea Pictures of various sizes, taken with all the improvements of the art. Portraits, Miniatures, Engravings, &c., accurately copied. Views taken when desired. jan 11

WINDOW BRUSHES

AND Feather Dusters at
S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

LANE & CO'S
COLUMN.

NEW SPRING GOODS.

MEN'S AND BOYS'

CLOTHING!

MANUFACTURED FROM A GREAT VARIETY OF

Plain and Fancy Goods,

AND

CUT IN THE LATEST STYLE,

WITH ELEGANT TRIMMINGS,

And made up in the most thorough manner.

SPRING OVERCOATS,

English Walking Coats,

AND FULL SUITS,

Coats, Pants and Vest,

TO MATCH.

NEW INVOICE

MILITARY UNIFORMS,

—FOR—

OFFICERS AND PRIVATES.

Parents are invited to examine our stock of

BOYS CLOTHING,

CONTAINING

MANY NEW STYLES.

Garribaldi Suits.

Grecian Suits,

English Sacks,

Metropolitan Sacks,

AND FULL SUITS,

SACKS, PANTS AND VESTS

TO MATCH.

In addition to the above we have a large amount of goods in process of manufacture, which will be addded to our stock as fast as completed. Purchasers will therefore always find a full line from which to make their selections. To those visiting the city by RAIL in search of CLOTHING, we would say:—

Purchase a Ticket through to

"31 and 32" Dock Square,

SECURE A

REAL BARGAIN,

AND THEREBY

SAVE YOUR FARE!

G. H. LANE & CO.,
31 AND 32 DOCK SQUARE,
BOSTON.
March 30—3m

Cards.

M. B. MANSFIELD,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
214 ESSEX STREET, SALEM, MASS.

 Particular attention paid to procuring Pensions, Bounties, Back Pay, Prize Money, and Army and Navy Claims of all descriptions. March 2

WILLIAM C. CHOATE,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
251 Essex St., Salem.
Salem, August 6, 1862. tf

THOMAS M. STIMPSON,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
194 ESSEX STREET, SALEM.
Residence Lowell street, South Danvers.

B. C. PERKINS,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
South Danvers—Office in Allen's Building

ALFRED A. ABBOTT,
Attorney and Counsellor,
Office, No. 24 Washington Street, Salem;
House, Main St., So. Danvers.

SIDNEY C. BANCROFT,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
27 Washington Street, Salem.

H. O. WILEY,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
Office, Allen's Building, So. Danvers.

Claims against the Government for Bounty Back Pay, and Pensions, promptly attended to

A. S. CRAWFORD,
Dentist,
No. 4 Main Street, So. Danvers Square
Mechanical Dentistry Neatly Executed.

W. L. BOWDOIN,
SURGEON DENTIST,
No. 208 Essex Street, Salem, (Opposite the Market)
Residence No. 57 Washington street.
jan 11—1y

NEWMAN & SYMONDS,
DEALERS IN
Family Groceries, Flour & Grain,
HARD WARE AND CROCKERY,
Ready Made Clothing, Gents' Furnishing Goods, Hats, Caps, Boots, Shoes, &c.,
South Danvers Square, opp. Congregational Church
SAM'L NEWMAN. NATH'L SYMONDS.

S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS,
DEALERS IN
Crockery, China and Hardware; Paper Hangings; Solar and Entry Lamps; Paints, Oil, and Window Glass.
No. 32 Front street, Lawrence Place,
feb13 SALEM, MASS.

HENRY L. WHIDDEN,
HOUSE AND SIGN PAINTER,
Glazier and Paperer,
Central Street, South Danvers.
All orders promptly and faithfully executed.
jan2-1y

E. S. FLINT,
DEALER IN
West India Goods, Country Poduce,
No. 2 Main Street, South Danvers.

JESSE SMITH
No. 262 Essex Street, Salem,
Importer and Dealer in
Gold and Silver Watches,
MARINE CHRONOMETERS,
Aueroid Barometers, Spy Glasses, &c.

WILLIAM BLANEY,
HOUSE & SIGN PAINTER
Grainer, Glazier and Paper Hanger.
164 MAIN STREET, Corner of Grove.
WINDOWS and BLINDS cheap for cash.
mch6-tf

F. POOLE,
INSURANCE AGENT,
Allen's Building (up stairs),
Deeds drawn, and other common forms.

H. L. HADLEY,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
CORNER MAPLE AND ELM ST.,
Danvers.
Claims against the Government for Bounty, Back Pay, and Pensions, promptly attended to.

DEVEREUX & McLELLAN,
Attorneys and Counsellors-at-Law,
CIVIL AND MILITARY,
Browne's Block, Essex street—Room No. 5.
J. F. DEVEREUX, Salem, Mass.
GEO. F. McLELLAN, Washington, D. C.
Oct. 21.

CREAM ALE.

THIS Ale is highly recommended by Physicians for

FAMILY USE AND INVALIDS.
Put up in Half Barrels and Barrels,
And for sale by
J. MAGUIRE & CO.,
No. 6 Derby Square, Salem.

Also, Agent for
MASSEY & COLLINS'
PHILADELPHIA ALES,
BUCKHART'S
CREAM ALE,
And Dealer in
LONDON PORTER, SCOTCH ALE, Atkinson's Wormwood Cordial, Drake's Plantation Bitters, &c., &c.
J. MAGUIRE & CO.,
july 15 No. 6 Derby Square, Salem.

E. F. BURNHAM,
SOLE AGENT FOR
SARGENT & CO.S'
MAGIC SOAP!
For South Danvers & Salem.
OFFICE—Central St., opp. Lowell Depot, at Burnham's Express Office, So. Danvers,
Price $3.50 per 100 Lbs.
Orders sent by mail or otherwise to So. Danvers will be promptly attended to. tf-oct3

Choice Spring Pigs for Sale.

THE subscriber offers for sale nice PIGS of Mackie Prince Albert and Chester County breeds, of which the Mackie took the First Premium at the late CattleShow. Prices reasonable.

BYRON GOODALE,
Near Tapley's Brook,
South Danvers, April 1, 1864. tf

FEATHER DUSTERS.

ANOTHER lot of Dusters at
S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS', 32 Front st

Advertisements.

HOSTETTER'S
CELEBRATED
STOMACH BITTERS.

A pure and powerful Tonic, corrective and alterative of wonderful efficacy in disease of the

Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

Cures Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Headache, Debility, Nervousness, Depression of Spirits, Constipation, Colic, Intermittent Fevers, Cramps and Spasms, and all Complaints of either Sex, arising from Bodily Weakness whether inherent in the system or produced by special causes.

Nothing that is not wholesome, genial and restorative in its nature enters into the composition of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. This popular preparation contains no mineral of any kind, no deadly botanical element; no fiery excitant: but it is a combination of the extracts of rare balsamic herbs and plants with the purest and mildest of all diffusive stimulants.

It is well to be forearmed against disease, and, so far as the human system can be protected by human means against maladies engendered by an unwholesome atmosphere, impure water and other external causes, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS may be relied on as a safeguard.

In districts infested with Fever and Ague, it has been found infallible as a preventive and irresistible as a remedy and thousands who resort to it under apprehension of an attack, escape the scourage; and thousands who neglect to avail themselves of its protective qualities in advance, are cured by a very brief course of this marvelous medicine. Fever and Ague patients, after being plied with quinine for months in vain, until fairly saturated with that dangerous alkaloid, are not unfrequently restored to health within a few days by the use of HOSTETTER'S BITTERS.

The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated and the appetite restored by this agreeable Tonic, and hence it works wonders in cases of DISPEPSIA and in less confirmed forms of INDIGESTION. Acting as a gentle and painless aperient, as well as upon the liver, it also invariably relieves the CONSTIPATION superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and secretive organs.

Persons of feeble habit, liable to Nervous Attacks, Lowness of Spirits and Fits of Languor, find prompt and permanent relief from the Bitters. The testimony on this point is most conclusive, and from both sexes.

The agony of BILIOUS COLIC is immediately assuaged by a single dose of the stimulant, and by occasionally resorting to it, the return of the complaint may be prevented.

As a General Tonic, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS produce effects which must be experienced or witnessed before they can be fully appreciated. In cases of Constitutional Weakness, Premature Decay and Debility and Decrepitude arising from OLD AGE, it exercises the electric influence. In the convalescent stages of all diseases it operates as a delightful invigorant. When the powers of nature are relaxed, it operates to re-enforce and re-establish them.

Last, but not least, it is The Only Safe Stimulant, being manufactured from sound and innocuous materials, and entirely free from the acid elements present more or less in all the ordinary tonics and stomachics of the day.

No family medicine has been so universally, and, it may be truly added, deservedly popular with the intelligent portion of the community, as HOSTETTER'S BITTERS.

Prepared by HOSTETTER & SMITH, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Sold by all Druggists, Grocers and Storekeepers everywhere.

HELMBOLD'S
GENUINE PREPARATIONS.

COMPOUND FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU, a Positive and Specific Remedy for diseases of the Bladder, Kidneys, Gravel and Dropsical Swellings.

This Medicine increases the power of Digestion, and excite the Absorbents into healthy action, by which the Wtaery or Calcareous depositions, and all Unnatural Enlargements are reduced, as well as Pain and Inflammation.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU.

For Weaknesses arising from Excesses, Habits of Dissipation, Early Indiscretion of Abuse, attended with the following symptoms:

Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power,
Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing,
Weak Nerves, Trembling,
Horror of Disease, Wakefulness,
Dimness of Vision, Pain in the Back,
Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System,
Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body,
Dryness of the Skin, Eruptions on the Face,
Pallid Countenance.

These symptoms, if allowed to go on, which this medicine invariably removes, soon follows.

Impotency, Fatuity, Epileptic Fits,

In one of which the patient may expire.

Who can say that they are not frequently followed by those "Direful Diseases,"

"INSANITY AND CONSUMPTION."

Many are aware of the cause of their suffering, BUT NONE WILL CONFESS THE RECORDS OF THE INSANE ASYLUMS.

And Melancholy Deaths by Consumption bear ample witness to the Truth of the assertion.

The Constitution once effected with Organic Weakness requires the aid of Medicine to Strengthen and Invigorate the system.

Which HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU invariably does. A Trial will convince the most skeptical.

—o—

FEMALES—FEMALES—FEMALES.

In many Affections peculiar to Females the EXTRACT BUCHU is unequalled by any other remedy, as in Chlorosis or Retention, Irregularity, Painfulness, or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated Schirrous state of the Uterus, Leuchorrhea or Whites, Sterility, and for all complaints incident to the sex, whether arising from indiscretion or Habits of Dissipation, or in the

DECLINE OR CHANGE OF LIFE.

—o—

Take no more Balsam, Mercury, or unpleasant Medicines for unpleasant and dangerous diseases.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU AND IMPROVED ROSE WASH CURES

SECRET DISEASES

In all their Stages, At little Expense,
Little or no change in Diet, No inconvenience,
And no Exposure.

It causes a frequent desire and gives strength to Urinate, thereby Removing Obstructions, Preventing and Curing Strictures of the Urethra, allaying Pain and Inflammation, so frequent in this class of diseases, and expelling all Poisonous, Diseased and wornout Matter.

Thousands upon Thousands who have been the victims of Quacks, and who have paid heavy fees to be cured in a short time, have found they were deceived, and that the "POISON" has, by the use of "Powerful Astringents," been dried up in the system, to break out in an aggravated form, and perhaps after Marriage.

—o—

Use HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU for all affections and diseases of the URINARY ORGANS, whether existing in MALE or FEMALE, from whatever cause originating and no matter of HOW LONG STANDING. Diseases of these Organs requires the aid of a DIURETIC. HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU IS THE GREAT DIURETIC, and is certain to have the desired effect in all Diseases for which it is Recommended.

Evidence of the most reliable and responsible character will accompany the medicine.

Price $1.00 per bottle, or six for $5.00.

Delivered to any Address, securely packed from observation.

Describe Symptoms in all Communications.

Cures Guaranteed! Advice Gratis!!

Address letters for information to

H. B. HELMBOLD, Chemist,
104 South Tenth st., bel. Chestnut, Phila.
HELMBOLD'S Medical Depot
HELMBOLD'S Drug & Chemical Warehouse.
594 Broadway, New York.

BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS AND UNPRINCIPLED DEALERS who endeavor to dispose "of their own" and "other" articles on the reputation attained by

Helmbold's Genuine Preparations.
" " Extract Buchu.
" " Sarsaparilla.
" " Improved Rose Wash.

SOLD BY
ALL DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE.
ASK FOR HELMBOLD'S. TAKE NO OTHER.
Cut out the Advertisement and send for it.
AND AVOID IMPOSITION AND EXPOSURE.
December 16, 1863—1 yr.

Coe's Superphosphate of Lime.

BRADLEY'S TOBACCO FERTILIZER.

For sale by the Manufacturer,
W. L. BRADLEY.
SALE OFFICE,
24 BROAD ST., BOSTON.

PAMPHLETS containing testimonials in favor of Coe's Superphosphate of Lime as a Standard Manure, and Bradley's Manual on the Culture and Curing of Tobacco, with illustrations, can be had by addressing the undersigned WM. L. BRADLEY.

☞ Highest Cash Prices paid for Bones.
Boston, April 13, 1864. 3m

GENTLEMEN'S HATS,
Spring Styles,
—AT—
J. A. JACKSON'S.

A large and choicely selected assortment of

FINE SOFT FELT HATS,
CLOTH HATS AND CAPS,
For Men and Boy's Wear.

101 COURT ST.,
April 13.—3m. BOSTON.

CHILDREN'S CARRIAGES.

WE have on hand a very large stock of Children's Carriages, comprising every variety of style, from the

CHEAP WILLOW CAB
—TO THE—
FINEST NEW HAVEN GIG.
—ALSO—
PERAMBULATORS!
of various qualities.

REPAIRING, in all its branches, promptly attended to at the OLD STAND,

No. 180 Essex street, Salem.
HENRY F. SKERRY.
April 20.—3m.

CURRIER & MILLETT,
Dealers in
Furniture, Chairs,
MATTRESSES, FEATHERS, &
259 & 261 ESSEX ST.
Salem, dec 14—1y

H. & H. G. HUBON.
WASHINGTON STREET, SALEM
Manufacturers of
Rose Wood, Mahogany, Black Walnut and Stained Wood
COFFINS and CASKETS.

MAKING this our exclusive business, we are ready at all times and at the shortest notice to furnish Grave Clothes of various styles, as well as Coffins and Caskets of the finest finish. Personal attention given, and delivered without extra charge to any of the neighboring towns. All orders by express or otherwise will receive prompt attention.

Black Walnut and White Wood Boards, Plank and Joists for sale.
dec 14—tf

WALKING MADE EASY.

CORNS.

DR. P. KENISON,
CHIROPODIST,
215 Washington St., Boston.

Cures Hard and Soft Corns, Bunions, Club Nails, Nails penetrating the Flesh, Warts, &c., in a manner that will satisfy the most incredulous.

CHARLES S. BUFFUM,

BEING an authorized UNDERTAKER of South Danvers, will attend Funerals in said place with his Hearse the same as the Town Undertaker. Will also attend Funerals, when desired, in any of the neighboring towns, with one or a pair of horses.

He also furnishes Coffin Caskets, Robes, &c., lower than city prices.

All branches of the business attended to, such as furnishing Coaches, Flowers, Laying Out, &c. Ice Preservers furnished.

All orders promptly attended to, and personal attention given to them. Articles delivered to any of the neighboring towns free of charge. Orders by express or otherwise will receive prompt attention.

Central street, South Danvers,
RESIDENCE 25 ELM STREET.
South Danvers, Feb 17, 1864.

Undertaker's Notice!

THE subscriber being regularly appointed as Undertaker of South Danvers, would respectfully notify the public that he has removed from Central Street, to No. 80 Lowell Street, where he may be found in readiness to attend funerals, and to furnish, when desired.

HENRY SPENCER.
February 10, 1864.

E. S. FLINT,
Manufacturer and Dealer in
INNER SOLES,
AND SHOE STIFFENINGS OF ALL KINDS.
2 MAIN STREET, SOUTH DANVERS.

AGRICULTURAL WAREHOUSE.
Parker, Gannett & Osgood,
WHOLESALE AND RETAIL DEALERS IN
Agricultural Implements, Seeds,
FERTILIZERS, &c.,
INCLUDING THE FOLLOWING:

Plows,
Harrows,
Cultivators,
Corn Planters,
Horse Hoes,
Hay Cutters,
Corn Shellers,
Churns, all patterns,
Meat Cutters,
Sausage Stuffers,
Field & Garden Rollers,
Road Scrapers,
Grindstone Fixtures,
Hoes,
Manure Forks,
Shovels,
Spades,
Fan Mills,
Lard Presses,
Vegetable Cutters,
Railway and Sweep Horse Powers,
Threshing Machines,
Hay Presses,
Cider Mills,
Garden and Canal Barrows,
Mounted Grindstones,
Cheese Presses,
Folding Ladders,
Horse Rakes,
Palmer's Horse Pitchforks,
Axes,
Grass Hooks,
Garden Trowels.

BUCKEYE MOWING MACHINES.

Grass, Garden, Flower and Field Seeds,

Guano, Coe's Super Phosphate Lime, Poudterette, Ground Bone, Fish Guano, &c., at the Lowest Prices.

No. 49 North Market street, and 46 Merchant's Row, Boston.
April 27, 1864.—3m.

WM. C. HENDERSON,
MANUFACTURER OF
PLAIN AND FANCY
PAPER BOXES,
No. 235 ESSEX STREET,
Sign of "Nest of Boxes,"
July 28 SALEM. tf

A LECTURE FOR YOUNG MEN.

Just published, a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical cure (without medicine) of SPERMATORRHŒA, or Seminal Weakness, Involuntary Seminal Losses, IMPOTENCY, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc.; also, Consumption, Epilepsy and Fits, induced by self-indulgence or sexual extravagance.

☞ Price, in a sealed envelope, only 6 cents.

The celebrated author in this admirable essay clearly demonstrates from a thirty years successful practice, that the alarming consequences of self-abuse may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine or the application of the knife—pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

This Lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land.

Sent under seal, in a plain envelope, to any address, POST-PAID, on receipt of six cents, or two postage stamps. Address the publishers,

CHAS. J. C. KLINE & CO.,
127 Bowery, New York, Post Office Box, 4586.
January 16—8mos.

Abbott's South Danvers & Salem EXPRESS.

Leave South Danvers, ... 7½ a m, 1 p m
Leave Salem, ... 10 a m, 4 p m

Orders left at Teel & Moulton's, and principal stores on Main street, South Danvers; and at 7 Washington street, and at Reed's in the Market, Salem.

FOR NEW YORK via FALL RIVER AND NEWPORT. Cabin passage $5.00; Deck, $4.00. Cars leave the Depot of the Old Colony and Newport Railway, corner of South and Kneeland streets, at 5.30 P. M., daily.

For steamer BAY STATE, Capt. W. Brown, on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

For steamer EMPIRE STATE, Capt. B. Brayton, on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays.

Passengers by this route can take the 4.10 P. M. Express Train, and arrive in Fall River one hour before the Steamboat Train, having time to secure State Rooms and make their preparations for the passage.

Passengers by this line going to Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, &c., can connect with the New Jersey or Camden and Amboy Railroad. Baggage Checked through.

☞ A baggage master accompanies the passengers through to New York. Tickets, Berths and Staterooms secured at the O. C. & Newport R. R. Station.

GEORGE SHIVERICK, Agent.
No. 82 Washington Street.
BOSTON, November 16, 1863.

ALWAYS SUCCESSFUL!
TO ALL THOSE WHO SUFFER FROM
DEBILITY AND SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

DRS. CARSWELL & HUNTER, regularly educated, highly eminent and successful practitioners, after a very extensive practice in Boston, for over twenty years, need hardly speak of their medical qualifications, or remind strangers not to class them with a set of uneducated men, who fill the papers with their boasting advertisements. Drs. C. & H. caution the public against quackery in all its forms, pretending, a some self-styled doctors, to cure all the most difficult and chronic diseases, without knowledge of the human system, or the modus operandi of the most simple drugs.

Drs. C. & H., since 1840, having confined their whole attention to an office practice for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, they acknowledge no superiors.

CONSTITUTIONAL DEBILITY OR SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Drs. C. & H. are pre-eminently successful in the treatment of the above most difficult and perplexing of all diseases, this complaint being the result of a secret habit in youth; if neglected or improperly treated, it proves one of the greatest evils that can befall a human being. Dr. H. has given particular attention to the above disease for years, and so thoroughly has he become acquainted with the pathology and treatment, that he will warrant a perfect cure under forfeiture of $500; in fact, he will, in the cure of this complaint, acknowledge no superior in this country, or even in the world. Come, then, all you who are afflicted, come to the Old Stand, where you will in a short time be made to rejoice in perfect health.

SYPHILITIC AND SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS,—such as Ulcers and Caries of the throat and nose, Running Sores on the legs and arms, Hard Scabs and Scaly Eruptions on the head, back, &c., pains in the bones and joints, and all other forms of venereal diseases—are made to yield and entirely disappear under Drs. C. & H.'s improved and thoroughly eradicating course of treatment.

The primary or first symptoms of disease, whether a simple running, or small pistules, cancers, or ulcers, are cured in a very few days, if immediate application is made to Drs. C. & H.

13 ENDICOTT STREET, BOSTON. 13

Strangers should be particular in the selection of a physician, lest they be deceived by false advertisements.

Ladies troubled with irregularity, weakness, whites, and other complaints peculiar to the female system, will find a speedy cure by calling as above. No mercury used, and no charge for advice. The afflicted are invited to give us a call.

Boston, April 20, 1864.—1 yr.

25 YEARS' EXPERIENCE enables DRS. CARSWELL & HUNTER to cure any diseases of a private nature in a shorter space of time and for a smaller amount of money than any other doctors in this country, and they also treat all female complaints with perfect success, and on the most satisfactory terms. Patients furnished with board if desired. Please give us a call at our office, No. 13 Endicott St., Boston, Mass.

Boston, April 20, 1864.—1 yr.

Chickering & Sons' Piano-Fortes.
Hallett & Cumston's Piano-Fortes.
Hallett & Davis's Piano-Fortes.

We select our Piano-Fortes from the above firms and warrant them to give perfect satisfaction. Our terms are reasonable, and all persons in the city and neighboring towns can be accommodated by calling at 76 Federal street.

FOR SALE—Second-hand Piano-Fortes,—Chickering's and others.
ap 29 ANN R. BRAY.

WHITE-WASH BRUSHES

AND Paint Brushes of all sizes—at
S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

SUMMER ARRANG
TO LYNN & BOS
BY OMNIBUS & HORS
W. F. BURNHA

Line of Omnibuses will leave the L Omnibus Office, No. 6 Allen's Build vers passing down Main Street, thro Street, to Lynn, daily—Sundays inclu

Leave South Danvers at 7 50 o'clo and 4.50 P. M.

Leave Lynn (Horse Car Depot, We A. M., 2 40 and 6 40 P. M.

Horse Cars leaving the office at 14 at 8 15 A. M., 1 15 and 5 15 P. M., will buses at Lynn, at the above named passengers to South Danvers.

Tickets to Lynn,
Through to Boston,

Gravesend, Woodend, a
Depot Route.

ON and after Monday, Nov 2, in add route, an Omnibus will leave Sou Lynn, to connect with the steam an times daily,—Sundays excepted.—ru Gravesend and Woodend, to the Cent and Horse Railroad Station, corner Broad Streets; leaving South Danvers necting with the 7.25 steam cars for B (connecting with the 11.10 train), and 4 ing with the 4.50 train); and returnin from the Spring Street Station and C pot, at 8 A. M., and 1 and 6 P. M.

Fare from S. Danvers to Boston by

Through Tickets to and from Boston the Drivers and Conductors.

South Danvers, Salem a
Route.

THE subscriber having purchased ley the Omnibus line running f Lynn, would announce that it will Stage Office, No. 6 Allen's Building, S for Salem, at 7.30 A M., and 2.30 P. M. Stage Office in Central St., Salem, at 3.30 P M for Lynn. Returning will lea A M and 5 P M; and Salem for South I A M, and 6.15 P M.

Passengers between South Danvers a be called for by leaving orders at the o

Passengers called for at reasonable ch is given at the office.

EXPRESS BUSINES

Between South Danvers and Lynn pr ed to, on reasonable terms.

Extra Coaches furnished at short noti

W. F. BU
South Danvers, April 20, 1864.

GROUT & MUNR
SOUTH DANVERS & B
RAILROAD EXPR

Express leaves South Danvers at
Freight " at
Express leaves Boston at
Freight " at

OFFICE at FREIGHT DEPO
Danvers Square.

Express Office in Boston, 3 Washin
Freight Office, 48 Kilby

Particular attention paid to rem niture, collecting Bills, Notes, Dra

Smallest favors thankfully received.

South Danvers, august 26—tf

MARSHALL'
DANVERS, SO. DANVERS
EXPRESS.
Leave DANVERS (daily) at 9 A. M.
SALEM at 1½ P. M.

OFFICES:

In Danvers—At E B Waitt's and the Pos
Danversport—Richards and A W Warr
In So. Danvers—Francis Dane & Co's, a
street.
In Salem—No 7 Washington street, 199
17 Derby Square.

All business promptly and faithfully at

——Our patrons are particularly write their orders.

——Packages left at the office, should "Marshall's Express."

——Being connected with the RA are enabled to forward Notes, Draft collection, and small packages, to a point in the United States, at the us

P. G. MA
decl5-tf

WEBBER'S
South Danvers & Salem Mail

WILL leave South Danvers at 7½ and 1½ and 5 P. M.

Leaves Salem at 8.45 A. M., 12 M., 2½ a

Slates will be found, in South Danvers Office, and at Blake & Holman's store ment, and in Salem at the Coach Station Street, and at E F & J W Roberts', corne Washington Streets.

Any packages or business entrusted to will have prompt attention and care. A lic patronage is solicited.

PARKER

Important to the Aff

DR. DOW continues to be consulted a Nos. 7 and 9 Endicott street, Boston, cases of a

PRIVATE OR DELICATE NAT

By a long course of study and practica of unlimited extent, Dr. D. has now the of presenting the unfortunate with re have never, since he first introduced the cure the most alarming cases of

GONORRHŒA AND SYPHIL

Beneath his treatment, all the horrors and impure blood, Impotency, Scrofula, Ulcers, pain and distress in the regions tion, Inflammation of the Bladder and K drocele, Abcesses, Humors, frightful Sw the long train of horrible symptoms att class of disease, are made to become as h the simplest ailings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr. D. devotes a great part of his time ment of those cases caused by a secret a habit, which ruins the body and mind, u unfortunate individual for business or soci of the sad and melancholy effects produce habits of youth, are Weakness of the limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of pitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervou rangement of the digestive functions, Sy Consumption, &c. The fearful effects on are much to be dreaded; loss of memory, of ideas, depression of spirits, evil fo aversion of society, self-distrust, timidity among the evils produced. Such persons fore contemplating matrimony, consult a ph experience, and be at once restored to happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under Dr. D ment a few days or weeks, will be furni pleasant roor s, and charges for board mode

Medicines sent to all parts of the country directions for use, on receiving descripti cases. Dr. Dow has also for sale the Frenc warranted the best preventive. Order b or $1 and a red stamp.

CAUTION

TO FEMALES IN DELICATE HEA

DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, 7 and street, Boston, is consulted daily for all dis dent to the female system. Prolapsus Ute ing of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Suppressio or menstrual derangements, are all treated pathological principles, and speedy relief in a very few days. So invariably certai mode of treatment, that most obstinate yield under it, and the afflicted person soo in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experie cure of diseases of women and children, other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for patients wish to stay in Boston a few days under ment.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his tention to an office practice, for the cure o Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowl superior in the United States.

N. B.—All letters must contain four red they will not be answered.

Office Hours from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.

CERTAIN CURE

IN ALL CASES, OR NO CHARGES M

Dr. Dow is consulted daily, from 8 a. m. as above, upon all difficult and chronic every name and nature, having by his unw tention and extraordinary success gained a which calls patients from all parts of the obtain advice.

Among the physicians in Boston, none stan in the profession than the celebrated DR. D 7 Endicott street, Boston. Those who need vices of an experienced physician and surgeo give him a call. P. S.—Dr. Dow imports an sale a new article, called the French Secret by mail. Two for $1 and a red stamp.

April 20, 1864—1y

Ann R. Bray, 76 Federal

HAS a full Stock of Black Alpac colors we have all the desirable Muslin Delains in Spring colors.

South Danvers Wizard.

VOL. V. SOUTH DANVERS, MASS., WEDNESDAY, JUNE 8, 1864. NO. 23.

HE SOUTH DANVERS WIZARD
blished every WEDNESDAY, at Allen's Build-
South Danvers Square.
RMS—Two Dollars a year.
VERTISEMENTS inserted at reasonable rates.

CHARLES D. HOWARD,
EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

. R. NILES, Advertising Agent,
1 Scollay's Building, Court Street, Boston, is Agent for that city, and is authorized to re- e advertisements and subscriptions for us at lowest rates.

luable Real Estate for Sale.

E ESTATE of the late THOMAS BANCROFT, situate on Boston Street, Salem, ffered for sale. It consists of a two and a story building, the upper story finished a convenient dwelling of eight rooms; the r story for a store, suitable for most any l or mechanical business, having been oc- ed for a retail variety store for the last y years; and also a large lot of land, which sures 76 feet on Boston Street, and extends to Beaver Street 166 feet. It is sufficient three house lots, in addition to that oc- ied by the building. The building, with a rter part of the land, will be sold separate, anted. For terms, apply to
T. F. BANCROFT, Lynn, Mass.,
t this Office. March 16—tf.

MISS. S. E. MACKINTIRE.
TEACHER ON
ANO FORTE
RESIDENCE,—22 Holton Street,
13 South Danvers.

PECTACLES!

F. SKERRY wishes to call special at- tention to his stock of
pectacles and Eye Glasses, old—Silver—Rubber—Steel and Horn es, of which he keeps constantly on hand y large assortment, embracing every style quality.
—ALSO—
pera Glasaes, Microscopes, &c.
asses re-set, and Spectacles repaired.
Store, our usual assortment of Silver and d Ware, and Jewelry.
No. 180 Essex Street, Salem.
H. F. SKERRY.
b. 24—tf.

. W. WILKINSON,
DEALER IN
wspapers, Periodicals, and tionery of every Description.
REIGN and DOMESTIC FRUITS, con- isting of Oranges, Lemons, Dates, Figs, es, &c., &c.
uces, Pickles and Preserves; Castana, Na and English Walnuts; Hard, Soft and Pa- helled Almonds; choice brands of Tobac- nd Cigars; also a general assortment of ectionery of every description.
so a large and well selected stock of Toys, ble for children and the Holiday Gifts.
e Cream furnished to parties at short no- and in quantities to suit. Wedding Cake every variety of nice cake furnished to es or families.
TORE—WARREN BANK BUILDING.
uth Danvers, Nov'r 11, 1863.

HOUSEKEEPERS, ATTENTION!
JACKSON'S
TCHEN FURNISHING ROOMS,
nder MECHANIC HALL, Salem.
rties about commencing House-Keeping find this the only place in Salem where a lete assortment of House-keeping articles be found. Dec 9—6w

MANUAL FENOLLOSA
TEACHER
OF THE
lin, Piano and Singing,
MUSIC ROOMS, No. 7 Central Street,
SALEM, MASS.

R. BRAY, No. 76 Federal St.
CK SILKS—Heavy Black Silks for La- s' Outside G rments;
H GINGAAMS—New Styles;
N GOODS, different styles, lawns, bareges
NTS—very pretty—French and English;
MER GLOVES and HOSIERY;
Selling at the very Lowest Prices.
y 25 ANN R. BRAY, 76 Federal st.

Horse Railroad Notice.
and after FRIDAY, May 27th, single ares on the Salem and South Danvers oad will be six cents.
ckages of eighteen tickets will be sold 1.00.
gle fares on the South Salem Branch will e cents, and packages of twenty-five tick- ill be sold for $1.00.
es for Children between the ages of 3 and ears, and for Scholars attending school, be four cents, or twenty-five tickets 1.00.
lem, June 1, 1864. M. H. HALE.

TO LET.
HOUSE on Foster Street, belonging to the estate of the late Benjamin Goodridge. For terms apply at the house.
JAMES L. GOODRIDGE,
Adm'r.
ril 20—tf

THE BEST ASSORTMENT
White, Colored Grounds, neat Patterns, o be found in the city.
e 1 ANN R. BRAY, 76 Federal st.

WHITE-WASH BRUSHES
D Paint Brushes of all sizes—at
S C & E A SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

MORRIS'
RESTAURANT,
18 and 20 Derby Square, Salem.
Oysters, Clams, Steak, Poultry, Game, Fish, &c., &c., cooked to order.
Pickled Oysters, Lobsters and Clams.
Salem, July 22, 1863. tf

FURNITURE.
Having taken Rooms over M. C. REYNOLDS & CO's Store, I shall keep constantly on hand a large stock of
NEW AND SECOND-HAND FURNITURE,
BEDDING, COUNTING-ROOM DESKS, &c., &c.,
which I will sell cheap for CASH.
☞ All kinds of FURNITURE and BEDDING wanted—for which the highest Cash price will be paid.
P. J. HYNES, 18 FRONT-ST.
Salem, April 6, 1864—1y

DR. S. O. RICHARDSON'S
Blood-Root Elixir
Has been thoroughly tested and proved in his medical practice, for a period of THIRTY YEARS, and is now presented to the public as an effectual cure for
COSTIVENESS,
AND THE BEST REMEDY EVER PREPARED FOR
DISEASES OF THE LIVER,
SCROFULA,
All Humors and Impurities of the Blood and Diseases of the Skin.

The preparing and combining the BLOOD-ROOT ELIXIR is attended with results to medical science next in importance to inhalation of ether in surgery. Roots and plants, in themselves pungent and disagreeable, are, by a new and scientific process of extracting (in vacuo,) rendered MORE EFFECTIVE IN THEIR OPERATION, entirely divested of the griping and distressing pain which attends the action of all other purgative medicine.—They are also made to become highly
PLEASANT AND AGREEABLE TO THE TASTE,
and by their peculiar combination work so perfectly in HARMONY WITH NATURE that no unpleasant reaction will follow its operation. It also possesses
A DIFFUSIVE AND ALTERATIVE EFFECT,
which can only be attained by medicine in a fluid state. These are new elements in purgative medicines.

The hard and compact manner in which Pills are prepared, renders them indigestible—and, when taken, are forced through the Stomach and Bowels, half dissolved, causing only PARTIAL ACTION, thereby creating irritation and pain to the parts connected with their passage.

One Pill dissolved secundum artem, will produce more medicinal and physical effect than five in a crude state.

The BLOOD-ROOT ELIXIR has no partial action upon the bowels, but is equally diffused there, and throughout the whole circulation of the Blood, imparting a healthy and invigorating action to the STOMACH AND BOWELS, LIVER, LUNGS, KIDNEYS, and gently stimulating derment and morbid secretions throughout the whole system.

A single dose will produce a cheerful and exhilarating COMMOTION, which will inspire the patient with confidence, and assurance of IMMEDIATE RELIEF. A continuance for a short period will DRIVE the obscure and hidden humors to the surface of the skin, and relieve or check SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS—and by thus purifying and strengthening the Blood, will remove the most fruitful
CAUSE OF CONSUMPTION.
It incites the various organs of the system to act their alloted part, removing the causes which induce RHEUMATISM and NEURALGIA, HEADACHE, LOSS OF APPETITE, DYSPEPSIA, COSTIVENESS, and the various diseases which arise from a derangement of the Stomach and Bowels, and restricted circulation of the Blood.

COUGHS AND COLDS, in their early stages, will immediately yield to the effect of the Elixir.

The BLOOD-ROOT ELIXIR contains no mineral, no pernicious botanical element, no excitant, but stimulates the secretions by its mild and diffusive action. It is an effective and painless aperient—has a decided salutary action upon the Liver, and there has been no medicine prepared for common family use which possesses equal merit.

Travellers both by sea and land, will find the Elixir a complete antidote for the evils which they are obliged to endure, from a change of climate of water of diet.

See the pamphlet around each bottle for a history of the Elixir.

The proprietor of the BLOOD-ROOT ELIXIR, (Dr. S. O. Richardson,) has been long and favorably known to the public by his celebrated SHERRY-WINE BITTERS, the best tonic medicine ever discovered, and which has been in use over thirty years. He is a graduate of the New Hampshire Medical College, and many years associate member of the Massachusetts Medical Society,—and has made the study of medicine his profession since 1820.

And so fully convinced is the Doctor of the wonderful curative effects of his BLOOD-ROOT ELIXIR, that he hereby offers to each and every person who will use ONE-HALF OF A BOTTLE of his ELIXIR, and not be CONSCIOUS of a good effect therefrom, to REFUND to said person the FULL amount which he paid for the same, by returning the ullage bottle to his office.
Price $1.50 Per Bottle!
Sold by Apothecaries and Dealers in Medicines, and at the Doctor's Office,
51 & 53 HANOVER ST., BOSTON.
May 11—3ms.*

MOZAMBIQUES,
AT 20 cents per yard; a nice quality at 30 cents per yard; White Striped Muslins, Striped Cambrics; Nainsooks—just received.
In Lawns we have a first rate assortment; other styles of Thin Goods—making our assortment as good as can be found in the city, selling at the lowest cash prices.
Ann R. Bray, 76 Federal Street.
June 1.

OATS.
3000 BUSHEL prime Oats, received this day by Rail, and for sale by GAYLE & CO., Phillips Wharf.
may 25

CARRIAGES
OF ALL KINDS
REPAIRED AND PAINTED
—BY—
JOHN C. BLANEY,
Rear of Lowell Depot, Central St.,
So. Danvers, April 6, 1864.

Salem and Danvers Aqueduct Co'y.
ALL persons using the water of the Salem and South Danvers Aqueduct are hereby notified that the water rents, for the six months ending April 1, 1864, are now due, and that they are required to pay the same, at the office of the Company, No. 2 Sewall street, on or before the 1st day of May next. Should the bills remain unpaid for thirty days, the water will be stopped, in conformity to the regulations of the Company.
Office hours, from 9 to 1 o'clock, and from 2 to 6.
Per order of the Directors,
Salem, April 1. WM. JELLY, Collector.

PIN WORMS. MRS. OSBORN'S Universal Worm Powders are the only sure cure ever offered to the public. They are warranted in every case; relief within 24 hrs. 25cts. per box. Sold by all druggists.
For sale by D. P. GROSVENOR, Jr., 33 Main St., South Danvers. jan 27

Horse Railroad Notice.
On and after MONDAY, May 9, the cars of the Salem and South Danvers Railroad Co. will leave
South Danvers for Salem and Beverly at 6.35, 6.55, 7.15, and 7.35, A. M., and every 20 minutes till 12.55 P. M., and at 1.10, 1.25, 1.40, 1.55 P. M., and every 15 minutes till 10.25 P. M. The 9.55, 10.10, and 10.25 P. M., cars will go only to Salem.
Cars will leave Beverly for Salem and South Danvers at 6.35, 6.55, 7.15, and 7.35, A. M., and every 20 minutes till 12.55 P. M., and at 1.10, 1.25, 1.40 and 1.55 P.M., and every 15 minutes till 10.40 P. M. The 9.40, 9.55, 10.10, 10.25 and 10.40 P. M., cars go only to Salem.
Cars leave Washington Street Station for So. Danvers at 6.12, 6.32 and 6.52 A. M. and every 20 minutes till 12.32 P.M, and leave Washington St. Station for Beverly at 6.17, 6.37, 6.57, A.M., and every 20 minutes till 12 37 P.M., and cars will leave Washington St. Station for South Danvers and Beverly at 12.45, 1, 1.15, and 1.30 P.M., and every 15 minutes till 10.00 P. M.
M. H. HALE,
may 11 Sup't. S. & S. D. R. R. Co.

SLOP JARS.
JAPANNED Slop Jars and Water Pails—at S C & E A SIMOND'S.

From the army hospital—the bloody battle-field—the mansion of the rich and humble abode of the poor—from the office and the sacred desk—from the mountain top, distant valleys and far-off islands of the ocean—from every nook and corner of the civilized world—is pouring in the evidence of the astonishing effects of DRAKE'S PLANTATION BITTERS. Thousands upon thousands of letters like the following may be seen at our office.

REEDSBURY, WIS., Sept. 16, 1863.
"* * * * I have been in the army hospitals for fourteen months—speechless and nearly dead. At Alton, Ill., they gave me a bottle of Plantation Bitters. * * * Three bottles restored my speech and cured me. * * * *
C. A. FLAUTE.",

SOUTH WARSAW, O., July 28, 1863.
"* * * One young man, who had been sick and not out of the house for two years with Scrofula and Erysipelas, after paying the doctors over $150 without benefit, has been cured by ten bottles of your Bitters.
EDWARD WOUNALL.

The following is from the Manager of the Union Home School for the Children of Volunteers:
HAVEMEYER MANSION, FIFTY-SEVENTH ST., New York, August 2, 1863.
"DR. DRAKE: Your wonderful Plantation Bitters have been given to some of our little children suffering from weakness and weak lungs with most happy effect. One little girl, in particular, with pains in her head, loss of appetite, and daily wasting consumption, on whom all medical skill had been exhausted, has been entirely restored. We commenced with but a teaspoonful of Bitters a day. Her appetite and strength rapidly increased, and she is now well. * *
Respectfully, MRS. O. M. DEVOE."

"* * * I owe much to you, for I verily believe the Plantation Bitters have saved my life.
REV. W. H. WAGGONER, Madrid, N. Y."

"* * * Thou wilt send me two bottles more of thy Plantation Bitters. My wife has been greatly benefited by their use.
Thy friend, ASA CURRIN, Philadelphia, Pa."

"* * * I have been a great sufferer from Dyspepsia, and had to abandon preaching. * * * The Plantation Bitters have cured me.
REV. J. S. CATHORN, Rochester, N. Y."

"* * * Send us twenty-four dozen more of your Plantation Bitters, the popularity of which are daily increasing with the guests of our house.
SYKES, CHADWICK & CO.,
Proprietors Willard's Hotel, Washington, D. C.

"* * * I have given the Plantation Bitters to hundreds of our disabled soldiers with the most astonishing effect.
G. W. D. ANDREWS,
Superintendent Soldiers' Home, Cincinnati, O."

"* * * The Plantation Bitters have cured me of liver complaint, of which I was laid up prostrate and had to abandon my Business.
H. B. KINGSLEY, Cleveland, O."

"* * * The Plantation Bitters have cured me of a derangement of the kidneys and urinary organs that has distressed me for years. It acts like a charm.
C. C. MOORE, 254 Broadway, N. Y."
&c. &c. &c. &c. &c.

The Plantation Bitters make the weak strong, the languid brilliant, and are exhausted nature's great restorer. They are composed of the celebrated Calisaya Bark, Wintergreen, Sassafras, Roots, Herbs, &c., all preserved in perfectly pure St. Croix Rum.

S.—T.—1860—X.

Persons of sedentary habits troubled with weakness, lassitude, palpitation of the heart, lack of appetite, distress after eating, torpid liver, constipation, &c, deserve to suffer if they will not try them.

They are recommended by the highest medical authorities, and are warranted to produce an immediate beneficial effect. They are exceedingly agreeable, perfectly pure, and harmless.

NOTICE.—Any person pretending to sell Plantation Bitters in bulk or by the gallon is a swindler and impostor. It is put up only in our patent log cabin bottle. Beware of bottles refilled with imitation deleterous stuff for which several persons are already in prison. See that every bottle has our private United States Stamp over the cork unmutilated, and signature on steel plate side label.

Sold by respectable dealers throughout the habitable globe.
P. H. DRAKE & CO.
202 Broadway, N. Y.
Mch 16—1 yr

Original.

LETTER FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, D. C.,
May 28, 1864.

MY DEAR WIZARD,—The First Mass. Heavy Artillery, (the old 14th,) which has until recently been doing duty in the forts around Washington, was ordered to the front some two weeks ago and soon had occasion to try its mettle against Lee's well trained veterans, and you are aware that their first battle was a fierce one, but the result reflected nothing but credit upon that splendid regiment.—When the 1st Mass. and 1st Maine Heavy Artillery started from this city, equipped as Infantry, to take a more active part in the bloody conflict, the former over 1800, and the latter over 2000 strong, each of them looked more like a brigade than a regiment, and elicited praises at their fine appearance from all who saw them. I conversed with a number of the men, as they halted to rest on their way, to learn with what heart they went forth to their first battle, and found that their comparative inactivity had not weakened in them the true spirit of a soldier. They said to me, "We have been in the service nearly three years, during most of which time we have performed easy duty in healthful and comfortable quarters, and now we cannot complain if we are placed where the hardest work is to be done." On the 19th inst., in the attack upon our trains, they made good all which this response implied, and did their full part to hurl back the rebels with very considerable loss in killed, wounded and prisoners. I have been this afternoon to visit some of the wounded from the 1st Mass. Heavy Artillery, of whom there are now over 260 in the hospitals of this city, and learned many facts in regard to the battle in which they participated, but as you have already had a general account of that fight I will not attempt a description of it. Many of these men were wounded by the rebel sharp-shooters, who were concealed in the tops of trees, some of whom came tumbling down like squirrels when our men discovered their leafy haunts. It was hot work and at close quarters, as the heavy loss which the regiment sustained well attests; but the complete repulse of the rebel attack makes lighter the sufferings of the wounded, as their cheerful countenances, while they relate the particulars of the fight, almost forgetting for a time their fresh and gaping wounds, shows plainly to the listener.

The hospitals of Washington are, I believe, as comfortable, as well attended and regulated, as complete in all that can conduce to the comfort and speedy recovery of their inmates as any in the world. There is probably scarcely a ward in them all which is not daily visited by some noble-hearted woman, who consecrates her hours to this most holy work—to those sacred and most appropriate offices for which she is fitted by her nature, and which no one else can half so well perform. Her very presence seems to change the atmosphere of a whole ward, to touch each sufferer with a soft but magic spell, and carry with it the light and breath of home. Stand and watch, as I have done, when she enters some ward with perhaps forty or fifty patients in it. Each ear, deadened to harsher sounds, catches the soft step or the rustling of her dress, as our attention is often fixed by a whisper while we are indifferent to louder tones; each eye turns to catch her gentle, sympathetic look, and to follow her as she moves from couch to couch, neglecting none, but smoothing a pillow or administering medicine here, speaking a cheering word or touching a burning forehead there, until every sufferer feels as if a cordial of unwonted virtues had touched his lips, or the cherished vision of reunion with those at home were dear to him than life itself were almost realized. A hospital without woman is like a "home without a mother." When no other women have been present I have seen the "Sisters of Mercy," with characteristic zeal, devote themselves day and night to this noble mission, and they seemed to wish no other source of happiness. How great reward is the consciousness of doing good!

Quite a number of the wounded of the 1st Mass. Heavy Artillery will soon be transferred to Philadelphia, and some who do not require much attention from the surgeons, will be furloughed.

I have not been able to learn the number of killed in this regiment, but Company "C," which probably suffered as much as any other, lost nine, including Michael Fitzgerald and Chas. Jarvis of Lynn; —— Chipman, Samuel Fairfield and John Bickford of Salem.

Among the wounded now here are—

Sergt. J. P. Withey, of Danversport, Armory Square Hospital.

Chas. W. C. Goudy, of Danversport, Armory Square Hospital.

Samuel B. Bond, of Lynn, Judiciary Square Hospital.

Simeon Murray, of Danvers, Lincoln Hospital.

Charles Hillery (sick,) of Danvers, Columbia Hospital.

Eben W. Howard, of Salem, Armory Square Hospital.

Geo. P. Furgerson, of Salem, Mt. Pleasant Hospital.

N. D. Pitman, of Salem, Mt. Pleasant Hospital.

Frank Magee, of Marblehead, Armory Square Hospital.

P. C. Lavelette, of Ipswich, Emory Hospital.

John J. Fowler, of Ipswich, Mt. Pleasant Hospital.

L. M. Blaisdell, of Ipswich, Finley Hospital.

Corporal C. B. Hardy, of Ipswich, Judiciary Square Hospital.

Samuel Merrill, of Ipswich, Harwood Hospital.

Corp. O. E. Burnham, of Essex, Campbell Hospital.

H. N. Andrews, of Essex, Emory Hospital.

Yours, etc., DELTA.

Selected.

THE DEAD ALIVE.

There lived once in Switzerland a rich bachelor about forty years of age, called Peter Gortz, who had the reputation of being a very pious but rather austere and thrifty man. He kept but one servant, an orphan, whom, as a child, he taught to wait on him, and afterwards taught her to write and read, boasting of her fidelity and indulging her as if she was his daughter. He was her only friend. At sixteen Caroline de Burg was as comely a girl as eyes need see, with the gait of a peacock and skin like new milk; but from her silent, almost haughty disposition, the young men called her prude, the young women—fool; though mothers even of less lowly station, would point out to their own giddy geese, and cry: "Take pattern by poor Lina!"

Suddenly she appeared to grow timerous and melancholy; and one day was seen by a neighbor to hurry from her master's house in fearful agitation. Peter Gortz pursued, but missed her; the neighbors sought with better fortune, and overheard her muttering to herself, "The Virgin forbid I should be so rash—yet—anything rather than that? I can bear it no longer!" This man instantly seized and questioned her on the meaning of these words, but, as she only trembled, blushed and wept, he forcibly led her back to her master, who looked pleased at her return, and, on what she had said being repeated to him, merely laughed out, "I was too strict this morning, perhaps; silly wench, don't quarrel with thy second father!" Lina was about to retort, when Peter bade the other leave them. What was this person's amaze, when, next morning, his wealthy neighbor ran to him, all affright with the tidings that his house had been robbed of gold and plate, to a large amount, though no locks were broken, and his servant either murdered and concealed, or carried off alive, which seemed most likely, as everything that had belonged to her was missing, and no signs of contention had disturbed her master in the night. The menaces she had used tempted their hearer at once to suspect her, though the loser did not. She must, it was supposed, have taken the road to her native village. Officers of justice pursued that route, and overtaking a wagon, whose driver looked alarmed at their appearance, insisted on searching it. There, indeed, they found a female answering the description given them, hidden with her trunk, amid the straw. She denied her name, but a sheathed knife was found about her, on which it was graven. "Well," she cried, as if bewildered, "no law can force my return to him." Not heeding her, they lifted out her box. "'Tis heavy enough," said one, significantly. "Is it?" she screamed to the driver. This appeal caused them to arrest him also. Falling on his knees, he swore by all the saints, that he only knew this girl as having hired him, in the next town, to come privately to a certain house, for herself and baggage; that he had gone, stolen in, moved the box from her chamber to his wagon, where, by another bribe, she had induced him to conceal her. The lid was forced, and, at the bottom of her wardrobe, sewn into some articles of apparel, were discovered a sum of money, and several articles of silver, bearing the initials of Peter Gortz. In positive distraction Caroline shrieked, "I refused to be his wife and told him I would leave him. Oh, he threatened to punish me!" "You had threatened, too," said one of her captors, "and now, of course, would fain criminate your accuser." "Nay, then, I am lost indeed!" she cried, and was conveyed to the prison of the town she had just left, amid the excusations of its assembled inhabitants, who had never before heard of such a way as hers for requiting an offer of marriage from a superior.

She was tried immediately on her apprehension. Who could bear witness in her favor? Who knew her character so well as Peter Gortz himself? He gave his evidence with extreme reluctance; everything tended to prove her guilt. She was condemned to die without delay; yet the priest who attended her could gain no avowal of the theft; finding her so impenitent, he tried all the power of terror on her soul with but the result of unnerving her for the awful fate she was to meet. I cannot grace my story with a word in praise of her heroism. She begged for time, she supplicated the Virgin to interpose and save her young days; she grovelled at the feet of her guards; her shrieks and groans rung from the very scaffold, she struggled with the executioner, till even he was half overpowered by her pleading beauty.

At length her strength and reason failed, she became insensible. The fatal cord was adjusted, and the poor wretch left to hang for the usually appointed period.

Her body, according to the sentence of law, was given for dissection. It fell to the lot of an anatomist, named Ebreson, who had it conveyed to the wonted scene of his scientific vigils, a large arch cellar, beneath his house, chosen for its coolness; its air was noisome, and its wall discolored, it was lighted from the ceiling by an antique lamp, whose rays fell on the instruments of his labors, and the still more terrific looking preparations on which he had toiled. This operator was accustomed to attire himself, for these experiments, in a dark dress, which tightly fitted his gigantic figure, and left his lean arms bare. His fiery eyes and cadaverous and strong features, set off by the black locks which streamed over his shoulders, rendered him a frightful picture. Before him, on his table, lay the body of Caroline, partially covered with a cloth, often before used for similar purposes, and, here and there, stained from the dead. Ebreson, who had hitherto been constrained to study from such revolting remnants as his elders might leave of their church-yard spoils, was gratified in attaining an entire figure so recently deprived of life.—He had not attended Caroline's trial; though he had listened, with a sad, shuddering interest to the account of her early crimes and punishment. He commenced his examination.—The limbs were scarce yet rigid; and when he bared the face, he observed that the manner of her death had neither blackened nor distorted it; for the first time was he aware of her identity with one he had seen walk the world in maiden pride; oft had felt inclined to ask the young thing's name. He knew it now—and half forgetting his art, sighed forth, "Had she been as good as she is fair, this is not a breast which I could lacerate."

He turned away to make some preparation for his horrid work, when a heavy sigh which seemed to bear on its breath the word "Mercy!" recalled him to the side of Caroline; he seized her wrist, a feeble fluttering pulse vibrated thrillingly to his touch.

She opened her eyes, gazed around her, saw the surgeon, and all his accompanying horrors. She sprung from the board, and threw herself at his feet; her own disarray affected her not, the feelings of this world she believed had passed forever; but in the most earnest accents, she articulated: "I know not whether I am in the presence of God or a devil; but I am innocent!" "Innocent!" repeated Ebreson, in his sepulcral voice. "Yes," she continued, wringing her hands, "in pity torture me not! or say that this dismal place is but purgatory—that I do deserve, for I did carry a knife about me that I might put an end to my own life, rather than be his, but of the crime for which I suffered he knows me guiltless; and thou, terrible being! canst read in my soul that I speak the truth. Oh! thou look'st just! this will not last eternally. Spare, save me! and I will worship thee!" Such an appeal in such circumstances, and under such a delusion could not for a moment be doubted. Ebreson, in a transport of gratitude, poured over that dear bruised throat the vinegar, which he had kept at hand, as a disinfector, weeping forth "be calm, my child! and fear me not—you are with a fellow creature, who believes and will protect you. This earth, and the life so miraculously preserved, shall be endeared to you." Instantly screening her limbs from the chill air, he led her to his own room, consigned her to bed, and brought her food and wine, while his servant slept; and would have left her to rest, but that her state still bordered on delirium, he sat all night, like an elder brother, beside her. But now, what was to be done? To announce her existence to the world, cruelly as it had used her, and branded as was her lowly name, might but provoke fresh persecution; she had no power to prove the crimes of Gortz; her new benefactor's bare assertion of her innocence would not have impressed others with a like conviction; for Ebreson was, as yet, an obscure and needy man.—The only course left for her to fly, call herself something else, and in a distant part of the country live in retirement; but how could she gain a living, while unable to mix with her kind? Ebreson resolved never to abandon her; he could toil for them both. He would trust no one with his secret. Caroline would no longer be exclusively his, he thought, if he shared the knowledge of her life with his dearest friend. He had one brother in the place, a Catholic curate. Locking up his treasure, he stole out ere dawn, awakened this holy man, and borrowed all his money by telling him that debts and a quarrel consequent on a hasty marriage, forced him to change his name and residence. The priest charged himself with forwarding all goods. Ebreson then hired a swift conveyance, bade Caroline array herself in his attire and packed up his books, instruments, wardrobe, and started.

When his servant rose, the curate was ready to account for everything. Ebreson found in his poor Caroline such intellect and virtue that he married her. The good curate settled with them, and they knew not what had become of Gortz, save that he had left the theatre of his wickedness. One night Frere Basil entered their abode with a face of dismay. "Brother," he said, "I come from a shocking sight, the deathbed of an aged man, who has not long resided here. He will have no physician, though the people about him think he cannot see another sunrise; yet poverty is not the sole cause of his recklessness. He refused the last sacrament, calling himself unworthy of it; so I hastened to secure your charitable aid."

"What is the unhappy patient's name?" asked the wife.

"Gortz, sister."

"Now, all gentle saints be praised!" she cried; "no questions, brother, our neighbor, the notary, must accompany us. Pray heaven we are not too late!" This party accordingly hurried to the wretched abode of the dying man. As they entered his chamber, they heard him rave: "Talk not to me of sealed confessions—the whole world gaped on her degradation and I have wandered for twenty years, like the accursed undying Israelite; still no rest from that thought. I can give ye nothing, mercenaries. If ye find any gold, bury it at the gallows foot, or lay it out in masses—but no! no hopes of pardon, for thy murderer, innocent Lina!"

Caroline drew aside his curtain. At first he stared without recognition. When she called him by name believing that he beheld her spirit, he coweringly hid his face; but she, removing his hands from his eyes, whispered, "Peter Gortz! take courage. I bring you peace and pardon. You are no murderer. The queen of Heaven enabled her true servant wondrously to save me from death and you from despair.—I am a happy wife and mother. Yonder is my husband, come to serve you if he can."

The moment Gortz was assured of her life, he started up, and—retributive justice again!—begged for one hour's—for but one half hour's breath. "Some potent restoration," he cried, "my poor girl's fame must be cleared to all the world, and as much atonement made as wealth can do." The draught was given—the notary was ready. To him Peter deposed that, believing Caroline herself entirely dependent and in his power, her rejection of his suit and threats of departure had stung him to vindictive madness. She told him she had packed up, ready to set forth with the first light, and insisted on leaving the house to seek a conveyance, telling him that she had left her trunk open—he might search it if he would, for she had stolen nothing. These brave words gave his hitherto indefinite desire for revenge a feasible shape; and during her absence, he had actually sewn into her raiment the plate and money, which he concealed at the bottom of her box, leaving it apparently just as he had it; and, when she returned, bidding her farewell with a semblance of relenting, ere he retired for the night. Having made this statement, he formally consigned the whole of his long hoarded wealth to her, and sunk into a peaceful slumber, from which he never woke in this world.

WAKING UP.—The London Times believes that passing events are waking old Egypt from its long sleep among the pyramids and catacombs—the resting places of the forgotten dead. Europe is coming to understand the richness and value of the country; and says the correspondent of the times, March 18th:—

"Every steamer is pouring a new population and a golden stream on our shores; energy and capital are taking possession of the land, and urging it forward in the path of civilization and wealth. Not only are the cities of Alexandria and Cairo receiving so great an influx of inhabitants that, although whole quarters are rising on every side, house room is still insufficient, and rents are always increasing, but the inland towns and villages are overrun, and factories with high chimneys and long lines of black smoke cut the clear sky of the flat landscape through the length and breadth of Lower Egypt. Gradually, but surely, the tide is sweeping upwards, and will soon people the shores of the Thebaid. The effect of all this is telling on the natives."

FEEBLENESS IN HIGH PLACES.—Some of the notables of Europe are suffering from age and ill health which may soon cause their retirement or make their places vacant by death.—The Pope at Rome, now 78 years old, has apparently had death several times near him, and for some months the inquiry has been—who will succeed him? The last talk is that a Bonaparte—cousin of the Emperor, will be eligible in good time, and with the French influence in council and the French army in Rome will step into the shoes that Pius IX. will cast off. In England Lord Palmerston, past 80, is often prostrate from gout; and the Duke of Newcastle, yet in his prime, is dangerously indisposed. These are among the chief counsellors of the Queen. Victor Emmanuel of Italy has been warned by apoplexy that he must restrain his passions and appetites, or shortly, his son Prince Humbert, not yet 21, will be proclaimed King of Italy. Apoplexy is not a thing to be trifled with.

FACTS.—The credulity of women, on the subject of being loved, is very great. They often mistake a common liking for a particular regard, and on this foundation build up a castle in the air, and fill it with all the treasures of their bright hopes and love, and when some startling fact destroys the vision, they feel as if the whole creation were a blank to them, and they were the most injured of women. It is safer to be very skeptical on the subject of being loved; but if you do make the mistake, take all the blame to yourselves, and save your dignity by secresy, if you cannot keep your heart from loving.—Mrs. Farrer.

A POPPING AFFAIR.—Mr. Popp, of Poppville, in Popp County, fancying himself to be very popular with his lady love, "popped the question" to her under the poplar tree, where she referred him to her "popy," who, when asked for his consent, laboring under the influence of ginger pop, popped him out of the door to the tune of "Pop goes the Weasel."

☞ The Pope of Rome has sent $500 to the U. S. Sanitary Commission from his private purse, and expressed great sympathy for the wounded soldiers.

The Wizard.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 8, 1864.

APOLOGETICAL.

We feel that we must apologize to our readers for the barrenness of our paper to-day, on account of the absence of the Editor, who has been suddenly called away to Washington. His presence was needed in that city to advise with the Cabinet in regard to the military situation and the conduct of the war. In his absence the paper is left in charge of the nine assistant editors, the five local item reporters, the compositors and the devil,—so there is no head nor tail to the concern, except what pertains to the latter personage. It would not be surprising, therefore, if some want of unity, and perhaps consistency, should be discovered in the columns of the WIZARD,—if its politics should be a little out of joint and its readers puzzled to find out whether it favors the nomination of McCLELLAN, BUTLER, FREMONT, GRANT or LINCOLN. We presume the Editor-in-Chief will settle this matter for the future by his attendance at the Convention in Baltimore, where he will see that political affairs are set right.

Since writing the above, we have a dispatch from the Editor, in which he informs us that he is in negotiation with the government, by which the WIZARD office, is to have the public printing and the paper recognized as the Government organ. This plan has the opposition of Stanton and Chase, and Blair gives it the cold shoulder, but is not very persistent. The Editor promises to inform us of any further developments.

Later.—By a telegram just received, we learn that the negotiation goes on finely. Chase has come into the arrangement on the condition that the Editor shall devise some plan to pay off immediately the whole public debt without taxing the people. He has this offer under consideration. Mr. Stanton requires him to fix the terms of peace with the rebels and effect a re-construction of the Union satisfactory to everybody, North and South. He has promised to do this.

Still Later.—Another dispatch says, that matters are nearly arranged on the basis of a compromise with the Copperheads and Radicals, by which Lincoln is to be nominated and re-elected President, Jeff. Davis Vice President and Fremont made Secretary of State, with the prospect of succession to the Presidency. Vallandigham, Wendell Phillips, Memminger and Parson Brownlow are to have places in the Cabinet, and Daniel Cate appointed Postmaster General. All questions relating to the negro are to be adjusted by a Commission, consisting of Charles Sumner, Mason, and Slidell and Parker Pillsbury, who are expected to harmonize and fraternize on this subject. The National debt, and also the Confederate debt, are to be immediately paid off in gold on a plan to be agreed upon between the Editor and Mr. Memminger. In order to more closely cement the Union thus formed, we are to have a war with France, and Lieutenant Generals Grant and Lee are to re-conquer Mexico, of which Gen. Butler is to be made Military Governor. These are but the outlines of the plan agreed upon, which gives promise of abundant success.

Later Still.—The tone of the last dispatch from the Editor is rather despondent. The plan was a nice one in theory, but it shows symptoms of failure in practice. He finds some slight obstacles in the way of procuring the requisite quantity of gold. Sumner and Mason don't harmonize on the negro, and Wendell Phillips can't fraternize with Vallandigham. Butler looks at the measure with a cross eye, and Parson Brownlow doubts the loyalty of Jefferson Davis. Fremont, the Pathfinder, says the place of Secretary of State is no sure path to the Presidency, and if the President don't find a better place for him he'll give him Jessie. So they are all in a great muss. Jeff. Davis insists upon having Washington's statue removed from the Boston State House and his own put in its place; and that Bunker Hill Monument shall be removed to Bull Run. Cate is not to be found.

Latest.—Another dispatch has arrived. We give it in the Editor's own words:—"The fat is all in the fire! The public printing is not to be done at the WIZARD office, and our paper will not be the official organ. I trust, however, that it will be the organ of the South Danvers Chess Club, and get the advertising for contracts when the fortifications are erected upon Buxton's Hill. We had a great blow-up at the Cabinet meeting, I assure you. Welles has treated me shabbily, but Lincoln is a gentleman and he shall have the powerful support of the WIZARD. Of the others I will give you my opinion when I return."

The above is the whole of the telegram. We have received from another source an account of the scene at the Cabinet meeting at the Capitol. While the Editor was stating his case with great eloquence, Secretary Welles rose and said that, if his application was granted, he would tender his resignation. The Editor replied that it would meet with the resignation of the whole country. Upon this Welles attempted to seize him by the collar, when the Editor sprang up and caught hold of the long beard of the Secretary, where he hung like a spider from the ceiling, and President Lincoln said it reminded him of a story,—which he could not remember. Welles then shook off the Editor, who made a contraband of him by throwing the contents of an inkstand in his face, and then ran. Chase gave chase and the whole Cabinet after him, through the Rotunda, down the steps of the Capitol and up Pennsylvania Avenue, where they all ran bareheaded, pell mell, towards the White House. Here our informant lost sight of them.

WAR DEBTS OF THE STATES.

Congress has refused to assume the war debts of the several States. In this we think they have acted wisely, the opinion of the Newburyport Herald to the contrary notwithstanding. The assumption of such debts by Congress would practically be regarded as a carte-blanche to each State to spend money on the credit of the general Government ad libitum. The general Government has already quite enough upon its shoulders, to bear up its own debts and preserve its own credit. While gold is up to 186, and increasing, it seems to our unfinancial eyes rather "pokerish," to say the least, to talk about assuming some $2,000,000,000 of State debts.

Aside from this consideration, and premising the credit and ability of the Federal Government to be perfectly good, we think the impossibility of separating the proper and legitimate war disbursements of the several States from the improper and merely local debts, is so apparent as to make the assumption scheme impracticable. Suppose one State gives its recruits $500 bounty, and another nothing, shall the States whose men volunteer without pay assume the debts of the States that buy up all their men?—Massachusetts refused to allow this principle in the matter of our town disbursements, though as our towns made the expenditure under some misapprehension the Legislature compounded the claim, but prohibited further expenditures of such nature under heavy penalties.

But we do not propose to elaborate our views, but only to suggest to the Herald that something can be said on the other side.

* * *

THE BALTIMORE CONVENTION.—The convention to nominate the Republican candidate for the Presidency is now in session in Baltimore, where ABRAHAM LINCOLN, the choice of the people, will, by acclamation, be the choice of the convention. This is clearly the part of wisdom, as no other man in the country would so well unite the loyal people, or whose success would so vex and annoy the rebels and the disloyal. The views of President Lincoln are always conservative as well as progressive, and he has the prudence to do that only which will be sustained by the voice of the people. To nominate him is to elect him by an overwhelming majority. His administration will make a long and exciting chapter in American history.

* * *

LEE—ADRIFT.—From all the authentic accounts of the rebel General, he is encountering a strong head wind and is fast going Lee-ward. The rebel bark is on a Lee-shore and sadly in danger of shipwreck and loss of all the rebel crew. She makes more Lee-way than headway, and is fast drifting to destruction. The rebel craft is unseaworthy in such a storm as is now raging, and a Lee-lurch will send the old hulk to Davie's Locker, with all her passengers who have drank the cup of rebellion to the Lees. GRANT that it may be so.

* * *

☞ If our Selectmen are really in earnest in their endeavors to suppress the sale of intoxicating liquor in town, we wish to suggest that they encourage the drinking of pure water, by putting a dipper on the town pump, in the Square. The expense would not bear heavily upon the treasury, as there is already a chain. Perhaps the Temperance Committee will co-operate with the fathers of the town in this great public measure. Who'll move first? The beer sellers may remonstrate, but never mind, all great enterprises are opposed at first.

* * *

WHO KILLED COCK ROBBIN?—During the rather violent thunder storm last Wednesday, a robbin was seen perched upon the telegraph wire of the Essex Railroad, near Mr. A. F. Clark's planing mill, and at the heaviest clap he dropped to the ground. Some boys near by saw him fall and picked up the bird, who was found to be dead. This singular circumstance will suggest a new reading of the pathetic ballad—

> Who killed Cock Robbin?
> I, said the thunder;
> And why should you wonder
> That I killed Cock Robbin?

We hear also, that during the same storm, the lightning struck on the estate of Stephen Blaney, Esq., on Washington street, but doing no damage.

WAR ITEMS.

LIEUT. CHARLES H. PEASLEY, of the 1st Mass. H. Artillery, who was wounded in the Wilderness battle, has returned home on furlough. His wound is a flesh one and not dangerous, but it will probably keep him from active duty two or three months.

We learn that JOS. H. PIERCE and SAMUEL G. SOUTHWICK, of the 1st Mass. H. Artillery, who had been reported missing, are all right. They were on duty in the rifle pits and consequently not reported at headquarters after the battle.

MR. HARRISON WHITTEMORE, of the 1st Mass. Infantry, has returned home, having faithfully served out his full time and earned an honorable record. He has been in many hard battles, among them those of the Peninsula, Gettysburg, the Wilderness and Spottsylvania, and has once been slightly wounded in his head.

HENRY H. DEMERITT.—The great flag in the square was again hung at half mast on Saturday, on account of another of our brave boys who has fallen. HENRY H. DEMERITT was shot in his thigh very severely at the fight in the Wilderness or at Spottsylvania, and died in the hospital. He is spoken of as a fine young man of about twenty-three years of age, and has been in the employ of Messrs. Stimpson & Floyd, who hung their flag at half mast and draped it in mourning for the deceased.

We regret to see among the list of the dead in the late battles, the name of Lieut. GEORGE C. BANCROFT, so well and favorably known here, as an active member of the Irving Literary Association, and as clerk in the office of the Salem Gas Light Co. He was a young man of excellent principles and gentlemanly manners, and he will be missed by a large circle of acquaintances.

Mr. Thomas Nichols, Jr., who is at Washington as agent in behalf of the city of Salem, obtaining information in regard to her soldiers, wrote last week that NATHAN LAKEMAN, of the 1st H. A., was missing. A letter was received from him later than Mr. Nichols' account, when he was all well. A more recent letter from Mr. Nichols reports from hearsay, that he fell out of the ranks from fatigue and was sent forward to the regiment by wagon. He is now probably with his comrades of the regiment at the front.

CAPT. THOMAS R. KEENAN, of Lynnfield, who was badly wounded sometime ago in the neck, is expected at home on a furlough.

* * *

ETIQUETTE.—We often read in the papers about coach and car etiquette, but most every thing on this subject treats of the obligation a gentleman is under to give up his seat to a lady.—There is another question almost entirely overlooked by those who scribble upon this great social question. It is this:—Is there any law, human or divine, to justify a woman in occupying two seats—one by herself, and the other by her crinoline, work-bag, poodle, or what-not—when the car is so crowded that others have to stand?

We entered a car on the Eastern Road the other day, and when we had started we noticed that a lady, heavily loaded with silks and velvets, had managed to spread herself like a brooding hen over two seats. All the other seats were fully occupied and several gentlemen were standing. When the conductor came in a passenger called his attention to this little monopoly. Without any ado the knight of the car immediately ordered the senseless woman to gather up her plumage and remove her rattle traps from the other seat, so that a gentleman might sit down. This she sullenly did, and we suppose she went home and wrote an article for the next newspaper denouncing the gentlemen who do not always immediately surrender their seats, which they get and pay for, the moment a woman enters the car.

If there is anything that tends most to make men illiberal to women in the matter of railroad car seats, it is the boorishness and extreme selfishness of some well dressed females who ride in our public conveyances, and who not only never surrender their seats to others, but are ever ready to take double room, even if it compels others to stand.

* * *

☞ We learn that Rev. James Fletcher, of Danvers, has resigned his pastoral charge in that place.

We very much regret to record the above, as Danvers will lose a devoted, faithful and earnest minister, an active and upright citizen, and a courteous Christian gentleman. His long residence and ministrations at Danvers have secured to him many attached friends who will part from him with regret, and he will have the best wishes of all that his future may be unclouded and pleasant.

* * *

SOLDIERS' AID.—It will be seen by advertisement in another column, that the Horse Railroad Company generously devote all their receipts TO-DAY for the benefit of the soldiers. Here is a grand chance for everybody to have a good ride, and while enjoying it, help the poor soldiers in the hospitals.

WITNESSES IN COURT.

Those who have attended the trials in our courts, especially as jurymen, have often observed the rude manner with which witnesses are treated by counsel in cross-examination. They cannot have failed to see that the effort of the lawyer is often directed more to the embarrassment of the witness than to elicit the truth. Counsel seem to think that if, by intimidation, a scolding tone of voice and badgering a witness, they can betray him, into an inconsistent statement, they break him down and his testimony will be destroyed. Oftentimes the more careful and conscientious the witness, the more likely will he be to be broken down under this mode of questioning. He has high notions of the solemnity of an oath, and he is extremely careful not to say too much; and being constantly reminded that he is under oath, he often says too little. He is in constant dread of committing the awful crime of perjury, and when his language is carefully guarded, he is accused of attempting to suppress the truth. If he shows any signs of wavering or indecision, he is pressed and goaded on to make a more positive statement; and if he makes it, he is at once asked if he means to swear it is so—if he is as sure of it as of anything else he has testified. Perhaps he is; but he fancies that he sees a "cat under the meal" and fears to make the affirmative statements as strong as he believes it, lest by some remote possibility it might be otherwise, and so he steps down from the stand with the conviction that he has made a sorry figure, and his veracity questioned. Such a witness is not aware that he has twelve men before him who enter into all his feelings of doubt and embarrassment, and fully believe that every word he has spoken is the veritable truth.

Nothing is more common in cross-questioning than to worry a witness in his statements of time, distance and numbers. Counsel ask him if he is sure as to the date of a transaction? He thinks he is, but declines to say more than that it is about such a day. The questioner then pounces upon him and insists upon positive swearing to the time. If he cannot get the exact day, he requires the witness to fix a definite space of time within which the event transpired. It is not of the smallest consequence to the case, but he demands it, as he says, to test the memory of the witness. The more he presses the point, the more cautious the witness becomes, and suspecting a trick, he is hardly able to swear to any time, definite or indefinite. All the while the witness, in his own mind, was sure enough of the date, but being in an unaccustomed place, and under oath, and an antagonist lawyer staring him in the face, putting questions in an impudent tone of voice, he cannot so well give an honest answer,—that is, he cannot so safely give a positive one.

Witnesses are often unduly pressed by counsel as to their positive knowledge of a fact, when the former choose to state it with only the slightest qualification. We have often heard in court a dialogue something like the following:

LAWYER—Were those the precise words uttered by the defendant?

WITNESS—I think they were.

L.—We don't want to know what you think, but what you know. Were those the exact words?

W.—They were substantially the words he said.

L.—Were they the EXACT words?—answer me that.

W.—I believe they were the exact words.

L.—[Loudly]—Do you know it?

W.—I feel very sure of it.

L.—[Sternly]—Will you positively swear that those were the exact words?

W.—I feel quite sure they were.

L.—Answer me—yes or no—were those the exact words of the defendant?

W.—To the best of my recollection they were.

L.—Will you swear it?

W.—I don't like to swear positively, but I am quite satisfied of it.

L.—Then you will not swear to it?

W.—I will swear that I believe it to be so. I feel sure of it.

L.—How sure are you?

W.—I feel positive that those were the words. I am as sure of it as that I saw the sun yesterday.

L.—[Spreading himself]—So now you say in the presence of this court and jury that you are as sure of it as that you saw the glorious rays of the sun yesterday. How, then, could you say that you did not like to swear to the words?

W.—I did not say that I was as sure of it as that I saw the rays of the sun yesterday. I have no doubt that I saw the sun, but it is very possible that I might not have looked up to it, so I will not swear to it.

If counsel only knew the effect on a jury of unnecessarily teasing and torturing a witness, they would, for the interest of their clients and their own success in the profession, drop the practice. The lawyer who questions the witness in a gentlemanly and pleasant manner, not only better draws forth truthful testimony, but does better for his client and himself as a counsellor. Jurors can generally tell by the appearance of a witness whether he intends to suppress the truth, and also to judge of the value of the testimony of a fast or an unwilling witness. Sometimes they discover it as quickly as the lawyers themselves.

* * *

ALEWIVES.—Alewives have come.—They are caught and carried off by the cart load at Lynn and Ipswich. We heard of a boy taking at the last named place $60 worth in one day. By the way, this reminds us of what some in our town may not know. We refer to the fact that formerly the alewive fishery was regarded as one of the staples of our material resources. Formerly, say about twenty years ago, our brooks every spring were choked full of these very palatable fish. They used to pass up to Spring and Brown's Ponds to spawn, and return with their young in the Fall.

We have seen them so thick in Tapley's Brook, where it crosses Washington Street, that they could be scooped out by a bushel basket full! "Boxes" used to be arranged around the dams at Wallis' Pond and Frye's Pond, through which the fish would work their way up.

All this is now over; the use of the water increased by the tanning and currying business has made it poisonous to the fish, and they have abandoned our town. The "boxes" too, have become entirely obliterated, and the Fish Committee, alias, the "Alewife Man," lives only in tradition.

* * *

EPISCOPAL CHURCH SERVICE.—Divine service, after the forms of the Protestant Episcopal Church, was held at the Town Hall on Sunday evening last. There was a large and attentive congregation. The service was conducted by Rev. Mr. Wildes, Rector of Grace Church in Salem, and a portion of the choir of that church was present, giving interest and solemnity to the exercises.

The clergyman prefaced the service by a statement that its object was to afford opportunity to those who were favorably impressed with the forms of the Episcopal Church to unite in worship according to its liturgy, and it was no part of the design to interfere in any manner with existing organizations.

At the close of the services Mr. Wildes announced another service to take place in the hall on the first Sunday in July, unless a desire should be expressed for one at an earlier date.

* * *

☞ We learn by the Salem Gazette that a boat in Salem harbor with a party of 9 young men, who were on a fishing party, near Baker's Island, was struck with the squall on Monday afternoon, and four of them were drowned.

The names of the unfortunate young men whose lives were lost, were Samuel P. Williston, Charles Adams, Frederick D. Knowlton, William A. Dodge. The body of the latter is the only one recovered; he was from this town.

Those who were saved were Robert Thomas, William Churchill, Benj. Gardner, Wm. Teague, Martin Kennedy.

The party saw the squall arising and were making for Baker's Island, which they had nearly reached, when it struck them, oversetting the boat instantly, with the disastrous result above narrated.

* * *

RETIREMENT OF MR. PEABODY.—It is announced in a correspondence from London of the New York Commercial Advertiser, that Mr. George Peabody, the great London banker, and our fellow countryman and townsman, will retire finally from active business in October next when his existing partnership terminates. The house will continue, but its name will be changed. It is also stated that Mr. Peabody is desirous to return to and spend the greater part of the rest of his life in the United States, but that he has resolved never to gratify that wish until the Union is restored in amity and peace. May we soon have occasion to welcome his return!

* * *

FREMONT AND COCHRANE.—The Cleveland Convention of radical Republicans met on Tuesday, May 31st, and adjourned the same day. They nominated Gen. Fremont for President and Gen. John B. Cochrane of New York for Vice President. Among the most prominent persons there, were Senator B. Gratz Brown of Missouri, Gen. Cochrane, Dr. Cheever, Parker Pillsbury, S. S. Foster, and General McKinistry. Gen. Fremont was nominated by acclamation. Comptroller Robinson of New York wrote a letter in favor of General Grant. Wendell Phillips sent a letter. The Convention adopted fourteen resolutions, three of which propose amendments of the constitution, viz: for the prohibition of Slavery, for the one term principle, and for a direct vote of the people in choosing President and Vice President.

* * *

ESSEX HISTORICAL COLLECTIONS.—We have upon our desk the April number of this valuable periodical. The leading papers relate to the career of two of the most marked men of the past generation in Essex County, viz:—Judge DANIEL A. WHITE and ROBERT RANTOUL, Sen., of Beverly. The first by Rev. Dr. Briggs, the last edited by R. S. Rantoul, Esq.

* * *

☞ Among the commissions issued last week were the following:—1st Lieut. Charles Sanders of Salem (48th Regt.,) to be 1st Lieut. in 57th (Second Veterans;) 1st Lieut. Joseph M. Parsons of Salem (12th Co. H. A.,) to be Captain 15th Co. H. A., unattached.

SUPPLYING THE ENEMY.

Gen. Canby has signalized his advent to power in the southwest by cutting off supplies from the rebels. By the way in which business has there been done, our possession of the Mississippi and blockade of the coast has not at all straitened the rebels for materials of war, or for supplies of any kind. The military officers have granted permits to trade, and though it may appear strange, it is an undeniable fact that our army has never gone in any direction without finding these traders ahead of them. They were purchasing cotton or other produce, and were either paying in gold, or what was more valuable, in goods suited to the market. In order to success they have been equally loyal to both sides and were acting for the profit of each in general and for their own in particular. By these means our armies have been turned into caravans; the officers have been demoralized, and the men kept to guard baggage wagons loaded with merchandise for the one side or the other. It has all gone to enrich speculators and government plunderers, while the national interests were frittered away, and gradually the whole country along the Mississippi on both sides was being recovered by the rebels. We have had our victories from Paducah to the Gulf, and from the line of Corinth and Jackson in Mississippi to the interior of Arkansas and Louisiana; and the fields where we have gained them are white with the bones of the fallen; but what is the result? To-day all the territory this side of the river, even in the loyal State of Kentucky, is held by rebels, with the exception of Memphis, Vicksburg, Natchez and Port Hudson, with minor points from which a Union man cannot move five miles in safety. These places the Confederates would rather have in our hands than in their own, for they are more useful to them now than before we captured them. Does anybody ask how? Read from the correspondent of the St. Louis Republican, who writes from Natchez under date of May 8th:—

> The practice has been to permit everybody to come in and go out at will, almost—especially the women—to purchase supplies. The military authorities have found reasons enough to overlook the many abuses to which this custom might lead. In fact, the "trade stores" are at the bottom of the whole policy. From this place alone there have been "permitted" forty to fifty thousand dollars worth of supplies per day, besides double that amount at Vicksburg, and smaller sums at minor posts. All that was required of the purchaser was to make oath that the goods were "family supplies," and pay the fees when they passed the lines without scrutiny. The goods, for a very large part, have been heavy sheetings, shoes and jeans, suitable for negroes' wear, but too often, I fear, appropriated to the friends in the rebel army; or if the farce of giving them to the negroes is followed, the rebels come up and take them away from the darkies.

This tells the whole story. It has been just the same on the other side of the river. The rebel soldiers are as well supplied with shoes, hats, clothes—all the necessaries and some of the luxuries of life—as the Union troops are. The consequences we see in Forrest's guerillas up to the Ohio river; in Banks' defeat on the Red River; and in Steele's retreat to Little Rock. There is but one remedy for this, which is to prohibit all kind of traffic with the rebel country as long as the war lasts, and to treat all who are known to traffic with the Confederates as rebels and traitors. We don't want their cotton; better that it should go to ten dollars a pound than to give them the means of prolonging the war. The army has but one purpose with cotton, tobacco, sugar or molasses, in quantities beyond what they need for immediate use, and that is to burn. Their work is to devastate, lay waste and distress the enemy; and not to feed, clothe and arm them.

The same rule should apply in the East. Baltimore carries on the traffic as St. Louis does in the West; and trading, not war, is the object of many men employed by the government at other points. The rebel mail seized in Baltimore the other day, revealed the whole affair. Nor is it confined to Baltimore. New York has a constant trade with rebel ports; and possibly other places north of that are in the contraband trade. It is the almighty dollar for which the rascally traders are actually selling their country and bartering away the liberties of the world—it is the thirty pieces of silver that the Judases are after; and they would willingly prolong the war till doomsday if it would increase their pile of greenbacks.

For ourselves we were never favorably inclined to war. Military glory does not dazzle us, and we know of no work less becoming Christian men, when it can by any possibility be avoided. There are, however, worse things or conditions than war, and when we are driven to that evil to escape a worse, we would so prosecute war as to bring it to its speediest termination. There are but two ways to get out of war; one is by treaty or mediation, which is the Divine way—God's way; and the other, to pass the issue to subjugation or destruction. This last has been determined upon in our rebellion; the rebels are to be subjugated or wiped out. That being the case there can be no greater enemy to the government than he who really gives comfort and aid to the traitors. Jeff. Davis, Lee and Beauregard do not deserve the halter or the prison more than those who for unhallowed gains sell supplies to these men and their associates. The policy of the war being fixed it should be aggressive and destructive. Deny the enemy everything in our power; take from him and destroy all that we can obtain—all that the rules of civilized Christian warfare will permit. Make his state and condition as unhappy and uncomfortable as it can be rendered, and thus force his surrender, or failing in that, cause his destruction. Fighting with one hand and feeding the enemy with the other would make this a forty years' war—as long as was the Peloponnesian war, and land us all in ruin.—Newburyport Herald.

* * *

☞ Theory and Cure of Phthisis or Tuberculous Consumption, by Dr. Carl Both. We have received a well printed pamphlet with the above title from A. Williams & Co., Boston, through their agent in Danvers, Mr. E. B. Waitt. This pamphlet seems to be the work of no quack, but of a regular scientific physician, who has a theory which he has tested by numerous illustrations. He fully believes in the curability of tuberculous consumption in all its earlier stages. He relies mainly upon a proper nourishment of the system.

* * *

☞ The Portland Press says the boot and shoe business of that city amounts to two million dollars a year. This puts Portland among the shoe towns.

* * *

☞ Rev. S. R. Calthrop has resigned the pastorship of the Unitarian Society in Marblehead.

The Explosion of Monster T
Near Newbern, N.

A correspondent of the N.
gives the following particulars rible accident that occurred on last, at Bachelor's Creek, near
North Carolina:

At four o'clock Thursday aftern arrival of the train at this station bern, a terrible explosion attended of four torpedoes from the cars to th Forty odd soldiers and negroes were eternity in an instant, while betw and thirty persons, white and b wounded and mangled in a mann to behold.

The train which left Newbern at the afternoon brought to the outp maining four of thirteen torpedoes, of weight and proportions, intended t
the blockade of the Neuse river in th of Kinston. The last of the four reaching the station platform when a tal blow, from a log of wood striking cap, exploded the torpedo. The was so great that the other three fo the explosion of the first, and so q make but one mighty report, like th a thousand pieces of artillery fired ously.

The disaster was one of the most and heart-rending that has happen country in a series of years. Sold gallantry has been displayed on ba and whose eagerness to hear the their brave comrades in Virginia had them clustering around the station, ed, mangled and torn, into eternity
ment's time.

Heads, bodies, and limbs were scatt quarter of a mile around; and in many it was found impossible to recogni mains of the unfortunate victims.
tower and a commissary building, tw
by eighty feet, built of logs, were th the air a distance of eight hundred strewed the country for a great dist
the fragments.

The greatest sufferer by this terrible phe was the One Hundred and Thirt
New York, stationed for the last twelv on this front, and whose camp is a the railroad station.

The killed and wounded of the co will number between twenty and tw

This sad accident, entailing such fea sequences, has cast a gloom over the the outposts which will require a long them fully to overcome. A numbe wounded of the One Hundred and Th ond New York are badly mangled, probably die.

* * *

TREMONT THEATRE, BOSTON.—At th
ant place of amusement, The Tacon B
Pontomime Troupe, under the manag
James Pilgrim, are now playing a engagement.

At the Howard, Miss Kate Vance, highly trained horse, is playing Mazep

* * *

☞ Company I, of Lynn, 8th Regt
M., Capt. Batcheller, went to Glouc
Thursday, to garrison the fort at Easter

* * *

☞ The Company of militia, Inde
Division, Milbury, Capt. Perry, has b signed for duty at Fort Pickering, Sale

* * *

A TOUGH STORY.—We always hea negroes had thick skulls, but we have it a slanderous reflection. A corresp however, tells us a story that, if we cre must lead us to the opinion that it w slander. He says that one of our sable was passing through one of the streets i ham, last summer, during a thunder when a flash of lightning struck him head. He clapped his hand to the s looking around him, exclaimed, "I th felt suthin' drop on my head?" His sk so thick and hard that the lightning, u crack it, passed off into the ground.
however, who did not witness the bol bolt the story.

* * *

☞ The Cork Reporter says the rush igrants is so great that persons could entered for passage for any time before t of June, with a probability of being obl wait still longer. Over 2000 persons ar ed to sail in the Inman Company's boats

* * *

Buy your Hats and Caps at 240.

For Gent's Furnishing Goods, 240 is th to find the latest styles best goods, at the prices.

Clothe your boys at 240 and sav
money.

Port of Danvers.

Ar June 2, sch Pavilion, Baker, Glouc

Marriages.

In this town, June 5, by Rev. Mr. B
Mr. I. L. Whittredge of North Andov
Miss A. A. F. Patch of Hamilton.

In Salem, May 24, Mr. Alexander C. to Miss Mary Killkenney, both of South vers; 28th, Mr. William Anderson to Mary Carroll.

June 5, Mr. William A. Pierce to Mrs
A. Buxton, both of Danvers.

In Camridge, June 1, Frederick Ward nam of Salem, to Adelaide M. Edman Camridge, daughter of the late Wm. M mands of Charlestown.

In Haverhill, May 31, Mr. Joseph F.
leigh of Danvers, to Mrs. Emma P. Fren Haverhill.

Deaths.

In Salem, May 29th, Mrs. Elizabeth, w of the late Mr. Wm. Warling, 86 years;
Joseph W. Swan, 41 years 8 mos; 30th,
Meek, wife of Edward H Knight, 30 yrs 4
17 days; John H., son of John and Ann
7 yrs 6 mos; 31st, Miss Isabella D. Mug
60 yrs 5 mos; John, son of Patrick and O'Neil, 6 weeks; June 1st, Mrs. Caroline widow of the late Mr. Andrew Rupp, 59
10 mos; Mrs. Catharine, wife of Mr. The Stanton, 33 yrs; Oliver, son of Oliver C
Helen M. Smith, 10 yrs; Catharine, daug of John and Johanna O'Neil, 3 yrs 5 mos;
Wm. H, son of Henry C. and Mary T. Per
2 years 7 mos; George A., son of James Letitia Bustard, 20 mos 7 days; 4th, Ja son of Neil and Mary Toland, 4 mos; 5th, Priscilla G., widow of the late Col. Joseph
Sprague, 74 years.

In Beverly, May 28, Mr. Allen Burchst
Jr., 40 years.

In Marblehead, May 31st, Mrs. Elizab widow of the late Capt Benj Gardner, 75 y

In Kingston, Mass., June 5, Hannah E, of Mr. George W. Reed, and daughter of Daniel Marston, of Salem, 32 yrs 4 mos.

WANTED to learn the Cloth-

PECK'S, 240 Essex street.

ime to clothe your Boys, and to find the Goods.

wishing to subscribe for Sunday, can do so by applying to
D. P. GROSVENOR, Jr.

Dress Frocks and Sacks—$28, $27, $25, $24, $22, $20, $15, $14, $13, $12, $11, $10, $7.50, $7, $6.50, $6, $5.50, $5, o's One Price Clothing House, Square, Boston.

Pants $11, $10, $9, $8.50, $6.50, $6, $5.50, $5, $4.50, $4, 75, $2.50, at Bennett & Co.'s othing House, 14 and 15 Dock ing—largest stock—greatest nett & Co.'s One Price Clothing 15 Dock Square, Boston.

ent marked in plain figures, at One Price Clothing House, 14 quare, Boston.

nade to order at Bennett & Co.'s othing House, 14 and 15 Dock eceived for Lewando's French

M. E. CRANE.
tf

borne's Store, and look at the y of new styles in Hats and ex street.

ber of years have elapsed since on of HOSTETTER'S CELE-TERS to the public. The pre- in the minds of many persons re denominated patent medicines y retarded its sale; but, as its erits became known, this barrier vas overthrown, and the demand pidly that in a few years scarce- existed in the United States in flicted had not experienced the from the use of the "Bitters," resent day there are to be found TS OF THE WORLD vouchers erits of the article. No greater psia can be found. See adv't. Druggists and dealers generally jn 1—1m.

ONIAL.—If you wish to marry, ad- signed, who will send you, "without out price," valuable information that marry happy and speedily, no matter y or how poor. This is a reliable af- nation will cost you nothing; and if rry, I will cheerfully assist you. All onfidential. The desired information ail, and no questions asked. Address
SARAH B. LAMBERT,
Greenpoint, Kings Co., N. Y.

AT ENGLISH REMEDY.
JAMES CLARKE'S
TED FEMALE PILLS!

a prescription of Sir J. Clarke, M. an Extraordinary to the Queen.

wn medicine is no imposition, but a fe remedy for Female Difficulties and m any cause whatever; and, although edy, they contain nothing hurtful to

Nervous and Spinal Affections, pain d Limbs, Fatigue on slight exertion e Heart, Hysterics, and Whites, these a cure, when all other means have though a powerful remedy, do not lomel, antimony, or anything hurtful ns in the pamphlet around each should be carefully preserved. iculars, obtain, free, of the agent, a by all Druggists.

ates Agent,
OSES, 27 Cortlandt St., New York.
d 6 postage stamps enclosed to any t, will insure a bottle, containing over n mail. March 9, 1864.—1yr.

dvertisements.

RECEIVED
—AT—
D & HUTCHINSON'S, BARRELS
of those favorite
S BRANDS OF FLOUR,
m the Mills, will be sold at the ALE PRICE, FOR CASH.
vers, June 8, 1864.—4w

So. Danvers Railroad.

s hereby given that on WED-AY, the 8th of June, the entire e Salem and South Danvers Rail- set apart for the benefit of the mission, to be divided equally be- ocieties of Salem, South Danvers Should the day prove stormy, Wednesday will be set apart in-will run at the usual hours, but the ll be run throughout the entire

M. H. HALE, Superintendent.

RREN BANK.

S. 10-40 BONDS.

left at this Bank for the purchase 10-40 Bonds, will receive prompt

FRANCIS BAKER, Cashier.
vers, June 1, 1864.

FOR NEW YORK via FALL VER AND NEWPORT. Cabin sage $5.00; Deck, $4.00. Cars ot of the Old Colony and Newport Rail- f South and Kneeland streets, at 5.30 P.

METROPOLIS, Capt. W. Brown, on nesdays and Fridays.
EMPIRE STATE, Capt. P. Brayton, on rs'ays and Saturdays.
by this route can take the 4.40 P. M. Ex- nd arrive in Fall River one hour before Train, having time to secure State ke their preparations for the passage. by this line going to Philadelphia, Balti- gton, &c., can connect with the New nden and Amboy Railroad. Baggage age master accompanies the passengers ew York. Tickets, Berths and State- at this office, and at O. C. & Newport

E SHIVERICK, Agent.
o. 82 Washington Street.
vember 16, 1863.

WTHORNE'S BOOKS.
et Letter; House of Seven Gables; w Image; Our Old Home. Single of Hawthorne's Works, supplied M WHIPPLE & A A SMITH.

T'S POLISHING POWDER.
article out for House Cleaning pur- or sale by & E. A. SIMONDS, 32 Front st.

CROQUET.
his popular out-door Game. Prices $30 to $40—all our own manufacture.
M. WHIPPLE & A. A. SMITH.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS.

Head-Quarters, Boston, May 31, 1864.

GENERAL ORDER, No. 17.

In anticipation of a call from the United States Government for troops to fill up the organizations in the field, the Chairmen of the Selectmen of the several towns, and the Mayors and Aldermen in the several cities of the Commonwealth, are hereby continued as recruiting officers.

Recruits must be delivered at Faneuil Hall, Boston, or at such other places as may be hereafter designated, without expense to the State or the United States.

They will there be mustered into the United States Service by Officers appointed for that purpose by Maj. F. N. Clarke, Chief Mustering and Disbursing Officer for Massachusetts, where a receipt will be given for them, which will properly accredit each recruit to the Quota of the city or town to which he has been assigned; or, if the municipal officers prefer it, they may deliver recruits to the Provost Marshal of the district in which they reside, who will muster them into the United States Service, and accredit them to the places to which they are assigned.

A premium of $10 for a new recruit, and $15 for a veteran who has been at least nine months in active service, will be paid by the United States to the recruiting officer appointed for each town, and ward of cities, as soon as the recruit shall have been received at Gallop's Island, and a receipt returned to Capt. Hiram Dryer, United States Disbursing Officer, No. 2 Bulfinch Street, Boston.

Each recruit will be enlisted according to the regulations heretofore established and issued from these Head-quarters, blanks for which will be furnished upon application to the Adjutant-General.

No Minor whose Parents or Guardians reside in the State, can be paid the State Bounty, without the written consent of such Parent or Guardian.

A Commissioner will be in attendance at Gallop's Island who will take the allotment of any portion of the Soldiers' pay and bounty, and it will be forwarded by the Treasurer of the Commonwealth, free of expense to the parties to whom it is allotted.

The State Bounties will be paid at Gallop's Island on at least two stated days in each week, and in all cases will be paid to the recruit himself. No orders for any portion of the Soldiers' bounty will hereafter be accepted or received by the State Paymasters.

By order of His Excellency John A. Andrew, Governor and Commander-in-Chief.

WILLIAM SCHOULER, Adj't-Gen'l.
June 8—3w

WARREN BANK.

THE Stockholders of the Warren Bank in South Danvers, are hereby notified that a Special Meeting will be held at their Banking Rooms, on Wednesday, June 8th, at 9 o'clock, A. M., to see if this Bank will become an Association for carrying on the business of Banking under Laws of the United States, and will authorize the Directors to make and execute the requisite Certificate of Association, Articles of Association and By-Laws, and to do any other acts necessary or proper to convert this corporation into such Banking Association, according to law. And also to see what other action, if any, this Bank will take to effect the object aforesaid. Per order,

FRANCIS BAKER, Cashier.
So. Danvers, May 25th, 1864.

Men's Clothing.

The largest assortment, the Latest Styles, the best Goods, and the LOWEST PRICES, as usual, can be found at ☞ 240 ☜. Black and Fancy Frocks, Sacks, Pants and Vests, in light and dark colors to match—all sizes and prices. Spring Overcoats, Light and Dark Linen Dusters, $1.75 to $3.75—size, 34 to 50. If you wish to purchase a good suit of Clothes, light or dark, call at F. S. PECK'S.

Boys' Clothing.

Those who have Boys to Clothe, are particularly invited to call and examine the New Styles Coats, Pants, Vests, Jackets and Suits, in light and dark colors, which we have made expressly for our trade. We have pieces of the same or Cloth by the yard. Also, a large assortment of Cheap Sacks, Pants, Vests, Jackets and Suits, which will be sold low. If you have Boys to Clothe, the place to save your money is at

F. S. PECK'S,
240
Essex Street, Salem,

Gent's Furnishing Goods.

In this Department can be found the Latest Styles and Best Goods. White and Fancy Shirts, $1.50 to $4.00; Silk Shirts and Drawers, $1.75 to $4.00; Merino Shirts and Drawers, Hosiery, Gloves, Braces, Roman Scarfs, Ties—new styles, Collars, Umbrellas, &c. N. B.—We offer our Kid Gloves, spring colors, for $1.75 per pair, to close—the same as are sold round town for $2.25. Also a lot which are a little spotted, for 37c, 75c and $1.25 a pair. They are bargains. 240 is the place to buy Gent's Furnishing Goods.

Hats and Caps.

SPRING STYLES FOR 1864. Those who wish to purchase Hats or Caps, either Men's or Boy's, can find a large assortment of the Latest Styles and best quality. Goods at the Lowest Prices. The public are respectfully invited to call and decide whether 240 is the place to buy Hats and Caps.

Notice to Sewing Girls.

WANTED IMMEDIATELY. Three good Sewers to work on Cloth and Silk Outside Garments. Apply between the hours of 8 and 10 A. M., at je8 JAMES F. ALMY & CO'S.

NEW GOODS.

Bugle Trimmings,
Quill'd Ribbons,
Dress Buttons,
Scotch Plaid Braids,
Trimming Braids,
Silk Cords and Lacets,
Boot and Shoe Lacets,
Cottons, Silks and Twists,
Elastic Braids and Cords,
Garter and Sleeve Elastics,
Black and White Linen Thread,
American and English Pins,
Button Rings and Fasteners,
Bonnet Ribbons,
Scarf Ribbons,
Artificial Flowers,
Bonnet Ruches,
English Thread Edgings,
Smyrna and Cotton Edgings,
Wrought Edgings,
Black and White Silk Laces,
Trimming Laces,
Black Lace Veils,
Grenadine Veils,
Mourning Veils,
Crape and Love Veils,
Thread Collars,
Wrought Collars,
Linen Collars,
Malta Lace Collars,
Wrought Setts,
Crape Collars,
Grenadine Collars,
Infants' Waists,
Checked Cambrics,
Plain Cambrics,
Linen Cambrics,
White Linens,
Swiss Muslins,
Book Muslins,
Linen Hdkfs,
Wrought Hdkfs,
Hemmed Hdkfs,
Mourning Hdkfs,
Cotton Hdkfs,
Choice Perfumes,
Toilet Soaps,
Sterling's Ambrosia,
Cocoa Castorine,
Puffs and Boxes,
Combs and Brushes, &c.

220 ESSEX ST., SALEM.
JOHN P. PEABODY.

JUST ARRIVED,
AT DANVERS MILLS,

500 Bushels Corn, in the minnie cob, and will be sold in South Danvers. Constantly on hand a large stock of meal, which will be sold at the lowest Salem prices.

—Also on hand—
500 Bushels Feed;
200 Bushels prime Northern Oats;
100 Barrels choicest Family Flour.
A good stock of LIME constantly on hand.

JOHN C. MOULTON,
Central St., South Danvers, Mass.
May 25—tf.

SPRING AND SUMMER GOODS.
168 ESSEX STREET.

WE invite the attention of the Ladies of Salem and vicinity, to our

New Millinery Goods.

Ladies' and Children's
BONNETS AND HATS,
in all desirable styles.

Crapes, Silks, Ribbons, Feathers, French Flowers, and Laces.

A full assortment of Straw Goods, Mourning Bonnets, Veils, Collars, &c., constantly on hand at the lowest cash prices.

M. E. CRANE,
Successor to M M Fletcher.
Salem, April 6, 1864.

CARPETS.

THOMAS W. DOWNING & CO.

HAVE now in Store a splendid Stock of

Carpets,	Oil Cloths,
Stair Carpets,	Straw Mattings,
Cocoa Mattings,	Rugs,
Mats,	Paper,
Linings,	etc., etc.,

which they offer at the very lowest Cash Prices.
April 13. 179 Essex Street.

Pure Ground Bone
For Farming and Horticultural Purposes.

THE subscriber would announce that he is now constantly manufacturing and preparing for sale PURE GROUND BONE—conceded by all who have tried it to be the best article in use for fertilizing trees, grape vines, gardens, etc. It can be obtained in large or small quantities.

Also for Sale, NEAT'S FOOT OIL, TALLOW and GREASE.

☞ Cash paid for Bones.

TIMOTHY WALTON.
Post Office Address, box 99 South Danvers, Mass. April 20—3m

RICH MILLINERY GOODS!
From the New York and Boston Markets,
OPENING EVERY DAY.

ALL the desirable shapes in BONNETS and HATS,
RIBBONS and FLOWERS in all the New Shades. All goods belonging to a first class Millinery Establishment, to which the attention of the Ladies of Essex County is respectfully invited.

REITH & CO'S,
NO. 2 WEST BLOCK, ESSEX STREET,
(One door west of J. F. Almy & Co.,)
apr 13 SALEM, MASS.

List of Letters

REMAINING in the Post Office at South Danvers, June 8, 1864. [Persons calling for these letters will please say they are advertised.]

Amos L. Ames	Martha A. Putnam
Lizzie A. Campbell	Jefferson Stiles
C. G. Foster	Patrick Scolard
Carrie E. Dunn	Upton and Perley
Henry B. Leonard	Helen Wimore

N. B. These letters are subject to an additional postage of one cent.

DANIEL WOODBURY, P. M.

THE UNION LAMP.

THIS is a hand or a portable night lamp, without chimney, giving a clear and bright light—for sale at
je8 S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

THE LARGEST
LADIES' FURNISHING STORE
IN SALEM.

GREAT STOCK OF
ELEGANT NEW GOODS,
Bought before the late rise.

FRESH ARRIVALS CONSTANTLY
—AT—
BROWNING & LONG'S.

Cotton Hosiery,
—FOR—LADIES, GENTLEMEN,
MISSES,
BOYS.

Gloves.

Large assortment of Cheap Gloves.
Lisle Gloves in all sizes, prettier than any previous season.

Summer Undergarments,
—FOR—LADIES,
GENTLEMEN,
and CHILDREN.

Kid Gloves,

ALL THE NEW SHADES—EVERY SIZE.
ALSO UNDRESSED KIDS,
AND MISSES' KIDS.
The largest Stock of Kid Gloves in Salem.

HAIR NETS,
LACE VEILS,
HANDKERCHIEFS,
REAL THREAD VEILS,
REAL POINTE COLLARS.

Elegant Roman Scarfs.

FOR LADIES AND GENTLEMEN.
THE LATE NEW COLORS.

Cambric Edgings and Insertings.

A very large assortment in all widths and beautiful patterns.

Parasols & Sun Umbrellas,

Said by all who see them "to be the handsomest ever shown here."

Hoop Skirts and Corsets.

Our usual excellent make.

Our Stock is now larger than ever before. We offer our Goods at the Lowest Market Prices.

INSPECTION
Is Respectfully Invited.

BROWNING & LONG'S
Ladies' Furnishing Store,
177 Essex Street.
Salem, June 1, 1864.

M. A. PORTER,
236 Essex Street, - - Salem, Mass.,
(Opposite Horse-Railroad Office,)
MAKES TO ORDER BEST QUALITIES OF
WATCH SPRING SKIRTS.

A Good Assortment of Dress and Clock Button, Braids, Spool Cotton, Small Wares, and Thread Store articles generally.

236 Essex Street, - - Salem, Mass.,
M. A. PORTER.

D. P. GROSVENOR, Jr.,
Druggist and Apothecary,
33 MAIN STREET.

Dealer in Drugs, Medicines, Chemicals, Dye Stuffs, and Popular Proprietary Medicines.

Personal attention to Physicians' Prescriptions.

South Danvers, May 29, 1861. 1y

GEO. E. MEACOM,

Dealer in
DRUGS & MEDICINES,
Fancy & Toilet Articles, &c.,
126 · MAIN ST · 126
Nearly opposite Danvers Bank, So. Danvers.

T. A. SWEETSER,
Druggist & Apothecary
37 Main St., So. Danvers,

DEALER IN
Drugs, Medicines, Chemicals, Foreign Leeches, Shakers' Herbs, Dye Stuffs, Gums, Acids, Sponges, Shoulder Braces, Trusses, and Genuine Patent Medicines,

Also, Imported Cigars of choice brands, Perfumery, Toilet Articles and Stationery.

Physicians' Prescriptions carefully prepared by experienced persons.

37 MAIN STREET.

Valuable Real Estate in So. Danvers for Sale or to Let.

The large dwelling house and barn and out-buildings, with land under and adjoining, belonging to the estate of the late J. W. Carey, situated on Fulton street.

Also a very desirable lot of land extending from Fulton street to High street, with a front of eighty feet on each street.

For terms and particulars, apply to
EBEN UPTON,
April 27.—tf. No. 31 Barr street, Salem.

WANTED IMMEDIATELY.

TWO stout American Boys, to learn the Morocco business, at
ROBERTS & MOORE'S, Walnut st.
South Danvers, May 25, 1864.*

MANTILLAS,
Ladies' Outside Garments,
—AND—
SUMMER SHAWLS.

JAMES F. ALMY & CO.

Invite attention to their recent openings of RICH SILK MANTILLAS, LADIES' CLOTH OUTSIDE GARMENTS, AND SEASONABLE SHAWLS.

—ALSO—
Elegant Poilt De Soie and Plain Black Silks, for Mantillas, with Ladies' CLOTHS in great variety—which we are prepared to make
TO ORDER FROM MEASURE.

We are also well supplied with Buttons, Braids, Ornaments, Bugle Trimmings, Malta, Brussels, and Guipure Laces for Trimmings.

The just completed enlargement of our Store affords us unrivalled facilities for conducting this rapidly increasing branch of our trade.

Ladies desiring to make their own Garments, can obtain of us any pattern desired.

JAMES ALMY & CO.,
188 Essex St., oppposite Central Street.
Salem, June 8, 1864.

A. J. Archer & Co

Silk Umbrellas,

FOR Gentlemen and Ladies. A fresh supply just received.
my18 AUGUSTUS J. ARCHER & CO.

MOURNING GOODS.

AUGUSTUS J. ARCHER & CO.,

HAVE just received a fine assortment
—OF—
MOURNING DRESS GOODS,
for summer wear.
—ALSO—
On hand, a fine stock of
BLACK SILKS,
which our customers will find are at less than Boston prices.
May 25, 1864.

FANCY CLOAKINGS!
—FOR—
Spring Garments,
IN GREAT VARIETY of STYLES,
which we are prepared to make into GARMENTS to order, in the very best manner, and at
LOWEST CASH PRICES.

A. J. ARCHER & CO.,
March 16—tf. 181 Essex Street.

L. MERRILL & SON,
DEALERS IN
DRUGS, MEDICINES,
Fancy and Toilet Articles,
Perfumery, Stationery, Cutlery, &c.
VILLAGE BANK BUILDING,
DANVERS, MASS.

Particular attention paid to Physicians' Prescriptions.

LEVI MERRILL,
W. S. MERRILL.
Danvers, Dec 2—6m

HOUSE OF EQUITY,
—BY—
Arnold & Hutchinson,
(Successors to C. T. Southwick.)

FIRST QUALITY
FAMILY GROCERIES,
Sold at the Lowest Prices.

A large and complete assortment of
CROCKERY AND GLASS WARE,
Constantly on hand.
Also FLOUR and GRAIN.
ASHLAND HALL BUILDING,
NO. 1 LOWELL STREET,
F. T. ARNOLD. B. F. HUTCHINSON.
South Danvers, Feb 3, 1864.

The Singer Manufacturing Co's
LETTER A SEWING MACHINE
For Family Use and Light Manufacturing Purposes, is on exhibition and for sale
AT ASHLAND HALL,
SOUTH DANVERS SQUARE,
—BY—
JOHN H. CHOATE,
Agent for the sale of
SEWING MACHINES,
Silk, Thread, Needles, Cottons, &c., &c.
—Also—
Paraffine Sewing Machine Oil,
The best oil for all kinds of light machinery.
South Danvers, Nov 18, 1863.

LINSEED OIL.

RAW and Boiled Linseed Oil constantly for sale at
my18 S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS, 32 Front st.

George S. Walker.

GENTLEMEN'S
FURNISHING GOODS.
The Largest Stock and Assortment
IN ESSEX COUNTY.

GEORGE S. WALKER, 228 Essex Street, Stearns' Block, invites particular attention to his Spring and Summer Stock of Gentlemen's Under-Shirts,

Drawers,
Hosiery,
Gloves.
Also a splendid assortment of Braces,
Scarfs,
Ties,
Collars,
Umbrellas, &c.

Dealing exclusively in the above articles, most of which were bought for CASH, before the late advance, I am enabled to offer them at less than present prices of Importation and Manufacture—at
my4 GEORGE S. WALKER'S.

GRENADINES
Bareges and Muslins,
FOR SUMMER DRESS GOODS.

JAMES F. ALMY & CO.

have in stock a full line of Thin Dress Goods, comprising AMERICAN LAWNS, BAREGES, GRENADINES, DUCALS, AND MOZAMBIBUES.

We offer a Splendid quality of Embroidered Grenadines, at $1.00 per yard.
je 8 JAMES F. ALMY & CO.

TONSORIAL NOTICE.

WE, the undersigned, Tonsorial Artists of South Danvers, give notice that on and after June 1st, 1864, our prices will be as follows:

Shaving,	10 cents.
Hair cutting,	15 cents.
Champooing,	15 cents.
Hair Dressing,	5 cents.

J. J. HEYLINGBERG,
H. B. GOODHUE,
CHAS. BABCOCK.
South Danvers, May 4, 1864.—6w*

Potter, Bachelder & Co.,
DANVERS-PORT and SOUTH DANVERS,
DEALERS IN
WOOD AND COAL.
Constantly on hand

Franklin, Burnside, Dimond,	RED ASH.
Old Company & Packer's Lehigh, Pliny Fisk, Webster and Locust Mountain,	WHITE ASH,

Also Cumberland, Pictou and Campbell for Steam and Smith's use.

OFFICE—No. 6 Allen's Building.

G. W. POTTER,
J. Q. A. BACHELDER,
C. T. BATCHELDER. mch 30

M. FENOLLOSA,
TEACHER OF MUSIC,

LETS............PIANO FORTES, at the lowest rates;
SELLS..........PIANO FORTES, at the Manufacturers Prices;
EXCHANGES....PIANO FORTES, on the easiest terms;

At Rooms No. 7 Central street,
feb 11 Salem, Mass.

AARON T. LOWE,
DEALER IN
BOOTS, SHOES AND RUBBERS,
76 BOSTON STREET, 76.
aug 6 SALEM. tf

GEORGE TAPLEY,
(DANVERS),
AGENT FOR THE
John Hancock Life Insurance Co.
Office, 41 State Street, Boston.

DR. E. F. KITTREDGE,

From Lowell, formerly of New Ipswich, N. H.,
Has removed his office and residence to
NO. 42 MAIN STREET,
SOUTH DANVERS, MASS.

Dr. K., from an extensive and successful professional experience of upwards of twenty years, feels justified in saying that he can treat diseases to the satisfaction of his patients, and to the credit of himself.

Office hours from 7 to 9 A. M., and from 6 to 9 P. M.
South Danvers, Nov 13, 1863.

T. HARDY, JR.,
—Dealer in—
DOORS, SASHES, BLINDS,
Glazed Sash, Painted Blinds,
FENCE PALES, STAIR BALUSTERS, FRAMING PINS, &c.,
No. 26 FRONT STREET,
Salem, January 14, 1863—tf.

Spring Goods.

THOMAS W. DOWNING & CO.
invite attention to the splendid stock of
NEW GOODS
which they are now opening for the Spring trade.

We shall be constantly supplied with all Novelties as they appear in the market.
mch 2 179 Essex Street.

MOULTON'S
NEW LIVERY STABLE,

Is removed to stable formerly occupied by
SAMUEL HAM,
On MAIN STREET, opposite the Institute.

Good Horses and Carriages will be always in readiness at short notice.
South Danvers, May 25, 1864.

THOMAS PINNOCK,
SLATER,
SALEM, MASS.

Orders may be left at his Yard, No. 25 Peabody St., or at his house No. 6 Hancock street, South Salem.

Roofs covered with any kind of Slates, according to order. All work warranted.
Salem, May 7, 1862. tf

Auction Sales.

WILLIAM ARCHER, Jr.,
Auctioneer, Real Estate and Stock Broker,
34 Front Street.
Real Estate, Bank, Railroad & Manufacturing Stock bought and sold on Commission.

TEETH ON VULCANITE!
DR. J. H. BATCHELDER,
DENTAL SURGEON,
No. 20 Washington St., (near Eastern Railroad Depot), Salem, Mass.,

Is Licensed to make the New Patent Teeth on HARD RUBBER or VULCANITE, and from actual experience confidently recommends them for Strength, Beauty, and Cleanliness, to far surpass all other kinds of teeth;—are sure to fit the mouth; are much cheaper and better, being about half the price of teeth on Gold. Ill fitting Setts of Teeth on Gold can be exchanged for the Vulcanite, at very small expense. Specimens seen at Office. Teeth filled with Gold, Inserted, Extracted, and Children's Teeth Regulated—all with such care and gentleness as to be nearly painless.

VALUABLE REAL ESTATE.

THE Subscriber offers for sale the following Lots of Land, with the Buildings thereon, at private sale, until September next, when such as then remain unsold, will be offered at Public Auction:

A new and well built two-story DWELLING HOUSE, situated on English Street.—This house is well supplied with the modern conveniences, is pleasantly situated on rising ground, and is a very desirable residence.

The MOROCCO FACTORY near the Southwick Tannery. The building is about 150 feet long by 40 wide, is well supplied with pure water and is an excellent place for the Morocco business or Currying.

Near the Morocco Factory are two TWO STORY BUILDINGS, which may be sold with the Factory, or separately. Together they are about 80 feet long by 20 wide.

On Walnut Street is the large BOARDING HOUSE, with the land adjoining, which is excellently well situated for what it is designed.

Several front LOTS for building purposes on Walnut Street, will be sold at moderate prices and fair terms.

A STORE HOUSE 70 by 25 feet on Walnut Street, with the land under and the rear of it. It can be easily adapted for a Curriers' Shop, or for other kinds of business.

On Wallis Street, near the mill pond, a well built and painted MOROCCO FACTORY, all ready for occupancy. It is about 80 feet long by 25 wide, and in excellent repair.

Next to the Morocco Factory on the same street, a STORE BUILDING, strongly built, and framed for a Dwelling House, for which it could be easily adapted. Or it would make an excellent Shop for any kind of business.

Near ELM STREET, on a Court south of said street, are two DWELLING HOUSES, planned for two families each. One is two stories high, the other one and a half. Both houses have good tenants and yield a good income; offering a good chance for investment.

Between Harris and English Streets, one One Story DWELLING House, and a One Story and a Half House.

The above is a most excellent opportunity for enterprising young men to secure places for business and dwelling houses, on reasonable terms. Such a chance may not soon again occur.

Persons desiring to purchase any of the above lots may learn the prices and terms on application to ANDREW S. PORTER, Elm Street.

SAMUEL D. PENDAR.
South Danvers, May 11, 1864. tf

NEW STORE!
Flour! Flour!

JUST RECEIVED, a fresh supply of choice brands, direct from the Mills, for sale, wholesale and retail, at LOWEST PRICES, by
E. F. OSBORN.
Sutton's Building, Main St.
South Danvers, Nov 18, 1863.

GAYLE & CO.,
GENERAL COMMISSION MERCHANTS,
DEALERS IN
Flour, Grain and Produce,
Manufacturers' Agents for the sale of
Concentrated Leaven, Soda and Pearlash Saleratus, and Bi Carb. Soda.
PHILLIPS WHARF, Salem.

R. C. MANNING & CO.
Successors to JOHN DIKE & CO.,
DEALERS IN
COAL, WOOD, BARK, HAY, &c,
188 DERBY STREET,
SALEM, MASS.
N. C. ROBBINS, R. C. MANNING.
oct17

ICE! ICE!!

THE undersigned would announce that he has made arrangements for running an

ICE WAGON

through South Danvers and Salem, the coming season, beginning MAY 1st, and ending NOVEMBER 1st.

☞ He will deliver ice made at Bancroft's Pond, which is supplied mostly from the surplus water of Spring Pond. This ice cannot be excelled in point of purity and clearness.

☞ A share of patronage is respectfully solicited.

☞ Orders may be left at the Wizard Office, or sent by mail.

BYRON GOODELL.
South Danvers, April 13, 1864. 3m-is

NEW FLOUR AND GRAIN STORE,
Central St., opposite Old South.

THE subscriber would inform the citizens of this town and vicinity that he has taken the store lately vacated by Mr. Whidden, painter, where he will sell, by the Wholesale and Retail, the very best of

FLOUR, CORN, MEAL, OATS, FEED, &C., at the Lowest Market Prices.

JOHN C. MOULTON.
So. Danvers, March 16, 1864—tf.

PARKS HOUSE,
(NORFOLK AVENUE,)
187 WASHINGTON ST.,
Near head of Milk Street, Boston.
ROBT. E. DRAKE, Proprietor.
Formerly of Spooner & Co., U. S. Hotel.

FLOUR.

200 BBLS "Keystone;" 100 bbls Faquis "Invincible," received this day, and for sale by
may 25 GAYLE & CO., Phillips Wharf.

Special Notices.

A GENTLEMAN, cured of Nervous Debility, Incompetency, Premature Decay and Youthful Error, actuated by a desire to benefit others, will be happy to furnish to all who need it, (free of charge,) the recipe and directions for making the simple remedy used in his case. Those wishing to profit by his experience, and possess a Valuable Remedy, will receive the same, by return mail, (carefully sealed,) by addressing

JOHN B. OGDEN,
No. 60 Nassau street, New York.

may 25—3m

BELL'S SPECIFIC PILLS.—WARRANTED IN ALL CASES.—Can be relied on! Never fail to cure! Do not nauseate! Are speedy in action! No change of diet required! Do not interfere with business pursuits! Can be used without detection! Upward of 200 cures the past month—some of them very severe cases. Over one hundred physicians have used them in their practice, and all speak well of their efficacy and approve of their composition, which is entirely vegetable, and harmless on the system. Hundreds of certificates can be shown.

BELL'S SPECIFIC PILLS are the original and only genuine Specific Pill. They are adapted for male and female, old or young, and the only reliable remedy for effecting a permanent and speedy cure in all cases of Spermatorrhea, or Seminal Weakness, with all its train of evils, such as Urethral and Vaginal Discharges, Gleet, the Whites, Nightly or Involuntary Emissions, Incontinence, Genital Debility and Irritability, Impotence, Weakness or Loss of Power, Nervous Debility, &c., &c., all of which arise principally from Sexual Excesses or Self-Abuse, or some constitutional derangement, and incapacitates the sufferer from fulfilling the duties of married life. In all sexual diseases, as Gonorrhea, Gleet, and Strictures, and in Diseases of the Bladder and Kidneys, they act as a charm! Relief is experienced by taking a single box. Sold by all the principal druggists. Price $1.

They will be sent by mail, securely sealed, and confidentially, on receipt of the money, by

J. BRYAN, M. D.,
No. 76 Cedar street, New York.

Consulting Physician for the treatment of Seminal, Urinary, Sexual and Nervous Diseases, who will send, free to all, the following valuable work, in sealed envelope:

THE FIFTIETH THOUSAND.—DR. BELL'S TREATISE on Self-Abuse, Premature Decay, Impotence and Loss of Power, Sexual Diseases, Seminal Weakness, Nightly Emissions, Genital Debility, &c., &c., a pamphlet of 64 pages, containing important advice to the afflicted, and which should be read by every sufferer, as the means of cure in the severest stages is plainly set forth. Two stamps required to pay postage. December 9, 1863—1 yr.

IMPORTANT TO LADIES.—DR. HARVEY'S FEMALE PILLS have never yet failed in removing difficulties arising from obstruction, or stoppage of nature, or in restoring the system to perfect health when suffering from Spinal Affections, Prolapsus, Uteri, the Whites, or other weakness of the Uterine Organs. The Pills are perfectly harmless on the constitution, and may be taken by the most delicate female without causing distress—the same time they act like a charm by strengthening, invigorating and restoring the system to a healthy condition, and by bringing on the monthly period with regularity, no matter from what causes the obstruction may arise. They should, however, NOT be taken during the first three or four months of pregnancy, though safe at any other time, as miscarriage would be the result.

Each box contains 60 Pills. Price $1.

DR. HARVEY'S TREATISE on Diseases of Females, Pregnancy, Miscarriage, Barrenness, Sterility, Reproduction, and Abuses of Nature, and emphatically the Ladies' Private Medical Adviser, a pamphlet of 64 pages, sent free to any address. Six cents required to pay postage.

The Pills and book will be sent by mail when desired, securely sealed, and prepaid, by

J. BRYAN, M. D., General Agent,
No. 76 Cedar street, New York.

☞ Sold by all the principal druggists.
December 9, 1863—1 yr.

SPRING STYLES
OF
1864.

L. D. BOISE & CO.,
Manufacturers and Dealers
IN
CLOTHING,

Invite attention to their Large and Fashionable stock, comprising Medium, Fine and Superior grades, of our own manufacture, some of which is fully equal to the best Custom work.

Wholesale or Retail purchasers will find it for their benefit to examine our Stock before purchasing.

We have also a large and fashionable stock of PRICE GOODS, consisting of the most desirable patterns of English, French, German and American

CLOTHS,
CASSIMERES
DOESKINS, and
VESTINGS,

which have been selected with great care in the New York and Boston markets.

CUSTOM CLOTHING made to order in the latest styles at short notice.

PARTICULAR ATTENTION GIVEN TO
Army and Navy Uniforms.
Gentlemen's Furnishing Goods
OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.

L. D. BOISE & CO.,
No. 154 Washington Street, Boston.
April 20.—3m.

Chickering & Sons' Piano-Fortes.
Hallett & Cumston's Piano-Fortes.
Hallett & Davis's Piano-Fortes.

We select our Piano-Fortes from the above firms and warrant them to give perfect satisfaction. Our terms are reasonable, and all persons in the city and neighboring towns can be accommodated, by calling at 76 Federal street.

FOR SALE.—Second-hand Piano-Fortes,—Chickering's and others.

ap 29 ANN B. BRAY.

DYSPEPSIA AND FITS.

A SURE CURE FOR

THESE distressing complaints is now made known in a Treatise on Foreign and Native Herbal Preparations, published by DR. O. PHELPS BROWN. The prescription was furnished him in such a providential manner that he cannot conscientiously refuse to make it known, as it has cured everybody who has used it, never having failed in a single case. It is equally sure in cases of Fits as of Dyspepsia; and the ingredients may be found in any drug-store. Sent free to all on the receipt of five cents to pre-pay postage. This work, of 48 octavo pages, beautifully illustrated, also treats on

Consumption,

Bronchitis, Asthma, General Debility, and gives the best known Herbal Remedies for their positive and permanent cure. Address DR O. PHELPS BROWN, No. 19 Grand Street, Jersey City, New Jersey.

may 25—3m

HEYLINGBERG'S
Hair Dressing Saloon,
24 MAIN ST., SOUTH DANVERS.

J. J. HEYLINGBERG would announce to his patrons and the public generally, that on and after JUNE 1st, 1864, he will abide by the following

TARIFF OF PRICES:

Shaving,	10 cts,
Hair Cutting,	15 cts,
Champooing,	15 cts.

Particular attention paid to dying hair and whiskers, in one preparation, without washing or scrubbing.

South Danvers, May 11, 1864.

WINDOW BRUSHES
AND Feather Dusters at
S C & E A SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

COMPLETE SETS
OF Japanned Toilet Ware, at
S C & E A SIMOND'S, 32 Front st.

LANE & CO'S
COLUMN.

NEW SPRING GOODS.

MEN'S AND BOYS'
CLOTHING!

MANUFACTURED FROM A GREAT VARIETY OF

Plain and Fancy Goods,

—AND—

CUT IN THE LATEST STYLE,
WITH ELEGANT TRIMMINGS,

And made up in the most thorough manner.

SPRING OVERCOATS,
English Walking Coats,
AND FULL SUITS,
Coats, Pants and Vest,
TO MATCH.

NEW INVOICE
MILITARY UNIFORMS,
— FOR —
OFFICERS AND PRIVATES.

Parents are invited to examine our stock of

BOYS CLOTHING,
CONTAINING
MANY NEW STYLES.

Garribaldi Suits,
Grecian Suits,
English Sacks,
Metropolitan Sacks,
AND FULL SUITS,
SACKS, PANTS AND VESTS
TO MATCH.

In addition to the above we have a large amount of goods in process of manufacture, which will be added to our stock as fast as completed. Purchasers will therefore always find a full line from which to make their selections. To those visiting the city by RAIL in search of CLOTHING, we would say:—

Purchase a Ticket through to

"31 and 32" Dock Square,

SECURE A

REAL BARGAIN,

AND THEREBY

SAVE YOUR FARE!

G. H. LANE & CO.,
31 AND 32 DOCK SQUARE,
BOSTON.

March 30.—3m

Cards.

M. B. MANSFIELD,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
214 ESSEX STREET, SALEM, MASS.

 Particular attention paid to procuring Pensions, Bounties, Back Pay, Prize Money, and Army and Navy Claims of all descriptions. March 2.

WILLIAM C. CHOATE,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
251 Essex St., Salem.
Salem, August 6, 1862. tf

THOMAS M. STIMPSON,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
194 ESSEX STREET, SALEM.
Residence Lowell street, South Danvers.

B. C. PERKINS,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
South Danvers—Office in Allen's Building

ALFRED A. ABBOTT,
Attorney and Counsellor,
Office, No. 24 Washington Street, Salem;
House, Main St., So. Danvers.

SIDNEY C. BANCROFT,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
27 Washington Street, Salem.

H. O. WILEY,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
Office, Allen's Building, So. Danvers.

Claims against the Government for Bounty Back Pay, and Pensions, promptly attended to

A. S. CRAWFORD,
Dentist,
No. 4 MAIN STREET, SO. DANVERS SQUARE
Mechanical Dentistry Neatly Executed.

W. L. BOWDOIN,
SURGEON DENTIST,
No, 208 Essex Street, Salem, (Opposite the Marke
Residence—No.57 Washington street.
jan 11—1y

NEWMAN & SYMONDS,
DEALERS IN
Family Groceries, Flour & Grain,
HARD WARE AND CROCKERY,
Ready Made Clothing, Gents' Furnishing Goods,
Hats, Caps, Boots, Shoes, &c.,
South Danvers Square, opp. Congregational Church
SAM'L NEWMAN. NATH'L SYMONDS.

S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS,
DEALERS IN
Crockery, China and Hardware; Paper Hangings; Solar and Entry Lamps; Paints, Oil, and Window Glass.
No. 32 Front street, Lawrence Place,
feb13 SALEM, MASS.

HENRY L. WHIDDEN,
HOUSE AND SIGN PAINTER,
Glazier and Paperer,
Central Street, South Danvers.
All orders promptly and faithfully executed.
jan2-1y

E. S. FLINT,
DEALER IN
West India Goods, Country Poduce,
No. 2 Main Street, South Danvers.

JESSE SMITH
No. 262 Essex Street, Salem,
Importer and Dealer in
Gold and Silver Watches,
MARINE CHRONOMETERS,
Aneroid Barometers, Spy Glasses, &c.

WILLIAM BLANEY,
HOUSE & SIGN PAINTER
Grainer, Glazier and Paper Hanger.
164 MAIN STREET, Corner of Grove.
WINDOWS and BLINDS cheap for cash.
mch6-tf

F. POOLE
INSURANCE AGENT,
Allen's Building (up stairs),
Deeds drawn, and other common forms.

H. L. HADLEY,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
CORNER MAPLE AND ELM ST.,
Danvers.
Claims against the Government for Bounty, Back Pay, and Pensions, promptly attended to.

DEVEREUX & McLELLAN,
Attorneys and Counsellors-at-Law,
CIVIL AND MILITARY,
Browne's Block, Essex street—Room No. 5.
J. F. DEVEREUX, Salem, Mass.
GEO. F. McLELLAN, Washington, D. C.
Oct. 21.

CREAM ALE.

THIS Ale is highly recommended by Physicians for

FAMILY USE AND INVALIDS.

Put up in Half Barrels and Barrels,
And for sale by
J. MAGUIRE & CO.,
No. 6 Derby Square, Salem.
Also, Agent for
MASSEY & COLLINS'
PHILADELPHIA ALES,
BUCKHART'S
CREAM ALE,
And Dealer in
LONDON PORTER, SCOTCH ALE, ATkinson's Wormwood Cordial, Drake's Plantation Bitters, &c., &c.

J. MAGUIRE & CO.,
july 15 No. 6 Derby Square, Salem.

E. F. BURNHAM,
SOLE AGENT FOR
SARGENT & CO.S'
MAGIC SOAP!
For South Danvers & Salem.

OFFICE—Central St., opp. Lowell Depot, at Burnham's Express Office, So. Danvers.

Price $3.50 per 100 Lbs.

Orders sent by mail or otherwise to So. Danvers will be promptly attended to. tf-oct3

Choice Spring Pigs for Sale.

THE subscriber offers for sale nice PIGS of Mackie Prince Albert and Chester County breeds, of which the Mackie took the First Premium at the late CattleShow. Prices reasonable.

BYRON GOODALE,
Near Tapley's Brook.
South Danvers, April 1, 1864. tf

FEATHER DUSTERS.
ANOTHER lot of Dusters at
S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS', 32 Front st

Advertisements.

HOSTETTER'S
CELEBRATED STOMACH
BITTERS.

A pure and powerful Tonic, corrective and alterative of wonderful efficacy in disease of the

Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

Cures Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Headache, Debility, Nervousness, Depression of Spirits, Constipation, Colic, Intermittent Fevers, Cramps and Spasms, and all Complaints of either Sex, arising from Bodily Weakness whether inherent in the system or produced by special causes.

Nothing that is not wholesome, genial and restorative in its nature enters into the composition of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. This popular preparation contains no mineral of any kind, no deadly botanical element; no fiery excitant; but it is a combination of the extracts of rare balsamic herbs and plants with the purest and mildest of all diffusive stimulants.

It is well to be forearmed against disease, and, so far as the human system can be protected by human means against maladies engendered by an unwholesome atmosphere, impure water and other external causes, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS may be relied on as a safeguard.

In districts infested with Fever and Ague, it has been found infallible as a preventive and irresistible as a remedy and thousands who resort to it under apprehension of an attack, escape the scourage; and thousands who neglect to avail themselves of its protective qualities in advance, are cured by a very brief course of this marvelous medicine. Fever and Ague patients, after being plied with quinine for months in vain, until fairly saturated with that dangerous alkaloid, are not unfrequently restored to health within a few days by the use of HOSTETTER'S BITTERS.

The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated and the appetite restored by this agreeable Tonic, and hence it works wonders in cases of DISPEPSIA and in less confirmed forms of INDIGESTION. Acting as a gentle and painless apperient, as well as upon the liver, it also invariably relieves the CONSTIPATION superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and secretive organs.

Persons of feeble habit, liable to Nervous Attacks, Lowness of Spirits and Fits of Languor, find prompt and permanent relief from the Bitters. The testimony on this point is most conclusive, and from both sexes.

The agony of BILIOUS COLIC is immediately assuaged by a single dose of the stimulant, and by occasionally resorting to it, the return of the complaint may be prevented.

As a General Tonic, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS produce effects which must be experienced, or witnessed before they can be fully appreciated. In cases of Constitutional Weakness, Premature Decay and Debility and Decrepitude arising from OLD AGE, it exercises the electric influence. In the convalescent stages of all diseases it operates as a delightful invigorant. When the powers of nature are relaxed, it operates to re-enforce and re-establish them.

Last, but not least, it is The Only Safe Stimulant, being manufactured from sound and innocuous materials, and entirely free from the acid elements present more or less in all the ordinary tonics and stomachics of the day.

No family medicine has been so universally, and, it may be truly added, deservedly popular with the intelligent portion of the community, as HOSTETTER'S BITTERS.

Prepared by HOSTETTER & SMITH, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Sold by all Druggists, Grocers and Storekeepers everywhere.

HELMBOLD'S
GENUINE PREPARATIONS.

COMPOUND FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU, a Positive and Specific Remedy for diseases of the Bladder, Kidneys, Gravel, and Dropsical Swellings.

This Medicine increases the power of Digestion, and excite the Absorbents into healthy action, by which the Wtaery or Calcareous depositions, and all Unnatural Enlargements are reduced, as well as Pain and Inflammation.

—:0:—

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU.

For Weaknesses arising from Excesses, Habits of Dissipation, Early Indiscretion of Abuse, attended with the following symptoms:—

Indisposition to Exertion,	Loss of Power,
Loss of Memory,	Difficulty of Breathing,
Weak Nerves,	Trembling,
Horror of Disease,	Wakefulness,
Dimness of Vision,	Pain in the Back,
Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System,
Hot Hands,	Flushing of the Body,
Dryness of the Skin,	Eruptions on the Face,
Pallid Countenance.

These symptoms, if allowed to go on, which this medicine invariably removes, soon follows

Impotency, Fatuity, Epileptic Fits,

In one of which the patient may expire.

Who can say that they are not frequently followed by those "Direful Diseases,"

"INSANITY AND CONSUMPTION."

Many are aware of the cause of their suffering, BUT NONE WILL CONFESS THE RECORDS OF THE INSANE ASYLUMS.

And Melancholy Deaths by Consumption bear ample witness to the Truth of the assertion.

The Constitution once effected with Organic Weakness requires the aid of Medicine to Strengthen and Invigorate the system,

Which HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU invariably does. A Trial will convince the most skeptical.

—:0:—

FEMALES—FEMALES—FEMALES.

In many Affections peculiar to Females the EXTRACT BUCHU is unequalled by any other remedy, as in Chlorosis or Retention, Irregularity, Painfulness, or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated Scirrhous state of the Uterus, Leuchorrhea or Whites, sterility, and for all complaints incident to the sex, whether arising from indiscretion or Habits of Dissipation, or in the

DECLINE OR CHANGE OF LIFE.

—:0:—

Take no more Balsam, Mercury, or unpleasant Medicines for unpleasant and dangerous diseases.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU AND IMPROVED ROSE WASH CURES

SECRET DISEASES

In all their Stages, At little Expense.
Little or no change in Diet. No inconvenience.
And no Exposure.

It causes a frequent desire and gives strength to Urinate, thereby Removing Obstructions, Preventing and Curing Strictures of the Urethra, allaying Pain and Inflammation, so frequent in this class of diseases, and expelling all Poisonous, Diseased and wornout Matter.

Thousands upon Thousands who have been the Victims of Quacks, and who have paid heavy fees to be cured in a short time, have found they were deceived, and that the "POISON" has, by the use of "Powerful Astringents," been dried up in the system, to break out in an aggravated form, and perhaps after Marriage.

—:0:—

Use HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU for all affections and diseases of the URINARY ORGANS, whether existing in MALE or FEMALE, from whatever cause originating and no matter of HOW LONG STANDING.

Diseases of these Organs requires the aid of a DIURETIC. HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU IS THE GREAT DIURETIC, and is certain to have the desired effect in all Diseases for which it is Recommended.

Evidence of the most reliable and responsible character will accompany the medicine.

Price $1.00 per bottle, or six for $5.00.

Delivered to any Address, securely packed from observation.

Describe Symptoms in all Communications.

Cures Guaranteed! Advice Gratis!!

Address letters for information to

H. B. HELMBOLD, Chemist,
104 South Tenth-st., bel. Chestnut, Phila.

HELMBOLD'S Medical Depot.
HELMBOLD'S Drug & Chemical Warehouse.
594 Broadway, New York.

BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS AND UNPRINCIPLED DEALERS who endeavor to dispose "of their own," and "other" articles on the reputation attained by

Helmbold's Genuine Preparations.
" " Extract Buchu.
" " Sarsaparilla.
" " Improved Rose Wash.

SOLD BY
ALL DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE.
ASK FOR HELMBOLD'S. TAKE NO OTHER.
Cut out the Advertisement and send for it.
AND AVOID IMPOSITION AND EXPOSURE.
December 16, 1863.—1 yr.

Coe's Superphosphate of Lime.
BRADLEY'S TOBACCO FERTILIZER.

For sale by the Manufacturer,
W. L. BRADLEY.
SALE OFFICE,
24 BROAD ST., BOSTON.

PAMPHLETS containing testimonials in favor of Coe's Superphosphate of Lime as a Standard Manure, and Bradley's Manual on the Culture and Curing of Tobacco, with illustrations, can be had by addressing the undersigned. WM. L. BRADLEY.

☞ Highest Cash Prices paid for Bones.

Boston, April 13, 1864. 3m

GENTLEMEN'S HATS,
Spring Styles,
AT
J. A. JACKSON'S.

A large and choicely selected assortment of

FINE SOFT FELT HATS,
CLOTH HATS AND CAPS,
For Men and Boy's Wear.

101 COURT ST.,
April 13.—3m. BOSTON.

CHILDREN'S CARRIAGES.

WE have on hand a very large stock of Children's Carriages, comprising every vasiety of style, from the

CHEAP WILLOW CAB
—TO THE—
FINEST NEW HAVEN GIG.
—ALSO—
PERAMBULATORS!
of various qualities.

REPAIRING, in all its branches, prompt- promptly attended to at the OLD STAND,

No. 180 Essex street, Salem.
HENRY F. SKERRY.
April 20.—3m.

CURRIER & MILLETT,
Dealers in
Furniture, Chairs,
MATTRESSES, FEATHERS, &
259 & 261 ESSEX ST.
Salem, dec 14—1y

H. & H. G. HUBON,
WASHINGTON STREET, SALEM
Manufacturers of
Rose Wood, Mahogany, Black Walnnt and Stained Wood.
COFFINS and CASKETS.

MAKING this our exclusive business, we are ready at all times and at the shortest notice to furnish Grave Clothes of various styles, as well as Coffins and Caskets of the finest finish. Personal attention given, and delivered without extra charge to any of the neighboring towns. All orders by express or otherwise will receive prompt attention.

Black Walnut and White Wood Boards, Plank and Joists for sale.

dec 14—tf

WALKING MADE EASY.

DR. P. KENISON,
CHIROPODIST,
215 Washington St., Boston,

Cures Hard and Soft Corns, Bunions, Club Nails, Nails penetrating the Flesh, Warts, &c., in a manner that will satisfy the most incredulous.

CHARLES S. BUFFUM,

BEING an authorized UNDERTAKER of South Danvers, will attend Funerals in said place with his Hearse the same as the Town Undertaker. Will also attend Funerals, when desired, in any of the neighboring towns, with one or a pair of horses.

He also furnishes Coffin Caskets, Robes, &c., lower than city prices.

All branches of the business attended to, such as furnishing Coaches, Flowers, Laying Out, &c. Ice Preservers furnished.

All orders promptly attended to, and personal attention given to them. Articles delivered to any of the neighboring towns free of charge. Orders by express or otherwise will receive prompt attention.

Central Street, South Danvers,
RESIDENCE 25 ELM STREET.
South Danvers, Feb 17, 1864.

Undertaker's Notice!

THE subscriber being regularly appointed as Undertaker of South Danvers, would respectfully notify the public that he has removed from Central Street, to No. 80 Lowell Street, where he may be found in readiness to attend funerals, and to furnish, when desired.

HENRY SPENCER.
February 10, 1864.

E. S. FLINT,
Manufacturer and Dealer in
INNER SOLES,
AND SHOE STIFFENINGS OF ALL KINDS,
2 MAIN STREET, SOUTH DANVERS.

AGRICULTURAL WAREHOUSE.
Parker, Gannett & Osgood,
WHOLESALE AND RETAIL DEALERS IN
Agricultural Implements, Seeds,
FERTILIZERS, &c.,
INCLUDING THE FOLLOWING:

Plows,	Lard Presses,
Harrows,	Vegetable Cutters,
Cultivators,	Railway and Sweep Horse Powers,
Corn Planters,	Threshing Machines,
Horse Hoes,	Hay Presses,
Hay Cutters,	Cider Mills,
Corn Shellers,	Garden and Canal Barrows,
Churns, all patterns,	Mounted Grindstones,
Meat Cutters,	Cheese Presses,
Sausage Stuffers,	Folding Ladders,
Field & Garden Rollers,	Horse Rakes,
Road Scrapers,	Palmer's Horse Pitchforks,
Grindstone Fixtures,	Axes,
Hoes,	Grass Hooks,
Manure Forks,	Garden Trowels.
Shovels,
Spades,
Fan Mills,

BUCKEYE MOWING MACHINES,
Grass, Garden, Flower and Field Seeds,
Guano, Coe's Super Phosphate Lime, Pouderette, Ground Bone, Fish Guano, &c., at the Lowest Prices.

No. 49 North Market street, and 46 Merchant's Row, Boston.
April 27, 1864.———3m.

WM. C. HENDERSON,
MANUFACTURER OF
PLAIN AND FANCY
PAPER BOXES;
No. 235 ESSEX STREET,
Sign of "Nest of Boxes,"
july 23 SALEM. tf

A LECTURE FOR YOUNG MEN.

Just published, a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical cure (without medicine) of SPERMATORRHOA, or Seminal Weakness, Involuntary Seminal Losses, IMPOTENCY, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc.; also, Consumption, Epilepsy and Fits, induced by self-indulgence or sexual extravagance.

☞ Price, in a sealed envelope, only 6 cents.

The celebrated author in this admirable essay clearly demonstrates from a thirty years successful practice, that the alarming consequences of self-abuse may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine or the application of the knife—pointing out a mode of cure, at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

This Lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land.

Sent under seal, in a plain envelope, to any address, POST-PAID, on receipt of six cents, or two postage stamps. Address the publishers,

CHAS. J. C. KLINE & CO.,
127 Bowery, New York, Post Office Box, 4586.
January 16—8mos.

Abbott's South Danvers & Salem
EXPRESS.

Leave South Danvers, - - - - - - 7½ a m, 1 p m
Leave Salem, - - - - - - - - 10 a m, 4 p m

Orders left at Teel & Moulton's, and principal stores on Main street, South Danvers; and at 7 Washington street, and at Reed's in the Market, Salem.

Are you Insured?

THE subscriber would respectfully call your attention to the fact that he is fully prepared to effect INSURANCE AGAINST FIRE, to any amount, at current rates, on

Dwelling Houses, Barns and their contents, Stores, Stocks of Goods, Furniture, &c. &c., and on buildings in process of erection,

And that he is the authorized Agent for the following responsible Stock and Mutual Companies, viz:

Thames Insurance Co., (Stock,) Norwich, Conn.
Capital—$500,000.
Amos W. Prentice, Pres. Oliver F. Rice, Sec'y.
Conway Insurance Company, (Stock) Boston.
Capital and Surplus—$260,000.
James F. Whitney, Pres. David C. Rogers, Sec'y.
City Insurance Company, (Stock) Boston.
Capital—$150,000.
Samuel P. Hayward, Pres. Austin W. Benton, Sec'y.

Also, will effect Insurance on the LIVES OF INDIVIDUALS, for one year, seven years, or for the whole term of life, in the

Massachusetts Mutual Life Ins. Co., Springfield, Mass.
Capital and Assets—$375,000.
Caleb Rice, Pres. D. B. Bacon, Sec'y.
William Mack, M. D., Medical Examiner.

WM. ARCHER, Jr.,
18 Washington st. and 34 Front st., Salem.
feb20-1

ALWAYS SUCCESSFUL!
TO ALL THOSE WHO SUFFER FROM
DEBILITY AND SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

DRS. CARSWELL & HUNTER, regularly educated, highly eminent and successful practitioners, after a very extensive practice in Boston, for over twenty years, need hardly speak of their medical qualifications, or remind strangers not to class them with a set of uneducated men, who fill the papers with their boasting advertisements. DRS. C. & H. caution the public against quackery in all its forms, pretending, as some self-styled doctors, to cure all the most difficult and chronic diseases, without knowledge of the human system, or of the modus operandi of the most simple drugs.

Drs. C. & H., since 1840, having confined their whole atttention to an office practice for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, they acknowledge no superiors.

CONSTITUTIONAL DEBILITY OR
SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Drs. C. & H. are pre-eminently successful in the treatment of the above most difficult and perplexing of all diseases, this complaint being the result of a secret habit in youth; if neglected or improperly treated, it proves one of the greatest evils that can befall a human being. Dr. H. has given particular attention to the above disease for years, and so thoroughly has he become acquainted with the pathology and treatment, that he will warrant a perfect cure under forfeiture of $500; in fact, he will, in the cure of this complaint, acknowledge no superior in this country, or even in the world. Come, then, all you who are afflicted, come to the Old Stand, where you will in a short time be made to rejoice in perfect health.

SYPHILITIC AND SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS,—such as Ulcers and Caries of the throat and nose, Running Sores on the legs and arms, Hard Scabs and Scaly Eruptions on the head, back, &c., pains in the bones and joints, and all other forms of venereal diseases—are made to yield and entirely disappear under Drs. C. & H.'s improved and thoroughly eradicating course of treatment.

The primary or first symptoms of disease, whether a simple running, or small pistules, cancers, or ulcers, are cured in a very few days, if immediate application is made to Drs. C. & H.

13 ENDICOTT STREET, BOSTON. 13

Strangers should be particular in the selection of a physician, lest they be deceived by false advertisements.

Ladies troubled with irregularity, weakness, whites, and other complaints peculiar to the female system, will find a speedy cure by calling as above. No mercury used, and no charge for advice. The afflicted are invited to give us a call.

Boston, April 20, 1864.—1 yr.

25 YEARS' EXPERIENCE enables DRS. CARSWELL & HUNTER to cure any diseases of a private nature in a shorter space of time and for a smaller amount of money than any other doctors in this country, and they also treat all female complaints with perfect success, and on the most satisfactory terms. Patients furnished with board if desired. Please give us a call at our office, No. 13 Endicott St., Boston, Mass.

Boston, April 20, 1864.—1 yr.

E. R. PERKINS,
PHOTOGRAPHIC ARTIST
241 Essex Street, Salem.
Patent Ambrotypes, Stereoscopes,

Photographs, Sphereotypes, Melainotypes and patent ea 'ter Pictures, of various sizes, taken with all the improvements of the art. Portraits, Miniatures, Engravings, &c., accurately copied. Views taken when esired. jan 11

SUMMER ARRAN
TO LYNN & BO
BY OMNIBUS & HOR
W. F. BURNH

Line of Omnibuses will leave the Omnibus Office, No. 6 Allen's Bu
vers, passing down Main Street, th
Street, to Lynn, daily—Sundays
Leave South Danvers at 7 50 o'c
and 4 50 P. M
Leave Lynn (Horse Car Depot,
A. M., 2 40 and 6 40 P. M.
Horse Cars leaving the office at at 8 15 A. M., 1 15 and 5 15 P. M., w buses at Lynn, at the above nam
passengers to South Danvers.

Tickets to Lynn,
Through to Boston,

Gravesend, Woodend,
Depot Route

ON and after Monday, Nov 2, in a route, an Omnibus will leave S
Lynn, to connect with the steam
times daily,—Sundays excepted.—
Gravesend and Woodend, to the Ge and Horse Railroad Station, corn
Broad Streets; leaving South Danve
necting with the 7.25 steam cars fo (connecting with the 11.10 train), an ing with the 4.50 train); and retur
from the Spring Street Station and
pot, at 8 A M, and 1 and 6 P M.
Fare from S. Danvers to Boston
" "
Through Tickets to and from Bos
the Drivers and Conductors.

South Danvers, Salem
Route.

THE subscriber having purchase
ley the Omnibus line runnin
Lynn, would announce that it wi
Stage Office, No. 6 Allen's Building,
for Salem, at 7.30 A. M., and 2 30 P
Stage Office in Central St., Salem,
3.30 P M for Lynn. Returning will
A M and 5 P M; and Salem for Sout
A M, and 6.15 P M.
Passengers between South Danva be called for by leaving orders at th Passengers called for at reasonable
is given at the office.

EXPRESS BUSIN
Between South Danvers and Lynn
ed to, on reasonable terms.
Extra Coaches furnished at short n
W. F. B
South Danvers, April 20, 1864.

CROUT & MUN
SOUTH DANVERS &
RAILROAD EXP

Express leaves South Danvers at
Freight " " " at
Express leaves Boston at
Freight " " at

OFFICE at FREIGHT DE
Danvers Square.

Express Office in Boston, 3 Was
Freight Office, 48 Kilb
Particular attention paid to r
niture, collecting Bills, Notes, D
Smallest favors thankfully received.
South Danvers, august 26—tf

MARSHAL
DANVERS, SO. DANVERS
EXPRESS.

Leave DANVERS (daily) at 9 A. M.
" SALEM at 1½ P. M.
OFFICES:
In Danvers—At E B Waitt's and the
Danversport—Richards' and A W Wa
In So. Danvers—Francis Dane & Co's,
street.
In Salem—No 7 Washington street, 19
17 Derby Square.
All business promptly and faithfully
——Our patrons are particularly
write their orders.
——Packages left at the office, sho
"Marshall's Express."
——Being connected with the
are enabled to forward Notes, Draf collection, and small packages, to point in the United States, at the
P. G.
dec18-tf

WEBBER
South Danvers & Salem Ma

WILL leave South Danvers at 7½
1½ and 5 P M.
Leaves Salem at 8.45 A M., 12 M., 2
Slates will be found in South Danve
Office, and at Blake & Holman's stor
ment, and in Salem at the Coach Stat
Street, and at E F & J W Roberts', co
Washington Streets.
Any packages or business entrusted
will have prompt attention and care.
lic patronage is solicited.
PARKE

Important to the A

DR. DOW continues to be consulte
Nos. 7 and 9 Endicott street, Bos eases of

PRIVATE OR DELICATE N

By a long course of study and pract
of unlimited extent, Dr. D. has now t
of presenting the unfortunate with have never, since he first introduced cure the most alarming cases of

GONORRHŒA AND SYPH

Beneath his treatment, all the horro and impure blood, Impetency, Scrofula Ulcers, pain and distress in the regio
tion, Inflammation of the Bladder and drocele, Abcesses, Humors, frightful
the long train of horrible symptoms class of disease, are made to become a
the simplest ailings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS

Dr. D. devotes a great part of his ti
ment of those cases caused by a secre
habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfortunate individual for business or
of the sad and melancholy effects prod habits of youth, are Weakness of t
limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness
pitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Ner
rangement of the digestive functions,
Consumption, &c. The fearful effects
are much to be dreaded; loss of memo
of ideas, depression of spirits, ev
aversion of society, self-distrust, tim
among the evils produced. Such person fore contemplating matrimony, consult experience, and be at once restored
happiness.
Patients who wish to remain under Dr
ment a few days or weeks, will be fu pleasant roo s, and charges for board
Medicines sent to all parts of the coun
directions for use, on receiving descri
cases. Dr. Dow has also for sale the Fre warranted the best preventive. Orde
or $1 and a red stamp.

CAUTION
TO FEMALES IN DELICATE H

DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, 7 a street, Boston, is consulted daily for all
dent to the female system. Prolapsus U
ing of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Suppres
er menstrual derangements, are all trea
pathological principles, and speedy relie
in a very few days. So invariably certa
mode of treatment, that most obstinat
yield under it, and the afflicted person
in perfect health.
Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater expe
cure of diseases of women and childre
other physician in Boston.
Boarding accommodations for patien
wish to stay in Boston a few days und
ment.
Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined h tention to an office practice, for the cur
Diseases and Female Complaints, ackn
superior in the United States.
N. B.—All letters must contain four red
they will not be answered.
Office Hours from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.

CERTAIN CURE
IN ALL CASES, OR NO CHARGE

Dr. Dow is consulted daily, from 8 a
as above, upon all difficult and chroni
every name and nature, having by his tention and extraordinary success gaine
which calls patients from all parts of th
obtain advice.
Among the physicians in Boston, none
in the profession than the celebrated DR
7 Endicott street, Boston. Those who ne vices of an experienced physician and su give him a call. P. S.—Dr. Dow import sale a new article, called the French Se
by mail. Two for $1 and a red stamp.
April 20, 1864—1y.

WAR MAPS.
SEVERAL new styles—just those the present campaign—at my18 G. M. WHIPPLE & A. A. SM

South Danvers Wizard.

OL. V. SOUTH DANVERS, MASS., WEDNESDAY, JUNE 15, 1864. NO. 24.

E SOUTH DANVERS WIZARD
ished every WEDNESDAY, at Allen's Build-
uth Danvers Square.
ts—Two Dollars a year.
RTISEMENTS inserted at reasonable rates.

CHARLES D. HOWARD,
DITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

R. NILES, Advertising Agent,
Scollay's Building, Court Street, Boston, is
ent for that city, and is authorized to re-advertisements and subscriptions for us at west rates.

able Real Estate for Sale.

ESTATE of the late THOMAS BANCROFT, situate on Boston Street, Salem, red for sale. It consists of a two and a ory building, the upper story finished onvenient dwelling of eight rooms; the story for a store, suitable for most any or mechanical business, having been oc- for a retail variety store for the last ears; and also a large lot of land, which es 76 feet on Boston Street, and extends Beaver Street 166 feet. It is sufficient ee house lots, in addition to that oc- by the building. The building, with a part of the land, will be sold separate, ted. For terms, apply to
T. F. BANCROFT, Lynn, Mass., is Office. March 16—tf.

ISS S. E. MACKINTIRE.
TEACHER ON
NO FORTE
RESIDENCE,—22 Holton Street,
South Danvers.

ECTACLES!

SKERRY wishes to call special at- ntion to his stock of
tacles and Eye Glasses,
—Silver—Rubber—Steel and Horn of which he keeps constantly on hand rge assortment, embracing every style ety.
— ALSO —
a Glasses, Microscopes, &c.
s re-set, and Spectacles repaired. ore, our usual assortment of Silver and Ware, and Jewelry.
180 Essex Street, Salem.
H. F. SKERRY.
—tf.

W. WILKINSON,
DEALER IN
papers, Periodicals, and
nery of every Description.
GN and DOMESTIC FRUITS, con- g of Oranges, Lemons, Dates, Figs, c., &c.
Pickles and Preserves; Castana, Na- English Walnuts; Hard, Soft and Pa- d Almonds; choice brands of Tobac- igars; also a general assortment of nery of every description.
large and well selected stock of Toys, or children and the Holiday Gifts.
am furnished to parties at short no- n quantities to suit. Wedding Cake y variety of nice cake furnished to families.
—WARREN BANK BUILDING.
Danvers, Nov'r 11, 1863.

SEKEEPERS, ATTENTION!
JACKSON'S
EN FURNISHING ROOMS,
MECHANIC HALL, Salem.
about commencing House-Keeping his the only place in Salem where a ssortment of House-keeping articles nd. Dec 9—6w.

ANUAL FENOLLOSA
TEACHER
OF THE
, Piano and Singing,
Rooms, No. 7 Central Street,
SALEM, MASS.

BRAY, No. 76 Federal St.
SILKS—Heavy Black Silks for La- tside G rments; NGHAMS—New Styles;
OODS, different styles, lawns, bareges —very pretty—French and English;
GLOVES and HOSIERY;
ing at the very Lowest Prices.
ANN R. BRAY, 76 Federal st.

se Railroad Notice.
after FRIDAY, May 27th, single m the Salem and South Danvers ill be six cents.
of eighteen tickets will be sold
res on the South Salem Branch will s, and packages of twenty-five tick- sold for $1.00.
Children between the ages of 3 and nd for Scholars attending school, ur cents, or twenty-five tickets ne 1, 1864. M. H. HALE.

O LET.
HOUSE on Foster Street, belonging to the estate of the late Benjamin Goodridge. For terms apply at the house.
JAMES L. GOODRIDGE,
—tf Adm'r.

BEST ASSORTMENT
s, Colored Grounds, neat Patterns, und in the city.
ANN R. BRAY, 76 Federal st.

CROQUET.
his popular out door Game. Prices 2 to $40—all our own manufacture.
M. WHIPPLE & A. A. SMITH.

MORRIS'
RESTAURANT,
18 and 20 Derby Square, Salem.
Oysters, Clams, Steak, Poultry, Game, Fish, &c., &c., cooked to order.
Pickled Oysters, Lobsters and Clams.
Salem, July 22, 1863. tf

FURNITURE.
Having taken Rooms over M. C. REYNOLDS & CO'S Store, I shall keep constantly on hand a large stock of
NEW AND SECOND-HAND FURNITURE,
BEDDING, COUNTING-ROOM DESKS, &c., &c.,
which I will sell cheap for CASH.
☞ All kinds of FURNITURE and BEDDING wanted—for which the highest Cash price will be paid.
P. J. HYNES, 18 FRONT-ST.
Salem, April 6, 1864—1y

DR. S. O. RICHARDSON'S
Blood-Root Elixir
Has been thoroughly tested and proved in his medical practice, for a period of THIRTY YEARS, and is now presented to the public as an effectual cure for
COSTIVENESS,
AND THE BEST REMEDY EVER PREPARED FOR
DISEASES OF THE LIVER,
SCROFULA,
All Humors and Impurities of the Blood and Diseases of the Skin.

The preparing and combining the BLOOD-ROOT ELIXIR is attended with results to medical science next in importance to inhalation of ether in surgery. Roots and plants, in themselves pungent and disagreeable, are, by a new and scientific process of extracting (in vacuo.) rendered MORE EFFECTIVE IN THEIR OPERATION, entirely divested of the griping and distressing pain which attends the action of all other purgative medicine.— They are also made to become highly
PLEASANT AND AGREEABLE TO THE TASTE,
and by their peculiar combination work so perfectly in HARMONY WITH NATURE that no unpleasant reaction will follow its operation. It also possesses
A DIFFUSIVE AND ALTERATIVE EFFECT,
which can only be attained by medicine in a fluid state. These are new elements in purgative medicines.
The hard and compact manner in which Pills are prepared, renders them indigestible—and, when taken, are forced through the Stomach and Bowels, half dissolved, causing only PARTIAL ACTION, thereby creating irritation and pain to the parts connected with their passage.
One Pill dissolved secundum artem, will produce more medicinal and physical effect than five in a crude state.
The BLOOD-ROOT ELIXIR has no partial action upon the bowels, but is equally diffused there, and throughout the whole circulation of the Blood, imparting a healthy and invigorating action to the STOMACH AND BOWELS, LIVER, LUNGS, KIDNEYS, and gently stimulating dormant and morbid secretions throughout the whole system.
A single dose will produce a cheerful and exhilarating COMMOTION, which will inspire the patient with confidence, and assurance of IMMEDIATE RELIEF. A continuance for a short period will DRIVE the obscure and hidden humors to the surface of the skin, and relieve or check SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS—and by thus purifying and strengthening the Blood, will remove the most fruitful
CAUSE OF CONSUMPTION.
It incites the various organs of the system to act their alloted part, removing the causes which induce RHEUMATISM and NEURALGIA, HEADACHE, LOSS OF APPETITE, DYSPEPSIA, COSTIVENESS, and the various diseases which arise from a derangement of the Stomach and Bowels, and restricted circulation of the Blood.
COUGHS AND COLDS, in their early stages, will immediately yield to the effect of the Elixir.
The BLOOD-ROOT ELIXIR contains no mineral, no pernicious botanical element, no excitant, but stimulates the secretions by its mild and diffusive action. It is an effective and painless aperient—has a decided salutary action upon the Liver, and there has been no medicine prepared for common family use which possesses equal merit.
Travellers both by sea and land, will find the Elixir a complete antidote for the evils which they are obliged to endure, from a change of climate of water of diet.
See the pamphlet around each bottle for a history of the Elixir.
The proprietor of the BLOOD-ROOT ELIXIR, (Dr S. O. Richardson,) has been long and favorably known to the public by his celebrated SHERRY-WINE BITTERS, the best tonic medicine ever discovered, and which has been in use over thirty years. He is a graduate of the New Hampshire Medical College, and many years associate member of the Massachusetts Medical Society,—and has made the study of medicine his profession since 1820.
And so fully convinced is the Doctor of the wonderful curative effects of his BLOOD-ROOT ELIXIR, that he hereby offers to each and every person who will use ONE-HALF OF A BOTTLE of his ELIXIR, and not be CONSCIOUS of a good effect therefrom, to REFUND to said person the FULL amount which he paid for the same, by returning the ullage bottle to his office.
Price $1.50 Per Bottle!
Sold by Apothecaries and Dealers in Medicines, and at the Doctor's Office,
51 & 53 HANOVER ST., BOSTON.
May 11—3ms.*

MOZAMBIQUES,
AT 20 cents per yard; a nice quality at 30 cents per yard; White Striped Muslins; Striped Cambrics; Nainsooks—just received.
In Lawns we have a first rate assortment; other styles of Thin Goods—making our assortment as good as can be found in the city, selling at the lowest cash prices.
Ann R. BRAY, 76 Federal Street.
June 1.

HAWTHORNE'S BOOKS.
THE Scarlet Letter; House of Seven Gables; The Snow Image; Our Old Home. Single vols. or sets of Hawthorne's Works, supplied je8 by G M WHIPPLE & A A SMITH.

CARRIAGES
OF ALL KINDS
REPAIRED AND PAINTED
— BY —
JOHN C. BLANEY,
Rear of Lowell Depot, Central St.,
So. Danvers, April 6, 1864.

Salem and Danvers Aqueduct Co'y.
ALL persons using the water of the Salem and South Danvers Aqueduct are hereby notified that the water rents, for the six months ending April 1, 1864, are now due, and that they are required to pay the same, at the office of the Company, No. 2 Sewall street, on or before the 1st day of May next. Should the bills remain unpaid for thirty days, the water will be stopped, in conformity to the regulations of the Company.
Office hours, from 9 to 1 o'clock, and from 2 to 6.
Per order of the Directors,
Salem, April 1. WM. JELLY, Collector.

PIN WORMS. MRS. OSBORN'S Universal Worm Powders are the only sure cure ever offered to the public. They are warranted in every case; relief within 24 hrs. 25 cts. per box. Sold by all druggists
For sale by D. P. GROSVENOR, Jr., 33 Main St., South Danvers. jan 27

Horse Railroad Notice.
On and after MONDAY, May 9, the cars of the Salem and South Danvers Railroad Co. will leave
South Danvers for Salem and Beverly at 6.35, 6.55, 7.15, and 7.35, A. M., and every 20 minutes till 12.55 P. M., and at 1.10, 1.25, 1.40, 1.55 P. M., and every 15 minutes till 10.25 P. M. The 9.55, 10.10, and 10.25 P. M., cars will go only to Salem.
Cars will leave Beverly for Salem and South Danvers at 6.35, 6.55, 7.15, and 7.35, A. M., and every 20 minutes till 12.55 P. M., and at 1.10, 1.25, 1.40 and 1.55 P.M., and every 15 minutes till 10.40 P. M. The 9.40, 9.55, 10.10, 10.25 and 10.40 P. M., cars go only to Salem.
Cars leave Washington Street Station for So. Danvers at 6.12, 6.32 and 6.52 A. M. and every 20 minutes till 12.32 P.M, and leave Washington St. Station for Beverly at 6.17, 6.37, 6.57, A.M., and every 20 minutes till 12 37 P. M., and cars will leave Washington St. Station for South Danvers and Beverly at 12.45, 1, 1.15, and 1.30 P. M., and every 15 minutes till 10.00 P. M.
M. H. HALE,
may 11 Sup't. S. & S. D. R. R. Co.

THE UNION LAMP.
THIS is a hand or a portable night lamp, without chimney, giving a clear and bright light—for sale at je8 S. C. & B. A. SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

LYON'S KATHAIRON.
Kathairon is from the Greek word "Kathro," or "Kathairo," signifying to cleanse, rejuvenate and restore. This article is what its name signifies. For preserving, restoring and beautifying the human hair it is the most remarkable preparation in the world. It is again owned and put up by the original proprietor, and is now made with the same care, skill and attention which gave it a sale of over one million bottles per annum.
It is a most delightful Hair Dressing.
It eradicates scurf and dandruff.
It keeps the head cool and clean.
It makes the hair rich, soft and glossy.
It prevents the hair from falling off and turning gray.
It restores hair upon bald heads.
Any lady or gentleman who values a beautiful head of hair should use Lyon's Kathairon. It is known and used throughout the civilized world. Sold by all respectable dealers.
DEMAS S. BARNES, & CO., New-York.

HAGAN'S MAGNOLIA BALM.
This is the most delightful and extraordinary article ever discovered. It changes the sun burnt face and hands to a pearly satin texture of ravishing beauty, imparting the marble purity of youth, and the distingue appearance so inviting in the city belle of fashion. It removes tan, freckles, pimples and roughness from the skin, leaving the complexion fresh, transparent and smooth. It contains no material injurious to the skin. Patronized by Actresses and Opera Singers. It is what every lady should have. Sold everywhere.
Prepared by W. E. HAGAN, Troy N. Y.
Address all orders to
DEMAS S. BARNES, & CO., New-York.

HEIMSTREET'S
INIMITABLE HAIR RESTORATIVE.
NOT A DYE,
But restores gray hair to its original color, by supplying the capillary tubes with natural sustenance, impaired by age or disease. All instantaneous dyes are composed of lunar caustic, destroying the vitality and beauty of the hair, and afford of themselves no dressing. Heimstreet's Inimitable Coloring not only restores hair to its natural color by an easy process,
Luxuriant Beauty,
promotes its growth, prevents its falling off, eradicates dandruff, and imparts health and pleasantness to the head. It has stood the test of time, being the original Hair Coloring, and is constantly increasing in favor. Used by both gentlemen and ladies. It is sold by all respectable dealers, or can be procured by them of the commercial agents, D. S. BARNES & CO, 202 Broadway, New York. Two sizes, 50 cents and $1.

MEXICAN MUSTANG LINIMENT.
The parties in St. Louis and Cincinnati, who have been Counterfeiting the Mustang Liniment under pretense of proprietorship, have been thoroughly estoped by the Courts. To guard against further imposition, I have procured from the U. States Treasury, a private steel plate revenue stamp, which is placed over the top of each bottle. Each stamp bears the fac simile of my Signature, and without which the article is a Counterfeit, dangerous and worthless imitation. Examine every bottle. This Liniment has been in use and growing in favor for many years. There hardly exists a hamlet on the habitable Globe that does not contain evidence of its wonderful effects. It is the best emolient in the world. With its present improved ingredients, its effects upon man and beast are perfectly remarkable. Sores are healed, pains relieved, lives saved, valuable animals made useful, and untold ills assuaged. For cuts, bruises, sprains, rheumatism, swellings, bites, cuts, caked breasts, strained horses, &c., it is a Sovereign Remedy that should never be dispensed with. It should be in every family. Sold by all Druggists.
D. S. BARNES, New-York.
March 9th, 1864—1 yr.

Selected Poetry.

THE REMNANT.

[The war has produced few, if any, more touching poems than that which follows, from the pen of "Private Miles O'Reilly," and published in a late issue of Harper's Weekly. It contains much of the tenderness which belongs to that genuine humor for which he is especially noted.]

Three years ago to-day
We raised our hands to Heaven,
And on the rolls of muster
Our names were thirty-seven;
There were just a thousand bayonets,
And the swords were thirty seven,
As we took the oath of service,
With our right hand raised to Heaven.

O, 'twas a gallant day,
In memory still adored,
That day our sun-bright nuptials
With the musket and the sword!
Shrill rang the fifes, the bugles blared,
And beneath a cloudless heaven
Twinkled a thousand bayonets,
And the swords were thirty-seven.

Of the thousand stalwart bayonets
Two hundred march to-day;
Hundreds lie in Virginia swamps,
And hundreds in Maryland clay;
And other hundreds, less happy, drag
Their shattered limbs around,
And envy the deep, long, blessed sleep
Of the battle-field's holy ground.

For the swords—one night, a week ago,
The remnant, just eleven,
Gathered around a banqueting board,
With seats for thirty-seven;
There were two limped in on crutches,
And two had each but a hand
To pour the wine and raise the cup
As we toasted "Our flag and land!"

And the room seemed filled with whispers
As we looked at the vacant seats,
And, with choking throats, we pushed aside
The rich but untasted meats;
Then in silence we brimmed our glasses,
As we rose up—just eleven,
And bowed as we drank to the loved and the dead
Who had made us thirty-seven!

[From the New South.]

NO LETTERS!

"Nothing for me! Confound them all!
There were seventeen promised to write,
As beautiful girls as you'd wish to see,
By your side on a wedding night.
They wrote to me once, when I first came down,
And I answered them all in turn;
But why have they cut me as soon as this,
Is a thing I have yet to learn."

So Mr. Brown had no letters at all,
And a sorrowful man was he,
For he turned away with a curl on his lip,
And a word that begins with D.
And he cursed in his wrath, all manner of men,
Called the man at the office a fool,
And wished all the women he ever had known
Were sent where it isn't so cool.

But the Man of Letters could give him a hint,
"If you'll narrow your sympathies down
To a single point, and rivet them there,
You'll find you're all right, Mr. Brown.
Your seventeen girls were jealous, no doubt,
Each one of the other sixteen,—
Just limit your letters to one, and you'll find
You have seized on the Golden mean"

DYER.

Selected.

TWO IN A BED.—Ned and Charley are two room-mates, but they occupy different beds. Ned's sleeping apparatus was so situated that he could get in on either side—that is to say, there were two fore-sides; which Ned found very convenient.

One night, Ned and Charley had been out, and on returning, which they did near morning, both were considerably elevated. However, they walked to their room with an air that seemed to say, "not so drunk after all," and sought long and patiently for matches and lamp. After knocking the pitcher off the wash-stand, and smashing the looking-glass, they finally gave up the search and went to bed.

Went to bed—yes, that's the word, but owing to the darkness and confusion of their senses, they made a slight mistake. In short, Ned's bed had the honor of receiving the two friends—Charley getting in on one side, and his friend rolling in on the other.

"I say, Ned," cried Charley, touching somebody's calf, "there's a fellow in my bed."

"Wonderful coincidence," exclaimed Ned, feeling a strange elbow in the neighborhood of his ribs; "there's one in my bed, too"

"Is there?" cried Charley; "let's kick 'em out!"

"Agreed!" said Ned.

And accordingly the two friends began to kick. It lasted about a minute and a half, and Ned was sprawling on the floor. Charley was left in possession of the bed. For a moment all was silent.

"I say, Ned," cried Charley.

"What?" asked Ned, sulkily.

"I've kicked my fellow out."

"You are luckier than I am," said Ned. "for mine has kicked me out."

OLD, BUT GOOD.—Theodore Hood was walking, in the days of Warren's blacking, where one of the emissaries of that shining character had written on the wall, "Try Warren's B——," but had been frightened from his propriety, and fled. "The rest is lacking," said the wit.

☞ At a meeting in aid of the Sanitary Commission in Brooklyn recently, a lady put in her diamond ring, and another lady a gold bracelet inclosed with the words, "I give it with my prayers that God may lead us on to victory."

☞ A school-ma'am in Heath, N. H., has adopted a new and novel mode of punishment. If the boys disobey her rules she stands them on their heads and pours cold water down their trowsers legs.

☞ P. T. Barnum is furnishing a series of articles for the New York Mercury at $200 per week.

JOB POTSON'S EXPERIMENT.

It was a disagreeable, stormy day out of doors, and in the village store were collected a dozen or more of social spirits, engaged in drinking cider and talking politics. By-and-by they had talked the political field dry, and one of the number—Sam Shute by name—a red-nosed, blear-eyed man, opened upon the subject of domestic government. He ventilated himself upon household affairs in general, and finally approached one of his hobbies as follows:—

"I tell ye, my boys, a man's got to be master in his own house, if he ever expects to be anybody. Just let your wife gain an inch, and she'll take an ell. Let her once take the reins, and she'll be sure to keep 'em. Lord! what a thing a man must be to let his wife rule him."

Thereupon Mr. Sam Shute finished his mug of cider, and then filled his pipe with tobacco.

"That's a fact," cried Tom Burnham, in a thick, foggy voice. "Egad, I'd like to see a woman rulin' me. I never had it in my fam'ly. No, sirs—I hold the reins myself. My wife moves when I tell her to. She's got her lesson; and she knows just what to depend on."

Tom Burnham finished his mug of cider, and lighted his old black pipe.

"You're right," chimed Lot Quimby, lifting up his great dirty boots upon the stove hearth as he spoke. "If a man provides a home for his family, he's got a right to be boss. Thunder! I'd like to see a woman pullin' me around by the nose."

"The fact is," resumed Sam Shute, emptying his mouth upon the floor, "these ere women have got two leadin' strings, and when they can't pull by one, they try the other. In the first place, they want to govern like masters—that suits 'em best; but, if they can't do that, then they try to fetch us round by frettin' and coaxin'. But they don't come none o' their nonsense over me. Lord! when a man once puts his foot down, what can a woman do!"

"That's so," pronounced Burnham, digging up the moist tobacco in his pipe with the blade of his jack-knife, and then puffing away for dear life. "That's so," he repeated, after his pipe was in smoking order. "I've had 'xperience in that. When a man once puts his foot down, a woman can't do nothin'. A woman'll pull an' haul jest as long as there's a chance of havin' her own way; but when she finds that she's got a master, why, Lord bless ye, she'll be like a colt with the bit in—there may be some kickin' and strugglin', but she's got to come 'round finally. Women have to be broken jest like colts."

"Eggs-zactly!" said Lot Quimby, lowering his boots to the floor, but leaving a part of the dirt upon the stove-hearth. "You've hit the thing pre-cisely, Tom. Egad, there's some comfort in a man's feelin' that he's boss of the establishment. If I've ever got to be a slave, I hope I shan't be a slave to a woman—that's all I've got to say. As long as I own a house, I kalkilate to rule in it. What's your opinion, Job?"

This last remark was addressed to Job Potson, a small-sized, quiet-looking man, who sat in the corner, smoking a new pipe.

"I guess," said Sam Shute, with a laugh, "that Job is a leetle on the other track."

"Shouldn't wonder," added Tom Burnham, with a wink. He ran a broom-straw through the muddy stem of his old pipe, and then continued—"His wife's got the upper hand, I rather guess."

"Not by a darned sight," exclaimed Job, in high dudgeon. "Sirs! my wife don't rule me. You're mightily mistaken, if you think that I'm henpecked."

"But Mrs. Potson does jest about as she's a mind to, I take it," suggested Shute.

"And," added Burnham, who had got his pipe going once more, "I rather guess that Job does jest about as she tells him to do."

"That's so, fast enough," remarked Lot Quimby.

But Job declared that it was not so; and he became very angry when his companions laughed at him, and expressed their pity for him.

But, when Job Potson started on his way home, he began to wonder if they had not told the truth. Job was not a large-minded man. He was an honest, kind-hearted man, but he lacked energy and decision. Still, he had some pride, as all small men are apt to have; and the remarks of his companions had touched him in a tender spot. As he walked slowly homeward he thought the matter over, and finally came to the conclusion that his wife did rule. He called to mind all the domestic arrangements and doings of the past week, and he was forced to admit that he was, in many respects, the governed party. He stopped square in the road, and put his foot down.

"This won't do!" he declared to himself.—"I must turn over a new leaf. By the great Moses! I'll be master in my own house! We'll see who'll govern!"

Sarah Potson sat in her kitchen, engaged in mending her husband's frock. She was a medium-sized, mild-faced woman, with clear hazel eyes, and dark brown hair—a faithful, loving woman, frugal and industrious, and possessing a good share of firmness and decision. The house was clean, and in order; the shed was a pattern of neatness; the barn was well kept; the cows and pigs were fat and sleek; the orchard was trim; the farm was productive; and a careful observer, who had watched the doings of fifteen years, would have said that Sarah Potson was the genius that presided over all this order and thrift.

Job Potson reached his home, hung his hat upon the back of a chair, and sat down by the stove.

"Job," said she, without stopping her needle, "as soon as you get warm, I guess you'd better fix our front doorstep. The plank on the lower step is loose. And after dinner would be a good time to secure the beam over the tie-up. You had better do it before the stanchions get loose. The cattle can work them a little now. 'A stitch in time saves nine,' you know."

"I'll look out for my barn," said Job, placing rather an undue emphasis on the "my."

His wife's needle fairly stopped, and a look of curious surprise crept over her face. What did the man mean?

"But, Job," she suggested, kindly, "have you noticed that the beam is loose?"

This rather staggered Job Potson; but he quickly recovered himself, and placed his right foot a little more firmly upon the floor.

"Sarah," he said, "I will look out for my own affairs. If you will attend to your duties here inside the house, you will do enough."

"Job Potson, what do you mean?"

"I mean this," replied Job, speaking quickly and snappishly. He had not the strength to speak slowly and sternly. "I mean this—I'll be master of my own affairs. I don't need a ruler, and, what's more, I don't intend to have one!"

Like all men who are venturing beyond their depth, Job Potson was forced to make up in bitterness what he lacked in power.

At first his wife was astounded, but when she saw that he kept his eyes upon the fire, not daring to raise them towards her; and when she saw that his teeth were closely shut, and his head cocked over upon one side, the truth flashed upon her. She was a woman of quick, keen perception, and she knew something of her husband's character. She knew that he had been down to the store, and she knew who were in the habit of congregating there. It was just as plain to her perception as though she had heard Sam Shute and Tom Burnham ventilating their stores of domestic philosophy.

"Job," she inquired, very quietly, "what are my duties?"

Now Job Potson had put his foot into it, and he must not back down. He was not a diplomat, and he answered bluntly and squarely—

"Your duty is to obey your husband; and," he added, fixing himself firmly in his seat, "I hope you will do it."

"Do you mean that you are going to turn over a new leaf in your family?" inquired Mrs. Potson.

"That's it, exactly," cried Job. "You have hit it the first time."

"And you are to be master?"

"I AM."

"And hereafter you want none of my suggestions?"

"Hereafter I shall pay such attention to your suggestions as I may think they merit."

Mrs. Potson resumed her sewing.

"Poor, dear little man!"

She did not say this aloud, but thought it to herself. A quiet smile stole over her pretty face, and she patted her trim foot upon the floor. She had not the least thought of being angry with him—not the least in the world. She knew his weakness, and she knew that somebody had been thorning him.

"Job," she said, after she had reflected a few moments—"you are a man, while I am only a woman. It is right that you should command. I am your most humble servant. Give your orders as you please; but I beg of you to treat me kindly."

And then, with sober face and bended head, Sarah pursued her work.

What in the world was Job Potson to say now? He had never heard his wife speak so sadly and solemnly before. He sat no longer firmly in his seat—he sat upon nettles. He got up and went to the closet; he tried to whistle; and finally he left the house. He went to the barn, and examined the beam over the tie-up. It was loose, and he saw at once that it ought to be fixed; but he would not do it that day—it would look too much like being governed by his wife. By-and-by he went around to the steps at the front door. They certainly needed fixing; but he would not do the job until after dinner. If he put it off till afternoon, that would show that he was not controlled by his wife.

For an hour and a half Job Potson loafed around the barn and shed, like a man who knew not what to do with himself. The door-step and the tie-up beam troubled him. He knew that they ought to be fixed; but he could not turn back so soon upon the new road.

At length the dinner horn sounded, and Job went in and took his seat at the table. The old smile, that had for fifteen years cheered him morning, noon and night, had faded from his wife's face, and she gazed upon him meekly and submissively.

"Will my master have some of this sauce?" she asked. There was no irony in the tone—no malevolence; but she spoke quietly and politely.

"Yes," said Job, "I should like some of it."

But his dinner did not taste good to him. He did not feel at home. He felt, to use one form of his own thought, "like a cat in a strange garret." After dinner he went out and smoked in the shed; and then he went and fixed the doorstep. This was finished about the middle of the afternoon, and from then until supper-time he worked at his wood-pile. At the supper-table he felt more nervous and uneasy than he had done at dinner. Once or twice he ventured to raise his eyes to his wife's face, but there was no smile for him—none of the old happy look.

This was more than Job Potson had been prepared for. He had—or supposed he had—screwed his courage up to the point of meeting his wife's show of temper. In fact, he had a store of harsh, commanding words, already arranged, to hurl back at her when she should dare to question his authority, or offer to treat him with contempt. But he had not planned for meeting such an emergency as this. He had announced his intention of governing his wife, and she had taken him at his word. What should he do? how should he commence? what sort of a task had he before him? As he sat in the chimney corner, after the evening's chores had all been done, smoking his pipe, he felt very much like a man who had attempted to "speak in meeting," and had forgotten his speech. His wife had been in the habit, every evening, when she was well, of singing and chatting over her knitting; but her voice was now hushed.

At nine o'clock he arose to attend to the cattle. He looked for his lantern, but could not find it.

"Where's my lantern?"

"I guess it is where you left it," replied Sarah. She laid down her knitting, and went out into the porch, where she found it setting on a bench. She lighted and handed it to her husband.

"Shall I do anything more for you, Job?"

She was calm and passive—he was choking with perplexity.

"That's all," he gasped. And then he went away and fed the cattle, and got in his wood for morning.

What a cheerless evening it had been!

On the following morning Job found the same sedate face at the breakfast-table—no smiles—no cheer—no social chatting. After breakfast he went out and fixed the beam in the tie-up; and then he was at his wit's end. What would he have given at that moment for a suggestion from his wife! By-and-by a lucky thought struck him. He could break the ice without lowering his own dignity. He went into the house with this purpose.

"Sarah," he said, with his hands working nervously in his pockets, "what do you think about having the loom put in order?"

"I don't think anything about it, Job. You can do as you think best."

"But you know whether you want to use it or not, don't you?"

Mr. Potson exhibited a little feeling.

"The wool is at your disposal, Job. If you please to have some cloth made, I will spin and weave it. You have but to issue your orders."

Her voice was very low and calm, and her bearing very respectful.

"But," said Job, petulantly, and almost losing his temper, "you know whether the loom wants fixing?"

"If it is your wish, my husband, I will go and examine it, and report to you. I will do anything you say. Only be kind to me, and don't expect me to anticipate your wants. Shall I go up with you now?"

"Yes."

The loom was in the shed chamber, and thither Job led the way. His wife pointed out to him what was necessary to be done, and then left him at his work.

Dinner and supper—cheerless and dark!

Job Potson had gone the length of his line. What in the world to do with himself he did not know. How could he work to advantage without the suggestions of his wife? Where were the hints and helps and encouragements which, for so many years, had been his guides and assistants? And—when he came to think of it seriously—what sort of a piece of work should he make of it in attempting to rule and govern a person who knew more than he did, and who understood better what should be done? And, furthermore, how was he to call back the light of those smiles, and keep up the warmth of the old love? What would his home be with that light and warmth withdrawn?

Job Potson took his pipe down from its little shelf over the fireplace, and filled it with tobacco. But he did not light it then. He held it in his hand awhile, and finally laid it upon the mantel. Then he went and stood before his wife, trembling like an eager child.

"Sarah, I want to enjoy my smoke this evening."

She looked up at him, wondering what he meant.

"How can I help you, Job?"

"Tell me that I've been a confounded fool!"

"Job—"

"And then kiss me, and be good to me; and let us be as we always have been."

She started, put her arm round his neck, and kissed him.

"Sarah, you won't—"

"Tut, tut, Job. You are one of the best of husbands, and I love you truly and fondly. Now go and light your pipe, and we'll have a chat. I want to tell you about Mrs. Brackett's visit to Boston, and how she found her lost brother."

Job Potson was once more happy and content; and, at the close of the pleasant, social evening, he was resolved that the suggestions of men who knew no more about the joys of a peaceful, orderly home than they knew about the inhabitants of the moon, should never again lead him to try domestic experiments.

CONNECTICUT COURTSHIP.—The way they do business in New Haven is illustrated by an incident published in the Journal and Courier.—A chap had courted a girl, giving her a large number of presents to keep her admiration all right, but differences arose and a big squabble was the result. Offended lover calls on his Mary Ann and requests "that dress pattern given her last week." She passed over the demanded goods. "I'll take that photograph album, if you please." She extracted the pictures and returned the volume. "Give me back that ring." No sooner said than done.— "Now I just want you to take out those teeth I paid thirty dollars for, and give them back to me in about four seconds!" This was too much, and the female beat a hasty retreat.

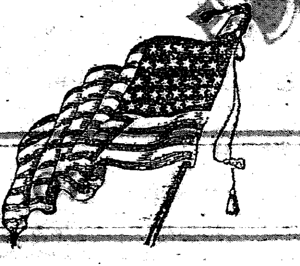
☞ Father O'Leary and Curran were cracking the jokes at a dinner-party, one evening, as was their wont, when the celebrated advocate turned abruptly to the good father, saying:— "I wish, O'Leary, that you had the keys of heaven." "Why, Curran?" asked the divine. "Because you would then let me in," said the facetious counsellor. "It would be much better for you, Curran," said Father O'Leary, "that I had the keys of the other place, because I could then let you out!"

☞ By mixing with bad company we become worse.

The Wizard.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 15, 1864.

UNION NOMINATIONS.



FOR PRESIDENT,

ABRAHAM LINCOLN,

OF ILLINOIS.

FOR VICE-PRESIDENT,

ANDREW JOHNSON,

OF TENNESSEE.

We hoist our flag for the Union Candidates for the Presidency and Vice-Presidency, under the happiest auspices and in the fullest confidence that they will receive the generous support of all loyal citizens and be triumphantly elected by the people at the election in November. In the political contest now about to begin, we have a file-leader who has proved himself a pure patriot, a wise statesman, and an honest man. His past history has proved him to possess that prudence, sagacity and respect for the will of the people, which was required in the high position in which he was placed. The people who placed him there demand his continuance, and they will rally to his support.

EDITOR MISSING!

So much interest has been manifested on account of the prolonged absence of the Editor of the WIZARD, that we feel bound to give all the particulars we can obtain in regard to him, even at the risk of placing private affairs before the public. But editors are, in a manner, public men, and their movements have a public interest.

In our last, we reported him at Washington in full drive up Pennsylvania Avenue. We next hear of him at Willard's Hotel, in the Reading Room of that establishment, smoking a clay pipe, with his feet on the table. He was in close conversation with Senator Wade on the Fort Pillow affair. We next hear of him dining with the President, in company with some of the Senators and foreign ministers. He had previously visited the Patent Office, Treasury Building, Smithsonian Institute, and other points of interest to a stranger who was for the first time at the capital. This is all the trace we have of him at Washington, except that he was seen buying of a female contraband, 90 degrees of apple pie, which he gave to a lame soldier. We mention this as a proof of his benevolent disposition.

We omitted to state that he attended the Theatre one evening, in company with some friends and also some of the employees of the Treasury Department. He was observed to laugh immoderately all through the tragedy, but was quite sedate while witnessing the comic after-piece.

At about three o'clock, the same day, he was seen with his carpet bag, rushing for the railroad station, where he took his seat for Baltimore. He was in that city at the time of the great Convention, lobbying for Ben. Butler for the Vice Presidency; but when Andy Johnson was nominated, he was observed to shout louder than any Tennesseean in the building. He was so absorbed in the doings of the convention that he forgot to visit the Washington Monument, the Peabody Institute, Fort McHenry, and other objects of interest, but took cars for Philadelphia, where he had a great reception. The bells rang, the street lamps were lighted, Chestnut street was full of people, and the horse cars all alive with passengers. He was furnished, gratis, with splendid accommodations, was granted the freedom of the city in a paper box, and allowed to sleep in two beds. He visited the Fairmont Water Works, the Mint, (where he obtained a new two-cent piece,) Independence Hall, where he climbed up to the old bell, and he then attempted to visit Gerard College, but was refused admittance on the suspicion, from his gravity of demeanor, that he was a clergyman. On the next day he rigged himself out with a suit of jaunty, light colored clothing, wore his hat on one side of his head, put a cigar in his mouth, talked in the slang dialect, counterfeiting an unsteady gait, and so was readily admitted to the college grounds and buildings.

His arrival in Philadelphia was at the time of the opening of the great Sanitary Fair, where he was placed on the platform and called upon by Gov. Curtin to make a speech, which was received with immense applause. We hope he will consent to its publication.

The next trace we have of him, he was on his way, in company with a literary friend of the city, to an evening meeting at the Vine Street Baptist Church. On the way thither they encountered a stout built Dutchman, with whom they expostulated on the evils of drinking lager beer. Although he made no reply, yet as he made more rapid and vigorous pulls at his tobacco pipe, it is to be hoped that their benevolent endeavors produced some good effect.

Up to this period his health had been excellent, but he now had a violent attack of lobster sallad, which was only alleviated by frequent doses of Ham's Aromatic Invigorating Spirit and Frye's Worm Syrup. These remedies soon effected a perfect cure.

This is the latest trace we have of his Editorship. We counsel his friends not to be much concerned for his safety, as it is well known that he carried his arms with him, and having escaped the Guerillas about Washington, and the Dead Rabbits of Baltimore, he will doubtless be fully able to protect himself.

On his arrival home he is to be received with a salute from Wilkinson's Heavy Artillery, horns, bugles, speeches, and other wind instruments.

TOWN MEETING.

At a legal Town Meeting, holden on Friday, June 3, the following action was taken in relation to providing for filling our quota for the next call of the President. It will be seen that there was a full attendance, and a unanimous vote. We learn that subscription papers are in circulation in aid of the same object, and the response is generally liberal. Let all hands take hold with a will and the thing will be accomplished.

After this liberal action of the town, it will be the fault of the citizens if we are subject to a draft. The Recruiting Committee are aware that all hopes of obtaining our quota in the usual way must be abandoned, and that if other means are not provided, there must be a draft of about one hundred men from the six hundred who are legally exposed to it. The committee have made their calculations that the full number of men may be obtained if a certain amount of money can be immediately procured. Those exposed to the draft are most interested to have the sum raised. This can be done if all will take hold in earnest and contribute the small sum of twenty-five dollars each. But this will not do it unless it is done immediately. The men can be now obtained at a reasonable rate, but as the first day of July approaches, the cost of procuring them will be greatly enhanced, and if too long delayed, they will be wholly beyond our reach. Let not the golden opportunity be lost. Let every one liable to become a conscript obtain the sum and pay it over promptly to the committee. If they have it not, let them borrow, beg or hire it, but let it be forthcoming. It may be that some who are willing, but not able, may not be required to pay more than half the sum. In consideration of these few cases, let others pay more, and thus make up the gross sum.

Everything depends upon promptness in this business, and the committee are aware of this and would like to have means to procure men this very week. The money will be worth much more this week than next, and if they had it in hand to-day they could do better with it than to-morrow. Let all, then, be ready when called upon and respond at once. Let the men be obtained and we will be saved a world of anxiety, and all will "breathe freer." If any refuse to come into this excellent arrangement, the cost of a substitute may be $1000 or $1500, and then it will be in vain for them to expect aid from their fellow-citizens. The names of the Recruiting Committee are below, and they will be glad to be called upon by those interested:

VOTED, To raise a sum of money not exceeding one hundred and twenty-five dollars per man, for a number of men not exceeding one hundred and ten, for the purpose of filling the town's quota under the next call by the President of the United States, and in accordance with chapter 120 of the acts of 1864, of the State Legislature. Yeas 126,—nays 0.

VOTED, That the Treasurer be hereby authorized to hire whatever money shall be sufficient to accomplish the foregoing purpose.

It was also voted to appoint a Committee, consisting of Alexander B. Merrill, Franklin T. Arnold, Stephen Blaney, Isaac Hardy and Caleb T. Southwick, to assist in recruiting.

ATTEMPT TO THROW A TRAIN OFF THE TRACK.—An unsuccessful attempt was made on Wednesday night last to throw the 11.15 train from the track of the Saugus branch of the Eastern Railroad, between South Malden and Malden Centre, by placing a sleeper upon the rail.—The train fortunately, however, passed over it in safety.

WOUNDED MEN FROM DANVERS.—A friend has handed us the following names of wounded soldiers in hospital belonging to our neighboring town. They are all members of Co. I, of the 1st Mass. Heavy Artillery: Simon Murray, Chas. Hiller, Edwin Fuller.

SUPERIOR COURT.—The June term of the Superior Court is sitting at Salem,—Judge Putnam presiding. GEORGE J. WINCHESTER is a juror from this town, and DAVID STAPLES from Danvers.

NATIONAL UNION CONVENTION.

The convention at Baltimore consisted of a very able and influential body of men, representing all the States not in rebellion and all the territories.

The Old Front Street Theatre was fitted up for the occasion. The stage was removed, and the walls were very tastefully decorated with American flags. A band was in attendance and interlarded the proceedings with patriotic music. Every effort seemed to be made, by the Committee of Arrangements, for the comfort and convenience of the members. Waiters passed around the hall, at convenient intervals, with ice water for the use of the members. The regular delegates occupied the parquette, including the stage room; the alternates, the dress circle; ladies—and gentlemen accompanying them—the family circle; while the third tier was thrown open to the public. The members of the National Council of the Loyal Union League, who held a convention in the same city the day before, were admitted into the portion of the house occupied by the alternates.

The whole proceedings, from first to last, were characterized by the most unbounded enthusiasm. At the different hotels in the evening and morning before the convention met, there were several gentlemen electioneering against Mr. Lincoln, and distributing circulars to the delegates containing reasons why a new man should be taken; but when the session commenced, these persons seemed to have been overwhelmed by the almost unanimous clamor for Mr. Lincoln's renomination. Indeed, so importunate were the majority, that it required a good deal of firmness for delegates to vote for anybody but Mr. Lincoln. The Missouri delegates cast their entire vote for General Grant, at first. They were appealed to by hundreds of voices to change their votes to Lincoln; the chairman replied that their votes could not be changed, as they were given under instruction; but so great was the pressure upon the delegates that they finally concluded, before the result was announced, to change their vote to Mr. Lincoln, notwithstanding their instructions. The most active members of the convention were Dr. Breckinridge of Kentucky, Henry J. Raymond and Preston King of New York, Simon Cameron and Thaddeus Stevens of Pennsylvania, and General James Lane of Kansas. The ablest speech made on the occasion, was that of Horace Maynard of Tennessee, upon the question of admitting the delegates from that State. George W. Curtis, of New York, made a brief but signally influential speech in favor of the admission of the Radicals from Missouri. Henry J. Raymond, of New York, seemed to be the best parliamentarian upon the floor. Several times, when matters seemed to be inexplicably entangled by the loose and irregular management of the presiding officers, he succeeded in bringing order out of chaos, by means of the right motion at the right time, coupled with a clear exposition of the difficulty and explanation of the remedy. Lyman Tremain, of New York, made a very able and earnest appeal in favor of the nomination of D. S. Dickinson for Vice-President; but his effort was unavailing—New York was divided, and Wm. H. Seward favored Johnson. Dr. Breckinridge, upon taking his place as temporary chairman, made a good speech, except that his voice was altogether inadequate. Not half the assembly could hear him; and when the business of the convention was entered upon, apparently not more than a quarter of the delegates knew what was going on. Motions were made by persons near the chair, and stated by the chair, and voted upon by those around the chair, in such a low voice that the great bulk of the members were but passive spectators. This evil was very greatly lessened when Ex-Governor Dennison took the chair as permanent President of the convention.

Take the convention all in all, it may be set down as a great success. The nominations were unanimous. The resolutions adopted are clear and unequivocal; and the enthusiasm, tone and spirit of the meeting were such as to give promise of a vigorous campaign and a triumphant result.

THE SHAKSPEAREAN FESTIVAL.—We see by an English paper that a Mayor of one of the English cities opposed the celebration of Shakspeare's Birth Day, on the ground that the poet had misused his talents. We remember, also, that a few years ago, at the Burns' Festival, at Edinburg, a Scotch minister opposed that celebration pretty much on the same grounds. In both cases their portraits had been faithfully drawn. Justice Shallow was a good representative of the first, and Holy Willie a counterpart of the other.

HARPER'S NEW MONTHLY, for July, has come to hand from Messrs. A. Williams & Co., through their agent in Danvers, Mr. E. B. Waitt. We advise all our Danvers friends to call upon friend Waitt for Harper's, and all the other good publications of the day. This number of Harper has for its leading illustrated article—"Scenes on Lake Champlain and the New England Coast." Among the illustrations is old Fort Pickering in Salem harbor.

OBITUARY---EXTRA.

The Late John C. Fremont.

We are pained to have to announce the sudden decease of the subject of this notice. His political death took place at Cleveland, Ohio, on the 31st day of May.

The manner of his death was singular. He was by profession a Pathfinder, and had long been busily engaged in endeavoring to find a path to the Presidency. In this pursuit he had encountered many obstacles and difficulties, and frequently lost his way among rocky peaks and ravines and pestilent marshes. It was during his wanderings that he fell in with that venomous serpent called a Copperhead. At the sight of the reptile, the Pathfinder became fascinated, or as it is more commonly termed, charmed. He stood motionless, his eyes fixed upon the form of the reptile, as with glistening eyes and projecting fangs it gazed upon its victim. Dimness of sight came over the Pathfinder and he fainted, and thus became an easy prey to the serpent. Everything was done for his restoration that humanity could suggest, but alas! too late.

Friends nor physicians could not save
His mortal body from the grave.

The subtle poison had entered into the circulation and death was not to be cheated of his victim. The body was embalmed by his friends and is now lying in state, a melancholy warning to those who are inclined to wander among those pestilential swamps, full of miasma—the haunts of the Copperhead.

We learn that the body is to be taken to Chicago to undergo a scientific examination. A convention of doctors, who are learned in the effects of Copperhead poison, will meet at that city early in July, who will then determine, after careful examination, what shall be done with the remains.

GEN. GRANVILLE M. DODGE.

We see it announced, by authority, that our former townsman, Brigadier General DODGE, has been appointed and confirmed by the Senate as Major General.

We believe this to be a most proper and judicious appointment, as it is an appropriate acknowledgment of distinguished merit. Gen. DODGE has always won his epaulets by active service in the field. He seems to combine all the qualities of foresight and prudence, with the requisite amount of promptness and dash. Some of our generals seem to excel in the former and others in the latter qualities, but it is the fortune of but few to be properly balanced with both. Gen. DODGE also possesses a vast amount of pluck and endurance, although at one time his health broke down under the extraordinary field labors he was called upon to perform. His education was favorable to endurance, he having from youth been exposed to the elements, field-surveying on the Western prairies. We cannot but take satisfaction in the successful military career of one we are proud to call our townsman.

THE CURRENCY.

The disturbance of the currency, occasioned by the large issues of government paper in consequence of the war in which we are engaged, affects the community very unequally, giving prosperity and large profits to the business men, while labor of all kinds suffers from the high cost of living. This, in some measure, has a remedy in a nominal increase of wages to the laborer and the artizan.—The greatest burden now falls upon those who are obliged to live on fixed incomes, which are not enhanced by the causes which give prosperity to the trader and the skilled workman. Those who are compelled to live upon the same pay, or salary, which they enjoyed before the currency became diluted, feel the change most severely. Ministers, teachers, bank officers and others, whose means of living remain the same as before the prices of articles of necessity were so greatly enhanced, have good reason to complain that their pay is not advanced as is the labor of men in other walks of life. It may be urged that a state of war has its burdens and that this class of persons should, of right, bear their part. Granted. But why should they be deprived of one-third of their income, or reward for their labor, over and above what is borne by the rest of the community? In common with others, they are called upon to pay the increased taxation for the support of the war, while they receive for their services only two-thirds of what they were promised when a dollar was equal to ten dimes. We do not contend that their whole loss should be made good, although that would be but simple justice, but we do contend that some approximation should be made towards equality of compensation with the price of their services when the rate of payment was agreed upon. This change should be considered temporary, to last only until the currency is regulated to the old standard, but until then, the compensation should be made in some good degree equivalent to the value of the labor performed.

☞ During the last three months sixty pieces of cannon have reached New York for the defence of her harbor.

COPPERHEAD FLIRTATION.

It is quite amusing to witness the flirtations now going on between the defenders and apologists of perpetual slavery and the little faction of radical, out-and-out Abolitionists. The Boston Courier fraternizes with the Boston Liberator, and the Essex Statesman shows signs of hoisting the old banner of "Freedom and Fremont." Gov. Seymour pats Wendell Phillips on the back, and Stephen Foster embraces Vallandigham. It looks as if, at last, the lion and the lamb were to lie down together; but if they do, we say, woe to the lamb. The venomous Copperhead of the South makes love to the Striped Snake of Cleveland, and the latter throws kisses back to the former. What billing and cooing is going on between them! Copperhead sighs audibly and Striped Snake languishes. They are suddenly enamoured of each other. They have forgotten all former differences and no longer call each other hard names. George Lunt gives confectionary to the nigger-worshippers, and Parker Pillsbury administers gruel to Copperhead. The latter is so smitten with the charms of his betrothed that he takes to writing verses.

The rose is red,
The violet is blue.
Niggers are sweet,
And so be you.

Some faithless people are asking how long this state of things will last? We deem this an unfair question, just at the beginning of the honeymoon. The loving couple have our best wishes for a happy union. May they live together in loving harmony, unvexed by jealousies and recriminations. May their sleep be sweet and pleasant, undisturbed by Caudle curtain lectures. Let them drop the discussion of all questions upon which they do not fully agree, and then they will have but precious little to discuss, and so the harmony may longer continue.

THE SO. DANVERS MARTYRS.

The following are the names of South Danvers soldiers who have been killed in battle, or died in the United States service. This list shows a larger proportion of mortality than we find in any of our neighboring cities and towns:—

Capt. Samuel Brown,	16th	Regt., Conn.
Lieut. Chas. B. Warner,	19th	Mass. Regt.
John Smith,	"	" "
Patrick Scannell,	"	" "
Jeremiah Donovan,	"	" "
James Stone,	"	" "
Benjamin Larrabee,	"	" "
Charles S. Mansfield,	"	" "
William Delaney,	"	" "
Lieut. Moses Shackley,	59th	" "
William Sillers,	17th	" "
George Beckett,	"	" "
Levi Curtis,	"	" "
Horace Straw,	22d	" "
Sampson W. Bowers,	"	" "
Jonathan Proctor,	"	" "
Thomas Cempsey,	"	" "
George H. Tucker,	"	" "
Caleb A. Webster,	5th	" "
Philip O. Buxton,	33d	" "
Alfred P. Friend,	24th	" "
John Murphy,	28th	" "
John Fitzgibbons,	29th	" "
William Andrews,	2d	" "
Orlando E. Alley,	18th	" "
Austin A. Herrick,		1st Mass. H. A.
Frank Gardiner,		" " "
H. H. Demerritt,		" " "
Horace Manning,		" "
Lewis P. Clark,		5th Mass. Battery.
John W. Boynton		" "
J. S. Ingalls,		Andrew's Sharpshooters.
Leonard Reed,		" "
John Price,		" "
J. B. Maxfield,		" "

LIEUT. GEORGE C. BANCROFT.

The following resolutions were unanimously adopted by the Irving Literary Association, at a special meeting held Monday evening, June 13th, 1864.

"IN MEMORIAM."

Whereas, The decease of our fellow member, Lieut. GEO. C. BANCROFT, commanding Co. B, 40th Regt., Mass. Vols., who fell in the battle at Coal Harbor, Virginia, on Friday, the 3d day of June, 1864, has removed from this Association a valued and active member, closely identified with it from the first; and

Whereas, He was beloved by us all as a friend, and respected as a man, it becomes us, at this special meeting, to record our respect for his memory, our admiration for his valor, and our loss at his death; therefore, it is unanimously

Resolved, By the Irving Literary Association, that while the life of Lieut. Geo C. Bancroft evinced the man of the most lively sense of honor, in his death shine forth the noblest qualities of the soldier, and the patriot.

Resolved, That we view with feelings of pride the record of our brother, whose devotion to his country ended only with his life.

Resolved, That we tender our heartfelt sympathy to the mother and all near friends of the deceased, in this their great bereavement.

Resolved, That these resolutions be entered upon the Records of the Association and a copy forwarded to the mother of the deceased.

☞ The people of Taunton have voted, by 138 majority, to accept the charter for a City Government, granted them by the last Legislature, and that town will soon take its place among the cities of Massachusetts.

☞ The receipts from internal taxes during the fiscal year ending June 30, will amount to considerably over one hundred millions of dollars. They already foot up ninety-seven millions.

☞ In the districts of China ravaged by the rebels, the surviving population feed on the emaciated bodies of the dead for want of other food.

PARTY NAMES.

MR. EDITOR,—I noticed in a late number of your paper a description of Copperheads. As to how correct that description was, we do not care to give our opinion; but we do think that the term Copperhead, if applied to any class, should be applied only to such as sympathize with the rebels, or who, from malice and party prejudice, oppose the present Administration in order to give them aid and comfort; and we do not believe that it is right to call all men Copperheads who do not and cannot think and act with the party now in power. Let us remember that there always has, and doubtless always will be, an honest difference of opinion upon all important political issues; and because of this difference of opinion we have political parties, who honestly differ in regard to the expediency or inexpediency of the many political questions which constantly arise in the administration of our governmental affairs.

At the time of the adoption of our National Constitution, there were the Federal and Republican parties—the one in favor of vesting the National Government with enlarged powers, the other somewhat jealous of State Rights; and no one, we presume, will deny but that this was an honest difference of opinion between these two parties. Since then there has been the Whig party, the Democrat party, the Abolition or Free-Soil party, the Know-Nothing party, etc., etc., each of which has advocated the adoption of certain political measures as being necessary to enhance the welfare and prosperity of the nation.

In 1860 the two leading parties were the Democratic and Republican parties, and I need not here state the issues concerning which they differed, since they are familiar to all. And though there were those at the head of both of these parties who cared but little for the welfare of the country, and who advocated certain measures more to acquire fame than from patriotic motives, yet the great mass of the people were honest in their political opinions, and discharged their duties at the polls as law-abiding and patriotic citizens always do; and this they did without fear or restraint, knowing that the Constitution of the United States guarantees to all men the privilege to vote as they deem proper, and to express their opinions freely upon all political measures. Admitting this, we must admit that they who voted for Stephen A. Douglas for President, did so in as good faith as they who voted for Abraham Lincoln; and indeed we have no reason to think otherwise, for men who are moral and religious, who are honest and upright in all their business affairs and domestic relations, ought to be presumed honest in their political views. And, instead of censuring and grossly slandering all who do not and cannot think precisely as does President Lincoln and his Cabinet, would it not be better to let such enjoy their own opinions, remembering that all men have a constitutional right to express their views upon political matters freely and without restraint?

Some people seem to talk as though nothing should be said at the present time against the administration of President Lincoln,—that no such a thing as criticism or investigation of his acts should be allowed; but we can see no more reason for an abridgment of the freedom of speech or the press now than there was five years ago. On the other hand, we think it behooves all true and patriotic men to watch carefully the actions of those at the helm of State; for the more momentous our national affairs, the more need of watchfulness and criticism on the part of the people. And we truly hope that no man is so wedded to any political party as to have become blind to the unlawful acts of those by whom his party may be led.

We should learn to think for ourselves; to discuss all important political measures freely; to presume all men honest in their political views until the contrary has been satisfactorily shown;—and, above all, we should strive to create a friendly, instead of a bitter feeling among all men of all political parties, otherwise we shall become blind to reason and deaf to all argument and investigation. If we, as a people, expect to govern ourselves, we must do it by calmly investigating all issues which pertain to our governmental affairs. A fanatical people are incapable of self-government, be they never so intelligent, for their fanaticism will override their intelligence and tear society in pieces. Let us, then, be careful how and to whom we apply the terms Copperhead, or any other epithet or invective of that character; we have certainly never gained anything by resorting to such rash expedients, while we are confident that much injury has been done thereby.

RIGHT DRESS.—These words apply with equal force in the ranks of civilians, as well as the military. Now if a man has not got the right dress upon him, he makes but a poor appearance at best. In selecting clothing with which to adorn the body, no little attention should be paid to color as well as style. Some men look well in black, some in dark, and others in colored goods, and when one is about selecting, he should resort to an assortment so large, that he cannot fail of procuring those colors and styles which will become him. At the store of G. H. Lane & Co., 31 and 32 Dock Square, Boston, one cannot fail of being suited in these parts, for here the customer will find a perfect wilderness of ready-made clothing, of all patterns and styles, and made up in the very best possible manner. And should you desire to fit out your children, you will here find an immense collection of boy's and youth's clothing, cut and made in the most approved style, and of all the various colored fabrics suited to those ages. As it is a point, when we have money to spend, to make it go as far as we can, and to spend it where it will yield us the greatest return, we advise those who desire to purchase for themselves or their children, to satisfy themselves that we have not over-stated facts, by calling at 31 and 32 Dock Square.

☞ There is every reason to believe that the crop of hay this year will be the largest ever cut in Maine.

JAMES F. ALMY & Co., invite attention to opening of Silk Mantillas, Ladies' Cloth Outside Garments, and Summer Shawls. Also, to Bugle Trimmings, Malta Laces, etc.

JAMES F. ALMY & Co., offer a full line of Striped, Tucked and Plain Muslins, for Ladies wear.

Now is the time to clothe your Boys, and 240 is the place to find the Goods.

☞ Persons wishing to subscribe for Sunday Morning papers, can do so by applying to

D. P. GROSVENOR, JR.

READY-MADE DRESS FROCKS a
$35, $32, $30, $28, $27, $25, $2
$18, $17, $16, $15, $14, $13, $1 $9, $8.50, $8, $7.50, $7, $6.50, $
at Bennett & Co.'s One Price Clot
14 and 15 Dock Square, Boston.

READY-MADE PANTS $11, $10,
$8, $7.50, $7, $6.50, $6, $5.50, $
$3.50, $3, $2.75, $2.50, at Benn
One Price Clothing House, 14 a
Square, Boston.

TWO BOYS WANTED to lea
ing Business, at
F. S. PECK'S, 240 Es

BOYS' CLOTHING — largest stoc variety, at Bennett & Co.'s One Pr
House, 14 and 15 Dock Square, Bo

EVERY GARMENT marked in pla
Bennett & Co's One Price Clothin
and 15 Dock Square, Boston.

GARMENTS made to order at Ben
One Price Clothing House, 14 a
Square, Boston.

☞ Goods received for LEWAND
DYE HOUSE. M. E.
Jan 20 tf

☞ Visit OSBORNE'S Store, and unusual variety of new styles in
CAPS—191 Essex street.

Buy your Hats and Caps at 240.

For Gent's Furnishing Goods, 240 to find the latest styles best goods,
prices.

Clothe your boys at 240 and money.

A CARD TO INVAL

A Clergyman, while residing in South missionary, discovered a safe and simp
the Cure of Nervous Weakness, Early De of the Urinary and Seminal Organs, and th of disorders brought on by baneful and Great numbers have been already cured remedy. Prompted by a desire to bene and unfortunate, I will send the recipe and using this medicine, in a sealed e one who needs it, Free of Charge. Add
JOSEPH T. INM STATION D, BIBLE
New

MATRIMONIAL.—If you wish dress the undersigned, who will send money and without price," valuable in will enable you to marry happy and spee how old how ugly or how poor. Thi fair. The information will cost you no you wish to marry, I will cheerfully a letters strictly confidential. The desire sent by return mail, and no questions as SARAH B. LAMBERT
jul,4w Greenpoint, King

THE GREAT ENGLISH
SIR JAMES CLARKE
CELEBRATED FEMALE

Prepared from a prescription of Sir J.
D., Physician Extraordinary to the

This well known medicine is no imp sure cure and safe remedy for Female D Obstructions, from any cause whatever;
a powerful remedy, they contain nothi
the constitution.

In all cases of Nervous and Spinal Aff
in the Back and Limbs, Fatigue on sl Palpitation of the Heart, Hysterics, and pills will effect a cure, when all other failed: and, although a powerful re contain iron, calomel, antimony, or any
to the constitution.

Full directions in the pamphlet package, which should be carefully p
For full particulars, obtain, free, of pamphlet. Sold by all Druggists.
Sole United States Agent,
JOB MOSES, 27 Cortlandt St.,
N. B.—$1 and 6 postage stamps en authorized agent, will insure a bottle, co
50 pills, by return mail. March 9,

Port of Danve

Ar 6th, schs Lucknow, (Br) S
Ada Herbert, Crowell, New Yor
Myers, Smith, Bangor; 10th, Blac
Young, Philadelphia; G W Goo
New York; Pearl, Thayer, from 12th, Highlander, Nickerson, Eliza

Marriages.

In Salem, June 9th, Charles F.
Vassalboro, Me., to Catharine, dau late William Frye of Salem.

In Boston, June 8, Mr. Emery
Miss Dorothy Page, both of Lynn.

In Haverhill, June 5, Mr George
Miss Martha A. Avery.

Deaths.

In Salem, June 7th, Mrs. Joann the late Capt. Charles Holland, 6
Mr. Samuel Nourse, 64 yrs; Bridg ot John and Mary Horrigan, 2
8th, Margaret, daughter of Lawren
Prior, 7½ mos; 9th, Wilson J., son and Julia Russell, 2 weeks; 10th
Fisher, 86 years; James R., son of Nancy Shearman, 20 yrs 14 days; wounds received in battle near the
Va., May 24, Mr Nicholas T. Snell
6 mos 10 days, Corporal of Co. C,
A., and son of Captain Nicholas
Snell of Salem; Mrs. Jane, wife of Cochran, (40th Mass. Regt.) 45 yea

In Marblehead, June 10th, Mr. J
Jr., 58 years 2 months.

In Kingston, June 5, Mrs. Hann wife of Mr Geo. W. Reed, and dau
Daniel Marston of Salem, 32 yrs 4

From wounds received in the ba
Harbor, Mr. Charles A. Young, 20
7 days—a member of Co. B, 40th and son of Benjamin and Fanny Danversport.

Advertisment

FIRST OF THE SEA
STRAWBERRY FES
—AT—
DOWNING HALL, SALEM, ON JUNE 17, 1864, AFTERNOON AND
By the Ladies of the Lafayette S Church.
The former Pastors of the Ch present, and an interesting occas anticipated.
Admission for Adults, 15 cent
under 12 years, 10 cents.

Real Estate for Sa

THE Subscriber offers for sale o
ed ninth part of the Estate and Franklin streets, formerly ow HULDAH GILE. This very valua will be sold on fair and easy terms.
All information in relation to it w on application to Mr. CHARLES Franklin street, near the premises.
SAMUEL FE
South Danvers, June 15, 1864.

FOREST RIVER WHITE
A SUPPLY of White Lead ju from the mills.
je15 S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS, 3

ST RECEIVED

— AT —

OLD & HUTCHINSON'S,

0 BARRELS

of those favorite

OUIS BRANDS OF FLOUR,

from the Mills, will be sold at the

ESALE PRICE, FOR CASH.

Danvers, June 8, 1864.—4w

ARREN BANK.

. S. 10-40 BONDS.

RS left at this Bank for the purchase J. S. 10-40 Bonds, will receive prompt .

FRANCIS BAKER, Cashier.

Danvers, June 1, 1864.

NEW BOOKS.

M. WHIPPLE & A. A. SMITH'S.

e Gold Hunter's Adventures; or, Life alia, by a returned Australian, illus-y Champney.

Bridal Eve, by Mrs. Emma D. E. N. orth.

e, by the author of 'Mademoiselle Mori.'

ry of the Rebellion; its Authors and by Joshua R. Giddings.

irs of the Christian Labors, Pastoral ilantropic, of T. Chalmers, D. D. L. L. F. Wayland.

bers' Journal—Good Words—Harper er Magazines.

190 Essex street.

---

re Ground Bone

Farming and Horticultural Purposes.

subscriber would announce that he is constantly manufacturing and prepar- sale PURE GROUND BONE—con- y all who have tried it to be the best in use for fertilizing trees, grape vines, s. etc. It can be obtained in large or quantities.

for Sale, NEAT'S FOOT OIL, TAL- and GREASE.

Cash paid for Bones.

TIMOTHY WALTON.

Office Address, box 99 South Danvers, April 20—3m

I MILLINERY GOODS!

n the New York and Boston Markets,

OPENING EVERY DAY.

the desirable shapes in BONNETS and ATS.

BONS and FLOWERS in all the New . All goods belonging to a first class ry Establishment, to which the atten- the Ladies of Essex County is respect- vited.

REITH & CO'S,

WEST BLOCK, ESSEX STREET,

ne door west of J. F. Almy & Co.,)

13 SALEM, MASS.

FLOUR AND GRAIN STORE,

tral St., opposite Old South.

subscriber would inform the citizens of is town and vicinity that he has taken ore lately vacated by Mr. Whidden, r, where he will sell, by the Wholesale etail, the very best of

R, CORN, MEAL, OATS, FEED, &C.,

Lowest Market Prices.

OHN G. MOULTON.

Danvers, March 16, 1864—tf.

FOR NEW YORK via FALL RIVER AND NEWPORT.

Cabin passage $5.00; Deck, $4.00. Cars the Depot of the Old Colony and Newport Rail- orner of South and Kneeland streets, at 5.30 P. dy.

steamer METROPOLIS, Capt. W. Brown, on ys, Wednesdays and Fridays.

steamer EMPIRE STATE, Capt. P. Brayton, on ys, Thurs'ays and Saturdays.

engers by this route can take the 4.40 P. M. Ex- Train, and arrive in Fall River one hour before eamboat Train, having time to secure State and make their preparations for the passage.

engers by this line going to Philadelphia, Balti- Washington, &c., can connect with the New or Camden and Amboy Railroad. Baggage ed through.

A baggage master accompanies the passengers gh to New York. Tickets, Berths and State- secured at this office, and at O. C. & Newport Station.

EORGE SHIVERICK, Agent.

No. 82 Washington Street.

TON, November 16, 1863.

CARPETS.

OMAS W. DOWNING & CO.

VE now in Store a splendid Stock of pets, air Carpets, ocoa Mattings, Mats, Linings,

Oil Cloths, Straw Mattings, Rugs, Paper, etc., etc.,

h they offer at the very lowest Cash Prices.

ril 13. 179 Essex Street.

RING AND SUMMER GOODS.

68 ESSEX STREET.

E invite the attention of the Ladies of Salem and vicinity, to our

New Millinery Goods.

Ladies' and Children's

BONNETS AND HATS,

l desirable styles.

apes, Silks, Ribbons, Feathers, French vers, and Laces.

full assortment of Straw Goods, Mourning nets, Veils, Collars, &c., constantly on hand e lowest cash prices.

M. E. CRANE,

Successor to M M Fletcher.

lem, April 6, 1864.

WHITE LEAD IN CANS.

HITE LEAD put up in cans of 3, 5 and 10 lbs each, at

S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

NEW CUTLERY.

FULL Stock of Ivory handled Knives, (blades steel, silver plated) just received at

S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS, 32 Front st

PHOTOGRAPH ALBUMS,

beautiful Bindings, suitable for presenta- ion copies; also a fine assortment of Medi- and low priced ones, of desirable styles, at

G. M. WHIPPLE & A. A. SMITH'S.

FLOUR.

00 BBLS "Keystone;" 100 bbls Paquis "Invincible," re- ved this day, and for sale by ay 25 GAYLE & CO., Phillips Wharf.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS.

Head-Quarters, Boston, May 31, 1864.

GENERAL ORDER, No. 17.

In anticipation of a call from the United States Government for troops to fill up the organizations in the field, the Chairmen of the Selectmen of the several towns, and the Mayors and Aldermen in the several cities of the Commonwealth, are hereby continued as recruiting officers.

Recruits must be delivered at Faneuil Hall, Boston, or at such other places as may be hereafter designated, without expense to the State or the United States.

They will there be mustered into the United States Service by Officers appointed for that purpose by Maj. F. N. Clarke, Chief Mustering and Disbursing Officer for Massachusetts, where a receipt will be given for them, which will properly accredit each recruit to the Quota of the city or town to which he has been assigned; or, if the municipal officers prefer it, they may deliver recruits to the Provost Marshal of the district in which they reside, who will muster them into the United States Service, and accredit them to the places to which they are assigned.

A premium of $10 for a new recruit, and $15 for a veteran who has been at least nine months in active service, will be paid by the United States to the recruiting officer appointed for each town, and ward of cities, as soon as the recruit shall have been received at Gallop's Island, and a receipt returned to Capt. Hiram Dryer, United States Disbursing Officer, No. 2 Bulfinch Street, Boston.

Each recruit will be enlisted according to the regulations heretofore established and issued from these Head-quarters, blanks for which will be furnished upon application to the Adjutant-General.

No Minor whose Parents or Guardians reside in the State, can be paid the State Bounty, without the written consent of such Parent or Guardian.

A Commissioner will be in attendance at Gallop's Island who will take the allotment of any portion of the Soldiers' pay and bounty, and it will be forwarded by the Treasurer of the Commonwealth, free of expense to the parties to whom it is allotted.

The State Bounties will be paid at Gallop's Island on at least two stated days in each week, and in all cases will be paid to the recruit himself. No orders for any portion of the Soldiers' bounty will hereafter be accepted or received by the State Paymasters.

By order of His Excellency John A. Andrew, Governor and Commander-in-Chief.

WILLIAM SCHOULER, Adj't-Gen'l.

June 8—3w

Men's Clothing.

The largest assortment, the Latest Styles, the best Goods, and the LOWEST PRICES, as usual, can be found at ☞ 240 ☜. Black and Fancy Frocks, Sacks, Pants and Vests, in light and dark colors to match—all sizes and prices. Spring Overcoats, Light and Dark Linen Dusters, $1.75 to $3.75—size, 34 to 50. If you wish to purchase a good suit of Clothes, light or dark, call at F. S. PECK'S.

Boys' Clothing.

Those who have Boys to Clothe, are particularly invited to call and examine the New Styles Coats, Pants, Vests, Jackets and Suits, in light and dark colors, which we have made expressly for our trade. We have pieces of the same or Cloth by the yard. Also, a large assortment of Cheap Sacks, Pants, Vests, Jackets and Suits, which will be sold low. If you have Boys to Clothe, the place to save your money is at

F. S. PECK'S,

240

Essex Street, Salem.

Gent's Furnishing Goods.

In this Department can be found the Latest Styles and Best Goods. White and Fancy Shirts, $1.50 to $4.00; Silk Shirts and Drawers, $1.75 to $4.00; Merino Shirts and Drawers, Hosiery, Gloves, Braces, Roman Scarfs, Ties—new styles, Collars, Umbrellas, &c. N. B.—We offer our Kid Gloves, spring colors, for $1.75 per pair, to close—the same as are sold round town for $2.25. Also a lot which are a little spotted, for 37c, 75c and $1.25 a pair. They are bargains. 240 is the place to buy Gent's Furnishing Goods.

Hats and Caps.

SPRING STYLES FOR 1864. Those who wish to purchase Hats or Caps, either Men's or Boy's, can find a large assortment of the Latest Styles and best quality. Goods at the Lowest Prices. The public are respectfully invited to call and decide whether 240 is the place to buy Hats and Caps.

PARKS HOUSE,

(NORFOLK AVENUE,)

187 WASHINGTON ST.,

Near head of Milk Street, Boston.

ROBT. E. DRAKE, Proprietor.

Formerly of Spooner & Co., U. S. Hotel.

GAYLE & CO.,

GENERAL COMMISSION MERCHANTS,

DEALERS IN

Flour, Grain and Produce,

Manufacturers' Agents for the sale of

Concentrated Leaven, Soda and Pearlash Saleratus, and Bi Carb. Soda.

PHILLIPS WHARF, Salem.

OATS.

3000 BUSHEL prime Oats, received this day by Rail, and for sale by

may 25 GAYLE & CO., Phillips Wharf.

PEABODY'S

220 ESSEX ST., SALEM.

RIBBONS.

Rich Maize Ribbons—all widths;
Rich Plaid Scarf Ribbons;
Rich Black Ribbons—all widths;
Rich Plaid Bonnet Ribbons;
Rich Plain Bonnet Ribbons;
Hat Ribbons—all colors and widths;
Taffeta Ribbons—in all widths;
Narrow Plaid Ribbons—pretty.

Our Stock of Ribbons is full and choice, and we are selling them at our usual low prices.

FLOWERS.

Rich and Choice Flowers—all colors;
Real French Flowers—pretty styles;
Choice Buds and Single Flowers;
Outside Flowers in new styles;
Flowers in every new variety;
Flowers at much less than Milliner's prices.

We have a large stock of Flowers in all the choice varieties, and at very low prices.

RUCHES.

Grey Edged Ruches and Tabs;
Grey and White—double—Ruches and Tabs;
Black and White Illusion Ruches and Tabs;
Black Cord Edge Ruches—long and short;
White Cord Edge Ruches—long and short;
Cotton Ruches—in black, white and grey.

We have our usual full stock of Ruches at our usual low prices.

VEILS! VEILS!

Real Point Lace Veils—new patterns;
Black Aplique Lace Veils—pretty;
Black Pusher Lace Veils—new;
Black French Lace Veils—all prices;
Black Crape and Love Veils—mourning;
Black Lace Veils—with crape folds;
Grenadine Veils—in all colors;
Grenadine and Tissue—for veils;
Black and White Lace Veils—new patterns.

Our stock of Veils is very large and desirable in prices from 50c to $8 00.

LACE GOODS.

Black Silk Figured Laces;
White Silk Figured Laces;
Robbinet and Wash Blonde Laces;
Illusion Laces—all qualities;
Brussels Twist Net Laces;
Silk and Joined Blonde Laces;
Lace Collars—Sleeves—Veils, &c.

In this department we can show a full stock of the most desirable goods, at prices that will be sure to suit.

EMBROIDERIES.

Wrought Cambric Edgings and Insertings;
Wrought Cambric Bands and Flouncings;
English Thread and Valenciennes Laces;
Wrought Collars and Sleeves to match;
Wrought Waists and Robes for Infants;
Wrought Hdkfs—in all styles and prices;
Wrought Hdkfs—worked in colors—pretty.

We pay particular attention to this department, keeping it at all times full of choice goods.

HOSIERY.

Cotton Hose—for Ladies and Children;
Misses' Hosiery—in all sizes;
Fancy Hosiery—in all sizes;
White and Mode Hose—Ladies' sizes;
Silk and Lisle Thread Hosiery;
Cotton Hosiery—in every variety.

Cotton Hosiery;
Cotton Hosiery;
Cotton Hosiery;
Cotton Hosiery.

GLOVES! GLOVES!

Our best Kid Gloves—new invoice;
Black Kid Gloves—in all sizes;
Kid Finished Silk Gloves;
Lisle Thread Gloves—in all colors;
Children's Gloves—in all sizes and colors;
Mourning Gloves—in great variety.

We have a very large stock of Gloves in all the desirable styles, and at the lowest possible prices.

BUTTONS.

Ball Buttons—gilt and silvered;
Ball Buttons—black—all sizes;
Silk and Crochet Buttons—all colors;
Rubber and Porcelain Buttons—all sizes;
Jet and Steel Buttons—the new styles;
Pearl and Agate Buttons—all sizes;
Bugle Buttons—for Cloaks, &c.

We have a very large stock of Buttons in all the newest styles.

TRIMMINGS.

Bugle and Bead Gimps—all widths;
Quill'd Ribbons—all colors—only 20 cts.;
Mohair Braids—all colors—all widths;
Black Silk Braids—all widths;
Black Brussels Laces—for trimmings;
Embroidery Braids—in all colors;
Silk Cords and Bodice Lacets.

In this department we can show a fine stock. As fast as anything new appears in the market, it will be found on our counters.

SUN UMBRELLAS.

14 inch Sun Umbrellas—Black and Brown.
16 inch Sun Umbrellas—Black and Brown.
18 inch Sun Umbrellas—Black and Brown.
20 inch Sun Umbrellas—Black and Brown.
22 inch Sun Umbrellas—Black and Brown.

Rich Sun Shades.
Rich Sun Shades.
Rich Sun Shades.
Rich Sun Shades.
Rich Sun Shades.

JET AND STEEL GOODS.

Brooches in Plain Jet and Jet and Steel.
Brooches in Leather and Steel—Gilt and Jet.
Bonnet Pins—in black and steel.
Bonnet Pins with black and shells.
Jet and Steel Pin and drops to match.
Gilt and Jet Pins—Crosses, &c.

We have a new stock of these goods in all the new styles and at the lowest prices.

HANDKERCHIEFS.

Wrought Handkerchiefs—in all prices.
Wrought Edge Grass Cloth Handkerchiefs.
Hem'd Linen—Wrought in colors.
Mourning Hdkfs—in choice styles.
Linen Cambric Hdkfs—in all prices.
Gents Hdkfs—in cotton, linen and silk.
Gents Hdkfs—pretty colored borders—25 cts.

In this department we have a nice stock for Gents'—Ladies'—Misses', and Childrens' use.

FANCY GOODS.

Leather Shopping Bags—in all sizes.
Elastic Band Wallets—large stock.
Soaps—Perfumes—Cosmetiques, &c.
Sterling's Ambrosia—for the hair.
Hair, Nail and Tooth Brushes.
Puffs—Boxes—Powders—Soft Brushes, &c.

The largest stock.
The lowest prices.
The choicest goods.

220 ESSEX ST., SALEM.

JOHN P. PEABODY.

Browning & Long.

THE LARGEST

LADIES' FURNISHING STORE

IN SALEM.

LADIES GENTS MISSES BOYS

COTTON HOSIERY.

Our Stock was secured before the late great rise, we are therefore able to offer at much less than the present ruling prices.

☞ ☞ ☞ ☞ ☞ ☞ ☞ ☞ ☞ ☞

BROWNING & LONG'S

ASSORTMENT OF

COTTON HOSIERY

Was Never So Complete.

☞ ☞ ☞ ☞ ☞

A. T. STEWART'S CELEBRATED HOSIERY.

FOR LADIES!

All Grades,
All Sizes,
Finished Seams,
Extra heavy British, very nice for Country Wear.
Bleached and Unbleached
Lisle Hose, Silk Hose, at Old Prices,
OPENWORKED,
All sizes and qualities.
Outsizes—For Invalids.

FOR MISSES.

ALL SIZES,
Heavy—for School Wear,
Fancy Balmoral,
English Finished,
Openworked Lace.

FOR GENTS.

Heavy Bleached,
British Colored,
Paris Brown,
English Striped.

FOR BOYS.

Grey Socks,
Extra Fine White,
Blue Striped,
Brown Mixed.

Just opened, "TUCKED NAINSORK," for Waists, very beautiful.

Beautiful New Goods Constantly Received

— AT —

BROWNING & LONG'S

Ladies' Furnishing Store,

177 Essex Street.

Salem, June 15, 1864.

M. A. PORTER,

236 Essex Street, - - - Salem, Mass.,

(Opposite Horse Railroad Office,)

MAKES TO ORDER BEST QUALITIES OF

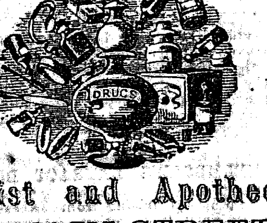
WATCH SPRING SKIRTS.

A Good Assortment of Dress and Clock Button, Braids, Spool Cotton, Small Wares, and Thread Store articles generally.

236 Essex Street, - - - Salem, Mass.,

M. A. PORTER.

D. P. GROSVENOR, Jr.,



Druggist and Apothecary,

83 MAIN STREET.

Dealer in Drugs, Medicines, Chemicals, Dye Stuffs, and Popular Proprietary Medicines.

Personal attention to Physicians' Prescriptions.

South Danvers, May 29, 1861. 1y

GEO. E. MEACOM,

Dealer in

DRUGS & MEDICINES,

Fancy & Toilet Articles, &c.,

126 · · MAIN ST · · 126

Nearly opposite Danvers Bank, So. Danvers.

T. A. SWEETSER,

Druggist & Apothecary

37 Main St., So. Danvers,

DEALER IN

Drugs, Medicines, Chemicals, Foreign Leeches, Shakers' Herbs, Dye Stuffs, Gums, Acids, Sponges, Shoulder Braces, Trusses, and Genuine Patent Medicines,

Also, Imported Cigars of choice brands, Perfumery, Toilet Articles and Stationery.

Physicians' Prescriptions carefully prepared by experienced persons.

37 MAIN STREET.

Valuable Real Estate in So. Danvers for Sale or to Let.

The large dwelling house and barn and out-buildings, with land under and adjoining, belonging to the estate of the late J. W. Carey, situated on Fulton street.

Also a very desirable lot of land extending from Fulton street to High street, with a front of eighty feet on each street.

For terms and particulars, apply to

EBEN UPTON,

April 27.—tf. No. 31 Barr street, Salem.

WANTED IMMEDIATELY.

TWO stout American Boys, to learn the Morocco business, at

ROBERTS & MOORE'S, Walnut st.

South Danvers, May 25, 1864.*

James F. Almy.

MANTILLAS,

Ladies' Outside Garments,

— AND —

SUMMER SHAWLS.

JAMES F. ALMY & CO.

Invite attention to their recent openings of RICH SILK MANTILLAS, LADIES' CLOTH OUTSIDE GARMENTS, AND SEASONABLE SHAWLS.

— ALSO —

Elegant Poilt De Soie and Plain Black Silks, for Mantillas, with Ladies' CLOTHS in great variety—which we are prepared to make

TO ORDER FROM MEASURE.

We are also well supplied with Buttons, Braids, Ornaments, Bugle Trimmings, Malta, Brussels, and Guipure Laces for Trimmings.

The just completed enlargement of our Store affords us unrivalled facilities for conducting this rapidly increasing branch of our trade.

Ladies desiring to make their own Garments, can obtain of us any pattern desired.

JAMES ALMY & CO.,

188 Essex St., oppposite Central Street.

Salem, June 8, 1864.

A. J. Archer & Co

Silk Umbrellas,

FOR Gentlemen and Ladies. A fresh supply just received.

my18 AUGUSTUS J. ARCHER & CO.

MOURNING GOODS.

AUGUSTUS J. ARCHER & CO.,

HAVE just received a fine assortment

— OF —

MOURNING DRESS GOODS,

for summer wear.

— ALSO —

On hand, a fine stock of

BLACK SILKS,

which our customers will find are at less than Boston prices.

May 25, 1864.

FANCY CLOAKINGS!

— FOR —

Spring Garments,

IN GREAT VARIETY OF STYLES,

which we are prepared to make into GARMENTS to order, in the very best manner, and at

LOWEST CASH PRICES.

A. J. ARCHER & CO.,

March 16—tf. 181 Essex Street.

L. MERRILL & SON,

DEALERS IN

DRUGS, MEDICINES,

Fancy and Toilet Articles,

Perfumery, Stationery, Cutlery, &c.

VILLAGE BANK BUILDING,

DANVERS, MASS.

Particular attention paid to Physicians' Prescriptions.

Levi Merrill,
W. S. Merrill.

Danvers, Dec 2—6m

HOUSE OF EQUITY,

— BY —

Arnold & Hutchinson,

(Successors to C. T. Southwick.)

FIRST QUALITY

FAMILY GROCERIES,

Sold at the Lowest Prices.

A large and complete assortment of

CROCKERY AND GLASS WARE,

Constantly on hand.

Also FLOUR and GRAIN.

ASHLAND HALL BUILDING,

NO. 1 LOWELL STREET,

F. T. ARNOLD. B. F. HUTCHINSON.

South Danvers, Feb 3, 1864.

The Singer Manufacturing Co's

LETTER A SEWING MACHINE

For Family Use and Light Manufacturing Purposes, is on exhibition and for sale

AT ASHLAND HALL,

SOUTH DANVERS SQUARE,

— BY —

JOHN H. CHOATE,

Agent for the sale of

SEWING MACHINES,

Silk, Thread, Needles, Cottons, &c., &c.

— Also —

Paraffine Sewing Machine Oil,

The best oil for all kinds of light machinery.

South Danvers, Nov 18, 1863.

George S. Walker.

GENTLEMEN'S

FURNISHING GOODS.

The Largest Stock and Assortment

IN ESSEX COUNTY.

GEORGE S. WALKER, 228 Essex Street, Stearns' Block, invites particular attention to his Spring and Summer Stock of Gentlemen's Under-Shirts,

Drawers,
Hosiery,
Gloves.

Also a splendid assortment of

Braces,
Scarfs,
Ties,
Collars,
Umbrellas, &c.

Dealing exclusively in the above articles, most of which were bought for CASH, before the late advance, I am enabled to offer them at less than present prices of Importation and Manufacture—at

my4 GEORGE S. WALKER'S.

GRENADINES

Bareges and Muslins,

FOR SUMMER DRESS GOODS.

JAMES F. ALMY & CO.

have in stock a full line of Thin Dress Goods, comprising AMERICAN LAWNS, BAREGES, GRENADINES, DUCALS, AND MOZAMBIQUES.

We offer a Splendid quality of Embroidered Grenadines, at $1.00 per yard.

je 8 JAMES F. ALMY & CO.

Potter, Bachelder & Co.,

DANVERS-PORT and SOUTH DANVERS,

DEALERS IN

WOOD AND COAL.

Constantly on hand

Franklin, Burnside, Dimond, } RED ASH.

Old Company & Packer's Lehigh, Pliny Fisk, Webster and Locust Mountain, } WHITE ASH.

Also Cumberland, Pictou and Campbell for Steam and Smith's use.

OFFICE—No. 6 Allen's Building.

G. W. POTTER,
J. Q. A. BACHELDER,
C. T. BATCHELDER. mch 30

M. FENOLLOSA,

TEACHER OF MUSIC,

LETS............PIANO FORTES, at the lowest rates;
SELLS............PIANO FORTES, at the Manufacturers Prices;
EXCHANGES....PIANO FORTES, on the easiest terms;

At Rooms No. 7 Central street,

feb 11 SALEM, MASS.

AARON T. LOWE,

DEALER IN

BOOTS, SHOES AND RUBBERS,

76 BOSTON STREET, 76.

aug 6 SALEM. tf

GEORGE TAPLEY,

(DANVERS),

AGENT FOR THE

John Hancock Life Insurance Co.

Office, 41 State Street, Boston.

DR. E. F. KITTREDGE,

From Lowell, formerly of New Ipswich, N. H.,
Has removed his office and residence to

NO. 42 MAIN STREET,

SOUTH DANVERS, MASS.

Dr. K., from an extensive and successful professional experience of upwards of twenty years, feels justified in saying that he can treat diseases to the satisfaction of his patients, and to the credit of himself.

Office hours from 7 to 9 A. M., and from 6 to 9 P. M.

South Danvers, Nov 13, 1863.

T. HARDY, JR.,

—Dealer in—

DOORS, SASHES, BLINDS,

Glazed Sash, Painted Blinds,

FENCE PALES, STAIR BALUSTERS, FRAMING PINS, &c.,

No. 26 FRONT STREET,

Salem, January 14, 1863—tf.

Spring Goods.

THOMAS W. DOWNING & CO.

invite attention to the splendid stock of

NEW GOODS

which they are now opening for the Spring trade.

We shall be constantly supplied with all Novelties as they appear in the market.

mch 2 179 Essex Street.

MOULTON'S

NEW LIVERY STABLE,

Is removed to stable formerly occupied by

SAMUEL HAM,

On MAIN STREET, opposite the Institute.

Good Horses and Carriages will be always in readiness at short notice.

South Danvers, May 25, 1864.

THOMAS PINNOCK,

SLATER,

SALEM, MASS.

Orders may be left at his Yard, No. 25 Peabody St., or at his house No. 6 Hancock street, South Salem.

Roofs covered with any kind of Slates, according to order. All work warranted.

Salem, May 7, 1862. tf

JUST ARRIVED,

AT DANVERS MILLS,

500 Bushels Corn, in the minnie cob, and will be sold in South Danvers. Constantly on hand a large stock of meal, which will be sold at the lowest Salem prices.

— ALSO ON HAND —

500 Bushels Feed;
200 Bushels prime Northern Oats;
100 Barrels choicest Family Flour.
A good stock of LIME constantly on hand.

JOHN C. MOULTON,

Central St., South Danvers, Mass.

May 25—tf.

Auction Sales.

WILLIAM ARCHER, Jr.,

Auctioneer, Real Estate and Stock Broker, 34 Front Street.

Real Estate, Bank, Railroad & Manufacturing Stock bought and sold on Commission.

Valuable Estate in Wallis St.,

AT AUCTION.

ON TUESDAY, June 28, at 1 o'clock, P. M., will be sold on the premises, a valuable Estate situated in Wallis street, consisting of a building lot, measuring 60 feet on Wallis st. by about 90 feet deep.

Also—A two story dwelling house in rear of the above with the land under and adjoining. The house contains 12 finished rooms and the land contains about 3000 square feet.

Also—A one and a half story dwelling house with the land under and adjoining, the house contains 7 finished rooms and the land contains about 1000 square feet.

Also—A two story dwelling house with the land under and adjoining. The house contains 6 finished rooms and the land contains about 1200 feet.

This is one of the finest estates now for sale in this vicinity, the houses are nearly new, and in good order, and there is a well of good water on the premises, and being in the immediate vicinity of the business portion of South Danvers, is well worthy the attention of those in pursuit of a safe investment for their surplus money. june 15—2w

---

ON SATURDAY NEXT, at 9½ o'clock will be sold at No. 34 Front street:

A QUANTITY of new and second hand Furniture: Sofas, Tables, Lounges, Carpets, Secretary, 2 small Glass Cases, 1 Lady's Riding Saddle, etc.

Also—An assortment of Women's and Children's Boots and Shoes.

Also—An invoice of Dry Goods: DeLaines, Prints, Lawns, etc.

Also—A quantity of Plated Jewelry: Pins, Earrings, Finger Rings, etc.

At 11 o'clock—One five octave Melodeon, rosewood case, piano style; 1 Singer's sewing machine, in good order.

15 shares of Marblehead Gas Stock.

TEETH ON VULCANITE!

DR. J. H. BATCHELDER,

DENTAL SURGEON,

No. 20 Washington St., (near Eastern Railroad Depot), Salem, Mass.,

Is Licensed to make the New Patent Teeth on HARD RUBBER or VULCANITE, and from actual experience confidently recommends them for Strength, Beauty, and Cleanliness, to far surpass all other kinds of teeth;—are sure to fit the mouth; are much cheaper and better, being about half the price of teeth on Gold. Ill fitting Setts of Teeth on Gold can be exchanged for the Vulcanite, at very small expense. Specimens seen at Office. Teeth filled with Gold, Inserted, Extracted, and Children's Teeth Regulated—all with such care and gentleness as to be nearly painless.

VALUABLE REAL ESTATE.

THE Subscriber offers for sale the following Lots of Land, with the Buildings thereon, at private sale, until September next, when such as then remain unsold, will be offered at Public Auction:

A new and well built two-story DWELLING HOUSE, situated on English Street.—This house is well supplied with the modern conveniences, is pleasantly situated on rising ground, and is a very desirable residence.

The MOROCCO FACTORY near the Southwick Tannery. The building is about 150 feet long by 40 wide, is well supplied with pure water and is an excellent place for the Morocco business or Currying.

Near the Morocco Factory are two TWO-STORY BUILDINGS, which may be sold with the Factory, or separately. Together they are about 80 feet long by 20 wide.

On Walnut Street is the large BOARDING HOUSE, with the land adjoining, which is excellently well situated for what it is designed.

Several front LOTS for building purposes on Walnut Street, will be sold at moderate prices and fair terms.

A STORE HOUSE 70 by 25 feet on Walnut Street, with the land under and the rear of it. It can be easily adapted for a Curriers' Shop, or for other kinds of business.

On Wallis Street, near the mill pond, a well built and painted MOROCCO FACTORY, all ready for occupancy. It is about 80 feet long by 25 wide, and in excellent repair.

Next to the Morocco Factory on the same street, a STORE BUILDING, strongly built, and framed for a Dwelling House, for which it could be easily adapted. Or it would make an excellent Shop for any kind of business.

Near ELM STREET, on a Court south of said street, are two DWELLING HOUSES, planned for two families each. One is two stories high, the other one and a half. Both houses have good tenants and yield a good income; offering a good chance for investment.

Between Harris and English Streets, one One Story DWELLING House, and a One Story and a Half House.

The above is a most excellent opportunity for enterprising young men to secure places for business and dwelling houses, on reasonable terms. Such a chance may not soon again occur.

Persons desiring to purchase any of the above lots may learn the prices and terms on application to ANDREW S. PORTER, Elm Street.

SAMUEL D. PENDAR,

South Danvers, May 11, 1864. tf

NEW STORE!

Flour! Flour!

JUST RECEIVED, a fresh supply of choice brands, direct from the Mills, for sale, wholesale and retail, at LOWEST PRICES, by

E. F. OSBORN.

Sutton's Building, Main St.

South Danvers, Nov 18, 1863.

R. C. MANNING & CO.,

Successors to JOHN DIKE & CO.,

DEALERS IN

COAL, WOOD, BARK, HAY, &c,

186 DERBY STREET,

SALEM, MASS.

N. C. ROBBINS, R. C. MANNING.

oct17

ICE! ICE!!

THE undersigned would announce that he has made arrangements for running an

ICE WAGON

through South Danvers and Salem, the coming season, beginning MAY 1st, and ending NOVEMBER 1st.

☞ He will deliver ice made at Bancroft's Pond, which is supplied mostly from the surplus water of Spring Pond. This ice cannot be excelled in point of purity and clearness.

☞ A share of patronage is respectfully solicited.

☞ Orders may be left at the Wizard Office, or sent by mail.

BYRON GOODELL,

South Danvers, April 13, 1864. 3m-is

Special Notices.

A GENTLEMAN, cured of Nervous Debility, Incompetency, Premature Decay and Youthful Error, actuated by a desire to benefit others, will be happy to furnish to all who need it, (free of charge,) the recipe and directions for making the simple remedy used in his case. Those wishing to profit by his experience, and possess a Valuable Remedy, will receive the same, by return mail, (carefully sealed,) by addressing

JOHN B. OGDEN,
No. 60 Nassau street, New York.

may 25—6m

BELL'S SPECIFIC PILLS.—WARRANTED IN ALL CASES.—Can be relied on! Never fail to cure! Do not nauseate! Are speedy in action! No change of Diet required! Do not interfere with business pursuits! Can be used without detection! Upward of 200 cures the past month—some of them very severe cases. Over one hundred physicians have used them in their practice, and all speak well of their efficacy, and approve of their composition, which is entirely vegetable and harmless on the system. Hundreds of certificates can be shown.

BELL'S SPECIFIC PILLS are the original and only genuine Specific Pill. They are adapted for male and female, old or young, and the only reliable remedy for effecting a permanent and speedy cure in all cases of Spermatorrhea, or Seminal Weakness, with all its train of evils, such as Urethral and Vaginal Discharges, Gleet, the Whites, Nightly or Involuntary Emissions, Incontinence, Genital Debility and Irritability, Impotence, Weakness or Loss of Power, Nervous Debility, &c., &c., all of which arise principally from Sexual Excesses or Self-Abuse, or some constitutional derangement, and incapacitates the sufferer from fulfilling the duties of married life. In all sexual diseases, as Gonorrhea, Gleet, and Strictures, and in Diseases of the Bladder and Kidneys, they act as a charm! Relief is experienced by taking a single box. Sold by all the principal druggists. Price $1.

They will be sent by mail, securely sealed, and confidentially, on receipt of the money, by

J BRYAN, M. D,
No. 76 Cedar street, New York.

Consulting Physician for the treatment of Seminal, Urinary, Sexual and Nervous Diseases, who will send, free, to all, the following valuable work, in sealed envelope:

THE FIFTIETH THOUSAND.—DR. BELL'S TREATISE on Self-Abuse, Premature Decay, Impotence and Loss of Power, Sexual Diseases, Seminal Weakness, Nightly Emissions, Genital Debility, &c., &c., a pamphlet of 64 pages, containing important advice to the afflicted, and which should be read by every sufferer, as the means of cure in the severest stages is plainly set forth. Two stamps required to pay postage.

December 9, 1863—1yr.

IMPORTANT TO LADIES.—DR. HARVEY'S FEMALE PILLS have never yet failed in removing difficulties arising from obstruction, or stoppage of nature, or in restoring the system to perfect health when suffering from Spinal Affections, Prolapsus Uteri, the Whites, or other weakness of the Uterine Organs. The Pills are perfectly harmless on the constitution, and may be taken by the most delicate female without causing distress—the same time they act like a charm by strengthening, invigorating and restoring the system to a healthy condition, and by bringing on the monthly period with regularity, no matter from what causes the obstruction may arise. They should, however, NOT be taken during the first three or four months of pregnancy, though safe at any other time, as miscarriage would be the result.

Each box contains 60 Pills. Price $1.

DR. HARVEY'S TREATISE on Diseases of Females, Pregnancy, Miscarriage, Barrenness, Sterility, Reproduction, and Abuses of Nature, and emphatically the Ladies' Private Medical Adviser, a pamphlet of 64 pages, sent free to any address. Six cents required to pay postage.

The Pills and book will be sent by mail when desired, securely sealed, and prepaid, by

J. BRYAN, M. D, General Agent,
No. 76 Cedar street, New York.

☞ Sold by all the principal druggists.

December 9, 1863—1 yr.

SPRING STYLES
OF
1864.

L. D. BOISE & CO.,

Manufacturers and Dealers
IN

CLOTHING,

Invite attention to their Large and Fashionable stock, comprising Medium, Fine and Superior grades, of our own manufacture, some of which is fully equal to the best Custom work.

Wholesale or Retail purchasers will find it for their benefit to examine our Stock before purchasing.

We have also a large and fashionable stock of PRICE GOODS, consisting of the most desirable patterns of English, French, German and American

CLOTHS,
CASSIMERES,
DOESKINS, and
VESTINGS,

which have been selected with great care in the New York and Boston markets.

CUSTOM CLOTHING made to order in the latest styles at short notice.

PARTICULAR ATTENTION GIVEN TO

Army and Navy Uniforms.

Gentlemen's Furnishing Goods

OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.

L. D. BOISE & CO.,
No. 154 Washington Street, Boston.

April 20.—3m

Chickering & Sons' Piano-Fortes.

Hallett & Cumston's Piano-Fortes.

Hallett & Davis's Piano-Fortes.

We select our Piano-Fortes from the above firms and warrant them to give perfect satisfaction. Our terms are reasonable, and all persons in the city and neighboring towns can be accommodated by calling at 76 Federal street.

FOR SALE—Second-hand Piano-Fortes,—Chickering's and others.

ap 29 ANN R. BRAY.

DYSPEPSIA AND FITS.

A SURE CURE FOR

THESE distressing complaints is now made known in a Treatise on Foreign and Native Herbal Preparations, published by Dr. O. PHELPS BROWN. The prescription was furnished him in such a providential manner, that he cannot conscientiously refuse to make it known, as it has cured everybody who has used it, never having failed in a single case. It is equally sure in cases of Fits as of Dyspepsia; and the ingredients may be found in any drugstore. Sent free to all on the receipt of five cents to pre pay postage. This work, of 48 octavo pages, beautifully illustrated, also treats on

Consumption,

Bronchitis, Asthma, General Debility, and gives the best known Herbal Remedies for their positive and permanent cure. Address DR O. PHELPS BROWN, No. 19 Grand Street, Jersey City, New Jersey.

may 25—3m

HEYLINGBERG'S

Hair Dressing Saloon,

24 MAIN ST., SOUTH DANVERS.

J. HEYLINGBERG would announce to his patrons and the public generally, that on and after JUNE 1st, 1864, he will abide by the following

TARIFF OF PRICES:

Shaving,	10 cts,
Hair Cutting,	15 cts,
Champooing,	15 cts.

Particular attention paid to dying hair and whiskers, in one preparation, without washing or scrubbing.

South Danvers, May 11, 1864.

WINDOW BRUSHES

AND Feather Dusters at
S C & E A SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

COMPLETE SETS

OF Japanned Toilet Ware, at
S C & E A SIMOND'S, 32 Front st.

LANE & CO'S

GENTLEMEN'S

COLUMN.

NEW SPRING GOODS.

MEN'S AND BOYS'

CLOTHING!

MANUFACTURED FROM A GREAT VARIETY OF

Plain and Fancy Goods,

AND

CUT IN THE LATEST STYLE,

WITH ELEGANT TRIMMINGS,

And made up in the most thorough manner.

SPRING OVERCOATS,

English Walking Coats,

AND FULL SUITS,

Coats, Pants and Vest,

TO MATCH.

NEW INVOICE

MILITARY UNIFORMS,

FOR

OFFICERS AND PRIVATES.

Parents are invited to examine our stock of

BOYS CLOTHING,

CONTAINING

MANY NEW STYLES.

Garribaldi Suits.

Grecian Suits,

English Sacks,

Metropolitan Sacks,

AND FULL SUITS,

SACKS, PANTS AND VESTS

TO MATCH.

In addition to the above we have a large amount of goods in process of manufacture, which will be addded to our stock as fast as completed. Purchasers will therefore always find a full line from which to make their selections. To those visiting the city by RAIL in search of CLOTHING, we would say:—

Purchase a Ticket through to

"31 and 32" Dock Square,

SECURE A

REAL BARGAIN,

AND THEREBY

SAVE YOUR FARE!

G. H. LANE & CO.,

31 AND 32 DOCK SQUARE,

BOSTON.

March 30.—3m

Cards.

M. B. MANSFIELD,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
214 ESSEX STREET, SALEM, MASS.,

 Particular attention paid to procuring Pensions, Bounties, Back Pay, Prize Money, and Army and Navy Claims of all descriptions. March 2.

WILLIAM C. CHOATE,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
251 Essex St., Salem.
Salem, August 5, 1862. tf

THOMAS M. STIMPSON,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
194 ESSEX STREET, SALEM.
Residence Lowell street, South Danvers.

B. C. PERKINS,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
South Danvers—Office in Allen's Building

ALFRED A. ABBOTT,
Attorney and Counsellor,
Office, No. 24 Washington Street, Salem;
House, Main St., So. Danvers.

SIDNEY C. BANCROFT,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
27 Washington Street, Salem.

H. O. WILEY,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
Office, Allen's Building, So. Danvers.

Claims against the Government for Bounty Back Pay, and Pensions, promptly attended to

A. S. CRAWFORD,
Dentist,
No. 4 MAIN STREET, So. DANVERS SQUARE
Mechanical Dentistry Neatly Executed.

W. L. BOWDOIN,
SURGEON DENTIST,
No, 208 Essex Street, Salem, (Opposite the Marke
Residence—No. 57 Washington street.
jan 11—1y

NEWMAN & SYMONDS,
DEALERS IN
Family Groceries, Flour & Grain,
HARD WARE AND CROCKERY,
Ready Made Clothing, Gents' Furnishing Goods, Hats, Caps, Boots, Shoes, &c.,
South Danvers Square, opp. Congregational Church
SAM'L NEWMAN. NATH'L SYMONDS.

S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS,
DEALERS IN
Crockery, China and Hardware; Paper Hangings; Solar and Entry Lamps; Paints, Oil, and Window Glass.
No. 32 Front street, Lawrence Place,
feb13 SALEM, MASS.

HENRY L. WHIDDEN,
HOUSE AND SIGN PAINTER,
Glazier and Paperer,
Central Street, South Danvers.
All orders promptly and faithfully executed:
jan2-1y

E. S. FLINT,
DEALER IN
West India Goods, Country Poduce,
No. 2 Main Street, South Danvers.

JESSE SMITH
No. 262 Essex Street, Salem,
Importer and Dealer in
Gold and Silver Watches,
MARINE CHRONOMETERS,
Aueroid Barometers, Spy Glasses, &c.

WILLIAM BLANEY,
HOUSE & SIGN PAINTER
Grainer, Glazier and Paper Hanger.
164 MAIN STREET, Corner of Grove.
WINDOWS and BLINDS cheap for cash.
mch6-tf

F. POOLE
INSURANCE AGENT,
Allen's Building (up stairs),
Deeds drawn, and other common forms.

H. L. HADLEY,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
CORNER MAPLE AND ELM ST.,
Danvers.

Claims against the Government for Bounty, Back Pay, and Pensions, promptly attended to.

DEVEREUX & McLELLAN,
Attorneys and Counsellors-at-Law,
CIVIL AND MILITARY,
Browne's Block, Essex street—Room No. 5.
J. F. DEVEREUX, Salem, Mass.
GEO. F. McLELLAN, Washington, D. C.
Oct. 21.

CREAM ALE.

THIS Ale is highly recommended by Physicians for

FAMILY USE AND INVALIDS.

Put up in Half Barrels and Barrels,

And for sale by

J. MAGUIRE & CO.,
No. 6 Derby Square, Salem.

Also, Agent for

MASSEY & COLLINS'

PHILADELPHIA ALES,

BUCKHART'S

CREAM ALE,

And Dealer in

LONDON PORTER, SCOTCH ALE, ATkinson's Wormwood Cordial, Drake's Plantation Bitters, &c., &c.

J. MAGUIRE & CO.,
july 15 No. 6 Derby Square, Salem.

E. F. BURNHAM,

SOLE AGENT FOR

SARGENT & CO.S'

MAGIC SOAP!

For South Danvers & Salem.

OFFICE—Central St., opp. Lowell Depot, at Burnham's Express Office, So. Danvers.

Price $3.50 per 100 Lbs.

Orders sent by mail or otherwise to So. Danvers will be promptly attended to. tf-oct3

Choice Spring Pigs for Sale.

THE subscriber offers for sale nice PIGS of Mackie Prince Albert and Chester County breeds, of which the Mackie took the First Premium at the late CattleShow. Prices reasonable.

BYRON GOODALE,
Near Tapley's Brook.
South Danvers, April 1, 1864. tf

FEATHER DUSTERS.

ANOTHER lot of Dusters at
S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS', 32 Front st

Advertisements.

HOSTETTER'S
CELEBRATED
STOMACH BITTERS.

A pure and powerful Tonic, corrective and alterative of wonderful efficacy in disease of the

Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

Cures Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Headache, Debility, Nervousness, Depression of Spirits, Constipation, Colic, Intermittent Fevers, Cramps and Spasms, and all Complaints of either Sex, arising from Bodily Weakness whether inherent in the system or produced by special causes.

Nothing that is not wholesome, genial and restorative in its nature enters into the composition of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. This popular preparation contains no mineral of any kind, no deadly botanical element; no fiery excitant: but it is a combination of the extracts of rare balsamic herbs and plants with the purest and mildest of all diffusive stimulants.

It is well to be forearmed against disease, and, so far as the human system can be protected by human means against maladies engendered by an unwholesome atmosphere, impure water and other external causes, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS may be relied on as a safeguard.

In districts infested with Fever and Ague, it has been found infallible as a preventive and irresistible as a remedy and thousands who resort to it under apprehension of an attack, escape the scourge; and thousands who neglect to avail themselves of its protective qualities in advance, are cured by a very brief course of this marvelous medicine. Fever and Ague patients, after being plied with quinine for months in vain, until fairly saturated with that dangerous alkaloid, are not unfrequently restored to health within a few days by the use of HOSTETTER'S BITTERS.

The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated and the appetite restored by this agreeable Tonic, and hence it works wonders in cases of DYSPEPSIA and in less confirmed forms of INDIGESTION. Acting as a gentle and painless apperient, as well as upon the liver, it also invariably relieves the CONSTIPATION superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and secretive organs.

Persons of feeble habit, liable to Nervous Attacks, Lowness of Spirits and Fits of Languor, find prompt and permanent relief from the Bitters. The testimony on this point is most conclusive, and from both sexes.

The agony of BILIOUS COLIC is immediately assuaged by a single dose of the stimulant, and by occasionally resorting to it, the return of the complaint may be prevented.

As a General Tonic, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS produce effects which must be experienced or witnessed before they can be fully appreciated. In cases of Constitutional Weakness, Premature Decay and Debility and Decrepitude arising from OLD AGE, it exercises the electric influence. In the convalescent stages of all diseases it operates as a delightful invigorant. When the powers of nature are relaxed, it operates to re-enforce and re-establish them.

Last, but not least, it is The Only Safe Stimulant, being manufactured from sound and innocuous materials, and entirely free from the acid elements present more or less in all the ordinary tonics and stomachics of the day.

No family medicine has been so universally, and, it may be truly added, deservedly popular with the intelligent portion of the community, as HOSTETTER'S BITTERS.

Prepared by HOSTETTER & SMITH, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Sold by all Druggists, Grocers and Storekeepers everywhere.

HELMBOLD'S
GENUINE PREPARATIONS.

COMPOUND FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU, a Positive and Specific Remedy for diseases of the Bladder, Kidneys, Gravel, and Dropsical Swellings.

This Medicine increases the power of Digestion, and excite the Absorbents into healthy action, by which the Wtaery or Calcareous depositions, and all Unnatural Enlargements are reduced, as well as Pain and Inflammation.

:o:

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU.

For Weaknesses arising from Excesses, Habits of Dissipation, Early Indiscretion of Abuse, attended with the following symptoms:—

Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power,
Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing,
Weak Nerves, Trembling,
Horror of Disease, Wakefulness,
Dimness of Vision, Pain in the Back,
Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System,
Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body,
Dryness of the Skin, Eruptions on the Face,
Pallid Countenance.

These symptoms, if allowed to go on, which this medicine invariably removes, soon follows

Impotency, Fatuity, Epileptic Fits,

In one of which the patient may expire.

Who can say that they are not frequently followed by those "Direful Diseases,"

"INSANITY AND CONSUMPTION."

Many are aware of the cause of their suffering, BUT NONE WILL CONFESS THE RECORDS OF THE INSANE ASYLUMS.

And Melancholy Deaths by Consumption bear ample witness to the Truth of the assertion.

The Constitution once effected with Organic Weakness requires the aid of Medicine to Strengthen and Invigorate the system,

Which HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU invariably does. A Trial will convince the most skeptical.

:o:

FEMALES—FEMALES—FEMALES.

In many Affections peculiar to Females the EXTRACT BUCHU is unequalled by any other remedy, as in Chlorosis or Retention, Irregularity, Painfulness, or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated Scirrhous state of the Uterus, Leuchorrhoea or Whites, sterility, and for all complaints incident to the sex, whether arising from indiscretion or Habits of Dissipation, or in the

DECLINE OR CHANGE OF LIFE.

:o:

Take no more Balsam, Mercury, or unpleasant Medicines for unpleasant and dangerous diseases.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU AND IMPROVED ROSE WASH CURES

SECRET DISEASES.

In all their Stages, At little Expense.
Little or no change in Diet. No inconvenience.
And no Exposure.

It causes a frequent desire and gives strength to Urinate, thereby Removing Obstructions, Preventing and Curing Strictures of the Urethra, allaying Pain and Inflammation, so frequent in this class of diseases, and expelling all Poisonous, Diseased and wornout Matter.

Thousands upon Thousands who have been the Victims of Quacks, and who have paid heavy fees to be cured in a short time, have found they were deceived, and that the "POISON" has, by the use of "Powerful Astringents," been dried up in the system, to break out in an aggravated form, and perhaps after Marriage.

Use HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU for all affections and diseases of the URINARY ORGANS, whether existing in MALE or FEMALE, from whatever cause originating and no matter of HOW LONG STANDING. Diseases of these Organs requires the aid of a DIURETIC. HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU IS THE GREAT DIURETIC, and is certain to have the desired effect in all Diseases for which it is Recommended.

Evidence of the most reliable and responsible character will accompany the medicine.

Price $1.00 per bottle, or six for $5.00.

Delivered to any Address, securely packed from observation.

Describe Symptoms in all Communications.

Cures Guaranteed! Advice Gratis!!

Address letters for information to

H. B. HELMBOLD, Chemist,
104 South Tenth-st., bel. Chestnut, Phila.

HELMBOLD'S Medical Depot.
HELMBOLD'S Drug & Chemical Warehouse.
594 Broadway, New York.

BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS AND UNPRINCIPLED DEALERS who endeavor to dispose "of their own" and "other" articles on the reputation attained by

Helmbold's Genuine Preparations.
" " Extract Buchu.
" " Sarsaparilla.
" " Improved Rose Wash.

SOLD BY

ALL DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE.

ASK FOR HELMBOLD'S. TAKE NO OTHER.

Cut out the Advertisement and send for it.

AND AVOID IMPOSITION AND EXPOSURE.

December 16, 1863.—1 yr.

Coe's Superphosphate of Lime.

BRADLEY'S TOBACCO FERTILIZER.

For sale by the Manufacturer,

W. L. BRADLEY.

SALE OFFICE,

24 BROAD ST., BOSTON.

PAMPHLETS containing testimonials in favor of Coe's Superphosphate of Lime as a Standard Manure, and Bradley's Manual on the Culture and Curing of Tobacco, with illustrations, can be had by addressing the undersigned.

WM. L. BRADLEY.

☞ Highest Cash Prices paid for Bones.

Boston, April 13, 1864. 3m

GENTLEMEN'S HATS,

Spring Styles,

AT

J. A. JACKSON'S.

A large and choicely selected assortment of

FINE SOFT FELT HATS,

CLOTH HATS AND CAPS,

For Men and Boy's Wear.

101 COURT ST.,

April 13.—3m. BOSTON.

CHILDREN'S CARRIAGES.

WE have on hand a very large stock of Children's Carriages, comprising every vasiety of style, from the

CHEAP WILLOW CAB

TO THE

FINEST NEW HAVEN GIG.

ALSO

PERAMBULATORS!

of various qualities.

REPAIRING, in all its branches, promptpromptly attended to at the OLD STAND,

No. 180 Essex street, Salem.

HENRY F. SKERRY.

April 20.—3m.

CURRIER & MILLETT,

Dealers in

Furniture, Chairs,

MATTRESSES, FEATHERS, &

259 & 261 ESSEX ST.

Salem, dec 14—1y

H. & H. G. HUBON,

WASHINGTON STREET, SALEM

Manufacturers of

Rose Wood, Mahogany, Black Walnnt and Stained Wood

COFFINS and CASKETS.

MAKING this our exclusive business, we are ready at all times and at the shortest notice to furnish Grave-Clothes of various styles, as well as Coffins and Caskets of the finest finish. Personal attention given, and delivered without extra charge to any of the neighboring towns. All orders by express or otherwise will receive prompt attention.

Black Walnut and White Wood Boards, Plank and Joists for sale.

dec 14—tf

WALKING MADE EASY.

CORNS.

DR. P. KENISON,

CHIROPODIST,

215 Washington St., Boston,

Cures Hard and Soft Corns, Bunions, Club Nails, Nails penetrating the Flesh, Warts, &c., in a manner that will satisfy the most incredulous.

CHARLES S. BUFFUM,

BEING an authorized UNDERTAKER of South Danvers, will attend Funerals in said place with his Hearse the same as the Town Undertaker. Will also attend Funerals, when desired, in any of the neighboring towns, with one or a pair of horses.

He also furnishes Coffin Caskets, Robes, &c., lower than city prices.

All branches of the business attended to, such as furnishing Coaches, Flowers, Laying Out, &c. Ice Preservers furnished.

All orders promptly attended to, and personal attention given to them. Articles delivered to any of the neighboring towns free of charge. Orders by express or otherwise will receive prompt attention.

Central street, South Danvers,

RESIDENCE 25 ELM STREET.

South Danvers, Feb 17, 1864.

Undertaker's Notice!

THE subscriber being regularly appointed as Undertaker of South Danvers, would respectfully notify the public that he has removed from Central Street, to No. 80 Lowell Street, where he may be found in readiness to attend funerals, and to furnish, when desired.

HENRY SPENCER.

February 10, 1864.

E. S. FLINT,

Manufacturer and Dealer in

INNER SOLES,

AND SHOE STIFFENINGS OF ALL KINDS.

2 MAIN STREET, SOUTH DANVERS.

AGRICULTURAL WAREHOUSE.

Parker, Gannett & Osgood,

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL DEALERS IN

Agricultural Implements, Seeds,

FERTILIZERS, &c.,

INCLUDING THE FOLLOWING:

Plows,
Harrows,
Cultivators,
Corn Planters,
Horse Hoes,
Hay Cutters,
Corn Shellers,
Churns, all patterns,
Meat Cutters,
Sausage Stuffers,
Field & Garden Rollers,
Road Scrapers,
Grindstone Fixtures,
Hoes,
Manure Forks,
Shovels,
Spades,
Fan Mills,

Lard Presses,
Vegetable Cutters,
Railway and Sweep Horse Powers,
Threshing Machines,
Hay Presses,
Cider Mills,
Garden and Canal Barrows,
Mounted Grindstones,
Cheese Presses,
Folding Ladders,
Horse Rakes,
Palmer's Horse Pitchforks,
Axes,
Grass Hooks,
Garden Trowels.

BUCKEYE MOWING MACHINES,

Grass, Garden, Flower and Field Seeds,

Guano, Coe's Super Phosphate Lime, Pouderette, Ground Bone, Fish Guano, &c., at the Lowest Prices.

No. 49 North Market street, and 46 Merchant's Row, Boston.

April 27, 1864.——3m.

WM. C. HENDERSON,

MANUFACTURER OF

PLAIN AND FANCY

PAPER BOXES;

No. 235 ESSEX STREET,

Sign of "Nest of Boxes,"

july 23 SALEM. tf

A LECTURE FOR YOUNG MEN.

Just published, a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical cure (without medicine) of SPERMATORRHŒA, or Seminal Weakness, Involuntary Seminal Losses, IMPOTENCY, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc.; also, Consumption, Epilepsy and Fits, induced by self-indulgence or sexual extravagance.

☞ Price, in a sealed envelope, only 6 cents.

The celebrated author in this admirable essay clearly demonstrates from a thirty years' successful practice, that the alarming consequences of self-abuse may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine or the application of the knife—pointing out a mode of cure, at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

This Lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land.

Sent under seal, in a plain envelope, to any address, POST-PAID, on receipt of six cents, or two postage stamps. Address the publishers,

CHAS. J. C. KLINE & CO.,
127 Bowery. New York, Post Office Box, 4586.

January 16—8mos.

Abbott's South Danvers & Salem

EXPRESS.

Leave South Danvers, - - - 7½ a m, 1 p m
Leave Salem, - - - 10 a m, 4 p m

Orders left at Teel & Moulton's, and principal stores on Main street, South Danvers; and at 7 Washing on street, and at Reed's in the Market, Salem.

Are you Insured?

THE subscriber would respectfully call your attention to the fact that he is fully prepared to effect INSURANCE AGAINST FIRE, to any amount, at current rates, on

Dwelling Houses, Barns and their contents, Stores, Stocks of Goods, Furniture, &c. &c., and on buildings in process of erection,

And that he is the authorized Agent for the following responsible Stock and Mutual Companies, viz:

Thames Insurance Co., (Stock,) Norwich, Conn.
Capital—$500,000.
Amos W. Prentice, Pres. Oliver F. Rice, Sec'y
Conway Insurance Company, (Stock) Boston.
Capital and Surplus—$260,000.
James F. Whitney, Pres. David C. Rogers, Sec'y.
City Insurance Company, (Stock) Boston.
Capital—$150,000.
Samuel P. Hayward, Pres. Austin W. Benton, Sec'y

Also, will effect Insurance on the LIVES OF INDIVIDUALS, for one year, seven years, or for the whole term of life, in the

Massachusetts Mutual Life Ins. Co., Springfield, Mass.
Capital and Assets—$375,000
Caleb Rice, Pres. D. B. Bacon, Sec'y.
William Mack, M. D., Medical Examiner.

WM. ARCHER, Jr.,
18 Washington st. and 34 Front st., Salem.

feb20-1

ALWAYS SUCCESSFUL!

TO ALL THOSE WHO SUFFER FROM

DEBILITY AND SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

DRS. CARSWELL & HUNTER, regularly educated, highly eminent and successful practitioners, after a very extensive practice in Boston, for over twenty years, need hardly speak of their medical qualifications, or remind strangers not to class them with a set of uneducated men, who fill the papers with their boasting advertisements. Drs. C. & H. caution the public against quackery in all its forms, pretending, as some selfstyled doctors, to cure all the most difficult and chronic diseases, without knowledge of the human system, or of the modus operandi of the most simple drugs.

Drs. C. & H., since 1840, having confined their whole attention to an office practice for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, they acknowledge no superiors.

CONSTITUTIONAL DEBILITY OR SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Drs. C. & H. are pre-eminently successful in the treatment of the above most difficult and perplexing of all diseases, this complaint being the result of a secret habit in youth; if neglected or improperly treated, it proves one of the greatest evils that can befall a human being. Dr. H. has given particular attention to the above disease for years, and so thoroughly has he become acquainted with the pathology and treatment, that he will warrant a perfect cure under forfeiture of $500; in fact, he will, in the cure of this complaint, acknowledge no superior in this country, or even in the world. Come, then, all you who are afflicted, come to the Old Stand, where you will in a short time be made to rejoice in perfect health.

SYPHILITIC AND SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS,—such as Ulcers and Caries of the throat and nose, Running Sores on the legs and arms, Hard Scabs and Scaly Eruptions on the head, back, &c., pains in the bones and joints, and all other forms of venereal diseases—are made to yield and entirely disappear under Drs. C. & H.'s improved and thoroughly eradicating course of treatment.

The primary or first symptoms of disease, whether a simple running, or small pistules, cancers, or ulcers, are cured in a very few days, if immediate application is made to Drs. C. & H.

13 ENDICOTT STREET, BOSTON. 13

Strangers should be particular in the selection of a physician, lest they be deceived by false advertisements.

Ladies troubled with irregularity, weakness, whites, and other complaints peculiar to the female system, will find a speedy cure by calling as above. No mercury used, and no charge for advice. The afflicted are invited to give us a call.

Boston, April 20, 1864.—1 yr.

25 YEARS' EXPERIENCE enables DRS. CARSWELL & HUNTER to cure any diseases of a private nature in a shorter space of time and for a smaller amount of money than any other doctors in this country, and they also treat all female complaints with perfect success, and on the most satisfactory terms. Patients furnished with board if desired. Please give us a call at our office, No. 13 Endicott St., Boston, Mass.

Boston, April 20, 1864.—1 yr.

E. R. PERKINS,

PHOTOGRAPHIC ARTIST

241 Essex Street, Salem.

Patent Ambrotypes, Stereoscopes,

Photographs, Sphereotypes, Melainotypes and patent ea ~~ter~~ Pictures, of varous sizes, taken with all the improvements of the art. Portraits, Miniatures, Engravings, &c., accurately copied. Viewstaken when esired.

jan 11

SUMMER ARRAN

TO

LYNN & BOS

BY

OMNIBUS & HOR

W. F. BURNHA

Line of Omnibuses will leave the Omnibus Office, No. 6 Allen's Bui vers passing down Main Street, thr Street, to Lynn, daily—Sundays ine

Leave South Danvers at 7 50 o'c and 4 50 P. M

Leave Lynn (Horse Car Depot, W A. M., 2 40 and 6 40 P. M.

Horse Cars leaving the office at at 8 15 A. M., 1 15 and 5 15 P. M., wi buses at Lynn, at the above name passengers to South Danvers.

Tickets to Lynn,
Through to Boston,

Gravesend, Woodend, a Depot Route.

ON and after Monday, Nov 2, in a route, an Omnibus will leave So Lynn, to connect with the steam times daily,—Sundays excepted.— Gravesend and Woodend, to the Ce and Horse Railroad Station, corne Broad Streets; leaving South Danver necting with the 7.25 steam cars fo (connecting with the 11.10 train), an ing with the 4.50 train); and return from the Spring Street Station and pot, at 8 A M, and 1 and 6 P. M.

Fare from S. Danvers to Boston by
" " "

Through Tickets to and from Bo the Drivers and Conductors.

South Danvers, Salem Route.

THE subscriber having purchased ley the Omnibus line running Lynn, would announce that it wi Stage Office, No. 6 Allen's Building, for Salem, at 7 30 A M, and 2 30 P M Stage Office in Central St, Salem, 3 30 P M for Lynn. Returning will le A M and 5 P M; and Salem for South A M and 6.15 P M.

Passengers between South Danvars be called for by leaving orders at the Passengers called for at reasonable is given at the office.

EXPRESS BUSIN

Between South Danvers and Lynn ed to, on reasonable terms.

Extra Coaches furnished at short no

W. F. B

South Danvers, April 20, 1864.

CROUT & MUNF

SOUTH DANVERS &

RAILROAD EXP

Express leaves South Danvers at
Freight " " at
Express leaves Boston at
Freight " " at

OFFICE at FREIGHT DE
Danvers Square.

Express Office in Boston, 3 Wash
Freight Office, 48 Kilby

Particular attention paid to re niture, collecting Bills, Notes, Dr

Smallest favors thankfully received.

South Danvers, august 26—tf

MARSHALL

DANVERS, SO. DANVERS

EXPRESS.

Leave DANVERS (daily) at 9 A. M.
" SALEM at 1½ P. M.

OFFICES:

In Danvers—At E B Waitt's and the P
Danversport—Richards' and A W Warr
In So. Danvers—Francis Dane & Co's, street.
In Salem—No 7 Washington street, 199 17 Derby Square.

All business promptly and faithfully a

—— Our patrons are particularly write their orders.

—— Packages left at the office should "Marshall's Express."

—— Being connected with the RA are enabled to forward Notes, Drafts collection, and small packages, to a point in the United States, at the

P. G. M

decl8-tf

WEBBER'

South Danvers & Salem Mai

WILL leave South Danvers at 7½ a 1½ and 5 P. M.

Leaves Salem at 8.45 A. M., 12 M., 2½ a

Slates will be found in South Danvers Office, and at Blake & Holman's store ment, and in Salem at the Coach Station Street, and at E F & J W Roberts', corne Washington Streets.

Any packages or business entrusted t will have prompt attention and care. A lic patronage is solicited.

PARKER

Important to the Affl

DR. DOW continues to be consulted Nos. 7 and 9 Endicott street, Boston eases of a

PRIVATE OR DELICATE NAT

By a long course of study and practica of unlimited extent, Dr. D. has now the of presenting the unfortunate with re have never, since he first introduced the cure the most alarming cases of

GONORRHŒA AND SYPHIL

Beneath his treatment, all the horrors and impure blood, Impotency, Scrofula, Ulcers, pain and distress in the regions tion, Inflammation of the Bladder and K drocele, Abcesses, Humors, frightful Sw the long train of horrible symptoms at class of disease, are made to become as the simplest ailings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr. D. devotes a great part of his time ment of those cases caused by a secret habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfortunate individual for business or soc of the sad and melancholy effects produc habits of youth, are Weakness of the limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness o pitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervo rangement of the digestive functions, S Consumption, &c The fearful effects o are much to be dreaded; loss of memory of ideas, depression of spirits, evil aversion of society, self-distrust, timidi among the evils produced. Such persons fore contemplating matrimony, consult a experience, and be at once restored to happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under Dr. ment a few days or weeks, will be furn pleasant rooms, and charges for board mo

Medicines sent to all parts of the count directions for use, on receiving descrip cases. Dr. Dow has also for sale the Frenc warranted the best preventive. Order or $1 and a red stamp.

CAUTION

TO FEMALES IN DELICATE HE

DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, 7 an street, Boston, is consulted daily for all d dent to the female system. Prolapsus Ute ing of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Suppressio er menstrual derangements, are all treate pathological principles, and speedy relief in a very few days. So invariably certain mode of treatment, that most obstinate yield under it, and the afflicted person so in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater exper cure of diseases of women and children, other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for patients wish to stay in Boston a few days under ment.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his tention to an office practice, for the cure Diseases and Female Complaints, acknow superior in the United States.

N. B.—All letters must contain four red they will not be answered.

Office Hours from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.

CERTAIN CURE

IN ALL CASES, OR NO CHARGES

Dr. Dow is consulted daily, from 8 a m as above, upon all difficult and chronic every name and nature, having by his unw tention and extraordinary success gained a which calls patients from all parts of the obtain advice.

Among the physicians in Boston, none st in the profession than the celebrated DR. 7 Endicott street, Boston. Those who nee vices of an experienced physician and surge give him a call. P. S.—Dr. Dow imports a sale a new article, called the French Secr by mail. Two for $1 and a red stamp.

April 20, 1864—1y.

BRACKET'S POLISHING PO

THE best article out for House Clean poses—for sale by je8 S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS, 32 Fr

South Danvers Wizard.

OL. V. SOUTH DANVERS, MASS., WEDNESDAY, JUNE 22, 1864. NO. 25.

E SOUTH DANVERS WIZARD
ished every WEDNESDAY, at Allen's Build-
uth Danvers Square.
s—Two Dollars a year.
RTISEMENTS inserted at reasonable rates.

CHARLES D. HOWARD,
DITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

R. NILES, Advertising Agent,
Scollay's Building, Court Street, Boston, is
ent for that city, and is authorized to redvertisements and subscriptions for us at
est rates.

able Real Estate for Sale,

ESTATE of the late THOMAS BAN-
OFT, situate on Boston Street, Salem, ed for sale. It consists of a two and a ry building, the upper story finished onvenient dwelling of eight rooms; the story for a store, suitable for most any r mechanical business, having been oc-for a retail variety store for the last ears; and also a large lot of land, which s 76 feet on Boston Street, and extends Beaver Street 166 feet. It is sufficient ee house lots, in addition to that oc-by the building. The building, with a part of the land, will be sold separate, ed. For terms, apply to
T. F. BANCROFT, Lynn, Mass.,
s Office. March 16—tf.

ISS. S. E. MACKINTIRE.
TEACHER ON
NO FORTE
RESIDENCE,—22 Holton Street,
South Danvers.

ECTACLES!

SKERRY wishes to call special at-tion to his stock of
tacles and Eye Glasses,
—Silver—Rubber—Steel and Horn
f which he keeps constantly on hand ge assortment embracing every style ty.
— ALSO —
Glasses, Microscopes, &c.
re-set, and Spectacles repaired.
re, our usual assortment of Silver and are, and Jewelry.
180 Essex Street, Salem.
H. F. SKERRY.
—tf.

W. WILKINSON,
DEALER IN
papers, Periodicals, and
ery of every Description.
N and DOMESTIC FRUITS, con-
of Oranges, Lemons, Dates, Figs,
., &c.
Pickles and Preserves; Castana, Na-nglish Walnuts; Hard, Soft and Pal Almonds; choice brands of Tobacigars; also a general assortment of
ery of every description.
arge and well selected stock of Toys,
r children and the Holiday Gifts.
m furnished to parties at short no-quantities to suit. Wedding Cake variety of nice cake furnished to families.
—WARREN BANK BUILDING.
anvers, Nov'r 11, 1863.

SEKEEPERS, ATTENTION!
ACKSON'S
N FURNISHING ROOMS,
MECHANIC HALL, Salem.
about commencing House-Keeping is the only place in Salem where a sortment of House-keeping articles
d. Dec 9—6w

ANUAL FENOLLOSA
TEACHER
OF THE
Piano and Singing,
ROOMS, No. 7 Central Street,
SALEM, MASS.

BRAY, No. 76 Federal St.
ILKS—Heavy Black Silks for Laide Garments;
GAAMS—New Styles;
ODS, different styles, lawns, bareges very pretty—French and English;
GLOVES and HOSIERY;
g at the very Lowest Prices.
ANN R. BRAY, 76 Federal st.

e Railroad Notice.
after FRIDAY, May 27th, single the Salem and South Danvers l be six cents.
of eighteen tickets will be sold
s on the South Salem Branch will
, and packages of twenty-five tickld for $1.00.
Children between the ages of 3 and d for Scholars attending school, r cents, or twenty-five tickets
e 1, 1864. M. H. HALE.

O LET.
HOUSE on Foster Street,
elonging to the estate of the late enjamin Goodridge. For terms pply at the house.
JAMES L. GOODRIDGE,
f Adm'r.

BEST ASSORTMENT
Colored Grounds, neat Patterns,
d in the city.
ANN R. BRAY, 76 Federal st.

TE LEAD IN CANS.
EAD put up in cans of 3, 5 and ach, at
E A SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

MORRIS'
RESTAURANT,
18 and 20 Derby Square, Salem.

Oysters, Clams, Steak, Poultry, Game, Fish, &c., &c., cooked to order.
Pickled Oysters, Lobsters and Clams.
Salem, July 22, 1863. tf

FURNITURE.

HAVING taken the Store No. 10 FRONT STREET, (formerly occupied by BENJAMIN COLMAN,) I shall keep constantly on hand a large stock of
NEW AND SECOND-HAND FURNITURE,
BEDDING, COUNTING-ROOM DESKS, &c., &c.,
which I will sell cheap for CASH.
ALL KINDS OF FURNITURE NEATLY REPAIRED.

☞ All kinds of FURNITURE and BEDDING wanted—for which the highest Cash price will be paid.

P. J. HYNES, 10 FRONT-ST.
Salem, April 6, 1864—1y

DR. S. O. RICHARDSON'S
Blood-Root Elixir

Has been thoroughly tested and proved in his medical practice, for a period of THIRTY YEARS, and is now presented to the public as an effectual cure for

COSTIVENESS,

AND THE BEST REMEDY EVER PREPARED FOR

DISEASES OF THE LIVER,
SCROFULA,
All Humors and Impurities of the Blood and Diseases of the Skin.

The preparing and combining the BLOOD-ROOT ELIXIR is attended with results to medical science next in importance to inhalation of ether in surgery. Roots and plants, in themselves pungent and disagreeable, are, by a new and scientific process of extracting (in vacuo,) rendered MORE EFFECTIVE IN THEIR OPERATION, entirely divested of the griping and distressing pain which attends the action of all other purgative medicine.—They are also made to become highly

PLEASANT AND AGREEABLE TO THE TASTE,

and by their peculiar combination work so perfectly in HARMONY WITH NATURE that no unpleasant reaction will follow its operation. It also possesses

A DIFFUSIVE AND ALTERATIVE EFFECT,

which can only be attained by medicine in a fluid state. These are new elements in purgative medicines.

The hard and compact manner in which Pills are prepared, renders them indigestible—and, when taken, are forced through the Stomach and Bowels, half dissolved, causing only PARTIAL ACTION, thereby creating irritation and pain to the parts connected with their passage.

One Pill dissolved secundum art m, will produce more medicinal and physical effect than five in a crude state.

The BLOOD-ROOT ELIXIR has no partial action upon the bowels, but is equally diffused there, and throughout the whole circulation of the Blood, imparting a healthy and invigorating action to the STOMACH AND BOWELS, LIVER, LUNGS, KIDNEYS, and gently stimulating dermant and morbid secretions throughout the whole system.

A single dose will produce a cheerful and exhilarating COMMOTION, which will inspire the patient with confidence, and assurance of IMMEDIATE RELIEF. A continuance for a short period will DRIVE the obscure and hidden humors to the surface of the skin, and relieve or check SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS—and by thus purifying and strengthening the Blood, will remove the most fruitful

CAUSE OF CONSUMPTION.

It incites the various organs of the system to act their alloted part, removing the causes which induce RHEUMATISM and NEURALGIA, HEADACHE, LOSS OF APPETITE, DYSPEPSIA, COSTIVENESS, and the various diseases which arise from a derangement of the Stomach and Bowels, and restricted circulation of the Blood.

COUGHS AND COLDS, in their early stages, will immediately yield to the effect of the Elixir.

The BLOOD-ROOT ELIXIR contains no mineral, no pernicious botanical element, no excitant, but stimulates the secretions by its mild and diffusive action. It is an effective and painless aperient—has a decided salutary action upon the Liver, and there has been no medicine prepared for common family use which possesses equal merit.

Travellers both by sea and land, will find the Elixir a complete antidote for the evils which they are obliged to endure, from a change of climate of water of diet.

See the pamphlet around each bottle for a history of the Elixir.

The proprietor of the BLOOD-ROOT ELIXIR, (Dr. S. O. Richardson,) has been long and favorably known to the public by his celebrated SHERRY-WINE BITTERS, the best tonic medicine ever discovered, and which has been in use over thirty years He is a graduate of the New Hampshire Medical College, and many years associate member of the Massachusetts Medical Society,—and has made the study of medicine his profession since 1820.

And so fully convinced is the Doctor of the wonderful curative effects of his BLOOD-ROOT ELIXIR, that he hereby offers to each and every person who will use ONE-HALF OF A BOTTLE of his ELIXIR, and not be CONSCIOUS of a good effect therefrom, to REFUND to said person the FULL amount which he paid for the same, by returning the ullage bottle to his office.

Price $1.50 Per Bottle!

Sold by Apothecaries and Dealers in Medicines, and at the Doctor's Office,

51 & 53 HANOVER ST., BOSTON.
May 11—3ms.*

MOZAMBIQUES,

AT 20 cents per yard; a nice quality at 30 cents per yard; White Striped Muslins; Striped Cambrics; Nainsooks—just received.

In Lawns we have a first rate assortment; other styles of Thin Goods—making our assortment as good as can be found in the city, selling at the lowest cash prices.

Ann R. Bray, 76 Federal Street.
June 1.

FLOUR.

200 BBLS "Keystone;" 100 bbls Faquis "Invincible," received this day, and for sale by
may 25 GAYLE & CO., Phillips Wharf.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS.

HEAD-QUARTERS, BOSTON, May 31, 1864.

GENERAL ORDER, No. 17.

In anticipation of a call from the United States Government for troops to fill up the organizations in the field, the Chairmen of the Selectmen of the several towns, and the Mayors and Aldermen in the several cities of the Commonwealth, are hereby continued as recruiting officers.

Recruits must be delivered at Faneuil Hall, Boston, or at such other places as may be hereafter designated, without expense to the State or the United States.

They will there be mustered into the United States Service by Officers appointed for that purpose by Maj. F. N. CLARKE, Chief Mustering and Disbursing Officer for Massachusetts, where a receipt will be given for them, which will properly accredit each recruit to the Quota of the city or town to which he has been assigned; or, if the municipal officers prefer it, they may deliver recruits to the Provost Marshal of the district in which they reside, who will muster them into the United States Service, and accredit them to the places to which they are assigned.

A premium of $10 for a new recruit, and $15 for a veteran who has been at least nine months in active service, will be paid by the United States to the recruiting officer, appointed for each town, and ward of cities, as soon as the recruit shall have been received at Gallop's Island, and a receipt returned to Capt. Hiram Dryer, United States Disbursing Officer, No. 2 Bulfinch Street, Boston.

Each recruit will be enlisted according to the regulations heretofore established and issued, from these Head-quarters, blanks for which will be furnished upon application to the Adjutant-General.

No Minor whose Parents or Guardians reside in the State, can be paid the State Bounty, without the written consent of such Parent or Guardian.

A Commissioner will be in attendance at Gallop's Island who will take the allotment of any portion of the Soldiers' pay and bounty, and it will be forwarded by the Treasurer of the Commonwealth, free of expense to the parties to whom it is allotted.

The State Bounties will be paid at Gallop's Island on at least two stated days in each week, and in all cases will be paid to the recruit himself. No orders for any portion of the Soldiers' bounty will hereafter be accepted or received by the State Paymasters.

By order of His Excellency JOHN A. ANDREW, Governor and Commander-in-Chief.

WILLIAM SCHOULER, Adj't-Gen'l.
June 8—3w

CARRIAGES
OF ALL KINDS
REPAIRED AND PAINTED
— BY —
JOHN C. BLANEY,
Rear of Lowell Depot, Central St.,
So. Danvers, April 6, 1864.

NEW BOOKS.

AT G. M. WHIPPLE & A. A. SMITH'S.

The Gold Hunter's Adventures; or, Life in Australia, by a returned Australian, illustrated by Champney.

The Bridal Eve, by Mrs. Emma D. E. N. Southworth.

Denise, by the author of 'Mademoiselle Mori.'

History of the Rebellion; its Authors and Causes, by Joshua R. Giddings.

Memoirs of the Christian Labors, Pastoral and Philantropic, of T. Chalmers, D. D L. L. D., by F. Wayland.

Chambers' Journal—Good Words—Harper and other Magazines.

je 15 190 Essex street.

PIN WORMS. MRS. OSBORN'S Universal Worm Powders are the only sure cure ever offered to the public. They are warranted in every case; relief within 24 hrs. 25 cts. per box. Sold by all druggists

For sale by D. P. GROSVENOR, Jr., 33 Main St., South Danvers. jan 27

Horse Railroad Notice.

On and after MONDAY, May 9, the cars of the Salem and South Danvers Railroad Co. will leave

South Danvers for Salem and Beverly at 6.35, 6.55, 7.15, and 7.35, A. M., and every 20 minutes till 12.55 P. M., and at 1.10, 1.25, 1.40, 1.55 P. M., and every 15 minutes till 10.25 P. M. The 9.55, 10.10, and 10.25 P. M., cars will go only to Salem.

Cars will leave Beverly for Salem and South Danvers at 6.35, 6.55, 7.15, and 7.35, A. M., and every 20 minutes till 12.55 P. M., and at 1.10, 1.25, 1.40 and 1.55 P.M., and every 15 minutes till 10.40 P. M. The 9.40, 9.55, 10.10, 10.25 and 10.40 P. M., cars go only to Salem.

Cars leave Washington Street Station for So. Danvers at 6.12, 6.32 and 6.52 A. M. and every 20 minutes till 12.32 P. M, and leave Washington St. Station for Beverly at 6.17, 6.37, 6.57, A.M., and every 20 minutes till 12.37 P. M., and cars will leave Washington St. Station for South Danvers and Beverly at 12.45, 1, 1.15, and 1.30 P. M., and every 15 minutes till 10.00 P. M.

M. H. HALE,
may 11 Sup't. S. & S. D. R. R. Co.

ICE! ICE!!

THE undersigned would announce that he has made arrangements for running an

ICE WAGON

through South Danvers and Salem, the coming season, beginning MAY 1ST, and ending NOVEMBER 1ST.

☞ He will deliver ice made at BANCROFT'S POND, which is supplied mostly from the surplus water of SPRING POND. This ice cannot be excelled in point of purity and clearness.

☞ A share of patronage is respectfully solicited.

☞ Orders may be left at the Wizard Office, or sent by mail.

BYRON GOODELL.
South Danvers, April 13, 1864. 3m—is

JUST ARRIVED,
AT DANVERS MILLS,

500 Bushels Corn, in the minnie cob, and will be sold in South Danvers. Constantly on hand a large stock of meal, which will be sold at the lowest Salem prices.

— ALSO ON HAND —
500 Bushels Feed;
200 Bushels prime Northern Oats;
100 Barrels choicest Family Flour.
A good stock of LIME constantly on hand.

JOHN C. MOULTON,
Central St., South Danvers, Mass.
May 25—tf.

THOMAS PINNOCK,
SLATER,
SALEM, MASS.

Orders may be left at his Yard, No. 25 Peabody St., or at his house No. 6 Hancock street, South Salem.

Roofs covered with any kind of Slates, according to order. All work warranted.
Salem, May 7, 1862. tf

PARKS HOUSE,
(NORFOLK AVENUE,)
187 WASHINGTON ST.,
Near head of Milk Street, - - - Boston.
ROBT. E. DRAKE, Proprietor.
Formerly of Spooner & Co., U. S. Hotel.

GAYLE & CO.,
GENERAL COMMISSION MERCHANTS,
DEALERS IN
Flour, Grain and Produce,
Manufacturers' Agents for the sale of
Concentrated Leaven, Soda and Pearlash Saleratus, and Bi Carb. Soda.
PHILLIPS WHARF, - - - - Salem.

FOR NEW YORK via FALL RIVER AND NEWPORT. Cabin passage $5.00; Deck, $4.00. Cars leave the Depot of the Old Colony and Newport Railway, corner of South and Kneeland streets, at 5.30 P. M., daily.

For steamer METROPOLIS, Capt. W. Brown, on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

For steamer EMPIRE STATE, Capt. P. Brayton, on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays.

Passengers by this route can take the 4.40 P. M. Express Train, and arrive in Fall River one hour before the Steamboat Train, having time to secure State Rooms and make their preparations for the passage.

Passengers by this line going to Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, &c., can connect with the New Jersey or Camden and Amboy Railroad. Baggage Checked through.

☞ A baggage master accompanies the passengers through to New York. Tickets, Berths and State-rooms secured at this office, and at O. C. & Newport R. R. Station.

GEORGE SHIVERICK, Agent,
No. 82 Washington Street.
BOSTON, November 16, 1863.

From the army hospital—the bloody battle-field—the mansion of the rich and humble abode of the poor—from the office and the sacred desk—from the mountain top, distant valleys and far-off islands of the ocean—from every nook and corner of the civilized world—is pouring in the evidence of the astonishing effects of DRAKE'S PLANTATION BITTERS. Thousands upon thousands of letters like the following may be seen at our office.

REEDSBURY, Wis., Sept. 16, 1863.

"* * * I have been in the army hospitals for fourteen months—speechless and nearly dead. At Alton, Ill. they gave me a bottle of Plantation Bitters. * * * Three bottles restored my speech and cured me. * * *
C. A. FLAUTE.'

SOUTH WARSAW, O. July 28, 1863.

"* * * One young man, who had been sick and not out of the house for two years with Scrofula and Erysipelas, after paying the doctors over $150 without benefit, has been cured by ten bottles of your Bitters.
EDWARD WOUNALL.

The following is from the Manager of the Union Home School for the Children of Volunteers:

HAVEMEYER MANSION, FIFTY-SEVENTH ST.,
New York, August 2, 1863.

"DR. DRAKE: Your wonderful Plantation Bitters have been given to some of our little children suffering from weakness and weak lungs with most happy effect. One little girl, in particular, with pains in her head, loss of appetite, and daily wasting consumption, on whom all medical skill had been exhausted, has been entirely restored. We commenced with but a teaspoonful of Bitters a day. Her appetite and strength rapidly increased, and she is now well * *
Respectfully, MRS. O. M. DEVOE."

"* * * I owe much to you, for I verily believe the Plantation Bitters have saved my life.
REV. W. H. WAGGONER, Madrid, N. Y."

"* * * Thou wilt send me two bottles more of thy Plantation Bitters. My wife has been greatly benefited by their use.
Thy friend, ASA CURRIN, Philadelphia, Pa."

"* * * I have been a great sufferer from Dyspepsia, and had to abandon preaching. * * * The Plantation Bitters have cured me.
REV. J. S. CATHORN, Rochester, N. Y."

"* * * Send us twenty-four dozen more of your Plantation Bitters, the popularity of which are daily increasing with the guests of our house.
SYKES, CHADWICK & CO.,
Proprietors Willard's Hotel, Washington, D. C.

"* * * I have given the Plantation Bitters to hundreds of our disabled soldiers with the most astonishing effect.
G. W. D. ANDREWS,
Superintendent Soldiers' Home, Cincinnati, O.

"* * * The Plantation Bitters have cured me of liver complaint, of which I was laid up prostrate and had to abandon my Business.
H. B. KINGSLEY, Cleveland, O."

"* * * The Plantation Bitters have cured me of a derangement of the kidneys and urinary organs that has distressed me for years. It acts like a charm.
C. C. MOORE, 254 Broadway, N. Y."
&c. &c. &c. &c. &c.

The Plantation Bitters make the weak strong, the languid brilliant, and are exhausted nature's great restorer. They are composed of the celebrated Calisaya Bark, Wintergreen, Sassafras, Roots, Herbs, &c., all preserved in perfectly pure St. Croix Rum.

S.—T.—1860—X.

Persons of sedentary habits troubled with weakness, lassitude, palpitation of the heart, lack of appetite, distress after eating, torpid liver, constipation, &c. deserve to suffer if they will not try them.

They are recommended by the highest medical authorities, and are warranted to produce an immediate beneficial effect. They are exceedingly agreeable, perfectly pure, and harmless.

NOTICE.—Any person pretending to sell Plantation Bitters in bulk or by the gallon is a swindler and impostor. It is put up only in our patent log cabin bottle. Beware of bottles refilled with imitation deleterous stuff for which several persons are already in prison. See that every bottle has our private United States Stamp over the cork unmutilated, and signature on steel plate side label.

Sold by respectable dealers throughout the habitable globe.

P. H. DRAKE & CO.
202 Broadway, N. Y.
Mch 16—1 yr

Selected Poetry.

GRANT AT CHATTANOOGA.

There went up a wail of sorrow
From all the loyal land;
There went up a shout of triumph
From every rebel band—
For the banks of Chickamauga
Beheld our smitten host,
And the banks of Chickamauga
Made good the rebel boast.

And trade through all our cities
Was staggered by the blow,
And down, with its torn banner, fell
The nation's credit low.
In the market and the warehouse,
The pulpit and the press,
In the parlors and the highways,
Was seen the sore distress.

Good men beyond the ocean,
The poor of every soil,
And the negro, like a culprit,
Chained to his daily toil,
Felt, each one, the sad disaster—
Feared, each, a darker hour—
Feared, each, this cursed prestige
Of fell barbaric power.

How many a brave heart trembled;
Many a week one sighed;
Many a prayer was offered up
To turn the battle's tide,
Will our God forsake His children,
And turn away his face?
Will the cause of truth go under,
And crime usurp its place?

Will the fields of so much glory,
Will all the martyrs slain,
Will our history and altars
And all our hopes be vain?
Oh! for a sign in heaven,
Such as the Kaiser saw—
Oh! for some gifted hero,
His conquering sword to draw!

So some doubted and debated,
And marveled and deplored—
With unswerving faith, some waited
The justice of the Lord.
Soon, brighter than the morning fire,
His stately steps are seen—
Chariots, blazing with his ire,
Amongst the clouds careen!

Now! GRANT girds on his armor,
And leads his legions forth,
For in the fray that comes to-day
Jehovah's with the North!
And he bids his trusty captains,
That at the signal peal,
Their ranks shall scale, through iron hail,
The mountain sides with steel.

The columns, swiftly formed in line,
Move gaily o'er the field,
As if they know the haughty foe
Is sure to fly or yield.
And, rebels, now look to your works,
See that your aim be true,
For Grant commands those loyal bands,
And this is no review.

Full fierce the mighty struggle swells;
Death roars from every gun,
While through a flood of human blood
The rifle-pits are won.
Our forces follow up the steep,
Loud shouting as they go,
Nor heed the shots that, thick and hot,
Come crushing down below.

And when they gain the crested ridge
The clouds beneath them lie,
And down afar it seems a war
Of demons in the sky.
Round them rolls the sulphurous smoke
That follows ball and bomb,
While thunders boom as if the doom
Of all the earth had come.

They reach the very last redoubt,
Hell yawns at every fire;
Midst sword and lead, o'er piles of dead,
The rebel hosts retire;
And routed, scattered, and dismayed,
Far flee these lords of slaves,
While flashing bright, from every height,
The flag of freedom waves!

And honor, then, to all our men,
To leaders and to guard,
Who bared their life in mortal strife,
Or who kept watch and ward;
And praises to that good Being,
Whom nations must obey,
That He did bide, all by our side,
On Chattanooga's day!

Let holy tears bedew the graves
Of those who fell in fight;
Let marble stones, above their bones,
Salute the morning light;
Let History write in golden books;
Let bards with song enshrine;
Let women chant the name of Grant
And the glory of the Line!

Selected.

CANINE SAGACITY.—The New York World tells a story of wonderful canine sagacity. A Newfoundland dog in that city is accustomed to go daily to a news stand on the corner of Chambers street and West Broadway, and with open mouth and wagging tail, asks for a copy of the World, the animal being sent by his master on the errand. A day or two since, says the World, a Tribune was handed to the brute, instead of the accustomed paper, when the animal, with intense disgust, shown by his drooping tail and upturned snout, dropped the offensive sheet. The World thereupon moralizes; and advises that henceforth the Tribune be dedicated only to those stomachs that can withstand the dose. The advice is good, doubtless. But we would add, "Let the New York World continue to be thrown to the dogs."—New Bedford Mercury.

☞ Battle incidents are often manufactured to order, but the following is vouched for on the very best authority. On the occasion of the assault and surrender of Arkansas Post, January 11, 1863, after our forces had occupied the enemy's works, Colonel Malmborg, of the 55th Illinois infantry, whose regiment had been exposed to a galling fire during the assault, was roughly accosted by a rebel sharpshooter, who threw toward him his cartridge box, in the following style: "You are the old fellow that I wasted nearly all my cartridges on. I know you from that light-colored felt hat. There, take the balance of the cartidges—I make you a present of them." It is unnecessary to add that the cartridges, which proved to be of English manufacture, were carefully preserved by the gallant Colonel.

☞ The leaves of the forest are ill-bred.—They are always whispering in company.

RESOLUTIONS OF THE BALTIMORE CONVENTION.

The following Resolutions, reported by Hon. Henry J. Raymond, of New York, from the Committee appointed for that purpose, were unanimously adopted by the Union National Convention at Baltimore, week before last:—

RESOLUTIONS.

Resolved, That it is the highest duty of every American citizen to maintain against all their enemies the integrity of the Union and the paramount authority of the constitution and laws of the United States; and that, laying aside all differences and political opinions, we pledge ourselves as Union men, animated by a common sentiment and aiming at a common object, to do everything in our power to aid the government in quelling by force of arms the rebellion now raging against its authority, and the bringing to the punishment due to their crimes the rebels and traitors arrayed against it. (Prolonged applause.)

Resolved, That we approve of the determination of the government of the United States not to compromise with rebels, or to offer any terms of peace, except such as may be based upon an unconditional surrender of their hostility and a return to their just allegiance to the constitution and laws of the United States, and that we call upon the government to maintain this position, and to prosecute the war with the utmost possible rigor to the complete suppression of the rebellion, in the full reliance upon the self-sacrificing patriotism and heroic valor and the undying devotion of the American people to their country and its free institutions. (Applause.)

Resolved, That as slavery was the cause, and now constitutes the strength of this rebellion, and as it must be, always and everywhere, hostile to the principles of republican government, justice and the national safety demand its utter and complete extirpation from the soil of the republic. (Applause.) And that while we uphold and maintain the acts and proclamations by which the government, in its own defence, has aimed a death blow at this gigantic evil, we are in favor, furthermore, of such an amendment to the constitution, to be made by the people in conformity with its provisions, as shall terminate and forever prohibit the existence of slavery within the limits or the jurisdiction of the United States. (Applause.)

Resolved, That the thanks of the American people are due to the soldiers and sailors of the army and navy, (applause) who have perilled their lives in defence of their country and in vindication of the honor of the flag; that the nation owes to them some permanent recognition of their patriotism and valor, and ample and permanent provision for those of their survivors who have received disabling and honorable wounds in the service of their country: and that the memories of those who have fallen in its defence shall be held in grateful and everlasting remembrance. (Loud applause.)

Resolved, That we approve and applaud the practical wisdom, the unselfish patriotism and the unswerving fidelity to the constitution and the principles of American liberty with which Abraham Lincoln has discharged, under circumstances of unparalleled difficulty, the great duties and responsibilities of the Presidential office; that we approve and endorse, as demanded by the emergency and essential to the preservation of the nation, and as within the provisions of the constitution, the measures and acts which he has adopted to defend the nation against its open and secret foes; that we approve especially the proclamation of emancipation and the employment as Union soldiers of men heretofore held in slavery, (applause,) and that we have full confidence in his determination to carry out these and all other constitutional measures essential to the salvation of the country with full and complete effect.

Resolved, That we deem it essential to the general welfare that harmony should prevail in the national counsels, and we regard as worthy of public confidence and official trust those only who cordially endorse the principles proclaimed in these resolutions, and which should characterize the administration of the government. (Applause.)

Resolved, That the government owes to all men employed in its armies, without regard to distinction of color, the full protection of the laws of war—(applause)—and that any violation of these laws, or the usages of civilized nations in time of war, by the rebels now in arms, should be made the subject of prompt and full redress. (Prolonged applause.)

Resolved, That foreign immigration, which in the past has added so much to the wealth, development of resources and increase of power to this nation, the asylum of the oppressed of all nations, should be fostered and encouraged by a liberal and just policy.

Resolved, That we are in favor of the speedy construction of the railroad to the Pacific.

Resolved, That the national faith, pledged for the redemption of the public debt, must be kept inviolate, and that for this purpose we recommend economy and rigid responsibility in the public expenditures, and a vigorous and just system of taxation; that it is the duty of every loyal State to sustain the credit and promote the use of the national currency. (Applause.)

Resolved, That we approve the position taken by the Government that the people of the United States can never regard with indifference the attempt of any European power to overthrow by force or to supplant by fraud the institutions of any Republican Government on the Western Continent—(prolonged applause)—and that they will view with extreme jealousy, as menacing to the peace and independence of their own country, the efforts of any such power to obtain new footholds for monarchical governments, sustained by foreign military force, in near proximity to the United States. (Long continued applause.)

THE NEGRO.

The negro will fight. That fact ascertained, a great problem is solved. He goes into the service of his country with the consciousness that he has, probably, only one chance of escape from death—that of being alive with a victorious Union army. He may fall in honorable battle, but if he is taken prisoner he may be bayonetted or shot, even as he cries for quarter, and if not, returned to a slavery worse than massacre. Still he volunteers. He does not faint or falter. With all the chances, save one, against him, he shoulders his musket and marches cheerily into the red-hot hurricane of war. Oh, shame! lasting shame! upon the white man at home, who sees and states this thing, and can yet stain his lips with abuse of the negro and of the Government that employs him as an instrument in its work and duty of self-protection and self-preservation. If the black man was not invited into this contest, we should be the laughing-stock of the world; for no Government has ever hesitated to employ all its adult males, of whatever hue, in its armies. Could we escape universal contempt by pleading that we refused to use our blacks because they had been held as slaves by those who are laboring to cut our own throats? Hardly! Adjutant-General Thomas, who has been absent on another tour to the Southwest, organizing the released and forever-emancipated slaves, and in making them a part of the national forces, returned to Washington two days ago, to be present at the burial of his young and gallant son-in-law. He has with him some new proofs of the bravery and endurance of the blacks. They failed in no battle, disobeyed no orders, and aided no disaffection. The industrial process, the care of their families, and the cultivation of the cotton and rice plantations, is working slowly but surely into a system. Almost simultaneous with the arrival of General Thomas came Colonel Alexander Cummings, of Philadelphia, from Arkansas, where he had been sent by the War Department to bring the slaves into the army. His testimony is, if possible, more conclusive. It was the manumitted slaves of Arkansas who saved Steele's whole army from capture by the rebels under Price. A few days before that event, the rebels had deliberately murdered a number of colored soldiers in charge of a train of army wagons; and, when the relatives and friends of these butchered men had their turn, they executed a dreadful retaliation. They fought like gladiators, each for his own life, and each for the life of his enemy. Do not tell me that this is not Christian or civilized war. These blacks are human beings with immortal souls to save, and a just God to meet after death. The rebel chiefs must be taught that they cannot kill the colored men in the armies of this Republic as they would kill so many wild beasts; and also, if they do, upon their own heads be the bloody repayment of their own barbarity. A few more exhibitions of negro resolution on this subject will probably impress the lesson so strongly upon the rebel authorities that they will presently consider it a poor business to murder a negro and to be made to bear the expense of giving two white rebels as hostages for the philanthropic investment.

ELECTORAL VOTES.—The Worcester Palladium tabulates the Loyal States of the Union which are to elect the next President, as follows:

California,	5	Minnesota,	4
Connecticut,	6	Missouri,	11
Delaware,	3	New Hampshire,	5
Illinois,	16	New Jersey,	7
Indiana,	13	New York,	33
Iowa,	8	Ohio,	21
Kansas,	3	Oregon,	3
Kentucky,	11	Pennsylvania,	26
Maine,	7	Rhode Island,	4
Maryland,	7	Vermont,	5
Massachusetts,	12	West Virginia,	5
Michigan,	8	Wisconsin,	8
		Total,	231

Other States (some think,) may be in a condition to participate in the election, on or before the time comes, viz:

Arkansas,	5	Nevada,	3
Colorado,	3	Tennessee,	10
Louisiana,	7	Virginia, (part,)	5
Nebraska,	3
			36

The secessionists hold Alabama with 6 votes; Florida with 5; Georgia with 9; Mississippi with 7; North Carolina with 9; South Carolina with 6; Texas with 6; and part of Virginia, 6; in all, 54 votes. But it is not probable that there will be any voting in those States. Whole number in all the States, 321. Necessary to a choice, 161. The vote of the loyal States will be 231. Necessary to a choice, 116. Adding the 36 probable votes, the whole number of votes would be 267. Necessary to a choice, 134.

If no choice should be made by the people, the election would be made by States in the House; each State having one vote—13 being the majority in 24 States. If 7 more be added, as probable, the whole number would be 31, of which 16 would be necessary for a choice. The loyal States united can carry the election. Divided they might fail.

☞ The New York Sun says a little girl of that city, who is bedridden, prevailed upon her mother to buy her half a dozen fresh eggs. These she placed in her bed, and for some three weeks kept them constantly warm by the heat of her body. Thursday morning, the patience of the child was rewarded by a "clutch" of chickens.

☞ The transportation train of the Army of the Potomac would make a line of wagons sixty-two and a half miles in length, according to Gen. Meade.

☞ The women of Utah have recently altered the orthography of their creed. They now spell it Moremen.

☞ At the Monson State alms-house is a female contraband a dozen years old, with curly red hair.

The Wizard.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 22, 1864.

THE POLITICAL PROSPECT.

All the signs are favorable in the political sky for the success, and that triumphantly, of the LINCOLN ticket for the Presidency. The best signs, for a wonder, are to be found in the movements of our opponents. How fortunate was it that the Radicals held their Convention at Cleveland, and that Fremont wrote his suicidal letter accepting their nomination! How lucky, too, for the Republican party, that Villain-dig'em came back just in time to infuse his bad odor into the Democratic wigwam! We thank him for this and almost forgive him his treason to the country.

There is a hopefulness of success in the battle-fields, which cannot fail to unite the loyalists of the country in a strong and vigorous effort to continue in service our present wise and sagacious chief-magistrate. But whether successes or adverses come to our arms, ABRAHAM LINCOLN is the choice of the people, and he will be elected.

The condition of the once great and controlling Democratic party is a hopeful sign. The old hunker Democrats know not what to do. They are puzzled as to which direction to take. They despise Vallandigham as heartily as we do, yet he has unwisely been made so prominent in the party that they are almost afraid to soil their fingers by contact with him, while at the same time they feel that they must cling to him. Has he not been a martyr in their cause?

The party has lost its cohesive power. Its component parts have no agreement, no sympathy, no assimilation. They agree in nothing but opposition to LINCOLN, and they do not agree on the reasons for that. They are in a glorious state of betweenity. Scylla on one side, Charybdis on the other. Shall it be McClellan or Fremont, or shall it be neither? Grant would do, if they only knew he would stand, but he is known to be not in favor of swapping horses while crossing the stream. The gate is wide open and it is only for LINCOLN to walk in.

OUR STREETS.—We hear a great deal of complaint of the condition of our streets. The dry weather has changed what was once deep mud into an impalpable powder, and the atmosphere is filled with it. It is everywhere;—in our houses and shops, on our furniture, on our clothing and our lungs. Instead of good, clear, honest air, we inhale powdered granite, hornblende and porphyry, irritating the lungs and blinding the eyes. Where is the watering machine? If that cannot be forthcoming let us have the evil removed in another way. When the present layer of dust in our streets becomes mud again of the consistence of batter pudding (as it surely will at the next copious rain) let it be scraped off and put on our side walks. Thus it will not be lost, but improve the walking. Then put on some good material and for a time you have a good road. The best material, and in the long run the cheapest, for a road as much traveled as our Main street, is broken stone. Macadamise every year forty or fifty rods and the work will soon be done. A word to the wise, etc.

SMASH-UP AND NARROW ESCAPE.—On Saturday last, as the 10 o'clock Boston train was crossing the Square, the engine struck a wagon, or rather some posts projecting from the back part of a wagon, driven by Deacon THORNDIKE PROCTOR, of this town. Deacon Proctor was from Salem, and was crossing the Square on Central Street. Mr. Boynton, the flag-master, seeing him coming, waved his flag, but the wagon continuing to advance, he seized the horse's head to stop him, but was unsuccessful, being carried on over the track by clinging to the harness. The wagon itself had just cleared the track, when the engine struck the projecting posts, knocking the wheels to pieces and throwing off the top. Mr. Boynton was thrown some distance, and Deacon Proctor, who is over 75 years of age, was thrown upon his back into the wagon, almost without injury. As soon as the engineer of the train saw the wagon, he reversed the engine and put down the brakes. If he had not done so, the disaster would have been much greater. As it was, it was a very narrow escape, both for Mr. Proctor and Mr. Boynton.

STREET CROSSINGS.—Where are those nice granite street-crossings which were to be put down under the direction of the Selectmen? Now that the dust is very deep, and an excellent prospect by-and-by for deeper mud, there are a great many people who would like to see the crossings. They would be extensively patronized, especially by the ladies.

TRUSTEE'S REPORT.—The Twelfth Annual Report of the Trustees of the Peabody Institute is published, and any citizen of the town may obtain a copy on application to the Town Clerk or at the office of Messrs. Potter & Batchelder in Allen's Building.

MILITARY ITEMS.

JAMES RENNEX, of the 9th Mass, has returned home, wounded, but having served his three years and participated in all the battles in which the regiment has been engaged.

LEVI CURTIS, whom we reported last week as dead, we are glad to learn, is alive, his mother having recently had a letter from him.

ROBERT B. BANCROFT has arrived home, wounded. He was in a company of sharpshooters, and had obtained a position in a large tree, the better to get a view of the enemy, when he was struck in his side by the fragment of a shell, paralyzing the part struck.

ALBERT SHEPARD, of the 1st Heavy Artillery, is reported wounded in his breast, but no particulars have been received by his friends here.

Mr. ALPHONZO P. RHODES, late of Co. C, 5th Regiment, died on the 19th inst., aged 18 years and 10 months.

We hear also that EBEN M. JOHNSON, of the Mass. 1st Heavy Artillery, has been badly wounded and his death reported. He was the son of Mr. Francis Johnson.

SAFETY FROM FIRE.—It will be seen by the following action of our Board of Engineers that the experience of the late fires has not been wholly without avail. It seems that ample power is given the Fire Department by law to make efficient regulations for the safety of the community from ravages by fire, and to make them effectual to the end designed. Would it not be well, while looking for defective chimneys, to see if any are defective by not having the requisite height from the ground?

At a meeting of the Engineers, held June 7, 1864, it was VOTED, That Messrs. LITTLE and BARTLETT, the Committe chosen at a previous meeting to examine chimneys and furnaces, be hereby instructed to notify parties using boilers and furnaces, to cause the flues and ash pits to be cleaned out as often as once in three months; also, to notify persons having defective chimneys to cause the same to be suitably repaired.

GENERAL STATUTES, CHAP. 24, SEC. 30.—They may at any meeting establish such rules and regulations as they judge proper to prohibit or regulate the carrying of fire, firebrands, lighted matches, or other ignited materials, openly in the streets or thoroughfares of such town, or such parts thereof as they may designate, or to prohibit owners or occupants of buildings within their town, or such part thereof as they may designate, from erecting or maintaining any defective chimney, hearth, oven, stove, or stove-pipe, fire-frame, or other fixture, deposit of ashes, or any mixture or other material which may produce spontaneous combustion, or whatever else may give just cause of alarm or be the means of kindling or spreading fire.

ALARM OF FIRE!—We learn from the Chief Engineer of the Fire Department that there was quite a commotion, about 3 o'clock on Sunday morning, occasioned by an alarm of fire in the neighborhood of the Monument. A bright light was seen in a southwesterly direction, showing signs of a great conflagration near by. All the denizens of that region hastened to their windows and shouted anxiously "Where is it? Where's the fire? Go and get the engines!" and such like exclamations. The men had hardly time to pull on their nether garments, and the fairer sex to flatten their noses against the window panes, before it was discovered that the supposed conflagration was only the bright rays of the descending full moon! The cry of fire ceased, and that of "all out" was raised, but with small thanks to the Fire Department or the new steam engine.

NEWSPAPER CHANGE.—We see by the last Essex Statesman that Mr. MARCHANT has sold out his interest in the establishment to Mr. CORNELIUS O'SHEA, who bears an excellent reputation among printers, for integrity, industry and ability. The Statesman has always been printed in an admirable manner, and thus far does credit to its managers. We can congratulate Mr. O'Shea upon his new position in the craft without quarreling with him about the politics of his paper.

ADMITTED TO THE BAR.—At the present session of the Superior Court, holden at Salem, JOHN W. PORTER, Esq., of the firm of Porter & Hadley (War Claim Agents,) was admitted to practice in all the courts of this Commonwealth. If Mr. Porter should prove as successful in his legal practice, as he has been in the prosecution of Claims against the Government, he will stand high in the legal profession.

☞ The following was handed us, in good faith, by a son of the Emerald Isle. He said he got a lawyer to write some "lines on the death of his little boy, four days old," and this was the result. How much he paid for them we are unable to state, though in answer to his enquiries as to what "the verses" were worth, we told him that two cents was about right for the sell:

> Ittle darling, ducky baby,
> With his ittle puggy nose,
> And his ittle mouf and eyeses,
> He's turned up his ittle toes.
>
> He's so small we couldn't wake him,
> So ze folks all lost zair rum,
> But our ittle darlint's gone to > Whare ze meezles never come.

LORD TIMOTHY DEXTER.

We have before us an original statement, in the handwriting of this eccentric individual, of his property liable to taxation in Newburyport in 1804, which we copy below, verbatim, et literatim, et punctuatim. It is written in a crabbed hand, and we decipher it to the best of our ability; but, after all, it is a new "Pickle for the Knowing Ones." This lucid statement must have been a great aid to the assessors of that day, who probably understood it, and the writer of it, better than the men of this generation.

In his little book which he published, entitled "Pickle for the Knowing Ones," he used no punctuation marks in the body of the work, but put a large quantity on the last page, requesting the readers to "pepper and salt it as they pleased." He did not favor the assessors so much as this, and left them to find their own pepper and salt.

Timothy Dexter was a singular character, made up in unequal proportions of shrewdness, vanity, ignorance, ostentation and humor. He was a great bore to his acquaintances, an object of wonder to the common people, and of curiosity to all. Numberless anecdotes are related of him, some, doubtless, authentic, and many fabulous. His history and eccentricities, if written by a competent hand, would be eagerly sought, and would well pay the publisher:

"A List of what you have A Rite to tax me for first my hous
2 hosses 1 Cow 2 Dogs 2 Cats
1 Litel Clowey* 40 Wate Silver
1 hous in brod way 2700 Dollors papers in the Bank 2662 Sum goods 233
Sam Nap ous me 710 Dolors
a & E G See ous me 160 Dolors

	Dolors
money I ows in the old bank	1800
money in the Noue bank I ows	1300
I am Soued in broumley for land and taxes,	1266
——† is Soued in m behalfe by lort	1000
I ows 3 men to Recken taxes 112	595

Consider what is Rite in taxing the brig it taks 16 months to mak Redy for the peopel at Large there fore it is not to be taxed put it to be your one Case what is Rite is Rite all that is Rite I am the man Willing to pay
T Dexter"

*Cloe. A Negro woman.
†Illegible.

SOLDIERS' AID SOCIETY.

We take much pleasure in publishing the following correspondence, as it is highly honorable to the Directors of the corporation, who gave the entire receipts upon their road for one day to so sacred a purpose as aiding our maimed and disabled soldiers. This generous act proves that there are notable exceptions to the old saying, that "Corporations have no souls."

We can give them the fullest assurance that their liberal bounty will be faithfully applied to the excellent object for which it was bestowed:

SALEM & SO. DANVERS RAILROAD OFFICE,
SALEM, June 13, 1864.

MRS. HENRY COOK,—I take pleasure in handing you, as the representative of the South Danvers branch of the Sanitary Commission, a check on the Salem Bank for $108, being one-third of the receipts (both cash and tickets,) taken by the Salem and South Danvers Railroad Company on Wednesday last, for the purposes of said Commission.

The above sum includes, also, the wages of the employees of the road for that day, which were cheerfully contributed by them for this object, which lies so near every heart.

Very respectfully, yours,
GEO. D. PHIPPEN,
Treas. S. & S. D. R. R.

SOUTH DANVERS, JUNE 14, 1864.

GEO. D. PHIPPEN, Esq., Treas. Salem and South Danvers Railroad Co.,—DEAR SIR,—Your check on the Salem Bank for one hundred and eight dollars, being one third part of the amount received by the S. & S. D. R. R. Co. on Wednesday last for the benefit of the Sanitary Commission, is received.

For this noble and generous donation, the South Danvers Ladies' Soldiers' Aid Society would hereby express their most grateful acknowledgements, both to the R. R. Co. and their employees.

In behalf of the Society, very respectfully,
MRS. HENRY COOK, Pres.
MRS. G. A. OSBORNE, Sec.

STRAWBERRY FESTIVAL.—The ladies of the Calvary Church, in Danvers, will have a strawberry festival at the Town Hall of that town, on the afternoon and evening of Wednesday, the 29th inst. No pains will be spared to make the occasion both pleasant and interesting; and as the proceeds of the festival are to be appropriated to charitable purposes, we hope all who can will avail themselves of this opportunity of enjoying a luxurious repast, and at the same time assist our Episcopal friends in the execution of their beneficient enterprises.

GEMS FOR THE YOUNG.—We have upon our table a little work bearing this title, of which CHARLES NORTHEND, A. M., formerly of this town, is the compiler, which is really a gem. It is a choice selection of maxims and proverbs from Scripture and the best of secular authorities, containing in a brief form the condensed wisdom of all ages of the world. The object of the work is to store the mind—especially the youthful mind—with sterling truths and wise and virtuous sentiments, which cannot fail of producing good fruits and having a beneficial effect on the intellect and heart. Not only to the young, but to the adult person will the storing of these wise aphorisms be useful, and we commend it to the attention of all, both young and old. The compiler is entitled to the renewed thanks of all friends of education for this added contribution to the cause of which he has so long been the able advocate.

THE SANITARY COMMISSION.

There is an erroneous impression abroad that the great receipts from the various public Fairs in our large cities that this excellent and patriotic charity must be over-run with funds, and that in fact it will receive more than it can well bestow. So far, the real facts will show that these gigantic enterprises have had the effect to reduce the current receipts. So much has been the dependence upon them, that the smaller streams of aid have been dried up and the actual receipts have been lessened one-half. This is greatly to be lamented, as at the same time the money is less in amount, all the articles to be purchased are enhanced in cost. The managers of the Commission are exceedingly anxious on this account and desire to set the public right on this matter. They publish a statement, of which the following is an extract, showing that there is now, more than ever, urgent need that the friends of the soldiers should increase rather than relax their efforts:

"There is a good deal of pains taken in many quarters by persons who have never given the matter five minutes' examination, to spread this misapprehension as to the extent of our resources. It is constantly stated in public and private, that we have more money than we need, and that not only ought there be no more contributions made to us, but a portion of those which we have actually received ought to be devoted to the establishment of an asylum for invalid soldiers. There is nothing that we desire more than to be able to provide an institution of this kind. The subject has been long under consideration, and we are ready to take up work the moment we find we have something to spare after meeting the necessities of the battle-field. But we doubt if anybody will assert that the man who is lying mangled on the field, or in the hospital, has not the first and strongest claim on our assistance. As long as battles are occurring or likely to occur, such as the recent ones in Virginia, lasting twice as long and disabling twice as many men as anybody expected, and leaving miles of country covered with dead and dying, we certainly cannot take upon ourselves, and the public will not expect us to do so, to withhold from one sick or wounded man, on any pretence whatever, any assistance which he needs and which it is in our power to render. Our first duty is to assist in curing him of his wound, or his fever; our next, to assist in taking care of him afterwards. At present, we are only equal to the discharge of one of them; it remains with the public to say whether we are to discharge both.

"We do not doubt that much of the falling off in the contributions of goods, is due to the exhaustion of household stores and the enormous rise in the price of nearly every article of general consumption. To the mass of people, throughout the country it is undoubtedly harder to give now than it was two years ago. All we can say on this point is, that an increase of sacrifice and privation is the inevitable consequence of the prolongation of the war. The longer it lasts, the more we must all suffer, the citizen at home as well as the soldier in the field. We shall have every week a greater number of wounded and disabled men on our hands, whom it is our duty to take care of, and it is a duty which we cannot and ought not to shirk. It, no doubt, every day costs more to do it, but it is none the less sacred and imperative for all that. To this, people must make up their minds. We as well as the army in the field, have enlisted for the war, be it long or short.

"We are glad to say the indications now are that it will be very short. There is every reason to believe that the coming summer will put an end to all fighting on a great scale. If the military operations continue as they have begun, it is all but certain that we shall see them reduced by next November to mere police duty against guerrillas, leaving the Medical Department abundantly able to meet all demands on it, whether ordinary or extraordinary. During the interval between now and then, however, the Sanitary Commission will need, and earnestly requests from the public the same amount and the same kind of support which it has hitherto received. In other words, the Fairs have not rendered the regular collection and transmission of clothing, vegetables, stimulants, delicacies, linen, lint, and, in fact, of every article that sick or wounded men can need, one whit less necessary than ever."

☞ The body of Mr. Nathaniel Pitman, Co. D, 1st H. A., was received on Saturday, and the funeral took place at his late residence yesterday afternoon, Rev. Mr. Haskell officiating. There was a large concourse of people present, including the Engine Co. of which he was formerly a Director, but, in accordance with the wishes of the friends, no military escort. The hearse and coffin were covered with the American flag, the city flags were at half mast and the bells were tolled during the moving of the procession.—Register.

GODEY'S LADY'S BOOK.—Godey for July is received and is a "Hurra Number." Its colored illustrations are superb, and its new Robe Dresses must be very attractive to the ladies—and gentlemen also. It has a great variety of excellent patterns of dresses and trimmings got up in exquisite taste. In the literary department it has many fine articles, brief, piquant and agreeable. Godey is determined not to be beaten, and now is the time for subscribers to take hold of the best Lady's periodical in the land. This is the first number of the 69th volume.

☞ The Great Guns at Fort Lee gave us a specimen of their calibre late on Thursday afternoon. There had been a General Inspection of the garrison now quartered on Winter Island, and the 64 pounders at Fort Lee were discharged, giving as a feu de joie two rounds from four guns, in rapid succession. The discharges were heavy and caused quite a sensation in the city. —Salem Register.

☞ The Journal of Saturday evening has an authentic list of the casualties in the 1st Heavy Artillery to June 7. The regiment is in the 2d Brigade, Birney's (3d) Division, 2d Corps. The losses of enlisted men had been, killed, 58; wounded, 318; missing, 43—total, 419. The regiment is composed of three battalions, of four companies each, viz: F, K, B and H constitute the 1st; D, E, I and G the 2d; M, C, A and L, the 3d.

THE DANVERS MARTYRS.

The following are the names of Danvers soldiers who have been killed in battle, or died in the United States service:—

James M. Burrows,	17th	Regiment.
William H. Croft,	"	"
Simeon Coffin,	"	"
Ephriam Getchel,	"	"
James Hartley,	"	"
James E. Lowell,	"	"
Thomas A. Musgrave,	"	"
Allen Nourse,	"	"
Daniel Smith,	"	"
Frank Scampton,	"	"
Patrick Trainer,	"	"
Thomas Hartman,	"	"
Edwin Bickford,	40th	"
George H. Dwinnell,	"	"
William W. Jessup,	"	"
Charles E. Meader,	"	"
Samuel M. Porter,	"	"
William H. Parker,	"	"
George Woodman,	"	"
Charles H. Young,	"	"
William H. Channell,	"	"
Charles W. Dodge,	35th	"
Ambrose Hinds,	"	"
Joseph Woods,	"	"
Charles E. M. Welsh,	"	"
Sylvester Brown,	"	"
James W. Kelley,	23d	"
Moses A. Kent,	"	"
Isaac N. Roberts,	"	"
Hugh Cuthertson,	"	"
Edwin I. Getchel,*	14th	"
Levi Howard,	"	"
John Merrill,	"	"
William E. Shelden,	"	"
Milford Tedford,	"	"
Angus Ward,	"	"
Emerson Hall,	"	"
C. W. Goudy,	"	"
Serjt. J. P. Withy,	"	"
Lieut. James Hill,	33d	"
George A. Ewell,	12th	"
George W. Porter,	"	"
James Moran,	11th	"
Cornelius Sullivan,	"	"
Michael McAuliff,	"	"
Henry A. Smith,	19th	"
Robert W. Putnam,	"	"
Patrick F. Shay,	9th	"
Abial Howe,	8th	"
Thomas Collins,	"	"
William F. Gilford,	5th	"
John Shackley,	2d Heavy Artillery.
Alonzo Gray,	Salem Cadets.
George W. Peabody,	Reed's Mounted Rifle Rangers.

*Now the 1st Heavy Artillery.

It will be seen that the above list contains the names of fifty-four soldiers, who have been killed in battle or died while in the United States service; this is a loss of eighteen greater than that of our neighbor town, South Danvers, and probably much larger than that of any other town in Essex county, in proportion to its population. *

LETTER FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 18, 1864.

MY DEAR WIZARD,—It may seem presumptuous for a mere correspondent to attempt a letter from the national capital, when your editor has been here so recently in propria persona, and before his footsteps have been erased from Pennsylvania Avenue—especially as his interviews with the President, "and all others in authority," must have given him peculiar opportunities for learning those state secrets that are veiled from common eyes—but I may, at least, be permitted to indicate our regret at his departure and the sudden gloom that overcast the city when the light of his countenance departed from us. And still the affairs of state move on in their wonted course; the Treasury busies itself with obtaining loans and manufacturing "greenbacks;" Secretary Seward continues to use his diplomatic foils with foreign Counts and to put off a general reckoning until our hands are clear of domestic rebellion; the Post Office Department still grants us the boon of regular correspondence with distant friends, though a whole plank in the Baltimore platform was aimed at its august head; the "Interior" grants pensions to the widows and the maimed, and lands to the adventurer and the landless. Thus you perceive that the restoration of your editor to his patrons, however we may miss his presence, does not stop the wheels of government nor leave us as inconsolable as was Calypso at the departure of Ulysses, for the simple reason that our occupation is left, which serves to drown our sorrows in a world of cares.

The most important event in our city for several weeks past was the ratification meeting last Wednesday night. I never saw more perfect preparations made for such an occasion, or a more complete fulfillment and carrying out of the programme in all its particulars. There were mottoes, transparencies, illuminated balloon ascensions, fireworks, and last, but not least, a galaxy of good speakers and an immense and enthusiastic crowd of listeners, such as never before greeted a like occasion in Washington. The principal orators were Judge Edmonds of Michigan; Judge Kelley of Pennsylvania, now one of the ablest and most earnest members of Congress; Senator Lane of Indiana, a Kentuckian by birth and the most eloquent Senator of them all, and exceeded by few in his zeal for the great cause of human liberty; Senator Howard of Michigan; the Hon. J. W. Patterson from New Hampshire, among the most promising M. C.'s from New England; Mr. Denio from California, and Ex-Governor Randall of Wisconsin. There was the true ring in all their speeches, and—how strange a thing south of Mason and Dixon's line!—no sentiment was so well received and so vociferously applauded as that which denounced slavery as the source of all our troubles, and which must be eliminated from the body politic, at whatever cost, before it can again become convalescent. This strange anomoly was also witnessed at the great ratification meeting in Baltimore just one week before, and we learn by this morning's papers that the echo has reached Nashville and that our chosen candidate for Vice President is what would three years ago have been called an ultra abolitionist. Thus the world moves and this great revolution (for it is, in fact, a revolt of the honest instincts of the people against the attempted propagandism of slavery,) takes no step backward, but with determined faith and lofty mein, stalks forward towards the enfranchisement of a race in chains, so that no longer shall our high and sounding professions of freedom be mocked by that one institution that has ever been eating, like the vulture which tormented Prometheus, at the very vitals of the Republic. If this hope be realized, the blood and treasure poured upon our country's altar will not have been unavailing, the tremendous sacrifice will not have been in vain, but future generations will look back upon this blood-red page of history and feel that

> "Sweet are the uses of adversity,
> Which, like the toad, ugly and venomous,
> Bears yet a precious jewel in its head."

The army of the Potomac has just completed another strategic move, and the first results are announced in the capture of Petersburg. General Grant has shown himself to be as full of resources as he is quick and decisive in executing his purposes. "Spades to the rear and bayonets to the front" is the aggressive principle upon which he acts, and acts so promptly as to puzzle if not out-wit his antagonist. In a former letter I predicted that Richmond would be ours by the 4th of July, and though that prediction seems in doubt of being realized, yet I will back the prophecy of the President at the great Fair in Philadelphia, that Grant will not let go his present hold until the rebel capital shall fall into Union hands. This is the belief, but more earnestly the wish, of

Yours, etc., DELTA.

SOUTH DANVERS, JUNE 21ST, 1864.

DEAR WIZARD,—Thinking that a few extracts from my memorandum of the last campaign may interest some of your readers, I send the following:

MAY 3D, 1864.—In obedience to orders we destroyed our winter quarters and were about to erect comfortable summer shelter, when we heard "from a reliable source" that the army was expected to move before the next morning, which caused a change of programme, and we only put up temporary shelter for the day. It was also reported that everything at the station was being packed up—a sure sign of a general movement. In the evening the order came, but we "turned in" for a few hours rest and were not called until half past eleven. We took six days' rations, broke camp, and commenced the march without delay, in a south-eastern direction. Once more, and for the fourth time, on towards Richmond. We marched rapidly and with short rests (with the exception of a half hour for making coffee,) until half past ten the next morning, when we reached the river at Ely's Ford. We were not the first there, however, for several lines of our troops could be seen on the opposite cliff, resting, with apparent indifference, as though the enemy was not near; our advance was evidently some distance beyond. After a short rest we crossed the river and climbed the opposite bank, which was steep and difficult of ascent. Another rest and we resumed our march on the road to Chancellorsville, reaching the nearest part of the old battle field at quarter past two o'clock. Here we rested for the night, and moved to the Chancellorsville House the next morning at five o'clock, halting near the scene of our engagement a year ago. At eight o'clock we moved by a zig-zag road in a southern direction, through dense woods. After marching four or five miles we turned to the west, and soon after towards the north-west, going two or three miles further, where we formed line of battle by the road-side, in dense woods, facing south-west. We were ordered to construct a breast work, but before completion the order was countermanded by Gen. Hancock, and soon after came the order to advance. Our Division advanced about a quarter of a mile, when we met the enemy, but our line being much broken in the movement through the dense woods and under-brush, the ground was held but a short time, when we fell back to the unfinished breast work. The third Division of our corps advanced soon after and a part of the lost ground was recovered. We completed the breast work and remained behind it until four o'clock the morning of the 6th, when we took part in an attack by the whole corps. The action seemed to commence on the extreme right and soon extended along the whole line through our corps, which formed the left. Our brigade was in the second line of battle until twelve o'clock, when the line in front was withdrawn, (having exhausted their ammunition,) and ours became the front line. Our company was deployed as skirmishers and advanced to within range of the rebel entrenchments, which were on the top of a sharp ascent. Only a few shots were fired and the rebels seemed disposed to remain quiet, unless attacked. The line of battle had halted and was resting, when a sudden and furious attack was made from the left on the troops in our rear. Our regiment was faced by the rear rank, wheeled to the left, and faced about to meet the attack, but in so doing the formation was broken, and other lines, as well as our own, were confused. A rapid fire, however, was kept up as we fell back to re-form, but just as a favorable spot was reached, the rebels were encountered coming from an opposite direction, and now the confusion became greater. Between two fires, a disorganized mass was moving rapidly towards the rear, but obliqueing somewhat to the right. The firing was continued, and the enemy did not gain ground without considerable loss. Our loss at this time must have been great, and it is probable that a considerable number were taken prisoners. The entrenchments were finally reached and the men rallied in squads. About forty of our Regiment, under command of Capt. McDonough, rallied with a part of the brigade and were placed in the second line of entrenchments—half a mile to the right of our position the last night, and about seventy-five yards in rear of the first line. The remainder of our Regiment rallied at a point some distance further to the right. The rebels were checked at half past two o'clock, soon after which the various Regiments and Brigades were re-assembled and order once more restored. Up to this time the fighting by our corps had been done almost entirely by infantry, there being no good position for artillery, except for a few pieces on the main road. Some artillery could be heard at intervals, apparently near the extreme right. The volleys of musketry were terrific, resembling the prolonged roll of thunder. The woods were on fire in several places, filling the air with dense clouds of smoke. We strengthened our entrenchments and prepared for an attack, which came at ten minutes past four. Encouraged by their success, the enemy made a furious assault, and after an hour's hard fighting the first line of entrenchments was yielded. Again we became engaged, and after firing a few rounds, charged, recapturing the first line of entrenchments, taking some prisoners and colors. The rebels retreated precipitately, leaving us in possession of the field. Two pieces of our artillery in the main road were lost, but almost immediately re-taken. During the night and next day (Saturday,) we were left in undisp and in quietness, with the exc casional shot by the skirmishe tillery on the extreme right four o'clock extensive change the position of brigades and d
the evening troops from the ext
menced the march to Spott House.

LETTER FROM THE SC

The following letter has our hands; but although for publication, we ventur to our readers. It is from source and does justice to troops, as well as giving narration of operations
River:—

Head-Quarters 3d Mass. Cavalr
Morganza Bend, La.,

DEAR FRIEND,—We were a last accounts, May 3d. We h engagements since that time, in was present, and saw the re thrashed. The accounts of i regular retreats and panics of t begin to come to us from the N that has been published concern of bodies of troops in this wa than that the cavalry fled befor any of the engagements of this the battle of the 7th, the cav engaged and beat back the battle of the 8th, after the re 10,000 reinforcements, the cav pushed forward and fought th until overcome by superior numb belonging to the cavalry divis forward so far to the front by that the artillery could not pas fell into the hands of the rebs, w ing back the cavalry. The r driven back, and Gen. Banks g paratory to the prosecution of but Gen. Franklin succeeded, arguments, in persuading Gen back. Next day the rebs made rate attack at Pleasant Hill, driven back; but Gen. Frank ceeded in making Gen Banks re determined that Gen. Banks ceed. Gen. Banks, evidently, h back-bone, but when he saw F he (Franklin) was sent away.
river began to fall, it was too lat loss by again advancing. The backed up by a dam, built upon (very difficult to do,) in order to boats over the falls and rapids.

Our Adjutant has written an part taken by the 3d Mass. Cav engagements, which will probab in some of the Boston papers.
notice the fact (although he much of it,) that our brigade, knowledged by the rebs them first they have ever been wh under artillery fire. On the 16t (standing beside our Colonel) drawn up in line of battle, st never flinch, while the shell fro tery were piling up the horses in disabling some of our men; whi cover of this fire, a whole bri cavalry was advancing steadily umns. This brigade and batter off the field by no other force ment and two pieces of light ar
ing to the 4th Brigade, to wh
To this, and to many other inst deportment on the part of the 3 an eye-witness. To other sta here also, I have the best right swear and vouch for, having he the Head-quarters of Maj. Ge Maj. Gen. Franklin, where my me when on flag of truce duty when on such duty, spent con within the rebel lines and am erals, whose acknowledgments conduct on the field I have hear

Our army is re-organized an destination assigned, which you lished before long.

☞ The Watch Company at W is now turning out a watch in e utes, or one hundred and fifty pe

Clothe your boys at 240 a money.

Now is the time to clothe y
240 is the place to find the Good

☞ Persons wishing to subscri
Morning papers, can do so by ap
D. P. GROSV

TWO BOYS WANTED to le
ing Business, at
F. S. PECK'S, 240

Port of Dan

Ar 12th, schs C. Williams, G
Floyd, Rackett; J S Whelden,
Potter, Shepherd, and O. F.
from Philadelphia; Helena, H
15th, J M Freeman, Ryder, and M
Philadelphia; 16th, Milton, R
York; Accommodation, Alexand Day, Bangor.

Marriages

In Salem, June 8th, Mr. Nic
Miss Mary Cornwall, both of Sa
Michael Ferguson to Miss Ann of Danvers; 14th, Mr. Willian to Miss Hattie S, daughter of terson, both of Salem.

In Beverly, June 14, Mr Warr to Miss Asenath Haskell.

In Marblehead, June 16, Mr An to Miss Rachel F. Freeto.

Deaths.

In this town, June 15th, Mrs.
29 years.

16th, Mrs. Eliza S, wife of the Hammond, 46 years 4 months.

19th, Alphonzo P. Rhodes, 18

In Danvers, June 14th, Jacob of Boston, 46 years.

In Salem, June 15th, Ellen, da late Mr. Stephen Byrne, 6 years
Mrs. Mary Young, 56 yrs; Ch son of the late Mr. Henry Nolan 17th, Nellie Augusta, daughter and Louisa M. Lummus, 3 years
Mary Jane, daughter of Zacaria
Ledger, 20 months.

In Beverly, June 17th, Mr.
monds, 76 years 7 months.

In Marblehead, June 14th, daughter of Lot and Betsy Pea
15th, Joseph W, son of the late
31 years.

Killed in the battle of Coal
George Woodman of Danvers, 37
ber of Co. B, 40th Mass. Regimen

ade Dress Frocks and Sacks—
$30, $28, $27, $25, $24, $22, $20, $16, $15, $14, $13, $12, $11, $10,
$8, $7.50, $7, $6.50, $6. $5.50, $5,
& Co.'s One Price Clothing House
ock Square, Boston.

ade Pants $11, $10. $9, $8.50,
$7, $6.50, $6, $5.50, $5, $4.50, $4,
$2.75, $2.50, at Bennett & Co.'s
Clothing House, 14 and 15 Dock
ston.

arment marked in plain figures, at Co's One Price Clothing House, 14
k Square, Boston.

s made to order at Bennett & Co.'s Clothing House, 14 and 15 Dock
ston.

lothing —largest stock — greatest Bennett & Co.'s One Price Clothing
and 15 Dock Square, Boston.

s received for Lewando's French
M. E. CRANE.
tf

Osborne's Store, and look at the riety of new styles in Hats and
Essex street.

Hats and Caps at 240.

's Furnishing Goods, 240 is the place latest styles best goods, at the lowest

ARD TO INVALIDS.

an, while residing in South America as a iscovered a safe and simple remedy for Nervous Weakness, Early Decay, Diseases
y and Seminal Organs, and the whole train brought on by baneful and vicious habits.
rs have been already cured by this noble mpted by a desire to benefit the afflicted ate, I will send the recipe for preparing is medicine, in a sealed envelope, to any s it, Free of Charge. Address
JOSEPH T. INMAN,
STATION D, BIBLE HOUSE,
New York City.

MONIAL.—If you wish to marry, ad-ndersigned, who will send you, "without without price," valuable information that ou to marry happy and speedily, no matter ugly or how poor. This is a reliable af-formation will cost you nothing; and if marry, I will cheerfully assist you. All ly confidential. The desired information n mail, and no questions asked. Address
SARAH B. LAMBERT,
Greenpoint, Kings Co., N. Y.

REAT ENGLISH REMEDY.
IR JAMES CLARKE'S
RATED FEMALE PILLS!

rom a prescription of Sir J. Clarke, M.
sician Extraordinary to the Queen.
known medicine is no imposition, but a l safe remedy for Female Difficulties and from any cause whatever; and, although remedy, they contain nothing hurtful to
on.
of Nervous and Spinal Affections, pain and Limbs, Fatigue on slight exertion f the Heart, Hysterics, and Whites, these ect a cure, when all other means have although a powerful remedy, do not , calomel, antimony, or anything hurtful ution.
ctions in the pamphlet around each ich should be carefully preserved.
particulars, obtain, free, of the agent, a Sold by all Druggists.
d States Agent,
MOSES, 27 Cortlandt St., New York.
and 6 postage stamps enclosed to any gent, will insure a bottle, containing over eturn mail. March 9, 1864.—1 yr.

number of years have elapsed since uction of HOSTETTER'S CELE-BITTERS to the public. The pre-sting in the minds of many persons at are denominated patent medicines eatly retarded its sale; but, as its d merits became known, this barrier e was overthrown, and the demand o rapidly that in a few years scarce-ge existed in the United States in afflicted had not experienced the sing from the use of the "Bitters," e present day there are to be found ARTS OF THE WORLD vouchers at merits of the article. No greater yspepsia can be found. See adv't.
e by Druggists and dealers generally ju 1—1m.

dvertisements.

STANDING
ASS & GRAIN
T AUCTION.

e farm of the late Hon. Daniel King, at
T DANVERS JUNCTION,
Y, June 27, 1864, at 9 o'clock, A. M., old in lots to suit purchasers, the Grass on forty acres of Upland, and s of Meadow Land. Also, the Oats ey on about twelve acres.
JOEL A. ABBOTT, Auctioneer.
, 1864.

and South Danvers ilroad Company.

nual Meeting of the Stockholders of ompany will be held at the Directors'
Creamer's Block, No. 243 Essex st.,
WEDNESDAY, 29th inst., at 3
M., for the following purposes, viz, hear the report of the Directors.
elect a Board of Directors for the en-
r.
act upon the recent amendments to er.
decide upon an increase of the Capi-act upon any other business that may me before them.
GEORGE D. PHIPPEN,
Clerk of the Stockholders
June 22, 1864.

NEW BOOKS,

M. WHIPPLE & A. A. SMITH'S.
tomac and the Rapidan. Army Notes he Failure at Winchester to the Rent of Rosecrans, 1861–3, by Alonzo with the Youngest, No 1, by Mary ill.
crifice, by the author of Margaret ipple of Antioch, and other Scenes istian Life in Early Times, by author
nberg Cotta Family."
an's Philosophy of Woman; or, Wo-ncipised, an answer to Michelet, etc, D'Hericourt.
nner Boy, and how he became Lt Gen.
ts of Personal Religion, being a trea-he Christian Life in its elements, deractice, by Ed. Myrick Colburn, D.D.
G M WHIPPLE & A A SMITH.

NEW WHITE WARE.

ER. Tea and Toilet Ware, of Edwards' pattern, Ribbon Border, at C & E A SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

JUST RECEIVED

—AT—

ARNOLD & HUTCHINSON'S,

100 BARRELS

of those favorite

ST. LOUIS BRANDS OF FLOUR,

Direct from the Mills, will be sold at the

WHOLESALE PRICE, FOR CASH.

South Danvers, June 8, 1864.—4w

List of Letters

Remaining in the Post Office at South Danvers, June 21, 1864. [Persons calling for these letters will please say they are advertised.]

James Robins	N. T. Lee
Denis Shehan	Mary Anne Locke
Jophet Deir	H. C. Emerson
Mary E. Price	Sarah A. Friend
N. M. Quint	Hannah Curtis
Edwin A. Parrott	A. B. Cross
A. P. Pope	M. W. Cavonaugh
Jeremiah O'Donnell	James Bray,
Catharine Murphy	Miss Bohomoh
Hannah A. Wentworth.

N. B. These letters are subject to an additional postage of one cent.

DANIEL WOODBURY, P. M.

WARREN BANK.

U. S. 10-40 BONDS.

Orders left at this Bank for the purchase of the U. S. 10-40 Bonds, will receive prompt attention.

FRANCIS BAKER, Cashier.

South Danvers, June 1, 1864.

CARPETS.

THOMAS W. DOWNING & CO.

Have now in Store a splendid Stock of

Carpets, Oil Cloths,
Stair Carpets, Straw Mattings,
Cocoa Mattings, Rugs,
Mats, Paper,
Linings, etc., etc.,

which they offer at the very lowest Cash Prices.
April 13. 179 Essex Street.

SPRING AND SUMMER GOODS.

168 ESSEX STREET.

We invite the attention of the Ladies of Salem and vicinity, to our

New Millinery Goods.

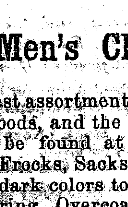
Ladies' and Children's
BONNETS AND HATS,
in all desirable styles.

Crapes, Silks, Ribbons, Feathers, French Flowers, and Laces.

A full assortment of Straw Goods, Mourning Bonnets, Veils, Collars, &c., constantly on hand at the lowest cash prices.

M. E. CRANE,
Successor to M. M. Fletcher.

Salem, April 6, 1864.



Men's Clothing.

The largest assortment, the Latest Styles, the best Goods, and the LOWEST PRICES, as usual, can be found at ☞ 240 ☜. Black and Fancy Frocks, Sacks, Pants and Vests, in light and dark colors to match—all sizes and prices. Spring Overcoats, Light and Dark Linen Dusters, $1.75 to $3.75—size, 34 to 50. If you wish to purchase a good suit of Clothes, light or dark, call at F. S. PECK'S.

Boys' Clothing.

Those who have Boys to Clothe, are particularly invited to call and examine the New Styles Coats, Pants, Vests, Jackets and Suits, in light and dark colors, which we have made expressly for our trade. We have pieces of the same or Cloth by the yard. Also, a large assortment of Cheap Sacks, Pants, Vests, Jackets and Suits, which will be sold low. If you have Boys to Clothe, the place to save your money is at

F. S. PECK'S,

240

Essex Street, Salem.

Gent's Furnishing Goods.

In this Department can be found the Latest Styles and Best Goods. White and Fancy Shirts, $1.50 to $4.00; Silk Shirts and Drawers, $1.75 to $4.00; Merino Shirts and Drawers, Hosiery, Gloves, Braces, Roman Scarfs, Ties—new styles, Collars, Umbrellas, &c. N. B.—We offer our Kid Gloves, spring colors, for $1.75 per pair, to close—the same as are sold round town for $2.25. Also a lot which are a little spotted, for 37c, 75c and $1.25 a pair. They are bargains. 240 is the place to buy Gent's Furnishing Goods.

Hats and Caps.

SPRING STYLES FOR 1864. Those who wish to purchase Hats or Caps, either Men's or Boy's, can find a large assortment of the Latest Styles and best quality. Goods at the Lowest Prices. The public are respectfully invited to call and decide whether 240 is the place to buy Hats and Caps.

BRUSHES.

A FULL stock of Brushes of every description, at
je22 S C & E A SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

FEATHER DUSTERS,

Of all sizes, from 10 to 26 inches, just opened at
je22 S C & E A SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

CHINA GOODS.

Gold Band Tea Sets; Fancy do.; Vases; Match Boxes; Fruit Baskets, etc., at
S C & E A SIMONDS',
je22 32 Front St., Salem.

PEABODY'S,

220 ESSEX ST., SALEM.

RIBBONS.

Rich Maize Ribbons—all widths;
Rich Plaid Scarf Ribbons;
Rich Black Ribbons—all widths;
Rich Plaid Bonnet Ribbons;
Rich Plain Bonnet Ribbons;
Hat Ribbons—all colors and widths;
Taffeta Ribbons—in all widths;
Narrow Plaid Ribbons—pretty.
Our Stock of Ribbons is full and choice, and we are selling them at our usual low prices.

FLOWERS.

Rich and Choice Flowers—all colors;
Real French Flowers—pretty styles;
Choice Buds and Single Flowers;
Outside Flowers in new styles;
Flowers in every new variety;
Flowers at much less than Milliner's prices.
We have a large stock of Flowers in all the choice varieties, and at very low prices.

RUCHES.

Grey Edged Ruches and Tabs;
Grey and White—double—Ruches and Tabs;
Black and White Illusion Ruches and Tabs;
Black Cord Edge Ruches—long and short;
White Cord Edge Ruches—long and short;
Cotton Ruches—in black, white and grey.
We have our usual full stock of Ruches at our usual low prices.

VEILS! VEILS!

Real Point Lace Veils—new patterns;
Black Aplique Lace Veils—pretty;
Black Pusher Lace Veils—new;
Black French Lace Veils—all prices;
Black Crape and Love Veils—mourning;
Black Lace Veils—with crape folds;
Grenadine Veils—in all colors;
Grenadine and Tissue—for veils;
Black and White Lace Veils—new patterns.
Our stock of Veils is very large and desirable in prices from 50c to $8 00.

LACE GOODS.

Black Silk Figured Laces;
White Silk Figured Laces;
Robbinet and Wash Blonde Laces;
Illusion Laces—all qualities;
Brussels Twist Net Laces;
Silk and Joined Blonde Laces;
Lace Collars—Sleeves—Veils, &c.
In this department we can show a full stock of the most desirable goods, at prices that will be sure to suit.

EMBROIDERIES.

Wrought Cambric Edgings and Insertings;
Wrought Cambric Bands and Flouncings;
English Thread and Valenciennes Laces;
Wrought Collars and Sleeves to match;
Wrought Waists and Robes for Infants;
Wrought Hdkfs—in all styles and prices;
Wrought Hdkfs—worked in colors—pretty.
We pay particular attention to this department, keeping it at all times full of choice goods.

HOSIERY.

Cotton Hose—for Ladies and Children;
Misses' Hosiery—in all sizes;
Fancy Hosiery—in all sizes;
White and Mode Hose—Ladies' sizes;
Silk and Lisle Thread Hosiery;
Cotton Hosiery—in every variety.
Cotton Hosiery;
Cotton Hosiery;
Cotton Hosiery;
Cotton Hosiery.

GLOVES! GLOVES!

Our best Kid Gloves—new invoice;
Black Kid Gloves—in all sizes;
Kid Finished Silk Gloves;
Lisle Thread Gloves—in all colors;
Children's Gloves—in all sizes and colors;
Mourning Gloves—in great variety.
We have a very large stock of Gloves in all the desirable styles, and at the lowest possible prices.

BUTTONS.

Ball Buttons—gilt and silvered;
Ball Buttons—black—all sizes;
Silk and Crochet Buttons—all colors;
Rubber and Porcelain Buttons—all sizes;
Jet and Steel Buttons—the new styles;
Pearl and Agate Buttons—all sizes;
Bugle Buttons—for Cloaks, &c.
We have a very large stock of Buttons in all the newest styles.

TRIMMINGS.

Bugle and Bead Gimps—all widths;
Quill'd Ribbons—all colors—only 20 cts.;
Mohair Braids—all colors—all widths;
Black Silk Braids—all widths;
Black Brussels Laces—for trimmings;
Embroidery Braids—in all colors;
Silk Cords and Bodice Lacets.
In this department we can show a fine stock. As fast as anything new appears in the market, it will be found on our counters.

SUN UMBRELLAS.

14 inch Sun Umbrellas—Black and Brown.
16 inch Sun Umbrellas—Black and Brown.
18 inch Sun Umbrellas—Black and Brown.
20 inch Sun Umbrellas—Black and Brown.
22 inch Sun Umbrellas—Black and Brown.
Rich Sun Shades.
Rich Sun Shades.
Rich Sun Shades.
Rich Sun Shades.
Rich Sun Shades.

JET AND STEEL GOODS.

Brooches in Plain Jet and Jet and Steel.
Brooches in Leather and Steel—Gilt and Jet.
Bonnet Pins—in black and steel.
Bonnet Pins with black and shells.
Jet and Steel Pin and drops to match.
Gilt and Jet Pins—Crosses, &c.
We have a new stock of these goods in all the new styles and at the lowest prices.

HANDKERCHIEFS.

Wrought Handkerchiefs—in all prices.
Wrought Edge Grass Cloth Handkerchiefs.
Hem'd Linen—Wrought in colors.
Mourning Hdkfs—in choice styles.
Linen Cambric Hdkfs—in all prices.
Gents Hdkfs—in cotton, linen and silk.
Gents Hdkfs—pretty colored borders—25 cts.
In this department we have a nice stock for Gents' — Ladies' — Misses', and Childrens' use.

FANCY GOODS.

Leather Shopping Bags—in all sizes.
Elastic Band Wallets—large stock.
Soaps—Perfumes—Cosmetiques, &c.
Sterling's Ambrosia—for the hair.
Hair, Nail and Tooth Brushes.
Puffs—Boxes—Powders—Soft Brushes, &c.
The largest stock.
The lowest prices.
The choicest goods.

220 ESSEX ST., SALEM.

JOHN P. PEABODY.

Browning & Long.

THE LARGEST

LADIES' FURNISHING STORE

IN SALEM.

LADIES GENTS MISSES BOYS

COTTON HOSIERY.

Our Stock was secured before the late great rise, we are therefore able to offer at much less than the present ruling prices.

BROWNING & LONG'S

ASSORTMENT OF

COTTON HOSIERY

Was Never So Complete.

A. T. STEWART'S CELEBRATED HOSIERY.

FOR LADIES!

All Grades,
All Sizes,
Finished Seams,
Extra heavy British, very nice for Country Wear.
Bleached and Unbleached
Lisle Hose, Silk Hose, at Old Prices.
OPENWORKED,
All sizes and qualities.
Outsizes—For Invalids.

FOR MISSES.

ALL SIZES,
Heavy—for School Wear,
Fancy Balmoral,
English Finished,
Openworked Lace.

FOR GENTS.

Heavy Bleached,
British Colored,
Paris Brown,
English Striped.

FOR BOYS.

Grey Socks,
Extra Fine White,
Blue Striped,
Brown Mixed.

Just opened, "TUCKED NAINSORK," for Waists, very beautiful.

Beautiful New Goods Constantly Received

—AT—

BROWNING & LONG'S

Ladies' Furnishing Store,

177 Essex Street.

Salem, June 15, 1864.

RICH MILLINERY GOODS!

From the New York and Boston Markets,

OPENING EVERY DAY.

All the desirable shapes in BONNETS and HATS.

RIBBONS and FLOWERS in all the New Shades. All goods belonging to a first class Millinery Establishment, to which the attention of the Ladies of Essex County is respectfully invited.

REITH & CO'S,

NO. 2 WEST BLOCK, ESSEX STREET,
(One door west of J. F. Almy & Co.,)
apr 13 SALEM, MASS.

M. A. PORTER,

236 Essex Street, - - - Salem, Mass.,
(Opposite Horse Railroad Office,)

MAKES TO ORDER BEST QUALITIES OF

WATCH SPRING SKIRTS.

A Good Assortment of Dress and Clock Button, Braids, Spool Cotton, Small Wares, and Thread Store articles generally.

236 Essex Street, - - - Salem, Mass.,
M. A. PORTER.

D. P. GROSVENOR, Jr.,

Druggist and Apothecary,

33 MAIN STREET.

Dealer in Drugs, Medicines, Chemicals, Dye Stuffs, and Popular Proprietary Medicines.

Personal attention to Physicians' Prescriptions.

South Danvers, May 29, 1861. 1y

GEO. E. MEACOM,

Dealer in

DRUGS & MEDICINES,

Fancy & Toilet Articles, &c.,

126 · · MAIN ST · · · 126

Nearly opposite Danvers Bank, So. Danvers.

T. A. SWEETSER,

Druggist & Apothecary

37 Main St., So. Danvers,

DEALER IN

Drugs, Medicines, Chemicals, Foreign Leeches, Shakers' Herbs, Dye Stuffs, Gums, Acids, Sponges, Shoulder Braces, Trusses, and Genuine Patent Medicines.

Also, Imported Cigars of choice brands, Perfumery, Toilet Articles and Stationery.

Physicians' Prescriptions carefully prepared by experienced persons.

37 MAIN STREET.

James F. Almy.

MANTILLAS,

Ladies' Outside Garments,

—AND—

SUMMER SHAWLS.

JAMES F. ALMY & CO.

Invite attention to their recent openings of RICH SILK MANTILLAS, LADIES' CLOTH OUTSIDE GARMENTS, AND SEASONABLE SHAWLS.

—ALSO—

Elegant Poilt De Soie and Plain Black Silks, for Mantillas, with Ladies' CLOTHS in great variety—which we are prepared to make

TO ORDER FROM MEASURE.

We are also well supplied with Buttons, Braids, Ornaments, Bugle Trimmings, Malta, Brussels, and Guipure Laces for Trimmings.

The just completed enlargement of our Store affords us unrivalled facilities for conducting this rapidly increasing branch of our trade.

Ladies desiring to make their own Garments, can obtain of us any pattern desired.

JAMES ALMY & CO.,

188 Essex St., oppposite Central Street.

Salem, June 8, 1864.

A. J. Archer & Co

White Shirred Muslins.

Just received and for sale by
je22 A. J. ARCHER & CO.

MOURNING GOODS.

AUGUSTUS J. ARCHER & CO.,

Have just received a fine assortment

—OF—

MOURNING DRESS GOODS,

for summer wear.

—ALSO—

On hand, a fine stock of

BLACK SILKS,

which our customers will find are at less than Boston prices.

May 25, 1864.

FANCY CLOAKINGS!

—FOR—

Spring Garments,

IN GREAT VARIETY OF STYLES,

which we are prepared to make into GARMENTS to order, in the very best manner, and at

LOWEST CASH PRICES.

A. J. ARCHER & CO.,

March 16—tf. 181 Essex Street.

HOUSE OF EQUITY,

—BY—

Arnold & Hutchinson,

(Successors to C. T. Southwick.)

FIRST QUALITY

FAMILY GROCERIES,

Sold at the Lowest Prices.

A large and complete assortment of

CROCKERY AND GLASS WARE,

Constantly on hand,

Also FLOUR and GRAIN.

ASHLAND HALL BUILDING,

NO. 1 LOWELL STREET,

F. T. ARNOLD. B. F. HUTCHINSON.

South Danvers, Feb 3, 1864.

The Singer Manufacturing Co's

LETTER A SEWING MACHINE

For Family Use and Light Manufacturing Purposes, is on exhibition and for sale

AT ASHLAND HALL,

SOUTH DANVERS SQUARE,

—BY—

JOHN H. CHOATE,

Agent for the sale of

SEWING MACHINES,

Silk, Thread, Needles, Cottons, &c., &c.

— Also —

Paraffine Sewing Machine Oil,

The best oil for all kinds of light machinery.

South Danvers, Nov 18, 1863.

NEW FLOUR AND GRAIN STORE,

Central St., opposite Old South.

The subscriber would inform the citizens of this town and vicinity that he has taken the store lately vacated by Mr. Whidden, painter, where he will sell, by the Wholesale and Retail, the very best of

FLOUR, CORN, MEAL, OATS, FEED, &C.,

at the Lowest Market Prices.

JOHN G. MOULTON.

So. Danvers, March 16, 1864—tf.

George S. Walker.

GENTLEMEN'S

FURNISHING GOODS.

The Largest Stock and Assortment

IN ESSEX COUNTY.

George S. Walker, 228 Essex Street, Stearns' Block, invites particular attention to his Spring and Summer Stock of Gentlemen's Under-Shirts,

Drawers,
Hosiery,
Gloves.

Also a splendid assortment of

Braces,
Scarfs,
Ties,
Collars,
Umbrellas, &c.

Dealing exclusively in the above articles, most of which were bought for CASH, before the late advance, I am enabled to offer them at less than present prices of Importation and Manufacture—at
my4 GEORGE S. WALKER'S.

MOULTON'S

NEW LIVERY STABLE,

Is removed to stable formerly occupied by

SAMUEL HAM,

On MAIN STREET, opposite the Institute.

Good Horses and Carriages will be always in readiness at short notice.

South Danvers, May 25, 1864.

GRENADINES

Bareges and Muslins,

FOR SUMMER DRESS GOODS.

JAMES F. ALMY & CO.

have in stock a full line of Thin Dress Goods, comprising AMERICAN LAWNS, BAREGES, GRENADINES, DUCALS, AND MOZAMBIQUES.

We offer a Splendid quality of Embroidered Grenadines, at $1.00 per yard.

je 8 JAMES F. ALMY & CO.

Potter, Bachelder & Co.,

DANVERS-PORT and SOUTH DANVERS,

DEALERS IN

WOOD AND COAL.

Constantly on hand.

Franklin, Burnside, Dimond, } RED ASH.
Old Company & Packer's Lehigh, Pliny Fisk, Webster and Locust Mountain, } WHITE ASH.

Also Cumberland, Pictou and Campbell for Steam and Smith's use.

OFFICE---No. 6 Allen's Building.

G. W. POTTER,
J. Q. A. BACHELDER,
C. T. BATCHELDER. mch 30

M. FENOLLOSA,

TEACHER OF MUSIC,

LETS............PIANO FORTES, at the lowest rates;
SELLS...........PIANO FORTES, at the Manufacturers Prices;
EXCHANGES....PIANO FORTES, on the easiest terms;

At Rooms No. 7 Central street,
feb 11 Salem, Mass.

AARON T. LOWE,

DEALER IN

BOOTS, SHOES AND RUBBERS,

76 BOSTON STREET, 76.

aug 6 SALEM. tf

GEORGE TAPLEY,

(DANVERS),

AGENT FOR THE

John Hancock Life Insurance Co.

Office, 41 State Street, Boston.

DR. E. F. KITTREDGE,

From Lowell, formerly of New Ipswich, N. H., Has removed his office and residence to

NO. 42 MAIN STREET,

SOUTH DANVERS, MASS.

Dr. K., from an extensive and successful professional experience of upwards of twenty years, feels justified in saying that he can treat diseases to the satisfaction of his patients, and to the credit of himself.

Office hours from 7 to 9 A. M., and from 6 to 9 P. M.

South Danvers, Nov 13, 1863.

T. HARDY, JR.,

—Dealer in—

DOORS, SASHES, BLINDS,

Glazed Sash, Painted Blinds,

FENCE PALES, STAIR BALUSTERS, FRAMING PINS, &c.,

No. 26 FRONT STREET,

Salem, January 14, 1863—tf.

Spring Goods.

Thomas W. Downing & Co.

invite attention to the splendid stock of

NEW GOODS

which they are now opening for the Spring trade.

We shall be constantly supplied with all Novelties as they appear in the market.

mch 2 179 Essex Street.

Pure Ground Bone

For Farming and Horticultural Purposes.

The subscriber would announce that he is now constantly manufacturing and preparing for sale PURE GROUND BONE—conceded by all who have tried it to be the best article in use for fertilizing trees, grape vines, gardens, etc. It can be obtained in large or small quantities.

Also for Sale, NEAT'S FOOT OIL, TALLOW and GREASE.

☞ Cash paid for Bones.

TIMOTHY WALTON.

Post Office Address, box 99 South Danvers, Mass. April 20—3m

OATS.

3000 BUSHEL prime Oats, received this day by Rail, and for sale by
may 25 GAYLE & CO., Phillips Wharf.

Auction Sales.

WILLIAM ARCHER, Jr.,

Auctioneer, Real Estate and Stock Broker, 34 Front Street.

Real Estate, Bank, Railroad & Manufacturing Stock bought and sold on Commission.

On SATURDAY NEXT, at 9½ o'clock, will be sold at No. 34 Front street:

A QUANTITY of new and second hand Furniture: Sofas, Tables, Lounges, Carpets, Secretary, 2 small glass cases, 1 ladies' riding saddle, &c.

Also—An assortment of Women's and Children's Boots and Shoes.

Also—An invoice of Dry Goods: delaines, prints, lawns, &c.

Also—A quantity of plated Jewelry: pins, earrings, finger rings, &c.

Also—one Refrigerator, in good order.

At 11 o'clock—One five octave melodeon, rosewood case, piano style; 1 Singer's sewing machine in good order.

Valuable Estate in Wallis St.,

AT AUCTION.

On TUESDAY, June 28, at 1 o'clock, P. M., will be sold, on the premises, a valuable Estate situated in Wallis street, consisting of a building lot, measuring 60 feet on Wallis st. by about 90 feet deep.

Also—A two story dwelling house in rear of the above with the land under and adjoining. The house contains 12 finished rooms and the land contains about 3000 square feet.

Also—A one and a half story dwelling house with the land under and adjoining, the house contains 7 finished rooms and the land contains about 1000 square feet.

Also—A two story dwelling house with the land under and adjoining. The house contains 6 finished rooms and the land contains about 1200 feet.

This is one of the finest estates now for sale in this vicinity, the houses are nearly new, and in good order, and there is a well of good water on the premises, and being in the immediate vicinity of the business portion of South Danvers, is well worthy the attention of those in pursuit of a safe investment for their surplus money. june 15—2w

---

TEETH ON VULCANITE!

DR. J. H. BATCHELDER,

DENTAL SURGEON,

No. 20 Washington St., (near Eastern Railroad Depot), Salem, Mass.,

Is Licensed to make the New Patent Teeth on HARD RUBBER or VULCANITE, and from actual experience confidently recommends them for Strength, Beauty, and Cleanliness, to far surpass all other kinds of teeth;—are sure to fit the mouth; are much cheaper and better, being about half the price of teeth on Gold. Ill fitting Setts of Teeth on Gold can be exchanged for the Vulcanite, at very small expense. Specimens seen at Office. Teeth filled with Gold, Inserted, Extracted, and Children's Teeth Regulated—all with such care and gentleness as to be nearly painless.

VALUABLE REAL ESTATE.

The Subscriber offers for sale the following Lots of Land, with the Buildings thereon, at private sale, until September next, when such as then remain unsold, will be offered at Public Auction:

A new and well built two-story DWELLING HOUSE, situated on English Street.—This house is well supplied with the modern conveniences, is pleasantly situated on rising ground, and is a very desirable residence.

The MOROCCO FACTORY near the Southwick Tannery. The building is about 150 feet long by 40 wide, is well supplied with pure water and is an excellent place for the Morocco business or Currying.

Near the Morocco Factory are two TWO-STORY BUILDINGS, which may be sold with the Factory, or separately. Together they are about 80 feet long by 20 wide.

On Walnut Street is the large BOARDING HOUSE, with the land adjoining, which is excellently well situated for what it is designed.

Several front LOTS for building purposes on Walnut Street, will be sold at moderate prices and fair terms.

A STORE HOUSE 70 by 25 feet on Walnut Street, with the land under and the rear of it. It can be easily adapted for a Curriers' Shop, or for other kinds of business.

On Wallis Street, near the mill pond, a well built and painted MOROCCO FACTORY, all ready for occupancy. It is about 80 feet long by 25 wide, and in excellent repair.

Next to the Morocco Factory on the same street, a STORE BUILDING, strongly built, and framed for a Dwelling House, for which it could be easily adapted. Or it would make an excellent Shop for any kind of business.

Near ELM STREET, on a Court south of said street, are two DWELLING HOUSES, planned for two families each. One is two stories high, the other one and a half. Both houses have good tenants and yield a good income; offering a good chance for investment.

Between Harris and English Streets, one One Story DWELLING House, and a One Story and a Half House.

The above is a most excellent opportunity for enterprising young men to secure places for business and dwelling houses, on reasonable terms. Such a chance may not soon again occur.

Persons desiring to purchase any of the above lots may learn the prices and terms on application to ANDREW S. PORTER, Elm Street.

SAMUEL D. PENDAR.

South Danvers, May 11, 1864. tf

NEW STORE!

Flour! Flour!

Just Received, a fresh supply of choice brands, direct from the Mills, for sale, wholesale and retail, at LOWEST PRICES, by

E. F. OSBORN.
Sutton's Building, Main St.

South Danvers, Nov 18, 1863.

R. C. MANNING & CO.

Successors to JOHN DIKE & CO.,

DEALERS IN

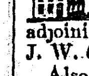
COAL, WOOD, BARK, HAY, &c,

183 DERBY STREET,

SALEM, MASS.

N. C. ROBBINS, R. C. MANNING.
oct17

Valuable Real Estate in So. Danvers for Sale or to Let.



The large dwelling house and barn and out-buildings, with land under and adjoining, belonging to the estate of the late J. W. Carey, situated on Fulton street.

Also a very desirable lot of land extending from Fulton street to High street, with a front of eighty feet on each street.

For terms and particulars, apply to
EBEN UPTON,
April 27.—tf. No. 31 Barr street, Salem.

Real Estate for Sale.

The Subscriber offers for sale one undivided ninth part of the Estate on Lowell and Franklin streets, formerly owned by Mrs. Huldah Gile. This very valuable property will be sold on fair and easy terms.

All information in relation to it will be given on application to Mr. Charles B. Haven, Franklin street, near the premises.

SAMUEL FELLOWS.

South Danvers, June 15, 1864.

Special Notices.

A GENTLEMAN, cured of Nervous Debility, Incompetency, Premature Decay and Youthful Error, actuated by a desire to benefit others, will be happy to furnish to all who need it, (free of charge,) the recipe and directions for making the simple remedy used in his case. Those wishing to profit by his experience, and possess a Valuable Remedy, will receive the same, by return mail, (carefully sealed,) by addressing

JOHN B. OGDEN,
No 60 Nassau street, New York.

may 25—3m

BELL'S SPECIFIC PILLS —WARRANTED IN ALL CASES.— —Can be relied on! Never fail to cure! Do not nauseate! Are speedy in action! No change of diet required! Do not interfere with business pursuits! Can be used without detection! Upward of 200 cures the past month—some of them very severe cases. Over one hundred physicians have used them in their practice, and all speak well of their efficacy, and approve of their composition, which is entirely vegetable and harmless on the system. Hundreds of certificates can be shown.

BELL'S SPECIFIC PILLS are the original and only genuine Specific Pill. They are adapted for male and female, old or young, and the only reliable remedy for effecting a permanent and speedy cure in all cases of Spermatorrhea, or Seminal Weakness, with all its train of evils, such as Urethral and Vaginal Discharges, Gleet, the Whites, Nightly or Involuntary Emissions, Incontinence, Genital Debility and Irritability, Impotence, Weakness or Loss of Power, Nervous Debility, &c., &c., all of which arise principally from Sexual Excesses or Self-Abuse, or some constitutional derangement, and incapacitates the sufferer from fulfilling the duties of married life. In all sexual diseases, as Gonorrhea, Gleet, and Strictures, and in Diseases of the Bladder and Kidneys, they act as a charm! Relief is experienced by taking a single box.

Sold by all the principal druggists. Price $1.

They will be sent by mail, securely sealed, and confidentially, on receipt of the money, by

J. BRYAN, M. D,
No. 76 Cedar street, New York,

Consulting Physician for the treatment of Seminal, Urinary, Sexual, and Nervous Diseases, who will send, free to all, the following valuable work, in sealed envelope:

THE FIFTIETH THOUSAND.—DR. BELL'S TREATISE on Self-Abuse, Premature Decay, Impotence and Loss of Power, Sexual Diseases, Seminal Weakness, Nightly Emissions, Genital Debility, &c., &c., a pamphlet of 64 pages, containing important advice to the afflicted, and which should be read by every sufferer, as the means of cure in the severest stages is plainly set forth. Two stamps required to pay postage. December 9, 1863—1 yr.

IMPORTANT TO LADIES.—DR. HARVEY'S FEMALE PILLS have never yet failed in removing difficulties arising from obstruction, or stoppage of nature, or in restoring the system to perfect health when suffering from Spinal Affections, Prolapsus, Uteri, the Whites, or other weakness of the Uterine Organs. The Pills are perfectly harmless on the constitution, and may be taken by the most delicate female without causing distress—the same time they act like a charm by strengthening, invigorating and restoring the system to a healthy condition, and by bringing on the monthly period with regularity, no matter from what causes the obstruction may arise. They should, however, NOT be taken during the first three or four months of pregnancy, though safe at any other time, as miscarriage would be the result.

Each box contains 60 Pills. Price $1.

DR. HARVEY'S TREATISE on Diseases of Females, Pregnancy Miscarriage, Barrenness, Sterility, Reproduction, and Abuses of Nature, and emphatically the Ladies' Private Medical Adviser, a pamphlet of 64 pages, sent free to any address. Six cents required to pay postage.

The Pills and book will be sent by mail when desired, securely sealed, and prepaid, by

J. BRYAN, M. D, General Agent,
No. 76 Cedar street, New York.

☞ Sold by all the principal druggists.
December 9, 1863—1 yr.

SPRING STYLES

OF

1864.

L. D. BOISE & CO.,

Manufacturers and Dealers

IN

CLOTHING,

Invite attention to their Large and Fashionable stock, comprising Medium, Fine and Superior grades, of our own manufacture, some of which is fully equal to the best Custom work.

Wholesale or Retail purchasers will find it for their benefit to examine our Stock before purchasing.

We have also a large and fashionable stock of PRICE GOODS, consisting of the most desirable patterns of English, French, German and American

CLOTHS,
CASSIMERES
DOESKINS, and
VESTINGS,

which have been selected with great care in the New York and Boston markets.

CUSTOM CLOTHING made to order in the latest styles at short notice.

PARTICULAR ATTENTION GIVEN TO

Army and Navy Uniforms.

Gentlemen's Furnishing Goods

OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.

L. D. BOISE & CO.,
No. 154 Washington Street, Boston.

April 20.—3m.

Chickering & Sons' Piano-Fortes.

Hallett & Cumston's Piano-Fortes.

Hallett & Davis's Piano-Fortes.

We select our Piano-Fortes from the above firms and warrant them to give perfect satisfaction. Our terms are reasonable, and all persons in the city and neighboring towns can be accommodated by calling at 76 Federal street.

FOR SALE—Second-hand Piano-Fortes,—Chickering's and others.

ap 29 ANN R. BRAY.

DYSPEPSIA AND FITS.

A SURE CURE FOR

THESE distressing complaints is now made known in a Treatise on Foreign and Native Herbal Preparations, published by DR. O. PHELPS BROWN. The prescription was furnished him in such a providential manner, that he cannot conscientiously refuse to make it known, as it has cured everybody who has used it, never having failed in a single case. It is equally sure in cases of Fits as of Dyspepsia; and the ingredients may be found in any drug-store. Sent free to all on the receipt of five cents to pre-pay postage. This work, of 48 octavo pages, beautifully illustrated, also treats on

Consumption,

Bronchitis, Asthma, General Debility, and gives the best known Herbal Remedies for their positive and permanent cure. Address DR O. PHELPS BROWN, No. 19 Grand Street, Jersey City, New Jersey.

may 25—3m

HEYLINGBERG'S

Hair Dressing Saloon,

24 MAIN ST., SOUTH DANVERS.

J. J. HEYLINGBERG would announce to his patrons and the public generally, that on and after JUNE 1st, 1864, he will abide by the following

TARIFF OF PRICES:

Shaving,	10 cts,
Hair Cutting,	15 cts,
Champooing,	15 cts.

Particular attention paid to dying hair and whiskers, in one preparation, without washing or scrubbing.

South Danvers, May 11, 1864.

PHOTOGRAPH ALBUMS,

IN beautiful Bindings, suitable for presentation copies; also a fine assortment of Medium and low priced ones, of desirable styles, at jel5 G. M. WHIPPLE & A. A. SMITH'S.

LANE & CO'S

COLUMN.

NEW SPRING GOODS.

MEN'S AND BOYS'

CLOTHING!

MANUFACTURED FROM A GREAT VARIETY OF

Plain and Fancy Goods,

—AND—

CUT IN THE LATEST STYLE,

WITH ELEGANT TRIMMINGS,

And made up in the most thorough manner.

SPRING OVERCOATS,

English Walking Coats,

AND FULL SUITS,

Coats, Pants and Vest,

TO MATCH.

NEW INVOICE

MILITARY UNIFORMS,

—FOR—

OFFICERS AND PRIVATES.

Parents are invited to examine our stock of

BOYS CLOTHING,

CONTAINING

MANY NEW STYLES.

Garribaldi Suits.

Grecian Suits,

English Sacks,

Metropolitan Sacks,

AND FULL SUITS,

SACKS, PANTS AND VESTS

TO MATCH.

In addition to the above we have a large amount of goods in process of manufacture, which will be added to our stock as fast as completed. Purchasers will therefore always find a full line from which to make their selections. To those visiting the city by RAIL in search of CLOTHING, we would say,—

Purchase a Ticket through to

"31 and 32" Dock Square,

SECURE A

REAL BARGAIN,

AND THEREBY

SAVE YOUR FARE!

G. H. LANE & CO.,

31 AND 32 DOCK SQUARE,

BOSTON.

March 30.—3m

Cards.

M. B. MANSFIELD,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
214 ESSEX STREET, SALEM, MASS.

 Particular attention paid to procuring Pensions, Bounties, Back Pay, Prize Money, and Army and Navy Claims of all descriptions. March 2.

WILLIAM C. CHOATE,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
251 Essex St., Salem.
Salem, August 6, 1862. tf

THOMAS M. STIMPSON,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
194 ESSEX STREET, SALEM.
Residence Lowell street, South Danvers.

B. C. PERKINS,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
South Danvers—Office in Allen's Building

ALFRED A. ABBOTT,
Attorney and Counsellor,
Office, No. 24 Washington Street, Salem;
House, Main St., So. Danvers.

SIDNEY C. BANCROFT,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
27 Washington Street, Salem.

H. O. WILEY,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
Office, Allen's Building, So. Danvers.

Claims against the Government for Bounty Back Pay, and Pensions, promptly attended to

A. S. CRAWFORD,
Dentist,
No. 4 MAIN STREET, So. DANVERS SQUARE
Mechanical Dentistry Neatly Executed.

W. L. BOWDOIN,
SURGEON DENTIST,
No, 208 Essex Street, Salem, (Opposite the Marke
Residence—No. 57 Washington street.
jan 11—1y

NEWMAN & SYMONDS,
DEALERS IN
Family Groceries, Flour & Grain,
HARD WARE AND CROCKERY,
Ready Made Clothing, Gents' Furnishing Goods, Hats, Caps, Boots, Shoes, &c.,
South Danvers Square, opp. Congregational Church
SAM'L NEWMAN. NATH'L SYMONDS.

S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS,
DEALERS IN
Crockery, China and Hardware; Paper Hangings; Solar and Entry Lamps; Paints, Oil, and Window Glass.
No. 32 Front street, Lawrence Place,
feb13 SALEM. MASS.

HENRY L. WHIDDEN,
HOUSE AND SIGN PAINTER,
Glazier and Paperer,
Central Street, South Danvers.
All orders promptly and faithfully executed.
jan2-1y

E. S. FLINT,
DEALER IN
West India Goods, Country Poduce,
No. 2 Main Street, South Danvers.

JESSE SMITH
No. 262 Essex Street, Salem,
Importer and Dealer in
Gold and Silver Watches,
MARINE CHRONOMETERS,
Aneroid Barometers, Spy Glasses, &c.

WILLIAM BLANEY,
HOUSE & SIGN PAINTER
Grainer, Glazier and Paper Hanger.
164 MAIN STREET, Corner of Grove.
WINDOWS and BLINDS cheap for cash.
mch6-tf

F. POOLE
INSURANCE AGENT,
Allen's Building (up stairs),
Deeds drawn, and other common forms.

H. L. HADLEY,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
CORNER MAPLE AND ELM ST.,
Danvers.
Claims against the Government for Bounty, Back Pay, and Pensions, promptly attended to.

DEVEREUX & McLELLAN,
Attorneys and Counsellors-at-Law,
CIVIL AND MILITARY,
Browne's Block, Essex street—Room No. 5.
J. F. DEVEREUX, Salem, Mass.
GEO. F. McLELLAN, Washington, D. C.
Oct. 21.

CREAM ALE.

THIS Ale is highly recommended by Physicians for

FAMILY USE AND INVALIDS.

Put up in Half Barrels and Barrels,
And for sale by
J. MAGUIRE & CO.,
No. 6 Derby Square, Salem.

Also, Agent for
MASSEY & COLLINS'
PHILADELPHIA ALES,
BUCKHART'S
CREAM ALE,
And Dealer in
LONDON PORTER, SCOTCH ALE, ATkinson's Wormwood Cordial, Drake's Plantation Bitters, &c., &c.

J. MAGUIRE & CO.,
july 15 No. 6 Derby Square, Salem.

E. F. BURNHAM,
SOLE AGENT FOR
SARGENT & CO.S'
MAGIC SOAP!
For South Danvers & Salem.

OFFICE—Central St., opp. Lowell Depot, at Burnham's Express Office, So. Danvers.

Price $3.50 per 100 Lbs.

Orders sent by mail or otherwise to So. Danvers will be promptly attended to. tf-oct3

Choice Spring Pigs for Sale.

THE subscriber offers for sale nice PIGS of Mackie Prince Albert and Chester County breeds, of which the Mackie took the First Premium at the late CattleShow. Prices reasonable.

BYRON GOODALE,
Near Tapley's Brook,
South Danvers, April 1, 1864. tf

NEW CUTLERY.

A FULL Stock of Ivory handled Knives, (blades steel, silver plated) just received at jel5 S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS, 32 Front st.

Advertisements.

HOSTETTER'S

CELEBRATED

STOMACH BITTERS.

A pure and powerful Tonic, corrective and alterative of wonderful efficacy in disease of the

Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

Cures Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Headache, Debility, Nervousness, Depression of Spirits, Constipation, Colic, Intermittent Fevers, Cramps and Spasms, and all Complaints of either Sex, arising from Bodily Weakness whether inherent in the system or produced by special causes.

Nothing that is not wholesome, genial and restorative in its nature enters into the composition of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. This popular preparation contains no mineral of any kind, no deadly botanical element; no fiery excitant: but it is a combination of the extracts of rare balsamic herbs and plants with the purest and mildest of all diffusive stimulants.

It is well to be forearmed against disease, and, so far as the human system can be protected by human means against maladies engendered by an unwholesome atmosphere, impure water and other external causes, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS may be relied on as a safeguard.

In districts infested with Fever and Ague, it has been found infallible as a preventive and irresistible as a remedy and thousands who resort to it under apprehension of an attack, escape the scourge; and thousands who neglect to avail themselves of its protective qualities in advance, are cured by a very brief course of this marvelous medicine. Fever and Ague patients, after being plied with quinine for months in vain, until fairly saturated with that dangerous alkaloid, are not unfrequently restored to health within a few days by the use of HOSTETTER'S BITTERS.

The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated and the appetite restored by this agreeable Tonic, and hence it works wonders in cases of DISPEPSIA and in less confirmed forms of INDIGESTION. Acting as a gentle and painless aperient, as well as upon the liver, it also invariably relieves the CONSTIPATION superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and secretive organs.

Persons of feeble habit, liable to Nervous Attacks, Lowness of Spirits and Fits of Languor, find prompt and permanent relief from the Bitters. The testimony on this point is most conclusive, and from both sexes.

The agony of BILIOUS COLIC is immediately assuaged by a single dose of the stimulant, and by occasionally resorting to it, the return of the complaint may be prevented.

As a General Tonic, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS produce effects which must be experienced or witnessed before they can be fully appreciated. In cases of Constitutional Weakness, Premature Decay and Debility and Decrepitude arising from OLD AGE, it exercises the electric influence. In the convalescent stages of all diseases it operates as a delightful invigorant. When the powers of nature are relaxed, it operates to re-enforce and re-establish them.

Last, but not least, it is The Only Safe Stimulant, being manufactured from sound and innocuous materials, and entirely free from the acid elements present more or less in all the ordinary tonics and stomachics of the day.

No family medicine has been so universally, and, it may be truly added, deservedly popular with the intelligent portion of the community, as HOSTETTER'S BITTERS.

Prepared by HOSTETTER & SMITH, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Sold by all Druggists, Grocers and Storekeepers everywhere.

HELMBOLD'S

GENUINE PREPARATIONS.

COMPOUND FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU, a Positive and Specific Remedy for diseases of the Bladder, Kidneys, Gravel, and Dropsical Swellings.

This Medicine increases the power of Digestion, and excite the Absorbents into healthy action, by which the Wtaery or Calcareous depositions, and all Unnatural Enlargements are reduced, as well as Pain and Inflammation.

—:o:—

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU.

For Weaknesses arising from Excesses, Habits of Dissipation, Early Indiscretion of Abuse, attended with the following symptoms:—

Indisposition to Exertion,
Loss of Memory,
Weak Nerves,
Horror of Disease,
Dimness of Vision,
Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System,
Hot Hands,
Dryness of the Skin,
Loss of Power,
Difficulty of Breathing,
Trembling,
Wakefulness,
Pain in the Back,
Flushing of the Body,
Eruptions on the Face,
Pallid Countenance.

These symptoms, if allowed to go on, which this medicine invariably removes, soon follows

Impotency, Fatuity, Epileptic Fits,

In one of which the patient may expire.

Who can say that they are not frequently followed by those "Direful Diseases,"

"INSANITY AND CONSUMPTION."

Many are aware of the cause of their suffering, BUT NONE WILL CONFESS THE RECORDS OF THE INSANE ASYLUMS.

And Melancholy Deaths by Consumption bear ample witness to the Truth of the assertion.

The Constitution once effected with Organic Weakness requires the aid of Medicine to Strengthen and Invigorate the system,

Which HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU invariably does. A Trial will convince the most skeptical.

—:o:—

FEMALES—FEMALES—FEMALES.

In many Affections peculiar to Females the EXTRACT BUCHU is unequalled by any other remedy, as in Chlorosis or Retention, Irregularity, Painfulness, or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated Scirrhous state of the Uterus, Leuchorrhœa or Whites, Sterility, and for all complaints incident to the sex, whether arising from indiscretion or Habits of Dissipation, or in the

DECLINE OR CHANGE OF LIFE.

—:o:—

Take no more Balsam, Mercury, or unpleasant Medicines for unpleasant and dangerous diseases.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU AND IMPROVED ROSE WASH CURES

SECRET DISEASES

In all their Stages, At little Expense.
Little or no change in Diet. No inconvenience.
And no Exposure.

It causes a frequent desire and gives strength to Urinate, thereby Removing Obsructions, Preventing and Curing Strictures of the Urethra, allaying Pain and Inflammation, so frequent in this class of diseases, and expelling all Poisonous, Diseased and wornout Matter.

Thousands upon Thousands who have been the Victims of Quacks, and who have paid heavy fees to be cured in a short time, have found they were deceived, and that the "POISON" has, by the use of "Powerful Astringents," been dried up in the system, to break out in an aggravated form, and perhaps after Marriage.

—:o:—

Use HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU for all affections and diseases of the URINARY ORGANS, whether existing in MALE or FEMALE, from whatever cause originating and no matter of HOW LONG STANDING.

Diseases of these Organs requires the aid of a DIURETIC. HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU IS THE GREAT DIURETIC, and is certain to have the desired effect in all Diseases for which it is Recommended.

Evidence of the most reliable and responsible character will accompany the medicine.

Price $1.00 per bottle, or six for $5.00. Delivered to any Address, securely packed from observation.

Describe Symptoms in all Communications.

Cures Guaranteed! Advice Gratis!!

Address letters for information to

H. B. HELMBOLD, Chemist,
104 South Tenth-st., bel. Chestnut, Phila.

HELMBOLD'S Medical Depot.
HELMBOLD'S Drug & Chemical Warehouse,
594 Broadway, New York.

BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS AND UNPRINCIPLED DEALERS who endeavor to dispose "of their own" and "other" articles on the reputation attained by

Helmbold's Genuine Preparations.
" " Extract Buchu.
" " " Sarsaparilla.
" " Improved Rose Wash.

SOLD BY
ALL DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE.
ASK FOR HELMBOLD'S. TAKE NO OTHER.
Cut out the Advertisement and send for it.
AND AVOID IMPOSITION AND EXPOSURE.
December 16, 1863.—1 yr.

Coe's Superphosphate of Lime.

BRADLEY'S TOBACCO FERTILIZER.

For sale by the Manufacturer,

W. L. BRADLEY.

SALE OFFICE,

24 BROAD ST., BOSTON.

PAMPHLETS containing testimonials in favor of Coe's Superphosphate of Lime as a Standard Manure, and Bradley's Manual on the Culture and Curing of Tobacco, with illustrations, can be had by addressing the undersigned. WM. L. BRADLEY.

☞ Highest Cash Prices paid for Bones.

Boston, April 13, 1864. 3m

GENTLEMEN'S HATS,

Spring Styles,

—AT—

J. A. JACKSON'S.

A large and choicely selected assortment of

FINE SOFT FELT HATS,

CLOTH HATS AND CAPS,

For Men and Boy's Wear.

101 COURT ST.,

April 13.—3m. BOSTON.

CHILDREN'S CARRIAGES.

WE have on hand a very large stock of Children's Carriages, comprising every vasiety of style, from the

CHEAP WILLOW CAB
—TO THE—
FINEST NEW HAVEN GIG.
—ALSO—
PERAMBULATORS!
of various qualities.

REPAIRING, in all its branches, promptpromptly attended to at the OLD STAND,

No. 180 Essex street, Salem.

HENRY F. SKERRY.

April 20.—3m.

CURRIER & MILLETT,
Dealers in
Furniture, Chairs,
MATTRESSES, FEATHERS, &
259 & 261 ESSEX ST.
Salem, dec 14—1y

H. & H. G. HUBON,
WASHINGTON STREET, SALEM
Manufacturers of
Rose Wood, Mahogany, Black Walnnt and Stained Wood
COFFINS and CASKETS.

MAKING this our exclusive business, we are ready at all times and at the shortest notice to furnish Grave Clothes of various styles, as well as Coffins and Caskets of the finest finish. Personal attention given, and delivered without extra charge to any of the neighboring towns. All orders by express or otherwise will receive prompt attention.

Black Walnut and White Wood Boards, Plank and Joists for sale.

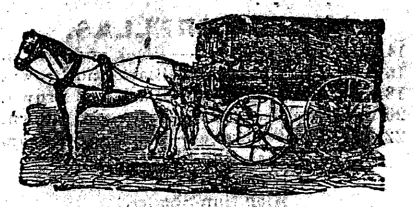
dec 14—tf

WALKING MADE EASY.

CORNS.

DR. P. KENISON,
CHIROPODIST,
215 Washington St., Boston,

Cures Hard and Soft Corns, Bunions, Club Nails. Nails penetrating the Flesh, Warts, &c., in a manner that will satisfy the most incredulous.



CHARLES S. BUFFUM,

BEING an authorized UNDERTAKER of South Danvers, will attend Funerals in said place with his Hearse the same as the Town Undertaker. Will also attend Funerals, when desired, in any of the neighboring towns, with one or a pair of horses.

He also furnishes Coffin Caskets, Robes, &c., lower than city prices.

All branches of the business attended to, such as furnishing Coaches, Flowers, Laying Out, &c. Ice Preservers furnished.

All orders promptly attended to, and personal attention given to them. Articles delivered to any of the neighboring towns free of charge. Orders by express or otherwise will receive prompt attention.

Central street, South Danvers,
RESIDENCE 25 ELM STREET.
South Danvers, Feb 17, 1864.

Undertaker's Notice!

THE subscriber being regularly appointed as Undertaker of South Danvers, would respectfully notify the public that he has removed from Central Street, to No. 80 Lowell Street, where he may be found in readiness to attend funerals, and to furnish, when desired.

HENRY SPENCER.
February 10, 1864.

E. S. FLINT,
Manufacturer and Dealer in
INNER SOLES,
AND SHOE STIFFENINGS OF ALL KINDS.
2 MAIN STREET, SOUTH DANVERS.

AGRICULTURAL WAREHOUSE.

Parker, Gannett & Osgood,

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL DEALERS IN

Agricultural Implements, Seeds,

FERTILIZERS, &c.,

INCLUDING THE FOLLOWING:

Plows,
Harrows,
Cultivators,
Corn Planters,
Horse Hoes,
Hay Cutters,
Corn Shellers,
Churns, all patterns,
Meat Cutters,
Sausage Stuffers,
Field & Garden Rollers,
Road Scrapers,
Grindstone Fixtures,
Hoes,
Manure Forks,
Shovels,
Spades,
Fan Mills,
Lard Presses,
Vegetable Cutters,
Railway and Sweep Horse Powers,
Threshing Machines,
Hay Presses,
Cider Mills,
Garden and Canal Barrows,
Mounted Grindstones,
Cheese Presses,
Folding Ladders,
Horse Rakes,
Palmer's Horse Pitchforks,
Axes,
Grass Hooks,
Garden Trowels.

BUCKEYE MOWING MACHINES,

Grass, Garden, Flower and Field Seeds,

Guano, Coe's Super Phosphate Lime, Pouderette, Ground Bone, Fish Guano, &c., at the Lowest Prices.

No. 49 North Market street, and 46 Merchant's Row, Boston.

April 27, 1864.—3m.

WM. C. HENDERSON,
MANUFACTURER OF
PLAIN AND FANCY
PAPER BOXES;
No. 235 ESSEX STREET,
Sign of "Nest of Boxes,"
july 23. SALEM. tf

A LECTURE FOR YOUNG MEN.

Just published, a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical cure (without medicine) of SPERMATORRHŒA, or Seminal Weakness, Involuntary Seminal Losses, IMPOTENCY, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc.; also, Consumption, Epilepsy and Fits, induced by self-indulgence or sexual extravagance.

☞ Price, in a sealed envelope, only 6 cents.

The celebrated author in this admirable essay clearly demonstrates from a thirty years successful practice, that the alarming consequences of self-abuse may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine or the application of the knife—pointing out a mode of cure, at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

This Lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land.

Sent under seal, in a plain envelope, to any address, POST-PAID, on receipt of six cents, or two postage stamps. Address the publishers,

CHAS. J. C. KLINE & CO.,
127 Bowery, New York, Post Office Box, 4586.
January 16—8mos.

Abbott's South Danvers & Salem

EXPRESS.

Leave South Danvers, 7½ a m, 1 p m
Leave Salem, 10 a m, 4 p m

Orders left at Teel & Moulton's, and principal stores on Main street, South Danvers; and at 7 Washing on street, and at Reed's in the Market, Salem.

Are you Insured?

THE subscriber would respectfully call your attention to the fact that he is fully prepared to effect INSURANCE AGAINST FIRE, to any amount, at current rates, on

Dwelling Houses, Barns and their contents, Stores, Stocks of Goods, Furniture, &c. &c., and on buildings in process of erection,

And that he is the authorized Agent for the following responsible Stock and Mutual Companies, viz:

Thames Insurance Co., (Stock,) Norwich, Conn.
Capital—$500,000.
Amos W. Prentice, Pres. Oliver F. Rice, Sec'y
Conway Insurance Company, (Stock) Boston.
Capital and Surplus—$260,000.
James E. Whitney, Pres. David C. Rogers, Sec'y.
City Insurance Company, (Stock) Boston.
Capital—$150,000.
Samuel P. Hayward, Pres. Austin W. Benton, Sec'y

Also, will effect Insurance on the LIVES OF INDIVIDUALS, for one year, seven years, or for the whole term of life, in the

Massachusetts Mutual Life Ins. Co., Springfield, Mass.
Capital and Assets—$375,000.
Caleb Rice, Pres. D. B. Bacon, Sec'y.
William Mack, M. D., Medical Examiner.

WM. ARCHER, Jr.,
18 Washington st. and 34 Front st., Salem.
feb20-1

ALWAYS SUCCESSFUL!

TO ALL THOSE WHO SUFFER FROM

DEBILITY AND SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

DRS. CARSWELL & HUNTER, regularly educated, highly eminent and successful practitioners, after a very extensive practice in Boston, for over twenty years, need hardly speak of their medical qualifications, or remind strangers not to class them with a set of uneducated men, who fill the papers with their boasting advertisements. Drs. C. & H. caution the public against quackery in all its forms, pretending, as some self-styled doctors, to cure all the most difficult and chronic diseases, without knowledge of the human system, or of the modus operandi of the most simple drugs.

Drs. C. & H., since 1840, having confined their whole attention to an office practice for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, they acknowledge no superiors.

CONSTITUTIONAL DEBILITY OR SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Drs. C. & H. are pre-eminently successful in the treatment of the above most difficult and perplexing of all diseases, this complaint being the result of a secret habit in youth; if neglected or improperly treated, it proves one of the greatest evils that can befall a human being. Dr. H. has given particular attention to the above disease [illegible] years, and so thoroughly has he become acquainted with the pathology and treatment, that he will warrant a perfect cure under forfeiture of $500; in fact, he will, in the cure of this complaint, acknowledge no superior in this country, or even in the world. Come, then, all you who are afflicted, come to the Old Stand, where you will in a short time be made to rejoice in perfect health.

SYPHILITIC AND SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS,—such as Ulcers and Caries of the throat and nose, Running Sores on the legs and arms, Hard Scabs and Scaly Eruptions on the head, back, &c., pains in the bones and joints, and all other forms of venereal diseases—are made to yield and entirely disappear under Drs. C. & H.'s improved and thoroughly eradicating course of treatment.

The primary or first symptoms of disease, whether a simple running, or small pistules, cancers, or ulcers, are cured in a very few days, if immediate application is made to Drs. C. & H.

13 ENDICOTT STREET, BOSTON. 13

Strangers should be particular in the selection of a physician, lest they be deceived by false advertisements.

Ladies troubled with irregularity, weakness, whites, and other complaints peculiar to the female system, will find a speedy cure by calling as above. No mercury used, and no charge for advice. The afflicted are invited to give us a call.

Boston, April 20, 1864.—1 yr.

---

25 YEARS' EXPERIENCE enables DRS. CARSWELL & HUNTER to cure any diseases of a private nature in a shorter space of time and for a smaller amount of money than any other doctors in this country, and they also treat all female complaints with perfect success, and on the most satisfactory terms. Patients furnished with board if desired. Please give us a call at our office, No. 13 Endicott St., Boston, Mass.

Boston, April 20, 1864.—1 yr.

E. R. PERKINS,

PHOTOGRAPHIC ARTIST

241 Essex Street, Salem.

Patent Ambrotypes, Stereoscopes,

Photographs, Sphercotypes, Melainotypes, and patent Leather Pictures, of varous sizes, taken with all the improvements of the art. Portraits. Miniatures, Engravings, &c., accurately copied. Viewstaken when desired.

jan 11

SUMMER ARRANG

TO

LYNN & BOS

BY

OMNIBUS & HORS

W. F. BURNHA

Line of Omnibuses will leave the L Omnibus Office, No. 6 Allen's Buildi vers, passing down Main Street, throu Street, to Lynn, daily—Sundays inclu

Leave South Danvers at 7 50 o'clo and 4 50 P. M.

Leave Lynn (Horse Car Depot, Wes A. M., 2 40 and 6 40 P. M.

Horse Cars leaving the office at 14 at 8 15 A. M., 1 15 and 5 15 P. M., will buses at Lynn, at the above named passengers to South Danvers.

Tickets to Lynn, -
Through to Boston, -

Gravesend, Woodend, a Depot Route.

ON and after Monday, Nov 2, in add route, an Omnibus will leave Sou Lynn, to connect with the steam an times daily,—Sundays excepted,—ru Gravesend and Woodend, to the Cent and Horse Railroad Station, corner Broad Streets; leaving South Danvers necting with the 7.25 steam cars for B (connecting with the 11.10 train), and ing with the 4.50 train); and returnin from the Spring Street Station and C pot, at 8 A M, and 1 and 6 P M.

Fare from S. Danvers to Boston by
" " " " s

Through Tickets to and from Boston the Drivers and Conductors.

South Danvers, Salem a Route.

THE subscriber having purchased ley the Omnibus line running Lynn, would announce that it will Stage Office, No. 6 Allen's Building, S for Salem, at 7 30 A M, and 2 30 P M. Stage Office in Central St, Salem, a 3 30 P M for Lynn. Returning will lea A M and 5 P M; and Salem for South A M, and 6.15 P M.

Passengers between South Danvars be called for by leaving orders at the Passengers called for at reasonable is given at the office.

EXPRESS BUSINE

Between South Danvers and Lynn p ed to, on reasonable terms.

Extra Coaches furnished at short no

W. F. BU

South Danvers, April 20, 1864.

GROUT & MUNF

SOUTH DANVERS &

RAILROAD EXP

Express leaves South Danvers at
Freight " " at
Express leaves Boston at
Freight " " at

OFFICE at FREIGHT DE

Danvers Square.

Express Office in Boston, 3 Wash
Freight Office, 48 Kilby

Particular attention paid to re niture, collecting Bills, Notes, D

Smallest favors thankfully received.

South Danvers, august 26—tf

MARSHALL

DANVERS, SO. DANVERS

EXPRESS.

Leave DANVERS (daily) at 9 A. M.
" SALEM at 1½ P. M.

OFFICES:

In Danvers—At E B Waitt's and the P
Danversport—Richards' and A W War
In So. Danvers—Francis Dane & Co's, street.
In Salem—No 7 Washington street, 19 17 Derby Square.

All business promptly and faithfully

—— Our patrons are particularly write their orders.

—— Packages left at the office, shou "Marshall's Express."

—— Being connected with the E are enabled to forward Notes, Draft collection, and small packages, to point in the United States, at the

P. G. M

dec1-8-tf

WEBBER

South Danvers & Salem Ma

WILL leave South Danvers at 7½ a 1½ and 5 P. M.

Leaves Salem at 8.45 A. M., 12 M., 2

Slates will be found in South Danve Office, and at Blake & Holman's stor ment, and in Salem at the Coach Stati Street, and at E P & J W Roberts', co Washington Streets.

Any packages or business entrusted will have prompt attention and care. lic patronage is solicited.

PARKE

Important to the Af

DR. DOW continues to be consulte Nos. 7 and 9 Endicott street, Bost cases of a

PRIVATE OR DELICATE NA

By a long course of study and practi of unlimited extent, Dr. D. has now th of presenting the unfortunate with have never, since he first introduced t cure the most alarming cases of

GONORRHŒA AND SYPH

Beneath his treatment, all the horro and impure blood, Impotency, Scrofula Ulcers, pain and distress in the regio tion, Inflammation of the Bladder and drocele, Abscesses, Humors, frightful the long train of horrible symptoms class of disease, are made to become a the simplest ailings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS

Dr. D. devotes a great part of his ti ment of those cases caused by a secre habit, which ruins the body and mind unfortunate individual for business or of the sad and melancholy effects prod habits of youth, are Weakness of limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness pitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Ner rangement of the digestive functions Consumption, &c. The fearful effect are much to be dreaded; loss of mem of ideas, depression of spirits, ev aversion of society, self-distrust, tim among the evils produced. Such perso fore contemplating matrimony, consult experience, and be at once restored happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under D ment a few days or weeks, will be f pleasant rooms, and charges for board

Medicines sent to all parts of the co directions for use, on receiving desc cases. Dr. Dow has also for sale the F warranted the best preventive. Ord or $1 and a red stamp.

CAUTION

TO FEMALES IN DELICATE

DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, 7 street, Boston, is consulted daily for a dent to the female system. Prolapsus ing of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Suppre er menstrual derangements, are all tre pathological principles, and speedy rel in a very few days. So invariably cer mode of treatment, that most obstin yield under it, and the afflicted person in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater ex cure of diseases of women and child other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for patie wish to stay in Boston a few days un ment.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined tention to an office practice, for the cu Diseases and Female Complaints, ack superior in the United States.

N. B.—All letters must contain four r they will not be answered.

Office Hours from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.

CERTAIN CURE

IN ALL CASES, OR NO CHARG

Dr. Dow is consulted daily, from 8 a as above, upon all difficult and chron every name and nature, having by his tention and extraordinary success gain which calls patients from all parts of obtain advice.

Among the physicians in Boston, none in the profession than the celebrated D 7 Endicott street, Boston. Those who vices of an experienced physician and give him a call. P. S.—Dr. Dow impor sale a new article, called the French S by mail. Two for $1 and a red stamp.

April 20, 1864—1y.

FOREST RIVER WHITE

A SUPPLY of White Lead fr from the mills.

jel5 S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS, 3

South Danvers Wizard.

VOL. V. SOUTH DANVERS, MASS., WEDNESDAY, JUNE 29, 1864. NO. 26.

HE SOUTH DANVERS WIZARD
ublished every WEDNESDAY, at Allen's Build-
South Danvers Square.
ERMS—Two Dollars a year.
DVERTISEMENTS inserted at reasonable rates.

CHARLES D. HOWARD,
EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

. R. NILES, Advertising Agent,
1 Scollay's Building, Court Street, Boston, is Agent for that city, and is authorized to re- e advertisements and subscriptions for us at lowest rates.

MISS. S. E. MACKINTIRE.
TEACHER ON
ANO FORTE
RESIDENCE,—22 Holton Street,
n13 South Danvers.

URNITURE.
AVING taken the Store No. 10 FRONT STREET, (formerly occupied by BENJAMIN COLMAN,) I keep constantly on hand a large stock of
W AND SECOND-HAND FURNITURE,
DING, COUNTING-ROOM DESKS, &c., &c., h I will sell cheap for CASH.
KINDS OF FURNITURE NEATLY REPAIRED.
—All kinds of FURNITURE and BED-
G wanted—for which the highest Cash price be paid.
J. HYNES, 10 FRONT-ST. em, April 6, 1864—1y

HOUSEKEEPERS, ATTENTION!
JACKSON'S
CHEN FURNISHING ROOMS,
der MECHANIC HALL, Salem.
rties about commencing House-Keeping find this the only place in Salem where a lete assortment of House-keeping articles e found. Dec 9—6w

MANUAL FEN[illegible]OSA
TEACHER
OF THE
lin, Piano and Singing,
MUSIC ROOMS, No. 7 Central Street,
SALEM, MASS.

Horse Railroad Notice.
and after FRIDAY, May 27th, single ares on the Salem and South Danvers oad will be six cents.
kages of eighteen tickets will be sold 1.00.
gle fares on the South Salem Branch will e cents, and packages of twenty-five tick- ill be sold for $1.00.
es for Children between the ages of 3 and ears, and for Scholars attending school, be four cents, or twenty-five tickets 1.00.
em, June 1, 1864. M. H. HALE.

CARRIAGES
OF ALL KINDS
PAIRED AND PAINTED
—BY—
OHN C. BLANEY,
Rear of Lowell Depot, Central St.,
Danvers, April 6, 1864.

MORRIS'
ESTAURANT,
and 20 Derby Square, Salem.
rs, Clams, Steak, Poultry, Game, Fish, &c., &c., cooked to order.
Pickled Oysters, Lobsters and Clams.
m, July 22, 1863. tf

GAYLE & CO.,
ENERAL COMMISSION MERCHANTS,
DEALERS IN
our, Grain and Produce,
Manufacturers' Agents for the sale of ntrated Leaven, Soda and Pearlash Saleratus, and Bi Carb. Soda.
LIPS WHARF, - - - - Salem.

UST ARRIVED,
DANVERS MILLS.
O Bushels Corn, in the minnie cob, and will be sold in South Danvers. stantly on hand a large stock of meal, will be sold at the lowest Salem prices.
—ALSO ON HAND—
Bushels Feed;
Bushels prime Northern Oats;
Barrels choicest Family Flour.
ood stock of LIME constantly on hand.
OHN C. MOULTON,
Central St., South Danvers, Mass.
25—tf.

THOMAS PINNOCK,
LATER,
SALEM, MASS.
rs may be left at his Yard, No. 25 Pea- t., or at his house No. 6 Hancock street, Salem.
s covered with any kind of Slates, ac- to order. All work warranted.
n, May 7, 1862. tf

ble Real Estate in So. Danvers for Sale or to Let.
The large dwelling house and barn and out-buildings, with land under and g, belonging to the estate of the late Carey, situated on Fulton street.
a very desirable lot of land, extending ulton street to High street, with a front ty feet on each street.
terms and particulars, apply to
EBEN UPTON,
1 27.—tf. No. 31 Barr street, Salem.

Real Estate for Sale.
Subscriber offers for sale one undivid- ninth part of the Estate on Lowell nklin streets, formerly owned by Mrs. h GILE. This very valuable property sold on fair and easy terms.
nformation in relation to it will be given lication to MR. CHARLES B. HAVEN, n street, near the premises.
SAMUEL FELLOWS.
Danvers, June 15, 1864.

NEW FLOUR AND GRAIN STORE,
Central St., opposite Old South.
THE subscriber would inform the citizens of this town and vicinity that he has taken the store lately vacated by Mr. WHIDDEN, painter, where he will sell, by the Wholesale and Retail, the very best of
FLOUR, CORN, MEAL, OATS, FEED, &C., at the Lowest Market Prices.
JOHN G. MOULTON.
So. Danvers, March 16, 1864—tf.

Pure Ground Bone
For Farming and Horticultural Purposes.
THE subscriber would announce that he is now constantly manufacturing and preparing for sale PURE GROUND BONE—conceded by all who have tried it to be the best article in use for fertilizing trees, grape vines, gardens, etc. It can be obtained in large or small quantities.
Also for Sale, NEAT'S FOOT OIL, TALLOW and GREASE.
☞ Cash paid for Bones.
TIMOTHY WALTON.
Post-Office Address, box 99 South Danvers, Mass. April 20—3m

ICE! ICE!!
THE undersigned would announce that he has made arrangements for running an
ICE WAGON
through South Danvers and Salem, the coming season, beginning MAY 1ST, and ending NOVEMBER 1ST.
☞ He will deliver ice made at BANCROFT'S POND, which is supplied mostly from the surplus-water of SPRING POND. This ice cannot be excelled in point of purity and clearness.
☞ A share of patronage is respectfully solicited.
☞ Orders may be left at the Wizard Office, or sent by mail.
BYRON GOODELL.
South Danvers, April 13, 1864. 3m—is.

PIN WORMS. MRS. OSBORN'S Universal Worm Powders are the only sure cure ever offered to the public. They are warranted in every case; relief within 24 hrs. 25 cts. per box. Sold by all druggists.
For sale by D. P. GROSVENOR, JR., 33 Main St., South Danvers. jan 27

LYON'S KATHAIRON.
Kathairon is from the Greek word "Kathro," or "Kathairo," signifying to cleanse, rejuvenate and restore. This article is what its name signifies. For preserving, restoring and beautifying the human hair it is the most remarkable preparation in the world. It is again owned and put up by the original proprietor, and is now made with the same care, skill and attention which gave it a sale of over one million bottles per annum.
It is a most delightful Hair Dressing.
It eradicates scurf and dandruff.
It keeps the head cool and clean.
It makes the hair rich, soft and glossy.
It prevents the hair from falling off and turning gray.
It restores hair upon bald heads.
Any lady or gentleman who values a beautiful head of hair should use Lyon's Kathairon. It is known and used throughout the civilized world. Sold by all respectable dealers.
DEMAS S. BARNES, & CO., New-York.

HAGAN'S MAGNOLIA BALM.
This is the most delightful and extraordinary article ever discovered. It changes the sun burnt face and hands to a pearly satin texture of ravishing beauty, imparting the marble purity of youth, and the distingue appearance so inviting in the city belle of fashion. It removes tan, freckles, pimples and roughness from the skin, leaving the complexion fresh, transparent and smooth. It contains no material injurious to the skin. Patronized by Actresses and Opera Singers. It is what every lady should have. Sold everywhere.
Prepared by W. E. HAGAN, Troy N. Y.
Address all orders to
DEMAS S. BARNES, & CO., New-York.

HEIMSTREET'S
INIMITABLE HAIR RESTORATIVE.
NOT A DYE,
But restores gray hair to its original color, by supplying the capillary tubes with natural sustenance, impaired by age or disease. All instantaneous dyes are composed of lunar caustic, destroying the vitality and beauty of the hair, and afford of themselves no dressing. Heimstreet's Inimitable Coloring not only restores hair to its natural color by an easy process,
Luxuriant Beauty,
promotes its growth, prevents its falling off, eradicates dandruff, and imparts health and pleasantness to the head. It has stood the test of time, being the original Hair Coloring, and is constantly increasing in favor. Used by both gentlemen and ladies. It is sold by all respectable dealers, or can be procured by them of the commercial agents, D. S. BARNES & CO., 202 Broadway, New York. Two sizes, 50 cents and $1.

MEXICAN MUSTANG LINIMENT.
The parties in St. Louis and Cincinnati, who have been Counterfeiting the Mustang Liniment under pretense of proprietorship, have been thoroughly estoped by the Courts. To guard against further imposition, I have procured from the U. States Treasury, a private steel plate revenue stamp, which is placed over the top of each bottle. Each stamp bears the fac simile of my Signature, and without which the article is a Counterfeit, dangerous and worthless imitation. Examine every bottle. This Liniment has been in use and growing in favor for many years. There hardly exists a hamlet on the habitable Globe that does not contain evidence of its wonderful effects. It is the best emolient in the world. With its present improved ingredients, its effects upon man and beast are perfectly remarkable. Sores are healed, pains relieved, lives saved, valuable animals made useful, and untold ills assuaged. For cuts, bruises, sprains, rheumatism, swellings, bites, cuts, caked breasts, strained horses, &c., it is a Sovereign Remedy that should never be dispensed with. It should be in every family. Sold by all Druggists.
D. S. BARNES, New-York.
March 9th, 1864.—1 yr.

Selected Poetry.

LITTLE NELLIE.

We clip from the Washington Chronicle the following beautiful verses, which we recognize as the production of our Washington correspondent, S. R. BOND, Esq., who so often favors us with an interesting letter from that city, over the signature of "Delta:"

Little Nellie, angel Nellie,
Brief the days that held thee here,
Till thy soul, so pure and stainless,
Sought another, better sphere,
Sought a home among the angels,
Where is neither grief nor tear.

As the fragrance of the flower
Mingles with the summer air,
So thy spirit, wafted heavenward,
Mingles with the sinless there;
Spirit of a form so lovely,
Ne'er was flower half so fair.

Beautiful thy face while sleeping
That last sleep, whose dream is heaven,
With no sickness to oppress thee,
With no sins to be forgiven;
But fond hearts were crushed with anguish
When the tenderest ties were riven.

In thy hand was placed a flower,
Of thy mother's love a token,
When the silver cord was loosened
And the golden bowl was broken;
For she loved her darling Nellie
More than language could have spoken.

Tenderly she watched thy suffering,
Nursed thee till thy parting breath,
Till an angel came and bore thee
O'er the narrow stream of death;
Bore thee to a fairer haven
Just beyond the stream of death.

"Dearest father, dearest mother,"
Seems to sing an angel voice,
"Weep not, grieve not for thy darling,
'Twas our heavenly Father's choice;
I am with the blest in heaven,
Grieve not, weep not, but rejoice.

I am safe from earthly sorrows,
I am free from every pain,
I am only here before you,
Your bereavement is my gain;
You shall sometime come and clasp me
To your loving hearts again."

KICK HIM DOWN.

If, in the treacherous path of life,
Thy brother's foot should slip,
And words of folly, hate, or strife
Fall from his thoughtless lip;
Or if perchance, as many say,
Dame Fortune she should frown
And blight his prospects, fair as day,
The cry is—Kick him down!

Whate'er his state in life has been—
If honest, worthy, wise;
Or if the wealthy day hath seen,
Of course you'll shut your eyes.
If poverty, with brazen chain,
Should bind him to the ground,
He, struggling 'tempts to rise again,
The cry is—Kick him down!

If solitude and penitence
For errors be his lot,
And conscience brings remembrances
Of follies once forgot;
If Hope, again, with buoyant wing,
Flings joy and peace around,
A thousand accusations bring,
And try to—Kick him down.

If on his well meant efforts rest
The helpless child for life,
And near his doubting, beating breast
There hangs an anxious wife;
If on the altar of his care
There hopes and joys are bound,
What retribution waits your share,
Who aid to—Kick him down?

If good intent the man should guide,
Though failing in a part,
Discourage not—the world is wide—
There's good in every heart.
Let sympathy the soul inspire,
Where'er misfortune's found,
And man, still struggling, admire,
And never—Kick him down!

☞ There are at present nearly eleven thousand rebel prisoners confined at Fort Delaware. They occupy ground outside of the fort, where a strong guard is maintained. Thirty guns bear upon the quarters of the prisoners outside the fort, and great precaution is taken to prevent escape.

☞ For the first time within thirty years, in the State of Maine, an execution will take place during the present month. The victim of the gallows is Spencer, who murdered the Warden of the State Prison.

☞ It is said in the recent history of the British mails by Mr. Lewins, that the great majority of the complaints at the post office are made by the clergymen.

☞ Pennsylvania is at present producing nearly 15,000,000 tons of coal annually, and at the present price of coal must be exacting an enormous annual sum.

☞ The great cigar ship, which they are now completing in England, is to be launched in the Thames about the middle of August next.

☞ Nearly fifty thousand acres of land in Canada have been sown this year with flax—ten times as much as last year.

☞ Ben. Butler has been made a life-member of the American Tract Society.

Selected.

CIRCASSIAN JUSTICE.

During the latter half of the year 1840, a murderous skirmish, almost amounting to a pitched battle, took place between the Russian troops, under Generals Tezt, Krabbe and Syzojef, and the Circassian tribes commanded by Schamyl, Khan of the Tchetchenets. The scene of combat was on the vast plain of Dahgestan, at the foot of the Soutka heights; and the mountaineers, after fighting from sunrise to sunset, gained a decided advantage over the forces of the Czar. According to custom, they then retired to the recesses of the mountains, loaded with plunder, and carrying with them a great number of prisoners. The Avariens, who had furnished to the expedition a contingent of a thousand men, under the orders of Baty-Mizza, son of their Khan Mendly, took to their camps much booty, and one hundred and thirty-eight prisoners, captured by themselves in the engagement.

In the centre of the forest of Borjaki, at a spot where the pines have either been cut down by the hand of man or destroyed by fire, there stands a sort of cabin, covered with reeds, and termed the mansion of the Khan. It is one of the retreats of this savage prince. The exterior of the dwelling is far from resembling the sumptuous palaces of the Tartar khans of the Crimea; but the interior presents all the usual display of oriental luxury, being furnished with a thousand rich ornaments, the produce of the master's yataghan. Around this retreat ran two rivulets, walled by abrupt masses of rocks. The path leading to the spot is such as to be almost inaccessible to any foot but that of an Avarien. In the centre of the open space fronting the cabin stood, after the battle mentioned, the unfortunate Russian captives, so secured as to render all chance of escape impossible. Each of them had his hands firmly tied behind his back, and around the necks of all of them were cords, attached at the other extremity to a stake firmly fixed in the ground. Fifty Avariens, armed with their carbines and yataghans, watched over the captives continually, while, at every hour of the day, other members of the tribe paraded in front of the band, eyeing them with curious and angry looks, and frequently addressing them with insiduous questions in the tongues of Tartary or Russia.

For seven days the prisoners remained in this condition, and all the while the six old men, appointed arbiters of their fate, continued with the khan in his dwelling. The khan was the president of this band of judges, making them seven in all. Seven is the magical number of the Avariens, agreeing with the snowy summits of Elbroouz, on which, according to the popular fancies of the tribe, the divinities reside who judge of men after death.

The seven days passed away. At sunrise on the morning of the eighth, an Avarien struck three blows on the silver cymbals suspended before the dwelling of the khan. At the signal, Mendly Khan and the six old men issued forth.

The Avariens are neither Mahommedans nor Christians. Their religion—if such a name can be given to their superstitions—is one of the most singular on the face of the earth. The first object they behold in the morning on crossing their threshold is to them the divinity of the day. Its apotheosis lasts for twenty-four hours, and inferior persons usually follow the rule which chiefs lay down in this respect. Thus, on issuing from his dwelling, Mendly Khan cast his eyes upward, and, perceiving a raven passing over head, exclaimed,

"The raven is God!"

On the instant all around joined him in the cry, and poured forth words of adoration to the unconscious divinity of the moment. Immediately afterward, a carpet was spread on the ground in front of the prisoners. The judges took their places, with the khan in the middle, and the accusers of the prisoners were called forward. Three presented themselves under this character. The first who spoke was Ali Katzan, one of the bravest of the Avarien warriors.

"Five of these prisoners," he said, "I recognize to be traitors, deserters—Circassians by blood, though serving in the Russian ranks I accuse them of treachery, for they have borne arms against their brethren! and I demand the punishment of death upon them."

The second accuser, Mahommed Bey, then stepped forward.

"In the number of these prisoners," said he, "there is a Russian officer whose death I demand. That officer, whose name is Firt-Mayer, came to our mountains last year in the guise of a common soldier, and represented himself as a deserter. We pited him, for we believed him unfortunate. He slept under our tents, he ate our bread, and then he returned to his own people, to tell what he had learned of our strength and purposes. This officer, Firt-Mayer, is a Russian spy. I call for the sacrifice of his life in reparation of a crime so odious and cowardly."

Azral Lerg, the third accuser, charged another of the captive officers with having given false money in payment for two horses sold to him.

"We have heard the accusations of Ali Katzan, Mahommed Bey, and Azral Lerg, with an impartial ear," said Mendly Khan. "We swear by the raven, god of the day, that we will not sit down or taste repose until justice be done between the accused and their accusers."

The five Cabardians, as the Circassians of the plain are called, were then brought out from among the other prisoners. On being questioned, they admitted their Circassian origin; but each of them alleged, in excuse, that he had been by force constrained to enter the service of the Russian Emperor.

"The caged bird flies and regains its forests as soon as it can find an opportunity," said Mendly Khan, gravely.

The prisoners, for a time, made no answer to the ominous remark; but at length one of them said:

"We have never fought against your brethren."

"Then did you seize the chance to kill some of these Russian oppressors?"

One of the captives answered, mournfully:

"No."

Silence reigned in the assembly for some time after this response was given. The six old men conversed in whispering tones with the khan. Finally three strokes of the symbal were given, and Mendly Khan rose to his feet.

The following was the decree pronounced by him:

"All praise to the raven, who lends his light to justice! Wolves battle not with wolves; there ought to be no Circassians who make war upon the Circassians. He is a deep-dyed traitor who, in the interest of slavery, makes war upon his free brethren. Let your yataghans fall upon the heads of the Muscovites like the tempest upon a field predestined to destruction! May they disappear like the smoke of our hearths! At the same time, let justice strike the traitors like lightning. Death to the deceivers!"

The five Cabardians were led away, making gestures of terror and despair. The officer, Fert-Mayer, was then brought forward; but to all questions put to him he refused to make any reply—indicating, by his manner, that he did not understand the language addressed to him. Mohamed Bey, his accuser, then stood forward, and demanded leave to bring forth his witnesses against Firt-Mayer. Several of them advanced, and bore decided testimony to the fact of having seen the officer in the disguise of a traitor and spy. Mendly Khan then pronounced judgment; and it was a dreadful one.

He condemned the officer, Firt-Mayer, to have his eyes torn out, because it was by their aid he had found his way to the dwellings of the tribe; his legs were to be cut off, because they had borne him to his treacherous destination; his ears were to be filled with melted lead, because those organs had served him to learn the purpose of the Avariens; his tongue was to be torn out, because by means of it he had made his report; and finally, life itself was to be reft from him by painful and lingering means. On hearing this terrible decree the Russian officer lost all self-command. Forgetting that he affected ignorance of the language of his captors, he burst into a storm of menaces and imprecations, presaging severe punishment to the Circassians for the injury done through him to the Czar. The unfortunate man only did himself injury by this outbreak. The khan and the old men held his words to be a complete proof of his having been a spy among them.

Buchanoff, the officer whom Azral Lergs had accused of paying false money, was then brought forward; and in his case a striking example was given of the sense of justice which regulated the decree of this savage tribunal.

"The gold which I gave in exchange for the horses was not base coin. It was the same as had been given me on the day previous as a part of my pay. If you do not seek my blood, you may soon convince yourselves that the money which I gave is held good in all parts of the empire of my august master the Czar."

"Speak you the truth?" said the khan, casting a searching eye upon the prisoner.

"I do speak the truth!" answered Buchanoff. "One who is worthy to bear a sword would not seek to save his life by a lie."

The khan spoke for a few moments to his associates.

"I suspend the decree," he said at length, "regarding you. If you have lied you shall perish; if not you shall be free."

This was the close of the scene of judgment. The condemned parties were handed over to the executioners; and while the bloody decrees were being carried into effect the cymbals never ceased their stunning sound. On the fourth morning afterward, the soldiery of the Russian camp were horrified by the sight of six trees planted before their tents, each bearing a dead body, the monuments of Circassian justice.

ADVENURE WITH A BEAR.

Among the earliest settlers in the wilds of Salmon River, was a Vermonter by the name of Dobson, a resolute and athletic man. Returning one evening from a fruitless hunt after his vagrant cows, which, according to custom in the new counties, had been turned into the woods to procure their own subsistence from the rank herbage of the early summer, just before emerging from the forest upon the clearing of his neighbor, the late worthy Mr. Joseph Sleeper, he saw a large bear descending from a lofty sycamore, where he had probably been in quest of honey. A bear ascends a tree much more expertly than he descends it, being obliged to come down stern foremost. My friend Dobson did not very well like to be joined in his evening walk by such a companion, and without reflecting what he should do with the "varmint" afterwards, he ran up to the tree on the opposite side from the animal's body, and just on his reaching the ground seized him firmly by both his fore paws. Bruin growled and gnashed his tusks, but he soon ascertained that his paws were in the grasp of paws equally iron-strong with his own. Nor could he use his hinder claws to disembowel his antagonist, as the manner of the bear is, inasmuch as the trunk of the tree was between them. But Dobson's predicament, as he was endowed with rather the most reason, was worse yet. He could no more assail the bear than the bear could assail him. Nor could he venture to let go of him, since the presumption was that Bruin would not make him a very gracious return for thus unceremoniously taking him by the hand. The twilight was fast deepening into darkness, and his position was far less comfortable than it otherwise would have been at the same hour, surrounded by his wife and children at the supper-table, to say nothing of the gloomy prospect for the night. Still, as Joe Sleeper's house was not far distant, he hoped to be able to call him to his assistance. But his lungs, though none of the weakest, were unequal to the task; and although he halloed and bawled the live-long night, making the woods and the welkin ring again, he succeeded no better than did Glendower of old, in calling spirits from the vasty deep. It was a wearisome night for Dobson; such a game of hold-fast he had never been engaged in before. Bruin, too, was probably somewhat wearied; although he could not describe his sensations in English, he took the regular John Bull style of making known his dissatisfaction—that is to say, he growled incessantly. But there was no let-go in this case, and Dobson was therefore under the necessity of holding fast until he felt as if his clenched and aching fingers and the bear's paws had grown together.

As daylight returned, and the smoke from Mr. Sleeper's chimney began to curl up gracefully, though rather dimly in the distance, Dobson again repeated his cries for succor, and his heart was soon gladdened by the appearance of his worthy, but inactive neighbor, who had been attracted at last by the voice of the impatient sufferer, bearing an axe upon his shoulder. Dobson had never been so much rejoiced at seeing Mr. Sleeper before—albeit, he was a very kind and estimable neighbor.

"Why don't you make haste, Mr. Sleeper, and not be lounging about at that rate when you see a fellow-christian in such a kettle of fish as this?"

"I vum! is that you, Mr. Dobson, up agin a tree there? And was it you I hearn ballooing so last night? I guess you ought to have your lodging for nothing, if you have stood up agin that tree all night."

"It's no joke though, Mr. Joe Sleeper, I can tell you; and if you'd had hold of the paws of the black varmint all night, it strikes me you'd think you'd paid dear enough for it. But if you heard me calling for help in the night, why didn't you come and see what was the trouble?"

"Oh, I was just going tired to bed, after laying up log fence all day, and I thought I'd wait till morning and come out bright and airly; but if I'd known 'twas you—"

"Known it was me," replied Dobson, bitterly; "you knew 'twas somebody who had flesh and blood, too good for these plaguey black varmits though; and you knew there's been a smart sprinkle of bears about the settlement all the spring."

"Well, don't be in a huff, Tommy.—It's never too late to do good. So hold him tight now, and don't let the tarnal critter get loose while I split his head open."

"No, no," said Dobson; "after holding the beast here all night, I think I ought to have the satisfaction of killing him. So you just take hold of his paws here, and I will take the axe and let a streak of daylight into his skull, about the quickest."

The proposition being a fair one, Mr. Sleeper was too reasonable a man to object. He was no coward neither, and he thereupon stepped up to the tree, and cautiously taking the bear with both his hands, relieved honest Dobson from his predicament. The hands of the latter, though sadly stiffened by the tenacity with which they had been clenched for so many hours, were soon brandishing the axe, and he apparently made all preparations for giving the deadly blow—and deadly it would have been had he struck; but, to the surprise of Sleeper, he did not strike; and to his further consternation, Dobson swung the axe upon his shoulder, and marched away, whistling as he went, with as much apparent indifference as the other had shown when coming to his relief.

It was now Sleeper's turn to make the forest vocal with his cries. In vain he raved, and called, and threatened. Dobson walked on and disappeared, leaving his friend as sad a prospect for his breakfast, as he himself had had for his supper.

Hour after hour passed away, and Sleeper still found himself at bo-peep with Bruin. In the course of the afternoon, however, when Dobson supposed that the lesson he was teaching had been thoroughly learned by his pupil, and when he thought the latter would willingly forget his resentment for the sake of succor, the sturdy Yankee returned, and by a single blow relieved both bear and man from their troubles in the same instant.

Sleeper thought rather hard of Dobson for some time, but no real breach of friendship ensued, and, indeed, the two borderers became afterwards better friends and neighbors than before.

TO STOP A RUNAWAY HORSE.—The American Agriculturalist has the following:—"Take a small but strong cord, tie one end into a loop (not a slip noose,) pass it over the horse's head, and attach it, rather loosely to the throat-latch, so that it will not fall down too low. The other end of the cord is passed to the carriage, within easy reach of the driver. When the horse runs, and cannot be stopped by the reins, pull upon the cord hard enough to stop his breathing; he will soon stop—indeed, he must stop. So soon as he stops, slack up the cord, and quiet him by soothing words and kind treatment. There is no danger of his falling, as he will stop long before he becomes exhausted, and will brace himself on his feet so long as he has strength—the cord being slackened as soon as he stops, will relieve him. This simple remedy may be applied to any horse which is in the habit of running away. He will very soon connect cause and effect together, and after a few trials will be entirely cured. Kicking, backing, and other vicious habits yielded to the same remedy when judiciously employed."

☞ The steam engines of England do the work of eighty millions of horses and four hundred millions of men.

The Wizard.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 29, 1864.

PHILADELPHIA SANITARY FAIR.

This exhibition is a prodigy of its kind. It would take a thousand of our columns to give a full description of the articles it contains. Of course in this paragraph we can but take a cursory view of it. Upon entering from the street we first see, in full working operation, a patent brick making machine, capable of striking off 3000 bricks a day at one-third the cost of hand-made bricks. This model strikes off miniature bricks, which sell readily to the by-standers at five cents each.

Near by is a veritable hot-air engine—one of those inventions that so many have heard of and but so few have seen! It is in constant motion. Passing on we come to a miniature house with windows and doors having the Buglar Alarm Telegraph attached to them. The opening of a door or window causes an instant and inevitable ringing of a bell. In another portion of the building is a steam engine in full operation, made entirely of glass. As all parts are transparent, its mechanical operations, and the movements of the steam and water, are all plainly visible. As a piece of exquisite workmanship, it is a wonder to behold. Near this is a troupe of glass blowers plying their vocation—making all kinds of fancy and useful articles. Their operations were so interesting that ladies and gentlemen would often stand, by the half hour together, witnessing them.

The most magnificent production of human ingenuity which the Fair contains, is a Jacquard Loom. A single operative was employed in working the loom, which was weaving, simultaneously, 16 different silk neck-ties, all of different color, and each with raised figures. The ties sold readily as fast as they were produced. A crowd was continually looking on with amazement as well as curiosity.

The most beautiful work of art to be seen was the Union Vase. This is truly a princely gift. It is of solid silver, some three feet high, and a foot and a half broad at the base—not, of coure, meaning its solid dimensions, but its outer lines. The cost of this vase was $2,500, and it is to go to the one having the largest number of votes.

When we were at the fair, the Philadelphia Union League was far ahead of all competitors, but upon the visit of President Lincoln the papers appealed to the Union League voters to do as the delegates did in the National Convention—change their votes for Mr. Lincoln. How far they yielded to this appeal we are not advised.

The Fair also contains a very costly prize sword, to be presented according to the same plan. It is mounted with gold and diamonds; but as the precious metals and stones are now so well imitated to the ordinary observer, and are so common everywhere in these shoddy times, there was nothing particularly curious or attractive in the article. The voting, however, invests it with some air of interest. General Hancock was ahead the other day, but we don't know how the ballot stands now.

The devices for raising money were numerous and in some cases cunning. Though the admission fee to the Fair is only 50 cents, but after you are in you will be surprised to find that you are only into a small part of it. Would you visit the Gallery of Fine Arts? You can do so for 25 cents. You can go into the Horticultural Department for 25 cents. The Penn Parlor can be visited for 25 cents. If the visitor wants a glass of water, he can have it for one cent. If he don't like that he can have lager beer, but he must give 15 cents to go into the saloon where it is sold. If he would like to be weighed he can be accommodated by the common Fairbanks scale at the cost of only five cents. If you would wish for a glass of lemonade made of sugar, water and cream tartar, reddened with refuse strawberries, you can have it for five cents; or an ice cream (so called,) you can have that luxury for only 25 cents. If you want one of the little iron horse-shoes, ground out by the horse-shoe machine, you can have it for ten cents, though its prime cost to the manufacturer is about half of a mill. If you want one of the machine bricks, it is ready for you, all done up in a paper, for five cents, though a hundred of them cost about one cent. Would you like a medal struck off before your eyes? If so, you can have one of bronze for ten cents, of silver for fifty cents;—cost of former one cent, of latter 5 cents, and so on, "ad infinite items."

Vive la bagatelle. Never mind; all for the good of the soldier.

The unsophisticated young gentleman who takes his lady-love to the Fair, thinking it will cost him a dollar to see the exhibition, and being too modest to say no to the importunities of the managers, finally passes the Grand Exit of the Fair minus eight or ten dollars, and wondering where it is all gone to, And other young gentlemen, and old gentlemen, as well as young ladies and old ladies, who would not give a shilling to a lame soldier in the street to buy a luncheon with, readily launch over their five, ten or fifteen dollars at the Sanitary Fair. Now this is all right. The good that is educed from some of the seeming evils of these Sanitary Fairs is a blessing to the suffering soldier; but the circumlocution by which it is brought about, and by which it can only be brought about, aptly illustrates the singular charscteristics of poor human nature.

WOUNDED SOLDIERS.

MR. CLARENCE WARREN, of the 1st Mass. H. A., arrived home last week, with a wound in his knee, but he is able to get about with great care.

MR. FERGUSON, who had a bad wound through his left hand and expected to suffer amputation, the time having been appointed for the operation, is considerably better, and it is believed that the hand will be saved.

MR. HENRY MOORE, of the same regiment, is reported wounded through one arm, and also in the opposite shoulder. He is expected home.

WILLIAM H. SHOVE is reported officially, and by letters from his comrades, as badly wounded in his breast. A more recent letter says of him that a ball entered his right breast and came out at the shoulder blade. The surgeon thinks it did not reach a vital part.

PAUL OOBORN of this town is reported wounded.

Many exceedingly narrow escapes are narrated. NATHAN LAKEMAN had a shot through his haversack striking and bending his bayonet haft. TIMOTHY LORD had a ball through his boot. The soldiers describe the storm of bullets and shells as rather "uncomfortable."

AUSTIN A. HERRICK.

We have already noticed the death of this young soldier, who was killed in one of the late battles in Virginia. But more than a simple mention is due to the character of this estimable young man. We are enabled, through the kindness of his friends, to publish the following letter, written by the chaplain of the regiment, which will show in what high estimation he was held by him and others in the army. It also gives the particulars of his lamented fall. We learn from other sources that young HERRICK was at home respected for the strict propriety of his morals and behavior, and that in the army he was free from the bad habits and vices so common in the camp. Strictly temperate, avoiding profanity, the use of tobacco in every form, and being always attentive to his duties, he was an example of true soldierly conduct to his comrades:

NEAR SAVAGE'S STATION, June 11, 1864.

DEAR SIR,—You know, before now, the principal facts concerning AUSTIN's death. He lived one hour in great feebleness, but not in terrible pain. He was probably never conscious of his full danger, as no surgeon could get near enough to tell him. But no physician on earth could have helped him, as he was shot near the stomach and heart. Corporal Frank Farnham knows where Austin lies, but the whole region is now abandoned to rebels, and nobody on earth knows when we could again visit that spot. I was confined to the wounded in hospital, two miles from the battle-field, all the next day, and we marched 32 miles away the next night, so that my duties to the living prevented my ever seeing the graves of the dead. But boards, well marked, are at their heads, and it is told us that the rebels never disturb either graves or our marks, and these boards remain good and legible two years. I am now hurrying to get ready for a march. Farnham expects to be home in three weeks, and he will tell you all about your dear boy. It is painful to me to be thus hurried in giving you an account of such a dear good soldier, and more, as your son. All who knew him loved him; and the associations of my poor brother William with your boy made Austin seem very near to me. You know he has been away from the regiment for months, guarding at Division Head Quarters. This gave me less knowledge of him lately than I used to have, but he came back to his company a few days before we marched, and I had a long talk with him. Of course his great rejoicing was that his time was so nearly out. Alas, he knew not that all time was so near its end for him!

I intend to visit you, and many others of our afflicted friends, if the dear God spares me to come home, and then I can make up for the poor scrawl which I am now obliged to send you, because we have orders to march at once, we know not where. You can write to me, freely now, addressing 1st Mass. H. A., 2d Corps, 3d Division, 2d Brigade, Washington, D. C.

Farnham will bring you some of Austin's hair. And with my heart's love and prayer for his mother and for you all, I must close.

Yours, truly,

STEPHEN BARKER,
Chaplain 1st Mass. H. A.

LYNNFIELD STRAWBERRY FESTIVAL.—Mr. Wizard,—If you will say to all witches of South Danvers, that if they will " ride on a rail" to our STRAWBERRY FESTIVAL here this Wednesday, June 29, they will receive a free pass on their return, you will much oblige

LYNNFIELD.

We advise all female wizards to accept the inducements offered by the above and go to Lynnfield TO-DAY, either on a rail or on their broomsticks.

FIRE.—Last Sunday night the soap factory of Geo. Emery, in Lynn, Gravesend, was entirely destroyed by fire.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—Mr. Samuel A. Mann, son of Thomas B. Mann, formerly of Lynn, met with a fearful accident that resulted in his death a few days ago. He was in the employment of Mr. Hedgkins, tanner, upon the first of June he accidentally fell into a vat of hot liquor which had been used for tanning hides. In endeavoring to extricate himself, he fell back into it twice, but was finally relieved by some friend, who was attracted by his cries for help. He was taken home, medical aid was procured, but the injury was too severe to give any hope of recovery. His flesh sloughed off from his bones, and after a fortnight's suffering, with great patience, he at last, in the full possession of his senses, and with Christian resignation, yielded up his life. His age was 22.

SOLDIER'S DEATH.—We are pained to hear of the death of another of our citizens, who probably received, while in the military service, a fatal shock to his constitution, which was originally rather too fragile for the rough life of a soldier.—We refer to Mr. ALPHONSO P. RHOADES, son of Mr. Joseph Rhoades. He last year served nine months in the 5th regiment, Col. Pierson, and ever since his return from the field, has apparently been on the decline. We formerly knew him well as a member of the High School, and since he left the school we have seen him often, and he has always borne himself as a steady, intelligent, moral and upright young gentleman. He was ever kind and courteous in his deportment and unassuming in his manners.

MEANNESS.—A person, who represented herself as from Salem, called about a week ago at the house of a proprietor near the western entrance of Harmony Grove and borrowed his key to the gate. It was kindly loaned to her, she promising to return it after a short walk into the Grove, but neither the lady nor the key has been seen since. Such an act of meanness is likely to make one suspicious of well-dressed people, even if they have smiling faces.

MISTAKE.—By a simple mistake of the number of a regiment, made by the usually correct correspondent of the Boston Journal, many persons here were yesterday led to the belief that the 14th Mass. (now the 1st Heavy Artillery,) had been gobbled up by the enemy. It was in fact the 19th as appears by the names of the officers reported to have escaped.

MORE DANVERS MARTYRS.—We regret to be obliged to add to the long list of the dead from our sister town, the following names:

JOHN GOODWIN,
CHARLES SHELDEN,
H. A. AIKEN, (mortally wounded),
MR. MUSGRAVE and
MR. HART.

There are also several wounded, more or less seriously, some of whom are on their way home.

[For the Wizard.]

THE RICHMOND CAMPAIGN.

We think we prophesied about two months ago that, by the 4th of July, the flag of the Union would float over Richmond. In this we fear we were too sanguine, as it now looks as if much hard work is yet necessary to capture the Rebel City or break up the Rebel army. It would be not only entirely useless, but in a high degree pernicious, for the press to undertake to disguise the fact that the campaign has not thus far yielded so much advantage to our arms, either in victories or position, as was anticipated when Grant started from Washington.

It is now nearly two months since the campaign opened. Our side has suffered losses, computed, in the aggregate, all the way from forty to sixty thousand. There is about the same disparity in conjectures as to losses of the enemy. We have not yet seriously weakened the defences of Richmond, nor apparently very much crippled Lee's army. We have had many bloody battles, and in every case our men have fought with the most undaunted heroism, and generally with success. General Grant has shown himself to be an able and active general—fertile in resources, bold in his designs, swift in execution, and persistent in his purposes. We hear no question made of the ability of General Grant, or the gallantry of his men. The only wonder expressed is, that the Confederacy should be able, at this day—after three year's hard fighting—to offer such powerful resistance to our advance.

While we are not able to report any decided and positive advantage gained towards the reduction of the great Rebel Capital, we are able to say that all accounts agree in representing the army in the best of spirits, and discipline, hopeful and enthusiastic, thoroughly reinforced, and amply supplied. Great faith is yet held by the people that the army of the Potomac is bound to succeed, sooner or later, in this campaign. No loyal man can fail to pray continually that victory will yet perch upon our banners. *

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT.—We are indebted to Hon. John B. Alley for Messages and Documents relating to the war and the Report on the Fort Pillow affair and returned prisoners.

DANCING AND WHIST PLAYING

GAIL HAMILTON, in her last work, entitled "Stumbling Blocks," has some remarks upon these amusements, which we commend to the attention and consideration of our readers. She is well known as an approved contributor to the Congregationalist and other religious publications of the "most strictest" sort, and from that point of view her opinions on this subject are worthy of note, as they show a degree of progress in liberality, and independence of thinking and speaking on social questions, which would not have been tolerated a few years ago. We look upon this change as highly favorable to the general adoption of sound notions on the matter of amusements for the young, as we know that many honest and conscientious people are still troubled in mind from fear that indulgence in these recreations is injurious in its tendencies. To such we commend the following extract:

"Look at dancing—one of the most healthful, the most civil, the most delightful, and the most beautiful of amusements—singularly adapted to the vitality, activity, and high spirits of the young, and greatly conducive to ease of manner, grace of carriage, and suavity of address; yet put under ban by whole communities, on the most frivolous pretexts. Some honestly think it wrong. Why? Not in its essence—nobody thinks it is wrong in itself—but because "it leads to dissipation." But it does not lead to dissipation. It leads away from dissipation. There is whist—a game that can find employment for the closest attention, the minutest observation, the strongest memory, and the soundest reasoning, yet of so wide a sweep that it can interest and delight a child of ten. Whole communities look upon this, too, as a snare of the devil to entrap souls.—Why? Not because it is wrong of itself, but "it leads to gambling." But it does not lead to gambling. It leads away from gambling.

"Christians are verily guilty in this matter. Multitudes believe and avow that dancing is not wrong, but they will not countenance it, because many do think it wrong, and the many who do think it wrong think it not wrong in itself, but dangerous in its associations and tendencies. It is an amusement in which the World indulges, and therefore the Church must give it up. Absurd! Let Christian families adopt it, not covertly, apologetically, as many do, but honestly and openly, and its associations will very soon come round right. An innocent thing will not long be held disreputable after reputable people have taken it up.—No matter if the World does talk about a "dancing Church" and a "card-playing Christian." The World does not decide questions of right and wrong for the Church nor shall the World monopolize the best of anything.—Let the World understand that the Church is not to be fended off from any occupation or amusement that she judges wholesome, because the world chooses to hoist the red flag of disease. Let the Church do a thing because it is right, not because the world will pat it on the shoulder, and say, "Good child, good child." Let the Church abstain from an act because it is wrong, not because, if she does it, the World will say, "Behold, thou art become as one of us." It is disgraceful bondage—an insult to Christ. His cause does not want the patronage of the World. If it cannot stand on its own intrinsic value, let it topple over. Moreover, the Christianity that can be distinguished from worldliness only by its acceptance or rejection of dancing is a very insignificant article. Let your light so shine before men, that they, seeing your good works, may glorify your Father which is in heaven. Be so humble, so devout, so sincere, so honest, so helpful, so faithful a Christian, that the World, the flesh, and the Devil shall say, "Dancing cannot be wrong, for he dances." You can hardly read your title clear to mansions in the skies, you can have hardly begun to live the Divine life, if men say, "He cannot be much of a Christian, for he dances."

FIRE.—About 12 o'clock on Thursday night, Capt. Meek, of the City Watch, discovered fire in a barn in rear of Derby street, opposite Herbert street, and gave an alarm, which soon brought the fire department to the spot; but not until considerable property had been destroyed. The barn was consumed, as was also another adjoining, and five other buildings were much damaged. One of the buildings was occupied by Mr. Thomas McCoard, as a piggery, and there were a large number of swine and a quantity of tallow belonging to Mr. McCoard destroyed. The loss probably falls most heavily on him. The other barn belonged to Mr. John Sweeney, of Boston, and was unoccupied. The house in front, No. 127 Derby street, occupied by Mrs. McCarthy, was burnt in the upper story, and made a wreck. The house No. 129 Derby was also damaged, but the prompt exertions of the firemen checked the fire before it had made much progress. Two or three houses on Union street were also considerably damaged in the rear, and at one time it seemed impossible to prevent the loss of the whole square. Three of the buildings belonged to the Ward estate. Great credit is due to the engine men for their promptness, thus saving thousands of dollars.—Salem Register.

ATLANTIC MONTHLY.—This magazine, for July, has as yet failed to reach this office, but from our private copy we find that it is filled with a more than usual variety of readable and brilliant papers. One of these, a posthumous article of the lamented Hawthorne, is so characteristic and so like him that we hesitate to believe him dead. Holmes pays a fine tribute to his memory.

THE BLOOD ROOT ELIXIR advertised in our columns is a most excellent, safe and efficient medicine. The advertisement does not set forth its merits with sufficient emphasis. The use of the elixir will be found to afford not only temporary relief, but also to affect a permanent benefit to the diseased system. We commend it heartily and unhesitatingly.—Boston Post.

☞ The body of Frederick D. Knowlton, the youngest of the party who were drowned in Salem harbor on the 6th inst., was found on Friday, near the place where the boat capsized.

☞ A secesh negro has turned up in Baltimore—John Betts, who has been arrested for hurrahing for Jeff. Davis.

[For the Wizard.]

MR. EDITOR,—From our infancy we have been told that the American nation was the freest, the bravest, the most intelligent, the most elevated, most magnanimous, honorable, glorious, disinterested and christian nation on the face of the earth; and we are sure that South Danvers is the point where all this collective excellence culminates; and we are sorry enough, that it is necessary for anybody to give the people of this little Eden a hint on justice and fair dealing. But we do it partly in self-defence.

During a little trip a short time ago, we fell in with a small company that hailed respectively, from New Hampshire, Vermont and Massachusetts. One of them was the principal of a High School in New Hampshire, in a town forty or fifty miles from here. Naturally enough he asked a good many questions about our High School; some of them we answered consecutively, as they were asked; we said "a thousand a year;"—said "sixty scholars," when we knew there were seventy, and "one assistant." He responded "one thousand—sixty scholars, and only one assistant."

We knew before, that he had "a thousand a year," before the war; that he had one assistant, and never over forty scholars. (We are glad that in this respect, things look a little more encouraging for Mr. Carleton.) Now we never had any especial love for our High School; perhaps we have had a little pique towards it, because it did not come up soon enough for us to have the benefit of it in our younger days; and we know that we should not feel put out if we never had to pay any more tax to support it. But while we do have one, let us make it respectable. Let us have respectable pupils, and a respectable teacher with a respectable salary; so that the PEABODY HIGH SCHOOL can take a high and an honorable stand among the High Schools in the State.

At present there is a good understanding between the teacher and the pupils,—always excepting the feeling of their wrongs occasioned by their "marks." The teacher, in addition to his other qualifications, is even tempered; and what is more, he understands boys, which is a great attainment. There are a good many teachers, and parents too, who might understand their boys better than they do, or better than they manage them, if they would only remember that once they were boys themselves. As it is, they draw the rein when they ought to slack it, and slack when they ought to put on the curb,—they see double when they ought to see with half an eye, and are blind when they ought to be lynx-eyed. Owing to these mistakes, the boys of the present day are a much injured, calumniated set.

Well, Mr. Carleton understands boys; and from the first, it has seemed to be a principle with him to make the best of those under his care. He deals gently with their follies, and judiciously with their perversities; and we wish that his services could be secured until we were sure of a better by change.

It is some credit to South Danvers that she has employed one teacher,—and a native at that,—so many years, in the same district. She has reaped the benefit of it. Year after year, more than double the number of successful candidates for admission to the High School (compared with other districts,) have gone from Mr. Upton's school. Other districts may have had good teachers; but it is impossible for a teacher to understand the disposition, and mental calibre, of his pupils, and adjust the school for successful operation in one term or one year.

But our immediate concern is with our High School. A good many High Schools—Danvers among the rest—have a vacation through the months of July and August. Mr. Carleton and his pupils worked a good part of their spring vacation to get money to furnish their school room comfortably; and now they have sixteen weeks (if it keeps through July) of the most trying, wearisome months in the year (except August,) with very little relaxation. Parents,—more than one—have told their children that they must leave the school, or they will be sick. They reply, "I must go until I am sick, I shall be marked so, if I leave the school before it closes. And by the way, neither teachers, committees, nor boards of education are aware of the oppressive workings of what is called the "system" of marking; nor how much fatal risk of life and health attaches to it. It is the testimony of many parents that the marks—owing to their strictness—are just as likely to discourage as to encourage their dull and slow children—the slow are not always the dull ones—and they are an injury to the fast ones—operating as a spur when they need a check—as a stimulus, when a quietus. The fast, the slow and the dull often go into their class, feeling that they have perfect lessons, and then miss from over anxiety to answer all the questions; and then go home with the bitter lament, "O, mother, he marks us awfully!" We should like to hear an argument that would convince us that there was not (in the long run) inconceivably more lost than gained by the marks, especially in our High Schools, where the studies are all hard enough at the easiest without being intensified by any questionable means.

But the object of our present writing is to make a suggestion to those who have a right to decide the matter. The two days' vacation for the Fourth brings the time to the sixth; and considering the great number of scholars, and the extraordinary heat of the school-room every summer, we think that most of the parents would be glad, for their children's and the teacher's sake, if the summer vacation could commence with the Fourth.

There is considerable interest in the matter by those who have no particular interest in the teacher or the scholars, except to be just to them. Some of them have never spoken to Mr. Carleton, others do not even know him by sight; but they are all, individually, gentleman or lady.

TAX-PAYERS.

THE CONTINENTAL MONTHLY for July is on our table, and has for its leading article a second part of the paper on the organization and movements of an army. It shows that a large army is a vast and complicated machine, requiring great executive ability in its commander. Hon. R. J. WALKER appears again in these pages on the slavery and financial questions, and there are various other old and familiar writers, together with some new ones.

☞ President Lincoln has returned from the army confident of its ability to do the work given it; Grant also says that he is satisfied; and all the soldiers are in good spirits and full of hope. We do not see any need, then, of persons at a distance croaking. If those at the seat of war are satisfied, we can afford to await the result.

WAR CORRESPONDENCE.

CAMP OF 39TH MASS. VOLS.,
Near Cold Harbor, Va.

FRIEND HOWARD,—We have just been treated to the delectable sounds of our evening tattoo, played on two bursted drums and one or two squeaky fifes—the balance of the instruments belonging to our drum corps having been abandoned during the campaign, for want of transportation. We are at the present time supposed to be recuperating our energies for the next movement by the left flank, which may commence at any time. We have been at this place since last Sunday night—the first rest that our brigade has had from either marching or fighting since May 4th. I can tell you nothing of the general features of the campaign that you do not already know, but a short relation of the experience of the 39th may be acceptable.

Our first fight was in the Wilderness, where we relieved another regiment which had broken, and we had a lively time in moving on to the line. Daniel Burnham, of Essex, was killed here, and during the day, one other of the regiment was killed and sixteen wounded.—We essayed a charge about the middle of the afternoon. Our brigade commander advanced gallantly from a clump of pine trees some distance in rear of our line, and bravely waved us forward, and then retired, so that the men might have a clear field and win all the glory. I think that our regiment and one other were all that started to break Lee's front on this occasion, and we soon came back wiser, and scared most to death. How a man of us escaped the shower of cannister that came about our heads, has always been a mystery to me.—Our first experience, you see, was not a peculiarly cheerful one. We were in no other actual fight while the army remained in the Wilderness, but did the reinforcing, supporting, etc., for anybody who wanted us.

On Saturday night, 7th inst., we started over the Fredericksburg road for Spottsylvania C. H., reached Todd's Farm about daylight; found the rebels there before us; formed brigade line, and advanced through the woods; drove the rebel skirmishers about two miles; captured five horses of a light battery, (which battery limbered to the rear very suddenly, or we should have got guns and all;) halted about five minutes; advanced again about a half mile; came upon the rebel breastworks; tumbled down for want of breath and strength to go farther; and those of us who did escape death or capture, considered ourselves at the time remarkably fortunate.

It was a most injudicious movement. Think of running over two miles, in a scorching sun, carrying a heavy load, and then, all exhausted as we were, ordering a charge on a strong line of works well defended by fresh men! As the rebels said, the very audacity of the thing saved us from destruction. Those works have been successively attacked by ten times the force since, and have not yet been taken. We lost in this fight six killed, fifty wounded, and thirty-one missing. Col. Davis was sun-struck, and Lieut. Col. Peirson, wounded by a buckshot in the arm. Twelve of the missing were re-taken by Sheridan, and have since rejoined the regiment. The next Tuesday we were in our next fight, in a thick woods, exposed to a rain of musketry and a cruel flanking fire from a battery for more than six hours. Here Col. Peirson was wounded again by a shell, and carried from the field. We all thought him dead, but by a lucky chance he escaped, and after an absence of less than a month, is with us again. No braver officer ever went into a fight than Lieut. Col. Peirson of Salem. Our Adjutant was also wounded here in much the same manner, though not so severely, but with the addition of a bad wound in the hand. He bore himself like a soldier. During the whole campaign, he was unwell, and should have been in the hospital rather than in the field, but would not leave the regiment. We are all proud of him, and hope to have him with us again soon. It is not necessary for me to mention Col. Davis and his conduct. He can't live away from his regiment a day. We have reason to be thankful that we have not had cowards to lead us, but men of cool, calm courage, who say to us "come," and not "go." You have seen the progress of the army as far as this place by the papers, and that the 5th corps has had its share of work to do. Our regiment, has so far built twenty-one lines of breastworks besides its quota of marching and fighting, but the boys never were in better health or spirits than at the present time. We are now within 8 miles of Richmond, and from our signal station we can see the doomed city. It has surely got to come down this time. Two or three more of Lee's victories will finish his army.—Look at the map, find Germania Ford on the Rapidan, and you will see that we have come about in a straight line to this place. This is what we started to do. Lee has either been whipped or flanked out of every position he has attempted to hold so far, but I suppose he has been victorious in getting back to Richmond at all. Notwithstanding the hard fighting, incessant marching and hard work, we have had to do, the men are as tough and hearty as when they started. It is a rare thing for a man to report to the Surgeon for treatment.—Since we started on the campaign, the 39th has had but one man reported as a straggler, which certainly speaks well for us, when so many are sent here every day from the rear, under arrest, for skulking from the field, and leaving the ranks for the merest scratches. The marching of the Army of the Potomac never moved so smoothly and noiselessly before. The requisite number of men is always in the right place at the proper time; no surprises have occurred; every man has had to do his proportion of the labor, there being no reserves. Our rations have been issued with great regularity, and a few days at a time, so that the men might have the lightest possible load to carry; and everything seems to indicate a master hand at the helm.

Field service is not conducive to cleanliness. Four blessed weeks I lived without a change of clothing. I must have got through with my peck of dirt. What I didn't eat was thrown down the back of my neck. Occasionally we managed to remove the dirt from our eyes sufficiently to enable us to distinguish a cracker, but farther than this I can say but little. In the words of "our correspondent," the "future historian" will have the tale to tell. The different descriptions of the louse accompanying the army, will also be a pleasing theme for some enthusiastic naturalist. Linebacks, grey-backs, red-heads, tortoise, and many kinds for which no name has been found, rouse the weary soldier from his dreams of home, and quicken his steps on the hot and dusty march. We have come to look, even with complacency, upon these things that would cause a shudder of disgust to agitate of some of our fair friends at home.
the wagons containing our baggage lowed to come up for the first time, a eral change was at once apparent.

I think that but one man of Co. A to have been killed so far. Two are missing—private Morse and Color
Cotrell. Morse is wounded and a
Nothing has been heard from Cotre
Nelson has been very fortunate so far his health is not good. The youthfu ing in his system a couple of years not at present blaze with its former though it is certainly very well und
He feels very desirous of knowing if is full, as he knows a great many to come. Sergeant Blaisdell, who oner, and re-captured, is with us.
of his death were unauthorized by a information, and must have given much needless grief and alarm.
care cannot be taken in making repo fight. Men are excited, and don know what they see or hear. Some their oath that they saw a certain his head blown away, and before the finished, the identical person may without a scratch. Blaisdell is loo and is ready for another dash when casion offers. Simonds is at home, stand, on a furlough. I did not see fight, but his officers say that he cha the fury of a tiger on the enemy, had had 9,999 more just like him could have withstood our assault.
P. Dodge came out of it without a behaved well. In fact, South Dan not be ashamed of her sons in this wa record is good, and wherever they placed, I am sure they will do

We are all looking for the end, w not be far away, when we can exch scenes of turmoil, blood and horro quiet and repose of home. Those w may well feel proud of their conne the Army of the Potomac in its march to victory, while those who leave a hero's name and fame be
They will die in a just cause, and th will be fresh in the hearts of a grate

Yours, truly,

The 39th is now a part of the 3d Division, 5th Army Corps. Gen commands the Division, and Col.
Pa. Vols.) commands the Brigade.
ments comprising the brigade are th
13th Mass., 16th Maine, 90th and 1
94th and 104th N. Y.; in all, about

CANDIDATE WAN

WANTED, a Democratic Candi
Presidency. A cast-off Gen be preferred,—one who can be wa run well. He must be sound on cratic Goose and be able to spell tion without missing a letter. A ing the requisite qualifications, apply to the Examining Committee on the 29th day of August next.

☞ None but Copperheads need

UP AND DRESSED.—Nothing gi finishing touch to a man a a hand suit of clothes. In order that a well, it is necessary that it should cording to a system which is math correct. To throw a suit of cloth regardless of style, slighting the and careless in trimming, is nothing of time and materials, and fails faction to the purchasers, and it is that those who do so, cannot long customers. We recently stepped tablishment of Messrs. L. D. Bois
154 Washington St., Boston, wher everything in apple pie order; made goods, of every style, and quantity of various patterns, mad and country trade. They not o clothing for whosesale and retail t ecute personal orders at the shorte in the latest and approved styles give special attention to the m naval and military uniforms, and supply all from a private to a Brig al, in the speediest manner, and desirable fabrics, and all their wo rials can be obtained at the fa prices. A large supply of Gent nishing Goods is constantly kept that the most fastidious cannot suited in every particular. A sim satisfy any one that the above st exaggeration.—Exchange.

☞ Francis C. Spencer, convi dering the Warden of the Maine was hanged at Thomaston on Fr
the first public execution in Ma
years.

☞ Dry goods of all descriptio up rapidly this week, and are d higher, as at the present prices cannot be replaced for the money

☞ On Saturday and Sunday was up to 100 degrees in the sha tor of the Newburyport Herald by seeing how cool a boy kept hi ing Dr. Kane's account of the imm in the Arctic seas.

☞ The Constitutional Conven land has voted the abolition of s had a right to do it; and we done. The person who strives very at this late day must be insa

☞ The Chief of the Cheroke been appointed a Brigadier in th service.

READY-MADE DRESS FROCKS
$35, $32, $30, $28, $27, $25, $
$18, $17, $16, $15, $14, $13, $
$9, $8.50, $8, $7.50, $7, $6.50, at Bennett & Co.'s One Price Cl
14 and 15 Dock Square, Boston.

READY-MADE PANTS $11, $1
$8, $7.50, $7, $6.50, $6, $5.50,
$3.50, $3, $2.75, $2.50, at Be
One Price Clothing House, 14
Square, Boston.

EVERY GARMENT marked in pl
Bennett & Co's One Price Cloth
and 15 Dock Square, Boston.

Episcopal Servi

Divine Service according to th
Protestant Episcopal Church,
the Town Hall, on SUNDAY next, July 3d. Service to com o'clock. The Rector of Grace C will officiate.

ts made to order at Bennett & Co.'s e Clothing House, 14 and 15 Dock oston.

Clothing — largest stock — greatest Bennett & Co.'s One Price Clothing
and 15 Dock Square, Boston.

ods received for Lewando's French se. M. E. CRANE.
tf

sit Osborne's Store, and look at the variety of new styles in Hats and
Essex street.

our Hats and Caps at 240.

nt's Furnishing Goods, 240 is the place
e latest styles best goods, at the lowest your boys at 240 and save your s the time to clothe your Boys, and e place to find the Goods.

ersons wishing to subscribe for Sunday papers, can do so by applying to
D. P. GROSVENOR, Jr.

BOYS WANTED to learn the Clothing business, at
F. S. PECK'S, 240 Essex street.

CARD TO INVALIDS.

gyman, while residing in South America as a y, discovered a safe and simple remedy for of Nervous Weakness, Early Decay, Diseases inary and Seminal Organs, and the whole train ers brought on by baneful and vicious habits. mbers have been already cured by this noble Prompted by a desire to benefit the afflicted rtunate, I will send the recipe for preparing this medicine, in a sealed envelope, to any needs it, Free of Charge. Address

JOSEPH T. INMAN,
STATION D, BIBLE HOUSE,
New York City.

RIMONIAL.—If you wish to marry, ade undersigned, who will send you, "without nd without price," valuable information that le you to marry happy and speedily, no matter how ugly or how poor. This is a reliable afe information will cost you nothing; and if to marry, I will cheerfully assist you. All trictly confidential. The desired information return mail, and no questions asked. Address

SARAH B. LAMBERT,
Greenpoint, Kings Co., N. Y.

GREAT ENGLISH REMEDY.

SIR JAMES CLARKE'S
EBRATED FEMALE PILLS!

red from a prescription of Sir J. Clarke, M. Physician Extraordinary to the Queen.

well known medicine is no imposition, but a e and safe remedy for Female Difficulties and tions, from any cause whatever; and, although rful remedy, they contain nothing hurtful to stitution.

cases of Nervous and Spinal Affections, pain Back and Limbs, Fatigue on slight exertion tion of the Heart, Hysterics, and Whites, these ll effect a cure when all other means have and, although a powerful remedy, do not iron, calomel, antimony, or anything hurtful onstitution.

directions in the pamphlet around each e, which should be carefully preserved. full particulars, obtain, free, of the agent, a et. Sold by all Druggists.

United States Agent,
JOB MOSES, 27 Cortlandt St., New York.

—$1 and 6 postage stamps enclosed to any zed agent, will insure a bottle, containing over by return mail. March 9, 1864.—1 yr.

A number of years have elapsed since ntroduction of HOSTETTER'S CELETED BITTERS to the public. The pre existing in the minds of many persons t what are denominated patent medicines st greatly retarded its sale; but, as its and merits became known, this barrier judice was overthrown, and the demand sed so rapidly that in a few years scarce village existed in the United States in the afflicted had not experienced the ts arising from the use of the "Bitters." t, the present day there are to be found LL PARTS OF THE WORLD vouchers e great merits of the article. No greater or Dyspepsia can be found. See adv't. sale by Druggists and dealers generally where. ju 1—1m.

Port of Danvers.

17th, schs Accommodation, Alexander, or; 20th, Pauline, Dyer, New York; mph, Mahony, Boston; sloop May Queen, ilton, Quincy; 21st, schs Pearl, Thayer, land; 22d, Br sch Rover, Devaux, River bert, N S; 24th, Ada Herbert, Crowell, York.

Marriages.

Danvers, June 22, by Rev. J W Putnam, Walter S. Merrill to Miss Lydia T., daugh of Simeon Putnam, Esq., of D.; Mr John Davis to Miss Caroline J. Sands, both of erly.

Salem, June 12th, Mr. Samuel S. Willis of Salem, to Miss Gabriella E., daughter r. James Patch of Shapleigh, Me.; 15th, Charles B. Leathe, 40th Mass. Regt., to Clara A. Hitchings, both of Reading.

Beverly, June 21, Mr Timothy M Standly Miss Nancy S. Edwards.

Deaths.

this town, June 21st, Mrs. Sarah, widow he late Jacob Kimball of Salem, 86 yrs 5 ths 10 days.

th, Mrs. Deane Gowing, wife of Hiram G ving, 58 years.

Salem, June 19th, Mary Jane, daughter Zachariah and Mary Ledger, 20 mos; 21st, ward, son of George D and Louisa J Melch 3 mos; Patrick, son of Jeremiah and Cath e Kelleher, 21 yrs 3 mos; 22d, Mrs Martha wife of Mr. Charles J. Hanson, and daughter John S and Lavina H Wardwell, 21 years 9 3 days; Grace Frances, daughter of Rich Jr. and Susan H Skinner, 5 yrs 5 months; Mrs Mary E, widow of the late Benjamin eatland Esq., 63 yrs; 24th, Mr Aaron Gid s, 74 yrs 6 mos—formerly of Essex; George of Benj. and Mary Bray, 20 yrs; 25th, Mrs garet M., wife of Mr. Elijah A. Hanson, yrs 7 mos; Jane P., daughter of Jacob H. Martha Jane Wilson, 22 mos; James W., of Benj. and Mary Barker, 21 mos; 26th, hael, son of Michael and Mary Jordan, 4 ths; Willie C, son of Joseph and Lucy J. rshall, 4 yrs 8 mos; Mr Ebenezer Morse, 67 5 mos 19 days; Mrs Nancy, widow of the Mr. Samuel Conway, 77 yrs 6 mos; Mrs. aline, wife of Mr. J. A. J. Sawyer, 28 yrs; h, Mrs. Abbie V., wife of David B. Hood, years 1 month 14 days.

n Beverly, June 24th, Miss Harriet D. Rob s, 22 years 8 months.

n Marblehead, June 25th, Mrs. Elizabeth, fe of Deacon Ichabod S. Phillips, 70 years months.

Advertisements.

WIRE COVERS.

WIRE Dish Covers, in sets of five, at
S C & E A SIMONDS',
June 29 32 Front Street.

TABLE MATS,

SHAKER and Wood Table Mats, at
S C & E A SIMONDS',
June 29 32 Front Street.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS.

Head-Quarters, Boston, June 23, 1864.

GENERAL ORDER, No. 22.

Commanders of Divisions, Brigades, Regiments, and Companies of the Massachusetts Volunteer Militia, and of the Independent Division Militia, will, on or before July 10, 1864, make reports to the Adjutant-General of the Commonwealth of the condition of their several commands, stating therein the number of men to be relied on for duty, accompanied by any suggestions they may think proper to make relative to the expediency of continuing their organizations or disbanding the same.

This order is issued preliminary to a new organization of the Militia of Massachusetts, under the provisions of Chapter 238 of the Acts of the year 1864, approved May 14, 1864.

By order of His Excellency John A. Andrew, Governor and Commander-in-Chief.

WILLIAM SCHOULER, Adj't-Gen'l.
June 8—1w

List of Letters

REMAINING in the Post Office at South Danvers, June 28, 1864. [Persons calling for these letters will please say they are advertised.]

James Bulger,	Thomas Nugent,
Maria Connor,	Asa Russell,
James Harrington,	Geo. L. Trask,
Newell M. Jewett,	A. M. Trask,
H. G. Melcher,	Sylvia L. Upton,
Daniel Mulcahy,	Wm. L. Wallis.
Wm. Merrill,

N. B. These letters are subject to an additional postage of one cent.

DANIEL WOODBURY, P. M.

NEW BOOKS,

At G. M. WHIPPLE & A. A. SMITH'S.

Macaria, a new book by Miss Evans, author of Beulah;
Blackwood's Magazine, for June;
Leslie's Family Magazine, July;
Denise, by author of Mademoiselle Mori;
All the Illustrated Weekly Papers;
Army and Navy Journal;
The Round Table;
Croquet—Laws and Regulations of the same.
je 27 190 Essex Street.

MANHOOD:
HOW LOST, HOW RESTORED.

Just published, a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical cure (without medicine) of Spermatorrhœa, or Seminal Weakness, Involuntary Seminal Losses, Impotency, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc.; also, Consumption, Epilepsy and Fits, induced by self-indulgence or sexual extravagance.

☞ Price, in a sealed envelope, only 6 cents.

The celebrated author in this admirable essay clearly demonstrates from a thirty years successful practice, that the alarming consequences of self-abuse may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine or the application of the knife—pointing out a mode of cure, at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

☞ This Lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land.

Sent under seal, in a plain envelope, to any address, POST-PAID, on receipt of six cents, or two post stamps. Address the publishers,

CHAS. J. C. KLINE & CO.,
127 Bowery, New York, Post Office Box, 4586.
June 29—10w.

Salem and South Danvers Railroad Company.

THE Annual Meeting of the Stockholders of said Company will be held at the Directors' Room, in Creamer's Block, No. 248 Essex st., Salem, on WEDNESDAY, 29th inst., at 3 o'clock, P. M., for the following purposes, viz:

1. To hear the report of the Directors.
2. To elect a Board of Directors for the ensuing year.
3. To act upon the recent amendments to the Charter.
4. To decide upon an increase of the Capital Stock.
5. To act upon any other business that may legally come before them.

GEORGE D. PHIPPEN,
Clerk of the Stockholders.
Salem, June 22, 1864.

JUST RECEIVED

— AT —

ARNOLD & HUTCHINSON'S,
100 BARRELS
of those favorite
ST. LOUIS BRANDS OF FLOUR,
Direct from the Mills, will be sold at the
WHOLESALE PRICE, FOR CASH.
South Danvers, June 8, 1864.—4w

WARREN BANK

U. S. 10-40 BONDS.

ORDERS left at this Bank for the purchase of the U. S. 10-40 Bonds, will receive prompt attention.

FRANCIS BAKER, Cashier.
South Danvers, June 1, 1864.

CARPETS.

THOMAS W. DOWNING & CO.

HAVE now in Store a splendid Stock of

Carpets,	Oil Cloths,
Stair Carpets,	Straw Mattings,
Cocoa Mattings,	Rugs,
Mats,	Paper,
Linings,	etc., etc.,

which they offer at the very lowest Cash Prices.
April 13. 179 Essex Street.

SPEED, COMFORT AND SAFETY!

FOR NEW YORK.

Norwich Steamboat Train.

The only Boats Landing at Jersey City.

CABIN Passage, $5.00; Deck Passage, $4.00. The new and elegant sixteen wheel cars of the steamboat express train leave the Boston & Worcester Railroad Station, Albany Street, at 5½ P. M. daily, connecting with the new steamers, (built expressly for this line,) CITY OF BOSTON, Capt. Wilcox, Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays; CITY OF NEW YORK, Capt. Jewett, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays, which (before proceeding to their Pier, No. 39 North River,) will touch at the wharf of the New Jersey Railroad at Jersey City, (Sundays excepted) thus enabling Southern Passengers to make sure connections with the First Southern Train, and at the same time avoid the great annoyance of the Ferry and Hack transportation in the crowded streets of New York. This insures ample time for Breakfast before the trains leave. Conductors E. Morrill and T. N. Turner accompany the passengers through to New York.

Tickets, Berths and Staterooms secured at the Railroad Station, and at the Office of the line, 79 Washington Street, Boston.

Through tickets to Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington can be had at 79 Washington Street, Boston.

WM. DICKEY, Jr., Agent.
Boston, January 7, 1864.

PEABODY'S,
220 ESSEX ST., SALEM.

RIBBONS.

Rich Maize Ribbons—all widths;
Rich Plaid Scarf Ribbons;
Rich Black Ribbons—all widths;
Rich Plaid Bonnet Ribbons;
Rich Plain Bonnet Ribbons;
Hat Ribbons—all colors and widths;
Taffeta Ribbons—in all widths;
Narrow Plaid Ribbons—pretty.

Our Stock of Ribbons is full and choice, and we are selling them at our usual low prices.

FLOWERS.

Rich and Choice Flowers—all colors;
Real French Flowers—pretty styles;
Choice Buds and Single Flowers;
Outside Flowers in new styles;
Flowers in every new variety;
Flowers at much less than Milliner's prices.

We have a large stock of Flowers in all the choice varieties, and at very low prices.

RUCHES.

Grey Edged Ruches and Tabs;
Grey and White—double—Ruches and Tabs;
Black and White Illusion Ruches and Tabs;
Black Cord Edge Ruches—long and short;
White Cord Edge Ruches—long and short;
Cotton Ruches—in black, white and grey.

We have our usual full stock of Ruches at our usual low prices.

VEILS! VEILS!

Real Point Lace Veils—new patterns;
Black Aplique Lace Veils—pretty;
Black Pusher Lace Veils—new;
Black French Lace Veils—all prices;
Black Crape and Love Veils—mourning;
Black Lace Veils—with crape folds;
Grenadine Veils—in all colors;
Grenadine and Tissue—for veils;
Black and White Lace Veils—new patterns.

Our stock of Veils is very large and desirable, in prices from 50c to $8 00.

LACE GOODS.

Black Silk Figured Laces;
White Silk Figured Laces;
Robbinet and Wash Blonde Laces;
Illusion Laces—all qualities;
Brussels Twist Net Laces;
Silk and Joined Blonde Laces;
Lace Collars—Sleeves—Veils, &c.

In this department we can show a full stock of the most desirable goods, at prices that will be sure to suit.

EMBROIDERIES.

Wrought Cambric Edgings and Insertings;
Wrought Cambric Bands and Flouncings;
English Thread and Valenciennes Laces;
Wrought Collars and Sleeves to match;
Wrought Waists and Robes for Infants;
Wrought Hdkfs—in all styles and prices;
Wrought Hdkfs—worked in colors—pretty.

We pay particular attention to this department, keeping it at all times full of choice goods.

HOSIERY.

Cotton Hose—for Ladies and Children;
Misses' Hosiery—in all sizes;
Fancy Hosiery—in all sizes;
White and Mode Hose—Ladies' sizes;
Silk and Lisle Thread Hosiery;
Cotton Hosiery—in every variety.

Cotton Hosiery;
Cotton Hosiery;
Cotton Hosiery;
Cotton Hosiery.

GLOVES! GLOVES!

Our best Kid Gloves—new invoice;
Black Kid Gloves—in all sizes;
Kid Finished Silk Gloves;
Lisle Thread Gloves—in all colors;
Children's Gloves—in all sizes and colors;
Mourning Gloves—in great variety.

We have a very large stock of Gloves in all the desirable styles, and at the lowest possible prices.

BUTTONS.

Ball Buttons—gilt and silvered;
Ball Buttons—black—all sizes;
Silk and Crochet Buttons—all colors;
Rubber and Porcelain Buttons—all sizes;
Jet and Steel Buttons—the new styles;
Pearl and Agate Buttons—all sizes;
Bugle Buttons—for Cloaks, &c.

We have a very large stock of Buttons in all the newest styles.

TRIMMINGS.

Bugle and Bead Gimps—all widths;
Quill'd Ribbons—all colors—only 20 cts.;
Mohair Braids—all colors—all widths;
Black Silk Braids—all widths;
Black Brussels Laces—for trimmings;
Embroidery Braids—in all colors;
Silk Cords and Bodice Lacets.

In this department we can show a fine stock. As fast as anything new appears in the market, it will be found on our counters.

SUN UMBRELLAS.

14 inch Sun Umbrellas—Black and Brown.
16 inch Sun Umbrellas—Black and Brown.
18 inch Sun Umbrellas—Black and Brown.
20 inch Sun Umbrellas—Black and Brown.
22 inch Sun Umbrellas—Black and Brown.

Rich Sun Shades.
Rich Sun Shades.
Rich Sun Shades.
Rich Sun Shades.
Rich Sun Shades.

JET AND STEEL GOODS.

Brooches in Plain Jet and Jet and Steel.
Brooches in Leather and Steel—Gilt and Jet.
Bonnet Pins—in black and steel.
Bonnet Pins with black and shells.
Jet and Steel Pin and drops to match.
Gilt and Jet Pins—Crosses, &c.

We have a new stock of these goods in all the new styles and at the lowest prices.

HANDKERCHIEFS.

Wrought Handkerchiefs—in all prices.
Wrought Edge Grass Cloth Handkerchiefs.
Hem'd Linen—Wrought in colors.
Mourning Hdkfs—in choice styles.
Linen Cambric Hdkfs—in all prices.
Gents Hdkfs—in cotton, linen and silk.
Gents Hdkfs—pretty colored borders—25 cts.

In this department we have a nice stock for Gents'—Ladies'—Misses', and Childrens' use.

FANCY GOODS.

Leather Shopping Bags—in all sizes.
Elastic Band Wallets—large stock.
Soaps—Perfumes—Cosmetiques, &c.
Sterling's Ambrosia—for the hair.
Hair, Nail and Tooth Brushes.
Puffs—Boxes—Powders—Soft Brushes, &c.

The largest stock.
The lowest prices.
The choicest goods.

220 ESSEX ST., SALEM.
JOHN P. PEABODY.

Browning & Long.

THE LARGEST
LADIES' FURNISHING STORE
IN SALEM.

LADIES GENTS MISSES BOYS

COTTON HOSIERY.

Our Stock was secured before the late great rise, we are therefore able to offer at much less than the present ruling prices.

☞ ☞ ☞ ☞ ☞ ☞ ☞ ☞ ☞ ☞

BROWNING & LONG'S
ASSORTMENT OF
COTTON HOSIERY
Was Never So Complete.

☞ ☞ ☞ ☞ ☞

A. T. STEWART'S CELEBRATED HOSIERY.

FOR LADIES!

All Grades,
All Sizes,
Finished Seams,
Extra heavy British, very nice for Country Wear.
Bleached and Unbleached,
Lisle Hose, Silk Hose, at Old Prices.
OPENWORKED,
All sizes and qualities.
Outsizes—For Invalids.

FOR MISSES.

ALL SIZES,
Heavy—for School Wear,
Fancy Balmoral,
English Finished,
Openworked Lace.

FOR GENTS.

Heavy Bleached,
British Colored,
Paris Brown,
English Striped.

FOR BOYS.

Grey Socks,
Extra Fine White,
Blue Striped,
Brown Mixed.

Just opened, "TUCKED NAINSOOK," for Waists, very beautiful.

Beautiful New Goods Constantly Received
— AT —
BROWNING & LONG'S
Ladies' Furnishing Store,
177 Essex Street.
Salem, June 15, 1864.

Men's Clothing.

The largest assortment, the Latest Styles, the best Goods, and the LOWEST PRICES, as usual, can be found at ☞ 240 ☜. Black and Fancy Frocks, Sacks, Pants and Vests, in light and dark colors to match—all sizes and prices. Spring Overcoats, Light and Dark Linen Dusters, $1.75 to $3.75—size, 34 to 50. If you wish to purchase a good suit of Clothes, light or dark, call at F. S. PECK'S.

Boys' Clothing.

Those who have Boys to Clothe, are particularly invited to call and examine the New Styles Coats, Pants, Vests, Jackets and Suits, in light and dark colors, which we have made expressly for our trade. We have pieces of the same or Cloth by the yard. Also, a large assortment of Cheap Sacks, Pants, Vests, Jackets and Suits, which will be sold low. If you have Boys to Clothe, the place to save your money is at

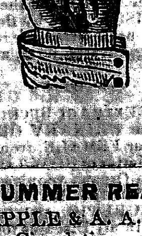
F. S. PECK'S,
240
Essex Street, Salem.

Gent's Furnishing Goods.

In this Department can be found the Latest Styles and Best Goods. White and Fancy Shirts, $1.50 to $4.00; Silk Shirts and Drawers, $1.75 to $4.00; Merino Shirts and Drawers, Hosiery, Gloves, Braces, Roman Scarfs, Ties—new styles, Collars, Umbrellas, &c. N. B.—We offer our Kid Gloves, spring colors, for $1.75 per pair, to close—the same as are sold round town for $2.25. Also a lot which are a little spotted, for 37c, 75c and $1.25 a pair. They are bargains. 240 is the place to buy Gent's Furnishing Goods.

Hats and Caps.

SPRING STYLES FOR 1864. Those who wish to purchase Hats or Caps, either Men's or Boy's, can find a large assortment of the Latest Styles and best quality. Goods at the Lowest Prices. The public are respectfully invited to call and decide whether 240 is the place to buy Hats and Caps.



FOR SUMMER READING.

G. M. WHIPPLE & A. A. SMITH'S Subscription Circulating Library affords ample facilities. Terms liberal. Subscriptions commencing at any time. June 29

James F. Almy.

MANTILLAS,

Ladies' Outside Garments,
— AND —
SUMMER SHAWLS.

JAMES F. ALMY & CO.

Invite attention to their recent openings of RICH SILK MANTILLAS, LADIES' CLOTH OUTSIDE GARMENTS, AND SEASONABLE SHAWLS.

— ALSO —

Elegant Poilt De Soie, and Plain Black Silks, for Mantillas, with Ladies' CLOTHS in great variety—which we are prepared to make

TO ORDER FROM MEASURE.

We are also well supplied with Buttons, Braids, Ornaments, Bugle Trimmings, Malta, Brussels, and Guipure Laces for Trimmings.

The just completed enlargement of our Store affords us unrivalled facilities for conducting this rapidly increasing branch of our trade.

Ladies desiring to make their own Garments, can obtain of us any pattern desired.

JAMES ALMY & CO.,
188 Essex St., oppposite Central Street.
Salem, June 8, 1864.

A. J. Archer & Co

White Shirred Muslins.

JUST received and for sale by
je22 A. J. ARCHER & CO.

MOURNING GOODS.

AUGUSTUS J. ARCHER & CO.,

HAVE just received a fine assortment
— OF —
MOURNING DRESS GOODS,
for summer wear.
— ALSO —
On hand, a fine stock of
BLACK SILKS,
which our customers will find are at less than Boston prices.
May 25, 1864.

FANCY CLOAKINGS!
— FOR —
Spring Garments,
IN GREAT VARIETY OF STYLES,
which we are prepared to make into GARMENTS to order, in the very best manner, and at
LOWEST CASH PRICES.

A. J. ARCHER & CO.,
March 16—tf. 181 Essex Street.

HOUSE OF EQUITY,

— BY —
Arnold & Hutchinson,
(Successors to C. T. Southwick.)

FIRST QUALITY
FAMILY GROCERIES,
Sold at the Lowest Prices.

A large and complete assortment of
CROCKERY AND GLASS WARE,
Constantly on hand.
Also FLOUR and GRAIN.

ASHLAND HALL BUILDING,
NO. 1 LOWELL STREET,
F. T. ARNOLD. B. F. HUTCHINSON.
South Danvers, Feb 3, 1864.

RICH MILLINERY GOODS!

From the New York and Boston Markets,
OPENING EVERY DAY.

ALL the desirable shapes in BONNETS and HATS.

RIBBONS and FLOWERS in all the New Shades. All goods belonging to a first class Millinery Establishment, to which the attention of the Ladies of Essex County is respectfully invited.

REITH & CO'S,
NO. 2 WEST BLOCK, ESSEX STREET,
(One door west of J. F. Almy & Co.,)
apr 13 SALEM, MASS.

M. A. PORTER,

236 Essex Street, - - - Salem, Mass.,
(Opposite Horse Railroad Office,)
MAKES TO ORDER BEST QUALITIES OF
WATCH SPRING SKIRTS.

A Good Assortment of Dress and Clock Button, Braids, Spool Cotton, Small Wares, and Thread Store articles generally.

236 Essex Street, - - - Salem, Mass.,
M. A. PORTER.

SPRING AND SUMMER GOODS,

168 ESSEX STREET.

WE invite the attention of the Ladies of Salem and vicinity, to our

New Millinery Goods.

Ladies' and Children's
BONNETS AND HATS,
in all desirable styles.

Crapes, Silks, Ribbons, Feathers, French Flowers, and Laces.

A full assortment of Straw Goods, Mourning Bonnets, Veils, Collars, &c., constantly on hand at the lowest cash prices.

M. E. CRANE,
Successor to M M FLETCHER.
Salem, April 6, 1864.

George S. Walker.

For the Warm Weather.

UNDER-SHIRTS,
DRAWERS,
HOSIERY,

IN every seasonable material—all sizes—for sale at low prices, at

GEORGE S. WALKER'S,
Dealer in Gent's Furnishing Goods and Toilet Articles, opposite Eastern Railroad Station.

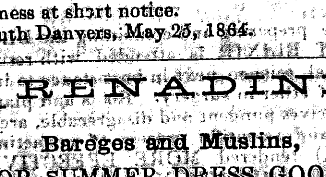
Gent's Half Hose.

THE Largest Stock and Assortment in the city, at
GEORGE S. WALKER'S,
Dealer in Gent's Furnishing Goods and Toilet Articles, opposite Eastern Railroad station.

Scarfs, Ties, Stocks.

ALL the LATEST and BEST STYLES, at the Lowest Prices, at
GEORGE S. WALKER'S,
No. 228 Essex Street,
june 27 Opp. Eastern Railroad Station.

MOULTON'S
NEW LIVERY STABLE,



Is removed to stable formerly occupied by
SAMUEL HAM,
On MAIN STREET, opposite the Institute.

Good Horses and Carriages will be always in readiness at short notice.
South Danvers, May 25, 1864.

GRENADINES

Bareges and Muslins,
FOR SUMMER DRESS GOODS.

JAMES F. ALMY & CO.

have in stock a full line of Thin Dress Goods, comprising AMERICAN LAWNS, BAREGES, GRENADINES, DUCALS, AND MOZAMBIQUES.

We offer a Splendid quality of Embroidered Grenadines, at $1.00 per yard.
je 8 JAMES F. ALMY & CO.

Potter, Bachelder & Co.,

DANVERS PORT and SOUTH DANVERS,
DEALERS IN
WOOD AND COAL.
Constantly on hand

Franklin, Burnside, Dimond, } RED ASH.
Old Company & Packer's Lehigh, } WHITE
Pliny Fisk, Webster and Locust Mountain, } ASH.

Also Cumberland, Picton and Campbell for Steam and Smith's use.

OFFICE—No. 6 Allen's Building.

G. W. POTTER,
J. Q. A. BACHELDER,
C. T. BATCHELDER. mch 30

M. FENOLLOSA,
TEACHER OF MUSIC,

LETS ....PIANO FORTES, at the lowest rates;
SELLS ....PIANO FORTES, at the Manufacturers Prices;
EXCHANGES......PIANO FORTES, on the easiest terms;

At Rooms No. 7 Central street,
feb 11 Salem, Mass.

AARON T. LOWE,
DEALER IN
BOOTS, SHOES AND RUBBERS,
76 BOSTON STREET, 76.
aug 6 SALEM. tf

GEORGE TAPLEY,
(DANVERS),
AGENT FOR THE
John Hancock Life Insurance Co.
Office, 41 State Street, Boston.

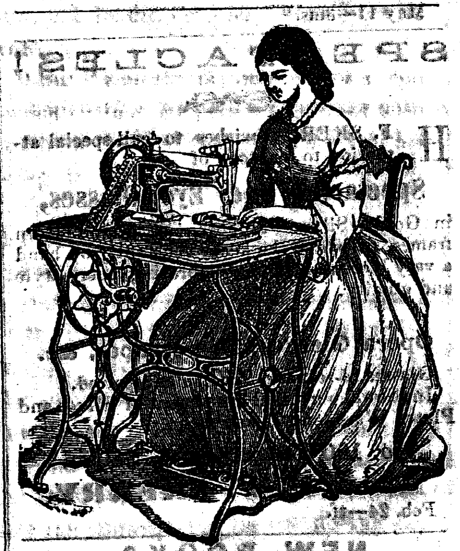
T. HARDY, JR.,
—Dealer in—
DOORS, SASHES, BLINDS,
Glazed Sash, Painted Blinds,
FENCE PALES, STAIR BALUSTERS, FRAMING PINS, &c.,
No. 26 FRONT STREET,
Salem, January 14, 1863—tf.

Spring Goods.

THOMAS W. DOWNING & CO.

invite attention to the splendid stock of
NEW GOODS
which they are now opening for the Spring trade.

We shall be constantly supplied with all Novelties as they appear in the market.
mch 2 179 Essex Street.



The Singer Manufacturing Co's
LETTER A SEWING MACHINE
For Family Use and Light Manufacturing Purposes, is on exhibition and for sale
AT ASHLAND HALL,
SOUTH DANVERS SQUARE,
— BY —
JOHN H. CHOATE,
Agent for the sale of
SEWING MACHINES,
Silk, Thread, Needles, Cottons, &c., &c.
— Also —
Paraffine Sewing-Machine Oil.
The best oil for all kinds of light machinery.
South Danvers, Nov 18, 1863.

Auction Sales.

WILLIAM ARCHER, Jr.,
Auctioneer, Real Estate and Stock Broker,
34 Front Street.
Real Estate, Bank, Railroad & Manufacturing Stock bought and sold on Commission.

TEETH ON VULCANITE!

DR. J. H. BATCHELDER,
DENTAL SURGEON,
No. 20 Washington St., (near Eastern Railroad Depot), Salem, Mass.

Is Licensed to make the New Patent Teeth on HARD RUBBER or VULCANITE, and from actual experience confidently recommends them for Strength, Beauty, and Cleanliness, to far surpass all other kinds of teeth;—are sure to fit the mouth; are much cheaper and better, being about half the price of teeth on Gold. Ill fitting Setts of Teeth on Gold can be exchanged for the Vulcanite, at very small expense. Specimens seen at Office. Teeth filled with Gold, Inserted, Extracted, and Children's Teeth Regulated—all with such care and gentleness as to be nearly painless.

VALUABLE REAL ESTATE.

THE Subscriber offers for sale the following Lots of Land, with the Buildings thereon, at private sale, until September next, when such as then remain unsold, will be offered at Public Auction:

A new and well built two-story DWELLING HOUSE, situated on English Street.—This house is well supplied with the modern conveniences, is pleasantly situated on rising ground, and is a very desirable residence.

The MOROCCO FACTORY near the Southwick Tannery. The building is about 150 feet long by 40 wide, is well supplied with pure water and is an excellent place for the Morocco business or Currying.

Near the Morocco Factory are two TWO-STORY BUILDINGS, which may be sold with the Factory, or separately. Together they are about 80 feet long by 20 wide.

On Walnut Street is the large BOARDING HOUSE, with the land adjoining, which is excellently well situated for what it is designed.

Several front LOTS for building purposes on Walnut Street, will be sold at moderate prices and fair terms.

A STORE HOUSE 70 by 25 feet on Walnut Street, with the land under and the rear of it. It can be easily adapted for a Curriers' Shop, or for other kinds of business.

On Wallis Street, near the mill pond, a well built and painted MOROCCO FACTORY, all ready for occupancy. It is about 80 feet long by 25 wide, and in excellent repair.

Next to the Morocco Factory on the same street, a STORE BUILDING, strongly built, and framed for a Dwelling House, for which it could be easily adapted. Or it would make an excellent Shop for any kind of business.

Near ELM STREET, on a Court south of said street, are two DWELLING HOUSES, planned for two families each. One is two stories high, the other one and a half. Both houses have good tenants and yield a good income; offering a good chance for investment.

Between Harris and English Streets, one One Story DWELLING House, and a One Story and a Half House.

The above is a most excellent opportunity for enterprising young men to secure places for business and dwelling houses, on reasonable terms. Such a chance may not soon again occur.

Persons desiring to purchase any of the above lots may learn the prices and terms on application to ANDREW S. PORTER, Elm Street.

SAMUEL D. PENDAR.
South Danvers, May 11, 1864. tf

NEW STORE!

Flour! Flour!

JUST RECEIVED, a fresh supply of choice brands, direct from the Mills, for sale, wholesale and retail, at LOWEST PRICES, by
E. F. OSBORN.
Sutton's Building, Main St.
South Danvers, Nov 18, 1863.

R. C. MANNING & CO.,
Successors to JOHN DIKE & CO.,
DEALERS IN
COAL, WOOD, BARK, HAY, &c,
188 DERBY STREET,
SALEM, MASS.
N. C. ROBBINS, R. C. MANNING.
oct17

GEO. E. MEACOM,
Dealer in
DRUGS & MEDICINES,
Fancy & Toilet Articles, &c.,
126 - MAIN ST. - 126
Nearly opposite Danvers Bank, So. Danvers.

T. A. SWEETSER,
Druggist & Apothecary
37 Main St., So. Danvers,

DEALER IN
Drugs, Medicines, Chemicals, Foreign Leeches, Shakers' Herbs, Dye Stuffs, Gums, Acids, Sponges, Shoulder Braces, Trusses, and Genuine Patent Medicines,
Also, Imported Cigars of choice brands, Perfumery, Toilet Articles and Stationery.
Physicians' Prescriptions carefully prepared by experienced persons.
37 MAIN STREET.

D. P. GROSVENOR, Jr.,

Druggist and Apothecary,
33 MAIN STREET.
Dealer in Drugs, Medicines, Chemicals, Dye Stuffs, and Popular Proprietary Medicines.
Personal attention to Physicians' Prescriptions.
South Danvers, May 29, 1861. 1y

DR. E. F. KITTREDGE,
From Lowell, formerly of New Ipswich, N. H.,
Has removed his office and residence to
NO. 42 MAIN STREET,
SOUTH DANVERS, MASS.

Dr. K., from an extensive and successful professional experience of upwards of twenty years, feels justified in saying that he can treat diseases to the satisfaction of his patients, and to the credit of himself.

Office hours from 7 to 9 A. M., and from 6 to 9 P. M.
South Danvers, Nov 13, 1863.

OATS.

3000 BUSHEL prime Oats, received this day by Rail, and for sale by
may 26 GAYLE & CO., Phillips Wharf.

Special Notices.

A GENTLEMAN, cured of Nervous Debility, Incompetency, Premature Decay and Youthful Error, actuated by a desire to benefit others, will be happy to furnish to all who need it, (free of charge,) the recipe and directions for making the simple remedy used in his case. Those wishing to profit by his experience, and possess a Valuable Remedy, will receive the same, by return mail, (carefully sealed,) by addressing

JOHN B. OGDEN,
No. 60 Nassau street, New York.
may 25—3m

BELL'S SPECIFIC PILLS.—WARRANTED IN ALL CASES.—Can be relied on! Never fail to cure! Do not nauseate! Are speedy in action! No change of diet required! Do not interfere with business pursuits! Can be used without detection! Upward of 200 cures the past month—some of them very severe cases. Over one hundred physicians have used them in their practice, and all speak well of their efficacy, and approve of their composition, which is entirely vegetable and harmless on the system. Hundreds of certificates can be shown.

BELL'S SPECIFIC PILLS are the original and only genuine Specific Pill. They are adapted for male and female, old or young, and the only reliable remedy for effecting a permanent and speedy cure in all cases of Spermatorrhea, or Seminal Weakness, with all its train of evils, such as Urethral and Vaginal Discharges, Gleet, the Whites, Nightly or Involuntary Emissions, Incontinence, Genital Debility and Irritability, Impotence, Weakness or Loss of Power, Nervous Debility, &c., &c., all of which arise principally from Sexual Excesses or Self-Abuse, or some constitutional derangement, and incapacitates the sufferer from fulfilling the duties of married life. In all sexual diseases, as Gonorrhea, Gleet, and Strictures, and in Diseases of the Bladder and Kidneys, they act as a charm! Relief is experienced by taking a single box. Sold by all the principal druggists. Price $1.

They will be sent by mail, securely sealed, and confidentially, on receipt of the money, by

J BRYAN, M. D.,
No. 76 Cedar street, New York,

Consulting Physician for the treatment of Seminal, Urinary, Sexual, and Nervous Diseases, who will send, free to all, the following valuable work, in sealed envelope:

THE FIFTIETH THOUSAND—DR. BELL'S TREATISE on Self-Abuse, Premature Decay, Impotence and Loss of Power, Sexual Diseases, Seminal Weakness, Nightly Emissions, Genital Debility, &c., &c., a pamphlet of 64 pages, containing important advice to the afflicted, and which should be read by every sufferer, as the means of cure in the severest stages is plainly set forth. Two stamps required to pay postage. December 9, 1863—1 yr.

IMPORTANT TO LADIES.—DR. HARVEY'S FEMALE PILLS have never yet failed in removing difficulties arising from obstruction, or stoppage of nature, or in restoring the system to perfect health when suffering from Spinal Affection, Prolapsus, Uteri, the Whites, or other weakness of the Uterine Organs. The Pills are perfectly harmless on the constitution, and may be taken by the most delicate female without causing distress—the same time they act like a charm by strengthening, invigorating and restoring the system to a healthy condition, and by bringing on the monthly period with regularity, no matter from what causes the obstruction may arise. They should, however, NOT be taken during the first three or four months of pregnancy, though safe at any other time, as miscarriage would be the result.

Each box contains 60 Pills. Price $1.

DR. HARVEY'S TREATISE on Diseases of Females, Pregnancy, Miscarriage, Barrenness, Sterility, Reproduction, and Abuses of Nature, and emphatically the Ladies' Private Medical Adviser, a pamphlet of 64 pages, sent free to any address. Six cents required to pay postage.

The Pills and book will be sent by mail when desired, securely sealed, and prepaid, by

J. BRYAN, M. D., General Agent,
No. 76 Cedar street, New York.

Sold by all the principal druggists.
December 9, 1863—1 yr.

SPRING STYLES

—OF—

1864.

L. D. BOISE & CO.,

Manufacturers and Dealers

—IN—

CLOTHING,

Invite attention to their Large and Fashionable stock, comprising Medium, Fine and Superior grades, of our own manufacture, some of which is fully equal to the best Custom work.

Wholesale or Retail purchasers will find it for their benefit to examine our Stock before purchasing.

We have also a large and fashionable stock of PRICE GOODS, consisting of the most desirable patterns of English, French, German and American

CLOTHS,
CASSIMERES
DOESKINS, and
VESTINGS,

which have been selected with great care in the New York and Boston markets.

CUSTOM CLOTHING made to order in the latest styles at short notice.

PARTICULAR ATTENTION GIVEN TO

Army and Navy Uniforms.

Gentlemen's Furnishing Goods
OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.

L. D. BOISE & CO.,
No. 154 Washington Street, Boston.
April 20.—3m.

Chickering & Sons' Piano-Fortes.
Hallett & Cumston's Piano-Fortes.
Hallett & Davis's Piano-Fortes.

We select our Piano-Fortes from the above firms and warrant them to give perfect satisfaction. Our terms are reasonable, and all persons in the city and neighboring towns can be accommodated by calling at 76 Federal street.

FOR SALE.—Second-hand Piano-Fortes,—Chickering's and others.
ap 29 ANN R. BRAY.

DYSPEPSIA AND FITS.

A SURE CURE FOR

THESE distressing complaints is now made known in a Treatise on Foreign and Native Herbal Preparations, published by DR. O. PHELPS BROWN. The prescription was furnished him in such a providential manner, that he cannot conscientiously refuse to make it known, as it has cured everybody who has used it, never having failed in a single case. It is equally sure in cases of Fits as of Dyspepsia; and the ingredients may be found in any drug store. Sent free to all on the receipt of five cents to pre-pay postage. This work, of 48 octavo pages, beautifully illustrated, also treats on

Consumption,

Bronchitis, Asthma, General Debility, and gives the best known Herbal Remedies for their positive and permanent cure. Address DR O. PHELPS BROWN, No. 19 Grand Street, Jersey City, New Jersey.
may 25—3m

HEYLINGBERG'S

Hair Dressing Saloon,

24 MAIN ST., SOUTH DANVERS.

J. L. HEYLINGBERG would announce to his patrons and the public generally, that on and after JUNE 1st, 1864, he will abide by the following

TARIFF OF PRICES:

Shaving,	10 cts,
Hair Cutting,	15 cts,
Shampooing,	15 cts.

Particular attention paid to dying hair and whiskers, in one preparation, without washing or scrubbing.

South Danvers, May 11, 1864.

BRUSHES.

A FULL stock of Brushes of every description, at
je22 S C & E A SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

R. W. WILKINSON,
DEALER IN

Newspapers, Periodicals, and Stationery of every Description.

FOREIGN and DOMESTIC FRUITS, consisting of Oranges, Lemons, Dates, Figs, Prunes, &c., &c.

Sauces, Pickles and Preserves; Castana, Naples and English Walnuts; Hard, Soft and Paper-shelled Almonds; choice brands of Tobacco and Cigars; also a general assortment of Confectionery of every description.

Also a large and well selected stock of Toys, suitable for children and the Holiday Gifts.

Ice Cream furnished to parties at short notice and in quantities to suit. Wedding Cake and every variety of nice cake furnished to parties or families.

STORE—WARREN BANK BUILDING.

South Danvers, Nov. 11, 1863.

DR. S. O. RICHARDSON'S

Blood-Root Elixir

Has been thoroughly tested and proved in his medical practice, for a period of THIRTY YEARS, and is now presented to the public as an effectual cure for

COSTIVENESS,

AND THE BEST REMEDY EVER PREPARED FOR

DISEASES OF THE LIVER,

SCROFULA,

All Humors and Impurities of the Blood and Diseases of the Skin.

The preparing and combining the BLOOD-ROOT ELIXIR is attended with results to medical science next in importance to inhalation of ether in surgery. Roots and plants, in themselves pungent and disagreeable, are, by a new and scientific process of extracting (in vacuo,) rendered MORE EFFECTIVE IN THEIR OPERATION, entirely divested of the griping and distressing pain which attends the action of all other purgative medicine.—They are also made to become highly

PLEASANT AND AGREEABLE TO THE TASTE,

and by their peculiar combination work so perfectly in HARMONY WITH NATURE that no unpleasant reaction will follow its operation. It also possesses

A DIFFUSIVE AND ALTERATIVE EFFECT,

which can only be attained by medicine in a fluid state. These are new elements in purgative medicines.

The hard and compact manner in which Pills are prepared, renders them indigestible—and, when taken, are forced through the Stomach and Bowels, half dissolved, causing only PARTIAL ACTION, thereby creating irritation and pain to the parts connected with their passage.

One Pill dissolved secundum artem, will produce more medicinal and physical effect than five in a crude state.

The BLOOD-ROOT ELIXIR has no partial action upon the bowels, but is equally diffused there, and throughout the whole circulation of the Blood, imparting a healthy and invigorating action to the STOMACH AND BOWELS, LIVER, LUNGS, KIDNEYS, and gently stimulating dermant and morbid secretions throughout the whole system.

A single dose will produce a cheerful and exhilarating COMMOTION, which will inspire the patient with confidence, and assurance of IMMEDIATE RELIEF. A continuance for a short period will DRIVE the obscure and hidden humors to the surface of the skin, and relieve or check SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS—and by thus purifying and strengthening the Blood, will remove the most fruitful

CAUSE OF CONSUMPTION.

It incites the various organs of the system to act their alloted part, removing the causes which induce RHEUMATISM and NEURALGIA, HEADACHE, LOSS OF APPETITE, DYSPEPSIA, COSTIVENESS, and the various diseases which arise from a derangement of the Stomach and Bowels, and restricted circulation of the Blood.

COUGHS AND COLDS, in their early stages, will immediately yield to the effect of the Elixir.

The BLOOD-ROOT ELIXIR contains no mineral, no pernicious botanical element, no excitant, but stimulates the secretions by its mild and diffusive action. It is an effective and painless aperient—has a decided salutary action upon the Liver, and there has been no medicine prepared for common family use which possesses equal merit.

Travellers both by sea and land, will find the Elixir a complete antidote for the evils which they are obliged to endure, from a change of climate of water of diet.

See the pamphlet around each bottle for a history of the Elixir.

The proprietor of the BLOOD-ROOT ELIXIR, (Dr. S. O. Richardson,) has been long and favorably known to the public by his celebrated SHERRY-WINE BITTERS, the best tonic medicine ever discovered, and which has been in use over thirty years. He is a graduate of the New Hampshire Medical College, and many years associate member of the Massachusetts Medical Society,—and has made the study of medicine his profession since 1820.

And so fully convinced is the Doctor of the wonderful curative effects of his BLOOD-ROOT ELIXIR, that he hereby offers to each and every person who will use ONE-HALF OF A BOTTLE of his ELIXIR, and not be conscious of a good effect therefrom, to REFUND to said person the FULL amount which he paid for the same, by returning the ullage bottle to his office.

Price $1.50 Per Bottle!

Sold by Apothecaries and Dealers in Medicines, and at the Doctor's Office,

51 & 53 HANOVER ST., BOSTON.

May 11—3ms.*

SPECTACLES!

H. F. SKERRY wishes to call special attention to his stock of

Spectacles and Eye Glasses,

in Gold—Silver—Rubber—Steel and Horn frames, of which he keeps constantly on hand a very large assortment, embracing every style and quality.

—ALSO—

Opera Glasses, Microscopes, &c.

Glasses re-set, and Spectacles repaired.

In Store, our usual assortment of Silver and Plated Ware, and Jewelry.

No. 180 Essex Street, Salem.
H. F. SKERRY.
Feb. 24—tf.

NEW BOOKS,

At G. M. WHIPPLE & A. A. SMITH'S.

THE Potomac and the Rapidan. Army Notes from the Failure at Winchester to the Reinforcement of Rosecrans, 1861–3, by Alonzo H. Quint.

Hours with the Youngest, No. 1, by Mary Harvey Gill.

Self Sacrifice, by the author of Margaret Maitland.

The Cripple of Antioch, and other Scenes from Christian Life in Early Times, by author of "Schonberg Cotta Family."

A Woman's Philosophy of Woman; or, Woman Affranchised; an answer to Michelet, etc, by Mad. D' Hericourt.

The Tanner Boy, and how he became Lt Gen.

Thoughts of Personal Religion, being a treatise on the Christian Life in its elements, devotion & practice, by Ed. Myrick Colburn, D. D.

je 22 G M WHIPPLE & A A SMITH.

Cards.

M. B. MANSFIELD,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
314 ESSEX STREET, SALEM, MASS.

 Particular attention paid to procuring Pensions, Bounties, Back Pay, Prize Money, and Army and Navy Claims of all descriptions. March 2.

WILLIAM C. CHOATE,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
251 Essex St., Salem.
Salem, August 6, 1862. tf

THOMAS M. STIMPSON,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
194 ESSEX STREET, SALEM.
Residence Lowell street, South Danvers.

B. C. PERKINS,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
South Danvers—Office in Allen's Building

ALFRED A. ABBOTT,
Attorney and Counsellor,
Office, No. 24 Washington Street, Salem;
House, Main St., So. Danvers.

SIDNEY C. BANCROFT,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
27 Washington Street, Salem.

H. O. WILEY,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
Office, Allen's Building, So. Danvers.

Claims against the Government for Bounty Back Pay, and Pensions, promptly attended to.

A. S. CRAWFORD,
Dentist,
No. 4 MAIN STREET, So. DANVERS SQUARE
Mechanical Dentistry Neatly Executed.

W. L. BOWDOIN,
SURGEON DENTIST,
No. 208 Essex Street, Salem, (Opposite the Market)
Residence—No. 57 Washington street.
jan 11—1y

NEWMAN & SYMONDS,
DEALERS IN
Family Groceries, Flour & Grain,
HARD WARE AND CROCKERY,
Ready Made Clothing, Gents' Furnishing Goods, Hats, Caps, Boots, Shoes, &c.,
South Danvers Square, opp. Congregational Church
SAM'L NEWMAN. NATH'L SYMONDS.

S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS,
DEALERS IN
Crockery, China and Hardware; Paper Hangings; Solar and Entry Lamps; Paints, Oil, and Window Glass.
No. 32 Front street, Lawrence Place,
feb13 SALEM, MASS.

HENRY L. WHIDDEN,
HOUSE AND SIGN PAINTER,
Glazier and Paperer,
Central Street, South Danvers.
All orders promptly and faithfully executed.
jan2-1y

E. S. FLINT,
DEALER IN
West India Goods, Country Poduce,
No. 2 Main Street, South Danvers.

JESSE SMITH
No. 262 Essex Street, Salem,
Importer and Dealer in
Gold and Silver Watches,
MARINE CHRONOMETERS,
Aueroid Barometers, Spy Glasses, &c.

WILLIAM BLANEY,
HOUSE & SIGN PAINTER
Grainer, Glazier and Paper Hanger.
164 MAIN STREET, Corner of Grove.
WINDOWS and BLINDS cheap for cash.
mch6-tf

F. POOLE
INSURANCE AGENT,
Allen's Building (up stairs),
Deeds drawn, and other common forms.

H. L. HADLEY,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
CORNER MAPLE AND ELM ST.,
Danvers.

Claims against the Government for Bounty, Back Pay, and Pensions, promptly attended to.

DEVEREUX & McLELLAN,
Attorneys and Counsellors-at-Law,
CIVIL AND MILITARY,
Browne's Block, Essex street—Room No. 5.
J. F. DEVEREUX, Salem, Mass.
GEO. F. McLELLAN, Washington, D. C.
Oct. 21.

CREAM ALE.

THIS Ale is highly recommended by Physicians for

FAMILY USE AND INVALIDS.

Put up in Half Barrels and Barrels,

And for sale by
J. MAGUIRE & CO.,
No. 6 Derby Square, Salem.

Also, Agent for
MASSEY & COLLINS'
PHILADELPHIA ALES,
BUCKHART'S
CREAM ALE.

And Dealer in
LONDON PORTER, SCOTCH ALE, Atkinson's Wormwood Cordial, Drake's Plantation Bitters, &c., &c.

J. MAGUIRE & CO.,
july 15 No. 6 Derby Square, Salem.

E. F. BURNHAM,
SOLE AGENT FOR
SARGENT & CO.S'
MAGIC SOAP!
For South Danvers & Salem.

OFFICE—Central St., opp. Lowell Depot, at Burnham's Express Office, So. Danvers.

Price $3.50 per 100 Lbs.

Orders sent by mail or otherwise to So. Danvers will be promptly attended to. tf-oct3

Choice Spring Pigs for Sale.

THE subscriber offers for sale nice PIGS of Mackie Prince Albert and Chester County breeds, of which the Mackie took the First Premium at the late CattleShow. Prices reasonable.

BYRON GOODALE,
Near Tapley's Brook.
South Danvers, April 1, 1864. tf

FEATHER DUSTERS,

OF all sizes, from 10 to 26 inches, just opened at
je22 S C & E A SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

Advertisements.

HOSTETTER'S

CELEBRATED

STOMACH BITTERS.

A pure and powerful Tonic, corrective and alterative of wonderful efficacy in disease of the

Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

Cures Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Headache, Debility, Nervousness, Depression of Spirits, Constipation, Colic, Intermittent Fevers, Cramps and Spasms, and all Complaints of either Sex, arising from Bodily Weakness whether inherent in the system or produced by special causes.

Nothing that is not wholesome, genial and restorative in its nature enters into the composition of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. This popular preparation contains no mineral of any kind, no deadly botanical element; no fiery excitant; but it is a combination of the extracts of rare balsamic herbs and plants with the purest and mildest of all diffusive stimulants.

It is well to be forearmed against disease, and, so far as the human system can be protected by human means against maladies engendered by an unwholesome atmosphere, impure water and other external causes, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS may be relied on as a safeguard.

In districts infested with Fever and Ague, it has been found infallible as a preventive and irresistible as a remedy and thousands who resort to it under apprehension of an attack, escape the scourage; and thousands who neglect to avail themselves of its protective qualities in advance, are cured by a very brief course of this marvelous medicine. Fever and Ague patients, after being plied with quinine for months in vain, until fairly saturated with that dangerous alkaloid, are not unfrequently restored to health within a few days by the use of HOSTETTER'S BITTERS.

The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated and the appetite restored by this agreeable Tonic, and hence it works wonders in cases of DISPEPSIA and in less confirmed forms of INDIGESTION. Acting as a gentle and painless apperient, as well as upon the liver, it also invariably relieves the CONSTIPATION superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and secretive organs.

Persons of feeble habit, liable to Nervous Attacks, Lowness of Spirits and Fits of Languor, find prompt and permanent relief from the Bitters. The testimony on this point is most conclusive, and from both sexes.

The agony of BILIOUS COLIC is immediately assuaged by a single dose of the stimulant, and by occasionally resorting to it, the return of the complaint may be prevented.

As a General Tonic, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS produce effects which must be experienced or witnessed before they can be fully appreciated. In cases of Constitutional Weakness, Premature Decay and Debility and Decrepitude arising from OLD AGE, it exercises the electric influence. In the convalescent stages of all diseases it operates as a delightful invigorant. When the powers of nature are relaxed, it operates to re-enforce and re-establish them.

Last, but not least, it is The Only Safe Stimulant, being manufactured from sound and innocuous materials, and entirely free from the acid elements present more or less in all the ordinary tonics and stomachics of the day.

No family medicine has been so universally, and, it may be truly added, deservedly popular with the intelligent portion of the community, as HOSTETTER'S BITTERS.

Prepared by HOSTETTER & SMITH, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Sold by all Druggists, Grocers and Storekeepers everywhere.

HELMBOLD'S
GENUINE PREPARATIONS.

COMPOUND FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU, a Positive and Specific Remedy for diseases of the Bladder, Kidneys, Gravel, and Dropsical Swellings.

This Medicine increases the power of Digestion, and excite the Absorbents into healthy action, by which the Wtaery or Calcareous depositions, and all Unnatural Enlargements are reduced, as well as Pain and Inflammation.

—:O:—

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU,

For Weaknesses arising from Excesses, Habits of Dissipation, Early Indiscretion of Abuse, attended with the following symptoms:—

Indisposition to Exertion,	Loss of Power,
Loss of Memory,	Difficulty of Breathing,
Weak Nerves,	Trembling,
Horror of Disease,	Wakefulness,
Dimness of Vision,	Pain in the Back,
Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System,
Hot Hands,	Flushing of the Body,
Dryness of the Skin,	Eruptions on the Face,
Pallid Countenance.

These symptoms, if allowed to go on, which this medicine invariably removes, soon follows

Impotency, Fatuity, Epileptic Fits,

In one of which the patient may expire.

Who can say that they are not frequently followed by those "Direful Diseases,"

"INSANITY AND CONSUMPTION."

Many are aware of the cause of their suffering, BUT NONE WILL CONFESS THE RECORDS OF THE INSANE ASYLUMS.

And Melancholy Deaths by Consumption bear ample witness to the Truth of the assertion.

The Constitution once effected with Organic Weakness requires the aid of Medicine to Strengthen and Invigorate the system,

Which HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU invariably does. A Trial will convince the most skeptical.

—:O:—

FEMALES—FEMALES—FEMALES.

In many Affections peculiar to Females the EXTRACT BUCHU is unequaled by any other remedy, as in Chlorosis or Retention, Irregularity, Painfulness, or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated Schirrhous state of the Uterus, Leuchorrhea or Whites, Sterility, and for all complaints incident to the sex, whether arising from indiscretion or Habits of Dissipation, or in the

DECLINE OR CHANGE OF LIFE.

Take no more Balsam, Mercury, or unpleasant Medicines for unpleasant and dangerous diseases.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU AND IMPROVED ROSE WASH CURES

SECRET DISEASES

In all their Stages, At little Expense
Little or no change in Diet. No inconvenience,
And no Exposure.

It causes a frequent desire and gives strength to Urinate, thereby Removing Obstructions, Preventing and Curing Strictures of the Urethra, allaying Pain and Inflammation, so frequent in this class of diseases, and expelling all Poisonous, Diseased and wornout Matter.

Thousands upon Thousands who have been the Victims of Quacks, and who have paid heavy fees to be cured in a short time, have found they were deceived, and that the "POISON" has, by the use of "Powerful Astringents," been dried up in the system, to break out in an aggravated form, and perhaps after Marriage.

—:O:—

Use HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU for all affections and diseases of the URINARY ORGANS, whether existing in MALE or FEMALE, from whatever cause originating and no matter of HOW LONG STANDING.

Diseases of these Organs requires the aid of a DIURETIC. HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU IS THE GREAT DIURETIC, and is certain to have the desired effect in all Diseases for which it is Recommended.

Evidence of the most reliable and responsible character will accompany the medicine.

Price $1.00 per bottle, or six for $5.00.

Delivered to any Address, securely packed from observation.

Describe Symptoms in all Communications.

Cures Guaranteed! Advice Gratis!!

Address letters for information to
H. B. HELMBOLD, Chemist,
104 South Tenth st., bel. Chestnut, Phila.

HELMBOLD'S Medical Depot.
HELMBOLD'S Drug & Chemical Warehouse.
594 Broadway, New York.

BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS AND UNPRINCIPLED DEALERS who endeavor to dispose "of their own" and "other" articles on the reputation attained by

Helmbold's Genuine Preparations.
" " Extract Buchu.
" " Sarsaparilla.
" " Improved Rose Wash.

SOLD BY
ALL DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE.
ASK FOR HELMBOLD'S. TAKE NO OTHER.
Cut out the Advertisement and send for it.
AND AVOID IMPOSITION AND EXPOSURE.
December 16, 1863.—1 yr.

Coe's Superphosphate of Lime.

BRADLEY'S TOBACCO FERTILIZER.

For sale by the Manufacturer,

W. L. BRADLEY.

SALE OFFICE,

24 BROAD ST., BOSTON.

PAMPHLETS containing testimonials in favor of Coe's Superphosphate of Lime as a Standard Manure, and Bradley's Manual on the Culture and Curing of Tobacco, with illustrations, can be had by addressing the undersigned WM. L. BRADLEY.

☞ Highest Cash Prices paid for Bones.
Boston, April 13, 1864. 3m

GENTLEMEN'S HATS,

Spring Styles,

—AT—

J. A. JACKSON'S.

A large and choicely selected assortment of

FINE SOFT FELT HATS,

CLOTH HATS AND CAPS,

For Men and Boy's Wear.

101 COURT ST.,
April 13.—3m. BOSTON.

CHILDREN'S CARRIAGES.

WE have on hand a very large stock of Children's Carriages, comprising every vasiety of style, from the

CHEAP WILLOW CAB
—TO THE—
FINEST NEW HAVEN GIG.
—ALSO—
PERAMBULATORS!
of various qualities.

REPAIRING, in all its branches, promptly attended to at the OLD STAND,

No. 180 Essex street, Salem.
HENRY F. SKERRY.
April 20.—3m.

CURRIER & MILLETT,
Dealers in
Furniture, Chairs,
MATTRESSES, FEATHERS, &
259 & 261 ESSEX ST.
Salem, dec 14—1y

H. & H. G. HUBON,
WASHINGTON STREET, SALEM
Manufacturers of
Rose Wood, Mahogany, Black Walnnt and Stained Wood

COFFINS and CASKETS.

MAKING this our exclusive business, we are ready at all times and at the shortest notice to furnish Grave Clothes of various styles, as well as Coffins and Caskets of the finest finish. Personal attention given, and delivered without extra charge to any of the neighboring towns. All orders by express or otherwise will receive prompt attention.

Black Walnut and White Wood Boards, Plank and Joists for sale.

dec 14—tf

CHARLES S. BUFFUM,

BEING an authorized UNDERTAKER of South Danvers, will attend Funerals in said place with his Hearse the same as the Town Undertaker. Will also attend Funerals, when desired, in any of the neighboring towns, with one or a pair of horses.

He also furnishes Coffin Caskets, Robes, &c., lower than city prices.

All branches of the business attended to, such as furnishing Coaches, Flowers, Laying Out, &c. Ice Preservers furnished.

All orders promptly attended to, and personal attention given to them. Articles delivered to any of the neighboring towns free of charge. Orders by express or otherwise will receive prompt attention.

Central Street, South Danvers,
RESIDENCE 25 ELM STREET.
South Danvers, Feb 17, 1864.

Undertaker's Notice!

THE subscriber being regularly appointed as Undertaker of South Danvers, would respectfully notify the public that he has removed from Central Street, to No. 80 Lowell Street, where he may be found in readiness to attend funerals, and to furnish, when desired.

HENRY SPENCER.
February 10, 1864.

E. S. FLINT,
Manufacturer and Dealer in
INNER SOLES,
AND SHOE STIFFENINGS OF ALL KINDS.
2 MAIN STREET, SOUTH DANVERS.

TO LET.

HOUSE on Foster Street, belonging to the estate of the late Benjamin Goodridge. For terms apply at the house.

JAMES L. GOODRIDGE,
April 20—tf Adm'r.

THE BEST ASSORTMENT

OF White, Colored Grounds, neat Patterns, to be found in the city.
June 1 ANN R. BRAY, 76 Federal st.

Horse Railroad Notice.

On and after MONDAY, May 9, the cars of the Salem and South Danvers Railroad Co. will leave

South Danvers for Salem and Beverly at 6.35, 6.55, 7.15, and 7.35, A. M., and every 20 minutes till 12.55 P. M., and at 1.10, 1.25, 1.40, 1.55 P. M., and every 15 minutes till 10.25 P. M. The 9.55, 10.10, and 10.25 P. M., cars will go only to Salem.

Cars will leave Beverly for Salem and South Danvers at 6.35, 6.55, 7.15, and 7.35, A. M., and every 20 minutes till 12.55 P. M., and at 1.10, 1.25, 1.40 and 1.55 P.M., and every 15 minutes till 10.40 P. M. The 9.40, 9.55, 10.10, 10.25 and 10.40 P. M., cars go only to Salem.

Cars leave Washington Street Station for So. Danvers at 6.12, 6.32 and 6.52 A. M. and every 20 minutes till 12.32 P. M. and leave Washington St. Station for Beverly at 6.17, 6.37, 6.57, A.M., and every 20 minutes till 12 37 P. M., and cars will leave Washington St. Station for South Danvers and Beverly at 12.45, 1, 1.15, and 1.30 P. M., and every 15 minutes till 10.00 P. M.

M. H. HALE,
may 11 Sup't. S. & S. D. R. R. Co.

WM. C. HENDERSON,
MANUFACTURER OF
PLAIN AND FANCY
PAPER BOXES,
No. 235 ESSEX STREET,
Sign of "Nest of Boxes,"
july 23 SALEM. tf

A LECTURE FOR YOUNG MEN.

Just published, a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical cure (without medicine) of SPERMATORRHOEA, or Seminal Weakness, Involuntary Seminal Losses, IMPOTENCY, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc.; also, Consumption, Epilepsy, and Fits, induced by self-indulgence or sexual extravagance.

☞ Price, in a sealed envelope, only 6 cents.

The celebrated author in this admirable essay clearly demonstrates from a thirty years successful practice, that the alarming consequences of self abuse may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine or the application of the knife—pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

This Lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land.

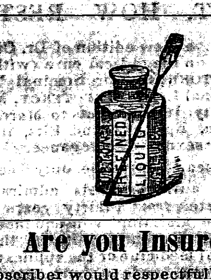
Sent under seal, in a plain envelope, to any address, POST-PAID, on receipt of six cents, or two postage stamps. Address the publishers,

CHAS. J. C. KLINE & CO.,
127 Bowery, New York, Post Office Box, 4586.
January 16—8mos.

Abbott's South Danvers & Salem EXPRESS.

Leave South Danvers,	7½ a m, 1 p m
Leave Salem,	10 a m, 4 p m

Orders left at Teel & Moulton's, and principal stores on Main street, South Danvers, and at 7 Washington street, and at Reed's in the Market, Salem.



Are you Insured?

THE subscriber would respectfully call your attention to the fact that he is fully prepared to effect INSURANCE AGAINST FIRE, to any amount, at current rates, on

Dwelling Houses, Barns and their contents, Stores, Stocks of Goods, Furniture, &c. &c., and on buildings in process of erection,

And that he is the authorized Agent for the following responsible Stock and Mutual Companies, viz:

Thames Insurance Co. (Stock,) Norwich, Conn.
Capital—$500,000.
Amos W. Prentice, Pres. Oliver F. Rice, Sec'y
Conway Insurance Company, (Stock) Boston.
Capital and Surplus—$260,000
James F. Whitney, Pres. David C. Rogers, Sec'y.
City Insurance Company, (Stock) Boston.
Capital—$150,000.
Samuel P. Hayward, Pres. Austin W. Benton, Sec'y

Also, will effect Insurance on the LIVES OF INDIVIDUALS, for one year, seven years, or for the whole term of life, in the

Massachusetts Mutual Life Ins. Co., Springfield, Mass.
Capital and Assets—$375,000.
Caleb Rice, Pres. D. B. Bacon, Sec'y.
William Mack, M. D., Medical Examiner.

WM. ARCHER, Jr.,
18 Washington st. and 34 Front st., Salem.
feb20-1

ALWAYS SUCCESSFUL!

TO ALL THOSE WHO SUFFER FROM

DEBILITY AND SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

DRS. CARSWELL & HUNTER, regularly educated, highly eminent and successful practitioners, after a very extensive practice in Boston, for over twenty years, need hardly speak of their medical qualifications, or remind strangers not to class them with a set of uneducated men, who fill the papers with their boasting advertisements. Drs. C. & H. caution the public against quackery in all its forms, pretending, as some self-styled doctors, to cure all the most difficult and chronic diseases, without knowledge of the human system, or of the modus operandi of the most simple drugs.

Drs. C. & H., since 1840, having confined their whole attention to an office practice for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, they acknowledge no superiors.

CONSTITUTIONAL DEBILITY OR SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Drs. C. & H. are pre-eminently successful in the treatment of the above most difficult and perplexing of all diseases, this complaint being the result of a secret habit in youth; if neglected or improperly treated, it proves one of the greatest evils that can befall a human being. Dr. H. has given particular attention to the above disease for years, and so thoroughly has he become acquainted with the pathology and treatment, that he will warrant a perfect cure under forfeiture of $500; in fact, he will, in the cure of this complaint, acknowledge no superior in this country, or even in the world. Come, then, all you who are afflicted, come to the Old Stand, where you will in a short time be made to rejoice in perfect health.

SYPHILITIC AND SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS,—such as Ulcers and Caries of the throat and nose, Running Sores on the legs and arms, Hard Scabs and Scaly Eruptions on the head, back, &c., pains in the bones and joints, and all other forms of venereal diseases—are made to yield and entirely disappear under Drs. C. & H.'s improved and thoroughly eradicating course of treatment.

The primary or first symptoms of disease, whether a simple running, or small pistules, cancers, or ulcers, are cured in a very few days, if immediate application is made to Drs. C. & H.

13 ENDICOTT STREET, BOSTON. 13

Strangers should be particular in the selection of a physician, lest they be deceived by false advertisements.

Ladies troubled with irregularity, weakness, whites, and other complaints peculiar to the female system, will find a speedy cure by calling as above. No mercury used, and no charge for advice. The afflicted are invited to give us a call.

Boston, April 20, 1864.—1 yr.

---

25 YEARS' EXPERIENCE enables DRS. CARSWELL & HUNTER to cure any diseases of a private nature in a shorter space of time and for a smaller amount of money than any other doctors in this country, and they also treat all female complaints with perfect success, and on the most satisfactory terms. Patients furnished with board if desired. Please give us a call at our office, No. 13 Endicott St., Boston, Mass.

Boston, April 20, 1864.—1 yr.

MOZAMBIQUES,

AT 20 cents per yard; a nice quality at 30 cents per yard; White Striped Muslins; Striped Cambrics; Nainsooks—just received.

In Lawns we have a first rate assortment; other styles of Thin Goods—making our assortment as good as can be found in the city, selling at the lowest cash prices.

Ann R. Bray, 76 Federal Street.
June 1.

FLOUR.

200 BBLS "Keystone;"
100 bbls Faquis "Invincible," received this day, and for sale by
may 25 GAYLE & CO., Phillips Wharf.

CHINA GOODS.

GOLD Band Tea Sets; Fancy do.; Vases; Match Boxes; Fruit Baskets, etc., at
S C & E A SIMONDS',
je22 32 Front St., Salem.

SUMMER ARRA

TO

LYNN & BO

BY

OMNIBUS & HO

W. F. BURNH

Line of Omnibuses will leave th Omnibus Office, No. 6 Allen's B vers, passing down Main Street, t Street, to Lynn, daily—Sundays

Leave South Danvers at 7 50 o and 4 50 P. M.

Leave Lynn (Horse Car Depot, A. M., 2 40 and 6 40 P. M.

Horse Cars leaving the office a at 8 15 A M., 1 15 and 5 15 P. M., buses at Lynn, at the above na passengers to South Danvers.

Tickets to Lynn,
Through to Boston,

Gravesend, Woodend,
Depot Rout

ON and after Monday, Nov 2, in route, an Omnibus will leave Lynn, to connect with the stea times daily,—Sundays excepted, Gravesend and Woodend, to the and Horse Railroad Station, co Broad Streets; leaving South Danv necting with the 7.25 steam cars f (connecting with the 11.10 train), a ing with the 4.50 train); and retu from the Spring Street Station an pot, at 8 A M., and 1 and 6 P M.

Fare from Danvers to Boston

Through Tickets to and from Bo the Drivers and Conductors.

South Danvers, Salem
Route.

THE subscriber having purcha ley the Omnibus line runni Lynn, would announce that it Stage Office, No. 6 Allen's Buildi for Salem, at 7 30 A M., and 2 30 P Stage Office in Central St., Salem 3 30 P M for Lynn. Returning wi A M and 5 P M; and Salem for So A M, and 6.15 P M.

Passengers between South Danv be called for by leaving orders at t Passengers called for at reasonab is given at the office.

EXPRESS BUSI

Between South Danvers and Lyn ed to, on reasonable terms.

Extra Coaches furnished at sho

W. F.

South Danvers, April 20, 1864.

CROUT & MU

SOUTH DANVERS

RAILROAD EX

Express leaves South Danvers a Freight " " a
Express leaves Boston at
Freight " " at

OFFICE at FREIGHT D
Danvers Square.

Express Office in Boston, 3 W
Freight Office, 48 Ki

Particular attention paid t niture, collecting Bills, Notes,

Smallest favors thankfully receiv

South Danvers, august 26—tf

MARSHA

DANVERS, SO. DANVE

EXPRES

Leave DANVERS (daily) at 9 A SALEM at 1½ P. M.

OFFICES:

In Danvers—At E B Waitt's and th
Danversport—Richards' and A W
In So. Danvers—Francis Dane & C street.
In Salem—No 7 Washington street, 17 Derby Square.

All business promptly and faithfu

Our patrons are particula write their orders.

Packages left at the office, "Marshall's Express."

Being connected with the are enabled to forward Notes, D collection, and small packages, point in the United States, at th

P. G
decl-8-tf

WEBBE

South Danvers & Salem

WILL leave South Danvers at 7 1½ and 5 P M.

Leaves Salem at 8.45 A M., 12 M.,

Slates will be found in South Da Office, and at Blake & Holman's s ment, and in Salem at the Coach S Street, and at E F & J W Roberts' Washington Streets.

Any packages or business entru will have prompt attention and car lic patronage is solicited.

PARK

Important to the

DR. DOW continues to be consul Nos. 7 and 9 Endicott street, Bo eases of a

PRIVATE OR DELICATE

By a long course of study and pra of unlimited extent, Dr. D. has now of presenting the unfortunate wi have never, since he first introduce cure the most alarming cases of

GONORRHOEA AND SY

Beneath his treatment, all the ho and impure blood, Impotency, Scrof Ulcers, pain and distress in the re tion, Inflammation of the Bladder a drocele, Abcesses, Humors, fright the long train of horrible sympto class of disease, are made to becom the simplest ailings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNE

Dr. D. devotes a great part of his ment of those cases caused by a se habit, which ruins the body and mi unfortunate individual for business of the sad and melancholy effects habits of youth, are Weakness limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimn pitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, N rangement of the digestive functio Consumption, &c. The fearful eff are much to be dreaded; loss of me of ideas, depression of spirits, aversion of society, self-distrust, among the evils produced. Such pe fore contemplating matrimony, con experience, and be at once restor happiness.

Patients who wish to remain und ment a few days or weeks, will be pleasant rooms, and charges for boa

Medicines sent to all parts of the directions for use, on receiving de cases. Dr. Dow has also for sale th warranted the best preventive. or $1 and a red stamp.

CAUTION

TO FEMALES IN DELICAT

DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, street, Boston, is consulted daily for dent to the female system. Prolapsu ing of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Supp er menstrual derangements, are all t pathological principles, and speedy r in a very few days. So invariably mode of treatment, that most obst yield under it, and the afflicted perso in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater cure of diseases of women and chi other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for pa wish to stay in Boston a few days u ment.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confin tention to an office practice, for the Diseases and Female Complaints, a superior in the United States.

N. B.—All letters must contain four they will not be answered.

Office Hours from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.

CERTAIN CUR

IN ALL CASES, OR NO CHAR

Dr. Dow is consulted daily, from 8 as above, upon all difficult and chr every name and nature, having by h tention and extraordinary success gai which calls patients from all parts of obtain advice.

Among the physicians in Boston, n in the profession than the celebrated 7 Endicott street, Boston. Those wh vices of an experienced physician and give him a call. P. S.—Dr. Dow imp sale a new article, called the French by mail. Two for $1 and a red stamp

April 20, 1864—1y.

NEW WHITE WA

DINNER, Tea and Toilet Wa new pattern, Ribbon Border,
je22 S C & E A SIMONDS',

South Danvers Wizard.

OL. V. SOUTH DANVERS, MASS., WEDNESDAY, JULY 6, 1864. NO. 27.

SOUTH DANVERS WIZARD
shed every WEDNESDAY, at Allen's Build-
th Danvers Square.
s—Two Dollars a year.
RTISEMENTS inserted at reasonable rates.

CHARLES D. HOWARD,
DITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

R. NILES, Advertising Agent,
Scollay's Building, Court Street, Boston, is
ent for that city, and is authorized to redvertisements and subscriptions for us at vest rates.

Selected Poetry.

DISSOLVE THE UNION.

BY GEORGE W. CUTTER.

hen Henry Clay was asked when he be in favor of a dissolution of the , he answered, "Never, never, never!"] sk me when I'd rend the scroll ' fathers' names are written o'er,—

I would see our flag unroll mingled stars and stripes no more:
, with a worse than felon's hand,
felon counsels, I would sever
Jnion of this glorious land,— iswer—"Never, never, never!"

ye can find in lawless might, ère Carnage treads its crimson way,— burning cities gild the night, ere cannon smoke obscures the day,— vns deserted, fields of ground andoned by the faithful plough, ity, hope, peace profound,
blessings Heaven vouchsafed you now,— think ye, I would brook to see emblem we have loved so long

, piecemeal, o'er the distant sea, n, trampled, by a frenzied throng,— ed, measured, parcelled out, nely surrendered up forever,
atify a lawless rout traitors—"Never, never, never!"

onder lone and lovely steep, sculptor's art, the builder's power, dmark o'er the soldier's sleep
ve reared a lofty funeral tower:
it will stand until the river at rolls beneath shall cease to flow, ill that hill itself shall quiver
th Nature's last convulsive throe.

that column's marble base,
shaft that soars into the sky,
still is room enough to trace list of millions yet to die.
I would cover all its height
d breadth, before the hour of shame, pace should fail whereon to write en the initials of a name.

I would haste to swell the ranks,
ect the fire or lead the way,
battle swept the rifted ranks,
d bore the serried files away,— bleeding in the doubtful strife, neath the motto of my sires,
draw my latest breath of life,
fore that Union flag expires.

lve the Union! Nay, remove last asylum that is known re patriots find a brother's love, d truth may shelter from a throne!
up our hopes of high renown,
legacy our fathers will'd,
our victorious eagles down,
fore their mission is fulfilled!

lve the Union! while the earth
s yet a tyrant to be slain?
ell repress the lightning's birth, stop the heavings of the main!
lve the Union! God of Heaven!
know too well how much it cost—llion bosoms shall be riven fore the golden link is lost!

he Baltimore American says the copy from h we print these beautiful verses was car- in the pocket, and cherished by a conscript e rebel army, during his whole period of ce. He deserted, and has reached his ds in Baltimore.]

Selected.

FANCY SKETCH.

tretched at full length on two sofas, h occupied opposite corners of an ense fire-place, were two young , busily engaged smoking from long kish pipes.

What is the matter with you, Al- ? You are not saying a word."

Nothing in the world. I was wait- for you to break silence."

Then we might have waited long gh for each other."

I was thinking of a most delightful nture."

Well, then, you might as well think d."

With all my heart, only that you think I play somewhat too conspicu- a part in it."

Pray begin; I promise you only to eve half."

It is now about a week since I re- ed a card of invitation to a ball name was wholly unknown to me, I lighted my pipe with the note. stay; I must fill it now. There. l now to proceed.

Some days after, feeling rather de- ssed and a little out of sorts, I thought ttle gay society would do me no harm. my faith,' said I to myself, 'I ought to have gone to this ball.' And a moment after I said again, 'I wish I had gone to this ball. Ha! there is actually a scrap of the invitation left; and it is for this evening. What is to prevent my going?' Accordingly I dressed, and that, be it remarked, en passant, for reasons best known to my tailor and myself, was a matter of no slight difficulty. My toilet once made, such as it was, everything else went on smoothly enough. I sent the porter for a cab to take me to the appointed house. You know the house—that magnificent one in the Rue St. Honore, in front of which are those two splendid statues, before which I so often stood lost in admiration. I entered, as announced, and could see that my name made a great sensation. I made my way to the lady of the house to pay my respects. Beside her was a young lady evidently her daughter, who blushed deeply, and appeared somewhat embarrassed as I approached. In a few moments, there being no listeners near us, she whispered quickly to me—

"Be sure you do not forget that it was Ernest gave you an introduction."

Thereupon she left me, and joined a lady, who had just entered the room.

"Not to forget that it was Ernest gave me the introduction! But who and what was this Ernest? Why had he given me an introduction?"

As I was puzzling over it all, I was accosted by a stout gentleman—"

"You are taking nothing, the refreshment room is quite near."

"I answered by a bow, and he immediately led the way."

"Where is Ernest? I want to thank him for having brought you to us."

"On the contrary, sir, it is I who am deeply indebted to Ernest."

"Can you tell me how this law-suit is going on?"

"What law-suit?"

"O, the great family suit."

"O, it is going exceedingly well."

"I am glad to hear it. Have you spoken to my wife and daughter?"

"Yes, I have had the honor."

"Now tell me honestly, do you follow Ernest's example?"

"Follow Ernest's example! You may fancy how embarrassed I was to find a ready answer to this question, but a hem and a haw got me out of the scrape, for my stout friend went on to say—

"Ernest is good for nothing; he neither plays nor dances."

"I, on the contrary, am very fond of dancing, and if I am not, as I fear, quite too late, I would beg permission to engage your daughter.

"I rather think her card must be full by this time. Still I know that she generally reserves a dance or two for any late comers she may wish to favor. Come, I will make your request for you." And so saying, he led me up to his daughter, whose first words, when her eye fell upon us, were—

"I see you have not forgotten our engagement for the next quadrille."

"How is this?" inquired my portly friend, "you said just now—"

I was as much surprised as he was, but hastened to say, "I had asked the young lady, but she turned to speak to some one who was just coming into the room, and left me in doubt whether she would accede to my request."

"So you see my meditation was quite unnecessary; and now I will leave you. When you see Ernest, pray tell him I have got something to say to him."

Being left alone with my own thoughts in the midst of this perfectly strange world, I began to try to bring them into some order. Everybody here, thought I, seems to know me, and I know not a human being. It is very evident this fair damsel is wondrously smitten with me, and would have no objection to a little love-making. It is easily guessed what she wants to say. At all events I shall soon know; but what am I to say to her? If I only knew who this Ernest is.

In the mean time the music for the quadrille began, and I hastened to secure my partner. She is a handsome, fine looking girl of about twenty. We danced the first figure without a word, but when the turn of the side couples came, the young lady said to me:

"As far as papa is concerned, there is no danger, but do not trust Ernest. He is a friend, a sincere friend, but I should be quite ashamed of his knowing, and yet it was necessary that we should come to some explanation. You may speak without any risk now."

What was I to explain? I was perfectly bewildered. Fortunately, we were just at this point separated by the figure of the dance, and when we rejoined each other, she had, to my inexpressible joy, entirely forgotten that it was my turn to speak. I could quite understand the poor young girl's falling in love with me at first sight, but the previous knowledge of me implied, utterly perplexed me. She resumed the conversation by saying,—

"The first thing I must do is to return your letters."

"This is confusion worse confounded," thought I. I have to my knowledge never written a line to her in my life. But she continued:

"You could have been guilty of no greater impudence than to write me in such a manner. It has always been my habit to hand my mother every letter I receive before I break the seal, and it was by a most lucky chance that I did not do so with either of your letters. I have not replied to them, as I thought it better to do so by word of mouth. But I would not venture to have a private interview with you; here amongst so many people I shall have more courage. You must really not write to me any more, nor remain for so many hours before my door. There is no knowing what people may say."

My goodness! What a game of cross purposes! I who stood before the door merely to look at the statues! However, now I saw my way, and I answered boldly, that being once admitted into her house, I should no longer have occasion to remain standing before the door, and that if she would permit me to speak to her I need not write.

Another movement of the dance again separated us. After which my fair partner went on.

"No, it is far better that we should not see each other again. I am, as you know, engaged to another, and all intercourse ought to be henceforth out of the question."

"What, madam, not see you again? After devoting my whole life for so long a time to you alone; after having accustomed myself to make you the subject of every thought, the object of every hope. No! no! forever, no! If you will not allow me to say to you how much I love you, I will write it ten times a day. If you will not concede me the privilege of seeing you in your own house, I will station myself as a shoeblack opposite your door, brushes and never leave my post for an instant."

"You terrify me!"

"O! could I have ever thought, ever have expected to meet only hatred in return for such undying love and devotion."

"I did not say that it was only hatred I felt for you, but this I say, that it is the only feeling it would be allowable for me to express."

The country dance came at length to an end. As I led her to a seat, I whispered,

"Remember the shoe-brushes."

She smiled as I left her, and mingled with the crowd. I had enough to occupy my thoughts in trying to unravel of what romance she was making me the hero. What part did this Ernest play in it, and who is he? Still, however that might be, I saw in the whole thing, up to this, nothing but a rare frolic. I was to be favored with another country-dance after three other engagements which my fair partner was obliged to keep.

The time came and our conversation was resumed.

"I have been thinking ever since, fair lady, of my polishing brushes."

"And so have I, but I am afraid of them."

"You have only to forbid me to do it, then."

"O, certainly; I forbid you most positively."

"A thousand thanks."

"For what? I do not understand you."

"For what! For the permission you give me to visit you very often."

"Indeed, I do not see why you may not come. Many other young people visit here. But first, you must renew the pledge you gave me in your last letter."

I was again in the mire, and deeper than ever. What promise had I given? But there was no time to hesitate, so I answered boldly—

"I swore, dear lady, by my love to you."

She smiled.

"This is a strange way of inspiring me with confidence in you."

"What can you mean? I swore by all that is most sacred and precious to me."

"Ah! so by your love you swore never more to speak to me of your love."

"This, then, was what I had sworn." I was all right again.

"Dear me, dear lady; I will not deceive you. I will say whatever you wish; I will converse with you on whatever topic you please; but you are to remember that henceforth whatever I say, be the subject what it may, I shall always mean one and the same thing—I love you."

"But what is to be done with Ernest?"

"Bah! what on earth is Ernest to me?"

"But he is much to me, and his feelings must be spared as much as possible."

"O, I will be as considerate to him as you could wish."

"Thank you, that will oblige me greatly."

"But I do not know him."

"How? you do not know him! Was it not he that took you the invitation?"

"The note was given to my porter without a word being said of whom it came from."

"He told me he knew you very well."

"I have not got a single acquaintance of that name."

"In short, dear friend, by the time our long conversation was at an end, I had learned part of the secret and guessed the rest.

"Mademoiselle de —— had seen me countless times standing before her door, admiring, as you know, the statutes.—She had also received two anonymous love letters, in which, among other impassioned phrases, was the following:—"The sweetest moments of my life are those which I spend gazing at the spot priviliged to hold you." As Mademoiselle de —— was fully persuaded that I was desperately in love with her, so these letters were most naturally put down to my account. Some days after, she was going out to drive with a friend, as I came in front of the door. Her companion saw me, and said—

"Look, there is M. Alfred de Bussault."

"Who, that young man?"

"Yes," said the friend. "Do you not know him?"

"No. Are you acquainted with him?"

"Only by name. He is a celebrated young artist."

"What a handsome, interesting face! Altogether he is quite divine," said my inamorata.

But here Alfred was interrupted by his auditor.

"Heyday, man; who on earth reported this conversation to you?"

"Nobody. This is part of what I told you I guessed."

"O, I understand; very well, go on.

"You will allow this was not doing badly for a first appearance. The two young ladies, particularly my fair friend, were so charmed with me, that they settled between them that I must be invited to the house. But how was this to be managed?

"Some days after, the conversation was dexterously turned upon the young artist, that they repeated many flattering things, which, according to them, were publicly said of my unworthy self. Ernest, who had been so long engaged to her that she had had time to forget that he was her lover, though she did not forget to claim from him every attention, and the fullest submission to her caprice,—Ernest, who was always at hand precisely whenever he was wanted, was not without his hobby; and this was, a desire to be considered as the particular friend or the acquaintance at least, of any person of notoriety. And so when my name was mentioned, he said at once—

"Bussault, I know him intimately!"

"Do bring him then to pass the evening with us. But you must take the whole thing upon yourself, with my father. If I were to ask papa myself, he would insist upon mamma's admitting some old twaddles to our party, and this would be paying too dear for M. de Bussault's presence."

"Very well; I will ask your father for a card for one of my friends, and will bring him to you."

"And thus it happened that Ernest, who did not know me in the least, but who easily found out where I lived, merely sent me the invitation, hoping, before the evening of the ball, to find some one who would introduce him; but some family circumstances obliged him to leave Paris unexpectedly for some days. Meanwhile, I went to the ball, and told you the delightful evening I had, and the conquest I made."

"Ah! now I understand why you were in such a deep reverie. I cannot, however, help saying that the whole story appears to me a little improbable. Be candid with me. Lay aside all the embroidery and let me see the naked canvas."

"With all my heart. The truth, the plain truth, unadorned and unvarnished, is simply this:—While smoking, I was thinking of an invitation which I actually had to a ball given at this young lady's house, and which quite surprised me, as I knew none of the family. It came off the day before yesterday, and all that I have been telling you is just a fancy sketch of what it is most likely would have taken place had I gone to the ball, which I should have done, but that my black coat was somewhat shabby and my tailor would not listen to reason."

INSTINCT OF APPETITE.

About three years ago the little daughter of a farmer on the Hudson river had a fall, which induced a long, painful and dangerous illness, ending in blindness; medication availed nothing. By accident, a switch containing maple buds was placed in her hands, when she began to eat them, and called earnestly for more, and continued to eat them with avidity, improving meanwhile in her general health for some fifteen days or more, when this particular relish left her, and she called for candy; and as in the case of the buds, ate nothing else for two weeks, when this also was dropped—a more natural taste returned with returning eyesight and usual health. This was instinct calling for those articles of food which contained the elements, the want of which lay between disease and recovery.

A gentleman, aged thirty-six, seemed to be in the last stage of consumptive disease, when he was seized with an uncontrollable desire for common salt; he spread it in thick layers over his meat, and over his bread and butter; he carried it in vest pocket, which was daily emptied by eating a pinch at a time. He regained his health, and remained well for years afterwards.

There are many persons who can record, from their own personal experience, the beginning of a return to health from gratifying some insatiate desire. The celebrated Prof. Charles Caldwell was fond of relating in his lectures that a young lady, abandoned to die, called for some pound-cake, which 'science' would have pronounced a deadly dose; but, as her case was considered hopeless, she was gratified, and recovered, living in good health afterwards.

But in some forms of dyspepsia, to follow the cravings of appetite is to aggravate the disease. In low fevers, such as typhoid, yielding to the cravings is certain death. To know when and how to follow the instinct of appetite—to gratify the cravings of nature—is of inestimable value. There is a rule which is always safe, and will save life in multitudes of cases where the most skilfully 'exhibited' drugs have been entirely unavailing. Partake at first, of what nature seems to crave, in very small quantities; if no uncomfortable feeling follows, gradually increase in amount, until no more is called for.

These suggestions and facts find confirmation in the large experience of that now beautiful and revered name, Florence Nightingale, whose memory will go down with blessing and honor side by side with that of John Howard. She says: "I have seen—not by ones or tens, but by hundreds—cases where the stomach not only craves, but digests things which have never been laid down in any dietary for the sick, especially for the sick whose diseases were produced by bad food.—Fruit, pickles, jams, gingerbread, fat of ham, of bacon, suet, cheese, buttermilk, etc., were administered freely, with happy results, simply because the sick craved them."—Scientific American.

☞ In the fall of 1861, Gen. McClellan expelled the Hutchinson family from the camps of the army of the Potomac for singing "abolition" songs. To-day, our soldiers go into the conflict singing John Brown songs.

☞ The Spanish government are learing the difficulties of suppressing the insurrection in St. Domingo, and are collecting 20,000 for a winter campaign. As with our rebels, the insurgents have nativity, climate and position on their side.

☞ Whiskey is quoted as unsteady. So are those who drink it.

SINGULAR BUT SUCCESSFUL DEFENCE.

The following remarkable defence of a prisoner tried for a highway robbery will, we doubt not, interest our readers; but we have no mode of ascertaining when it occurred. That it is not of recent date is certain, because it appeared in a work that was presented to the late Sir John Conroy, when officially connected with his Majesty, the King of the Belgians, in 1832:

A gentleman, followed by a servant in livery, rode to an inn in the west of England, one evening, a little before dusk. He told the landlord that he should be detained by business in that part of the country for a few days, and wished to know if there were any amusements going on in the town to fill up the intervals of time. The landlord replied that it was their race and assize week, and that he would, therefore, be at no loss to pass away his leisure hours. On the gentleman's making answer that this was fortunate, for he was fond of hearing trials, the other said, that a very interesting trial for robbery would come on the next day, on which the people's opinion was very much divided, the evidence being very strong against the prisoner; but the man persisted resolutely in declaring that he was in a distant part of the kingdom at the the time the robbery was committed. The guest manifested considerable anxiety to hear the trial; but as the court would probably be crowded, expressed some doubt of getting a place. The landlord told him that there could be no difficulty of a gentleman of his appearance getting a seat; but that, to prevent any accident, he would himself go with him, and speak to one of the beadles. Accordingly they went into court next morning, and through the landlord's interest with the officers of the court, the gentleman was shown to a seat on the bench. Presently after, the trial began.

While the evidence was proceeding against him the prisoner had remained with his eyes fixed on the ground, seemingly very much depressed; till being called on for his defence, he looked up, and seeing the stranger, he suddenly fainted. This excited some surprise; and it seemed at first like a trick to gain time. As soon as he came to himself, being asked by the Judge the cause of his behavior, he said:

"Oh, my lord, I see a person who can save my life; that gentleman," pointing to the stranger, "can prove I am innocent; might I only have leave to put a few questions to him?"

The eyes of the whole court were now turned upon the gentleman, who said he felt in a very awkward situation to be called upon, as he did not remember ever to have seen the man before, but that he would answer any question that was asked him.

"Well, then," said the man, "don't you remember landing at Dover at such a time?"

To this the gentleman answered that he had landed at Dover not long before, but that he could not tell whether it was on the day he mentioned or not.

"Well," said he, "but don't you recollect that a person in a blue jacket and trousers carried your trunk to the inn?"

To this he answered that of course some person had carried his trunk for him, but he did not know what dress he wore.

"But," said the prisoner, "don't you remember that the person who went with you from the boat told you a story of his being in the service; that he thought himself an ill-used man, and that he showed you a scar he had on one side of the forehead?"

During this question, the countenance of the stranger underwent a considerable change. He said he certainly did recollect such a circumstance. On the man's putting the hair aside and showing the scar, he became quite sure that he was the same person. A buzz of satisfaction now ran through the court: for the day on which, according to the prisoner's account, the gentleman had met him at Dover, was the same on which he was charged with the robbery in a distant part of the country. The stranger, however, could not be certain of the time, but said that he sometimes made a memorandum of dates in his pocket-book, and might possibly have done so on this occasion. On turning to his pocket-book, he found a memorandum of the time he landed, which corresponded with the prisoner's assertion.

This being the only circumstance necessary to prove the alibi, the prisoner was immediately acquitted, amidst the applause and congratulations of the whole court.

Within less than a month after this, the gentleman who came to the inn attended by a servant who followed him, and the prisoner who had been acquitted, were all three brought back to the same jail for robbing the mail! It turned out that this clever defence at the trial was a scheme skilfully arranged by the chief's confederates to obtain the release of their accomplice.

THE DATE.—There is no fruit that can be eaten so constantly, or with so much impunity, as the date. It is like bread, and is bread to whole nations of orientals. And what a delicious bread, baked by the sun, and showered in profusion upon the earth, to be gathered and laid up for the future, either dry in huge corbels, or pressed into a conserve, which, when cut into slices, looks and eats like plum-pudding. We have often been present while this dainty was in preparation: first, with a little brush made of fine palm-leaves, the particles of sand are whisked away from the fruit, which, having then been laid open with a sharp flint, the stone is taken out, and if large and fine, laid aside for planting; next, the dates are thrown into a clean, strong, square vessel like a tub, and having been closely pressed by heavy weights laid upon a thick board made to fit, the whole process is completed. Immense quantities of this conserve are exported from Egypt and Arabia into all the neighboring countries, where it is much prized, especially in the harems, where the women and children may almost be said to eat it incessantly.

No man can starve in a date-country during the three months of the year in which the fruit is eatable, since he has but to throw up a stone into the tree to bring down his breakfast or his dinner. For this reason chiefly, tents are pitched and villages built in palm-groves; and as hogs are turned into the woods in acorn-time, so children are let loose in the palm-woods throughout the whole period of the date harvest to collect their own provisions, and feed as they list. You may often, as you journey along, observe troops of the little gourmands, who, having eaten to repletion, have fallen asleep amid the remains of their meal; while the generous tree of whose bounty they have partaken, waves and rustles over their heads, letting down occasionally glints of sunshine, which, glancing over their dingy red caps and many-colored rags, convert them into a curious picture.

MAKE YOURSELVES KNOWN.

Some years ago a New York manufacturer of sarsaparilla spent a hundred thousand dollars annually in advertising his weak concoction. Some people shrugged their shoulders at the waste of money, and said in their hearts, The man is a great fool. Yet the great fool retired from business with an immense fortune, to a splendid palace on the Fifth avenue. More recently, another individual, with the same odd notions, started a flash and trashy weekly newspaper, and advertised the sheet in all parts of the country, at the expense of many thonsands of dollars. Some people put him down in their books as a madman, who would go up like a rocket and come down like a stick. He filled all the spare columns of widely circulated dailies with the advertisement of a single story. Intelligent readers laughed at the pretensions of his weekly, but they could not turn their eyes to the press in any direction without seeing the announcement of the contents of this wonderful hebdomadal. They predicted that the publisher would exhaust his purse and that the bubble would explode. Papers of the same description had been frequently started before, and had run a swift career into oblivion. But this paper continues to flourish and to extend its circulation. About three hundred and fifty to four hundred thousand copies are distributed weekly, and there is good reason to believe that its circulation will exceed half a million. He has said that he was willing to spend twenty-five thousand dollars in advertising a single blood-and-thunder border story. Far from being ruined, according to general expectation, this man, who not many years ago had not a thousand dollars to call his own, has accumulated a large amount of taxable property.

Some people ought to ponder these astonishing facts. They enter upon business with the object of achieving wealth as speedily as possible. They depend upon the extent and rapidity of their sales to accomplish this result. To make sales they must find purchasers, and they can only secure an extensive circle of buyers by making themselves widely known. Yet the majority of our business men sit contentedly in their stores, and trust to Providence and the arts of a "drummer" for getting rid of a stock of goods. They grumble at the expense of the smallest advertisement, considering the money so spent as thrown away. Will they not learn from the extraordinary success of the New York publisher, that the columns of a newspaper furnish the true medium for making their establishments widely talked about, and adopt the policy that has enriched every business man who has made the experiment? The same means which Townsend employed to sell his sarsaparilla, and Bonner uses to get off his Ledgers, are equally available for disposing of any kind of goods; and if you would have them know what you have for sale, you must advertise. There is the whole philosophy of success. We especially commend it to the attention of that great body of business men in this vicinity who have so long suffered from the "penny wise and pound foolish" policy of keeping out of the newspapers.—The Press.

The Wizard.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 6, 1864.

LETTER FROM MRS. FALES.

We are enabled to present to our readers the following letter from this indomitable worker in the cause of our wounded and sick soldiers, and never was the time when the aid she seeks is so much wanted. The writer of this appeal is well known for her untiring efforts in this cause from the beginning of the war, and she is personally known to some of the ladies of this town, having once visited it in behalf of her benevolent mission.—We are requested to say that any contributions in answer to this appeal will be immediately forwarded, if sent to the Aid Society rooms in Sutton's Block, or left with Mrs. Mary Lord. We trust the ladies will take hold promptly and make up a good package, as this affords a fine opportunity to send directly to the bedsides of the suffering soldiers.

We may here say that the expressmen, Messrs. Grout & Munroe have, for the past year, generously carried all packages to Boston, free of charge, which have been sent by the Ladies' Aid Society—As this kind service is highly honorable to them, it is proper that it should be publicly acknowledged.

Acknowledgment is also due to Mr. Osborn, from whose store in Sutton's building the packages are sent, Mr. Osborn doing all the packing as well as forwarding.

In this connection we desire to state that a large number of "comfort bags," filled with articles of convenience to the soldiers in camp and on the march, have been contributed by the pupils of our schools. The contents of one of these bags is a curiosity, and shows how much thought the young contributors give to the comfort of their brave beneficiaries. One of these contains little paper packages of tea, coffee, ginger, sugar, slippery elm, needles and thread, some confectionery, buttons, etc., etc. Some of them have a little note addressed to the receiver. Eighty of these little bags were sent to the Ladies Room in one day. They are to be distributed under the auspices of the Christian Commission:

Washington, D. C., June 21, 1864.

My Dear Mrs. Cook,—If I ever wanted supplies, it is now. I have just returned from my third trip to New York, by the ocean, on a steamer loaded with the wounded boys, in all about 700; and being the only female on board, I have nursed, fed, and cooked for all of them, and have the satisfaction of knowing that, with the good things furnished by the loyal ladies of the North, that great good was done. Except two that died, all improved in the three days we were together. I am going again in a few days, as soon as the steamer returns. There being nothing to do on the return trip, I came home in the night by the cars, while it will take the ship three days to reach here. In the mean time, I can do much in the hospitals here, and in hunting for the many wounded that their friends have written to me to look for.

After my next trip, I shall go to the Army of the Potomac, wherever that may be, if even into Richmond, expecting to be absent some weeks, and I shall want a large supply of delicacies and nourishing food—everything except farina and corn-starch, of which I have a good supply, as it is very seldom that I can get a wounded soldier to touch it; but canned meats, chicken, and condensed milk, are invaluable. The latter is as good as a new milk's cow on shipboard for the wounded; by reducing it I make thickened milk, mush and milk, milk-punch, etc., etc.

On the first trip one died; on the second none; and on the third one; these were very bad cases and should not have been taken from the hospital here, they having very severe wounds through the body. Poor boys! I was with them in their last hours and gave them all the attention and consolation in my power, and they died happy in Jesus.

You must excuse me in not writing more fully, as time will not permit, I having several other letters to write to-day, with all my other business.

Yours, truly,
Mrs. Almira Fales.

Exempts—Read the State Advertisement on the third page.

THE PROSPECT.

Nothing is more common than to hear the croakers say that "we are no nearer the end of the war than when it was began." This is sheer folly and the fallacy of the remark is self evident. We are not only much nearer the end, but the end must be very near, from the exhaustion of the rebels. Although the casualties on our part are very great they are proportionately as great on the part of the enemy. It is an indomitable fact that the resources of the rebels both in money and men, are exhausted. They can do without the first by forcible seizures of property, but of the last they have no further resource of supply. Every available man and boy of the Confederacy is already in the army, and the waste by desertion, battle and sickness is constantly going on, leaving them weaker and weaker every week and day. It has now come to be merely a question of endurance and that brings it to a question of time. If we simply hold on, and do not gain a victory or fight a battle, their arym will waste away and come to nought. All this time our forces can be increased from the loyal states and also by negro troops from the rebel states. Within the the rebel states the census gives only five and a half millions of white population, while the loyal states have a population of twenty-one millions of whites. Now in addition to this great preponderance, the black population of the South is available to us and not to them.

No wonder, then, that the rebel papers proclaim that this is the last year of fighting. We verily believe that it is. The weakening process is going on daily by them, while we have sources of supply not yet brought out. Our army is constantly replenished from the people, white and black, while they have no resource but the boys of the confederacy who are arriving at the age of sixteen, all others being already in their army. What reason—what sense, then, is there in the saying that peace is as far off now as when the war began?

In this view of the situation—and we hold that it is the correct view—the rebellion cannot hold out much longer. The waste to their forces in the present campaign cannot be repaired. They will be compelled to leave off fighting because they have no men to do the fighting. The waste goes on whether they have victories or encounter defeats, and they are as likely to have the last as the first. Once they could stand well after a defeat, now they are losers even by a victory.

We think there is much more occasion for encouragement than despondency in the present posture of affairs. It is well known that we have a very large excess of prisoners, that our army is increasing and that the spirits of the army and its confidence of success were never greater than now. Why then despond?

1ST MASS. HEAVY ARTILLERY.

This noble regiment, formerly the 14th Mass. Infantry, has suffered severely in the present campaign. By a letter received from Captain James Pope, by a gentleman in this town, we learn that the regiment has lost about 800 men in killed and wounded, and 168 taken prisoners, leaving only 400 fit for duty. This regiment is part of the 2d corps, under Gen. Hancock, which has done so much good service in this campaign. The above record is a convincing evidence of the courage and intrepidity with which they met the foe, and is the most fitting rebuke to those inconsiderate persons at home, who were wont to decry their courage while they were in garrison near Washington. While we lament the havoc which has been made in their ranks, we cannot but admire the heroism with which they stood assaults, from which veteran regiments might, without loss of honor, have quailed.

The remnant of the regiment may be expected home in a week or two. This is an Essex County regiment, and many are from Salem, South Danvers, and the adjoining towns.

CASUALTIES IN THE MASS. 1ST HEAVY ARTILLERY.

Albert Shepard of Co. D, died on the 23d ult., at City Point, from wounds received before Petersburg. He would have been thirty years old next August, and leaves a wife and three children.

William H. Shove—of whom mention is made in another column—died at City Point from wounds received in the late engagement near Petersburg. He was 22 years old last March.

Serg. John Costello, of Co. F, died at City Point. Mr. C. has been in service from the commencement of the Rebellion, having served with the three months men.

Richard H. Roome of Co. D, and G. Frothingham of Co. L, are reported dead.

Eben Kimball is in hospital at Providence, R. I., having been shot in the face by a rebel sharpshooter before Petersburg, while resting against a tree.

Joseph E. Hodgkins, and Geo. O. Hart are wounded—the former in the head, slightly; the latter received a flesh wound.

All of the above are from this town.

WILLIAM HENRY SHOVE.

It becomes our melancholy duty to announce the death of this young man, who was a member of Company D., in the 1st Mass. Heavy Artillery, and fell mortally wounded in the late battle before Petersburg. In our last we made the announcement that he was wounded through his breast, the ball coming out near the shoulder blade, and that the surgeon could not discover that it touched a vital part. The hopes that this statement encouraged proved delusive, as a few days later, intelligence was received of his death in the hospital.

Mr. Shove was a young man of good intellectual gifts and attainments, and was formerly a member of the Peabody High School. Our readers will remember the pleasure afforded them at an early period of the war by his letters, which were published in this paper. Their reliable information, spicy style and piquancy caused them to be much sought after and admired. His time of service was just about to expire when he received the wound which caused his death. He had long been looking forward with anxiety for the time when he should rejoin his friends, and his thoughts in his last moments were of his home.

Mr. Samuel T. Goss, who had been very attentive to him during his illness, writes to his parents that William bore his pain with great fortitude, and relates an affecting incident occurring before his death. He became unconscious, and fancied that he was again among his friends. Under this pleasing delusion he was constantly calling for his faithful soldier-nurse, (Mr. James Dunn, of the New York 69th,) addressing him as his mother, and frequently kissing him. Thus kindly was he permitted to enjoy all the pleasant sensations of intercourse with his friends, and to exercise towards them the promptings of filial piety.

He had many warm and attached friends here and in the army, who will long lament his untimely, although glorious, death. He joined the army from an impulse of patriotism, and was faithful as a soldier no less than as a friend. To his parents and sisters the sad tidings of his fall was a stunning shock, as they were even then preparing to welcome home an only son and brother, to whom they were strongly attached by the ties of kindred and affection.

Military Company.—By a notice in another column it will be seen that measures are in progress to establish a permanent Volunteer Company of Infantry in South Danvers. It is fortunate that an opportunity is afforded to engraft it upon Company C. of the 5th Regiment, by reviving the organization of that corps. We think all our citizens, especially the young men, ought to feel a lively interest in this enterprise, and we hope there will be a full attendance this evening, at the Town Hall, and show that the military spirit which existed forty years ago in the Old Light Infantry, has not wholly died out. The impulse of town pride ought to stimulate us to have an independent military company, so that we may not have to borrow one from Salem to do escort duty, as we were obliged to do when we had the Centennial celebration.

Imposition.—It is not often, we venture to say, that persons are so grossly imposed upon as we have been this very week. One of our subscribers in a neighboring town has had the supreme effrontery, the unparalelled impudence, the attrocious maliciousness to attempt to pay his subscription in the old fashioned, obsolete, discarded currency, silver coin! Just as if we would accept such stuff as an equivalent for our paper! Our rage was unbounded, because the man is a government officer and ought to know better. We have, however, concluded to pocket the affront. We should all be willing to be forgiven.

Rowdyism.—There was some high-handed rowdyism in this town and vicinity the night before the Fourth. Windows were broken in a number of buildings along Boston Street, including the dwelling-house of Miss P. Symonds; the gas lantern near Mr. Pratt's bakery was smashed; Mr. Heylingberg's barber's sign knocked down and broken, besides many other lawless and ruffianly acts. It is said the parties were from Salem. We trust they will be arrested, and be made to know that we have police laws in South Danvers as well as in that city.

Accident and Narrow Escape.—As Mr. Charles E. Brown was at the new slaughter-house of Mr. J. B. Thomas, last week, he accidentally fell through a trap-door, striking the stairs, and was badly bruised, but not otherwise injured. It was a narrow escape from being fatal, but he is now able to be about.

Sudden Death.—On Thursday morning of last week, at about five o'clock, the body of Mr. Eben Guilford, of Danvers, aged about fifty years, was found in the vacant lot on the western side of the entrance to the turnpike. The case was investigated by coroner Walton, and proved to be death by apoplexy.

HORSE RAILROAD MEETING.

The annual meeting of the Horse Railroad was held in Salem last Wednesday, W. S. Messervey, Esq., presiding. The Report, which was of some length, was read by the Secretary, Mr. Phippen, giving a statement of the doings of the Board from the beginning. The result arrived at was that the road, from various causes stated, has proved unproductive. Prominent among these causes was the high cost of labor and horse keeping which had, with other expenses, absorbed all the receipts and a little more, if we take into account outstanding bills, damages on account of the Beverly accident, and other unconsidered items.

The acts of the Legislature amendatory of the charter were accepted, and it was voted to continue the South Salem branch to Marblehead, and increase the capital stock accordingly.

The following gentlemen were chosen Directors for the current year by a nearly unanimous vote:—John H. Nichols, Willard P. Phillips, Wm. R. L. Ward, Asa P. Robinson, and William Mack.

There is enough in the Report of the Directors, of a reliable character, to show that there is substantial value in the franchise of the road, and that with good management and in ordinary times, good dividends may be made. Even in present times we are not sure that outside parties may not do well to take the road at a fair rent and operate it at a profit. We presume, however, that the Directors intend to manage it themselves, and that they will first gain the confidence of those who patronize it, and then endeavor to bring to it as much as possible of the public travel. We hope, in doing this, they will consider well their tariff of prices. It appears to us that a more liberal scale than has yet been adopted in regard to package tickets would be for the interest of the road. There is now very little inducement to take a package, and there are probably not many sold.—Every one knows how much more ready a person is to jump on the cars if he has a pocket full of tickets, than when he is destitute of this kind of currency. This is especially true of short distances.—Many a man, and woman too, has preferred to trudge a short distance on foot, when if they had the tickets they would ride. It would undoubtedly be for the interest of the road to graduate their package prices in some degree to the standard of season tickets on steam railroads. Travel then would beget travel and single tickets would sell all the better. The Report says that there is ample equipment for a much larger travel and this is the way to get it. It is in no spirit of dictation that these remarks are made, but in a desire to promote the interest of the road as well as the welfare of the public.

Sent Back to Baltimore.—Mrs. Terry, the woman who was ordered to the "Female Prison in Salem, Mass.," has been sent back to Baltimore, in accordance with a telegraphic order from the War Department received Wednesday by Capt. Skinner, the U. S. officer in whose custody she was brought from the Middle Department, Baltimore.

Republican State Convention.—At a recent meeting of the Republican State Committee it was voted to call a State Convention to be held at Worcester, on Tuesday, the 15th day of September next, to nominate candidates for State officers and Presidential Electors at large.

Grant's Captures.—Since General Grant first crossed the Rapidan he has captured thirty stands of rebel colors and about 17,000 prisoners, not including those captured within the last four or five days, while his own loss in prisoners is less than one-third that number.

"Onions for the Army" is the new sanitary call from Virginia. Vegetables are absolutely needed for the soldier's sustenance and refreshment, and medical men tell us that onions are the most invigorating, and, indeed, the most vegetable of vegetables.

Rev. Samuel J. May, of Syracuse, will preach next Sunday at the Unitarian Church. Rev. Mr. Montgomery will be absent several weeks on his Summer vacation. In the course of a few weeks there will be a great many ministers at large.

Mr. Geo. B. Martin of the Grammar School, in Rockville District, has resigned, and accepted the situation of Principal of the Adams Grammar School, in Quincy.

☞ We regret to hear of the death of Sergeant John Leonard of this town. He was recently shot while on picket at Newbern. He was a member of Company B, 17th Regiment. Those who know him represent him as a good soldier.

Drowned.—A man named Barrett, who was seized with a fit while crossing the railroad bridge over the mill-pond, near Harmony Grove, about seven o'clock last Sunday evening, fell into the water and was drowned. His body was soon rescued, and Dr. Peirson called, but life could not be restored.

DROWNED.

Chas. E. Peirce, aged 16 years, youngest son of George C. Peirce, of this town, was drowned by falling overboard from the flying jibboom of ship "Spark the Ocean," off Cape Henry, Friday, June 24th, at noon.

The circumstances attending the death of this lad are particularly distressing, and, as far as ascertained, are as follows: Young Peirce left the Peabody High School early in the spring, to gratify one of those unaccountable desires that often seize boys of his age to go a voyage to sea, that no arguments or persuasion could prevent. After trying in vain for some weeks to get an India voyage (the particular object of his ambition,) he shipped on board the ship "Spark the Ocean," Captain W. J. Treat, for a trip to New Orleans, and when on his return, and within four days' sail of home, he was lost as above stated.

The captain says in a letter to his father: "Everything was done that could be to save him, but all in vain—the ship was hove too immediately, the boat was lowered and soon reached the spot where he sank to rise no more. It was very pleasant weather, and the sea very smooth at the time; also the wind was light, which was favorable."

And under all these favorable circumstances, this poor boy was allowed to sink and drown, for want of a boat in a suitable condition for immediate use in case of accident, for the first mate told the father of the boy that "had there been a boat hanging at the davit, or in any other place, ready for immediate use, he could have saved him without a doubt."

No excuse can be made for such gross negligence on the captain's part as allowing this ship to go to and from New Orleans without a single boat, ready for use in case of an accident, for his attention was called to the fact before he left Boston, and his answer was, "We don't expect any accident."

And yet this ship was acting as a packet, if not rated as such, and brought eight passengers from New Orleans, four of them children and three ladies, and of course any one was liable to be lost overboard. What the opinion of the public could be, had this been the case, it is not very hard to decide, more especially when told that it took from ten to fifteen minutes to get a boat ready for use, and that the Captain then told the crew that they had better not get the boat out, as it was of no use. This is stated to be the fact, however, in this case, by one of the crew.

All that is known of this youth's death has been obtained from one or two of the crew, and the mates of the vessel, as the captain positively refused to have anything to say upon the subject, giving as his reason, that "If the father saw fit to take the story of a green boy, (one of the crew) he might get his information where he could." No one pretends that he sunk immediately, as the mate says that he saw him at the stern of the ship paddling round in the water. They were very short handed, having but nine men before the mast for a ship of 950 tons, and the men and boys had been very hard worked. How much this had to do with the fate of the boy, or whether being exhausted from over work was the cause of his falling, is, for the present, a matter of doubt.

☞ Let it be passed around from hand to hand until every working man in the land has committed it to memory, that when Abraham Lincoln, our President, and Andrew Johnson, formerly Senator, and now Governor, two working men and champions of labor, were nominated for office, the New York World, the organ of Democracy, sneered at them as "a railsplitting buffoon and a boorish tailor, both from the back woods, both growing up in uncouth ignorance." Thus we see that when laboring men by their own industry rise to honor, those new fledged Democrats have no words for them but words of contempt and scorn.

☞ It is stated that the rebels insultingly hung the battle-flag of the Massachusetts 19th over their earthworks on the day after the capture of the brigade to which the regiment belonged. We do not wonder that the rebels exult over the capture of a Massachusetts battle-flag, for such trophies are almost unknown to them. In all the hard fighting of the war but one Massachusetts regiment has before lost its battle-flag. That of the 42d was captured at Galveston, but has since been recovered.

☞ An army letter from Petersburg says that during the fight on Friday one of our boys, either becoming short of ammunition or in the hurry of the engagement, fired the ramrod of his gun from his musket. On the subsequent capture of the works two rebels were found dead and completely transfixed with the iron shaft.

☞ The works of Fort Sewall, Marblehead, are completed, and turned over to Quartermaster McKim. Capt. Batchelder's Company, of Lynn, now at Gloucester, will probably be assigned to garrison duty at Fort Sewall.

Curious Strategy.—The New York Herald Potomac Army correspondent relates the following:

A very curious piece of strategy which took place the other day shows that the wonders of Cooper's Indian heroes have not ceased. One of the Fourteenth New York Artillery—a Seneca Indian, I believe, from the Western part of the State—undertook, on a wager, to bring in alive a rebel sharpshooter, who was perched in a tree in front of our line, considerably in advance of his own. His manner of accomplishing this was as ingenious as successful, and rivals the "deviltry" of any of the Leather-stocking red-skins. Procuring a quantity of pine boughs, he enveloped himself with them from head to foot, attaching them securely to a branch, which he lashed lengthwise of his body. When completed, he was indistinguishable to a casual observer from the surrounding foliage, and resembled a tree as closely as it was possible for his really artistic efforts to render him.

Thus prepared, and with musket in hand, concealed likewise, he stole by almost imperceptible movements to beneath the tree where the sharpshooter was lodged. Here he patiently waited until his prey had emptied his piece at one of our men, when he suddenly brought his musket to bear upon the "reb," giving him no time to re-load. The sharpshooter was taken at a disadvantage. To the demand to come down he readily assented, when the Indian triumphantly marched him a prisoner into camp and won the wager.

DANVERS.

A barn belonging to an estate owned by Hon. J. D. Black, standing immediately near the station of the Essex Railroad in Danversport, took fire on the morning of Wednesday, June 29th, and burnt to the ground, extending to the L of the large house on same estate, and damaging the house about $600. It was very fortunate that there was no wind at the time, or a very extensive conflagration must have ensued—as it was, the buildings being of wood and exceedingly dry, they burned with great fury, and the fire was extingished with great difficulty. It was also fortunate, being near the wharves, and a large pond in the immediate rear, each of the engines could draw their own water and play upon the fire. The three Danvers tubs and two from South Danvers were promptly on the spot and did good service.

It is not known for a certainty how this fire originated; there are some reasons for the belief that it was caused by the imprudent use of matches in the hands of a boy, who was seen about the premises. The whole loss cannot be less than from $800 to $1000. There was no insurance on the barn; the house was insured by the Holyoke office of Salem.

The citizens of the town held a meeting on the evening of Wednesday, in Granise Hall, to take measures to procure recruits, in anticipation of another call, for soldiers to fill up the army, that is fighting so persistently to subdue this accursed rebellion, and establish our glorious Union upon a more sure foundation. The meeting was well attended, and a committee chosen to solicit contribution to a recruiting fund. There will be no difficulty in raising the necessary funds, and with a little effort a sufficient number of recruits will be obtained to protect the town from any draft for the present. It is known that there are some 45 surplus credits to the town to start with; and certainly if any effort at all is made the few that will be required in addition will be forthcoming. Danvers boys have done nobly thus far, in volunteering,—many of them have bled and died in their country's cause, which should stimulate the patriotism of their fellows at home to see to it that there should be no lack of men to keep the army efficient to fight on to the end, and secure the final triumph over the rebellious foes, these citizens have died to secure.

A juvenile singing class, kept by Mr. Watts, has been entertaining the good people by two exhibitions or concerts, at the close of a quarter's teaching. The exhibitions were very creditable to the class and teacher, who has commenced a second quarter, with a very large class. Parents can do no better service to their children, than to give them facilities for obtaining instruction in vocal music; very few but would be benefitted by such opportunities.—Observer Cor.

An Iowa General.—The Cincinnati Gazette is the most faithful historian of Iowa valor on the battle-field among all our exchanges outside of this State. Its correspondent with Sherman's army, writing from near Dallas, June 3d, in detailing the operations of McPherson's command, thus speaks of Major-General Dodge:

"Hardly had the first half hour's fighting ended, until General Dodge made his appearance at Walker's battery carrying before him on his horse a box of cannister! He had heard that their cannister was gone, and unable to find the proper officers in such a melee, he went himself and carried all he could. He also seized two wagon loads of infantry ammunition, from the 15th corps, which were passing, and sent boxes up to the front line, so that although at the beginning there was but forty rounds to the man, these were not gone until a bountiful supply was at hand."

That's the kind of men Iowa sends to fight the battles of our country, Mr. Gazette, and we are happy to say that you heve a correspondent that aims at justice in his letters. The same letter makes favorable mention of Col. Rice, of the 7th Iowa, now in command of a brigade, and says that a portion of the 9th Iowa was surprised and captured while at breakfast on the 27th.—Muscatine Journal.

A Merited Promotion.—Among the recent confirmations by the U. S. Senate, we notice the name of Brig. Gen. G. M. Dodge of Iowa, to be Major General. Gen. Dodge is not a "political officer" nor a "newspaper General," but one of the solid, fighting men of the army, and has worked his way to the honorable and responsible position that he now holds. He has always believed in the policy of "hitting the rebels where it will hurt most," and intends that every blow struck shall be felt. In giving Gen. Dodge an additional "star" the Government has only discharged a duty it owed to a brave soldier, and one that has been too long deferred.—Nonpareil.

☞ A correspondent with the Army of the Potomac says:

"From City Point to our front is full of dust—dust so thick that a distance of a few yards a team of six mules and a large army wagon are invisible. Horses and riders, wagons and teamsters are enveloped in dust. Trees are covered with dust. Men go slowly along inhaling and cursing the dust. Horses sneeze and stumble stupidly along through it. The Bloomingdale road, even in its dustiest day, could not be compared to it."

☞ A Western Court has decided that a kiss is a valid consideration, and forced an old bachelor to redeem the promise made to a pretty maiden that he would give her a pony for a kiss. He had tried to crawl out of his bargain.

☞ The camp at Readville is being fitted for hospital uses, and one thousand wounded Massachusetts soldiers are to be sent to it. That is well.—let them come as near to their homes as possible.

☞ The speculation mania has extended to the boys in Portland, Me. The Argus of that city saw one urchin pay another nine cents for a half dime and heard him declare "he should hold it" for thirteen. Another was anxious to "sell short," but found no takers.

Hurrah! The Alabama has gone to the bottom at last—sunk by the U. S. Gunboat Kearsarge, off Cherbourg.

☞ Tom Hyer's death w cardiac dropsy.

☞ Fremont has gone t
summer residence.

☞ Speculators are buyi anticipating an army deman

☞ Mrs. Lincoln has e at a hotel in Manchester heated term.

☞ Maximilian has red Jefferson. It is indicative ty," as Fowler would say.

☞ Grain gambling is n at Chicago as gold gamb
York, and prices have go ingly.

☞ It is stated that Ge been as thoroughly super military capacity as Gen. S his.

☞ The Kentucky side river is swarming with g are burning, pillaging, m conscripting.

☞ An order has been is fighters of our colored tro diggers, teamsters, etc., in they are mostly employed.

☞ It was General Ha
our "Fighting Joe" Hook mortally wounded in the by Gen. Sherman's army.

☞ A woman at Ithaca been indicted for poisoni daughters—two young and b
—by administering arsenic.

☞ Out of a large rebel ed by a Maine regiment hundred of them comprised years old or thereabouts, fifteen.

☞ Gov. Coney of Mai nominated for re-election.
istration is popular. He i war democrats who joine movement.

☞ Efforts are being friends of Mrs. Green, the ward W. Green, of Malden sentence of death changed
ment for life.

☞ At a meeting of the National Committee, held a on Wednesday of week b was voted to postpone the C vention to August 29.

☞ Advices from Georgi
the 17th army corps have man, thus making good his the campaign, rendering hi strong as when he left Ringg

☞ The dry weather in bad for the tobacco crop, month when the plants are Connecticut valley, Irish wo getting a dollar a day to s
the plants.

☞ The President has adding ten cents per day soldiers, who will henceforth ty-three and a half cents than is paid to the soldiers nation.

☞ The Danes propose, mans renew the war upon England, France and Sweden aid they relied, fail, to call lutionary element, and accep
Garibaldi to head a foreign

☞ The rebels have large in Virginia which they say the suggestion of the rebel to supply forage for the c don't believe it will poison f to eat them, when they c possession.

☞ Within the past fort ten thousand convalescents from hospitals in Washing front, and within the next fo will go. Only sixteen th now remain in the hospitals i Washington.

☞ Farmers and others agriculture, can now send s of seeds, cuttings, etc., to t
tural Department, by mail, payment of postage. They ceive these articles, when o distribution by addressing t sioner.

☞ The day after the 19t setts regiment was capture insultingly hung its battle fl earthwork. No wonder they capture of the 19th, which h of the hardest fighting reg this State. In the battle of it took four battle flags from

☞ From the intelligence at lieved that the Mississippi is ag rebel batteries, and efforts will b ture to keep it so. All things have not suffered so much in t was at one time supposed, the failed in their boast, after the capt burg, that they would break up t of the river entirely. Instead of boats, transports and steamers h with the most commendable pun they will doubtless continue to do ture time.

☞ The whole number of shoe
United States is 164,608. Of thi Massachusetts 41,011, or about on of the whole.

☞ The St. Louis Republican s while that State will be able to of North Carolina in the supply tar, pitch and rosin.

NOTICE.

a meeting of the past members of Co. C, Regiment, held at the Town Hall on Sat- Evening, July 2d, a committee of twelve chosen to report at a future meeting, er to keep up the old organization of the any, and to act as recruiting officers to- filling up the same. Also there will be ting on WEDNESDAY (THIS) EVEN- July 6th, at 8 o'clock, when all the past bers, and others who feel interested in g a good Company in town, are invited end.

COMMITTEE.

n W. Stevens,
H. Poor,
A. Pemberton,
Burbeck,
F. Southwick,
H. Hildreth,
G. H. Batchelder,
G. F. Barnes,
B. N. Moore,
W. F. Pingree,
J. S. Nutter,
A. J. Peasley.

MIC AND EXCITING.—The saloon of a Mis- pi river steamboat attacked by guerrillas nts a scene quite as comic as it is exciting. hose who can at all control their nerves, udicrous positively banishes all thoughts e tragic—to see great big fellows, with without shoulder straps, sprawl flat behind y conceivable projection of chair or table, he first rattle of musketry, and going ugh the absurdly impossible process of try- o make pancakes of themselves. Near to cabin door, where I was sitting reading the alarm commenced, I saw behind the es of a table, piled up about two feet high, nited States officer (not one of the 133d,) g flat on his face, on the top of a negro er, and on the top of the latter a gaunt ified, long-bearded sntler, whose eyes seem- eady to leap from their sockets. Poor fel- ! I know he must have felt as relieved as of us when we safely reached this place l P. M. of the 23d, and saw the myriad ts of the transports and gunboats reflected he streams and lighting up the bluffs, giv- the appearance of a large and imposing .—Red River Correspondence.

AVISEGINATION.—Instance are common o most afflicting separations of family rela- s by this unnatural war. Brothers, and n parents and children, are found in the ks of the hostile armies. One of the most ching cases of this kind is that of a son of Confederate President Jefferson Davis, who serving in the National cause on the gun- t Carondelet, fighting to crush the Rebel- which his father is leader of. The Davis ior is the son of Eliza, late a slave to the riarchal Davis. An officer of the army of ksburg who had heard of the fact, verified from Eliza's lips. How sharper than a ser- t's tooth must be the grief of that parent om unrelenting fate compels to take sides inst his own son in a war for freedom!—ncinnati Gazette.

EXAMINE THEM.—A recent emission of spu- us fifty cent notes, (the new plate) has been t in circulation. They can be readily de- ted by observing the following remarks:— ey are an eighth of an inch shorter than the uine; the words "fifty cents," which sur- unt the head of Washington, are very pale d indistinct in the counterfeit, while the let- s are very black and distinct in the genuine. e bronze circle around the head in the coun- feit can hardly be seen, while the genuine is leep color. The spurious, though indistinct all its outlines, is darker than the original.

EVERY GARMENT marked in plain figures, at nnett & Co's One Price Clothing House, 14 d 15 Dock Square, Boston.

GARMENTS made to order at Bennett & Co.'s e Price Clothing House, 14 and 15 Dock uare, Boston.

BOYS' CLOTHING — largest stock — greatest riety, at Bennett & Co.'s One Price Clothing ouse, 14 and 15 Dock Square, Boston.

☞ Goods received for LEWANDO'S FRENCH YE HOUSE. M. E. CRANE.
Jan 20 tf

☞ Visit OSBORNE'S Store, and look at the usual variety of new styles in HATS and APS—191 Essex street.

Buy your Hats and Caps at 240.

For Gent's Furnishing Goods, 240 is the place find the latest styles best goods, at the lowest rices.

Clothe your boys at 240 and save your oney.

Now is the time to clothe your Boys, and 40 is the place to find the Goods.

TWO BOYS WANTED to learn the Clothing Business, at
F. S. PECK'S, 240 Essex street.

TO THE YOUNG OR OLD,

Male or Female, If you have been suffering rom a habit indulged in by the YOUTH OF BOTH SEXES, Which causes so many alarming symptoms. It unfits them for Marriage, and is the GREATEST EVIL which can befall MAN OR WOMAN.

See symptoms enumerated in Advertisement, and if you are a sufferer, cut out the Advertisement, and send for it at once. Delays are dangerous. Ask for Helmbold's, take no other. Cures guaranted.

Beware of Counterfeits and Imitations.

Marriages.

In South Danvers, June 21, by Rev. S. B. Sweetser, Mr. Samuel A. Ford to Miss Lydia M. Goldthwait, both of S. D.

In Danvers, July 3, by Rev. J. W. Putnam, Mr. Edw. Ellis to Miss Etta M. Story, both of D.

In Salem, June 29, by Rev. Mr. Palmer, Mr Charles J. Lee to Miss Mary Ann Berry.

In Boston, June 30, by Rev Mr. Minor, Mr Charles H. Upton to Miss Abby M. Brown, both of Salem.

In Portsmouth, N. H., June 29, by Rev. Mr. Holman, Mr. Asa G. Tingley of P, to Miss Barbara A. Ingraham, of South Danvers, Mass.

Deaths.

In New London, Conn., July 2, Mrs. Maria A., wife of Rev. Thomas P. Fields, aged 40 years. The deceased was a daughter of Hon. Robert S. Daniels of this town, from whose residence the funeral took place yesterday.

In Machias, Me., June 14, Mr William Smith, aged 65, formerly of South Danvers.

In Salem, June 28, Mary Ellen, daughter of Lawrence and Julia Kahana, 10 years; Mary Caroline, daughter of Josiah L. and Mary Ann Converse, 7 yrs 6 mos 25 days, 29th, Mrs Mary, widow of the late Mr James Arnold, 75 yrs; 30th, Mr James Feeley, 36; July 1, Miss Bridget Tivnan, 30 yrs.

In Beverly, June 25, Mrs Hannah Styles, 73 yrs; 27th, Miss Mary Boyden, 22 yrs 5 mos.

In Saugus, June 27, Mr. Benjamin Mansfield, 85 yrs.

In Boston, June 28, Miss Sarah Lang, of Salem, 71—daughter of the late William Lang, Esq.

In Newburyport, June 29, Mr David Pettingell, 82 yrs.

In New York, June 28, Mr Isaac Daniels, the veteran of the revolution and 1812—100 yrs.

In Singapore, Sept 13, 1863, Capt. Frederick Lendholm. His body arrived in Boston last week, and was was brought to Salem for interment.

READY-MADE DRESS FROCKS AND SACKS—$35, $32, $30, $28, $27, $25, $24, $22, $20, $18, $17, $16, $15, $14, $13, $12, $11, $10, $9, $8.50, $8, $7.50, $7, $6.50, $6, $5.50, $5, at Bennett & Co.'s One Price Clothing House, 14 and 15 Dock Square, Boston.

READY-MADE PANTS $11, $10, $9, $8.50 $8, $7.50, $7, $6.50, $6, $5.50, $5, $4.50, $4, $3.50, $3, $2.75, $2.50, at Bennett & Co.'s One Price Clothing House, 14 and 15 Dock Square, Boston.

THE GREAT ENGLISH REMEDY.
SIR JAMES CLARKE'S
CELEBRATED FEMALE PILLS!

Prepared from a prescription of Sir J. Clarke, M. D., Physician Extraordinary to the Queen.

This well known medicine is no imposition, but a sure cure and safe remedy for Female Difficulties and Obstructions, from any cause whatever; and, although a powerful remedy, they contain nothing hurtful to the constitution.

In all cases of Nervous and Spinal Affections, pain in the Back and Limbs, Fatigue on slight exertion Palpitation of the Heart, Hysterics, and Whites, these pills will effect a cure, when all other means have failed: and, although a powerful remedy, do not contain iron, calomel, antimony, or anything hurtful to the constitution.

Full directions in the pamphlet around each package, which should be carefully preserved.

For full particulars, obtain, free, of the agent, a pamphlet. Sold by all Druggists.

Sole United States Agent,
JOB MOSES, 27 Cortlandt St., New York.

N. B.—$1 and 6 postage stamps enclosed to any authorized agent, will insure a bottle, containing over 50 pills, by return mail. March 9, 1864.—1 yr.

From the army hospital—the bloody battle-field—the mansion of the rich and humble abode of the poor—from the office and the sacred desk—from the mountain top, distant valleys and far-off islands of the ocean—from every nook and corner of the civilized world—is pouring in the evidence of the astonishing effects of DRAKE'S PLANTATION BITTERS. Thousands upon thousands of letters like the following may be seen at our office.

REEDSBURY, WIS., Sept. 16, 1863.
"* * * * I have been in the army hospitals for fourteen months—speechless and nearly dead. At Alton, Ill. they gave me a bottle of Plantation Bitters. * * Three bottles restored my speech and cured me. * * * *
C. A. FLAUTE.',

SOUTH WARSAW, O. July 28, 1863.
"* * * One young man, who had been sick and not out of the house for two years with Scrofula and Erysipelas, after paying the doctors over $150 without benefit, has been cured by ten bottles of your Bitters.
EDWARD WOUNALL.

The following is from the Manager of the Union Home School for the Children of Volunteers:
HAVEMEYER MANSION, FIFTY-SEVENTH ST.,
New York, August 2, 1863.
"DR. DRAKE: Your wonderful Plantation Bitters have been given to some of our little children suffering from weakness and weak lungs with most happy effect. One little girl, in particular, with pains in her head, loss of appetite, and daily wasting consumption, on whom all medical skill had been exhausted, has been entirely restored. We commenced with but a teaspoonjul of Bitters a day. Her appetite and strength rapidly increased, and she is now well * *
Respectfully, MRS. O. M. DEVOE."

"* * * I owe much to you, for I verily believe the Plantation Bitters have saved my life.
REV. W. H. WAGGONER, Madrid, N. Y."

"* * * Thou wilt send me two bottles more of thy Plantation Bitters. My wife has been greatly benefited by their use.
Thy friend, ASA CURRIN, Philadelphia, Pa."

"* * * I have been a great sufferer from Dyspepsia, and had to abandon preaching. * * * The Plantation Bitters have cured me.
REV. J. S. CATHORN, Rochester, N. Y."

"* * * Send us twenty-four dozen more of your Plantation Bitters, the popularity of which are daily increasing with the guests of our house.
SYKES, CHADWICK & CO.,
Proprietors Willard's Hotel, Washington, D. C.

"* * * I have given the Plantation Bitters to hundreds of our disabled soldiers with the most astonishing effect.
G. W. D. ANDREWS,
Superintendent Soldiers' Home, Cincinnati, O.

"* * * The Plantation Bitters have cured me of liver complaint, of which I was laid up prostrate and had to abandon my Business.
H. B. KINGSLEY, Cleveland, O."

"* * * The Plantation Bitters have cured me of a derangement of the kidneys and urinary organs that has distressed me for years. It acts like a charm.
C. C. MOORE, 254 Broadway, N. Y."
&c. &c. &c. &c. &c.

The Plantation Bitters make the w ak strong, the languid brilliant, and are exhausted nature's great restorer. They are composed of the celebrated Calisaya Bark, Wintergreen, Sassafras, Roots, Herbs, &c., all preserved in perfectly pure St. Croix Rum.

S.—T.—1860—X.

Persons of sedentary habits troubled with weakness, lassitude, palpitation of the heart, lack of appetite, distress after eating, torpid liver, constipation, &c. deserve to suffer if they will not try them.

They are recommended by the highest medical authorities, and are warranted to produce an immediate beneficial effect. They are exceedingly agreeable, perfectly pure, and harmless.

NOTICE.—Any person pretending to sell Plantation Bitlers in bulk or by the gallon is a swindler and impostor. It is put up only in our patent log cabin bottle Beware of bottles refilled with imitation deleterous stuff for which several persons are already in prison. See that every bottle has our private United States Stamp over the cork unmutilated, and signature on steel plate side label.

Sold by respectable dealers throughout the habitable globe.
P. H. DRAKE & CO.
202 Broadway, N. Y.
Mch 16—1 yr

Advertisements.

Sheriff's Sale.

ESSEX ss., June 29, 1864. Taken on Execution and will be sold at public auction at the Post Office in South Danvers, in said county, on WEDNESDAY, the third day of August next, at 9½ o'clock, A. M., the Right in Equity that Charles Barker of South Danvers, aforesaid, has or had on the twenty-fifth day of May last, to redeem the following described mortgaged Real Estate, viz.: a certain piece of land, situate in South Danvers aforesaid, bounded as follows: westerly by Andover street, Northerly and Easterly by land of Amos Osborne, and Southerly by land of the heirs of S. Blake, containing about one acre, with the dwelling house and all other buildings thereon.
STEPHEN UPTON, Deputy Sheriff.
South Danvers, July 6, 1864.—3w

COUNTRY AND SEA SHORE!

Wide Brimmed Hats,
For the Country and Sea Shore;
—ALSO—
All the FANCY STYLES OF HATS, for Ladies and Children—at
REITH & CO'S,
No. 2 West Block, Essex Street,
(One door west of J. F. Almy & Co.,)
July 6. SALEM, MASS.

CARPETS.

THOMAS W. DOWNING & CO.

HAVE now in Store a splendid Stock of

Carpets,
Stair Carpets,
Cocoa Mattings,
Mats,
Linings,
Oil Cloths,
Straw Mattings,
Rugs,
Paper,
etc., etc.,

which they offer at the very lowest Cash Prices.
April 13. 179 Essex Street.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS.

HEAD-QUARTERS, BOSTON, July 1, 1864.
GENERAL ORDER, No. 23.

1. The following circular, received from the Provost Marshal General of the United States, is promulgated by order of the Governor for public information:

"CIRCULAR No. 25.
WAR DEPARTMENT,
PROVOST MARSHAL GENERAL'S OFFICE,
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 26, 1864.

Persons not fit for military duty and not liable to draft, from age or other causes, have expressed a desire to be personally represented in the Army. In addition to the contributions they have made in the way of bounties, they propose to procure at their own expense, and present for enlistment, recruits to represent them in the service. Such practical patriotism is worthy special commendation and encouragement. Provost Marshals, and all other officers acting under this Bureau, are ordered to furnish all the facilities in their power to enlist and muster promptly the acceptable representative recruits presented, in accordance with the design herein set forth.

The name of the person whom the recruit represents will be noted on the Enlistment and Descriptive Roll of the recruit, and will be carried forward from those papers to the other official records which form his military history.

Suitably-prepared certificates of this personal representation in the service will be forwarded from this office, to be filled out and issued by Provost Marshals to the persons who put in representative recruits.
JAMES B. FRY,
PROVOST MARSHAL GENERAL."

The men enlisted under the provisions of the above circular, will be entitled to the bounty from the State; and their families, the State Aid. These men are Representative Recruits,—that is to say, men induced to enlist, by the exertions of patriotic men who are not liable themselves to do military service, and not substitutes who are enlisted in the place of men either liable to military duty, or who have been drafted.

2. In answer to numerous enquiries, information is given, by this order, as follows, viz:

Bounties to all volunteers will be paid to those volunteering, as well in advance of future calls by the President, as after any call is made. But the State bounties are not payable by law to drafted men nor to their substitutes, whether furnished before or after a draft.

The "State Aid" is payable alike to drafted men and their substitutes, serving in the Army or Navy, as well as to volunteers.

By order of His Excellency JOHN A. ANDREW, Governor and Commander-in-Chief.
WILLIAM SCHOULER, Adj't-Gen'l.
July 6—1w

WARREN BANK.
U. S. 10-40 BONDS.

ORDERS left at this Bank for the purchase of the U. S. 10-40 Bonds, will receive prompt attention.
FRANCIS BAKER, CASHIER.
South Danvers, June 1, 1864.

Pure Ground Bone
For Farming and Horticultural Purposes.

THE subscriber would announce that he is now constantly manufacturing and preparing for sale PURE GROUND BONE—conceded by all who have tried it to be the best article in use for fertilizing trees, grape vines, gardens, etc. It can be obtained in large or small quantities.

Also for Sale, NEAT'S FOOT OIL, TALLOW and GREASE.

☞ Cash paid for Bones.
TIMOTHY WALTON.
Post Office Address, box 99 South Danvers, Mass. April 20—3m

MORRIS' RESTAURANT,
18 and 20 Derby Square, Salem.

Oysters, Clams, Steak, Poultry, Game, Fish, &c., &c., cooked to order.
Pickled Oysters, Lobsters and Clams.
Salem, July 22, 1863. tf

Horse Railroad Notice.

ON and after FRIDAY, May 27th, single fares on the Salem and South Danvers Railroad will be six cents.

Packages of eighteen tickets will be sold for $1.00.

Single fares on the South Salem Branch will be five cents, and packages of twenty-five tickets will be sold for $1.00.

Fares for Children between the ages of 3 and 12 years, and for Scholars attending school, will be four cents, or twenty-five tickets for $1.00.

Salem, June 1, 1864. M. H. HALE.

MANUAL FENOLLOSA
TEACHER
OF THE
Violin, Piano and Singing,
MUSIC ROOMS, No. 7 Central Street,
SALEM, MASS.

TABLE MATS,
SHAKER and Wood Table Mats, at
S C & E A SIMONDS',
June 29 32 Front Street.

STONE WARE.
A SUPPLY of Stone Ware of all kinds, such as Water Kegs, Pitchers, Jugs, Cake and Butter Pots, are just opened at
S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS',
July 6 32 Front Street.

WHITE LEAD
IN kegs, tin pails and cans, constantly for sale by
Jy 6 S C & E A SIMONDS, 32 Front st.

NEW BOOKS,
At G. M. WHIPPLE & A. A. SMITH'S.

SAVAGE AFRICA; being the narrative of a tour in Equatorial, South-western, and North-western Africa, with notes on the habits of the Gorilla; on the existences of unicorns and Tailed men; on the Slave Trade; on the origin, character, and capabilities of the negro, and on the future civilization of Western Africa, by W. Winwood Reade, with illustrations and a map.

Carlyle's Frederick the Great, volume 4.

Dennis Duval, a novel by W. M. Shackeray with illustration.

July 6 190 Essex Street.

Browning & Long.

THE LARGEST
LADIES' FURNISHING STORE
IN SALEM.

BROWNING & LONG'S
GREAT STOCK
FOR Summer Wear.
177 Essex 177 Essex

We adhere to our rule of selling Goods as low as the market possibly affords.

Our stock was not bought at the present High Prices; we can therefore offer Special Inducements.

Our stock is secured in view of the very latest Fashions and Styles, and we are constantly receiving New Goods.

It is a regular practice with us to close out odd lots remaining at the expiration of each season, at very Low Prices.

Call and see our Cheap Counters, they are full of decided Bargains. Goods at low prices are worth looking at now.

We would call especial attention to our splendid assortment of Cotton Hosiery, Kid Gloves, Silk Umbrellas and Parasols.

BROWNING & LONG'S
DISPLAY
OF
LOW PRICES.
BARGAINS BARGAINS
Salem, July 6, 1864.

Men's Clothing.

The largest assortment, the LATEST STYLES, the best Goods, and the LOWEST PRICES, as usual, can be found at ☞ 240 ☜. Black and Fancy Frocks, Sacks, Pants and Vests, in light and dark colors to match—all sizes and prices. Spring Overcoats, Light and Dark Linen Dusters, $1.75 to $3.75—size, 34 to 50. If you wish to purchase a good suit of Clothes, light or dark, call at F. S. PECK'S.

Boys' Clothing.

Those who have Boys to Clothe, are particularly invited to call and examine the NEW STYLES Coats, Pants, Vests, Jackets and Suits, in light and dark colors, which we have made expressly for our trade. We have pieces of the same or Cloth by the yard. Also, a large assortment of Cheap Sacks, Pants, Vests, Jackets and Suits, which will be sold low. If you have Boys to Clothe, the place to save your money is at

F. S. PECK'S,
240
Essex Street, Salem.

Gent's Furnishing Goods.

In this Department can be found the LATEST STYLES and BEST GOODS. White and Fancy Shirts, $1.50 to $4.00; Silk Shirts and Drawers, $1.75 to $4.00; Merino Shirts and Drawers, Hosiery, Gloves, Braces, Roman Scarfs, Ties—new styles, Collars, Umbrellas, &c. N. B.—We offer our Kid Gloves, spring colors, for $1.75 per pair, to close—the same as are sold round town for $2.25. Also a lot which are a little spotted, for 37c, 75c and $1.25 a pair. They are bargains. 240 is the place to buy Gent's Furnishing Goods.

Hats and Caps.

SPRING STYLES FOR 1864. Those who wish to purchase Hats or Caps, either Men's or Boy's, can find a large assortment of the LATEST STYLES and best quality. Goods at the Lowest Prices. The public are respectfully invited to call and decide whether 240 is the place to buy Hats and Caps.

FOR SUMMER READING.
G. M. WHIPPLE & A. A. SMITH'S Subscription Circulating Library affords ample facilities. Terms liberal. Subscriptions commencing at any time. June 29

FURNITURE.

HAVING taken the Store No. 10 FRONT STREET, (formerly occupied by BENJAMIN COLMAN,) I shall keep constantly on hand a large stock of
NEW AND SECOND-HAND FURNITURE,
BEDDING, COUNTING-ROOM DESKS, &c., &c.,
which I will sell cheap for CASH.
ALL KINDS OF FURNITURE NEATLY REPAIRED.
☞ All kinds of FURNITURE and BEDDING wanted—for which the highest Cash price will be paid.
P. J. HYNES, 10 FRONT-ST.
Salem, April 6, 1864—1y

PIN WORMS. MRS. OSBORN'S Universal Worm Powders are the only sure cure ever offered to the public. They are warranted in every case; relief within 24 hrs. 25 cts. per box. Sold by all druggists.

For sale by D. P. GROSVENOR, Jr., 33 Main St., South Danvers. jan 27

Valuable Real Estate in So. Danvers for Sale or to Let.

The large dwelling house and barn and out-buildings, with land under and adjoining, belonging to the estate of the late J. W. Carey, situated on Fulton street.

Also a very desirable lot of land extending from Fulton street to High street, with a front of eighty feet on each street.

For terms and particulars, apply to
EBEN UPTON,
April 27.—tf. No. 31 Barr street, Salem.

WIRE COVERS.
WIRE Dish Covers, in sets of five, at
S C & E A SIMONDS',
June 29 32 Front Street.

A. J. Archer & Co

White Shirred Muslins.
JUST received and for sale by
je22 A. J. ARCHER & CO.

MOURNING GOODS.
AUGUSTUS J. ARCHER & CO.,
HAVE just received a fine assortment
—OF—
MOURNING DRESS GOODS,
for summer wear.
—ALSO—
On hand, a fine stock of
BLACK SILKS,
which our customers will find are at less than Boston prices.
May 25, 1864.

FANCY CLOAKINGS!
—FOR—
Spring Garments,
IN GREAT VARIETY OF STYLES,
which we are prepared to make into GARMENTS to order, in the very best manner, and at
LOWEST CASH PRICES.
A. J. ARCHER & CO.,
March 16—tf. 181 Essex Street.

HOUSE OF EQUITY,
—BY—
Arnold & Hutchinson,
(Successors to C. T. Southwick.)

FIRST QUALITY
FAMILY GROCERIES,
Sold at the Lowest Prices.

A large and complete assortment of
CROCKERY AND GLASS WARE,
Constantly on hand.
Also FLOUR and GRAIN.

ASHLAND HALL BUILDING,
NO. 1 LOWELL STREET,
F. T. ARNOLD. B. F. HUTCHINSON.
South Danvers, Feb 3, 1864.

RICH MILLINERY GOODS!
From the New York and Boston Markets,
OPENING EVERY DAY.

ALL the desirable shapes in BONNETS and HATS.

RIBBONS and FLOWERS in all the New Shades. All goods belonging to a first class Millinery Establishment, to which the attention of the Ladies of Essex County is respectfully invited.

REITH & CO'S,
NO. 2 WEST BLOCK, ESSEX STREET,
(One door west of J. F. Almy & Co.,)
apr 13 SALEM, MASS.

M. A. PORTER,
236 Essex Street, - - - Salem, Mass.,
(Opposite Horse Railroad Office,)
MAKES TO ORDER BEST QUALITIES OF
WATCH SPRING SKIRTS.

A Good Assortment of Dress and Clock Button, Braids, Spool Cotton, Small Wares, and Thread Store articles generally.

236 Essex Street, - - - Salem, Mass.,
M. A. PORTER.

SPRING AND SUMMER GOODS.
168 ESSEX STREET.

WE invite the attention of the Ladies of Salem and vicinity, to our
New Millinery Goods.
Ladies' and Children's
BONNETS AND HATS,
in all desirable styles.

Crapes, Silks, Ribbons, Feathers, French Flowers, and Laces.

A full assortment of Straw Goods, Mourning Bonnets, Veils, Collars, &c., constantly on hand at the lowest cash prices.

M. E. CRANE,
Successor to M M FLETCHER.
Salem, April 6, 1864.

JUST ARRIVED,
AT DANVERS MILLS,

500 Bushels Corn, in the minnie cob, and will be sold in South Danvers. Constantly on hand a large stock of meal, which will be sold at the lowest Salem prices.

— ALSO ON HAND —
500 Bushels Feed;
200 Bushels prime Northern Oats;
100 Barrels choicest Family Flour.
A good stock of LIME constantly on hand.
JOHN C. MOULTON,
Central St., South Danvers, Mass.
May 25—tf.

THOMAS PINNOCK,
SLATER,
SALEM, MASS.

Orders may be left at his Yard, No. 25 Peabody St., or at his house No. 6 Hancock street, South Salem.

Roofs covered with any kind of Slates, according to order. All work warranted.

Salem, May 7, 1862. tf

Real Estate for Sale.

THE Subscriber offers for sale one undivided ninth part of the Estate on Lowell and Franklin streets, formerly owned by Mrs. HULDAH GILE. This very valuable property will be sold on fair and easy terms.

All information in relation to it will be given on application to Mr. CHARLES B. HAVEN, Franklin street, near the premises.

SAMUEL FELLOWS.
South Danvers, June 15, 1864.

George S. Walker.

For the Warm Weather.
UNDER-SHIRTS,
DRAWERS,
HOSIERY,
IN every seasonable material—all sizes—for sale at low prices, at
GEORGE S. WALKER'S,
Dealer in Gent's Furnishing Goods and Toilet Articles, opposite Eastern Railroad Station.

Gent's Half Hose.
THE Largest Stock and Assortment in the city, at
GEORGE S. WALKER'S,
Dealer in Gent's Furnishing Goods and Toilet Articles, opposite Eastern Railroad station.

Scarfs, Ties, Stocks.
ALL the LATEST and BEST STYLES, at the Lowest Prices, at
GEORGE S. WALKER'S,
No. 228 Essex Street,
june 27 Opp. Eastern Railroad Station.

Potter, Bachelder & Co.,
DANVERS-PORT and SOUTH DANVERS,
DEALERS IN
WOOD AND COAL.
Constantly on hand

Franklin, Burnside, Dimond, } RED ASH.
Old Company & Packer's Lehigh, Pliny Fisk, Webster and Locust Mountain, } WHITE ASH.

Also Cumberland, Pictou and Campbell for Steam and Smith's use.

OFFICE---No. 6 Allen's Building.
G. W. POTTER,
J. Q. A. BACHELDER,
C. T. BATCHELDER. mch 30

M. FENOLLOSA,
TEACHER OF MUSIC,
LETS..........PIANO FORTES, at the lowest rates;
SELLS..........PIANO FORTES, at the Manufacturers Prices;
EXCHANGES....PIANO FORTES, on the easiest terms;
At Rooms No. 7 Central street,
feb 11 SALEM, MASS.

AARON T. LOWE,
DEALER IN
BOOTS, SHOES AND RUBBERS,
76 BOSTON STREET, 76.
aug 6 SALEM. tf

GEORGE TAPLEY,
(DANVERS),
AGENT FOR THE
John Hancock Life Insurance Co.
Office, 41 State Street, Boston.

T. HARDY, JR.,
—Dealer in—
DOORS, SASHES, BLINDS,
Glazed Sash, Painted Blinds,
FENCE PALES, STAIR BALUSTERS, FRAMING PINS, &c.,
No. 26 FRONT STREET,
Salem, January 14, 1863—tf.

Spring Goods.
THOMAS W. DOWNING & CO.
invite attention to the splendid stock of
NEW GOODS
which they are now opening for the Spring trade.

We shall be constantly supplied with all Novelties as they appear in the market.
mch 2 179 Essex Street.

The Singer Manufacturing Co's
LETTER A SEWING MACHINE
For Family Use and Light Manufacturing Purposes, is on exhibition and for sale
AT ASHLAND HALL,
SOUTH DANVERS SQUARE,
— BY —
JOHN H. CHOATE,
Agent for the sale of
SEWING MACHINES,
SILK, THREAD, NEEDLES, COTTONS, &c., &c.
— Also —
Paraffine Sewing Machine Oil,
The best oil for all kinds of light machinery.
South Danvers, Nov 18, 1863.

MISS. S. E. MACKINTIRE.
TEACHER ON
PIANO FORTE
RESIDENCE,—22 Holton Street,
jan13 South Danvers.

HOUSEKEEPERS, ATTENTION!
JACKSON'S
KITCHEN FURNISHING ROOMS,
Under MECHANIC HALL, Salem.

Parties about commencing House-Keeping will find this the only place in Salem where a complete assortment of House-keeping articles can be found. Dec 9—6w

GAYLE & CO.,
GENERAL COMMISSION MERCHANTS,
DEALERS IN
Flour, Grain and Produce,
Manufacturers' Agents for the sale of
Concentrated Leaven, Soda and Pearlash Saleratus, and Bi Carb. Soda.
PHILLIPS WHARF, ... Salem.

Auction Sales.

WILLIAM ARCHER, Jr.,
Auctioneer, Real Estate and Stock Broker,
34 Front Street.
Real Estate, Bank, Railroad & Manufacturing Stock bought and sold on Commission.

TEETH ON VULCANITE!
DR. J. H. BATCHELDER,
DENTAL SURGEON,
No. 20 Washington St., (near Eastern Railroad Depot), SALEM, Mass.

Is Licensed to make the New Patent Teeth on HARD RUBBER or VULCANITE, and from actual experience confidently recommends them for Strength, Beauty, and Cleanliness, to far surpass all other kinds of teeth;—are sure to fit the mouth; are much cheaper and better, being about half the price of teeth on Gold. Ill fitting Setts of Teeth on Gold can be exchanged for the Vulcanite, at very small expense. Specimens seen at Office. Teeth filled with Gold, Inserted, Extracted, and Children's Teeth Regulated—all with such care and gentleness as to be nearly painless,

VALUABLE REAL ESTATE.

THE Subscriber offers for sale the following Lots of Land, with the Buildings thereon, at private sale, until September next, when such as then remain unsold, will be offered at Public Auction:

A new and well built two-story DWELLING HOUSE, situated on English Street.—This house is well supplied with the modern conveniences, is pleasantly situated on rising ground, and is a very desirable residence.

The MOROCCO FACTORY near the Southwick Tannery. The building is about 160 feet long by 40 wide, is well supplied with pure water and is an excellent place for the Morocco business or Currying.

Near the Morocco Factory are two TWO-STORY BUILDINGS, which may be sold with the Factory, or separately. Together they are about 80 feet long by 20 wide.

On Walnut Street is the large BOARDING HOUSE, with the land adjoining, which is excellently well situated for what it is designed.

Several front LOTS for building purposes on Walnut Street, will be sold at moderate prices and fair terms.

A STORE HOUSE 70 by 25 feet on Walnut Street, with the land under and the rear of it. It can be easily adapted for a Curriers' Shop, or for other kinds of business.

On Wallis Street, near the mill pond, a well built and painted MOROCCO FACTORY, all ready for occupancy. It is about 80 feet long by 25 wide, and in excellent repair.

Next to the Morocco Factory on the same street, a STORE BUILDING, strongly built, and framed for a DWELLING HOUSE, for which it could be easily adapted. Or it would make an excellent Shop for any kind of business.

Near ELM STREET, on a Court south of said street, are two DWELLING HOUSES, planned for two families each. One is two stories high, the other one and a half. Both houses have good tenants and yield a good income; offering a good chance for investment.

Between Harris and English Streets, one One Story DWELLING House, and a One Story and a Half House.

The above is a most excellent opportunity for enterprising young men to secure places for business and dwelling houses, on reasonable terms. Such a chance may not soon again occur.

Persons desiring to purchase any of the above lots may learn the prices and terms on application to ANDREW S. PORTER, Elm Street.

SAMUEL D. PENDAR.
South Danvers, May 11, 1864. tf

NEW STORE!
Flour! Flour!

JUST RECEIVED, a fresh supply of CHOICE BRANDS, direct from the Mills, for sale, wholesale and retail, at LOWEST PRICES, by
E. F. OSBORN.
Sutton's Building, Main St.
South Danvers, Nov 18, 1863.

R. C. MANNING & CO,
Successors to JOHN DIKE & CO.,
DEALERS IN
COAL, WOOD, BARK, HAY, &c,
183 DERBY STREET,
SALEM, MASS.
N. C. ROBBINS, R. C. MANNING.
oct17

GEO. E. MEACOM,
Dealer in
DRUGS & MEDICINES,
Fancy & Toilet Articles, &c.,
126 · · MAIN ST · · 126
Nearly opposite Danvers Bank, So. Danvers.

T. A. SWEETSER,
Druggist & Apothecary
37 Main St., So. Danvers,
DEALER IN
Drugs, Medicines, Chemicals, Foreign Leeches, Shakers' Herbs, Dye Stuffs, Gums, Acids, Sponges, Shoulder Braces, Trusses, and Genuine Patent Medicines,
Also, Imported Cigars of choice brands, Perfumery, Toilet Articles and Stationery.
Physicians' Prescriptions carefully prepared by experienced persons.
37 MAIN STREET.

D. P. GROSVENOR, Jr.,
Druggist and Apothecary,
33 MAIN STREET.
Dealer in Drugs, Medicines, Chemicals, Dye Stuffs, and Popular Proprietary Medicines.
Personal attention to Physicians' Prescriptions.
South Danvers, May 29, 1861. 1y

DR. E. F. KITTREDGE,
From Lowell, formerly of New Ipswich, N. H.,
Has removed his office and residence to
NO. 42 MAIN STREET,
SOUTH DANVERS, MASS.

DR. K., from an extensive and successful professional experience of upwards of twenty years, feels justified in saying that he can treat diseases to the satisfaction of his patients, and to the credit of himself.

Office hours from 7 to 9 A. M., and from 6 to 9 P. M.
South Danvers, Nov 13, 1863.

OATS.
3000 BUSHEL prime Oats, received this day by Rail, and for sale by
may 25 GAYLE & CO., Phillips Wharf.

Special Notices.

A GENTLEMAN, cured of Nervous Debility, Incompetency, Premature Decay and Youthful Error, actuated by a desire to benefit others, will be happy to furnish to all who need it, (free of charge,) the recipe and directions for making the simple remedy used in his case. Those wishing to profit by his experience, and possess a Valuable Remedy, will receive the same, by return mail, (carefully sealed,) by addressing

JOHN B. OGDEN,
No 60 Nassau street, New York.

may 25—3m

BELL'S SPECIFIC PILLS.—WARRANTED IN ALL CASES.—Can be relied on! Never fail to cure! Do not nauseate! Are speedy in action! No change of diet required! Do not interfere with business pursuits! Can be used without detection! Upward of 200 cures the past month—some of them very severe cases. Over one hundred physicians have used them in their practice, and all speak well of their efficacy, and approve of their composition, which is entirely vegetable and harmless on the system. Hundreds of certificates can be shown.

BELL'S SPECIFIC PILLS are the original and only genuine Specific Pill. They are adapted for male and female, old or young, and the only reliable remedy for effecting a permanent and speedy cure in all cases of Spermatorrhea, or Seminal Weakness, with all its train of evils, such as Urethral and Vaginal Discharges, Gleet, the Whites, Nightly or Involuntary Emissions, Incontinence, Genital Debility and Irritability, Impotence, Weakness or Loss of Power, Nervous Debility, &c., &c., all of which arise principally from Sexual Excesses or Self-Abuse, or some constitutional derangement, and incapacitates the sufferer from fulfilling the duties of married life. In all sexual diseases, as Gonorrhea, Gleet, and Strictures, and in Diseases of the Bladder and Kidneys, they act as a charm! Relief is experienced by taking a single box.

Sold by all the principal druggists. Price $1.

They will be sent by mail, securely sealed, and confidentially, on receipt of the money, by

J. BRYAN, M. D.,
No. 76 Cedar street, New York.

Consulting Physician for the treatment of Seminal, Urinary, Sexual, and Nervous Diseases, who will send, free to all, the following valuable work, in sealed envelope:

THE FIFTIETH THOUSAND.—DR. BELL'S TREATISE on Self-Abuse, Premature Decay, Impotence and Loss of Power, Sexual Diseases, Seminal Weakness, Nightly Emissions, Genital Debility, &c., &c., a pamphlet of 64 pages, containing important advice to the afflicted, and which should be read by every sufferer, as the means of cure in the severest stages is plainly set forth. Two stamps required to pay postage. December 9, 1863—1 yr.

IMPORTANT TO LADIES.—DR. HARVEY'S FEMALE PILLS have never yet failed in removing difficulties arising from obstruction, or stoppage of nature, or in restoring the system to perfect health when suffering from Spinal Affections, Prolapsus, Uteri, the Whites, or other weakness of the Uterine Organs. The Pills are perfectly harmless on the constitution, and may be taken by the most delicate female without causing distress—the same time they act like a charm by strengthening, invigorating and restoring the system to a healthy condition, and by bringing on the monthly period with regularity, no matter from what causes the obstruction may arise. They should, however, NOT be taken during the first three or four months of pregnancy, though safe at any other time, as miscarriage would be the result.

Each box contains 60 Pills. Price $1.

DR. HARVEY'S TREATISE on Diseases of Females, Pregnancy, Miscarriage, Barrenness, Sterility, Reproduction, and Abuses of Nature, and emphatically the Ladies' Private Medical Adviser, a pamphlet of 64 pages, sent free to any address. Six cents required to pay postage.

The Pills and book will be sent by mail when desired, securely sealed, and prepaid, by

J. BRYAN, M. D., General Agent,
No. 76 Cedar street, New York.

☞ Sold by all the principal druggists.
December 9, 1863—1 yr.

SPRING STYLES
—OF—
1864.

L. D. BOISE & CO.,

Manufacturers and Dealers
— IN —

CLOTHING,

Invite attention to their Large and Fashionable stock, comprising Medium, Fine and Superior grades, of our own manufacture, some of which is fully equal to the best Custom work.

Wholesale or Retail purchasers will find it for their benefit to examine our Stock before purchasing.

We have also a large and fashionable stock of PRICE GOODS, consisting of the most desirable patterns of English, French, German and American

CLOTHS,
CASSIMERES
DOESKINS, and
VESTINGS,

which have been selected with great care in the New York and Boston markets.

CUSTOM CLOTHING made to order in the latest styles at short notice.

PARTICULAR ATTENTION GIVEN TO

Army and Navy Uniforms.

Gentlemen's Furnishing Goods

OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.

L. D. BOISE & CO.,
No. 154 Washington Street, Boston.

April 20.—3m.

Chickering & Sons' Piano-Fortes.
Hallett & Cumston's Piano-Fortes.
Hallett & Davis's Piano-Fortes.

We select our Piano-Fortes from the above firms and warrant them to give perfect satisfaction. Our terms are reasonable, and all persons in the city and neighboring towns can be accommodated by calling at 76 Federal street.

FOR SALE—Second-hand Piano-Fortes,—Chickering's and others.

ap 29 ANN R. BRAY.

DYSPEPSIA AND FITS.

A SURE CURE FOR

THESE distressing complaints is now made known in a Treatise on Foreign and Native Herbal Preparations, published by DR. O. PHELPS BROWN. The prescription was furnished him in such a providential manner, that he cannot conscientiously refuse to make it known, as it has cured everybody who has used it, never having failed in a single case. It is equally sure in cases of Fits as of Dyspepsia; and the ingredients may be found in any drug-store. Sent free to all on the receipt of five cents to pre-pay postage. This work, of 48 octavo pages, beautifully illustrated, also treats on

Consumption,

Bronchitis, Asthma, General Debility, and gives the best known Herbal Remedies for their positive and permanent cure. Address DR O. PHELPS BROWN, No. 19 Grand Street, Jersey City, New Jersey.

may 25—3m

HEYLINGBERG'S
Hair Dressing Saloon,

24 MAIN ST., SOUTH DANVERS.

J. J. HEYLINGBERG would announce to his patrons and the public generally, that on and after JUNE 1st, 1864, he will abide by the following

TARIFF OF PRICES:

Shaving,	10 cts.
Hair Cutting,	15 cts.
Champooing,	15 cts.

Particular attention paid to dying hair and whiskers, in one preparation, without washing or scrubbing.

South Danvers, May 11, 1864.

BRUSHES.

A FULL stock of Brushes of every description, at
je22 S C & E A SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

R. W. WILKINSON,

DEALER IN

Newspapers, Periodicals, and Stationery of every Description.

FOREIGN and DOMESTIC FRUITS, consisting of Oranges, Lemons, Dates, Figs, Prunes, &c., &c.

Sauces, Pickles and Preserves; Castana, Naples and English Walnuts; Hard, Soft and Paper-shelled Almonds; choice brands of Tobacco and Cigars; also a general assortment of Confectionery of every description.

Also a large and well selected stock of Toys, suitable for children and the Holiday Gifts.

Ice Cream furnished to parties at short notice and in quantities to suit. Wedding Cake and every variety of nice cake furnished to parties or families.

STORE—WARREN BANK BUILDING.

South Danvers, Nov'r 11, 1863.

DR. S. O. RICHARDSON'S
Blood-Root Elixir

Has been thoroughly tested and proved in his medical practice, for a period of THIRTY YEARS, and is now presented to the public as an effectual cure for

COSTIVENESS,

AND THE BEST REMEDY EVER PREPARED FOR

DISEASES OF THE LIVER,
SCROFULA,

All Humors and Impurities of the Blood and Diseases of the Skin.

The preparing and combining the BLOOD-ROOT ELIXIR is attended with results to medical science next in importance to inhalation of ether in surgery. Roots and plants, in themselves pungent and disagreeable, are, by a new and scientific process of extracting (in vacuo,) rendered MORE EFFECTIVE IN THEIR OPERATION, entirely divested of the griping and distressing pain which attends the action of all other purgative medicine.—They are also made to become highly

PLEASANT AND AGREEABLE TO THE TASTE,

and by their peculiar combination work so perfectly in HARMONY WITH NATURE that no unpleasant reaction will follow its operation. It also possesses

A DIFFUSIVE AND ALTERATIVE EFFECT,

which can only be attained by medicine in a fluid state. These are new elements in purgative medicines.

The hard and compact manner in which Pills are prepared, renders them indigestible—and, when taken, are forced through the Stomach and Bowels, half dissolved, causing only PARTIAL ACTION, thereby creating irritation and pain to the parts connected with their passage.

One Pill dissolved secundum artem, will produce more medicinal and physical effect than five in a crude state.

The BLOOD-ROOT ELIXIR has no partial action upon the bowels, but is equally diffused there, and throughout the whole circulation of the Blood, imparting a healthy and invigorating action to the STOMACH AND BOWELS, LIVER, LUNGS, KIDNEYS, and gently stimulating dermant and morbid secretions throughout the whole system.

A single dose will produce a cheerful and exhilarating COMMOTION, which will inspire the patient with confidence, and assurance of IMMEDIATE RELIEF. A continuance for a short period will DRIVE the obscure and hidden humors to the surface of the skin, and relieve or check SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS—and by thus purifying and strengthening the Blood, will remove the most fruitful

CAUSE OF CONSUMPTION.

It incites the various organs of the system to act their alloted part, removing the causes which induce RHEUMATISM and NEURALGIA, HEADACHE, LOSS OF APPETITE, DYSPEPSIA, COSTIVENESS, and the various diseases which arise from a derangement of the Stomach and Bowels, and restricted circulation of the Blood.

COUGHS AND COLDS, in their early stages, will immediately yield to the effect of the Elixir.

The BLOOD-ROOT ELIXIR contains no mineral, no pernicious botanical element, no excitant, but stimulates the secretions by its mild and diffusive action. It is an effective and painless aperient—has a decided salutary action upon the Liver, and there has been no medicine prepared for common family use which possesses equal merit.

Travellers both by sea and land, will find the Elixir a complete antidote for the evils which they are obliged to endure, from a change of climate of water of diet.

See the pamphlet around each bottle for a history of the Elixir.

The proprietor of the BLOOD-ROOT ELIXIR, (Dr. S. O. Richardson,) has been long and favorably known to the public by his celebrated SHERRY-WINE BITTERS, the best tonic medicine ever discovered, and which has been in use over thirty years. He is a graduate of the New Hampshire Medical College, and many years associate member of the Massachusetts Medical Society,—and has made the study of medicine his profession since 1820.

And so fully convinced is the Doctor of the wonderful curative effects of his BLOOD-ROOT ELIXIR, that he hereby offers to each and every person who will use ONE-HALF OF A BOTTLE of his ELIXIR, and not be CONSCIOUS of a good effect therefrom, to REFUND to said person the FULL amount which he paid for the same, by returning the ullage bottle to his office.

Price $1.50 Per Bottle!

Sold by Apothecaries and Dealers in Medicines, and at the Doctor's Office,

51 & 53 HANOVER ST., BOSTON.

May 11—3ms.*

MOULTON'S
NEW LIVERY STABLE,

Is removed to stable formerly occupied by

SAMUEL HAM,

On MAIN STREET, opposite the Institute.

Good Horses and Carriages will be always in readiness at short notice.

South Danvers, May 25, 1864.

SPECTACLES!

H. F. SKERRY wishes to call special attention to his stock of

Spectacles and Eye Glasses,

in Gold—Silver—Rubber—Steel and Horn frames, of which he keeps constantly on hand a very large assortment, embracing every style and quality.

— ALSO —

Opera Glasaes, Microscopes, &c.

Glasses re-set, and Spectacles repaired.

In Store, our usual assortment of Silver and Plated Ware, and Jewelry.

No. 180 Essex Street, Salem.
H. F. SKERRY.

Feb. 24—tf.

Cards.

M. B. MANSFIELD,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
214 ESSEX STREET, SALEM, MASS.

 Particular attention paid to procuring Pensions, Bounties, Back Pay, Prize Money, and Army and Navy Claims of all descriptions. March 2.

THOMAS M. STIMPSON,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
194 ESSEX STREET, SALEM.
Residence Lowell street, South Danvers.

B. C. PERKINS,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
South Danvers—Office in Allen's Building

ALFRED A. ABBOTT,
Attorney and Counsellor,
Office, No. 24 Washington Street, Salem;
House, Main St., So. Danvers.

SIDNEY C. BANCROFT,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
27 Washington Street, Salem.

H. O. WILEY,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
Office, Allen's Building, So. Danvers.

Claims against the Government for Bounty Back Pay, and Pensions, promptly attended to

A. S. CRAWFORD,
Dentist,
No. 4 MAIN STREET, So. DANVERS SQUARE
Mechanical Dentistry Neatly Executed.

W. L. BOWDOIN,
SURGEON DENTIST,
No, 208 Essex Street, Salem, (Opposite the Marke
Residence—No. 57 Washington street.
jan 11—1y

NEWMAN & SYMONDS,
DEALERS IN
Family Groceries, Flour & Grain,
HARD WARE AND CROCKERY,
Ready Made Clothing, Gents' Furnishing Goods,
Hats, Caps, Boots, Shoes, &c.,
South Danvers Square, opp. Congregational Church
SAM'L NEWMAN. NATH'L SYMONDS.

S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS,
DEALERS IN
Crockery, China and Hardware; Paper Hangings; Solar and Entry Lamps; Paints, Oil, and Window Glass.
No. 32 Front street, Lawrence Place,
feb13 SALEM, MASS.

HENRY L. WHIDDEN,
HOUSE AND SIGN PAINTER,
Glazier and Paperer,
Central Street, South Danvers.
All orders promptly and faithfully executed.
jan2-1y

E. S. FLINT,
DEALER IN
West India Goods, Country Poduce,
No. 2 Main Street, South Danvers.

JESSE SMITH
No. 262 Essex Street, Salem,
Importer and Dealer in
Gold and Silver Watches,
MARINE CHRONOMETERS,
Aneroid Barometers, Spy Glasses, &c.

WILLIAM BLANEY,
HOUSE & SIGN PAINTER
Grainer, Glazier and Paper Hanger.
164 MAIN STREET, Corner of Grove.
WINDOWS and BLINDS cheap for cash.
mch6-tf

F. POOLE
INSURANCE AGENT,
Allen's Building (up stairs),
Deeds drawn, and other common forms.

H. L. HADLEY,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
CORNER MAPLE AND ELM ST.,
Danvers.
Claims against the Government for Bounty, Back Pay, and Pensions, promptly attended to.

DEVEREUX & McLELLAN,
Attorneys and Counsellors-at-Law,
CIVIL AND MILITARY,
Browne's Block, Essex street—Room No. 5.
J. F. DEVEREUX, Salem, Mass.
GEO. F. McLELLAN, Washington, D. C.
Oct. 21.

CREAM ALE.

THIS Ale is highly recommended by Physicians for

FAMILY USE AND INVALIDS.

Put up in Half Barrels and Barrels,
And for sale by
J. MAGUIRE & CO.,
No. 6 Derby Square, Salem.

Also, Agent for
MASSEY & COLLINS'
PHILADELPHIA ALES,
BUCKHART'S
CREAM ALE,
And Dealer in
LONDON PORTER, SCOTCH ALE, Atkinson's Wormwood Cordial, Drake's Plantation Bitters, &c., &c.

J. MAGUIRE & CO.,
july 15 No. 6 Derby Square, Salem.

E. F. BURNHAM,

SOLE AGENT FOR
SARGENT & CO.S'
MAGIC SOAP!
For South Danvers & Salem.

OFFICE—Central St., opp. Lowell Depot, at Burnham's Express Office, So. Danvers.

Price $3.50 per 100 Lbs.

Orders sent by mail or otherwise to So. Danvers will be promptly attended to. tf-oct3

Choice Spring Pigs for Sale.

THE subscriber offers for sale nice PIGS of Mackie Prince Albert and Chester County breeds, of which the Mackie took the First Premium at the late CattleShow. Prices reasonable.

BYRON GOODALE,
Near Tapley's Brook.

South Danvers, April 1, 1864. tf

CHINA GOODS.

GOLD Band Tea Sets; Fancy do.; Vases; Match Boxes; Fruit Baskets, etc., at
S C & E A SIMONDS',
je22 32 Front St., Salem.

THE BEST ASSORTMENT

OF White, Colored Grounds, neat Patterns, to be found in the city.
june 1 ANN R. BRAY, 76 Federal st.

Advertisements.

HOSTETTER'S
CELEBRATED
STOMACH BITTERS.

A pure and powerful Tonic, corrective and alterative of wonderful efficacy in disease of the

Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

Cures Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Headache, Debility, Nervousness, Depression of Spirits, Constipation, Colic, Intermittent Fevers, Cramps and Spasms, and all Complaints of either Sex, arising from Bodily Weakness whether inherent in the system or produced by special causes.

Nothing that is not wholesome, genial and restorative in its nature enters into the composition of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. This popular preparation contains no mineral of any kind, no deadly botanical element; no fiery excitant: but it is a combination of the extracts of rare balsamic herbs and plants with the purest and mildest of all diffusive stimulants.

It is well to be forearmed against disease, and, so far as the human system can be protected by human means against maladies engendered by an unwholesome atmosphere, impure water and other external causes, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS may be relied on as a safeguard.

In districts infested with Fever and Ague, it has been found infallible as a preventive and irresistible as a remedy and thousands who resort to it under apprehension of an attack, escape the scourage; and thousands who neglect to avail themselves of its protective qualities in advance, are cured by a very brief course of this marvelous medicine. Fever and Ague patients, after being plied with quinine for months in vain, until fairly saturated with that dangerous alkaloid, are not unfrequently restored to health within a few days by the use of HOSTETTER'S BITTERS.

The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated and the appetite restored by this agreeable Tonic, and hence it works wonders in cases of DYSPEPSIA and in less confirmed forms of INDIGESTION. Acting as a gentle and painless apperient, as well as upon the liver, it also invariably relieves the CONSTIPATION superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and secretive organs.

Persons of feeble habit, liable to Nervous Attacks, Lowness of Spirits and Fits of Languor, find prompt and permanent relief from the Bitters. The testimony on this point is most conclusive, and from both sexes.

The agony of BILIOUS COLIC is immediately assuaged by a single dose of the stimulant, and by occasionally resorting to it, the return of the complaint may be prevented.

As a General Tonic, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS produce effects which must be experienced or witnessed before they can be fully appreciated. In cases of Constitutional Weakness, Premature Decay and Debility and Decrepitude arising from OLD AGE, it exercises the electric influence. In the convalescent stages of all diseases it operates as a delightful invigorant. When the powers of nature are relaxed, it operates to re-enforce and re-establish them.

Last, but not least, it is The Only Safe Stimulant, being manufactured from sound and innocuous materials, and entirely free from the acid elements present more or less in all the ordinary tonics and stomachics of the day.

No family medicine has been so universally, and, it may be truly added, deservedly popular with the intelligent portion of the community, as HOSTETTER'S BITTERS.

Prepared by HOSTETTER & SMITH, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Sold by all Druggists, Grocers and Storekeepers everywhere.

HELMBOLD'S
GENUINE PREPARATIONS.

COMPOUND FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU, a Positive and Specific Remedy for diseases of the Bladder, Kidneys, Gravel, and Dropsical Swellings.

This Medicine increases the power of Digestion, and excite the Absorbents into healthy action, by which the Wtaery or Calcareous depositions, and all Unnatural Enlargements are reduced, as well as Pain and Inflammation.

—:0:—

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU.

For Weaknesses arising from Excesses, Habits of Dissipation, Early Indiscretion of Abuse, attended with the following symptoms:—

Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power,
Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing,
Weak Nerves, Trembling,
Horror of Disease, Wakefulness,
Dimness of Vision, Pain in the Back,
Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System,
Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body,
Dryness of the Skin, Eruptions on the Face,
Pallid Countenance.

These symptoms, if allowed to go on, which this medicine invariably removes, soon follows

Impotency, Fatuity, Epileptic Fits,

In one of which the patient may expire.

Who can say that they are not frequently followed by those "Direful Diseases,"

"INSANITY AND CONSUMPTION."

Many are aware of the cause of their suffering, BUT NONE WILL CONFESS THE RECORDS OF THE INSANE ASYLUMS.

And Melancholy Deaths by Consumption bear ample witness to the Truth of the assertion.

The Constitution once effected with Organic Weakness requires the aid of Medicine to Strengthen and Invigorate the system,

Which HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU invariably does. A Trial will convince the most skeptical.

—:0:—

FEMALES—FEMALES—FEMALES.

In many Affections peculiar to Females the EXTRACT BUCHU is unequalled by any other remedy, as in Chlorosis or Retention, Irregularity, Painfulness, or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated Scirrhous state of the Uterus, Leuchorrhœa or Whites, sterility, and for all complaints incident to the sex, whether arising from indiscretion or Habits of Dissipation, or in the

DECLINE OR CHANGE OF LIFE.

—:0:—

Take no more Balsam, Mercury, or unpleasant Medicines for unpleasant and dangerous diseases.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU AND IMPROVED ROSE WASH CURES

SECRET DISEASES

In all their Stages, At little Expense.
Little or no change in Diet. No inconvenience.
And no Exposure.

It causes a frequent desire and gives strength to Urinate, thereby Removing Obsructions, Preventing and Curing Strictures of the Urethra, allaying Pain and Inflammation, so frequent in this class of diseases, and expelling all Poisonous, Diseased and wornout Matter.

Thousands upon Thousands who have been the Victims of Quacks, and who have paid heavy fees to be cured in a short time, have found they were deceived, and that the "POISON" has, by the use of "Powerful Astringents," been dried up in the system, to break out in an aggravated form, and perhaps after Marriage.

—:0:—

Use HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU for all affections and diseases of the URINARY ORGANS, whether existing in MALE or FEMALE, from whatever cause originating and no matter of HOW LONG STANDING.

Diseases of these Organs requires the aid of a DIURETIC. HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU IS THE GREAT DIURETIC, and is certain to have the desired effect in all Diseases for which it is Recommended.

Evidence of the most reliable and responsible character will accompany the medicine.

Price $1.00 per bottle, or six for $5.00.

Delivered to any Address, securely packed from observation.

Describe Symptoms in all Communications.

Cures Guaranteed! Advice Gratis!!

Address letters for information to

H. B. HELMBOLD, Chemist,
104 South Tenth-st., bel. Chestnut, Phila.

HELMBOLD'S Medical Depot.
HELMBOLD'S Drug & Chemical Warehouse.
594 Broadway, New York.

BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS AND UNPRINCIPLED DEALERS who endeavor to dispose "of their own" and "other" articles on the reputation attained by

Helmbold's Genuine Preparations.
" " Extract Buchu.
" " Sarsaparilla.
" " Improved Rose Wash.

SOLD BY
ALL DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE.
ASK FOR HELMBOLD'S. TAKE NO OTHER.
Cut out the Advertisement and send for it.
AND AVOID IMPOSITION AND EXPOSURE.

December 16, 1863.—1 yr.

Coe's Superphosphate of Lime.

BRADLEY'S TOBACCO FERTILIZER.

For sale by the Manufacturer,

W. L. BRADLEY.

SALE OFFICE,

24 BROAD ST., BOSTON.

PAMPHLETS containing testimonials in favor of Coe's Superphosphate of Lime as a Standard Manure, and Bradley's Manual on the Culture and Curing of Tobacco, with illustrations, can be had by addressing the undersigned WM. L. BRADLEY.

☞ Highest Cash Prices paid for Bones.

Boston, April 13, 1864. 3m

GENTLEMEN'S HATS,

Spring Styles,
— AT —
J. A. JACKSON'S.

A large and choicely selected assortment of

FINE SOFT FELT HATS,
CLOTH HATS AND CAPS,
For Men and Boy's Wear.

101 COURT ST.,
April 13.—3m. BOSTON.

CHILDREN'S CARRIAGES.

WE have on hand a very large stock of Children's Carriages, comprising every vasiety of style, from the

CHEAP WILLOW CAB
— TO THE —
FINEST NEW HAVEN GIG.
— ALSO —
PERAMBULATORS!

of various qualities.

REPAIRING, in all its branches, promptly attended to at the OLD STAND,

No. 180 Essex street, Salem.
HENRY F. SKERRY.

April 20.—3m.

CURRIER & MILLETT,
Dealers in
Furniture, Chairs,
MATTRESSES, FEATHERS, &
259 & 261 ESSEX ST.

Salem, dec 14—1y

H. & H. G. HUBON,
WASHINGTON STREET, SALEM
Manufacturers of
Rose Wood, Mahogany, Black Walnnt and Stained Wood

COFFINS and CASKETS.

MAKING this our exclusive business, we are ready at all times and at the shortest notice to furnish Grave Clothes of various styles, as well as Coffins and Caskets of the finest finish. Personal attention given, and delivered without extra charge to any of the neighboring towns. All orders by express or otherwise will receive prompt attention.

Black Walnut and White Wood Boards, Plank and Joists for sale.

dec 14—tf

CHARLES S. BUFFUM,

BEING an authorized UNDERTAKER of South Danvers, will attend Funerals in said place with his Hearse the same as the Town Undertaker. Will also attend Funerals, when desired, in any of the neighboring towns, with one or a pair of horses.

He also furnishes Coffin Caskets, Robes, &c., lower than city prices.

All branches of the business attended to, such as furnishing Coaches, Flowers, Laying Out, &c. Ice Preservers furnished.

All orders promptly attended to, and personal attention given to them. Articles delivered to any of the neighboring towns free of charge. Orders by express or otherwise will receive prompt attention.

Central street, South Danvers,
RESIDENCE 25 ELM STREET.

South Danvers, Feb 17, 1864.

Undertaker's Notice!

THE subscriber being regularly appointed as Undertaker of South Danvers, would respectfully notify the public that he has removed from Central Street, to No. 80 Lowell Street, where he may be found in readiness to attend funerals, and to furnish, when desired.

HENRY SPENCER.

February 10, 1864.

E. S. FLINT,
Manufacturer and Dealer in
INNER SOLES,
AND SHOE STIFFENINGS OF ALL KINDS.
2 MAIN STREET, SOUTH DANVERS.

NEW BOOKS,
At G. M. WHIPPLE & A. A. SMITH'S.

Macaria, a new book by Miss Evans, author of Beulah;
Blackwood's Magazine, for June;
Leslie's Family Magazine, July;
Denise, by author of Mademoiselle Mori;
All the Illustrated Weekly Papers;
Army and Navy Journal;
The Round Table;
Croquet—Laws and Regulations of the same.
je 27 190 Essex Street.

Horse Railroad Notice.

On and after MONDAY, May 9, the cars of the Salem and South Danvers Railroad Co. will leave

South Danvers for Salem and Beverly at 6.35, 6.55, 7.15, and 7.35, A. M., and every 20 minutes till 12.55 P. M., and at 1.10, 1.25, 1.40, 1.55 P. M., and every 15 minutes till 10.25 P. M. The 9.55, 10.10, and 10.25 P. M., cars will go only to Salem.

Cars will leave Beverly for Salem and South Danvers at 6.35, 6.55, 7.15, and 7.35, A. M., and every 20 minutes till 12.55 P. M., and at 1.10, 1.25, 1.40 and 1.55 P.M., and every 15 minutes till 10.40 P. M. The 9.40, 9.55, 10.10, 10.25 and 10.40 P. M., cars go only to Salem.

Cars leave Washington Street Station for So. Danvers at 6.12, 6.32 and 6.52 A. M. and every 20 minutes till 12.32 P.M, and leave Washington St. Station for Beverly at 6.17, 6.37, 6.57, A.M., and every 20 minutes till 12.37 P. M., and cars will leave Washington St. Station for South Danvers and Beverly at 12.45, 1, 1.15, and 1.30 P. M., and every 15 minutes till 10.00 P. M.

M. H. HALE,
may 11 Sup't. S. & S. D. R. R. Co.

WM. C. HENDERSON,
MANUFACTURER OF
PLAIN AND FANCY
PAPER BOXES!
No. 235 ESSEX STREET,
Sign of "Nest of Boxes,"
july 23 SALEM. tf

MANHOOD:
HOW LOST, HOW RESTORED.

Just published, a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical cure (without medicine) of SPERMATORRHŒA, or Seminal Weakness, Involuntary Seminal Losses, IMPOTENCY, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc.; also, Consumption, Epilepsy and Fits, induced by self-indulgence or sexual extravagance.

☞ Price, in a sealed envelope, only 6 cents.

The celebrated author in this admirable essay clearly demonstrates from a thirty years successful practice, that the alarming consequences of self-abuse may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine or the application of the knife—pointing out a mode of cure, at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

☞ This Lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land.

Sent under seal, in a plain envelope, to any address, POST-PAID, on receipt of six cents, or two post stamps. Address the publishers,

CHAS. J. C. KLINE & CO.,
127 Bowery. New York, Post Office Box, 4586.
June 29—10w.

Abbott's South Danvers & Salem
EXPRESS.

Leave South Danvers, - - - - 7½ a m, 1 p m
Leave Salem, - - - - - - 10 a m, 4 p m

Orders left at Teel & Moulton's, and principal stores on Main street, South Danvers; and at 7 Washing on street, and at Reed's in the Market, Salem.

Are you Insured?

THE subscriber would respectfully call your attention to the fact that he is fully prepared to effect INSURANCE AGAINST FIRE, to any amount, at current rates, on

Dwelling Houses, Barns and their contents, Stores, Stocks of Goods, Furniture, &c. &c., and on buildings in process of erection,

And that he is the authorized Agent for the following responsible Stock and Mutual Companies, viz:

Thames Insurance Co., (Stock,) Norwich, Conn.
Capital—$500,000.
Amos W. Prentice, Pres. Oliver F. Rice, Sec'y
Conway Insurance Company, (Stock) Boston.
Capital and Surplus—$260,000.
James F. Whitney, Pres. David C. Rogers, Sec'y.
City Insurance Company, (Stock) Boston.
Capital—$150,000.
Samuel P. Hayward, Pres. Austin W. Benton, Sec'y

Also, will effect Insurance on the LIVES OF INDIVIDUALS, for one year, seven years, or for the whole term of life, in the

Massachusetts Mutual Life Ins. Co., Springfield, Mass.
Capital and Assets—$375,000.
Caleb Rice, Pres. D. B. Bacon, Sec'y.
William Mack, M. D., Medical Examiner.

WM. ARCHER, Jr.,
18 Washington st. and 34 Front st., Salem.
feb20-1

ALWAYS SUCCESSFUL!

TO ALL THOSE WHO SUFFER FROM

DEBILITY AND SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

DRS. CARSWELL & HUNTER, regularly educated, highly eminent and successful practitioners, after a very extensive practice in Boston, for over twenty years, need hardly speak of their medical qualifications, or remind strangers not to class them with a set of uneducated men, who fill the papers with their boasting advertisements. Drs. C. & H. caution the public against quackery in all its forms, pretending, as some self-styled doctors, to cure all the most difficult and chronic diseases, without knowledge of the human system, or of the modus operandi of the most simple drugs.

Drs. C. & H., since 1840, having confined their whole attention to an office practice for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, they acknowledge no superiors.

CONSTITUTIONAL DEBILITY OR SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Drs. C. & H. are pre-eminently successful in the treatment of the above most difficult and perplexing of all diseases, this complaint being the result of a secret habit in youth; if neglected or improperly treated, it proves one of the greatest evils that can befall a human being. Dr. H. has given particular attention to the above disease for years, and so thoroughly has he become acquainted with the pathology and treatment, that he will warrant a perfect cure under forfeiture of $500; in fact, he will, in the cure of this complaint, acknowledge no superior in this country, or even in the world. Come, then, all you who are afflicted, come to the Old Stand, where you will in a short time be made to rejoice in perfect health.

SYPHILITIC AND SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS,—such as Ulcers and Caries of the throat and nose, Running Sores on the legs and arms, Hard Scabs and Scaly Eruptions on the head, back, &c., pains in the bones and joints, and all other forms of venereal diseases—are made to yield and entirely disappear under Drs. C. & H.'s improved and thoroughly eradicating course of treatment.

The primary or first symptoms of disease, whether a simple running, or small pistules, cancers, or ulcers, are cured in a very few days, if immediate application is made to Drs. C. & H.

13 ENDICOTT STREET, BOSTON. 13

Strangers should be particular in the selection of a physician, lest they be deceived by false advertisements.

Ladies troubled with irregularity, weakness, whites, and other complaints peculiar to the female system, will find a speedy cure by calling as above. No mercury used, and no charge for advice. The afflicted are invited to give us a call.

Boston, April 20, 1864.—1 yr.

25 YEARS' EXPERIENCE enables DRS. CARSWELL & HUNTER to cure any diseases of a private nature in a shorter space of time and for a smaller amount of money than any other doctors in this country, and they also treat all female complaints with perfect success, and on the most satisfactory terms. Patients furnished with board if desired. Please give us a call at our office, No. 13 Endicott St., Boston, Mass.

Boston, April 20, 1864.—1 yr.

MOZAMBIQUES,

AT 20 cents per yard; a nice quality at 30 cents per yard; White Striped Muslins; Striped Cambrics; Nainsooks—just received.

In Lawns we have a first rate assortment; other styles of Thin Goods—making our assortment as good as can be found in the city, selling at the lowest cash prices.

Ann R. Bray, 76 Federal Street.

June 1.

FLOUR.

200 BBLS "Keystone;" 100 bbls Faquis "Invincible," received this day, and for sale by
may 25 GAYLE & CO., Phillips Wharf.

FEATHER DUSTERS,

OF all sizes, from 10 to 26 inches, just opened at
je22 S C & E A SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

SUMMER ARRANGE
— TO —
LYNN & BOST
— BY —
OMNIBUS & HORSE
W. F. BURNHAM

Line of Omnibuses will leave the Lynn Omnibus Office, No. 6 Allen's Building, vers, passing down Main Street, through Street, to Lynn, daily—Sundays included

Leave South Danvers at 7 50 o'clock, and 4 50 P. M.

Leave Lynn (Horse Car Depot, West L A. M., 2 40 and 6 40 P. M.

Horse Cars leaving the office at 14 Br at 8 15 A. M., 1 15 and 5 15 P. M., will mee buses at Lynn, at the above named ho passengers to South Danvers.

Tickets to Lynn, - - 2
Through to Boston, - 3

Gravesend, Woodend, and Depot Route.

ON and after Monday, Nov 2, in additi route, an Omnibus will leave South Lynn, to connect with the steam and h times daily,—Sundays excepted,—runni Gravesend and Woodend, to the Central and Horse Railroad Station, corner of Broad Streets; leaving South Danvers at necting with the 7.25 steam cars for Bost (connecting with the 11.10 train), and 4 P ing with the 4.50 train); and returning, from the Spring Street Station and Cent pot, at 8 A M, and 1 and 6 P M.

Fare from S. Danvers to Boston by hor
" " " " stea

Through Tickets to and from Boston m the Drivers and Conductors.

South Danvers, Salem an Route.

THE subscriber having purchased of ley the Omnibus line running fro Lynn, would announce that it will no Stage Office, No. 6 Allen's Building, Sou for Salem, at 7 30 A M, and 2 30 P M, an Stage Office in Central St, Salem, at 8. 3 30 P M for Lynn. Returning will leave A M and 5 P M; and Salem for South Da A M, and 6.15 P M.

Passengers between South Danvars and be called for by leaving orders at the offi Passengers called for at reasonable char s given at the office.

EXPRESS BUSINES

Between South Danvers and Lynn pro ed to, on reasonable terms.

Extra Coaches furnished at short notic

W. F. BUR

South Danvers, April 20, 1864.

CROUT & MUNRO
SOUTH DANVERS & B
RAILROAD EXPR

Express leaves South Danvers at
Freight " " " at
Express leaves Boston at
Freight " " at

OFFICE at FREIGHT DEPO
Danvers Square.

Express Office in Boston, 3 Washi
Freight Office, 48 Kilby S

Particular attention paid to rem niture, collecting Bills, Notes, Draf

Smallest favors thankfully received.

South Danvers, august 26—tf

MARSHALL'S
DANVERS, SO. DANVERS &
EXPRESS.

Leave DANVERS (daily) at 9 A. M.
" SALEM at 1½ P. M.

OFFICES:
In Danvers—At E B Waitt's and the Pos
Danversport—Richards' and A W Warre
In So. Danvers—Francis Dane & Co's, a street.
In Salem—No 7 Washington street, 199 17 Derby Square.

All business promptly and faithfully at

—— Our patrons are particularly write their orders.

—— Packages left at the office, should "Marshall's Express."

—— Being connected with the RA are enabled to forward Notes, Drafts collection, and small packages, to a point in the United States, at the us

P. G. MA

dec18-tf

WEBBER'S
South Danvers & Salem Mail

WILL leave South Danvers at 7½ an 1½ and 5 P M.

Leaves Salem at 8.45 A. M., 12 M., 2½ a

Slates will be found in South Danvers Office, and at Blake & Holman's store ment, and in Salem at the Coach Statio Street, and at E F & J W Roberts', corne Washington Streets.

Any packages or business entrusted t will have prompt attention and care. A lic patronage is solicited.

PARKER

Important to the Affl

DR. DOW continues to be consulted Nos. 7 and 9 Endicott street, Bosto eases of a

PRIVATE OR DELICATE NA

By a long course of study and practica of unlimited extent, Dr. D. has now the of presenting the unfortunate with have never, since he first introduced th cure the most alarming cases of

GONORRHŒA AND SYPHI

Beneath his treatment, all the horrors and impure blood, Impotency, Scrofula, Ulcers, pain and distress in the region tion, Inflammation of the Bladder and drocele, Abcesses, Humors, frightful S the long train of horrible symptoms a class of disease, are made to become as the simplest ailings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr. D. devotes a great part of his tim ment of those cases caused by a secret habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfortunate individual for business or so of the sad and melancholy effects produ habits of youth, are Weakness of th limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness pitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nerv rangement of the digestive functions, Consumption, &c. The fearful effects are much to be dreaded; loss of memo of ideas, depression of spirits, evil aversion of society, self-distrust, timi among the evils produced. Such person fore contemplating matrimony, consult a experience, and be at once restored t happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under Dr. ment a few days or weeks, will be fu pleasant rooms, and charges for board m

Medicines sent to all parts of the coun directions for use, on receiving descri cases. Dr. Dow has also for sale the Fre warranted the best preventive. Orde or $1 and a red stamp.

CAUTION

TO FEMALES IN DELICATE H

DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, 7 a street, Boston, is consulted daily for all dent to the female system. Prolapsus U ing of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Suppress er menstrual derangements, are all treat pathological principles, and speedy relie in a very few days. So invariably certa mode of treatment, that most obstinat yield under it, and the afflicted person in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater exp cure of diseases of women and childre other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for patien wish to stay in Boston a few days und ment.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined h tention to an office practice for the cur Diseases and Female Complaints, ackn superior in the United States.

N. B.—All letters must contain four rec they will not be answered.

Office Hours from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.

CERTAIN CURE

IN ALL CASES, OR NO CHARGE

Dr. Dow is consulted daily, from 8 a. as above, upon all difficult and chronic every name and nature, having by his u tention and extraordinary success gained which calls patients from all parts of th obtain advice.

Among the physicians in Boston, none in the profession than the celebrated DR 7 Endicott street, Boston. Those who n vices of an experienced physician and su give him a call. P. S.—Dr. Dow imports sale a new article, called the French Se by mail. Two for $1 and a red stamp.

April 20, 1864—1y.

NEW WHITE WARE

DINNER, Tea and Toilet Ware, new pattern, Ribbon Border, at
je22 S C & E A SIMONDS', 32

South Danvers Wizard.

OL. V. SOUTH DANVERS, MASS., WEDNESDAY, JULY 13, 1864. NO. 28.

SOUTH DANVERS WIZARD
ished every WEDNESDAY, at Allen's Build-
th Danvers Square.
s—Two Dollars a year.
TISEMENTS inserted at reasonable rates.

CHARLES D. HOWARD,
DITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

R. NILES, Advertising Agent,
Scollay's Building, Court Street, Boston, is
ent for that city, and is authorized to redvertisements and subscriptions for us at rest rates.

Selected.

[From the Chicago Union Banner.]

ERIL ON THE YARD-ARM,

OR THE

ckwoodsman at Sea.

BY ROBERT STARBUCK.

iong the crew of the "Maxwell," chant ship bound to San Francisco he Sandwich Islands, there was one ose tall, quaint-looking, raw-boned iduals who generally come under the mination of backwoodsman.

ere, then, on shipboard, Bill Slings lecidedly out of his proper element: emed as though he would never learn opes, blocks, and the many little incies that pertain to a full-rigged hantman. Hence the many and se blunders he made, both below and , to the great indignation of Captain e, and the amusement of the fore hands.

you infernal lubber! the skipper d roar out, shaking his fist at him. ust like to feel of that head of your'n a handspike and see what it's made o which Bill would sometimes reply e following style:

ook here, capt'n, I consider myself a and civilized critter, and must be ed accordin'; so don't you go to rin' me up with your cusses and kin' of fists. I never was used to it, it wont do me a speck of good, I tell ye. As to feelin' of my head a handspike, it would'nt convart me nar, for laying phrenogics aside, I on you'd find it tuff, arter all.

hen in a towering rage, which only colassal proportions and fearless eye he backwoodsman could keep within nds, the captain would tell him to a hammer and knock the rust off anchors, or sweep the decks with a om, which would be cheerfully perned by Bill without the slightest suson on his part that the captain was ing him up.

But in attempting to haze our power shipmate it soon became evident that captain suffered more than his intend victim, as with his prodigious strength body and quickness of movement the kwoodsman so easily performed the ltitude of tasks imposed upon him t the commander was continually harsed in efforts to invent new schemes keep him busy.

Catch me taking such a lubber into ship again, the skipper would frently say, addressing his mate, Mr. mps; he isn't fit for anything, and I 't think for the life of me, what to t him at next. But we must put him work somehow or other. Can't you nk of nothing?

Send him aloft to tar down, said mps.

No, no, said the captain, he'll spill all e tar on deck, and dirty the planks ich we made him scrub so clean.

All the better, said Gumps, for we can ake him scrub 'em over again, and ere's two nice little jobs you see—the rrin' and the scrubbin'—to say nothing the chance it will give you to cuss m.

Glorious! said the captain. Gumps ou're the man!

I'm the man, replies Gumps, and turng upon his heel, he sings out:

You Bill Slings, get a tar-bucket and r down that fore-rigging.

Aye, aye, sir.

And mind that you don't spill any of e tar, added the captain, winking at umps, who winked back again.

If it isn't agin the bounds of human atur, I won't, replied Bill, as he mountd, tar-bucket in hand.

Presently, as the captain and his mate ad foreseen, the black drops began to lescend in little showers on the deck.

Then the former walked forward, and ooking up at Bill poured forth a torrent f curses—laughing all the time in his leeve, and turning around to wink at his nate. Suddenly one of those winks was stopped in the midst of its career, by a drop of tar falling into his eye, and then he swore in earnest.

During the whole of the next day and the day following, Bill was kept steadily at work scraping and scouring the decks, which task, when finished, was followed by another, devised after the same manner as the foregoing.

Thus it was that the officers of the Maxwell managed to keep Slings continually employed at something, while they declared he was good for nothing.

In due course of time the ship arrived at San Francisco where she remained two weeks, and was then ready to sail for the Sandwich Islands. An addition had now been made to our number in the person of a travelling showman, together with three wild animals, consisting of a leopard, tiger and a wild cat, which he carried with him and was anxious to display to the good people of Honolulu.

As there was no other convenient place for cages in which the animals were confined, they had been confined as far aft as possible, and securely lashed down to prevent their being washed overboard in a gale of wind. The aspect of each of the prisoners with the bristling hair, glaring eyes and sharp rows of teeth, was savage enough. It was the opinion of Bill Slings, which he frankly expressed to the showman, that they didn't have more than half enough to eat.

And I'd warn ye, stranger, he added, pointing toward the cages, to keep a good look out on them and fix up those doors a little, else the critters will be breaking loose some of these fine days and creatin' a rumpus. Them doors ain't set in's they ought to be—'specially the one where the catamount is.

But the showman gave Bill a contemptuous glance, saying that he knew what he was about and Bill need not concern himself.

Three days out of San Francisco, we were overtaken by a violent gale of wind which caused us to stow away every rag with the exception of the close reefed top-sail and topgallant-sail. Rolling and pitching violently among the heavy seas, the ship's motion greatly discomposed the showman's animals and made them unusually furious. They dashed themselves against the bars of their cages, gnashed their teeth and uttering savage growls, which mingled strangely with the wild howling of the gale and the roaring of the ocean.

As night set in they grew worse until the noise they made became perfectly demonical. By this time the gale was somewhat abated, but the clouds had turned to a pitchy blackness and a heavy thunderstorm was now raging around us. The night, save relieved by flashes of lightning, was one of intense gloom, and with the creaking of the ship's timbers, the loud, sharp crashes of thunder, the roaring of the still turbulent sea, the dying shrieks of the gale and the howling of these three wild animals, we might have indulged in the fancy that we were in some infernal regions, rather than on board the ship Maxwell.

Bill Slings, said the captain, as the rain began to descend in torrents, get the buckets and hang them up to catch water.

With his usual alacrity the backwoodsman was obeying his command, when an unexpected roll of the vessel caused the captain to lose his balance and slip—his head coming in violent contact with one of the buckets that Bill was in the act of raising. Without pausing to reflect that the fault of the accident lay with himself, the skipper in a fit of ungovernable passion, lifted his foot and dealt our shipmate a furious kick in the side, but the next moment he found himself lying in the lee-scuppers, to which place he had been sent by a powerful blow from the fist of the one to whom he had so unjustly vented his anger. Picking himself up he roared out in a voice hoarse with rage:

Mutiny! mutiny! Officers, seize the man, pound him—kick him—trample him under foot.

But, grasping a hatchet that lay upon the carpenter's bench, the backwoodsman placed his back against the weather-rail, and vowed that he would cleave the skull of the first man who attempted to lay hands on him. Perceiving that his officer did not dare to make the assault, the captain dispatched his son, a lad of fourteen, to bring him up the double-barrelled gun that was lying, ready loaded in his state room. The boy obeyed, and returning soon placed the weapon in his father's hands. Pointing it at the head of Bill Slings, the skipper roared out:

Give up that hatchet and surrender, or you are a dead man.

At that critical moment a crash was heard in the after part of the vessel, and the next moment, a wild cry of terror from the lips of the captain's son, as he sprang into the main rigging and began speedily to ascend, pursued by the catamount, which had at last succeeded in bursting open the door of her cage. All this had occurred so suddenly, that the boy and his pursuer had disappeared in the darkness aloft ere the captain could recover his presence of mind. Armed with such weapons as were nearest at hand, a few of the men had already leaped into the rigging and were speeding up the ratlines as fast as their encumbered hands would admit.

O, God! my son—my son—save him! cried the excited parent, as a sudden flash of lightning revealed to his sight the form of his boy in the topmast shrouds, with the fierce animal a few feet below him. It was plainly evident that the catamount would reach her prey ere the men could succeed in attacking her, as the sailors had not yet got near the top.

Another flash of lightning, and the sharp crack of the captain's rifle, hastily pointed in the direction of the beast, rang out upon the gale, mingling with the terrific crash of thunder which burst forth simultaneously with the report. But he looked in vain for the descending form of the animal, and perceiving that he had missed his mark, uttered a cry of such heartrending anguish that, notwithstanding the late quarrel they had, the noble heart of Bill Slings thrilled with pity as he listened to him.

Having discharged but one barrel of the instrument, another yet remained loaded, and the captain felt that the next shot would decide the fate of his son, for it was plain that ere he could have time to re-load after the second fire the boy must be torn to pieces by the savage beast, if indeed this had not already taken place.

Elevating his piece he anxiously waited for another flash, but when that flash came he did not fire. He had seen his son clinging to the extreme end of the top gallant yard arm, far up aloft, while the catamount was but a few paces from him, making frantic efforts to extricate one of her hind legs from a rope in which it had become entangled. So close to each other were the animal and her prey, that the anxious father had not dared to discharge his piece, held moreover by hands which shook from excitement—lest the shot should strike his boy instead of the animal for which it was intended.

Cap'n, said Bill Slings at this juncture, you just give me that rifle of yourn and I will fix the critter in no time. I'm an old hand at the bizness and could hit the varmint if he war twice as high. Them paws of yourn shake so, it's no wonder you could not fetch the catamount.

There was something in the behaviour of the backwoodsman calculated to inspire confidence at once, and the captain allowed him to take the weapon from his hands. He was fearfully excited, and his whole frame shook like an aspen.

Bill had scarcely elevated his piece when another flash of lightning illuminated the ship and a wild exclamation of anguish burst from the captain's lips as he beheld the ferocious beast disengage herself from the rope and make a spring toward the boy. But the exclamation was almost drowned in the report of the rifle discharged by the backwoodsman at the same moment. Then a wild piercing cry went up amid the storm—a cry like that of a human being—and something dark was seen as it descended through the gloom, and fell with a loud splash into the sea.

The captain's face grew as pale as death—so pale that we could see it flash out distinctly through the darkness.

That cry, he gasped, laying his hand on Bill's shoulder, was human. O, God. Wretch, wretch, you have killed my son!

Bill did not answer.

With outstretched neck he gazed steadily upwards, as though he would pierce the gloom which shrouded the yards from sight.

Has this shot struck the beast or the captain's son? was the question shouted to the men aloft. The wind howled, the thunder crashed, the seas roared and the ship's timbers creaked dismally, but there came no answer. The suspense was fearful. The captain groaned, and then staggered against the rail, while Bill's face grew as white as a sheet. We could hear his big heart thumping against his bosom. The question was repeated a second time.

All right! from the lips of the men aloft.

All right, father, I'm safe, from the lips of the boy, and a few minutes afterward he leaped to the deck, and was clasped to the neck of his parent. Having thus vented the first gush of joyous feelings, the captain stepped up to Bill, and clasping him by the hand, said:

Bill, I feel that I have wronged you—I now ask your forgiveness for all that has passed—for every harsh word that I have uttered against you—for every needless task that has been imposed on you through my instrumentality. I have said that you were good for nothing. I declare to all hands that you are the best man in the ship, and from this moment a truer friend to you than Capt. Blake does not exist.

The Captain kept his word, and as the result of kind treatment, before the end of the voyage, a better seaman than the noble hearted Bill Slings never walked the deck of a ship.

THE BRITISH PRESS.

The following, from the London Daily Telegraph, is an evidence of the changed feeling in the British Press in regard to Lieut. General GRANT. This paper was once a constant railer of the besieger of Vicksburg, and for some time a doubter of the fact of its fall. See how it has turned round:

"No vulgar man, no mere idol of the hour, is this Ulysses Grant, who by sheer hard work and honest fighting has raised himself from a position of obscurity to one of almost unlimited command—who has, if some reports concerning him be true, achieved that rarest of all victories, a mastery over himself and his desires—and who, a virtue not often possessed by the military celebrities of the United States, is still modest and unassuming. Nor has he yet in any way compromised the reputation which he worthily earned, alike by honorable service in the field and by exemplary civic conduct.—A man of merely ordinary calibre would scarcely have dared to accept the glorious but terrible responsibility which Grant has quietly taken upon himself, as became a good soldier, who was bound to fear no peril, either material or moral, in his country's cause. He was prudent as well as bold; the mere splendor of the office did not seduce him; and only on his own terms, which were wise and well-considered, would he consent to assume supreme command. He would submit to no dictation from the amateur Aulic counsellors of Washington; holding himself responsible for the issue of the campaign, he would not allow it to be prejudiced by any undue publicity being given to his plans; he kept his own counsel, allowed the gossips to talk as they liked, and at length, strong in the confidence of his troops, and with the whole enthusiasm of the North to back him, he set forth upon the great march from which he had determined never to return except in triumph.

"Nor can it be denied that already he has done much. Pushing doggedly onwards, with the fierce resolution of a man who is intensely in earnest, he has fought his way, inch by inch, into the very heart of Virginia; and a victory, so close is now his army to Richmond, would probably place that capital in his hands. It is impossible to read the account of his operations without seeing that they are those of a leader who possesses daring and capacity not altogether incommensurate to the mighty task that lies before him. 'On to Richmond!' which has so often been simply the vainglorious cry of Northern braggarts, is with this stern and valiant captain something more; it means something not to be merely talked about, but to be done; and if the whole strength of the North, entrusted to strong and capable hands, can do it, that purpose will yet be achieved."

FLOWERS IN BEDROOMS.—"The loss of a life," says the Siecle, "has just occurred in Paris from the practice of keeping flowers in bedchambers. A lady residing in the Rue des Trois-Moulins had received from a friend a quantity of May lilies, which she placed provisionally in a large closet slept in by her daughter, a weakly child, aged six years. At night the mother forgot to remove the flowers, and the door was closed, but in the morning, not hearing any movement in the closet, she went to see if her daughter was not yet awake. The child's sleep did not seem natural. The mother attempted to awaken her, but in vain, and on a medical man being called in, he declared that she had been poisoned by the carbonic acid gas emitted from the flowers."

THE FATAL TREE.—There is a tree in front of General Harrow's 4th Division, 15th Army Corps, Sherman's army, which is called the fatal tree. Eight men were shot, one after another, as soon as they advanced to the ill-fated tree to take a secure position behind its huge trunk. Seven men were shot, when a board was placed there with the word "dangerous" chalked upon it. The rebels shot the guide-post into fragments, and a sergeant took his place behind the unsuspecting tree. In less than two minutes two Minie balls pierced the sergeant's body, and he fell, the eighth martyr beneath the shadow of the tree of death.

☞ A thrill of horror pervaded Belfast lately, caused by the discovery by a young man of a human body in a box under the bed of a room in which he had just taken up his abode. He rushed for the police, who came speedily. The wretched landlady did not deny the existence of the concealed object, and submitted to an investigation of the box. The "body" turned out to be a lay-figure, which her husband, an artist, had used years before. Everybody laughed except the lodger.

[From the Newburyport Herald.]

A CLERGYMAN'S VISIT TO THE CADETS AT SALEM.

Having received an invitation from Commander Dame of Forts Lee and Pickering, to visit him and his command, and if possible to spend the Sabbath with them, we gladly made arrangements to comply with the request. A pleasant morning ride brought us to the ancient city of Salem, and a short walk of two miles gave us an introduction to Capt. Dame and his soldierly command. We were very fortunate on our arrival to meet with Capt. Williams, superintendent of the public works in that locality, and also C. C. Dame, Esq., of your city. Mr. Dame and myself very gladly accepted an invitation from Capt. Williams to examine the works. The captain, after interesting us in all that pertained to Forts Lee and Pickering, ordered his boat and took us across the harbor to the forts and public works on the Marblehead side. Everything was satisfactory. Capt. Dame and his command are very pleasantly situated. The location is unsurpassed by any other on our coast. The barracks are large and conveniently arranged, and your Newburyport boys take great pains to keep them neat and orderly.

The commander is very popular with his officers and men, and the officers are very proud of their men, as they have reason to be, for, after having visited most of the camps in this State, and several in other States, we have no hesitation in saying that they are the best behaved, and the best drilled company that we have seen. Intemperance is unknown among them; and profanity the exception. Newburyport will have no occasion to blush at the record her sons will make on the minds of all who are fortunate enough to enjoy a visit at Fort Pickering. Col. Jones, after a very careful and critical examination of the garrison and all that pertains to it, complimented the commander very highly.

Our reception at the fort was very cordial. The officers vied with each other in making our visit very agreeable. The men, most of them old acquaintances, did not allow their officers to outdo them in kind attentions. So very enjoyable was our visit, that we left them with many regrets that we could tarry no longer, and also that we could not repay your kind friends for all their unmerited favors to us. We wish to say to their friends and families that going there has not severed them from religious services. Your sons and brothers have not forgotten their God; but as the Sabbath sun sinks in the evening twilight, and perhaps just as you at home are offering up your evening devotions, the soldiers' camp resounds with the sound of prayer and praise. Prayer meetings have been held regularly every Sabbath evening, and in this delightful work the men have been greatly assisted by members of the Young Men's Christian Association of Salem. To us the Sabbath came a welcome day. It was a lovely day; the camp was quiet; the sea was never more beautiful, stretching out before us dotted with islands, as if to make the scene more lovely. After a very creditable inspection exercise, Capt. Dame gave notice that there would be public services at 3 o'clock and at 7. The dining hall was cleared and prepared for the accommodation of the company and friends present. The call of the drum brought them together for worship. The services were brief, but we trust profitable. In the evening at the appointed hour we gathered again. Our congregation was quite large and very attentive, and as intelligent as any congregation that I ever addressed. Our service was very interesting; the singing was fine, and was continued long after the services were closed; at the quarters of Captain Dame, the doxology was reached about 10 o'clock, but it was past 11 o'clock before the boys felt inclined to give us Old Hundred, and leave us to the undisputed control of the night king.

The health of the Company is remarkably good, only one man being in the hospital, and he will soon be at his post of duty. The men are very well supplied with reading matter, having a respectable library furnished them by the Young Men's Christian Association of Salem.

On Monday morning we left for home, very highly gratified with our visit and with a perfect passion for the soldier's life, if we could only be stationed at Fort Pickering, in connection with Captain Dame and his fortunate command.

O. S. B.

Miscellaneous.

THE SKULL OF CONFUCIUS MOUNTED IN GOLD.—With the late Lord Elgin's collection of Chinese curiosities and work of art this singular relic is to be seen at the saleroom of Messrs. Christie & Manson. Whether it be the real skull of the celebrated philosopher and moralist of the Celestials or not, it is converted into a very ornamental object by the clever design and workmanship of the Chinese. The strange looking object is mounted in pure gold, as a casket or box, which rests upon a triangular stand of gold elaborately chased with the Chinese conventional clouds and some very good scroll work, with a rude kind of cherubim at each angle; its weight altogether 77 oz. 9 dwts. It may be remembered in the Chinese court of the Great Exhibition of '62, and was taken amongst the loot at the Summer Palace at Pekin by one of Fane's cavalry. The cover is of gold and ornamented with the same work, studded with a few jewels. Mr. Waring suggests that the ornament of clouds is intended to represent the region to which the soul had flown, and is there guarded by the celestial dragons. As to this skull being a veritable relic, we fear the evidence is against it; it is so small that unless the quality of Confucius' brain was something super-excellent, it could not have contained a sufficient branular collection to represent the quantum of so great a mind. The writer can only say that taking his own hat as the standard, perhaps of an inferior organization, he found that the skull did not fill it by fully seven-eighths of an inch in the long, and half an inch in the small diameter.

OH DEAR!—The Frankfort Commonwealth says that during the siege of that town by Morgan, a handsome Union soldier went to the Capital Hotel, and was mistaken for a Confederate by the rebel ladies, who soon had him smothered, like Paddy's strawberries, only using kisses, instead of cream! They soon found their error, and what a fall was there, in their before smiling and beaming countenances! When he announced his presence in the parlor of the Capital it was to order that the rebel songs and music they were entertaining themselves and rebel friends with, to be stopped, or he would send them up to the fort.

AN INCIDENT.—Sometimes the sadness which generally prevails among the wounded and dying is banished by a ludicrous incident. An Irishman, who had been fatally wounded, was advised by the Surgeon to give his effects to a person near by. He pulled out his razor and asked, comically, "Will you send that home to the ould woman?" "Yes," said the delegate. Next came out his glasses, and then $17.75, of which one dollar was silver. But, when the delegate went to take them, he asked him to "Wait a bit. These doctors are not always right. Yese betther be afther seeing whether I'm going to die or not."

THE COCKADE CITY.—The rebels call Petersburg the "Cockade City." It appears that during the war of 1812, Mr. Madison called Petersburg "the cockade of the Union," in one of his annual messages, on account of the patriotic spirit displayed by its citizens. At the beginning of the present war the fighting fever was so strong it took hold of the women, who formed a mounted company of sixty, armed with carbines and revolvers.

FORGED CONFEDERATE BONDS.—A letter in the London Times city article states that a quantity of forged Confederate bonds of £20 each have been put in circulation in England. The writer says they were sent from New York and sold. One batch of $72,000 was sold in London to go to Holland.

☞ A Sweedish servant, Dr. Grusselback by name, claims to have discovered a process for producing torpor by the application of cold, and of resuscitating the subject after the lapse of almost any length of time. He brought a snake to life after he had been frozen ten years.

HONOR TO DEAD SOLDIERS.—In future, the remains of every soldier dying in the hospitals of the Washington Department will be accompanied to the grave by an escort of cavalry, and will be buried with military honors. A company of the 8th Illinois has been detailed to do this duty.

The Reception of Co. G, 17th (Ill.) Regiment.

[We copy with pleasure the following account of the reception of a returned Illinois regiment, with the speech of Welcome by our former respected townsman, ADINO PAGE, ESQ. It is taken from the Woodford Sentinel.]

The "Welcome Home" given by our citizens last Friday to the returned soldiers of the above company, was a complete success. Nothing occurred to mar the festivities of the occasion. At the hour specified, the citizens and guests assembled in front of the Court House, and, under the direction of the Marshal, formed procession, and marched to Powell's Orchard, where was spread upon tables all the delicacies of the season,—flowers to feast the eyes, and fruits, confectionery, pastry and all other kind of good things, to gladden the inner man. The ladies more than did themselves justice in the preparations made. We had expected to see a bountiful supply of edibles, but we were astonished at the quantity spread around.

After dinner, ADINO PAGE, Esq., delivered the following Oration in an eloquent and happy style:

THE ORATION.

SOLDIERS AND CITIZENS:—We meet to-day to engage in festivities in honor of the return to their home and friends, of the boys of Company G, of the 17th Regiment of Illinois Volunteers. This noble band of men comprising the youth, the flower, and the worth of our prairies, left the endearments of home, a little over three years ago; and for their country have marched on foot, with stately tread and bearing, over five thousand miles. They have fought in some of the hardest battles of the war, and have watered with their blood acres of ground in the cause of Constitutional Liberty. Have we not then abundant cause of thankfulness to those men? Can we do too much in evidence of the joy we feel at the return to our homes, and our arms of so many of the loved and brave?

I assure you, soldiers, there are none within the sound of my voice—none in the bounds of Woodford county—who do not from the inmost recesses of their heart, welcome home, and glory in honoring the members of your company and regiment.

Men of all parties have watched with pride and glorious satisfaction your deeds of valor; your flights of daring, and your sterling devotion to your country's Flag.

Prayers, earnest and feeling, have arisen from every hearth and fire-side in the land, for the success of the arms of the Union and the safe return of those dearest in her ranks.

The humblest of our citizens have prostrated themselves at the feet of the God of battles, in supplication for you, while the pillows of your wives and children have been watered with tears of painful apprehension for your welfare and safety.

On through dangers and bloody trials have you marched, from victory to victory. With firm and unflinching tread you have marched through this bloody, cruel war—at last to meet us here, and we have raised our eyes and hearts in thanks to heaven for your presence.

Fair hands and loving hearts have been employed in the arrangement of this public welcome—and their cup of joy will be filled if they shall feel that they have your confidence and esteem, and that you deem their humble offering here at all equal to your valor and renown as men, brothers and soldiers.

Would to God my friends that this day was unblotted by regrets. Our cup of pleasure might indeed be full, had none of your number fallen in the bloody strife from which you have safely returned.

The bleaching bones of the fields of Henry, of Donelson, of Shiloh and the hills and brakes of the vicinity of Vicksburg must needs tell their tale of sorrow here. And while we enjoy the festivities of welcome to the boys, let us drop a tear of pity to the memory of the noble dead, and extend our heartfelt sympathies to those of their friends who the most keenly feel their absence here. All honor to the gallant slain; they are gone—gone to join the mighty hosts of the worthy dead.

The bugle's wild and warlike blast
Shall muster them no more;
An army now might thunder past,
And they not heed its roar.
The starry flag 'neath which they fought,
In many a bloody day,
From their cold graves shall rouse them not,
For they have passed away.

Soldiers—I bid you welcome here. In the name of the citizens of Metamora, I bid you welcome. In the name of those that love you, I bid you welcome home.

☞ The following, which we clip from an old paper, replies in part to several queries by "Propeller," in a recent number.—Hingham Journal.

"WHAT I HAVE NEVER KNOWN.—I have never known a poor man to obtain a premium at a fair, where there was a rich man to compete with him.

"I have never known a naturally dishonest man to become morally honest by becoming a church member.

"I have never known a minister of the gospel to be called from a higher to a lower salary.

"I have never known a poor man respected because he was poor.

"I have never known a merchant to continue in conversation with a poor man when a rich man entered the store.

"I have never known a white-headed, hairy faced office hunter to be very conversant with a poor man after an election."

The Wizard.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 13, 1864.

Corp. Chas. W. Trask, of this town, a veteran of Co. B., 24th Mass. Regt., died July 2d, in hospital at Point of Rocks, Va., of diarrhoea. He was a son of Mr. Thomas Trask, and was 23 years old.

Mr. Gustavus Frothingham, of this town, a member of Co. L., 1st Mass. H. A., died at City Point, Va., from wounds received in battle before Petersburg, Va. He was a son of Richard S. and Eliza Frothingham.

Paul Osborn, of this town, a member of Co. A, 39th Mass. Vols., is wounded.

Chas. Peirce, who was drafted from this town last fall, and attached to the 18th Mass. Vols., has been missing since the Wilderness battles. He is supposed to be a prisoner.

THE NORTH AGAIN INVADED.

The Rebels are now making their annual invasion of Maryland. With all the instructive lessons of the last three years in reference to the rear of Washington, the back door, by way of the Shenandoah Valley, has been left invitingly open, and a formidable column of hungry rebels from Richmond have once more slipped into Maryland to gather the wheat and rye harvest that has been just gathered in the fertile Cumberland Valley to feed the starving army in Petersburg.

Apparently unobserved on our part, a strong column of rebels have marched Northward through the Shenandoah Valley into Maryland, compelling Sigel at Martinsburg, on the Potomac, to retreat, burning part of his stores. Menacing Pennsylvania from Hagerstown, they turned short round to the right and captured Frederick, driving thence a hastily collected Union force under Gen. Wallace, who on Saturday fought them nearly all day at the crossing of the Monocacy, but was ultimately defeated with heavy loss and driven back on the road toward Baltimore, the rebels slowly pursuing.

The news yesterday represented the rebels as having possession of the Philadelphia and Baltimore Railroad, where they had plundered and destroyed two full passenger trains. The engineers of both escaped, one, however, was robbed of his money and clothing, except his shirt and pants. The fireman was shot dead. The mail on the early train was taken from the car before the passengers, and divided among the captors. The conductors were robbed of their money and watches. The rebels fired the trains; also the freight house at Magnolia, which was consumed. One of the trains was fired, the engine reversed and started for Gunpowder bridge for the purpose of setting it on fire.

The rebels also got possession of the wires at Magnolia, about fourteen miles from Baltimore, and intercepted a large number of dispatches, among them one from Stanton to Gen. Cadwallader, and consequently cutting off the communications with Washington for a time. It is also reported that they have burnt the residences of Gov. Bradford, within three miles of Baltimore, Gen. Cadwallader's at Magnolia, and F. P. Blair's near Clogget Farm.

The number of the raiders is variously estimated at from 20,000 to 40,000. That this raid will end like all their former raids, we have no doubt. Armed men are springing up as if from the ground. Gen. Hunter is on their track, closely following them up, and the 18th Veteran Army Corps, from Petersburg, has arrived at Baltimore, insuring protection to that city and Washington.

Pic-Nic.—The Band of Hope, of this town, which is composed of some hundreds of youths and misses, who have signed a temperance pledge, had a very pleasant gathering at Stanley's Grove, Beverly, last Wednesday afternoon.—Nearly the whole of the party were carried to and from the grove in the horse cars, it taking some half dozen of the very largest cars, including the mammoth "Excursionist," drawn by six white horses, to do it. On arriving at the shady retreat, the children soon found means enough at hand to enjoy themselves, by swinging, singing, playing Copenhagen, and listening to remarks of older heads. A bountiful collation was finally served up, to which was done ample justice by hundreds of hungry little mouths, after which the time was whiled away in various amusements, till the sun had nearly disappeared, when the juveniles and their anxious mammas returned, quite refreshed with their brief sojourn in the leafy woods.

Episcopal Services.—By reference to a special notice in another part of the paper, it will be seen that once more divine services, according to the order of the Protestant Episcopal Church, will be held at Town Hall, in this place, next Sunday evening, commencing at 6 3-4 o'clock. We learn that attendance at previous services has been very encouraging, and we doubt not that it will be so this time.

CHARLES W. TRASK.

It becomes our melancholy duty to record the departure of another of our brave soldiers. Mr. Trask was a young man of excellent morals, intelligent and patriotic. He re-enlisted as a veteran, after having served three years in the 24th Massachusetts, which was under the command of our townsman, Colonel Francis A. Osborn. In this regiment he was made a corporal. He was a graduate of the Peabody High School, where he distinguished himself not only for good scholarship, but for exemplary deportment. He was afterwards employed as salesman in the Protective Union Store, and then enlisted in the 24th. It appears from letters from his comrades in the regiment that he was there much esteemed. One of them writes that "Charley was loved by all who knew him, as he always did his duty nobly and willingly; and all the regiment will miss him, as all loved him."

He leaves a young wife to mourn his loss. It was not his fortune to die by the hands of the enemy in battle, but by the ravages of disease. He died at the 10th Army Corps Hospital, on the 2d day of the present month, at "Point of Rocks," Va., of bowel complaint. He there sleeps a soldier's sleep by the side of one of his comrades from Salem, of the 23d Massachusetts, Corp. Wm. Townsend, who died about the same time. Honor to their memory.

Drought.—Vegetation in this vicinity is suffering badly for want of rain. Corn has begun to show its effects, though not so much as potatoes, which will not produce half a crop unless we have copious rains in a few days. Green pease are rapidly leaving the market—the vines being most everywhere destroyed by the drought. The hay crop has been a little less than it was last year—though the weather being so much better for making than then, perhaps as much will be really saved.

First Mass. Heavy Artillery.—The three years' term of service of this regiment expired on the 5th inst. There being but about 240 men of the regiment left for duty, and most of these re-enlisted, it is not probable that those whose time is out will return in a body. Many of them have already left the front and are awaiting transportation in Washington and New York.

Military.—Company C, of the 5th Regiment of our State militia, is endeavoring to recruit for a new campaign under the call for 100 [illegible] We hear that Capt. Daniels and Lieutenants Barnes and Thompson are ready to accompany them. At last accounts they had 43 recruits, with a good prospect of filling up.

New York Riot.—The damages done by the mob in the great conscription riot have been assumed by the County of New York. We observe by the New York press that proposals are published for a loan to meet these damages, under the head of "$250,000 of Riot Damages Indemnity Bond No. 2."

☞ In looking over the list of offers for the new seventy-five million loan, we notice only the following from this vicinity: First National Bank, Salem, $50,000 at 4 per cent. premium; $40,000 at 5 per cent.; $40,000 at 6 per cent.; $20,000 at 6 1-2 per cent. City Bank, Lynn, $20,000 at 3 1-2 per cent.; $20,000 at 5 1-8 per cent.; $20,000 at 5 1-4 per cent. John H. Nichols, Salem, $12,500 at 6 per cent.; $12,500 at 7 per cent. The offers range all the way from par to 10 per cent. premium. The average is about 4 per cent.

☞ The man who has not partaken of Hathaway's beans is not expected to appreciate the following "pome:"

J. Hath-a-way, a way none other hath,
Of baking beans, for Papist, Jew, or Quaker;
And on the staff he kneads we walk life's path,
Thanking our stars that Hath'way is a baker.

J. Hathaway! long may thy way
Be free from eating cares, from debts and duns,
And children's children long rise up and say,
"We bless thee, Hathaway, for thy buns."

H. O., Esq.

☞ A party of Mosby's gang came within four miles of Washington on Friday and broke up a picnic party after dancing with the ladies and stealing the refreshments. None of the picnic party were taken prisoners.

☞ Gen. Hinks having resigned his position in the Army of the Potomac on account of disability, has reported to the War Department, and will probably be assigned to duty in Washington.

☞ We see that insurance schemes are increasing. Life and Limb Insurance Companies are coming into vogue. What next?

☞ A cargo of human bones, shipped from Genoa, have been seized at Hull, England. It is supposed that a large trade is carried on secretly in this kind of goods. The bones have probably been used to make knife-handles, tooth-picks, and the like.

LETTER FROM WASHINGTON.

Washington, D. C., July 8, 1864.

Adjournment of Congress — Incidents Thereat — Special Income Tax — Democratic Union Association — Celebration of the Fourth — A Negro Pic-nic — Disgust of the "poor white trash" — The new Secretary of the Treasury — Raid into Maryland, etc.

My Dear Wizard,—I do not know that your readers will grieve at the adjournment of Congress, and yet they will miss the usual dispatch in the morning papers devoted to its proceedings, which grew particularly interesting while the Tax and Enrollment Bills were under consideration. Since those important measures passed I presume the people in most communities are alert to see how they can "raise the wind" to pay the one and raise volunteers to avoid a draft in the other. The act for the purpose of raising a fund with which to pay bounties provides for the levying and collecting on the first of October next of a tax of five per cent. on all incomes over $600 for the year ending December 31st, 1863. This has seemed a very harsh measure to some at first sight, but upon more careful consideration its features assume a milder aspect. If bounties are to be paid the money to pay them must be forthcoming, and as a tax on the incomes of this year could not be collected in season for the purpose there would seem to be no other way than to revert to last year, a statement of whose income is already in the hands of the assessors. It must be remembered that this tax is only for one year, and not a continuing one, and it can make little difference to the tax payer whether it be assessed upon last year's income or this.

The hour previously fixed for the adjournment of Congress was 12 o'clock, M. of the 4th. The galleries during the forenoon were filled with spectators, but when the hand of the clock in the House reached the appointed hour there were still a number of unfinished details on hand, when suddenly the minute hand changed its base by a retrograde movement in imitation of Sigel's "masterly retreats," and lo! some ten minutes were left for business. A member rose to call the clock to order, but the speaker decided that it was always in order so long as it obeyed the will of the House. A resolution came from the Senate extending the time for adjournment ten minutes, which was concurred in, and as the House had finished its business several modes were proposed to fill up the interim. A Democratic member proposed the reading of one of Jefferson's messages, whereupon a Republican member suggested as an amendment that some extracts be read from Jefferson's "Notes on Virginia." Finally it was agreed that the Clerk should read the Declaration of Independence, which he very appropriately did, and at half-past twelve the Speaker rose, and after a few brief but eloquet and pertinent remarks, declared the body over which he has so ably presided adjourned sine die. Whatever history shall decide as to the wisdom of the legislation of the last session, it has certainly had to deal with as grave responsibilities as ever rested upon any legislative body.

A meeting of the Democratic Union Association of this city had been announced to take place in the grounds south of the Capitol immediately upon the adjournment, and as I was passing through the grounds I noticed "Sunset" Cox of Ohio, addressing a very meagre crowd of kindred spirits. His remarks consisted of a tirade against the arbitrary acts of the present administration and party in power, but as he said nothing calculated or intended to help the great cause which all loyal men have so much at heart, I soon left the meeting, which was a dead failure, to listen to drowning men catching at straws to its heart's content.

The "glorious Fourth" was observed here in a very quiet manner, but I doubt not as much enjoyment was thus secured as would have been by a more formal and public celebration. There were picnics of Sunday schools and appropriate exercises at several of the hospitals, while large numbers availed themselves of the opportunity to take a pleasant excursion down the Potomac, past Mount Vernon to Glymont, where several trips were made by steamers well adapted for the purpose. The Sunday Schools of the colored children of the District had a pic-nic on the grounds attached to the White House, which scandalous event occasioned much talk and gave mortal offense to sundry persons who have more conceit than brains. The next day I heard a driver on a sheep car, in conversation with some comrades, denouncing the thing as horrible, and wondering "what we would come to next." I dared to intrude a remark, and asked if the children were not neatly dressed and well behaved.—They said yes, but "niggers" must be kept in their places or they would think themselves as good as white people. I replied that as it was admitted they were well behaved I thought thay were already a great deal better than those who complained of them, and that a Sunday school celebration on the 4th of July by colored children or white ones was a better way of spending the day than I believed those that I was addressing had adopted. The driver, aforesaid, grew exceeding wroth, and told me of some Federal officers (poor fools!) who got out of his car to walk around the President's house rather than sully their pure little souls by riding past a colored pic-nic.

Mr. Fessenden is now immersed in the duties of Secretary of the Treasury, and I believe he has, and deserves, as much confidence, in his new unsought position as any man in the country; and, for myself, I do not regret the change that has been made, in a financial point of view, at least. From all I can learn I believe Mr. Chase was greatly disappointed at the acceptance of his resignation, for he had tendered it several times before, when something crossed his purposes, but the President was decided, and all efforts to induce him to urge the Secretary to withdraw his resignation were in vain.

You know more than I could tell you of the raid or invasion on the upper Potomac. There is no excitement whatever in Washington, but troops and batteries have been quietly moving to points which I cannot give, to which we are so used that it hardly elicits a remark.

Yours, etc., Delta.

☞ Dr. Sichel of Paris says that many cases of amaurosis are due to the use of tobacco, and that some have been cured by abandoning the practice and adopting an antiphlogistic and derivative regimen.

☞ It is affirmed that a ten pound mud turtle, caught not long ago in the town of Rochester, Mass., laid fifty-nine eggs seven hours after its head was severed from its body.

WAR CORRESPONDENCE.

Fort Woodruff, near Portsmouth, Va.,
Camp 3d Bat., 2d Mass. Art'y, July 2, 1864.

Dear Wizard,—The grand contest now waging, with Richmond as the object and upon which are perhaps finally at stake such mighty interests, is so absorbing public attention that anything from the seat of war not immediately in that vicinity, can at best find but an indifferent hearing. Yet is the Army of the Union, wherever or however engaged, working out the great problem of Liberty, it being not less true of the Union host than of the Universe, that "All are but parts of one tremendous whole."

Honor shall be most to those who resist the shock of decisive battle and with the tide of their blood roll back the boastful legions of the foe—the humbler occupants of less contested ground must be content with humbler praise.

Meanwhile what is constituting the defence of places so important as Norfolk and Portsmouth, and the neighboring Navy Yard (three years ago the greatest in the United States,) in the possible event of a rebel raid thither, is a question not wholly without interest. Norfolk, formerly known in all the school geographies as the chief commercial port of Virginia, is even so now, though its commerce at the present time, saving what relates to the war, is but a trifle to what it was. Before the outbreak of this Rebellion the city was the market for all farmers or producers within a radius of some forty miles. In the season of early vegetables the spectacle at the wharves is said to have been a scene of almost incredible abundance. Though six lines of steamers were constantly running—one to Boston, two to New York, one to Philadelphia and two to Baltimore—freighted with strawberries, peas, onions, radishes, lettuce, whatever the season for the time being was producing, yet were the wharves heaped with the produce of eager marketers waiting in vain for transportation. All this is now changed. The war has essentially impaired the cultivation of the soil, while the expense in the way of sundry little taxes has nearly put an end to this once flourishing branch of trade. A few oyster craft you see scudding in and out of the harbor and an occasional vessel with stores and goods from some Northern city—all else are steam tugs, steamboats, gunboats, transports, etc., meaning war, war, and that continually.

The present defences of Norfolk and Portsmouth are what were, prior to the evacuation of "Getty's Lane," called the "Interior Line of Defence." "Getty's Lane," which included four forts and numerous redoubts or redans with intermediate breastworks, was a substantial line of works and extended some eight miles from the western branch of the Elizabeth semicircularly southward round the two cities and at a distance from them of from three to four miles. At the opening of this campaign the Government could ill spare the troops necessary to garrison these works, and they were accordingly abandoned, and the present line occupied. This (now the Exterior line) extends some four miles, covering the cities on the south, from a creek (Scott's creek) of the Elizabeth to what is known as the "Entrenched Camp" built by the rebels on the northeast side of Norfolk. With the one now building this line comprehends five forts—Woodruff, Hazlitt, Cushing, O'Rourke and the one not yet named or built, the forts being connected by a breastwork from which project redans at intervals of eighth or quarter a mile, each redan mounting three guns, field or siege pieces. The forts mount from four to fourteen guns each, 42 and 100 pounders. The works (originally built in part by the rebels) were in wretched condition when occupied as the front line last April, but by the constant toil of a small army of contrabands in the past three months they now approach to the respectability of very fair fortifications. To hold these works there is a force, numbering all told, perhaps, 1500 men, not more—the 3d Battalion (Cos. K, M, I and L,) of the 2d Mass Artillery, the 1st Pa. Light Battery, the 3d N. Y. and a section of the 8th N. Y. Battery, two or three companies of the 13th N. Y. Heavy Artillery, the 38th U. S. (colored) Infantry and the quasi regiment of "Loyal Virginians." Not to disparage these bodies of troops individually or as a collective body, one is nevertheless, looking to the situation, constrained to say that he would not give much for the defences of Norfolk and Portsmouth, if possibly the rebels should of a sudden be able to spare a few of their old regiments to come dashing against them. For in the first place the rebs would meet troops who as yet have seen little or no fighting, and in the next place they would find in the cities many friends to aid and comfort them. Doubtless there need be but little apprehension of this sort. The entertainments which the gallant Grant and his associates are giving the enemies of the country in other quarters render the probability of an attack on Norfolk and Portsmouth very small.

While the ink with which the above was written is scarcely dry, an order comes removing the 1st Pa. and 3d N. Y. Batteries, the 38th U. S. (colored) Regiment and the "Loyal Virginians" Petersburgward, and rumors are extant that the balance of the troops hereabouts are to move in a similar direction and their place supplied with "Hundred Days' Men." As however, such rumors are the prevailing incidents of camp, but little heed is given them till they ripen into facts.

The weather here in the last few weeks has been extremely warm, ranging from 90° to 100° in the shade, with little or no rain. Still the crops, so far as they are here being raised, are promising well—the corn in particular shooting up at a velocity and with a vigor quite surprising to Yankee visions. You can see it grow and hear it too. It talks its way up. But how many a field in Virginia now goes unplanted! How many a one now bristles with bayonets and is broken with ditch and rampart that once bore no other than the signs of peaceful husbandry! Even in this County of Norfolk and in this part of it where there has been so much less of encounter and military occupation, we can hardly travel a half mile without meeting with the unmistakable traces and preparations of war. In the conditions of the land, field and forest, in the character of the business in street and harbor, in the habits, conversations and looks of the people, all things seem to be subordinated to this one terrible occupation—War. Poor Old Dominion! retribution has surely overtaken thee. If it be true that "—— the most unwise

Will learn their folly when they pay the price,"

then indeed, has this State come to the full knowledge of the Folly that must ever blacken her name, how white soever be the fair name of her greatest and noblest son—Washington.

A. A.

THE NAVAL COMBAT.

As the facts come out relating to the combat between the Kearsarge and the Alabama, the event grows in importance; the display of American valor and skill is seen to be worthy of a rare opportunity and prove that the right men were in the right place; and the story will live forever in the annals of naval fights. Even by English showing, the work done by the Kearsarge is equal to any thing in the naval line in the past of our country.

When the Monitor met and beat the monster of the Merrimack, after her sullen, dogged, savage mere butting and murdering work on the Congress and the Cumberland, the British mind seemed to go mad as it spent itself through its daily, weekly, monthly and quarterly organs. In reality, this Monitor work was but a single, extempore, intensely indignant flash of the genius of Jonathan, providentially roused up to meet a pressing exigency; and to show to the naval bullying powers of the Old World what he can do on a pinch in the work of defending his own harbors from foreign insult.—The monitors, for other purposes, for instance, to use against fortifications, have not answered public expectation; and much of the English writing about them was erroneous.

The work done by the Kearsarge is a different affair altogether as a scene of war. The combat went on with the fairness of a ring fight. On the one side was a Frenchman ready to pour in to the American if the latter got within the marine distance, and who would do it with a will; and close by was a John Bull ready in an emergency and with a will to do all she could for the Alabama; and there lay the single handed Kearsarge, with the Washington flag above her. Such were the accompaniments of the fight. The London Times gives the result thus:—"At the distance of a mile, never less than a quarter of a mile, a formidable ship, the terror of American commerce, well armed, well manned, well handled, is sent to the bottom in an hour;" the Times repeats, "exactly in an hour;" and then it says, "this is the pace at which our naval engagements will be fought in future."

But let this American event that looms up so magnificently before the public mind of the world—for wherever there is a navy there will go the fame of this action—be placed in its true light. The Alabama was formidable, a terror to American commerce because British hands built her and armed her, and mostly manned her. Never was this vessel in a rebel port. The Lairds built her and built also her tender the Deerhound; she sailed from British ports with the intent to prey on American commerce; she received from British hands her arms that enabled her to do it; she was an outfit of the British aristocracy. It was this base business that enabled the Alabama to be the terror—not of the Federal navy, the London Times lies like a dog when it says this—not of our naval heroes, not one of whom ever run but towards her,—but of traders, of unarmed merchantmen, of the noble-hearted, unprotected sailer; and because Capt. Semmes triumphed over such antagonists did British Toryism exult, crown him a hero, and award him ovations. To the last the Alabama was a pet of the British. "The best practice," we read in the Times, "of the fight, generally on board the Alabama, was shown by the gunners who had been trained on board the Excellent in Portsmouth harbor." She was substantially a British concern. And after the work of Sunday, John Bull, pretty much as Hood's Old Bachelor, in his "curious dream" that Miss Susan Bates was Mistress Mogg, keeps exclaiming—

What d'ye think of that, my Cat?
What d'ye think of that, my Dog?

is now groaning and grumbling that so much British sympathy and material aid should have come to grief. He would have the Alabama still live and capture, plunder and destroy unarmed merchantmen. There it is, in British journals; there is the damning record of the years of exultation at the fame of Semmes, and there is now the record of the wail of disappointment. It is characteristic of that Thersites of a journal, the London Times, to snap and snarl at Semmes for having had the indiscretion to fight, and for the Liverpool Post to characterize his crew of British trained gunners as "the rag tag and bob-tail of the docks."

These British things have got to stand in all time in the foreground of this magnificent spectacle of a sea battle. There is no need of magnifying them an iota. Let the picture be reversed. Suppose the times of old Forty-Five rebellion were to reappear; or that a new Cromwell should divide ALL England in the havoc of civil war; suppose that the real Government could keep every port and harbor closed, where a ship could live, yet that the rebels should succeed in coming over here, enlisting our merchants in their cause, and should actually destroy five millions of British shipping. What would these scamps of the Lairds say as the smoke of their ships curled over the sea?

But thanks to a good Providence, American skill and American labor shine where of all places in the wide world an American who loves his country would have them shine, right in British seas. The Alabama's Nemesis was so near British enemies of the American Union, that they could almost see the flaming eyeballs and hear the sound of the thunder. This is just as it should have been. It is just the result there would be on every field were military fitness to be the rule of military or naval position. It was Admiral Foote's correct judgment that selected Capt. Winslow to go to the West, and it was his recognition of cool, energetic, skilful service there that pressed him for the Kearsarge. It was not party, it was country that was the ground of the selection, and the whole country rejoices at the result of this naval contest.—Boston Post.

☞ A singular incident is related of Sergt. Major Polly, of the 10th Mass. Volunteers.—A day or two before the regiment left for home while lying in the trenches before Petersburg, he carved with his knife upon a wooden headboard, similar to those placed at soldiers' graves, the words: "Sergt. Major George F. Polly, 10th Mass. Vols, killed June—1864," remarking to the Colonel, "I guess I'll leave the day blank." The next day he was instantly killed by a rebel shell which struck him in the breast, tearing his body to pieces, Col. Parsons, who was standing near by, narrowly escaping. He was buried on the field, and the same headboard that he had lettered now marks his grave. He was not expecting to return with his regiment, as he had re-enlisted.

☞ A London compositor has lost his life by touching a boil on his face with his fingers, when they were covered with dust from new type.

MILITARY.

Gen. Hancock has written a letter accepting the sword voted him at the St. Louis Sanitary Fair. He directs the sword to be sent to his wife, who is a resident of St. Louis.

The 14th Mass. Battery have seen some very hard service since leaving Boston. Two men have been killed and six wounded, and some thirty are on the sick list from excessive fatigue. In the present campaign the Battery has marched 233 miles, been in action 17 times, and expended 2152 rounds of ammunition. During this time they have lost 55 horses by the enemy's fire or by exhaustion.

Paymaster General Andrews has issued a circular saying that hundred days' militia are to be paid from the day of muster into the service of the United States at the same rate as other volunteer infantry.

Richmond papers of the 4th, say that Grant has sent the Fifth Army Corps into Maryland.

Some idea of our losses in the last two months campaign, may be derived from the following returns of different regiments:

In the 25th Regiment during the two months ending July 1, the loss has been as follows:—4 officers killed, 17 wounded, and 2 missing; 61 enlisted men killed, 284 wounded, 120 missing—total 488.

The loss of the 57th in the same time has been 3 officers killed, 14 wounded, 1 missing; 114 enlisted men killed, 264 wounded, 55 missing—total 451.

In the 22d Regiment, 2 officers have been killed and 2 wounded; 36 enlisted men killed, 146 wounded, 15 missing—total 201. The total number of prisoners taken by the regiment is 189. In the engagement of May 8th a portion of the regiment took more prisoners than they had men engaged, and the colors of the 6th Alabama Infantry, which were taken by Capt. Benjamin Davis.

The 32d has lost 50 killed, 192 wounded and 15 missing—total 257.

Since the 30th of May, the 16th Regiment has lost 3 officers killed, and 4 wounded; 11 enlisted men killed, 89 wounded, 8 missing—total 115.

A recent order from the Provost Marshal-General's office directs that drafted persons be allowed transportation to the place of rendezvous, and persons discharged at that place shall be allowed transportation home.

Death of Col. Perley Putnam.—The venerable Col. Perley Putnam, whose vigor, activity, and constant presence among his fellow citizens scarcely enabled them to realize his advanced age, died on Monday night in his 86th year. Until within a week of his death he was not confined to his house, and there were few in the community more universally known. He was always a very useful and energetic citizen. Under the town government he held various offices and was for several years chairman of the board of Selectmen. Under the City Charter he has been during nearly its whole existence, with a brief interval and until within two or three years past, the Commissioner of Streets, the duties of which office he performed with such efficiency and acceptance as to call forth public commendations from every Mayor under whom he served. For a long series of years he was an officer of the Customs for this port, retaining his position under several different administrations.

He was the first Captain of the Salem Mechanic Light Infantry, a company formed in 1807; and at the celebration of the 50th anniversary, in 1857, commanded the veterans in person. He was elected Major in 1810, and and promoted to Lieut. Col. in 1811. In the war of 1812 he was a Major in Col. Loring's (48th) U. S. Regiment, and was in command at Eastport, Me., when the little garrison was obliged to capitulate to an overwhelming British force.

Col. Putnam was also one of the original proprietors of the Universalist Church, and one of the original members of the Salem Charitable Mechanic Association, of which latter institution he was a Trustee in 1820, '21 and '22, and President from 1841 to 1844 inclusive.

His long and active life presents a remarkable instance of vigorous endurance and continued usefulness, and there is scarcely a man in the community who would be more generally missed by all classes of our citizens.—Observer.

☞ We have the authority of a leading dry goods dealer for stating that an association of ladies has been formed in this city, for the purpose of taking the places as clerks in the stores of such young men as enlist under the hundred days' call, holding the places for them till their return, and having the salaries paid over to them. It is to be presumed that this patriotic and public spirited movement of the young ladies, in relieving the young gentlemen from all care as to their support and the resumption of their business, will be adopted by them in a spirit of equal patriotism.—Gaz.

☞ In London, lately, a tradesman, on going to his bedroom, was somewhat astonished to see the legs and feet of a woman protruding from beneath his bed. Horrified at the spectacle, he called upon his wife, who, making her way to the room, promptly dragged the owner of the legs and feet out into the light. "Any ornaments for your fire-stove, ma'am?" said the intruder, coolly. The finale was in a jail.

☞ Thousands of acres of soil are annually planted to flowers in France and Italy, for making perfume alone. A single grower in Southern France sells annually 60,000 pounds rose flowers, 30,000 pounds each of jasmine and tuberose, 40,000 pounds of violet blossoms, besides thousands of pounds of mint, thyme, rosemary, etc., and he is but one of hundreds engaged in this branch of horticulture.

☞ An Association has been formed in London called the Spirit Power Institute, for the purpose of propagating Spiritualist opinions.

☞ Some English postmen, who have long distances to travel, are using velocipedes to assist them in their labors.

☞ Van Amburgh's Pol
on ice cream and frosted c

☞ There was £180 in the Alabama when she sun

☞ The birth of a ch at Bangor that weighed nin

☞ Miss Olympia Brow stalled pastor of the Univ in Weymouth in this State.

☞ "Violet Vane" ad
to cut short their skirts.
is certainly an expensive n

☞ A jealous husband seeing his wife in a saloon man, took the law into and shot him dead.

☞ The McClellan men are to hold a mass meeti prospects of their favorite a Convention.

☞ Nearly a thousand A have been sold the past y shipping merchants and sail names and new flags.

☞ A pine tree lately farm of Mr. Daniel Andrew contained, on actual measu cords and one quarter of fir

☞ A rebel pair of sho at Cloyd's Mountain, the so of which were of wood, an of badly tanned leather n soles with large tacks.

☞ The speculators com ing up the onions as soon they were being sent to th
the benefit of their health.
to be provided with muske sacks

☞ Mrs. Lincoln's shop is described as a dress of white small pattern checker long and trimmed with shawl of the same material ly from the lady's shoulders net, of white Tuscan, was the same colored silk as shawl.

☞ Semmes says he wa five times after he had stru and while the Alabama was condition. Nobody will cre ment of the pirate, but who that humanity demanded Winslow that he should the fire as long as a vestige was to be seen, or a man ab face of the water. Pirates craft have no right on the b ocean—they belong deep d channel.

☞ A Hindoo recently inquir employee of one of the new In what he should do to obtain relie series of misfortunes by which he flicted—prayers to his gods having
He at once advised that the new had recently come among them, th should be appeased by the usua ings. Accordingly flowers, gh were prepared, and the man took the line waiting for the god. D locomotive, the offering was p
the man crushed to death.

Gloves, Mitts, &c.—We woul tention of our Lady readers to Gloves, Mitts, etc., of our neighb
PEABODY, 220 Essex Street.
usually large stock of the most de at very low prices. In Gloves, stock of Paris Kids, Silk Kid F
Thread, etc—in Ladies', Misses', a sizes. In Mitts, Ladies', Misses' a sizes, in Mohair and Lace, at th prices. As his stock in this depart large, he is disposed to offer so gains, in order to close them all season.

Self-Sealing Air-Tight Ca
S. Buffum, of this town, has case, which combines all the adv wooden receptacle with those of and yet avoids the disadvanta
They have been used with great bodies placed in them have been perfect preservation after having ported over a thousand miles.
having deceased friends at the sea are invaluable. They come a prices, are light and durable, and air-tight.

☞ As the Confederates never were never able to build an effecti sel, and therefore never had any for issuing a naval commission,
Semmes can scarcely be called a ca
Confederate service. Nevertheless tled to his rank as captain of the tral Service, in which character disgracefully whipped off Cherbou of many spectators.

Military Kitchen Garden.—
nooga there is a garden of one h planted with all kinds of veget sick and wounded soldiers in that for Gen. Sherman's army. The es lue of its products this year is $20 garden is planted and taken care of itary and Christian Commissions.

Not Born to be Drowned.—"H born to be hanged will never be may find an exemplification in case the corsair. In addition to his wat ence in the Cherbourg roadstead, w corded in the story of the sinking o
brig Somers, that Semmes narrowl watery grave on that occasion.

Danvers.—The citizens of this especially those liable to draft, ha been engaged in efforts similar to thos for raising men; and these are so fa that money enough has been raised sufficient number of men to fill th quota under a call of 300,000.

TANT-GENERAL SCHOUYLER has a letter, exposing at some length, urdity of the frequent charges the military authorities of the n account of errors in the credits its belonging to various towns. tter details some most interesting regard to the enlistment and e of men to fill the quota of sub-, and closes with excellent ad- own authorities, as to the proper for the evils of our present re- system.

e course of his letter General r quotes the following case:—

w how easy it is to cheat, I will relate stance that happened only the day be- erday. Two men belonging to Tops- isted for that town in Lieutenant office, who is himself a citizen of . They were mustered in—one for and one for Tewksbury. The men s knew nothing of the change. Lieut. investigated the matter, and it was that the clerk in his office, for one dollars paid him, made out fraudulent t papers. I reported the case to larke; and, as the rolls had not been d to Washington, the men were cred- psfield, where they belonged.

Episcopal Services.

Service, according to the order of the t Episcopal Church, will be held in n Hall, on SUNDAY Evening next, ing at ½ before 7 o'clock. The Rector Church, Salem, will officiate. These are free, and all persons interested are tely invited to attend.
3th, 1864.

MBRELLAS—Bargains at PEABODY'S

-A nice Stock at PEABODY'S.

MBRELLAS—Bargains at PEABODY'S

GARMENT marked in plain figures, at & Co's One Price Clothing House, 14 ock Square, Boston.

NTS made to order at Bennett & Co.'s ce Clothing House, 14 and 15 Dock Boston.

CLOTHING — largest stock — greatest at Bennett & Co.'s One Price Clothing 4 and 15 Dock Square, Boston.

oods received for LEWANDO'S FRENCH USE. M. E. CRANE. tf

sit OSBORNE'S Store, and look at the variety of new styles in HATS and 1 Essex street.

our Hats and Caps at 240.

ent's Furnishing Goods, 240 is the place he latest styles best goods, at the lowest

your boys at 240 and save your s the time to clothe your Boys, and e place to find the Goods.

BOYS WANTED to learn the Cloth- ness at
F. S. PECK'S, 240 Essex street.

O THE YOUNG OR OLD, or Female, If you have been suffering abit indulged in by the YOUTH OF SEXES, Which causes so many alarm- ptoms. It unfits them for Marriage, the GREATEST EVIL which can befall WOMAN.

mptoms enumerated in Advertisement, you are a sufferer, cut out the Adver- , and send for it at once. Delays are us. Ask for Helmbold's, take no other. aranted.

e of Counterfeits and Imitations.

otice to Gas Consumers.

Office of the Salem Gas Light Co.,
188 Essex Street, Salem, July 1, 1864.

d after July 1, and until further notice, the Gas will be FOUR DOLLARS per 1000 cubic 10 per cent. discount when paid within ten esentation of bill.
w. EDWARD BROWN, Treas'r.

. OF WIZARD.—Dear Sir,—With your per- wish to say to the readers of your paper that d, by return mail, to all who wish it (free), a ith full directions for making and using a sim- able Balm, that will effectually remove, in Pimples, Blotches, Tan, Freckles, and all Im- f the Skin, leaving the same soft, clear, smooth tiful.

so mail free to those having Bald Heads, or es, simple directions and information that will m to start a full growth of Luxuriant Hair, , or Moustache, in less than thirty days.

plications answered by return mail without Respectfully yours,
THOS. F. CHAPMAN, Chemist,
n 831 Broadway, New York.

Marriages.

alem, July 3d, by Rev. Mr. Spaulding, lando R. Millett to Miss Louisa F., r of the late James B. Sawyer.

y Joseph G. Waters, Esq., Mr. George of Danvers, to Miss Lizzie W. Perley, n.

y Rev. Mr. Spaulding, Mr. George H. ls to Miss Maria Arrington.

by Rev. Charles Ray Palmer, Mr Sam- Perkins of Topsfield, to Miss Katie of Salem

orth Andover, by Rev. Mr. Vinal, Mr. Hyde of South Danvers, to Miss Frances lace of Danvers.

Deaths.

is town, July 11th, Arthur Perry, only Daniel P. and Addie Grosvenor, 3 mos

alem, July 3d, Mary, daughter of Mr. h Murphy, 14 years; 4th, Col. Perley , 85 years 9 mos 18 days; Ann, wife of lorocks; 5th, John, son of Thomas and adigan, 2 yrs 9 mos; 10th, Mrs. Olivia, Mr. Edward J. Warren, 33 yrs 10 mos; iss Eliza Gray, 68 yrs 10 mos.

arblehead, June 28th, Betsey Roads, 73 30th, Eliza, widow of the late Samuel d, 62 years 7 mos; July 1, Samuel A. 57 yrs 11 mos.

ssex, June 27, Mr. F. Orville Story, 25 months.

ew York, Gen. George P. Morris, well for many years as an editor of the New Home Journal, and the author of the song, "Woodman spare that tree."

altimore, a colored woman named Phoebe 16 years.

harlottestown, PEI, June 26, after a short ful illness, Joseph R. Were, Esq., 78 rmerly of Salem.

WHITE BAREGE!

WHITE CREPE MARETZ,
WHITE ALPACCA,
SHIRRED MUSLINS,
TUCKED MUSLINS,
WHITE GOODS of every description.

—For sale by—

THOMAS W. DOWNING & CO.
jy13 179 Essex Street.

LYON'S KATHAIRON.

Kathairon is from the Greek word "Kathro," or "Kathairo," signifying to cleanse, rejuvenate and restore. This article is what its name signifies. For preserving, restoring and beautifying the human hair it is the most remarkable preparation in the world. It is again owned and put up by the original proprietor, and is now made with the same care, skill and attention which gave it a sale of over one million bottles per annum.

It is a most delightful Hair Dressing.
It eradicates scurf and dandruff.
It keeps the head cool and clean.
It makes the hair rich, soft and glossy.
It prevents the hair from falling off and turning [gray.
It restores hair upon bald heads.

Any lady or gentleman who values a beautiful head of hair should use Lyon's Kathairon. It is known and used throughout the civilized world. Sold by all respectable dealers.

DEMAS S. BARNES, & CO., New-York.

HAGAN'S MAGNOLIA BALM.

This is the most delightful and extraordinary article ever discovered. It changes the sun burnt face and hands to a pearly satin texture of ravishing beauty, imparting the marble purity of youth, and the distingue appearance so inviting in the city belle of fashion. It removes tan, freckles, pimples and roughness from the skin, leaving the complexion fresh, transparent and smooth. It contains no material injurious to the skin. Patronized by Actresses and Opera Singers. It is what every lady should have. Sold everywhere.

Prepared by W. E. HAGAN, Troy N. Y.
Address all orders to
DEMAS S. BARNES, & CO., New-York.

HEIMSTREET'S
INIMITABLE HAIR RESTORATIVE.
NOT A DYE,

But restores gray hair to its original color, by supplying the capillary tubes with natural sustenance, impaired by age or disease. All instantaneous dyes are composed of lunar caustic, destroying the vitality and beauty of the hair, and afford of themselves no dressing. Heimstreet's Inimitable Coloring not only restores hair to its natural color by an easy process,

Luxuriant Beauty,

promotes its growth, prevents its falling off, eradicates dandruff, and imparts health and pleasantness to the head. It has stood the test of time, being the original Hair Coloring, and is constantly increasing in favor. Used by both gentlemen and ladies. It is sold by all respectable dealers, or can be procured by them of the commercial agents, D. S. BARNES & CO., 202 Broadway, New York. Two sizes, 50 cents and $1.

MEXICAN MUSTANG LINIMENT.

The parties in St Louis and Cincinnati, who have been Counterfeiting the Mustang Liniment under pretense of proprietorship, have been thoroughly estoped by the Courts. To guard against further imposition, I have procured from the U. States Treasury, a private steel plate revenue stamp, which is placed over the top of each bottle. Each stamp bears the fac simile of my Signature, and without which the article is a Counterfeit, dangerous and worthless imitation. Examine every bottle. This Liniment has been in use and growing in favor for many years. There hardly exists a hamlet on the habitable Globe that does not contain evidence of its wonderful effects. It is the best emolient in the world. With its present improved ingredients, its effects upon man and beast are perfectly remarkable. Sores are healed, pains relieved, lives saved, valuable animals made useful, and untold ills assuaged. For cuts, bruises, sprains, rheumatism, swellings, bites, cuts, caked breasts, strained horses, &c., it is a Sovereign Remedy that should never be dispensed with. It should be in every family. Sold by all Druggists.

D. S. BARNES, New-York.

March 9th, 1864.—1 yr.

THE GREAT ENGLISH REMEDY.
SIR JAMES CLARKE'S
CELEBRATED FEMALE PILLS!

Prepared from a prescription of Sir J. Clarke, M. D., Physician Extraordinary to the Queen.

This well known medicine is no imposition, but a sure cure and safe remedy for Female Difficulties and Obstructions, from any cause whatever; and, although a powerful remedy, they contain nothing hurtful to the constitution.

In all cases of Nervous and Spinal Affections, pain in the Back and Limbs, Fatigue on slight exertion Palpitation of the Heart, Hysterics, and Whites, these pills will effect a cure, when all other means have failed; and, although a powerful remedy, do not contain iron, calomel, antimony, or anything hurtful to the constitution.

Full directions in the pamphlet around each package, which should be carefully preserved.

For full particulars, obtain, free, of the agent, a pamphlet. Sold by all Druggists.

Sole United States Agent,
JOB MOSES, 27 Cortlandt St., New York.

N. B.—$1 and 6 postage stamps enclosed to any authorized agent, will insure a bottle, containing over 50 pills, by return mail. March 9, 1864.—1 yr.

Advertisments.

Sheriff's Sale.

ESSEX ss., June 25, 1864. Taken on Execution and will be sold at Public Auction, on TUESDAY, the second day of August next, at Eleven o'clock, A. M., on the premises hereinafter described, all the right that Sidney C. Bancroft had when the same was attached on mesne process, of redeeming the following described Mortgaged Real Estate, to wit, a certain lot of land situated in South Danvers in said County, bounded Northerly by the old Boston Road, so called, Westerly by land of Ruth Twiss, Southerly by land formerly of Elijah W. Upton, and Easterly by land of Samuel Williams, with the buildings thereon, it being the same Estate conveyed by said Bancroft to William D. Smith by Mortgage Deed, recorded with the Essex Deeds, Book 659, Leaf 129.

jy13-3w DANIEL POTTER, Deputy Sheriff.

WATER KEGS.

ANOTHER lot of Stone Water Kegs, at
jy13 S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS' 32 Front st.

ICE PICKS

AND Ice Mallets with Awls, at
jy13 S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS, 32 Front st.

List of Letters

REMAINING in the Post Office at South Danvers, July 12, 1864. [Persons calling for these letters will please say they are advertised.]

R. E. Babson,
Frank H. Burnham,
Ellen Buckley,
John Crook,
Lizzie H. Carlton,
Chamberlain & Bro.
Wm. Farris,
Mary Goldthwait,
Harriet E. Hayward,
John P. Leighton,
Mary Osborne,
Geo. W. Noble,
Benj. Ober,
Jacob Palmer,
Wm. O'Regan,
B. Robinson,
Patrick Sullivan,
T. A. Robbins,
Susan G. Skinner,
Hannah Sullivan,
Henry Saltonstall,
Wm. Smith,
Maggie F. Whelden,
Sarah E. Warren,
Geo. Vinton,
John Whelley.

N. B. These letters are subject to an additional postage of one cent. DANIEL WOODBURY, P. M.

A Card to the Suffering.

SWALLOW two or three hogsheads of "Buchu," "Tonic Bitters," "Sarsaparilla," "Nervous Antidotes," &c., &c., &c., and after you are satisfied with the result, then try one box of OLD DOCTOR BUCHAN'S ENGLISH SPECIFIC PILLS—and be restored to health and vigor in less than thirty days. They are purely vegetable, pleasant to take, prompt and salutary in their effects on the broken-down and shattered constitution. Old and young can take them with advantage. Imported and sold in the United States only by

JAS. S. BUTLER, No. 427 Broadway, New York.
☞ Agent for the United States.

P. S. A Box of the Pills, securely packed, will be mailed to any address on receipt of price, which is ONE DOLLAR, post-paid,—money refunded by the Agent if entire satisfaction is not given. jy 13-3m

---

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS.

HEAD-QUARTERS, BOSTON, July 6, 1864.
GENERAL ORDER, No. 24.

Five thousand Infantry Volunteers have been called for from Massachusetts, for one hundred days' service, to do Garrison duty in the fortifications near the City of Washington. Their services are required at once. Officers in command of Regiments, and Companies of Massachusetts Militia will immediately perfect their organizations, and report for orders.

Gentlemen not in Commission, qualified by character and experience to command Companies, will be authorized to raise new Companies upon application to these Headquarters.

These troops are to be employed in garrison duty, and must be raised without unnecessary delay. The troops can be forwarded by companies to report at Washington.

In addition to the United States pay, each non-commissioned officer and private will receive from the Commonwealth twenty dollars a month during his term of service.

Volunteers under this call will be exempted from any draft that may be ordered during such term of one hundred days' service.

The young men of Massachusetts are expected to respond to this call with the same alacrity which characterized their fathers in the Revolution, and their brothers when the President made his first call in April, 1861.

By order of his Excellency, JOHN A. ANDREW, Governor and Commander-in-Chief.

WILLIAM SCHOULER, Adj't-Gen'l.
July 13—1w

Posting Books, Making Bills and Copying.

THE above business will be promptly and accurately performed by the subscriber, who may be found at Messrs. CLARK & GIDDINGS' Counting Room on Wallis Street, near the Essex Depot, or by enquiring at this office. jy13 tf JOHN D. HOWARD.

Do You Wish to be Cured.

DR. BUCHAN'S ENGLISH SPECIFIC PILLS cure, in less than 30 days, the worst cases of NERVOUSNESS, Impotency, Premature Decay, Seminal Weakness, Insanity, and all Urinary, Sexual and Nervous Affections, no matter from what cause produced. Price, One Dollar per box. Sent, post-paid, by mail, on receipt of order. One Box will perfect the cure in most cases. Address JAMES S. BUTLER, jy 13-3m General Agent, 427 Broadway, New York.

Sheriff's Sale.

ESSEX ss., June 29, 1864. Taken on Execution and will be sold at public auction at the Post Office in South Danvers, in said county, on WEDNESDAY, the third day of August next, at 9½ o'clock, A. M., the Right in Equity that Charles Barker of South Danvers, aforesaid, has or had on the twenty-fifth day of May last, to redeem the following described mortgaged Real Estate, viz.: a certain piece of land, situate in South Danvers aforesaid, bounded as follows: westerly by Andover street, Northerly and Easterly by land of Amos Osborne, and Southerly by land of the heirs of S. Blake, containing about one acre, with the dwelling house and all other buildings thereon.

STEPHEN UPTON, Deputy Sheriff.
South Danvers, July 6, 1864.—3w

COUNTRY AND SEA SHORE!

Wide Brimmed Hats,

For the Country and Sea Shore;
—ALSO—
All the FANCY STYLES OF HATS, for Ladies and Children—at

REITH & CO'S,
No. 2 West Block, Essex Street,
(One door west of J. F. Almy & Co.,)
July 6. SALEM, MASS.

WARREN BANK.

U. S. 10-40 BONDS.

ORDERS left at this Bank for the purchase of the U. S. 10-40 Bonds, will receive prompt attention.

FRANCIS BAKER, CASHIER.
South Danvers, June 1, 1864.

Pure Ground Bone

For Farming and Horticultural Purposes.

THE subscriber would announce that he is now constantly manufacturing and preparing for sale PURE GROUND BONE—conceded by all who have tried it to be the best article in use for fertilizing trees, grape vines, gardens, etc. It can be obtained in large or small quantities.

Also for Sale, NEAT'S FOOT OIL, TALLOW and GREASE.

☞ Cash paid for Bones.

TIMOTHY WALTON.

Post Office Address, box 99 South Danvers, Mass. April 20—3m

MORRIS'
RESTAURANT,
18 and 20 Derby Square, Salem.

Oysters, Clams, Steak, Poultry, Game, Fish, &c., &c., cooked to order.
Pickled Oysters, Lobsters and Clams.
Salem, July 22, 1863. tf

MANUAL FENOLLOSA
TEACHER
OF THE
Violin, Piano and Singing,
MUSIC ROOMS, No. 7 Central Street,
SALEM, MASS.

STONE WARE.

A SUPPLY of Stone Ware of all kinds, such as Water Kegs, Pitchers, Jugs, Cake and Butter Pots, are just opened at
S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS',
July 6 32 Front Street.

NEW BOOKS,

At G. M. WHIPPLE & A. A. SMITH'S.

SAVAGE AFRICA; being the narrative of a tour in Equatorial, South-western, and North-western Africa, with notes on the habits of the Gorilla; on the existences of unicorns and Tailed men; on the Slave Trade; on the origin, character, and capabilities of the negro, and on the future civilization of Western Africa, by W. Winwood Reade, with illustrations and a map.

Carlyle's Frederick the Great, volume 4.

Dennis Duval, a novel by W. M. Shackeray with illustration.

July 6 190 Essex Street.

DR. E. F. KITTREDGE,

From Lowell, formerly of New Ipswich, N. H.,
Has removed his office and residence to

NO. 42 MAIN STREET,
SOUTH DANVERS, MASS.

Dr. K., from an extensive and successful professional experience of upwards of twenty years, feels justified in saying that he can treat diseases to the satisfaction of his patients, and to the credit of himself.

Office hours from 7 to 9 A. M., and from 6 to 9 P. M.
South Danvers, Nov 13, 1863.

OATS.

3000 BUSHEL prime Oats, received this day by Rail, and for sale by
may 25 GAYLE & CO., Phillips Wharf.

Browning & Long.

THE LARGEST
LADIES' FURNISHING STORE
IN SALEM.

BROWNING & LONG'S
177 Essex
GREAT STOCK
FOR Summer Wear.
177 Essex

We adhere to our rule of selling Goods as low as the market possibly affords.

Our stock was not bought at the present High Prices; we can therefore offer Special Inducements.

Our stock is secured in view of the very latest Fashions and Styles, and we are constantly receiving New Goods.

It is a regular practice with us to close out odd lots remaining at the expiration of each season, at very Low Prices.

Call and see our Cheap Counters, they are full of decided Bargains. Goods at low prices are worth looking at now.

We would call especial attention to our splendid assortment of Cotton Hosiery, Kid Gloves, Silk Umbrellas and Parasols.

BROWNING & LONG'S
BARGAINS
DISPLAY
OF
LOW PRICES.
BARGAINS
Salem, July 6, 1864.

Men's Clothing.

The largest assortment, the LATEST STYLES, the best Goods, and the LOWEST PRICES, as usual, can be found at ☞ 240 ☜. Black and Fancy Frocks, Sacks, Pants and Vests, in light and dark colors to match—all sizes and prices. Spring Overcoats, Light and Dark Linen Dusters, $1.75 to $3.75—size, 34 to 50. If you wish to purchase a good suit of Clothes, light or dark, call at F. S. PECK'S.

Boys' Clothing.

Those who have Boys to Clothe, are particularly invited to call and examine the NEW STYLES Coats, Pants, Vests, Jackets and Suits, in light and dark colors, which we have made expressly for our trade. We have pieces of the same or Cloth by the yard. Also, a large assortment of Cheap Sacks, Pants, Vests, Jackets and Suits, which will be sold low. If you have Boys to Clothe, the place to save your money is at

F. S. PECK'S!
240
Essex Street, Salem.

Gent's Furnishing Goods.

In this Department can be found the LATEST STYLES and BEST GOODS. White and Fancy Shirts, $1.50 to $4.00; Silk Shirts and Drawers, $1.75 to $4.00; Merino Shirts and Drawers, Hosiery, Gloves, Braces, Roman Scarfs, Ties—new styles, Collars, Umbrellas, &c. N. B.—We offer our Kid Gloves, spring colors, for $1.75 per pair, to close—the same as are sold round town for $2.25. Also a lot which are a little spotted, for 37c, 75c and $1.25 a pair. They are bargains. 240 is the place to buy Gent's Furnishing Goods.

Hats and Caps.

SPRING STYLES FOR 1864. Those who wish to purchase Hats or Caps, either Men's or Boy's, can find a large assortment of the LATEST STYLES and best quality. Goods at the Lowest Prices. The public are respectfully invited to call and decide whether 240 is the place to buy Hats and Caps.

FOR SUMMER READING.

G. M. WHIPPLE & A. A. SMITH'S Subscription Circulating Library affords ample facilities. Terms liberal. Subscriptions commencing at any time. June 29

FURNITURE.

HAVING taken the Store No. 10 FRONT STREET, (formerly occupied by BENJAMIN COLMAN,) I shall keep constantly on hand a large stock of

NEW AND SECOND-HAND FURNITURE,
BEDDING, COUNTING-ROOM DESKS, &c., &c.,
which I will sell cheap for CASH.

ALL KINDS OF FURNITURE NEATLY REPAIRED.

☞ All kinds of FURNITURE and BEDDING wanted—for which the highest Cash price will be paid.

P. J. HYNES, 10 FRONT-ST.
Salem, April 6, 1864—1y

PIN WORMS. MRS. OSBORN'S Universal Worm Powders are the only sure cure ever offered to the public. They are warranted in every case; relief within 24 hrs. 25 cts. per box. Sold by all druggists.

For sale by D. P. GROSVENOR, Jr., 33 Main St., South Danvers. jan 27

Valuable Real Estate in So. Danvers for Sale or to Let.

The large dwelling house and barn and out-buildings, with land under and adjoining, belonging to the estate of the late J. W. Carey, situated on Fulton street.

Also a very desirable lot of land extending from Fulton street to High street, with a front of eighty feet on each street.

For terms and particulars, apply to
EBEN UPTON,
April 27.—tf. No. 31 Barr street, Salem.

WIRE COVERS.

WIRE Dish Covers, in sets of five, at
S C & E A SIMONDS',
June 29 32 Front Street.

A. J. Archer & Co

White Shirred Muslins.

JUST received and for sale by
je22 A. J. ARCHER & CO.

MOURNING GOODS.

AUGUSTUS J. ARCHER & CO.,

HAVE just received a fine assortment
—OF—
MOURNING DRESS GOODS,
for summer wear.
—ALSO—
On hand, a fine stock of
BLACK SILKS,
which our customers will find are at less than Boston prices.
May 26, 1864.

FANCY CLOAKINGS!
—FOR—
Spring Garments,
IN GREAT VARIETY OF STYLES,
which we are prepared to make into GARMENTS to order, in the very best manner, and at
LOWEST CASH PRICES.
A. J. ARCHER & CO.,
March 16—tf. 181 Essex Street.

HOUSE OF EQUITY,
—BY—
Arnold & Hutchinson,
(Successors to C. T. Southwick.)

FIRST QUALITY
FAMILY GROCERIES,
Sold at the Lowest Prices.

A large and complete assortment of
CROCKERY AND GLASS WARE,
Constantly on hand.
Also FLOUR and GRAIN.

ASHLAND HALL BUILDING,
NO. 1 LOWELL STREET,
F. T. ARNOLD. B. F. HUTCHINSON.
South Danvers, Feb 3, 1864.

RICH MILLINERY GOODS!
From the New York and Boston Markets,
OPENING EVERY DAY.

ALL the desirable shapes in BONNETS and HATS.

RIBBONS and FLOWERS in all the New Shades. All goods belonging to a first class Millinery Establishment, to which the attention of the Ladies of Essex County is respectfully invited.

REITH & CO'S,
NO. 2 WEST BLOCK, ESSEX STREET,
(One door west of J. F. Almy & Co.,)
apr 13 SALEM, MASS.

M. A. PORTER,
236 Essex Street, - - - Salem, Mass.,
(Opposite Horse Railroad Office,)
MAKES TO ORDER BEST QUALITIES OF

WATCH SPRING SKIRTS.

A Good Assortment of Dress and Clock Button, Braids, Spool Cotton, Small Wares, and Thread Store articles generally.

236 Essex Street, - - - Salem, Mass.,
M. A. PORTER.

SPRING AND SUMMER GOODS.
168 ESSEX STREET.

WE invite the attention of the Ladies of Salem and vicinity, to our

New Millinery Goods.
Ladies' and Children's
BONNETS AND HATS,
in all desirable styles.

Crapes, Silks, Ribbons, Feathers, French Flowers, and Laces.

A full assortment of Straw Goods, Mourning Bonnets, Veils, Collars, &c., constantly on hand at the lowest cash prices.

M. E. CRANE,
Successor to M M FLETCHER.
Salem, April 6, 1864.

JUST ARRIVED,
AT DANVERS MILLS,

500 Bushels Corn, in the minnie cob, and will be sold in South Danvers. Constantly on hand a large stock of meal, which will be sold at the lowest Salem prices.

—ALSO ON HAND—
500 Bushels Feed;
200 Bushels prime Northern Oats;
100 Barrels choicest Family Flour.
A good stock of LIME constantly on hand.

JOHN C. MOULTON,
Central St., South Danvers, Mass.
May 25—tf.

THOMAS PINNOCK,
SLATER,
SALEM, MASS.

Orders may be left at his Yard, No. 25 Peabody St., or at his house No. 6 Hancock street, South Salem.

Roofs covered with any kind of Slates, according to order. All work warranted.
Salem, May 7, 1862. tf

Real Estate for Sale.

THE Subscriber offers for sale one undivided ninth part of the Estate on Lowell and Franklin streets, formerly owned by Mrs. HULDAH GILE. This very valuable property will be sold on fair and easy terms.

All information in relation to it will be given on application to Mr. CHARLES B. HAVEN, Franklin street, near the premises.

SAMUEL FELLOWS.
South Danvers, June 15, 1864.

George S. Walker.

For the Warm Weather.

UNDER-SHIRTS,
DRAWERS,
HOSIERY,

IN every seasonable material—all sizes—for sale at low prices, at
GEORGE S. WALKER'S,
Dealer in Gent's Furnishing Goods and Toilet Articles, opposite Eastern Railroad Station.

Gent's Half Hose.

THE Largest Stock and Assortment in the city, at
GEORGE S. WALKER'S,
Dealer in Gent's Furnishing Goods and Toilet Articles, opposite Eastern Railroad station.

Scarfs, Ties, Stocks.

ALL the LATEST and BEST STYLES, at the Lowest Prices, at
GEORGE S. WALKER'S,
No. 228 Essex Street,
june 27 Opp. Eastern Railroad Station.

Potter, Bachelder & Co.,
DANVERS-PORT and SOUTH DANVERS,
DEALERS IN
WOOD AND COAL.
Constantly on hand
Franklin, Burnside, Dimond, } RED ASH.
Old Company & Packer's Lehigh, Pliny Fisk, Webster and Locust Mountain, } WHITE ASH.

Also Cumberland, Pictou and Campbell for Steam and Smith's use.

OFFICE—No. 6 Allen's Building.
G. W. POTTER,
J. Q. A. BACHELDER,
C. T. BATCHELDER. mch 30

M. FENOLLOSA,
TEACHER OF MUSIC,
LETS............PIANO FORTES, at the lowest rates;
SELLS............PIANO FORTES, at the Manufacturers Prices;
EXCHANGES.....PIANO FORTES, on the easiest terms;
At Rooms No. 7 Central street,
feb 11 SALEM, MASS.

AARON T. LOWE,
DEALER IN
BOOTS, SHOES AND RUBBERS,
76 BOSTON STREET, 76.
aug 6 SALEM. tf

GEORGE TAPLEY,
(DANVERS),
AGENT FOR THE
John Hancock Life Insurance Co.
Office, 41 State Street, Boston.

T. HARDY, JR.,
—Dealer in—
DOORS, SASHES, BLINDS,
Glazed Sash, Painted Blinds,
FENCE PALES, STAIR BALUSTERS, FRAMING PINS, &c.,
No. 26 FRONT STREET,
Salem, January 14, 1863—tf.

Horse Railroad Notice.

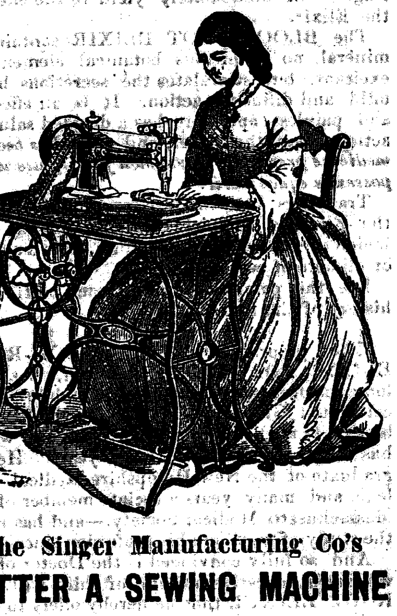
ON and after FRIDAY, May 27th, single fares on the Salem and South Danvers Railroad will be six cents.

Packages of eighteen tickets will be sold for $1.00.

Single fares on the South Salem Branch will be five cents, and packages of twenty-five tickets will be sold for $1.00.

Fares for Children between the ages of 3 and 12 years, and for Scholars attending school, will be four cents, or twenty-five tickets for $1.00.

Salem, June 1, 1864. M. H. HALE.



The Singer Manufacturing Co's
LETTER A SEWING MACHINE

For Family Use and Light Manufacturing Purposes, is on exhibition and for sale
AT ASHLAND HALL,
SOUTH DANVERS SQUARE,
—BY—
JOHN H. CHOATE,
Agent for the sale of
SEWING MACHINES,
SILK, THREAD, NEEDLES, COTTONS, &c., &c.
—Also—
Paraffine Sewing Machine Oil,
The best oil for all kinds of light machinery.
South Danvers, Nov 18, 1863.

MISS. S. E. MACKINTIRE.
TEACHER ON
PIANO FORTE
RESIDENCE,—22 Holton Street,
jan13 South Danvers.

HOUSEKEEPERS, ATTENTION!
JACKSON'S
KITCHEN FURNISHING ROOMS,
Under MECHANIC HALL, Salem.

Parties about commencing House-Keeping will find this the only place in Salem where a complete assortment of House-keeping articles can be found. Dec 9—6w

GAYLE & CO.,
GENERAL COMMISSION MERCHANTS,
DEALERS IN
Flour, Grain and Produce,
Manufacturers' Agents for the sale of
Concentrated Leaven, Soda and Pearlash Saleratus, and Bi Carb. Soda.
PHILLIPS WHARF, ... Salem.

Auction Sales.

WILLIAM ARCHER, Jr.,
Auctioneer, Real Estate and Stock Broker,
34 Front Street.

Real Estate, Bank, Railroad & Manufacturing Stock bought and sold on Commission.

ON SATURDAY NEXT, at 9½ o'clock will be sold at No. 34 Front street:

A QUANTITY of new and second hand Furniture; Sofa, Tables, Lounges, Chairs, Feather Beds, Mattresses, 2 English Piano Fortes, &c.

Also, an invoice of Men's and Boys' Brogans and Shoes; Women's and Misses' Boots and Shoes, &c.

Also, an invoice of Dry Goods; Prints, Lawns, &c.

Also, Groceries; Coffee, Cream of Tartar, Pepper, &c.

At 11 o'clock—One very superior Lathe, with slide rest and tools. Can be seen at any time previous to the sale. jy 13

TEETH ON VULCANITE!

DR. J. H. BATCHELDER,
DENTAL SURGEON,
No. 20 Washington St., (near Eastern Railroad Depot), SALEM, MASS.,

Is Licensed to make the New Patent Teeth on HARD RUBBER or VULCANITE, and from actual experience confidently recommends them for Strength, Beauty, and Cleanliness, to far surpass all other kinds of teeth;—are sure to fit the mouth; are much cheaper and better, being about half the price of teeth on Gold. Ill fitting Setts of Teeth on Gold can be exchanged for the Vulcanite, at very small expense. Specimens seen at Office. Teeth filled with Gold, Inserted, Extracted, and Children's Teeth Regulated—all with such care and gentleness as to be nearly painless,

VALUABLE REAL ESTATE.

THE Subscriber offers for sale the following Lots of Land, with the Buildings thereon, at private sale, until September next, when such as then remain unsold, will be offered at Public Auction:

A new and well built two-story DWELLING HOUSE, situated on English Street.—This house is well supplied with the modern conveniences, is pleasantly situated on rising ground, and is a very desirable residence.

The MOROCCO FACTORY near the Southwick Tannery. The building is about 150 feet long by 40 wide, is well supplied with pure water and is an excellent place for the Morocco business or Currying.

Near the Morocco Factory are two TWO-STORY BUILDINGS, which may be sold with the Factory, or separately. Together they are about 80 feet long by 20 wide.

On Walnut Street is the large BOARDING HOUSE, with the land adjoining, which is excellently well situated for what it is designed.

Several front LOTS for building purposes on Walnut Street, will be sold at moderate prices and fair terms.

A STORE HOUSE 70 by 25 feet on Walnut Street, with the land under and the rear of it. It can be easily adapted for a Curriers' Shop, or for other kinds of business.

On Wallis Street, near the mill pond, a well built and painted MOROCCO FACTORY, all ready for occupancy. It is about 80 feet long by 25 wide, and in excellent repair.

Next to the Morocco Factory on the same street, a STORE BUILDING, strongly built, and framed for a DWELLING HOUSE, for which it could be easily adapted. Or it would make an excellent Shop for any kind of business.

Near ELM STREET, on a Court south of said street, are two DWELLING HOUSES, planned for two families each. One is two stories high, the other one and a half. Both houses have good tenants and yield a good income; offering a good chance for investment.

Between Harris and English Streets, one One Story DWELLING House, and a One Story and a Half House.

The above is a most excellent opportunity for enterprising young men to secure places for business and dwelling houses, on reasonable terms. occur.

Persons desiring to purchase any of the above lots may learn the prices and terms on application to ANDREW S. PORTER, Elm Street.

SAMUEL D. PENDAR.
South Danvers, May 11, 1864. tf

NEW STORE!
Flour! Flour!

JUST RECEIVED, a fresh supply of CHOICE BRANDS, direct from the Mills, for sale, wholesale and retail, at LOWEST PRICES, by
E. F. OSBORN.
Sutton's Building, Main St.
South Danvers, Nov 18, 1863.

R. C. MANNING & CO.
Successors to JOHN DIKE & CO.,
DEALERS IN
COAL, WOOD, BARK, HAY, &c,
183 DERBY STREET,
SALEM, MASS.
N. C. ROBBINS, R. C. MANNING.
oct17

GEO. E. MEACOM,
Dealer in
DRUGS & MEDICINES,
Fancy & Toilet Articles, &c.,
126 · · MAIN ST · · 126
Nearly opposite Danvers Bank, So. Danvers.

T. A. SWEETSER,
Druggist & Apothecary
37 Main St., So. Danvers,
DEALER IN
Drugs, Medicines, Chemicals, Foreign Leeches, Shakers' Herbs, Dye Stuffs, Gums, Acids, Sponges, Shoulder Braces, Trusses, and Genuine Patent Medicines;
Also, Imported Cigars of choice brands, Perfumery, Toilet Articles and Stationery.
Physicians' Prescriptions carefully prepared by experienced persons.
37 MAIN STREET.

D. P. GROSVENOR, Jr.,
Druggist and Apothecary,
38 MAIN STREET.
Dealer in Drugs, Medicines, Chemicals, Dye Stuffs, and Popular Proprietary Medicines.
Personal attention to Physicians' Prescriptions.
South Danvers, May 29, 1861. 1y

TABLE MATS,

SHAKER and Wood Table Mats, at
S C & E A SIMONDS',
June 29 32 Front Street.

WHITE LEAD

IN kegs, tin pails and cans, constantly for sale by
Jy 6 S C & E A SIMONDS, 32 Front st.

Special Notices.

A GENTLEMAN, cured of Nervous Debility, Incompetency, Premature Decay and Youthful Error, actuated by a desire to benefit others, will be happy to furnish to all who need it, (free of charge,) the recipe and directions for making the simple remedy used in his case. Those wishing to profit by his experience, and possess a Valuable Remedy, will receive the same, by return mail, (carefully sealed,) by addressing

JOHN B. OGDEN,
No 60 Nassau street, New York.
may 25—3m

BELL'S SPECIFIC PILLS.—WARRANTED IN ALL CASES.—Can be relied on! Never fail to cure! Do not nauseate! Are speedy in action! No change of diet required! Do not interfere with business pursuits! Can be used without detection! Upward of 200 cures the past month—some of them very severe cases. Over one hundred physicians have used them in their practice, and all speak well of their efficacy, and approve of their composition, which is entirely vegetable and harmless on the system. Hundreds of certificates can be shown.

BELL'S SPECIFIC PILLS are the original and only genuine Specific Pill. They are adapted for male and female, old or young, and the only reliable remedy for effecting a permanent and speedy cure in all cases of Spermatorrhea, or Seminal Weakness, with all its train of evils, such as Urethral and Vaginal Discharges, Gleet, the Whites, Nightly or Involuntary Emissions, Incontinence, Genital Debility and Irritability, Impotence, Weakness or Loss of Power, Nervous Debility, &c., &c., all of which arise principally from Sexual Excesses or Self-Abuse, or some constitutional derangement, and incapacitates the sufferer from fulfilling the duties of married life. In all sexual diseases, as Gonorrhea, Gleet, and Strictures, and in Diseases of the Bladder and Kidneys, they act as a charm! Relief is experienced by taking a single box. Sold by all the principal druggists. Price $1.

They will be sent by mail, securely sealed, and confidentially, on receipt of the money, by

J. BRYAN, M. D.,
No. 76 Cedar street, New York.

Consulting Physician for the treatment of Seminal, Urinary, Sexual, and Nervous Diseases, who will send, free to all, the following valuable work, in sealed envelope:

THE FIFTIETH THOUSAND.—DR. BELL'S TREATISE on Self-Abuse, Premature Decay, Impotence and Loss of Power, Sexual Diseases, Seminal Weakness, Nightly Emissions, Genital Debility, &c., &c., a pamphlet of 64 pages, containing important advice to the afflicted, and which should be read by every sufferer, as the means of cure in the severest stages is plainly set forth. Two stamps required to pay postage.

December 9, 1863—1 yr.

IMPORTANT TO LADIES.—DR. HARVEY'S FEMALE PILLS have never yet failed in removing difficulties arising from obstruction, or stoppage of nature, or in restoring the system to perfect health when suffering from Spinal Affections, Prolapsus, Uteri, the Whites, or other weakness of the Uterine Organs. The Pills are perfectly harmless on the constitution, and may be taken by the most delicate female without causing distress—the same time they act like a charm by strengthening, invigorating and restoring the system to a healthy condition, and by bringing on the monthly period with regularity, no matter from what causes the obstruction may arise. They should, however, NOT be taken during the first three or four months of pregnancy, though safe at any other time, as miscarriage would be the result.

Each box contains 60 Pills. Price $1.

DR. HARVEY'S TREATISE on Diseases of Females, Pregnancy, Miscarriage, Barrenness, Sterility, Reproduction, and Abuses of Nature, and emphatically the Ladies' Private Medical Adviser, a pamphlet of 64 pages, sent free to any address. Six cents required to pay postage.

The Pills and book will be sent by mail when desired, securely sealed, and prepaid, by

J. BRYAN, M. D., General Agent,
No. 76 Cedar street, New York.

☞ Sold by all the principal druggists.
December 9, 1863—1 yr.

SPRING STYLES
—OF—
1864.
L. D. BOISE & CO.,
—IN—
CLOTHING,

Invite attention to their Large and Fashionable stock, comprising Medium, Fine and Superior grades, of our own manufacture, some of which is fully equal to the best Custom work.

Wholesale or Retail purchasers will find it for their benefit to examine our Stock before purchasing.

We have also a large and fashionable stock of PRICE GOODS, consisting of the most desirable patterns of English, French, German and American

CLOTHS,
CASSIMERES
DOESKINS, and
VESTINGS,

which have been selected with great care in the New York and Boston markets.

CUSTOM CLOTHING made to order in the latest styles at short notice.

PARTICULAR ATTENTION GIVEN TO

Army and Navy Uniforms.

Gentlemen's Furnishing Goods
OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.

L. D. BOISE & CO.,
No. 154 Washington Street, Boston.
April 20.—3m.

Chickering & Sons' Piano-Fortes.
Hallett & Cumston's Piano-Fortes.
Hallett & Davis's Piano-Fortes.

We select our Piano-Fortes from the above firms and warrant them to give perfect satisfaction. Our terms are reasonable, and all persons in the city and neighboring towns can be accommodated by calling at 76 Federal street.

FOR SALE—Second-hand Piano-Fortes,—Chickering's and others.
ap 29 ANN R. BRAY.

DYSPEPSIA AND FITS.

A SURE CURE FOR

THESE distressing complaints is now made known in a Treatise on Foreign and Native Herbal Preparations, published by DR. O. PHELPS BROWN. The prescription was furnished him in such a providential manner, that he cannot conscientiously refuse to make it known, as it has cured everybody who has used it, never having failed in a single case. It is equally sure in cases of Fits as of Dyspepsia; and the ingredients may be found in any drug store. Sent free to all on the receipt of five cents to pre-pay postage. This work, of 48 octavo pages, beautifully illustrated, also treats on

Consumption,

Bronchitis, Asthma, General Debility, and gives the best known Herbal Remedies for their positive and permanent cure. Address DR O. PHELPS BROWN, No. 19 Grand Street, Jersey City, New Jersey.
may 25—3m

HEYLINGBERG'S
Hair Dressing Saloon,
24 MAIN ST., SOUTH DANVERS.

J. J. HEYLINGBERG would announce to his patrons and the public generally, that on and after JUNE 1st, 1864, he will abide by the following

TARIFF OF PRICES:

Shaving,	10 cts.
Hair Cutting,	15 cts.
Shampooing,	15 cts.

Particular attention paid to dying hair and whiskers, in one preparation, without washing or scrubbing.

South Danvers, May 11, 1864.

BRUSHES.

A FULL stock of Brushes of every description, at
je22 S C & E A SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

R. W. WILKINSON,
DEALER IN
Newspapers, Periodicals, and Stationery of every Description.

FOREIGN and DOMESTIC FRUITS, consisting of Oranges, Lemons, Dates, Figs, Prunes, &c., &c.

Sauces, Pickles and Preserves; Castana, Naples and English Walnuts; Hard, Soft and Paper-shelled Almonds; choice brands of Tobacco and Cigars; also a general assortment of Confectionery of every description.

Also a large and well selected stock of Toys, suitable for children and the Holiday Gifts.

Ice Cream furnished to parties at short notice and in quantities to suit. Wedding Cake and every variety of nice cake furnished to parties or families.

STORE—WARREN BANK BUILDING.
South Danvers, Nov'r 11, 1863.

DR. S. O. RICHARDSON'S
Blood-Root Elixir

Has been thoroughly tested and proved in his medical practice, for a period of THIRTY YEARS, and is now presented to the public as an effectual cure for

COSTIVENESS,
AND THE BEST REMEDY EVER PREPARED FOR
DISEASES OF THE LIVER,
SCROFULA,
All Humors and Impurities of the Blood and Diseases of the Skin.

The preparing and combining the BLOOD-ROOT ELIXIR is attended with results to medical science next in importance to inhalation of ether in surgery. Roots and plants, in themselves pungent and disagreeable, are, by a new and scientific process of extracting (in vacuo,) rendered MORE EFFECTIVE IN THEIR OPERATION, entirely divested of the griping and distressing pain which attends the action of all other purgative medicine.—They are also made to become highly

PLEASANT AND AGREEABLE TO THE TASTE,

and by their peculiar combination work so perfectly in HARMONY WITH NATURE that no unpleasant reaction will follow its operation. It also possesses

A DIFFUSIVE AND ALTERATIVE EFFECT,

which can only be attained by medicine in a fluid state. These are new elements in purgative medicines.

The hard and compact manner in which Pills are prepared, renders them indigestible—and, when taken, are forced through the Stomach and Bowels, half dissolved, causing only PARTIAL ACTION, thereby creating irritation and pain to the parts connected with their passage.

One Pill dissolved secundum artem, will produce more medicinal and physical effect than five in a crude state.

The BLOOD-ROOT ELIXIR has no partial action upon the bowels, but is equally diffused there, and throughout the whole circulation of the Blood, imparting a healthy and invigorating action to the STOMACH AND BOWELS, LIVER, LUNGS, KIDNEYS, and gently stimulating dermant and morbid secretions throughout the whole system.

A single dose will produce a cheerful and exhilarating COMMOTION, which will inspire the patient with confidence, and assurance of IMMEDIATE RELIEF. A continuance hidden humors to the surface of the skin, and relieve or check SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS—and by thus purifying and strengthening the Blood, will remove the most fruitful

CAUSE OF CONSUMPTION.

It incites the various organs of the system to act their alloted part, removing the causes which induce RHEUMATISM and NEURALGIA, HEADACHE, LOSS OF APPETITE, DYSPEPSIA, COSTIVENESS, and the various diseases which arise from a derangement of the Stomach and Bowels, and restricted circulation of the Blood.

COUGHS AND COLDS, in their early stages, will immediately yield to the effect of the Elixir.

The BLOOD-ROOT ELIXIR contains no mineral, no pernicious botanical element, no excitant, but stimulates the secretions by its mild and diffusive action. It is an effective and painless aperient—has a decided salutary action upon the Liver, and there has been no medicine prepared for common family use which possesses equal merit.

Travellers both by sea and land, will find the Elixir a complete antidote for the evils which they are obliged to endure, from a change of climate or water of diet.

See the pamphlet around each bottle for a history of the Elixir.

The proprietor of the BLOOD-ROOT ELIXIR, (Dr. S. O. Richardson,) has been long and favorably known to the public by his celebrated SHERRY WINE BITTERS, the best tonic medicine ever discovered, and which has been in use over thirty years. He is a graduate of the New Hampshire Medical College, and many years associate member of the Massachusetts Medical Society,—and has made the study of medicine his profession since 1820.

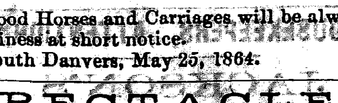
And so fully convinced is the Doctor of the wonderful curative effects of his BLOOD-ROOT ELIXIR, that he hereby offers to each and every person who will use ONE-HALF OF A BOTTLE of his ELIXIR, and not be conscious of a good effect therefrom, to REFUND to said person the FULL amount which he paid for the same, by returning the ullage bottle to his office.

Price $1.50 Per Bottle!

Sold by Apothecaries and Dealers in Medicines, and at the Doctor's Office,

51 & 53 HANOVER ST., BOSTON.
May 11—3ms.*

MOULTON'S
NEW LIVERY STABLE,



Is removed to stable formerly occupied by
SAMUEL HAM,
On MAIN STREET, opposite the Institute.

Good Horses and Carriages will be always in readiness at short notice.
South Danvers, May 25, 1864.

SPECTACLES!

H. F. SKERRY wishes to call special attention to his stock of

Spectacles and Eye Glasses,

in Gold—Silver—Rubber—Steel and Horn frames, of which he keeps constantly on hand a very large assortment, embracing every style and quality.

—ALSO—

Opera Glasses, Microscopes, &c.

Glasses re-set, and Spectacles repaired.
In Store, our usual assortment of Silver and Plated Ware, and Jewelry.

No. 180 Essex Street, Salem.
Feb. 24—tf. H. F. SKERRY.

Cards.

M. B. MANSFIELD,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
214 ESSEX STREET, SALEM, MASS.

 Particular attention paid to procuring Pensions, Bounties, Back Pay, Prize Money, and Army and Navy Claims of all descriptions. March 2.

THOMAS M. STIMPSON,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
194 ESSEX STREET, SALEM.
Residence Lowell street, South Danvers.

B. C. PERKINS,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
South Danvers—Office in Allen's Building

ALFRED A. ABBOTT,
Attorney and Counsellor,
Office, No. 24 Washington Street, Salem;
House, Main St., So. Danvers.

SIDNEY C. BANCROFT,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
27 Washington Street, Salem.

H. O. WILEY,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
Office, Allen's Building, So. Danvers.

Claims against the Government for Bounty Back Pay, and Pensions, promptly attended to

A. S. CRAWFORD,
Dentist,
No. 4 MAIN STREET, SO. DANVERS SQUARE
Mechanical Dentistry Neatly Executed.

W. L. BOWDOIN,
SURGEON DENTIST,
No. 208 Essex Street, Salem, (Opposite the Marke
Residence—No 57 Washington street.
jan 11—1y

NEWMAN & SYMONDS,
DEALERS IN
Family Groceries, Flour & Grain,
HARD WARE AND CROCKERY,
Ready Made Clothing, Gents' Furnishing Goods, Hats, Caps, Boots, Shoes, &c.,
South Danvers Square, opp. Congregational Church
SAM'L NEWMAN. NATH'L SYMONDS.

S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS,
DEALERS IN
Crockery, China and Hardware; Paper Hangings; Solar and Entry Lamps; Paints, Oil, and Window Glass.
No. 32 Front street, Lawrence Place,
feb13 SALEM, MASS.

HENRY L. WHIDDEN,
HOUSE AND SIGN PAINTER,
Glazier and Paperer,
Central Street, South Danvers.
All orders promptly and faithfully executed.
jan2-1y

E. S. FLINT,
DEALER IN
West India Goods, Country Poduce,
No. 2 Main Street, South Danvers.

JESSE SMITH
No. 262 Essex Street, Salem,
Importer and Dealer in
Gold and Silver Watches,
MARINE CHRONOMETERS,
Aueroid Barometers, Spy Glasses, &c.

WILLIAM BLANEY,
HOUSE & SIGN PAINTER
Grainer, Glazier and Paper Hanger.
164 MAIN STREET, Corner of Grove.
WINDOWS and BLINDS cheap for cash.
mch6-tf

F. POOLE
INSURANCE AGENT,
Allen's Building (up stairs),
Deeds drawn, and other common forms.

H. L. HADLEY,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
CORNER MAPLE AND ELM ST.,
Danvers.
Claims against the Government for Bounty, Back Pay, and Pensions, promptly attended to.

DEVEREUX & McLELLAN,
Attorneys and Counsellors-at-Law,
CIVIL AND MILITARY,
Browne's Block, Essex street—Room No. 5.
J. F. DEVEREUX, Salem, Mass.
GEO. F. McLELLAN, Washington, D. C.
Oct. 21.

CREAM ALE.

THIS Ale is highly recommended by Physicians for

FAMILY USE AND INVALIDS,
Put up in Half Barrels and Barrels,
And for sale by
J. MAGUIRE & CO.,
No. 6 Derby Square, Salem.

Also, Agent for
MASSEY & COLLINS'
PHILADELPHIA ALES,
BUCKHART'S
CREAM ALE,
And Dealer in
LONDON PORTER, SCOTCH ALE, Atkinson's Wormwood Cordial, Drake's Plantation Bitters, &c., &c.

J. MAGUIRE & CO.,
july 15 No. 6 Derby Square, Salem.

E. F. BURNHAM,
SOLE AGENT FOR
SARGENT & CO.S'
MAGIC SOAP!
For South Danvers & Salem.

OFFICE—Central St., opp. Lowell Depot, at Burnham's Express Office, So. Danvers.

Price $3.50 per 100 Lbs.

Orders sent by mail or otherwise to So. Danvers will be promptly attended to. tf-oct3

Choice Spring Pigs for Sale.

THE subscriber offers for sale nice PIGS of Mackie Prince Albert and Chester County breeds, of which the Mackie took the First Premium at the late CattleShow. Prices reasonable.

BYRON GOODALE,
Near Tapley's Brook.
South Danvers, April 1, 1864. tf

CHINA GOODS.

GOLD Band Tea Sets; Fancy do.; Vases; Match Boxes; Fruit Baskets, etc., at
S C & E A SIMONDS',
je22 32 Front St., Salem.

THE BEST ASSORTMENT

OF White, Colored Grounds, neat Patterns, to be found in the city.
june 1 ANN R. BRAY, 76 Federal st.

Advertisements.

HOSTETTER'S
CELEBRATED
STOMACH BITTERS.

A pure and powerful Tonic, corrective and alterative of wonderful efficacy in disease of the

Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

Cures Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Headache, Debility, Nervousness, Depression of Spirits, Constipation, Colic, Intermittent Fevers, Cramps and Spasms, and all Complaints of either Sex, arising from Bodily Weakness whether inherent in the system or produced by special causes.

Nothing that is not wholesome, genial and restorative in its nature enters into the composition of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. This popular preparation contains no mineral of any kind, no deadly botanical element; no fiery excitant: but it is a combination of the extracts of rare balsamic herbs and plants with the purest and mildest of all diffusive stimulants.

It is well to be forearmed against disease, and, so far as the human system can be protected by human means against maladies engendered by an unwholesome atmosphere, impure water and other external causes, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS may be relied on as a safeguard.

In districts infested with Fever and Ague, it has been found infallible as a preventive and irresistible as a remedy and thousands who resort to it under apprehension of an attack, escape the scourage; and thousands who neglect to avail themselves of its protective qualities in advance, are cured by a very brief course of this marvelous medicine. Fever and Ague patients, after being plied with quinine for months in vain, until fairly saturated with that dangerous alkaloid, are not unfrequently restored to health within a few days by the use of HOSTETTER'S BITTERS.

The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated and the appetite restored by this agreeable Tonic, and hence it works wonders in cases of DYSPEPSIA and in less confirmed forms of INDIGESTION. Acting as a gentle and painless apperient, as well as upon the liver, it also invariably relieves the CONSTIPATION superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and secretive organs.

Persons of feeble habit, liable to Nervous Attacks, Lowness of Spirits and Fits of Languor, find prompt and permanent relief from the Bitters. The testimony on this point is most conclusive, and from both sexes.

The agony of BILIOUS COLIC is immediately assuaged by a single dose of the stimulant, and by occasionally resorting to it, the return of the complaint may be prevented.

As a General Tonic, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS produce effects which must be experienced or witnessed before they can be fully appreciated. In cases of Constitutional Weakness, Premature Decay and Debility and Decrepitude arising from OLD AGE, it exercises the electric influence. In the convalescent stages of all diseases it operates as a delightful invigorant. When the powers of nature are relaxed, it operates to re-enforce and re-establish them.

Last, but not least, it is The Only Safe Stimulant, being manufactured from sound and innocuous materials, and entirely free from the acid elements present more or less in all the ordinary tonics and stomachics of the day.

No family medicine has been so universally, and, it may be truly added, deservedly popular with the intelligent portion of the community, as HOSTETTER'S BITTERS.

Prepared by HOSTETTER & SMITH, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Sold by all Druggists, Grocers and Storekeepers everywhere.

HELMBOLD'S
GENUINE PREPARATIONS.

COMPOUND FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU, a Positive and Specific Remedy for diseases of the Bladder, Kidneys, Gravel, and Dropsical Swellings.

This Medicine increases the power of Digestion, and excite the Absorbents into healthy action, by which the Watery or Calcareous depositions, and all Unnatural Enlargements are reduced, as well as Pain and Inflammation.

—:o:—

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU.

For Weaknesses arising from Excesses, Habits of Dissipation, Early Indiscretion of Abuse, attended with the following symptoms:—

Indisposition to Exertion,	Loss of Power,
Loss of Memory,	Difficulty of Breathing,
Weak Nerves,	Trembling,
Horror of Disease,	Wakefulness,
Dimness of Vision,	Pain in the Back,
Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System,
Hot Hands,	Flushing of the Body,
Dryness of the Skin,	Eruptions on the Face,
Pallid Countenance.

These symptoms, if allowed to go on, which this medicine invariably removes, soon follows

Impotency, Fatuity, Epileptic Fits,

In one of which the patient may expire.

Who can say that they are not frequently followed by those "Direful Diseases,"

"INSANITY AND CONSUMPTION."

Many are aware of the cause of their suffering, BUT NONE WILL CONFESS THE RECORDS OF THE INSANE ASYLUMS.

And Melancholy Deaths by Consumption bear ample witness to the Truth of the assertion.

The Constitution once effected with Organic Weakness requires the aid of Medicine to Strengthen and Invigorate the system,

Which HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU invariably does. A Trial will convince the most skeptical.

—:o:—

FEMALES—FEMALES—FEMALES.

In many Affections peculiar to Females the EXTRACT BUCHU is unequalled by any other remedy, as in Chlorosis or Retention, Irregularity, Painfulness, or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated Scirrhous state of the Uterus, Leuchorrhœa or Whites, Sterility, and for all complaints incident to the sex, whether arising from indiscretion or Habits of Dissipation, or in the

DECLINE OR CHANGE OF LIFE.

—:o:—

Take no more Balsam, Mercury, or unpleasant Medicines for unpleasant and dangerous diseases.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU AND IMPROVED ROSE WASH CURES

SECRET DISEASES

In all their Stages, At little Expense.
Little or no change in Diet. No inconvenience.
And no Exposure.

It causes a frequent desire and gives strength to Urinate, thereby Removing Obructions, Preventing and Curing Strictures of the Urethra, allaying Pain and Inflammation, so frequent in this class of diseases, and expelling all Poisonous, Diseased and wornout Matter.

Thousands upon Thousands who have been the Victims of Quacks, and who have paid heavy fees to be cured in a short time, have found they were deceived, and that the "POISON" has, by the use of "Powerful Astringents," been dried up in the system, to break out in an aggravated form, and perhaps after Marriage.

—:o:—

Use HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU for all affections and diseases of the URINARY ORGANS, whether existing in MALE or FEMALE, from whatever cause originating and no matter of HOW LONG STANDING. Diseases of these Organs requires the aid of a DIURETIC. HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU IS THE GREAT DIURETIC, and is certain to have the desired effect in all Diseases for which it is Recommended.

Evidence of the most reliable and responsible character will accompany the medicine.

Price $1.00 per bottle, or six for $5.00.

Delivered to any Address, securely packed from observation.

Describe Symptoms in all Communications.

Cures Guaranteed! Advice Gratis!!

Address letters for information to

H. B. HELMBOLD, Chemist,
104 South Tenth st., bel. Chestnut, Phila.

HELMBOLD'S Medical Depot.
HELMBOLD'S Drug & Chemical Warehouse.
594 Broadway, New York.

BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS AND UNPRINCIPLED DEALERS who endeavor to dispose "of their own" and "other" articles on the reputation attained by

Helmbold's Genuine Preparations.
" " Extract Buchu.
" " Sarsaparilla.
" " Improved Rose Wash.

SOLD BY
ALL DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE.
ASK FOR HELMBOLD'S. TAKE NO OTHER.
Cut out the Advertisement and send for it.
AND AVOID IMPOSITION AND EXPOSURE.
December 16, 1863.—1 yr.

Coe's Superphosphate of Lime.
BRADLEY'S TOBACCO FERTILIZER.

For sale by the Manufacturer,

W. L. BRADLEY.

SALE OFFICE,
24 BROAD ST., BOSTON.

PAMPHLETS containing testimonials in favor of Coe's Superphosphate of Lime as a Standard Manure, and Bradley's Manual on the Culture and Curing of Tobacco, with illustrations, can be had by addressing the undersigned WM. L. BRADLEY.

☞ Highest Cash Prices paid for Bones.
Boston, April 13, 1864. 3m

GENTLEMEN'S HATS,
Spring Styles,
AT
J. A. JACKSON'S.

A large and choicely selected assortment of

FINE SOFT FELT HATS,
CLOTH HATS AND CAPS,
For Men and Boy's Wear,

101 COURT ST.,
April 13.—3m. BOSTON.

CHILDREN'S CARRIAGES.

WE have on hand a very large stock of Children's Carriages, comprising every variety of style, from the

CHEAP WILLOW CAB
—TO THE—
FINEST NEW HAVEN GIG.
—ALSO—
PERAMBULATORS!
of various qualities.

REPAIRING, in all its branches, promptly attended to at the OLD STAND,

No. 180 Essex street, Salem.
HENRY F. SKERRY.
April 20.—3m.

CURRIER & MILLETT,
Dealers in
Furniture, Chairs,
MATTRESSES, FEATHERS, &
259 & 261 ESSEX ST.
Salem, dec 14—1y

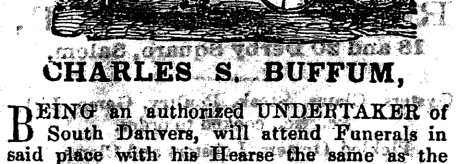
H. & H. G. HUBON,
WASHINGTON STREET, SALEM
Manufacturers of
Rose Wood, Mahogany, Black Walnut and Stained Wood.

COFFINS and CASKETS.

MAKING this our exclusive business, we are ready at all times and at the shortest notice to furnish Grave Clothes of various styles, as well as Coffins and Caskets of the finest finish. Personal attention given, and delivered without extra charge to any of the neighboring towns. All orders by express or otherwise will receive prompt attention.

Black Walnut and White Wood Boards, Plank and Joists for sale.

dec 14—tf



CHARLES S. BUFFUM,

BEING an authorized UNDERTAKER of South Danvers, will attend Funerals in said place with his Hearse the same as the Town Undertaker. Will also attend Funerals, when desired, in any of the neighboring towns, with one or a pair of horses.

He also furnishes Coffin Caskets, Robes, &c., lower than city prices.

All branches of the business attended to, such as furnishing Coaches, Flowers, Laying Out, &c. Ice Preservers furnished.

All orders promptly attended to, and personal attention given to them. Articles delivered to any of the neighboring towns free of charge. Orders by express or otherwise will receive prompt attention.

Central street, South Danvers,
RESIDENCE 25 ELM STREET.
South Danvers, Feb 17, 1864.

Undertaker's Notice!

THE subscriber being regularly appointed as Undertaker of South Danvers, would respectfully notify the public that he has removed from Central Street, to No. 80 Lowell Street, where he may be found in readiness to attend funerals, and to furnish, when desired.

HENRY SPENCER.
February 10, 1864.

E. S. FLINT,
Manufacturer and Dealer in
INNER SOLES,
AND SHOE STIFFENINGS OF ALL KINDS.
2 MAIN STREET, SOUTH DANVERS.

NEW BOOKS,
At G. M. WHIPPLE & A. A. SMITH'S.

Macaria, a new book by Miss Evans, author of Beulah;
Blackwood's Magazine, for June;
Leslie's Family Magazine, July;
Denise, by author of Mademoiselle Mori;
All the Illustrated Weekly Papers;
Army and Navy Journal;
The Round Table;
Croquet—Laws and Regulations of the same.
je 27 190 Essex Street.

Horse Railroad Notice.

On and after MONDAY, May 9, the cars of the Salem and South Danvers Railroad Co. will leave

South Danvers for Salem and Beverly at 6.35, 6.55, 7.15, and 7.35, A. M., and every 20 minutes till 12.55 P. M., and at 1.10, 1.25, 1.40, 1.55 P. M., and every 15 minutes till 10.25 P. M. The 9.55, 10.10, and 10.25 P. M., cars will go only to Salem.

Cars will leave Beverly for Salem and South Danvers at 6.35, 6.55, 7.15, and 7.35, A. M., and every 20 minutes till 12.55 P. M., and at 1.10, 1.25, 1.40 and 1.55 P.M., and every 15 minutes till 10.40 P. M. The 9.40, 9.55, 10.10, 10.25 and 10.40 P. M., cars go only to Salem.

Cars leave Washington Street Station for So. Danvers at 6.12, 6.32 and 6.52 A. M. and every 20 minutes till 12.32 P.M. and leave Washington St. Station for Beverly at 6.17, 6.37, 6.57, A.M., and every 20 minutes till 12.37 P. M., and cars will leave Washington St. Station for South Danvers and Beverly at 12.45, 1, 1.15, and 1.30 P. M., and every 15 minutes till 10.00 P. M.

M. H. HALE,
may 11 Sup't, S. & S. D. R. R. Co.

WM. C. HENDERSON,
MANUFACTURER OF
PLAIN AND FANCY
PAPER BOXES;
No. 235 ESSEX STREET,
Sign of "Nest of Boxes,"
july 23 SALEM. tf

MANHOOD:
HOW LOST, HOW RESTORED.

Just published, a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical cure (without medicine) of SPERMATORRHŒA, or Seminal Weakness, Involuntary Seminal Losses, IMPOTENCY, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc.; also, Consumption, Epilepsy and Fits, induced by self-indulgence or sexual extravagance.

☞ Price, in a sealed envelope, only 6 cents.

The celebrated author in this admirable essay clearly demonstrates from a thirty years successful practice, that the alarming consequences of self-abuse may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine or the application of the knife—pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

☞ This Lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land.

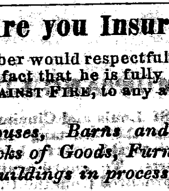
Sent under seal, in a plain envelope, to any address, POST-PAID, on receipt of six cents, or two post stamps. Address the publishers,

CHAS. J. C. KLINE & CO.,
127 Bowery, New York, Post Office Box, 4586.
June 29—10w.

Abbott's South Danvers & Salem
EXPRESS.

Leave South Danvers, 7½ a m, 1 p m
Leave Salem, 10 a m, 4 p m

Orders left at Teel & Moulton's, and principal store on Main street, South Danvers; and at 7 Washington street, and at Reed's in the Market, Salem.



Are you Insured?

THE subscriber would respectfully call your attention to the fact that he is fully prepared to effect INSURANCE AGAINST FIRE, to any amount, at current rates, on

Dwelling Houses, Barns and their contents, Stores, Stocks of Goods, Furniture, &c. &c., and on buildings in process of erection,

And that he is the authorized Agent for the following responsible Stock and Mutual Companies, viz:

Phenix Insurance Co., (Stock,) Norwich, Conn.
Capital—$500,000.
Amos W. Prentice, Pres. Oliver F. Rice, Sec'y
Conway Insurance Company, (Stock) Boston.
Capital and Surplus—$260,000.
James F. Whitney, Pres. David C. Rogers, Sec'y.
City Insurance Company, (Stock) Boston.
Capital—$150,000.
Samuel P. Hayward, Pres. Austin W. Benton, Sec'y

Also, will effect Insurance on the LIVES OF INDIVIDUALS, for one year, seven years, or for the whole term of life, in the

Massachusetts Mutual Life Ins. Co., Springfield, Mass.
Capital and Assetts—$375,000.
Caleb Rice, Pres. D. B. Bacon, Sec'y.
William Mack, M. D., Medical Examiner.

WM. ARCHER, Jr.,
18 Washington st. and 34 Front st., Salem.
feb20-1

ALWAYS SUCCESSFUL!
TO ALL THOSE WHO SUFFER FROM
DEBILITY AND SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

DRS. CARSWELL & HUNTER, regularly educated, highly eminent and successful practitioners, after a very extensive practice in Boston, for over twenty years, need hardly speak of their medical qualifications, or remind strangers not to class them with a set of uneducated men, who fill the papers with their boasting advertisements. Drs. C. & H. caution the public against quackery in all its forms, pretending, as some self-styled doctors, to cure all the most difficult and chronic diseases, without knowledge of the human system, or of the modus operandi of the most simple drugs.

Drs. C. & H., since 1840, having confined their whole attention to an office practice for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, they acknowledge no superiors.

CONSTITUTIONAL DEBILITY OR SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Drs. C. & H. are pre-eminently successful in the treatment of the above most difficult and perplexing of all diseases, this complaint being the result of a secret habit in youth; if neglected or improperly treated, it proves one of the greatest evils that can befall a human being. Dr. H. has given particular attention to the above disease for years, and so thoroughly has he become acquainted with the pathology and treatment, that he will warrant a perfect cure under forfeiture of $500; in fact, he will, in the cure of this complaint, acknowledge no superior in this country, or even in the world. Come, then, all you who are afflicted, come to the Old Stand, where you will in a short time be made to rejoice in perfect health.

SYPHILITIC AND SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS,—such as Ulcers and Caries of the throat and nose, Running Sores on the legs and arms, Hard Scabs and Scaly Eruptions on the head, back, &c., pains in the bones and joints, and all other forms of venereal diseases—are made to yield and entirely disappear under Drs. C. & H.'s improved and thoroughly eradicating course of treatment.

The primary or first symptoms of disease, whether a simple running, or small pistules, cancers, or ulcers, are cured in a very few days, if immediate application is made to Drs. C. & H.

13 ENDICOTT STREET, BOSTON. 13

Strangers should be particular in the selection of a physician, lest they be deceived by false advertisements.

Ladies troubled with irregularity, weakness, whites, and other complaints peculiar to the female system, will find a speedy cure by calling as above. No mercury used, and no charge for advice. The afflicted are invited to give us a call.

Boston, April 20, 1864.—1 yr.

25 YEARS' EXPERIENCE enables DRS. CARSWELL & HUNTER to cure any diseases of a private nature in a shorter space of time and for a smaller amount of money than any other doctors in this country, and they also treat all female complaints with perfect success, and on the most satisfactory terms. Patients furnished with board if desired. Please give us a call at our office, No. 13 Endicott St., Boston, Mass.

Boston, April 20, 1864.—1 yr.

MOZAMBIQUES,

AT 20 cents per yard; a nice quality at 30 cents per yard; White Striped Muslins; Striped Cambrics; Nainsooks—just received.

In Lawns we have a first rate assortment; other styles of Thin Goods—making our assortment as good as can be found in the city, selling at the lowest cash prices.

Ann R. BRAY, 76 Federal Street.
June 1.

FLOUR.

200 BBLS "Keystone;" 100 bbls Faquis "Invincible," received this day, and for sale by
may 25 GAYLE & CO., Phillips Wharf.

FEATHER DUSTERS,

OF all sizes, from 10 to 26 inches, just opened at
je22. S C & E A SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

SUMMER ARRA
TO LYNN & BO
—BY—
OMNIBUS & HO
W. F. BURN

Line of Omnibuses will leave
Omnibus Office, No. 6 Allen's
vers, passing down Main Street,
Street, to Lynn, daily—Sunday
Leave South Danvers at 7 50
and 4 50 P. M.
Leave Lynn (Horse Car Depot
A. M., 2 40 and 6 40 P. M.
Horse Cars leaving the office
at 8 15 A. M., 1 15 and 3 15 P. M.
buses at Lynn, at the above
passengers to South Danvers.

Tickets to Lynn,
Through to Boston,

Gravesend, Woodend
Depot Ro

ON and after Monday, Nov 2, route, an Omnibus will leav
Lynn, to connect with the ste
times daily,—Sundays excepte
Gravesend and Woodend, to th
and Horse Railroad Station, c
Broad Streets; leaving South D
necting with the 7.25 steam car
(connecting with the 11.10 train ing with the 4.50 train); and re
from the Spring Street Station
pot, at 8 A M, and 1 and 6 P M.
Fare from S. Danvers to Bost
Through Tickets to and from
the Drivers and Conductors.

South Danvers, Sale
Route.

THE subscriber having purc
ley the Omnibus line
Lynn, would announce that
Stage Office, No. 6 Allen's Buil
for Salem, at 7 30 A M, and 2 30
Stage Office in Central St, Sal
3 30 P M for Lynn. Returning
A M and 5 P M; and Salem for
A M, and 6.15 P M.
Passengers between South Da
be called for by leaving orders
Passengers called for at reaso
a given at the office.

EXPRESS BU
Between South Danvers and L
ed to, on reasonable terms.
Extra Coaches furnished at sh
W. F
South Danvers, April 20, 1864

GROUT & MU
SOUTH DANVER
RAILROAD
Express leaves South Danver
Freight " "
Express leaves Boston at
Freight " " at
OFFICE at FREIGHT
Danvers Square.
Express Office in Boston, 3
Freight Office, 48
Particular attention pai
niture, collecting Bills, No
Smallest favors thankfully re
South Danvers, august 26—t

MARSHA
DANVERS, SO. DAN
EXPRE
Leave DANVERS (daily) at
" SALEM at 1½ P. M.
OFFICES:
In Danvers—At E B Waitt's an Danversport—Richards' and A
In So. Danvers—Francis Dane
street.
In Salem—No 7 Washington st
17 Derby Square.
All business promptly and fa
—— Our patrons are part
write their orders.
—— Packages left at the off
"Marshall's Express."
—— Being connected with
are enabled to forward Notes collection, and small packag point in the United States,
dec18-tf

WEBBE
South Danvers & Sale
WILL leave South Danvers
1½ and 5 P.M.
Leaves Salem at 8.45 A. M., 1
Slates will be found in South
Office, and at Blake & Holman
ment, and in Salem at the Coac
Street, and at E F & J W Robe
Washington Streets.
Any packages or business en
will have prompt attention and
lic patronage is solicited.
P

Important to th

DR. DOW continues to be c
Nos. 7 and 9 Endicott stree
eases of a

PRIVATE OR DELICA

By a long course of study an of unlimited extent, Dr. D. ha of presenting the unfortunat have never, since he first intro cure the most alarming cases o

GONORRHŒA AND

Beneath his treatment, all th
and impure blood, Impotency, Ulcers, pain and distress in th
tion, Inflammation of the Blad
drocele, Abcesses, Humors, fri
the long train of horrible sym class of disease, are made to be the simplest ailings of a child.

SEMINAL WEA

Dr. D. devotes a great part o ment of those cases caused by habit, which ruins the body an unfortunate individual for busi
of the sad and melancholy effec
habits of youth, are Weakn
limbs, Dizziness of the head, D
pitation of the heart, Dyspep rangement of the digestive fu Consumption, &c. The fearfu are much to be dreaded; loss
of ideas, depression of spir
aversion of society, self-distru
among the evils produced. Su
fore contemplating matrimony, experience, and be at once
happiness.
Patients who wish to remain
ment a few days or weeks, wi pleasant rooms, and charges fo
Medicines sent to all parts of directions for use, on receivin cases. Dr. Dow has also for sal warranted the best preventiv
or $1 and a red stamp.

CAUTIO

TO FEMALES IN DELI

DR. DOW, Physician and Sur street, Boston, is consulted dail
dent to the female system. Pro
ing of the Womb, Fluor Albus,
er menstrual derangements, are pathological principles, and spe
in a very few days. So invaria mode of treatment, that most yield under it, and the afflicted
in perfect health.
Dr. Dow has no doubt had gr cure of diseases of women an other physician in Boston.
Boarding accommodations f wish to stay in Boston a few
ment.
Dr. Dow, since 1845, having tention to an office practice, for Diseases and Female Complai
superior in the United States.
N. B.—All letters must contai
they will not be answered.
Office Hours from 8 A. M. to 9

CERTAIN

IN ALL CASES, OR NO C

Dr. Dow is consulted daily, f
as above, upon all difficult an every name and nature, having tention and extraordinary succe
which calls patients from all pa
obtain advice.
Among the physicians in Bost
in the profession than the celeb
7 Endicott street, Boston. Tho
vices of an experienced physici
give him a call. P. S.—Dr. Do
sale a new article, called the F
by mail. Two for $1 and a red
April 20, 1864—1y.

NEW WHITE

DINNER, Tea and Toilet new pattern, Ribbon B
je22 S C & E A SIMON

South Danvers Wizard.

OL. V. SOUTH DANVERS, MASS., WEDNESDAY, JULY 20, 1864. NO. 29.

SOUTH DANVERS WIZARD
hed every WEDNESDAY, at Allen's Build-
th Danvers Square,
—Two Dollars a year.
ITSEMENTS inserted at reasonable rates.

CHARLES D. HOWARD,
DITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

. NILES, Advertising Agent,
colloy's Building, Court Street, Boston, is nt for that city, and is authorized to revertisements and subscriptions for us at est rates.

Original Poetry.

HE MOTHER'S LAMENT.

Soft bend the heavens o'er thee
My gentle, noble boy;
While stricken hearts deplore thee
Of which thou wert the joy.

Far off thy form is lying,
From kindred dust afar;
Where Southern winds are sighing
Amid the sounds of war.

For thee life's march is ended,
Its conflicts all are o'er;
Thy spirit hath ascended
Where trouble comes no more.

No more the shout of battle
Shall stir thy loyal breast;
No more the cannon's rattle
Shall break thy tranquil rest.

For thee, sad sighs of sorrow,
The bleeding heart shall swell;
When many a long to-morrow
Hath bid the world farewell.

Oh! had thy head when dying,
Been pillowed on my breast,
The stroke had been less trying
Which sent thee to thy rest.

Oh! could thine eyes when closing
Have looked their last on me,
The grave's long, deep, reposing,
I could have shared with thee.

Sweet be thy silent slumbers
Till Christ shall bid thee rise,
And join the happy numbers
Who meet him in the skies.

There, there our spirits blending,
Around the great, white throne,
Where joys are never ending,
And farewells are unknown.

We'll chant again the story
Of Him, who once was slain;
Which bursts in hymns of glory
From all the blood-washed train.

Soft bend the heavens o'er thee,
My gentle, noble boy;
The pride of her who bore thee,
Thy father's hope and joy.

H. P.

Selected.

E PHANTOM BRIDE.

A STRANGE STORY.

Will you love me, beyond the tomb r?' The question came from the nillion lips of a young girl at a fancy in Paris during the reign of Louis V. She was a brilliant brunette, with ndant raven hair, and wore the Span- veil and mantilla which she had as- ned for the occasion with all the grace daughter of Andalusia. Her com- ion, a noble Scotch earl of some two three and twenty, arrayed as a war- of Mary Stuart's, in Scotch plaid Highland bonnet and feather, had n pursuing the fair unknown all the ning with the protestation of love and rnal fidelity. His answer was prompt unhesitating:

Yes, I swear it. If I die I will am of you in the sepulchre, and a ill of joy will welcome you if your t but press the grass over my head.'

And if I should die?' inquired the ng girl, in a sad tone.

If you should die, I will be as faith- to you dead as living; if you should permitted to visit me, I will kiss your d hand with as much love as at this oment.' And he pressed to his lips e little white hand of the beautiful paniard.

'Ah, well! I permit you, then, to ve me. We shall see if you will be nstant. Farewell; we shall meet ain.'

'But where? when?' demanded the rl, anxiously.

'I cannot tell; perhaps here,—per- ps elsewhere;—but you will see me.' nd, with a gesture which forbade him follow her, she disappeared in the owd.

Two years passed away, during which arl Ralph Morton sought vainly at arly, Versailles, in every place of pub- c resort, for his beautiful unknown. e was a Scotchman by birth, and, like any of his countrymen, had entered e service of the King of France. But court life did not comport very well ith his slender fortune, and he became, re long, deeply involved in debt.

'You must find some rich heiress,' aid his sympathizing friends; it was the usual resource of embarrassed gentlemen of that day. But the earl had not forgotten the bewitching Andalusian, and he was in no mood for the search. He was spared the trouble, however. His uncle, who was the archbishop of an Assyrian city destroyed by the Romans, informed him one day that it was time for him to marry, and that he had found a wife for him.

'Is she rich?' inquired Ralph. 'I do not ask if she is pretty—it is all the same to me.'

'Very rich and very pretty.'

The earl thought of his unknown, and sighed; then thought of his creditors, and consented. The uncle arranged everything, and when all was settled he gave the nephew his benediction and two hundred pistoles, and sent him off to Burgundy to pay his respects to Mademoiselle Roche Noire, whom he was to marry in a fortnight.

A gloomy journey of several days' duration brought him at length to the ancient feudal manor-house of Roche Noire, situated in the heart of a forest, on a lofty rock from which it derived its name. He was expected. The ground door of the mansion was open, and an aged servant met him at the threshold, and conducted him to a large hall, at the extremity of which sat an old man and a young girl. The former, whom he divined at once to be the Baron of Roche Noire, rose at his entrance, and, saluting him in the somewhat formal fashion of the day, presented him to his daughter Herminne. The latter had the voluptuous beauty of the flower which has unfolded under a southern sun. She was pale, with fair hair, and eyes of the deep blue of an Italian sky. Her figure was rich but graceful, her hands exquisitely shaped and transparent as alabaster. So much the earl saw as he bent before his betrothed, and in spite of his professed indifference, he inwardly congratulated himself on his good fortune.

The earl and the baron exchanged the usual reciprocal compliments and inquiries. Ralph was accustomed to society, and understood well the art of making himself agreeable; the Baron, spite of his seventy winters, had not forgotten to be a courtier; and Herminne had the simple grace and dignity, the modesty without prudery, of a young girl of high birth, religiously educated, but without rigidity. The conversation soon became animated and sparkling, while Ralph watched Herminne, and now and then whispered to himself—'She is charming! Blessings on my uncle for finding me a wife at once so pretty and so rich.'

When supper was announced he offered his hand to the young girl, who accepted it with a blush, while the baron led the way to the dining-room. It was a lofty apartment, furnished in the massive style of Louis XIV, and upon the walls were suspended ancient family portraits. As Ralph's eye glanced over these, it was attracted by one whose freshness formed a striking contrast to the smoky canvases devoted to the defunct barons of Roche Noire. It presented a young girl of dazzling, but foreign beauty, such as is found only under southern skies. A more brilliant daughter of Spain never danced the bolero in the perfumed gardens of the Alhambra. The eyes of Ralph were fixed immovably upon the canvas; the first glance told that it was his long-lost unknown of the fancy ball.

'Come, my dear earl,' said the baron, 'let us be seated.'

Ralph started and obeyed, then turned his eyes to Herminne. In contrast with that glowing beauty she appeared to him utterly insipid. He made some remark about the picture. The baron did not reply, but a cloud passed over his face, and Herminne turned pale and sat silent with downcast eyes. A chill seemed to be thrown over those three persons, just now talking so joyously. Brief remarks were made occasionally, in a constrained voice, and the supper ended almost in silence. At its close the earl made the fatigue of his journey an excuse for retiring early. As the servant was conducting him to his apartment they passed again through the dining-hall.

'Whose portrait is this?' he asked, pointing to the portrait of the lady.

The servant hesitated.

'Speak!' said the earl, imperiously.

'It is the portrait of Mademoiselle Fulmen,' said the old man, trembling.

'And who is she?'

'The elder sister of Mademoiselle Herminne.'

'But she is dressed in Spanish costume.'

'Yes; her mother was a Spanish lady.'

'And Fulmen, where is she now?'

'She is dead,' said the old man, solemnly. 'She lies at the left of the altar, in the chapel of the castle.'

Fatigue had no power that night to bring sleep to Ralph's eyelids. It was in vain that he extinguished the candles, and buried his head under the blankets; the image of Fulmen radient with beauty, as she was represented in the picture, and as he had seen her at the fancy ball; again, it was Fulmen pale and cold, extended in her coffin, under the pavement of the chapel. Then he remembered his oath to love her as well dead as living, and a cold sweat bathed his brow. At that moment a light at the opposite extremity of the apartment attracted his attention; a door whose existence he had not suspected turned noiselessly on its hinges, the candles re-lighted themselves spontaneously, and a figure draped in a winding-sheet entered the room, and approached his bed. It advanced slowly; the most acute ear could have detected no sound of footsteps. Brave as he was, the earl trembled at the apparition. When the figure was within a few feet of the bed, the winding-sheet was thrown back, and revealed a young girl dressed in the Spanish costume.

'Fulmen!' he murmured; 'the picture has descended from its frame.'

It was indeed Fulmen, just as she was painted, save that the lips were pale, the eyes mournful, the whole expression unspeakably sad.

'It is I,' she said. 'Do you remember your oath? They have told you that I am dead.'

The teeth of Ralph chattered, but the voice was so pure, so melodious, that it aided him to shake off the torpor which was creeping over him.

'No, you are not dead,' he exclaimed, with an effort.

'I have been dead a year,' replied Fulmen, sadly. 'They buried me in the chapel. You can read my epitaph on the marble slab, the third from the high altar.'

Ralph could not detach his eyes from this singular creature, whose marvelous beauty counteracted in some degree the terror which the apparition would otherwise have caused.

'Alas!' resumed the spectre, drawing the shroud about her form, with all the coquetry with which a living belle might wrap an opera cloak around her, 'I am dead, really dead, at seventeen—when life was full of light and perfume and music; when tears, even, were so sweet that they resembled smiles; when the present was so happy that the future was forgotten;—and then I loved you. I trusted in your oath, but you did not care for me. You have come here to marry my sister.'

'Fulmen,' murmured Ralph, who felt a pang of remorse at his heart,—'I have loved you; love you still.'

She shook her head.

'The dead are never loved,' she said, sadly.

Ralph trembled; he felt his blood curdle in his veins. He remembered his oath. Yet Fulmen did not complain. She did not overwhelm him with reproaches. She seemed resigned. He saw her lean her head upon her hand, a tear shone in her eye and a quiver passed through her frame.

'I am cold,' she said, and, rising from the chair in which she had seated herself, she approached the fireplace, and bent as if to warm herself by the half-extinguished brands. 'The dead are always cold,' she murmured.

'Heavens!' exclaimed Ralph, 'You are not dead; but, dead or living, you are beautiful—more beautiful than any living woman—and I love you as on the day I first saw you.'

'The dead are never loved,' she repeated, mournfully.

'But you are not dead. The limbs of the dead are frigid, the flesh corrupt, they cannot walk, they cannot speak; you are not dead—it is impossible.'

'I am dead,' repeated Fulmen, in a tone of authority which admitted of no question—'dead, and yet I suffer.'

'You suffer!' the earl exclaimed.

'Yes. Because I died with a guilty thought in my heart. I remembered the ball where I met you. It was earthly love, not penitence, that engrossed my last hours. Yet if you, who are alive, can love me still, God will, perhaps, pardon me, and I shall suffer no longer.'

'I do love you,' cried Ralph, gazing at the young girl, so beautiful in her sadness. Yet a secret voice said to him, 'Ah, if she were only alive!'

A pale smile passed over the face of the phantom. It rose and advanced towards him. Ralph involuntarily shrunk back at its approach.

'You see,' she said, mournfully, 'It is always so—the living fear the dead.'

'No, no!' said he, eagerly, ashamed of the momentary terror; 'no, Fulmen, my beloved, come!'

She extended her hand, and took that of the young man. Ralph uttered a cry. His hand was pressed by the cold, clammy fingers of a corpse. She let his hand fall.

'No,' she repeated, in a half-suffocated voice. 'You see it cannot be; I shall suffer always!'

And she fled, while Ralph was so overpowered that he had no power to speak or move. The candles went out suddenly; silence reigned again in the chamber; the phantom vanished.

The next day dawned bright and beautiful. The Baron de Roche Noire, who did not appear to notice the pallor and abstraction of his guest, proposed a hunt. The day was spent in the open air, and if the earl thought of the occurrences of the last night, they seemed to him only as a bewildering dream. But with returning darkness, and especially at the sight of the picture, the apparition again seemed a reality, and he determined to ascertain the truth. Pleading a headache, he retired to his room, and extinguishing the candles, he called softly, 'Fulmen! Fulmen!' No answer. Again he called, 'Fulmen, I love you, though dead.'

Immediately the candles were re-lighted, and Fulmen again appeared. She threw off her winding-sheet, and seated herself in a chair by his side. Her face had the cadaverous paleness of the tomb; ~~her eyes were sad; her steps were slow~~ and painful; yet her exquisite beauty the same fascination over him as when sparkling with life and vivacity.

'Fulmen, I love you!' he repeated, gazing at her with admiration.

'Yet if my hand should touch yours,' she replied with a sad smile, 'you would utter a cry, as you did last night; the dead are always cold.'

'Give me your hand, and you will see,' said Ralph, extending resolutely his own. She took it, and again there came over him the same terrible sensation as before; but he had self-control enough to conquer it, and again to repeat, 'I love you!'

A bright smile illuminated the features of Fulmen.

'My poor friend,' she said, 'I would gladly believe you, but if your love would end my suffering, it must be so profound, so ardent, that it can conquer even the desire to live. A tomb with me must have attractions for you, and you are but twenty-five, Ralph. At your age, life is sweet.'

The earl shook his head.

'To live without you is death; to be united to you, even in the tomb, would be life.'

'Take care, my friend.'

'Of what, dear Fulmen?' exclaimed Ralph, over whom the smile of the young girl, seemed to exercise an overpowering fascination.

'Do you know,' she said, 'that if you utter such a wish, God may hear your prayer?'

'Ah, if he would!—an eternity by your side would be infinite happiness.'

'Ralph, my friend,' interrupted Fulmen, while a smile of celestial joy shone in her face, 'take care—you will die if you love me.'

'I wish to die.'

'But you are betrothed to my sister.'

'An exclamation of anger escaped him.

'I hate her!' he said, vehemently.

'Why?'

'Because she is alive, while you are dead. What has she done that she should enjoy the light of the sun, the perfume of flowers, the melody of birds? Was she any younger, or more beautiful?'

'Ralph, you are unjust. My sister has no control over her destiny or mine.'

'You are right, perhaps; but I swear to you that I will never marry Herminne. I wish to be yours, and only yours, forever,'

'You are mad, my friend—I cannot accept happiness at such a sacrifice.'

She rose slowly.

'Adieu, Ralph,' she said. 'Marry Herminne and pray for me.'

'Fulmen! Fulmen!' exclaimed Ralph, falling on his knees at her feet; 'Do not abandon me—I love you!'

'But your love is death.'

'It is happiness, it is life!'

His tone was so earnest, so touching, that the young girl hesitated.

'Let me live eternally with you,' he persisted.

'Listen, my friend,' she said at length, as if she could no longer resist his entreaties. 'In this casket'—pointing to a richly-carved box which stood on the table—'there is a vial containing a dark liquid.'

'And this liquid?'

'Is death.'

'It is happiness,' exclaimed Ralph, seizing the casket.

Fulmen stopped him by a gesture.

'Not yet,' she said; 'by-and-by—at midnight; but first reflect!'

Immediately the candles were extinguished, and he found himself in complete darkness.

If Earl Ralph had been a Frenchman, as soon as Fulmen disappeared he would have opened the window, and let the cool night air play upon his brow. Then the fever-fit being over, he would have said to himself, 'All this is folly. I am twenty-five years old, an officer in the king's service, and am about to marry a young girl—blonde as a Madonna, fair as a lily—who will bring me an income of one hundred thousand livres. I have only to be quiet, and let things take their course.' After which he would have slept quietly, and dreamed no more of Fulmen. But Ralph was a Scotchman, with an imagination as susceptible of exaltation as most of his countrymen of the land of mountain and mist. As soon as the phantom vanished, therefore, he re-lighted the candle by the aid of a half-extinguished firebrand, and opening the casket, took out the vial

'Fulmen! Fulmen! wait for me!—I am coming!' he murmured, and swallowed the contents at a draught.

For a moment he experienced a strange and inexplicable sensation—a coldness in the chest, a heat in the head; then his eyes became heavy, his limbs trembled, an extreme languor crept over him, and he sank upon the floor, still murmuring faintly, 'Fulmen, wait for me—I love you.'

When Ralph swallowed the contents of the vial he expected to awake in the other world. He was mistaken; the vial contained only a narcotic, and he was very much astonished on opening his eyes to find himself in bed, and to see the sun shining through the curtained windows. A lady sat by his bedside. It was Fulmen! but no longer the pale, sad Fulmen, with livid lips, and form enveloped in a winding sheet; but Fulmen, fresh, radiant, joyous, in the same costume she wore at the fancy ball.

The reader will understand the explanation of this more readily than the young earl, whose head was still somewhat confused from the effects of the narcotic. The young girl had wished to put the sudden passion of her ball-room lover to the test, and with some difficulty she had persuaded her fond old father and her cousin Herminne to lend themselves to the mystification. A little ingenuity, some invisible assistance, aided by the native superstition of the young Scotchman, were all that was necessary to the success of the scheme.

We need not say that the earl, when he recovered his senses, was very glad to exchange his phantom bride for a living one.

"THE GRAVE OF BUNYAN.—Bunyan lies in Bunhill Fields, a cemetery crowded with graves, and thick with monuments and slabs. Asking a lad whom I met if he could point me to Bunyan's grave,—

"'Yes,' said he, 'there he lies, covered with a sheet.'

"Taking the direction pointed out. I soon stood by the grave and the monument of the inimitable allegorist. And there indeed he did lie, wrapped in a cloak, with a book under his arm, sleeping and dreaming—hewn out of white marble on the slab which covers his grave. On the monument is this simple but sufficient inscription:

'JOHN BUNYAN,
'The author of Pilgrim's Progress.'

"On one side, chiselled in the stone, is the Pilgrim, with his burden, leaning on his staff, with a countenance of deepest anguish. On the opposite side is the Pilgrim grasping the cross, his eyes gazing on it, his burden rolled off at his feet, and his countenance radiant with peace and joy."

IN MEMORIUM.

CARLETON, the accomplished correspondent of the Boston Journal, writes from near Petersburg, June 28th, a touching incident of the war:

"IN MEMORIUM."

While riding up from City Point to the front to-day, a friend attached to the Christian Commission pointed out a grave by the roadside, near the Fifth Corps hospital, about a mile east of the Dunn house. For me it had a special interest, as it will have for thousands—the grave of Edward M. Schneider, 57th Mass.—When the regiment was formed he was a student in Phillips Academy, Andover. From motives of patriotism purely, against the wishes of friends, he left the literature of the ancients, the history of the past, to become an actor in the present and do what he could for the future. His father is the well known missionary of the American Board at Anitab, Turkey, and the son did what he thought would meet his approval.

The chaplain of the regiment, Rev. Mr. Dashnell, has kindly given me information of what he has done for his country. On the march from Annapolis, he, though but seventeen years old, and unaccustomed to hardship, kept his place in the ranks, not once falling out, from the encampment by the waters of the Chesapeake to the Rapidan. He was slightly wounded on the North Anna, and was sent to Port Royal for transportation to Washington, but, of his own accord, returned to his regiment, joining it at Coal Harbor. While preparing for the charge upon the enemy's works on the 17th, beyond the Dunn house, he said to the chaplain, "I intend to be the first one to enter their works."

The charge was made. How grandly they moved through the woods! How quickly they swept up to the rebel line of defensive works, like an ocean billow upon a breakwater, rolling over it, engulphing all beyond! The brave young soldier tried to make good his words.—With eager feet he led the advance, breaking out from the line and keeping a rod or two in advance. He was almost there—not quite—almost near enough to feel the hot flash of the rebel musketry in his face—near enough to be covered with the sulphurous cloud from the cannon—when he fell shot through the body. He was carried to the hospital, with six hundred and fifty of his division comrades. He lay all night with his wound undressed, waiting his turn. There was not a murmur from his lips. The chaplain looked at his wounds.

"What do you think of it?" Seeing that it was mortal, he could not articulate a reply; neither could he restrain his tears. He remembered the last injunction of the young soldier's sister—"I commit him to your care." The young hero interpreted the meaning of the tear—that his wound was mortal. "Do not weep," he said; it is God's will. I wish you to write to my father and tell him that I have tried to do my duty to my country and to God." He disposed of his effects, giving $10 to the Christian Commission, $20 to the American Board, and trifles to his friends. Then, in the simplicity of his heart, he said: "I have a good many friends, schoolmates and companions. They will want to know where I am—how I am getting on. You can let them know I am gone, and that I die content. And, Chaplain, the boys in the regiment—I want you to tell them to stand by the dear old flag! And there is my brother in the navy—write to him and tell him to stand by the flag and cling to the cross of Christ!"

The surgeon came and examined the wound—"It is my duty to tell you that you will soon go home," said he.

"Yes, doctor, I am going home. I am not afraid to die. I don't know how the valley will be when I get to it, but it is all bright now." Then, gathering up his waning strength, he repeated the verse often sung by the soldiers, who, amid all the whirl and excitement of the camp and battle-field, never forget those whom they have left behind them—mother, sister, father, brother. Calmly, clearly, distinctly, he repeated the lines—the chorus of the song—

"Soon with Angels I'll be marching,
With bright laurels on my brow;
I have for my country fallen,
Who will care for sister now?"

The night wore away. Death came on apace. He suffered intense pain, but not a murmur escaped his lips. Sabbath morning came, and with the coming of the light he passed away. On the 17th of June, eighty-nine years ago, the sires of Freedom freely gave their lives on Bunker Hill for the cause they loved.—Not less worthy of remembrance are those who fell in front of Petersburg on this memorable day.

Not many days hence a gray haired man, far away in the Orient, will receive the tidings. The afflictions may be severe—for, loving his work, serving his master, he doubtless has looked down the vista of coming years, and beheld the boy succeeding him as a missionary of the Gospel, but in his affliction will he not thank God that he had such a son?

He has not lived in vain. He had done his work, and has gone home to engage in a higher service. It was not for him to have all his heart's desire here—to be the first to stand upon the rampart of the enemy's works—but fearlessly and triumphantly he vanquished the last enemy and came off a mighty conquerer.

"I die content," said the heroic and noble Wolfe, at Quebec, when told that the French were fleeing.

"Stand up for Jesus," said Dudley Tyng in his last hours—words which have warmed and moved thousands of Christian hearts.

"Let me die with my face to the enemy," was the last command of General Rice, the Christian, the soldier, the patriot, at Spottsylvania; but equally worthy of a place in the memories of men are the words of Edward M. Schneider, the boy, the student, hardly eighteen years of age, the leader in the charge—to his brother. They are the essence of all that Wolfe and Tyng and Rice uttered in their last moments. His grave is by the roadside, marked by a rude paling erected by Rev. Mr. Dashnell. The summer breeze sweeps through the sighing pines above the heaved up mound.—Mournful yet sweet the music of the wind harp—mournful in that one so young, so full of life, capable of such a future, should go so soon—sweet, in that he did his work so well. Had he a century he could not have it more complete. It was a short life, extending only from the peaceful shade of Old Andover to the intrenchment of Petersburg; but Oh how full!

I have given the record as narrated by his Chaplain and by members of the Christian Commission, who were with him in his last moments. It is plain, simple, true. I am refreshed. The future is not dark. Will the tree of Liberty become diseased and fall prematurely into the screand yellow tree, if nourished by such vital blood? No. There is compensation in God's economy. It is costly to sow such seed, but the return will be abundant, the harvest golden.—Amid all the pain, the anguish, the tearing of heart-strings, the waste and desolation of war, we have such compensation as this. There are thousands who are ready to follow where he marched to the cannon's mouth; and there are other thousands who have not yet taken their places in the ranks—young as he, in years, who, as they read this record will feel the patriotic flame kindling as never before.

One week ago this Sunday morning, he passed from the din of the dry, hot, dusty, bloody field of battle to that land where peace floweth like a river forever-more. I have stood by the mouldering dust of those whose names are great in history, whose deeds and virtues are cut in brass and marble, who were reverenced while living and mourned for when dead, but never have I felt a profounder reverance for departed worth than for him—asleep beneath the pines, uncoffined, unshrouded, wearing as when fell the uniform of his country. His last words, the messages to his comrades, to his father and his brother, will live so long as the flag of our country shall wave, or the cross of Christ endure. "Stand up for the dear old flag and cling to the cross of Christ!" They are the emblems of all our hopes for time and eternity.—Short, full, rounded, complete his life. Glorious such a death!

☞ A smart little boy in Albany is the author of the following:

The moon was setting in a cloud,
Full fledged in golden light,
A hatching out the little stars—
The chickens of the night;
But out of all that brilliant brood
Produced by Luna pale,
There was but one poor little chick
That could produce a tail!

☞ An old lady, whose son was about to proceed to the Black Sea, among her parting admonitions she gave him strict injunctions not to bathe in that sea, for she didn't want him to come home a "nigger."

The Wizard.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 20, 1864.

THE SANITARY COMMISSION.

Notwithstanding all the light which has been shed on this benevolent enterprise, there are those who are yet unadvised of its prudential operations. Large stories have been told of wastefulness, extravagant salaries, etc., many of these stories being made up by the disloyal. We present below an extract from Rev. Dr. Bellows, in reply to one addressed to him by Henry Ward Beecher, in which he puts the matter authoritatively in the right. We think this ought to stop the mouths of those who delight to misrepresent the officers and objects of this most excellent institution. If they still persist in their grumbling, they ought to be compelled to live on the same amount of salary which the Commission pays to its servants—that is, just nothing at all.

Chaplain Alonzo Quint, in his late work on the War, speaks in the highest terms of the Sanitary, and recommends it above all other organizations, for its usefulness to the suffering soldiers:

To recapitulate with sole reference to expense, in round numbers, and with only an approximation to exactness, I add the following facts:

1. The Board of the U. S. Sanitary Commission, President, Vice-President, Treasurer, Medical Committee, and Standing Committee, give their time and services gratuitiously. They are refunded (in part) their traveling expenses; nothing more.

2. Their Agents, two hundred in number, General and Associate Secretaries, Medical and Sanitary Inspectors, Relief Agents, Clerks, depot and store-house keepers, wagoners, etc., receiving some more and some less, average just $2.00 per day, or less than ordinary mechanics' wages. Total $12,000 per month for the vast human machinery of the Commission, stretching from Texas to the Potomac, from before Charleston to Kansas.

3. About fifteen-sixteenths of all the eight millions the Commission has received, goes on to the backs, or into the mouths of the soldiers.

4. The cost of collecting and distributing supplies is less than three per cent.

5. About twenty-three hundred men are now, and for a long time have been, in daily use and enjoyment of the Homes and Lodges of the Commission.

6. The battle-field service of the Commission requires a large accumulation of funds and of supplies. At Murfreesboro', Antietam, Gettysburg, Chattanooga, Vicksburg, Port Hudson, sudden and vast demands were made, and are always likely to be made. Fifty thousand dollars would not cover the cost of our whole service in the first two weeks after any one of our great battles; at Gettysburg it was $75,000.

7. We reckon that if we divided all the aid we have given to the sick in regimental, general, and other hospitals, to men in peril of sickness from scurvy and exposure, it would amount to $3.20 a case; many men having received this several times, as often as they were sick. The seriously wounded have been often—as at Gettysburg—the receivers of as much as $10 aid per man. We mention this to show not how much, but how little, this sometimes called extravagant Commission costs, considering the blessings it is the almoner of.

Finally, the only uncertain element in these calculations, is the estimated value of our supplies. The uncertainty here is not due to want of great pains to ascertain the facts. We shall very soon be able to lay before the public the exact estimates, how many shirts and their estimated value, how many drawers, stockings, sheets, comforters, etc., and the estimated value of each; and they can then judge for themselves. Meanwhile they must give our statement only such credit as they may think our opportunity to know, and our desire to state frankly the exact truth, entitle it to.

With great regard,
Yours, truly,
Henry W. Bellows,
President.

Fatal Accident.—On Tuesday evening of last week, as Messrs. Horace Hamblet and James Pentland were returning from Amesbury Mills to Newburyport they were thrown from the carriage, by the running away of the horse, and Mr. Hamblet was so badly injured that he died on the evening of the next day. Mr. Pentland had his shoulder bone broken. Mr. Hamblet formerly resided in Salem, and since then has been favorably known as the keeper of the Ocean House at Newburyport.

Suicide.—Last Sunday, Mrs. Ann Hartnett was found drowned in a pool of water near Mr. Stephen Blaney's residence, on Washington street. She had suffered a bereavement in the loss of a son in the war, which, added to a previously shattered nervous system, is supposed to have caused an aberration of mind. She was seventy years of age.

The Excursion Car on the Horse Railroad, drawn by six horses, now attracts considerable attention on Saturday afternoons, when it makes several trips between here and Beverly. It is quite a favorite with the public, and is just the thing to ride in these hot and sultry days.

Company C, 5th Reg. M. V. M., left town in command of Lieut. Barnes for camp at Readville, last Saturday forenoon. They have enlisted for 100 days' service. The company roll contained about seventy names.

Harper.—E. B. Wait has for sale, at his periodical depot, the August number of Harper's Monthly Magazine, full of all sorts of good things.

SERGT. ANDREW D. MURRAY.

The subjoined letter of Orderly Sergeant Spencer confirms the sad news, previously reported, of the death of Sergeant Murray, son of Robert Murray of this town, and it becomes our painful duty to add another name to the honored roll of martyrs who have gone forth from among us and sacrificed their lives in this terrible struggle for the preservation of our national existence. This roll we commenced over three years ago; we headed the list with the name of Daniel Murray, who was killed at the memorable engagement between the Cumberland and Merrimac in Hampton Roads, March 8, 1861. The war went on, striking down, one after another, here and there, till finally a second stroke is made in the family of Mr. Murray. First his brother Daniel was made a victim, and now his son Andrew. Uncle and nephew! both in the vigor of health when this cruel war began, now both sleep their last sleep—one beneath the blue waters of the Chesapeak; the other beneath the green sward of Carolina.

It is due to the memory of Sergeant Murray, and to his sorrow-stricken parents who have sacrificed so much, and to his large circle of friends, that something more than a simple announcement of his death should be given.

Although cut off in the morning of his life and in the flower of his youth, he had lived long enough to fairly develop his personal characteristics, and to establish a reputation of his own. Although his career has been a brief one, it is worthy to be recorded as an example for the emulation of others, and as a consolation to his many friends, who, when they shed a tear to his memory, will rejoice that he always manfully and heroically met, and faithfully performed, the duties of his life, and in all things acted well his part.

At the time of his death he was 21 years and 9 months of age. From his earliest youth he was naturally inclined to reading and study. He attended the District School at Rockville until the usual age, when he entered the Peabody High School, where he pursued his studies under Masters Cushman, Babson and Thompson, during the full term of three years, and graduated at the head of his class, receiving the highest prize. He then taught school for one year in his native District, receiving the commendation of the School Committee for his fidelity and success.

He then entered the office of Sidney C. Bancroft, Esq., in Salem, as a law student, where he continued till the time of his enlistment, except during the winter before last, when he taught school in Newbury. At Newbury, too, he was signally successful as a teacher, and received, at the end of the term, the warm approval of the School Committee.

When, last year, Col. Jones Frankle began to recruit and organize the 2d Regiment of Massachusetts Heavy Artillery, he offered to Mr. Murray the position of Quarter Master's Sergeant of a Battery. This position was accepted. He enlisted August 5th, 1863, for three years, and entered camp at Readville, whence, after a few weeks, he embarked with Co. D, Capt. Conwell, for Newbern, North Carolina.

After a few months' experience and service,—Col. Frankle giving him choice of Quarter Master Sergeant or Company Sergeant, he chose the latter position, in which capacity he served till the time of his death. No further particulars of his death, than those given in the letter of Sergeant Spencer, have yet been received. His remains have been sent for and will undoubtedly arrive at home as soon as possible.

In losing Andrew D. Murray we have lost a valuable young man. Those who knew him best will feel the loss most.

His intellect was strong, his mind was clear and his perceptions were quick. He was argumentative without being disputative. He was ambitious without being presumptuous. Although critical in his observations of men and things, he was deferential in his intercourse with others. He was a great reader in general literature, and was well grounded in the natural sciences. He had a taste for the languages, considerable skill in mathematics, and a mind well stored with historical facts.

And yet he was without pretence or vanity—never sought or improved opportunities for mere display of his acquirements. One needed to be somewhat familiar with him to appreciate the great resources of his mind, or to see that this sketch of him is sufficiently discriminating and accurate. But there was one thing, a thousand fold better than anything else we have said of him, that all who knew him—whether intimately or not—will agree to be true, and that is, that his moral character was above reproach, and that he was a dutiful son and a thoughtful and affectionate brother.

Fort Totten, Newbern, N. C., }
July 8th, 1864. }

Mrs. Murray,—Dear Madam:—It becomes my painful duty this afternoon, to inform you of the death of your son Andrew, who died yesterday, at the Foster Hospital, Newbern, N. C., of dysentery. He was sent to the Regimental Hospital on the 28th of last month, no one at the time supposing but that he would be back again in a few days at most. While there he continued to fail from day to day, until the surgeon in charge thought it best to send him to the Foster Hospital, which was done on the 5th of this month.

I paid him a visit yesterday, just before noon, and as I sat by his bedside, gazing upon his wasted form and sunken eye, I couldn't help thinking that poor Andrew's race was almost run. In the latter part of our conversation, which was very brief, owing to its tiring him so much to talk, he says: "Ed., write to mother and tell her that I am sick in the hospital, but that my spirits are of the very best, and that I expect to be around again in a few days." I then pressed his hand, and bade him keep his spirits up and hope for the best. Thus poor Andrew passed away, thinking that he should yet live to meet the loved ones he had left at home.

By his death you, his parents, have lost a true-hearted, affectionate and devoted son; his brothers and sisters, an amiable and loving brother; while we have lost a truly beloved comrade and companion—one whose merits we shall not soon forget.

He stood very high in the esteem of his company officers, for his many noble qualities, his cultivated mind, and his assiduous attention to his duties. The men, too, all thought there were few like Sergt. Murray. He has been a particular friend of mine from the first of our acquaintance, having been closely connected in our duties. I shall ever mourn him as a brother. Oft have we talked of the good times we would have together after this war was over, little thinking that cruel Death would so soon thwart our plans. But Andrew "has gone to that bourne from which no traveller e'er returns," and we must teach ourselves to think that our loss is his great gain.

Hoping that you will have strength to bear up under this great affliction,

I subscribe myself,
Yours, most respectfully,
D. E. Spencer,
Ord'ly Sergt. Co. "D," 2d M. H. A.

—— We think there should be a better understanding with the public as to whether the 100 day men are to be exempt from the draft while in the service. This is clearly the meaning of Adjutant General Schouler's order, but the New York papers say that this is unauthorized—that such men are liable to draft, only if drafted are to be credited for the 100 days' service.

—— "It is an ill wind that blows nobody any good." Apropos to this old proverb, it can be suggested to those whose crops of potatoes have been cut off by the severe drought, that the dry weather has almost entirely driven the onion maggot from the field, and left that important vegetable to grow with something of its prestine vigor. There is every reason to believe that the onion crop will be very large this year.

—— New potatoes are selling for $3 per bushel. New hay from the field at $28 per ton. Milk at 8 cents per quart. We don't see why farmers should not prosper on these prices.

—— We hear that the 17th Regiment are to leave Newbern on the 24th inst., for home. About 225 of the regiment have re-enlisted, but as the exigences of the service prevented them from having their 30 days' furlough, they will probably return with the regiment and remain at home 30 days.

—— The recent order of the Provost Marshal General, allowing persons to furnish representative recruits to the Government, applies to ladies as well as gentlemen. If any of our patriotic lady subscribers would like to go to war by proxy, now is the time to do so.

—— The new revenue law goes into effect August 1. It contains many very useful provisions for perfecting the former law, and ought to be carefully read by persons having occasion to do or deal under it.

—— The arrest of Major General Dix under a State process of New York, for the part he took in closing the newspaper offices that first published the bogus proclamation, is causing considerable excitement in law circles. The question of his liability to arrest for acts done under the order of the President has been argued by the ablest counsel, but the Court has postponed its decision till August 1.

—— The best sign of the times, except the repulse of the rebels from Washington, is, that nobody seems to take any interest in politics. If the present "masterly inactivity" can be maintained till the day of election, when every man may go and deposit his ballot uninfluenced by politicians and unprejudiced by passion, it would be a great thing for the country.

—— We hear that the 59th Regiment, Col. Gould, which entered the service last April with 900 men, have been so cut up in the battles of the Wilderness, Spottsylvania and Coal Harbor, that they now have but 160 effective men.

Cottons.—Ann R. Bray, 76 Federal street, is advertising a large stock of Brown and Bleached Cottons to be sold at prices as low as at any other store in Salem. Those who are so unfortunate as to be without cotton in these times, will make a note of this.

Commissions Issued.—Seventeenth Regiment—Sergeant Malcom Sillars, of Danvers, to be 2d Lieutenant; Sergeant Henry C. Hyde, of Danvers, to 2d Lieut.

☞ Don't get excited and alarmed at bad news.

CORPORAL CHARLES W. TRASK.

The following letter was written by a neighbor and relative of the above, who enlisted at the same time, in the same company and regiment, messing in the same tent, and fighting in the same battles. Thinking it will be of interest to all, we have been permitted to publish it:

Camp of 24th Mass. Vols., }
Deep Bottom, James River, Va., }
Thursday, July 7th, 1864. }

Dear Father,—I have sad intelligence to transmit to-day. Charles is no more. After a sickness of only five days, he has been called from the turmoil and strife of this weary life to join the thousands of the true and brave that have gone before.

He went to Surgeon Call for the first time during this campaign, Tuesday morning, June 28th, but was not excused from duty. The regiment went on picket in the afternoon, and he not feeling able to go, went again to the surgeon and was, with reluctance, excused. He was able to help himself until Thursday, June 30th, and fell in with the sick on that day to answer to his name, the regiment being mustered for pay. During the forenoon he grew worse. Surg. Green came with the captain to see him, asked if he felt able to be carried to the hospital about seven miles distance, in an ambulance, to which he answered in the affirmative. During the forenoon the chaplain called and talked with him. Between 12 and 1 o'clock the ambulance came; we helped him in, bid him good luck, and hoped for his speedy recovery. But alas! the sad news reached us last night that his battles on earth were over, that the weary veteran had gone to rest after nearly three years of an honest, upright, manly life. Not a drop of liquor has passed his lips since he enlisted to save his country from this rebellion—this bloody war. He was upright in all his dealings, and was loved and respected by all who knew him. Not one remains in the company who does not feel grieved at the sudden death of Corp. Trask.

Our captain did everything in his power to aid Charles, and make the limited accommodation that we have for the sick as comfortable as possible. Our tent mate, Mr. Jerry Beedle, was allowed to remain in from picket to help attend to his wants, and everything was done while he remained in camp to make him comfortable that could possibly be done. His effects are taken care of by the captain and will be forwarded as soon as circumstances will permit. About the last remark I heard him make was, that if he was carried to Fortress Monroe, he should send for his wife to come and take care of him. He is indeed a great loss, and I heartily sympathize with the family in their affliction. It can hardly be realized by us that our tent mate is no more.

I remain, your son,
Corp. Wm. B. Hammond.

Gold.—The Tribune says there never was a tolerable reason, a plausible excuse, for carrying gold above 150 or pork above $25, or flour at wholesale above $8 per barrel—and other staples in proportion. All beyond these rates was a gigantic bubble, blown by Treason and Rapacity favored by Cowardice. Had our great Banks and leading Bankers chosen to feed the market with gold, even at the rate of one million per week, for the last ten or twelve weeks, the above prices need not have been exceeded. And, even now, if the Banks will but loyally and fearlessly take the part of the people and their Government against the gold-gamblers, pork-gamblers, whiskey-gamblers, and rebel conspirators generally, we shall very soon have a full Treasury, a paid-up army, meat and flour at reasonable prices, and the country well on the road to Peace and Prosperity.

Renovate your Feather Beds.—Mr. C. O. Hall announces to our citizens (see advertisement) that he will renovate and dress old feather beds, so that they will be as good as new, by a new patent machine, which, judging by what we have already seen of its works, must be one of the most useful and thorough inventions yet designed for this purpose,—the renovating being done by steam and not by hot air or fire. He has cleansed several thousand beds in this State within the last few months, and in no instance that he has heard of has any family considered their money poorly laid out. His place of business is on Central street, in the store lately occupied by Mr. Southwick. Give him a call, and see for yourself.

South Danvers, July 16, 1864.

Mr. Editor,—If one dollar in gold sells for $1.40 in paper currency, is not a dollar in currency worth just 60 cents in gold? I have heard this question answered different ways by people pretending to know, and I have not had schooling enough to understand which is right. Please answer, giving a general rule for solving such a question, for the benefit of many Inquirers.

We generally leave our mathematical department to the High School. Come, boys and girls, expound! but don't all speak at once. And furthermore, if you undertake to give any general rule, give a reason for it, so that all can see that it is right.

New Map.—H. H. Lloyd & Co., of New York, have just issued two maps of the United States, neatly printed on one great sheet—one of them colored, to show our country as traitors would have it, dividing it into Confederate States, Atlantic States, Interior States and Pacific States; the other, colored to show our country as it shall and must be preserved, accurately representing all the States and Territories from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and from the great lakes to the gulf. It can be obtained for the low price of 35 cents, at S. D. Shattuck's Danvers.

Danvers—Narrow Escape.—As Mr. James Hook and his son were coming from Danvers in a butcher's wagon on Saturday, when crossing the track of the Georgetown Railroad on the Tapleyville road, a passing train struck their vehicle, killing the horse and smashing the wagon, and throwing out Mr. H. and his son, who were however so slightly injured that they were able to walk home.

LETTER FROM WASHINGTON.

Washington, D. C., July 15, 1864.

The late raid—The fight near Washington—The rebels recognize the 6th corps and don't like to renew their acquaintance—They skedaddle—The scene of the fight, &c.

Dear Wizard,—A day or two since a letter giving a correct account of affairs at the national capital, would doubtless have possessed unusual interest, for we were then isolated from the rest of the world, except by the circuitous route of the Potomac, and having an entertainment all to ourselves. This exclusiveness was not an affectation on our part, I assure you, but was brought about by certain unwelcome visitors, who unceremoniously approached the gates of our city and endeavored to force themselves upon our hospitality. I do not propose to weary you with an account of the late rebel raid into Maryland, for you have already been surfeited with whole columns of despatches upon that subject, but a few facts relative to events in this immediate vicinity, may not be out of place or distasteful to your readers.

After the fight which General Wallace had with the rebels a few miles south of Frederick, it was soon ascertained that the main body of the enemy was moving towards Washington rather than Baltimore, though squads of cavalry were sent out in different directions and cut every railroad and telegraph running from the latter city northward, of which there are three lines, the Baltimore and Ohio, which runs to Wheeling, crossing the Potomac at Harpers Ferry; the Northern Central, which runs to Harrisburg, and that which runs directly to Philadelphia. On Monday forenoon two trains were captured on the last named road, near Gunpowder river, and the long bridge at that point partially destroyed. At about the same time the residence of Gov. Bradford, four miles from Baltimore, was destroyed, and early that morning the rebels were discovered within three or four miles of Fort Stevens, which is on the line of the fortifications of Washington, and a fight took place between some 1500 of our cavalry and 2500 of theirs in which the advantage was on our side. At that time there were very few troops within the city, but those were at once sent to the menaced point, and volunteer companies composed of government employees took their places in performing guard duty.—During that day, in the nick of time, the veterans of the 6th corps direct from Grant's army began to arrive. The next morning (Tuesday) the rebel sharp-shooters lay concealed behind fences and in houses less than half a mile from Fort Stevens, and men were sent out and commenced skirmishing with them at once. Many citizens stood behind the rifle pits and watched the sharpshooting, until a soldier who was standing among them was shot dead by a rebel in a neighboring orchard, when they began to seek points of observation at a more respectful distance. The guns from the Fort shelled the houses which served as covers to the rebels, and most of them were soon burned or demolished. Firing was kept up all day and the casualties were very few on our side but many rebels paid the forfeit of their temerity. Late in the evening of Tuesday a portion of the 6th corps prepared for an attack upon the rebels who formed their line of battle on the slope of a hill about a mile from the fort, and prepared to receive them, but broke and ran as our veterans advanced and poured their volleys into their ranks. It was too late to make further pursuit that day, and the next morning no rebels could be found. This is a succinct statement of the affair without conjecture or embellishment. The rebel prisoners taken generally concur in representing that they expected to find Washington defended only by militia and to capture it before more formidable defenders could arrive, but that as soon as they distinguished the St. George's cross on the caps of their assailants, which is the badge of the 6th corps, they knew with whom they had to contend, for they had met them before, and that the prize had been wrestled from their grasp. They at once broke into full retreat, taking their booty with them across the fords of the Potomac, which they had left most of their artillery in position to defend. There was nothing like a panic and very little excitement, even, in the city, but the militia was called out and nearly all the clerks in the Departments were armed, equipped and drilled so as to be of the best service of which they might be capable. Hucksters and other extortioners took advantage of the occasion to raise the price of many of the necessaries of life to uncalled-for and exorbitant figures, charging $25 per barrel for flour, and a proportionate rate for other articles.

I have just returned from a four hour's horseback ride to the scene of the late skirmishing and fight, and while I was there two rebels were brought in by some cavalry scouts, having just been captured, but whether they were stragglers who could not find their retreating comrades, or were left behind to observe the movements of our forces, I do not know. The only house left standing near enough to Fort Stevens to shield the rebel sharpshooters, is perforated with some five or six holes made by our shells, and the side facing our lines is completely packed with bullets. Extemporized rifle pits, consisting of a hole about a foot deep, with the earth piled up about the same height for protection, piles of rails answering the same purpose, are seen on every hand, while the trees in the vicinity show the effects of the shells that were sent into all the covers where rebels lay concealed. Our gunnery must have been excellent, and many new-made graves bear witness to that fact. Probably about 200 rebel prisoners were captured, and 100 of their wounded were left by them in the house of F. P. Blair, which was not destroyed or injured, on account, it is supposed, of a former friendship and intimacy existing between him and John C. Breckenridge, who commanded a division of the invading force. The residence of his son, the present Postmaster-General, however, was burned to the ground. It is rumored to-night that the rebels are now in possession of the Orange and Alexandria railroad, but I do not think they will tarry long north of Richmond for any purpose, for a force is in pursuit which they would not wish to meet, even though they number 40,000, which is generally supposed. It has become so quiet here now that we have to fall back upon "the weather" as a topic of conversation, and I may have to resort to this to furnish material for my next letter.

Yours, etc., Delta.

Death of a Gallant Soldier.—Lieut. Col. John G. Chambers, of the 23d Mass. Regiment, died last Friday, at 11 o'clock, of wounds received in the late battles.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE IN SALEM.

About half past eleven o'clock on Friday night, fire was discovered in the carpenter's shop of Messrs. Goldthwait & Day, 220 Derby street, and an alarm was given, but before the fire department could assemble, the fire had made such rapid progress that it was not checked until much property had been destroyed. The first building was entirely consumed, and also the carpenter's shop of Mr. Wm. Whitaker, 222 Derby street, which, with their contents, proved a total loss. Neither of the parties was insured, and there was no insurance on the buildings, which belonged to the West estate, and were valued at about $2,000. In the first building there were eighteen tool chests destroyed, belonging to journeymen. A lot of windows and doors belonging to the Salem Car Company, stored there, were also burned.

The flames communicated to Mr. Jonathan M. Farnham's lime and lumber establishment, No. 221, on the western side of the street, which was totally destroyed. This building was formerly occupied by the late William Gray, one of the honored merchants of the past. Mr. Farnham's loss is about $1,000, not insured.

A quantity of lumber belonging to Mr. Daniel H. Jewett was damaged to the amount of about $1700—no insurance.

The rear of Mr. Farnham's building was occupied by Mr. Josiah Beckford for the storage of corn; he had some 700 bushels of corn, a part of which was taken out on Saturday in a damaged state. His loss is about $400—not insured. Messrs. J. V. & J. Hanson had a large quantity of oats stored there. They lose about $1500—not insured.

The next building, No. 223, occupied by Col. Simeon Flint, mason, was next consumed with a portion of its contents. Mr. Flint's loss is estimated at $500—not insured. The building belonged to the Moore estate, and was valued at $1,000, on which there was insurance of $550 at J. H. Nichols's office. The second story was used for storage by Mr. David Moore, who lost about $300 worth of coffee, etc.

The next building, No. 223½, was also destroyed. Col. Flint here had a lot of sand and a small quantity of lime, partially saved.

The contiguous buildings on either side of the street were on fire several times, and it seemed almost miraculous that the dwelling house of Capt. S. V. Shreve, No. 224, should be saved.

There is no doubt that this fire was the work of an incendiary, and had there been much wind a most disastrous conflagration must have resulted. Serious as has been the loss now, it is fearful to contemplate what would have been caused by a southerly wind. As it was, large pieces of the burning material were carried a considerable distance, and there were several fires kindled; one at the stable of Mr. J. H. Leavitt, of the Essex House, was seasonably discovered, and extinguished with only trifling damage.

Much credit is due to the firemen, whose prompt and efficient efforts confined the fire within such small limits.

Engines were present from Beverly, Danvers, South Danvers, Marblehead and Lynn.

☞ The alarm early on Sunday morning was occasioned by the light from burning woods in Swampscott. We learn that a small barn was also consumed.—Salem Register.

"Home on a Furlough."—We have seen a beautiful picture by Holland, engraved by Sartain, with the above title. It represents a soldier just returned from the war. He has reached the old farm-house, and wife, children, grandfather and grandmother have all come out to meet him. The group is a happy one, and the surroundings pictured true to nature. The whole work is a gem, worthy a place in any parlor. Every family who has a son or father battling for his country will appreciate and should possess "Home on a Furlough."

The agent is now in town, and will call on our citizens for subscriptions. A copy of the picture will be on exhibition at B. F. Stevens' jewelry store in a few days.

Obstructing the Horse Railroad Track.—Attention is called to a special notice in another column, in reference to obstructing the horse cars. Last week a wealthy citizen of a neighboring town was fined $5 and costs for maliciously keeping his team on the track in Essex street, after being requested by the conductor to allow the car to pass. It is hoped that this will put a check on such annoyances.—Salem Register.

Generous.—George Peabody, the London banker has given ten thousand dollars in aid of the Sanitary Commission.

☞ The Bath Times thinks it a good time to eat strawberries when——you can get them.

☞ Snow was six inches deep on the top of Mount Washington on the 20th day of June.

☞ The Boston Traveller says a democratic history of the war, with numerous copperplate illustrations, is in preparation.

☞ A man died of hydrophobia in Middletown, Ct., last week, having assisted in skinning a cow that had been bitten by a mad dog.

☞ The Skowhegan Clarion thinks a drunken officer is no more fit to lead men into battle, than the devil is to lead men to heaven.

☞ There are men and times at which and with whom nothing could be more refreshing to an honest man than—to give them a sound drubbing.

☞ At the breaking out of the war Capt. Winslow, of the Kearsarge, was Lighthouse Inspector of the Boston District, and Semmes was Secretary of the Lighthouse Board at Washington.

☞ The English papers judge of the war here just as they judge of the fight between the Kearsarge and Alabama.—Their impartiality is all on one side, like the handle of a jug, and that side is always the rebel side.

EUROPEAN AFFA

There is more than a cloud ho
the horizon in the European sky, sunshine before one can get the the wind, or make a satisfactory of the barometer; but indication conclusion that a fearful storm and at any moment may burst up of sovereigns that fain would ru
The London Conference blew up torpedo, and its effects are not away in a moment. Mr. Bull
"Constable" Nap. is in a rage, th and Johnny's right hand menial p and restive, while the minor p squabble—those whose physiogn most in danger months since of a ing—may be little more than Venice. Things have taken a turn and may newmap the old w
It appears that an agreement ranged so far as the original diffic cerned, whereby Holstein and South Schleswig were to be se
Denmark and become a Germa
North Schleswig was to become p of Denmark. The other questio so insignificant—involving only t of the frontier boundary line, wh must be left to accident to dete into paroxysms of excitement th pany of crowned heads; whereup himself upon his dignity, resolv fools upon the dernier resort, if the maintenance of such digni mans and the Danes could not a line and England ever ready t
the consciousness of her superio forth her ideas as a finality.
cilliousness was rebuked, even A ing to the terms proposed by her superior, though of late years t remarkably warm in their mutu
Here was an open rupture and t broke up, and of course the armis and there follows the necessity o hostilities, between the powers ately interested in the controver fight between the Danes and would end no one can doubt. T atively a small affair. Englan wounded and the government troops to be in readiness with the for the march. Her position wil for France and all the other P themselves and prepare for battl be no war, and for humanity's s hope there will be none. It i away to argue that this questio and the Germans is a foreign that England will not suffer drawn into the fight. If she fi be for Denmark or Germany under heaven but England.
will be because she thinks she cools her courage from necessity always controls. Nor will it the scale that her common peopl
John Bright can make Parli tremble with the power of his quence, and those who bow t and acknowledge his principl amazed and bewildered that bot heads of the government and the feet of the aristocracy.
hand on the treasury, nor h control the will of those wi power to make war. Still war; for England has not li tions that have been going on a Channel for a long while, an times inquired what they mean might be taught an answer i would not fancy in certain conti should discover to Napoleon II
tunity to settle old grudges occasion for new ones. Perh not fancy the threat of the letters of marque and reprisal well for us—the Alabamas a but when they go forth to pre merce it is quite another affai great significance in the uttera lish press; and that "next d
Channel between two vessel class," already predicted, ma circle a third, and even a from the Channel they may where may be experienced ment as England was not al
Sevastopol. It can hardly England will be allowed to fa and no word of dissent foll Powers. Her first gun will b general European war.—New

FROM HORACE W
LETTERS

Walpole is distinguis racy, idiomatic English.
to an epigrammatic style is pleasant, light reading are thrown into our baske

I asked Louis [his servant of the powder mills at E mischief: he said, "Only head off;" as if that was well spare.

I hear your friend, Lord somebody said it is very hot so fat a bride: George Sel
she was kept in ice three day

I went the other day to green spectacles; he was mi give me a pair that would hair. "Lord! Sir," said come to wear spectacles, w one looks?"

A good answer was giv
Duke of Marlborough's ge alderman who dined with "Sir, yours must be a ver ment." "Oh, no;" was th about four hours in the three after dinner, and the rest of the day to ourselves.

My friend Lord Aucram anything, from glory to bra

☞ It is evident that a Mi every circumstance of life need of us public writers his prosperity he can no daily praise than we withou
the farther he extends hi necessary are we to his speak as contemptuously a is frequently the manner of us most, and pay us best;
his ambition as with a lof not shoot its branches int its roots wind into the dirt, on which it stands, and by ed.—Bolingbroke.

R BOY WANTED—enquire at

s' Home was inaugurated at Da-
, on the 4th inst. It is to be the e sick, wounded and disabled sole 12th Senatorial District of the building and land surrounding it, acres, were the gift of Benj. Fitch, ition to the purchase of the lot and sent to the trustees a check for the nucleus of a proposed fund of r the endowment of the charity.—
ses of the occasion consisted of adal and instrumental music, a bountion, and a brilliant display of fire-the evening. There is a feature of established institution which de-ce. It provides accommodations for abled soldiers, and the charter looks port and education of the children of ers; and when the funds are not this purpose they are to be expended efit of the aged and infirm, and the ldren of the district.

d water is a determined foe to fevers, consumption. Bathing in it is there-y recommended. In London a pore Serpentine is set apart for the use of c, where, in a single evening, seven persons take advantage of the privi-

is said that the Cathedral in Mexico
est building in America, it being 500
, 400 feet wide, and seats 30,000 pere picture on its walls is ornamented ls worth $14,000,000, and the most nt magnificence is displayed through-stablishment.

PRICES.—We shall, during the reof this month, sell the st Corsets	for $1	75.

st Kid Gloves	" 1	75.
est Spool Cottons		10.
a Island Cottons		10.
est Worsted Braids		12.
est Pins—paper		6.
est Needles—paper		6.

ll other kinds of goods at correspond-es, in order to reduce our Stock. As olesale Dealers are asking more than e, we shall be obliged to advance our ter August 1st.

JOHN P. PEABODY,
—2w 220 Essex St., Salem.

UMBRELLAS AND SHADES—at PEABODY'S.

IR MITTS, at very low prices in order
e stock—at PEABODY'S, 220 Essex St.

HANCE FOR A YOUNG LADY.—See Pea-advertisement "Wanted."

s—Ladies' and Misses'—at PEABODY'S.

EALING AIR-TIGHT CASKET.—Charles S. Buf
this town, has a new burial case, which com-the advantages of a wooden receptacle with metal one, and yet avoids the disadvantages
They have been used with great success, and aced in them have been delivered in perfect tion after having been transported over a thous-
s. To persons having deceased friends at the war they are invaluable. They come at reason-es, are light and durable, and are perfectly air-

Marriages.

alem, July 12, Mr. Albert L. Towle to Helen Johnson, daughter of Daniel P. sq.; 13th, Capt. James B. Boswell to ary A., adopted daughter of Mr. Joseph 14th, Alfred Stone, of Providence, R.
Ellen M., daughter of Eben Putnam of S.; 3d, Mr. Ulick Burke to Miss Mulligan, both of this town; 3d, Mr. s Carlin to Mrs. Mary Fitzsimmons; 4th, ames E. Murphy to Miss Mary Ann
; 14th, by Rev. Dr. Briggs, Mr. Ben-
J. Winchester of this town, to Miss Ma-
M. Jelly of S.; June 23, Mr. Bernard ond to Miss Hannah Hayes; 26th, Mr.
Gagen to Miss Mary Connery; 30th, Mr.
Mahar to Miss Mary Quinn.
Saugus, July 10, by Rev. Mr. Campbell,
o. L. Currier to Miss Charlotte Eliza-
Davis, both of Salem.
Marblehead, July 10, by Rev. Mr. M'Cur-
r. George A. Vincent of Lynn, to Miss
S. Richardson of Lynnfield.
Beverly, July 10, by Rev. Mr. Kimball,
Charles Perry to Miss Rebecca F. Patter-
14th, by Rev. Mr. Winn of Salem, Mr. es Coggin of Lynn, to Miss Emily E.
of B.
Pomeroy, O, July 1, by Rev. Mr. Maples, ohn H. Lefavour of Beverly, Mass., to Miss
A. Richards of Wenham.
Cape Town, CGH, May 11, by Rev. Mr.
pson, Mr. Alfred S. Peabody, son of Al-Peabody Esq., of Salem, Mass., to Miss arine B., daughter of G. S. Holmes Esq., ape Town, formerly U. S. Consul.

Deaths.

this town, July 14, Mr. Maurice Roach, ears.
Danvers, June 29th, Floren, son of Alvin nd Hannah M. Tibbits, aged 5 years and onths. Maine papers please copy.
Boston, July 16, Flora Jeffery, daughter rastus Jeffery, now of Boston, formerly of town, aged 3 years and 6 mos.
Salem, July 4, Mrs. Lucy Trask, 82 years nos; 11th, Mrs. Polly, wife of Mr. Benj. field, 67 years 8 mos; 12th, Mrs. Lydia widow of the late Aaron Woods, 49 years;
Hannah, wife of Mr. Thomas Hill, 43 yrs;
, Mrs. Eliza, wife of Capt. Allen Putnam, ears; Mr. John M. M'Grath, 64 years; 17th ncis Boardman, son of Willard P., and Ma-
I. Phillips, 18 mos; Charles S., son of Jo-
S., and Elizabeth W. Burrill, 17 years 3

n Beverly, July 12, Mr. Elijah P. Foster, years; 14th, Clarissa A. daughter of Wil-n T. Trask, 8 years 9 mos.
n Rowley, of consumption, Mrs Elizabeth,
e of Dr. Antoine E. Knight, 29 years.
Mr. A. W. Bride, formerly proprietor of the ion House in Gloucester, was taken with an plectic fit on Tuesday night last, which con-ued until Thursday morning, when he died.
n Brooklyn, Conn., the other day Barnum's woman, Miss Jane Pishon, formerly exhib-d as Miss Jane Campbell. Her exhibition ight was 689 pounds. Ten men were emyed to get her into her coffin, which was so le that the door of the house had to be en-ged to enable its removal.
Mr. W. B. English, late theatrical manager,
d at Stratford, Canada West, on the 15th
, after but two days suffering from dyseny.
In Chestnut Hill Hospital, Philadelphia, Pa., ne 25, from a wound received at the battle Coal Harbor, Corporal Edwin A. Gwinn, of lem, 37 years—a member of Co. D, 40th eg't Mass. Vols.

DR. E. F. KITTREDGE,

rom Lowell, formerly of New Ipswich, N. H.,
Has removed his office and residence to

O. 42 MAIN STREET,

SOUTH DANVERS, MASS.

Dr. K., from an extensive and successful profes nal experience of upwards of twenty years, feels ified in saying that he can treat diseases to the tisfaction of his patients, and to the credit of him-

Office hours from 7 to 9 A. M., and from 6 to 9 P. M.
South Danvers, Nov 15, 1863.

☞ Call and examine REITH & Co's assortment of Country and Sea Shore Broad Brim'd Hats.

HOSIERY for Ladies, Misses, and Children at J. P. PEABODY'S.

Salem and South Danvers Railroad Company.

NOTICE.

As the legal use of the Railway Tracks of this Corporation has been frequently prevented by the stoppage of vehicles across the same, and as the business of the Road cannot be conducted with proper regard to the convenience of the passengers and the public, unless such obstructions cease, the Corporation invite especial attention to the Statute upon that subject, the correct principle of which is set forth in the opinion of Chief Justice SHAW in the case of Commonwealth v Temple, 13 Gray's Rep. 69, and give notice that they will consider it their duty to prosecute all cases hereafter occurring, to the full extent of the law.

MOSES H. HALE, Sup't.

Extract from the Statutes of 1864, chap. 229, Sec. 22.

"Whoever wilfully and maliciously obstructs any such Corporation, its lessees or assigns, in the legal use of any Railway tracks, or delays the passing of the Cars or Railway Carriages of such Corporation, or of its lessees or assigns thereon, such person, and all who shall be aiding or abetting therein, shall be punished by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars, or may be imprisoned in the common jail for a period not exceeding three months."

EVERY GARMENT marked in plain figures, at Bennett & Co's One Price Clothing House, 14 and 15 Dock Square, Boston.

GARMENTS made to order at Bennett & Co.'s One Price Clothing House, 14 and 15 Dock Square, Boston.

BOYS' CLOTHING — largest stock — greatest variety, at Bennett & Co's One Price Clothing House, 14 and 15 Dock Square, Boston.

☞ Goods received for LEWANDO'S FRENCH DYE HOUSE. M. E. CRANE.
Jan 20 tf

☞ Visit OSBORNE'S Store, and look at the unusual variety of new styles in HATS and CAPS—191 Essex street.

Notice to Gas Consumers.

Office of the Salem Gas Light Co.,
188 Essex Street, Salem, July 1, 1864.

From and after July 1, and until further notice, the price of Gas will be FOUR DOLLARS per 1000 cubic feet—with 10 per cent. discount when paid within ten days of presentation of bill.

jy 13—4w EDWARD BROWN, Treas'r.

TO THE YOUNG OR OLD,

Male or Female, If you have been suffering from a habit indulged in by the YOUTH OF BOTH SEXES, Which causes so many alarming symptoms. It unfits them for Marriage, and is the GREATEST EVIL which can befall MAN OR WOMAN.

See symptoms enumerated in Advertisement, and if you are a sufferer, cut out the Advertisement, and send for it at once. Delays are dangerous. Ask for Helmbold's, take no other. Cures guaranted.

Beware of Counterfeits and Imitations.

From the army hospital—the bloody battle-field—the mansion of the rich and humble abode of the poor—from the office and the sacred desk—from the mountain top, distant valleys and far-off islands of the ocean—from every nook and corner of the civilized world—is pouring in the evidence of the astonishing effects of DRAKE'S PLANTATION BITTERS. Thousands upon thousands of letters like the following may be seen at our office.

REEDSBURY, WIS., Sept. 16, 1863.

"* * * I have been in the army hospitals for fourteen months—speechless and nearly dead. At Alton, Ill. they gave me a bottle of Plantation Bitters. * * * Three bottles restored my speech and cured me. * * * *

C. A. FLAUTE.'

SOUTH WARSAW, O. July 28, 1863.

"* * * One young man, who had been sick and not out of the house for two years with Scrofula and Erysipelas, after paying the doctors over $150 without benefit, has been cured by ten bottles of your Bitters.

EDWARD WOUNALL.

The following is from the Manager of the Union Home School for the Children of Volunteers:

HAVEMEYER MANSION, FIFTY-SEVENTH ST.,
New York, August 2, 1863.

"DR. DRAKE: Your wonderful Plantation Bitters have been given to some of our little children suffering from weakness and weak lungs with most happy effect. One little girl, in particular, with pains in her head, loss of appetite, and daily wasting consumption, on whom all medical skill had been exhausted, has been entirely restored. We commenced with but a teaspoonful of Bitters a day. Her appetite and strength rapidly increased, and she is now well * *

Respectfully, MRS. O. M. DEVOE."

"* * * I owe much to you, for I verily believe the Plantation Bitters have saved my life.

REV. W. H. WAGGONER, Madrid, N. Y."

"* * * Thou wilt send me two bottles more of thy Plantation Bitters. My wife has been greatly benefited by their use.

Thy friend, ASA CURRIN, Philadelphia, Pa."

"* * * I have been a great sufferer from Dyspepsia, and had to abandon preaching. * * * The Plantation Bitters have cured me.

REV. J. S. CATHORN, Rochester, N. Y."

"* * * Send us twenty-four dozen more of your Plantation Bitters, the popularity of which are daily increasing with the guests of our house.

SYKES, CHADWICK & CO.,
Proprietors Willard's Hotel, Washington, D. C.

"* * * I have given the Plantation Bitters to hundreds of our disabled soldiers with the most astonishing effect.

G. W. D. ANDREWS,
Superintendent Soldiers' Home, Cincinnati, O.

"* * * The Plantation Bitters have cured me of liver complaint, of which I was laid up prostrate and had to abandon my Business.

H. B. KINGSLEY, Cleveland, O."

"* * * The Plantation Bitters have cured me of a derangement of the kidneys and urinary organs that has distressed me for years. It acts like a charm.

C. C. MOORE, 254 Broadway, N. Y."
&c. &c. &c. &c. &c.

The Plantation Bitters make the weak strong, the languid brilliant, and are exhausted nature's great restorer. They are composed of the celebrated Calisaya Bark, Wintergreen, Sassafras, Roots, Herbs, &c., all preserved in perfectly pure St. Croix Rum.

S.—T.—1860—X.

Persons of sedentary habits troubled with weakness, lassitude, palpitation of the heart, lack of appetite, distress after eating, torpid liver, constipation, &c., deserve to suffer if they will not try them.

They are recommended by the highest medical authorities, and are warranted to produce an immediate beneficial effect. They are exceedingly agreeable, perfectly pure, and harmless.

NOTICE.—Any person pretending to sell Plantation Bitters in bulk or by the gallon is a swindler and impostor. It is put up only in our patent log cabin bottle. Beware of bottles refilled with imitation deleterous stuff, for which several persons are already in prison. See that every bottle has our private United States Stamp over the cork unmutilated, and signature on steel plate side label.

Sold by respectable dealers throughout the habitable globe.

P. H. DRAKE & CO.
202 Broadway, N. Y.

Mch 16—1 yr

THE GREAT ENGLISH REMEDY.
SIR JAMES CLARKE'S CELEBRATED FEMALE PILLS!

Prepared from a prescription of Sir J. Clarke, M. D., Physician Extraordinary to the Queen.

This well known medicine is no imposition, but a sure cure and safe remedy for Female Difficulties and Obstructions, from any cause whatever; and, although a powerful remedy, they contain nothing hurtful to the constitution.

In all cases of Nervous and Spinal Affections, pain in the Back and Limbs, Fatigue on slight exertion Palpitation of the Heart, Hysterics, and Whites, these pills will effect a cure, when all other means have failed; and, although a powerful remedy, do not contain iron, calomel, antimony, or anything hurtful to the constitution.

Full directions in the pamphlet around each package, which should be carefully preserved.

For full particulars, obtain, free, of the agent, a pamphlet. Sold by all Druggists.

Sole United States Agent,
JOB MOSES, 27 Cortlandt St., New York.

N. B.—$1 and 6 postage stamps enclosed to any authorized agent, will insure a bottle, containing over 50 pills, by return mail. March 9, 1864.—1 yr.

Advertisements.

Real Estate at Auction.

WILL be sold at Public Auction on SATURDAY, July 23d, 1864, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, a lot of

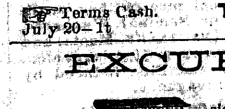
TILLAGE LAND in So. Danvers, containing about five acres, and bounded northerly and easterly by land formerly of Dustin southerly by land of Sutton, and westerly by land of Blaney; said lot being known as the MINISTER'S PASTURE.

Also, a lot of land with 30 feet front on Sewall street, and running back to land of George P. Osborne, with the remainder, after one life, in the house formerly occupied by Squiers Shove, on said Sewall street.

Sale on the premises—to commence at the Pasture.

☞ Terms Cash. THOS. TRASK, Auctioneer.
July 20—1t

EXCURSION.



The six horse car "Excursionist" will make regular excursion trips hereafter on SATURDAY AFTERNOONS, commencing July 16th, as follows:—

Leave the Depot on Webb street, at 1.45 P. M.
Leave South Danvers for Beverly at 2.25, remaining at Beverly one hour.
Leave Beverly for South Danvers at 4.25.
Leave South Danvers for Webb street at 5.25.

Fare between South Danvers and Beverly, each way, 10 cents; between Salem and South Danvers, or Salem and Beverly, each way, 5 cents. Children 3-5ths these rates.

The Car will only stop at the Cemetery, Buffum's Corner, Washington street, Webb Street Depot, Car Factory, East end of Beverly Bridge, and at the Post Office in Beverly.

July 20. M. H. HALE, Sup't.

FEATHER BEDS RENOVATED BY A NEW PROCESS.

THE subscriber having located himself for a few weeks in the store on Central Street, formerly occupied as a restaurant by Mr. Wm. Southwick, would announce to the citizens of this town and vicinity that he will renovate and dress OLD and NEW Feather Beds with Col. Bailey's Patent Machine, one of the most useful and thorough inventions of the day for this purpose.

By this machine no injury is done the feathers by the renovating process, which is done entirely by steam, and not by hot air or fire. In fact, the subscriber warrants to dress all feathers without injury to them or the ticks in which they are contained.

PRICE—ONE DOLLAR AND FIFTY CENTS per Bed, including pillows and bolsters, provided the feathers are suitable to run with the bed, and the combined weight does not exceed 30 pounds; over that amount five cents per pound will be added. C. O. BALL.

South Danvers, July 20—tf

Wanted,

A LADY as Cashier, at PEABODY'S Ladies' Furnishing Store, 220 Essex st., Salem.
July 20—1t

DRY GOODS
—AT—
Ann R. Bray's, 76 Federal Street.

A LARGE Stock of Bleached and Brown COTTONS, which we offer at the very lowest prices;

Heavy 4 4 Waltham; Fine 9 8 Boot Mills;
Hill Cotton, Brown and Bleached;
Newmarket, A Cotton; Bennington Cotton;
Monticello Cotton; Cambrics; White Sarsnett;
Bleached Cotton, every width and quality;
American, English and French Prints;
Red, White and Gray Flannels;
Doronts 4-4 and 3-4 widths;
Brown and other Colored Drillings;
Crashes—Bleached, Brown and other colors;

☞ Our stock of Domestic Goods is full, and we shall sell as low as at ANY OTHER STORE in the city.

According to our usual practice, we shall sell out all our DRESS-GOODS at a discount.

Salem, July 20—tsio

GAYLE & CO.,
COMMISSION MERCHANTS,
AND DEALERS IN
Flour, Grain and Produce,
PHILLIPS WHARF, - - - - - Salem.

Job Press for Sale.

RUGGLES' JOB ENGINE PRESS. Prints a bill 13 by 19 inches. Can be run by one man at the rate of 800 per hour. Is in good condition. It will sold at a very low price, as the owner has no use for it. It is a big bargain. Apply at this office. jy 20-tf

DR. J. H. BATCHELDER,
DENTAL SURGEON,

No. 20 Washington St., (near Eastern Railroad Depot), SALEM, MASS.

Is licensed to make the New Patent Teeth on HARD RUBBER or VULCANITE.

July 1, 1864.

Flour and Grain.

1500 BUSHELS Canada Oats; 100 barrels Superior Family XXX Flour; just landed and for sale by GAYLE & CO., Phillips Wharf.

Flour.

100 Bbls "Arcade Mills;" 100 do "Crooked Creek;" 100 do "May Flower." For sale by july 20 GAYLE & CO., Phillips' Wharf.

NEW BOOKS,
At G. M. WHIPPLE & A. A. SMITH'S.

RELIGIOUS Training of Children, by Catherine E. Beecher;
A Summer Cruise on the Coast of New England, by Robert Carter;
The Lady's Friend, for August;
The Musical Host, for August;
The Weekly Illustrated Papers;
Reade's Savage Africa, illustrated;
The Ladder of Life, a Heart History, by Amelia B. Edwards. 190 Essex street. jy 20.

NEW WHITE WARE.

WHITE Tea Ware and White Dinner Ware, of the new patterns, at
jy 20 S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

PRESERVE YOUR FRUIT.

GLASS Jars and Glass Covers, for preserving Fruits, Vegetables, &c., in a perfectly fresh state, for sale by S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

LEMON SQUEEZERS,

AT S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

List of Letters

REMAINING in the Post Office at South Danvers, July 20, 1864. [Persons calling for these letters, will please say they are advertised.]

E. B. Arnold	Timothy Leary
Ann Brown	Walter S. Lovejoy
Wm. J. Adams	Susy Jones
Asabel Fogg	E. L. Putnam
John Dalton	Adaline A. Reed
Sarah J. Flint	Hardy Shillaber
James Farrel	Hannah Tibbetts
Elizebeth Dalton	Wm Ward
	T. Q. George

N. B. These letters are subject to an additional postage of one cent. DANIEL WOODBURY, P. M.

Posting Books, Making Bills and Copying.

THE above business will be promptly and accurately performed by the subscriber, who may be found at Messrs. CLARK & GIDDINGS' Counting Room, on Wallis Street, near the Essex Depot, or by enquiring at this office. jyl3 tf JOHN D. HOWARD.

WATER KEGS.

ANOTHER lot of Stone Water Kegs, at
jy13 S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS' 32 Front st.

ICE PICKS

AND Ice Mallets with Awls, at
jy13 S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS, 32 Front st.

Browning & Long.

THE LARGEST
LADIES' FURNISHING STORE
IN SALEM.
BROWNING & LONG'S
177 Essex GREAT STOCK FOR Summer Wear. 177 Essex

We adhere to our rule of selling Goods as low as the market possibly affords.

Our stock was not bought at the present High Prices; we can therefore offer Special Inducements.

Our stock is secured in view of the very latest Fashions and Styles, and we are constantly receiving New Goods.

It is a regular practice with us to close out odd lots remaining at the expiration of each season, at very Low Prices.

Call and see our Cheap Counters, they are full of decided Bargains. Goods at low prices are worth looking at now.

We would call especial attention to our splendid assortment of Cotton Hosiery, Kid Gloves, Silk Umbrellas and Parasols.

BROWNING & LONG'S
BARGAINS DISPLAY OF LOW PRICES. BARGAINS

Salem, July 6, 1864.

WHITE BAREGE!

WHITE CREPE MARETZ,
WHITE ALPACCA,
SHIRRED MUSLINS,
TUCKED MUSLINS,
WHITE GOODS of every description.

—For sale by—
THOMAS W. DOWNING & CO.
jy13 179 Essex Street.

COUNTRY AND SEA SHORE!
Wide Brimmed Hats,

For the Country and Sea Shore.

—ALSO—

All the FANCY STYLES OF HATS, for Ladies and Children, at

REITH & CO'S,
No. 2 West Block, Essex Street,
(One door west of J. F. Almy & Co.,)
July 6 SALEM, MASS.

HOUSEKEEPERS, ATTENTION!
JACKSON'S KITCHEN FURNISHING ROOMS,
Under MECHANIC HALL, Salem.

Parties about commencing House-Keeping will find this the ONLY place in Salem where a COMPLETE ASSORTMENT of House-Keeping articles can be found.
dec 9, 1863.

MORRIS' RESTAURANT,
18 and 20 Derby Square, Salem.

Oysters, Clams, Steak, Poultry, Game, Fish, &c., &c., COOKED TO ORDER.
Pickled Oysters, Lobsters and Clams.
Salem, July 22, 1863. tf

Sheriff's Sale.

ESSEX ss., June 25, 1864. Taken on Execution and will be sold at Public Auction, on TUESDAY, the second day of August next, at Eleven o'clock, A. M., on the premises hereinafter described, all the right that Sidney C. Bancroft had when the same was attached on meane process, of redeeming the following described Mortgaged Real Estate, to wit, a certain lot of land situated in South Danvers in said County, bounded Northerly by the old Boston Road, so called, Westerly by land of Ruth Twiss, Southerly by land formerly of Elijah W. Upton, and Easterly by land of Samuel Williams, with the buildings thereon, it being the same Estate conveyed by said Bancroft to William D. Smith by Mortgage Deed, recorded with the Essex Deeds, Book 659, Leaf 129.

jy13-3w DANIEL POTTER, Deputy Sheriff.

Sheriff's Sale.

ESSEX ss., June 29, 1864. Taken on Execution and will be sold at public auction at the Post Office in South Danvers, in said county, on WEDNESDAY, the third day of August next, at 9½ o'clock, A. M., the Right in Equity that Charles Barker of South Danvers, aforesaid, has or had on the twenty-fifth day of May last, to redeem the following described mortgaged Real Estate, viz.: a certain piece of land, situate in South Danvers aforesaid, bounded as follows: westerly by Andover street, Northerly and Easterly by land of Amos Osborne, and Southerly by land of the heirs of S. Blake, containing about one acre, with the dwelling house and all other buildings thereon.

STEPHEN UPTON, Deputy Sheriff.
South Danvers, July 6, 1864.—3w

FURNITURE.

HAVING taken the Store No. 10 FRONT STREET, (formerly occupied by BENJAMIN COLMAN,) I shall keep constantly on hand a large stock of

NEW AND SECOND-HAND FURNITURE,
BEDDING, COUNTING-ROOM DESKS, &c., &c.,

which I will sell cheap for CASH.

ALL KINDS OF FURNITURE NEATLY REPAIRED.

☞ All kinds of FURNITURE and BEDDING wanted—for which the highest Cash price will be paid.

P. J. HYNES, 10 FRONT-ST.
Salem, April 6, 1864—1y

PIN WORMS. MRS. OSBORN'S Universal Worm Powders are the only sure cure ever offered to the public. They are warranted in every case; relief within 24 hrs. 25 cts. per box. Sold by all druggists

For sale by D. P. GROSVENOR, Jr., 33 Main St., South Danvers. jan 27

SPECTACLES!

H. F. SKERRY wishes to call special attention to his stock of

Spectacles and Eye Glasses,

in Gold—Silver—Rubber—Steel and Horn frames, of which he keeps constantly on hand a very large assortment, embracing every style and quality.

—ALSO—

Opera Glasses, Microscopes, &c.

Glasses re-set, and Spectacles repaired.

In Store, our usual assortment of Silver and Plated Ware, and Jewelry.

No. 180 Essex Street, Salem.
H. F. SKERRY.
Feb. 24—tf.

WHITE LEAD

IN kegs, tin pails and cans, constantly for sale by
Jy 6 S C & E A SIMONDS, 32 Front st.

A. J. Archer & Co

White Shirred Muslins.

JUST received and for sale by
je22 A. J. ARCHER & CO.

MOURNING GOODS.

AUGUSTUS J. ARCHER & CO.,

HAVE just received a fine assortment

—OF—

MOURNING DRESS GOODS,

for summer wear.

—ALSO—

On hand, a fine stock of

BLACK SILKS,

which our customers will find are at less than Boston prices.

May 25, 1864.

FANCY CLOAKINGS!
—FOR—
Spring Garments,

IN GREAT VARIETY OF STYLES, which we are prepared to make into GARMENTS to order, in the very best manner, and at

LOWEST CASH PRICES.

A. J. ARCHER & CO.,
March 16—tf. 181 Essex Street.

HOUSE OF EQUITY,
—BY—
Arnold & Hutchinson,
(Successors to C. T. Southwick.)

FIRST QUALITY
FAMILY GROCERIES,
Sold at the Lowest Prices.

A large and complete assortment of

CROCKERY AND GLASS WARE,
Constantly on hand.

Also FLOUR and GRAIN.

ASHLAND HALL BUILDING,
NO. 1 LOWELL STREET,
F. T. ARNOLD. B. F. HUTCHINSON.
South Danvers, Feb 3, 1864.

RICH MILLINERY GOODS!
From the New York and Boston Markets,
OPENING EVERY DAY.

ALL the desirable shapes in BONNETS and HATS, RIBBONS and FLOWERS in all the New Shades. All goods belonging to a first class Millinery Establishment, to which the attention of the Ladies of Essex County is respectfully invited.

REITH & CO'S,
NO. 2 WEST BLOCK, ESSEX STREET,
(One door west of J. F. Almy & Co.,)
apr 13 SALEM, MASS.

M. A. PORTER,
236 Essex Street, - - - Salem, Mass.,
(Opposite Horse Railroad Office,)
MAKES TO ORDER BEST QUALITIES OF
WATCH SPRING SKIRTS.

A Good Assortment of Dress and Clock Button, Braids, Spool Cotton, Small Wares, and Thread Store articles generally.

236 Essex Street, - - - Salem, Mass.,
M. A. PORTER.

SPRING AND SUMMER GOODS.
168 ESSEX STREET.

WE invite the attention of the Ladies of Salem and vicinity, to our

New Millinery Goods.
Ladies' and Children's
BONNETS AND HATS,

in all desirable styles.

Crapes, Silks, Ribbons, Feathers, French Flowers, and Laces.

A full assortment of Straw Goods, Mourning Bonnets, Veils, Collars, &c., constantly on hand at the lowest cash prices.

M. E. CRANE,
Successor to M M FLETCHER.
Salem, April 6, 1864.

JUST ARRIVED,
AT DANVERS MILLS,

500 Bushels Corn, in the minnie cob, and will be sold in South Danvers. Constantly on hand a large stock of meal, which will be sold at the lowest Salem prices.

—ALSO ON HAND—

500 Bushels Feed;
200 Bushels prime Northern Oats;
100 Barrels choicest Family Flour.
A good stock of LIME constantly on hand.

JOHN C. MOULTON,
Central St., South Danvers, Mass.
May 25—tf.

THOMAS PINNOCK,
SLATER,
SALEM, MASS.

Orders may be left at his Yard, No. 25 Peabody St., or at his house No. 6 Hancock street, South Salem.

Roofs covered with any kind of Slates, according to order. All work warranted.

Salem, May 7, 1862. tf

Real Estate for Sale.

THE Subscriber offers for sale one undivided ninth part of the Estate on Lowell and Franklin streets, formerly owned by Mrs. HULDAH GILE. This very valuable property will be sold on fair and easy terms.

All information in relation to it will be given on application to Mr. CHARLES B. HAVEN, Franklin street, near the premises.

SAMUEL FELLOWS.
South Danvers, June 15, 1864.

George S. Walker.

For the Warm Weather.

UNDER-SHIRTS, DRAWERS, HOSIERY,

IN every seasonable material—all sizes—for sale at low prices, at GEORGE S. WALKER'S, Dealer in Gent's Furnishing Goods and Toilet Articles, opposite Eastern Railroad Station.

Gent's Half Hose.

THE Largest Stock and Assortment in the city, at GEORGE S. WALKER'S, Dealer in Gent's Furnishing Goods and Toilet Articles, opposite Eastern Railroad station.

Scarfs, Ties, Stocks.

ALL the LATEST and BEST STYLES, at the Lowest Prices, at
GEORGE S. WALKER'S,
No. 228 Essex Street,
june 27 Opp. Eastern Railroad Station.

Potter, Bachelder & Co.,
DANVERS-PORT and SOUTH DANVERS,
DEALERS IN
WOOD AND COAL.

Constantly on hand.

Franklin, Burnside, Dimond, } RED ASH.
Old Company & Packer's Lehigh, Ely Fisk, Webster and Locust Mountain, } WHITE ASH.

Also Cumberland, Pictou and Campbell for Steam and Smith's use.

OFFICE—No. 6 Allen's Building.

G. W. POTTER,
J. Q. A. BACHELDER,
C. T. BATCHELDER. mch 30

M. FENOLLOSA,
TEACHER OF MUSIC,

LETS .... PIANO FORTES, at the lowest rates;
SELLS .... PIANO FORTES, at the Manufacturers Prices;
EXCHANGES....PIANO FORTES, on the easiest terms;

At Rooms No. 7 Central street,
feb 11 SALEM, MASS.

AARON T. LOWE,
DEALER IN
BOOTS, SHOES AND RUBBERS,
76 BOSTON STREET, 76.
aug 6 SALEM. tf

GEORGE TAPLEY,
(DANVERS),
AGENT FOR THE
John Hancock Life Insurance Co.
Office, 41 State Street, Boston.

T. HARDY, JR.,
—Dealer in—
DOORS, SASHES, BLINDS,
Glazed Sash, Painted Blinds,
FENCE PALES, STAIR BALUSTERS, FRAMING PINS, &c.,
No. 26 FRONT STREET,
Salem, January 14, 1863—tf.

Horse Railroad Notice.

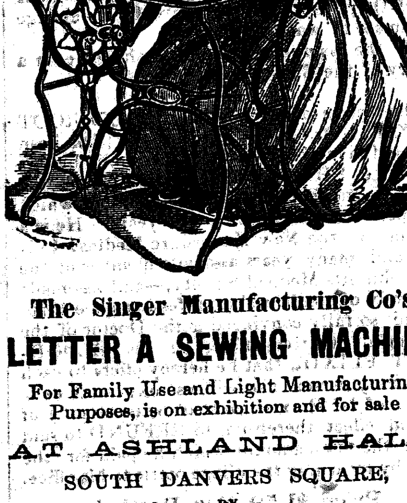
ON and after FRIDAY, May 27th, single fares on the Salem and South Danvers Railroad will be six cents.

Packages of eighteen tickets will be sold for $1.00.

Single fares on the South Salem Branch will be five cents, and packages of twenty-five tickets will be sold for $1.00.

Fares for Children between the ages of 3 and 12 years, and for Scholars attending school, will be four cents, or twenty-five tickets for $1.00.

Salem, June 1, 1864. M. H. HALE.



The Singer Manufacturing Co's
LETTER A SEWING MACHINE
For Family Use and Light Manufacturing Purposes, is on exhibition and for sale
AT ASHLAND HALL,
SOUTH DANVERS SQUARE,
—BY—
JOHN H. CHOATE,
Agent for the sale of
SEWING MACHINES,
SILK, THREAD, NEEDLES, COTTONS, &c., &c.
—Also—
Paraffine Sewing Machine Oil,
The best oil for all kinds of light machinery.
South Danvers, Nov 18, 1863.

MISS. S. E. MACKINTIRE.
TEACHER ON
PIANO FORTE
RESIDENCE,—22 Holton Street,
jan13 South Danvers.

Pure Ground Bone
For Farming and Horticultural Purposes.

THE subscriber would announce that he is now constantly manufacturing and preparing for sale PURE GROUND BONE—conceded by all who have tried it to be the best article in use for fertilizing trees, grape vines, gardens, etc. It can be obtained in large or small quantities.

Also for Sale, NEAT'S FOOT OIL, TALLOW and GREASE.

☞ Cash paid for Bones.

TIMOTHY WALTON.
Post Office Address, box 99 South Danvers, Mass. April 20—3m

WIRE COVERS.

WIRE Dish Covers, in sets of five, at
S C & E A SIMONDS',
June 29 32 Front Street.

Auction Sales.

WILLIAM ARCHER, Jr.,
Auctioneer, Real Estate and Stock Broker,
34 Front Street.

Real Estate, Bank, Railroad & Manufacturing Stock bought and sold on Commission.

ON SATURDAY NEXT, at 9½ o'clock will be sold at No. 34 Front street:

A QUANTITY of Sofas, Lounges, Tables, Chairs, one Parlor Set in Mahogany and Hair-Cloth; a lot of Settees, Carpets, 2 English Pianos, etc., etc.

Also—An assortment of Ladies' and Misses' Boots and Shoes.

Also—An invoice of Dry Goods: Prints, Delaines, Lawns, Satinets, &c., &c.

Also—A quanity of Clothing; Coats, Vests and Pants.

Also—10 boxes Tobacco, 200 lbs Coffee in lb papers, 100 lbs ground Pepper.

VALUABLE REAL ESTATE.

THE Subscriber offers for sale the following Lots of Land, with the Buildings thereon, at private sale, until September next, when such as then remain unsold, will be offered at Public Auction:

A new and well built two-story DWELLING HOUSE, situated on English Street.—This house is well supplied with the modern conveniences, is pleasantly situated on rising ground, and is a very desirable residence.

The MOROCCO FACTORY near the Southwick Tannery. The building is about 150 feet long by 40 wide, is well supplied with pure water and is an excellent place for the Morocco business or Currying.

Near the Morocco Factory are two TWO-STORY BUILDINGS, which may be sold with the Factory, or separately. Together they are about 80 feet long by 20 wide.

On Walnut Street is the large BOARDING HOUSE, with the land adjoining, which is excellently well situated for what it is designed.

Several front LOTS for building purposes on Walnut Street, will be sold at moderate prices and fair terms.

A STORE HOUSE 70 by 25 feet on Walnut Street, with the land under and the rear of it. It can be easily adapted for a Curriers' Shop, or for other kinds of business.

On Wallis Street, near the mill pond, a well built and painted MOROCCO FACTORY, all ready for occupancy. It is about 80 feet long by 25 wide, and in excellent repair.

Next to the Morocco Factory on the same street, a STORE BUILDING, strongly built, and framed for a DWELLING HOUSE, for which it could be easily adapted. Or it would make an excellent Shop for any kind of business.

Near ELM STREET, on a Court south of said street, are two DWELLING HOUSES, planned for two families each. One is two stories high, the other one and a half. Both houses have good tenants and yield a good income; offering a good chance for investment.

Between Harris and English Streets, one One Story DWELLING House, and a One Story and a Half House.

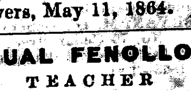
The above is a most excellent opportunity for enterprising young men to secure places for business and dwelling houses, on reasonable terms. Such a chance may not soon again occur.

Persons desiring to purchase any of the above lots may learn the prices and terms on application to ANDREW S. PORTER, Elm Street.

SAMUEL D. PENDAR.
South Danvers, May 11, 1864. tf

MANUAL FENOLLOSA
TEACHER
OF THE
Violin, Piano and Singing,
MUSIC ROOMS, No. 7 Central Street,
SALEM, MASS.

NEW STORE!
Flour! Flour!



JUST RECEIVED, a fresh supply of CHOICE BRANDS, direct from the Mills, for sale, wholesale and retail, at LOWEST PRICES, by

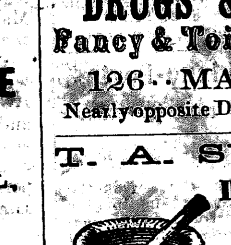
E. F. OSBORN.
Sutton's Building, Main St.
South Danvers, Nov 18, 1863.

R. C. MANNING & CO.
Successors to JOHN DIKE & CO.,
DEALERS IN
COAL, WOOD, BARK, HAY, &c,
188 DERBY STREET,
SALEM, MASS.
N. C. ROBBINS, R. C. MANNING.
oct17

GEO. E. MEACOM,

Dealer in
DRUGS & MEDICINES,
Fancy & Toilet Articles, &c.,
126 MAIN ST. 126
Nearly opposite Danvers Bank, So. Danvers.

T. A. SWEETSER,



Druggist & Apothecary
37 Main St., So. Danvers,
DEALER IN
Drugs, Medicines, Chemicals, Foreign Leeches, Shakers' Herbs, Dye Stuffs, Gums, Acids, Sponges, Shoulder Braces, Trusses, and Genuine Patent Medicines,

Also, Imported Cigars of choice brands, Perfumery, Toilet Articles and Stationery.

Physicians' Prescriptions carefully prepared by experienced persons.

37 MAIN STREET.

D. P. GROSVENOR, Jr.,

Druggist and Apothecary,
33 MAIN STREET.

Dealer in Drugs, Medicines, Chemicals, Dye Stuffs, and Popular Proprietary Medicines.

Personal attention to Physicians' Prescriptions.

South Danvers, May 29, 1861. 1y

TABLE MATS,

SHAKER and Wood Table Mats, at
S C & E A SIMONDS',
June 29 32 Front Street.

BRUSHES.

A FULL stock of Brushes of every description, at
je22 S C & E A SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

FOR SUMMER READING.

G. M. WHIPPLE & A. A. SMITH'S Subscription Circulating Library affords ample facilities. Terms liberal. Subscriptions commencing at any time. June 29

Special Notices.

EDITOR OF WIZARD:—Dear Sir—With your permission I wish to say to the readers of your paper that I will send by return mail to all who wish it (free), a Recipe, with full directions for making and using a simple Vegetable Balm, that will effectually remove, in ten days, Pimples, Blotches, Tan, Freckles, and all Impurities of the Skin, leaving the same soft, clear, smooth and beautiful.

I will also mail free to those having Bald Heads, or Bare Faces, simple directions and information that will enable them to start a full growth of Luxuriant Hair, Whiskers, or Moustache, in less than thirty days.

All applications answered by return mail without charge. Respectfully yours,

THOS. F. CHAPMAN, Chemist,
jy 13-3m 831 Broadway, New York.

A GENTLEMAN, cured of Nervous Debility, Incompetency, Premature Decay and Youthful Error, actuated by a desire to benefit others, will be happy to furnish to all who need it, (free of charge,) the recipe and directions for making the simple remedy used in his case. Those wishing to profit by his experience, and possess a Valuable Remedy, will receive the same, by return mail, (carefully sealed,) by addressing

JOHN B. OGDEN,
No 60 Nassau street, New York.
may 25—3m

BELL'S SPECIFIC PILLS.—WARRANTED IN ALL CASES.—Can be relied on! Never fail to cure! Do not nauseate! Are speedy in action! No change of diet required! Do not interfere with business pursuits! Can be used without detection! Upward of 200 cures the past month—some of them very severe cases. Over one hundred physicians have used them in their practice, and all speak well of their efficacy, and approve of their composition, which is entirely vegetable and harmless on the system. Hundreds of certificates can be shown.

BELL'S SPECIFIC PILLS are the original and only genuine Specific Pill. They are adapted for male and female, old or young, and the only reliable remedy for effecting a permanent and speedy cure in all cases of Spermatorrhea, or Seminal Weakness, with all its train of evils, such as Urethral and Vaginal Discharges, Gleet, the Whites, Nightly or Involuntary Emissions, Incontinence, Genital Debility and Irritability, Impotence, Weakness or Loss of Power, Nervous Debility, &c., &c., all of which arise principally from Sexual Excesses or Self-Abuse, or some constitutional derangement, and incapacitates the sufferer from fulfilling the duties of married life. In all sexual diseases, as Gonorrhea, Gleet, and Strictures, and in Diseases of the Bladder and Kidneys, they act as a charm! Relief is experienced by taking a single box.

Sold by all the principal druggists. Price $1.

They will be sent by mail, securely sealed, and confidentially, on receipt of the money, by

J. BRYAN, M. D.,
No. 76 Cedar street, New York,

Consulting Physician for the treatment of Seminal, Urinary, Sexual, and Nervous Diseases, who will send, free to all, the following valuable work, in sealed envelope:

THE FIFTIETH THOUSAND.—DR. BELL'S TREATISE on Self-Abuse, Premature Decay, Impotence and Loss of Power, Sexual Diseases, Seminal Weakness, Nightly Emissions, Genital Debility, &c., &c., a pamphlet of 64 pages, containing important advice to the afflicted, and which should be read by every sufferer, as the means of cure in the severest stages is plainly set forth. Two stamps required to pay postage. December 9, 1863—1 yr.

IMPORTANT TO LADIES.—DR. HARVEY'S FEMALE PILLS have never yet failed in removing difficulties arising from obstruction, or stoppage of nature, or in restoring the system to perfect health when suffering from Spinal Affections, Prolapsus, Uteri, the Whites, or other weakness of the Uterine Organs. The Pills are perfectly harmless on the constitution, and may be taken by the most delicate female without causing distress—the same time they act like a charm by strengthening, invigorating and restoring the system to a healthy condition, and by bringing on the monthly period with regularity, no matter from what causes the obstruction may arise. They should, however, NOT be taken during the first three or four months of pregnancy, though safe at any other time, as miscarriage would be the result.

Each box contains 60 Pills. Price $1.

DR. HARVEY'S TREATISE on Diseases of Females, Pregnancy, Miscarriage, Barrenness, Sterility, Reproduction, and Abuses of Nature, and emphatically the Ladies' Private Medical Adviser, a pamphlet of 61 pages, sent free to any address. Six cents required to pay postage.

The Pills and book will be sent by mail when desired, securely sealed, and prepaid, by

J. BRYAN, M. D., General Agent,
No. 76 Cedar street, New York.

☞ Sold by all the principal druggists.
December 9, 1863—1 yr.

DYSPEPSIA AND FITS.

A SURE CURE FOR

THESE distressing complaints is now made known in a Treatise on Foreign and Native Herbal Preparations, published by DR. O. PHELPS BROWN. The prescription was furnished him in such a providential manner, that he cannot conscientiously refuse to make it known, as it has cured everybody who has used it, never having failed in a single case. It is equally sure in cases of Fits as of Dyspepsia; and the ingredients may be found in any drug store. Sent free to all on the receipt of five cents to pre pay postage. This work, of 48 octavo pages, beautifully illustrated, also treats on

Consumption,

Bronchitis, Asthma, General Debility, and gives the best known Herbal Remedies for their positive and permanent cure. Address DR O. PHELPS BROWN, No. 19 Grand street, Jersey City, New Jersey.
may 25—3m

A Card to the Suffering.

SWALLOW two or three hogsheads of "Buchu," "Tonic Bitters," "Sarsaparilla," "Nervous Antidotes," &c., &c., &c., and after you are satisfied with the result, then try one box of OLD DOCTOR BUCHAN'S ENGLISH SPECIFIC PILLS—and be restored to health and vigor in less than thirty days. They are purely vegetable, pleasant to take, prompt and salutary in their effects on the broken-down and shattered constitution. Old and young can take them with advantage. Imported and sold in the United States only by

JAS. S. BUTLER, No. 427 Broadway, New York.
☞ Agent for the United States.

P. S.: A Box of the Pills, securely packed, will be mailed to any address on receipt of price, which is ONE DOLLAR, post paid,—money refunded by the Agent if entire satisfaction is not given. jy 13—3m

Do You Wish to be Cured.

DR. BUCHAN'S ENGLISH SPECIFIC PILLS cure, in less than 30 days, the worst cases of NERVOUSNESS, Impotency, Premature Decay, Seminal Weakness, Insanity, and all Urinary, Sexual and Nervous Affections, no matter from what cause produced. Price, One Dollar per box. Sent, post-paid, by mail, on receipt of order. One Box will perfect the cure in most cases. Address JAMES S. BUTLER,
jy 13-3m General Agent, 427 Broadway, New York.

Chickering & Sons' Piano-Fortes.
Hallett & Cumston's Piano-Fortes.
Hallett & Davis's Piano-Fortes.

We select our Piano-Fortes from the above firms and warrant them to give perfect satisfaction. Our terms are reasonable, and all persons in the city and neighboring towns can be accommodated by calling at 76 Federal street.

FOR SALE—Second-hand Piano-Fortes,—Chickering's and others.
ap29 ANN B. BRAY.

Horse Railroad Notice.

On and after MONDAY, May 9, the cars of the Salem and South Danvers Railroad Co. will leave

South Danvers for Salem and Beverly at 6.35, 6.55, 7.15, and 7.35, A. M., and every 20 minutes till 12.55 P. M., and at 1.10, 1.25, 1.40, 1.55 P. M., and every 15 minutes till 10.25 P. M. The 9.55, 10.10, and 10.25 P. M., cars will go only to Salem.

Cars will leave Beverly for Salem and South Danvers at 6.35, 6.55, 7.15, and 7.35, A. M., and every 20 minutes till 12.55 P. M., and at 1.10, 1.25, 1.40 and 1.55 P.M., and every 15 minutes till 10.40 P. M. The 9.40, 9.55, 10.10, 10.25 and 10.40 P. M., cars go only to Salem.

Cars leave Washington Street Station for So. Danvers at 6.12, 6.32 and 6.52 A. M. and every 20 minutes till 12.32 P.M, and leave Washington St. Station for Beverly at 6.17, 6.37, 6.57, A.M., and every 20 minutes till 12 37 P. M., and cars will leave Washington St. Station for South Danvers and Beverly at 12.45, 1, 1.15, and 1.30 P. M., and every 15 minutes till 10.00 P. M.

M. H. HALE,
may 11 Sup't. S. & S. D. R. R. Co.

STONE WARE.

A SUPPLY of Stone Ware of all kinds, such as Water Kegs, Pitchers, Jugs, Cake and Butter Pots, are just opened at

S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS',
July 6 32 Front Street.

FEATHER DUSTERS,

OF all sizes, from 10 to 26 inches, just opened at
je22 S C & E A SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

R. W. WILKINSON,
DEALER IN
Newspapers, Periodicals, and Stationery of every Description.

FOREIGN and DOMESTIC FRUITS, consisting of Oranges, Lemons, Dates, Figs, Prunes, &c., &c.

Sauces, Pickles and Preserves; Castana, Naples and English Walnuts; Hard, Soft and Paper-shelled Almonds; choice brands of Tobacco and Cigars; also a general assortment of Confectionery of every description.

Also a large and well selected stock of Toys, suitable for children and the Holiday Gifts.

Ice Cream furnished to parties at short notice and in quantities to suit. Wedding Cake and every variety of nice cake furnished to parties or families.

STORE—WARREN BANK BUILDING.
South Danvers, Nov'r 11, 1863.

DR. S. O. RICHARDSON'S
Blood-Root Elixir

Has been thoroughly tested and proved in his medical practice, for a period of THIRTY YEARS, and is now presented to the public as an effectual cure for

COSTIVENESS,

AND THE BEST REMEDY EVER PREPARED FOR

DISEASES OF THE LIVER,
SCROFULA,
All Humors and Impurities of the Blood and Diseases of the Skin.

The preparing and combining the BLOOD-ROOT ELIXIR is attended with results to medical science next in importance to inhalation of ether in surgery. Roots and plants, in themselves pungent and disagreeable, are, by a new and scientific process of extracting (in vacuo,) rendered MORE EFFECTIVE IN THEIR OPERATION, entirely divested of the griping and distressing pain which attends the action of all other purgative medicine.—They are also made to become highly

PLEASANT AND AGREEABLE TO THE TASTE,

and by their peculiar combination work so perfectly in HARMONY WITH NATURE that no unpleasant reaction will follow its operation. It also possesses

A DIFFUSIVE AND ALTERATIVE EFFECT,

which can only be attained by medicine in a fluid state. These are new elements in purgative medicines.

The hard and compact manner in which Pills are prepared, renders them indigestible—and, when taken, are forced through the Stomach and Bowels, half dissolved, causing only PARTIAL ACTION, thereby creating irritation and pain to the parts connected with their passage.

One Pill dissolved secundum artem, will produce more medicinal and physical effect than five in a crude state.

The BLOOD-ROOT ELIXIR has no partial action upon the bowels, but is equally diffused there, and throughout the whole circulation of the Blood, imparting a healthy and invigorating action to the STOMACH AND BOWELS, LIVER, LUNGS, KIDNEYS, and gently stimulating dermant and morbid secretions throughout the whole system.

A single dose will produce a cheerful and exhilarating COMMOTION, which will inspire the patient with confidence, and assurance of IMMEDIATE RELIEF. A continuance for a short period will DRIVE the obscure and hidden humors to the surface of the skin, and relieve or check SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS—and by thus purifying and strengthening the Blood, will remove the most fruitful

CAUSE OF CONSUMPTION.

It incites the various organs of the system to act their alloted part, removing the causes which induce RHEUMATISM and NEURALGIA, HEADACHE, LOSS OF APPETITE, DYSPEPSIA, COSTIVENESS, and the various diseases which arise from a derangement of the Stomach and Bowels, and restricted circulation of the Blood.

COUGHS AND COLDS, in their early stages, will immediately yield to the effect of the Elixir.

The BLOOD-ROOT ELIXIR contains no mineral, no pernicious botanical element, no excitant, but stimulates the secretions by its mild and diffusive action. It is an effective and painless aperient—has a decided salutary action upon the Liver, and there has been no medicine prepared for common family use which possesses equal merit.

Travellers both by sea and land, will find the Elixir a complete antidote for the evils which they are obliged to endure, from a change of climate of water of diet.

See the pamphlet around each bottle for a history of the Elixir.

The proprietor of the BLOOD-ROOT ELIXIR, (Dr. S. O. Richardson,) has been long and favorably known to the public by his celebrated SHERRY WINE BITTERS, the best tonic medicine ever discovered, and which has been in use over thirty years. He is a graduate of the New Hampshire Medical College, and many years associate member of the Massachusetts Medical Society,—and has made the study of medicine his profession since 1820.

And so fully convinced is the Doctor of the wonderful curative effects of his BLOOD-ROOT ELIXIR, that he hereby offers to each and every person who will use ONE-HALF OF A BOTTLE of his ELIXIR, and not be conscious of a good effect therefrom, to REFUND to said person the FULL amount which he paid for the same, by returning the ullage bottle to his office.

Price $1.50 Per Bottle!

Sold by Apothecaries and Dealers in Medicines, and at the Doctor's Office,

51 & 53 HANOVER ST., BOSTON.
May 11—3ms.*

MOULTON'S
NEW LIVERY STABLE,

Is removed to stable formerly occupied by
SAMUEL HAM,
On MAIN STREET, opposite the Institute.

Good Horses and Carriages will be always in readiness at short notice.
South Danvers, May 25, 1864.

HEYLINGBERG'S
Hair Dressing Saloon,
24 MAIN ST., SOUTH DANVERS.

J. J. HEYLINGBERG would announce to his patrons and the public generally, that on and after JUNE 1st, 1864, he will abide by the following

TARIFF OF PRICES:

Shaving,	10 cts,
Hair Cutting,	15 cts,
Champooing,	15 cts.

Particular attention paid to dying hair and whiskers, in one preparation, without washing or scrubbing.

South Danvers, May 11, 1864.

FLOUR.

200 BBLS "Keystone;" 100 bbls Faquis "Invincible," received this day, and for sale by
may 25 GAYLE & CO., Phillips Wharf.

Cards.

M. B. MANSFIELD,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
214 ESSEX STREET, SALEM, MASS.
 Particular attention paid to procuring Pensions, Bounties, Back Pay, Prize Money, and Army and Navy Claims of all descriptions. March 2.

THOMAS M. STIMPSON,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
194 ESSEX STREET, SALEM.
Residence Lowell street, South Danvers.

B. C. PERKINS,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
South Danvers—Office in Allen's Building

ALFRED A. ABBOTT,
Attorney and Counsellor,
Office, No. 24 Washington Street, Salem;
House, Main St., So. Danvers.

SIDNEY C. BANCROFT,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
27 Washington Street, Salem.

H. O. WILEY,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
Office, Allen's Building, So. Danvers.

Claims against the Government for Bounty Back Pay, and Pensions, promptly attended to

A. S. CRAWFORD
Dentist,
No. 4 MAIN STREET, So. DANVERS SQUARE
Mechanical Dentistry Neatly Executed.

W. L. BOWDOIN,
SURGEON DENTIST,
No, 208 Essex Street, Salem, (Opposite the Marke
Residence—No. 57 Washington street.
jan 11—ly

NEWMAN & SYMONDS,
DEALERS IN
Family Groceries, Flour & Grain,
HARD WARE AND CROCKERY,
Ready Made Clothing, Gents' Furnishing Goods, Hats, Caps, Boots, Shoes, &c.,
South Danvers Square, opp. Congregational Church
SAM'L NEWMAN. NATH'L SYMONDS.

S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS,
DEALERS IN
Crockery, China and Hardware; Paper Hangings; Solar and Entry Lamps; Paints, Oil, and Window Glass.
No. 32 Front street, Lawrence Place,
feb13 SALEM. MASS.

HENRY L. WHIDDEN,
HOUSE AND SIGN PAINTER,
Glazier and Paperer,
Central Street, South Danvers.
All orders promptly and faithfully executed.
jan2-ly

E. S. FLINT,
DEALER IN
West India Goods, Country Poduce,
No. 2 Main Street, South Danvers.

JESSE SMITH
No. 262 Essex Street, Salem,
Importer and Dealer in
Gold and Silver Watches,
MARINE CHRONOMETERS,
Aneroid Barometers, Spy Glasses, &c.

WILLIAM BLANEY,
HOUSE & SIGN PAINTER
Grainer, Glazier and Paper Hanger.
164 MAIN STREET, Corner of Grove.
WINDOWS and BLINDS cheap for cash.
mch6-tf

F. POOLE
INSURANCE AGENT,
Allen's Building (up stairs),
Deeds drawn, and other common forms.

H. L. HADLEY,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
CORNER MAPLE AND ELM ST.,
Danvers.
Claims against the Government for Bounty, Back Pay, and Pensions, promptly attended to.

DEVEREUX & McLELLAN,
Attorneys and Counsellors-at-Law,
CIVIL AND MILITARY,
Browne's Block, Essex street—Room No. 5.
J. F. DEVEREUX, Salem, Mass.
GEO. F. MCLELLAN, Washington, D. C.
Oct. 21.

CREAM ALE.

THIS Ale is highly recommended by Physicians for

FAMILY USE AND INVALIDS.

Put up in Half Barrels and Barrels,
And for sale by
J. MAGUIRE & CO.,
No. 6 Derby Square, Salem.

Also, Agent for
MASSEY & COLLINS'
PHILADELPHIA ALES,
BUCKHART'S
CREAM ALE,
And Dealer in
LONDON PORTER, SCOTCH ALE, Atkinson's Wormwood Cordial, Drake's Plantation Bitters, &c., &c.

J. MAGUIRE & CO.,
July 15 No. 6 Derby Square, Salem.

E. F. BURNHAM,
SOLE AGENT FOR
SARGENT & CO.S'
MAGIC SOAP!
For South Danvers & Salem.

OFFICE—Central St., opp. Lowell Depot, at Burnham's Express Office, So. Danvers.

Price $3.50 per 100 Lbs.

Orders sent by mail or otherwise to So. Danvers will be promptly attended to. tf-oct3

Choice Spring Pigs for Sale.

THE subscriber offers for sale nice PIGS of Mackie Prince Albert and Chester County breeds, of which the Mackie took the First Premium at the late CattleShow. Prices reasonable.

BYRON GOODALE,
Near Tapley's Brook.
South Danvers, April 1, 1864. tf

CHINA GOODS.

GOLD Band Tea Sets; Fancy do.; Vases; Match Boxes; Fruit Baskets, etc., at
S C & E A SIMONDS',
je22 32 Front St., Salem.

THE BEST ASSORTMENT

OF White, Colored Grounds, neat Patterns, to be found in the city.
june 1 ANN R. BRAY, 76 Federal st.

Advertisements.

HOSTETTER'S
CELEBRATED
STOMACH BITTERS.

A pure and powerful Tonic, corrective and alterative of wonderful efficacy in disease of the

Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

Cures Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Headache, Debility, Nervousness, Depression of Spirits, Constipation, Colic, Intermittent Fevers, Cramps and Spasms, and all Complaints of either Sex, arising from Bodily Weakness whether inherent in the system or produced by special causes.

Nothing that is not wholesome, genial and restorative in its nature enters into the composition of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. This popular preparation contains no mineral of any kind, no deadly botanical element; no fiery excitant: but it is a combination of the extracts of rare balsamic herbs and plants with the purest and mildest of all diffusive stimulants.

It is well to be forearmed against disease, and, so far as the human system can be protected by human means against maladies engendered by an unwholesome atmosphere, impure water and other external causes, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS may be relied on as a safeguard.

In districts infested with Fever and Ague, it has been found infallible as a preventive and irresistible as a remedy and thousands who resort to it under apprehension of an attack, escape the scourage; and thousands who neglect to avail themselves of its protective qualities in advance, are cured by a very brief course of this marvelous medicine. Fever and Ague patients, after being plied with quinine for months in vain, until fairly saturated with that dangerous alkaloid, are not unfrequently restored to health within a few days by the use of HOSTETTER'S BITTERS.

The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated and the appetite restored by this agreeable Tonic, and hence it works wonders in cases of DYSPEPSIA and in less confirmed forms of INDIGESTION. Acting as a gentle and painless apperient, as well as upon the liver, it also invariably relieves the CONSTIPATION superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and secretive organs.

Persons of feeble habit, liable to Nervous Attacks, Lowness of Spirits and Fits of Languor, find prompt and permanent relief from the Bitters. The testimony on this point is most conclusive, and from both sexes.

The agony of BILIOUS COLIC is immediately assuaged by a single dose of the stimulant, and by occasionally resorting to it, the return of the complaint may be prevented.

As a General Tonic, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS produce effects which must be experienced or witnessed before they can be fully appreciated. In cases of Constitutional Weakness, Premature Decay and Debility and Decrepitude arising from OLD AGE, it exercises the electric influence. In the convalescent stages of all diseases it operates as a delightful inyigorant. When the powers of nature are relaxed, it operates to re-enforce and re-establish them.

Last, but not least, it is The Only Safe Stimulant, being manufactured from sound and innocuous materials, and entirely free from the acid elements present more or less in all the ordinary tonics and stomachics of the day.

No family medicine has been so universally, and, it may be truly added, deservedly popular with the intelligent portion of the community, as HOSTETTER'S BITTERS.

Prepared by HOSTETTER & SMITH, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Sold by all Druggists, Grocers and Storekeepers everywhere.

HELMBOLD'S
GENUINE PREPARATIONS.

COMPOUND FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU, a Positive and Specific Remedy for diseases of the Bladder, Kidneys, Gravel, and Dropsical Swellings.

This Medicine increases the power of Digestion, and excite the Absorbents into healthy action, by which the Wtaery or Calcareous depositions, and all Unnatural Enlargements are reduced, as well as Pain and Inflammation.

:o:

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU.

For Weaknesses arising from Excesses, Habits of Dissipation, Early Indiscretion of Abuse, attended with the following symptoms:—

Indisposition to Exertion,	Loss of Power,
Loss of Memory,	Difficulty of Breathing,
Weak Nerves,	Trembling,
Horror of Disease,	Wakefulness,
Dimness of Vision,	Pain in the Back,
Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System,
Hot Hands,	Flushing of the Body,
Dryness of the Skin,	Eruptions on the Face,
Pallid Countenance.

These symptoms, if allowed to go on, which this medicine invariably removes, soon follows

Impotency, Fatuity, Epileptic Fits,

In one of which the patient may expire.

Who can say that they are not frequently followed by those "Direful Diseases,"

"INSANITY AND CONSUMPTION."

Many are aware of the cause of their suffering, BUT NONE WILL CONFESS THE RECORDS OF THE INSANE ASYLUMS.

And Melancholy Deaths by Consumption bear ample witness to the Truth of the assertion.

The Constitution once effected with Organic Weakness requires the aid of Medicine to Strengthen and Invigorate the system,

Which HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU invariably does. A Trial will convince the most skeptical.

:o:

FEMALES—FEMALES—FEMALES.

In many Affections peculiar to Females the EXTRACT BUCHU is unequalled by any other remedy, as in Chlorosis or Retention, Irregularity, Painfulness, or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated Schirrhous state of the Uterus, Leuchorrhea or Whites, Sterility, and for all complaints incident to the sex, whether arising from indiscretion or Habits of Dissipation, or in the

DECLINE OR CHANGE OF LIFE.

:o:

Take no more Balsam, Mercury, or unpleasant Medicines for unpleasant and dangerous diseases.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU AND IMPROVED ROSE WASH CURES

SECRET DISEASES.

In all their Stages, At little Expense.
Little or no change in Diet. No inconvenience.
And no Exposure.

It causes a frequent desire and gives strength to Urinate, thereby Removing Obstructions, Preventing and Curing Strictures of the Urethra, allaying Pain and Inflammation, so frequent in this class of diseases, and expelling all Poisonous, Diseased and wornout Matter.

Thousands upon Thousands who have been the Victims of Quacks, and who have paid heavy fees to be cured in a short time, have found they were deceived, and that the "POISON" has, by the use of "Powerful Astringents," been dried up in the system, to break out in an aggravated form, and perhaps after Marriage.

:o:

Use HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU for all affections and diseases of the URINARY ORGANS, whether existing in MALE or FEMALE, from whatever cause originating and no matter of HOW LONG STANDING.

Diseases of these Organs requires the aid of a DIURETIC. HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU IS THE GREAT DIURETIC, and is certain to have the desired effect in all Diseases for which it is Recommended.

Evidence of the most reliable and responsible character will accompany the medicine.

Price $1.00 per bottle, or six for $5.00.

Delivered to any Address, securely packed from observation.

Describe Symptoms in all Communications.

Cures Guaranteed! Advice Gratis!!

Address letters for information to

H. B. HELMBOLD, Chemist,
104 South Tenth st., bel. Chestnut, Phila.

HELMBOLD'S Medical Depot.
HELMBOLD'S Drug & Chemical Warehouse.
594 Broadway, New York.

BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS AND UNPRINCIPLED DEALERS who endeavor to dispose "of their own" and "other" articles on the reputation attained by

Helmbold's Genuine Preparations.
" " Extract Buchu.
" " Sarsaparilla.
" " Improved Rose Wash.

SOLD BY
ALL DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE.
ASK FOR HELMBOLD'S. TAKE NO OTHER.
Cut out the Advertisement and send for it.
AND AVOID IMPOSITION AND EXPOSURE.
December 16, 1863.—1 yr.

WM. C. HENDERSON,
MANUFACTURER OF
PLAIN AND FANCY
PAPER BOXES;
No. 235 ESSEX STREET,
Sign of "Nest of Boxes,"
july 23 SALEM. tf

MANHOOD:
HOW LOST, HOW RESTORED.

Just published, a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical cure (without medicine) of SPERMATORRHŒA, or Seminal Weakness, Involuntary Seminal Losses, IMPOTENCY, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc.; also, Consumption, Epilepsy and Fits, induced by self-indulgence or sexual extravagance.

☞ Price, in a sealed envelope, only 6 cents.

The celebrated author in this admirable essay clearly demonstrates from a thirty years successful practice, that the alarming consequences of self-abuse may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine or the application of the knife—pointing out a mode of cure, at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

☞ This Lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land.

Sent under seal, in a plain envelope, to any address, POST-PAID, on receipt of six cents, or two post stamps. Address the publishers,

CHAS. J. C. KLINE & CO.,
127 Bowery. New York, Post Office Box, 4586.
June 29—10w.

SPEED, COMFORT AND SAFETY!

FOR NEW YORK.
Norwich Steamboat Train.
The only Boats Landing at Jersey City.

CABIN Passage, $5.00; Deck Passage, $4.00. The new and elegant sixteen wheel cars of the steamboat express train leave the Boston & Worcester Railroad Station, Albany Street, at 5½ P. M., daily, connecting with the new steamers, (built expressly for this line,) CITY OF BOSTON, Capt. WILCOX, Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays; CITY OF NEW YORK, Capt. JEWETT, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays, which (before proceeding to their Pier, No. 39 North River,) will touch at the wharf of the New Jersey Railroad at Jersey City, (Sundays excepted) thus enabling Southern Passengers to make sure connections with the First Southern Train, and at the same time avoid the great annoyance of the Ferry and Hack transportation in the crowded streets of New York. This insures ample time for Breakfast before the trains leave. Conductors E. MORRILL and T. N. TURNER accompany the passengers through to New York.

Tickets, Berths and Staterooms secured at the Railroad Station, and at the Office of the line, 79 Washington Street, Boston.

Through tickets to Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington can be had at 79 Washington Street, Boston.

WM. DICKEY, JR., Agent.
Boston, January 7, 1864.

CURRIER & MILLETT,
Dealers in
Furniture, Chairs,
MATTRESSES, FEATHERS, &
259 & 261 ESSEX ST.
Salem, dec 14—1y

H. & H. G. HUBON,
WASHINGTON STREET, SALEM
Manufacturers of
Rose Wood, Mahogany, Black Walnut and Stained Wood
COFFINS and CASKETS.

MAKING this our exclusive business, we are ready at all times and at the shortest notice to furnish Grave Clothes of various styles, as well as Coffins and Caskets of the finest finish. Personal attention given, and delivered without extra charge to any of the neighboring towns. All orders by express or otherwise will receive prompt attention.

Black Walnut and White Wood Boards, Plank and Joists for sale.
dec 14—tf

CHARLES S. BUFFUM,

BEING an authorized UNDERTAKER of South Danvers, will attend Funerals in said place with his Hearse the same as the Town Undertaker. Will also attend Funerals, when desired, in any of the neighboring towns, with one or a pair of horses.

He also furnishes Coffin Caskets, Robes, &c., lower than city prices.

All branches of the business attended to, such as furnishing Coaches, Flowers, Laying Out, &c. Ice Preservers furnished.

All orders promptly attended to, and personal attention given to them. Articles delivered to any of the neighboring towns free of charge. Orders by express or otherwise will receive prompt attention.

Central street, South Danvers,
RESIDENCE 25 ELM STREET.
South Danvers, Feb 17, 1864.

Undertaker's Notice!

THE subscriber being regularly appointed as Undertaker of South Danvers, would respectfully notify the public that he has removed from Central Street, to No. 80 Lowell Street, where he may be found in readiness to attend funerals, and to furnish, when desired.

HENRY SPENCER.
February 10, 1864.

E. S. FLINT,
Manufacturer and Dealer in
INNER SOLES,
AND SHOE STIFFENINGS OF ALL KINDS,
2 MAIN STREET, SOUTH DANVERS.

NEW BOOKS,
At G. M. WHIPPLE & A. A. SMITH'S.

Macaria, a new book by Miss Evans, author of Beulah;
Blackwood's Magazine, for June;
Leslie's Family Magazine, July;
Denise, by author of Mademoiselle Mori;
All the Illustrated Weekly Papers;
Army and Navy Journal;
The Round Table;
Croquet—Laws and Regulations of the same.
je 27 190 Essex Street.

Eastern Railroad.

ON and after MONDAY, April 4, 1864, Trains will leave the Eastern Railroad Station, Washington street, Salem, daily. (Sundays excepted):

For Lynn and Boston, *5.50, 7, 8¼, 9, 10, 11 a m., 12 55, 2¼, 5¼, 7, 7¼ p. m.
Beverly, 8, 8 15, 11¼, am., 1, 3¼, 2¼, 5¼, 6.55, 7¼ p m.
W. Beach, Man'r, Gloucester, and Rockport, 8, 11¼, a m., 3¼, 6¼ p m.
Ipswich and Newburyport, 8 05 am., 1, 3¼, 5¼, 6.55pm.
Amesbury, 8 05 a m., 1, 3¼, 5¼ p m.
Portsmouth, 8 05 a m., 3¼, p. m.
Portland, 8 05 a m., 3¼ p m.

AND FOR SALEM, FROM

Portland, 8¼ a m., 3 p m.
Portsmouth, 6 20, 9 10, *11¼ a m., *5¼ p m.
Amesbury, 7.35, 9.40 a m., 5.55 p m.
Newburyport, 7, 7.55, 10, 11.50 a m., 6¼ p m.
Ipswich, 7.20, 8.15, 10.20 a m., 12.15, 6.35 p m.
Gloucester, 7, 10, 10.10 a m., 1.40, 4.40 p m.
Manchester, 7.25, 10.25 a m., 1.55, 4.55 p m.
Beverly, 6.50, 7.50, 8.20, 8.50 10.50 am., 12.45, 2.20, 5.20, 6.45, 7.05 pm.
Lynn, 7.45, 7.50, 9, 11, a m., 12.45, 3, 3.30, 4.30, 5 30, 6, 6.40, 7.30, 10 p m.
Boston, 7¼, 7¼, 8¼, 10¼ am., 12¼, 2¼, 3, 4, 5, 5.30, 6.10, 7, †9.30 p m.

*Or on arrival from the East.
†On Wednesdays this train leaves Boston at 11¼ p m. and on Saturdays at 10¼ p m.

MARBLEHEAD BRANCH.

Marblehead for Salem, 6¼, 7¼, 8¼, 9¼ a m., 12¼, 1¼, 5¼ 6¼, 7¼ p m.
Salem for Marblehead, 7¼, 8¼, 9.25, 11¼ a m., 1, 3¼, 5¼, 7, 7.50 p m.

SOUTH READING BRANCH.

Trains leave the South Reading Depot in Salem for Boston at 6.35, 9.50 a m., 2.25, 4.55 p m.
Boston for Salem, 7 a m., 12 m., 2 30, 5¼ p m.

ESSEX RAILROAD.

Leave Salem for Lawrence and way stations, 7, 11¼ a m., 4.45 p m.
Lawrence for Salem, 8 a m., 12.40, 5.50 p m.
Danvers for Salem, 8.40 a m., 1.20, 6.30 p m.
South Danvers for Salem, 8¾ a m., 1.25, 6.35 p m.

J. PRESCOTT, Superintendent.
Boston, April 5, 1864.

Salem and Lowell Railroad.

ON and after MONDAY, April 4, 1864, Trains will run as follows:

Leave Lowell for Salem, 7.25 a m., and *2.45 p m.
Leave Salem for Lowell, *9.40 a m. and 6 00 p m.

Passengers are not allowed to carry baggage above $50 in value, and that personal, unless notice is given and an extra amount paid. Season tickets do not entitle the holder to take baggage.

*Freight Train with passenger car attached.

F. H. NOURSE, Local Superintendent.
April 4, 1864.

FOR NEW YORK via FALL RIVER AND NEWPORT.

Cabin passage $5.00; Deck, $4.00. Cars leave the Depot of the Old Colony and Newport Railway, corner of South and Kneeland streets, at 5.30 P. M., daily.

For steamer METROPOLIS, Capt. W. Brown, on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

For steamer EMPIRE STATE, Capt. P. Brayton, on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays.

Passengers by this route can take the 4.40 P. M. Express Train, and arrive in Fall River one hour before the Steamboat Train, having time to secure State Booms and make their preparations for the passage.

Passengers by this line going to Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, &c., can connect with the New Jersey or Camden and Amboy Railroad. Baggage Checked through.

☞ A baggage master accompanies the passengers through to New York. Tickets, Berths and Staterooms secured at this office, and at O. C. & Newport R. R. Station.

GEORGE SHIVERICK, Agent.
No. 82 Washington Street.
BOSTON, November 16, 1863.

Abbott's South Danvers & Salem
EXPRESS.

Leave South Danvers,	7½ a m, 1 p m
Leave Salem,	10 a m, 4 p m

Orders left at Teel & Moulton's, and principal stores on Main street, South Danvers; and at 7 Washington street, and at Beed's in the Market, Salem.

Are you Insured?

THE subscriber would respectfully call your attention to the fact that he is fully prepared to effect INSURANCE AGAINST FIRE, to any amount, at current rates, on

Dwelling Houses, Barns and their contents, Stores, Stocks of Goods, Furniture, &c. &c., and on buildings in process of erection,

And that he is the authorized Agent for the following responsible Stock and Mutual Companies, viz:

Thames Insurance Co., (Stock,) Norwich, Conn.
Capital—$500,000.
Amos W. Prentice, Pres. Oliver F. Rice, Sec'y
Conway Insurance Company, (Stock) Boston.
Capital and Surplus—$260,000.
James F. Whitney, Pres. David C. Rogers, Sec'y.
City Insurance Company, (Stock) Boston.
Capital—$150,000.
Samuel P. Hayward, Pres. Austin W. Benton, Sec'y

Also, will effect Insurance on the LIVES OF INDIVIDUALS, for one year, seven years, or for the whole term of life, in the

Massachusetts Mutual Life Ins. Co., Springfield, Mass.
Capital and Assets—$375,000.
Caleb Rice, Pres. D. B. Bacon, Sec'y.
William Mack, M. D., Medical Examiner.

WM. ARCHER, Jr.,
18 Washington st. and 34 Front st., Salem.
feb20-1

ALWAYS SUCCESSFUL!
TO ALL THOSE WHO SUFFER FROM
DEBILITY AND SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

DRS. CARSWELL & HUNTER, regularly educated, highly eminent and successful practitioners, after a very extensive practice in Boston, for over twenty years, need hardly speak of their medical qualifications, or remind strangers not to class them with a set of uneducated men, who fill the papers with their boasting advertisements. Drs. C. & H. caution the public against quackery in all its forms, pretending, as some self-styled doctors, to cure all the most difficult and chronic diseases, without knowledge of the human system, or of the modus operandi of the most simple drugs.

Drs. C. & H., since 1840, having confined their whole attention to an office practice for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, they acknowledge no superiors.

CONSTITUTIONAL DEBILITY OR SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Drs. C. & H. are pre-eminently successful in the treatment of the above most difficult and perplexing of all diseases, this complaint being the result of a secret habit in youth; if neglected or improperly treated, it proves one of the greatest evils that can befall a human being. Dr. H. has given particular attention to the above disease for years, and so thoroughly has he become acquainted with the pathology and treatment, that he will warrant a perfect cure under forfeiture of $500; in fact, he will, in the cure of this complaint, acknowledge no superior in this country, or even in the world. Come, then, all you who are afflicted, come to the Old Stand, where you will in a short time be made to rejoice in perfect health.

SYPHILITIC AND SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS,—such as Ulcers and Caries of the throat and nose, Running Sores on the legs and arms, Hard Scabs and Scaly Eruptions on the head, back, &c., pains in the bones and joints, and all other forms of venereal diseases—are made to yield and entirely disappear under Drs. C. & H.'s improved and thoroughly eradicating course of treatment.

The primary or first symptoms of disease, whether a simple running, or small pistules, cancers, or ulcers, are cured in a very few days, if immediate application is made to Drs. C. & H.

13 ENDICOTT STREET, BOSTON. 13

Strangers should be particular in the selection of a physician, lest they be deceived by false advertisements.

Ladies troubled with irregularity, weakness, whites, and other complaints peculiar to the female system, will find a speedy cure by calling as above. No mercury used, and no charge for advice. The afflicted are invited to give us a call.

Boston, April 20, 1864.—1 yr.

25 YEARS' EXPERIENCE enables DRS. CARSWELL & HUNTER to cure any diseases of a private nature in a shorter space of time and for a smaller amount of money than any other doctors in this country, and they also treat all female complaints with perfect success, and on the most satisfactory terms. Patients furnished with board if desired. Please give us a call at our office, No. 13 Endicott St., Boston, Mass.

Boston, April 20, 1864.—1 yr.

MOZAMBIQUES,

AT 20 cents per yard; a nice quality at 30 cents per yard; White Striped Muslins; Striped Cambrics; Nainsooks—just received.

In Lawns we have a first rate assortment; other styles of Thin Goods—making our assortment as good as can be found in the city, selling at the lowest cash prices.

ANN R. BRAY, 76 Federal Street.
June 1.

SUMMER ARR
TO LYNN & B
BY OMNIBUS & H
W. F. BURI

Line of Omnibuses will leav
Omnibus Office, No. 6 Allen's vers, passing down Main Stree
Street, to Lynn, daily—Sunda
Leave South Danvers at 7
and 4 50 P. M.
Leave Lynn (Horse Car Dep
A. M., 2 40 and 6 40 P. M.
Horse Cars leaving the offic at 8 15 A. M., 1 15 and 5 15 P.
buses at Lynn, at the above
passengers to South Danvers.
Tickets to Lynn, -
Through to Boston,

Gravesend, Wooden
Depot Ro

ON and after Monday, Nov 2
route, an Omnibus will le Lynn, to connect with the st times daily,—Sundays except Gravesend and Woodend, to th
and Horse Railroad Station,
Broad Streets; leaving South D
necting with the 7.25 steam ca (connecting with the 11.10 train ing with the 4.50 train;) and r
from the Spring Street Station
pot, at 8 A M, and 1 and 6 P M
Fare from S. Danvers to Bos
" " "
Through Tickets to and from
the Drivers and Conductors.

South Danvers, Sal
Route

THE subscriber having pur
ley the Omnibus line ru
Lynn, would announce that i
Stage Office, No. 6 Allen's Buil
for Salem, at 7 30 A M, and 2 3
Stage Office in Central St, Sa
3 30 P M for Lynn. Returning
A M and 5 P M; and Salem for
A M, and 6.15 P M.
Passengers between South D
be called for by leaving orders
Passengers called for at reaso
s given at the office.
EXPRESS BU
Between South Danvers and I
ed to, on reasonable terms.
Extra Coaches furnished at s
W. F
South Danvers, April 20, 1864

CROUT & MU
SOUTH DANVER
RAILROAD E
Express leaves South Danvers
Freight " " "
Express leaves Boston at
Freight " at
OFFICE at FREIGHT
Danvers Square.
Express Office in Boston, 3
Freight Office, 48
Particular attention paid
niture, collecting Bills, Not
Smallest favors thankfully rece
South Danvers, august 26—tf

MARSHA
DANVERS, SO. DANV
EXPRE
Leave DANVERS (daily) at 9
" SALEM at 1½ P. M.
OFFICES
In Danvers—At E B Waitt's and
Danversport—Richards and & V
In So. Danvers—Francis Dane &
street.
In Salem—No 7 Washington stre
17 Derby Square.
All business promptly and fai
—— Our patrons are partic
write their orders.
—— Packages left at the office
"Marshall's Express."
—— Being connected with
are enabled to forward Notes,
collection, and small packages
point in the United States, at decl-8 tf

WEBBE
South Danvers & Salem
WILL leave South Danvers a
1½ and 5 P M.
Leaves Salem at 6.45 A M., 12
Slates will be found in South D
Office, and at Blake & Holman's
ment, and in Salem at the Coach
Street, and at E F & J W Robert
Washi
Any will ha
lic patr

Important to the

DR. DOW continues to be con
Nos. 7 and 9 Endicott stree
eases of a PRIVATE OR DELICA

By a long course of study of unlimited extent, Dr. D
of presenting the unfortunat
have never failed to cure th oure the most alarming case
GONORRHEA AND S

Beneath his treatment, all t
and impure blood, Impotency Ulcers, pain and distress in tion, Inflammation of the Blad
drocele, Abscesses, Humors the long train of horrible sy class of disease, are made to the simplest ailings of a child

SEMINAL WEAK

Dr. D. devotes a great part of ment of those cases caused b habit, which ruins both body unfortunate individual, and of the sufferer habits limbs, D pitation rangeme
Consum
are muc of idea aversion among t fore con experien happine
Patien
ment a pleasant
Medic direction cases, warrant or $1 an

CAUTIO
TO FEMALES IN DELICA

DR DOW, Physician and Surge street, B
dent to t ing of the er menst patholog in a very mode of yield un in perfec
Dr. Do cure of other ph
Board wish to ment.
Dr. Do
tention t Diseases superior
N. B.— they wi
Office

CERTAIN CU
IN ALL CASES, OR N
Dr. Do
as above every n tention which en obtain a
Among
in the pr
7 Endico vices of give him sale a
by mail.
April

NEW WHITE W
DINNER and Toilet W new pattern, Ribbon Border
je22 S C & E A SIMONDS

South Danvers Wizard.

V. SOUTH DANVERS, MASS., WEDNESDAY, JULY 27, 1864. NO. 30.

H DANVERS WIZARD
WEDNESDAY, at Allen's Builds Square.
llars a year.
s inserted at reasonable rates.
LES D. HOWARD,
AND PROPRIETOR.

S, Advertising Agent, uilding, Court Street, Boston, is t city, and is authorized to rents and subscriptions for us at cted Poetry.

E BATTLE.

ing grand composition by German, will amply repay ling. There is a sublime march of its easy flowing must impress the lover of
The real fire is here.]

Heavy and solemn,
A cloudy column,
een plain they marching come?
ead like a table dread,
m dice of the iron game,
n the shaking ground,
l with a kneeling sound;
easts that must bear the brunt,
or along the front;
"Halt!"
ey stand at the stark command,
rs, silent, halt!

ush of morning glowing,
l-top shines in flowing?
eman's banners waving?"
our children and wife!"
sic—the trump and fife—through the ranks, which they strife!
ound, with their glorious tone,
o through the marrow and bone!
rant, when this life is o'er,
me that we meet once more!

how the lightning is cleaving

, peal on peal, how they boom
nder!
st, with kindling sound,
nal circles round;
reathes the breath!
ng, slaughter raging,
ugh the reeking pall
The iron death-dice falls!
se—foes upon foes—
m square to square it goes.

ne man from flank to flank,
sharp from the foremost rank,
to earth is sent,
balls is rent;
before springs the hindest man,
ay not fall to the fearless van,
the left, and around and around,
it dance on the bloody ground.
is quenched in fiery fight,
falls a brooding night!
grant, when this life is o'er,
me that we meet once more.

lie bathed in the weltering blood, are blent in the slippery flood,
s they reeling and sliding go,
n the corpse that sleeps below.
eis!"—"Give Charlotte my last n murmurs the thunders swell—

God! are their guns so near?
!—yon volley!—look sharp to

Charlotte thy last farewell;
ere death thickest descendeth in n forsakest thy side may regain!"

nitherward reels the fight;
e darkly day glooms into night.
grant, when this life is o'er,
me that we meet once more!

ne hoofs that galloping go!
utants flying—
men press on the panting foe, under booms in dying—
Victory!
s seized on the dastards all,
eir colors fall!
Victory!
runt of the glorious fight;
like a conqueror bursts on the fife swelling choral along,

already sweeps marching in song.
en brothers; though this life be her, in which we shall meet you e!

slated from Schiller, by Bulwer.

——— If one will not arm for liberty cursed living, and when dead buried downwards, with his face Hell, and o'er his coward grave ulk in her form.

—P. J. Bailey.

Style is the man." So writes a etoric. If so, look how different ging them by their method of ex-selves:

nto the gleaming fabric of worlds, aised rings of the giant serpent of lay coiled around the universe, ircled it doubly, and wound herd fold around nature, and crushed together, and grinding them, infinite temple of God's universe st grave; and everything became oomy, and terrible; and an im-out-stretched bell-hammer was ke the last hour of time, and split ader—when I awoke.—Jean Paul

Selected.

GEN. GRANT AND THE INVASION.

The New York Evening Post has the following timely article in regard to the rebel invasion, which is entitled "An Old Stratagem Tried Again:"

"More than ten days ago, as we know on the best authority, General Grant informed the War Department of the fact that certain troops had been sent by Lee into the Valley, with orders to cross the Potomac and do what damage they could in Pennsylvania and Maryland. Grant informed the Secretary of War of Lee's directions and intentions, told him what force to expect, and showed, in short, that he knew what was going on. At the same time he made all the necessary preparations to meet the plans of the rebels.

"He did not, however, attempt to guard every foot of railroad near the Potomac; he did not line that river with troops, so as to prevent the crossing of rebel troopers; he did not break up his own plans, to counteract those of Lee; if he had he would have done precisely what Lee wanted. No; Grant left something for the soldiers in garrison and the militia of the Free States to do; he threw upon the citizens the burden of defending their property against the scattered and weak bands which he knew could easily be driven off by a few resolute men. Ten rebels burned the house of Governor Bradford; fourteen destroyed the railroad at Cockeysville; two hundred seized the cars at Magnolia; and a band of from four or five to twenty appear in different parts of the country, rob farmers, burn bridges, and ride away on the best horses they can find.

"Meantime this attempt at a diversion by the rebels probably reminds General Grant of a very similar affair which occurred while he was besieging Vicksburg last year. The rebels suddenly appeared in apparently considerable numbers at many points in the country about Corinth, and instantly the rebel newspapers, and their abettors in the North, began to show that it was all up with Grant's army.

"An immense force was moving against Memphis; this point was to be captured, the Mississippi closed above, supplies stopped, and poor Grant forced to surrender. The plot really looked promising; and many persons began to have fears for our army behind Vicksburg. The rebel forces in the meantime burned some stores, destroyed some miles of railroad, ran hither and thither in small bands as they are doing now, created a good deal of excitement amongst post commanders, who had to lie awake nights in fear of an attack, or had to chase for days a force which they could never find, and presently the excitement died away, the tremendous rebel host was found to be a myth, the attempt on Memphis was discovered to be rather an attempt upon Grant's credulity—and a very foolish failure at that—and when Johnston discovered that he could neither whip Grant nor scare him he left Pemberton to his fate, and Vicksburg fell.

"For, remember, no threat sufficed to make Grant budge from his post. He lay quietly before Vicksburg as now he does before Petersburg, and paid no attention to the demonstration of Johnston, the foolish boasts of the rebel journals and the promises of Davis. What happened last year is repeating itself now. Once more Grant is threatened; once more the rebels play their favorite game of bluff; but Grant, who knows what they are doing, and what they can do, and what they cannot do, quietly pursues the task he has set his army. He appears to be as completely satisfied with his situation now as when he was before Vicksburg. It may be true, as rebel sympathizers hint, that he has done just what Lee wanted, that he is just where Lee wants him to be, that Lee will presently show his cards and take the game; but until he does, we shall maintain our confidence in Grant; for, however it may end, the movement against Lee is accompanied by precisely the same phenomena which signalized that against Pemberton last year.

☞ A clergyman was lately depicting before a deeply interested audience, the alarming increase of intemperance, when he astonished his hearers by exclaiming: "A young woman in my neighborhood died very suddenly last Sabbath, while I was preaching the gospel in a state of beastly intoxication!"

OLD BUCK AND TYPOGRAPHY.

James Buchanan is not dead, nor in Europe, nor in prison as he should be, but at home in the Keystone State, it is said, writing a book. We are not told what sort of a book he is engaged upon, or what his main object is at this late day in such an effort. We hope at least it will be an honest book, in which the truth will be told and the world will then have a revelation such as it has never yet looked upon. It ought to go back more than a quarter of a century and give the American people an insight into the plot that was then laid for the uprising of the Slaveocracy against the government, and which has culminated in these later days, and in aiding which this same man, who now has given himself to book-making, did more than Jeff. Davis, or any other one or all of the traitors that have done so much toward the nation's destruction. If he will do this, i. e., tell the truth, not a word will be uttered against his using the hundred thousand dollars, all in gold, (had he then an eye to the present?) which he took to Wheatland when he left the White House, just as he pleases. If he strikes hands with the Wall street gamblers and doubles his money at a rap, no one will care, because a few facts hid away in the secret chambers of that old sinner's heart would unravel a mystery now more profound than attached to the famous man with the iron mask in France, and which if it could be laid open would compensate for the greatest blunder the American people ever committed—the election of James Buchanan to the Presidency.

Wise men have designated book-making as pouring from one bottle into another. We will hope now for more—something new, startling, all-engrossing. We trust it will be dedicated to his betrayed countrymen and embellished with a frontispiece representing that memorable event recorded in the 47th verse of the 22d of Luke; and it would not be an inappropriate application of the profits, if they should be expended in the erection of a monument intended to mark his last resting place, in which the sculptor should embody the last and most worthy act in the life of his illustrious prototype which St. Matthew gives us (chap. 27, verse 5.) Such are matters, however, of private taste and preference, and we would not seem to offer a suggestion that would expose us to the charge of meddling with them. The book we are all interested in, and have a clear right to make known our wishes as to its main features, and as we have just said, we hope for something new—something startling; and what would be more so than to find in its pages signs of repentance!

And, yet, why should we not look for them? The tide of life has nearly ebbed out. Ambition has attained its loftiest heights, and secured its grandest prizes. There is nothing to lose. The venerable book-maker held a seat in the legislature of his native State, and was at times a member of each house of Congress; he represented the nation in the presence of the Russian Czar, and subsequently at the court of St. James, and returned from London only to be inaugurated President of the United States. His name is associated with the Ostend Manifesto, and with the armistice which brought peace to Mexico without making the Sierra Madre the boundry line; with many achievements and events, offices and responsibilities, which if the nation can not remember with pleasure and pride, it is not because he has not labored to throw around them all those attractions from which private integrity and a high sense of honor would never have them dissociated. Why not then make memorable the few last expiring moments by an honest avowal of facts? Suspicion is worse often times to the individual than actual crime, especially if the latter be confessed in connection with an evident consciousness of its enormity, and a readiness to expose all implicated in its commission. And suspicion binds James Buchanan with more than links of steel to occurrences and individuals that the country identifies with acts and agencies which have brought misery upon us, and threaten yet to rend the nation's heart with a deeper agony. If no other, let the last be an honest hour, and whether its disclosures be published in a book or be stammered out in the death-struggle,

"Relief it's office will discharge,
And Heaven bless the fleeting breath!"

—Newburyport Herald.

GORILLA.—In his recent work, "Savage Africa," Winwood Reade shows satisfactorily that the gorilla resembles the chimpazee in travelling usually on all fours; in building nests; in attacking by biting; in assembling occasionally in large numbers; in its docility when young, and in not differing so very materially from our ancient friend, the ourang outang. He denies that gorillas beat their breasts as a signal for battle; that they carry off women to domesticate them, or that they ever attack man without provocation.

ADVANTAGE OF PUNCTUATION.—Punctuation, that is, the putting the stops in the right places, cannot be too sedulously studied. We lately read in a country paper, the following startling account of Lord Palmerston's appearance in the House of Commons: "Lord Palmerston then entered on his head, a white hat upon his feet, large but well polished boots upon his brow, a dark cloud in his hand, his faithful walking stick in his eye, a meaning glance saying nothing. He sat down."—Punch.

☞ A chap in Norwich who had hung a pair of pants near an open window and left them there two weeks, experienced a delicate sensation when he went to put them on the other day, and thrust one of his legs into a big hornet's nest.

[From the Boston Post.]

GLOVERSON, THE MORMON.

A ROMANCE, BY ARTEMAS WARD.

CHAPTER I.

THE MORMON'S DEPARTURE.

The morning on which Reginald Gloverson was to leave Great Salt Lake with a mule-train, dawned beautifully.

Reginald Gloverson was a young and thrifty Mormon, with an interesting family of twenty young and handsome wives. His unions had never been blessed with children. As often as once a year he used to go to Omaha, in Nebraska, with a mule-train, for goods; but although he had performed the rather perilous journey many times with entire safety, his heart was strangely sad on this particular morning, and filled with gloomy forbodings.

The time for his departure had arrived. The high-spirited mules were at the door, impatiently champing their bits. The Mormon stood sadly among his weeping wives.

"Dearest ones," he said, "I am singularly sad at heart, this morning; but do not let this depress you. The journey is a perilous one, but—pshaw! I have always come back safely heretofore, and why should I fear? Besides, I know that every night, as I lay down on the broad, starlight prairie, your bright faces will come to me in my dreams, and make my slumbers sweet and gentle. You, Emily, with your mild blue eyes; and you, Henrietta, with your splendid black hair; and you, Nelly, with your hair so brightly, beautifully golden; and you, Mollie, with your cheeks so downy; and you, Betsey, with your wine-red lips—far more delicious, though, than any wine I ever tasted—and you, Maria, with your winsome voice; and you, Susan, with your—with your—that is to say, Susan, with your ——— and the other thirteen of you, each so good and beautiful, will come to me in sweet dreams, will you not, Dearestists?"

"Our own," they lovingly chimed, "we will!"

"And so farewell!" cried Reginald. "Come to my arms, my own!" he said, "that is, as many of you as can do it conveniently at once, for I must away."

He folded several of them to his throbbing breast, and drove sadly away.

But he had not gone far when the trace of the off-hind mule became unhitched. Dismounting, he essayed to adjust the trace; but ere he had fairly commenced the task, the mule, a singularly refractory animal, snored wildly, and kicked Reginald frightfully in the stomach. He arose with difficulty, and tottered feebly towards his mother's house, which was near by, falling dead in her yard, with the remark, "Dear Mother, I've come home to die!"

"So I see," she said; "where's the mules?"

Alas! Reginald Gloverson could give no answer. In vain the heart-stricken mother threw herself upon his inanimate form, crying, "Oh, my son—my son! only say where them mules is, and then you may die if you want to!" In vain—in vain!

Reginald had passed on.

CHAPTER II.

FUNERAL TRAPPINGS.

The mules were never found.

Reginald's heart-broken mother took the body home to her unfortunate son's widows. But before her arrival she discreetly sent a boy to burst the news gently to the afflicted wives, which he did by informing them, in a hoarse whisper, that their "old man had gone in."

The wives felt very badly indeed.

"He was devoted to me," sobbed Emily.

"And to me," said Maria.

"Yes," said Emily, "he thought considerably of you, but not so much as he did of me."

"I say he did!"

"And I say he didn't!"

"He did!"

"He didn't!"

"Don't look at me, with your squint eyes!"

"Don't shake your red head at me!"

"Sisters!" said the black-haired Henrietta, "cease this unseemly wrangling. I, as Reginald's first wife, shall strew flowers on his grave."

"No you won't," said Susan. "I, as his last wife, shall strew flowers on his grave. It's my business to strew!"

"You shan't, so there!" said Henrietta.

"You bet I will!" said Susan, with a tear-suffused cheek.

"Well, as for me," said the practical Betsey, "I ain't on the strew, much, but I shall ride at the head of the funeral procession!"

"Not if I've ever been introduced to myself, you won't," said the golden-haired Nelly; "that's my position. You bet your bonnet strings it is!"

"Children," said Reginald's mother, "you must do some crying, you know, on the day of the funeral; and how many pocket-handkerchief's will it take to go round? Betsey, you and Nelly ought to make one do between you."

"I'll tear her eyes out if she perpetrates a sob on my handkercher!" said Nelly.

"Dear daughters-in-law," said Reginald's mother, "how unseemly is this anger. Mules is five hundred dollars a span, and every identical mule my poor boy had has been gobbled up by the red man. I knew when my Reginald staggered into the door-yard that he was on the die, but if I'd only thunk to ask him about them mules ere his gentle spirit took flight it would have been four thousand dollars in our pockets, and no mistake. Excuse those real tears, but you've never felt a parent feelin's."

"It's an oversight," sobbed Maria.—"Don't blame us!"

CHAPTER III.

DUST TO DUST.

The funeral passed off in a very pleasant manner, nothing occurring to mar the harmony of the occasion. By a happy thought of Reginald's mother the wives walked to the grave twenty abreast, which rendered that part of the ceremony thoroughly impartial.

* * * * * *

That night the twenty wives, with heavy hearts, sought their twenty respective couches. But no Reginald occupied those twenty respective couches—Reginald would nevermore linger all night in blissful repose in those twenty respective couches—Reginald's head would nevermore press the twenty respective pillows of those twenty respective couches—never, nevermore!

* * * * * *

In another house, not many leagues from the House of Mourning, a gray-haired woman was weeping passionately. "He died," she cried, "he died, without sigertyin', in any respect, where them mules went to!"

CHAPTER IV.

MARRIED AGAIN.

Two years are supposed to elapse between the third and fourth chapters of this original American romance.

A manly Mormon, one evening, as the sun was preparing to set among a select apartment of gold and crimson clouds in the Western horizon,—although for that matter the sun has a right to "set" where it wants to, and so, I may add, has a hen—a manly Mormon, I say, tapped gently at the door of the mansion of the late Reginald Gloverson.

The door was opened by Mrs. Susan Gloverson.

"Is this the house of the Widow Gloverson?" the Mormon asked.

"It is," said Susan.

"And how many is there of she?" inquired the Mormon.

"There is about twenty of her, including me," courteously returned the fair Susan.

"Can I see her?"

"You can."

"Madam," he softly said, addressing the twenty disconsolate widows, "I have seen part of you before. And although I have already twenty-five wives, whom I respect and tenderly care for, I can truly say that I never felt love's holy thrill till I saw thee! Be mine—be mine!" he enthusiastically cried, "and we will show the world a striking illustration of the beauty and truth of the noble lines, only a good deal more so—

"Twenty-one souls with a single thought, Twenty-one hearts that beat as one!"

Gentle reader, does not the moral of this romance show that—does it not, in fact, show that however many there may be of a young widow, or rather does it not show that whatever number of persons one woman may consist of—well, never mind what it shows. Only this writing Mormon romance is confusing to the intellect. You try it and see.

☞ "Do you suppose you can do the landlord in the 'Lady of Lyons?'" said a manager to a seedy actor in quest of an engagement. "I should think I might," was the reply, "I have done a great many landlords."

A PUZZLED BRIDEGROOM.

A good joke was played upon a bridegroom in New York the other evening. After the ceremony of this marriage, the newly wedded pair stood up, according to the custom, receiving the congratulations of their friends, until the bride becoming fatigued, retired to the ladies' dressing-room, where she transferred the bridal dress to her twin sister, who was so exactly her counterpart that it was difficult to tell them apart. The sister took the bride's place alongside of the bridegroom. The company continued to enjoy themselves until the small hours of the morning, about which time the newly married pair were urged by their friends to retire. The groom was agreed, but the lady on his left demurred. She declared she was not his wife, and would not retire with him "or any other man." The husband was amazed, while the relatives and friends considered it only the wayward bashfulness of a newly married young woman. To repeated demands, the young girl only reiterated her refusal, and still asserted that the bridegroom was not her husband. Those who at first enjoyed the scene, now began to insist on the lady admitting herself to be the wife of Mr. Brown. He, poor man, at first treated the matter as a joke, until he found the lady determined to repudiate the matrimonial contract he thought so many people had witnessed. Accordingly he summoned them to declare that Mrs. Brown was Mrs. Brown, and as he was Mr. Brown, he, and no one else, was her lawful husband. To this accumulated evidence, and all the tender persuasions of Brown, the lady refused to yield, but continued to declare that she was not his wife, and all that the company present could say would not make her budge an inch. Under the circumstances the parents were appealed to, and the young lady's mother was awakened and brought from her room to exert her authority over the refractory young woman. The case having been explained to the old lady, she put on her spectacles, and after attentively scanning the features of the fair obstinate, thus spoke to the astonished bridegroom: "Why, Mr. Brown, you did not marry that girl; you married Fanny, and this is Jane, dressed up in Fanny's clothes." The cat was out of the bag. This bit of mischief had been concocted between them on their visit to the dressing-room. A hearty laugh all round restored to equanimity the ruffled feelings of the bridegroom.—N. Y. Sun.

☞ What lady is good to eat? Sa Ladd.

What lady is good to eat with her? Olive Oil.

What lady is made to carry burdens? Ella Fant.

What lady preaches in the pulpit?—Minnie Stir.

What lady has to fight Indians? Emma Grant.

What lady helps her? Minnie Rifle.

What lady does everybody desire?—Ann U. Ity.

What lady is acquainted with surgery? Ann Atomist.

What lady lived in Noah's time? Ann T. Diluvian.

What lady is fond of debate? Polly Tishun.

What lady votes? Della Gate.

What lady paints portraits? Minnie A. Choor.

What lady paints comic ones? Carrie K. Choor.

What lady is fond of giving? Jennie Rossity.

What lady is much talked of now?—Amelia Ration.

What lady is used to war? Milly Tairy.

What ladies are voracious? Annie Condor and Allie Galter.

☞ A Leicester (Mass.) woman, who had been courted for several years, got tired of such a long siege, and this being leap year, engaged a clergyman to bring affairs to a crisis. But when the time came her lover bold thought he had rather not; whereupon the warm-blooded suitor asked another man present if he was engaged, and when he blushingly said that he wasn't, but would like to be, they immediately "fixed it up," and were married on the spot.

☞ The coal merchants of Philadelphia are endeavoring to raise soldiers as they did a year ago. If they can raise them as rapidly as they have raised the price of coal lately they will do well.

MR. BEECHER'S FIRST CARPET.—My wife introduced the first carpet at Easthampton, L. I. Uncle Lot gave me some money, and I had an itch to spend it.—Went to a vendue and bought a bale of cotton. She spun it and had it woven; then she laid it down, sized it, and painted it in oils, with a border all around it, and bunches of roses and other flowers over the centre. She went to New York for colors, and ground and mixed them herself. The carpet was nailed down upon the garret floor, and she used to go there and paint. She also took some common wooden chairs and painted them, and cut our figures of gilt paper and glued them on and varnished them.—They were really quite pretty. Old Deacon Tallmadge came to see me, stopped at the parlor door, and seemed afraid to come in. "Why, I can't," said he, "'thout steppin' on it." Then after surveying it awhile in admiration, "D'ye think you can have all that and Heaven too?"—Dr. Beecher's Autobiography.

☞ The Russian Journals mention the occurrence of a melancholy tragedy at Lapeizk, in the Government of Tamboff. A retired sub-lieutenant, named Orloff, had just killed his cousin, M'lle Apollinaire Sokoloff, by shooting her with a pistol, at her own request. The two cousins were deeply enamored of each other, but their relationship being an obstacle to their union, the lady begged her lover to put an end to her life, and the latter, in a moment of frenzy, executed her wishes.

☞ A silly fellow, a barber, and a bald headed man traveled together. Losing their way, they were forced to sleep in the open air; and to avert danger it was agreed to keep watch by turns. The lot first fell on the barber who, for amusement, shaved the fool's head while he slept; he then woke him, and the fool, raising his hand to scratch his head, exclaimed: "Here's a pretty mistake; rascal! you have waked the bald-headed man instead of me."

☞ A soldier in hospital at Resaca, Ga., writes to a Western paper: "I see my name reported in the list of deaths at this hospital. I knew it was a lie as soon as I saw it. Hereafter when you hear of my death, write me and find out if it is so before publishing it. Yours convalescently, Michael Butler, Co. I, 47th Ohio."

☞ The following game notice was posted up in the County of Kent: "Notice is Hereby given, that the Marquis of Camden (on account of the backwardness of the harvest) will not shoot himself nor any of his tenants till the 14th of September."

☞ The Treasurer of Nevada Territory writes that the money market there is very stringent, and that the people are beginning to see the evil effects of clinging to a metalic currency, and are making a strong movement, which will eventually succeed to introduce Greenbacks.

☞ Elder Walker M. Gibson, a leading member of the Mormon body, has been expelled for setting up business in the Sandwich Islands on his own account. Brigham Young tolerates no rival near his throne.

☞ The Gardiner Journal says if any patriotic exempts in that city desire to advertise for a substitute, it will advertise for nothing and adds, "wade in ye patriotic old gents."

☞ With a little house well filled, a little land well tilled, a little wife well willed, a husband well skilled, and servants well drilled—a little time may well be killed.

☞ Copperheads at Newport, Ohio, wishing to have some sport, recently caught a negro lad of fourteen, stripped and painted him, and then drowned him.

☞ Semmes, the pirate, tells one truth in his "official report" to Mason. He says though his men lost their ship they didn't lose their honor. They didn't have it to lose.

☞ A Chicago editor fired at a rowdy who assaulted him in the street, but did'nt hit him—whereupon he apologizes to the public for shooting so badly.

☞ An unstained Aphrodite may be born out of the Dead Sea of dissolute Society, as pure dew and rain arise out of the briny waters of the ocean.

The Wizard.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 27, 1864.

FOSTER GUARDS.

This company, which enlisted at the beginning of the war and entered the army as Company B of the 17th Regiment, arrived home last Saturday, after three years' service.

The regiment arrived at Boston in the forenoon, and was received with suitable ceremonies at Faneuil Hall, where a bountiful collation was furnished them. After the close of the reception the regiment was furloughed till August 3d, when they are to meet at Lynnfield and be mustered out of service. Company B, in charge of Lieut. S. G. ROBERTS, came to Salem by way of the Eastern Railroad. Upon arriving at Salem, and hearing that there was to be no public reception at South Danvers, they broke ranks, and each made his way home as best suited his convenience.

We wish we were able to give some account of reception services in our town befitting the occasion so full of interest to the tried and faithful company and their friends, but for some reason, we don't know what, neither our town authorities nor the rallying committees, who have generally looked out for such matters, took any steps in this direction, and as a result the company entered our town, armed and accoutred, but without salute, escort or music, not even a drum or fife—the musicians belonging to the company having re-enlisted and been left behind at Newbern. We hear that some gentlemen, outside of the company, in view of this circumstance, have taken measures to give them a social pic-nic next Saturday, arrangements for which are already in progress, as will be seen by our advertising columns.

This is a very just movement, and we hope that our citizens will liberally respond. We presume it will be allowable for persons to purchase tickets, even if they are not able to attend personally. By so doing they will render essential aid to those who have voluntarily assumed the risk and expense of the undertaking.

Company B was the first company which our town sent to the war. Its members enlisted for three years, and without bounty or the expectation of bounty. They have ever maintained a high rank in their regiment—being distinguished for their good discipline, and for the soldierly bearing of the men.

We have a full account of its career and of its present condition, which, for want of room, we cannot insert till our next.

OUR QUOTA.—It is ascertained that our quota under the President's call for 500,000 is 92. We learn that by the exertions of the Recruiting Committee and the liberality of citizens, 68 recruits have been put into the service, leaving 24 still to be procured to take South Danvers "out of the draft."

Some of these may be obtained by individuals on their own account, but to make a clean thing of it a final and determined rally must be made, and the sooner it is done the better. Let patriotic individuals now come forward and put in their substitutes, and all who are interested strike while the iron is hot.

THE LOWELL CONFLAGRATION.—It may not be generally known that one of the principal sufferers at the late great conflagration in Lowell, is a gentleman who was recently one of our own citizens. We refer to Mr. ELBRIDGE G. COOK, who formerly carried on the butchering establishment now belonging to Mr. Thomas. Mr. Cook, upon leaving this town, left the business of dealing in cattle and beef, which he had followed with good success for many years, and went into the business of tanning and currying at Lowell, with another gentleman, under the firm of A. E. Bridges & Co., having an office in Bath street, Boston, and at Lowell one of the largest and best appointed tanneries in our State. A week ago last Friday night, the whole establishment, — buildings, machinery, and a large amount of stock,—was entirely destroyed by fire. Among the stock was $25,000 worth of green hides. Loss about $150,000. Insured about $40,000,—leaving a net loss of over $100,000.

TERM OF SERVICE EXPIRED.—Four Massachusetts regiments, whose term of service has expired, arrived in Boston on Thursday, and were received by the authorities. They were the 13th, Colonel Leonard, with 17 officers and 256 men; the 15th, 7 officers and 82 men; the 17th, 12 officers and 204 men; the 1st Heavy Artillery, 2 officers and 285 men.

☞ The report of the death of Sergt. JOHN LEONARD proves to have been unfounded. He returned safely and in good health with the 17th Regiment the other day. The mistake occurred from the death of a man of the same name in a New York regiment.

VEGETABLES.—Four steamers per week carry vegetables to the Army of the Potomac.

LAWS OF 1864.

We have received the General Laws and Resolves of the last Legislature of Massachusetts. They form an octavo pamphlet of 151 pages, comprising 157 statutes, and 11 resolves. If the Blue Book, not yet published, shall be of proportionate size, it will exhibit an extraordinarily large amount of legislative labor performed at a single session.

Of course it is altogether beyond our limits to give even a synopsis of these laws, but some of them are of such novel character and important bearing, that we deem it not unprofitable to call immediate attention to them. Some of these statutes are very elaborate. The militia statute contains 180 sections and covers 34 pages. The horse railroad law contains 45 sections, and covers 9 pages. This law substitutes the name of street railway for horse railroad, and is so constructed as to authorize the employment of steam power as well as horse power—a change which, a few years ago, would have shocked the public mind. But now a larger experience and more enlightened policy have determined that the danger of steam, as used on some of the streets in Philadelphia, by a dummy engine, is really less imminent than horse power.

The right of towns to appropriate money is extended to expenditures for erecting monuments for deceased soldiers.

Insurance companies may hereafter have vice-presidents as well as presidents.

Unreclaimed property, held by express companies, to be sold at auction, and if proceeds not called for within three years, to go to the Commonwealth.

To be a board of railroad commissioners to look after railroad crossings—compensation, ten dollars each per day and travelling expenses.

The power of collecting assessments by defunct or collapsed insurance companies is greatly restrained, and they shall be enjoined by the Supreme Court from making such collection in cases where they will not give substantial relief to persons having claims against them.

Persons who escape taxation by fraudulent means, such as concealing residence, etc., shall be liable to pay a fine of double the tax last paid by them, if they have paid any, if not a fine not less than $100.

Taunton is authorized to adopt a city form of government.

A person against whom a divorce has been granted for the cause of adultery, unless the party has been criminally convicted of the crime, may be authorized by the Supreme Court to marry again, but not within three years from the time of divorce.

The Police Court of Taunton has been abolished.

The State tax is to be $2,396,463, of which South Danvers is to pay $9,960; Salem, $39,384; Danvers, $7,176; Lynn, $26,568.

The word "white," which caused such a heated controversary in the Legislature under Governor Banks' administration, has been ruthlessly stricken out of the militia law. Times have changed.

"The Act to Promote Public Justice in Criminal Cases," might be more properly designated "An Act to Encourage Looseness in Criminal Pleadings, and to Abolish some of the Constitutional Privileges of Persons Charged with Crimes." Salaries of Judges, etc., of Probate Court, have been changed. The Judge in Essex county is hereafter to receive $1800 per year; the Register, $1700, and the Assistant Register $1000.

The law on the Competency of Witnesses has been still further liberalized. Now, parties who are executors, trustees, assignees, or acting in any representative capacity, may be witnesses notwithstanding the death or insanity of the original parties to the contract or cause of action.

FIRE IN THE WOODS.—Serious damage was done last Friday and Saturday by fire in the woods in the vicinity of the Alms House, on the northerly side of the Reading road. It is estimated that about 50 acres have been burnt over, some, however, putting it as high as 100 acres. Some twenty cords of chopped wood were also destroyed. The lots burnt were owned, as far as we learn, by Mr. Eben King, the Gardner estate, Mr. Daniels and Mr. Buffum. It is generally supposed that the fire took from the locomotives of the South Reading Branch Railroad that passes through that locality.

An extensive conflagration has been in progress, the past week, in the woods in the region of Dungeon Rock, Lynn, and extended almost to the Cemetery. Dense volumes of smoke ascended from it on Thursday, and Mr. Marble, who resides in its vicinity, was obliged to send for assistance to prevent its encroachment upon his quiet domain.

IN A DILEMMA.—By the capture of Atlanta, which cannot be delayed but a few days at farthest, the rebels are placed in a dilemma, out of which nothing but most miraculous luck can extricate them. They must abandon the South to save Richmond, or abandon Richmond to save the South, either of which is a vital blow to the hopes of the rebellion.

NEW DOG LAW.

All owners of dogs ought to take notice of the changes in the dog law, and consider whether under present prices, it is really profitable or advisable to keep such a luxury these hard times. It is very well understood among our farming population, that the paucity of sheep in our State, is owing to the multiplicity of dogs.

We are glad that dog legislation is growing more and more stringent. Judging from the present tendency, it is quite probable that within a few years the law will be such as to practically amount to almost a banishment of dogs from community, or at least to prohibit their roaming at large.

By the new law the license shall be two dollars instead of one as heretofore, and for a female dog, five dollars. The money paid for licenses goes into a County fund instead of a Town fund as before. Fine for keeping a dog contrary to law $15. The license once taken out shall be valid in any part of the Commonwealth. Town assessors shall annually make a list of all dogs. Officers to kill contraband dogs and receive a dollar a head for their services. If constables fail to kill the dogs when directed so to do, the District Attorney to prosecute such delinquent officers. All "domestic animals" as well as sheep, when injured, are to come in for indemnity out of the dog fund.

We are glad to hear that our own citizens very generally acquiesce in the provisions of the law, and kill their dogs or pay the license without grumbling. If other towns adjoining do as well, our streets will soon be comparatively free from canines.

ESSEX AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.—Under the amended constitution of this society, a nominating committee is chosen at each annual meeting to nominate officers for election at the next following annual meeting. It is provided that this committee shall file their report with the Secretary by July 1st, so that the society may have ample notice of the nominations. The committee of this year have reported the following list:

For President—Joseph How, of Methuen.

For Vice-Presidents—Jeremiah Colman, of Newburyport; David Choate, of Essex; Royal A. Merriam, of Topsfield.

For Secretary—Charles P. Preston, of Danvers.

For Trustees—William Cogswell, of Bradford; David H. Stickney, of Groveland; Geo. B. Loring, of Salem; Samuel Moody, Jr., of West Newbury; Isaac Patch, of Gloucester; Richard P. Waters, of Beverly; Abraham D. Wait, of Ipswich; William Osborn, of Lynn; William R. Putnam, of Danvers; William D. Lamb, of Lawrence.

It having been announced in the committee that two vacancies had occurred, one by the election of Joseph How as President, and the other by the removal from the county of Lambert Maynard, it was voted to nominate two trustees in their place, and the following named gentlemen were accordingly nominated, viz:—Daniel G. Todd, of Rowley, and Joseph F. Ingalls, of Methuen.

THE HORSE RAILROAD.—The following statement of the number of passengers over the Salem and South Danvers Railroad for the year ending July 8, 1864, is interesting as showing the increase of travel. The road is a great public accommodation, and is becoming more and more appreciated by the people:

July, 1863—23 days,	23,817
August,	42,434
September,	38,685
October,	45,016
November,	51,617
December,	45,684
January, 1864,	44,569
February,	46,011
March,	50,647
April,	51,713
May,	61,414
June,	60,101
July—8 days,	21,301
Total for the year,	583,009

During the first week of the year the number was 6,406; during the last week of the year, 18,755.—Register.

FIRST HEAVY ARTILLERY.—Our South Danvers boys of this regiment arrived home on Thursday last, but like those of the 17th regiment, were not greeted by a public reception. We think this seeming neglect was not owing to any want of disposition to recognize their services while in garrison or camps, as it is universally known that they have bravely won a glorious record in southern Virginia.

The following is a list of these returned veterans:

Sergt. Charles B. Taggard.
Corp'l. Frank E. Farnham.
" Clarence Warner.
" Charles A. Potter.
William R. Armstrong.
Joseph H. Peirce.
Frank Johnson.
John H. Manning.
Henry B. Southwick.
Samuel G. Southwick.
Thomas J. Putnam.
Asa Bushby.
Samuel S. Hart.
Henry Moor.

NEW MUSKETS.—There are now 280,000 muskets stored in the Springfield arsenal, of which 90,000 are boxed up ready for shipment.

MILITARY.

Co. C, of the 5th Regiment, is now at Readville with full ranks, under the following officers:

Capt. GEORGE F. BARNES,
1st Lieut. WM. L. THOMPSON,
2d Lieut. BENJ. F. SOUTHWICK.

We have the promise of a full roll of the company for our next paper. Col. Peirson has command of the regiment.

J. FULLER, of South Danvers, is master of arms on board the U. S. Steamer Mendota, which has had a fight with the rebel batteries on James River. See correspondence in another column.

Capt. HORACE POOLE, A. A. G., has been here on a short visit to his friends in South Danvers.

Hospital Steward ARTHUR F. POOLE has been ordered from Hilton Head to Washington for duty. He has made a short visit to his friends here.

Capt. JAMES POPE came home in company with the men of the 1st Heavy Artillery.

THE NEW CALL FOR MEN.

Under the new call of the President for 500,000 troops, the quotas for the sub-districts of the Fifth District have been assigned as follows:

Amesbury,		60
Beverly,		93
Danvers,		90
Essex,		31
Georgetown,		33
Gloucester,		205
Groveland,		31
Hamilton,		14
Ipswich,		50
Lynn, Wards 1, 2 and 7,	41
Lynn, Ward 3,	71
Lynn, Ward 4,	104
Lynn, Ward 5,	106
Lynn, Ward 6,	94	—416
Lynnfield,		12
Manchester,		21
Marblehead,		142
Middleton,		18
Nahant,		5
Newbury,		27
Newburyport, Ward 1,	41
Newburyport, Ward 2,	31
Newburyport, Ward 3,	30
Newburyport, Ward 4,	32
Newburyport, Ward 5,	30
Newburyport, Ward 6,	35	—199
Rockport,		75
Rowley,		20
Salem, Ward 1,	50
Salem, Ward 2,	69
Salem, Ward 3,	52
Salem, Ward 4,	47
Salem, Ward 5,	52
Salem, Ward 6,	46	—316
Salisbury,		62
South Danvers,		92
Swampscott,		38
Topsfield,		22
Wenham,		15
West Newbury,		36

It is asserted that the State, in account with the United States, is in excess on all calls for men on the first of July.

Since the war commenced we have had the following calls for the army, not including a hundred thousand in the navy:

April 16th, 1861,	75,000
May 4th, 1861,	64,748
From July to December, 1861,	500,000
July 1st, 1862,	300,000
August 4th, 1862,	300,000
February 1st, 1864,	500,000
Present call,	500,000
Total,	2,239,748

"This (says the Newburyport Herald) does not include the militia, the hundred days' men, or the contrabands. It is much easier to tell how many we have had than what has become of them.—The number is enormous, and if we had found one Napoleon among them, they could have whipped the world "and the rest of mankind." But we are fortunate in the fact, that the rebels with their immense armies, have not found a Napoleon or a Wellington; and thus far, while each party has had power to batter the other, in four years there has been no great and decided victory to either.—Perhaps Gettysburg was the best thing done on our side, but there the rebel army marched off in good order, carrying their guns and baggage with them. On the other side, Lee's success over Joe Hooker at Chancellorsville, was the best they have done; but it was not followed up."

From the figures above, it would seem as though our army should be a million strong, but it is not above two thirds of that number. A Philadelphia paper estimates it at 660,000, and locates them as follows:

Grant's army,	120,000
Washington and vicinity,	40,000
Maryland and Delaware,	30,000
Hunter's force,	20,000
Shenandoah Valley and West Virginia,	20,000
Fortress Monroe, Yorktown, &c.,	20,000
Sherman's army,	120,000
Kentucky and Tennessee,	50,000
Vicksburg, Memphis, Port Hudson, &c,	40,000
Missouri and Arkansas,	40,000
Banks' army,	20,000
North Carolina,	15,000
South Carolina,	25,000
Florida and Mobile,	10,000
On the Pacific Coast,	20,000
Indian Territory, Minnesota, &c.,	20,000
In the North, at various places,	50,000
Total,	660,000

☞ New potatoes were selling at the Quincy Market, Boston, last Saturday, at $4 per bushel. This is the Boston price, but about here this vegetable esculent now sells for 5 cents a pint, and the farmers refuse to sell a half pint for less than 3 cents—and small potatoes at that.

NAVAL CORRESPONDENCE.

U. S. STEAMER "MENDOTA,"
James River, Va., near Four Mile Creek,
July 21st, 1864.

DEAR SIR,—I send you the details of the engagement between this ship and the rebel battery, off the mouth of Four Mile Creek, for the columns of the WIZARD.

While the U. S. steamer "Mendota" was lying at anchor off the mouth of Four Mile Creek, on the morning of the 16th, a rebel battery opened on her at a distance of 1,200 yards. The battery was posted on the right bank of the creek,—the rebels had contrived to get it there during the night. At the time they commenced shelling us the watch was busily engaged in holystoning decks; the other watch, and all the officers, except the officer of the deck, were below asleep. Acting Ensign Barnes had the deck at the time, and as soon as the first shell was fired, he immediately beat to quarters, and in less than two minutes from the time they fired the first shell the men and officers were all at their respective quarters, and the steamer was in action. The steamer at that time was in such position that all her starboard battery would not bear on the rebels, owing to the short bend in the river and the nature of the ground the battery was placed on. Capt. Nichols seeing this, slipped and steamed down the river about 500 yards, coming nearer to them and giving us a better range, our whole broadside being brought to bear. We then commenced the engagement in earnest with them, using 5 seconds fuses.

During the action we fired both shell and schrapnell at them. The engagement lasted about 40 minutes. The rebels served their guns very lively, but most all their shot were too high; had they aimed lower they would have done us a great deal of damage, as all their shots were in line of the steamer. During the engagement we were struck twice, one shell striking just below the bulwarks, forward of No. 1 gun, knocking out the fighting bolt and bursting just inside of the bulwarks, sweeping away the whole of the gun's crew on the left side of the gun, killing two and wounding seven others. The other shell struck our awning spreader at the main-masthead, over the crow's nest placed there to protect the men on the lookout from the sun, carrying it away and passing through the awning, doing no further damage. The enemy fired at us in all about 40 or 50 shell. We could tell by the whistle that they were fired from rifle guns, and the shell that struck us forward was a 20-pounder. We fired about 50 shots at them before we silenced their battery. The army officers on shore say it was the prettiest engagement they ever witnessed. They could see every shell we fired burst immediately over them, and they must have suffered greatly, as they withdrew their battery in great haste after we got the range of them. While we were steaming down the river they shelled the camp of Gen. Foster, commanding the brigade on the left side of Four Mile Creek, throwing about a dozen shell into the camp, doing no further damage than killing one horse belonging to Capt. Davis, Assistant Adjutant General to Brigadier General Foster. The enemy left about 8 o'clock, and since that time we have had no fighting between Turkey Bend and Jones' Landing.

Generals Grant, Butler and Graham came up the river at 10 o'clock the same day and inspected the defences of Foster's position, which is ten miles direct course from Richmond. I see by the New York papers that while Generals Grant and Butler were inspecting the works, that the rebels were shelling the camp, and that shell were bursting all around them; also that General Grant quietly smoked his cigar while the rebs were shelling him. I will here state that the whole story was false; there was not a shot fired after half-past 8 o'clock, and the General did not come up the river till 10 o'clock. Such stories must annoy the General, when every one knows them to be false here.

The following is the list of killed and wounded on board this ship:

KILLED—Thos. Kennedy, Landsman; Wm. T. Pottle, Seaman.

WOUNDED—Edgar McDonald, Act. Master's Mate, slightly in the leg and hand; Charles Taylor, Quarter Gunner, in the head, dangerously; Hugh Walch, in the leg, severely; Peter Flaherty, Landsman, in the leg, slightly, and one finger shot off; Prince Eldridge, Captain of the After Guard, in the leg, slightly; John Smith, 2d Landsman, in the leg, slightly; Otta Estburg, Landsman, in the breast, slightly.

Yours, truly,
HOWARD.

A BOGUS SUB.—Last week a South Danvers gentleman "put in a substitute," who passed examination at the Provost Marshal's Office, and the principal paid the sub., and received exemption papers. The recruit was sent to the rendezvous at Galloupe's Island, where he was recognized as a deserter from the 9th Regiment, which he had joined as a substitute in August last. He was placed under arrest and searched. The money he had received was found upon him, excepting $125. His clothing was all removed, but yet there was a deficiency, and the mystery was finally solved by searching his mouth, in a corner of which he had placed a $100 greenback. Of course the principal was notified that his exemption papers were vacated, and he must try once more, it is hoped with better success.—Register.

NARROW ESCAPE.—The large barn of S. A. Merrill, on the Derby estate, containing eighty tons of hay, several horses, and other valuable property, narrowly escaped destruction by fire yesterday afternoon, just after 3 o'clock. Mr. Merrill was made aware of the danger by his youngest child, not three years old, and was fortunately in season to prevent the spread of the flames by the use of a few buckets of water. The fire appeared to have been set in the S. W. corner, from the outside, through an opening left for the use of chickens, near which a bundle of straw was lying, in a small harness room, separated from the hay only by a thin partition. Had the fire once reached the hay nothing could have prevented a disastrous conflagration. There are reasons for believing that the fire was the work of some of the idle and mischievous boys who are in the habit of resorting to the vicinity of Castle Hill on the Sabbath.—Register.

PEACHES.—A New Jersey paper says the crop of peaches in that state will be the largest ever raised. One man in Ocean county proposes to send to market two hundred and twenty-five thousand baskets of fruits.

TRIAL JUSTICE'S COURT.

We append a brief report of cases that have been tried since the month came in, before B. C. Perkins, Esq., Trial Justice. The limited space which we can spare to the Judicial Department of our town, will not allow us to insert anything more than a report of the controverted cases. There are many little uncontested cases that have not sufficient public interest to warrant an insertion in our columns; so our reporter has been instructed to give such ones the go-by:

JULY 8.—Mrs. John Dalton,—tried and convicted of violating the liquor law. The statute sentence was imposed;—defendant appealed. S. C. Bancroft for Commonwealth; W. D. Northend for defendant.

Hannah Blake,—tried for keeping her shop open on Sunday, in violation of a statute passed at the last session of the legislature; also for violation of liquor law. Acquitted upon the latter charge, but convicted on the former. Fine $10 and costs. Paid up. S. C. Bancroft for Commonwealth; J. W. Perry for defendant.

JULY 15.—Edward Green,—tried for violation of Sunday law. Adjudged guilty, and fined $10 and costs. Paid up.

JULY 21.—William Brown was tried for an assault on James B. Newhall. Judged guilty and fined $10 and costs. Appealed. S. C. Bancroft for Commonwealth; Isaac Brown, of Lynn, for defendant.

JULY 25.—Mary E. Allen was tried for keeping a house of ill-fame at Newhall's Crossing. Bound over in the sum of $400 to answer to the Superior Court. S. C. Bancroft for Commonwealth; H. O. Wiley for defendant.

JULY 26.—Commonwealth vs. Joseph Twiss. Arraigned for disturbing the peace. Pleaded not guilty. Continued for trial to Thursday, 28th inst, at 2 P. M. S. C. Bancroft for Commonwealth; H. O. Wiley for defendant.

FIRE ON FRONT STREET, SALEM.—On Sunday evening, at a little before half past eleven o'clock, some young men discovered fire near the entrance to the bowling saloon of Constantine Victorato, in rear of 14 Front street. The locality being built up of very combustible materials, the flames soon made rapid headway, and the bowling saloon, with nearly all of its contents, was soon consumed, involving a loss to Mr. Victorato of some $4000, on which was an insurance of $1800. The store No. 14½ Front Street, owned by D. B. Gardner, shortly afterwards took fire, almost totally consuming the upper part, and damaging it to the amount of $1500, on which there was no insurance. The stock, consisted of liquors and three good billiard tables, owned by T. N. Gardner. The tables were badly damaged, and the loss with stock, amounts to about $2500, partly covered by an insurance of $1000. The steamers and fire companies did most efficient service in checking the progress of the flames, which, at one time, seriously threatened the extensive cabinet establishment of Israel Fellows, and other buildings near by.

TYLER MUDGE.—The name of Tyler Mudge was omitted in a list of names published in the South Danvers WIZARD, a few weeks since, of the heroic fallen of South Danvers, who have died during the present war, while in the service of their country. Mr. Mudge was a native of this city, and connected with some of our first families. A few years ago he removed to South Danvers, where he married a highly respectable lady of that town. Early in the war, from a sense of duty alone, he enlisted as a recruit in the famous Nineteenth Regiment, and was attached to Company H, a large portion of whom, we believe, were South Danvers men. For nearly a year he was with his regiment, and had been recommended for promotion, when he was prostrated with chronic diarrhœa, and died at the Mill Creek Hospital, in Virginia, Sept. 9, 1862, aged about thirty-five years. He left a wife and one child. His memory will not soon be effaced from the hearts of those who knew him.—Lynn Reporter.

THE DRAFT AND THE HUNDRED-DAY MEN.—Governor Seymour, of New York, and the War Department have a misunderstanding in relation to the question whether the hundred-day militia shall or shall not be exempt from the draft. Governor Seymour thinks they should and has sent an agent to Washington to argue the case. The dispute is one of words rather than things. The War Department says that the hundred-day men should be included in the enrollment, but their three months' service will be credited to them if drawn. That is to say, if they are drawn while in the field, they—or their substitutes if they do not serve the remaining nine months in person—will be credited with this three months' service. That is the way we understand the rule of the War Department, under which the Western hundred-day men enlisted. Of course, that a man is already in the service will not prevent him from getting a substitute through his friends at home.

STAMP DUTIES.—Complete lists of Stamp Duties, to take effect August 1, have been published on Counting Room Sheets, by J. G. Beals, at the office of the Boston Post, 42 Congress street, Boston, where these, with Revenue Stamps of all denominations, can be obtained by dealers and consumers. Every business man will find these lists indispensable for reference, and should have one constantly at hand.

"HOME ON A FURLOUGH."—This beautiful picture ought to be hung up in every soldiers' tent, and in every dwelling from which son, father, or brother has gone forth to battle for our country. It is an eloquent witness of the generous love which binds the soldier to his family, and of the lofty patriotism which can make such costly sacrifices for the cause of freedom and right. The agent is now calling on our citizens for subscriptions.

WRONG CREDIT.—By some inadvertance we gave credit, in our last, to the wrong person, for Lloyd & Co's new map of the United States and "Disunited States." We ought to have stated that this map was for sale by E. Bryant Waitt, who will be happy to wait on any person who wants to buy the best map out.

"OUT OF THE WOODS."—Georgetown has filled its quota on the half million call. It entered the field early with high bounties and secured the men. It is the first town out of the woods, except those which had a surplus on the other calls.

THE REBEL RAID A FAIL
York Herald characterizes the Maryland as a failure, and says
"loot" collected by the Maryl been grossly exaggerated, the its best days, not having been one-half the number of cattle a are described by "veracious g
"reliable contrabands" as ha crossing the various fords and Potomac, en route for Richmond Maryland invaded has never be ing country. It has never had about sufficient cows to furnish to the inhabitants, while all long since been swept into the Department of the National ar old farm animals of from fifteen of age, or young colts and fill one year old to three. Eve brutes, which will all break fatigues of the first three days not probable that the rebels c many more than will suffice own sore-backed horses, broke northward march.

LINES WRITTEN BY A MOTHE
BIBLE:—

A gift from thy mother, my ow
'Tis the basis of hope, 'tis the May its beautiful precepts thy
And keep thee forever on Virt

This book is embalmed with a
May it speak to thy heart in a
And when she rests 'neath the
May it teach thee to put thy f
May thine, beloved, be a blesse
And oh! may the giver be ne'

GRANT AND BUTLER.—
ent of the New York Her
"no man in all these arm to, and persistent in, ackno Butler's services than Lieu Grant. The country may now that these two men and night in the most co without jar, without ri bickering among themselv ting it in others, to bring t and extraordinary campaig diate and successful close.

FRICTION MATCHES.—
August 1st, 1864, fricti matches, of other article of wood, and used for like be taxed one cent for eve or fractional part thereof.
ent bunches of matches co tax on them would be two all probability the man reduce the number so th subject to only a cent tax and wax tapers are to b
the rates on matches.

PHOTOGRAPHS, etc., wi and after August 1st, 186
ture, when the retail pri
ceed 25 cents, 2 cents;
cents, and not exceeding exceeding 50 cents and $1, 5 cents; exceeding $ ditional dollar or fraction, ing cards, when not over are taxed 2 cents; exceed 4 to 10 cents.

PROPRIETARY MEDICIN
after August 1st, 1864,
1 cent when retail price
25 cents; exceeding 25
exceeding 50 cents, 2 ce
50 cents and not exceedin exceeding 75 and not e cents; exceeding $1, for or fractional part thereof,

MORE TAXES.—Under t law, which goes into effec
August, two cent stamps on all receipts for the sum of money, or for the debt due, exceeding twe being for the satisfaction gage, or judgment, or court, and the receipt for property.

NURSES AND SURGEO
commencement of Grant' thousand nurses and surg sent to the army—seve seventy-five of the numb

FEMININE PATRIOTISM lady has hired three m war for her since hostiliti

CRUTCHES.—The Sanit has sent an order to St 4000 crutches.

RECRUITING.—It is s
from towns in Massachus with good success at toward the front in enlist stitutes on their respecti

☞ Episcopal service held in this place at T
Sunday evening. See sp

Three Days

Borrowers of books from BRARY, are reminded that all lets must be returned NEX or the holders will be subj
ONE DOLLAR for each boo
tained beyond that day.

Some books have been three years, which are now our houses, laid away in priv them be hunted up and re volume of TITAN, by Jean among the missing, renderi ume of no value. Several zines are kept back from the of missing numbers.

SPAPERS SUSPENDED. — Several pers in New York have suspended account of the recent advance in paper. More will be forced to fol- that line if the present cost of g should be kept up long.

Marriageable young women are in demand out West. A Yankee g from that section to his father, "Suppose you get our girls some eth, and send them out."

ANTIC FOR AUGUST.—This number of lantic Monthly is readable and spicy hout. Among the articles which will be ith interest, is that on the "Headquar- Beer Drinking" and the able political n "Our Recent Foreign Relations."— terary criticisms on Charles Reade and ny Trollope are able, just and discrimi- Mrs. Stowe appears in the eighth r of her "House and Home Papers," rsing of economy which she illustrates woman's hand. On the whole we think mber is likely to be as thoroughly read former one, as all the articles are at- e.

retail price of numbers are to be put in at 30 cents. A good hint to subscribe regular price, $3.00 per annum.

NOVATE YOUR FEATHER BEDS.—Mr. C. O. announces to our citizens (see advertise- that he will renovate and dress old r beds, so that they will be as good as by a new patent machine, which, judging hat we have already seen of its works, be one of the most useful and thorough tions yet designed for this purpose,—the ating being done by steam and not by hot r fire. He has cleansed several thousand in this State within the last few months, in no instance that he has heard of has amily considered their money poorly laid His place of business is on Central street, e store lately occupied by Mr. Southwick. him a call, and see for yourself. Town, nty and State rights for sale.

ONTINENTAL MONTHLY FOR AUGUST.—This rite magazine still holds its high position in periodical literature, and the present num- has a good table of contents. We have particularly interested in the continuation Mr. Nicholas Rowe's article on the Eng- Press, and in the paper on the Minnesota sacre by Mr. Searle. The Third part of article on Army Organization and Move- ts, relates to cavalry, and is interesting instructive. All the remaining papers are lable.

ODEY'S LADY'S BOOK.—This magazine for gust has been received from the publisher. ontains the usual number of embellishments, most prominent of which is a splendid line stipple engraving, and the double extension ored fashioned plate, containing six figures. e engravings alone are worth the price of magazine. They will be found invaluable he ladies. The reading matter is entertain- and instructive. For sale at Wilkinson's, l E. B. Waitt, Danvers.

LADIES, Remember that PEABODY is selling Best Kid Gloves for $1 75 during this nth. He is offering bargains in Lisle Gloves, ts, &c. Buy what you want this month ile he is selling at OLD PRICES. See his vertisement below.

LOW PRICES.—We shall, during the re- inder of this month, sell the Best Corsets	for $1 75.

Best Kid Gloves	" 1 75.
Best Spool Cottons	10.
Sea Island Cottons	10.
Best Worsted Braids	12.
Best Pins—paper	6.
Best Needles—paper	6.

And all other kinds of goods at correspond- g prices, in order to reduce our Stock. As e Wholesale Dealers are asking more than e above, we shall be obliged to advance our rices after August 1st.

JOHN P. PEABODY,
jy 20—2w 220 Essex St., Salem.

Episcopal Services.

Divine Service according to the order of the Protestant Episcopal Church, will be held in he Town Hall, on next Sunday Evening, ser- ice to commence at ¼ before 7 o'clock. Ser- non by the Rector of Grace Church, Salem.— All persons interested, are respectfully invited o attend.

Port of Danvers.

Ar 13th, sch Ada Herbert, Crowell, New York; 10th, J S Wheldin, Weaver, Philadelphia; 22d, Banner, Hart, Bangor; Pearl, Tray er, Rockland.

Marriages.

In Danvers, July 21, by Rev. Mr. Putnam, Mr. John H. Adams to Miss Frances A. Berry.

In Salem, July 10th, Mr. Benj. M'Carthy to Miss Bridget Dodd; 12th, Mr Patrick Tierney of Salem, to Miss Ellen O'Brien of Beverly; 17th, Mr Dennis Boudrin of Abington, to Miss Ellen Pryor of Salem; Mr. Maurice Farrisey to Miss Ellen Donahue; 15th, Mr Joseph Stopford to Miss Elizabeth Jones; 21st, Mr. Jonathan Perley, to Miss Mary Jane, daughter of the late John Howard, Esq.; Mr. John H. Whipple to Miss Hannah Morrison; Mr. John H. Rinks, U. S. steamer Tioga, to Miss Adeline P. Lewis, both of Salem.

In Beverly, July 21, Mr. William A. Brown to Miss Carrie A., daughter of Captain John Wallis.

Deaths.

In this town, July 20, Sarah J., wife of William H. Felton, aged 38 years.

26th, T. Eddie, son of T. E. and S. F. Cressey, aged 9 mos 26 days. Funeral Thursday forenoon at 10 o'clock, from No. 7 Summer Street. Relatives and friends invited to attend.

In Danvers, July 19, W. Alfred Porter, 38 years.

In Salem, July 18th, Mr. Samuel C. Tufts, 47 yrs 11 mos 7 days; 21st, Mr. John W Cole, 54 yrs 9 mos; 22d, Mary, daughter of George B. and Mary T. Loring, 6 years 7 mos 7 days; 24th, Mrs. Bridget Kenney, 56 yrs; 25th, Miss Keziah M. Punchard, only daughter of the late John Punchard, Esq., 74 yrs 4 months; Lizzie Staniford, daughter of Frederick and Elizabeth Coombs, 11 years.

At Pollard's Island House, Salem Harbor, July 23d, Mr. Charles Pope, an influential and prominent citizen of Syracuse, N. Y., who, in company with his wife and one of his sons, was spending a short season, died very suddenly of heart disease, while in an outhouse connected with the hotel.

In Wenham, July 16, Mr. Henry Augustus Burchsted, 29 years.

In Marblehead, July 13, Moses Goldthwait, 76 years 10 months.

Salem and South Danvers Railroad Company.

NOTICE.

As the legal use of the Railway Tracks of this Corporation has been frequently prevented by the stoppage of vehicles across the same, and as the business of the Road cannot be conducted with proper regard to the convenience of the passengers and the public, unless such obstructions cease, the Corporation invite especial attention to the Statute upon that subject, the correct principle of which is set forth in the opinion of Chief Justice SHAW in the case of Commonwealth v Temple, 13 Gray's Rep. 69, and give notice that they will consider it their duty to prosecute all cases hereafter occurring to the full extent of the law.

MOSES H. HALE, Sup't.

Extract from the Statutes of 1864, chap. 229, Sec. 22.

"Whoever wilfully and maliciously obstructs any such Corporation, its lessees or assigns, in the legal use of any Railway tracks, or delays the passing of the Cars or Railway Carriages of such Corporation, or of its lessees or assigns thereon, such person, and all who shall be aiding or abetting therein, shall be punished by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars, or may be imprisoned in the common jail for a period not exceeding three months."

☞ Visit OSBORNE'S Store, and look at the unusual variety of new styles in HATS and CAPS—191 Essex street.

Notice to Gas Consumers.

Office of the Salem Gas Light Co.,
188 Essex Street, Salem, July 1, 1864.

From and after July 1, and until further notice, the price of Gas will be FOUR DOLLARS per 1000 cubic feet—with 10 per cent. discount when paid within ten days of presentation of bill.

jy 13—4w EDWARD BROWN, Treas'r.

TO THE YOUNG OR OLD,

Male or Female, If you have been suffering from a habit indulged in by the YOUTH OF BOTH SEXES, Which causes so many alarming symptoms. It unfits them for Marriage, and is the GREATEST EVIL which can befall MAN OR WOMAN.

See symptoms enumerated in Advertisement, and if you are a sufferer, cut out the Advertisement, and send for it at once. Delays are dangerous. Ask for Helmbold's, take no other. Cures guaranted.

Beware of Counterfeits and Imitations.

LYON'S KATHAIRON.

Kathairon is from the Greek word "Kathro," or "Kathairo," signifying to cleanse, rejuvenate, and restore. This article is what its name signifies. For preserving, restoring and beautifying the human hair it is the most remarkable preparation in the world. It is again owned and put up by the original proprietor, and is now made with the same care, skill and attention which gave it a sale of over one million bottles per annum.

It is a most delightful Hair Dressing.
It eradicates scurf and dandruff.
It keeps the head cool and clean.
It makes the hair rich, soft and glossy.
It prevents the hair from falling off and turning gray.
It restores hair upon bald heads.

Any lady or gentleman who values a beautiful head of hair should use Lyon's Kathairon. It is known and used throughout the civilized world. Sold by all respectable dealers.

DEMAS S. BARNES, & CO., New-York.

HAGAN'S MAGNOLIA BALM.

This is the most delightful and extraordinary article ever discovered. It changes the sun burnt face and hands to a pearly satin texture of ravishing beauty, imparting the marble purity of youth, and the distingue appearance so inviting in the city belle of fashion. It removes tan, freckles, pimples and roughness from the skin, leaving the complexion fresh, transparent and smooth. It contains no material injurious to the skin. Patronized by Actresses and Opera Singers. It is what every lady should have. Sold everywhere.

Prepared by W. E. HAGAN, Troy N. Y.
Address all orders to
DEMAS S. BARNES, & CO., New-York.

HEIMSTREET'S INIMITABLE HAIR RESTORATIVE.

NOT A DYE,

But restores gray hair to its original color, by supplying the capillary tubes with natural sustenance, impaired by age or disease. All instantaneous dyes are composed of lunar caustic, destroying the vitality and beauty of the hair, and afford of themselves no dressing. Heimstreet's Inimitable Coloring not only restores hair to its natural color by an easy process, but gives the hair a

Luxuriant Beauty,

promotes its growth, prevents its falling off, eradicates dandruff, and imparts health and pleasantness to the head. It has stood the test of time, being the original Hair Coloring, and is constantly increasing in favor. Used by both gentlemen and ladies. It is sold by all respectable dealers, or can be procured by them of the commercial agents, D. S. BARNES & CO., 202 Broadway, New York. Two sizes, 50 cents and $1.

MEXICAN MUSTANG LINIMENT.

The parties in St. Louis and Cincinnati, who have been Counterfeiting the Mustang Liniment under pretense of proprietorship, have been thoroughly estopped by the Courts. To guard against further imposition, I have procured from the U. States Treasury, a private steel plate revenue stamp, which is placed over the top of each bottle. Each stamp bears the fac simile of my Signature, and without which the article is a Counterfeit, dangerous and worthless imitation. Examine every bottle. This Liniment has been in use and growing in favor for many years. There hardly exists a hamlet on the habitable Globe that does not contain evidence of its wonderful effects. It is the best emollient in the world. With its present improved ingredients, its effects upon man and beast are perfectly remarkable. Sores are healed, pains relieved, lives saved, valuable animals made useful, and untold ills assuaged. For cuts, bruises, sprains, rheumatism, swellings, bites, cuts, caked breasts, strained horses, &c., it is a Sovereign Remedy that should never be dispensed with. It should be in every family. Sold by all Druggists.

D. S. BARNES, New-York.

March 9th, 1864.—1 yr.

THE GREAT ENGLISH REMEDY.

SIR JAMES CLARKE'S CELEBRATED FEMALE PILLS!

Prepared from a prescription of Sir J. Clarke, M. D., Physician Extraordinary to the Queen.

This well known medicine is no imposition, but a sure cure and safe remedy for Female Difficulties and Obstructions, from any cause whatever; and, although a powerful remedy, they contain nothing hurtful to the constitution.

In all cases of Nervous and Spinal Affections, pain in the Back and Limbs, Fatigue on slight exertion Palpitation of the Heart, Hysterics, and Whites, these pills will effect a cure, when all other means have failed; and, although a powerful remedy, do not contain iron, calomel, antimony, or anything hurtful to the constitution.

Full directions in the pamphlet around each package, which should be carefully preserved.

For full particulars, obtain, free, of the agent, a pamphlet. Sold by all Druggists.

Sole United States Agent,
JOB MOSES, 27 Cortlandt St., New York.

N. B.—$1 and 6 postage stamps enclosed to any authorized agent, will insure a bottle, containing over 50 pills, by return mail. March 9, 1864.—1 yr.

SELF-SEALING AIR-TIGHT CASKET.—Charles S. Buffum, of this town, has a new burial case, which combines all the advantages of a wooden receptacle with those of a metal one, and yet avoids the disadvantages of both. They have been used with great success, and bodies placed in them have been delivered in perfect preservation after having been transported over a thousand miles. To persons having deceased friends at the seat of war they are invaluable. They come at reasonable prices, are light and durable, and are perfectly air-tight.

☞ Goods received for LEWANDO'S FRENCH DYE HOUSE. M. E. CRANE.
Jan 20 tf

☞ Call and examine REITH & Co's assortment of Country and Sea Shore Broad Brim'd Hats.

Advertisments.

COMPLIMENTARY PIC-NIC.

THERE will be a SOCIAL PIC-NIC, complimentary to the

FOSTER GUARDS,
AT PINE GROVE,
(In the rear of S. C. BANCROFT's residence,)
Saturday Afternoon, July 29, 1864, to which all persons wishing to join in some public token of acknowledgement to that company for their protracted and honorable services in the war, are respectfully invited.

MUSIC FOR DANCING will be furnished by UPTON'S BAND.

PRICE OF TICKETS, 50 Cents for Gentlemen.—Ladies, and Children in care of their parents admitted free.

DANCING from 2 o'clock till 8.

Coaches will run to and from the Grove. Fare 6 cents each way.

Tickets may be obtained of the Committee at the Grove.

If the weather should be unfavorable, notice of postponement will be posted at the Post Office.

PER ORDER OF COMMITTEE OF ARRANGEMENTS.
South Danvers, July 27, 1864.

REAL ESTATE.

The subscriber offers for sale the following Lots of Land, with the buildings thereon, at Private Sale until October next, when, if not previously sold, they will be put up at auction.

On Lowell street, a two story DWELLING HOUSE, fitted for two families. This is the Estate formerly known as the Southwick Tavern.

On Lowe street, leading from Foster St. to Washington St., a two story TENEMENT for two families with a garden attached to it.

On Washington street, near the residence of Capt. Lowe, a very eligible BUILDING LOT, on the North side of the street.

On Tremont street, a small COTTAGE HOUSE for one or two families.

On Walnut street, a pleasant, elevated Lot of Land, with a large Barn, situated opposite Mr. Caller's Currying Shop.

In the rear of the above TWO TENEMENT HOUSES.

For particulars apply to
jy 27 WILLIAM SUTTON.

EBEN UPTON,
Piano Fortes Tuned and Regulated,
MELODEONS AND PIANOS
BOUGHT, AND EXCHANGED
For New Piano Fortes, at Wholesale Prices.

Orders left at G. CREAMER'S Bookstore, Salem.
July 27, 1864.—6m

TIMBEY'S BAROMETER.

A SINGLE admonition from one of these useful and desirable instruments, to a farmer, more than pays the cost, and it will last for ages.

It is useful every day and a beautiful piece of furniture.

The new patent is constructed with a flexible section so arranged as to compensate for changes in the temperature. To each barometer a fine thermometer is attached.

Call upon the Agents and see them, and read the testimonials from the highest authorities.

jy 27 G. M. WHIPPLE & A. A. SMITH.

EXCURSION.

The six horse car "Excursionist" will make regular excursion trips hereafter on SATURDAY AFTERNOONS, commencing July 16th, as follows:—

Leave the Depot on Webb street, at 1.45 P. M.
Leave South Danvers for Beverly at 2.25, remaining at Beverly one hour.
Leave Beverly for South Danvers at 4.25.
Leave South Danvers for Webb street at 5.25.

Fare between South Danvers and Beverly, each way, 10 cents; between Salem and South Danvers, or Salem and Beverly, each way, 5 cents. Children 3-5ths these rates.

The Car will only stop at the Cemetery, Buffum's Corner, Washington street, Webb Street Depot, Car Factory, East end of Beverly Bridge, and at the Post Office in Beverly.

July 20. M. H. HALE, Sup't.

Horse Railroad Notice.

SOUTH SALEM BRANCH.

IN compliance with the wishes of the citizens of South Salem, on and after Monday, July 26, the cars on the South Salem Branch of the Salem & South Danvers Railroad will Leave Washington street at 6.25, 7.25, 8.25, 9.25, 10.25 A. M., 12 M., 1.15, 3.15, 4.15, 5.15, 6.15, 7.15, 9.15, 10 P. M.

Leave Derby Farm at 6.40, 7.40, 8.40, 9.40, 10.40 A. M., 12.45, 1.45, 3.45, 4.45, 5.45, 6.45, 7.45, 9.45, 10.45 P. M.

SUNDAY ARRANGEMENT.

Leave Washington street at 9.30, 10.30, 11.45 A. M., 12.30, 1.30, 2.30, 3.30, 4.45, 5.30, 6.30, 7.30, 8.30 P. M.

Leave Derby Farm at 10, 11 A. M., 12 M., 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9 P. M.

M. H. HALE,
Salem, July 25, 1864. Superintendent.

FEATHER BEDS RENOVATED BY A NEW PROCESS.

THE subscriber having located himself for a few weeks in the store on Central Street, formerly occupied as a restaurant by Mr. Wm. Southwick, would announce to the citizens of this town and vicinity that he will renovate and dress OLD and NEW Feather Beds with Col. Bailey's Patent Machine, one of the most useful and thorough inventions of the day for this purpose.

By this machine no injury is done the feathers by the renovating process, which is done entirely by steam, and not by hot air or fire. In fact the subscriber warrants to dress all feathers without injury to them or the ticks in which they are contained.

PRICE—ONE DOLLAR AND FIFTY CENTS per Bed, including pillows and bolsters, provided the feathers are suitable to run with the bed, and the combined weight does not exceed 30 pounds; over that amount five cents per pound will be added.

C. O. HALL.
South Danvers, July 20—tf

Wanted,

A LADY as Cashier, at PEABODY'S Ladies' Furnishing Store, 220 Essex st, Salem.
July 20—1t

Sheriff's Sale.

ESSEX ss., June 25, 1864. Taken on Execution and will be sold at Public Auction, on TUESDAY, the second day of August next, at Eleven o'clock, A. M., on the premises hereinafter described, all the right that Sidney C. Bancroft had when the same was attached on mesne process, of redeeming the following described Mortgaged Real Estate, to wit, a certain lot of land situated in South Danvers in said County, bounded Northerly by the old Boston Road, so called, Westerly by land of Ruth Twiss, Southerly by land formerly of Elijah W. Upton, and Easterly by land of Samuel Williams, with the buildings thereon, it being the same Estate conveyed by said Bancroft to William D. Smith by Mortgage Deed, recorded with the Essex Deeds, Book 659, Leaf 129.

jy13—3w DANIEL POTTER, Deputy Sheriff.

ICE PICKS

AND Ice Mallets with Awls, at
jy13 S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS, 32 Front st.

List of Letters

REMAINING in the Post Office at South Danvers July 27, 1864. [Persons calling for these letters will please say they are advertised.]

Mrs Carey—Proctor's Cor
Philip Carroll,
John Foster,
Thomas King,
John Herrick,
Josie L. Hitchcock,
Darby Loftus,
Ellen Lehan,
Josephine Marsh,
Elias Needham,
Francis Noyes,
W. H. Pettengill,
J. P. Powel,
Patrick O'Regan,
John Sleeper,
Ann Sullivan,
John Sweeny,
Susan A. Town.

N. B. These letters are subject to an additional postage of one cent. DANIEL WOODBURY, P. M.

DR. E. F. KITTREDGE,

From Lowell, formerly of New Ipswich, N. H., Has removed his office and residence to

NO. 42 MAIN STREET,
SOUTH DANVERS, MASS.

Dr. K., from an extensive and successful professional experience of upwards of twenty years, feels justified in saying that he can treat diseases to the satisfaction of his patients, and to the credit of himself.

Office hours from 7 to 9 A. M., and from 6 to 9 P. M.
South Danvers, Nov 13, 1863.

Browning & Long.

THE LARGEST
LADIES' FURNISHING STORE
IN SALEM.

BROWNING & LONG'S
GREAT STOCK
FOR Summer Wear.
177 Essex 177 Essex

We adhere to our rule of selling Goods as low as the market possibly affords.

Our stock was not bought at the present High Prices; we can therefore offer Special Inducements.

Our stock is secured in view of the very latest Fashions and Styles, and we are constantly receiving New Goods.

It is a regular practice with us to close out odd lots remaining at the expiration of each season, at very Low Prices.

Call and see our Cheap Counters, they are full of decided Bargains. Goods at low prices are worth looking at now.

We would call especial attention to our splendid assortment of Cotton Hosiery, Kid Gloves, Silk Umbrellas and Parasols.

BROWNING & LONG'S
DISPLAY
OF
LOW PRICES.
BARGAINS BARGAINS

Salem, July 6, 1864.

WHITE BAREGE!

WHITE CREPE MARETZ,
WHITE ALPACCA,
SHIRRED MUSLINS,
TUCKED MUSLINS,
WHITE GOODS of every description.

For sale by
THOMAS W. DOWNING & CO.
jy13 179 Essex Street.

COUNTRY AND SEA SHORE!

Wide Brimmed Hats,

For the Country and Sea Shore.

—ALSO—

All the FANCY STYLES OF HATS, for Ladies and Children, at

REITH & CO'S,
No. 2 West Block, Essex Street,
(One door west of J. F. Almy & Co.,)
July 6 SALEM, MASS.

HOUSEKEEPERS, ATTENTION!

JACKSON'S
KITCHEN FURNISHING ROOMS,
Under MECHANIC HALL, Salem.

Parties about commencing House-Keeping will find this the ONLY place in Salem where a COMPLETE ASSORTMENT of House-Keeping articles can be found.
dec 9, 1863.

MORRIS'
RESTAURANT,
18 and 20 Derby Square, Salem.

Oysters, Clams, Steak, Poultry, Game, Fish, &c., &c., COOKED TO ORDER.
Pickled Oysters, Lobsters and Clams.
Salem, July 22, 1863. tf

Putnam Clothes Wringer.

IT IS THE ONLY RELIABLE
SELF-ADJUSTING WRINGER
NO WOOD TO SWELL OR SPLIT.
NO THUMB SCREWS TO GET OUT OF ORDER.
Warranted with or without Cog-Wheels.

IT took the FIRST PREMIUM at fifty-seven State and County Fairs in 1863, and is, without an exception, the best Wringer ever made.

Patented in the United States, England, Canada and Australia. Agents wanted in every town, and in all parts of the world.

Sample Wringer sent, express paid, on receipt of price.

Energetic agents can make from 3 to 10 dollars per day.

No. 2, $6.50; No. 1, $7.50; No. F, $8.50; No. A, $9.50.

Manufactured and sold, wholesale and retail, by THE PUTNAM MANUFACTURING CO. No. 13 Platt Street, New York, and Cleveland, Ohio.

S. C. NORTHROP, Agent.

WHAT EVERYBODY KNOWS, VIZ:

That Iron well galvanized will not rust;

That a simple machine is better than a complicated one;

That a Wringer should be self-adjusting, durable, and efficient;

That Thumb-Screws and Fastenings cause delay and trouble to regulate and keep in order;

That wood soaked in hot water will swell, shrink and split;

That wood bearings for the shaft to run in will wear out;

That the Putnam Wringer, with or without cog-wheels, will not tear the clothes;

That cog-wheel regulators are not essential;

That the Putnam Wringer has all the advantages, and not one of the disadvantages above named;

That all who have tested it, pronounce it the best Wringer ever made;

That it will wring a Thread or a Bed-Quilt WITHOUT ALTERATION.

We might fill the paper with testimonials, but insert only a few to convince the skeptical, if such there be; and we say to all, test Putnam's Wringer. Test it THOROUGHLY with ANY and ALL others, and if not entirely satisfactory, return it.

Putnam Manufacturing Co:—GENTLEMEN; I know from practical experience that iron well galvanized with zinc will not oxidize or rust one particle. The Putnam Wringer is as near perfect as possible, and I can cheerfully recommend it to be the best in use. Respectfully yours,

JNO. W. WHEELER, Cleveland, Ohio.

Many years experience in the galvanizing business enable me to indorse the above statement in all particulars.

JNO. C. LEFFERTS, No. 100 Beckman St.
New York, January, 1864.

We have tested Putnam's Clothes Wringer by practical working, and know that it will do. It is cheap; it is simple; it requires no room, whether at work or at rest; a child can operate it; it does its duty thoroughly; it saves time and it saves wear and tear. We earnestly advise all who have much washing to do, with all intelligent persons who have any, to buy this Wringer. It will pay for itself in a year at most. HON. HORACE GREELEY.

July 27, 1864.—3m

Job Press for Sale.

RUGGLES' JOB ENGINE PRESS. Prints a bill 13 by 19 inches. Can be run by one man at the rate of 800 per hour. Is in good condition. It will sold at a very low price, as the owner has no use for it. It is a big bargain. Apply at this office. jy 20-tf

A. J. Archer & Co

White Shirred Muslins,

JUST received and for sale by
je22 A. J. ARCHER & CO.

MOURNING GOODS.

AUGUSTUS J. ARCHER & CO.,

HAVE just received a fine assortment

—OF—

MOURNING DRESS GOODS,

for summer wear.

—ALSO—

On hand, a fine stock of

BLACK SILKS,

which our customers will find are at less than Boston prices.

May 25, 1864.

FANCY CLOAKINGS!

—FOR—

Spring Garments,

IN GREAT VARIETY OF STYLES,

which we are prepared to make into GARMENTS to order, in the very best manner, and at

LOWEST CASH PRICES.

A. J. ARCHER & CO.,
March 16—tf. 181 Essex Street.

HOUSE OF EQUITY,

—BY—

Arnold & Hutchinson,

(Successors to C. T. Southwick.)

FIRST QUALITY
FAMILY GROCERIES,
Sold at the Lowest Prices.

A large and complete assortment of
CROCKERY AND GLASS WARE,
Constantly on hand.
Also FLOUR and GRAIN.

ASHLAND HALL BUILDING,
NO. 1 LOWELL STREET,
F. T. ARNOLD. E. F. HUTCHINSON.
South Danvers, Feb 3, 1864.

M. A. PORTER,
236 Essex Street, - - - Salem, Mass.,
(Opposite Horse Railroad Office,)
MAKES TO ORDER BEST QUALITIES OF
WATCH SPRING SKIRTS.

A Good Assortment of Dress and Clock Button, Braids, Spool Cotton, Small Wares, and Thread Store articles generally.

236 Essex Street, - - - Salem, Mass.,
M. A. PORTER.

SPRING AND SUMMER GOODS.

168 ESSEX STREET.

WE invite the attention of the Ladies of Salem and vicinity, to our

New Millinery Goods,
Ladies' and Children's
BONNETS AND HATS,
in all desirable styles.

Crapes, Silks, Ribbons, Feathers, French Flowers, and Laces.

A full assortment of Straw Goods, Mourning Bonnets, Veils, Collars, &c., constantly on hand at the lowest cash prices.

M. E. CRANE,
Successor to M. M. FLETCHER.
Salem, April 6, 1864.

JUST ARRIVED,
AT DANVERS MILLS,

500 Bushels Corn, in the minnie cob, and will be sold in South Danvers. Constantly on hand a large stock of meal, which will be sold at the lowest Salem prices.

—ALSO ON HAND—

500 Bushels Feed;
200 Bushels prime Northern Oats;
100 Barrels choicest Family Flour.
A good stock of LIME constantly on hand.

JOHN C. MOULTON,
Central St., South Danvers, Mass.
May 25—tf.

DRY GOODS

—AT—

Ann R. Bray's, 76 Federal Street.

A LARGE Stock of Bleached and Brown COTTONS, which we offer at the very lowest prices;

Heavy 4 4 Waltham; Fine 9 8 Boot Mills;
Hill Cotton, Brown and Bleached;
Newmarket, A Cotton; Bennington Cotton;
Monticello Cotton; Cambrics; White Sarsnett;
Bleached Cotton, every width and quality;
American, English and French Prints;
Red, White and Gray Flannels;
Doronts 4-4 and 5-4 widths;
Brown and other Colored Drillings;
Crashes—Bleached, Brown and other colors;

☞ Our stock of Domestic Goods is full, and we shall sell as low as at ANY OTHER STORE in the city.

According to our usual practice, we shall sell out all our DRESS GOODS at a discount.

Salem, July 20—tsio

GAYLE & CO.,
COMMISSION MERCHANTS,
AND DEALERS IN
Flour, Grain and Produce,
PHILLIPS WHARF, Salem.

DR. J. H. BATCHELDER,
DENTAL SURGEON,

No. 20 Washington St., (near Eastern Railroad Depot,) SALEM, MASS.

Is Licensed to make the New Patent Teeth on HARD RUBBER or VULCANITE.

July 1, 1864.

THE HEAVENS.

A movable Planisphere of the Heavens at every minute, being a Directory of the Starry Heavens To Astronomy what a Map is to Geography. The key that unlocks the mysteries in the changing Firmament. Two kinds, one having the constellations beautifully painted, the other as much like the sky as possible. Interesting to every student of Astronomy, Teacher or practical Navigator.

jy27 G. M. WHIPPLE & A. A. SMITH, Agents.

George S. Walker.

For the Warm Weather.

UNDER-SHIRTS,
DRAWERS,
HOSIERY,

IN every seasonable material—all sizes—for sale at low prices, at

GEORGE S. WALKER'S,

Dealer in Gent's Furnishing Goods and Toilet Articles, opposite Eastern Railroad Station.

Gent's Half Hose.

THE Largest Stock and Assortment in the city, at

GEORGE S. WALKER'S,

Dealer in Gent's Furnishing Goods and Toilet Articles, opposite Eastern Railroad station.

Scarfs, Ties, Stocks.

ALL the LATEST and BEST STYLES, at the Lowest Prices, at

GEORGE S. WALKER'S,
No. 228 Essex Street,
june 27 Opp. Eastern Railroad Station.

Potter, Bachelder & Co.,

DANVERS-PORT and SOUTH DANVERS,
DEALERS IN
WOOD AND COAL.
Constantly on hand

Franklin, Burnside, Dimond, } RED ASH.
Old Company & Packer's Lehigh, Pliny Fisk, Webster and Locust Mountain, } WHITE ASH.

Also Cumberland, Pictou and Campbell for Steam and Smith's use.

OFFICE—No. 6 Allen's Building.

G. W. POTTER,
J. Q. A. BACHELDER,
C. T. BATCHELDER. mch 30

M. FENOLLOSA,
TEACHER OF MUSIC,

LETS............PIANO FORTES, at the lowest rates;
SELLS............PIANO FORTES, at the Manufacturers Prices;
EXCHANGES....PIANO FORTES, on the easiest terms.

At Rooms No. 7 Central street,
feb 11 SALEM, MASS.

AARON T. LOWE,
DEALER IN
BOOTS, SHOES AND RUBBERS,
76 BOSTON STREET, 76.
aug 6 SALEM. tf

GEORGE TAPLEY,
(DANVERS),
AGENT FOR THE
John Hancock Life Insurance Co.
Office, 41 State Street, Boston.

T. HARDY, JR.,
—Dealer in—
DOORS, SASHES, BLINDS,
Glazed Sash, Painted Blinds,
FENCE PALES, STAIR BALUSTERS, FRAMING PINS, &c.,
No. 26 FRONT STREET,
Salem, January 14, 1863—tf.

MISS. S. E. MACKINTIRE.
TEACHER ON
PIANO FORTE
RESIDENCE,—22 Holton Street,
jan13 South Danvers.

THOMAS PINNOCK,
SLATER,
SALEM, MASS.

Orders may be left at his Yard, No. 25 Peabody St., or at his house No. 6 Hancock street, South Salem.

Roofs covered with any kind of Slates, according to order. All work warranted.

Salem, May 7, 1862. tf

PIN WORMS. MRS. OSBORN'S Universal Worm Powders are the only sure cure ever offered to the public. They are warranted in every case; relief within 24 hrs. 25 cts. per box. Sold by all druggists.

For sale by D. P. GROSVENOR, Jr., 33 Main St., South Danvers. jan 27

SPECTACLES!

H. F. SKERRY wishes to call special attention to his stock of

Spectacles and Eye Glasses,

in Gold—Silver—Rubber—Steel and Horn frames, of which he keeps constantly on hand a very large assortment, embracing every style and quality.

—ALSO—

Opera Glasses, Microscopes, &c.

Glasses re-set, and Spectacles repaired.

In Store, our usual assortment of Silver and Plated Ware, and Jewelry.

No. 180 Essex Street, Salem.
H. F. SKERRY.
Feb 24—tf.

WIRE COVERS.

WIRE Dish Covers, in sets of five, at
S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS',
June 29 32 Front Street.

Posting Books, Making Bills and Copying.

THE above business will be promptly and accurately performed by the subscriber, who may be found at Messrs. CLARK & GIDDINGS' Counting Room on Wallis Street, near the Essex Depot, or by enquiring at this office. jy13 tf JOHN D. HOWARD.

FURNITURE.

HAVING taken the Store No. 10 FRONT STREET, (formerly occupied by BENJAMIN COLMAN,) I shall keep constantly on hand a large stock of

NEW AND SECOND-HAND FURNITURE,
BEDDING, COUNTING-ROOM DESKS &c.,
which I will sell cheap for CASH.
ALL KINDS OF FURNITURE NEATLY REPAIRED.

☞ All kinds of FURNITURE and BEDDING wanted—for which the highest Cash price will be paid.

P. J. HYNES, 10 FRONT-ST.
Salem, April 6, 1864—1y

NEW WHITE WARE.

WHITE Tea Ware and White Dinner Ware, of the new patterns, at
jy 20 S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

PRESERVE YOUR FRUIT.

GLASS Jars and Glass Covers, for preserving Fruits, Vegetables, &c., in a perfectly fresh state, for sale by S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

LEMON SQUEEZERS,

AT S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

Auction Sales.

WILLIAM ARCHER, Jr.,
Auctioneer, Real Estate and Stock Broker,
34 Front Street.
Real Estate, Bank, Railroad & Manufacturing Stock bought and sold on Commission.

VALUABLE REAL ESTATE,

THE Subscriber offers for sale the following Lots of Land, with the Buildings thereon, at private sale, until September next, when such as then remain unsold, will be offered at Public Auction:

A new and well built two-story DWELLING HOUSE, situated on English Street.—This house is well supplied with the modern conveniences, is pleasantly situated on rising ground, and is a very desirable residence.

The MOROCCO FACTORY near the Southwick Tannery. The building is about 150 feet long by 40 wide, is well supplied with pure water and is an excellent place for the Morocco business or Currying.

Near the Morocco Factory are two TWO-STORY BUILDINGS, which may be sold with the Factory, or separately. Together they are about 80 feet long by 20 wide.

On Walnut Street is the large BOARDING HOUSE, with the land adjoining, which is excellently well situated for what it is designed.

Several front LOTS for building purposes on Walnut Street, will be sold at moderate prices and fair terms.

A STORE HOUSE 70 by 25 feet on Walnut Street, with the land under and the rear of it. It can be easily adapted for a Curriers' Shop, or for other kinds of business.

On Wallis Street, near the mill pond, a well built and painted MOROCCO FACTORY, all ready for occupancy. It is about 80 feet long by 25 wide, and in excellent repair.

Next to the Morocco Factory on the same street, a STORE BUILDING, strongly built, and framed for a DWELLING HOUSE, for which it could be easily adapted. Or it would make an excellent Shop for any kind of business.

Near ELM STREET, on a Court south of said street, are two DWELLING HOUSES, planned for two families each. One is two stories high, the other one and a half. Both houses have good tenants and yield a good income; offering a good chance for investment.

Between Harris and English Streets, one One Story DWELLING House, and a One Story and a Half House.

The above is a most excellent opportunity for enterprising young men to secure places for business and dwelling houses, on reasonable terms. Such a chance may not soon again occur.

Persons desiring to purchase any of the above lots may learn the prices and terms on application to ANDREW S. PORTER, Elm Street.

SAMUEL D. PENDAR.
South Danvers, May 11, 1864. tf

MANUAL FENOLLOSA
TEACHER
OF THE
Violin, Piano and Singing,
MUSIC ROOMS, No. 7 Central Street,
SALEM, MASS.

NEW STORE!
Flour! Flour!

JUST RECEIVED, a fresh supply of CHOICE BRANDS, direct from the Mills, for sale, wholesale and retail, at LOWEST PRICES, by

E. F. OSBORN.
Sutton's Building, Main St.
South Danvers, Nov 18, 1863.

R. C. MANNING & CO.,
Successors to JOHN DIKE & CO.,
DEALERS IN
COAL, WOOD, BARK, HAY, &c,
183 DERBY STREET,
SALEM, MASS.
N. C. ROBBINS, R. C. MANNING.
oct17

GEO. E. MEACOM,
Dealer in
DRUGS & MEDICINES,
Fancy & Toilet Articles, &c.,
126 · MAIN ST. · 126
Nearly opposite Danvers Bank, So. Danvers.

T. A. SWEETSER,
Druggist & Apothecary
37 Main St., So. Danvers,
DEALER IN
Drugs, Medicines, Chemicals, Foreign Leeches, Shakers' Herbs, Dye Stuffs, Gums, Acids, Sponges, Shoulder Braces, Trusses, and Genuine Patent Medicines.

Also, Imported Cigars of choice brands, Perfumery, Toilet Articles and Stationery.

Physicians' Prescriptions carefully prepared by experienced persons.

37 MAIN STREET.

D. P. GROSVENOR, Jr.,
Druggist and Apothecary,
33 MAIN STREET.

Dealer in Drugs, Medicines, Chemicals, Dye Stuffs, and Popular Proprietary Medicines.

Personal attention to Physicians' Prescriptions.

South Danvers, May 29, 1861. 1y

TABLE MATS.

SHAKER and Wood Table Mats, at
S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS',
June 29 32 Front Street.

Flour and Grain.

1500 BUSHELS Canada Oats; 100 barrels Superior Family XXX Flour; just landed and for sale by GAYLE & CO., Phillips Wharf.

BRUSHES.

A FULL stock of Brushes of every description, at
je22 S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

FOR SUMMER READING.

G. M. WHIPPLE & A. A. SMITH'S Subscription Circulating Library afford ample facilities. Terms liberal. Subscriptions commencing at any time. June 29

WATER KEGS.

ANOTHER lot of Stone Water Kegs, at
jy13 S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS' 32 Front st.

Flour.

100 Bbls "Arcade Mills;" 100 do "Crooked Creek;" 100 do "May Flower." For sale by July 20 GAYLE & CO., Phillips' Wharf.

Child at Home.—Child—Mother, I want a piece of cake.

Mother—I hav'nt got any,—it's all gone.

C.—I know there's some up in the cupboard;—I saw it when you opened the door.

M.—Well, you don't need any now, cake hurts children.

C.—No it don't; (whining) I do want a piece!

M.—Be still, I can't get up now, I am busy.

C.—(Crying aloud)—I want a piece of cake. I want a piece of cake.

M.—(Rising hastily and reaching a bit)—There, take that, and hold your tongue. Eat it up quick, I hear Ben coming. Now, don't tell him you've had any.

(Ben enters)—C.—I've had a piece of cake. You can't have any.

Ben.—Yes I will; mother give me a piece.

M.—There, take that, it seems as if I never could keep a bit of anything in the house. You see, sir, (to the child) if you get anything the next time!

(Another room)—C.—I've had a piece of cake!

Younger sister.—I want some too.

C.—Well, you bawl, and mother'll give you a piece. I did.

☞ A French soldier recently went to a Paris exhibition, and wished to enter at half price because he had but one eye. Claim not allowed.

Special Notices.

Editor of Wizard:—Dear Sir,—With your permission I wish to say to the readers of your paper that I will send, by return mail, to all who wish it (free), a Recipe, with full directions for making and using a simple Vegetable Balm, that will effectually remove, in ten days, Pimples, Blotches, Tan, Freckles, and all Impurities of the Skin, leaving the same soft, clear, smooth and beautiful.

I will also mail free to those having Bald Heads, or Bare Faces, simple directions and information that will enable them to start a full growth of Luxuriant Hair, Whiskers, or Moustache, in less than thirty days.

All applications answered by return mail without charge. Respectfully yours,

THOS. F. CHAPMAN, Chemist,
jy 13—3m 831 Broadway, New York.

A GENTLEMAN, cured of Nervous Debility, Incompetency, Premature Decay and Youthful Error, actuated by a desire to benefit others, will be happy to furnish to all who need it, (free of charge,) the recipe and directions for making the simple remedy used in his case. Those wishing to profit by his experience, and possess a Valuable Remedy, will receive the same, by return mail, (carefully sealed,) by addressing

JOHN B. OGDEN,
No. 60 Nassau street, New York.
may 25—3m

BELL'S SPECIFIC PILLS.—Warranted in all Cases.—Can be relied on! Never fail to cure! Do not nauseate! Are speedy in action! No change of diet required! Do not interfere with business pursuits! Can be used without detection! Upward of 200 cures the past month—some of them very severe cases. Over one hundred physicians have used them in their practice, and all speak well of their efficacy, and approve of their composition, which is entirely vegetable and harmless on the system. Hundreds of certificates can be shown.

Bell's Specific Pills are the original and only genuine Specific Pill. They are adapted for male and female, old or young, and the only reliable remedy for effecting a permanent and speedy cure in all cases of Spermatorrhea, or Seminal Weakness, with all its train of evils, such as Urethral and Vaginal Discharges, Gleet, the Whites, Nightly or Involuntary Emissions, Incontinence, Genital Debility and Irritability, Impotence, Weakness or Loss of Power, Nervous Debility, &c., &c., all of which arise principally from Sexual Excesses or Self-Abuse, or some constitutional derangement, and incapacitates the sufferer from fulfilling the duties of married life. In all sexual diseases, as Gonorrhea, Gleet, and Strictures, and in Diseases of the Bladder and Kidneys, they act as a charm! Relief is experienced by taking a single box. Sold by all the principal druggists. Price $1.

They will be sent by mail, securely sealed, and confidentially, on receipt of the money, by

J. BRYAN, M. D.,
No. 76 Cedar street, New York,

Consulting Physician for the treatment of Seminal, Urinary, Sexual, and Nervous Diseases, who will send, free to all, the following valuable work, in sealed envelope:

The Fiftieth Thousand.—DR. BELL'S TREATISE on Self-Abuse, Premature Decay, Impotence and Loss of Power, Sexual Diseases. Seminal Weakness, Nightly Emissions, Genital Debility, &c., &c., a pamphlet of 64 pages, containing important advice to the afflicted, and which should be read by every sufferer, as the means of cure in the severest stages is plainly set forth. Two stamps required to pay postage. December 9, 1863—1 yr.

Important to Ladies.—Dr. Harvey's Female Pills have never yet failed in removing difficulties arising from obstruction, or stoppage of nature, or in restoring the system to perfect health when suffering from Spinal Affections, Prolapsus, Uteri, the Whites, or other weakness of the Uterine Organs. The Pills are perfectly harmless on the constitution, and may be taken by the most delicate female without causing distress—the same time they act like a charm by strengthening, invigorating and restoring the system to a healthy condition, and by bringing on the monthly period with regularity, no matter from what causes the obstruction may arise. They should, however, NOT be taken during the first three or four months of pregnancy, though safe at any other time, as miscarriage would be the result.

Each box contains 60 Pills. Price $1.

DR. HARVEY'S TREATISE on Diseases of Females, Pregnancy, Miscarriage, Barrenness, Sterility, Reproduction, and Abuses of Nature, and emphatically the Ladies' Private Medical Adviser, a pamphlet of 64 pages, sent free to any address. Six cents required to pay postage.

The Pills and book will be sent by mail when desired, securely sealed, and prepaid, by

J. BRYAN, M. D., General Agent,
No. 76 Cedar street, New York.

☞ Sold by all the principal druggists.
December 9, 1863—1 yr.

Do You Wish to be Cured.

DR. BUCHAN'S ENGLISH SPECIFIC PILLS cure, in less than 30 days, the worst cases of NERVOUSNESS, Impotency, Premature Decay, Seminal Weakness, Insanity, and all Urinary, Sexual and Nervous Affections, no matter from what cause produced. Price, One Dollar per box. Sent, post-paid, by mail, on receipt of order. One Box will perfect the cure in most cases. Address JAMES S. BUTLER,
jy 13—3m General Agent, 427 Broadway, New York.

Horse Railroad Notice.

On and after Monday, May 9, the cars of the Salem and South Danvers Railroad Co. will leave

South Danvers for Salem and Beverly at 6.35, 6.55, 7.15, and 7.35, A. M., and every 20 minutes till 12.55 P. M., and at 1.10, 1.25, 1.40, 1.55 P. M., and every 15 minutes till 10.25 P. M. The 9.55, 10.10, and 10.25 P. M., cars will go only to Salem.

Cars will leave Beverly for Salem and South Danvers at 6.35, 6.55, 7.15, and 7.35, A. M., and every 20 minutes till 12.55 P. M., and at 1.10, 1.25, 1.40 and 1.55 P.M., and every 15 minutes till 10.40 P. M. The 9.40, 9.55, 10.10, 10.25 and 10.40 P. M., cars go only to Salem.

Cars leave Washington Street Station for So. Danvers at 6.12, 6.32 and 6.52 A. M. and every 20 minutes till 12.32 P. M, and leave Washington St. Station for Beverly at 6.17, 6.37, 6.57, A. M., and every 20 minutes till 12.37 P. M., and cars will leave Washington St. Station for South Danvers and Beverly at 12.45, 1, 1.15, and 1.30 P. M., and every 15 minutes till 10.00 P. M.

M. H. HALE,
may 11 Sup't, S. & S. D. R. R. Co.

STONE WARE.

A SUPPLY of Stone Ware of all kinds, such as Water Kegs, Pitchers, Jugs, Cake and Butter Pots, are just opened at

S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS',
July 6 32 Front Street.

R. W. WILKINSON,

DEALER IN

Newspapers, Periodicals, and Stationery of every Description.

FOREIGN and DOMESTIC FRUITS, consisting of Oranges, Lemons, Dates, Figs, Prunes, &c., &c.

Sauces, Pickles and Preserves; Castana, Naples and English Walnuts; Hard, Soft and Paper-shelled Almonds; choice brands of Tobacco and Cigars; also a general assortment of Confectionery of every description.

Also a large and well selected stock of Toys, suitable for children and the Holiday Gifts.

Ice Cream furnished to parties at short notice and in quantities to suit. Wedding Cake and every variety of nice cake furnished to parties or families.

STORE—WARREN BANK BUILDING.

South Danvers, Nov'r 11, 1863.

DR. S. O. RICHARDSON'S

Blood-Root Elixir

Has been thoroughly tested and proved in his medical practice, for a period of THIRTY YEARS, and is now presented to the public as an effectual cure for

COSTIVENESS,

AND THE BEST REMEDY EVER PREPARED FOR

DISEASES OF THE LIVER,

SCROFULA,

All Humors and Impurities of the Blood and Diseases of the Skin.

The preparing and combining the BLOOD-ROOT ELIXIR is attended with results to medical science next in importance to inhalation of ether in surgery. Roots and plants, in themselves pungent and disagreeable, are, by a new and scientific process of extracting (in vacuo,) rendered MORE EFFECTIVE IN THEIR OPERATION, entirely divested of the griping and distressing pain which attends the action of all other purgative medicine.—They are also made to become highly

PLEASANT AND AGREEABLE TO THE TASTE,

and by their peculiar combination work so perfectly in HARMONY WITH NATURE that no unpleasant reaction will follow its operation. It also possesses

A DIFFUSIVE AND ALTERATIVE EFFECT,

which can only be attained by medicine in a fluid state. These are new elements in purgative medicines.

The hard and compact manner in which Pills are prepared, renders them indigestible—and, when taken, are forced through the Stomach and Bowels, half dissolved, causing only PARTIAL ACTION, thereby creating irritation and pain to the parts connected with their passage.

One Pill dissolved secundum art.m, will produce more medicinal and physical effect than five in a crude state.

The BLOOD-ROOT ELIXIR has no partial action upon the bowels, but is equally diffused there, and throughout the whole circulation of the Blood, imparting a healthy and invigorating action to the Stomach and Bowels, Liver, Lungs, Kidneys, and gently stimulating dermant and morbid secretions throughout the whole system.

A single dose will produce a cheerful and exhilarating COMMOTION, which will inspire the patient with confidence, and assurance of IMMEDIATE RELIEF. A continuance for a short period will DRIVE the obscure and hidden, humors to the surface of the skin, and relieve or check Scrofulous Affections—and by thus purifying and strengthening the Blood, will remove the most fruitful

CAUSE OF CONSUMPTION.

It incites the various organs of the system to act their alloted part, removing the causes which induce RHEUMATISM and NEURALGIA, HEADACHE, LOSS OF APPETITE, DYSPEPSIA, COSTIVENESS, and the various diseases which arise from a derangement of the Stomach and Bowels, and restricted circulation of the Blood.

COUGHS AND COLDS, in their early stages, will immediately yield to the effect of the Elixir.

The BLOOD-ROOT ELIXIR contains no mineral, no pernicious botanical element, no excitant, but stimulates the secretions by its mild and diffusive action. It is an effective and painless aperient—has a decided salutary action upon the Liver, and there has been no medicine prepared for common family use which possesses equal merit.

Travellers both by sea and land, will find the Elixir a complete antidote for the evils which they are obliged to endure, from a change of climate or water or diet.

See the pamphlet around each bottle for a history of the Elixir.

The proprietor of the BLOOD-ROOT ELIXIR, (Dr. S. O. Richardson,) has been long and favorably known to the public by his celebrated SHERRY-WINE BITTERS, the best tonic medicine ever discovered, and which has been in use over thirty years. He is a graduate of the New Hampshire Medical College, and many years associate member of the Massachusetts Medical Society,—and has made the study of medicine his profession since 1820.

And so fully convinced is the Doctor of the wonderful curative effects of his BLOOD-ROOT ELIXIR, that he hereby offers to each and every person who will use one-half of a bottle of his Elixir, and not be conscious of a good effect therefrom, to REFUND to said person the full amount which he paid for the same, by returning the ullage bottle to his office.

Price $1.50 Per Bottle!

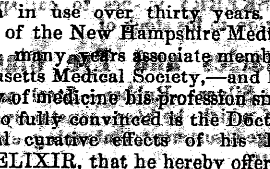
Sold by Apothecaries and Dealers in Medicines, and at the Doctor's Office,

51 & 53 HANOVER ST., BOSTON.

May 11—3ms.*

MOULTON'S

NEW LIVERY STABLE,



Is removed to stable formerly occupied by

SAMUEL HAM,

On MAIN STREET, opposite the Institute.

Good Horses and Carriages will be always in readiness at short notice.

South Danvers, May 25, 1864.

HEYLINGBERG'S

Hair Dressing Saloon,

24 MAIN ST., SOUTH DANVERS.

J. HEYLINGBERG would announce to his patrons and the public generally, that on and after JUNE 1st, 1864, he will abide by the following

TARIFF OF PRICES:

Shaving,	10 cts.
Hair Cutting,	15 cts.
Champooing,	15 cts.

Particular attention paid to dying hair and whiskers, in one preparation, without washing or scrubbing.

South Danvers, May 11, 1864.

FLOUR.

200 BBLS "Keystone;" 100 bbls Faquis "Invincible," received this day, and for sale by may 25 GAYLE & CO., Phillips Wharf.

Cards.

M. B. MANSFIELD,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
214 ESSEX STREET, SALEM, MASS.

_ Particular attention paid to procuring Pensions, Bounties, Back Pay, Prize Money, and Army and Navy Claims of all descriptions. March 2.

THOMAS M. STIMPSON,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
194 ESSEX STREET, SALEM.
Residence Lowell street, South Danvers.

B. C. PERKINS,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
South Danvers—Office in Allen's Building

ALFRED A. ABBOTT,
Attorney and Counsellor,
Office, No. 24 Washington Street, Salem;
House, Main St., So. Danvers.

SIDNEY C. BANCROFT,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
27 Washington Street, Salem.

H. O. WILEY,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
Office, Allen's Building, So. Danvers.

Claims against the Government for Bounty Back Pay, and Pensions, promptly attended to

A. S. CRAWFORD
Dentist,
No. 4 Main Street, So. Danvers Square
Mechanical Dentistry Neatly Executed.

W. L. BOWDOIN,
SURGEON DENTIST,
No, 208 Essex Street, Salem, (Opposite the Marke
Residence—No. 57 Washington street.
jan 11—ly

NEWMAN & SYMONDS,
DEALERS IN
Family Groceries, Flour & Grain,
HARD WARE AND CROCKERY,
Ready Made Clothing, Gents' Furnishing Goods, Hats, Caps, Boots, Shoes, &c.
South Danvers Square, opp. Congregational Church
SAM'L NEWMAN. NATH'L SYMONDS.

S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS,
DEALERS IN
Crockery, China and Hardware; Paper Hangings; Solar and Entry Lamps; Paints, Oil, and Window Glass.
No. 32 Front street, Lawrence Place,
feb13 SALEM, MASS.

HENRY L. WHIDDEN,
HOUSE AND SIGN PAINTER,
Glazier and Paperer,
Central Street, South Danvers.
All orders promptly and faithfully executed.
jan2-ly

E. S. FLINT,
DEALER IN
West India Goods, Country Poduce,
No. 2 Main Street, South Danvers.

JESSE SMITH
No. 262 Essex Street, Salem,
Importer and Dealer in
Gold and Silver Watches,
MARINE CHRONOMETERS,
Aneroid Barometers, Spy Glasses, &c.

WILLIAM BLANEY,
HOUSE & SIGN PAINTER
Grainer, Glazier and Paper Hanger,
164 MAIN STREET, Corner of Grove.
WINDOWS and BLINDS cheap for cash.
mch6-tf

F. POOLE
INSURANCE AGENT,
Allen's Building (up stairs),
Deeds drawn, and other common forms.

H. L. HADLEY,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
CORNER MAPLE AND ELM ST.,
Danvers.
Claims against the Government for Bounty, Back Pay, and Pensions, promptly attended to.

E. F. BURNHAM,

SOLE AGENT FOR

SARGENT & CO.S'

MAGIC SOAP!

For South Danvers & Salem.

OFFICE—Central St., opp. Lowell Depot, at Burnham's Express Office, So. Danvers.

Price $3.50 per 100 Lbs.

Orders sent by mail or otherwise to So. Danvers will be promptly attended to. tf-oct3

CHINA GOODS.

GOLD Band Tea Sets; Fancy do.; Vases; Match Boxes; Fruit Baskets, etc., at
S C & E A SIMONDS',
je22 32 Front St., Salem.

DYSPEPSIA AND FITS.

A SURE CURE FOR

THESE distressing complaints is now made known in a Treatise on Foreign and Native Herbal Preparations, published by Dr. O. Phelps Brown. The prescription was furnished him in such a providential manner, that he cannot conscientiously refuse to make it known, as it has cured everybody who has used it, never having failed in a single case. It is equally sure in cases of Fits as of Dyspepsia; and the ingredients may be found in any drug store. Sent free to all on the receipt of five cents to pre-pay postage. This work, of 48 octavo pages, beautifully illustrated, also treats on

Consumption,

Bronchitis, Asthma, General Debility, and gives the best known Herbal Remedies for their positive and permanent cure. Address Dr O. Phelps Brown, No. 19 Grand Street, Jersey City, New Jersey.
may 25—3m

A Card to the Suffering.

SWALLOW two or three hogsheads of "Buchu," "Tonic Bitters," "Sarsaparilla," "Nervous Antidotes," &c., &c., &c., and after you are satisfied with the result, then try one box of OLD DOCTOR BUCHAN'S ENGLISH SPECIFIC PILLS—and be restored to health and vigor in less than thirty days. They are purely vegetable, pleasant to take, prompt and salutary in their effects on the broken-down and shattered constitution. Old and young can take them with advantage. Imported and sold in the United States only by JAS. S. BUTLER, No. 427 Broadway, New York.

☞ Agent for the United States.

P. S. A Box of the Pills, securely packed, will be mailed to any address on receipt of price, which is ONE DOLLAR, post-paid,—money refunded by the Agent if entire satisfaction is not given. jy 13-3m

Chickering & Sons' Piano-Fortes.

Hallett & Cumston's Piano-Fortes.

Hallett & Davis's Piano-Fortes.

We select our Piano-Fortes from the above firms and warrant them to give perfect satisfaction. Our terms are reasonable, and all persons in the city and neighboring towns can be accommodated by calling at 76 Federal street.

FOR SALE—Second-hand Piano-Fortes,—Chickering's and others.
ap 29 ANN R. BRAY.

FEATHER DUSTERS,

OF all sizes, from 10 to 26 inches, just opened at
je22 S C & E A SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

Advertisements.

HOSTETTER'S

CELEBRATED

STOMACH BITTERS.

A pure and powerful Tonic, corrective and alterative of wonderful efficacy in disease of the

Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

Cures Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Headache, Debility, Nervousness, Depression of Spirits, Constipation, Colic, Intermittent Fevers, Cramps and Spasms, and all Complaints of either Sex, arising from Bodily Weakness whether inherent in the system or produced by special causes.

Nothing that is not wholesome, genial and restorative in its nature enters into the composition of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. This popular preparation contains no mineral of any kind, no deadly botanical element, no fiery excitant: but it is a combination of the extracts of rare balsamic herbs and plants with the purest and mildest of all diffusive stimulants.

It is well to be forearmed against disease, and, so far as the human system can be protected by human means against maladies engendered by an unwholesome atmosphere, impure water and other external causes, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS may be relied on as a safeguard.

In districts infested with Fever and Ague, it has been found infallible as a preventive and irresistible as a remedy and thousands who resort to it under apprehension of an attack, escape the scourage; and thousands who neglect to avail themselves of its protective qualities in advance, are cured by a very brief course of this marvelous medicine. Fever and Ague patients, after being plied with quinine for months in vain, until fairly saturated with that dangerous alkaloid, are not unfrequently restored to health within a few days by the use of HOSTETTER'S BITTERS.

The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated and the appetite restored by this agreeable Tonic, and hence it works wonders in cases of Dyspepsia and in less confirmed forms of Indigestion. Acting as a gentle and painless apperient, as well as upon the liver, it also invariably relieves the Constipation superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and secretive organs.

Persons of feeble habit, liable to Nervous Attacks, Lowness of Spirits and Fits of Languor, find prompt and permanent relief from the Bitters. The testimony on this point is most conclusive, and from both sexes.

The agony of Bilious Colic is immediately assuaged by a single dose of the stimulant, and by occasionally resorting to it, the return of the complaint may be prevented.

As a General Tonic, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS produce effects which must be experienced or witnessed before they can be fully appreciated. In cases of Constitutional Weakness, Premature Decay and Debility and Decrepitude arising from Old Age, it exercises the electric influence. In the convalescent stages of all diseases it operates as a delightful invigorant. When the powers of nature are relaxed, it operates to re-enforce and re-establish them.

Last, but not least, it is The Only Safe Stimulant, being manufactured from sound and innocuous materials, and entirely free from the acid elements present more or less in all the ordinary tonics and stomachics of the day.

No family medicine has been so universally, and, it may be truly added, deservedly popular with the intelligent portion of the community, as HOSTETTER'S BITTERS.

Prepared by HOSTETTER & SMITH, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Sold by all Druggists, Grocers and Storekeepers everywhere.

HELMBOLD'S

GENUINE PREPARATIONS.

COMPOUND FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU, a Positive and Specific Remedy for diseases of the Bladder, Kidneys, Gravel, and Dropsical Swellings.

This Medicine increases the power of Digestion, and excite the Absorbents into healthy action, by which the Wtaery or Calcareous depositions, and all Unnatural Enlargements are reduced, as well as Pain and Inflammation.

—:o:—

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU.

For Weaknesses arising from Excesses, Habits of Dissipation, Early Indiscretion of Abuse, attended with the following symptoms:—

Indisposition to Exertion,	Loss of Power,
Loss of Memory,	Difficulty of Breathing,
Weak Nerves,	Trembling,
Horror of Disease,	Wakefulness,
Dimness of Vision,	Pain in the Back,
Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System,
Hot Hands,	Flushing of the Body,
Dryness of the Skin,	Eruptions on the Face,
Pallid Countenance.

These symptoms, if allowed to go on, which this medicine invariably removes, soon follows

Impotency, Fatuity, Epileptic Fits,

In one of which the patient may expire.

Who can say that they are not frequently followed by those "Direful Diseases,"

"INSANITY AND CONSUMPTION."

Many are aware of the cause of their suffering, but none will confess, the records of the insane Asylums.

And Melancholy Deaths by Consumption bear ample witness to the Truth of the assertion.

The Constitution once affected with Organic Weakness requires the aid of Medicine to Strengthen and Invigorate the system,

Which Helmbold's Extract Buchu invariably does. A Trial will convince the most skeptical.

—:o:—

FEMALES—FEMALES—FEMALES.

In many Affections peculiar to Females the Extract Buchu is unequalled by any other remedy, as in Chlorosis or Retention, Irregularity, Painfulness, or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated Scirrhous state of the Uterus, Leuchorrhoea or Whites, Sterility, and for all complaints incident to the sex, whether arising from indiscretion or Habits of Dissipation, or in the

DECLINE OR CHANGE OF LIFE.

—:o:—

Take no more Balsam, Mercury, or unpleasant Medicines for unpleasant and dangerous diseases.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU AND IMPROVED ROSE WASH CURES

SECRET DISEASES

In all their Stages,	At little Expense.
Little or no change in Diet.	No inconvenience.
And no Exposure.

It causes a frequent desire and gives strength to Urinate, thereby Removing Obsructions, Preventing and Curing Strictures of the Urethra, allaying Pain and Inflammation, so frequent in this class of diseases, and expelling all Poisonous, Diseased and wornout Matter.

Thousands upon Thousands who have been the Victims of Quacks, and who have paid heavy fees to be cured in a short time, have found they were deceived, and that the "POISON" has, by the use of "Powerful Astringents," been dried up in the system, to break out in an aggravated form, and perhaps after Marriage.

—:o:—

Use Helmbold's Extract Buchu for all affections and diseases of the URINARY ORGANS, whether existing in MALE or FEMALE, from whatever cause originating and no matter of HOW LONG STANDING.

Diseases of these Organs requires the aid of a DIURETIC. HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU IS THE GREAT DIURETIC, and is certain to have the desired effect in all Diseases for which it is Recommended.

Evidence of the most reliable and responsible character will accompany the medicine.

Price $1.00 per bottle, or six for $5.00.

Delivered to any Address, securely packed from observation.

Describe Symptoms in all Communications.

Cures Guaranteed! Advice Gratis!!

Address letters for information to

H. B. HELMBOLD, Chemist,
104 South Tenth-st., bel. Chestnut, Phila.

HELMBOLD'S Medical Depot.
HELMBOLD'S Drug & Chemical Warehouse.
594 Broadway, New York.

BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS AND UNPRINCIPLED DEALERS who endeavor to dispose "of their own" and "other" articles on the reputation attained by

Helmbold's Genuine Preparations.
" " Extract Buchu.
" " Sarsaparilla.
" " Improved Rose Wash.

SOLD BY

ALL DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE.

ASK FOR HELMBOLD'S. TAKE NO OTHER.

Cut out the Advertisement and send for it, AND AVOID IMPOSITION AND EXPOSURE.

December 16, 1863.—1 yr.

WM. C. HENDERSON,

MANUFACTURER OF

PLAIN AND FANCY

PAPER BOXES!

No. 235 ESSEX STREET,

Sign of "Nest of Boxes,"

july 23 SALEM. tf

MANHOOD:

HOW LOST, HOW RESTORED.

Just published, a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical cure (without medicine) of Spermatorrhœa, or Seminal Weakness, Involuntary Seminal Losses, Impotency, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc.; also, Consumption, Epilepsy and Fits, induced by self-indulgence or sexual extravagance.

☞ Price, in a sealed envelope, only 6 cents.

The celebrated author in this admirable essay clearly demonstrates from a thirty years successful practice, that the alarming consequences of self-abuse may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine or the application of the knife—pointing out a mode of cure, at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

☞ This Lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land.

Sent under seal, in a plain envelope, to any address, POST-PAID, on receipt of six cents, or two post stamps. Address the publishers,

CHAS. J. C. KLINE & CO.,
127 Bowery, New York, Post Office Box, 4586.
June 29—10w.

SPEED, COMFORT AND SAFETY!

FOR NEW YORK.

Norwich Steamboat Train.

The only Boats Landing at Jersey City.

CABIN Passage, $5,00; Deck Passage, $4,00. The new and elegant sixteen wheel cars of the steamboat express train leave the Boston & Worcester Railroad Station, Albany Street, at 5½ P. M., daily, connecting with the new steamers, (built expressly for this line,) CITY OF BOSTON, Capt. Wilcox, Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays; CITY OF NEW YORK, Capt. Jewett, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays, which (before proceeding to their Pier, No. 39 North River,) will touch at the wharf of the New Jersey Railroad at Jersey City, (Sundays excepted) thus enabling Southern Passengers to make sure connections with the First Southern Train, and at the same time avoid the great annoyance of the Ferry and Hack transportation in the crowded streets of New York. This insures ample time for Breakfast before the trains leave. Conductors E. Morrill and T. N. Turner accompany the passengers through to New York.

Tickets, Berths and Staterooms secured at the Railroad Station, and at the Office of the line, 79 Washington Street, Boston.

Through tickets to Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington can be had at 79 Washington Street, Boston. WM. DICKEY, Jr., Agent.

Boston, January 7, 1864.

CURRIER & MILLETT,

Dealers in

Furniture, Chairs,

MATTRESSES, FEATHERS, &

259 & 261 ESSEX ST.

Salem, dec 14—ly

H. & H. G. HUBON,

WASHINGTON STREET, SALEM

Manufacturers of

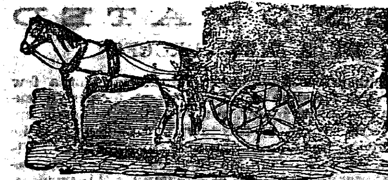
Rose Wood, Mahogany, Black Walnut and Stained Wood

COFFINS and CASKETS.

MAKING this our exclusive business, we are ready at all times and at the shortest notice to furnish Grave Clothes of various styles, as well as Coffins and Caskets of the finest finish. Personal attention given, and delivered without extra charge to any of the neighboring towns. All orders by express or otherwise will receive prompt attention.

Black Walnut and White Wood Boards, Plank and Joists for sale.

dec 14—tf



CHARLES S. BUFFUM,

BEING an authorized UNDERTAKER of South Danvers, will attend Funerals in said place with his Hearse the same as the Town Undertaker. Will also attend Funerals, when desired, in any of the neighboring towns, with one or a pair of horses.

He also furnishes Coffin Caskets, Robes, &c., lower than city prices.

All branches of the business attended to, such as furnishing Coaches, Flowers, Laying Out, &c. Ice Preservers furnished.

All orders promptly attended to, and personal attention given to them. Articles delivered to any of the neighboring towns free of charge. Orders by express or otherwise will receive prompt attention.

Central Street, South Danvers,

RESIDENCE 25 ELM STREET.

South Danvers, Feb 17, 1864.

Undertaker's Notice!

THE subscriber being regularly appointed as Undertaker of South Danvers, would respectfully notify the public that he has removed from Central Street, to No. 80 Lowell Street, where he may be found in readiness to attend funerals, and to furnish, when desired.

HENRY SPENCER.
February 10, 1864.

E. S. FLINT,

Manufacturer and Dealer in

INNER SOLES,

AND SHOE STIFFENINGS OF ALL KINDS.

2 Main Street, South Danvers.

Choice Spring Pigs for Sale.

THE subscriber offers for sale nice PIGS of Mackie Prince Albert and Chester County breeds, of which the Mackie took the First Premium at the late CattleShow. Prices reasonable.

BYRON GOODALE,
Near Tapley's Brook.
South Danvers, April 1, 1864. tf

THE BEST ASSORTMENT

OF White, Colored Grounds, neat Patterns, to be found in the city.
june 1 ANN R. BRAY, 76 Federal st.

Eastern Railroad.

ON and after Monday, April 4, 1864, Trains will leave the Eastern Railroad Station, Washington street, Salem, daily. (Sundays excepted):

For Lynn and Boston, *5.50, 7, 8½, 9, 10, 11 a m., 12 55, 2¼, 5¼, 7, 7¼, p. m.
Beverly, 8, 8 15, 11½ am., 1, 3¼, 2¼, 5¼, 6.55, 7½ p m.
W. Beach, Man'r, Gloucester, and Rockport, 8, 11¼, a m., 3¼, 6¼ p m.
Ipswich and Newburyport, 8 05 am., 1, 3¼, 5¼, 6.55pm.
Amesbury, 8 05 a m., 1, 3¼, 5¼ p m.
Portsmouth, 8 05 a m., 3¼, p m.
Portland, 8 05 a m., 3¼ p m.

AND FOR SALEM, FROM

Portland, 8¼ a m., 3 p m.
Portsmouth, 6 20. 9 10, *11¼ a m., *5¼ p m.
Amesbury, 7.35, 9.40 a m., 5.55 p m.
Newburyport, 7, 7 55, 10, 11.50 a m., 6¼ p m.
Ipswich, 7.20, 8.15, 10.20 a m., 12.15, 6.35 p m.
Gloucester, 7, 10, 10 10 a m., 1.40, 4.40 p m.
Manchester, 7.25, 10.25 a m., 1.55, 4.55 p m.
Beverly, 6.50, 7.50, 8.20, 8.50 10.50 am., 12.45, 2.20, 5.20, 6.45, 7.05 pm.
Lynn, 7.45, 7.50, 9, 11, a m., 12.45, 3, 3.30, 4.30, 5 30, 6, 6.40, 7.30, 10 p m.
Boston, 7¼, 7¼, 8¼, 10¼ am., 12¼, 2¼, 3, 4, 5, 5.30, 6.10, 7, †9.30 p m.

*Or on arrival from the East.
†On Wednesdays this train leaves Boston at 11¼ p m. and on Saturdays at 10¼ p m.

MARBLEHEAD BRANCH.

Marblehead for Salem, 6¼, 7¼, 8¼, 9¼ a m., 12¼, 1¼, 5¼, 6¼, 7¼ p m.
Salem for Marblehead, 7¼, 8¼, 9.25, 11¼ a m., 1, 3¼, 5¼, 7, 7.50 p m.

SOUTH READING BRANCH.

Trains leave the South Reading Depot in Salem for Boston at 6.55, 9.50 a m., 2.25, 4.55 p m.
Boston for Salem, 7 a m., 12 m., 2 30, 5¼ p m.

ESSEX RAILROAD.

Leave Salem for Lawrence and way stations, 7, 11¼ a m., 4.45 p m.
Lawrence for Salem, 8 a m., 12.40, 5.50 p m.
Danvers for Salem, 8.40 a m., 1.20, 6.30 p m.
South Danvers for Salem, 8¼ a m., 1.25, 6.35 p m.

J. PRESCOTT, Superintendent.
Boston, April 5, 1864.

Salem and Lowell Railroad.

ON and after Monday, April 4, 1864, Trains will run as follows:

Leave Lowell for Salem, 7.25 a m., and *2.45 p m.
Leave Salem for Lowell, *9.40 a m. and 6.00 p m.

Passengers are not allowed to carry baggage above $50 in value, and that personal, unless notice is given and an extra amount paid. Season tickets do not entitle the holder to take baggage.

*Freight Train with passenger car attached.

F. H. NOURSE, Local Superintendent.
April 4, 1864

FOR NEW YORK via FALL RIVER AND NEWPORT.

Cabin passage $5.00; Deck, $4.00. Cars leave the Depot of the Old Colony and Newport Railway, corner of South and Kneeland streets, at 5.30 P. M., daily.

For steamer METROPOLIS, Capt. W. Brown, on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

For steamer EMPIRE STATE, Capt. P. Brayton, on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays.

Passengers by this route can take the 4.40 P. M. Express Train, and arrive in Fal l River one hour before the Steamboat Train, having time to secure State Rooms and make their preparations for the passage.

Passengers by this line going to Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, &c., can connect with the New Jersey or Camden and Amboy Railroad. Baggage Checked through.

☞ A baggage master accompanies the passengers through to New York. Tickets, Berths and Staterooms secured at this office, and at O. C. & Newport R. R. Station.

GEORGE SHIVERICK, Agent.

No. 82 Washington Street.

Boston, November 16, 1863.

Abbott's South Danvers & Salem EXPRESS.

Leave South Danvers, - - - - - 7½ a m, 1 p m
Leave Salem, - - - - - - - 10 a m, 4 p m

Orders left at Teel & Moulton's, and principal stores on Main street, South Danvers; and at 7 Washington street, and at Reed's in the Market, Salem.

Are you Insured?

THE subscriber would respectfully call your attention to the fact that he is fully prepared to effect Insurance against Fire, to any amount, at current rates, on

Dwelling Houses, Barns and their contents, Stores, Stocks of Goods, Furniture, &c. &c., and on buildings in process of erection,

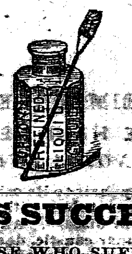
And that he is the authorized Agent for the following responsible Stock and Mutual Companies, viz:

Thames Insurance Co., (Stock,) Norwich, Conn.
Capital—$500,000.
Amos W. Prentice, Pres. Oliver F. Rice, Sec'y
Conway Insurance Company, (Stock) Boston.
Capital and Surplus—$260,000.
James F. Whitney, Pres. David C. Rogers, Sec'y.
City Insurance Company, (Stock) Boston.
Capi al—$150,000.
Samuel P. Hayward, Pres. Austin W. Benton, Sec'y

Also, will effect Insurance on the LIVES OF INDIVIDUALS, for one year, seven years, or for the whole term of life, in the

Massachusetts Mutual Life Ins. Co., Springfield, Mass.
Capital and Assets—$375,000.
Caleb Rice, Pres. D. B. Bason, Sec'y.
William Mack, M. D., Medical Examiner.

WM. ARCHER, Jr.,
18 Washington st. and 34 Front st., Salem.
feb20-1



ALWAYS SUCCESSFUL!

TO ALL THOSE WHO SUFFER FROM

DEBILITY AND SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

DRS. CARSWELL & HUNTER, regularly educated, highly eminent and successful practitioners, after a very extensive practice in Boston, for over twenty years, need hardly speak of their medical qualifications, or remind strangers not to class them with a set of uneducated men, who fill the papers with their boasting advertisements. Drs. C. & H. caution the public against quackery in all its forms, pretending, as some self-styled doctors, to cure all the most difficult and chronic diseases, without knowledge of the human system, or of the modus operandi of the most simple drugs.

Drs. C. & H., since 1840, having confined their whole attention to an office practice for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, they acknowledge no superiors.

CONSTITUTIONAL DEBILITY OR SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Drs. C. & H. are pre-eminently successful in the treatment of the above most difficult and perplexing of all diseases, this complaint being the result of a secret habit in youth; if neglected or improperly treated, it proves one of the greatest evils that can befall a human being. Dr. H. has given particular attention to the above disease for years, and so thoroughly has he become acquainted with the pathology and treatment, that he will warrant a perfect cure under forfeiture of $500; in fact, he will, in the cure of this complaint, acknowledge no superior in this country, or even in the world. Come, then, all you who are afflicted, come to the Old Stand, where you will in a short time be made to rejoice in perfect health.

Syphilitic and Scrofulous Affections,—such as Ulcers and Caries of the throat and nose, Running Sores on the legs and arms, Hard Scabs and Scaly Eruptions on the head, back, &c., pains in the bones and joints, and all other forms of venereal diseases—are made to yield and entirely disappear under Drs. C. & H.'s improved and thoroughly eradicating course of treatment.

The primary or first symptoms of disease, whether a simple running, or small pistules, cancers, or ulcers, are cured in a very few days, if immediate application is made to Drs. C. & H.

13 ENDICOTT STREET, BOSTON. 13

Strangers should be particular in the selection of a physician, lest they be deceived by false advertisements.

Ladies troubled with irregularity, weakness, whites, and other complaints peculiar to the female system, will find a speedy cure by calling as above. No mercury used, and no charge for advice. The afflicted are invited to give us a call.

Boston, April 20, 1864.—1 yr.

25 YEARS' EXPERIENCE enables DRS. CARSWELL & HUNTER to cure any diseases of a private nature in a shorter space of time and for a smaller amount of money than any other doctors in this country, and they also treat all female complaints with perfect success, and on the most satisfactory terms. Patients furnished with board if desired. Please give us a call at our office, No. 13 Endicott St., Boston, Mass.

Boston, April 20, 1864.—1 yr.

MOZAMBIQUES,

AT 20 cents per yard; a nice quality at 30 cents per yard; White Striped Muslins; Striped Cambrics; Nainsooks—just received.

In Lawns we have a first rate assortment; other styles of Thin Goods—making our assortment as good as can be found in the city, selling at the lowest cash prices.

Ann R. Bray, 76 Federal Street.

June 1.

SUMMER ARRAN

TO

LYNN & BOS

BY

OMNIBUS & HOR

W. F. BURNH

Line of Omnibuses will leave the Omnibus Office, No. 6 Allen's Buil
vers, passing down Main Street, thro
Street, to Lynn, daily—Sundays incl
Leave South Danvers at 7 50 o'cl
and 4 50 P. M.
Leave Lynn (Horse Car Depot, We
A. M., 2 40 and 6 40 P. M.
Horse Cars leaving the office at 1 at 8 15 A. M., 1 15 and 5 15 P. M., will buses at Lynn, at the above name
passengers to South Danvers.

Tickets to Lynn,
Through to Boston,

Gravesend, Woodend, a
Depot Route.

ON and after Monday, Nov 2, in ad route, an Omnibus will leave So Lynn, to connect with the steam a times daily,—Sundays excepted,—r Gravesend and Woodend, to the Cen
and Horse Railroad Station, corner
Broad Streets, leaving South Danvers necting with the 7.25 steam cars for (connecting with the 11.10 train), and ing with the 4.50 train); and returni
from the Spring Street Station and
pot, at 8 A M, and 1 and 6 P M.
Fare from S. Danvers to Boston by
" "
Through Tickets to and from Bosto
the Drivers and Conductors.

South Danvers, Salem
Route.

THE subscriber having purchased ley the Omnibus line running
Lynn, would announce that it wil
Stage Office, No. 6 Allen's Building,
for Salem, at 7 30 A M, and 2 30 P
Stage Office in Central St, Salem,
3 30 P M for Lynn. Returning will l
A M and 5 P M; and Salem for South
A M, and 6.15 P M.
Passengers between South Danvers be called for by leaving orders at the Passengers called for at reasonable
s given at the office.

EXPRESS BUSIN

Between South Danvers and Lynn
ed to, on reasonable terms.
Extra Coaches furnished at short n

W. F. B

South Danvers, April 20, 1864.

GROUT & MUN
SOUTH DANVERS &
RAILROAD EXP

Express leaves South Danvers at
Freight " " at
Express leaves Boston at
Freight " " at

OFFICE at FREIGHT DE
Danvers Square.

Express Office in Boston, 3 Was Freight Office, 48 Kil

Particular attention paid to niture, collecting Bills, Notes, D
Smallest favors thankfully received.
South Danvers, august 26—tf

MARSHAL
DANVERS, SO. DANVER
EXPRESS.

Leave DANVERS (daily) at 9 A.
" SALEM at 1½ P. M.

OFFICES:

In Danvers—At E B Waitt's and the
Danversport—Richards' and A W Wa
In So. Danvers—Francis Dane & Co's
street.
In Salem—No 7 Washington street, 1
17 Derby Square.
All business promptly and faithfully
—— Our patrons are particularl
write their orders.
——Packages left at the office, sho
"Marshall's Express."
—— Being connected with the
are enabled to forward Notes, Draf
collection, and small packages, to point in the United States, at the
P. G.
dec18-tf

WEBBER
South Danvers & Salem Ma

WILL leave South Danvers at 7½ a
1½ and 5 P M.
Leaves Salem at 8.45 A M., 12 M., 2
Slates will be found in South Danve
Office, and at Blake & Holman's sto
ment, and in Salem at the Coach Stat
Street, and at E F & J W Roberts', co
Washington Streets.
Any packages or business entrusted
will have prompt attention and care.
lic patronage is solicited.
PARKE

Important to the A

DR. DOW continues to be consulte
Nos. 7 and 9 Endicott street, Bost
eases of a

PRIVATE OR DELICATE N

By a long course of study and pract
of unlimited extent. Dr. D. has now t
of presenting the unfortunate with
have never, since he first introduced cure the most alarming cases of

GONORRHŒA AND SYP

Beneath his treatment, all the horr and impure blood, Impotency, Scrofu Ulcers, pain and distress in the regi
tion, Inflammation of the Bladder and
drocele, Abcesses, Humors, frightful
the long train of horrible symptoms class of disease, are made to become the simplest ailings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS

Dr. D. devotes a great part of his ti
ment of those cases caused by a secre
habit, which ruins the body and mind
unfortunate individual for business or
of the sad and melancholy effects prod habits of youth, are Weakness of limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness
pitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Ner
rangement of the digestive functions,
Consumption, &c. The fearful effects are much to be dreaded; loss of mem
of ideas, depression of spirits, ev
aversion of society, self-distrust, tim among the evils produced. Such perso fore contemplating matrimony, consult experience, and be at once restored
happiness.
Patients who wish to remain under D
ment a few days or weeks, will be fu
pleasant room s, and charges for board m
Medicines sent to all parts of the cou directions for use, on receiving descr cases. Dr. Dow has also for sale the warranted the best preventive. Orde
or $1 and a red stamp.

CAUTION

TO FEMALES IN DELICATE

DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, 7
street, Boston, is consulted daily for all dent to the female system. Prolapsus
ing of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Suppres
er menstrual derangements, are all trea pathological principles, and speedy reli in a very few days. So invariably cert mode of treatment, that most obstina yield under it, and the afflicted person
in perfect health.
Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater ex cure of diseases of women and child
other physician in Boston.
Boarding accommodations for patie wish to stay in Boston a few days u
ment.
Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined tention to an office practice, for the cu Diseases and Female Complaints, ack
superior in the United States.
N. B.—All letters must contain four
they will not be answered.
Office Hours from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.

CERTAIN CURE

IN ALL CASES, OR NO CHARG

Dr. Dow is consulted daily, from 8 a as above, upon all difficult and chron
every name and nature, having by his tention and extraordinary success gaine which calls patients from all parts of
obtain advice.
Among the physicians in Boston, non in the profession than the celebrated 7 Endicott street, Boston. Those who vices of an experienced physician and s give him a call. P. S.—Dr. Dow impo sale a new article, called the French S
by mail. Two for $1 and a red stamp.
April 20, 1864—1y.

NEW WHITE WAR

DINNER, Tea and Toilet Ware, new pattern, Ribbon Border, a
je22 S C & E A SIMONDS', 32

South Danvers Wizard.

L. V. SOUTH DANVERS, MASS., WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 3, 1864. NO. 31.

OUTH DANVERS WIZARD
every WEDNESDAY, at Allen's Build-
Danvers Square.
Two Dollars a year.
SEMENTS inserted at reasonable rates.
HARLES D. HOWARD,
TOR AND PROPRIETOR.

NILES, Advertising Agent,
lay's Building, Court Street, Boston, is for that city, and is authorized to re-ertisements and subscriptions for us at t rates.

Selected Poetry.

[From the Hingham Journal.]

SOUTH WILL CONQUER.

erring grow on apple-trees,
ds shall sting instead of bees,— ephants shall swarm the air, squitoes prove wing'd insects rare;—
pes and baboons cease from grinning, nkeys' tails prevent their shinning,— he owl's eye, at night, grows dim, the fish forget to swim,— misses, those of great pretence, rive to talk with common sense,—
many, robed in costly dress, others more, and vain show less,— dandies, wearing unpaid suits, more calf than are their boots,
op their "aw's" for language plain,
hey had a little brain,— bachelors grow fond of babies, orth, not wealth, shall make the ladies,— good wives cease from stockings darning, ps and fools all take to farming,— sneaking cowards have no fears, rocodiles shed honest tears,— not an office holds the man, heart to rob rich Uncle Sam,— truth is found in secesh papers, uch things be as honest traitors,— freedom proves a curse or bane, o virtue slavery shall attain,— such blood, shed at Lexington, in our veins shall ever run,
we stretch out no hand to save boon our fathers, dying, gave,— God forsakes His Throne on high, stars no more bedeck the sky,— Truth is crushed to rise no more, heaven's angels sin adore,
glory leave for haunts of men,
at Freedom's death would shout 'Amen,'—
en all of these things shall occur, now may reasonably infer day of jubilee will have come ll the rebs in christendom, on that day, looked for by them,
South will conquer, but not till then.

LINCOLN.

S. Gunboat Gennessee, }
Mobile, June 14, 1864. }

Selected.

DEWDROPS OF WISDOM.

The praises of others may be of use teaching us, not what we are, but at we ought to be.

It is a dull and hurtful pleasure to have do with people who admire us, and prove of all we say.

Ignorance and conceit are two of the orst qualities to combat. It is easier dispute with a statesman than a blockead.

There is an essential meanness in the ish to get the better of any one; the nly competition worthy a wise man is ith himself.

A man should manifest and communiate his joy, but as much as possible onceal and smother his grief.

Be calm and quiet in your life. You re not necessarily serviceable to others when you are troublesome to yourself.

A man's character is frequently treated like a grate—blackened all over first to come out the brighter afterwards.

Open your heart to sympathy, but close it to despondency. The flower, which opens to receive the dew, shuts against rain.

Pleasure is sometimes only a change of pain. A man who has had the gout, feels first rate when he gets down to rheumatism.

The progress of knowledge is slow.—Like the sun, we cannot see it moving; but after a while we perceive that it has moved, nay, that it has moved onward.

One of the saddest things about human nature is, that a man may guide others in the path of life, without walking in it himself; that he may be a pilot, and yet a castaway.

Every art is best taught by example; good deeds are productive of good friends.

☞ Two gentlemen were riding in a stage-coach, when one of them, misplacing his handkerchief, rashly accused the other of having stolen it; but soon finding it, had the good manners to beg pardon for the affront, saying it was a mistake; to which the other replied, with great readiness, "Don't be uneasy, it was a mutual mistake; you took me for a thief, and I took you for a gentleman."

THE TWO GHOSTS.

In a certain parish in the west of Scotland, there lived about twenty years since, and for aught we know to the contrary, they live there still, a couple of swains of the names of Andrew Dobbie and Robert Logan. They were both farm-servants, and resided near each other, their employers being neighbors.

At the distance of about a mile from the residences of these worthies, there lived another party of no less importance to our story. This person was a pretty girl of the name of Betsy Hamilton. She was the only daughter of a small laird, and was, on this account chiefly, but partly also, there is no doubt, on account of her beauty, sadly annoyed with lovers, but most especially by Andrew and Bob. Others came only at intervals, stopped but a short time if they met with no encouragement, and could be dismissed at pleasure. Not so with either of the two just named. They were both most pertinacious if not welcome wooers. Their visits were frequent, and no discouragement could damp the ardor of their pursuit, nor any hints, however unequivocal, abbreviate their stay. In this respect, in firmness of purpose, so far as courting was concerned, they bore a wonderful resemblance to each other, as the object of their regards found to her sad experience, for she liked neither of them, and was heartily sick of their pertinacity, but she could not help herself. She could by no means get quit of them, and at this, Betsy was the more annoyed that the visits of these two lovers frequently interfered with and interrupted certain tete-a-tetes with a more favored suitor, whose calls were always welcome. This happy person was Geordie White, a young man, a gardener with a gentleman in the neighborhood. After what we have said, it would be quite superfluous to observe that Andrew and Robert were rivals, and, quite as superfluous almost would it be to say, that they hated each other most cordially, and were morbidly jealous of one another's success with their fair enslaver, whom each endeavored to prejudice against the other. Although both were in the habit of visiting Betsy, yet they rarely met on these occasions, as, from a perfectly natural feeling, they studiously avoided each other, and so arranged their proceedings as to come in contact as seldom as possible. Their visits were always made after night-fall, that they might not be seen by Betsy's father, a crusty, sturdy old carle, who would have broken their legs had he caught them after his daughter. In daylight, therefore, they durst never be seen within a mile of Winnlestead, which was the name of old Hamilton's farm. They must come under the cloud of night. This, neither of the lovers would have reckoned any great hardship—no hardship at all, indeed, were it not that in going to Winnlestead they had to pass close by an old country church-yard, and that of course after dark too. Now there was nothing on earth that both Andrew and Bob dreaded so much as ghosts, witches, and the other members of the hobgoblin fraternity. The passing of the churchyard, therefore, in the dark, was a dreadful trial to their nerves, and such a one as nothing but the charms of Betsy Hamilton could have induced them to submit to. Having mentioned these particulars, which will be found to be intimately connected with the sequel of our tale, we shall ourselves pay a visit to Winnlestead, and in doing this we shall find Bob Logan and Betsy Hamilton in earnest and apparently loving confab together through the kitchen window, she on the inside and he on the out; for it was thus that all their interviews were carried on, Betsy's lovers always tapping at the window when they wished to speak with her. Bob was delighted with the change of manner in his sweetheart; and in the confidence which it inspired ventured to complain of the visits of his rival.

"I'm sure I dinna want to see him," replied Betsy to an insinuation of this kind. "I dinna want ever to see the face o' him again. I canna be fashed wi' the hav'rel." "Are ye speaking true, Betsy?" said her simple swain, with a sheepish tenderness in his look and manner, very naturally conceiving that what his rival lost in her favor he gained. "Indeed I am," replied Betsy, "and I only wish I could put him frae comin' here, for he's just a plague to me." "And what for dinna ye tell him that?" said the delighted lover, "and get quat o' him at ance." "Haith, lad, it's easy spoken. It's no sae easy gettin' quat o' him as ye think. I've tell't him a hunder and a hunder times that I did na want him to be comin' about me, but see if he'll believe me, or stay away a bit the mair on that account. My heart's just broken wi' him; for quit o' him I canna get, do what I will. Od, man, if ye were worth your lugs, Bob, ye wad fa' on some way o' keepin' him away frae me." "What can I do, Betty?" said unsuspecting Bob; "if he'll no tak' your word, far less will he tak' mine." "I'll tell ye what ye micht do, Bob, and I'm sure it wad cure him o' comin' here. Ye ken Andrew dislikes passing the kirkyard at nicht, though as everybody kens, there's naething to be feared for. Now, could nae ye just throw a white sheet about ye some nicht, and waylay him on the skirts of the kirkyards, close by the road, and I warrant, if he get a glint o' ye, he'll no come my way in a hurry again, and the coast wad be clear for yourself, man, Bob," added Betsy, with a sly alluring look.

Bob appreciated the proposal, but by no means relished the idea of performing the business of it. He therefore looked rather blank on its being submitted to him; for he was every bit as great a fool as his rival, and equally dreaded passing the churchyard so that a worse, or more unsuitable hand, frightening another could scarcely have been found. Betsy knew all this very well, but she knew also as well that she had influence enough over Bob to induce him to do almost anything. It was some minutes, however, before Bob made any reply to the daring and horrifying proposal, and during this time he was inwardly cogitating on the possibility of his being able to command nerve enough to go through with it. At length, however, he said with a grim smile, that "he thoct it wad na be a bad plan, and that he wad undertake it." But even while he expressed this determination, a cold shiver came over him, and his teeth chattered in his head. The prize and the reward held out to his valor was a splendid one; the undivided society of Betsy (for Bob knew nothing of the visits of the gardener,) and he resolved to secure it at all hazards. "But," said Bob, with a desire of alleviating as much as possible the part he was to act, "I may wait lang enucht for Andrew, unless I ken precisely the nicht and the hour that he wad pass, and ye ken the kirkyard's but an eerie place to wait in." "Oh, but I'll manage that Robbie, lad," quoth Betsy. "Andrew 'ill be here the morn's nicht—that's Wednesday; now I'll engage him to come again on Thursday night at eight o'clock, so that if ye're at the kirkyard by about half past seven or sae, ye're sure to ha'e him in less than a quarter o' an hour." The lover grinned with satisfaction, and shortly after took his leave; having, however, previously again promised Betsy to enact the part assigned him.

On the following night, as Betsy had calculated, Andrew made his appearance, and was received with an unwonted welcome by his fair captivator. Andrew was delighted with his reception; for as in the case of his rival, it was so marked as to be at once perceptible. "When did ye see Bob, Andrew?" inquired Betsy. "No this sometime," replied latter, "and I care na if I should never see him." "Nor me, either," rejoined Betsy, "he's a stupid gomeral." "And what for do you encourage him then, Betty?" inquired her lover. "Me encourage him! My word, I gie him nae encouragement! I canna bide the sicht o' him, and wad gie the best gown I hae to be quat o' him."

To make a long tale short, the wicked Betsy played off precisely the same game with Andrew that she had done with Bob; he was to frighten his rival, the following night, and in the same manner. This matter arranged, Andrew shortly after went his way, but it was by no means with a light heart; for the promise he had made hung heavy on his spirits, and the thought of the part he had undertaken to act, chilled him not a little. He, however, determined to go through with it; the hopes of supplanting his rival rising superior to his fears, and endowing him with a desperate resolution that by no means belonged to his natural character. The reader will observe, that the two made up figures were by Betty's wicked ingenuity, now fairly pitted against each other at the same place and hour. The plot was no doubt reprehensible. The eventful night having arrived, and the appointed hour being at hand, Bob slipped out of his master's house, with one of the sheets of his bed rolled up in a pocket handkerchief, and stuffed beneath his buttoned jacket. Thus provided, with a beating heart, and with by no means the firmest step, or the most tightly braced nerves, he proceeded to the scene of action. The night was admirably adapted for his purpose, there being just the precise quantity of moonlight that shows him off to the best advantage; not so much as to divulge details, but just enough to set the imagination on the stretch, and to set it a-working on the slightest hint.

As Bob approached the churchyard, a cold sweat broke out over him, and he felt his knees very sensibly yielding under him at every two or three steps. He pushed on, however, and having gained the burying ground, selected a large flat grave-stone, raised in the usual way on four short pillars, as a place of concealment—that is, making it so, by lying behind it. This stone lay a little way into the churchyard, and at the distance of about ten yards from the road by which Bob expected Andrew to pass. There was one nearly equally good for the former's purpose close by that he had chosen, and parallel to it, but the one he selected, was on the whole, the better, being a little higher than the other, and perhaps a trifle longer—qualities which Bob thought, during the momentary consideration he gave the subject, more than compensated the advantage the other stone possessed in being a little nearer to the road. Having selected his locality, Bob crouched behind the stone, and commenced his toilet. In an instant he was enveloped from head to foot in the snowy covering. Flinging himself now down at full length behind the grave-stone, he there lay quietly and immovably awaiting the sound of his rival's approaching footsteps, which he proposed should be the signal for his making his appearance.

Leaving Bob thus disposed of for a time, it will not be unamusing, perhaps, to follow out briefly the proceedings of Andrew, in connection with the business of this eventful evening. These, in truth, however, very much resembled those of the former. Andrew also provided himself with a sheet, and when the appointed hour approached, repaired with it concealed about his person to the churchyard. This, however, he did with no greater good will than his rival, and by no means with any greater degree of courage. In truth, he was, if possible, still more oppressed by fear than his rival. Still he determined to go through with the thing, for the motives were very strong that impelled him—love for Betty, and hatred of Bob. Wrapping the sheet about his person, and with as stout a heart as possible, he stepped over the wall of the rural cemetery, which was a low one, and walked forward in quest of an advantageous position. His eye caught the two large stones already spoken of, and behind one of which Bob was ensconced, and he thought them both eligible, but he preferred the one nearest the road, not Bob's, and accordingly strode towards it, for he entertained the same purpose of seeking concealment until he became aware of the approach of his victim. Bob heard a footstep. He looked up, but without moving, and beheld—oh, horrible! oh, distracting! oh, annihilating sight!—a tall figure in white approaching him. He would have emitted a murderous shout, blending together all that is appalling in sound, but his tongue refused its office. He would have started to his legs, but they failed him in his need. They were powerless. His vital energies were locked up with terror; he was chained to the spot by it; and all that he could do was to stare with suspended breath, dilated nostrils, and frightfully distended eyeballs, on the hideous phantom. It approached. Bob's head began to swim, his eyes became dim, and, in the next instant he was unconscious of his situation and the appalling presence he was in. He had swooned.

Andrew, in the meantime, wholly unaware of the powerful effect he was producing, moved on towards the place of concealment he had fixed upon, and having arrived at it, stretched himself down at full length parallel to Bob by the side of the adjoining stone, to await in this situation the approach of his rival. The matter thus disposed of, all remained quiet for some time. At length Bob recovered a sense of his horrible predicament, and had begun to stare around him again in quest of the appalling vision that had blasted his sight, but not seeing it, he gradually raised himself on his elbow to command a wider view, and finally raised his head slowly above the surface of the stone behind which he was concealed. Now it happened that Andrew, becoming impatient at the non-appearance of his victim, raised his head of the level of his stone at the very same instant, and thus two pale faces and sheet-hooded heads fairly confronted each other, and at the distance only of a few yards. It was an awful moment. Petrified with horror, they stared at each other for several seconds in the motionless agony of overwhelming, inexpressible terror, but at length both sprang to their feet, and each thinking the other was about to come to closer quarters, both gave a desperate and unearthly shout, and took to their heels in opposite directions. Bob, whose route was inland, flew over the churchyard with an amazing speed and lightness of foot, but unhappily stumbled frequently in his route. He in truth came down every two or three paces, and some of his falls were severe; but so rapid were his motions—under the influence of the maddening terror by which he was impelled—that they scarcely seemed to interrupt his progress for the shortest imaginable space of time. He was on his feet instantaneously, and away, again, like the wind. The churchyard, for it was walled at the upper end and at one of the sides, he cleared at a bound, sheet and all, and away over the open country he went, clearing hedges and ditches with the agility of a harlequin.

Andrew, in the meantime, had gained the road, alongst which, he too, was flying with desperate speed and with horror and distraction in his looks. The two wayworn figures finally arrived, in a most piteous plight, at their respective homes, but both having taken the precaution to divest themselves previously of their sheets. It was not for some time certainly known what had happened to them, as they would divulge nothing themselves. That they had got some dreadful fright or other, however, was the firm conviction of both the families to which they respectively belonged; their horror-stricken looks, when they arrived, and the fact of both keeping their beds for nearly a week after, strongly confirming this view of the case. Both heard of each other's mysterious adventure, and subsequent illness, together with a whisper that they had seen something "no canny," but this, in place of leading them to a discovery of the fact, only confirmed their previous impressions; both believing that they had encountered the same object. We need hardly add, that neither Andrew nor Bob ever went near Winnelstead again. They durst not go in daylight, for a reason already mentioned; and for another reason, which the reader will readily guess, they would not go after dark for all the wealth of the world. It may not be necessary to state, that in less than three months after the exhibition in the churchyard, Betty Hamilton and Geordy White were married, and that, soon after that event, the real facts of the story, as we have told it, got abroad, to the great confusion of the unlucky "gomerals," who had been the victims of it.

NO BEANS FOR BREAKFAST.—In the town of Jefferson, Wisconsin, lives Deacon M.,—a very pious and exemplary man. In his family, as in most others in that locality, baked beans form the most substantial part of the breakfast on Sunday morning. It came to be, after a while, that the appearance of this time-honored luxury for the morning repast was a sort of notice to the deacon that the duties of the Sabbath had been entered upon. On one Sabbath morning, however, for some reason or other, this customary dish was omitted in the family. Immediately after breakfast, the deacon as usual, took his hoe, went into the field, pulled off his coat and went to work.

His wife and daughters, noticing this from the house with great astonishment, despatched John, the eldest son, to the field to inquire of his father why he worked on the Lord's day. On drawing near, John cried out: "Father, father, what are you doing? It is Sunday—it is Sunday!" "Sunday! Sunday!" exclaimed the deacon. "That can't be; we did not have beans for breakfast."

☞ In conformity to the old custom of advertising from the public sign-post all intentions of marriage, the following announcement was once made:—"Marriage is intended between Mr. Williams, of Williamstown, and Miss Betsey Williams, of Williamsbridge." A mischievous wag, to make it still more explicit, wrote underneath:—For particulars see small bills next year.

The following burlesque printed report of a Journeymen Painters' Meeting, was recently picked up near the Post Office, among some loose paper. As we have had no painters' strikes, in this vicinity, we presume the document must have been dropped by a stranger; and that it was made up at the instigation of some party, who do not believe in the utility of "strikes."

TO THE

BOSS PAINTERS
And their Employers.

It having been currently reported that the Meeting which was held by the Journeymen Painters in this city, on the 18th instant, was a dark lantern affair, and that business was transacted to injure the Boss Painters, we therefore give you the doings of said meeting verbatim, to clear us of any such charges. The meeting was called to order by the senior Brown, while the junior Brown was entertaining a couple of pot sloppers on the rise of salt cod-fish. Philip, the greatest artist of the present age, was called to the chair amidst the most deafening cheers, and O B Joyful was chosen secretary. Here Phil. arose to address the audience, but was interrupted by Old Ned the cooper, who thought that to insure success, the meeting should be opened with prayer, and Ned was called upon to address the throne; but he begged to be excused for the reason that he was an Episcopalian, and could not pray from the heart; but as Brother Josey is here, and as he is of the Methodist order, he will do so with pleasure. Here Josey assumed a ministerial look, and ground out the following

PRAYER.

O Father, we have met together this evening to consider the value of our services and the small compensation that we receive for them; teach our bosses, O Lord, to know that we are better than they, and without us they are mere nothing. Give us faith to hold out until our employers comply with our demands. Cause them to lose money on all the contracts they have taken or may take. Suffer their stock to dry into skins, and their benzine to evaporate into thin air. Guide them in the paths of wickedness during their pilgrimage on this earth, and finally bring them to everlasting damnation. Amen.

Here Phil. took the floor amidst the most tremendous cheering, and spoke as follows:—Gentlemen, artists, painters, lumpers, loafers and pot sloppers, it is with unbounded pleasure that I accept the position of chairman of this meeting, and I would state to you all that the necessaries of this life are entirely out of the reach of all of us, with the paltry sum of two dollars per day, and I think, fellow-citizens, that three dollars is little enough for loafing around any man's premises ten long hours, separated from his dear wife and little ones, and worse than all, more than a mile from the nearest beer-barrel. (Here the speaker was interrupted by cries of That's so, bully for you, etc., when he resumed as follows:) I would also state, that government has put another tax on whiskey, which makes it more necessary that our pay should advance. Bucksport herrings that once sold for ten cents per dozen, now retail for the enormous sum of two cents each. Think of that, my hearers, and then think of two paltry dollars for a whole day's labor. Finally, let me give you my word, and that you all know is as good as my note (for everybody has got one of them,) that I for one will stick out until our bosses give us our demands; and if any man in this room feels as though he could not afford to hold out during this strike, I will maintain him and his family. I will also furnish all the beer during this strike. (Here Ned again interrupted the speaker and offered the following resolutions, which were unanimously passed:)

Resolved, That our chairman is a perfect brick, and an artist far superior to Rubens.

Resolved, That we will not work for less than two fifty per day, with the privilege of picking up all loose articles about the premises on which we are working, the bosses to be held responsible for all things missing.

Resolved, That we procure a five-gallon keg of ale, to be drank immediately by this party, to be paid for by the chairman.

Resolved, That we have the right to examine our employers' books and papers once every month, to see how much they make.

Resolved, That any man that works during this strike is a villain of the deepest dye, and should be stoned to death as Stephen of old was.

Resolved, That we drink as often as we are asked during this strike.

Resolved, That we give three cheers for the chairman, and adjourn to the United States Hotel.

ADVERTISING.—Many persons have an idea that after they have been some time in business it is not necessary to advertise further. But that is an idea suited to dead men, and not to those who mean to compete in the struggles of life. Do they suppose that nobody is born here? That the same people are purchasing now that did ten years ago?—Statesman.

FISH FOR MANURE.—Thousands of white fish (used for dressing land) are caught in the pounds at the mouth of the Connecticut river, which were made for catching shad. At one haul, recently, twenty-one sharks, from three to four feet in length, were drawn in.

☞ When men try to get more good than comes from well doing, they always get less.

Curiosities of the Ocean Bottom.

Mr. Green, the famous diver, tells very singular stories of his adventures, when making search in the deep waters of the ocean. He gives some new sketches of what he saw at the "Silver Banks," near Hayti:

The banks of coral on which my divings were made, are about ten or twenty feet in breadth. On this bank of coral is presented to the diver one of the most beautiful and sublime scenes the eye ever beheld. The water varies from ten to one hundred feet in depth, and is so clear that the diver can see from two to three hundred feet when he is submerged, with but little obstruction to the sight.

The bottom of the ocean, in many places, is as smooth as a marble floor; in others it is studded with coral columns from ten to one hundred feet in height, and from one to eighty feet in diameter. The tops of those more lofty support a myriad of pyramidal pendants, each forming a myriad more; giving the reality to the imaginary abode of some water nymphs. In other places the pendants form arch after arch; and as the diver stands on the bottom of the ocean, and gazes through these in the deep wending avenues, he finds that they fill him with as sacred an awe as if he were in some old cathedral, which had been buried beneath the "old ocean's wave." Here and there the coral extends even to the surface of the water, as if those loftier columns were towers belonging to those stately temples that are now in ruins.—There were countless varieties of diminutive trees, shrubs and plants in every crevice of the corals, where the water had deposited the least earth. They were all of a faint hue, owing to the pale light they received, although of every shade, and entirely different from plants I am familiar with, that vegetate upon dry land. One in particular attracted my attention; it resembled a sea fan of immense size and variegated colors, and the most brilliant hues. The fish which inhabit those "Silver Banks," I have found as different in kind as the scenery is varied. They were of all form, colors, and sizes—from the symmetrical body of the globe-like sunfish, from those of the dullest hue to the changeable dolphin, from the spots of the leopard to the hues of the sunbeam, from the harmless minnow to the voracious shark.

Some had heads like squirrels, others like cats and dogs; one of small size resembled the bull terrier. Some darted through the water like meteors, while others could be scarcely seen to move.—To enumerate and explain all the various kinds of fish beheld, while diving on these banks, would, were I enough of a naturalist so to do, require more than the limits would allow, for I am convinced that most of the kinds of fish which inhabit the tropical seas can be found there. The sun-fish, saw-fish, white shark, blue or shovel nose shark, were often seen. There were also fish which resembled plants, and remained as fixed in their position as a shrub; the only power they possessed was to open and shut when in danger.

Some of them resembled the rose in full bloom, and were of all hues. There were the ribbon fish, from four to five inches to three feet in length. They build their houses like beavers, in which they spawn, and the male or female watches the eggs until they hatch. I saw many specimens of the green turtle some five feet long, which I should think would weigh from four to five hundred pounds.

RATHER HARD.—Mr. Reade, the new writer on Africa, says of the skull of the negro: that at Senegal he saw a Wolof soldier in the French service who had been hit in the os frontis with a bullet at the distance of fifteen yards, and the bullet had flattened against it as though it were a wall.

MONSTER MORTAR.—A letter from the Army of the Potomac states that a monster mortar, weighing over 17,000 pounds, and vomiting a 200-lb. shell 13 inches in diameter, has been placed in position before Petersburg, and has introduced itself to the rebels, to their great surprise.

☞ A little boy, some six years old, was using his slate and pencil on the Sabbath, when his father, who was a clergyman, entered and said—"My son, I prefer that you use not your slate on the Lord's day." "I'm making meeting houses, father," was the prompt reply.

The Wizard.

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 3, 1864.

FOSTER GUARD.

This Company, known in military circles as Company B, of the 17th regiment, having finished its career, is entitled to some notice at our hands. The principal facts touching its organization and services should be put on record in a convenient and connected form, especially as it is a South Danvers company, and was the first to enlist in the war.

It will be remembered that upon the evening of the 18th of April, 1861, the day before our troops were assaulted and several of them slain in Baltimore, while on their way to the relief of the city of Washington, a meeting was held at the Town Hall, to consult upon public affairs.

As this company really originated at that meeting, and as it was the first war meeting ever held in South Danvers, a reference to it seems properly to come into the history of the company. The meeting was called by a poster, printed at the Wizard Office, reading as follows:

WAR. WAR. WAR.

CITIZENS AROUSE!

There will be a meeting at the Town Hall, to-night, April 18th, at 7½ o'clock, for the purpose of adopting measures towards defraying the expenses of fitting out all persons disposed to render services to their country in the present crisis.

(Signed) R. G. Nelson, Stephen Blaney, Sidney C. Bancroft, Moses Shackley, Benjamin C. Perkins.

Although this notice was posted late in the afternoon, yet such was the excited state of the public mind, before the hour of meeting, the spacious Town Hall was densely packed in every part.

The meeting was called to order by Sidney C. Bancroft, who briefly stated the object of the gathering, and called for the nomination of officers for a permanent organization. B. C. Perkins was chosen chairman, and Charles D. Howard secretary. At this meeting the greatest enthusiasm was manifested by the audience, and $3,000 was raised to aid recruits. Remarks were made by Mr. Bancroft, Mr. Perkins, A. A. Abbott, Thomas E. Proctor, Isaac Hardy, James P. King, John W. Proctor, Robert S. Daniels, Alfred McKenzie, Franklin Upton, Capt. Samuel C. Oliver, and H. L. Hadley.

For a detailed account of this meeting, reference may be had to the WIZARD of April 24th, 1861. On motion of J. W. Procter, seconded by Mr. Bancroft, and supported by remarks of R. S. Daniels, it was voted to choose a committee to consider the expediency of forming a military company. The following named gentlemen were chosen upon this committee:—A. A. Abbott, S. C. Bancroft, R. G. Nelson, Stephen Blaney, Frank T. Arnold, and James P. King.

At an adjournment of the meeting, Mr. Bancroft, in behalf of the committee, reported in favor of the expediency of raising a company. An enlistment paper was immediately drawn up, and some 30 names were obtained on the spot.

This formed the nucleus of the Foster Guard. The roll was rapidly filled up, and when the required number was obtained, a meeting of the company was held at the Town Hall, for the purpose of organizing under the Massachusetts militia law. The company went into a ballot for officers, which resulted in the choice of Sidney C. Bancroft as Captain, John Dunney as 1st Lieutenant, John E. Mullally as 2d Lieutenant, Robert B. Bancroft as 3d Lieutenant, and Michael O'Flaherty as 4th Lieutenant. Commissions dated May 8, 1861, were accordingly given by the Governor to these officers.

The company continued along from week to week in a continual course of military drill, with muskets borrowed of a Salem gentleman, till the latter part of June, when an order was received from the Governor requiring them to go into camp. In pursuance of this order they pitched their tents on the plain between Tapley Brook and the Sheep Pasture Hills, and named the camp, Camp King. Here they remained about a fortnight, when they received another order to report at the Regimental Camp, to be formed for the 17th regiment at Lynnfield. Upon this they struck their tents and started for Lynnfield, marching in full ranks down to the Square, where they met company C, of Danvers, under command of Captain Fuller.

The two companies were furnished with a collation, served at the Exchange News Room, after which they entered the cars and proceeded to their new camp, which was called Camp Schouler, out of respect to Adjutant General Schouler.

They arrived at Camp Schouler, July 10th. Upon the 22d day of July, they were mustered into the U. S. service as Company B, of the 17th Regiment.—Upon being mustered into the United States service, but two Lieutenants were allowed to the company. The 1st Lieutenant, Mr. Dunney, having resigned, Robert B. Bancroft was commissioned for that office, and Mr. Mullally receiving his commission as 2d Lieutenant.

From this point the history of the company, for the three years it continued in the service, is identified almost wholly with the history of the regiment. It has been with the regiment most all of the time—though several times for short periods it has been on detached service.

Upon the 23d of August, 1861, the company left Lynnfield with the regiment for the seat of war. When the company marched off the field and entered the cars it had 101 men, the exact maximum number required by law. The regiment reached Baltimore two days afterwards, and was there ordered into camp, near the westerly border of the city. They bivouaced in the open field, the first night, as the camp they were to occupy was not to be vacated by the Pennsylvania regiment, which then occupied it, till the next day.

In the evening of the next day they marched to Stuarts' Grove, and pitched their tents under the shade of that rebel General's luxuriant trees. The regiment remained in Baltimore till March 26th, 1862, when they started for Newbern, N. C.

About the middle of December, 1861, 1st Lieut. R. B. Bancroft resigned his commission, and, the latter part of the month, Capt. Bancroft was compelled by protracted sickness, to resign his position. Afterwards Lieutenant Tompkins of the Haverhill Company, was promoted to the position resigned by Captain Bancroft, and 2d Lieut. Mullally was made 1st Lieutenant, and Mr. Poor, the Sergeant Major of the regiment, was made 2d Lieutenant.

While at Baltimore the company was detached for a few days to guard long bridge leading from the city over into Ann Arundel County. This little military episode afforded a very pleasant change from the monotony of camp life. Here the company commanded their own post, and were a little army to themselves. But General Dix, the Department Commander, thinking it not necessary to guard bridges longer, soon ordered the company back to the regiment.

In Baltimore, the company kept its roll full. New recruits often arrived and wished to join this company, but were not all of them able to, as the regular number of men could not be exceeded.

The following members of the Company have re-enlisted:

Alfred Hopkirk,
William Chambers,
Chas. M. Woodbury,
Chas. E. Barry,
Oliver Parker,
Aaron Guilford,
Henry M. Derx,
Joseph Y. Dakin,
Abraham Barrett,
Henry B. Skinner,
John Hart,
Samuel E. Tucker,
George Pitman,
George Pitman, Jr.,
David Gleason.

Fifty-two men have returned as appears by the following list, furnished us by the Orderly Sergeant:

Sergeant E. H. Farnham,
" B. R. Arrington,
" J. H. Leonard,
" R. Davis,
" D. Galeucia,
Corporal E. H. Davis,
" H. A. Stone,
" E. Cassidy,
" J. Galeucia,*
" C. Chamberlain,*
" J. McCormick,*
Adams Daniel C.,
Buxton George Jr.,
Buckley Michael,
Boyle William,
Battye James,*
Carroll Jeremiah,
Coleman David,*
Chalmers John,
Cronin Patrick,
Conway John,
Devine John,
Dempsey John,
Duke Edward,
Fox Lawrence,
Fields Robert M., Galeucia Pulaski,*
Horrigan Cornelius,
Howard Stephen,
Lucy Michael,
Moulton William B.,*
McCormick Michael,
McDonald Eneas,
McLellan George,
Marley Richard,
Nolan James,
O'Shea Patrick,
Osborn Elijah P.,
Paton Andrew,
Ring John,
Rhodes Benj. Y.,
Ricker Richard,
Roche James,
Scanlan Michael,
Stevens Daniel W.,
Siner William,
Sullivan Eugene,*
Sheehan Edward,
Thomas George W.,
Twiss Joseph E.,
Tarbox Henry H.,
Townsend Chas H.,*
Very Jacob H.

It may be mentioned as a singular fact that not a death has occurred in the company since it was formed. We think this cannot be said of many of the three years companies. Two of its original recruits, who were discharged for disability, died after their discharge. These were Thomas Hartman of Danvers, and George A. Beckett, son of Benj. Beckett, of this town. Thirty were discharged before their term expired, for physical disability.

The company has been in several battles and a great many skirmishes. The following members have been wounded: Samuel G. Roberts, at Goldsboro, N. C., and afterwards at Blounts Mills; Andrew Kelley and John Desmond were also wounded at Goldsboro; Abraham Barrett at Blounts' Mills, and Martin Goldthwait at Winton.

S. G. Roberts was appointed a Sergeant before the company left So. Danvers, but has since been commissioned as 2d Lieutenant, but was assigned to another company.

---

*These men were enlisted after July 22-61, and prior to January 1-62, and may possibly be required to finish their term.

COMPLIMENTARY PIC-NIC TO THE FOSTER GUARD.

Last Saturday was a gala day for the returned members of this company and their numerous friends. Agreeably to the notice advertised in our last, a grand pic-nic was given them at Pine Grove. The Committee of Arrangements—consisting of S. C. Bancroft, Hugh McKinney, I. P. Leavitt, Thomas Carroll, H. E. Larrabee, P. Mason, Wm. Carroll, B. Hayes, P. Sheehan, M. Donavan, M. Kelley, T. Sheehan—had made every necessary preparation for the occasion. The weather was delightful; it was not only pleasant, but the sky was free from any threatening signs. Pine Grove is a pleasant retreat, situated about half way between the Old Boston Road and the Turnpike, on the northerly brow of Lookout Hill. The Grove consists principally of hard pine trees, intespersed with a few white pines, red cedars and maples, and affords a good shade to several acres of gently sloping land. Upon the edge of the Grove there is a never failing spring that yields, even in this drought, when most springs are dry, an abundant supply of cold fresh water.

There is a platform forty feet by fifty—the same one that was formerly at King's Grove, having been moved from there by the members of the Foster Guard upon the occasion of their Farewell Pic-Nic in 1861. A few rods in the rear of the Grove is a prominent boulder, very widely known as Look-out Rock. The prospect from this elevated point is well worth a stroll thither. From there can be plainly seen the city of Boston and surrounding country, Bunker Hill Monument, the high lands of Topsfield, Boxford, Beverly, Manchester, and, on a clear day, many points upon the South Shore. The sea view is very beautiful, commanding a broad and distant sweep of Massachusetts Bay. The most direct route to the Grove is up Washington street as far as Tapley Brook, there turning into Granite street, and then by a winding, but graded way, to the Grove. Carriages can safely pass all the way, but coaches generally land and receive their passengers about half way in from the street.

We give these particulars because we do not recollect having seen in the public prints any account or description of this locality, although several very successful pic-nics have been held there. Indeed, we are not aware that there is at the present time any other place in town suitable and prepared for such a use. The Committee of Arrangements caused the platform to be thoroughly repaired, and seats to be built on three sides, which afforded a barrier that prevented an accidental stepping off, and also excellent seats for the spectators to witness the dancing.

Several large flags were draped and suspended around the platform. Upton's Quadrille Band furnished the music. The dancing commenced at about three o'clock and continued till eight. This recreation was participated in by a very large number of persons. Old and young seemed to enjoy it equally well. We saw some dancing who seemed to be from fifty to sixty, and others as young as seven or eight.

Copenhagen, too, was well patronized by those who fancied this lively and exciting rustic sport. Others were engaged in swinging.

Caterers were upon the ground furnishing ice-cream and other refreshments as wanted.

The exercises were promptly suspended at 8 o'clock, as it had been previously determined to close before dark. Take the occasion all in all, it may be set down as a decided success. Perfect order was maintained throughout. The returned members of the company were nearly all present, and seemed to enter into all the enjoyments with great zest. There was quite a number present from our neighboring town of Danvers, including some of their most prominent citizens.

All members of the 17th Regiment were admitted free. Tickets to other gentlemen were 50 cents each. Ladies, and children in care of their parents, were also admitted free.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—At the quarrying establishment of George Cram, near Newhall's Crossing, a very grievous accident occurred last Friday, which resulted in the death of Mr. Colman Dole,—Mr. Cram's head teamster. It seems that while Mr. Dole was shackling two freight cars together, the oxen attached to one of them suddenly started and brought the cars together before Mr. Dole was prepared for it, and caught his head between the cars, crushing it very badly, breaking the skull in several places. He expired after lingering in great distress about two days.

Grand Reception of the Returned Soldiers of Danvers.

On last Friday afternoon the people assembled under the marshalship of Capt. A. G. ALLEN, assisted by Dr. J. W. SNOW, GEO. B. MARTIN, H. A. WHITE, and S. D. SHATTUCK, as aids, to give a "welcome home again" to the war-worn veterans, lately returned from the battle fields of Virginia and North Carolina.

Co. C, of the 17th, and the remaining few of Co. I, formerly of the 14th, but now of the 1st H. A., with all others who, having done their duty and been honorably discharged, were the recipients of this ovation.

A company was extemporized by the citizens, with a slight sprinkling of nine months men, to do escort duty on the occasion. These, under the command of Lieutenant BENJAMIN E. NEWHALL, late of the 8th Massachusetts Volunteers, were much spoken of for the precision and skill they exhibited in the performances of their exercises.

This company was formed at the Town House, early in the afternoon, and with the Salem Brass Band to ring forth in music the martial spirit due the event, escorted our veterans, who had also there assembled, to the Square at the Plains. Here they found the people en masse collected from the hills and valleys, from the workshops and fields—aye, from the centre to the circumference of the whole habitable territory;—it was nearly a clean sweep of men, women and children! These were formed into a procession, as well as could be, and with the soldiers, marched through several of our villages, to Porter's Grove, "keeping step to the music of the Union" discoursed in thrilling strains by the band.

Here had been furnished an ample collation by a committee of ladies, acting with the zeal and good sense characteristic of their sex. This committee were chosen from each school district in town, to collect from such as were willing to give bread, pies and cake; and so well did they succeed in their task that no miracle was necessary to feed the multitude. It was estimated that there were more than three thousand persons present.

This vast assemblage was called to order by the President of the occasion, the Hon. J. D. BLACK.

After proper introductory remarks by the President, prayer was offered to the Throne of Grace by the Rev. R. F. CHASE.

A choir of about fifty of our best singers, under the leadership of A. W. TRASK, with thrilling effect, sang a "Welcome Home," in words composed for the occasion, and the woods echoed back in joy and gladness the anthem. Then the people, with their guests, partook of the bountiful repast provided.

After satisfying their material wants, there came "the feast of reason and flow of soul," interspersed with vocal and instrumental exercises, which, taken all in all, were equal, if not superior to anything of the kind that has occurred in the town for a number of years.

The Rev. A. P. PUTNAM, formerly a citizen of the town, made the welcome speech, and, in words of soul-stirring eloquence, power and matchless skill, gave expression to the emotions of all hearts. He had watched with great interest the fate and the fortunes of Co. I, and with his brother A. A. PUTNAM, Esq., who was its first captain, had been connected publicly with many of its early reminiscences. He had especially marked it with his favor, having presented to each of its members a copy of the Bible, as also by other acts, three years ago, before it went into camp;—and his great sense of duty, as a patriot, in the struggles,—the mighty struggles of our country,—enabled him to take deep hold on the conscience and candor of his fellow-citizens in this strange hour.

He was followed by the Rev. J. W. PUTNAM, than whom none is better able to make his hearers understand that "They never fail who die in a just cause; and Though years elapse, and others share as dark a doom,

These but augment the deep and sweeping thoughts
Which overpower all others, and conduct
The world at last to freedom."

S. P. CUMMINGS, who "has seen the enemy," in his fervid and glowing style engaged the attention of the audience by very excellent remarks. I. W. ANDREWS also made some remarks, and read a letter from the Governor, deploring his inability to be present; and one from Hon. JOHN B. ALLEY, which showed that he was hindered by prior engagements, or he certainly would have been with us. It has also been learned that the Hon. S. H. PHILLIPS was prevented from coming on account of afflicting family bereavements.

The meeting at the grove was dissolved by singing our national song, the "Star Spangled Banner."

The people again formed a dense procession, and under escort, with the returned veterans, marched back to the Plains. We observed many expressions of joy on the route, manifested by the people. Flags and devices were seen from many houses. The store of the Messrs. WARREN was almost literally covered with our national emblems. On several other buildings the old flag was flying with many yards of bunting across the streets.

Nothing occurred to mar the pleasantness of this great occasion; but sobriety, peace and happiness accompanied the event from the beginning to the end, giving us an assurance doubly sure that no demoralization shall be an incident of this fearful war now raging among us. The soldier deserves, not only for his heroic valor in springing to the rescue of our beloved country at its first call, high commendation, but for returning a sober and an orderly citizen, unscathed by the immoralities of camp life.

While we make no invidious distinctions in the general activity and strong sympathetic response of the whole community, there are individuals—as there are always on such occasions—who must bear the brunt of the labor in making proper preparations. Among those who may be mentioned as exhibiting untiring energy and industry to make the affair agreeable, none deserve more praise than EBEN G. BERRY and DANIEL EMERSON, Esqs. I might mention others who entered into the matter with all their powers, but the fault-finding and disparaging spirit manifested by some, restrains me.

And now, let me say, in conclusion, the debt we owe the soldiers can never be repaid. No niggardly prudence will answer until our last cent shall have been expended, nor then should we be at all stingy of our deepest gratitude to him for the great sacrifices he has made.

Danvers, Aug. 1, 1864. A.

FIRE.—On Tuesday evening of last week, at about half past 9 o'clock, fire was discovered in the steam tannery of Mr. JOHN FROST, situated in the rear of Main street, near the scene of the late boiler explosion. The fire department was promptly on hand, but the flames, owing to the combustible nature of wooden buildings in these times of drought, had made such fierce headway that all hope of saving the buildings was relinquished, and the firemen accordingly directed their efforts mainly to save the property near by, including the large factory of W. M. JACOBS & SON, which was finally saved by great exertions. Several other buildings near were at one time on fire, and one owned by the Messrs. Jacobs, and placed there the day previous, was partly consumed. The fire probably originated from the boiler, and by the headway it had gathered when discovered, must have been under way some time. Mr. Frost's loss will be about $2,000,—insured for $800. The fire made a brilliant light, which was seen for many miles off. Engines were present from Lynn, Danvers and Salem. A steamer from Salem was also on the ground, but was not used.

We learn that, since the fire, Messrs. Jacobs & Son have purchased the estate of Mr. Frost.

The alarm of fire on Monday afternoon was occasioned by the burning over of large tracts of land, covered with underbrush, woodwax, etc., owned by Messrs. Stephen Blaney, and Hazen Ayer, and situated in the rear of the residence of the former. It is thought to be the work of incendiaries, and we understand that the owners of the land have offered a reward of fifty dollars for the detection of the perpetrators.

A RARE FISH.—A friend has presented us a rare fish, caught, we believe, in the waters near Danversport. It is about a foot in length with a hard, flattened head, and a round, smooth body, beautifully tapering to the tail without ridge or fin on the back. Its belly is white, smooth and soft, but its back is dark and covered with small, compact scales. We sought in vain to find any one who had before seen such a specimen, and just as we were about to give up the search a fisherman told us it was called by his craft a "grunter," but it had another name which he had forgotten. This name was given it on account of a peculiar grunting noise it makes when captured. Another peculiarity of this rare fish is, that it has six legs or tentacles under its head, which it can make flexible or horny at its will. We turned it over to the savans of the Essex Institute, who probably know all about it. Although now rare, it may become as common in our waters as the once rare Tautog or Blackfish.

☞ The Essex Statesman very sagely informs its readers as follows:—"When we see a result we are to suppose that that result was intended and contrived." Suppose it the "result" of an accident! was the accident "intended and contrived?"

SUDDEN DEATH.—We are sorry to record that Mr. RICHARD S. FROTHINGHAM, a well known citizen of this place, dropped down dead at the fire last Tuesday evening, in an apoplectic fit. He was over 70 years of age, and has recently lost a son in the army.

☞ Our old friends, the Buckleys, opened their new hall on Monday last. It is the largest Minstrel Hall in the State. The height of ceiling is 42 feet. It is the coolest hall in the city. Drop in and see them.

MILITARY ITEMS.

Capt. HENRY O. WILEY, twin brother of H. O. Wiley, Esq., of this town, was killed before Atlanta, in the same engagement in which Gen. McPherson lost his life.

Dr. EBENEZER HUNT, who, we believe, is the oldest physician in Danvers, has the appointment of Assistant Surgeon in the 8th Regt., Mass. Vols. His name has been heretofore erroneously reported as Ebenezer "Pope."

A soldier from Danvers named HENDERSON, recently gobbled up with the Mass. 19th Regt., by the rebels, has recently made his escape from prisondom, and is now at home.

CHAS. P. PEIRCE, heretofore reported as missing, and whose friends have been very anxious concerning his fate, is now definitely ascertained to be a prisoner in Danville. His parents received a letter from him last week, mailed from the above place.

We are pained to record the fact that Major Samuel O. Shorey, a brave and accomplished officer, and brother of John L. Shorey, the well known publisher of Boston, was recently killed near Utica, Miss., while taking an active part in the recent Gulf Expedition under Gen. Slocum. He was 35 years of age, and leaves a wife and three children in Memphis, Tenn., where he resided. Mr. Shorey has many friends in Lynn, Salem and South Danvers, who remember him as an able and efficient business man, and who will truely regret his loss.

HUMILIATION AND PRAYER.—President Lincoln has appointed Thursday, (to-morrow,) to be observed by the people of the United States, as a day of national humiliation and prayer, and he invites and requests the heads of the executive departments of this Government, together with all legislators, all judges and magistrates, and all other persons exercising authority in the land, whether civil, military or naval, and all soldiers, seamen and marines in the national service, and all other loyal and law-abiding people of the United States, to assemble in their preferred places of public worship on that day, and there to render to the Almighty and Merciful Ruler of the Universe, such homage and such confessions, and to offer to Him such supplications as the Congress of the United States have, in their recent resolutions so solemnly, so earnestly, and so reverently recommended.

Sergt. Humiston and his Children.

The following narrative will touch the sensibilities of every reader and awaken their curiosity to see the portraits of the three pretty children, whose orphanage has so interested the people of Philadelphia. The piece is copied from the Sunday School Times of that city, and some of the portraits referred to have been sent here and may be had, if applied for soon, at Mrs. MARY LORD's, at 25 cents each. It will be seen that the profit of their sale goes for the benefit of the little orphans:

MR. EDITOR.—One of the most touching incidents of the war, and one that has aroused in the Christian public the deepest sympathy and interest, will be recognized in the story of Sergeant Humiston and his three sweet-faced children, whose picture was found tightly clasped to the dead soldier's heart, on the bloody field of Gettysburg. A fuller history of this tender providence will interest all your readers. I have it from a local paper of Cortland county, N. Y.

Sergeant Humiston lived in Portville, N. Y., an upright and industrious mechanic. In the summer of 1862 he offered himself on the altar of his imperilled country, and enlisted in the 154th regiment N. Y. S. V., on the assurance of citizens that his family would be well cared for.

The testimony of his captain was that Humiston made one of the very best of soldiers.—The 154th regiment was in the 11th corps, and suffered terribly in the first day of the Gettysburg battle, only a handful of men reporting themselves after the fight. It was here that Sergeant Humiston fell.

News came from one and another that went from Portville, until all were heard from except Humiston; no tidings came from him. Some four months had elapsed, and hope had well nigh died out in that poor wife's heart. And here occurred one of those remarkable providences—had it not been for which the fate of Sergeant Humiston would have ever remained a mystery. One of those beautiful illustrations of the kind care of our heavenly Father, who watches over the humblest individual.

Dr. Bourns, of Philadelphia, a very eminent physician and kind-hearted gentleman, went to Gettysburg as a volunteer surgeon; and after completing his duties, started for "the front" on the Potomac. In crossing the mountains, he and his fellow-travelers were forced by an accident to stop at the house of Mr. Schriver, late Sheriff of Adams county. While there one or two of the travelers exhibited relics of the battle-field which they had with them, when Mr. Schriver remarked that he had a relic that he prized more highly than all these. He then produced an ambrotype of three children which was found in the hands of a dead Union soldier on the field the day after the battle. It appeared from the nature of the wound that he might have lived some time after it was received. His coat and hat were gone, and there was nothing found upon him by which it could be known who he was or to what regiment he belonged. The unknown soldier died! Oh! to him how infinitely precious must have been this picture; how his thoughts must have wandered back to home, wife and children as he gazed upon it!

When Dr. Bourns returned to Philadelphia, he related the incident. The people were very much interested in it, and he conceived the idea of identifying the soldier b picture. He procured it fro and had it noticed in the Phil
It was copied by other pape country.

A lady of Portville saw it;
curred to her that it might be Humiston children. It was such a picture had been sent fore the battle of Gettysburg sent to the Doctor. He imm copy of the ambrotype, and lo!
was identified. Dr. Bourns been turning this touching inci advantage. He had the pictu sale, the proceeds to go for th family when discovered, and many kind people of Philadelp decided success. People from inquire for them, and soon h them printed fast enough to sup

He is hoping now not only to home, maintain the family, an children, but to found an asylun children of parents who died i country. This is truly a pra Christian object. May the hear be inclined towards it, and n widow and no helpless orphan
the prayers and alms of patriots.
phans are of right the childre
country.

☞ The Essex Statesma
late meeting of the Essex Wenham Pond, as "a po under an alias." Would know why? Because one a "history of the pond," a of "laws relating to ponds setts," and a third, alludin ject of supplying the city o water from Wenham, went the "method of guaging a ponds and running streame other interesting matters general and scientific charac

In view of the approach campaign, we are glad to eminent authority, that "
cuses" are commencing un and dignified auspices, an character, hitherto not alw larly attractive to "minds now soared to the historic and the scientific.

Found !

On the premises of the subscriber,
One (a red mare) has three white fee belly, and white striped face. The Horse, long tail, with white striped of the same can have them by paying

Danvers Center, August 2, 1864—

Notice to Gas Cons

Office of the Salem Ga
188 Essex Street, Salem,
From and after July 1, and until f
price of Gas will be FOUR DOLLA feet—with 10 per cent. discount when days of presentation of bill.
jy 13—4w EDWARD BR

☞ Goods received for LEWA
DYE HOUSE. M.
Jan 20 tf

☞ Visit OSBORNE's Store, a unusual variety of new styles
CAPS—191 Essex street.

Port of Dan

Ar 28th ult., sch Milton, Ne ult., Br sch N. Noyes, River He

Marriages

In Salem, July 19, by Rev. M
John Keefe to Miss Catharine O' of this town.
July 28, at Grace Church, by Wildes, Mr. Octavius B. Shreve
C. Daland, daughter of the lat land Esq.
In Beverly, July 31, by Rev. M
Isaac Edgett, Co. H, 23d Mass.
Elizabeth B. Fisk, only daughte
Fisk, Esq., both of Beverly.
In Malden, July 23, by Rev
Mr. George W. Whitten of this Hattie F. Dexter of Roxbury.
In Haverhill, July, 27, by Rev
Mr. Albert B. Woodbury of this
Clara L. Cummings of H.
In Cambridge, July 27, by Re er, Mr. John C. Dodge to Miss El both of this town.

Deaths.

In South Danvers, July 21,
gard, 81 years.
July 25, at the residence of ents (Wm. and Alice B. Drape anniversary of their golden wed
Draper, son of Jose B and Lydi aged 16 months 6 days.

This lovely bud so young,
Called hence by early doo
Just came to show how swe
In Paradise would bloom
Farewell—thou lovely little
Gone to the realms above
Where shines the everlasting
And all is peace and love

July 26, Mr Richard S Frothin
1 month 16 days.
July 28, Ira Frank, twin son and Martha B. Batchelder, 1 yr
July 29, James Kelley, 60 yea of Michael and Mary Cuddyra,
July 30, Mr Eugene O'Keefe,
July 30, Lizzie Friend, 5 year
Aug 1, Arthur, 10 yrs 9 mos 16
the late Benjamin Moore.
July 31, Newhall, son of Alon
D. Rogers, 1 year 17 ds; Mr Col
Mrs Mary Barrett, aged —.
In Danvers, July 29, Mr Enni
In Beverly, July 28, Mr Benj
In Salem, July 26, Ellen, daug and Mary Shortell, 8 yrs; 28t
A Cook, 50 yrs; Mr Patrick Mc
Michael Kelley, 44; 29th, Mrs ow of the late James Ropes, Esq
Margaret Peele Phillips, 28 yrs
the late Hon. Stephen C. Phillip isa, daughter of James S and Ma
years 5 months.
In Lynn, July 20, Lulie Bro child of William S and Margare years and 9 mos.

"Death lies on her like an unt
Upon the sweetest flower of
"Yet we know that her soul is h
When saints their calm watch
That angels are crowning that fa
Then wherefore do we weep?
Shall we grieve that her soul hat
Because we dwell below?
We will bury her under the mos
And one dark tress we'll keep
We have only given her back to
Ah! wherefore do we weep?

Card.

rs and members of GENL. FOSTER ENGINE would return their thanks to Warren M. Ja for a liberal supply of refreshments furnish after the fire of Tuesday morning, July 26.

er order of the Company.

GUSTAVUS MERRILL, Foreman.

EWIS, Clerk. aug 3

Card.

ers and members of VOLUNTEER ENGINE take this method to return their sincere Messrs. W. M. Jacobs & Son, for the bounti of refreshments furnished them at the late to Mr. John Frost for favors shown us while and last, but not least, to the Volunteers dly assisted us on the brakes.

n, such marks of kindness will ever be re and should occasion require you will find us motto, "ABLE AND WILLING."

Per order,

GEO. C. PEIRCE, Foreman.

ARD PEIRCE, Clerk. aug 3

Card.

cribers tender their grateful acknowledg e Fire Departments of Danvers, and South and to all persons who aided them in their d energetic efforts in saving their property uction by fire, on the night of the 26th ult.

W. M. JACOBS & SON.

anvers, Aug. 3d, 1864.*

Card.

SALEM, July 27, 1864.

cers and members of RELIEF ENGINE CO., e this method to return their thanks to Warren & Son, of South Danvers, for the liberal sup reshments furnished them after the fire of evening, July 26.

en, when the occasion requires may you al "Relief."

Per order of the Company,

JUSTIN DOWST, Foreman.

M. MAXFIELD, Clerk.

Card.

eting of the Engineers of the South Danvers artment, July 27, 1864, it was That the thanks of the Department be tender lem Fire Department and citizens for the effi rendered at the fire on the evening of the 26th

Copy attest, N. H. POOR, Clerk.

Danvers, July 28, 1864.

Card.

icers and members of EAGLE ENGINE CO. No. is method of returning their thanks to Messrs. M. Jacobs & Son, for the refreshments furnish at their Factory; also to the junior member of e firm, for the liberal supply furnished at his also to the citizens, generally, for their aid tance in working the Tub, and for other favors at the fire of Tuesday night, July 26th.

THOS. S. TRASK, Foreman.

ROCHE, Clerk.

Card.

fficers and members of GENL. FOSTER ENGINE 2, would return their thanks to MR. STEPHEN for refreshments furnished them at the fire residence last Monday afternoon.

Per order of the Committee,

GUSTAVUS MERRILL, Foreman.

E. LEWIS, Clerk. aug 3*

monwealth of Massachusetts.

HIS EXCELLENCY THE GOVERNOR.

oclamation Concerning the Payment of Bounties to Volunteers.

the advice and consent of the Council, by virtue provisions of the one hundred and thirtieth chap he Acts of eighteen hundred and sixty-four, and exercise of the power of suspension therein l, and also by virtue of the power granted to the nor by the two hundred and ninety-second chap the Acts of eighteen hundred and sixty-four, I, A. ANDREW, the Governor of the Commonwealth ssachusetts, do hereby make proclamation as fol viz.:

ST. Each volunteer who shall enlist in the milita vice of the United States, as a part of the quota Commonwealth, for the term of three years or war, shall be entitled to receive from the Treasury Commonwealth, at his election, a bounty of three ed and twenty-five dollars; or, instead thereof, if all so elect, a bounty of fifty dollars, and twenty s monthly so long as he shall remain in said ser If honorably discharged for disability, after six s' actual service, then said sum of twenty dollars hly shall be paid to him for six months thereafter; f such volunteer shall die in the service said sum be paid to his widow; or if he shall leave no wid o his lawful heirs for six months after his decease; monthly payment to such volunteer, his widow eirs, not to exceed the term of three years in the e, and to be payable at the office of the Treasurer e Commonwealth.

COND. Each volunteer who shall enlist for the of two years only or the war, shall be entitled to e a bounty of $200, or to receive the aforesaid ty of fifty dollars and the monthly payment of ty dollars, at his own election. If honorably dis ged for disability, after six months actual service, said sum of twenty dollars monthly shall be paid m for six months thereafter; and if such volunteer die in the service, said sum shall be paid to his w; or, if he shall leave no widow, to his lawful , for six months after his decease; said monthly nent to such volunteer, his widow and heirs, not to ed the term of two years in the whole, and to be ble at the office of the Treasurer of the Common lth.

HIRD. Each volunteer who shall enlist, for the of one year only or the war, shall be entitled to re e a bounty of $100, or else the like twenty dollars thly payment (but no other bounty) from the Treas of the Commonwealth, at his own election. If hon ly discharged for disability, after six months actual ce, then said sum of twenty dollars monthly, shall aid to him for six months thereafter; and if such nteer shall die in service, said sum shall be paid to widow; or, if he shall leave no widow, to his lawful s, for six months after his decease; said monthly ment to such volunteer, his widow and heirs, not to eed the term of one year in the whole, and to be able at the office of the Treasurer of the Common alth.

ll of the foregoing provisions are in addition to the eral acts giving State aid to the families of volun s, to the benefits of which all volunteers, whether one, two or three years, are also entitled.

OURTH. Every private and non-commissioned offi who shall be mustered into the service of the Unit States as a part of the Massachusetts Militia shall re e the sum of twenty dollars monthly so long as he ll remain in said service, which shall be in full dis rge of all claim upon the Commonwealth for pay, unty and State aid.

Given at the Council Chamber this twenty-third day July, in the year of our Lord eighteen hundred and ty-four, and of the Independence of the United States America the eighty-ninth.

JOHN A. ANDREW.

By his Excellency the Governor,

OLIVER WARNER,

aug 3—3t Secretary of the Commonwealth.

ELF-SEALING AIR-TIGHT CASKET.—Charles S. Buf m, of this town, has a new burial case which com nes all the advantages of a wooden receptacle with se of a metal one, and yet avoids the disadvantages th. They have been used with great success, and ies placed in them have been delivered in perfect reservation after having been transported over a thous nd miles. To persons having deceased friends at the eat of war they are invaluable. They come at reason ble prices, are light and durable, and are perfectly air-ight.

Salem and South Danvers Railroad Company.

NOTICE.

As the legal use of the Railway Tracks of this Corporation has been frequently prevented by the stoppage of vehicles across the same, and as the business of the Road cannot be conducted with proper regard to the convenience of the passengers and the public, unless such obstructions cease, the Corporation invite especial attention to the Statute upon that subject, the correct principle of which is set forth in the opinion of Chief Justice SHAW in the case of Commonwealth v Temple, 13 Gray's Rep. 69, and give notice that they will consider it their duty to prosecute all cases hereafter occurring to the full extent of the law.

MOSES H. HALE, Sup't.

Extract from the Statutes of 1864, chap. 229, Sec. 22.

"Whoever wilfully and maliciously obstructs any such Corporation, its lessees or assigns, in the legal use of any Railway tracks, or delays the passing of the Cars or Railway Carriages of such Corporation, or of its lessees or assigns thereon, such person, and all who shall be aiding or abetting therein, shall be punished by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars, or may be imprisoned in the common jail for a period not exceeding three months."

From the army hospital—the bloody battle-field—the mansion of the rich and humble abode of the poor—from the office and the sacred desk—from the mountain top, distant valleys and far-off islands of the ocean—from every nook and corner of the civilized world—is pouring in the evidence of the astonishing effects of DRAKE'S PLANTATION BITTERS. Thousands upon thousands of letters like the following may be seen at our office.

REEDSBURY, Wis., Sept. 16, 1863.

"* * * * I have been in the army hospitals for fourteen months—speechless and nearly dead. At Alton, Ill. they gave me a bottle of Plantation Bitters. * * * Three bottles restored my speech and cured me. * * *"

C. A. FLAUTE".

SOUTH WARSAW, O. July 28, 1863.

"* * * One young man, who had been sick and not out of the house for two years with Scrofula and Erysipelas, after paying the doctors over $150 without benefit, has been cured by ten bottles of your Bitters.

EDWARD WOUNALL.

The following is from the Manager of the Union Home School for the Children of Volunteers:

HAVEMEYER MANSION, FIFTY-SEVENTH ST.,

New York, August 2, 1863.

"DR. DRAKE: Your wonderful Plantation Bitters have been given to some of our little children suffering from weakness and weak lungs with most happy effect. One little girl, in particular, with pains in her head, loss of appetite, and daily wasting consumption, on whom all medical skill had been exhausted, has been entirely restored. We commenced with but a teaspoonful of Bitters a day. Her appetite and strength rapidly increased, and she is now well.

Respectfully, MRS. O. M. DEVOE."

"* * * I owe much to you, for I verily believe the Plantation Bitters have saved my life.

REV. W. H. WAGGONER, Madrid, N. Y."

"* * * Thou wilt send me two bottles more of thy Plantation Bitters. My wife has been greatly benefited by their use.

Thy friend, ASA CURRIN, Philadelphia, Pa."

"* * * I have been a great sufferer from Dyspepsia, and had to abandon preaching. * * * The Plantation Bitters have cured me.

REV. J. S. CATHORN, Rochester, N. Y."

"* * * Send us twenty-four dozen more of your Plantation Bitters, the popularity of which are daily increasing with the guests of our house.

SYKES, CHADWICK & CO.,

Proprietors Willard's Hotel, Washington, D. C.

"* * * I have given the Plantation Bitters to hundreds of our disabled soldiers with the most astonishing effect.

G. W. D. ANDREWS,

Superintendent Soldiers' Home, Cincinnati, O.

"* * * The Plantation Bitters have cured me of liver complaint, of which I was laid up prostrate and had to abandon my Business.

H. B. KINGSLEY, Cleveland, O."

"* * * The Plantation Bitters have cured me of a derangement of the kidneys and urinary organs that has distressed me for years. It acts like a charm.

C. C. MOORE, 254 Broadway, N. Y."

&c. &c. &c. &c. &c.

The Plantation Bitters make the weak strong, the languid brilliant, and are exhausted nature's great restorer. They are composed of the celebrated Calisaya Bark, Wintergreen, Sassafras, Roots, Herbs, &c., all preserved in perfectly pure St. Croix Rum.

S.—T.—1860—X.

Persons of sedentary habits troubled with weakness, lassitude, palpitation of the heart, lack of appetite, distress after eating, torpid liver, constipation, &c. deserve to suffer if they will not try them.

They are recommended by the highest medical authorities, and are warranted to produce an immediate beneficial effect. They are exceedingly agreeable, perfectly pure, and harmless.

NOTICE.—Any person pretending to sell Plantation Bitters in bulk or by the gallon is a swindler and impostor. It is put up only in our patent log cabin bottle. Beware of bottles refilled with imitation deleterous stuff, for which several persons are already in prison. See that every bottle has our private United States Stamp over the cork unmutilated, and signature on steel plate side label.

Sold by respectable dealers throughout the habitable globe.

P. H. DRAKE & CO.

202 Broadway, N. Y.

Mch 15—1 yr

THE GREAT ENGLISH REMEDY.

SIR JAMES CLARKE'S

CELEBRATED FEMALE PILLS!

Prepared from a prescription of Sir J. Clarke, M. D., Physician Extraordinary to the Queen.

This well known medicine is no imposition, but a sure cure and safe remedy for Female Difficulties and Obstructions, from any cause whatever; and, although a powerful remedy, they contain nothing hurtful to the constitution.

In all cases of Nervous and Spinal Affections, pain in the Back and Limbs, Fatigue on slight exertion Palpitation of the Heart, Hysterics, and Whites, these pills will effect a cure, when all other means have failed; and, although a powerful remedy, do not contain iron, calomel, antimony, or anything hurtful to the constitution.

Full directions in the pamphlet around each package, which should be carefully preserved.

For full particulars, obtain, free, of the agent, a pamphlet. Sold by all Druggists.

Sole United States Agent,

JOB MOSES, 27 Cortlandt St., New York.

N. B.—$1, and 6 postage stamps enclosed to any authorized agent, will insure a bottle, containing over 50 pills, by return mail. March 9, 1864.—1 yr.

Advertisements.

Vitrified Stone Drain Pipe.

JUST received and for sale by the subscribers, 5000 feet of the above Pipe, the usual sizes suitable for drainage; the best in the market.

Apply to

B. R. WHITE, Mason,

St Peter Court.

or F. P. GOSS, Plummer,

No. 7 St. Peter st.

Salem, Aug. 3, 1864.—3m

List of Letters

REMAINING in the Post Office at South Danvers, August 3, 1864. [Persons calling for these letters, will please say they are advertised.]

Angeline M. Boynton,
Paul Buxton,
Ellen D. Buxton,
Richard Bush,
Philip Carroll,
Mary E. Clarke,
William Cutler,
William Daley,
Levi Lowell,
N. T. Lee,
Alonzo L. Legro,
Hayden A. Merrill,
Sarah A. Putnam,
Maria Sillsber,
John Sleeper,
Thomas King,
Emma A. Welbrey,

N. B.—These letters are subject to an additional postage of one cent. DANIEL WOODBURY, P. M.

LIFE INSURANCE.

THE MUTUAL

LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY,

Of New York, with a Capital of $11,000,000,

And an Annual Income of over

$2,000,000,

AND declaring a LARGER DIVIDEND than any other Company in the United States, is the one in which every man should secure a policy on his life.

The importance of LIFE INSURANCE cannot be too highly estimated. It is the safest and most practicable method of securing to your family, in case of your death, the means of a comfortable and independent support. Thousands of instances might be cited where families have thus been provided with a competency, who would otherwise have been left in penury and want. Husbands and fathers! treat not with indifference a subject of such vital importance, but see to it at once, that your families are provided with the inestimable advantages which this great and benevolent institution affords.

Because a man has wealth, it is no reason why he should not insure, for he knows not how soon his riches may "take to themselves wings and fly away." And let those who complain of the want of means, remember that

Forty-Five Cents a Week,

Will insure $1,000 on the life of a man of THIRTY.

AN ENDOWMENT POLICY,

Secures to the assured party, on attaining to a certain age, say 50, 55 or 60 years, an amount sufficient for his support in advanced age.

Another feature of this subject, deserving of especial attention, is

SURVIVORSHIP ANNUITIES!

By means of which one party may secure to another, an annuity sufficient to maintain them in comfort and independence through life. A husband may thus make provision for his wife; a father for his child; or a brother for his sister.

Endowment Policies for Children.

By this means a parent may provide, by the payment of a small annual premium, a sum of money sufficient to enable a son to enter into business, at a proper age, or for any other provision, either for a son or daughter.

Many Gentlemen of So. Danvers and Vicinity!

Have already availed themselves of this opportunity now offered of ensuring their lives, and thus securing an inestimable blessing to themselves and their families. Let others be equally wise, and immediately follow their example.

JOHN H. DERBY,

Agent for South Danvers and Vicinity,

Post Office address, Salem, Mass.

August 3, 1864.—1 mo.*

THE TRAVELERS INS. CO.,

OF HARTFORD, CONN.

Capital - - - - - $250,000.

Is now prepared to insure persons against

ACCIDENTS

OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.

Yearly policies will be issued for a premium of

FIVE DOLLARS,

granting insurance to the amount of

FIVE THOUSAND DOLLARS, against accidental loss of life while travelling by any public conveyance.

TEN DOLLARS PREMIUM

secures a policy for Five Thousand Dollars, and also twenty-five dollars per week compensation for personal injury incapacitating the assured from his ordinary business.

TWENTY-FIVE DOLLARS PREMIUM

secures a full policy for $5000 and $25 per week compensation for all and EVERY DESCRIPTION OF ACCIDENT, TRAVELLING OR OTHERWISE.

Policies for $5000 with $3 per week compensation, can be had for $3 per annum; or any other sum between $500 and $5000 at proportionate rates.

DIRECTORS;

Gustavus F. Davis,
James L. Howard,
Marshal Jewell,
Thomas Belknap, Jr.,
Cornelius B. Irwin,
George S. Gilman,
W. H. D. Callender,
George W. Moore,
Ebenezer Roberts,
Charles White,
Hugh Harrison,
Jonathan B. Bunce.

JAMES G. BATTERSON, President.

RODNEY DENNIS, Secretary.

HENRY A. DYER, General Agent.

PLUMBER & MERCER, AGENTS,

40 State Street, Boston.

Offices in Salem—JOHN H. DERBY, No. 24 Washington street; SAMUEL MACKINTIRE, No. 218 Essex street.

Aug. 3, 1864—1yr*

REAL ESTATE.

The subscriber offers for sale the following Lots of Land, with the buildings thereon, at Private Sale, until October next, when, if not previously sold, they will be put up at auction.

On Lowell street, a two story DWELLING HOUSE, fitted for two families. This is the Estate formerly known as the Southwick Tavern.

On Lowe street, leading from Foster St. to Washington St., a two story TENEMENT for two families with a garden attached to it.

On Washington street, near the residence of Capt. Lowe, a very eligible BUILDING LOT, on the North side of the street.

On Tremont street, a small COTTAGE HOUSE for one or two families.

On Walnut street, a pleasant, elevated Lot of Land, with a large Barn, situated opposite Mr. Caller's Currying Shop.

In the rear of the above TWO TENEMENT HOUSES.

For particulars apply to

jy27 WILLIAM SUTTON.

EBEN UPTON,

Piano Fortes Tuned and Regulated,

MELODEONS AND PIANOS

BOUGHT AND EXCHANGED

For New Piano Fortes, at Wholesale Prices.

Orders left at G. CREAMER'S Bookstore, Salem.

July 27, 1864.—6m

EXCURSION.

The six horse car "Excursionist" will make regular excursion trips hereafter on SATURDAY AFTERNOONS, commencing July 16th, as follows:—

Leave the Depot on Webb street, at 1.45 P. M.

Leave South Danvers for Beverly at 2.25, remaining at Beverly one hour.

Leave Beverly for South Danvers at 4.25.

Leave South Danvers for Webb street at 5.25.

Fare between South Danvers and Beverly, each way, 10 cents; between Salem and South Danvers, or Salem and Beverly, each way, 5 cents. Children 3-5ths these rates.

The Car will only stop at the Cemetery, Buffum's Corner, Washington street, Webb Street Depot, Car Factory, East end of Beverly Bridge, and at the Post Office in Beverly.

July 20. M. H. HALE, Sup't.

Horse Railroad Notice.

SOUTH SALEM BRANCH.

IN compliance with the wishes of the citizens of South Salem, on and after Monday, July 26, the cars on the South Salem Branch of the Salem & South Danvers Railroad will Leave Washington street at 6.25, 7.25, 8.25, 9.25, 10.25 A. M., 12 M., 1.15, 3.15, 4.15, 5.15, 6.15, 7.15, 9.15, 10 P. M.

Leave Derby Farm at 6.40, 7.40, 8.40, 9.40, 10.40 A. M., 12.45, 1.45, 3.45, 4.45, 5.45, 6.45, 7.45, 9.45, 10.45 P. M.

SUNDAY ARRANGEMENT.

Leave Washington street at 9.30, 10.30, 11.45 A. M., 12.30, 1.30, 2.30, 3.30, 4.45, 5.30, 6.30, 7.30, 8.30 P. M.

Leave Derby Farm at 10, 11 A. M., 12 M., 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8 & 9 P. M.

M. H. HALE,

Salem, July 25, 1864. Superintendent.

FEATHER BEDS

RENOVATED

BY A NEW PROCESS.

THE subscriber having located himself for a few weeks in the store on Central Street, formerly occupied as a restaurant by Mr. Wm. Southwick, would announce to the citizens of this town and vicinity that he will renovate and dress OLD and NEW Feather Beds with Col. Bailey's Patent Machine, one of the most useful and thorough inventions of the day for this purpose.

By this machine no injury is done the feathers by the renovating process, which is done entirely by steam, and not by hot air or fire. In fact the subscriber warrants to dress all feathers without injury to them or the ticks in which they are contained.

PRICE—ONE DOLLAR AND FIFTY CENTS per Bed, including pillows and bolsters, provided the feathers are suitable to run with the bed, and the combined weight does not exceed 30 pounds; over that amount five cents per pound will be added.

C. O. HALL.

South Danvers, July 26—1f

ICE PICKS

AND Ice Mallets with Axis at

jy13 S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS, 32 Front st.

Browning & Long.

THE LARGEST

LADIES' FURNISHING STORE

IN SALEM.

THE GREATEST VARIETY

DISPLAYED IN THIS VICINITY.

THE RICHEST GOODS,

THE LOWEST PRICES,

—AT—

BROWNING & LONG'S

177 Essex Street, 177

SALEM.

Salem, Aug. 3, 1864.

WHITE BAREGE!

WHITE CREPE MARETZ,

WHITE ALPACCA,

SHIRRED MUSLINS,

TUCKED MUSLINS,

WHITE GOODS of every description.

—For sale by—

THOMAS W. DOWNING & CO.

1y13 179 Essex Street.

COUNTRY AND SEA SHORE!

Wide Brimmed Hats,

For the Country and Sea Shore.

—ALSO—

All the FANCY STYLES OF HATS, for Ladies and Children, at

REITH & CO'S,

No. 2 West Block, Essex Street,

(One door west of J. F. Almy & Co.)

July 6 SALEM, MASS.

HOUSEKEEPERS, ATTENTION!

JACKSON'S

KITCHEN FURNISHING ROOMS,

Under MECHANIC HALL, Salem.

Parties about commencing House-Keeping will find this the ONLY place in Salem where a COMPLETE ASSORTMENT of House-Keeping articles can be found.

dec 9, 1863.

MORRIS'

RESTAURANT,

18 and 20 Derby Square, Salem.

Oysters, Clams, Steak, Poultry, Game, Fish, &c., &c., COOKED TO ORDER.

Pickled Oysters, Lobsters and Clams.

Salem, July 22, 1863. tf

Putnam Clothes Wringer.

IT IS THE ONLY RELIABLE

SELF-ADJUSTING WRINGER

NO WOOD TO SWELL OR SPLIT.

NO THUMB SCREWS TO GET OUT OF ORDER.

Warranted with or without Cog-Wheels.

IT took the FIRST PREMIUM at fifty-seven State and County Fairs in 1863, and is, without an exception, the best Wringer ever made.

Patented in the United States, England, Canada and Australia. Agents wanted in every town, and in all parts of the world.

Sample Wringer sent, express paid, on receipt of price.

Energetic agents can make from 3 to 10 dollars per day.

No. 2, $6.50; No. 1, $7.50; No. F, $8.50; No. A, $9.50.

Manufactured and sold, wholesale and retail, by THE PUTNAM MANUFACTURING CO., No. 13 Platt Street, New York, and Cleveland, Ohio.

S. C. NORTHROP, Agent.

WHAT EVERYBODY KNOWS, VIZ:

That Iron well galvanized will not rust;

That a simple machine is better than a complicated one;

That a Wringer should be self-adjusting, durable, and efficient;

That Thumb-Screws and Fastenings cause delay and trouble to regulate and keep in order;

That wood soaked in hot water will swell, shrink and split;

That wood bearings for the shaft to run in will wear out;

That the Putnam Wringer, with or without cog-wheels, will not tear the clothes;

That cog-wheel regulators are not essential;

That the Putnam Wringer has all the advantages, and not one of the disadvantages above named;

That all who have tested it, pronounce it the best Wringer ever made;

That it will wring a Thread or a Bed-Quilt WITHOUT ALTERATION.

We might fill the paper with testimonials, but insert only a few to convince the skeptical, if such there be; and we say to all, test Putnam's Wringer. Test it THOROUGHLY with ANY and ALL others, and if not entirely satisfactory, return it.

Putnam Manufacturing Co.:—GENTLEMEN; I know from practical experience that iron well galvanized with zinc will not oxidize or rust one particle. The Putnam Wringer is as near perfect as possible, and I can cheerfully recommend it to be the best in use. Respectfully yours,

JNO. W. WHEELER, Cleveland, Ohio.

Many years' experience in the galvanizing business enable me to indorse the above statement in all particulars.

JNO. C. LEFFERTS, No. 100 Beckman St.

New York, January, 1864.

We have tested Putnam's Clothes Wringer by practical working, and know that it will do. It is cheap; it is simple; it requires no room, whether at work or at rest; a child can operate it; it does its duty thoroughly; it saves time and it saves wear and tear. We earnestly advise all who have much washing to do, with all intelligent persons who have any, to buy this Wringer. It will pay for itself in a year at most.

HON. HORACE GREELEY.

July 27, 1864.—3m

TIMBEY'S BAROMETER.

A SINGLE admonition from one of these useful and desirable instruments, to a farmer, more than pays the cost, and it will last for ages.

It is useful every day and a beautiful piece of furniture.

The new patent is constructed with a flexible section so arranged as to compensate for changes in the temperature. To each barometer a fine thermometer is attached.

Call upon the Agents and see them, and read the testimonials from the highest authorities.

jy 27 G. M. WHIPPLE & A. A. SMITH.

DR. E. F. KITTREDGE,

From Lowell, formerly of New Ipswich, N. H.,

Has removed his office and residence to

NO. 42 MAIN STREET,

SOUTH DANVERS, MASS.

Dr. K., from an extensive and successful professional experience of upwards of twenty years, feels justified in saying that he can treat diseases to the satisfaction of his patients, and to the credit of himself.

Office hours from 7 to 9 A. M., and from 6 to 9 P. M.

South Danvers, Nov 12, 1863.

STONE WARE.

A SUPPLY of Stone Ware of all kinds, such as Water Kegs, Pitchers, Jugs, Cake and Butter Pots, are just opened at

S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS',

July 6 32 Front Street.

A. J. Archer & Co

White Shirred Muslins

JUST received and for sale by

je22 A. J. ARCHER & CO.

MOURNING GOODS.

AUGUSTUS J. ARCHER & CO.,

HAVE just received a fine assortment

—OF—

MOURNING DRESS GOODS,

for summer wear.

—ALSO—

On hand, a fine stock of

BLACK SILKS,

which our customers will find are at less than Boston prices.

May 25, 1864.

FANCY CLOAKINGS!

—FOR—

Spring Garments,

IN GREAT VARIETY OF STYLES,

which we are prepared to make into GARMENTS to order, in the very best manner, and at

LOWEST CASH PRICES.

A. J. ARCHER & CO.,

March 16—tf. 181 Essex Street.

HOUSE OF EQUITY,

—BY—

Arnold & Hutchinson,

(Successors to C. T. Southwick.)

FIRST QUALITY

FAMILY GROCERIES,

Sold at the Lowest Prices.

A large and complete assortment of

CROCKERY AND GLASS WARE,

Constantly on hand.

Also FLOUR and GRAIN.

ASHLAND HALL BUILDING,

NO. 1 LOWELL STREET,

F. T. ARNOLD. E. F. HUTCHINSON.

South Danvers, Feb 3, 1864.

M. A. PORTER,

236 Essex Street, - - - Salem, Mass.,

(Opposite Horse Railroad Office,)

MAKES TO ORDER BEST QUALITIES OF

WATCH SPRING SKIRTS.

A Good Assortment of Dress and Clock Button, Braids, Spool Cotton, Small Wares, and Thread Store articles generally.

236 Essex Street, - - - Salem, Mass.,

M. A. PORTER.

SPRING AND SUMMER GOODS.

168 ESSEX STREET.

WE invite the attention of the Ladies of Salem and vicinity, to our

New Millinery Goods.

Ladies' and Children's

BONNETS AND HATS,

in all desirable styles,

Crapes, Silks, Ribbons, Feathers, French Flowers, and Laces.

A full assortment of Straw Goods, Mourning Bonnets, Veils, Collars, &c., constantly on hand at the lowest cash prices.

M. E. CRANE,

Successor to M M FLETCHER.

Salem, April 6, 1864.

JUST ARRIVED,

AT DANVERS MILLS,

500 Bushels Corn, in the minnie cob, and will be sold in South Danvers. Constantly on hand a large stock of meal, which will be sold at the lowest Salem prices.

—ALSO ON HAND—

500 Bushels Feed;

200 Bushels prime Northern Oats;

100 Barrels choicest Family Flour.

A good stock of LIME constantly on hand.

JOHN G. MOULTON,

Central St., South Danvers, Mass.

May 25—tf.

DRY GOODS

—AT—

Ann R. Bray's, 76 Federal Street.

A LARGE Stock of Bleached and Brown COTTONS, which we offer at the very lowest prices:

Heavy 4 4 Waltham; Fine 9 8 Boot Mills;

Hill Cotton, Brown and Bleached;

Newmarket, A Cotton; Bennington Cotton;

Monticello Cotton; Cambrics; White Sarsnett;

Bleached Cotton, every width and quality;

American, English and French Prints;

Red, White and Gray Flannels;

Doronts 4-4 and 3-4 widths;

Brown and other Colored Drillings;

Crashes—Bleached, Brown and other colors;

☞ Our stock of Domestic Goods is full, and we shall sell as low as at ANY OTHER STORE in the city.

According to our usual practice, we shall sell out all our DRESS GOODS at a discount.

Salem, July 20—tsio

GAYLE & CO.,

COMMISSION MERCHANTS,

AND DEALERS IN

Flour, Grain and Produce,

PHILLIPS WHARF, Salem.

DR. J. H. BATCHELDER,

DENTAL SURGEON,

No. 20 Washington St., (near Eastern Railroad Depot,) SALEM, MASS.

Is Licensed to make the New Patent Teeth on HARD RUBBER or VULCANITE.

July 1, 1864.

THE HEAVENS.

A movable Planisphere of the Heavens at every minute, being a Directory of the Starry Heavens. To Astronomy what a Map is to Geography. The key that unlocks the mysteries in the changing Firmament. Two kinds, one having the constellations beautifully painted, the other as much like the sky as possible. Interesting to every student of Astronomy, Teacher, or practical Navigator.

ly27 G. M. WHIPPLE & A. A. SMITH, Agents.

George S. Walker.

Closing off Summer Stock.

NO RISE IN PRICES.

GEORGE S. WALKER will sell his Summer Stock during the month of August, preparatory to the Fall trade, at the same low prices he has been selling during the Spring and Summer, without regard to the late PANIC IN PRICES, or the increased premium on gold. Now is the time for those in want, before the stock is broken up, to purchase.

Under-Shirts, Drawers, Hosiery, Gloves, Scarfs, Ties, etc.

and every article belonging to a complete Gentlemen's Furnishing Store. GEORGE S. WALKER,

No. 228 Essex St., opp. Eastern Railroad Station.

Salem, Aug. 3, 1864.

Potter, Bachelder & Co.,

DANVERS-PORT and SOUTH DANVERS,

DEALERS IN

WOOD AND COAL.

Constantly on hand

Franklin, Burnside, Dimond, } RED ASH.

Old Company & Packer's Lehigh, Piny Fisk, Webster and Locust Mountain, } WHITE ASH.

Also Cumberland, Picton and Campbell for Steam and Smith's use.

OFFICE—No. 6 Allen's Building.

G. W. POTTER,

J. Q. A. BACHELDER,

C. T. BATCHELDER. mch 30

M. FENOLLOSA,

TEACHER OF MUSIC,

LETS .... PIANO FORTES, at the lowest rates;

SELLS .... PIANO FORTES, at the Manufacturers Prices;

EXCHANGES .... PIANO FORTES, on the easiest terms;

At Rooms No. 7 Central street,

feb 11 SALEM, MASS.

AARON T. LOWE,

DEALER IN

BOOTS, SHOES AND RUBBERS,

76 BOSTON STREET, 76.

aug 6 SALEM. tf

GEORGE TAPLEY,

(DANVERS),

AGENT FOR THE

John Hancock Life Insurance Co.

Office, 41 State Street, Boston.

T. HARDY, JR.,

—Dealer in—

DOORS, SASHES, BLINDS,

Glazed Sash, Painted Blinds,

FENCE PALES, STAIR BALUSTERS, FRAMING PINS, &c.,

No. 26 FRONT STREET,

Salem, January 14, 1863—tf.

MISS. S. E. MACKINTIRE.

TEACHER ON

PIANO FORTE

RESIDENCE,—22 Holton Street,

jan13 South Danvers.

THOMAS PINNOCK,

SLATER,

SALEM, MASS.

Orders may be left at his Yard, No. 25 Peabody St., or at his house No. 6 Hancock street, South Salem.

Roofs covered with any kind of Slates, according to order. All work warranted.

Salem, May 7, 1862. tf

PIN WORMS. MRS. OSBORN'S Universal Worm Powders are the only sure cure ever offered to the public. They are warranted in every case; relief within 24 hrs. 25 cts. per box. Sold by all druggists.

For sale by D. P. GROSVENOR, Jr., 33 Main St., South Danvers. jan 27

SPECTACLES!

H. F. SKERRY wishes to call special attention to his stock of

Spectacles and Eye Glasses,

in Gold—Silver—Rubber—Steel and Horn frames, of which he keeps constantly on hand a very large assortment, embracing every style and quality.

—ALSO—

Opera Glasses, Microscopes, &c.

Glasses re-set, and Spectacles repaired.

In Store, our usual assortment of Silver and Plated Ware, and Jewelry.

No. 180 Essex Street, Salem.

H. F. SKERRY.

Feb. 24—tf.

For the Warm Weather.

UNDER-SHIRTS,

DRAWERS,

HOSIERY,

IN every seasonable material—all sizes—for sale at low prices, at

GEORGE S. WALKER'S,

Dealer in Gent's Furnishing Goods and Toilet Articles, opposite Eastern Railroad Station.

WIRE COVERS.

WIRE Dish Covers, in sets of five, at

S C & E A SIMONDS',

June 29 32 Front Street.

Posting Books, Making Bills and Copying.

THE above business will be promptly and accurately performed by the subscriber, who may be found at Messrs. CLARK & GIDDINGS' Counting Room on Wallis Street, near the Essex Depot, or by enquiring at this office. jy13 tf JOHN D. HOWARD.

FURNITURE.

HAVING taken the Store No. 10 FRONT STREET, (formerly occupied by BENJAMIN COLMAN,) I shall keep constantly on hand a large stock of

NEW AND SECOND-HAND FURNITURE,

BEDDING, COUNTING-ROOM DESKS, &c., &c.,

which I will sell cheap for CASH.

ALL KINDS OF FURNITURE NEATLY REPAIRED.

☞ All kinds of FURNITURE and BEDDING wanted—for which the highest Cash price will be paid.

P. J. HYNES, 10 FRONT-ST.

Salem, April 6, 1864—1y

NEW WHITE WARE.

WHITE Tea Ware and White Dinner Ware, of the new patterns, at ly 20 S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

PRESERVE YOUR FRUIT.

GLASS Jars and Glass Covers, for preserving Fruits, Vegetables, &c., in a perfectly fresh state, for sale by S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

LEMON SQUEEZERS,

AT S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

Auction Sales.

WILLIAM ARCHER, Jr.,

Auctioneer, Real Estate and Stock Broker,

34 Front Street.

Real Estate, Bank, Railroad & Manufacturing Stock bought and sold on Commission.

VALUABLE REAL ESTATE.

THE Subscriber offers for sale the following Lots of Land, with the Buildings thereon, at private sale, until September next, when such as then remain unsold, will be offered at Public Auction:

A new and well built two-story DWELLING HOUSE, situated on English Street.—This house is well supplied with the modern conveniences, is pleasantly situated on rising ground, and is a very desirable residence.

The MOROCCO FACTORY near the Southwick Tannery. The building is about 150 feet long by 40 wide, is well supplied with pure water and is an excellent place for the Morocco business or Currying.

Near the Morocco Factory are two TWO-STORY BUILDINGS, which may be sold with the Factory, or separately. Together they are about 80 feet long by 20 wide.

On Walnut Street is the large BOARDING HOUSE, with the land adjoining, which is excellently well situated for what it is designed.

Several front LOTS for building purposes on Walnut Street, will be sold at moderate prices and fair terms.

A STORE HOUSE 70 by 25 feet on Walnut Street, with the land under and the rear of it. It can be easily adapted for a Carriers' Shop, or for other kinds of business.

On Wallis Street, near the mill pond, a well built and painted MOROCCO FACTORY, all ready for occupancy. It is about 80 feet long by 25 wide, and in excellent repair.

Next to the Morocco Factory on the same street, a STORE BUILDING, strongly built, and framed for a DWELLING-HOUSE, for which it could be easily adapted. Or it would make an excellent Shop for any kind of business.

Near ELM STREET, on a Court south of said street, are two DWELLING HOUSES, planned for two families each. One is two stories high, the other one and a half. Both houses have good tenants and yield a good income; offering a good chance for investment.

Between Harris and English Streets, one One Story DWELLING House, and a One Story and a Half House.

The above is a most excellent opportunity for enterprising young men to secure places for business and dwelling houses, on reasonable terms. Such a chance may not soon again occur.

Persons desiring to purchase any of the above lots may learn the prices and terms on application to ANDREW S. PORTER, Elm Street.

SAMUEL D. PENDAR.

South Danvers, May 11, 1864. tf

MANUAL FENOLLOSA

TEACHER

OF THE

Violin, Piano and Singing,

MUSIC ROOMS, No. 7 Central Street,

SALEM, MASS.

NEW STORE!

Flour! Flour!

JUST RECEIVED, a fresh supply of CHOICE BRANDS, direct from the Mills, for sale, wholesale and retail, at LOWEST PRICES, by

E. F. OSBORN.

Sutton's Building, Main St.

South Danvers, Nov 18, 1863.

R. C. MANNING & CO.

Successors to JOHN DIKE & CO.,

DEALERS IN

COAL, WOOD, BARK, HAY, &c,

183 DERBY STREET,

SALEM, MASS.

N. C. ROBBINS, R. C. MANNING.

oct17

GEO. E. MEACOM,

Dealer in

DRUGS & MEDICINES,

Fancy & Toilet Articles, &c.,

126 MAIN ST. 126

Nearly opposite Danvers Bank, So. Danvers.

T. A. SWEETSER,

Druggist & Apothecary

37 Main St., So. Danvers.

DEALER IN

Drugs, Medicines, Chemicals, Foreign Leeches, Shakers' Herbs, Dye Stuffs, Gums, Acids, Sponges, Shoulder Braces, Trusses, and Genuine Patent Medicines.

Also, Imported Cigars of choice brands, Perfumery, Toilet Articles and Stationery.

Physicians' Prescriptions carefully prepared by experienced persons.

37 MAIN STREET.

D. P. GROSVENOR, Jr.,

Druggist and Apothecary,

33 MAIN STREET.

Dealer in Drugs, Medicines, Chemicals, Dye Stuffs, and Popular Proprietary Medicines.

Personal attention to Physicians' Prescriptions.

South Danvers, May 29, 1861. ly

TABLE MATS,

SHAKER and Wood Table Mats, at

S C & E A SIMONDS',

June 29 32 Front Street.

Flour and Grain.

1500 BUSHELS Canada Oats; 100 barrels Superior Family XXX Flour; just landed and for sale by GAYLE & CO., Phillips Wharf.

BRUSHES.

A FULL stock of Brushes of every description, at

je22 S C & E A SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

FOR SUMMER READING.

G. M. WHIPPLE & A. A. SMITH'S Subscription Circulating Library affords ample facilities. Terms liberal. Subscriptions commencing at any time. June 29

WATER KEGS.

ANOTHER lot of Stone Water Kegs at

jy13 S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS, 32 Front st.

Flour.

100 Bbls "Arcade Mills;" 100 do "Crooked Creek;" 100 do "May Flower." For sale by july 20 GAYLE & CO., Phillips' Wharf.

WOMAN TOO CREDULOUS.—How is it that almost every scamp, with or without a prepossessing personal appearance, can go about the country winning the affections of respectful women so successfully? A fellow, recently arrested in London, was discovered to have married four different women within a short period; and how many more he has inveigled into a similar snare in other places may be left to the imagination. He was poor, not well dressed, not good-looking, and possessed of small powers of conversation; and still he made love triumphantly wherever he went to some fair creature, and won her heart and hand only to leave her in a melancholy dilemma shortly afterwards. Can it be that they so fear the idea of the position of an "old maid," that they grasp at the chance of acquiring a husband, without pausing to estimate his worth or study his character? Whatever may be the reason that women so readily become the dupes of designing men, it is palpable that very little pains are taken by many of them to ascertain who and what a suitor is when he applies for a lady's hand. It rarely, indeed, happens that a stranger in a town is incapable of supplying, when asked, some reliable evidence of his antecedents; and who has a better right to demand the production of such evidence than a woman who is on the eve of entrusting to his care her whole future? She neglects her duty to herself, to her friends, to her reputation, if she fails to secure some proof of his sincerity in his representations; and his object must be a sinister one if he takes offense at such a scrutiny, or attempts to throw obstacles in the way of an arrival, on her part, at a complete knowledge of his position and prospects.

Special Notices.

EDITOR OF WIZARD:—Dear Sir,—With your permission I wish to say to the readers of your paper that I will send, by return mail, to all who wish it (free), a Recipe, with full directions for making and using a simple Vegetable Balm, that will effectually remove, in ten days, Pimples, Blotches, Tan, Freckles, and all Impurities of the Skin, leaving the same soft, clear, smooth and beautiful.

I will also mail free to those having Bald Heads, or Bare Faces, simple directions and information that will enable them to start a full growth of Luxuriant Hair, Whiskers, or Moustache, in less than thirty days.

All applications answered by return mail without charge. Respectfully yours,

THOS. F. CHAPMAN, Chemist,
jy 13-3m 831 Broadway, New York.

A GENTLEMAN, cured of Nervous Debility, Incompetency, Premature Decay and Youthful Error, actuated by a desire to benefit others, will be happy to furnish to all who need it, (free of charge,) the recipe and directions for making the simple remedy used in his case. Those wishing to profit by his experience, and possess a Valuable Remedy, will receive the same, by return mail, (carefully sealed,) by addressing

JOHN B. OGDEN,
No. 60 Nassau street, New York.
may 25—3m.

BELL'S SPECIFIC PILLS.—WARRANTED IN ALL CASES.—Can be relied on! Never fail to cure! Do not nauseate! Are speedy in action! No change of diet required! Do not interfere with business pursuits! Can be used without detection! Upward of 200 cures the past month—some of them very severe cases. Over one hundred physicians have used them in their practice, and all speak well of their efficacy, and approve of their composition, which is entirely vegetable, and harmless on the system. Hundreds of certificates can be shown.

BELL'S SPECIFIC PILLS are the original and only genuine Specific Pill. They are adapted for male and female, old or young, and the only reliable remedy for effecting a permanent and speedy cure in all cases of Spermatorrhea, or Seminal Weakness, with all its train of evils, such as Urethral and Vaginal Discharges, Gleet, the Whites, Nightly or Involuntary Emissions, Incontinence, Genital Debility and Irritability, Impotence, Weakness or Loss of Power, Nervous Debility, &c., &c., all of which arise principally from Sexual Excesses or Self-Abuse, or some constitutional derangement, and incapacitates the sufferer from fulfilling the duties of married life. In all sexual diseases, as Gonorrhea, Gleet, and Strictures, and in Diseases of the Bladder and Kidneys, they act as a charm! Relief is experienced by taking a single box. Sold by all the principal druggists. Price $1.

They will be sent by mail, securely sealed, and confidentially, on receipt of the money, by

J. BRYAN, M. D.,
No. 76 Cedar street, New York,

Consulting Physician for the treatment of Seminal, Urinary, Sexual, and Nervous Diseases, who will send, free to all, the following valuable work, in sealed envelope:

THE FIFTIETH THOUSAND—DR. BELL'S TREATISE on Self-Abuse, Premature Decay, Impotence and Loss of Power, Sexual Diseases, Seminal Weakness, Nightly Emissions, Genital Debility, &c., &c., a pamphlet of 64 pages, containing important advice to the afflicted, and which should be read by every sufferer, as the means of cure in the severest stages is plainly set forth. Two stamps required to pay postage. December 9, 1863—1yr.

IMPORTANT TO LADIES.—DR. HARVEY'S FEMALE PILLS have never yet failed in removing difficulties arising from obstruction, or stoppage of nature, or in restoring the system to perfect health when suffering from Spinal Affections, Prolapsus, Uteri, the Whites, or other weakness of the Uterine Organs. The Pills are perfectly harmless on the constitution, and may be taken by the most delicate female without causing distress—the same time they act like a charm by strengthening, invigorating and restoring the system to a healthy condition, and by bringing on the monthly period with regularity, no matter from what causes the obstruction may arise. They should, however, NOT be taken during the first three or four months of pregnancy, though safe at any other time, as miscarriage would be the result.

Each box contains 60 Pills. Price $1.

DR. HARVEY'S TREATISE on Diseases of Females, Pregnancy, Miscarriage, Barrenness, Sterility, Reproduction, and Abuses of Nature, and emphatically the Ladies' Private Medical Adviser, a pamphlet of 64 pages, sent free to any address. Six cents required to pay postage.

The Pills and book will be sent by mail when desired, securely sealed, and prepaid, by

J. BRYAN, M. D., General Agent,
No. 76 Cedar street, New York.

☞ Sold by all the principal druggists.
December 9, 1863—1yr.

Do You Wish to be Cured.

DR. BUCHAN'S ENGLISH SPECIFIC PILLS cure, in less than 30 days, the worst cases of NERVOUSNESS, Impotency, Premature Decay, Seminal Weakness, Insanity, and all Urinary, Sexual and Nervous Affections, no matter from what cause produced. Price, One Dollar per box. Sent, postpaid, by mail, on receipt of order. One Box will perfect the cure in most cases. Address JAMES S. BUTLER,
jy 13-3m General Agent, 427 Broadway, New York.

Horse Railroad Notice.

On and after MONDAY, May 9, the cars of the Salem and South Danvers Railroad Co. will leave

South Danvers for Salem and Beverly at 6.35, 6.55, 7.15, and 7.35, A. M., and every 20 minutes till 12.55 P. M., and at 1.10, 1.25, 1.40, 1.55 P. M., and every 15 minutes till 10.25 P. M. The 9.55, 10.10, and 10.25 P. M., cars will go only to Salem.

Cars will leave Beverly for Salem and South Danvers at 6.35, 6.55, 7.15, and 7.35, A. M., and every 20 minutes till 12.55 P. M., and at 1.10, 1.25, 1.40 and 1.55 P.M., and every 15 minutes till 10.40 P. M. The 9.40, 9.55, 10.10, 10.25 and 10.40 P. M., cars go only to Salem.

Cars leave Washington Street Station for So. Danvers at 6.12, 6.32 and 6.52 A. M. and every 20 minutes till 12.32 P.M, and leave Washington St. Station for Beverly at 6.17, 6.37, 6.57, A.M., and every 20 minutes till 12.37 P. M., and cars will leave Washington St. Station for South Danvers and Beverly at 12.45, 1, 1.15, and 1.30 P. M., and every 15 minutes till 10.00 P. M.

M. H. HALE,
may 11 Sup't. S. & S. D. R. R. Co.

R. W. WILKINSON,

DEALER IN

Newspapers, Periodicals, and Stationery of every Description.

FOREIGN and DOMESTIC FRUITS, consisting of Oranges, Lemons, Dates, Figs, Prunes, &c., &c.

Sauces, Pickles and Preserves; Castana, Naples and English Walnuts; Hard, Soft and Paper-shelled Almonds; choice brands of Tobacco and Cigars; also a general assortment of Confectionery of every description.

Also a large and well selected stock of Toys, suitable for children and the Holiday Gifts.

Ice Cream furnished to parties at short notice and in quantities to suit. Wedding Cake and every variety of nice cake furnished to parties or families.

STORE—WARREN BANK BUILDING.
South Danvers, Nov'r 11, 1863.

DR. S. O. RICHARDSON'S
Blood-Root Elixir

Has been thoroughly tested and proved in his medical practice, for a period of THIRTY YEARS, and is now presented to the public as an effectual cure for

COSTIVENESS,

AND THE BEST REMEDY EVER PREPARED FOR

DISEASES OF THE LIVER, SCROFULA,

All Humors and Impurities of the Blood and Diseases of the Skin.

The preparing and combining the BLOOD-ROOT ELIXIR is attended with results to medical science next in importance to inhalation of ether in surgery. Roots and plants, in themselves pungent and disagreeable, are, by a new and scientific process of extracting (in vacuo,) rendered MORE EFFECTIVE IN THEIR OPERATION, entirely divested of the griping and distressing pain which attends the action of all other purgative medicine.—They are also made to become highly

PLEASANT AND AGREEABLE TO THE TASTE,

and by their peculiar combination work so perfectly in HARMONY WITH NATURE that no unpleasant reaction will follow its operation. It also possesses

A DIFFUSIVE AND ALTERATIVE EFFECT,

which can only be attained by medicine in a fluid state. These are new elements in purgative medicines.

The hard and compact manner in which Pills are prepared, renders them indigestible—and, when taken, are forced through the Stomach and Bowels, half dissolved, causing only PARTIAL ACTION, thereby creating irritation and pain to the parts connected with their passage.

One Pill dissolved secundum artem, will produce more medicinal and physical effect than five in a crude state.

The BLOOD-ROOT ELIXIR has no partial action upon the bowels, but is equally diffused there, and throughout the whole circulation of the Blood, imparting a healthy and invigorating action to the STOMACH AND BOWELS, LIVER, LUNGS, KIDNEYS, and gently stimulating dormant and morbid secretions throughout the whole system.

A single dose will produce a cheerful and exhilarating COMMOTION, which will inspire the patient with confidence, and assurance of IMMEDIATE RELIEF. A continuance for a short period will DRIVE the obscure and hidden humors to the surface of the skin, and relieve or check SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS—and by thus purifying and strengthening the Blood, will remove the most fruitful

CAUSE OF CONSUMPTION.

It incites the various organs of the system to act their allotted part, removing the causes which induce RHEUMATISM and NEURALGIA, HEADACHE, LOSS OF APPETITE, DYSPEPSIA, COSTIVENESS, and the various diseases which arise from a derangement of the Stomach and Bowels, and restricted circulation of the Blood.

COUGHS AND COLDS, in their early stages, will immediately yield to the effect of the Elixir.

The BLOOD-ROOT ELIXIR contains no mineral, no pernicious botanical element, no excitant, but stimulates the secretions by its mild and diffusive action. It is an effective and painless aperient—has a decided salutary action upon the Liver, and there has been no medicine prepared for common family use which possesses equal merit.

Travellers both by sea and land, will find the Elixir a complete antidote for the evils which they are obliged to endure, from a change of climate or water of diet.

See the pamphlet around each bottle for a history of the Elixir.

The proprietor of the BLOOD-ROOT ELIXIR, (Dr. S. O. Richardson,) has been long and favorably known to the public by his celebrated SHERRY-WINE BITTERS, the best tonic medicine ever discovered, and which has been in use over thirty years. He is a graduate of the New Hampshire Medical College, and many years associate member of the Massachusetts Medical Society,—and has made the study of medicine his profession since 1820.

And so fully convinced is the Doctor of the wonderful curative effects of his BLOOD-ROOT ELIXIR, that he hereby offers to each and every person who will use ONE-HALF OF A BOTTLE of his ELIXIR, and not be conscious of a good effect, therefrom, to REFUND to said person the full amount which he paid for the same, by returning the ullage bottle to his office.

Price $1.50 Per Bottle!

Sold by Apothecaries and Dealers in Medicines, and at the Doctor's Office,

51 & 53 HANOVER ST., BOSTON.
May 11—3m.

MOULTON'S
NEW LIVERY STABLE,

Is removed to stable formerly occupied by

SAMUEL HAM,

On MAIN STREET, opposite the Institute.

Good Horses and Carriages will be always in readiness at short notice.
South Danvers, May 25, 1864.

HEYLINGBERG'S

Hair Dressing Saloon,

24 MAIN ST., SOUTH DANVERS.

J. J. HEYLINGBERG would announce to his patrons and the public generally, that on and after JUNE 13, 1864, he will abide by the following

TARIFF OF PRICES:

- Shaving, 10 cts.
- Hair Cutting, 15 cts.
- Champooing, 15 cts.

Particular attention paid to dying hair and whiskers, in one preparation, without washing or scrubbing.

South Danvers, May 11, 1864.

FLOUR.

200 BBLS "Keystone;" 100 bbls Family "Invincible," received this day, and for sale by
may 25 GAYLE & CO., Phillips Wharf.

Cards.

M. B. MANSFIELD,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
214 ESSEX STREET, SALEM, MASS.

_ Particular attention paid to procuring Pensions, Bounties, Back Pay, Prize Money, and Army and Navy Claims of all descriptions. March 2.

THOMAS M. STIMPSON,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
194 ESSEX STREET, SALEM.
Residence Lowell street, South Danvers.

B. C. PERKINS,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
South Danvers—Office in Allen's Building

ALFRED A. ABBOTT,
Attorney and Counsellor,
Office, No. 24 Washington Street, Salem;
House, Main St., So. Danvers.

SIDNEY C. BANCROFT,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
27 Washington Street, Salem.

H. O. WILEY,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
Office, Allen's Building, So. Danvers.

Claims against the Government for Bounty Back Pay, and Pensions, promptly attended to.

A. S. CRAWFORD
Dentist,
No. 4 MAIN STREET, SO. DANVERS SQUARE
Mechanical Dentistry Neatly Executed.

W. L. BOWDOIN,
SURGEON DENTIST,
No. 208 Essex Street, Salem, (Opposite the Market)
Residence—No. 57 Washington street.
jan 11—1y

NEWMAN & SYMONDS,
DEALERS IN
Family Groceries, Flour & Grain,
HARD WARE AND CROCKERY,
Ready Made Clothing, Gents' Furnishing Goods,
Hats, Caps, Boots, Shoes, &c.,
South Danvers Square, opp. Congregational Church
SAM'L NEWMAN. NATH'L SYMONDS.

S. C. & E. A. SIMONDS,
DEALERS IN
Crockery, China and Hardware; Paper Hangings; Solar and Entry Lamps; Paints, Oil, and Window Glass.
No. 32 Front street, Lawrence Place,
feb13 SALEM, MASS.

HENRY L. WHIDDEN,
HOUSE AND SIGN PAINTER,
Glazier and Paperer,
Central Street, South Danvers.
All orders promptly and faithfully executed.
jan2-1y

E. S. FLINT,
DEALER IN
West India Goods, Country Produce,
No. 2 Main Street, South Danvers.

JESSE SMITH
No. 252 Essex Street, Salem,
Importer and Dealer in
Gold and Silver Watches,
MARINE CHRONOMETERS,
Aneroid Barometers, Spy Glasses, &c.

WILLIAM BLANEY,
HOUSE & SIGN PAINTER
Grainer, Glazier and Paper Hanger.
104 MAIN STREET, Corner of Grove.
WINDOWS and BLINDS cheap for cash.
mch6-tf

F. POOLE
INSURANCE AGENT,
Allen's Building (up stairs).
Deeds drawn, and other common forms.

H. L. HADLEY,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
CORNER MAPLE AND ELM ST.,
Danvers.
Claims against the Government for Bounty, Back Pay, and Pensions, promptly attended to.

E. F. BURNHAM,
SOLE AGENT FOR
SARGENT & CO.S'
MAGIC SOAP!
For South Danvers & Salem.
OFFICE—Central St., opp. Lowell Depot, at Burnham's Express Office, So. Danvers.
Price $3.50 per 100 Lbs.
Orders sent by mail or otherwise to So. Danvers will be promptly attended to. tf oct3

CHINA GOODS.

GOLD Band Tea Sets; Fancy do.; Vases; Match Boxes; Fruit Baskets, etc., at
S C & E A SIMONDS',
je22 32 Front St., Salem.

DYSPEPSIA AND FITS.

A SURE CURE FOR

THESE distressing complaints is now made known in a Treatise on foreign and Native Herbal Preparations, published by DR. O. PHELPS BROWN. The prescription was furnished him in such a providential manner, that he cannot conscientiously refuse to make it known, as it has cured everybody who has used it, never having failed in a single case. It is equally sure in cases of Fits as of Dyspepsia; and the ingredients may be found in any drug store. Sent free to all on the receipt of five cents to pre-pay postage. This work, of 48 octavo pages, beautifully illustrated, also treats on

Consumption,

Bronchitis, Asthma, General Debility, and gives the best known Herbal Remedies for their positive and permanent cure. Address Dr. O. PHELPS BROWN, No. 19 Grand Street, Jersey City, New Jersey.
may 25—3m.

A Card to the Suffering.

SWALLOW two or three hogsheads of "Buchu," "Tonic Bitters," "Sarsaparilla," "Nervous Antidotes," &c., &c., &c., and after you are satisfied with the result, then try one box of OLD DOCTOR BUCHAN'S ENGLISH SPECIFIC PILLS—and be restored to health and vigor in less than thirty days. They are purely vegetable, pleasant to take, prompt and salutary in their effects on the broken-down and shattered constitution. Old and young can take them with advantage. Imported and sold in the United States only by JAS. S. BUTLER, No. 427 Broadway, New York.
☞ Agent for the United States.

P. S. A Box of the Pills, securely packed, will be mailed to any address on receipt of price, which is ONE DOLLAR, post paid, money refunded by the Agent if entire satisfaction is not given. jy 13-3m

Chickering & Sons' Piano-Fortes.
Hallett & Cumston's Piano-Fortes.
Hallett & Davis's Piano-Fortes.

We select our Piano-Fortes from the above firms and warrant them to give perfect satisfaction. Our terms are reasonable, and all persons in the city and neighboring towns can be accommodated by calling at 76 Federal street.

FOR SALE.—Second-hand Piano-Fortes,—Chickering's and others.
ap 29 ANN R. BRAY.

FEATHER DUSTERS,

OF all sizes, from 18 to 26 inches, just opened at
je22 S C & E A SIMONDS', 32 Front st.

Advertisements.

HOSTETTER'S
CELEBRATED
STOMACH BITTERS.

A pure and powerful Tonic, corrective and alterative of wonderful efficacy in disease of the

Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

Cures Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Headache, Debility, Nervousness, Depression of Spirits, Constipation, Colic, Intermittent Fevers, Cramps and Spasms, and all Complaints of either Sex, arising from Bodily Weakness whether inherent in the system or produced by special causes.

Nothing that is not wholesome, genial and restorative in its nature enters into the composition of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. This popular preparation contains no mineral of any kind, no deadly botanical element; no fiery excitant; but it is a combination of the extracts of rare balsamic herbs and plants with the purest and mildest of all diffusive stimulants.

It is well to be forearmed against disease, and, so far as the human system can be protected by human means against maladies engendered by an unwholesome atmosphere, impure water and other external causes, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS may be relied on as a safeguard.

In districts infested with Fever and Ague, it has been found infallible as a preventive and irresistible as a remedy and thousands who resort to it under apprehension of an attack, escape the scourge; and thousands who neglect to avail themselves of its protective qualities in advance, are cured by a very brief course of this marvelous medicine. Fever and Ague patients, after being plied with quinine for months in vain, until fairly saturated with that dangerous alkaloid, are not unfrequently restored to health within a few days by the use of HOSTETTER'S BITTERS.

The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated and the appetite restored by this agreeable Tonic, and hence it works wonders in cases of DYSPEPSIA and in less confirmed forms of INDIGESTION. Acting as a gentle and painless aperient, as well as upon the liver, it also invariably relieves the CONSTIPATION superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and secretive organs.

Persons of feeble habit, liable to Nervous Attacks, Lowness of Spirits and Fits of Languor, find prompt and permanent relief from the Bitters. The testimony on this point is most conclusive, and from both sexes.

The agony of BILIOUS COLIC is immediately assuaged by a single dose of the stimulant, and by occasionally resorting to it, the return of the complaint may be prevented.

As a General Tonic, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS produce effects which must be experienced or witnessed before they can be fully appreciated. In cases of Constitutional Weakness, Premature Decay and Debility and Decrepitude arising from OLD AGE, it exercises the electric influence. In the convalescent stages of all diseases it operates as a delightful invigorant. When the powers of nature are relaxed, it operates to re-enforce and re-establish them.

Last, but not least, it is The Only Safe Stimulant, being manufactured from sound and innocuous materials, and entirely free from the acid elements present more or less in all the ordinary tonics and stomachics of the day.

No family medicine has been so universally, and, it may be truly added, deservedly popular with the intelligent portion of the community, as HOSTETTER'S BITTERS.

Prepared by HOSTETTER & SMITH, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Sold by all Druggists, Grocers and Storekeepers everywhere.

HELMBOLD'S
GENUINE PREPARATIONS.

COMPOUND FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU, a Positive and Specific Remedy for diseases of the Bladder, Kidneys, Gravel, and Dropsical Swellings.

This Medicine increases the power of Digestion, and excites the Absorbents into healthy action, by which the Watery or Calcareous depositions, and all Unnatural Enlargements are reduced, as well as Pain and Inflammation.

—:o:—

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU.

For Weaknesses arising from Excesses, Habits of Dissipation, Early Indiscretion of Abuse, attended with the following symptoms:—

Indisposition to Exertion,	Loss of Power,
Loss of Memory,	Difficulty of Breathing,
Weak Nerves,	Trembling,
Horror of Disease,	Wakefulness,
Dimness of Vision,	Pain in the Back,
Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System,
Hot Hands,	Flushing of the Body,
Dryness of the Skin,	Eruptions on the Face,
Pallid Countenance.

These symptoms, if allowed to go on, which this medicine invariably removes, soon follows

Impotency, Fatuity, Epileptic Fits,

In one of which the patient may expire.

Who can say that they are not frequently followed by those "Direful Diseases,"

"INSANITY AND CONSUMPTION."

Many are aware of the cause of their suffering, BUT NONE WILL CONFESS THE RECORDS OF THE INSANE ASYLUMS.

And Melancholy Deaths by Consumption bear ample witness to the Truth of the assertion.

The Constitution once affected with Organic Weakness requires the aid of Medicine to Strengthen and Invigorate the system.

Which HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU invariably does. A Trial will convince the most skeptical.

—:o:—

FEMALES—FEMALES—FEMALES.

In many Affections peculiar to Females the EXTRACT BUCHU is unequalled by any other remedy, as in Chlorosis or Retention, Irregularity, Painfulness, or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated or Schirrus state of the Uterus, Leucorrhoea or Whites, Sterility, and for all complaints incident to the sex, whether arising from indiscretion or Habits of Dissipation, or in the

DECLINE OR CHANGE OF LIFE.

—:o:—

Take no more Balsam, Mercury, or unpleasant Medicines for unpleasant and dangerous diseases.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU AND IMPROVED ROSE WASH CURES

SECRET DISEASES

In all their Stages, At little Expense,
Little or no change in Diet, No inconvenience,
And no Exposure.

It causes a frequent desire and gives strength to Urinate, thereby Removing Obstructions, Preventing and Curing Strictures of the Urethra, allaying Pain and Inflammation, so frequent in this class of diseases, and expelling all Poisonous, Diseased and wornout Matter.

Thousands upon Thousands who have been the Victims of Quacks, and who have paid heavy fees to be cured in a short time, have found they were deceived, and that the "POISON" has, by the use of "Powerful Astringents," been dried up in the system, to break out in an aggravated form, and perhaps after Marriage.

—:o:—

Use HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU for all affections and diseases of the URINARY ORGANS, whether existing in MALE or FEMALE, from whatever cause originating and no matter of HOW LONG STANDING.

Diseases of these Organs requires the aid of a DIURETIC. HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU IS THE GREAT DIURETIC, and is certain to have the desired effect in all Diseases for which it is Recommended.

Evidence of the most reliable and responsible character will accompany the medicine.

Price $1.00 per bottle, or six for $5.00.

Delivered to any Address, securely packed from observation.

Describe Symptoms in all Communications.

Cures Guaranteed! Advice Gratis!!

Address letters for information to

H. B. HELMBOLD, Chemist,
104 South Tenth-st., bel. Chestnut, Phila.

HELMBOLD'S Medical Depot.
HELMBOLD'S Drug & Chemical Warehouse,
594 Broadway, New York.

BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS AND UNPRINCIPLED DEALERS who endeavor to dispose "of their own" and "other" articles on the reputation attained by

Helmbold's Genuine Preparations.
" " Extract Buchu.
" " " Sarsaparilla.
" " Improved Rose Wash.

SOLD BY
ALL DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE.
ASK FOR HELMBOLD'S. TAKE NO OTHER.
Cut out the Advertisement and send for it,
AND AVOID IMPOSITION AND EXPOSURE.
December 16, 1863.—1 yr.

WM. C. HENDERSON,
MANUFACTURER OF
PLAIN AND FANCY
PAPER BOXES,
No. 235 ESSEX STREET,
Sign of "Nest of Boxes."
July 23 SALEM. tf

MANHOOD:
HOW LOST, HOW RESTORED.

Just published, a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical cure (without medicine) of SPERMATORRHŒA, or Seminal Weakness, Involuntary Seminal Losses, IMPOTENCY, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc.; also, Consumption, Epilepsy and Fits, induced by self-indulgence or sexual extravagance.

☞ Price, in a sealed envelope, only 6 cents.

The celebrated author in this admirable essay clearly demonstrates from a thirty years successful practice, that the alarming consequences of self-abuse may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine or the application of the knife—pointing out a mode of cure, at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

☞ This Lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land.

Sent under seal, in a plain envelope, to any address, POST-PAID, on receipt of six cents, or two post stamps. Address the publishers,

CHAS. J. C. KLINE & CO.,
127 Bowery, New York, Post Office Box, 4586.
June 22—10w.

SPEED, COMFORT AND SAFETY!

FOR NEW YORK.
Norwich Steamboat Train.
The only Boats Landing at Jersey City.

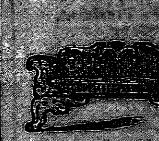
CABIN Passage, $5.00; Deck Passage, $4.00. The new and elegant sixteen wheel cars of the steamboat express train leave the Boston & Worcester Railroad Station, Albany Street, at 5½ P. M., daily, connecting with the new steamers, built expressly for this line,) CITY OF BOSTON, Capt. WILCOX, Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays; CITY OF NEW YORK, Capt. JEWETT, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays, which (before proceeding to their Pier, No. 39 North River,) will touch at the wharf of the New Jersey Railroad at Jersey City, (Sundays excepted) thus enabling Southern Passengers to make sure connections with the First Southern Train, and at the same time avoid the great annoyance of the Ferry and Hack transportation in the crowded streets of New York. This insures ample time for Breakfast before the trains leave. Conductors E. MORRILL and T. N. FINNEN accompany the passengers through to New York.

Tickets, Berths and Staterooms secured at the Railroad Station, and at the Office of the line, 76 Washington Street, Boston.

Through tickets to Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington can be had at 76 Washington Street, Boston. [illegible] Agent.

Boston, January 7, 1864.

CURRIER & MILLETT,
Dealers in



Furniture, Chairs,
MATTRESSES, FEATHERS, &
259 & 261 ESSEX ST.
Salem, dec 11—1y

H. & H. G. HURON,
WASHINGTON STREET, SALEM
Manufacturers of
Rose Wood, Mahogany, Black Walnut and Stained Wood

COFFINS and CASKETS.

MAKING this our exclusive business, we are ready at all times and at the shortest notice to furnish Grave Clothes of various styles, as well as Coffins and Caskets of the finest finish. Personal attention given, and delivered without extra charge to any of the neighboring towns. All orders by express or otherwise will receive prompt attention.

Black Walnut and White Wood Boards, Plank and Joists for sale.

dec 14—tf

CHARLES S. BUFFUM,

BEING an authorized UNDERTAKER of South Danvers, will attend Funerals in said place with his Hearse the same as the Town Undertaker. Will also attend Funerals, when desired, in any of the neighboring towns, with one or a pair of horses.

He also furnishes Coffin Caskets, Robes, &c., lower than city prices.

All branches of the business attended to, such as furnishing Coaches, Flowers, Laying Out, &c. Ice Preservers furnished.

All orders promptly attended to, and personal attention given to them. Articles delivered to any of the neighboring towns free of charge. Orders by express or otherwise will receive prompt attention.

Central street, South Danvers,
RESIDENCE 26 ELM STREET.
South Danvers, Feb 17, 1864.

Undertaker's Notice!

THE subscriber being regularly appointed as Undertaker of South Danvers, would respectfully notify the public that he has removed from Central Street, to No. 30 Lowell Street, where he may be found in readiness to attend funerals, and to furnish, when desired.

HENRY SPENCER.
February 10, 1864.

E. S. FLINT,
Manufacturer and Dealer in
INNER SOLES,
AND SHOE STIFFENINGS OF ALL KINDS.
2 MAIN STREET, SOUTH DANVERS.

Choice Spring Pigs for Sale.

THE subscriber offers for sale some PIGS of Mackie Prince Albert and Chester County breeds, of which the Mackie took the First Premium at the late Cattle Show. Prices reasonable.

BYRON GOODALE,
Near Tapley's Brook.
South Danvers, April 1, 1864. tf

THE BEST ASSORTMENT

OF White, Colored Grounds, neat Patterns to be found in the city.
June 1 ANN R. BRAY, 76 Federal st.

Eastern Railroad.

ON and after MONDAY, April 4, 1864, Trains will leave the Eastern Railroad Station, Washington street, Salem, daily, (Sundays excepted):

For Lynn and Boston, *5.50, 7, 8¼, 9, 10, 11 a m., 12.55, 3½, 5¼, 7, 7¼, p. m.
Beverly, 8, 8.15, 11¼, am., 1, 3¼, 5¼, 6.55, 7¼ p m.
W. Beach, Man'r, Gloucester, and Rockport, 8, 11¼, a m., 3¼, 6¼ p m.
Ipswich and Newburyport, 8.05 am., 1, 3¼, 5¼, 6.55 pm.
Amesbury, 8.05 a m., 1, 3¼, 5¼ p.m.
Portsmouth, 8.05 a m., 3¼ p m.
Portland, 8.05 a m., 3¼ p m.

AND FOR SALEM, FROM

Portland, 8½ a m., 3 p m.
Portsmouth, 6.20, 9.10, *11¼ a m., *5¼ p m.
Amesbury, 7.35, 9.40 a m., 5.55 p m.
Newburyport, 7, 7.55, 10, 11.50 a m., 6¼ p m.
Ipswich, 7.20, 8.15, 10.20 a m., 12.15, 5.25 p m.
Gloucester, 7, 8½, 10.10 a m., 1.40, 4.40 p m.
Manchester, 7.25, 10.25 a m., 1.55, 4.55 p m.
Beverly, 6.50, 7.58, 8.20, 8.50, 10.50 am., 12.45, 2.20, 5.20, 6.45, 7.30 pm.
Lynn, 7.45, 7.50, 9, 11, a m., 12.45, 3, 3.30, 4.30, 5.30, 6, 6.40, 7.30, 10 p m.
Boston, 7¼, 7½, 8½, 10½ am., 12½, 2½, 3, 4, 5, 5.30, 6.10, 7, †9.30 p m.

*Or on arrival from the East.
†On Wednesdays this train leaves Boston at 11¼ p. m. and on Saturdays at 10½ p. m.

MARBLEHEAD BRANCH.

Marblehead for Salem, 6½, 7½, 8½, 9½ a m., 12½, 1½, 5¼, 6½, 7½ p m.
Salem for Marblehead, 7½, 8½, 9.25, 11½ a m., 1, 3¼, 5¼, 7, 7.50 p m.

SOUTH READING BRANCH.

Trains leave the South Reading Depot in Salem for Boston at 6.35, 8.50 a m., 2.25, 4.55 p m.
Boston for Salem, 7 a m., 12 m., 2.30, 5¼ p m.

ESSEX RAILROAD.

Leave Salem for Lawrence and way stations, 7, 11¼ a m., 4.45 p m.
Lawrence for Salem, 8 a m., 12.40, 5.50 p m.
Danvers for Salem, 8.40 a m., 1.20, 6.30 p m.
South Danvers for Salem, 8½ a m., 1.25, 6.35 p m.

J. PRESCOTT, Superintendent.
Boston, April 5, 1864.

Salem and Lowell Railroad.

ON and after MONDAY, April 4, 1864, Trains will run as follows:

Leave Lowell for Salem, 7.25 a m., and *2.45 p m.
Leave Salem for Lowell, *9.40 a m., and 6.00 p m.

Passengers are not allowed to carry baggage above $50 in value, and that personal, unless notice is given and an extra amount paid. Season tickets do not entitle the holder to take baggage.

*Freight Train with passenger car attached.

F. H. NOURSE, Local Superintendent.
April 4, 1864.

FOR NEW YORK via FALL RIVER AND NEWPORT. Cabin passage $5.00; Deck, $4.00. Cars leave the Depot of the Old Colony and Newport Railway, corner of South and Kneeland streets, at 5.30 P. M., daily.

For steamer METROPOLIS, Capt. W. Brown, on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

For steamer EMPIRE STATE, Capt. P. Brayton, on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays.

Passengers by this route can take the 4.40 P. M. Express Train, and arrive in Fall River one hour before the Steamboat Train, having time to secure State Rooms and make their preparations for the passage.

Passengers by this line going to Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, &c., can connect with the New Jersey or Camden and Amboy Railroad. Baggage Checked through.

☞ A baggage master accompanies the passengers through to New York. Tickets, Berths and Staterooms secured at this office, and at O. C. & Newport R. R. Station.

GEORGE SHIVERICK, Agent.
No. 82 Washington Street.
BOSTON, November 16, 1863.

Abbott's South Danvers & Salem
EXPRESS.

Leave South Danvers, 7½ a m., 1 p m
Leave Salem, 10 a m., 4 p m

Orders left at Teel & Moulton's, and principal stores on Main street, South Danvers; and at 7 Washington street, and at Reed's in the Market, Salem.

Are you Insured?

THE subscriber would respectfully call your attention to the fact that he is fully prepared to effect INSURANCE AGAINST FIRE, to any amount, at current rates, on

Dwelling Houses, Barns and their contents, Stores, Stocks of Goods, Furniture, &c. &c., and on buildings in process of erection.

And that he is the authorized Agent for the following responsible Stock and Mutual Companies, viz:

Thames Insurance Co., (Stock,) Norwich, Conn.
Capital—$500,000.
Amos W. Prentice, Pres. Oliver F. Rice, Sec'y

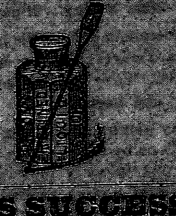
Conway Insurance Company, (Stock) Boston.
Capital and Surplus—$260,000.
James E. Whitney, Pres. David G. Rogers, Sec'y.

City Insurance Company, (Stock) Boston.
Capital—$150,000.
Samuel P. Hayward, Pres. Austin W. Benton, Sec'y

Also, will effect insurance on the LIVES OF INDIVIDUALS, for one year, seven years, or for the whole term of life, in the

Massachusetts Mutual Life Ins. Co., Springfield, Mass.
Capital and Assets—$375,000.
Caleb Rice, Pres. D. B. Bacon, Sec'y.
William Mack, M. D., Medical Examiner.

WM. ARCHER, Jr.,
18 Washington st. and 34 Front st., Salem.
feb20-1



ALWAYS SUCCESSFUL!

TO ALL THOSE WHO SUFFER FROM

DEBILITY AND SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

DRS. CARSWELL & HUNTER, regularly educated, highly eminent and successful practitioners, after a very extensive practice in Boston, for over twenty years, need hardly speak of their medical qualifications, or remind strangers not to class them with a set of uneducated men, who fill the papers with their boasting advertisements. Drs. C. & H. caution the public against quackery in all its forms, pretending, as some self-styled doctors, to cure all the most difficult and chronic diseases, without knowledge of the human system, or of the modus operandi of the most simple drugs.

Drs. C. & H., since 1840, having confined their whole attention to an office practice for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, they acknowledge no superiors.

CONSTITUTIONAL DEBILITY OR SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Drs. C. & H. are pre-eminently successful in the treatment of the above most difficult and perplexing of all diseases, this complaint being the result of a secret habit in youth; if neglected or improperly treated, it proves one of the greatest evils that can befall a human being. Dr. H. has given particular attention to the above disease for years, and so thoroughly has he become acquainted with the pathology and treatment, that he will warrant a perfect cure under forfeiture of $500; in fact, he will, in the cure of this complaint, acknowledge no superior in this country, or even in the world. Come, then, all you who are afflicted, come to the Old Stand, where you will in a short time be made to rejoice in perfect health.

SYPHILITIC AND SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS,—such as Ulcers and Caries of the throat and nose, Running Sores on the legs and arms, Hard Scabs and Scaly Eruptions on the head, back, &c., pains in the bones and joints, and all other forms of venereal diseases—are made to yield and entirely disappear under Drs. C. & H.'s improved and thoroughly eradicating course of treatment.

The primary or first symptoms of disease, whether a simple running, or small pistules, cankers, or ulcers, are cured in a very few days, if immediate application is made to Drs. C. & H.

13 ENDICOTT STREET, BOSTON. 13

Strangers should be particular in the selection of a physician, lest they be deceived by false advertisements.

Ladies troubled with irregularity, weakness, whites, and other complaints peculiar to the female system, will find a speedy cure by calling as above. No mercury used, and no charge for advice. The afflicted are invited to give us a call.

Boston, April 20, 1864.—1 yr.

25 YEARS' EXPERIENCE enables DRS. CARSWELL & HUNTER to cure any diseases of a private nature in a shorter space of time and for a smaller amount of money than any other doctors in this country, and they also treat all female complaints with perfect success, and on the most satisfactory terms. Patients furnished with board if desired. Please give us a call at our office, No. 13 Endicott St., Boston, Mass.

Boston, April 20, 1864.—1 yr.

MOZAMBIQUES,

AT 20 cents per yard; a nice quality at 30 cents per yard; White Striped Muslins; Striped Cambrics; Nainsooks—just received.

In Lawns we have a first rate assortment; other styles of Thin Goods—making our assortment as good as can be found in the city, selling at the lowest cash prices.

Ann R. BRAY, 76 Federal Street.
June 1.

SUMMER ARRAN

TO

LYNN & BOS

BY

OMNIBUS & HOR

W. F. BURNHA

Line of Omnibuses will leave the
Omnibus Office, No. 6 Allen's Buil
vers, passing down Main Street, thro
Street, to Lynn, daily—Sundays inc
Leave South Danvers at 7.50 o'cl
and 4.50 P. M.
Leave Lynn (Horse Car Depot, W
A. M., 2.40 and 5.40 P. M.
Horse Cars leaving the office at at 8.15 A. M., 1.15 and 5.15 P. M., wi
buses at Lynn, at the above nam
passengers to South Danvers.
Tickets to Lynn,
Through to Boston,

Gravesend, Woodend,
Depot Rout

ON and after Monday, Nov 2, in route, an Omnibus will leave S
Lynn, to connect with the steam
times daily,—Sundays excepted,
Gravesend and Woodend, to the C
and Horse Railroad Station, corn
Broad Streets; leaving South Danv
necting with the 7.55 steam cars fo (connecting with the 11.10 train), a ing with the 4.50 train); and retur
from the Spring Street Station, and
pot, at 8 A. M., and 1 and 5 P. M.
Fare from S. Danvers to Boston

Through Tickets to and from Bos
the Drivers and Conductors.

South Danvers, Salem
Route.

THE subscriber having purcha
ley the Omnibus line runnin
Lynn, would announce that a Stage Office, No. 6 Allen's Buildin
for Salem, at 7.50 A. M., and 2.30
Stage Office in Central St., Salem
3.30 P. M. for Lynn. Returning wi
A. M. and 5 P. M.; and Salem for Sou
A. M. and 6.15 P. M.
Passengers between South Danv be called for by leaving orders at Passengers called for at reasonab
s given at the office.

EXPRESS BUSI

Between South Danvers and Lyn
ed to, on reasonable terms.
Extra Coaches furnished at sho

W. F.

South Danvers, April 20, 1864.

GROUT & MU
SOUTH DANVERS
RAILROAD EX

Express leaves South Danvers
Freight
Express leaves Boston at
Freight at
OFFICE at FREIGHT
Danvers Square.
Express Office in Boston, 3 W
Freight Office, 48
Particular attention paid
niture, collecting Bills, Note
Small favors thankfully rece
South Danvers, August 20

MARSHA
DANVERS, SO. DANV
EXPRES
Leave DANVERS daily at
SALEM at 2½ P. M.
OFFICES
In Danvers—At E B Waite's and
Danversport—Richards and A W
In So. Danvers—Francis Dane &
street.
In Salem—No 7 Washington stre
17 Derby Square.
All business promptly and fai
—— Our patrons are
write their orders.
—— Packages left at the office
"Marshall's Express."
—— Being connected with
are enabled to forward Mone collection, and small package points in the United States, at
dec15 tf

WEBBE
South Danvers & Salem
WILL leave South Danvers a
12 and 3 P M.
Leave Salem at 8.45 A M, 10
Slates will be found at South
Office, and at Blake & Holmes ment, and at Salem at the Count
Street, and at E & J W Rober
Washington Streets.
Any packages or business ent will have prompt attention and t he patronage is solicited.

Important to the

DR. DOW continues to be co
Nos. 7 and 9 Endicott stree
cases of
PRIVATE OR DELICA
By a long course of study and
of unlimited extent, Dr. D. has
of presenting the unfortunat
have never, since he first introdu cure the most alarming cases o
GONORRHŒA AND
Beneath his treatment, all the
and impure blood, Impotency, S
Ulcers, pain and distress in the
tion, Inflammation of the Blad
drocele, Abscesses, Humors, frig
the long train of horrible sym
class of disease, are made to bec
the simplest things of a child.
SEMINAL WEA
Dr. D. devotes a great part o
ment of those cases caused by a habit, which ruins the body an unfortunate individual for busin
of the sad and melancholy effe
habits of youth, are Weakn limbs, Dizziness of the head, I pitation of the heart, Dyspeps
rangement of the digestive fun
Consumption, &c. The fearful
are much to be dreaded, loss
of ideas, depression of spir
aversion of society, self-distru
among the evils produced. Su
fore contemplating matrimony experience, and be at once r
happiness.
Patients who wish to remain
ment a few days or weeks pleasant rooms, and charges Medicines sent to all parts o
directions for use on receivin cases. Dr. Dow is able to su warranted the best preventiv
or $1 and a red stamp.

CAUTI
TO FEMALES IN DEL

DR. DOW, Physician and Su street, Boston, is consulted da dent to the female system.
ing of the Womb, Fluor Albus or menstrual derangements ar pathological principles, and sp
in a very few days. So invaria mode of treatment, that most yield under it, and the afflicted
in perfect health.
Dr. Dow has no doubt had gr cure of diseases of women a
other physician in Boston.
Boarding accommodations wish to stay in Boston a few
ment.
Dr. Dow, since 1845, having tention to an office practice Diseases and Female Comp
superior in the United States.
N. B.—All letters must conta
they will not be answered.
Office Hours from 8 A. M. to

CERTAIN
IN ALL CASES, OR NO
Dr. Dow is consulted daily as above, upon all difficult a every name and nature, havin tention and extraordinary suc which calls patients from all p
obtain advice.
Among the physicians in B in the profession than the c
7 Endicott street, Boston.
vices of an experienced sur
give him a call. P. S.
sale a new article, called by mail. Two
April 20,

NEW WHITE
DINNER, Tea and Toil
new pattern, Ribbon
je22 S C & E A SIMO

South Danvers Wizard.

OL. V. SOUTH DANVERS, MASS., WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 10, 1864. NO. 32.

SOUTH DANVERS WIZARD
ed every WEDNESDAY, at Allen's Build-
Danvers Square.
-Two Dollars a year.
ISEMENTS inserted at reasonable rates.

CHARLES D. HOWARD,
ITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

. NILES, Advertising Agent,
ollay's Building, Court Street, Boston, is
for that city, and is authorized to re-ertisements and subscriptions for us at
t rates.

Original Poetry.

I MISS THEE.

ee, my daughter, at dawn of the day,
om slumber the sun bids me rise,
at glad voice that cheered on the way,
light of those love-beaming eyes.

thee at noon, when the sun shines so
ht,
nature looks cheerful and gay, that sweet smile, so replete with de-it,
eeted me day after day.

hee at eve, when shades of the night,
the bright light of the day,
y thoughts wander up where the stars
e so bright,
daughter shines with them for aye.

thee in Spring, when songsters come
r,
th music my heart may be blest;
u, dearest daughter, dost not re-appear,
st gone to the heaven of rest.

thee in Summer, when earth seems so sed in its verdure and bloom, grieve that my daughter so lovely and rly, should sink to the tomb.

thee in Autumn, when the sear falling at beauty of earth must decay, sadly I miss thee, it lessens the grief,
k thou art happy to-day.

thee in Winter, when cold blows the nd,
e earth is deep covered with snow, hee—yet rejoice that thy heart pure and d,
rows of earth cannot know.

thee, my daughter, at morn, noon, and
ht,
after year passes by,
pe I shall meet thee with joy and de-
ht,
ler blest mansions on high.

EARNEST.

Selected.

VOMAN'S INFLUENCE.

e is no doubt in our minds of the fact e war has been prolonged and Southern free institutions intensified by the wo-the South, who are a long way beyond nale friends in secession. They lose no n to make their influence felt, and in spect their example might be profitably
d by the loyal women of the North.
rn men have been forced into the rebel by their female friends who refuse to to or recognize a man who is not dis-to join their army. Taking the South iew, the ladies of the South are exceed-patriotic, and as a class, much more so e women of the North. Here men talk ite treason and yet in social life are well d, well treated by Union ladies. In the the ladies treat loyal men with the utontempt. Were the women of the North erminedly loyal in this respect to the our Union, as the women of the South yal to the Confederate rag, treason in orth would become a thing almost un-
. But how is it? In the South the send their fathers, brothers, husbands, d lovers into the army, and then sustain rengthen them, not only in the field, but mitting nobody to talk treason against onfederate flag at home. Men who are yal to the Stars and Stripes, are deprived al position and are forced by the com-influence of the women, either into the rmy or out of the country.

the North, while our brave boys are bat-for the flag and for National existence, many instances their mothers, sisters weethearts, treat with social distinction who openly sympathize with rebellion, some circles, it is unpopular to be loyal.
ladies who have loved friends in the ranks talk flippantly about the Abolis, and accuse them of being the cause of ar. It is too true our women, many of do not realize that they are aiding in ging this war by thus indirectly coun-ing treason at home. They don't real-at by thus giving social distinction to sympathizers at home, they are covering earts of those they love with the muzzles el rifles in the field, still longer. When omen of the North shall as unitedly and minedly work for our cause as the women
South do for theirs, we shall see a difstate of feeling here, and the tendency be to shorten the war by throwing more y and unity into its prosecution.—Port-Courier.

☞ "Stockings I can do without so as I wear fashionable dresses," said lage belle somewhat straightened in financial resources, "but a bosom nd kid gloves I must have."

☞ Charity begins at home.

KILLING AN ENEMY.

BY T. S. ARTHUR.

That man will be the death of me yet, said Paul Levering.

He looked worried, but not angry.

Thee means Dick Hardy?

Yes.

What has he been doing to thee now?

The questioner was a Friend named Isaac Martin—a neighbor.

He's always doing something, friend Martin. Scarcely a day passes that I don't have a complaint of him. Yesterday, one of the boys told me that he saw him throw a stone at my new Durham cow, and strike her on the head.

That's very bad, friend Levering. Does thee know why he did this? Was thy Durham trespassing on his grounds?

No; she was only looking over his fence. He has a spite against me and mine, and does all he can to injure me. You know the fine Bartlett pear tree that stands in the corner of my lot adjoining his property?

Yes.

Two large limbs, full of fruit, stretched over on his side. You would hardly believe it, but it's true. I was out there just now, and discovered that he sawed off these two fine limbs that hung over on his side. They lay upon the ground, and his pigs were eating the fruit.

Why is Dick so spiteful to thee, friend Levering? He doesn't annoy me. What has thee done to him?

I know what first set him out. I kicked an ugly dog of his once. The beast, half-starved at home, I suppose, was all the while prowling about here, and snatching up everything that came in his way. One day I came upon him suddenly, and kicked him howling through the gate. Unfortunately, as he turned out, the dog's master happened to be passing along the road. The way he swore at me was dreadful. I never saw a more vindictive face. On the next morning, a splendid Newfoundland, that I had raised from a pup, met me shivering at the door with his tail cut off! I don't know when I have felt so badly. Poor fellow! His piteous look haunts me now. I had no proof against Dick, but never doubted as to his agency in the matter. In my grief and indignation, I shot the poor dog, to put him out of my sight.

Thee was hasty in that, friend Levering, said the Quaker.

Perhaps I was, though I have never repented the act. I met Dick a few days afterwards. The grin of satisfaction on his face I accepted as an acknowledgment of his mean and cruel revenge. Within a week from that time, one of my cows had a horn knocked off.

What did thee do?

I went to Dick Hardy, and gave him a piece of my mind.

That is, thee scolded, and called hard names, and threatened.

Yes—just so, friend Martin.

Did any good come out of it?

About as much as if I had whistled to the wind.

How has it been since?

No change for the better. It grows, if anything, worse and worse. Dick never grows weary of annoying me.

Has thee ever tried the law with him, friend Levering? The law should protect thee.

O yes, I've tried the law. Once he ran his heavy wagon against my carriage, purposely, and upset me in the road. I made a narrow escape of my life. The carriage was so badly broken that it cost me fifty dollars for repairs. A neighbor saw the whole thing, and said it was plainly intended by Dick. So I sent him the carriage-maker's bill, at which he got into a towering passion. Then I threatened him with prosecution, and he laughed in my face malignantly. I felt that the time had come to act decisively, and sued him, relying on the evidence of my neighbor who had seen the affair.—But my neighbor was afraid of Dick, and so worded his testimony that the jury saw only an accident instead of a purpose to injure, and gave their verdict accordingly. After that, Dick Hardy was worse than ever. He took an evil delight in annoying and injuring me. I am satisfied that in more than one instance, he left gaps in his fences in order to entice my cattle into his fields, that he might set his savage dogs on them, and hurt them with stones. It is more than a child of mine dares, to cross his premises. Only last week he tried to put his dog on my little Florence, who had strayed into his fields after buttercups. The dog was less cruel than his master, or she would have been torn by his teeth, instead of being only frightened by his bark.

It's a hard case, truly, friend Levering. Our neighbor Hardy seems possessed of an evil spirit.

The very spirit of the devil, was answered with feeling.

He's thy enemy, assuredly; and if thee doesn't get rid of him, he will do thee greater harm.

I wish I could get rid of him.

Thee must, if thee would dwell in safety, friend Levering.

The Quaker's face was growing very serious. He spoke in a lowered voice, and bent towards his neighbor in a confidential manner.

Thee must put him out of the way.

Friend Martin! The surprise of Paul Levering was unfeigned.

Thee must kill him.

Kill him? he ejaculated.

If thee doesn't kill him, he'll certainly kill thee, one of these days, friend Levering. And thee knows what is said about self-preservation being the first law of nature.

And get hung!

I don't think they'll hang thee, coolly returned the Quaker. Thee can go over to his house, and get him all alone by thyself. Or, thee can meet him in some by-road. Nobody need see thee; and when he's dead, I think people will be more glad than sorry. Thee needn't fear any bad consequences.

Do you think I am no better than a murderer? Levering's astonishment passed to horror and indignation. I, Paul Levering, stain my hands with blood!

Who said anything about staining thy hands with blood?

The Quaker was imperturbable.

Why, you!

Thee's mistaken; I never used the word blood.

But you meant it. Thee suggested murder.

No, friend Levering; I asked thee to kill thy enemy, lest, some day, he should kill thee.

Isn't killing murder, I should like to know?

There are more ways than one to kill an enemy, said the Quaker. I've killed a good many in my time, but no stain of blood can be found on my garments.—My way of killing enemies is to make them my friends. Kill thy neighbor Hardy with kindness, and thee'll have no more trouble with him.

A sudden light gleamed over Mr. Levering's face, as if a cloud had passed from the sun of his spirit.

A new way to kill people.

The surest way to kill enemies, as thee'll find, if thee'll only try.

Let me see. How shall I go about it? said Paul Levering, taken at once with the idea.

If thee has a will, friend Levering, it will not be long before thee finds the way.

And it so proved. Not two hours afterwards, as Mr. Levering was driving into the village, he found Hardy, with a stalled cart load of stone. He was whipping his horse, and swearing at him passionately; but to no good purpose. The cart wheels were buried half way to the axle in stiff mud, and defied the strength of one horse to move them. On seeing Mr. Levering, Dick stopped pulling and swearing, and getting on to the cart, with his back toward his neighbor, commenced pitching the stones off into the middle of the road.

Hold on a bit, friend Hardy, said Levering, in a pleasant voice, as he dismounted and commenced unhitching his horse.

But Dick pretended not to hear him, and kept on pitching out the stones.

Hold on, I say, and don't give yourself all that trouble, added Mr. Levering, speaking in a louder voice, but in kind and cheerful tones. Two horses are better than one. With Charley's help we'll soon have the wheels on good solid ground again.

Understanding now what was meant, Dick's hands fell almost nerveless by his side.

There, said Levering, as he put his horse in front of Dick's, and made the traces fast; one pull, and the thing's done!

And before Dick could get down from the cart, it was out of the mud hole.

Without saying a word more, Levering unfastened his horse from the front of Dick's animal, and hiching up again, rode on.

On the next day, Mr. Levering saw Dick Hardy in the act of strengthening a bit of weak fence through which his (Levering's) cattle had broken once or twice; thus removing a temptation, and saving the animals from being beaten and set on by dogs.

Thee's given him a bad wound, friend Levering, said the Quaker, on getting information of the two incidents just mentioned; and it will be thy own fault if thee doesn't kill him outright.

Not long afterward, in the face of an approaching storm, and while Dick Hardy was hurrying to get in some clover hay, his wagon broke down. Mr. Levering, who saw from one of his fields the accident, and understood what loss it might occasion, hitched up his own wagon and sent it over to Dick's assistance. With a storm coming on, that might last for days and ruin from two to three tons of hay, Dick could not decline the offer, though it went terribly against the grain to accept a favor from the man he had hated for years and injured in so many ways.

On the following morning, Mr. Levering had a visit from Dick Hardy. It was raining fast.

I've come, said Dick, stammering and confused, and looking down at the ground instead of into Mr. Levering's face, to pay you for the use of your team yesterday in getting in my hay. I should have lost it, if you hadn't sent your wagon, and it's only right that I should pay for the use of it.

I should be very sorry, answered Paul Levering, cheerily, if I couldn't do a neighborly turn without pay. You were right welcome, friend Hardy, to the wagon. I am more than paid in knowing that you saved that nice field of clover. How much did you get?

About three tons. But Mr. Levering, I must——

Not a word, if you don't want to offend me, interposed Levering. I trust there isn't a man around here that would not do as much for a neighbor in time of need. Still, if you feel embarrassed—if you don't wish to stand my debtor—pay me in good will.

Dick Hardy raised his eyes from the ground slowly, and looked in a strange, wondering way at Mr. Levering.

Shall we not be friends?

Mr. Levering reached out his hand.—Hardy grasped it with a quick, short grip; then, as if to hide his feelings that were becoming too strong, dropped it and went off hastily.

Thee's killed him! said the Quaker, on his next meeting with Levering; thy enemy is dead!

Slain by the weapons of kindness, answered Paul Levering, which you supplied.

No, thee took them from God's armory where all men may equip themselves without charge, and become invincible, replied the Quaker. And I trust for thy own peace and safety, thee will never use any other weapon in fighting with thy neighbors. They are sure to kill.

HARVARD COLLEGE.—The statistics of the class just graduated at Harvard are published. When they entered in 1860, the number was 112, and by additions afterwards made up to 144; but the number graduated was 96. Of these, in religion 40 were Unitarians, 20 Orthodox, 18 Episcopalians, 8 Baptists, and 8 of other denominations. In politics 74 were Republicans, 12 Democrats, 9 Union, and one nothing! As two-thirds of them were from Massachusetts they stood about as the State stands. Of their social habits we have the following, which is not favorable to Harvard college, as we had occasion to remark last year—61 smoke, 80 drink, 57 both smoke and drink, 4 smoke but do not drink, 23 drink but do not smoke, and only 12 neither drink or smoke. This is certainly a bad beginning for young men of 21 just starting out into the world. The intentions of the class for the future are these—31 will engage in law; 18 in business; 10 in medicine; 5 in the army; 3 each in civil engineering, the ministry and teaching; 2 in literary affairs; 1 each in farming, as a naturalist, a farmer and a sheep raiser; 17 are undecided. Two of the ministers will be Orthodox and one Unitarian.—Newburyport Herald.

☞ Quilp reports that a party of ladies were discussing the question of the draft, when a young lady somewhat ignorant of what a cartridge is, inquired the reason why men were exempt who had lost two or three teeth.

Because they could not bite the end of a cartridge.

"Then," replied the questioner, "why don't they soak it in their coffee?"

BUTTER.—The Hartford Courant says a gentleman from Ohio stated, recently, that the farmers in his section were packing butter away, and that in his county alone there was enough "salted" to supply the New York market for the winter. When it does come, the market will be flooded, and the farmers will find themselves "sold." Those who are shrewd will sell now.

THE DISCONTENTED BEE.

There was a terrible commotion in the bee-hive. The sentinels at the door-way ceased to fan with their wings, that they might listen; the drones murmured with a hoarse voice; the bees ran in and out in great confusion; the work all stopped, and destruction seemed to reign in this honeyed kingdom. What was the matter? After a good deal of noise and clamor, it was discovered that the bees had brought a criminal before their queen, to know what should be done with her. The queen turned round slowly and majestically, as queens should do, and then inquired—

"What is the matter? Why have you brought that young bee before me"

"Please your majesty, she won't work!"

"Won't work! A bee won't work!"

"No, your majesty, and she is not only idle, but is all the time complaining and finding fault with everybody and everything, and thus she makes the whole hive unhappy!"

"Hebe, is this so? What have you to say?"

"Please your majesty," whined poor Hebe, "I'm the most unfortunate of all your subjects. The fact is I'm not handsome! My face is small, and one of my eyes seems to squint; and though I'm an Italian bee, yet my dress is not rich gold, but has a dim leaden look, and my feet are large, and my arms are hairy, and my ears are too large. In short, I'm so plain that nobody ever notices me, and I have no admirers, and actually overheard a gentleman say, 'How homely Hebe grows!' Those who are handsome, and have admirers, can afford to work, but for me, there is nothing but chagrin and mortification!"

"Foolish one!" cried the queen.—"Now hear your sentence! You will, I hope, have a long life, even nine moons long. You have already wasted four long bright days. I condemn you to rise at early dawn, to go out at once and wash your face and hands in the dew that gathers in the clematis. Then you are to go from flower to flower, and bring in honey sufficient to feed ten young bees. It will take you out twenty-five journeys every day, and require the honey of one hundred flowers each journey."

"O dear!" cried Hebe, "to think of sucking twenty-five hundred flowers every day!"

"Yes, and you must nurse ten young bees all the time, and thus mature one, every day, on an average, and you must do this during three moons. This is my sentence, and you are not to appear before me till at the end of that period!"

The queen turned away, and the sister bees led poor Hebe to the door of the hive, and pushed her out. At first she was bewildered, and cast down. But the sun shone bright, and the birds sang, and the air was filled with her sisters coming and going, flying and singing. So she spread her wings, and away she flew. Away, away she went over fences and trees till she found a field of white clover. Then she came down, and to her amazement found it easy to work. In a short time she had drawn from her hundred clover-heads, and then went straight back to the hive. In she came, singing, and began to feed her young charge. And then off again,—morning, noon, and night she was coming and going. Her young bees loved her, and sang with her, and went on in company as fast as grown. Sometimes she bathed in the dews of the eglantine, or the sweet jessamine; sometimes she swung on the raspberry blossom, sometimes mounted upon the linden, or the locust full of white flowers, and sometimes on the crest of a lofty tulip-tree, or rushed into the woods fragrant with the honeysuckle. But every day she grew happier. Her songs were now cheerful and loud. She laughed at her former dread of work; and what was curious, just in proportion as she worked she grew handsome! The bands that encircled her body became wide and bright like polished gold, her wings shone like leaves of silver. Her eye grew bright, and lost its squint, if it really ever had any. Her feet, kept clear by the morning dew, were in beautiful proportion. In short, there was not a happier or more beautiful bee in the whole hive. Even the lazy drones bowed and hummed admiration as she passed. At the end of her sentence she stood once more before the queen. "Hebe, the beautiful!" as she was then called.

"Ah," said the queen, "I see how it is. It is a law of God, that she who is willing to work, and to do good to others, shall be happy and grow beautiful by the process. Beauty casts her mantle only on the industrious and the good."—John Todd, D. D.

THE KILKENNY CATS.

The story has been so long current that it has become a proverb—"as quarrelsome as the Kilkenny cats"—two of the cats in which city are asserted to have fought so long and so furiously that naught was found of them but two tails! This is manifestly an Irish exaggeration; and when your readers shall have learned the true anecdote connected with the two cats, they will understand why only two tails were found, the unfortunate owners having fled in terror from the scene of their mutilation. I am happy in being able to state that neither Ireland nor Kilkenny is at all disgraced by the occurrence, which did take place in Kilkenny, but which might have occurred in any other place in the known world.

During the rebellion which occurred in Ireland in 1798, (or may be in 1803,) Kilkenny was garrisoned by a regiment of Hessian soldiers, whose custom it was to tie together, in one of their barrack-rooms, two cats by their respective tails, and then, to throw them, face to face across a line generally used for drying clothes. The cats naturally became infuriated, and scratched each other in the abdomen until death ensued to one or both of them, and terminated their sufferings. The officers of the corps were ultimately made acquainted with these barbarous acts of cruelty, and they resolved to put an end to them and punish the offenders. In order to effect this purpose, an officer was ordered to inspect each barrack-room daily, and to report to the commanding officer in what state he found the room. The cruel soldiers, determined not to lose the daily torture of the wretched cats, generally employed one of their comrades to watch the approach of the officer, in order that the cats might be liberated and take refuge in flight before the visit of the officer to the scene of their torture. On one occasion, the "look-out man" neglected his duty, and the officer of the day was heard ascending the barrack-stairs while the cats were undergoing their customary torture. One of the troopers immediately seized a sword from the arm-rack, and with a single blow divided the tails of the two cats. The cats, of course, escaped through the open windows of the room, which was entered almost immediately afterward by the officer, who inquired what was the cause of the two bleeding cats' tails being suspended on the clothes-line, and was told in reply that "two cats had been fighting in the room; that it was found impossible to separate them; and that they fought so desperately that they had devoured each other up, with the exception of their tails;" which may have satisfied Captain Schummelkettel, but would not have decided any person but a beery Prussian.—Notes and Queries.

A LEFT-HANDED MARRIAGE.—Some may wish to know what a "Morganatic Marriage" is. A Morganatic, or left-handed marriage, implies a marriage between a man of superior and a woman of inferior rank, in which it is stipulated that the latter and her children shall not enjoy the rank nor inherit the possessions of the former. This is a regulation enforced especially among the Royal and Ducal families of the continent, in order that the fine clay of the princely nature shall not be contaminated by mixture with the common material of which the middle classes are composed.

THE COTTON FACTORIES destroyed by Gen. Sherman at Roswell, on the Chattahoochie river, were very extensive and valued at $2,000,000. Large quantities of cotton cloth were found in them, considerable of which was distributed to the destitute population of the neighborhood. Some fifty thousand dollars worth of cotton was also destroyed. Roswell is a pretty village, built by the manufacturing interest located there. The house of James King, one of the owners of the cotton factories, is a fine mansion surrounded by beautiful grounds, and was occupied as the headquarters of one of our Generals of Division.

PATRIOTIC.—A gentleman of this city, whose family consists of five persons, has them all represented in the army. One son, who is enrolled, has furnished a substitute for three years, who has been accepted and mustered into the service; and the others, not liable to military duty, will each receive a certificate for a representative recruit, the money having been deposited for that purpose. How many more fathers, mothers and children will follow this patriotic example?—Salem Register.

TALLEYRAND AND BENEDICT ARNOLD.

HOW THEY MET IN HAVRE.

There was a day when Talleyrand arrived in Havre on foot from Paris. It was the darkest hour of the French Revolution. Pursued by the blood hounds of his reign of terror, Talleyrand secured a passage to the United States in a ship about to sail. He was a beggar and a wanderer to a strange land, to earn his daily bread by the sweat of his brow.

"Is there any American staying at your house?" he asked the landlord of the hotel. "I am going to cross the water, and would like a letter to a person of influence in the New World."

"There is a gentleman up stairs either from America or Britain; but whether from America or England I cannot tell."

He pointed the way, and Talleyrand, who in his life was bishop, prince, and minister, ascended the stairs. A miserable suppliant he stood before the stranger's room, knocked and entered.

In the far corner of the dimly lighted room sat a man fifty years of age, his arms folded and his head bowed upon his breast. From a window directly opposite, a flood of light poured upon his forehead. His eyes looked from beneath the downcast brows, and upon Talleyrand's face, with a peculiar and searching expression. His form, vigorous even with the snows of fifty winters, was clad in a dark but rich and distinguished costume.

Talleyrand advanced, stated that he was a fugitive, and with the impression that the gentleman was an American, he solicited his kind feeling and offices.

He poured forth his history in eloquent French and broken English.

"I am a wanderer and an exile. I am forced to fly to the New World without friend or home. You are an American. Give me, then, I beseech you, a letter, of yours, so that I may be able to earn my bread. I am willing to toil; a life of labor in America would be a paradise to a career of luxury in France. You will give me a letter to one of your friends? A gentleman like you doubtless has many friends."

The strange gentleman arose. With a look that Talleyrand never forgot, he retreated toward the door of the next chamber, his eyes still looking from beneath his darkened brow. He spoke as he retreated backward; his voice was full of meaning. "I am the only man of the New World who can raise his hand to God and say, I have not a friend—not one in America."

Talleyrand never forgot the overwhelming sadness of the look which accompanied these words.

"Who are you?" he cried, as the strange man retreated to the next room;—"your name?"

"My name," he replied with a smile that had more of mockery than joy in its convulsive expression,—"my name is Benedict Arnold."

He was gone. Talleyrand sank into the chair, gasping the words, "Arnold the traitor!"

Thus he wandered over the earth, another Cain, with the wanderer's mark upon his brow; and his sad fate is likely to be shared by others of our own day, who are proving traitors to their native land.

☞ A clergyman was once sent for in the middle of the night, by one of the ladies of his congregation. "Well, my good woman," said he, "so you are very ill, and require the consolation of religion. What can I do for you?" "No," replied the old lady; "I am only nervous and can't sleep." "How can I help that?" asked the parson. "Oh, sir, you always put me to sleep so nicely when I go to church, that I thought if you would only preach a little for me!" The parson "made tracts."

☞ Some newspaper wag tells a story of an old gentleman whose eight or ten clerks bored him continually with conundrums. Going home one evening, he was stopped in front of a closed store by a countryman, who asked—"Can you tell me, my friend, why this store is closed?" "Go to thunder!" cried he, "with your conundrums. I've been bored to death with them these three weeks!"

☞ A member of the Lazy Society, in Lowell, feeling a fly alight on his jolly red nose, instead of brushing it off, is circulating a petition to Congress to have the insect removed.

The Wizard.

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 10, 1864.

☞ Some of the republican papers, the N. Y. Evening Post for instance, although not believers in Gen. McClellan, concur in the proposition to give him another command in the field. A similar concession of opinion on the part of the opposition would tend to unite the people in the prosecution of the war.—Salem Observer.

The above paragraph from the Observer must have been written by one who puts considerations of patriotism above those of party.

We say Amen to any suggestion that looks to, or seeks for, a more united and harmonious co-operation of all who oppose the rebellion.

Public sentiment at the North should be looked after occasionally. Although we ought not to expect entire unanimity of opinion, we ought to be practicable enough to unite all enemies of secession, whether friends to the administration or not, in a vigorous prosecution of the war. It will be a sorry day for our cause when the war we have upon our hands becomes a mere administration measure. If we are to restore the Union through the instrumentality of war, it must be done by the people of the North instead of any particular party. It is bad enough to have a "war party" and a "peace party" without a sub-division of the war party into a McClellan party and an anti-McClellan party. This pulling and hauling between different sections of the war party ought to stop.

A Child that Talked at Birth.—South Troy is just now agitated by the stories told about a child that talked at birth. It prophesied that a comet was coming in a few weeks and was going to give us a terrible drouth, and that in consequence of the disarrangement of atmospheric laws there would be a famine according to the inspired baby's prophecy. There are numbers who have seen the talking child and insist upon the truth of these stories.

We have no doubt whatever in regard to the truth of the above prediction (which we find in an exchange,) or the manner of it, but we happen to know of another case fully as extraordinary. Our pet cat has recently had a litter of four kittens. By a freak of nature they are all of different colors. They are black, white and grey, and the other is a Malta. Before they had got their eyes open we overheard a conversation between them something as follows: White began it by saying, as plain as kitten can talk, "ATLANTA WILL BE TAKEN." Grey then said, "GEN. GRANT WILL TAKE RICHMOND." Then Contraband replied, "JEFF. DAVIS CONFINED IN THE OLD CAPITOL PRISON." Malta then said,—"PEACE; WITH GOLD 12 PER CENT. PREMIUM AND 5-20's 30 ADVANCE."

Now we believe this as sincerely as we do the other, only we think Malta has put gold too high and 5-20's rather low.

O. of A. K.—The New York Tribune gives four columns to the description of the recently detected treasonable association, known as the Order of American Knights.

It appears from developments recently made at Missouri, that this order is built up on the ruins of the Knights of the Golden Circle.

It appears to be a secret society of the strictest sort, having for its objects the overthrow of the government by revolutionary means, and ultimately the establishment of a Northwestern Government, consisting of a union of the States in that part of the country.

If the account is reliable, the order is getting to be very strong in number of members and vigor of growth; more definitely the numbers are given as follows: in Missouri, between 20,000 and 30,000; Illinois, 15,000; Indiana, 100,000; Kentucky, 60,000; New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania already very strong and rapidly on the increase.

It is not represented that there are any members in New England. This is very natural, if a part of the plan is to "leave New England out in the cold."

Field Meeting.—A field meeting of the Essex Institute, is appointed for to-day at Gloucester. Cars leave the E. R. Station, Salem, at 8 and 11.15 A. M.—We learn that Eastern Point is to be the part of Gloucester to receive especial attention. We regard these meetings as most useful and most pleasant occasions, and think that very great credit is due to the gentlemen concerned in supporting them.

Mr. Henry Merrill, of this town, who enlisted in a Maine Regiment, has recently written to his mother, that he is now a prisoner at Richmond. In writing he was restricted by the rebel authorities to 6 lines, so he wrote the prescribed number lengthwise on a piece of foolscap, and it being in a very fine hand, made considerable of a paragraph.

Killed and Wounded.—During the late engagement before Petersburg, Solomon Richardson of Middleton was killed, and Sergt. Joseph Hood of Danvers lost his left leg. They belonged to the 35th Regiment Mass. V. M.

Diptheria.—This malignant disease, which has been the scourge of some other places, has appeared among us, but its ravages have been, so far, confined to a single family. Of this family three of the youngest children were suddenly attacked, and all, in one short week, were consigned to early graves. A fourth, an elder brother, was also attacked by the disease, and after being given over by his friends, at last obtained relief and is recovering. This calamity falls with crushing weight upon the widowed mother, who has the sincerest sympathy of our whole community. The eldest victim was a much esteemed member of the senior class of the Peabody High School, and all were singularly amiable and interesting in character and manners.

This malady is by many considered a new disease, but we believe our physicians view it as only a more malignant type of the old throat distemper, or putrid sore throat.

Bold Robbery.—The house of Mr. Matthew H. Mason, on Washington street, in this town, was entered and robbed of three hundred and forty odd dollars (over two hundred of which were in $10 bills on the Salem Merchants' Bank,) last Saturday morning, between 3 and 4 o'clock. The robber or robbers entered a window in the kitchen, and opening the sitting room door, proceeded to the bed-room where the family were asleep, took Mr. Mason's pants and carried them out in the yard, leaving them in a cellar window. The pocket book was found near the window entered.

We are authorized to state that if the man who was in the kitchen the evening before and asked for a drink of water, will please call and leave his name he will be relieved of suspicion of being concerned in the robbery.

Subterranean Fire.—A week ago yesterday a fire, probably set by some mischievous boys who deserve imprisonment, commenced on land of Mr. Stephen Blaney, known as the Poor's Pasture, and rapidly spreading, swept across that large pasture, passed through the wall and entered the swamp of S. C. Bancroft. Although this swamp is generally very wet, even in dry times, yet the drought had been so severe that the fire not only consumed the green bushes and stumps but penetrated down under the surface of the earth and took hold of the roots, where it has continued to burn ever since, notwithstanding the heavy rains of last Thursday. It will probably continue to burn for weeks to come, very much to the disgust of those dwellers who happen to reside to the leeward of the constantly arising smoke.

Heylingberg's Monument.—All our readers who are accustomed to walk Main street must have noticed the neat and tasteful monument erected in front of Heylingberg's Block. It is modeled somewhat after the great Washington Monument, but surpasses that in beauty, as it is decorated all over with stars, stripes, shields and other patriotic emblems. It was erected last week, without accident, amidst an immense throng of citizens, including the ladies who filled all the windows in the upper stories of Mr. Heylingberg's Block, as well as the surrounding houses. We must defer an account of the proceedings, the route of the procession and the speeches, until our next.

Episcopal Services. In consequence of the absence of the Rector of Grace Church, Salem, from town, on the Sundays in August, the services held in the Town Hall, South Danvers, will be postponed until the 1st Sunday in September. Notice of the hour for service will be given in the WIZARD of the Wednesday previous. Any persons interested in these services, are affectionately invited to attend at Grace Church, Salem, at which, for the present month, the hours for worship are 10 1-4 A. M., and 1-4 to 5, P. M.

Death of Private Morrill.—Geo. T. Morrill, of this town, private in Co. B, 23d Mass. Vols., was killed instantly on the morning of the 27th ult., while in the breastworks before Petersburg. He was standing up at the time, shaking his blanket, when a rebel sharpshooter fired at him, shooting him through the neck, killing him instantly. He has a son in the 10th Company of Massachusetts Unattached Heavy Artillery, in Fort Stanton, near the Potomac.

Improvements.—We learn that the saw mill at Newhall's Crossing has been sold to a gentleman of Lynn, who intends to transform it into a cloth printing establishment.

Two more large wooden buildings are to be erected at the Bleachery, to be used in connection with the dyeing department.

Salem High School.—Miss Lois R. Wright, of Lowell, has been appointed one of the assistants of the Salem High School. She comes from the High Schools of South Danvers and Portland, where she won success and a good name for her admirable qualities as an instructor.

AFFAIRS IN LYNNFIELD.

LYNNFIELD, August 8th, 1865.

The Seventeenth Regiment — Drought — Fires in the Woods—Hotel—New Band—Young Roughs.

DEAR WIZARD,—Agreeable to promise I send you a few lines relative to matters in this place, which may possibly serve to fill up a spare corner in your excellent paper, if not to interest some of your many readers.

The 17th Regt. M. V. M., or rather the remnant of that regiment, were assembled here on Wednesday of last week for the purpose of being mustered out of the service. The number present was about 380, including some staff officers. The men looked quite well and seemed in good spirits, and conducted themselves (with a few exceptions) in a manner orderly and respectful. The number of spectators was quite small, owing to the rain, which was received with quite as much welcome by the farmers as were the war-worn veterans of the gallant 17th by their friends in Lynnfield.

We have suffered by the drought here as well as the neighboring towns, and the crops—some kinds—have been seriously injured.

There have also been several fires in the woods and on the line of the railroad. One fire, some four weeks ago, in the woods adjoining the road from the hotel to South Reading, destroyed about twenty cords of cut wood, owned by Gen. Newhall of Lynnfield. The blacksmith shop of Mr. Bent, at this place, also took fire by a spark from a fire used to heat tires, but was discovered in time to prevent much damage.

The hotel is in operation again, under the direction of Dr. Lougee of Boston, and travellers and others are "taken in."

The new band which is being formed here now numbers about twelve members. They are all beginners—amateurs at the business—but have made creditable progress for the short time they have been practising. They gave a serenade to the people of Brookdale last Tuesday evening, and were generously entertained by Mr. Putnam of the Brookdale Store. They have been at several places during the past spring and summer, and have been kindly received and generously treated by all, with the exception of two or three low-minded rowdies at this village (Lynnfield Hotel.) The band has had several invitations to visit South Danvers, which it is quite probable they will do before long.

Four young roughs of this place set upon a small boy who was walking peaceably along the street on Thursday evening of last week, and used him in a very rough manner, striking and knocking him. They were brought before Judge Andrews at South Danvers on Saturday forenoon, when, by the false evidence, one was discharged, and the other three found guilty of mere assault, for which a fine of $1 and costs was imposed on each, from which they appealed and were put under $100 bonds to meet at Lawrence in October next.

More anon,

LYNNFIELD.

Life Insurance.—We refer our readers to the advertisement of the old Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York. This Company needs no recommendation; its past experience has already shown the manner in which its business has been conducted. Its careful selection of agents, and its fair prospect for the future, should secure for it many patrons. The agent for this town and vicinity, is JOHN H. DERBY, and he will always be pleased to give any desired information respecting the various kinds of policies issued by them.

Bobbery in Salem.—We learn from the Register that on Thursday during service time a man called at the residence of Rev. Jos. Driver and said that Mr. D., who is a chaplain in an army hospital, was very sick at some point which he mentioned, and desired his wife to come on immediately. Mrs. Driver was at church, and the woman at the house went to the meeting house to notify her. Mrs. Driver had that morning received a letter from her husband dated at a point some distance from the location of the reported sickness. On her return home, she found that the house had been entered and robbed of clothing and other articles.

The Mine Explosion.—A correspondent of the New York Tribune, in describing this event, says:

"The world shook when it was fired. A column of yellow earth spouted into the air broad and high as the Bunker Hill Monument. The echo of the awful blast had not come back from the woods behind when the hundred guns opened from the rising ground in Warren's front. I could see the line of belching fire, the great volumes of white smoke, and hear the noise of it all. And the enemy angrily replied. Heavy musketry volleyed in the centre, only heard in the momentary intervals between the guns, heaviest just when the sun's blood-red disc whirled into sight in the east. Was it the sun of another Austerlitz?

"Great masses of white powder smoke, hugging close to the earth, or reluctantly rising and resting on the tree tops, obscured the view. The flashes of the guns in the haze, projecting many feet from the muzzles, could be seen—nothing else. The church spires of Petersburg were lost from the picture. And the smoke lodged behind, and banked up against the sun till his great eye was dim and bleared."

The Work of the Alabama.—Captain Semmes's memorandum book of captures has been found in a lot of other debris from the wreck of the Alabama, and it appears by this record, which is very detailed, and no doubt exact, that he has destroyed in all sixty-five Federal vessels, instead of sixty-two, as was supposed. The war steamer Hatteras is of course included in the list. The largest number of the captures were whaling vessels, and the total value was twenty-five millions of francs. This memorandum will no doubt be published, and contains all the information which the owners of the lost vessels may desire.

LETTER FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, D. C., August 5, 1864.

Fast Day—Its Observance in Washington—Discourse by Rev. J. J. Marks—Frivolity of the American People—First Fast Day of the Pilgrims—etc., etc.

MY DEAR WIZARD,—In pursuance of a joint resolution of Congress, the most purely Christian document that ever emanated from that body, yesterday was set apart by proclamation of the President as a day of fasting and prayer throughout the land. If there was ever a time when the injunctions of such a proclamation should have been most solemnly heeded by a people professing to believe in an over-ruling Providence, mindful of the destinies of individuals and of nations, that time was yesterday. Yet the truth is too glaring and too lamentable to be concealed that a large, probably the larger, portion of our people allowed the day to pass without diverting their thoughts from ordinary business, or spent it in a manner no less alien from the spirit in which it should have been observed.

The Mayor of this city added his injunction to the proclamation of the President, that our citizens abstain from all secular employment and "resort to their several places of public worship for humiliation and prayer," yet the churches were, so far as I can judge, thinly attended, though the Departments and most places of business were closed, from which I draw the conclusion that a majority of our citizens in this District turned the occasion into a holiday and spent it in pleasure-seeking.

